William Dixon Forsyth of Northville claimed Stephanie Kay Mills as his bride in a holiday-season ceremony at 7 p.m. January 2 in Macedonia United Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Veda Mills of Macedonia and James Mills of Beulah. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Forsyth, 19851 Fry Road.

The Reverend Helen Jackson officiated at the double ring service at the altar decorated with blue and white carnations and lighted with candles. Music at both the wedding and reception was by Gary LeCron.

Escorted by her father, the bride came down the aisle wearing a floor-length gown of white velvet, fashioned with a Juliet collar and leg-of-mutton sleeves. White marabou edged the cuffs and hem. A white velvet Camellot cap trimmed with seed pearls held her elbow-length veil. She carried a cascade of white poinsettias, trailing ivy and Stephanotis.

Mrs. George Moeke was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Mel Boyd, Mrs. Bonnie Bartz and Beverly Forsyth, sister of the bridegroom. All wore floor-length gowns of forest green velvet, fashioned with Juliet collars and elbow-length puffed sleeves and accented with flower-pattern light blue trim. Their Camellot velvet caps also were adorned with the floral trim, and they carried light blue muffs of marabou.

In a matching costume was Jill Moeke, who was flower girl for her aunt. A nephew, Jerry Prudden, was ring bearer.

William Sliger was best man. Ushers were Thomas Frountfelter, Michael Grant, Mel Boyd, Ronald Leverich and Roger Kline.

The bride's mother chose a light blue dress with beaded trim while the bridegroom's mother was in light blue with silver accessories for the ceremony and reception following at Bellaire American Legion Hall for 125 guests, most of whom were from Detroit-area and Antrim county.

Following a wedding trip to Toronto and Niagara Falls, Ontario, the newlyweds are making their home in Ferndale while the bridegroom attends General Motors Institute. He expects to be graduated in 1972.

SARAH ANN Cochran Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, has an exciting "first" scheduled for its January meeting at noon next Monday at the Plymouth home of Mrs. Halvar Blomberg. Members will be brought up to date on the theatre world by Lillian Hicks.

She is director of the new Fisher Theatre Speakers' Bureau and is to speak on "The Theatre Today," reviewing new shows and sharing experiences in the theatre.

Miss Hicks began her career as an actress and has appeared on stage, worked back stage, in the box office and has performed on radio and television. She knows her theatre and its people.

Her talks, the Fisher promises, are laced with hilarious and sometimes hectic anecdotes of theatrical gaffs.

The world-famous theatre announced recently the formation of the speakers' bureau as a new and unique service to the greater Detroit community. The bureau is to act as a theatrical information center under Miss Hicks' direction, helping to provide groups with speakers and guests involved in the theatrical world.

The Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter is one of the first area groups to hear Miss Hicks. The program is to follow luncheon for which Mrs. F. Donald Sober is luncheon chairman. Mrs. David Christensen is program chairman and will introduce Miss Hicks.

Mrs. George F. Merwin, chapter regent, suggests that members planning to bring guests make reservations with her.

Western Suburban Junior Women's Club made plans for a used book sale to be held January 30 at the Livonia Mall at its January meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Adelbert Heath, 526 Orchard.

Presenting the lesson will be Mrs. William Underwood and Mrs. Harold Seden.

Name of one of the sets of great grandparents of the 1971 First Baby were omitted from last week's story. They are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gibson of Six Mile Road. The 1971 champ is Sarah Alice Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Carter of 44420 Six Mile Road.

Citizens for Environmental Action will meet at 8 p.m. next Thursday, January 21, at the home of Mrs. Dale Beltz, 362 Welch, to make plans for another collection of non-returnable glass containers to follow the successful drive January 2.

Anyone interested is invited to attend the meeting and may call Don Oswell, 349-4566, for additional information.

Since 1952 he has been listed in Who's Who of American Book Collectors and presently is writing a bibliography of Lincoln sheet music.

Mrs. William Crump is program chairman for the annual evening meeting of the antiques society to which husbands are invited. Dessert and coffee will precede the meeting.

Joint Swim Program Set by Merged Scouts

First joint activity of the combined Northville-Plymouth Girl Scout Council is a swimming instruction program to be held at the old Plymouth High School from noon to 2 p.m. Saturdays.

Registration is this Saturday. An adult must register the Scout. A health certificate is required for the course, which is $5 for 10 weeks. Brownies as well as Girl Scouts may participate. Scouts are asked to use the rear parking lot entrance to the school off Adams Street.

Mrs. George Bauer, field vice president of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, announced the merging of the Northville Council with Plymouth's for the time being. The action was taken, she said, with Northville's approval as well as that of the Girl Scout Council to place Northville troops under good direction and allow for increased opportunities for girls enrolled in scouting.

The combined program, she added, will increase exchange of ideas for adult leaders. Northville's Council had not been in operation this fall. If Northville doesn't have leaders for a council in the future, the merger may become permanent.

First meeting of the combined council will be held at 1 p.m. Tuesday, January 19, in the Plymouth First Presbyterian Church. Dr. Frederick Powell, instructor for social research at University of Michigan who is an authority in his field and frequent speaker to groups on mass communication, will be guest speaker.

STENCIL ARTIST - Miss Florence Wright displays a finely stenciled box, one of the variety of stenciled items she showed Northville Woman's Club members last Friday at Northville Presbyterian Church as she demonstrated the craft that reached its peak between 1825 and 1835.

Art Dates Antiques, Stencil Expert Says

Details of a stencil can date an antique chair or tin piece decorated with the fine art of yesteryear.

Miss Florence Wright, a home furnishing specialist in New York State working with the extension division of Cornell University until her retirement, gave hints Friday of ways to tell the age of such stencils.

Miss Wright, who retired to South Lyon, spoke to Northville Woman's Club members, bringing several chairs and tin pieces to illustrate her talk at Northville First Presbyterian Church.

She also demonstrated ways to stencil plain pieces or antiques that have lost their design.

As she worked with large stencils to create flowers and fruit, Miss Wright explained that the art of stenciling reached a peak in the early 1800's. Earliest stencils were done painstakingly with gold leaf transfer. These early examples, she added, did not use much other color. Such stencils melt through the years so that when reproducing, she suggested, the craftsman may want to make them brighter.

Veins on leaves used in fruit or flower stencils can date an early tin tray or chair. The edge of a curving piece of paper was used first, creating one sharp edge with a shading on the other. Later, vein stencils were cut to form sharper veins.

Early stenciled chairs, mostly black, had thin seats and curving backs, she pointed out. Most were black originally, but sometimes stencil work, especially in Maine, was done on white or yellow.

Chairs stenciled in the 1820's have a brown tone, Miss Wright pointed out, explaining that painters first gave the pieces an artificially grained look in those shades. In later chairs, the graining has a more reddish tone.

Early designs were assembled stencil by stencil with each piece of fruit applied separately, the speaker explained. Peach blush tones were added and, in later work, green shadings. When the Hitchcock chair factory reopened in the late 1940's, she added, stencils were applied with an air brush for mass production.

As she mentioned this revival of interest in stenciled furniture, Miss Wright commented that interest in the Dianne Kay Crawford, daughter of Mrs. Robert E. Crawford, 436 North Center Street, and the late Mr. Wayne Crawford, became the bride of Robert Wayne Hubbert in a candlelight ceremony December 26 at Northville Baptist Church. The bride's grandfather, F. E. Graham, a former Northville resident, flew from his home in Dover near Clearwater, Florida, to escort the bride down the aisle. Pastor Cedric Whitcomb officiated.

For the ceremony the church resembled an outdoor scene with Christmas trees and snow. Pews were marked with fresh pine swags and gold velvet bows. The decorations were the work of a family friend.

Quester Men's Night Features Lincoln Talk

Some of the not-so-well-known human factors in the life of our country's 16th president will be touched upon by Lincoln Scholar Weldon E. Petz as he takes members of Baseline Questers and their husbands on "A Pilgrimage with Abraham Lincoln" at the club's annual men's night program at 7:30 p.m. Monday, January 25, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Klein, 18450 Fermanagh Court.

Petz, who is principal of Forest Elementary School in Farmington, has been a serious student of Lincoln for 28 years.

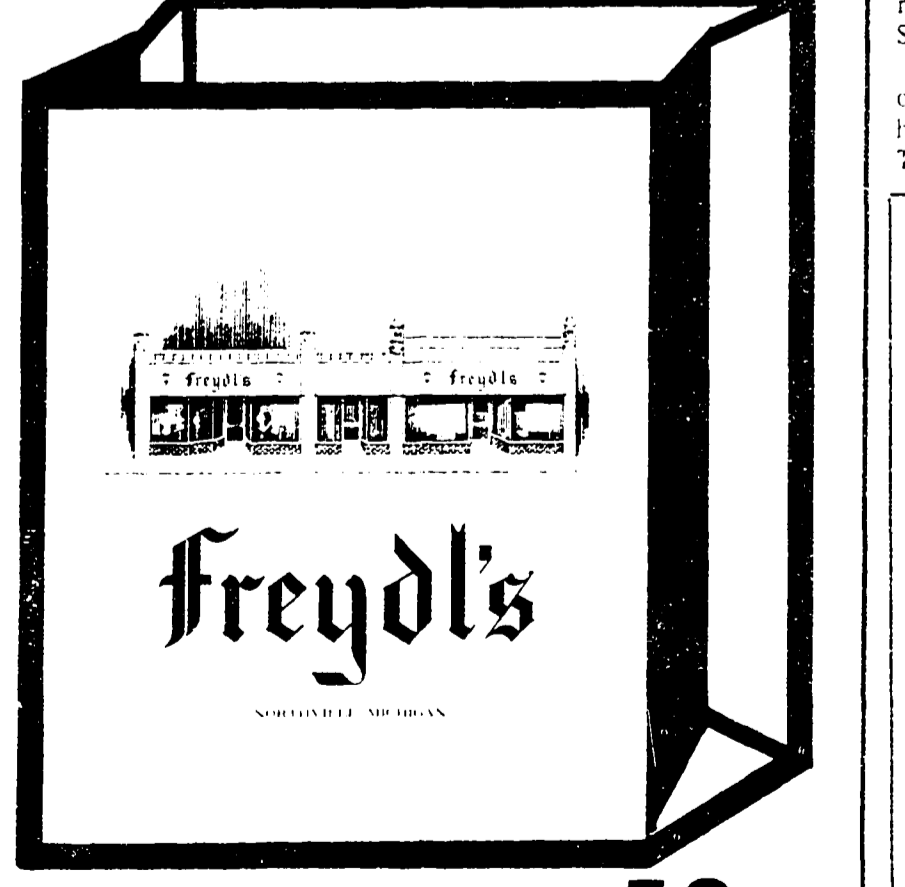

In December, 1968, he was one of five Lincoln authorities invited to the re-dedication of the restored Old State House in Springfield, Illinois, where Lincoln worked and gave his "House Divided" speech. The ceremonies were the culmination of the Illinois Sesqui-centennial celebration.

To illustrate his talk, the Lincoln authority uses articles associated with the Civil War president to present him as "a visual, real person."

An early interest in the life and person of Lincoln, the speaker notes, led to serious study and collecting in 1943. A member of a four-generation Detroit family (with his daughter Cheryl, now a university student, becoming a fifth), Petz first earned a B.S. degree in music education at Wayne University. He received his M.A.

Masque Players to Present 'The Apple Tree' in February

The Masque Players of Schoolcraft College will be presenting "The Apple Tree," a musical, on the evenings of February 3, 4, 5, and 6 in the Liberal Arts Theater on the campus of the college, at 8:00 p.m.

The musical is based on "The Diary of Adam and Eve," by Mark Twain, "The Lady or the Tiger?" by Frank R. Stockton, and "Passionella" by Jules Feiffer. Tickets may be secured at the bookstore on the college campus.

Written by Sheldon Harnick and Jerry Bock in 1966, the three-part musical gives the players an opportunity to display the varied talents of the many students who are involved in this production. Eve is played by Charlotte LeBlanc (Livonia), who has appeared in many productions at the college. Barbara, the barbarian, is played by Karen Kahn (Westland), who is a newcomer to the group, and Passionella, the Mae West type, is played by another newcomer, Judy Utley of Northville.

The main theme of the play is the eternal problem of man and woman, but in this case it is the woman who controls the men without their being any the wiser. In these days of the Woman's Liberation Movement, the play suggests that women are free and in control. It is the men who should strive for liberation. The musical is played for the delightful fun of it all. The music is singable and delightful. The lyrics are clever and funny. An evening of delightful, playful fun is planned for the audience by the players.

Other Northville residents participating in the production are Doug Waldren, John Peat, Judy Clegg, and Dennis Mannisto.

School Sets March Vote On Millage

A special election will be held Saturday March 6, for the renewal of expired operational millage in the Northville School District.

The date was set by school board trustees Monday night, with no specific millage rate established. Administrators have hinted, though, that they may request additional millage besides the 17 mills that expired December, 1970. The additional operational millage will be needed to off set the anticipated state aid cut, they noted.

Charley McCarthy couldn't have squeezed into Northville Downs Sunday afternoon.

A turnout of more than 11,000 fans for Sunday's finals sealed the success of the first International Motor-State Snowmobile Classic, which spluttered at the start with only 1,000 fans on hand Friday night, an estimated 1,200 Saturday afternoon and 4,000 Saturday night.

Promoter Gerald Stone, sponsor of the $50,300 event along with the Michigan International Snowmobile

Association, said Monday that "we won't be in the red . . . there's a small profit."

Professional drivers and longtime snowmobile enthusiasts hailed the Downs' facilities as the finest they had ever seen. The track was termed excellent and the accommodations unmatched by previous meets usually held in open fields in northern Michigan.

Ski-Doo, Rupp and Arctic Cat snowmobiles dominated the racing (see story and pictures on pages 1-B and 7-B).

The enthusiasm of several factory representatives for the Northville race assures a return, if not an annual, Northville Snowmobile Classic.

Stone stated that he was already making plans for next year with several ideas for improving the local meet (see Speaking for The Record, page 10-A).

A total of 543 machines were entered in the Northville meet hitting speeds on the straight-away of the half-mile oval of up to 90 miles per hour. The top average speed for five times around the track was 58 MPH set by Yvon Duhamel, world champion snowmobile racer and member of the Ski-Doo factory team.

There were few spills and no serious accidents.

The track's facilities were taxed to the limit Sunday as all reserved seats in the grandstands and clubhouse were filled. Thousands of fans stood inside and along the rails of the track as well as in the infield where competitors kept their machines.

Long lines stood at refreshment counters and waitresses were swamped by the unanticipated business.

The event was well covered by the news media including the Detroit press, radio and television stations and numerous national sports magazine publications.

Films of the races were taken for Jerry Chiappetta's Michigan Sportsman television program, which appears Saturday evenings on channel 7. They

Harold Wright Gets Hawthorn Post Rabinovitch Steps Down

Ralph D. Rabinovitch, M.D., director of Hawthorn Center since its opening in 1956, has stepped down from his administrative position. He will continue as clinical research director for the Center.

Succeeding Dr. Rabinovitch will be his close associate for the last 14 years, Dr. Harold L. Wright, Jr., of Northville, whose appointment as acting director of the Center was announced last week by Dr. E. Gordon Yudashkin, director of Michigan Department of Mental Health and former superintendent of Northville State Hospital.

Hawthorn Center, located in Northville Township off Haggerty Road, psychiatric hospital and clinic for children. It is also the center for research into causes and treatment of childhood mental disturbances.

"Dr. Rabinovitch's incomparable clinical skills have brought international prominence to Hawthorn Center," said Dr. Yudashkin.

"From the beginning he has conducted a personalized, individualized treatment program. He will long be remembered by the thousands of Michigan families he has helped; and the public will not soon forget his colorful, and often controversial, evaluation of social ills which bear significantly upon mental problems."

"We are looking forward to the completion and publication of his research studies and his evaluation of the Hawthorn Center program based upon his experiences as its director."

Dr. Wright, Hawthorn's senior clinical psychiatrist and pediatrician, "is extremely well qualified to carry out the medical and administrative responsibilities of the center," said Dr. Yudashkin, "and he comes highly recommended by Dr. Rabinovitch under whom he trained and with whom he has been associated for many years."

Dr. Wright was graduated from University of Michigan medical school in 1950 and completed training in pediatrics at University Hospital in 1952 prior to entering the field of psychiatry.

Northville Braces For State Aid Cuts

With an "almost certain" cutback in state school aid around the corner, Superintendent Raymond Spear Friday ordered a temporary freeze and partial curtailment of the 1970-71 Northville School District budget.

The freeze means that no expenditures of non-contractual services or supplies, which are not considered "vital to the health, safety and well-being of pupils and staff," are to be made until an amount of the state-aid cutback is announced in Lansing.

Furthermore, later this week Spear will order a number of yet unspecified curtailments. Studies of what these might include were being made earlier this week. Presumably, it could mean elimination of field trips, personnel cutbacks, etc.

In neighboring Novi School District, Superintendent Thomas Dale has stopped all purchase orders, and he has indicated that his district, already hard-pressed financially, could face a serious deficit if state aid is chopped significantly.

Meanwhile, Representative Clifford Smart of Walled Lake, House minority leader, confirmed that a cutback in state aid is likely in the wake of Governor William Milliken's order to curtail state expenditures by $108 million to offset state financial deficits. Earlier, a $50 million curtailment was ordered that did not affect school districts. There has been no decision as to how much of the $108 million curtailment will come out of the state educational budget nor is there any indication when that decision will be made, said Smart.

Governor Milliken this past Monday proposed a 2-percent cut across the board in all school districts. The proposal needs only the concurrence of the Senate and House appropriation committees.

"I've been telling school officials who check with me that if I were them I'd be doing some careful budget examinations so that if I had to make let's say a 5-percent cut I'd know what to do," the veteran Republican lawmaker said.

However, Smart emphasized that he personally believes every attempt should be made to minimize state cuts in the educational field. Minimization of the cuts could be made, he added, by using some of the surplus monies in certain existing funds. He said he had indicated his position on this matter to Governor Milliken shortly before this newspaper contacted him Friday.

Among surplus monies to which Smart referred are: Uninsured Motorists Fund, involving $50 million; Veterans Trust Fund, "a highly sensitive" fund involving $31 million; and perhaps moving up the payment by a month of corporate income taxes that would result in $25 million.

Utilization of monies from these sources to help minimize state aid cuts could result in complications for local school districts. State budget cuts do not require legislative action, but transfer of funds (tapping existing surplus funds) does require such action. Thus, while the decision on the amount of educational cuts could be made relatively soon at the executive level, that decision could be delayed if legislative action on tapping of funds is first sought — and particularly if a political haze develops over the use of these monies, a Lansing source indicated.

Delay in announcement of how much money will be cut makes local level planning particularly difficult, according to Spear, since school officials must prepare for the inevitable state cut by making calculated guesses based upon the best information at hand.

It's imperative that school districts anticipate cuts in state aid to avoid deficits in their own budgets and yet school districts don't really know how large of cuts could be anticipated, explained Spear.

He said it is unlikely that any more state school aid payments will be made

TAX COLLECTIONS are running high in the township as school officials note 51 per cent of the school taxes have been turned over to the district, while only 29 per cent of the city's taxes have been turned over. In the South Lyon and Salem portions of the school district, none of the school taxes have been collected. Earl Busard, business manager, noted.

END OF AN ERA — Joseph Revitzer (right), Northville's oldest businessman in terms of continuous service, gives a parting handshake to Andrew Pecoli, new owner of the shoe repair business started here 47 years ago by Revitzer. The 71-year-old shoemaker joined the ranks of retirees Monday.

Shoemaker Calls It Quits After Nearly Half-Century

After nearly a half-century of doing business here, 71-year-old Joseph Revitzer called it quits and on Monday he sold his shoe repair business to Andrew Pecoli of Inkster. "It's been fun," laughed Revitzer trying to hide some sadness. The jovial shoemaker, who opened his first shop here in 1923, will now "enjoy some retirement and maybe get in my wife's way."

Joint Bid Sought City Contacts Maybury Bidders

Approximately 450 letters are being sent out to prospective bidders on the 865-acre Maybury Sanatorium property asking that Northville be permitted to join them in making a joint bid on the property. # New Area Lake to Cover 800 Acres Construction Expected To Begin January, 1972

A year from now physical work is expected to begin on a Department of Natural Resources project in the Island Lake Recreation area which will create an 800-acre lake next to Kent Lake in Green Oak Township.

Paul Rearick of the Parks Division of the DNR said plans call for the new, 800-acre lake to begin just below the existing dam to Kent Lake and to follow generally the area along the Huron River.

Rearick said that when the project is completed — anywhere from five to 10 years from now, depending on the availability of money — the new lake and Kent Lake will be end to end, with the new lake being at a lower level.

The new lake will be created by impoundment, meaning a dam will be constructed downstream to flood 800 acres. Kent Lake, which covers about 1,200 acres, was created several years ago by the same impoundment method.

About 1,100 acres of Kent Lake lies in Kensington Park, which is located north of expressway I-96 between Brighton and Wixom. The remaining 81 acres of Kent Lake lies in the Island Lake Recreation Area south of I-96.

It is at this point, the southwesterly end of Kent Lake, where the Kent Lake dam is located and where, approximately, the new lake will begin.

The only hurdle to be cleared now, said Rearick, is acquisition of railroad property from the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company. And these negotiations, he added, are almost settled.

Most of the land which will be flooded has been state owned for several years, since it was part of the Island Lake Recreation area.

Rearick reported that the proposed lake will cover some land now part of American Aggregate's plant facility located at the corner of Silver Lake and Kensington roads. American Aggregate is expected to move its plant facility to its new excavation site south of Silver Lake road.

Kensington road, in fact, will be re-routed, said Rearick, to make way for the new lake.

Plans call for development of other recreational aspects as well, including a large beach area, camping and picnic grounds and trails.

Pointing out that the planning stage has been completed, Rearick said the DNR is now in the engineering phase, such as, conducting engineering studies on the proposed dam. The next stage is the salvage program, that is, clearing all trees out of the proposed lake bed and development of roads and access.

Concept of the 800-acre impoundment, he said, is six or seven years old.

PROPOSED LAKE AREA — Shown in the aerial photograph above is at least a substantial portion of the land that will be flooded to create a new, 800-acre lake which will be part of the Island Lake Recreation area. The lake could extend to the west beyond the Green Oak Township area shown on this map. Note the location of the Kent Lake Dam in the upper right of this photo, below which the new lake will begin. Beach and picnic facilities will be developed around the new lake.

Accidents Take College Five Splits Two Fewer Lives In Oakland

Schoolcraft cagers split two contests last week in junior college action, dropping a league game with hosting Highland Park 88-56 Tuesday, and upsetting visiting Cuyahoga Community, 98-88, on Saturday. Highland Park, first-ranked in the eastern division of the Michigan State Junior College Athletic Association, put up a zone defense Tuesday that stopped the local team cold.

Despite an improvement in floor shooting between the first and second halves, 27 to 30-percent, Schoolcraft went from a 18 point deficit at halftime, 43-25, to a 32-point deficit by the end of the game.

Nationally, a two percent reduction in traffic fatalities is forecast for the year. This would mean a savings of some 1,100 lives which, according to one federal official will be the "first significant drop" since 1957.

According to TIA managing director, Bruce B. Madsen, "it's particularly gratifying to note that the reduction in Oakland County has been realized despite a rise in licensed drivers, registered vehicles and miles traveled — an estimated 15 to 20 percent increase since 1967 when only two fewer deaths were reported."

The direct costs of traffic accidents in Oakland County, according to a formula provided by the National Safety Council, approaches $37 million. TIA maintains that this is an extremely conservative estimate which could be doubled and still be less than the actual costs.

Junior basketball also is on tap for Saturday at Cooke Junior High, according to Prom, who mentioned that there were still slots available for boys grades 3-6.

Late registration for Women's volleyball will be Monday, at Cooke Junior High from 8-10 p.m.

High point in the week's action came Saturday when Cuyahoga Community College visited from Cleveland, Ohio. The local quintet led by six points at the half, 47-41, and managed to push their advantage to 10 during the closing minutes.

Plans to Flood 7,000 Acres Remain Alive

Four years ago the Cunningham Lake Flooding Project, as it was called, was the cause of considerable furor in the Brighton area.

The furor has died down, but nonetheless plans to flood 7,000 acres between Cunningham Lake in Genoa Township and Bishop Lake in Hamburg Township haven't been killed.

So says Paul Rearick of the Parks Division of the Department of Natural Resources. In fact, he said, during the four years the DNR has continued to acquire land originally included in the futuristic project just east of the City of Brighton.

In light of the new, 800-acre lake planned in the Island Lake Recreation Area, however, he said the Cunningham Lake concept "might very well be changed."

"We'll have to re-study the project (Cunningham Lake)," Rearick stated. "Perhaps we'll consider a smaller lake."

"I doubt," he added, "whether we'll create another major impoundment that close (to the new, 800-acre lake)."

Led by Mrs. Evelyn Cunningham, Cunningham Lake area residents vigorously opposed the flooding project during public meetings held in 1966 by the DNR, then called the Department of Conservation.

Water Line Work Nears

Construction of more than six miles of 42-inch and 48-inch water main to benefit western Wayne County communities will start early this year, General Manager Gerald J. Remus of Detroit Metro Water Department (DMWD) has announced.

A contract for 33,150 feet of water main in Wayne Road and Joy Road recently was approved by Detroit's Board of Water Commissioners, the policy-making body for DMWD.

Low bidder on the $2,671,378 contract is F. J. Siller and Company, Ann Arbor.

"The new water main will provide increased reliability to Westland, Livonia, Canton, Plymouth and Northville, and eventually to communities in Washtenaw and Oakland Counties if they join the system," Remus said.

DMWD now provides pure, treated water to 3.8 million persons in Detroit and 86 communities throughout southeast Michigan.

Guards Arrested for Extortion
In Township . . .
Two Maybury Sanatorium guards are free on $1,000 personal bond after they were arraigned last Wednesday on charges of extortion.
The men are John Gambee, 44, of Livonia and his son, David Gambee, 21, of Farmington. Both were arraigned in 35th District Court in Plymouth before Judge Dunbar Davis. They stood mute and pleas of "not guilty" were entered on their behalf.
Examination has been set for 9 a.m. Thursday, January 21, in Northville before Judge Davis.
John and David Gambee were arrested January 6 on warrants issued by the Wayne County Sheriff's Department following an investigation of an incident October 18, 1970. On that evening, the guards are accused of extorting $5 from each of two Dearborn youths found on the Maybury property.
Allegedly the guards did not press trespassing charges against the two after the youths each paid the guards $5.
John and David Gambee are employed as armed guards by Banks and Fritz Security of Detroit, a private guard firm hired by the city of Detroit to patrol the Maybury property. *****

The 26-year-old Gamble Store owner had just experienced his first brush with success as a promoter of a sports event.

The first International Motor-State Snowmobile Classic finished "in the black". It took a standing-room-only crowd Sunday afternoon at Northville Downs, but when Jerry saw the throng filling every available space in the grandstands, clubhouse and along the rails, the butterflies disappeared and he relaxed and enjoyed the event for the first time.

There's probably never been a bigger crowd at Northville Downs. Best estimates set the total attendance at 11,000, which far surpasses the top mark set by harness racing fans.

Jerry's thinking about next year already. He'd like to stage two events each confined to two days rather than three. And, naturally, he's learned from his first experience and is compiling a list of "do's and don't's" for his next venture.

The Northville Downs race taught many first-observers that snowmobiling is a "fun sport". The fans and drivers, alike, are enthusiastic and intensely interested in snowmobiling. These characteristics are sometimes lost in performances by highly-skilled, thoroughly professional athletes where perfection is expected and mistakes are bood.

Some spills took place, some machines chugged along far behind the pack. But the drivers stayed in the race and the fans cheered.

It was a family-fun affair Sunday at Northville Downs and everyone had a good time.

Perhaps surprisingly, there were few complaints from citizens in the community. The noise of the machines was not that disturbing.

Instead, congratulations have come from most observers, many of whom thought Promoter Stone ought to have his head examined and was certain to take an uncomfortable financial bath.

Business was brisk, restaurants were jammed and little of Northville hummed with noise and activity.

Chamber of Commerce President Art Jahn issued a commendation to Stone for his efforts. And as president of the Optimist club, Jahn also took advantage of the event to provide fun for the 25 youngsters who were given free passes to the races, compliments of the Optimists.

Downs Executive Manager John Carlo and Leon Slavin, promoter of Jackson harness meets at the Downs, were amazed at the crowd and wondered aloud if they couldn't install pari-mutuel betting for snowmobiling!

Jerry had his problems - like trucking in snow for the track after his snow-making machine broke, and seeing his own entry in the race, a brand new machine, blow an engine in a trial run - but the reward of that one big day made it all worthwhile.

"Boy, I wish my Dad could see this crowd," Jerry remarked as he stood in the infield drinking in the sight of a packed house Sunday afternoon. "He's wondered why I've spent so much time promoting a 'little snowmobile race.'"

Anyone who knows Jerry's Dad, Roy - who's now "retired" down in Florida - would probably agree with my reply to Jerry.

"Yeah, if Roy were here he'd have the hotdog concession and make more money than anybody!"

By the way, Jerry. What about that hotdog concession for next year?

There's a new book recently published that should interest antique and history buffs.

It's titled "Michigan Ghost Towns". The guide, written by Roy L. Dodge of Harrison, identifies and describes more than 300 such towns, most of which sprang up, flourished and died during the state's lumber era between 1860 and the early 1900's.

Dodge says many of the ghost towns are "little more than a faint depression in the ground, now covered with white birch and alder trees, yet these sites probably are the repository of many valuable relics of that robust period of boom and bust!"

He suggests that the guide will serve as a valuable asset to those who are interested in recovering artifacts and lost valuables in Michigan. The book is available for $5 through the Amateur Treasure Hunters Association, 300 State Street, Oscoda, Michigan.

YES . . .

Yes. I feel some type of licensing is needed. Much like boating, it all started small, then mushroomed into one of the states biggest sports. Snowmobiles have become so popular, so fast, we find ourselves with very little, if any, legislation to regulate them. Accident figures show it has, also, become one of the most dangerous sports we now enjoy.

Many people buy a snowmobile, and, the very same day, knowing nothing about the machine, take to the trails. We have laws regulating the licensing of boats, cars, planes, and special licenses for motorcycles. However, anyone, no matter the age, can get on a snowmobile, and take to the trails, at speeds up to 70 miles an hour, knowing only where the starter and throttle are.

A possible solution to this is much like our boating courses, classes set up to instruct on the proper and safe handling of the machine; also, instruction on the laws that now govern them.

This may not be the full answer, however, it would be a start in the right direction. With the accidents on the increase, at a rapid pace, we must have some type of legislation and soon. Might I suggest, before you go snowmobiling, pick up a copy of the, now existing, rules and regulations at your local police station.

NO . . .

Licensing of snowmobile operators would be just one more example of too much governmental intervention.

Snowmobiling is a sport performed on a vehicle that is extremely easy to operate. A snowmobile can be handled by a child and there are times when it must be.

Take the following hypothetical but highly plausible situations: A mother must be taken to a hospital to deliver a baby, but a blizzard has closed all highways leading to the hospital to automobiles, etc. A snowmobile can save the day - in fact, it has happened. One member of the Detroit Red Wings was born on a snow vehicle in an Ontario blizzard.

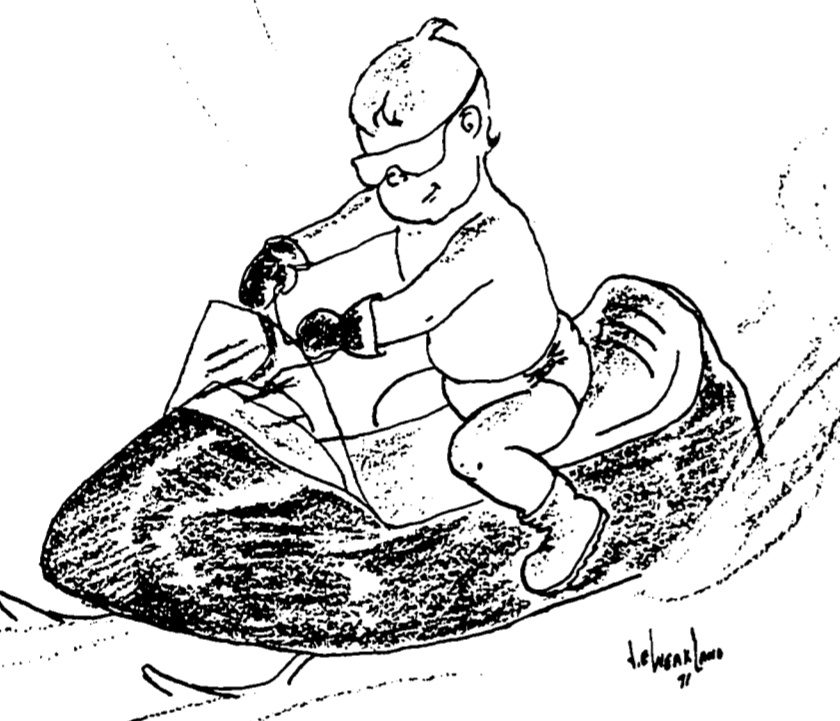

Heavy snowfalls can isolate homes from food sources. What happens then? Perhaps the breadwinner is also isolated - at work and away from the family. How can the family stay alive and healthy? By having a young son take the snowmobile to the nearest grocery for supplies, is my answer.

In addition to enabling a family to overcome emergency situations, snowmobiles provide a clean, healthful sport and give youngsters a chance to learn proper handling of motor-driven vehicles. This is something they cannot get (legally) until they are 16 on other types of vehicles.

Let's give the most rapidly growing sport in Michigan a chance!

An Age Limit?

"I pretty much had to win," smiled Bob the Butcher Sunday night after carving himself $1,000 first prize money in the Northville snowmobile races earlier in the day.

The 31-year-old Hart, Michigan butcher admitted he had climbed onto a financial limb awhile back by putting a down-payment on a new Rupp snowmobile. And to help bale himself out he entered the Class "C" race as an independent in hopes of winning some money.

Friday night Bob the Butcher, whose real name is Robert Blackmer, toiled his Rupp machine around the Northville Downs oval for a first place in an elimination heat. Then Sunday afternoon "something went wrong" and Bob ended up in third place in another elimination round.

Although that third place was pretty discouraging it was still good enough for a crack at the prize money in the championship round. Now it was either win or . . . well, racing snowmobiles aren't inexpensive, and paying for them on a butcher's salary isn't easy.

Bob entered that last race competing against drivers of 11 other Rupp machines. In the mad dash around the track, the butcher from Hart took an early inside position and crossed the finish line in front of Robert Westgate of Lakeview and Henry Manuel of Drayton Plains.

Minutes later he was on the phone telling his expectant wife and their two children, "We won!" which is another way of saying "the new snowmobile is ours."

Remember Colonel Erwin T. Koch? He was the subject of this column a few weeks ago when he requested and received by mail the honorary citizenship of Northville. Owner of 100 or more distinguished titles, his impressive biography prompted a little investigation. But, unfortunately, despite his honors list

Out of THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO...

Northville city council decided to establish an emergency ambulance service for residents of the city, with the city to begin service February 1, the day after Fred Casterline discontinues his ambulance service due to recent state-imposed regulations.

Operating under a $125,000 Urban Renewal survey and planning grant, preliminary study agencies are in the process of completing on-site inspections in Wixom. The information gathered will be incorporated into a downtown redevelopment plan, the future of which is expected to be decided by the city council in April.

Plans to formulate a road improvement program and hopes to win council support by February 1 for placing a three-mill request to finance it on the April 6 ballot were revealed by Novi Mayor Joseph Crupi.

In view of the opposition of planners to multiple housing zoning for private property adjacent to the Novi Road well site land, the Northville council has decided not to pursue rezoning but rather leave the matter up to the property owners.

FIVE YEARS AGO... A proposed $10 million development of homes was given the green light in Northville when joint action taken by the city council and township board permitted annexation of 35 acres into the city. The 35-acre parcel lies on the south side of Eight Mile road at Taft and represents a portion of the 135-acre site purchased by Thompson-Brown.

A $20 million development of more than 200 homes is slated for Northville Township. The 340-acre site is on both sides of Six Mile Road at Bradner.

Thomas Dale, former superintendent at Kingston, has been hired to head Novi's school system. Dale replaces Tom Culbert who resigned in August.

Northville Senior Citizens re-elected Mrs. H. A. Boyden president of the club. During the two years since the club was organized in January, 1964, its membership has grown from 43 to 142.

The 101-year-old First Baptist Church on Wixom Road in Wixom is scheduled to be razed to make way for construction of a school. The congregation has built a new structure further north on Wixom road.

According to Novi Township Treasurer Bernard Kitson, tax collections now total about 45 percent of the total budget of $36,000.

The Northville Post Office missed the required receipts for a first class office by only a few hundred dollars in the calendar year of 1965, according to Postmaster Fred Van Atta.

Construction of a 220-bed infirmary at Plymouth State Home and Training School began this week with completion scheduled for August.

Northville's newly organized junior chamber of commerce this week named Robert Williams, assistant director of bands for the school district, to receive its first Distinguished Service Award.

Wixom city officials revealed this week they had turned down a proposal by the state that a 76-acre parcel of city property be "given" to Novi for a township park. The property, which is owned by the state, is located on the north side of US-16 expressway between Beck and Wixom roads. The state had requested Wixom release the land from its jurisdiction if it could be made part of Novi township.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO... After much discussion, the Northville school board voted to give the Pilot Study Group $300, the minimum amount requested by the group through the spring semester. The organization of parents and teachers is working together to gain a better understanding of both home and school conditions which tend to affect the behavior of the children.

Edwin M. Flaherty, manager of the Ford Motor company's valve plant and a pioneer in the company's small plant operations under the late Henry Ford, has retired after 45 years of service. Austin Stecker has been named to replace Flaherty.

The Novi Civic Association has picked John Flannery as its first president.

SENATOR TAKES OATH-Newly elected Senator Carl D. Pursell (left) took his oath of office Thursday in a special ceremony at the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth. While there has been no decision how cutting will be done once it has been determined what percentage of the $108 million cutback will come from education, several alternatives are known to be under study at Lansing.

Among these are:
1. Elimination or adjustment of the state aid "grandfather clause," which provides that no school district should receive less state aid this year than it received last year.

2. Reduction of funds earmarked for "improvised" school districts. A $5 per pupil cut in all school districts.

4. A 10-percent cut "across the board" in all districts.

It is unlikely, said Spear, that more state aid payments will be made until Lansing has made a decision on educational cutbacks.

Governor Milliken has suggested that at least February state aid payments be withheld temporarily.

Two reasons why some legislators would prefer to slash the grandfather clause are because (one) it affects chiefly

Rabinovitch Quits Hawthorn Post

He completed residency in adult psychiatry while in the U.S. Navy, 1952-54. His residency in child psychiatry, started at University of Michigan in 1955, was completed at Hawthorn Center in 1957.

Dr. Wright is a diplomate of American Board of Pediatrics, and a diplomate in both psychiatry and child psychiatry of American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology.

Dr. and Mrs. Wright (Pat) have three children - David, 17, a senior at Northville High School, Lisa, 15, and Peter, 11. They live at 19850 Westhill.

"To realize the program potential it will take devotion and hard work on the part of everyone; I know that you will wish to give your fullest cooperation and help to Dr. Wright."

"It is appropriate, I think, for me to repeat in this last memorandum, a statement from my very first memorandum as director of Hawthorn Center. At that time, nearly 15 years ago, in our first description of the project program here we wrote:

"The essential program ingredient will be staff, good people who serve as models and positive identification figures for children who desperately need acceptance, affection and guidelines. There will be many workers in many disciplines working together; the success of the program will depend, in large measure, on the degree to which each worker and each discipline can identify, beyond personal goals and desires, with the total objectives of Hawthorn Center."

In announcing his resignation as director, Dr. Rabinovitch told his staff: "In many ways Hawthorn has served as a model for the comprehensive mental health center for children throughout this country and in other countries.

"We have studied more than 14,000 children and their families in our outpatient clinic and many of these have found our efforts helpful. We have treated more than 1,500 children as inpatients, many coming to us presenting severe emergencies, hundreds more have found help available no where else, in our day hospital and language clinics.

"Among our interesting staff statistics is the fact that over 1,000 young men and women have served here as child care workers or students; many tell us that the work has represented a great personal and professional growth experience and it has been wonderful to see so many go on to positions of leadership in the children's field.

"I would like to thank you for the part of everyone; I know that you will wish to give your fullest cooperation and help to Dr. Wright."

Also thanks go to Gerry Stone for the use of the space in his store, the Northville Jaycees for contracting the job of Santa Claus (a lot of scheduling had to be done), and the Northville Chamber of Commerce for footing the bills. Approximately 1,300 children visited Santa here in town - this makes the effort worthwhile.

trustees voted not to join the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

Spear said he had intended to recommend the district join SEMCOG, "but based on the anticipated necessity to curtail the budget by an unknown amount, I do not feel we can spend the $320 for membership. It can be better spent on things in the school system."

Trustee Stanley Johnston, responding to a letter from SEMCOG President Mel Ravitz in which Ravitz made reference to "units of government like yours who are not members of SEMCOG" and may not wake up to the problems of Southeastern Michigan until it's too late, commented "he has a lot of gall referring to us like that. And I don't appreciate Ravitz's attitude about the Maybury Sanatorium property either."

Trustees also appointed Trustees Eugene Cook, Johnston and Timothy Johnson, members of the physical facilities committee, to the site acquisition committee. Among the school sites they will be investigating is where the next high school in the community will be built.

The physical facilities committee will also explore the purchase of 10 acres behind Moraine Elementary for "open space," with the city possibly acquiring five acres and the school district another five acres.

Trustees also discussed establishing educational specifications committees for future elementary, middle and high schools, with Trustee Andrew Orphan commenting "the work has already been done for our current building program and, when the committees get done, they will come up with the same answers we now have."

Contracts were approved for two replacement teachers.

Ronald Spaniol, a June, 1970, graduate of Eastern Michigan University with a BS degree in industrial education and electronics will teach industrial arts at the high school.

Kenneth Pawlowski, an April, 1970, graduate of Western Michigan with a BA in English and speech will teach junior high English.

Dundee Tied for Second

Shooting Off, Novi Nosedives, 70-49

Almost from the opening buzzer it wasn't a question of who would come out on top at Dundee but rather how badly Novi would be beaten.

Leading at times by a margin of nearly 35 points, the Vikings coasted past the visiting Wildcats Friday night, 70-49, to grab a share second place with three others squads in the Southeastern Conference basketball race.

With Friday's triumph under its belt, Dundee is tied for second now with Saline, Chelsea, and Milan—all of which have identical 3-2 records. Well out in front of the pack with a 5-0 mark is high-riding Dexter.

Novi, meanwhile, plagued by an ennet shooting performance Friday slipped deeper into the conference cellar, still looking for its first victory as it prepared to host Ypsilanti Lincoln tomorrow.

This past Tuesday the Wildcats were slated to tangle with Country Day in a non-league game.

The Wildcats simply could not find the mark in firing at the nets Friday. And except for an occasional Viking turnover engineered by some aggressive action, Novi's defensive game floundered as well. It was Dundee's game on the boards and in the basket.

By the close of the first quarter, Novi was trailing by 15 points, 20-5, and going into the intermission Dundee had widened its lead to 21 points. At the three-quarter mark it was Dundee on top by 32-58-26.

The dismal first-half performance produced only six Novi field goals. Novi's ace Tom Boyer, who paced the Wildcats with 17 points, picked up only one field goal in the first half.

And Bob Vivian, who was second high scorer for Novi (11), failed to make a single field goal in the first two stanzas. Four Dundee players hit double figures, with Mark Schultz leading the way with 16, followed by Gordon Wenzel (14) who converted eight free throws.

Lack of Attendance Cited

Novi Little League Faces Big Hurdle

"Over 300 boys are looking forward to playing baseball in our community this season," said Fred Buck president of the Novi Little League. "We're trying to do everything we can to see that they are not disappointed."

One of the biggest obstacles Buck complained about earlier this week was the lack of participation from area citizens.

"It's hard to realize that we are only two months away from the 1971 registration, and only a few months from the start of the season. New boundaries must be set up, the league must be reorganized, there are new diamonds to be finished," he said. We have a lot to do but at our recent meetings it has been impossible for those few in attendance to make any organizational decisions."

Buck announced a meeting scheduled for January 25, at 8 p.m., in the Novi Community Building to which he hoped to draw citizens who would work as league officials, or directors; team managers, coaches, umpires or scorekeepers.

"We have to decide if we can operate, and if so, how many teams we can operate with," he concluded.

Additional information may be obtained from Diane Alexander, league secretary at 476-5121.

TRIPLE-HEADER - It didn't happen often Friday but in this case Novi has control of the boards as three Wildcats reach high for a rebound. The two Novi players in the foreground are Pat Boyer (23) and Dave Fayr (53).

Novi Wrestlers Go Down Twice

The Novi Wildcats went to their fifth and sixth wrestling defeats last week as they traveled to West Bloomfield Tuesday and Saline Thursday.

The Lakers pinned Novi four times while moving to five decisions to take the meet 35-13, while Saline destroyed the local squad 41-3 with four pins and seven decisions.

Scoring efforts in the West Bloomfield match came from Randy McGarry and Terry Auten who flattened their men in the 169 pound and heavy weight classes, and Tom Ford who earned a 2-1 decision in the 114-pound contest.

For Auten, it was the fifth victory in six matches and came at 2:47 after a reversal. McGarry's victory was his second and came at 4:44 after he's worked his man to two reversals and a near fall.

If the Wildcats were looking for a way out of their hole, they didn't find it at Saline later in the week.

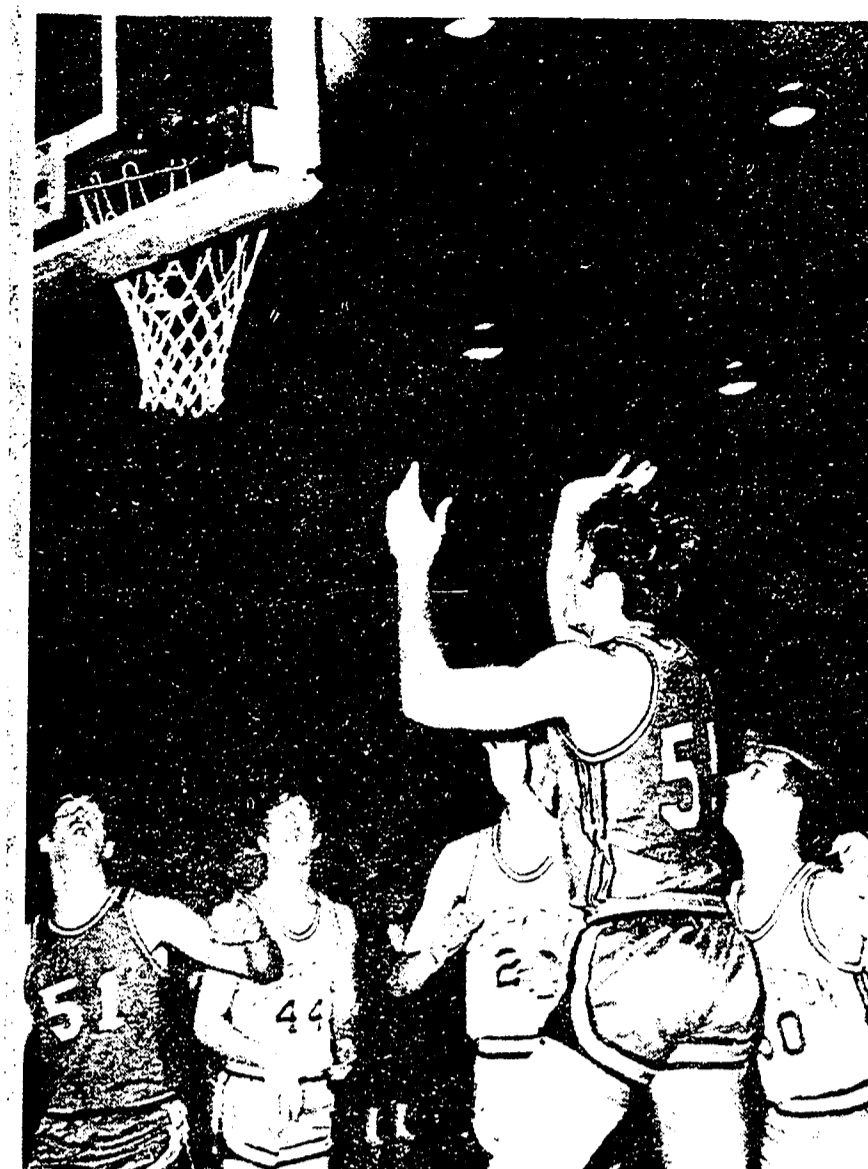

Novi carded only three points over the marauding Hornets, in a decision worked by Tom Ford at 112 pounds.

Ford worked a take down and a reversal to take the match 4-0.

The Wildcats have 10 more chances to improve their dual meet record starting tonight at 7 as they host Milan.

Tournaments at Schoolcraft, South Lyon and Country Day, all slated for this month, also highlight the Wildcat schedule.

HOW TO DO IT - Stellar prospect Bernie Bach (55), back last week after a four month stay among the injured, seems to be giving lessons in the art of shooting baskets - at least everyone including Mustang Scott Evans (51) is watching intently as he flips in two of his team-leading 11 points. Clarkston didn't need any lessons, however, as they trounced the Mustangs 50-42.

Northville Wins Two Meets

Swim Records Broken

The Mustangs boosted their season record to 3-0 last week, as local swimmers outmatched Clarencville Tuesday, 56-49, and Dearborn Riverside on Thursday, 70-35.

Tom Thompson emerged from the week's action with two team records and a pool record for Northville. His 58.6 100-yard butterfly performance against Clarencville and his 1:00.6 backstroke against Riverside were both good for team records, while the backstroke time netted him a pool record as well.

Other firsts in the Clarencville meet were turned in by the 200-yard medley relay team of Kevin Kelly, Gary Putrow, Ralph Luckett and Bill Wittek, who were clocked at 1:54.6 and by the 400-yard freestyle team of Kelly, Dave Wright, Mike Ivey and Bill McGuire, who were timed at 3:49.5.

The freestylers took a 3:52.5 first from Riverside while the medley team earned a pool record at 1:55.2 in that same meet.

Glynn Simmons followed through with a Mustang team record against Riverside with a diving score of 163.90.

Dearborn's Eric Thurston set back-to-back pool records in the 200-yard individual medley at 2:19.8, and in the 100-yard freestyle at 52.9.

Here's how the score sheet looked:

NORTHVILLE VS CLARENCEVILLE

400 Free Relay: North, 3:49.5
200 Freestyle: Clarence, (Stogren) 2:04.5

In Sunday's match against Trenton the local squad outmatched its host 4-2 with goals in the first and second periods off the sticks of Dave Beall, who accounted for two, Randy Horst and Kevin Stelmach.

In their second contest against Inkster, the PeeWees claimed a 5-1 victory. Stelmach, Horst and Beall all scored in the first period of the game, while Bob Michael and Chuck Smith each added one in the second and third periods.

John Mach Ford Bantams The Bantams met Redford and pulled off a 5-1 victory on Saturday.

Ken Ely netted goal number one at 12:00 of the first period assisted by Andy Butterworth. Northville went scoreless until the second period when Frank Knott socked in number two with the help of Greg Phillips and Greg Mack.

In the third period Northville exploded as Knott completed a three-goal series with two more assists by Mack, and Dave Houck netted Northville's fifth and final goal with the victory was Northville's first in five Bantam league meetings.

Thunderbird Inn Midgets Northville tried but couldn't penetrate Dearborn's defense Saturday as the Midgets went down to a 6-1 defeat. The lone goal was scored by Chris Thomas in the third period.

Northville lost its only fall through a forfeit in the 167-pound weight class.

The Mustangs face back-to-back tournaments at the Schoolcraft Invitational and the Fenton Invitational this week before they take on Brighton next Thursday.

Other dual meet action yet to come will see Northville tackle Livonia Churchill, Clarencville, and West Bloomfield.

Brighton action starts at Brighton at 6:30 p.m.

Mustangs Battle Past Two Mat Foes

Earlier talk about injury didn't seem to bother Northville's grapplers as they battled their way to two easy victories last week over Bloomfield Andover, (41-5) and Milford, (27-17).

Coach Jack Townsley had complained earlier in the season about team injuries that he thought would hurt his chances but with the season more than half over - four dual meets to go - Northville carries a 4-2 record.

Falls against the Barons Thursday

Earlier this week against Milford (Tuesday), the Mustangs had a harder time but still managed to come out ahead with three falls and four decisions for a 10-point edge.

Again, Carmen Jackson pinned his opponent in the 138-pound class at :36.

Two other falls were notched for Northville by Bryn Hartshorne at 98-pounds in :56, and David Houck at 105 in 1:10.

Other wins came in decisions in the 112, 119, 126-pound and heavyweight classes.

Northville lost its only fall through a forfeit in the 167-pound weight class.

The Mustangs face back-to-back tournaments at the Schoolcraft Invitational and the Fenton Invitational this week before they take on Brighton next Thursday.

Other dual meet action yet to come will see Northville tackle Livonia Churchill, Clarencville, and West Bloomfield.

Brighton action starts at Brighton at 6:30 p.m.

Bernie Bach, returned from four months on the bench Friday night to lend fellow cagers in an ill-fated 50-42 loss to Clarkston.

The Mustangs kept the pole position through three quarters but faded out in the final six minutes to wind up on the bottom.

Bach, a 6'2" senior, playing his first game of the season, led Mustang scoring with 11 points. He was benched in September by a knee injury sustained during pre-season football practice.

Clarkston's victory gave it fifth place in the Wayne-Oakland League with a 2-2 record over Northville's sixth place 1-3 league showing.

The loss marked coach Omar Harrison's fourth in seven tries with non-league victories from Fenton and Novi adding to the tally.

In that deadly six minutes, Clarkston exploded from a 34-34 tie, running uncontrolled until, at the 2:30 mark, the Mustangs were down by 10 points.

Northville turned on in the final three minutes. Bach hit six points and Stuart connected with two foul shots. But the effort wasn't good enough, as Clarkston finished the game a comfortable eight up.

Bach came in at forward with three minutes remaining in the third period and pumped in a basket and three foul shots. Brad Cole followed up with 10 points, all scored in the first half, and Steve Utley came next with seven.

Quarter scores in that game were all Northville: 11-7, 25-21 and 34-32.

GIVEITTIME - Mustang Scot Stuart (33) flies through the air with a recovered rebound tucked safely under his arm. He's scant steps away from Clarkston guardsmen but Steve Utley (45) waits in the open for a pass.

Tuesday Night Results

In Tuesday night sports action by Northville and Novi high school teams the cagers found the going rough, while wrestlers and swimmers turned in victories:

-At Northville high school the Mustang cagers saw an 11-point halftime lead dwindle away in the third quarter and losing a squeaker to Andover, 51-49; the junior varsity lost to the visitors, 45-39.

-Over at Ypsilanti Lincoln the Northville swimming team was racking up an impressive 80-25 victory.

-Meanwhile, Country Day invaded Novi and walked away with a 69-50 cage victory. Mike Page led the visitors with 22 points, while Bob Vivian topped Novi scorers with 14. The junior varsity Novi squad lost 53-48.

-At the Schoolcraft wrestling tourney Northville high school qualified two men for Wednesday night's finals. Winners of three matches to gain the finals were Brad Conklin and Dave Griffin. Five other Northville wrestlers gained the consolation finals.

Change Annual Meeting Time

Changing of the annual meeting time highlighted a long and active week Tuesday.

Artists Elect New Officers

Officers for the year were elected by members of Three Cities Art Club at a meeting Tuesday night.

Penelope Wright of Plymouth was named president; Ann Gentry of Westland, vice-president; Janet Luce of Plymouth, recording secretary; Doris Saunders of Plymouth, corresponding secretary; and Franklin York of Westland, treasurer.

Board members at large are Jean Dykstra and Mary Ann Beltz, both of Northville; Jean Gatskill of Northville was named library show chairman and Edna Heng of Plymouth was elected membership chairman.

Salem Township Board agenda last week Tuesday.

Board members agreed to change the time of the annual meeting—which must, by law, be held on the first Saturday in April—from the 8 p.m. time of recent years to 2 p.m. In endorsing the new time, board members stressed the typical length of this meeting and pointed out that more people could become involved in an afternoon meeting.

A road committee has been established with an eye on keeping Supervisor Philip Brandon aware of township road needs on a constant basis. Trustee Fermin Rohaff and township inspector Fred Verran will serve initially as the committee and will work closely with Washtenaw County highway department officials.

One Board of Review member was re-appointed and two new men were named to work with him. Sam Bailo, a realtor, remains from last year's board and farmer Paul Geiger and insurance agent Dave Grimes will work with him. Terms expire January 1, 1973.

Novi Council

In still other business Monday night, council:

— Passed to City Manager Dallas Zonkers a bid for plumbing in the new DPW garage from Robert L. Lussendon for $1,197.47. Zonkers is to prepare a recommendation for the council.

— Directed Councilmen Louie Campbell and Edwin Pessnell to make recommendations for a five man library board that could be ready to take control of library funds once division of funds between the city and the township is settled.

DIGGING UP A SUPERMARKET - Hungry earthmovers began eating into the site for the new Chatham supermarket, to be located on North Center Street, early last week. Foundation construction is expected to begin soon, and Chatham officials remain hopeful that the facility will be completed for opening later this year.

Scout Building Repair Costs Reviewed by Township Board

A bill from the city of Northville to the township for $1,100 to construct a second floor exit in the Scout-Recreation building came up for discussion Tuesday night at the Township board meeting.

The second exit is needed if the building is to be used by the Cooperative Nursery School. In a letter to the board from City Manager Frank Ollendorff, Ollendorff said until the township "compiles and clips in to help pay the building costs, all rent will be turned over to the city. If the township agrees to split the cost of upkeep, the rent credit would continue to be split between the two bodies." Since 1966 approximately $1,000 has been credited to the township, Ollendorff's letter stated.

Township officials said since the building was owned by the city, all rent should be collected by them.

Last month the board rejected the 11,000 Sets Downs Record are scheduled for showing in about a month, Stone stated.

Only two factory teams were entered, Ski-Doo and Chaparral. But Stone stated that he was "flooded with inquiries for next year" after representatives discovered the facilities and potential for snowmobile racing at Northville Downs.

The International Motor-State Snowmobile Classic was originally scheduled to be held at Livonia's Detroit Race Course. But difficulties in arranging for insurance coverage caused its cancellation.

Stone decided to try to bring the meet to Northville but it was not until mid-November that all arrangements could be concluded. By that time announcement of the race's cancellation had been made further complicating efforts to promote and secure entries for the event.

"It should be a breeze next year," Stone predicted, relieved that his first effort had not been a financial failure. "From a spectators' standpoint it was a whopping success. Everyone really seemed to enjoy themselves," Stone added.

$1,100 bill and recommended the city review the expenses of the Scout-Recreation building and include them in the budget for next year.

"The township wants to pay its own way," Trustee Bernard Baldwin said, "but since the city owns the building, they should collect the rent."

Trustees did not agree to accept the city's billing for construction of the second floor exit but said it should be reviewed and possibly included in the recreation budget for next year.

In related action, Recreation Director Robert Prom requested the township supplement and recreation budget for the amount lost on rent. A similar request has been made of the city, Prom said.

He noted $900 has been lost in rent (the cooperative nursery school pays $100 per month to conduct classes five days each week in the building) and the money was encumbered in the recreation budget. He asked the township pay $274.48 to make up the difference.

Township trustees voted 5-0 (Supervisor Kumar Stromberg and Trustee Charles Schaeffer absent) to have Clerk Eleanor Hammond contact Prom to check the figures and also meet with Prom and the city to determine when the city started collecting rent which was formerly turned over to the recreation department.

According to city officials, they began collecting rent in December, consequently township trustees figure the recreation department lost $400, not $900.

consideration. In other action Monday, the board approved the half-year contracts of two replacement teachers. Mrs. Lucille Dye, a graduate of Fresno State College with seven years teaching experience, will replace Mrs. Evelyn Jones at Novi Elementary at a half-year salary of $5,700, and Mrs. Ava Adcock, a graduate of Madonna College with three years teaching experience, will replace Mrs. Sondra Vedock at Novi Junior-Senior High at a half-year salary of $4,700.

In other business Tuesday night, trustees delayed action on amending the minimum police hiring standards, pending further analysis of a formula using police work experience to offset age of applicants past 35-years old.

Trustees also approved —joining Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments, with a membership fee of $200 for the year; —authorizing the supervisor and clerk to sign a water main easement with Levitt and Sons for Highland Lakes;

—asking the township's insurance carrier to submit costs for plans covering employees' sick leave;

—directing the supervisor to inspect township roads to determine a list of repair priorities and submit them to the Wayne County Road Commission.

***** A decision to pay tuition amounting to $70 for the police chief and patrolman for courses at Schoolcraft College was postponed until it could come before the full board.

Novi Board Names Schools

Two names used periodically in reference to the two Novi schools under construction were made official Monday night by the Novi Board of Education.

The new elementary school located in Village Oaks subdivision has been named, appropriately, Village Oaks Elementary School, and the new middle school, located south of the high school, takes the name Novi Middle School.

Action by the board in naming the school was unanimous. Board members also agreed informally that the plaques for the new schools should carry the name of G. Russell Taylor, veteran school board member who resigned recently and whose post has been filled by Jacob Durling.

Detroit Common Council President Mel Ravitz took state officials on a tour of Maybury Sanatorium Tuesday but you can be sure they saw little resembling this children's unit that once drew international acclaim. These and other buildings have been stripped by property sale bidders and ripped apart by vandals. This aerial shot, taken in the 1950's, is from the files of The Northville Historical Society.

was "interested enough" to make the trip and remained after he left to consider the wooded property in Western Wayne County further.

Asked if he felt the Natural Resources Department had funds to purchase the property, Ravitz said it was his purely personal guess that "if they really were interested in acquiring the property, they could find it." The property, now formally offered for sale by the City of Detroit, is valued by the city at between three and five million dollars. Brochures have been mailed to interested groups and large realtors and developers.

A March 1 date has been given for acceptance by the Detroit Council on bids. With this date only six weeks away, Ravitz has been hoping to promote park and recreation purchase of the property called "the most beautiful undeveloped land in Wayne County."

Ravitz added that he "looked around Northville (a lovely little town) and had coffee" before going out to the Maybury property Tuesday.

BAROMETERS—Shouts and cheers over the roars of snowmobiles coming out of the starting gate and the sea of cars that flooded the Northville Downs parking lot were pretty good barometers of the popularity of snowmobiles. Billed as a "big success", Northville's snowmobile races drew a sparse crowd Friday, picked up steam on Saturday, and then packed 'em in for the finals Sunday. An estimated 11,000 to 12,000 attended the classic Sunday — perhaps the largest crowd ever at the Downs. See more pictures on Page 7-B.

What God Wants Us to Know

JIM WHEELER, PASTOR TRI-COUNTY BAPTIST CHURCH

Read 1st John 5:1-13 Test: 1st John 5:13 Introduction: There are some things that God Wants His Children to Know.

We are living in a world of chaos and uncertainty and all is temporal and unstable. Nine times in the First Epistle of John, God has used this word KNOW.

Soul-Searching

Someone has said the eyes are the windows of the soul. And when it's our own eyes — how easy to believe that in those sparkling eyes we have seen and understood an infant soul.

Well, we have seen a mind eager to grow... character ready to be molded. If in our child's eyes we would see his soul, then one thought should possess us: This is a soul known to God but not yet knowing God.

Soul-searching is always the threshold to spiritual growth. The need we recognize in a baby's eager eyes is a need adult souls never outgrow.

Remember as you plan your family's religious future: God knows each and every human soul. The life He has given us is our opportunity to know Him.

Tougher Pesticide Sale Restrictions Proposed

LANSING — The man in charge of regulating the sale of pesticides in Michigan thinks the state ought to get a lot tougher right now than it is in the restriction of the use of pesticides. State Agriculture Director B.

Dale Ball proposes amending of Michigan's law governing the use of pesticides to include the licensing of all dealers who sell pesticides and reporting of every sale of a pesticide.

Fortunately, however, the decision has been made to try the conference table again instead.

Robert Huber, the conservative who made an unsuccessful stab at the Republican senate nomination last August, has now announced intentions of establishing an independent conservative party in Michigan.

According to Huber, two surveys indicate that there is a need to establish this independent party. The Republican party, as he sees it, no longer represents the conservative element in Michigan.

The surveys are definitely limited and in fact, questionable as to what exactly they indicate about sentiment in Michigan. For the surveys to which Huber was referring were informally taken by him and based only on various responses he got from the people.

The former state senator also bases "the need" on what happened in New York State. James Buckley, a conservative Republican, beat out the liberal Republican incumbent, Charles Goodell, and the liberal Democratic candidate to claim a seat in the United States Senate.

Buckley didn't gain a majority of votes in that election, yet by her recall. While the two liberal candidates were splitting the liberal and moderate vote, Buckley piled up a plurality of conservative votes to win the election.

This, we must assume, is what Huber hopes to do in Michigan. Let the liberals and moderates, including the Republican moderates led by Governor William Milliken, split their votes between the liberal and moderate candidates, thus enabling the conservative candidate to squeeze through.

Right now, Huber's strategy may seem far-fetched. It may appear to some to be only a ploy to drive the Republican party further to the right.

But no one in his right mind gave Buckley much of a chance when he declared he would run as a conservative independent. With the support of the Nixon administration, and specifically Vice President Agnew, Buckley surged to the front.

What also Huber must be aware of is the similarity between Michigan and New York voter trends. Both are big industrial states with a large, blue-collar voting bloc, which typically vote Democratic.

Whether or not, however, voters in 1972 will cotton to an independent, conservative party remains to be seen. Huber will have to draft some mighty attractive candidates, like Buckley who has personal magnetism.

Out of the Horse's Mouth

Send your questions, comments, and horse show news to Horse's Mouth, care of South Lyon Herald, South Lyon, Mich. 48178.

There will be a horse and pony show at Briarwyck Farms, 589 Hartland Road, Brighton, Sunday, January 17, beginning at 10 a.m. sharp. For information call, 313-229-9786.

Besides the regular classes held at Briarwyck shows, these additional ones are scheduled: walk-trot, pony halter, pony horsemanship, pony pleasure (English or Western) and barrelback riding class.

There is a heated observation room and indoor arena at Briarwyck.

Results from the Briarwyck show held December 20: Sue Altman, Hartland (formerly of Northville) earned the youth high point trophy riding her Appaloosa gelding, "Hannibal"; Sue Latham won the senior high point trophy. What is looked for in Dressage Competitions?

Dressage is a French word meaning training. With the horse, it means training by the art of horsemanship alone. No artificial gimmicks or tricks are ever used in true dressage. In dressage, the rider (competitor) even the judge is not used. The horse is judged on his response to the influence of the correct use of the rider's seat, back, legs and the quiet use of his hands. Unless the rider rides correctly he cannot use the aids correctly.

In dressage competitions the horse must never be allowed to become a machine, obeying mechanically. He must be quietly obedient, yet showing lively impulsion. He must be on the bit. He must be light on the forehead and use his hind quarters properly. He must be supple.

This is it recommended that anyone considering entering even the most basic test and getting the most out of it should acquire knowledge of the terms mentioned above. He should know what is meant by smooth transitions, regularity of pace and the differences in the paces required, i.e., ordinary walk, free walk, posting trot, sitting trot, etc. He must learn to be aware of what the hind quarters are doing as well as the forehead. He must be able to ride a straight line, and to curve around the corners.

As dressage competitions are a test of the training of both horse and rider, they mean a great deal more than simple obedience and following a pattern. Whereas, they are beneficial for all riders, they are particularly so for anyone, amateur or professional, interested in training a horse really well or in improving one to overcome faults in manners, way of going, etc.

More and more horse shows are including dressage competitions in their programs. Dressage interests more people in better training methods resulting in better trained horses and more knowledgeable riders. There is nothing new about these training methods.

Quick hurry-up methods are more often used just to "break" a horse for ordinary use. But to really train a horse means taking time to build muscles and to teach a horse to use himself with a rider as he does without one as well as learning obedience and manners.

One of the major causes of problems with horses is forcing a horse to do what he is not able to do easily, physically, a horse is a very athletic animal, but like a human athlete, it takes muscle training to develop him to his best potential. This type of training is what makes a horse light and supple. It improves his appearance tremendously because of the muscular development and enables him to handle and carry himself in a graceful manner.

ON THEIR WAY - Wixom's Dennis and Sherri Vangieson, third place holders in the Midwestern Figure Skating competition held early this month in Rockton, Illinois, will travel to Buffalo Monday to compete in the national competition. He's 20 and she's 18. They've been together as a team for four years, not long by professional standards, but when you add up five to six hours practice a day, every day, that's four years packed full of skating.

Opinion Solicited From Novi Teens

"A first step" is being taken in a campaign that hopefully will serve to educate the Novi community, both child and adult, as to the existence of a drug problem within it. So says the Reverend Leslie Harding of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church. Father Harding is chairman of the Drug Abuse Committee, an arm of Novi Youth Assistance Citizens Drug Committee. Having gained the approval of Principal Gerald Hartman, Father Harding's group expects to circulate questionnaires among high school students this week. The questionnaires will ask what educational programs students would like to see, whether they would like or use a "rap line" designated to talk over drug problems anonymously, and what question, if any, do they have about drugs. The questionnaires will be handed back through the school office and area volunteers, sponsored by Fr. Harding's group, will meet with small groups of students in an effort to answer the questions.

Dearborn Suspect Arrested

Eighteen-year-old Loyal C. Weber of Dearborn, a former Novi High School student, has been arrested by Novi Police in connection with a breaking-in at the school October 25 when $4,000 in damages occurred. Weber was arrested at 6817 Middle Point in Dearborn as his residence. The home is occupied, according to police, by his mother. His father lives in Novi. The arrest was made Wednesday by police at the Dearborn home of a friend. Officers found Weber in the company of a 15-year-old girl, who police said was a run-away from Farmington Township. The arrest marked the second time she had been picked up by Novi detectives.

A search of the house, with the owners permission, netted approximately half of the material taken, (see picture on page 7-A) in the October 25 breaking-in. Among the items recovered was a sofa-phone and a flute, a "Wildcat" tote bag, and some 80 combination locks. Weber was arraigned before Judge Martin Boyle Thursday and released on $2,500 personal bond. There have been two robberies at the high school, the October 25 incident for which Weber is charged, and an incident occurring on December 17.

Weber had dropped out of Novi high school in September, according to police.

Council to Discuss Business Fee Here

A business licensing ordinance and the fees that would be required from any business-commercial or industrial will come up for discussion by Novi councilman Monday.

Decision to postpone discussion one week came in a flurry of argument between council members early this week. The proposed ordinance would require a registration fee for any business that "has for its use the production and/or supplying of commodities."

Mayor Joseph Crupi termed the ordinance, as put before council Monday night, "inconclusive and incomplete."

"We promised the business community they would be heard when the council first talked about this," said councilman Louise Campbell, "and I, for one, am not ready to act on this ordinance until we do."

Councilman Donald Young agreed: "We promised that notice would be given to the general public." Young indicated that he felt the council's obligation would not be fulfilled until this was done.

Councilman Denis Berry wanted to know who Young would serve notice on. "Anyone who is a businessman," said Berry, "won't want to be charged a fee, you know that."

The matter was postponed until next Monday at 9 p.m. and all interested area businessmen were invited to attend.

In other business Monday, the council unanimously nominated the Oakland County Health Department to act as health officer for the city, and it directed City Attorney Howard Bond to prepare a resolution to the effect.

Edward O'Rourke of the Oakland County Department of Health was on hand, as per council request, to answer any question council members might have. O'Rourke pointed out that, according to law, the county health department was the only "bona-fide" department in Oakland County, and he noted that it "would like the city to appoint it as the city health officer...primarily to enforce local codes."

O'Rourke explained that out of 63 units of local government in the county "less than half" use the county facility, and that one concern of county officials was uniformity.

He said that given a difference in codes, if acting for the city, the county would necessarily execute the stricter one.

In still other business Monday, councilmen -- Approved unanimously an ordinance prepared by Bond changing the date of municipal elections. The ordinance, in accordance with a new state law, effectively extends current terms being served by city officials.

The ordinance, contrary to what was previously reported, provides that newly elected officials take office on "the Monday next following the date of the regular city election...now to be held in November of the odd numbered years." It had been reported by this newspaper that officials would take office on the January 1 following an election, thus adding two months to the already inflated term.

Set February 8 as a public hearing to consider the assessment role prepared by City Assessor Dallas Zonkers in the matter of the paving of Nine Mile Road.

A special adjournment was called by Councilman Berry, and the council excused itself for four minutes. When it reconvened, Councilmen Pressnell, Campbell and Evans voted against calling the public hearing. When asked for an explanation Pressnell and Evans declined to give one.

Directed City Manager Dallas Zonkers to prepare resolutions determining the necessity of sewer installation in the area of Meadowbrook and Eight Mile known as Meadowbrook Manor.

Accepted a bid from Robert L. Lussenden in the amount of $1,197.40 for the plumbing in the new DPW garage.

Passed to Chief of Police Lee BeGole for recommendation a proposed ordinance which would provide for the automatic re-issuing of liquor licenses unless complaints were lodged either with him or the State Liquor Control Commission.

Appointed by unanimous action the area firm of Cooper and Shiftman as city prosecutor.

Oakland College Tax Stirs Legal Hassle

The question of whether or not constitutionally set-tax limitations can be exceeded at the county level remains unanswered this week as at least one citizen group threatens suit to compel the Attorney General's office to initiate legal action has failed.

An essential part of any law suit, according to Maxine B. Virtue, an assistant to the Attorney General, "is a local taxpayer who pays the tax under protest to act as plaintiff."

"If people pay without protest," said Mrs. Virtue, "the legal question may be moot."

Whether or not there is a legal question to contest is itself under debate. The state constitution says, according to Mrs. Virtue, that no county may exceed a 15-mill tax limitation, "but elsewhere in the same article (article 9 section 6), it states that the 15-mill limitation does not apply to taxes levied for debt service on bonds."

To the 35-mill levy, which would exceed the 15-mill limitation on county allocated millage, Mrs. Virtue quoted an opinion dated February 5, 1969 to the effect that "the constitution does not create additional taxing power, but merely provides in a contract made with landholders, any debt incurred must be paid."

Whether or not there is a legal question to contest is itself under debate. The state constitution says, according to Mrs. Virtue, that no county may exceed a 15-mill tax limitation, "but elsewhere in the same article (article 9 section 6), it states that the 15-mill limitation does not apply to taxes levied for debt service on bonds."

To the 35-mill levy, which would exceed the 15-mill limitation on county allocated millage, Mrs. Virtue quoted an opinion dated February 5, 1969 to the effect that "the constitution does not create additional taxing power, but merely provides in a contract made with landholders, any debt incurred must be paid."

"In short," she said, "a county cannot plan in advance to go into debt. It must live within the 15-mill limitation. Otherwise any limitation law would be useless."

The agreement reached, according to Crupi, is that Thompson-Brown will lower two cents on the dollar.

Walter Nikkel, vice president of business of Oakland Community College, scoffs at the charge of illegality.

"We operate under a law which says that whenever a district has a debt outstanding it shall levy whatever is necessary to pay the principle interest for that year," said Nikkel.

"All bond applications go through the State Municipal Finance Commission. They wouldn't approve anything illegal, and we haven't received word of rejection," Nikkel concluded.

According to a spokesman for the Municipal Finance Commission, bond applications from the school dated February 21, 1969 were set aside this week with no action pending receipt of information from the county. "The community school district," he said, "has a certain levy and it can't go over it. In this case, apparently, Oakland Community College has."

"The board of trustees of the community college district," contended Mrs. Virtue, "has the right to determine a budget by statute. The budget is then submitted to the board of commissioners. It is their responsibility to spread the levy. Ordinarily, it is not their legal function to question methods by which the budget is determined."

Mrs. Virtue later expressed hope that the "community college district would give us more information in respect to what looks like an illegal over-levy, or else modify its handling of the funds."

Novi Promotes Pair

Recent promotions boosted former Novi Detective Sergeant Richard Faulkner to the post of detective lieutenant and former Novi Detective Corporal Gordon Nelson to the post of detective staff sergeant.

Faulkner and Nelson are both veterans of the Novi Police force having served nine and five years, respectively. A resident of the Novi area since 1946 when he moved here with his parents, Faulkner was born in St. Paul, Minnesota. The 34-year-old lieutenant is married with three children -- two boys and a girl.

Before joining the department in 1961 he was a student at the Radio Electronics Technical School in Detroit and an employee of the Novi Post Office. He is currently taking classes at Schoolcraft College, working towards an associate degree in police administration.

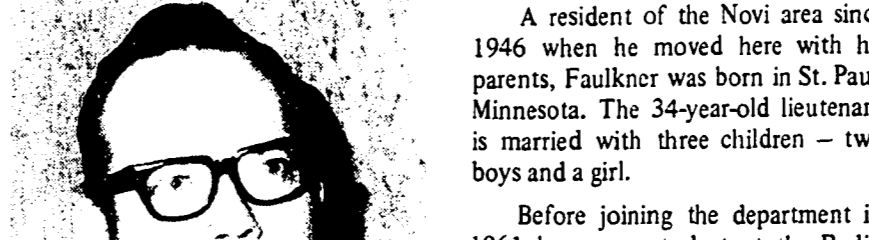

Nelson, married and a father of five, was assistant advertising manager of the George A. Clark Corporation in Minneapolis before he became a policeman. Born and raised in Detroit, Nelson lived on the northwest side until his parents moved to nearby Southfield where he lived until he was married. At one time he was a student at the Society of Arts and Crafts in Detroit, studying commercial advertising. Both Nelson and Faulkner have

Leaders Net Subdivision Compromise

Two ditches in Meadowbrook Lakes will be repaired before June, according to Novi Mayor Joseph Crupi. Crupi made the announcement in describing a meeting he had attended with Homestead Corporation representatives, Thompson Brown representatives and the city engineers.

Homestead is the developer in the ditch-troubled Meadowbrook Lakes subdivision, Thompson Brown the sales agent.

The agreement reached, according to Crupi, is that Thompson-Brown will lower two cents on the dollar.
