Rights of Students Is Council Concern

Detailed records of specific events and the use of parliamentary procedure during meetings are two new additions made by Student Government. The constitution is undergoing changes and they are also looking into a student's Bill of Rights.

Student Government has composed a procedural booklet for future councils concerning Homecoming activities. A one month trial basis for vending machines and the purchasing of a cassette tape player for the library are proposed projects. The student council annually sponsors the Creative and Industrial Arts Fair and have also sponsored dances for the student body.

Homecoming Praises the World of Man

"Tribute to Mankind—Accomplishments" was the Homecoming theme. The Homecoming activities began with the pre-tapping assembly where eighteen girls were pre-tapped and junior jesters, senior prince and king were chosen. The junior jesters, Lyle Johnson and Bill Craig; senior prince, Ted Karbownik; and king, Chip Greene, presided over the Powder Puff game which ended in a 28-0 victory for the seniors. The snake dance and bonfire were on Thursday night of that week. A West Bloomfield Laker "Dummy" was burned in effigy at the bonfire. During these two weeks, the floats were being constructed. They were judged at the Homecoming parade on October 16, after school. Announcement of the winning float was made at the game during halftime. The winning float, constructed by the seniors, was a Victrola with the motto "Victory-Ola". The junior float was a showboat with a paddle wheel, and was called the "S. S. Cheryl Ann". The sophomore class depicted a cave man making a wheel. The Homecoming game resulted in a 24-8 loss for Clarkston. "The World" provided the entertainment for the semi-formal dance held Saturday evening. Couples danced around a giant globe amidst the red, white, and blue theme colors.

Queen Linda Reigns Annual Ceremony

Ten girls were chosen by the senior class football players to represent the high school as candidates for Homecoming Queen. Chosen were Kay Beattie, Linda Champeau, Michelle Humphreys, Valerie LePere, Debbie Longstaff, Cindy Porritt, Gail Ragatz, Linda Slade, Casey Smith and Nancy Volbach. Votes were cast for the Homecoming Court on Wednesday, October 7. The following Friday the final tapping assembly took place.

Linda Slade reigned as the 1970 Homecoming Queen, with attendants Linda Champeau and Val LePere. Linda received the DAR award this year. She is also an active student council member, a cheerleader in her sophomore and junior year, active in United Fund, and an exchange student to Germany last summer. Linda Champeau was student council secretary in her junior year and a powder puff football player for two years. Val LePere is a former cheerleader, has been active in student government, and was in powder puff for two years.

Alice Marshall, chosen by her class as sophomore maid, is a member of G. A. A. and is also a J. V. cheerleader. The Junior class chose Cheryl Shrapnell to represent them. Cheryl is the vice president of the junior class, junior varsity cheerleading manager, a member of pep club and F. T. A. Gail Ragatz was picked as senior maid this year. She has been a cheerleader for three years.

School Publications Strive for Deadlines

The Nickel Bag staff of 1970-71 has changed covers several times during the year. They have printed two special issues per year; one at Homecoming and one at the end of the year. Sponsor, Miss Margaret Best advises editor, Louise Partello; assistant editor, Pat McMillan; business manager, David Topolinski; publicity manager, Nia Kraud; and sports editor, Pat Saile.

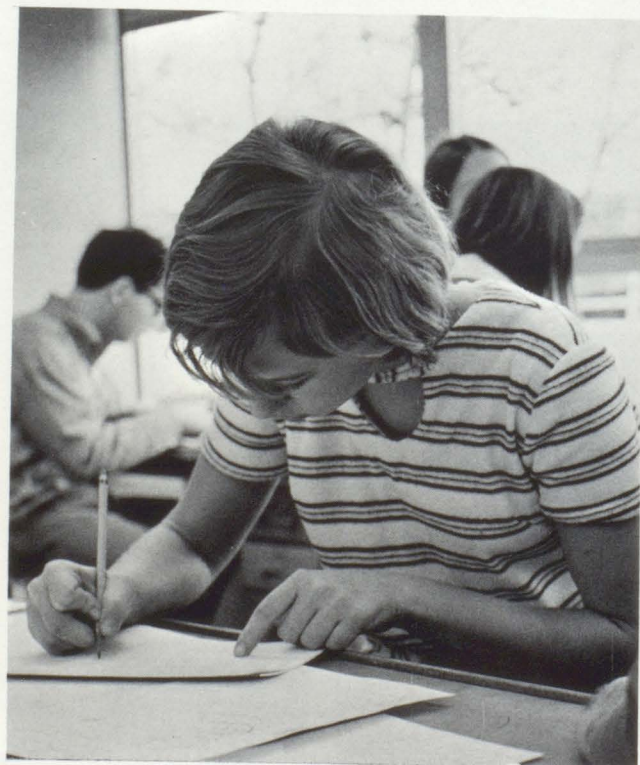

The size of the '71 Hilltopper has been changed. The staff offered a free yearbook to any student who could sell ten patron ads. Carolyn Jorgenson is the editor and is assisted by Karen Baker, copy editor and Debby Thatcher, business manager. The general staff is composed of Nancy Craft, Jan Johnson, Dan Wagner, Mark Young, Nia Kraud, Joe O'Brien, Tina Strilecky, Jim Ream, Stephenie Altman, and Cindy Booker. They are sponsored by Mr. James Chamberlain.

Spirit Promoted by Varsity & Pep Clubs

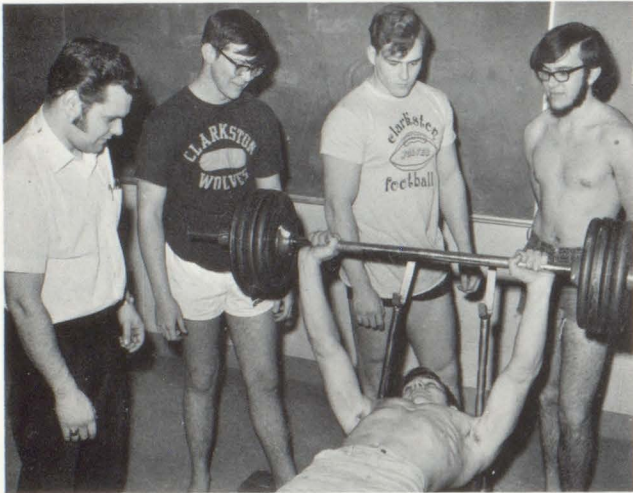

To promote school spirit is the purpose of the pep club. All members participate by making booster signs before games, selling pep buttons and cheering at the athletic events. Officers of the club are Shannon Lynch, president; Jill Morse, vice president; and Kyle Anderson secretary-treasurer.

By having bake sales and selling stadium seats the Varsity Club purchased carpeting for the varsity locker rooms. They're also earning money to purchase blazers for the varsity members. Before being admitted into the Varsity Club, the members have to earn a varsity letter. Presently there are 25 members. Officers of the club are Tom Gates, president; Mike Packer, vice president; Bob Hoy, secretary and Tom Hall, treasurer.

Weightlifting Builds An Athletic Profile

Off season athletes have a chance to stay in good physical shape when they join the Weightlifting Club, sponsored by Mr. William Genshaw. This year they propose forming a Three, Four and Five Ton Club.

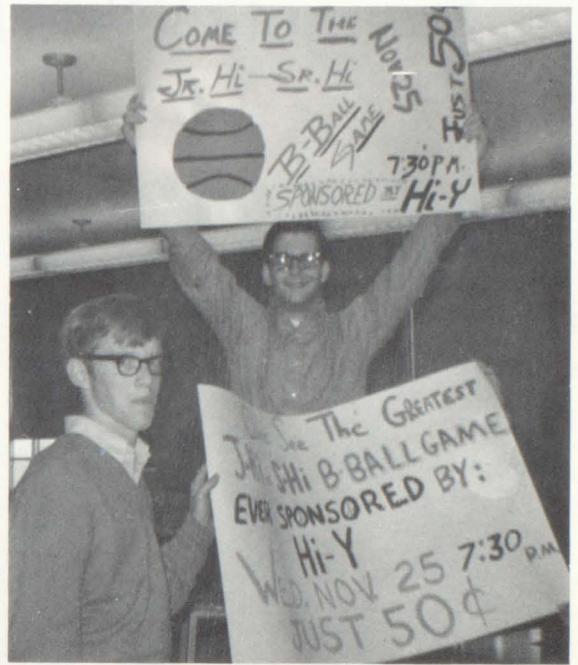

Hi-Y, a community organization for young men is under the direction of Mr. George White. A Branch of YMCA, Hi-Y plans many activities including a Christmas project and the annual junior high men's faculty vs. the senior high men's faculty basketball game. They also plan swim nights at Oakland University.

Y-Teens has a new sponsor, Miss Joann Paradiso. This year they hope to include sponsoring a child in India. Other planned activities include a canned goods drive for needy families, pop bottle drives, a car rally, and a Sadie Hawkins and slave day.

Energetic Girls Display Athletic Ability

Every Friday after school, a group of energetic girls meet in the gym to participate in athletic activities. G.A.A. (Girls' Athletic Association) is sponsored by Miss Cathy DeArmond and Miss Jane Wixson. The girls chose two co-presidents, Beth Cowen and Sue Carlson; Jane Weaver as secretary; and Jan Easton as intramural manager.

Students who have gripes about teachers have a chance to better the teaching system by joining Future Teachers of America, every Monday after school. Advised by Miss Joanne Paradiso and assisted by Mrs. Houghtby Shrapnell, these students teach after school at schools where teachers need assistance. Represented by Kim Mayo, president; Garnet Palace, vice president; Vicki Johnson, secretary-treasurer and Greg Salk, activities director, the club members plan projects such as F.T.A. exchange days, a canned goods' drive and Christmas baskets for needy children and families.

Officers for FTA are Kim Mayo, Garnett Palace, and Vicki Johnson. Sponsors are Miss Paradiso and Mrs. Shrapnell.

The CHS Madrigal singers auditioned in the fall. Members have to be dependable in getting to rehearsals, taking performances seriously and reading music well, according to sponsor, Mrs. William Race. The Madrigals have performed at Lapeer Rest Home, Lakeland Sound of Music, the Rochester Jaycettes and the Clarkston Community Christmas program.

Ski Club is working hard to promote skiing at Mt. Holly each Wednesday after school. The club is organized to give an interest in active skiing and the correct way to ski. The officers are Kirt Hart, president; Linda Bradley, treasurer; and Kathy Mayer, secretary.

Debate Speculates Disputable Subjects

The Debate Team continued its trend of improving on the previous years' records and honors. The Varsity was greatly strengthened by having each of its members, Gail Pawley, Robin Ridley, Barry Stamper, and Mike Pryomski, attend a three week camp at Georgetown University in Washington D.C. The Varsity competed in two leagues and took second place in both. They compiled an overall record of 32 wins and 10 losses in league competition. The season was highlighted when the team journeyed to Toledo Whitmer's National Debate Tournament. The Junior Varsity of Lou Nicolas, Mike Saile, Fred Foster, Dawn Willson, and Vicki Johnson showed great promise for next year, helping the squad to continue its winning ways.

Quill and Scroll is an honorary organization which is organized to recognize outstanding journalists in high school. The purpose of the club is to display literature written by the club's member. Officers are: Carolyn Jorgensen, president; Polly Hanson, vice president; Dienie Weeks, secretary and Debby Thatcher, treasurer.

Clarkston Creates A Thespian Society

"The Torch-Bearers", a satirical comedy in three acts, was the drama department's first production of the year. Tryouts were held in November and a twelve member cast was chosen.

Polly Hanson was the distinguished leading lady, Mrs. J. Duro Pampinelli. Also playing major roles were Julie Wilford as the spirited rich divorcee, Nelly Fell; Jan Lundy as Mrs. Ritter, and Bruce Rose as Mr. Ritter. Many long hours after school were spent rehearsing for the three night presentation to the public in December. Working behind the scenes were members of the newly formed drama club, part of the International Thespian Society which offers scholarships to outstanding drama students. Sponsoring this group is Mrs. Robert Gibson. Officers are Polly Hanson, president; Debbie Hoopengartner, secretary; and Julie Wilford, treasurer.

Friday's Football— Chilling & Thrilling

The 1970 Varsity Football team finished sixth in the Wayne-Oakland League with a record of three wins and four losses.

Coaches Rakow and Warner held a football training camp at Dr. James O'Neill's.

This year's captains are Kurt Richardson, Mike Turk, John Hux, and Mike Crabtree. At the Fall Sports Banquet, Rick Prasil received the Most-Valuable-Player award and Paul Thomas was awarded the Most-Improved-Player. Bill Housefield was elected to the first team All-League and honorable mention All-State.

J.V. Football Sports Undeclared Season

The Junior Varsity football team emerged undefeated this season with a record of seven wins under the coaching of Mr. B.J. Hanson and Mr. James MacArthur. Coach Hanson said the 1970 J.V. team was physically larger than most J.V.'s have been in the past at CHS.

Highlighting the season was the game with the Wolves old rivals, the Kettering Captains. Quarterback Al Hux called an option to the right for Greg Swanson who ran across the end zone in the last thirteen seconds of the game to win 6-0.

At the sports banquet Greg Becker was honored as the most improved player of the year. Bruce Soulby was recognized for kicking a thirty-seven yard field goal, the only one of the 1970 season.

"All number one boys," stated Mr. Conrad Bruce, coach for the 1970 Cross Country Team. Placing third in the state, the team had a 9-0 record and placed first in league standings. A two and one-half mile cross country course was established this season for the first year. Special awards were given to Fred Seyler and Dan Dankert for All-League, All-County and All-State. This year's most valuable player is Fred Seyler, who has held the position for two years. Co-captains are Kurt Carlson and Rick Svetkoff. Other leading performers on the team are Bob Hoy and Gerald Baker. A "Coach-of-the-Year" award was given to Mr. Bruce.

Veterans Dominate Wrestling Matches

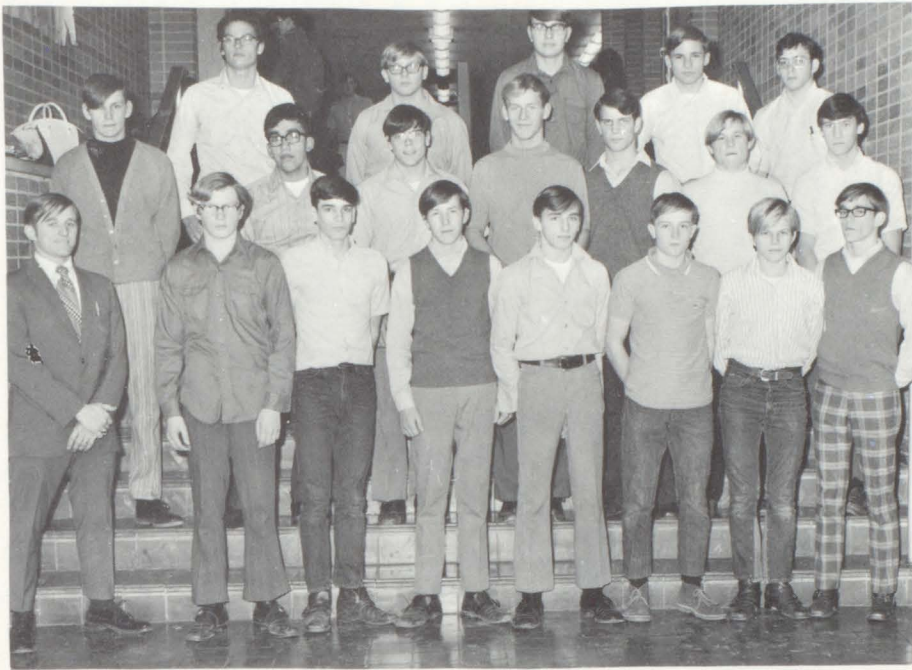

Mr. Richard Moscovic, the wrestling coach, feels that this year's team is shaping up with the overall dual record of five wins to five losses. The outstanding wrestlers are Mike Packer, Kirk Dougherty, Rick Detkowski, and Al Knake. Mike Packer was named the Oakland County champion of the Christmas Tournament at the Oakland University Invitational. Mike Packer is also the most valuable player of the year, having the most points.

Clarkston placed fourth in the second annual Clarkston Invitational wrestling match on January 30. Al Knake established a record this year for the quickest pin.

Ski Teams Conquer Challenging Slopes

As Mother Nature begins carpeting the earth with that luscious white stuff, snow, a small segment of CHS's outdoors students spark up. The ski team, coached by Mr. Howard Webster, brings out the skis, jackets, slacks, boots, mittens and visors to prepare for the slopes. Prior to the snowy season, members keep in condition by playing soccer after school.

The competition is divided into male and female sections. Starting in January and ending with the spring thaw, the ski team competes with area schools in their league and climax the season with several large meets and invitationals.

Highlighting the season was the meet with Bloomfield Andover, early in the season, in which the CHS girl's team won the race by only one second.

Above: Skiers keep in condition by playing soccer on a fall afternoon. Below: Nita Wheeler makes a final check of her equipment before leaving Mt. Holly.

Varsity Is Upsetting

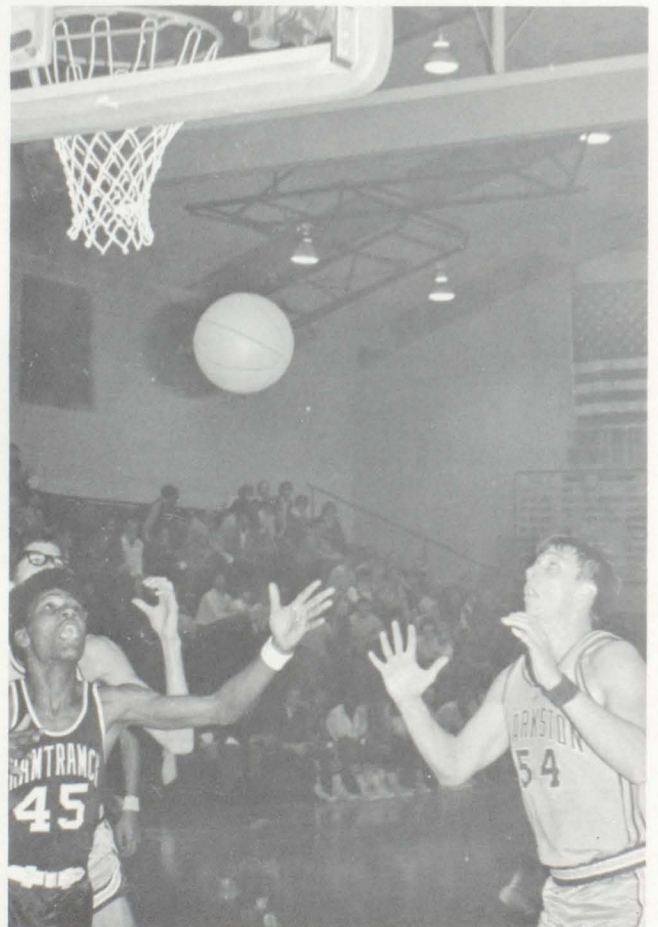

Coach Hanson's Wolves have improved greatly over last year's season record of three wins and 12 losses, largely because there are six returning lettermen and an arrival of some talented juniors. The team is sparked by Don Brown who was All-League in 1969-70 and is now playing in his third straight year of Varsity ball. C.H.S. has an overall taller team than they have had in the past.

Highlighting the season this year was the game with the Hamtramck Cosmos when Don Brown compiled his career high of 36 points. The team's efforts were brilliantly exhibited as the Wolves reached their season high of 91 points.

Team captains are chosen the day before a game according to their performances in practice. The most valuable player award will be determined at the end of the season along with other individual honors.

Rick Prasil jumps high to avoid a player from the opposing team and clears his way to shoot for two points.

Don Brown gets ready to recover a rebound from the Hamtramck team while Gary White prepares for any unseen complications.

Too Confident Teams

Hoping for an additional two points, Gary White tries for a basket while Bill Craig and Kurt Richardson assist him.

Enthusiasm Spurs J.V. Team to Victory

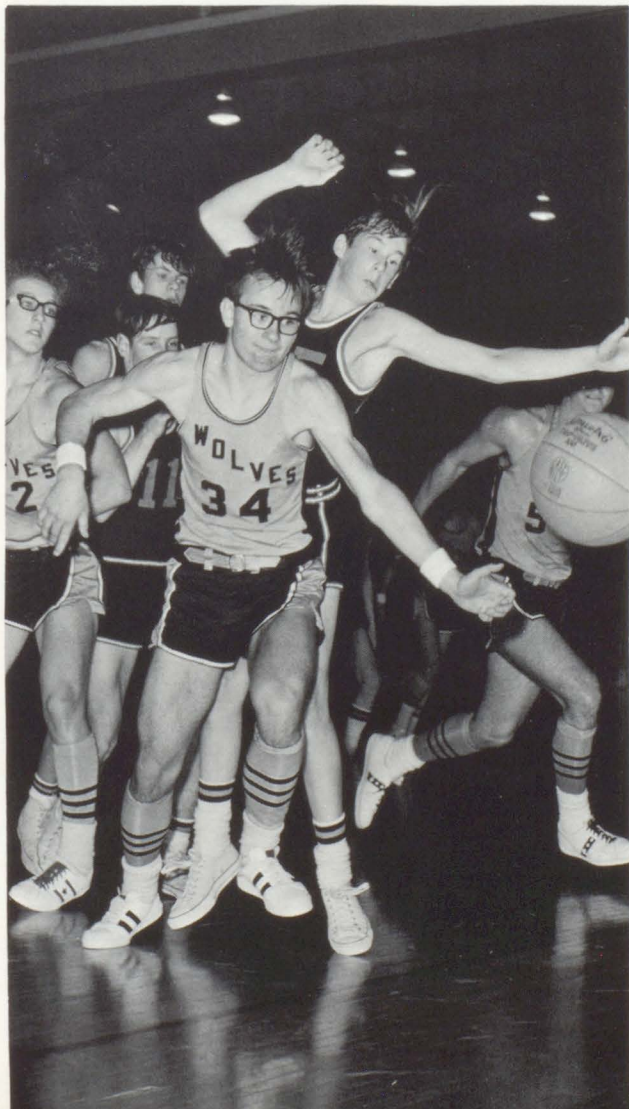

The nights of CHS's basketball games don't come alive until 6:30 when the J.V. team tries to conquer another opponent. The team, on the whole, is taller and has a stronger bench than in previous years. Their continual winning streak brings out the fans who in turn cheer the team onto more decisive victories.

The game with Kettering Captains proved to be one of the most exciting games of the season. The two teams went into the game tied for first place. The results favored Clarkston by 11 points. Coach Pierson thought the Clarenceville game held the most suspense because after going into a three minute overtime the Wolves emerged victorious by one point.

This year's team captains are Bill Hamilton and Terry Green. The recipient of the annual "hot dog" award this year was a sophomore, Rick Hunt.

Basketball Courts Invaded by Co-eds

Basketball is no longer just a boys' sport at Clarkston High School. Every night after school, for nearly two weeks, a large group of girls tried out for a position on one of the girls' basketball teams. First, the girls practiced the fundamentals, dribbling and passing, while their coaches observed. Next, the girls scrimmaged among themselves. Finally, on the morning that the names of the lucky members of the teams was posted, anxious eyes scanned the list to see if they had made the team.

The Junior Varsity girls met and chose sophomores Cindy Booker and Darla Hoopengartner as co-captains. The Varsity girls team selected Beth Cowen and Debbie Molter, both seniors, as their co-captains. The J.V. team is coached by Miss Kathy DeArmond and the Varsity by Miss Jan Modesitt. Both squads are looking forward to very successful seasons once more this year.

Varsity Cheerleaders Take First Place

Try-outs for the 1970-71 cheerleading squads took place during the first week of May. "Pick-up" began shortly after the trials were completed. The girls selected to be on the Varsity squad include Cindy Porritt and Gail Ragatz, seniors, and Jan Easton, Sue Surre, Bev Arrowsmith, Pam Toutant, Debra Wycoff and Kim Blasey, juniors. Rebecca Hunt, chosen as manager, works with Mrs. James MacArthur, sponsor. Early last July this group attended cheerleading camp at Eastern Michigan University where they placed second. At the invitational held at Pontiac Catholic on October 31, the Varsity cheerleaders won first place out of thirty other varsity squads.

The Junior Varsity squad includes Alice Marshall, Vicki Hart, Bobbie Warden, Debbie Willits, Kathy Ronk, Cindy Booker, Ann Bixby, Jama Grammer, and Sue Elliot. Cheryl Shrapnell is the J.V. manager. Miss Mary LaBrie, a biology instructor, was appointed as the new Junior Varsity coach.

Principals Oversee Students' Activities

Mr. William Dennis took the official title of principal on July 1, 1970, after serving as acting principal since January 1, 1970. Mr. Dennis is responsible for all phases of student and faculty activities that are related to the operation of the curricular and extra-curricular programs. He is also accountable for the high school finances, the care of the building, and general maintenance. Prior to becoming an administrator, Mr. Dennis served as the industrial arts department head.

For three years, Mr. Ralph Kenyon has been an assistant principal. A former biology instructor, science department head, and football coach, Mr. Kenyon now takes charge of boys' attendance and discipline problems, athletic functions, and curriculum co-ordination. His goals are to maintain and provide a more meaningful course of study for the student body.

Completing the administrative staff is assistant principal, Miss Jan Gabier. Miss Gabier is in charge of girls' attendance and discipline problems, adult education, co-ordination of summer school programs, and assembly approval. She is also the administrative liaison to the Student Government. Miss Gabier was previously the head of the English department.

Board of Education Gets New Building

The Board of Education consists of seven members. Each hold office for four years. The duties of each member is to voice the opinions of the public.

Dr. L. F. Greene, superintendent of schools, is helped by assistants Mr. Milford Mason and Mr. George Barrie. Dr. Greene's jobs consist of supervising the entire operation of the school system. Mr. Barrie is in charge of the elementary curriculum. This entails labor relations, special testing and text books. Mr. Mason's duties involve handling transportation, lunch programs, federal projects and secondary education.

Counseling Assists Long Range Goals

Three of the most informed people concerning the students at Clarkston High are the counselors, Mrs. Paul Hanson, Mr. Harry McGrath, and Mrs. John Lay. Mrs. Hanson, senior class counselor, and Mr. McGrath, junior class counselor, schedule students, keep their records and provide college, scholarship and testing information. They also provide vocational and job information. Mrs. Lay aids sophomores and other new students in adjusting to life at CHS. Student secretaries for the counselors receive one half credit per semester for their assistance.

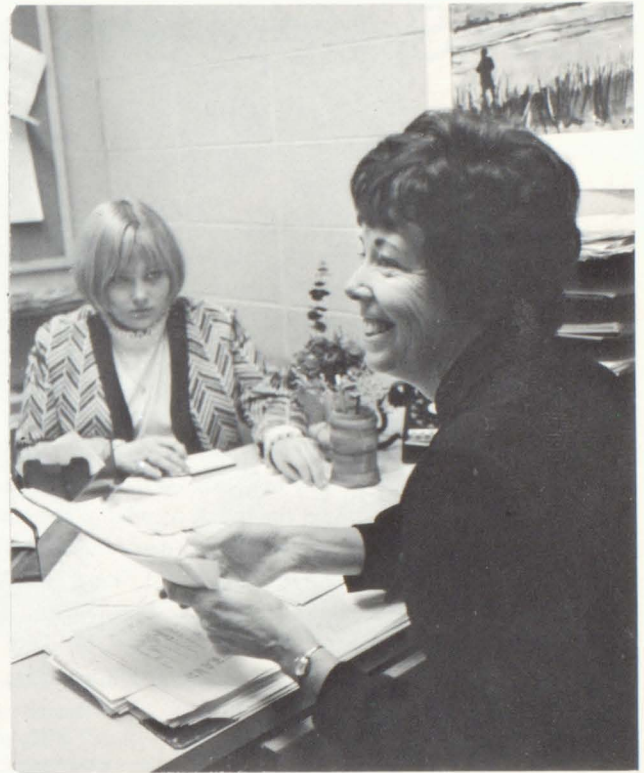

Responsibility for keeping the school organized and running efficiently rests with the secretaries. Mrs. Roland Allen handles the school budget and assists school clubs with their funds. Mrs. Richard Blasey handles the school correspondence and runs the office machines. Mrs. Cindy Bortz, receptionist, types schedules and report cards. Daily attendance is overseen by Mrs. William Ballard.

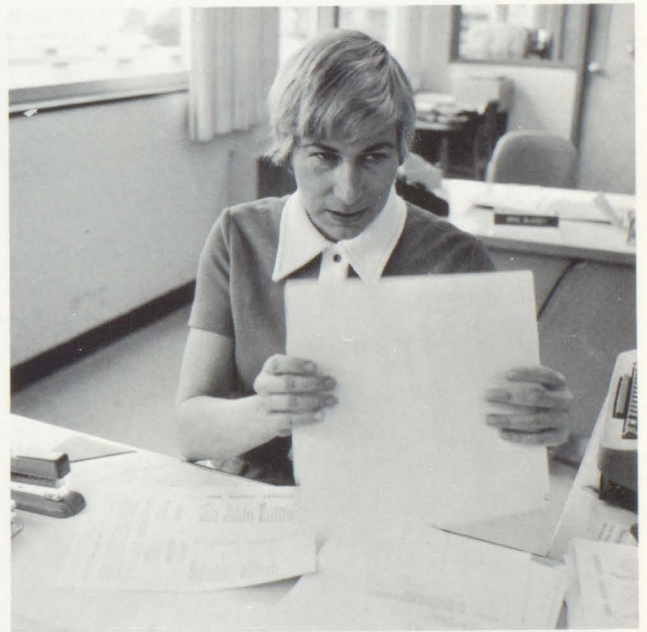

Even with a busy schedule, Mrs. Hanson finds time to share a joke with some students.

Below: Mrs. Allen checks the files for a record of this year's school budget.

C.H.S. Kept Shipshape

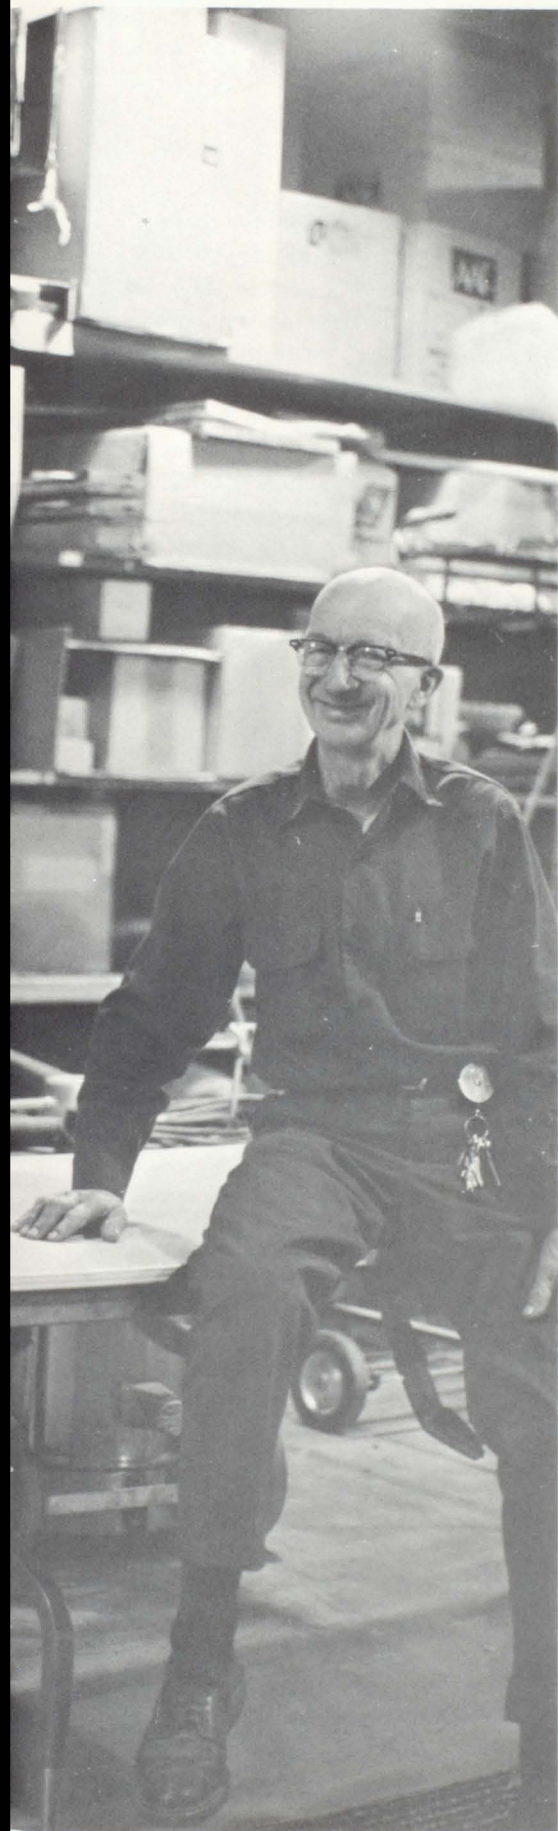

Between 11:10 and 12:40, an average of 500 hungry pupils invade the hot lunch line which keeps the cooks extremely busy. The task of planning the high school menu falls under the jurisdiction of Mrs. Stan Verbeck, cook manager. She is assisted by Mrs. Richard Funk, Mrs. Robert Snyder, Mrs. Everett Blackerby, and Mrs. Charles Bailey. With the choice of either a regular or salad lunch, the hunger of the students and faculty is satisfied for the new price of forty-five cents.

Cleaning up the lunch room and the rest of the school is a tiring job for the custodians, headed by Mr. Frank Green. Working on the day shift are Sherman Lowery and Mrs. Lena Belle Barber. On the night shift are Mr. Glen Putman, Mr. Orville Nelsey, Mr. Don Miller, Mr. Monroe Madden, Mr. Arnold Filburn, Mrs. Foster Brendal, and Mrs. Marry Cook.

Above: Mr. Green, who is head of custodians, relaxes from a more trying day than usual. Right: Mrs. Barber and Mr. Lowery pause after taking inventory in the stock room.

Specialized Faculty Members Give Aid

Co-op organizer, Mrs. Schebor, listens to Bob Elert explain the job time sheet he hands in bi-weekly.

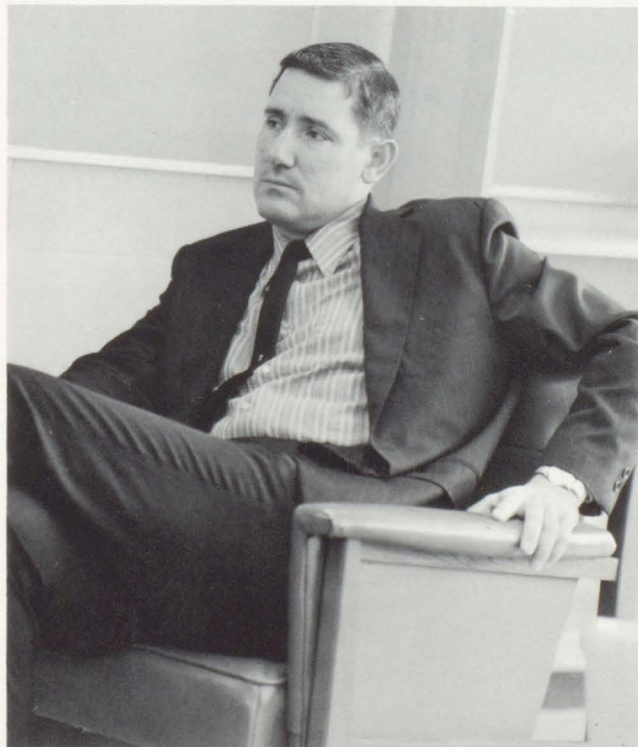

Specialized faculty members supplement the needs of CHS students. Mr. Robert Brumback is the school social worker and covers the three secondary schools. He works with family problems as well as personal academic ones. Mrs. John McNabb, speech therapist, works with the secondary students in helping to correct speech problems. Mrs. Ronald Schebor works on the Co-op program. Her job consists of selecting the students for the program and placing them in a suitable job. Mr. Leach Shelton handles the Teacher Intern Program for practice teaching and helps the new teachers on this program get started in teaching. Mr. Howard Webster is the special education teacher. Other than the special training he has had in this field, his job is much the same as any other teacher at CHS.

Mr. Webster, the special education instructor, writes up his lesson plans for the next week while his students work on the assignment given to them.

Mrs. McNabb, the speech correctionist, runs off papers for her next student session.

Library & Gym—Strong Minds & Bodies

The library is headed by Mrs. B. J. Hanson and assisted by Mrs. Houghtby Shrapnell. Miss Cindy Rachel works in the library as a co-op student. All students working in the library as assistants are required to take Library English the first nine weeks of school.

There is a wide range of sports available to both male and female students in the physical education department. Mr. Rakow, who is the head of the physical education department and also the Varsity Football coach, teaches body building and tennis. The new recreational games course is taught by Mr. Roy Warner who is a new staff member. He also teaches football, golf, and weightlifting. Last year a new class was offered, cheerleading, taught by Miss Sonia Letcher. It is being taught this year and attracts many of the girls who wish to go on and try out for cheerleading. Among the other classes taught by Miss Letcher are archery, track, softball, gymnastics and first aid.

Clarkston Has Two New Music Heads

Drum major, Greg Salk, a junior, directs the marching band under the guidance of Mr. Keith Sipos. The varsity band's majorettes, Becky Byers, Rodell Sage, Dawn Willson, Vicki Johnson, and Vicki Rowland, lead the band in performing a variety of halftime routines.

Besides teaching varsity choir and chorus, Mr. William Race, the new vocal music director heads such projects as Madrigals, League Choir, and music for the spring musicals.

Co-op is being offered by Mrs. Ronald Schebor this year. Students working at office jobs, distribution and sales, and other trades and skills, receive three credits for their efforts. The Wolves' Den, under the sponsorship of Mr. James MacArthur, has once again opened its doors for students interested in purchasing articles such as school supplies and clothing.

Home Econ. & Art Demand Creativity

The home economics department offers self-expression in sewing and cooking and a sense of accomplishment for those girls interested in the pursuit of good housekeeping skills.

Many of the girls take the fundamentals of consumer education, house furnishings, grooming, child development, and family relation.

The two teachers that make home economics available to the students are Mrs. Lewis Wilson and Mrs. Dennis Bronson.

New sewing machines were added to the department this year.

Design I and II, taught by Mrs. Gregory Arakelian, department head, is a new class added to the CHS art program. This class gives students the knowledge of textile designing and woodblock printing. Mr. Ed Johnson teaches the basic art classes such as clay modeling and weaving.

Spanish is a foreign language that has been requested for many years at Clarkston. This year Mrs. George Tucker joined the department as the new Spanish instructor. She will be coming back next year with a wealth of experiences to relate to her classes because she and her husband will be traveling throughout Spain this summer.

Head of the language department, Mrs. Richard Dennis, believes the language classes produce the ability to communicate while traveling abroad, also while learning traditions and customs.

The other language teachers include Mrs. Robert Arend, French instructor and Mr. William Smith, Latin instructor. Mr. Smith teaches one Latin class here at the high school and first year German and Latin classes at the Clarkston Junior High.

Language:

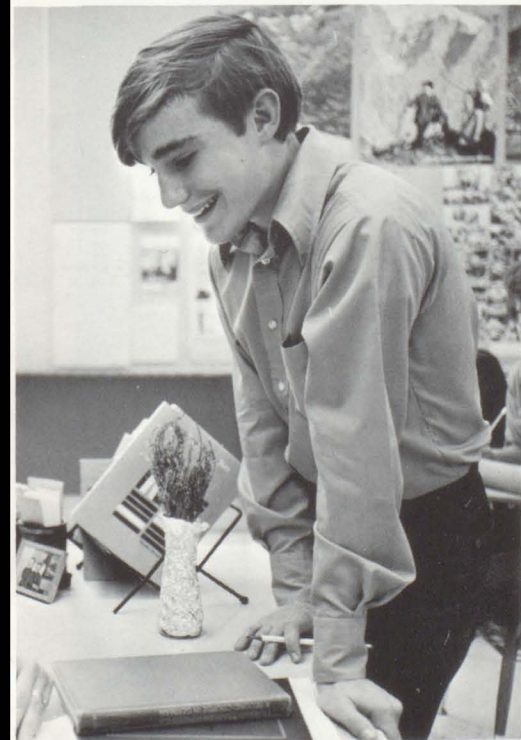

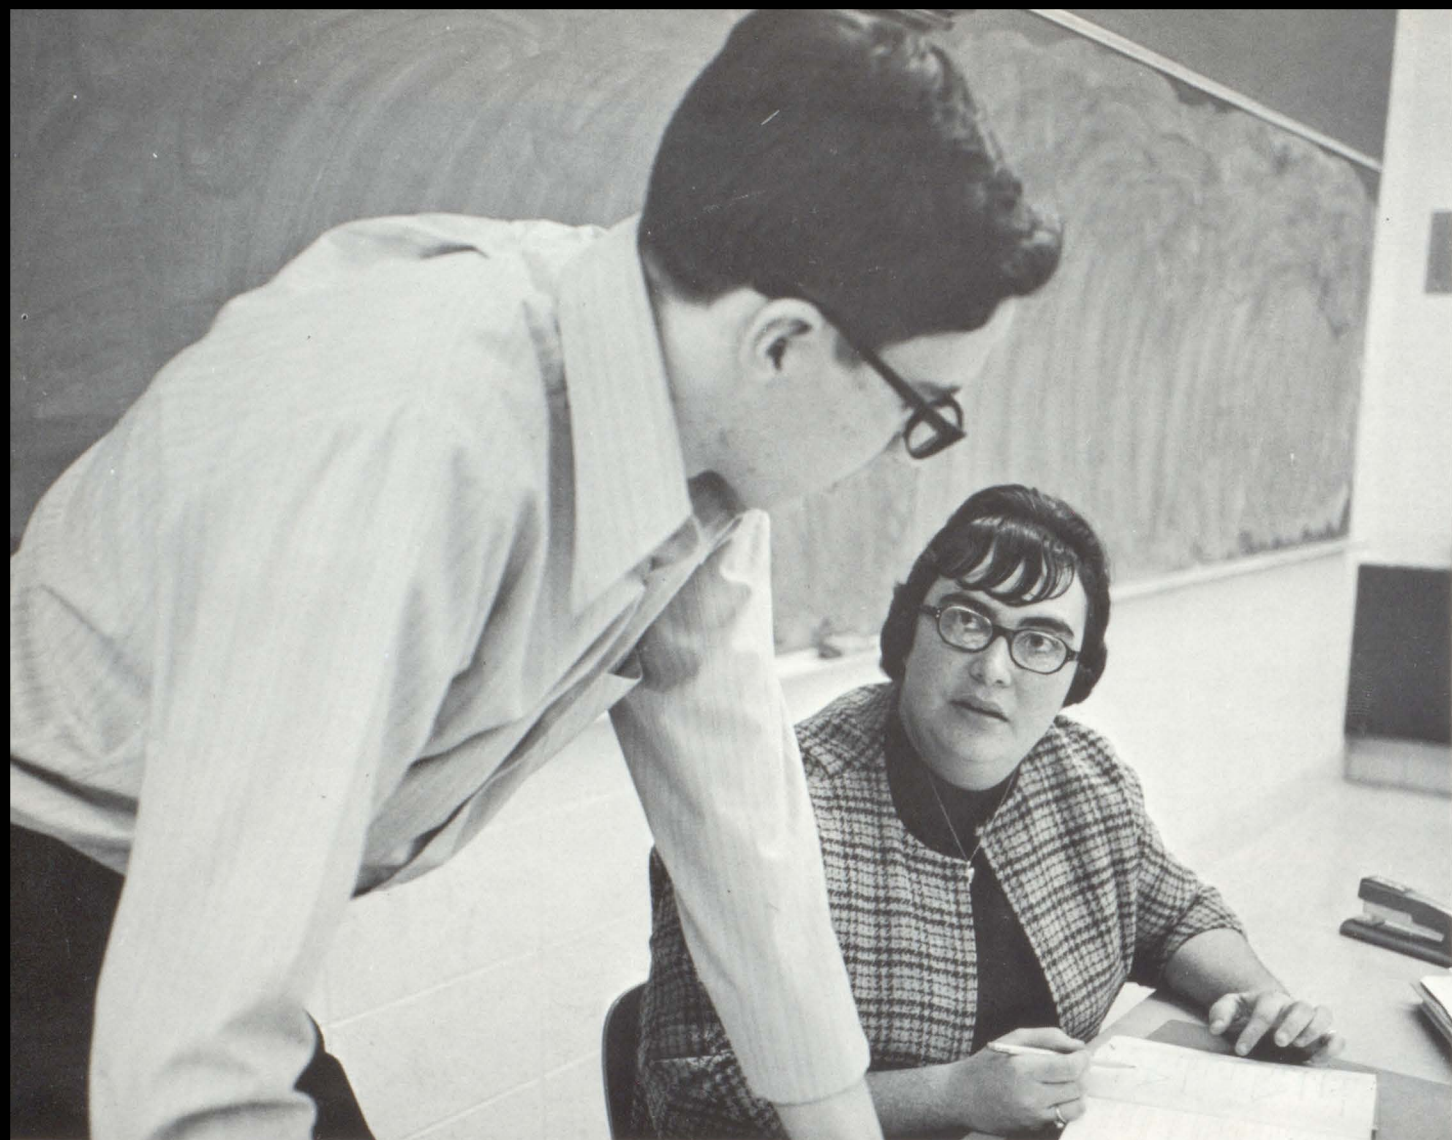

Dreamily, Mrs. Arend, French instructor, thinks of Paris in the spring, a place she is quite familiar with. She and her husband have

Math Classes Offer Variety in Selection

Whether a student plans to enter the field of physics, business, engineering or homemaking, a knowledge of math is essential. It is the goal of the math department, under the direction of Mr. David Skillman, to help students in this area.

Students are offered a variety of classes from which to choose. These include general math, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, calculus and math history.

Members of the staff are Mr. Ron Jacobson, Mr. Paul Tungate, Mr. Errol Solley, and Miss Jan Modesitt.

Biology Instruction Offers Involvement

Approximately 750 different students research in the science field yearly. From the 50 different units offered, students may take the four-and-a-half week science courses, or they may select any course fitting their grade and schedule. Five credits of varying types may be earned from this department.

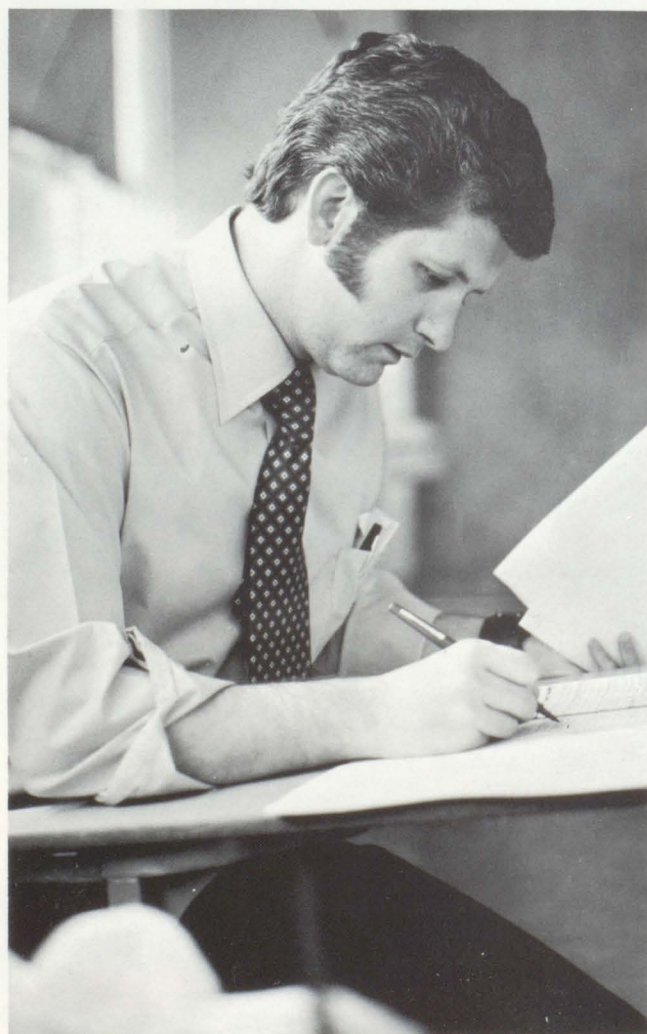

Students taking physics from Mr. B. J. Hanson, science department head, learn to apply their mathematical skills to the physical principles governing their lives.

Mr. Bruce Crawford instructs the chemistry courses. Teaching biology are Miss Mary LaBrie, Mr. Tolbert Carter, and Mr. George White. Mr. William Mackson, head biology instructor, also supervises independent research students.

This year Mr. Errol Solley came to the science department, bringing with him the new Earth Science course, a class which emphasizes the earth's characteristics. In addition, Mr. Solley teaches electricity and a physics course.

ministers an embryology final to Kay Beattie, who must identify each of the designated microscopic objects.

As students discuss the different layers of rock in the earth, Mr. Solley listens.

Office Skills Build On Years of Study

Office training is taught in the business department. The classes consist of such subjects as typing, shorthand, note-hand, bookkeeping and co-op. These classes are designed for the students who are interested in going into clerical work.

Office skills is a new addition to the department. The students, directed by Mrs. Kenneth Becker, type up papers for faculty members, to give them training as they learn. Other faculty members include Mrs. Michael Crowley, Mr. James MacArthur, Miss Joann Paradiso, Mrs. Douglas Pierson, and Mrs. Paul Rakow.

Office Skills Gives Training to Students

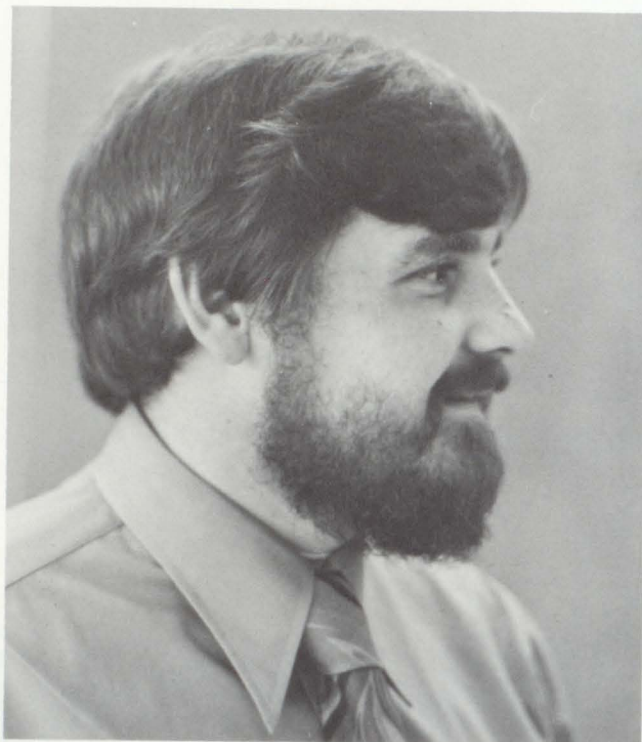

Above: Mr. MacArthur checks the total on the adding machine to see if Margaret Steele has done her assignment correctly.

English Department Adds More Variety

The English department at C.H.S. has undergone changes which have turned out for the better because students now have a variety of 24 classes to choose from. Some of which are Usage and Research, Writing, Novel and Modern Age. Students may also take independent study in the areas they would like to pursue beyond regular classroom instruction.

These nine week classes are taught by Miss Margaret Best, Miss Kathleen DeArmond, Mrs. James MacArthur, Mrs. Alice Curry, Mrs. Leslie Hyde, Mrs. John Meyland, and Miss Susan Case. Speech is taught by Mrs. Robert Gibson, Mr. H.A. Bartlett.

Miss Case smiles at a remark given by one of her students as she prepares to pass out Shakespeare tests.

Speech Allows Expression by Students

Above: Mrs. Gibson demonstrates the proper care of a costume to play production student, Pam Patterson. Right: Mrs. MacArthur questions the seriousness of a student's comment in Modern Novel.

Above: Miss DeArmond allows the students a better understanding of their assignment by use of a record. Below: Mr. Bartlett evaluates a demonstration speech being given.

During one of her Writing 105 classes, Mrs. Meyland explains about a term paper that will be due in three weeks.

Industrial Arts—A Key for Tomorrow

Technical Illustration, another form of drafting, has been added to the industrial arts curriculum. Working with woods, machines, basic crafts, and drawing are a few of the many subjects offered. Mr. Larry Thibault, department head, believes this offers a well-rounded education in adjusting to today's industrial world.

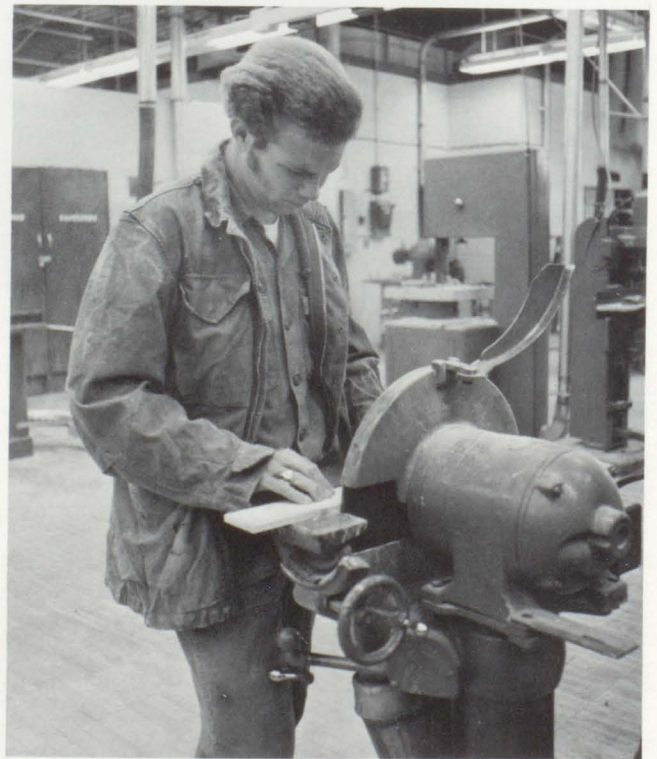

A new faculty member, Mr. David King, an intern teacher from Central Michigan University, adds to the department this year. Mr. Doug Pierson, Mr. Conrad Bruce, Mr. Micheal LaMagna, Mr. Ronald Santa Vicca, Mr. Les Haight, and Mr. Richard Moscovic complete the teaching staff.

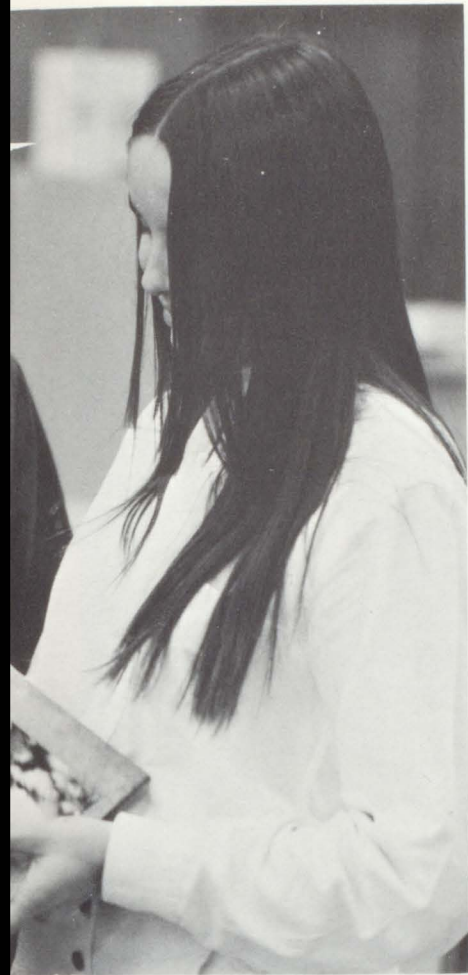

Above: Mr. Moscovic explains to Sharon Miracle and Bobbie Warden copper etching techniques. Below: Sanding a piece of cherry wood is senior Bob Trim.

Above: Mr. Haight explains and shows how the antique lawn roller functions. Below: Mr. Pierson demonstrates correct procedures for a dimensioning handout to Delores Jones.

Industrial Arts Develops Technical Skill

Social Studies Lets Students Diversify

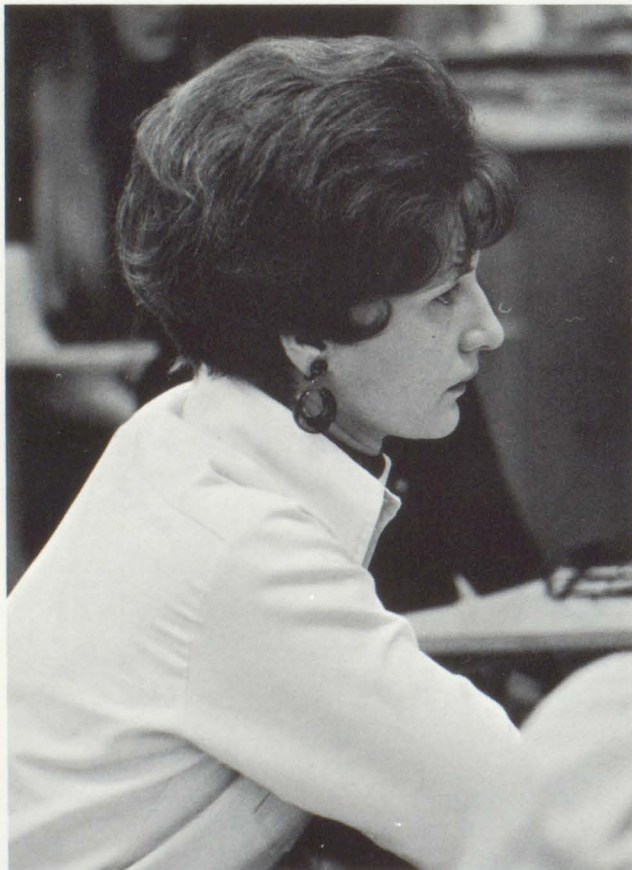

Mrs. Reed smiles at a student's comment on the assignment that she gave about drawing up a yearly budget.

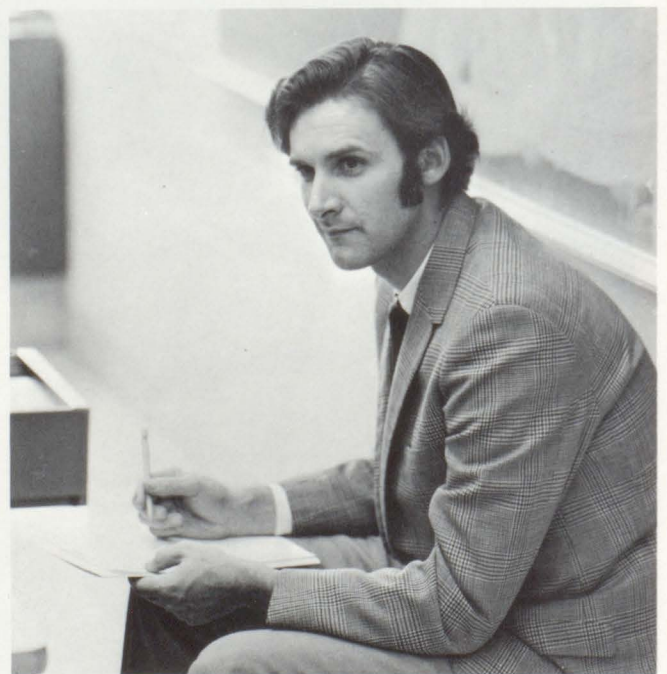

"To educate the student about our world, past and present, with an outlook for the future," is the goal of the social science department. Mr. Leigh Bonner, department head, and Miss Jane Wixon instruct the required junior U.S. History class. This year U.S. History class has been changed to a flexible lecture class and has omitted last year's small recitation groups.

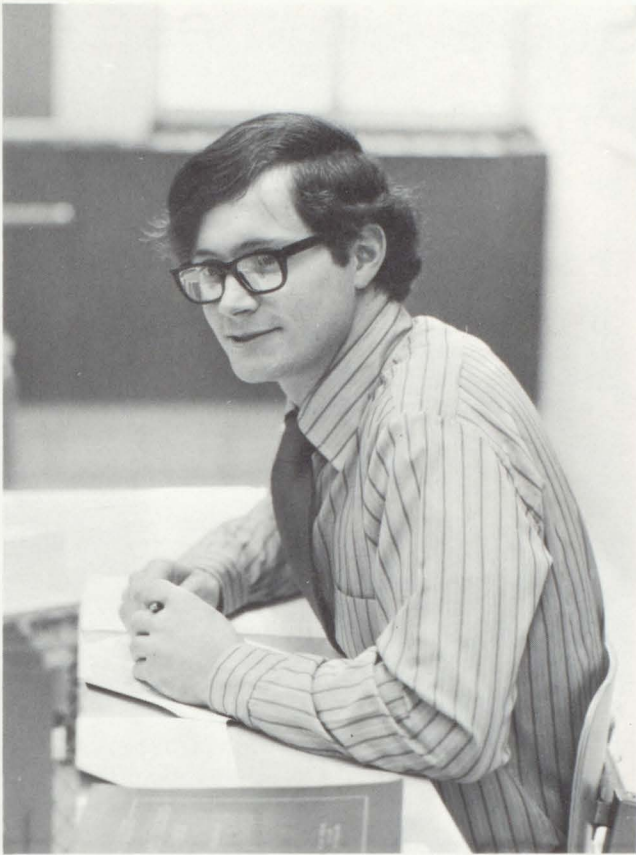

Required classes for the seniors are government and one social science class. U.S. Government is taught by Mr. Larry Rosso and Mr. James Wenger. Mrs. Robert Pasineau and Mrs. Lynn Reed conduct the psychology, sociology, and family living end of the social sciences.

Social Sciences Do Provoke New Ideas

Representing the class is Larry Miracle, president; Brian Gerber, vice president; Dawn Fox, secretary; and Claudia Allen, treasurer.

"Full of Activity" describes the class of '72. Homecoming activities for the juniors included the traditional powder-puff football game in which the juniors unsuccessfully attempted to defeat the seniors. The S. S. Cheryl Ann showboat and maid, Cheryl Shrapnell represented the class at the homecoming game. Participation for the first time in magazine sales boosted the funds for the planned senior trip, a cruise to the Carribean. Also a fund raising project was the second annual Carnival-Dance. Fun and games included a pie throw at teachers Mr. Mackson, Mr. Pierson and Mr. Bartlett; a ring toss, and a lollypop tree. Stuffed animals "Emily the Elephant" and "Boris the Bull" were raffled off at the dance. The largest project for any junior class is the Junior-Senior Prom, held this year on May 22, at Addison Oaks.

To live, to love, to express your true self "We've only just begun . . ."

The activities of the preceding three years have proven the readiness of the class of '71 to function in the world outside of C.H.S. In athletics, dramatics, music and academics this class has set high goals and worked to reach them, in spite of many setbacks. The result has been a breakdown of many things. For example, the band sounds livelier, the Cross Country team is third in the state, the football and basketball teams have greatly improved, Powerd Puff girls were again victorious and the Homecoming float placed first for the third time in four years. In all of these activities, plus many more, seniors are found as leaders and participants. About 350 seniors will graduate in this class.

The class of 1971 is represented this year by Ted Karbownik, president; Bob Garner, vice president; Debbie Thatcher, secretary; Beth Cowen, treasurer; and Cindy Gerber, point secretary. Mr. Larry Rosso has sponsored this class all four years and Mr. William Hartwell for the past two years.

Linda Receives D.A.R. Honors

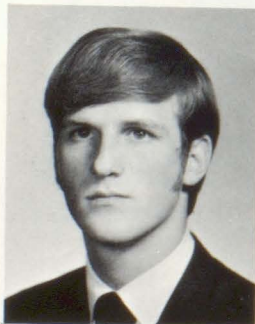

The 1971 DAR winner is Linda Slade. The purpose of this award, standing for Daughters of the American Revolution, is to honor a senior girl who is considered the best citizen. Linda was selected by the department chairmans, counselors, and principals. It was based upon her qualities of dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism. Linda competed in the state competition in March. She received a Good Citizen's pin for being picked from C.H.S.

Junior Miss Title Is Captured by Debbie

"Do Something for America" was the patriotic theme for the 1971 Junior Miss Pageant. Thirteen girls participated in this annual event sponsored by the Clarkston Jaycees over Thanksgiving.

Deborah Hoopengartner was chosen as Junior Miss. For her talent she sang the theme song from the musical "Funny Girl". As Clarkston's Junior Miss she participated in Regional Competition, held in Northville. Cindy Porritt, first runner-up, did a pom-pom routine. Dienne Weeks, voted by the girls as "Miss Congenialty" did a pantomime to "Rubber Ducky".

Students Stunts

Don Brown, Karen MacDougall, Beth Cowen, Ted Karbownik and Ellen Taylor reveal the problems of education through a skit in sociology class.

Above: Leading a cheer for Clarkston is Gary White, Varsity basketball player, during a pep assembly. Below: Various Varsity football players were upset when Kettering's Captains dumped a large green and white rock on the CHS steps the day of the game. It was soon destroyed.

Mike Crabtree, Reid Body, and Kurt Lussier enter the office of Mrs. Hanson with mischevious intentions.

Left: Outstanding wrestlers are Kirk Dougherty, who won two individual tournament championships; Mike Packer, who triumphed in seven tournaments; and Al Knake, who placed first in four tournaments. All three are seniors and have wrestled since their freshman year. Above: Exceeding all existing girls' basketball records is No. 3, Beth Cowen. She received outstanding recognition, and her number has been retired.

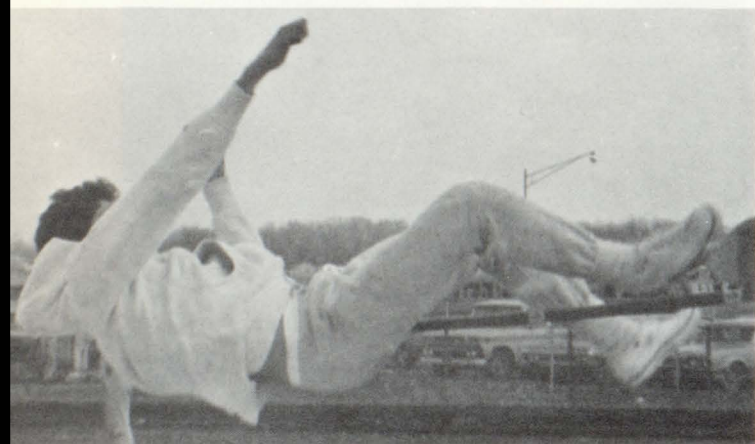

Trackmen Set Ten New School Records

Clarkston's Track Team was "one of the best that this school's had in years," according to Coach Conrad Bruce. He and his assistant Mr. Errol Solley led the trackmen to a fourth place finish in the Wayne-Oakland League and thirds in the League Meet and the Regional. The team's overall record was five wins and four losses.

Ten individual records were broken by the cindermen. Mike Humphreys, Mark Witherup, Rich Dancey, and Doug Kath made up the 880 yard relay team that recorded a time of 1:33.7. Doug Kath, along with Kurt Carlsen, Blair Warren, and Fred Seyler, also set a record in the mile relay with a time of 3:28. Kurt Carlsen set records in both the 440 and the 880 with respective times of 51 seconds flat and 1:57.2.

Above left: Tom Mauti set records in both the pole vault—12'7"—and the high hurdles—15.4 seconds.
Above right: Distance runners Dan Dankert and Fred Seyler who broke records in the mile and two mile run with times of 4:22.7 and 9:36.3 respectively. Below: Hurdlers Mike Humphreys, Bill Svetkoff, and Mark Witherup who set a 100 yard dash record of 10.3 seconds.

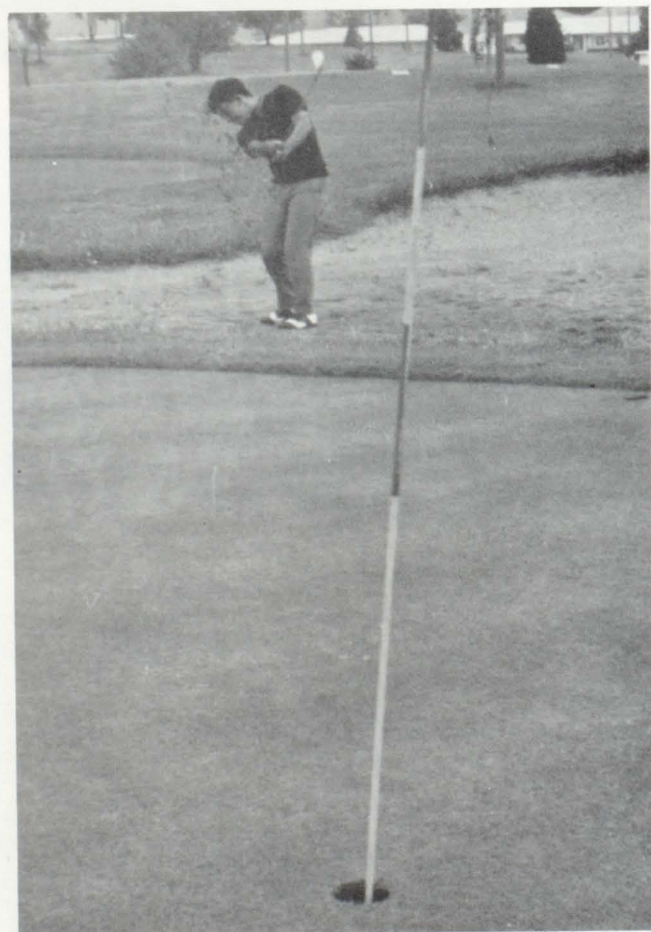

Bruce Spulby, Kirk Hart, Tony Sanchez, Jack Thompson, and Dave Thomas tally up their scores from the team's first nine holes of this match. Next season the team's matches will be played in the fall.

Young Golf Squad Second in League

Coach Doug Pierson was pleased with the talent the golf team displayed this season. A 12 win-5 loss record placed the team second in the league. Two outstanding players, Tony Sanchez and Kirk Hart, competed for first place all year. They both finished with a 40 average. Next year, golf will be played in the fall.

For the first time at CHS, a girl's golf team was organized. Under the coaching of Jane Modesitt, the team had an extremely successful season. Cindy Booker was the outstanding player for the girls.

Season of Love for C.H.S. Tennis Team

This year's tennis team was "spirited" and showed great determination even though it wasn't one of their better seasons. The finishing record was one of four wins and eight losses, five of which were lost by one point.

Retiring after four years are Al Hyde and Mark Shrapnell. Mark tied for fifth out of 11 contestants. Coaching the team is Mr. Thibult.

Wolves Hit 15 Home Runs During Year

The 1971 Clarkston Varsity Baseball team has had the best season in five years. Their 11 wins and 9 losses overall record has earned them a tie for third place in the Wayne-Oakland League. The Wolves also finished as runner-up in the district tournament. One of the year's highlights was a twin victory over Northville, the League Champs, in a Saturday afternoon double header. Bob Hoy was the most valuable player with Mark Swanson as their leading hitter. The team slugged out 15 home runs, the most in ten years.

Coach Tungate is looking forward to next year's season with the incoming sophomores, J.V. players and returning lettermen.

Team Spirit Carries J.V. Onto Victories

Team effort, self-confidence and a great will to win proved the J.V. Baseball team to be an outstanding one. Under the instruction of their coach, Mr. Roy Warner, the team completed their season with 13 wins and 5 losses. The team went on to tie with Milford and become co-champions in the league.

Larry Miracle and Greg Fogg were the leading pitchers with 7 wins, 2 losses and 4 wins, 0 losses, respectively. Leading hitters were Dave Partlo with a batting average of .367, Larry Miracle with .396, Al Hux with .397 and Greg Swanson with .442. Of the team's leading players, three of them received their Varsity letter in addition to their J.V. letter. They were Al Hux, Dave Partlo, and Greg Swanson.

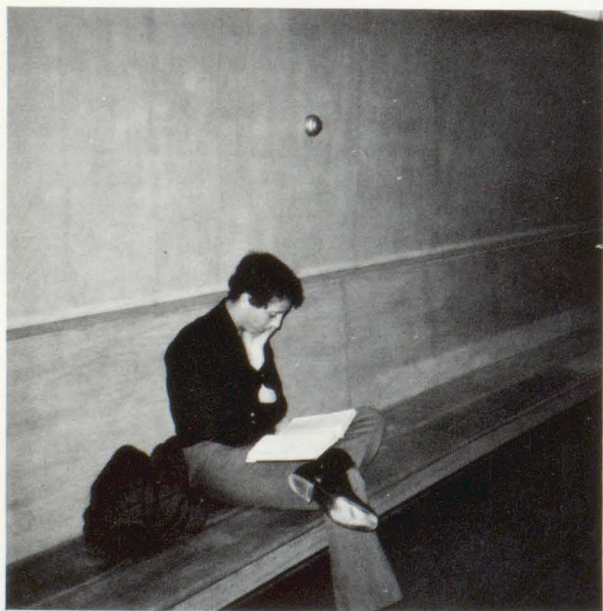

Above: Dave Partlo catches the ball and throws it home in time to make the third out for the opponents.

Foreign Emissaries Bring Enlightenment

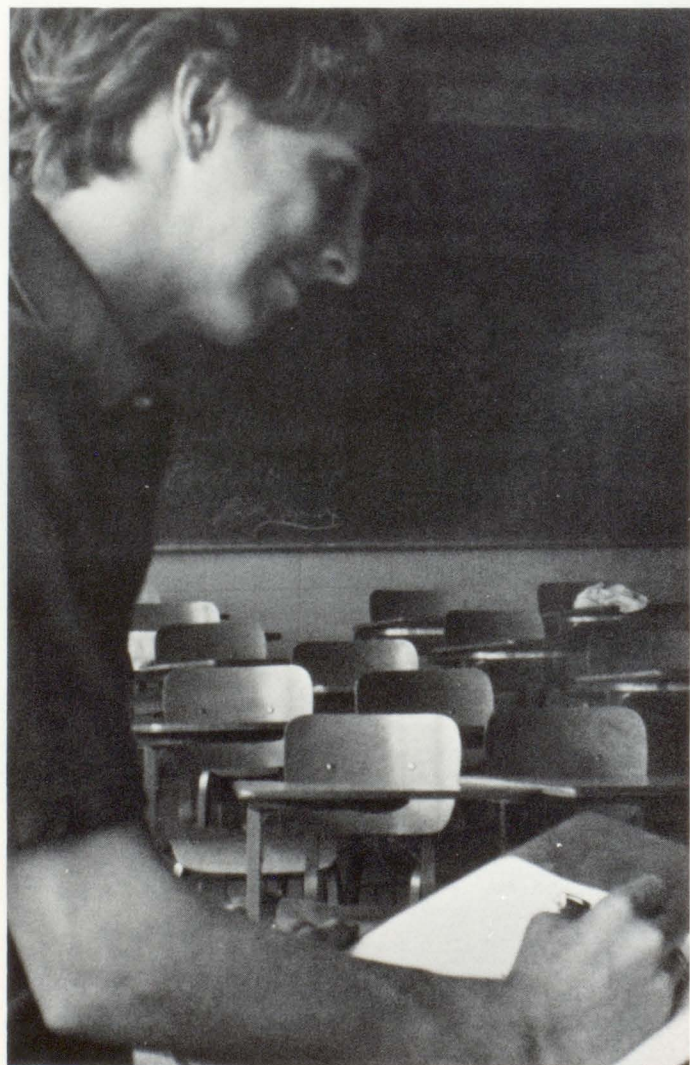

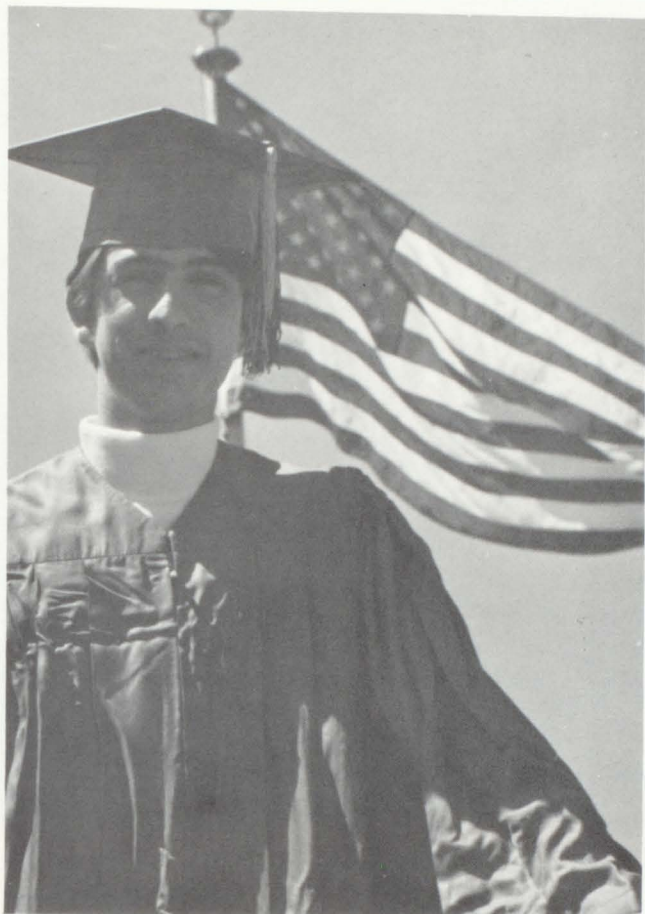

Above: Lynn Orlick was entered in radio news. Right: Boys' Oratory was Doug Dennis' category. Below: Barry Stamper entered his second year of Boys' Extemp.

Forensics is defined as a competitive activity consisting of eight categories; serious and humorous interpretative reading, storytelling, multiple reading, radio news, declamation, boy's and girl's extemporaneous and oratory speaking. Sponsored by Allen Bartlett this activity includes attending tournaments and invitationals plus hosting a local contest. Of the six members, Doug Dennis, Lynn Orlick, and Barry Stamper qualified for regional competition.

Three YFU exchange students spent their American time here at C.H.S. Spending two months, were Miguel Kaplan from Uruguay, staying with the John Mayos, and Paulo Ursolino from Brazil who stayed with the JW Housefields. Risto Rajala, from Sweden, spent the entire year, staying with the RC Cleffmans.

N.H.S. Recognizes 53 Juniors, Seniors

Those endowed with creativity and skillful hands displayed their efforts at the 3rd annual Clarkston High Creative and Industrial Arts Fair. The fair, sponsored by Student Government, had 250 entries. The three divisions, Creative Arts, Industrial Arts and English Composition offered 31 categories. Overall winners were Casey Smith, Creative Arts; Bob Trim, Industrial Arts; and Deborah Hoopengartner, English. Mike Violette received special honors for Mechanical Drawing.

Fifty-three juniors and seniors were recognized by National Honor Society this year. Mrs. Terry Pasineau, sponsor, is assisted by Mike Packer, president; Carolyn Jorgensen, vice president; and Pat Saile, secretary-treasurer.

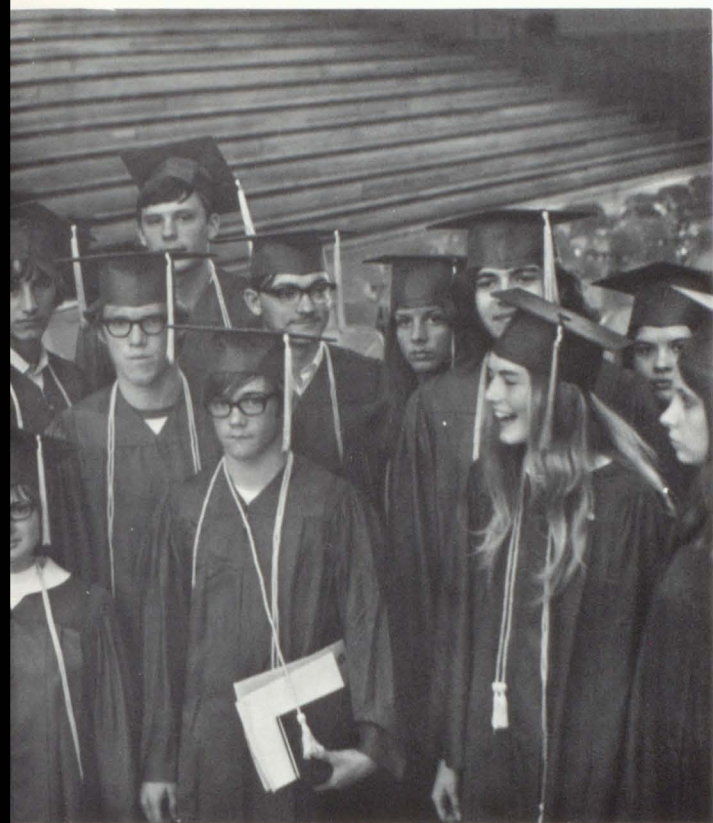

Above: Graduating N.H.S. members group together for one last time at the Senior Assembly. Below: Robert Trim and Kirk Hart discuss the construction of an entry in the Woods division at the CIAS Fair.

Juniors Garnet Palace, Bev Morse, Kim Mayo and Christie Harrison glow as Mike Packer concludes his list of N.H.S. inductees at a special parents' assembly.

Burlesque and Vaudeville Come to CHS

Clarkston Senior High Drama Department's musical production for 1971 was "Gypsy", the story of Gypsy Rose Lee's experiences on the fading vaudeville stage and her ironic rise to stardom in the exciting world of burlesque. Portraying two of the major roles in the play were Debbie Hoopengartner, Rose, and Ellen Taylor, Louise. Both are seniors making their final appearances on the Little Theatre stage. Also cast in major roles were Jim Klark as Herbie, Vicki Rowland and Sue Surre as Baby June, and Ron Gray as Tulsa. The rest of the cast consisted of juniors and sophomores, many of them appearing in their first musical.

This amateur cast, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Gibson, was assisted by student directors Jan Lundy and Debbie Merkel. Mr. Keith Sipos, the high school band director, conducted the thirteen-piece orchestra, which consisted largely of high school students. Mrs. William Race and Mrs. Robert Steele shared the task of accompanying the orchestra on the piano. Valuable aid was given by Mr. Ed Johnson, Art Director and Miss Sue Case, Publicity Director.

Above: "Someone tell me when is it my turn? Don't I get a dream for myself?" cries out a dejected Rose, portrayed by Debbie Hoopengartner. Below: The entire cast gathers to sing "Together Wherever We Go" to an appreciative audience.

"Mr. Goldstone, we love you!" shout Sue Surre, Ron Gray, Kirk Peters, Ken Shelton, Rick Shoun, Debbie Hoopengartner, and Jim Gordon to a downcast Mark Peters.

Left: A reluctant Louise begins her first strip routine which leads her to fame. Above: "Hi everybody, my name's June! What's yours?" Vicki Rowland exclaims to newsboys Zac Bell, Roxanne Head, Ron Gray, and Rick Shoun. Below: "Gee, I don't know how to thank you!" says Rose.

Seniors Skip a Day For Cedar Point Fun

Back into the days of Camelot went 130 couples as they arrived at the Addison Oaks Mansion for the overnight Junior-Senior Prom. The couples danced to the music of the Artisans, after which a midnight buffet was served. Play money was used in the gambling room and the winners later bid on prizes as they were auctioned off. The grounds of this 700 acre estate were open to the few daring who took advantage of the pool in the chilly morning weather.

Three bus loads of seniors headed for Cedar Point at 6:30 am, June 1. After an exciting day of rides and sights, they returned about midnight.

Department award winners pause from reading the Senior Edition of the Nickel Bag. Below: Seniors compare notes and awards after the assembly.

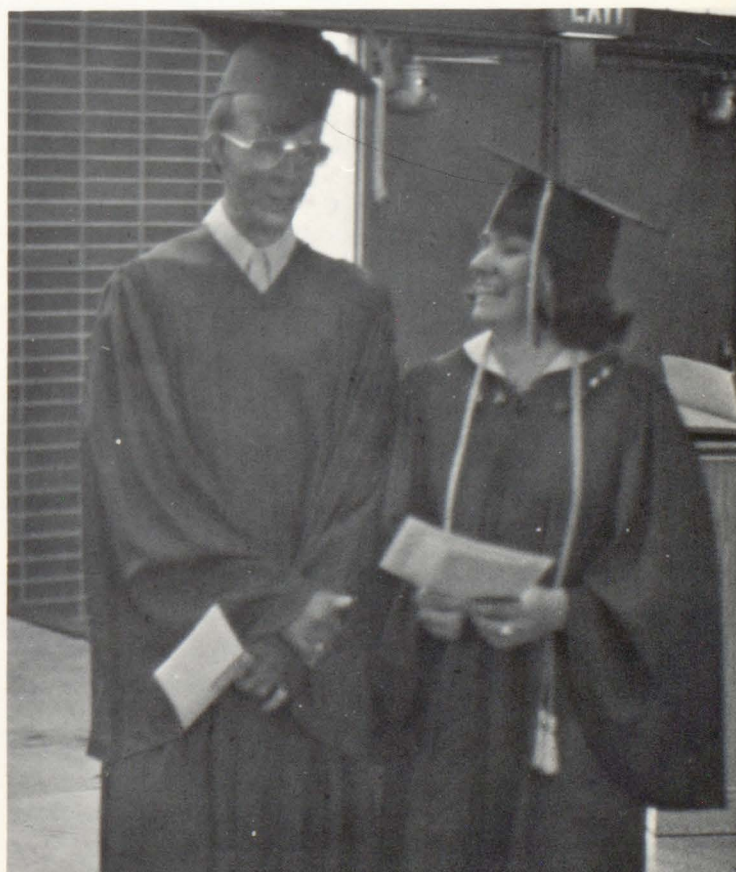

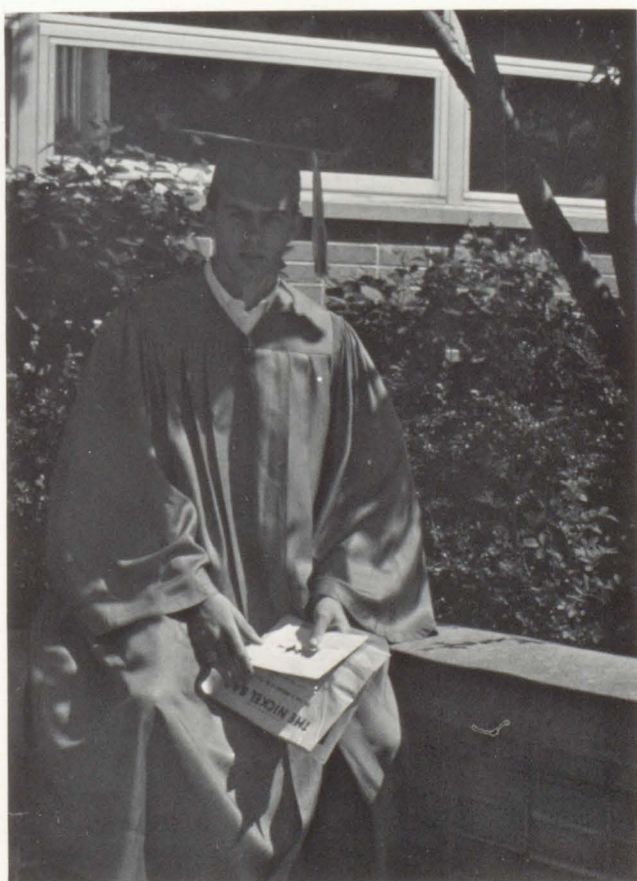

Honors Presented At Senior Assembly

A procession of 319 graduating seniors began the annual Senior Assembly. The Senior Citizenship award was presented to Carolyn Jorgensen and Mark Shrapnell. Linda Donker and Mike Packer received the Danforth award. Linda Slade won the DAR award. Debbie Thatcher received the Principal's award. Department awards went to Linda Donker, Math and Spanish; Debbie Hoopengartner, Dramatics; Karin MacDougall, English and Art; Linda Slade, German; Don Brown, Latin; Polly Hanson, French; and Margaret Steele, Business Education. John Bontempo received the Social Studies award; Rebecca Byers, Band; Nancy Vollbach, Home Economics; Valerie Ganther, Vocal Music; and Larry Smith, Industrial Arts. Outstanding athletes were Beth Cowen and Fred Seyler. Cheerleading award went to Gail Ragatz, Scholastic athletic award to Alan Hyde. Scholarships were presented to 23 seniors.

Today Is the First Day

Today offers new beginnings and chances. Today is a confrontation with larger, more difficult challenges. Today is the first day of the rest of your life . . .

Every day we have "only just begun" to explore the intangibility of life. To grasp and to understand life would take far more than one individual's lifetime. For each and every person, today is the time to listen, to think, and to learn.

The 1970-71 Hilltopper is designed to capture glimpses of this year at Clarkston High. Much time, effort, and pleasure has gone into the construction of this book, especially by the advisor, Mr. Jim Chamberlain, to whom I am most appreciative. To my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jorgensen, my very special thanks for their continued guidance, co-operation, and confidence. To the people who played such significant roles, the staff acknowledges below. It has been a year of learning for all concerned with this Hilltopper.
