OAKLAND COUNTY FACTS AND FIGURES*By JOE HAAS

A great many of Oakland county's own residents do not realize or appreciate its leading position among the 83 counties in Michigan in industry, area, population, agriculture or otherwise. In nearly every essential it is in second place.

And it would be in first place if Detroit was not in Wayne county. Detroit practically means Wayne county. Reduce that city to the average of the other 82 county seats in the state, and Oakland county would be far out in first place in nearly everything.

Its 25 townships with 900 square miles make it the second county in the southern peninsula in area. Its population in excess of 300,000 makes it the second in the state.

It has 12 cities and 12 villages, the most incorporated municipalities of any county in the state, with at least five other communities with over 2,500 population each that are not incorporated.

It has the most lakes of any county in the southern peninsula. It has over 600 miles of paved highways outside of city limits, the most of any county in the state. It has 150 miles of main line railway track, operated by three of the leading systems of the nation.

It has four sizable rivers and a score or more creeks which furnished the water power that cradled an industry that has grown into an international prominence.

Its agricultural and dairy interests are in the front rank among other counties, and are showing an increase, this being especially true of dairying.

It has more state parks than any other county, and is in the heart of the multi-million dollar playground development of the state department of conservation and Huron-Clinton Metropolitan authority.

It is rich in history and Indian lore. It was the home of Chief Pontiac. It was first settled at Rochester in 1817.

After a forefront place in winning the war, Oakland county has turned back to the peace time use of the blast furnaces and production line, to the making of automobiles, trucks and most every other product that enters into the general scheme of human life and happiness. Its manufactured products find a world market.

Besides its industries, Oakland county offers many facilities, both natural and man made, to give it prominence as an ideal home location. Few sections of the entire United States are so richly endowed with all that it takes to make life happy and worth the living.

It has numerous institutions that have won world wide fame: Cranbrook Foundation with its unique educational setup; West Acres, the ideal housing project; McMath-Hulbert observatory; Drayton Plains fish hatchery; Parke Davis biological farm; many public health projects that have proved their value, besides a great many others.

It has more golf courses than any other county in the state, the fishing in most of its 400 lakes is good, there are many public fishing sites. And the county has several airports.

But it is the indomitable spirit of its citizens that makes Oakland county great. This was proven in the late world war when it gave over 30,000 of the flower of its young manhood and womanhood to the defense of its country, and quickly converted its home resources to the production of the materials to back them up, turning out over three billion dollars worth of munitions.

MOTIONS

RULE XXVII. When a member desires to make a motion he shall arise and address the Chair, and when recognized by the Chair he has the floor to make his motion, and if the motion is seconded, it shall be stated by the Chair after which it may be debated.

RULE XXVIII. A motion to adjourn to the call of the chair may be made whenever an adjournment as contrasted with a dissolution of the assembly is desired, and such motion shall have the effect and be construed to mean an adjournment to a day certain, the day certain being fixed by the chairman of the Board of Supervisors, provided, however, notice of the reconvening of the Board by the chairman shall be given to each member thereof by the posting of such notice in the United States mails sufficiently stamped, properly sealed and plainly addressed to each member, at his last known address, 10 days preceding the reconvening of the session; provided further, that such notice will be considered waived by attendance and answer to the roll call, at the reconvened meeting and, provided further, that no such adjournment shall be considered as a dissolution of the assembly and always a continuance of the session in which it is made.
