Every adult holds many memories of high school days. Dreams, failures, and accomplishments are felt in the hearts and minds of all of us. But the most important aspect of school days is the knowledge that we have achieved. This knowledge will guide us to the individual endeavors we strive for. With this learning we can benefit from the prospects that are before us.

But knowledge is not the only thing we have fulfilled at Clarkston High. We have learned leadership, sportsmanship, and our own actual characteristics we hold through extra-curricular activities. These qualities have taught us the basics of the challenges of the future.

Because we're young, life seems to be the farthest thing from our minds. But the gates of the future are before us. Let us enter these gates with the knowledge and experience we have gained during our high school days.

With graduation comes the Senior's last link with Clarkston High School. The class will now become wide-spread. Some of the class of 1966 will continue their studies, and others will venture into the world of business or the home. No matter what way the path of life leads them, the Seniors will always be able to use the knowledge they received in high school. This knowledge not only came from the books, but also from learning to accept responsibility and being able to live with fellow people.

As the Seniors enter the world around him, they will have many memories to remind them of their high school years. The glory of watching a winning football team on a crisp October night, posing for Senior pictures, and getting measured for graduation caps and gowns are all memories that will linger forever. They will never forget all the hours they spent working on the floats and other class projects, playing in athletics, studying for examinations, and attending hundreds of meetings. The Homecomings, Christmas Dances, Proms, their Senior Trip, can never be forgotten. The past four years have been full of hardships, memories, and friendships. The class has grown every year and each person has made what he wanted of his school life. This is the way it will be forever.

Tee hee!

Carrying on the Senate's duties.

Cathy Lessard is the 1966 DAR recipient.

Each year, the General Richardson Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution invite area high schools to select a deserving girl for their annual award. To be eligible for this high honor, a girl must be a senior student in an accredited high school, and she must possess unselfish loyalty to American ideals. Other qualifications for the contest include leadership, service, and dependability.

Cathy Lessard, this year's recipient of the D.A.R. Award, was chosen for her activities in Student Government and various clubs, and her devotion to Clarkston High School. She was selected after the entire senior class nominated deserving girls and the faculty voted on the top three. In December, Cathy attended a D.A.R. Tea with the other area winners, and received a pin denoting her award.

The local winners competed in a contest for the State Good Citizen Award. The winner of this received a scholarship and a chance to continue in national competition.

Mr. Mason openly discusses the Computer Dance with Cathy Lessard.

One of the highest honors for an upperclassman is being tapped for National Honor Society. At a recent meeting were, (first row): Beverly Pylman, Star Bailey, Karen Johnson, Sandy Berry, and Charlene Hardy. (Second row): Lucia Wilford, Mary Wertman, Kathy McCann, Ina Ison, Jeanne Slinkard, Marty Tisch, Cindy Alexander, and JoAnn Kriss. (Third row): Gwen Ostrom, John Slade, Charlene Bachand, Martha Pohl, Gale Getzan, Shirley Cook, and Maxine Garnett. (Fourth row): Mr. Bonner, sponsor, Dennis Pine, Paul Hoxsie, and John White.

Students strive through school to attain the achievement of being selected by the faculty to join the National Honor Society. Membership in the Society, sponsored by Mr. Bonner, brings the highest respect from students and faculty members. Going through graduation exercises, with the emblematic gold cord symbolizing high scholastic ability, gives the student honor and recognition.

To qualify scholastically for the National Honor Society, the student must attain a 3.5 average during his junior year and a 3.00 point average during his senior year.

As in the past years, Clarkston's Jaycees sponsored the local Junior Miss Pageant in late November. This year's pageant had the largest turnout of girls in the local contest's history. Twenty-one seniors worked and competed for the coveted title of Clarkston's Junior Miss. Selected for the honor was Cathy Lessard. Sue Peters was chosen the first runner-up. In January, Cathy traveled to Pontiac to compete in the state Pageant.

For the local pageant, the main requirement to enter was that a girl must be a senior in a credited high school. They were judged on such traits as poise, talent, personality, and scholastic achievements. Most important of these judgements were a personal interview, talent, and evening gowns.

For the group of girls who competed in the Junior Miss Pageant, it was an occasion they will never forget.

Sue Peters, 1st runner up, and Cathy Lessard clutch excitedly at their trophies.

After weeks of working on their individual talent, skits, the different parts of the program, the girls put on a beautiful show full of bright lights, soft music, gaiety, and a touch of sentimentality.

The Jaycees 1966 Junior Miss was Cathy Lessard.

Demonstrating their "most athletic" title were Sue Zimmerman and Rod Allen while our "best dancer" Marty Tisch looks on. "Best dancer" Morris Hyatt is not pictured.

Displaying their delight for being chosen "Class Couple," are Rod Allen and Sue Peters.

Jeanne Slinkard and Nolen Carnell, exhibit their "most mannerly" title.

Taking a dip in the cafeteria drinking fountain are Judy Szymanski and Steve Barnett "Class Clowns."

Seniors choice for "prettiest eyes" went to Linda Nolen and Ernie Morgan; for "prettiest smile" to Jane Thrift and Jim Shannon; and for "prettiest hair" to Jane Hallman and Hugh MacGregor.

Dennis Sommers and Linda Bennett received the "best build" and "best figure" title. Denise Zalants and Mike Madison were the "best dressed" seniors.

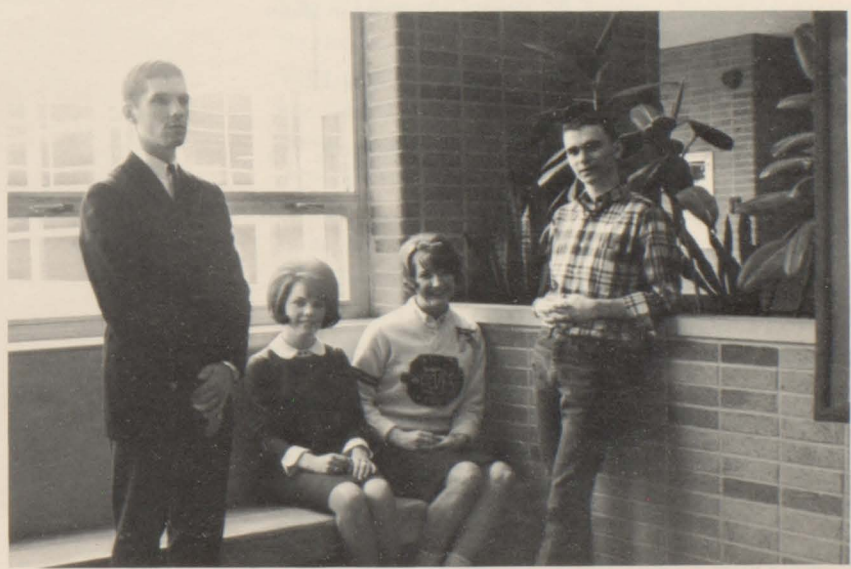

"Class Flirt," Sue Logan, gives her partner, Mike Kempf the eye.

The title "most intelligent" was achieved by John Slade and Gale Getzan as Cathy Lessard and Paul Hoxsie were chosen as "most likely to succeed."

Cindy Mosier and Rod Allen received the honor of "most all arounds."

Chosen for the honor of most Handsome and Most Beautiful by the class of '66 were Mike Madison and Jane Thrift. Cindy Mosier and Steve Barnett received the title of Best Personality.

PEP...PARTICIPATION...POINTS

The Junior-Senior Prom is one of the highlights of the school year. Making final plans are: George Lekas, point secretary; and John Getzan, vice-president; Jeanne Shoots, treasurer; Priscilla Wice, secretary; Dan Fife, president; Mr. Mackson and Mr. Adams, sponsors.

The Class of '67 played an important part in the high school by completing their countless duties. Doing their tasks was not always an easy job for them, but their enthusiasm and zest for every activity helped them accomplish their goals.

The points they earned while selling magazines displayed their ability to work with others. Even though the class competition was overwhelming, they proved it was not the only thing of importance.

The highlight of the year for many was the Junior-Senior Prom. The Juniors discovered they were no longer underclassmen. Along with this experience was a sense of maturity.

The Class of '67 will soon enter the world of future endeavoring to do their best in the threshold of life before them.

At the beginning of the year, the Class of '68 began realizing the part they were to play in the enlarging high school. With the realization of not being the youngest in the school, nor the oldest with the problems of the immediate future to face, a Sophomore's life is full of excitement and enjoyment.

The most thrilling event of the Sophomore year was the ordering of the class rings. Our class float, "The Goddess of '68" and the class-sponsored dance, "The Sophomore Chalet," provided the fulfillment of the past year. During the year the class officers, Student Government representatives, club members, athletes, and cheerleaders all have shown the ambition and enthusiasm that distinguished them.

Selecting class rings for the student vote in November are: Mark Adams, vice-president; Mr. Inman, sponsor; Steve Crabtree, president; Mr. Davidson, sponsor; Cheryl Gura, treasurer; and Nancy Weiss, secretary.

Ray Hipsher, Walt Gallegly, Bill Bullard, Lyle Walter, Larry Lewis, Kim Beattie, Kurt Maslowski, Gerald Ostrom, and Bob Nicoson relax in the Commons area after lunch.

Mr. Frank lectures a social science class.

New doors were opened, and we entered the high school. We met new people, became familiar with the new surroundings. It did not take us long to obtain our place as a class in the high school.

Our Freshman year passed by quickly, bringing us decisions to be made, activities to participate in, and recognition in sports.

Through this one short but remembered year, each one of us discovered the satisfaction of being young.

ORGANIZATIONS

LEARNING THROUGH DEMOCRACY

Mr. Skillman and Mr. McGrath oversee the discussion of the year's activities by Joette Schultz, secretary; Randy Locklar, president; Caroline Giles, vice-president; and Karen Caldwell, treasurer.

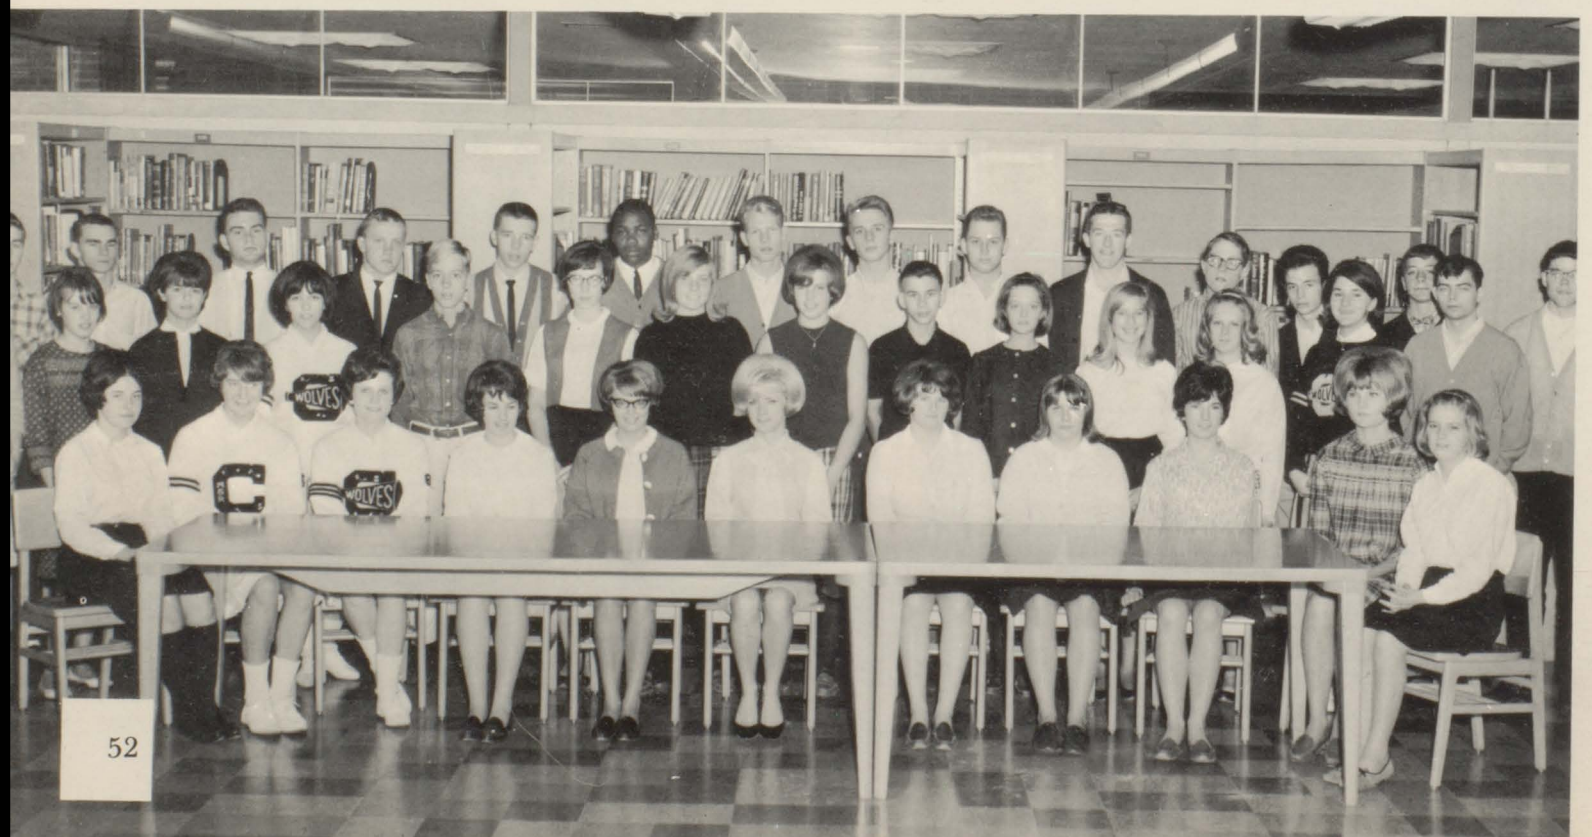

Being one of the most active and important organizations in the high school, Student Government acts as the middleman for the student body and the administration. Representatives and their alternates are elected from the various English and government classes.

In an effort to better our school, Student Government arranged exchange days. Student Government representatives from other schools visited CHS; and, in turn, we sent our representatives to schools within the area. Also, there were monthly Wayne-Oakland League meetings where many ideas and problems were shared.

Annual activities included the Homecoming festivities, the March of Dimes, class competition and the Talent Show. This year they sponsored a Computer Dance with West Bloomfield High School.

The members of Student Government have meetings to decide the events of Clarkston High School. At one of the meetings are, (first row): Sue Peters, Cindy Mosier, Linda Bennett, Cathy Lessard, Diane Martin, Marty Terry, Kay Brooks, Sue Bennett, Sue Vascassenno, Connie Hawkins, and Dawn Evely. (Second row): Cindy Alexander, Karen Evans, Marty Woodward, Linda McCracken, Bob Nicoson, Becky Smith, Cindy Ford, Ter-

Caroline Giles conducts a Student Government meeting while Pam Af-folder takes minutes as acting secretary.

Mr. McGrath and Mr. Skillman add their comments to the Student Government meeting.

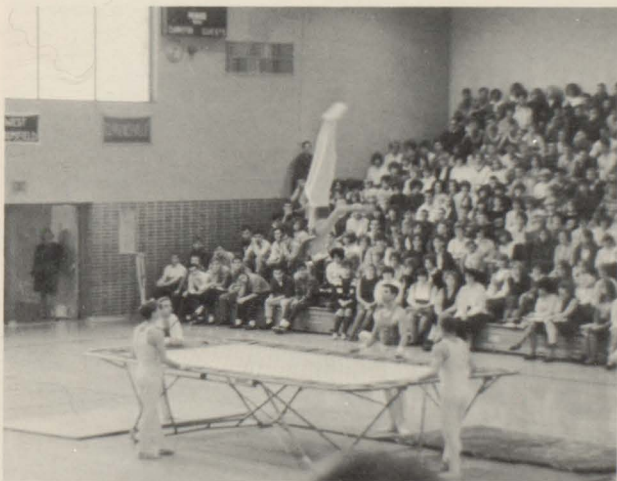

Closing the student government assembly, the Western Michigan choir sings their alma mater.

Santa's little helpers, Linda Nolen, Diane Martin, and Marty Terry, throw candy to the cheering crowds at the Christmas assembly.

Hey, Santa, check those elfs!

At one of the Student Government sponsored assemblies the University of Michigan Gymnastic team entertains the student body with some fantastic feats on the trampoline.

Discussing plans for a Wednesday play night are: Wayne Goins, president; King Robinson, treasurer; John White, Chaplain; Greg Gordon, secretary; and Rod Allen, vice-president.

Among the many organizations at Clarkston, one of the most active, both in membership and various projects, is the Hi-Y. Male counterparts to the Y-Teens, the boys spend much of their time undertaking charitable projects to aid needy children. Included in these efforts were their annual Christmas project, the buying of clothing & toys for needy children; and the collection of Easter packages for distribution in the area.

Besides these, the Hi-Y boys sponsored several other projects for both its members and the student body. Play nights, monthly swim nights, breakfast at the YMCA in Pontiac, and dances were all part of the busy schedule of a Hi-Y member.

Once a year at Ann Arbor the Hi-Y holds its state convention where all the boys gather to meet fellow members from all over Michigan.

LEARNING WHILE SERVING

Deciding what clothes should be bought for their annual project are: Heidi Buehrig, vice-president; Cathy Verbeck, inter-council representative; Jodie Strother, president; Marty Tisch, secretary; Cindy Mosier, historian; and Linda Heath, chaplain.

Serving the community and school by helping the needy is the main purpose of Y-Teens.

This year they held a pop bottle drive and three bake sales. With the money earned they purchased clothes at Christmastime for needy children in the Clarkston area.

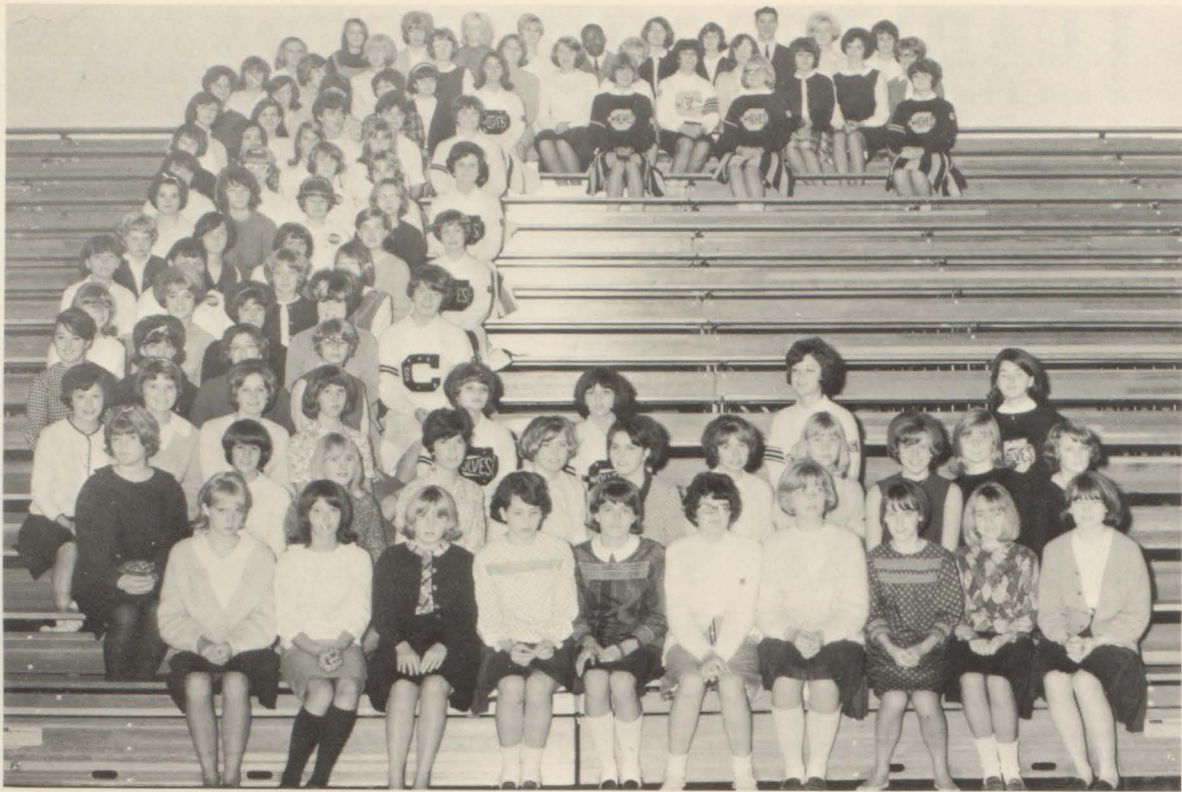

They also joined with the Hi-Y and invited 20 children, between the ages of seven and fifteen, from the Oakland County Children's Center to a Valentine's party in the gymnasium. Another party was held in April.

Their fun included swimming once a week with the Hi-Y at the Y.M.C.A. in Pontiac. Their creative talents were displayed by a skit in the talent show, in March. They did a song and dance routine to "So Long, Farewell" from "The Sound of Music."

L. Spencer, and S. Trilo. 8th Row: N. Giles, S. North, L. Spencer, and S. Trilo. 9th Row: N. Milligan, J. Sansom, D. Thompson, C. Rush, and L. Bennett. 10th Row: D. Limbaugh, L. Hunt, S. Walts, and C. LePere. 11th Row: B. Marquette, N. Henry, C. Quartermous, L. Moore, and C. Giles. 12th Row: K. Matlock, N. Chapman, V. Sunquist, and W. Atkins. 13th Row: S. Bennett, M. Bullard, and K. Deneen. 14th Row: D. Evely, J. Peters, E. Keeley, C. Alexander, G. Getzen, G. Limbaugh, K. Verbeck, T. McKee, R. Ragatz, L. Nolen, and D. Martin. 15th Row: J. Hallman, L. Trilo, M. Keech, P. Haiser, J. Robertson, K. Gettel, S. Bailey, G. Riddle, M. Terry, and C. Lessard.

Promoting school spirit and good sportsmanship throughout the student body is a big job. The members of the Pep Club, under the guidance of Mr. Frank, their sponsor, aid the school, its students, and the athletes.

Every Thursday night before the games the members met to paint signs and banners, which are hung throughout the school. For their fund raising projects the club sold blue and gold shakers, Wolves stop pins, and basketball pennant pins. White Shirt days were planned periodically throughout the year. These occurred on game days when everyone wore white shirts. This was another way of demonstrating school spirit.

To end their year the club participated in a card section at the district tournament against Flint Southwestern. During cheers the members waved various blue and gold signs which made a spectacular sight.

The Future Teachers' of America Association of Clarkston High School is an active organization. Meeting every other Thursday, they had several guest speakers, who talked on different phases of teaching. Continuing their studies into the field of education, future teachers through lectures, chose a mental picture of what aspect of teaching they wish to enter.

Throughout the busy year of lectures, discussions, money-making projects, including bake sales and field trips, they experienced another opportunity. Eligible members, either a student in his second year of F.T.A., or a senior member, visited the Clarkston Elementary School rooms to observe teaching techniques and Cadet Teach. Through Cadet Teaching, members learned about the opportunities in teaching, to cultivate the qualities essential in a good teacher, and to foster the development of student leadership.

In the spring of each year, the F.T.A. holds its annual picnic and installation of newly-elected officers.

HOMEMAKERS OF TOMORROW

One year of high school home economics is the requirement for membership in Future Homemakers of America. Even more important is the genuine desire to learn more about cooking, sewing, children, and home furnishings.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Kalbfleisch, the many activities performed throughout the year were bake sales, work-nights, and a Christmas party given at the Pine Knob Nursing Home.

A variation in cooking began this year when the first annual progressive dinner was held. The girls shared the responsibility of preparing the food which was eaten at different members' houses.

If a girl contributed to the club, by attending meetings and participating in the various projects, she will gain points.

The girl with the highest number of points attended the State FHA Convention in Grand Rapids, as a delegate from Clarkston.

NURSES OF THE FUTURE

Miss Corts and Mrs. Gerard, sponsors, Joyce Pine, vice-president; Leslie Surre, president; and Nancy Milligan, secretary; plan the year's programs.

Having originated as the Cosmetology Club, the club expanded other careers for women and brought about the formation of the Careers Club. The Club began their year with a slide program given by the Pine Knob Beauty Salon concerning beauty colleges. On the agenda was a discussion about the scholarships given by the Miss Clarion Institute to the girls desiring to enter beauty colleges and a "hairdo bee."

It was found that by expanding their format more students would benefit, thus Careers Club evolved. Among the occupations investigated were those of the Airline stewardess, secretary, teacher, nurse, and commercial artist.

One of the greatest problems existing in America today is the shortage of professionals in the Medical field. To meet this need we must have young people who will be willing to dedicate their lives to helping others.

For this reason the Medics Club was formed. Through the field trips, movies and speakers who lecture to the students they learn of the challenges and rewards to be gained through a career in Medicine.

BOOKS ARE OUR BUSINESS

Do you know where to find Alice Adams? Have you tried the library? Mrs. Thayer and her librarians could help you find this book by Booth Tarkington.

The student librarians help Mrs. Thayer by doing the many jobs that it takes to keep a library running effeciently. Some of them are checking out books, keeping accurate lists of overdue books, shelving books, keeping the shelves in order, and helping the students use the card catalogue to locate the material they need.

Without the librarians the students would not get the amount of information and knowledge that is available.

The Thinker?

"Quiet please" is the motto of, (first row): Mrs. Thayer, Melveta Terry, Kathy Goodall, Edna Williams, Judy Weeks, Janice Carter, Ruth Damon. (Second row): Janie Zamora, Sandy Trilo, Sharon Simpson, Mary Wertman, Sharon Rolfe, Sue Dome, Linda Olsen, Karen Johnson, Linda Nolen, Janet Powell, Dorthy Kelley, and Cindy Grogan.

BEAUTY THROUGH ART

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Campbell, the Art Club is one of CHS's most active organizations. Since an art course is not a pre-requisite for membership, many students from all areas of the school attend at one time or another.

Members engage in diverse projects in both the arts and crafts fields. Painting of all kinds, ceramics, basketry, metalwork, and painting are just a sampling of the various activities undertaken by club members.

Many times the Art Club is called upon for creating posters, signs, displays and scenery for numerous school projects. In the past the Art Club has been a significant donor to the Student Aid Fund through the selling of artistic merchandise.

An annual party concludes the year with all members, past and present, receiving an open invitation.

John Kranich puts the finishing touches on his pot.

LEARNING SALESMANSHIP

The Co-operative Work Experience Program is new to Clarkston this year. This program enables senior students to obtain on-the-job experience in retailing or office training. The students in this program are better able to determine their career goals in the business world.

The junior retailing and selling class, also new this year, has gained valuable retailing experience by operating the "Wolves Den." This exclusive shop is a school store which sells supplies, school jackets and sweat shirts.

VIVE LA CLIQUE

For the first time this year Clarkston had a French Club. Although it is still new, it contained many activities for its members.

Along with the Bloomfield Hills French Club they attended a recital, which is a dramatic reading of French literature. It was done by a husband and wife team who came directly from Paris.

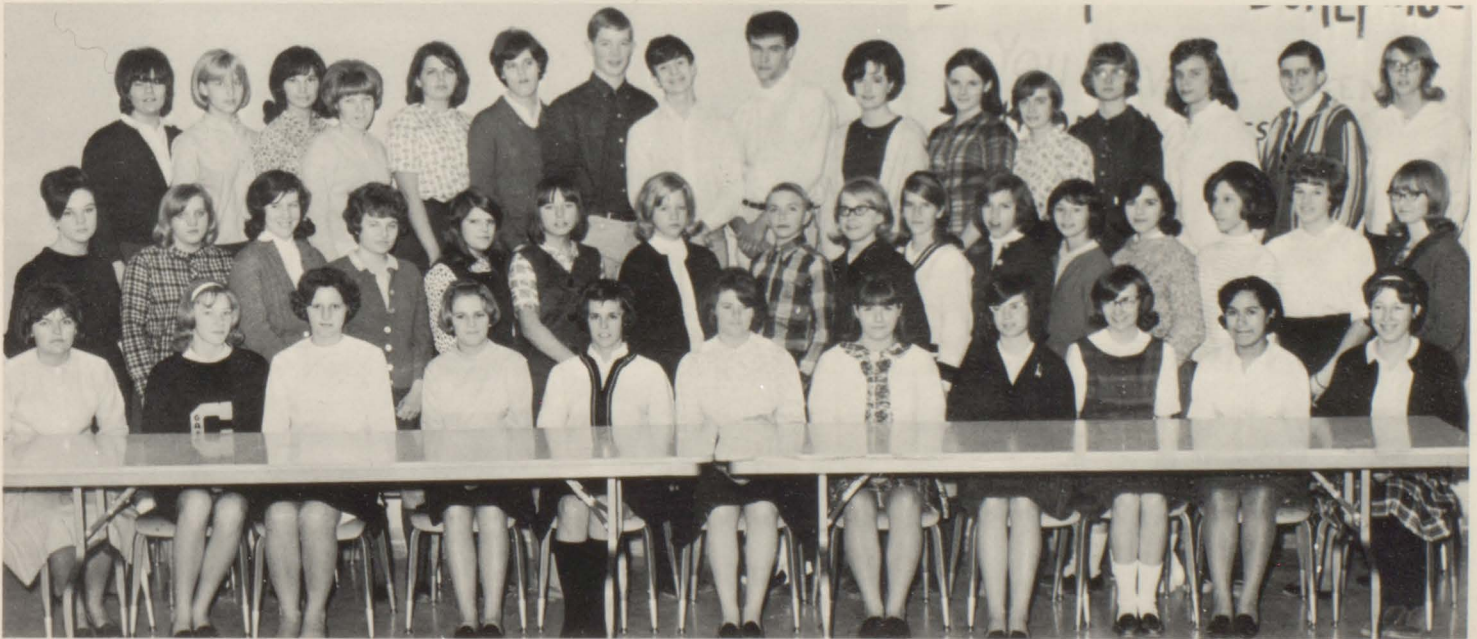

Like many of the other clubs they, too, sponsored a dance. With the proceeds from the dance, the plan to renew the newspaper and magazine subscriptions for the French department.

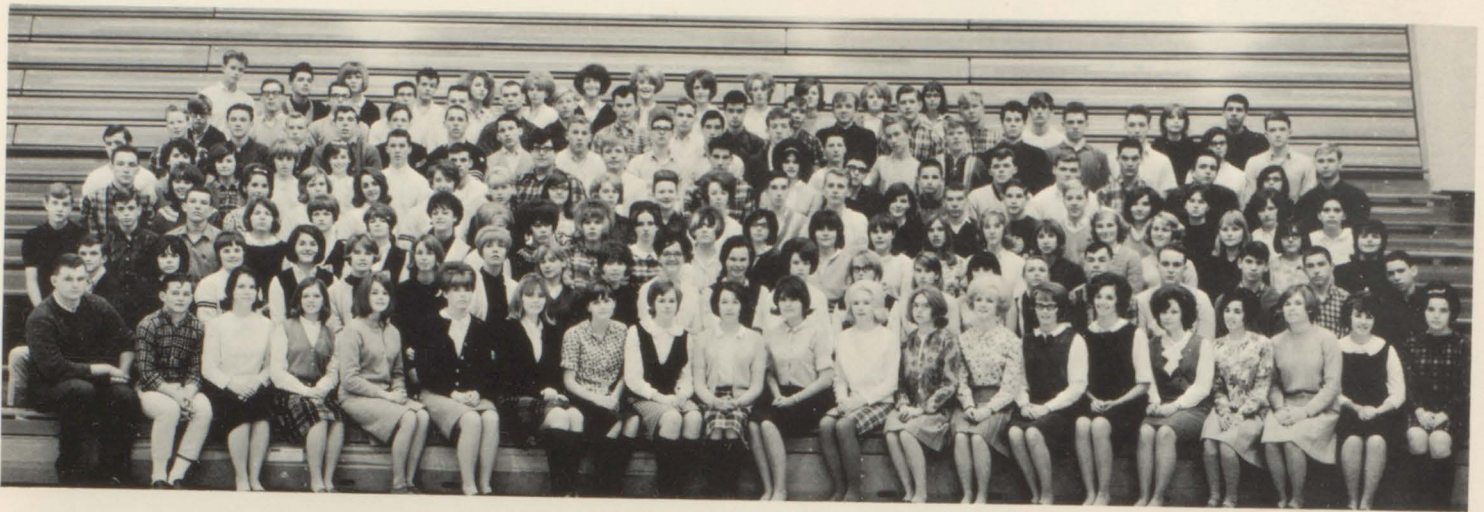

Discussing plans for a field trip are: Wanda Atkins, secretary; Judy Weeks, treasurer; Salli Radoye, vice-president; Nancy Weiss, president.

Planning Les Mouches are, (first row): Lana Moore, Janice Hanson, Kathy Matlock, Dawn Evely, Cathy Verbeck, Kay Brooks, Sue Ronk, Nikki Kratt, Nancy Chapman, Marranne Coronado, and Debbie Head. (Second row): Marcia Perkins, Shirley Hubbard, Patti Mulcrone, Ann Lookadoo, Patti Waterworth, Karen Hawkins, Mary Dion, Tracey Tuson, Cheryl Mansfield,

SKIING DOWN NATURE'S SLOPES

Mr. Thompson, sponsor, meets with the Ski Club officers Tom Bullard, president; Jerry Dark, secretary-treasurer; and Kurt Priebe, vice-president; to decide on a prospective location for the ski week-end.

"Help stamp out summer" could well be the motto of the Ski Club. This rapidly growing club provides fun, excitement, relaxation, and aids in the development of physical fitness. Skiers find that skiing is a perfect way to enjoy winter.

Clarkston fans of the sport traveled by chartered bus to Boyne Highlands for their annual week-end ski trip. Members stayed in the Wolverine Ski Lodge. The first night, following an exhausting day of skiing, they enjoyed dancing at the "Ponytail," a Teen Club. The next day Skiers traveled to Thunder Mountain Ski area.

Aside from this special week-end, the skiers make weekly trips to Pine Knob Ski Resort.

BRINGING MEMORIES OF THE PAST

Cathy Lessard, business manager; Karen Caldwell, assistant editor; and Sue Powell, editor, work on the paste-up boards while Mrs. Kenyon approves picture captions.

Preparing copy to be typed for the yearbook are Cathy Richardson, Ruth Merkel, Frank Wall, Margaret Keech, and Joyce Coyle.

Judy Lessard, Katie Rossano, Cheryl Gura and Sue Ronk concentrate on the advertising layouts and filing.

The often tedious jobs of writing copy, selling ads, proof-reading, typing, and doing paste-ups faded away with excitement of the arrival of another edition of the Hilltopper.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Kenyon, the twelve staff members spent seven months of hard work and active thinking. They rewrote their copy as many times as necessary to insure the best quality of work.

"Oddwadd" was the big gimmick used to kick off the Sales campaign. By not buying a Hilltopper one could easily turn into an "Oddwadd".

In planning the book's cover it was decided to sponsor a contest for the design of a school crest. Prior to this, there had never been an official school seal. The designer of the crest was awarded a free Hilltopper.

PREPARING TODAY TO BE

G.A.A. is a girls' athletic program which encourages physical fitness through intramural and recreational activities. These activities include basketball, volleyball, softball, tumbling and work on the trampoline, horse, and parallel bars.

The girls' varsity and junior varsity basketball teams are an out-growth of G.A.A. This year the varsity had a 12-0 season and the combined JV teams split 4-4.

In May the awards which the girls have earned during the year were presented at the Mother-Daughter Banquet. Freshmen and sophomores receive letters; juniors receive pins and seniors guards.

The G.A.A. officers are Leslie Surre, secretary; Cheryl Slade, treasurer; Mrs. Colwell, sponsor; Cindy Mosier, president; Marty Tisch, vice president; and Mrs. Mitchell, sponsor.

"WITHOUT A SONG

Gaining interest in creating good music and developing musical ability bring about the challenge and opportunity offered in the choir. An out-growth of participation and experience in singing groups aid in the development of musical experience by participation in concerts and other activities of the choir.

For the first time the choir was divided into Girls Glee Club, Varsity Choir, and Mixed Choir. Adding to the Homecoming festivities Girls Glee Club entered their float, "Fountain of Wishes," in the parade. Included in the activities for the remainder of the year were try-outs for the Wayne-Oakland League Choir, and a field trip to Detroit to see "Sound of Music."

While Mr. Connors directs the band in "Three Coins in a Fountain," the Homecoming Court approaches as Cathy Verbeck stands at attention.

To perfect their knowledge of their instruments and the musical world around them has been the main purpose of the Clarkston Band. While this goal has been achieved to an extent through practice and experience, the Band members have gained a greater knowledge from the time they have spent with music. They have learned to work with each other and strive for a higher goal.

During the past year, the marching band participated in half-time and pre-game ceremonies at football games and marched in various parades in the village of Clarkston. The entire band presented numerous concerts and assemblies, including a Christmas program, throughout the year.

After the tryouts were held to determine section positions, an Honors Band and a Dance Band were formed. The Honors Band includes the first-part players in both the junior and senior high bands. The players must show by reading ability that they have enough musicianship to play the difficult music. The Dance Band is a newly-formed division of the Band; with the members of it being mainly first-part players. Their big hope for their future is to play at community activities.

With their conductor, Mr. Connors, the Band members have worked toward bettering Clarkston High School by showing their school spirit and pride through music.

SPORTS

The accomplishments of a football team are measured in many ways, one of which is the league standings. Our football team finished fourth, but there was more to the story than that. There was a victory over Northville, the first in eleven years, and one over Holly, the first in nine years.

But even these victories don't measure half of what makes up the game called football. The sweat and toil, the joys and disappointments are something that only the players experience. During the most crucial games the team showed athletic's most important lesson, sportsmanship.

Honored for their outstanding play by being named to the Wayne-Oakland All-League teams were Dan Fife, Paul Hoxsie, and Dave Osgood, first team. Dennis Pine and Rod Allen received honorable mention. Paul Hoxsie was voted most valuable player while Dave Osgood was chosen most improved player by their team. Dan Fife also earned All-State honorable mention.

Mr. Mackson and Mr. Davidson are the proud coaches of our J.V. Team.

The road to varsity football is an upward climb. Experience is an invaluable thing that can only be gained through playing. After a year of intramural football the players move up to junior varsity. Here they get their first taste of real competition. They have a chance to put to use the fundamentals they learned as freshmen.

The 1965 football season found Clarkston with a junior varsity team unmatched in the Wayne-Oakland League. When the final second of the last game was over, the team had recorded an undefeated season. With this great performance of skill and talent came an even greater show of sportsmanship, spirit, and team effort the players showed qualities that would make any coach proud of them. Congratulations on a job well done.

A little too late and a little too short, eh, Mr. Inman?

To become a member of the Varsity Club an individual must have earned at least one varsity letter in any of the sports. After a rigorous initiation the new members become part of the club. These boys are bound by a common interest, athletics. But more important than this, sponsors, Mr. Kenyon and Mr. McGrath, try to instill a sense of sportsmanship and appreciation of athletics in general.

Among their projects were play nights in the gym and a Friday night dance. The Varsity Club also sponsored the basketball game between the Harlem Diplomats and the faculty team, in which, it might be added, the faculty was beaten. The Harlem Diplomats are a professional Canadian basketball team molded after the Globetrotters.

As a reward for their efforts, the members and sponsors went to a Detroit Lion's scrimmage game and one of the Detroit Piston's basketball games.

In order to walk, one must first learn to crawl. Such is true of athletics and doubly so of football. Freshmen football, is devised to teach the basics of the sport. What looks so easy from the spectators' point of view soon becomes a test of determination and, in the vernacular of the game, guts. Blocking, tackling, and running take on a new meaning; and the freshmen soon learn that football is not for soft souls. More important though, they learn sportsmanship and dignity of being an athlete. From the ranks of the freshmen soon learn that football is not for soft souls. More important though, they learn sportsmanship and dignity of being an athlete. From the ranks of the freshmen teams come the varsity stars of the years ahead.

One of the freshmen football teams, under the coaching of Mr. Larry Thibault and Mr. Mills, showed a fine quality of sportsmanship throughout the 1965-1966 season. They are (Row 1) David Elliott, Bill

FRESHMEN LEARN

WHILE THINCLADS WIN

Discussing plans for the cross-country season are Mr. Walter Perry, Craig Utter, Neil Stalker, and Richard Smith.

"Over hill, over dale." would be an excellent way to describe Clarkston's Cross Country Team. Sportsmanship and team spirit were at their highest peak this season as the team produced an impressive record of 7 wins and 2 losses. This was the best record in the school's history.

Coach Walt Perry, a newcomer to the coaching of crosscountry, gained praises; the team showed their willingness to work hard and a desire to win.

The Most Valuable Award went to team captain, Neil Stalker.

Crossing the finish line at the Wayne-Oakland League Cross Country Meet is Craig Utter.

CINDERS FLEW, A NEW ERA BEGAN

When the last basketball has gone through the hoop and the spring sports get under way, Clarkston's thin-clads don their track shoes for another season of determination and hard work.

The 1965 track season produced one of the finest in the school's history. Our track men showed a desire to win against the best teams in the Midwest. Meets such as the Mansfield Relays, the Michigan State Relays, and the Central Relays will not be forgotten.

Due to a poor track, Clarkston had no home meets; but their trackmen found they needed no cheering crowds to win races or gain the satisfaction of a job well done.

There were five school records broken during the '65 season: Bob Gray set a new high jump record at 6' 1½". Bob also broke the 1964 high hurdles record. Mike Turek broke his own 1964 mile record. The 880 relay team of Tom Morris, Marchall Gratz, Neil Stalker, and Rick Blimka broke the old mark set in 1953 while the mile relay team of Neil Stalker, Skip Allen, Mike Turek, and Rick Blimka broke the '64 record. The most valuable was Bob Gray.

Larry Kostin and Larry Franklin receive Coach Inman's congratulations for being elected honorary co-captains.

Larry Franklin and Coach Inman discuss a hold during practice.

Attempting to further its athletic program, Clarkston High School developed an intramural wrestling team. In hopes to extend the team's experience, Clarkston's mat men scrimmaged several outside teams. Against schools of similar experience the team performed exceptionally well. Competing in the Troy Invitational Tournament, they won 14 ribbons.

At the end of the season the team elected Larry Kostin, 127 pound division, and Larry Franklin, 165 pound division, honorary co-captains.

With next year's season there is a possibility that wrestling will become a varsity sport. This will give the mat men the same status as other athletic teams.

Adeptness in basketball is achieved through years of practice and development. With this in mind, our coaches have set up a basketball program similar to that of football. Learning fundamentals in freshman basketball, the players move to junior varsity, and prepare for their first game with another school.

Junior varsity basketball is important in that it not only develops skills but also teaches valuable lessons in sportsmanship and the meaning of athletics.

NETTERS SERVE,

Perhaps in tennis, more than in any other sport, the outcome of each game relies almost entirely on the individual player and his ability, his drive, and his will to win.

Our tennis team, coached by Mr. Larry Thibault, displayed these qualities throughout the season. Sparked by John Wilberg, the team's most valuable player, and ably assisted by student manager John Maier, our team seized fourth place in the Walled Lake Invitational, sixth place in the State Regionals, and completed the season with a third place position in the Wayne-Oakland County League.

GOLFERS DRIVE

Confidence, concentration, and striving for improvement are the characteristics of a devoted golfer. The Wolves showed this in spite of a fairly young team. They placed 12th in the Pontiac Press and 7th in the Wayne-Oakland League tournaments.

Even though the Wolves had a difficult season, their good spirit and sportsmanship prevailed. Two of the six returning lettermen, Rick Wilson and King Robinson, were voted Most valuable and Most improved players respectively.

1964-65 Varsity Baseball Record

Baseball is a hard fought game from the opening pitch to the final out. Clarkston's baseball team fought their way to a 8-7 record. This brought them a respectable fourth place in the Wayne-Oakland League standings.

The season was one of heart-stopping games, many of which went to the last inning before the deciding run was scored. The Wolves tried their best and showed an unusual amount of sportsmanship for such close games.

The 1965 team produced many outstanding players. Among them were Dan Fife, most valuable; and Tom Allen, most improved. These boys were further honored by being named to the All-County team: Tom Allen, second team; Dan Fife, honorable mention.

Building a strong varsity team takes years of patience and hard work. The players experience playing in competition and under game pressure. They must learn sportsmanship and the meaning of athletics. They must develop the character that will carry them through later life.

Junior varsity baseball is designed to teach athletes the fundamentals they will need to know for varsity action in the years to follow.

Many times a team's record does not tell half of the story. Clarkston's team showed a spirit unmatched by its rivals. They gained invaluable experience which will benefit future varsity teams.

Providing a memorable evening with their melodious strains of "Somewhere over the Rainbow" were the Kim Tones.

Linda Bennett and Gary Pearson relax in a swing after the Grand March.

For one night everyone left the ordinary and refused to be part of reality as they stepped through the Rainbow Arch and found that the "land over the rainbow" really existed as did the pot of gold. The juniors had successfully turned the cafeteria into a land of enchantment for the Seniors.

A swing gently moving to and fro in a warm breeze, colored lights dancing on a delicately hued rainbow, a fountain running noiselessly over rocks and pebbles and forming a slowly moving stream to wander among the many wild flowers all contributed to the transformation of the cafeteria. In the background down through the clouds, a million miles away, lay the skyline of New York.

For those weary from their journey through the sky and along the Rainbow Lane, the Rainbow Inn waited with tables and chairs, a quiet atmosphere and quiet talk.

Dave Wood and Don Marquette introduce their dates to each other.

While discussing evening plans, Penny Cook, Bob Savage, Chuck O'Neil, Jackie Davies, realize what a wonderful night awaits them.

A JOURNEY OVER THE RAINBOW...

Waiting for the band to begin playing are Jim Smith, Mary Fender, Carol Cinader, John Maier, Ina Fritzcat, Louis Biles, Cheryl Cullen, Ron Cites, Rosemary Jenks, Janell Ash, Ed Jenks, Shirley Powers, Danny Wagner, Victor Fisher, Jim Peloquin, LeAnn Coppersmith, Doug Osbo, Donna Harris, Rich Thompson, and Lon Howey. The girls are comparing dresses while the boys are discussing dinner engagements and the big week-end ahead.

Don Nolen serves himself as Kent Powell and Milt Longstaff stand in line waiting to get punch for their dates.

Against the skyline of New York Joanne Hennig, Karen Bray, Keith LaDuc, and Gene Head wait for the next dance as Robyn Rutzen and Bob Gray walk toward a group of their friends.

Homecoming is the most exciting all-school event of the year, and this year was no exception. The pre-tapping and tapping assemblies initiated the festivities as the student body saw their Homecoming Court selected.

All through the week prior to Homecoming weekend everyone worked feverishly on floats, preparations for the dance, and in the case of the Junior and Senior girls, manuevers. Wednesday night a capacity crowd watched the girls of the class of '66 win their second Powder Puff game. The Powder Puff game is an annual event and is now part of the Homecoming tradition.

Friday night, in spite of rain, another capacity crowd turned out to see the Wolves battle their way through the Homecoming game.

For a few hours Saturday night everything else was forgotten as the students left Clarkston, Michigan and journeyed to Rome, Italy merely by stepping through a magic door into the Homecoming dance titled "Three Coins in a Fountain."

Laura Watterworth, Jeff Kaiser, Nancy Weiss, Mark Erickson, Rod Allen, and Cindy Mosier are amused as they watch Shayla Smith and Danny Fife practice walking in time.

"Around the World" was the theme that won second place for the Medics.

Sitting beside the poolside stream on the Junior float is smiling Shayla Smith.

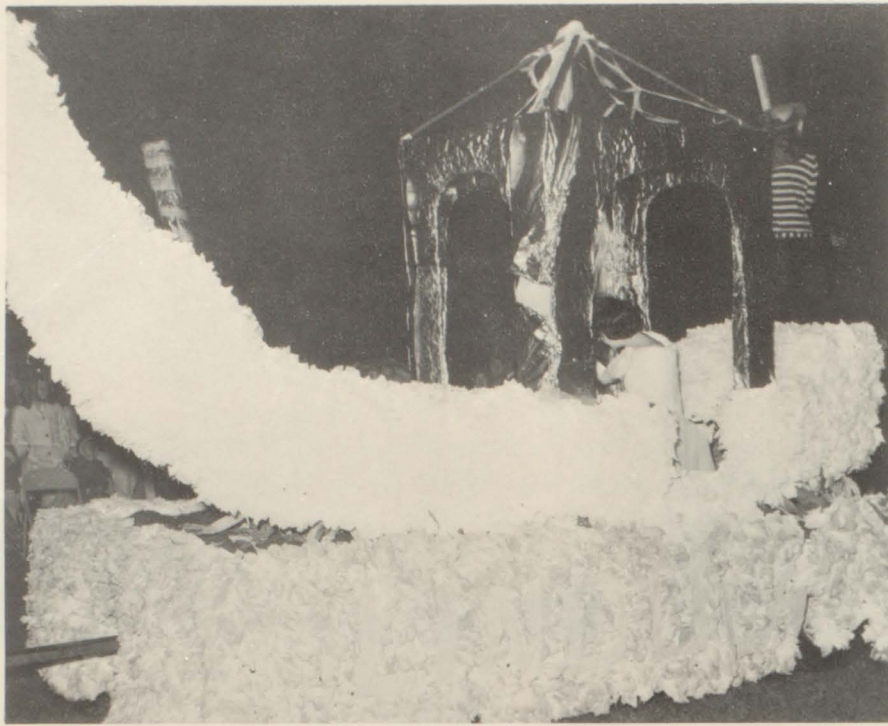

The Greek goddess of beauty, Aphrodite, springs back to life in Sophomore maid, Nancy Weiss, the goddess of '68.

Laura Watterworth rides elegantly upon the Freshman float.

As Diane Martin helps Linda Bennett adjust her bunny fur, Nancy Weiss talks with a youthful admirer.

Waving to the cheering crowd, Linda Bennett, Senior maid, elegantly rides the prize winning float, "Lindola."

Queen Cindy nervously clutched her roses as her regal float approached the football field. She was attended by Darlene and Joe Puckett.

Wishes came true as smiling couples enjoyed a very special evening at the Homecoming Dance, "Three Coins in a Fountain."

Demonstrating their skill and strength, the seniors practice for the second annual "Powder Puff Game," which resulted in a 14-7 triumph over the Juniors.

Relinquishing her title, as 1964 Homecoming Queen, Connie Papi crowned misty-eyed Cindy Mosier, Homecoming Queen for 1965.

After the Queens assembly our new queen Cindy, accompanied by Karen Caldwell were off to find the photographer.

Our Homecoming Queen, Cindy Mosier, smiled radiantly as she walked across the field to a cheering crowd. With her were crown bearer, Joe Puckett, and his twin sister, Darlene, carrying the sceptor.

Riding gaily around the football field is the Girl's Glee Club singing "Three Coins in a Fountain."

Linda Bennett, Senior maid, assisted by Phil Moon and Steve Barnett, descends from the Senior float, "Lindola."

Charles Pearson, Mr. Antrobus ; and Penny Cook, Sabina; discuss their plans for the future while Sue Putnam, the fortuneteller reads their minds.

Mr. Antrobus describes the disastrous storm that is on its way to the beach.

Skin of our Teeth was an amusing three act satire portraying man throughout the ages. In the first act, author Thornton Wilder depicts Mr. and Mrs. Antrobus, their two children, Henry and Gladys, and their maid, Sabina, in their hilarious struggle against the ice age. In the second act we saw man punished for his sins by a great flood with only the Antrobuses and Sabina saved from drowning. Rebellious Henry takes over in the third act as he wages war against his parents and grown-ups in general. Somehow the Antrobuses, as did man, managed to escape destruction by the skin of their teeth.

Through fine direction and excellent casting, director, Mr. Lee Moore, obtained the best from his actors and actresses. Skin of our Teeth was certainly no exception.

Paul Taylor practices his speech for Jeff Fisher, Mr. Moore, Gary Williams, Diane Lundy, Phil Robertson, Charles Pearson, and Terry Dutcher.

Doing their interpretation of "Inherit the Wind" for some of the English classes are John Slade and Andy Rossano.

Clear thinking, persuasive speaking, and the desire to express oneself are the basic requirements needed to become a member of the debate team. Aside from these it takes many hours of probing and research to form a careful collection of notes.

"Resolved: The Federal government should adopt a program of compulsory arbitration in labor-management disputes in basic industries" was the topic on which our team debated this year. This topic was selected by the Michigan High School Forensics Association.

Under the leadership of Mr. Moore, the team debated with the seven other schools in the Wayne-Oakland league. The winning school was eligible to compete with four other schools for the state title.

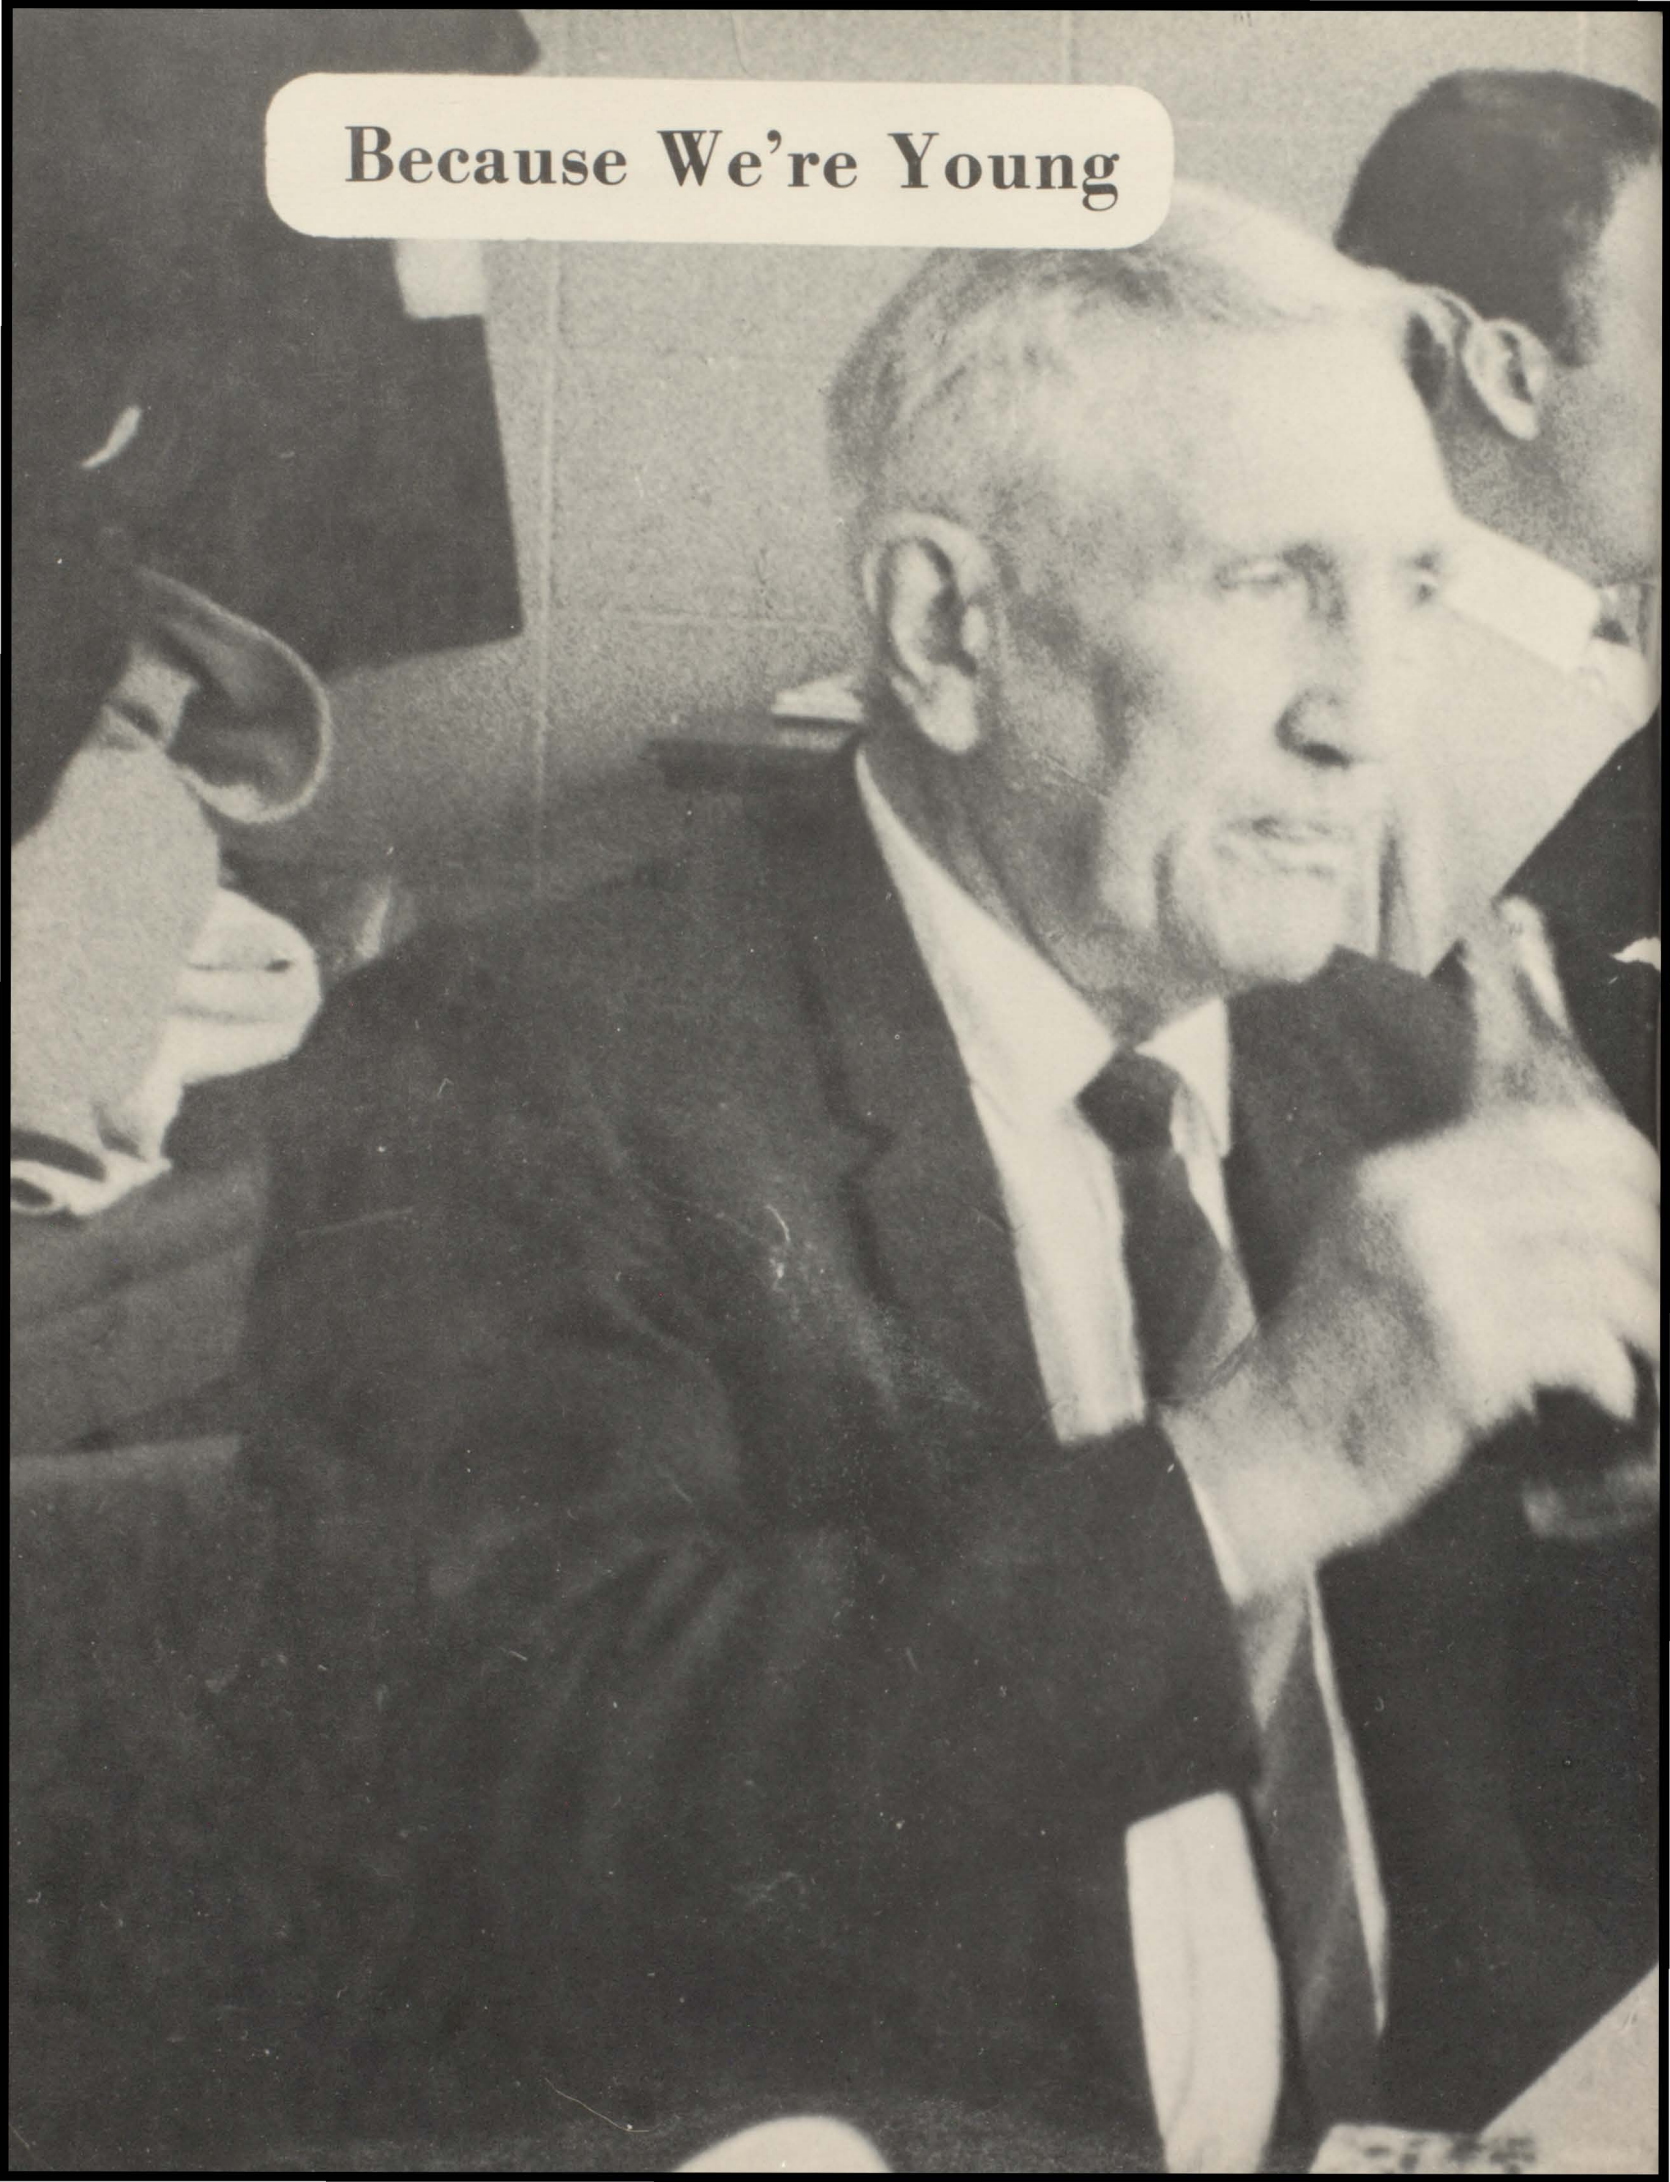

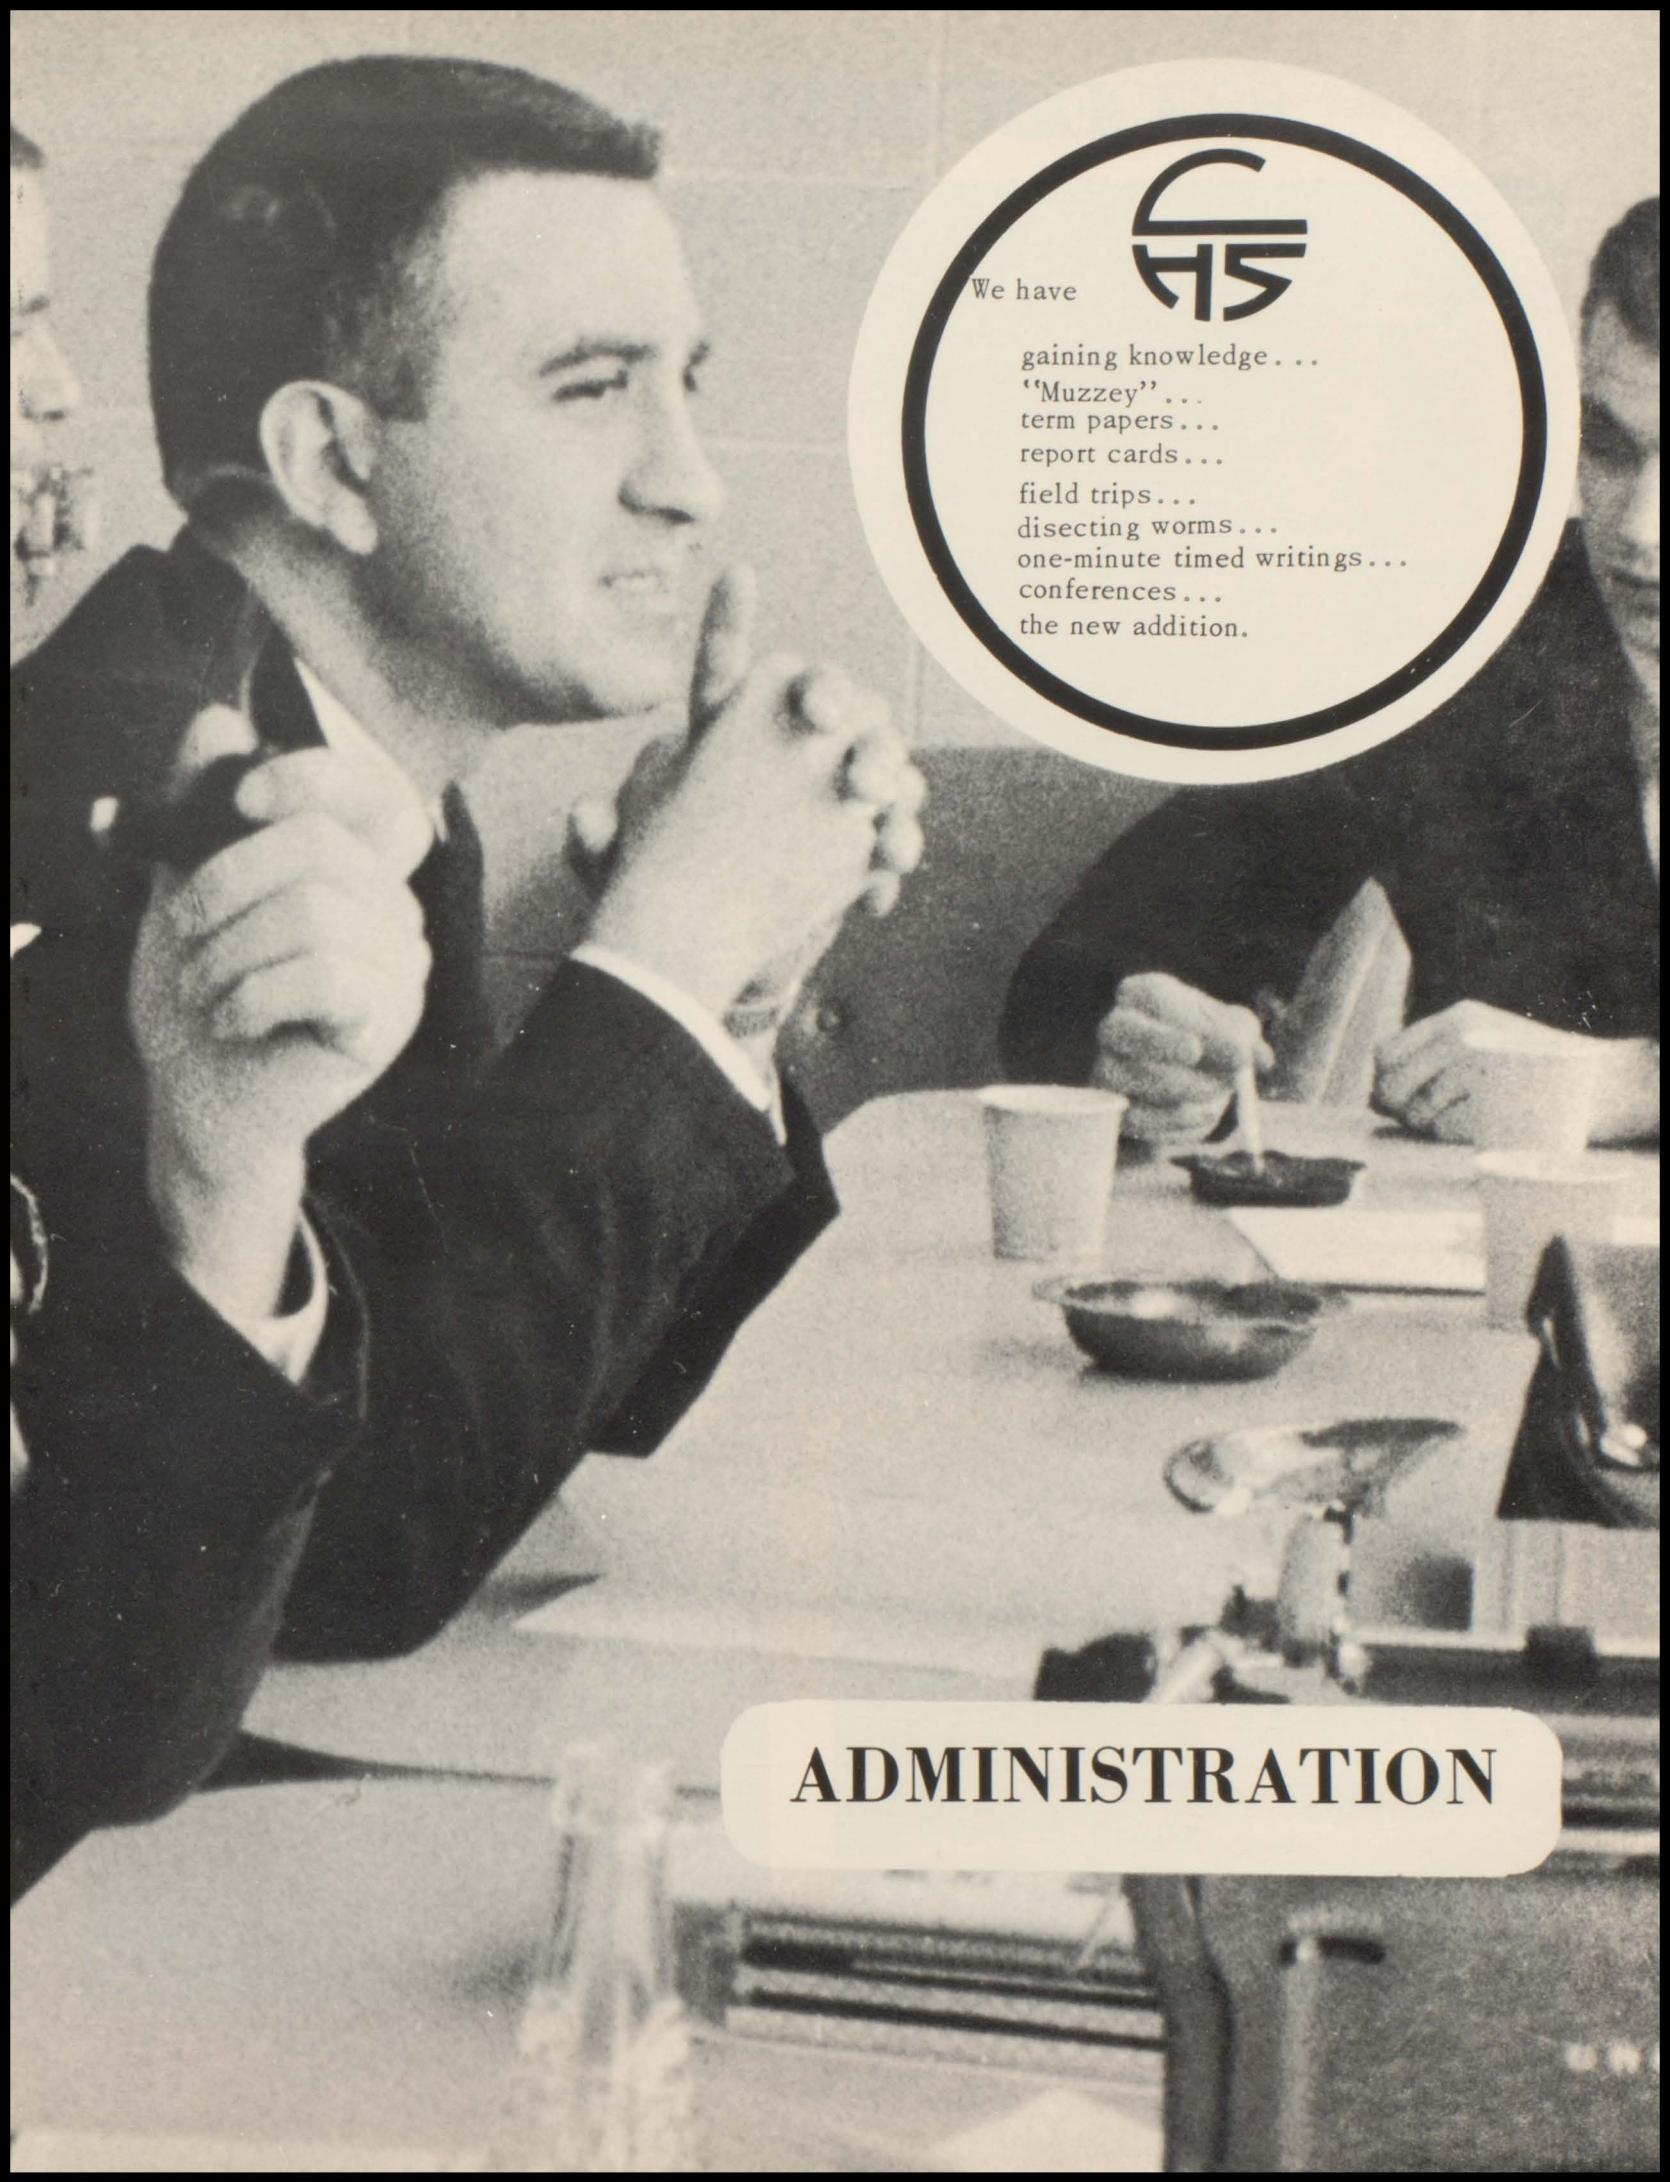

Receiving a three year trophy for her participation in Forensics is Charlene Bachand.

Brooksie Newton displays her reading ability for the Forensics contest by contributing three papers on serious interpretation.

As Editor of the "66" Hilltopper I would like to express my appreciation to the co-operative student body, the faculty, and the advertisers for their help and understanding in the production of the year's annual.

Special expression of thanks must be given to Mrs. Ralph Kenyon for her devotion to this book. She has given us many extra hours of her own time to supervise and instruct the staff. Because of this she has earned the admiration of the entire student body.

I would, also like to thank H. A. Powell Studio for the fine quality of pictures throughout the book and to Mr. Phillip Rice for the time he spent in taking other pictures. Our appreciation goes to Miss Janet Gabier for all the copy she read and helped us rewrite.

Thanks go also to the dedication of the staff. Without their co-operation the completion of this book would have been more difficult.

A final thanks goes to Mr. John Baker for his suggestions that made our book a little extra special.

I hope you enjoy the "66" Hilltopper as much as I have enjoyed the satisfaction in editing it.

Sue Powell
"66" Editor
