

Out of the Horse's

The "Riding High" 4-H Club has recently been organized with meetings held every Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Dublin Elementary School, 9260 Sandy Side Drive, Union Lake. Horses, veterinary science, leather, knitting and sewing, poultry, dog obedience and art are the projects being offered.

A record 1,000 entries are expected for the Michigan Horse Show Association's spring show which will be held May 20 through 23 at the Michigan State Fair grounds.

The Moslem Arabian Horse Troop of Detroit will be co-sponsoring this event for the second year.

Show chairman James B. Jones of Grand Blanc said this year's entries should easily surpass the 1970 total of 999 horses that competed for $9,100 in prize money.

M.H.S.A. revived all-breed showing in the state in 1969 when the show attracted 826 entries and paid $7,500 prizes.

"We fully expect this trend to continue this year and we are especially pleased that general spectator interest in horse showing is also increasing," Jones added.

As in last year's show, Jones said, there will be 12 different divisions. These are American Saddlebred, Tennessee Walking Horse, Shetland Pony, Harness Pony, Morgan, Arabian, Palomino, Appaloosa, Quarter Horses and Hunter.

Equitation classes are offered in the Saddle Seat, Stock Seat and Hunter division. Also, medal classes are offered in these three divisions.

This show is sanctioned by the American Horse Show, Tri-State Association, Michigan Arabian, Michigan Appaloosa and Michigan Quarter Horse Associations, the Michigan Pony and Justin Morgan Horse clubs and the Palomino Horse Exhibitors of Michigan.

Sessions each day will start at 8 a.m., 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. Judges will be Mrs. Tony Amaral, Frank D. Chapot, Thomas S. McCray and Mrs. Helen Crabtree.

The Department of Animal Husbandry, Department of Veterinary Medicine of Michigan State University will be conducting a short course on Horse Reproduction.

It will be held in the auditorium, Veterinary Clinic, M.S.U. on Wednesday, March 24, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The speaker is Dr. Richard McFeely, D.V.M., College of Veterinary Medicine, University of Pennsylvania.

Subjects to be covered: Anatomy and Physiology, Foaling, Stallion Management, Teasing and Breeding the Mare, and Mare management.

All persons having an interest in horses are welcome to attend. There is no registration fee and pre-registration is not required.

Wixom Assessments Hit Citizens Hard

"The buzzards came home to roost" Tuesday night on a Wixom property assessment that, according to City Assessor Robert Case, had been left virtually untouched since 1957.

More than 105 citizens came to complain, first to the Board of Review, whose meeting continued until well past midnight, and then to the city council about property assessment rates that in some cases skyrocketed 700 percent.

Case told citizens and councilmen that Wixom land had been appraised at 10, 20, and 30-percent of its true market value, that appraisal records had not been touched in nearly 14 years and that some pieces of property were credited with the same bills in 1970 as they were in 1957.

Commercial land, before reappraisal, had been assessed in the neighborhood of 30-percent true market value, and residential assessments had been as low as 20-percent or lower, according to Case.

Case noted that a reduction in the city's previous factor of 1.21 was likely, promising that, "should we not achieve a factor of one on a basis of our reappraisal, I'll be the first one in line to complain."

"We're all in the same boat," said Mayor Gilbert Willis, who also claimed his house was undervalued, "but this is not the place (council) for your appeal."

Willis urged citizens who were hurt by the assessment hike to write personal letters to state and county representatives.

City attorney Gene Schelz outlined the individual citizens course of appeal from the Board of Review, to the State Tax Commission, to the courts.

Council OK's Dance Hall

With one dissenting vote Monday night, Novi councilmen granted a permit to Gabriel Glantz to use a dance hall on his property at Novi Road and Lake Shore Drive.

Lone objection came from Councilman Edwin Pressnell who balked on the question of Chapnam Street, a dedicated public right-of-way running southwest from Endwell parallel to East Lake Drive.

Pressnell foresaw trouble should Glantz be allowed to operate "on top of a public street," although City Attorney Howard Bond assured councilmen that granting of the use permit in no way underts the city's right to vacate the street.

"If the municipality wanted at any time to vacate that street," said Bond "... the fact we had granted the permit would in no way prejudice the city's right to do so."

The use permit will allow Glantz to hold dances and live entertainment on his property.

Prior to the council decision he held a permit to run an exhibit hall under which he could only hold shows of general display.

The exhibit hall permit is still valid. Councilmen and police authorities have been fearful that crowds attending dances, live concerts, and other such functions would bring with them an undesirable environment conducive to alcohol, illegal weapons and dangerous drugs.

"We will co-operate to the fullest extent with the police," said Glantz, "to prevent the possibility of any trouble occurring."

Petitions Ready For School Posts

Although three incumbent members of the Novi Board of Education have made no formal announcements, indications are they will seek election at the annual school election June 14.

Nominating petitions have been given to Trustees Claude Earl, Gilbert Henderson, and Jacob Durling.

Meanwhile, Superintendent Thomas Dale has announced that petitions are available at the board of education offices in the high school building on Taft road. Petitions, which must contain at least 20 signatures of registered voters, must be filed by 5 p.m. on May 14.

Three posts will be up for election — two for four-year terms and one for a one-year term.

The latter is the post presently held by Durling, who was appointed to the board in January to fill the vacancy of former veteran trustee, Russell Taylor, who resigned. One year remains on Taylor's term, and to maintain a seat on the board Durling must seek election. He may choose, however, to run for a four-year term.

In connection with the upcoming April 19 millage election, the board Monday night formally named Mrs. Hilda Little, Mrs. RoseMarie Reske, Mrs. Mildred McFale, Mrs. Dorothy Steinberger, and Mrs. Sue Tafraian and election officers.

Admission is $1 for students, $1.50 for adults, and $4 for a family ticket. Tickets can be purchased at the door or at the NPOA offices in the Vootheis and Cox building, 43034 Grand River.

Novi Mayor Raps 'Waste' - 'Futility'

Novi Mayor Joseph Crupi lashed out last week at two sources of what he called "waste," and "futility."

Addressing a letter Friday to Kent Mathewson, president of Detroit's Metropolitan Fund, Crupi labeled the Fund's recently disclosed report on the feasibility of paired towns being linked between suburb and inner city, as "... an exercise in futility."

Crupi invited Holmes and his staff to meet with council "to enlighten us on the program with emphasis on the real accomplishments for the dollars spent."

Crupi's second blast was leveled at Charles Holmes, county director of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity and was loaded with criticism of the OCCO's 42-page monthly newsletter which had irked councilmen in the past with what they termed "pages and pages of junk."

Novi was one of the nine mentioned.

Novi Police Offer Second Talent Show

The second annual Novi Police Officers Association talent show is slated for 7 p.m. on the Novi High School stage tomorrow.

"I hope we can fill the auditorium," said Detective Sergeant Gordon Nelson. "We've really got some great acts this year."

"We've got a levitation act where the girl rises up in the air and her partner passes a hoop around her, we've got rock bands, county western acts, magicians... everything... it's going to be a great show."

According to Nelson the show includes 15 acts and runs two-and-a-half hours.

NPOA Elects New Officers

Annual elections of the Novi Police Officers Association, (NPOA) held Saturday, saw a complete turnover of officials.

Ralph Fluhart was elected president; Jack Grubb, vice-president; Frank Barabak, secretary; Gerald Burnham, treasurer; and past president, Gordon Nelson, was named sergeant-at-arms.

NPOA officials are working with Detroit attorney, Harvey Wax, on the 1971-72 Police City contract demands, according to Nelson.

Fairy Tale Plays Novi

The Hans Christian Andersen company of Redford is booked into the Novi High School stage tonight at 8 for a one-night-only showing of "The Magic Tender Box."

Sponsored by the Orchard Hills Booster Club, which will use all proceeds for school equipment, the Redford troupe has recently begun performing before various charity and social groups in the Detroit area.

Admission price is 75-cents for students and $1.25 for adults. Ticket information may be obtained from Sharon Pelchat 349-3096 or Ginger Gulick 349-9967.

Local Rotary Sees Bird Film Thursday

A color film, "The Purple Martin Story," will be presented to the Novi Rotary Club at their regular meeting Thursday noon at the County Kitchen Restaurant, Wixom Road and the 1-96 freeway.

Admission is $1 for students, $1.50 for adults, and $4 for a family ticket. Tickets can be purchased at the door or at the NPOA offices in the Vootheis and Cox building, 43034 Grand River.

Election Ends Year

By JEAN DAY
"THINK SPRING" was the encouraging word of welcome Northville Woman's Club members received after they trudged through remains of winter's last storm to attend the annual meeting and luncheon last Friday at Northville Presbyterian Church.

Every table was decorated with white-painted berry baskets filled with bright flowers created from burlap squares. They were the work of Mrs. Orin Hove, social chairman, and Mrs. Fredrick Sterner, Jr., a member of the committee.

A demonstration-program on "Wiggery" was presented by three representatives of Bell Jacob,

J. C. Ritchie Takes Bride

At a ceremony in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in Windsor, James C. Ritchie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey P. Ritchie, 821 Spring Drive, took Elizabeth Eales as his bride.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar R. Eales of St. John's Newfoundland, Canada.

They exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony before the Reverend L. L. Sivern at 8:30 p.m. Friday, March 12. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. William Binkelman.

The bride wore a two-piece, blue dress to which she pinned her corsage of white carnations. A reception dinner followed at the Windsor Sheraton-Viscount Hotel for the newlyweds, their attendants and the bridegroom's parents.

The bride, who is graduate of Bishop's College, St. John's Newfoundland, is a Canadian Customs employe in the excise office in Windsor. Her husband is a 1965 graduate of Northville High School. He was released from the U.S. Navy in October, 1970, and now is employed by Western Electric in Plymouth.

Livonia branch, who were introduced by Mrs. William Dyke, program chairman for the day.

Mrs. C. H. Bryan, who has been a club member 50 years, received a gold pin symbolic of her years of service, Mrs. Leonard Klein, president, announced. It was presented by Mrs. Klein during a visit to Mrs. Bryan at Ford Hospital where she has been a patient.

Mrs. Klein announced the appointment of Mrs. George Merwin as program chairman for next year. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Donald Funk, Mrs. Kalin Johnson, Mrs. William R. Quigley, Mrs. William Bake, Mrs. Jack L. Dewsbury and Mrs. John A. Federspill.

Mrs. Robert Shafer, chairman of the nominating committee, read the slate for next year, which was adopted unanimously. Mrs. Klein was named to her second term as president. Mrs. William Switzer was elected recording secretary, and Mrs. E. A. Chapman and Mrs. Marcella Douglas join Mrs. Blake Couse, Mrs. Francis Gazlay and Mrs. E. O. Weber on the board. Mrs. Walter Stamann was re-elected corresponding secretary.

"APRIL SHOWERS" is the title for the "it's spring" dinner-dance being planned by the Northville Jaycees who hope that everyone understands that this is a "community relations" project of the group, rather than a fund-raising one-with all area residents invited to "welcome spring" from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday, April 3, at Idyl Wyld Country Club, 35780 West Five Mile Road, Livonia.

Bill Broadadus, dance chairman, adds that the $15 per couple cost includes a buffet dinner for both and dancing from 9 p.m. to the Majels Band of Detroit. Vocalist Margo Feiner is to be featured. (He adds that mixed drinks start at just 60 cents...and there's door prizes.)

In addition to Jaycees members, tickets are being sold by Lapham's and Banbury Cross shops in Northville and at Snow's Standard station at Ten Mile and Novi roads. Broadadus also may be contacted at 349-6042. Deadline for tickets is this Sunday.

ANNUAL SPRING rummage sale at Northville First Presbyterian Church this Friday and Saturday promises to have more than the usual bargains. One feature will be 50 men's suits-ranging in size all the way up to 50-long.

Mrs. Gordon Snyder and Mrs. Donald Williams, co-chairmen, add that there also will be an assortment of dishes, silverware and books as well as clothing—all worth being on hand for at the opening time of 9 a.m. each of the two days. The sale ends at noon Saturday.

MOTHERS' CLUB also made spring plans for a nearly new sale to be held May 7 and 8 at its March meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Richard Huston. A dance profit of $161 was announced with funds earmarked for repairs and equipment for the teen-age Cavern Club.

Mrs. Samuel McSevery, hostess, chairman, announced a change in location for the April 26 guest night meeting. It will be held at her home at 20148 Whipple Drive.

Mothers' Club learned that it is losing one of its members, Joyce Cartwright.

The Robert Cartwright family will be leaving Northville Friday to return to England. The Cartwrights have been Northville residents for nearly seven years, and have lived in the United States for 13 years.

After their return on the new Queen Elizabeth 2, they will make their home in Cambridge. It will be the first time David, 11, Peter, 10, Liz, 7, and Michael, 2, have lived in their parents' native land.

Northville also is losing the Alan Bralford family to the British Isles. Relative newcomers to the community, the Bralforads moved to Clement Court off Eight Mile Road last fall. They, too, are Britishers. They plan their move when school is out.

A BIRTHDAY cake helped members of the Northville Business and Professional Women's Club celebrate their 23rd birthday at the dinner meeting Monday night at Hillside Inn.

Mrs. A. M. Allen, president, presided at the meeting which was highlighted with a slide presentation of spring wildflowers given by Doreen Judd, a club member who also is a member of the Michigan Horticultural Society.

From Florida, where she is vacationing, Mrs. Beatrice Carlson sent a poem recalling accomplishments of the club and tracing its early history. Drawing for the synthetic wig was won by Betty Conroy.

China Painters Plan Workshop

Northville Spring China Decorators will meet at 10 a.m. next Thursday, April 1, at the Plymouth Credit Union for a morning workshop on the art of painting peaches on china.

Mrs. Goldie Latchford, a teacher from Novi, is to show members preparation for the first firing. Two successive lessons are planned for the coming monthly meetings. Members are asked to come prepared with paints and a piece of china on which to paint.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. John Buckland, 449 Hill Street, announce the birth of a son, their second child, March 15 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. Named David Neale, the baby weighed seven pounds, ten ounces at birth.

Welcoming him at home is a sister, Elizabeth, 2. Visiting here this week is his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Neale Buckland of Watertown, Wisconsin. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Knutson of Milwaukee.

Birth of a daughter, Jennifer Grace, is announced by Mr. and Mrs. John P. Crotteau, 46221 Bloomcrest Drive. Born March 8 at St. Mary Hospital, the baby weighed six pounds, twelve ounces.

The Crotteaus also have a son, Marc, 2. Grandparents are Mrs. James D. Cunningham of Detroit and Mrs. Leo J. Crotteau of Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin.

U of M Honors James DuBay

James Michael DuBay, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Victor DuBay of 43600 Westridge Lane will be honored by the University of Michigan in recognition of his outstanding achievement.

DuBay, a 1970 graduate of U of M in industrial engineering, is employed as an industrial analyst for Detroit Edison.

To be named as an honor student, DuBay maintained a 3.5 average or better throughout his four years at the U of M.

When the couple visits in the West, Mr. Smith hunts elk in Washington. He also is a moose and deer hunter. Other family hobbies include flower-growing.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES A. SMITH

C. A. Smiths Mark 60th Anniversary

Couples fortunate enough to mark their sixtieth wedding anniversary usually have retired from active participation in their church and community organizations. This is not the case, however, for Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Smith of 43643 Nine Mile Road, who were married sixty years ago last Monday.

Still active members of Central Woodward Christian Church in Detroit, the Smiths were honored last Sunday at a coffee reception following the service. There was a white wedding cake, and an arrangement of white flowers was placed in the church in their honor. A family dinner followed.

Mr. Smith, who presently is president of the Wixom Chamber of Commerce, served as president of the Detroit Council of Christian Churches for 15 years. He also was on the board of directors of the Metropolitan Detroit Council of Churches for 15 years.

He also has served on the board of directors of both the Western Wayne County and the Wayne County Easter

Sixth Grader Wins State DAR Award

Cynthia Zbikowski, a sixth grade student at the Ida B. Cooke Junior High annex, Northville, was named state sixth grade winner in the Daughters of the American Revolution American History Month essay contest, at the state DAR meeting in Grand Rapids last Thursday.

Cynthia, who is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Z. Ted Zbikowski of Edenderry subdivision, Northville, was named local sixth grade winner last month in the contest sponsored in Northville, Novi and Plymouth by the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter.

Students in the fifth through eighth grades were invited to write on "The Constitution and What It Means to Me," now will be entered in the national DAR competition in Washington, D.C., in April.

Ecology Program Open to Community

A community meeting to show area residents what they can do as individuals in the fight against pollution is scheduled for 9:15 a.m. next Monday in the Amerman School library.

The program, featuring a talk by Dr. James A. Swan, University of Michigan Resource Planning and Conservation expert, and two film presentations, is sponsored by the Citizens for Environmental Action Committee.

With the assistance of the Amerman PTA, the club is sending letters to 70 service clubs and area organizations. An informational packet containing specific ways individuals may take anti-pollution action has been prepared by the PTA for free distribution at the meeting, to which all interested citizens are invited.

Mrs. Mary Ann Beltz, one of the meeting organizers who is to introduce Dr. Swan, explains that the request is intended to point up the "pollution" caused by widespread use of the plastic cups. She adds that she always carries her own cup in her purse — as a way any individual can do his part in the fight against pollution.

She states that housewives are welcome and a baby sitting service is planned by the Amerman PTA for young children.

The informational packet to be distributed lists 20 ways an individual may conserve water, 10 ways solid wastes may be cut down, as well as suggestions to fight air pollution, noise pollution, over-population and to control pesticides.

Other chapters in the packet discuss "Why on Earth Should You Thank a Tree" and "The Properties of the Chemical Lawn."

It points up the theme of the meeting, "What can the individual do?" Mrs. Jean Dykstra of the Environmental Action committee has provided illustrations.

Although the Northville-area Citizens for Environmental Action group numbers only eight members, Mrs. Beltz adds, the eight are extremely active.

The group previously sponsored glass collections for recycling in the area. The final one was supposed to be last week, but, due to the response of the community, the group has made plans to continue.

The collection also will include cans which have had both ends removed and have been flattened. Next collection is to be Saturday, April 24, in the Northville Board of Education parking lot on West Main Street.

Dr. Swan has been a lecturer in resource planning and conservation at the University of Michigan School of Natural Resources since 1969. Last year he was symposium organizer for a program, "The Role of Behavioral Sciences in Resolving Environmental Pollution" at the American Psychological Association's National Conference in Miami.

Dr. Swan has been the recipient of four research grants for work in his field and is author of many articles on conservation and environment.

He received his Ph.D. in resource planning and conservation from the University of Michigan in 1969, his M.S. in water resources planning in 1967 and his B.S. in conservation (ecology) in 1965.

DR. JAMES A. SWAN

U of M Authority Talks on Pollution

"Citizen Action as Solution" is the topic to be explored by Dr. James A. Swan, research associate at the University of Michigan Institute for Social Research, who is to be guest speaker at a community program being sponsored by the Citizens for Environmental Action at 9:15 a.m. Monday at Amerman Elementary School.

Dr. Swan has been a lecturer in resource planning and conservation at the University of Michigan School of Natural Resources since 1969. Last year he was symposium organizer for a program, "The Role of Behavioral Sciences in Resolving Environmental Pollution" at the American Psychological Association's National Conference in Miami.

Luncheon Salads Double as Desserts

In response to a request for a recipe that will serve a group, here's a pretty gelatin that can be a salad or a bridge dessert. It is served by Mrs. E. O. Weber and always brings requests for the method:

RIBBON SALAD
Five 3 oz. pkg. gelatin — 3 red, 1 green, 1 lemon.

Prepare each with 1 1/2 c. water. In a 9 x 13 pan, dissolve a pkg. dark red (raspberry) gel. Then alternate a layer of white with another layer of gel (lime), then light red (strawberry), lemon, and cherry. Let each layer set separately, but as one is hardening, prepare another.

For the four alternate white layers, for EACH TWO layers, boil 1 c. milk, add 1/2 c. sugar and 1 pkg. Knox unflavored gelatin dissolved in 1/2 c. water. Cool and add 1 c. imitation sour cream and 1 tsp. vanilla.
Set 24 hours. Serves 18 or more.

Another "woman's recipe" to serve a club or bridge group is:
ALICE'S SWEETHEART SALAD
2 c. crushed pineapple
1/2 c. sugar
2 envelopes plain gelatin
1/2 c. cold water
12 cherries
2 tbsp. lemon juice
2 tbsp. cherry juice
2 pkg. (small) cream cheese
1/2 pt. whipping cream

Heat pineapple with sugar. Add gelatin which has softened in cold water. Stir until melted. Add lemon and maraschino cherry juice. Mash cheese and add cherries cut fine. Mix all and freeze until slightly thick. Whip cream and mix in. Chill in pan.
Makes 12 small servings.

NHS Wind Ensemble Sets April Concert Program

Northville High School Wind Ensemble will present a spring concert at 8 p.m. Friday, April 2, in the high school auditorium. The band will be experimenting with a new seating arrangement for a variation in sound at the concert.

Director Robert Williams points out that he feels this is a valuable experience for the band while also involving the audience as well as entertaining it.

Some of the numbers to be played are:

- "An Original Suite" by Gordon Jacob, for military band, consisting of three movements—march, intermezzo and finale; "A Tribute to Stephen Foster" by Sammy Nestico, made up of arrangements of songs composed by Stephen Foster; "Walden" by Frank Erickson in the style of Carl Ruggles and the thought of Henry David Thoreau's work.

Donations will be taken at the door. The money will be used, as proceeds from various band projects, for band camp.

Refreshments will follow the concert. They will be served in the high school cafeteria.

Presbyterians Go to Chicago

Ten members of the Northville Presbyterian Men's Club attended the National Presbyterian Men's meeting at the Pick-Congress Hotel in Chicago last weekend.

Participating in the three-day meetings and discussions, which convened last Friday, were the Reverend Lloyd Brasure, pastor, Edwin Langtry, Philip Ogilvie, Jan Reef, Warren Stoddard, Philip Chase, Murl Lamb, Yvonne (Ola) Sarto, Robert Kennedy and Frank Kaster.

At the conclusion, Mr. Brasure went north to Green Bay, Wisconsin, for a visit with his mother.

EARLY BEAVER — It may be a little chilly for convertibles, but it didn't deter five-year-old Laura Ann Smith, 218 West Dunlap, who was out for a spin Monday afternoon — just a day after the official start of spring. She pulled into Cal's Gulf-for a fill-up and while there asked Kurt Dixon for a little extra service — like putting on her "new" license plates so she, too, could beat the March 31 deadline for greenups and her cars.

Absent for A Year Schoolcraft Trustee Comes Out of Hiding

Can an elected college board trustee best serve his constituents by refusing to serve? When asked by this newspaper if he could defend his absenteeism (he hasn't attended a single meeting since he was elected) Trustee James Boswell of Livonia, who after a year's absence from meetings of the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees, broke a self-imposed silence Thursday to comment on his absence and the reasons behind it.

'Dirty' Soaps In for Bath

NEWS BRIEFS

A PRESSING and difficult assignment was handed the planning commission Monday night by the Northville city council. It is the planners' job to come up with a recommendation for offstreet parking to accommodate the proposed $3 to $4 million Northville Square shopping complex at Main and Wing streets. Planners must decide how much parking is required and where it should be located. The council would like an answer within four weeks.

A SAFETY PROGRAM, sponsored by the Northville Rotary Club, has been launched in an effort to assist occupants of houses during fires. Stickers, which may be obtained at the police station or by contacting a Rotarian through the police department, is being made available for attaching to the door or window of a house. The sticker informs police or firemen that the house contains an invalid, blind, aged, or bedridden person. It also indicates the number of stories in the house and the number of families living within.

NOMINATING PETITIONS for school board trustee are now available at the board of education offices and can be picked up from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. At least 20 but no more than 28 signatures must be obtained and the deadline for filing is 4 p.m. May 17. Two four-year terms, now held by Richard Martin and Andrew Orphan, are up in the June 14 election. So far petitions have been taken out by Martin, Orphan, R. Duane LaMoreaux and Angelo Chinni, school officials said. Last day for voter registration is May 14.

MRS. DONALD WARE, 239 Hutton Street, accepted Monday night the chairmanship of Northville's Michigan Week festivities coming up in May. Northville has been invited with Sparta, a community midway between Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids, for Mayor's Exchange Day on Monday, May 17.

Absent One Year

Trustee Speaks Out

the law, and that the board cannot take the action he wants," she emphasized.

"If the make-up of the board is to change it will be up to the electorate or the courts to make that decision—not the board of trustees."

A one-man, one vote ruling in Schoolcraft's case also would affect other community college districts in Michigan, Mrs. Moehle noted.

Meanwhile, Boswell not only has absented himself from board meetings but he also has secreted himself from many of his constituents, refused to talk with the press, and he has ignored official and unofficial inquiries from the board, college administrators, and students.

His telephone is unlisted, and he does not respond to visits to his Livonia home.

Not only did he respond publicly months ago when students picked his home, Thursday afternoon, however, he broke the year-long silence by telephoning this newspaper at the request of a third party to say that he has no intention of returning to the board, will not seek re-election when his six-year term expires in June, and that he is prepared "soon" to challenge the make-up of the Schoolcraft board in court.

Until this newspaper spoke with Boswell, his fellow members on the board had not seen any written remarks or heard of any comments from him since he left the board, according to Secord.

"We were beginning to wonder if he was even alive or, if he was, if he had moved from the district," he said. Secord, together with The Record, had tried unsuccessfully to reach Boswell several months ago.

Secord is more outspoken than Mrs. Moehle on Boswell's absenteeism. He noted that Boswell ran for the office, knowing full well the make-up of the board and then served nearly five years before suddenly deciding apparently that he could not in good faith "sit at the same table with us."

For a year prior to "leaving," said Secord, "he had very poor attendance—probably not much more than 50-percent. Obviously, he didn't care much about serving the people who elected him. His action seems a little childish to me."

A move from the district would sever his board connection, but Boswell told The Record that he is still a resident of Livonia and has been since he last attended a board meeting.

He is aware, as are fellow board members, that his absenteeism, under the law governing community colleges, does not invalidate his position on the board, and he knows the board cannot legally remove him from office because of his long absence.

When Boswell absented himself, the board sent him an official letter asking about his absence and suggesting, indirectly, that should he elect not to return he should resign so that someone else could be elected to the post, said Mrs. Moehle.

"He never replied to that letter," she said. Asked why he had made himself inaccessible, Boswell said it was to "avoid harassment." He was harassed, he said, for a number of reasons, one being his liberal philosophy on academic freedom. "I didn't want to get embroiled in that,"

He has refused to talk to the press, he said, because "all they would do is twist the facts and try to give me a bad name. That's probably what you will do with what I'm saying now. I'll talk to you only because Jeaneane (Jeaneane Havstad, who represents the New Democratic Coalition of Livonia) asked me to call."

"I don't need publicity and I don't seek it."

Married with no children, Boswell said he received his doctorate in higher education from the University of Michigan this past winter and that he is presently engaged in personal research. He did not elaborate, pointing out only that he is not teaching although he serves as a "visiting scholar" at U-M.

Boswell has not lost any of his dislike for fellow board members—personally and professionally. They have a "small town provincial outlook" that is reprehensible, he declared. They continue to be "totally negligent," he continued, and by taking actions involving taxpayers' money and by appointing a new president, they make a good case for "malpractice and malfeasance in office."

His charges are based, he explained, on the fact that they take such actions while they are "illegally constituted."

"What's happened," he said, "is that a smaller community, such as Plymouth, got a foothold early after the election was formed and as a result the Plymouth type of provincial thinking governs it (the board). They hire the kind of people who have the same narrow outlook on life and education that they themselves have."

"People in Livonia are really getting the ream-out. They pay the most taxes (to support Schoolcraft) and they have the least representation on the board."

Livonia taxpayers, he said, "shouldn't have to pay a cent until the one-man vote becomes a reality."

Told that Mrs. Moehle has stated that if a citizen or a group of citizens wish to test in court the constitutionality of the board make-up the board stands willing to cooperate with that move, Boswell warned, "Don't even talk about her to me; she's worse than all of them."

"Unless they (the board) are willing to finance a court case, as they should, then I don't need their help," he continued. "I don't need it. If they will pay for it (court test) they know my address; all they have to do is write me."

That the current state law supports present representation on the board is meaningless, according to Boswell. More important, he said, are the supreme court decisions relative to board make-up. In particular, in a Missouri case involving a junior college district the supreme court ruled that all governmental bodies, including school boards must adhere to the one-man, one vote principle, he said. Boswell concludes from this ruling that Schoolcraft College must be elected from districts of nearly equal populations. He said he would not be satisfied if all representatives on the college board were elected at large, although he believes this kind of procedure would be far better than the present setup.

Mrs. Moehle concedes that a court test could be made out of the situation in the Schoolcraft District, but she pointed out that Boswell's reference to the Supreme Court case is misleading since there are differences between the Missouri junior college district and the Schoolcraft district.

Asked if this project meant he is now working without pay on this matter, Boswell replied, "Not exactly." He did not elaborate, although he emphasized that his personal efforts are being fortified and that the public could expect a court battle soon.

In a communication to the college board several weeks ago, Neil DeSinger, chairman of the NDCL, contended the "present composition of unbalanced districts to this board of trustees is unconstitutional, and grossly unfair to Livonia voters who comprise more than half of the college district, both in population and school-age enrollment."

The communication outlined several steps taken by Boswell to date:

1. Wrote to the president of the State Board of Education and to the chairman of the state board of public community and junior colleges, questioning the constitutionality of the SCC board make-up.

He received a reply in which it was stated that the SCC board is "in accord with Act 331 of the Public Acts of 1966; and, more specifically, with Section 34 of that Act."

2. Wrote to legislators, governor and to Senator Phillip Hart.

Hart responded with a note, giving the reply of Dr. John W. Porter, then acting superintendent of public instruction. That reply said in part: "Mrs. Moehle attended the September 18-19 meeting of the State Board for Public Community Colleges in which this matter was discussed. Staff informed both Mrs. Moehle and the (state) community college board that Representative Marvin R. Stempian has asked the Attorney General's office for an opinion on the one-man, one vote principle and its applicability to Schoolcraft College. The (state) community college board encouraged the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees to supply the Attorney General's office with an additional background information deemed pertinent to the case."

"The Department of Education and Schoolcraft College are waiting for the Attorney General's opinion on this issue. If the current procedure for electing board of trustees are found to be unconstitutional, we strongly support the amending of the current statute at the beginning of the 1971 legislative session."

As of early this week no opinion of the Attorney General had been handed down.

Local Students, Teachers

Attend Drug Forum

Six students and six teachers from Northville secondary schools have been participating in DARTE (Drug Abuse Reduction Through Education) a program sponsored by the Wayne County Intermediate School District.

The group has been attending workshops over the past 10 weeks conducted in Dearborn. Future plans for DARTE include establishing a program in the district involving students, staff, administrators and the community.

Team members include Mrs. Julie Crowther, leader of the group, David Graff, Mrs. Judy Higbee, Mrs. Barbara Holmes, Mrs. Carol Pasco and Jack Wickens. Students on the team are Ann Price, Michele Rody, John Forrer, Reese Lenheiser, Nancy Nridder and Diane Getzen.

DARTE workshop sessions have included:
— pharmacology of drugs;
— legal aspect of drug abuse;
— empathy training to bring about greater understanding of others, particularly between generations;

— values clarification training to define values and life goals;

— Yoga as an alternative to drug use; and — formulation of tentative action program for Northville schools.

Leading resource personnel in each of the areas have worked with the teams from Northville and other participating schools.

The general philosophy which has been adopted by DARTE is that the drug problem encompasses a much larger issue than drugs, Mrs. Crowther said. "It is a human relations problem that necessitates opening lines of communication between the various groups within our schools and community," she noted.

(Powder), and Breeze.

On the basis of ingredient content information put out by Northwestern University, it also would affect Bonus, Fluffy All, Vim, Drive, and American Family. Enzyme presoaks Brion, Axion, Biz and Sears, and additive Calgon also would be banned from sale.

Presumably, most of these products, explained Marsh, could come within acceptable limits if the manufacturer suggested usage of lesser amounts per washload. But, he added, "if they did that the housewife wouldn't get the clean wash she expects."

Specifically, the ordinance bans the sale of detergents which contain use levels of seven grams of phosphorus. Computed in units of phosphorus per washload, it "probably" would affect those detergents having some 35 units or more per washload, Marsh indicated.

The ordinance, emphasized Marsh, permits the sale of many detergents that "are well within safe limits."

A few of the detergents that are within acceptable limits are Cold Water All (liquid), Dux, Ivory Flakes and Snow, Lux, White Sail, Jet Power, etc.

The ordinance defines detergent as meaning "any cleaning compound which is available for household use, laundry use, other personal uses or industrial use, which is composed of organic and inorganic compounds, including soaps, water softeners, surface active agents, builders fillers, dyes, enzymes and fabric softeners, whether in the form of crystals, powders, flakes, bars, liquids, sprays or any other form."

Purpose of the ordinance is to cut down the amount of phosphate chemicals which flow through sewer lines and empty into lakes and streams. Scientists point out that phosphates add to pollution by fertilizing algae and vegetation, causing the green scum that increasingly borders lakes and streams.

For 'Young Authors' It's Writing Time

Northville Public School children in grades one through six will be participating in a local Young Authors' Program from now through the end of April.

Addressing Northville's young authors in all three elementary schools at a kick-off assembly last Thursday was Dr. Henry Hahn. Dr. Hahn is the originator of the Young Authors' Conference held annually at Oakland University.

Choral reading, group creative poetry composition, reading works created by children in other districts and illustrating the importance of perception in the process of creating were just some of the activities offered in the assembly.

These 20 students will enter the Young Authors' Conference at Oakland on April 26 where they will share their manuscripts with other young authors from Michigan.

Directing the program in cooperation with the principals are reading service personnel Mrs. Ann Chizmar at Aneman; Mrs. Mildred Harder, Moraine; and Mrs. Connie Cylkowski, Main Street.

Miss Florence Panattoni, curriculum coordinator for the schools said "The Young Authors' Program provides a vehicle for schools to tap the creative abilities of every child. If a goal of our schools is to help children live creatively, then we must provide specific experiences designed to enable students to gain competence in the creative process."

The Mothers' Club of Northville are providing the funds to conduct the Young Authors' Program.

Hockey Players Head For Frazer Tourney

Northville skaters finish the season this weekend with the annual father-son series, while the Squirts travel to Frazer Friday for action in the invitational suburban tournament.

Officials expect a good turnout for father-son action slated for the Bantams, Midgets and PeeWees at Jackson on Saturday.

The Squirts contest is set for Detroit's Winter Wonderland on Sunday but final scheduling depends on the outcome of the Fraser contest.

Action over the weekend saw all four teams on the ice in a total of five contests, but the Midgets brought home the only victory Saturday, at the expense of Kalamazoo, 3-3.

The Bantams and the PeeWees both fell to Jackson 4-1 with Frank Knott for the Bantams and Dave Bell for the PeeWees doing the singleton honors.

The Squirts went to Wyandotte Friday to play Dearborn and wound up on the bottom of a 6-2 score with Ken Stelmach notching both points off assists by Rich Pattison and Peter Cartwright.

It was the same story Sunday as Northville tried to pull out of its hole but failed at the hands of the Detroit Cherokees, 4-1.

Cartwright played Pattison's assist into the net for the lone goal.

Jerry Rotta will remain as the scoutmaster.

Dance Hall OK'd

Restricting unlicensed outdoor gatherings to less than 200 people. Two hundred people or more, assembled for group benefit, on public land, for a "festival of any kind, amusement, or other similar gathering," must now meet certain requirements and apply for a license.

The ordinance exempts meetings held by a government agency, any home owners group, or within a building.

"Our people realize 100-percent satisfaction is impossible," said Moak "... but we request very strongly that every consideration be given to us before any further permits are issued."

Moak claimed that the city had slackened the hold on "a club" held over Kaufman and Broad's head with its action granting building permits prior to final plat approval.

City Attorney Howard Bond repeated his stand taken last week that, according to law, a home title could not be transferred until proper specifications were met.

New Views in Education Topic at Main Street

"Innovations in Education" will be the topic of tonight's (Thursday) Main Street PTA meeting with Miss Delores Olszewski of the Wayne County Intermediate School District staff development section as guest speaker.

The meeting begins at 8 p.m. in the multi-purpose room.

Miss Olszewski will discuss open classrooms, ungraded school system, year-round school and use of paraprofessionals in the classroom.

A former classroom teacher and principal in public schools, Miss Olszewski has been with the intermediate school district for the past three years working on the paraprofessional reading project. The reading project is now operating in the elementary schools of Northville.

Parents will also be able to browse at the PTA's book table, with all books available for purchase, a spokesman for the group said.

OBITUARIES

MRS. EMILIE E. BERNHARDT
Mrs. Emilie E. Bernhardt, a former Northville resident, died March 16 at her home in White Lake at the age of 94. She had been ill for the past year.

Funeral services were held Friday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church where the Reverend Charles F. Boeger officiated.

Mrs. Bernhardt, who lived in Northville for 67 years, was born August 26, 1876, in Lubneck, Poland. She was the daughter of Gustina (Maretzke) and Henry J. Janetzke.

She was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and the Lutheran Women's Guild of the church for 71 years.

Mrs. Bernhardt's husband, Gustave, preceded her in death May 4, 1934.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Ella Foreman of White Lake with whom Mrs. Bernhardt lived for the past 33 years, two sons, Frederick W. and Henry W. both of Northville, four grandchildren, 11 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

The body lay in state at the Casterline Funeral Home until Friday. Burial was in Novi Cemetery.

ANDREW TOROK
Andrew Torok, a resident of Northville for the past 61 years, died Friday, March 19, at his home at 605 Carpenter Street. He was 74 years old.

Born February 11, 1897, in Sarud, Austria-Hungary, he was the son of Mary (Toth) and Andrew Torok. A retired employee of Ford Motor Company, Mr. Torok was a member of Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church.

SOMETHING NEW IN ART - David Allen, a craftsman at Allen Monuments, prepares to sandblast impressions of matchsticks on a one ton granite slab. The matchsticks were dropped on a sketch of the slab by Michael Heizer, the artist who last week created an earth sculpture in Detroit which included burying a block of granite in a field. Heizer refused to be photographed, explaining "The art is what is important to me not the artist." The granite slab will be on display at the Detroit Institute of Arts where Heizer is staging a one-man show entitled "Photographic and Actual Work" which opens today, Thursday, and runs through April 25.

Fines Total $150,000

Traffic and non-traffic fines and costs, and fees for civil cases and marriages totaled $149,956.65 during 1970, according to an unofficial year-end report of the 52nd District Court of Judge Martin L. Boyle.

Judge Boyle, a Milford resident, sits in the district court at Walled Lake.

Distribution of these revenues are broken down this way:

To Oakland County, $107,140.57; to the state, $24,899.75; and the municipalities covered by the district court, $17,926.33.

The latter includes: Novi, $4,988.33; Wixom, $2,819.72; South Lyon, $2,404.66; Milford, $2,387.33; Wolverine Lake, $2,091.01; Walled Lake, $1,779.02; Milford Township, $1,430.33; Commerce Township, $18; and Highland Township, $7.33.

Court expenditures for the year were: salaries, $67,332.24; witness and juror costs, $7,497.35; rent, utilities, etc., $8,928.06; office supplies and equipment, $7,631.88; and other, $937.70.

A total of 7,410 criminal cases were handled by the court in 1970, with 396 of them resulting in trials; 1,417 misdemeanor offenses (233 by trial); 89 felony offenses, in which 68 preliminary hearings were held; 1,134 civil cases (230 by trial); and 92 marriages.

Jaycees to Survey

Northville Jaycees announced plans this week to organize and conduct a community attitude survey in the municipalities covered by the district court, Northville board of education.

The survey, which is scheduled for April, will be conducted on a personal interview basis with members of the Jaycees visiting approximately 450 homes in Northville and Northville Township, according to project chairman Dick Rayburn.

In addition to approximately 60 questions regarding attitudes toward community services, recreational facilities, educational and employment opportunities, and professional services, the survey will also contain items of particular interest to the Northville city council, Northville township board, and the Northville board of education.

The Jaycees plan to use the survey results as an aid in planning their long range goals for expanded service within the Northville area. They also will make the results of the survey available to local governmental and service agencies for study.

Three Earn All 'A' Grades

Three local residents achieved perfect grade point averages (4.0 or straight A) at Eastern Michigan University for the fall semester.

They are Dorothy Schwalm, 38287 Tralee Trail; Jeffrey Wager, 35 Woodland Place; and Judy Vansickle, 25650 Taft Road.

To be eligible for this academic honor, a student must carry a full class schedule and earn a minimum grade point average of 3.3 (based on a 4.0 system).

The two local students are: Keith D. Mueller, junior, son of Mrs. Cecil D. Mueller of 18513 Jamestown Circle; and Ellen G. Thomas, sophomore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce R. Thomas of 18329 Shadbrook Drive.

Grant Aids Novi Chemist

Wayne State University's Board of Governors Thursday approved a number of grants for research and instruction.

Among them was a $49,000 grant from the U.S. Public Health Service supporting the work of Professor Tokuji Kimura, of 22516 Peppercorn Court, Novi.

Dr. Kimura, working in Wayne State's Chemistry Department, is studying compounds and chemical reactions of human adrenal glands. Dr. Kimura has been at Wayne since 1968. Previously he was a professor at St. Paul University in Tokyo, Japan.

Budget OK'd

Continued from Record, Page 1 that the report was not really a budget, but merely a cash-flow report and that it could not be expected to balance.

Treasurer Straub reported township funds totaling $758,721.22. He explained that some $256,000 of these monies were held in trust accounts and were not available to the township for use.

He reported specific township

Downs Racing Ends Tonight

Maybe the weather will improve now... Northville Downs closes tonight after a 44-night meet that was plagued with ice, snow, rain and sleet.

Through the 40th night of the meet, last Saturday evening, the track averaged $232,262 per night in mutual handle. Considering the weather, track officials call the betting good. Last fall the Downs' meet averaged $242,000 per night.

Total mutual handle through Saturday was $9,330,488, while attendance was 123,015 for a nightly average of 3,076 fans.

The sulks move to Hazel Park Friday night and return to Northville Downs for a 35-night summer meet beginning June 24.

Warning Issued To Dog Owners

City Police Chief Samuel Elkins issued a warning to dog owners this week that it is against city ordinance to allow dogs to run at large.

"We're getting numerous complaints from citizens about dogs running loose," Chief Elkins said. "It gets worse every spring."

One day last week police impounded seven stray dogs, he said. Officers will also be using tranquilizing dart guns to catch dogs, Chief Elkins commented.

Tickets issued to owners for allowing their dog to run at large are $9 for first violation; $14, second $19, third, fourth violation is a mandatory court case.

Dr. Hunt Gets School Post

A six month search has ended with the appointment of Dr. Paul R. Hunt of Northville, as the new superintendent of the Westwood Community Schools.

Dr. Hunt, a unanimous choice of the Board of Education, will assume his duties on July 1, 1971, and will replace George McGuire who has been superintendent since July 1, 1970.

The forty-six year old superintendent-elect brings with him 22 years of experience in public education, ranging from elementary to secondary and post-secondary positions, and including adult education, special education and vocational education. He has gained a full range of experience through 15 years spent in the Detroit Public School System and most recently five years as the dean of occupational studies at Washtenaw Community College in Ann Arbor.

During the past six years Dr. Hunt also served as guest and visiting lecturer at numerous universities including Ohio State University, Wayne State University, The University of Michigan and Michigan State. He is a well-published author of many articles and papers on the subjects of special education, vocational education and concerns of urban schools.

Dr. Hunt, a graduate of Detroit Central High School, earned his bachelor's and master's degrees from Wayne State University after serving three years in flying combat with the United States Air Corps during World War II. He was awarded his doctorate from Wayne State in 1963.

Since 1950 Dr. Hunt has served as a training officer in the United States Air Force Reserve. He currently holds the rank of lieutenant colonel.

All of Dr. Hunt's teaching and administrative experiences have been in urban, bi-racial settings. His administrative experiences have been broad and comprehensive, including program implementation, school finance, personnel management, school plant management, state and federal relations and public relations.

He began his teaching career in the Detroit public schools as a classroom teacher, later to become a counselor, principal and research director. In 1965 he was assigned as divisional director of Federal Programs for Detroit Public Schools.

In his new position as superintendent of Westwood Community Schools Dr. Hunt will direct the education of the District's 5,000 students in eight schools. The district includes parts of Dearborn Heights and Inkster.

Dr. Hunt and his wife, Mary Ann, reside in Northville at 46957 Curtis with their two children, Bonnie, 16, and Joel, 10.

Study in High Gear

Continued from Record, Page 1 education can then determine what direction should be taken by the school district," the superintendent said.

A special supplement in this issue of The Record reviews survey and opinion sampling results, outlines the benefits and problems connected with extended school year operation and details the steps necessary to accomplish Phase III of the study.

A filmstrip has also been prepared by the district and was shown for the first time yesterday (Wednesday) at the Third National Seminar on Year-Round Education in Coon Beach, Florida. Making the presentation were Spear and Busard. Showings to clubs and groups can be arranged by calling the schools' central office at 349-3400.

"The findings of Phase III will provide valuable data not only to Northville but to school districts throughout the state and nation as well," Spear said. Michigan is only one of 38 states that is looking at year-round education. Alaska and Arizona, at opposite ends weatherwise are also studying the extended school year, he said.

"This community is by no means alone in its search for solutions to the problems of an expanding community and rising costs of education," the superintendent said.

"We know an extended school year in some form will improve educational opportunity for children and we know it will save millions of tax dollars in construction and interest costs."

"What we don't know is to what degree people are willing to change long established patterns of living," Spear commented.

New Station Opens Here

A South Lyon resident, Thomas Hilkey, is the owner of Northville's newest service station.

The facility, Shell station, located at the corner of Seven Mile and Northville Road, represents a continuation of the service station business for Hilkey.

"I've been in it most of my life," he explained. "My dad owned two stations, one in Detroit and another in Dearborn Township and I worked in both of them."

Hilkey is married and has four sons aged between 11 and 19.

He spent the last seven years as a pattern maker in the Detroit area working for "a variety of different manufacturers making patterns for automobile parts."

Born and raised in Detroit, Hilkey lived for a number of years in the Livonia area.

He and his family moved to South Lyon last year, and they now live at 10858 Rushton Road.

Area Golf Courses Ready for Action

ANN ARBOR HURON BOB-O-LINK

This par 67, 520 yard golf course is located at 3405 East Huron River Drive, Ann Arbor, and has been open on good weather days for the past three weeks. The summer rates for 18 holes is $3.65 on weekends and holidays. The weekday rate is $3.

A special twilight rate begins April 1. For that month a golfer may start playing the course at 3 p.m. and play until dark for $2.25. From May to Labor Day, the twilight rate will not begin until 5 p.m.

The phone number is 971-9941.

Just returned from Florida this past weekend, Pro-Manager Midge and Mrs. Cova report initial survey of their courses, located on either side of Grand River, west of Beck in Novi, indicates greens weathered the winter well. Weather permitting play will begin April 1.

The club features a bar and dining facilities with banquet services available for up to 400 persons in one party and private space for smaller groups.

Fees have been increased, says Cova. They are:

On weekdays $4 and on weekends and holidays $5 for 18 on the south course where nine-hole play is discouraged. On the north course the rate is $3 on weekdays and $4 on weekends and holidays. Nine hole play on this course remains at $2. Twilight play on either course is $3.

Three changes will greet golfers playing the course where Cova has built new ninth and 11th holes and reconstructed the 17th tee, adding 60 yards to its length.

Trees are beautiful, especially if you select them carefully. They come in all different sizes and shapes — like this round form of English Oak that not only provides good shade, but adds a soothing, low-pressure feeling to the landscape.

Year-round beauty can be built into your landscape through wise selection and planting of crab apple trees. Many varieties offer pleasing winter silhouettes like this, along with beautiful blossoms, colorful fruit, and brilliant fall leaf color.

Proper Fertilizing Essential to Lawn

Fertilizing your lawn could be easily compared to a bikini bathing suit — both are essential to the beauty of the final product. Proper fertilization not only promotes healthy turf, but it reduces weed and disease problems...

Get in Shape -- Rake, Roll Yard

Get two birds with one stone by treating your early spring lawn care program as a chance to get outdoors for some fresh air and exercise. A few hours with a lawn rake will provide the exercise and give your lawn a head start by removing accumulated dead plant materials...

Rolling should be your second spring-time lawn activity. It evens out humps and hollows caused by freezing and thawing during late winter and early spring, thus making lawn maintenance tasks throughout the season easier.

It's Time To Plan Garden

Though the ground is still frozen, it's time to make garden plans, notes Michigan State University horticulturist J. Lee Taylor. A quick analysis of last year's gardening results may help you plan for this year, Taylor says. Did you have problems with fruits and vegetables? Were they due to diseases, insects, soil conditions, weather or poor varieties?

Canadian Investors Must Pay Taxes, Too

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. — Canada, our neighbor to the north, is especially rich in natural resources. It is enjoying solid growth, with its gross national product — currently in excess of $80 billion a year — racking up regular gains. The long-term expansion pattern of the Canadian economy is a significant consideration for some American investors who wish to achieve a measure of geographical diversification in placement of their investment funds.

Area Golf Courses Ready for Action, Eye April 1 Opening

HICKORY HILLS

Manager George Catto still wasn't answering the course phone this past weekend so rates at this par 35 layout over 2,865 yards couldn't be established. If they remain the same as last, golfers will be able to play nine holes for $2 and $3.25 for 18 on weekdays, and $2.50 for nine and $4 for 18 on weekends and holidays.

Located in Wixom off Loon Lake Road, the course features a clubroom for light lunches and space for banquets.

As at most other courses, rates at this nine-hole layout at the corner of Powell and Ann Arbor Trail near Plymouth have been increased.

Golfers can play nine holes during the week for $2.50, 18 for $4, and after 6 p.m. it will cost them $2. Saturday, Sunday and holidays the rates are $3 for nine, $4.75 for 18, and after 5 p.m. $2.50.
Pro-manager Chris Burghardt opened this 2,862 yard, par 34 course on Sunday.

KENSINGTON

An April opening date is planned at this 6,380 yard par 71 (36-35) 18-hole course located north of I-96 between New Hudson and Brighton. A more definite date will be announced later. Those wishing to use the facility are asked to call 685-1408.

Richard Yeager is expected to return as manager.
Established by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, the course will offer the same fees as last year: Nine holes on weekdays, $2.50, and $4 for 18 on weekdays. Saturday, Sunday and holiday fees are $3.50 for nine, $5 for 18. It does rent club carts, however, and sells some golfing necessities (balls, tees, etc.). In addition, the club offers a snackbar with a limited number of sandwiches, soft drinks, chips and candy bars.

SALEM HILLS

Dick Osborn joins Manager Bob Soloyi as assistant pro this year, replacing Jim Vargo, at Salem Hills — one of the longest Detroit metropolitan courses.

Located on Six Mile Road just west of the Salem Township center, the course is 7,074 yards long.
The tee-off system used last season will be used again this year to speed play on the par 36-38 (72) course. Fees have been increased both here and at Godwin Glen. They are: Weekdays for nine, $3, and for 18 holes, $5 and weekends and holidays, $6 for 18.
In addition, Soloyi is planning special weekday rates after 3 p.m., but these have not yet been established. Tentative opening is set for April 1.

SAN MARINO

Nine holes of golf during weekdays costs the same as last year but other rates have increased for this par 36, 3,299-yard course in Farmington.

Located at 26934 Halstead Road south of 12 Mile Road, it offers these rates:
For nine holes on weekdays, $2.75, and for 18 holes on weekdays, $4.75; for nine holes on weekends and holidays, $3.25, and for 18 holes, $5.75.
Tony Dalessandro, who started here last season, returns this season as pro-manager. The course will open as soon as weather permits.
The course has a clubhouse with a snackbar.

TYRONE HILLS

Plans to open this course call for a March 25 target date, but the course may remain closed longer depending on the weather. A par 72 course of 6,500 yards, Tyrone Hills has summer rates of $2.50 for nine holes and $3.50 for 18 holes during the weekdays.
On weekends and holidays nine holes cost $3.00 and 18 cost $5.00. Tyrone is located at N-8449 U.S. 23 in Easton and the phone number is 629-7382.

WHISPERING WILLOWS

Rates have been increased at this municipal course in Livonia, situated at the corner of Eight Mile and Newburgh roads.

Rates for nine holes, Monday through Friday, are $2.75 for Livonia residents, $3 for non-residents; for 18 holes, Monday through Friday, $4 for residents, $4.50 for non-residents.
Rates for nine holes, Saturday, Sunday and holidays, are $2.25 for non-residents; for 18 holes, Saturday, Sunday and holidays, $3 for residents, $3.50 for non-residents.

Special rates are available for resident senior citizens — Monday through Friday, $1 for nine holes. Tee off must be before noon for senior citizens, who are defined as persons 65 years old or older.
Rates for boys and girls, 17 years old and younger, are $1 for nine holes, $2 for 18 holes on Mondays only.
Twilight rates, after 6 p.m., are $2 for residents, $2.25 for non-residents.

Pro-Manager Gary Whitenen notes that this 18-hole, 6,400 yard layout features a driving range, snack bar, pro shop and lessons.

WOODLAND

Located near Brighton at 7635 West Grand River, Woodland is a nine hole, 3,250 yard course. The weekday rates are $2.25 for nine holes, while the weekend and holiday cost is $3.50.
The course will open in approximately a week, depending on the weather. A driving range near the course is already open.
The phone is 229-9972.

Decentralization Of Food Stamp Program Sought

A resolution to petition the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity to push for decentralization of the federal food stamp program in Oakland County was passed Thursday by the West County Advisory Unit of the OEO.

At a special meeting held in its Novi office, the unit resolved to ask OEO commissioners to take its plea before the Michigan Department of Social Services.

Decentralization of the federally funded food stamp program is necessary in Oakland County, according to Unit Chairman Byrle L. Hines, because of the great distances that recipients must travel to get food stamps.

Currently, Hines said Friday, there are only two methods by which benefits are distributed to more than 5,400 people throughout the county.

"Either each person travels to Pontiac to get his or her stamps, a distance of 40 miles in some cases, or he participates in a proxy program."

Under the proxy arrangement, recipients go to a central point in their community with proper identification, a money order is written out, and a courier dispatched to the Pontiac office.

The courier returns with the stamps and they are distributed accordingly, Hines said.

A distribution center has been operated in Milford under the direction of West County worker Janet Combs, for two months.

Said Mrs. Combs: "We operate in the Milford City Hall and keep the stamps in the city's vault overnight to distribute the next day. The system works fine; we've never had any trouble."

South Lyon has a similar program which operates through the Jaycee auxiliary using the South Lyon City Hall. "In one year they have had no trouble. Right now they handle 14 families," Mrs. Combs said.

Problems in establishing local distribution centers, according to Virginia London of Michigan social services, spring from federally imposed restrictions calling for the bonding of all people handling the stamps, and the assumption of complete financial responsibility once the stamps leave the state or county office.

Mrs. London said the department of social services "is anxious to set up local distribution centers and various ideas are being considered," but noted that at the present time, nothing is definite.

However, Mrs. London explains, that prime areas being considered for such centers were Wixom, Holly, Rochester and Royal Oak Township.

In order to qualify for the food stamp program, according to Mrs. London, persons must have cooking facilities in their homes, be a resident of the target area (Oakland County), fall within a certain salary range and have liquid assets of not more than $1,000 for a household of one, or $1,500 for two or more.

Depending on his salary and liquid asset, Mrs. London said, one pays for a certain number of the stamps and gets a certain number free.

"The stamps may be used only for food stuffs and cannot be spent for tobacco, liquor, etc.," Mrs. London said.

The West County Council of OEO represents the Highland, Milford, White Lake, Commerce, Farmington, South Lyon, Novi and Walled Lake areas.

Hines said Friday that he intends to have the units resolution on the commission agenda when it meets March 31.

MOTHER GOOSE and the King Cole Fiddler will be at Livonia Mall, Seven Mile Road at Middlebelt this Thursday, Friday and Saturday to entertain the children. Also scheduled at the Mall as part of their pre-Easter festivities are: the Easter Bunny with gifts for the children; a family fashion show with Miss Michigan Universe 1971 as one of the models; and many spring-landscaped gardens throughout the Mall

Sure Signs of Spring

Despite the carpet of snow that fell Sunday on the official first day of spring, signs of the season are evident in some cases without even looking... they can be felt as the car bounces over crumbling concrete and asphalt and through mushy country roads throughout the area. In areas streams that meander through wooded parks and countryside, ice has all but disappeared, freeing debris trapped during the winter months. And on the roadsides, the marks of the spoiler's handiwork that respect no season are beginning to appear more frequently.

Personal Guilt Weighs Heavily

Reverend Father John Wittstock Our Lady of Victory Church Northville

There is hardly a newspaper in the country that does not carry a syndicated column which purports to give advice...

Perhaps no more so than in times past, but our society tends to verbalize it in a way that was unknown years ago...

indeed make Christians one. Jesus was not a person given to pious platitudes or phony solutions to real problems.

Some few do admit that they scan these letters occasionally, mostly for laughs, out of curiosity...

Sure we're living in an era of violence. But this is not a new invention in man's history...

St. Paul tells us that God has given us the ministry of reconciliation. He is proposing that as we Christians spend our lives in setting prisoners of wealth and poverty free...

There are days when Jim feels "all geared up." Like many men today, he has the sense of being just a cog in a wheel—no real identity.

It takes a great many Jims, all kinds, to keep the wheels turning. But each is important, and each is an individual.

Maybe you're being underestimating yourself! Maybe you've been feeling that you are just one of the crowd!

For a new perspective, maybe you'd better start going to church.

At what age should you start feeding foals grain? As with all young mammals, milk from the dam gives the foal a good start in life...

A "creep" is an enclosure for feeding purposes, made accessible to the foal (s), but through which the dam cannot pass. For best results, the creep should be built at a spot where the mares are inclined to loiter...

Under such a system of care and management, the foal will become less dependent on its dam, and the weaning process may be speeded up and made much easier.

Today's Weddings Don't Look or Sound Like Mother's Ceremony

by JEAN DAY

When a bride walks up the aisle of one of the area's churches today, chances are that she will have had a greater hand in the wedding arrangements than did her mother two dozen years ago.

A growing number of, but by no means all, brides are choosing the wording of their vows and the details of the service - in cooperation with their pastor or priest. In an effort to make the exchanging of vows "most meaningful" to the participants the clergy is working with young people who express such an interest (and, they note, it's usually the bride who seeks this ceremony).

Two dozen years ago, the mother of the bride of today did bring a post-World War II innovation that is standard now - the double wedding ring.

Most of the concern of the bride of the 1940's or 50's, however, was in the bridal attire and flowers. She really did not have today's more relaxed attitude of the church in permitting variation in the service.

Today's bride also is interested in the church flowers and clothes of the wedding party, too. Her gown may be a trend-setting mid-length, a pantsdress or a classic Grecian line that she designed and made herself.

More and more brides whose weddings have been reported in our papers have been making their gowns; but usually choosing traditional or Victorian designs.

It has been in the gowns of the bridal attendants that there is greatest variety today. They've gone to full-skirted, peasant looks - in bright splashes of color.

There always have been "freak" weddings that make newspaper headlines as couples exchange vows under water or in Kennedy Square. For many such couples the sentiment lies in making their hobby or the place they met the setting for the ceremony, rather

Campus Talk Tonight

Dick Gregory, the comedian — author — lecturer — actor, will speak at Schoolcraft College in Livonia tonight (Thursday).

His appearance is sponsored by the Cultural Affairs Committee, which has announced the lecture will be held in the main gymnasium to accommodate an anticipated large audience.

A leading voice in the movement for racial equality and social justice, Gregory is a popular campus personality. He has gained the ear and affection of audiences from Florida to New York, from Kentucky to Colorado.

Gregory is described as "a man with a message — a message of freedom and equality not only for the Negro, but for the entire human race." He is a soldier at war against hate and bigotry. According to his press information, Gregory has spent more time in Southern jails, marched in more demonstrations, prevented more racial violence and worked harder for the rights of the Negro than any other entertainer in America.

JAMES TOCCO

Pianist James Tocco was in concert at Livonia Churchill High on March 26, and mime Yass Hakoshima will perform at Stevenson High on March 31. Both are sponsored by Schoolcraft College under its continuing series of community concerts.

He has won prizes in international competitions at Moscow, Montreal, Leeds, Barcelona and Paris. Most renowned was his high ranking in the Tchaikovsky competition in 1970.

Tocco's concert repertoire includes Bach, Beethoven, Brahms, Chopin, Franca, Hindemith, Liszt, Mozart, Prokofiev, Schumann, Strauss, Tchaikovsky and Weber.

The concert begins at 8 p.m. A nominal charge was made for the 8 p.m. concert.

Hakoshima, the only Japanese performing pantomime in the Western world, will be on stage at Stevenson High on March 31.

Hakoshima's repertoire includes numbers which embody humor, pathos, frustration, grandeur and a symbolic struggle for freedom. One reviewer wrote, "he encourages an almost imperceptible energy to burgeon and gain momentum until he seems to throw with life-action."

In addition to his performance Hakoshima will, if requested, give a lecture-demonstration of his art form. There is no admission charge for the event which is scheduled for 8 p.m.

BETWEEN NOW AND MAY 1 OUR HOUSES WILL BE ABOUT $3,000 EASIER TO LIVE WITH.

SALE
Because we're having a sale. Which can save you anywhere from $1,500 to $3,000 on a new Thompson-Brown home. That's quite a lot of money. Quite a lot of homes, too. Let's see. There are four Thompson-Brown subdivisions involved. Northville Commons, Lexington Commons, Wedgwood Commons and Independence Commons. The average number of lots available in each subdivision is about 120. Which means our little sale involves almost 500 brand-new Thompson-Brown homes. And all kinds of home styles—colonial, tri-level, quad-level, ranch and luxury ranch. And all kinds of prices—ranging from about $40,000 to about $70,000.

And all with savings of at least $1,500. And in many cases, as much as $3,000. Enough to buy carpeting for the entire first floor. Or to have central air conditioning put in. Or to get a ping-pong table, a new refrigerator, a color TV, a pedigreed Irish wolfhound, a tandem bicycle, six electric blankets, and a pair of jogging shoes. Enough money to justify a closer look at a few Thompson-Brown communities. But don't wait too long. The fun only lasts till May 1st. If you miss it, you can kiss those jogging shoes goodbye.

Today's Weddings Look and Sound Different

than having religious significance for the participants.

NEW MEANING
This new movement to make weddings more relevant finds young couples writing their own services — with many of the ceremonies taking place on college campuses where a growing number of middle class youths, according to reports, are seeking to make their marriages less traditional and intensely personal.

Many are of mixed religions and are combining different faiths. Ministers who officiate at the new marriages, most frequently on the East and West coasts in the cases of the least traditional among the "street people," see them as part of the "do your own thing" philosophy. One San Francisco minister expressed amazement that there is a movement toward marriage among hippies. They are starting a "new kind of meaningful commitment."

Far from acceptable in the Midwest, however, would be such changes as one in New York where, a newspaper reports, the wording was "as long as we both shall love" instead of the "till death do us part" absolute vow. These youths are not willing to make vows they're not sure they'll be able to keep.

"The new wedding is more a ceremony to confirm what a couple has found by living together rather than to make promises about what they hope will happen," the Reverend William Glenesk of the Spenser Memorial Church in Brooklyn, New York, is quoted as explaining.

The minister who married Tiny Tim and Miss Vicki on television last year feels that "everything is sacred. We're exploring new feelings, new vibrations. The kids want something with real meaning."

LOCAL CHANGES
While Northville, South Lyon and Novi brides are far from seeking such offbeat ceremonies, they are in several instances working with their clergyman to individualize the service.

The Reverend Timothy Johnson, assistant pastor of Northville First Presbyterian Church, notes that he has had couples concerned with the wording of their vows.

In a recent ceremony, he recalls, the bride used parts of the more traditional ceremony and also from the contemporary-language provisional Book of Worship issued by the Presbyterian Church in 1970.

She also included two readings from Khalil Gibran's "The Prophet."

PROPHET QUOTED
"The Prophet," of course, is not the discovery of today's young, but has been read by the young since its first publishing in 1927.

In the chapter on Marriage he writes: "You were born together, and together you shall be forevermore... But let there be spaces in your togetherness. And let the winds of the heaven dance between you. Love one another, but make not a bond of love: Let it rather be a moving sea between the shores of your souls."

In the chapter on Love he writes: "Love possesses not nor would it be possessed; for love is sufficient unto love. When you love you should not say, 'God is in my heart'; but rather, 'I am in the heart of God.' and think not you can direct the course of love; for love, if it finds you worthy, directs your course."

Mr. Johnson points out that while his church is pleased to have brides who wish to make their ceremonies more meaningful, the service must remain in balance with church tradition.

The Reverend Guenther C. Branstrom of Northville First United Methodist Church states that the Methodist service was changed two years ago when the Evangelical Church and Methodist united. The ceremony was lengthened to include the phrase, "If any man may show just cause..." (He mentions that most couples expect this phrase, as a result of its popularity in films and stories).

Brides, he adds, who wish to lengthen the ceremony are free to include Scripture readings. Often selected, he says, is Chapter Five, lines 22-23, of Paul's writings in Ephesians in the New Testament of the Bible.

A ritual that has gained popularity within his church (with one bride adapting it from another) is a lighting ceremony at the conclusion of the service.

Two smaller candles have been burning on the altar during the service. There is a larger, unit candle in the middle. At the conclusion, the couple lights the center candle from the side ones, snuffing them out, thus symbolizing that "two have become one."

Father John Wyskiel of Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church agrees that there are changes in the Nuptial Mass, too. (Twenty-five years ago Catholic brides were married before noon and did not schedule the ceremony during Lent, as is possible today.)

He terms the ceremony "an exchange of consent in which one take the other to love and honor all the days of my life."

The participation of parents, or even of the entire family, has been done in the area, Father Wyskiel points out.

In a recent Walled Lake ceremony the bride was accompanied to the altar by both her parents where she was joined by the bridegroom and his parents for the Mass.

Father Wyskiel says he also has had ceremonies in which the entire family of the participants, including brothers and sisters and parents and grandparents, gathers at the altar.

NO OBEY
Contrary to common belief, neither Father Wyskiel nor the protestant ministers contacted could find the word "obey" in ceremonies used today. The Women's Liberation Movement would be to emancipate today's bride — she hasn't been promising to obey at all.

Even the 1904 book of common prayer consulted by Mr. Branstrom, "obey" wasn't included in the service.

In traditional services, couples promise to love and honor and give duty and service.

Even in contemporary language, the wording usually is "I promise with God's help to be your loving and faithful wife (or husband)."

The 1970 Presbyterian Book of Worship has omitted the question of "who giveth this woman?" in the ceremony. It can be included, at the wish of the participant, with the father often responding, "Her mother and I do."

DECORATIONS
The inside of the church may be filled with bouquets of fragrant lilacs, as in a Methodist spring ceremony last year, or flowers may be used to provide a symbol, as that that made a large cross for the altar at a recently reported wedding.

The church was hung with banners (resembling those in medieval churches) decorated with peace symbols at a Lutheran campus church ceremony in which the couple wrote part of the service, reflecting their strong dedication to their beliefs.

The flowers carried by the bride and her attendants today often vary from the traditional spray and not always are white. The local bride who decorated the church with lilacs also carried them.

To complement the popular Victorian gown, brides have been choosing tight, round nosegay bouquets. Smaller flowers — baby's breath, rosebuds, tiny carnations are used. Not too frequently is a wedding reported in which the bridal bouquet is centered with an orchid. This used to be almost standard with the bride later removing it to wear as her going-away corsage.

Bridesmaids have been carrying quaint baskets or muffs to which nosegays are pinned. In a winter wedding written up in this newspaper the bride attendants each carried a single, long-stemmed rose tied with a narrow velvet streamer ribbon.

GOWNS CHANGE
A major trend for spring and summer wedding gowns, reported by the J. L. Hudson Company, is the "peasant" look of puffed sleeves, shepherdess scoop necklines and embroidery and even rickrack and smocking.

Instead of extending into a traditional chapel or cathedral in aid of the slipper satin gown her mother wore, the gown of today's bride in peasant mood ends just above little sandals.

The heavy satin gown with rows of buttons extending down from a sweetheart neckline isn't seen in the 1970's... unless a daughter follows a family tradition and sentimentally wears a family gown.

In addition to the new peasant-look and the Victorian high-neckline gowns many local brides have chosen the Juliet look with gowns with wide-belling sleeves and wide-banded, high waistlines.

Greatest change has come about in the attendants' gowns as pastels have given way to deep hues — winter green velvet and now spring navy. The department store, advocating the peasant look for a spring bride shows bright, splash printed gowns for the bridesmaids. These often have the laced waistband and white full-sleeved blouse.

While changes may be hard for some parents to accept, the weddings still are anticipated, festive occasions that the couple may feel are "totally ours."

It won't be quite as bad as one far-out eastern ceremony where, at the conclusion, the bride's mother is said to have sighed and murmured, "Well, at least she's married. I think."

Insulation can save you cold cash

Send for this Free Booklet

Saving cold cash on winter heating is more than just a figure of speech — you could be paying for more cold than is necessary. Insulation saves you heating dollars by slowing down the rate of heat that's escaping to the outside and providing resistance to the flow of cold air entering your home. In fact, insulation can reduce your heating bill substantially (in many cases as much as one-third). To get the complete story on how insulation can save you cold cash and at the same time increase your personal comfort, mail the attached coupon and we'll send you our FREE Gas Heating Insulation Facts Bulletin.

Big Year for Northville Seen

Seniors Beef up Tennis Squad

This is the year for the Northville tennis team that leads in the opinion of tennis coach Bob Simpson. It is an opinion that is shared by team co-captains Bill Pink and Curt Saurer.

may very well be linked with Saurer on the number one doubles team, while Penrod and Puckett will fill out the singles matches behind Pink.

Sophomore Mark Robinson heads the rest of the netters and will be pushing to break into the top seven. Carl Webber, a senior, and a large contingent of sophomores that includes John Jerome, Chris Johnson, Richard Bailey, and Tom Millington round out the squad.

LIMBER UP - With spring upon them, and the first baseball game just around the corner, Dexter - April 19, the Wildcats started limber up exercises last week. Ken Jones (foreground) and Bob Brown (background) toss the ball in preparation for diamond activities as coach Fred Gerhardt, officially opened practice Monday.

Baseball Looks Up Novi Coach Eyes Crown

Take a young Class "C" school such as Novi, toss it into the middle of the "B" school league such as the tough Southeastern Conference, stir it up with a coach who is entering his second year as a varsity mentor and you might expect a concoction that spells trouble.

But if you're Wildcat Coach Fred Gerhardt you look at the upcoming baseball season a little differently. "Sure we've got a lot of holes to fill in our line-up," the coach remarked Friday, "but we've got a lot of talent to fill them up with, too."

Not only is Gerhardt confident he can put together a polished nine, but he's looking for something even better. "I think we'll be in contention for the title right beside Lincoln which won it last season."

If Gerhardt's hunch stands up, he will have squeezed an extra effort out of a young team that last year managed to win only four games while losing 14. The coach is quick to point out that last year was the team's first in the field. This year the team has the experience gained from the 1970 losing season.

Lending credence to Gerhardt's contention, too, is the fact that the team is packed with either varsity or junior varsity veterans, most of whom have had plenty of exposure in Novi's tough little-league or Babe Ruth league competition.

"I've got a promising pitching staff in Bob Pisha, who got three of our four victories last year, John Pantalone, Steve Bosak and Joe LaFleche," said Gerhardt.

"Bosak led our hitting last year with better than a .300 average, and LaFleche and Pantalone both show good form," he added.

Pisha, Bosak and LaFleche are all juniors while Pantalone is a sophomore. "Our ace catcher is senior Tom VanWagner. He's a good athlete and he followed Bosak last season in hitting."

"This has got to be the year for us," Simpson continues. "We have a predominately senior team this year and if we don't go all the way now it will probably be a couple of years before our freshman and sophomore prospects have the experience to make another bid for the championship."

The Wayne-Oakland league tennis picture is crowded with contenders for the top spot. West Bloomfield, Bloomfield Hills, Clarkston, and Northville are all expected to emerge as the number one team.

Spearheading Northville's chances will be Pink and Saurer. Pink will hold down the number one singles position, while Saurer will probably perform in doubles competition.

Potentially Pink is one of the league's top singles players. "There's a guy from Clarencville named Salce, who beat me a couple of times last year," he says, "and Clarkston has a player who I tied with, but I'm confident about this season, both for myself and the team."

Whereas Pink's game centers around his strong service, Saurer offers his opponents quite a different problem. "I'm a left-handed player," he says, "and that throws a lot of guys off stride. They get used to hitting the ball to the other players' backhand, but to me that's a forehand shot and they end up playing to the best part of my game."

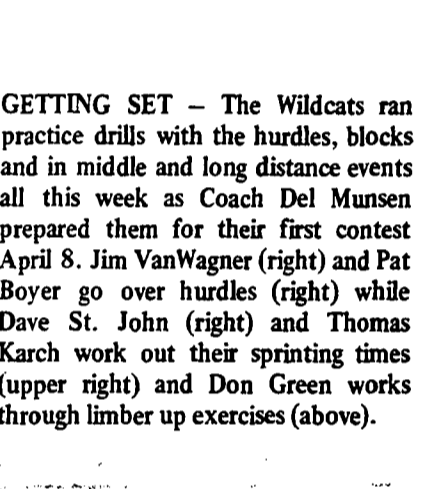

In league play a meet is comprised of three singles matches and two doubles matches. Thus a total of seven players are necessary to have a strong team from top to bottom, and Simpson feels that his team will indeed have good depth.

Returning from last year's team are Bob Norton and Bob Beukens. Both Norton and Beukens saw action in doubles competition last year and there is a good chance that the pair will be teamed up again during the current campaign to form the number two doubles squad.

Two seniors, Steve Penrod and Bill Puckett, and a junior, Gary Allen are expected to be the major contenders for the remaining three positions. Although Simpson emphasized that final pairings have not been set, Allen

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

JOAN HOFFMAN

The true value of a possession is never completely realized until someone else expresses an interest in it.

That's the story of the five vacant buildings at the Wayne County Child Development Center on Sheldon road.

They've been unused and slowly deteriorating for nearly two years now.

But Monday morning a majority of the members of the Health, Education and Welfare committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners decided the buildings were too valuable to permit their use by any other unit of government.

The sudden interest in the Child Development Center came about as the result of a request from the Michigan State Police to lease two of the vacant buildings for a state police post and crime laboratory.

The oratory by Commissioners Young, Zak, Silver and Mrs. Robinson was most impressive. With but a few notable exceptions it would be impossible to argue with their position, which proclaimed that:

- A Child Development Center is for children;
- It's better to train children at such a center than to send them to Jackson prison;
- the county should be certain it has no need for such facilities before renting to someone else;
- the county is spending money in the wrong places and should spend more for rehabilitation and education of children;
- the Child Development Center should be expanded, not phased out;
- the need for youth detention homes would diminish if child development centers were expanded.

So the committee decided to defer any decision on renting buildings to the state police until it can be determined what use the county can make of the facilities.

The committee promised state police officials an answer "within 60 days".

If such an examination and reappraisal is made within 60 days, the taxpayers of Wayne county ought to send a letter of commendation to the state police for the attention it has focused on the Child Development Center.

Meanwhile, some rebuttal should be offered to several other arguments set forth by some of the commissioners.

Commissioner Young, for example, declared that it would be serious traumatic experience for youngsters at the center to be exposed to policemen. He said most of them have had bad experiences with the police and mistrust them and that the presence of policemen near the school would be harmful.

I'm not a child psychologist, but one avenue to explore in correcting this condition would seem to me to be an exposure to police...an opportunity for the youngster and the officer to become better acquainted and perhaps learn that "cops aren't bad guys".

The state police, themselves, have promoted this approach through recreational programs and classroom demonstrations. Who could say that a youngster educated at the Child Development Center might not one day become a state trooper himself?

Secondly, Commissioner Young suggested that he would oppose an expansion of the state police and a reduction in sheriff patrol service.

Expansion of the state police is not a consideration here. It is simply a matter of relocation...moving a post from its over-crowded location to a site closer to the area it serves.

And as for the sheriff's department, the county has already declared it cannot provide the funds necessary to patrol out-county areas adequately. And if the HEW committee would prefer to spend more money for child development than for law enforcement and detention, where would it acquire the funds to expand the sheriff's patrol?

Finally, it is clearly evident to commissioners and public alike that a program to expand the Child Development Center facilities through hiring of more teaching professionals, rehabilitation of old and construction of new buildings will take time and money. At best, several years are involved.

Meanwhile, why not a short-term lease, perhaps three years, during which time the buildings could be repaired and made useful?

Even temporary quarters would solve a problem for the state police. And it would save county buildings from further deterioration. In addition, the citizens of this portion of western Wayne county would gain police protection that is becoming more necessary as the area population booms continues.

It is hoped that in making its re-examination of needs, which deserves commendation, the county does not disregard the needs of its taxpayers.

Under a cooperative arrangement with the Michigan State Police it would appear that everyone, including the county, its children and its citizens, would be well served.

Citizens with opinions on this issue could write to their county commissioner, John J. McCann, 902 City-County Building, Detroit 48226.

Speaking for Myself Separate Vacations?

RHEA SORVARI

YES...

Separate vacations? Absolutely YES! My husband's idea of a really super vacation is to pack up the smelly old tent, the smelly old dog and the six kids and head for the most isolated bug-infested, snake-crawlingest, thickest woods he can find. And if it contains bears, so much the better. When I ask, "But where's the bathroom?" he hands me a shovel.

There in no-man's-land, my neat, quiet unassuming husband proceeds to turn into a wild man. Dirty sneakers, sweat shirt, baggy pants, "lucky" fishing hat, beard and uncombed hair. A tiny piece of hair in his food at home and he pushes aside his plate. In the woods, ants and gnats pepper his beans and he consumes them with gusto. Every fish he pulls from the lake brings forth a savage cry of triumph. Sudden downpours find him with a big grin and something about "man braving the elements."

When I suggest maybe this year we could go somewhere a bit more inhabited with indoor plumbing, I get a look of horror. And miss comming with NATURE! Never! So come June, when he packs up that smelly old tent, I am heading for the nearest Holiday Inn.

Mrs. Jack Hoffman
Northville Resident

NO...

Who needs a husband on a vacation? I do! Take a vacation without my spouse? Not me! I don't have the cash nor the wardrobe to attract a gigolo (does that date me?). Who would take me to all the swish night clubs? Whose shoulder would I hide my head in during a bull fight? Who would pay the waiter for breakfast while I hide in the bathroom in my "vacation's only gown"? I need my husband here to see some of the really great things that we've both read about.

One of the main attributes to a vacation that my husband supplies is his great sense of direction. I'd never get beyond the circle of wrong turns. In fact, I did take a trip without him about five years ago and took along a daughter who inherited my lack of direction and we took five hours getting out of Quebec.

We vacation very well together - just leaving the scene of the thirty-four year battle is a vacation! In all truth, we don't need a vacation from each other. The vacation is just the word for the time we are spending ($$$$ spending, too) together doing something we both want to do and share with our family when we return.

Wixom Resident

Readers Speak 'Record's Got Egg On Its Face'

To the Editor: Our township officials have out zakked Zak! A 60% raise in salary is unbelievable gal. But, if this proposal is passed, then "open sesame" for everyone to get in on the act.

Why did you mislead the community into believing the annual meeting was antiquated? My suspicions were greatly aroused when the idea was originally submitted by the township clerk at one of our annual meetings. Who put the issue on the ballot? Not a petition of the electorate but a decision by township officials. This act alone should have put you on your guard.

Do you still believe my position was not a voice of reason and leadership in the community? The vote for 999 against 861 meant you could have influenced the election by more farsighted and visionary outlook. Instead, your almost hysterical crusade to bend the community to your thinking was not in our best interests.

You forced the candidates to take a position by first announcing your dog die stand and then during the candidates to disagree. Obviously, to disagree meant loss of the Record's backing. Worse still, it meant bad press with no chance for rebuttal because the next edition of the Record would be published after the election was over.

Methods there is egg on your face Mr. Editor. Please, next time, let there be an open forum for honest differences of opinion. Please, let there be an atmosphere when no personal invective is used to nail down your personal opinions. Please let the candidates run, not the Northville Record. Must you always have the last word?

Slaps Design Of Complex

To the Editor: I wish to direct this letter to the planning commission and to those interested in the betterment of this community.

Our city has great potential and it is only practical to develop new areas of business opportunities. I do question, however, the judgment of our city planning commission on its selection of the architectural design of the proposed shopping complex to be erected on the site bounded by Main, Wing and Cady streets. The design aesthetically has no relationship whatsoever to the existing buildings on Main street. Even now there is a little continuity between the schools, community center, city hall and other buildings, and to erect a large contemporary structure with a Spanish

Northville City Police received nearly twice as many calls in February, 1971, as they did in February of last year.

The information was released recently in the department's monthly activity report.

A total of 493 calls were received by police in February, 229 more than the 264 calls received during the same month last year.

Auto accidents more than doubled but injuries were nearly cut in half in February as compared with the same month the previous year. A total of 34 accidents were investigated, four of which resulted in injuries to six persons.

In February, 1970, 16 accidents were reported, five of which resulted in injuries to 11 persons. One was a fatality.

Six persons were arrested for disorderly conduct and 10 were arrested for drunkenness in February while one person was arrested on each charge during the same month the previous year.

previous year. In crimes against property, one complaint was investigated in February on each of the following charges: unauthorized driving away auto with intent to steal, unauthorized driving away auto without intent to steal, burglary, attempted burglary and break-in of an occupied dwelling.

In February, 1970, two burglary complaints were received and two reports of unauthorized driving away auto without intent to steal were investigated. All other categories remained the same.

In crimes against persons, one assault and one rape were reported last month. In February, 1970, three assaults, one resisting arrest and no rapes were reported.

Seven city fire calls were received, two township fires and six calls for assistance at fires. During the same month the previous year, four city fires and two assistance calls were answered.

Twenty-one animal complaints were investigated last month, up from 14 the same month in 1970.

Ten doors were found open, two less than in February, 1970.

Twelve suspicious persons and nine suspicious vehicle complaints were checked last year, bringing the total to date to 33 and 23 respectively. One suspicious person was investigated in February, 1970, bringing that year's total to six.

Police issued 62 moving and 98 parking violations last month while 122 moving and 185 parking violations were written in February, 1970.

'Bruin' for a Fight

canvas and stuck his big paw in my face I reached up to twist his nose or gouge his eyes. But my finger slipped through the muzzle and he chomped down on it. "Yeow!" I screamed, "he's biting me."

"Now, he's just playing," assured the bear's trainer. "Bite him back," shouted my manager, who, from my blurred position on the mat, appeared to be crying and laughing at the same time.

"Get up and fight like a man," chided Bromfield. "Just as soon as the bear starts fighting like one," I replied.

That's when I made the biggest mistake of the night. Circling behind Victor while his trainer fed him some sweets, I leaped for his back screaming like a banshee. But the stupid bear heard me coming, side-stepped, stuck out one of his paws, and I went somersaulting toward the fish pond.

That did it! "I won't fight a cheater," I shouted to fatso, picked up my clothes and stepped off toward my manager, who by now obviously was in pain judging from the size of the tears streaming down his face.

"Just like Muhammad Ali you wouldn't listen. Get yourself a new manager. I quit," he cried. "I'm going to manage the bear from now on. He's got more class."

Later, I tried to explain it this way for my sons: "It is better to lose than to cheat and win."

"What does that mean?" one son asked the other. "It means they wouldn't let him blindfold the bear like he does the dog."

She Praises Youth Hostel

To the Editor:

I would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Doug Knapp and the 19 kids for the most tremendous time at "Seamus M." this last weekend. We stayed at the greatest Hostel - place run by Miss Lou Heamer of Novi. The warmth and hospitality made us all feel right at home. There were two other groups of kids from "North Farmington" and "Southfield" and we were all one happy group. What a great way to meet new people, and make new friends.

Miss Heamer's place is a nice size lodge - boys dorm downstairs, girls dorm upstairs (40 kids at one time). It has a large kitchen where we all ate at one time and each and everyone cleaned their own dishes and helped clear after every meal. The living room is large with a beautiful fireplace where we all sat around, played cards and just talked.

The majority of the kids went out Saturday night after supper and had snow ball fights in three feet of snow (and I am not kidding).

I would like to suggest to all you kids, who don't know about this "Youth Hostel" to check into it. We had the greatest time at the least cost. Why not talk to some of these kids who went on this ski trip and find out about our great time.

influence will only add to the confusion.

The complex should be more classical and traditional in design and more in keeping with the city hall, post office, and the renovation of the Record building.

I propose that our planning commission engage professional advice to research and develop a business community patterned after other small communities who have achieved economic success and still preserve the appearance and charm of a "small town".

Sincerely,
Dorothy Wroten

by NANCY DINGELDEY

Would you believe Meteorologists call the month of March the "transitional month"? All they are saying, in effect, is that the month cannot decide whether to be winter or spring. Similar, I guess, to a growing child - one day acting like a young adult and the next like a baby. This is how the whole thing is explained away - why one day we are blessed with sun, warmth and southerly breezes, followed by sleet, snow and freezing temperatures.

I always said if there was a month in the year that could be forgotten - March would take first place. Doctors also find that people suffer from various ailments that are unexplainable during this month. They attribute these to "cabin fever" which, after paying for an office call, doesn't help one too much. Grin and bare it, April is just around the corner.

Last week I had asked if anyone had seen any robins - a sure sign of spring! Well, I had a call from Martha Tuorin who said she had a whole flock of robins in her backyard that had been there for a week. She had also seen a red-winged blackbird. No sooner had she mentioned the robins when I happened to glance out the window and saw two of my own. Another look around produced tulips popping through the ground. I "take heart" from all of this!

Thought you might be interested in the outcome of a "survey" I decided to take. Just another way to pass a somewhat dismal day. My question to the ladies of the community was "what is the most detestable job you have around the house?" The answers covered a variety of tasks - some said there were so many that took first place it was hard to decide just which one was the very, very, very worst!

Ironing took the dubious first place honors, with deplorable open cleaning a close second. Floors took third - that category covered a range from scrubbing, to waxing, to removing wax. A few people really read labels and follow them explicitly, because laundry got some votes. Those people said so many garments have special procedures to follow that it was time consuming. Only one person said cleaning and defrosting refrigerators had to be the worst. Bathrooms, especially scoured out the ring in the bathtub, proved to be a real pet peeve with some ladies.

As I was making a survey in some of the business places of Wixom, I'd dawned on that me, too, must have some chores they really hate doing. And some of their answers to the same question were funny. Of course, at the time I was asking the question, I didn't know the men were bachelors. Their answers were vigorous - "I HATE washing dishes", "making beds - yuk", "dusting!!!"

But first place with the men had to be painting, closely second was wall washing. "Getting UP" also was an answer I heard several times along with "I don't like to do anything!". General repair work - especially toilets was the pet peeve of some of the men. There seems to be something about bathrooms! And one last thing - "putting out the garbage with good clothes on".

So that's the outcome - maybe the next survey I run should be "what do you like doing best?" I wonder if it would be as easily answered.

The all-girl hockey team, the "Detroit Cougars" coached by Tom Burke is tied for first place in their league, which includes five Canadian teams and three American teams. The "Cougars" home ice is in Windsor where they practice and play every Saturday night. Right now the team is participating in several tournaments and the wind-up of the season will be the play-offs held April 2 and 3 in Tecumseh, Ontario. Tom says the girls have a pretty good chance to take the title and we wish them all lots of luck.

What happens
when you're offered $18,000
for your $24,200
pile of ashes?

You take it if you haven't increased your home insurance to keep pace with inflation. This is the kind of problem you could face if you bought and insured your home for $18,000 in 1963. See me to find out if your home is insured for its full value. I'll tell you about a low-cost State Farm Homeowners Policy that will insure your home for all it's worth... and keep it that way with automatic inflation coverage.

Why more people finance their homes at NBD than at any other bank.

This year, as in the past, more Detroit area people will come to see NBD about a home mortgage than will go to any other bank. We think their reasons will tell you a lot about our ways of putting families into the homes they want.

It isn't just the fact that we have more than 100 offices, although it's certainly convenient to do business right in your own neighborhood. And it isn't because we have more money to lend, although the fact that we're Michigan's largest bank let us keep right on making mortgages while certain other lenders were backing away from the business.

The real reason is that the NBD mortgage lending officer you talk with will put himself in your position. He has as much regard as you have for saving money through a single, low "flat fee" for closing as opposed to a percentage of the amount of the mortgage. He knows you won't want to incur a stiff penalty if you should someday need to prepay. He can help you weigh the pros and cons of low monthly payments versus the rate at which you build your equity.

At your nearby NBD office, you'll find a mortgage expert who'll be happy to sit down with you and talk over your needs. And you can pick up a copy of our new booklet, "Buying and Financing Your Home" - 20 pages of facts and figures that every home buyer can use to advantage. Pay us a visit; we're here to help. The bank to see is NBD. National Bank of Detroit.

the Year-round school

Everything we've found out so far says it CAN... save money, improve educational opportunity for all children, and provide better use of existing facilities. Whether a year-round school plan WILL work depends on continued community cooperation in finding answers to knotty problems. This is a report of our study thus far, and an explanation of future plans.

For Northville, it all began in 1967 when our Board of Education resolved that "the Northville Board of Education, in cooperation with the Administration, teaching staff and citizens of the community undertake a thorough study of the feasibility of adopting the Year-Round School Program."

It was apparent to the Board that Northville was on the verge of rapid expansion, and that plans must be made to meet the school district's present and future needs.

Since that date Northville's school population has increased by 714 pupils. Additions to our five existing buildings will provide for the educational needs of these students and delay an enrollment crisis for another two years.

However, research indicates startling growth for Northville. Current housing construction and approved housing projects include 1,418 single family dwellings and 2,704 multiple family housing units. Completion of these projects is expected to be accomplished by June, 1976, five short years away.

This new housing means new residents... and more children. Conservative estimates place Northville's school population for 1976-77 near 7,000 students, more than double the present 3,235 enrollment.

In 1969, our extended school year study gained the support of the State of Michigan. State funds were granted to eight Michigan school districts to conduct year-round school feasibility studies. Michigan, like Northville, was seeking an answer to "Where are we going and what should we be doing?"

Thus began Phase II, Northville's feasibility study of the Four-Quarter Plan, a plan selected by a Citizens Study Committee as being the one best suited for this community. The committee had determined that any extended school year plan studied must offer improvement in educational opportunity for children as well as save money.

A requirement of the State grant was to "make the community aware of its problems and the potential of the extended school year to solve them."

Phase II did just that! Residents of Northville were provided the opportunity to become fully informed about year-round school. The first issue of "Opening School Doors," in October, 1969, reported the findings, pro and con, of the Study Committee.

A specially prepared filmstrip, more than 20 public meetings, question and answer sessions, pamphlets and news articles - all focused community attention on the potential and problems of extended school year operation.

Parent, teacher, student and business support of any proposed change in the educational process is essential if that change is to be successful. Phase II next concentrated its efforts on discovering the opinions and attitudes of these groups to the year-round school concept.

What do Northville parents think about year-round school with its educational and economic promise... coupled with some inconvenience, especially when planning a vacation?

What about students? Will their thoughts on an improved education override their concern about a staggered vacation schedule?

In the opinion of Northville teachers, would educational advancement outweigh possible initial problems of the Four-Quarter Plan?

And, since business and industry provide the take-home-pay, their feelings about the extended school year and juggled vacation schedules were sought and considered.

Attitudes and opinions discovered during Phase II indicate, "Yes, year-round school is feasible in Northville...it."

Reading on, you'll find these answers, feelings and "ifs." You'll also find information on what's coming next, Phase III, which asks the community, "Is it acceptable?"

Will it work here?

Testing... 1... 2... 3... 4...

Four-quarter plan to test preferences

The Northville Year-Round School Study now enters Phase III which will be an attempt to test whether the school district could successfully incorporate parent-pupil preferences for vacation and attendance periods into a workable year-round school calendar.

Phase III is a scheduling "test" to ascertain whether a 75 percent pupil enrollment distribution can be maintained in each of four quarters and still meet with community acceptance.

Research evidence points to an extended school year as a promising solution to Northville's impending education problems, spiraling costs, rising student enrollment, and the need for more educational opportunity for all children.

But just being feasible isn't enough on which to base such an important community decision. Several problems still need adequate answers before year-round school can be considered more than a possibility. Can year-round school be implemented to the satisfaction of a majority of Northville parents? And, despite educational improvements at reduced overall cost offered by an extended school year, will warm weather vacation preference be the deciding factor?

To answer these and other questions, Phase III of Northville's Year-Round School Study now takes up where the feasibility study left off.

Using additional funds provided by the State Department of Education, Northville School District is to test whether a community of this size and nature can theoretically schedule under a four-quarter plan.

At the outset, it is known that parents want children in the same family on vacation at the same time. And if possible, children in the same neighborhood should also be on vacation during the same quarter.

The trial scheduling will seek family preference, and then measure parental acceptance of assigned attendance-vacation periods covering a four year span.

Procedures for accomplishing Phase III are:

STEP 1 - Establish a formula to determine which vacation quarter will be assigned to which family or group of families.

STEP 2 - Schedule community workshops to clarify misconceptions and misinformation about the extended school year.

STEP 3 - Families with children who are or will be in school in 1976, will receive a four-year attendance-vacation preference form. A team of trained persons will assist the school district in the distribution and collection of these individual family preference forms.

STEP 4 - Completed forms from each Northville school family will be evaluated and categorized by computers.

STEP 5 - Since it is unlikely that initial computerized results will show exactly three-fourths of the student population enrolled for each quarter, adjustments to some family schedules will be made.

STEP 6 - Each family will then be notified of the schedule selected for their children, and asked to reply to the school district as to its "acceptability or non-acceptability."

STEP 7 - Those parents who find the proposed schedule unacceptable will be interviewed to discover reasons why. School officials will attempt to make adjustments satisfactory to the families involved, but within the framework of set standards for the district.

STEP 8 - When district-wide trial scheduling results are known, Northville citizens will be completely informed.

This special supplement initiates Phase III of Northville's Year-Round School Study. It is intended to review for you what the study has accomplished in the past, to bring you up-to-date on important opinion survey results, and to outline to the community the upcoming steps of Northville's test run of scheduling an extended school year.

Soon, residents will have the opportunity to see and hear a detailed filmstrip report of our continuing exploration of the problem-solving potential of the extended school year.

Full information of the progress of Phase III will be continually provided the community. When they become available, results of the theoretical student scheduling will be published.

Phase III is a four-year student scheduling "dry run" designed to provide many answers, including, "Is it acceptable?"

Future board action seeks citizen opinion on four-quarter plan

Crowded classrooms, accumulation of new information, need for an expanded curriculum, more leisure time for family recreation, spiraling costs of education, and the growing reluctance of taxpayers to vote more money for schools are some of the reasons for Northville's study of year-round schools.

Phase II of our study indicated that enough community flexibility exists to continue consideration of the extended school year as a possible solution to coming educational and financial needs of Northville.

Now Phase III will further explore the potential of an extended school year. We know that parent, student and neighborhood vacation desires must be reasonably satisfied, that professional staff support is essential, and that state and/or federal financial assistance is necessary for conversion.

Two year-round plans show great promise

Of the extended school year plans studied and/or implemented in the nation, the Four-Quarter and "45-15" plans appear to show the greatest potential for improved education, economic efficiency and community acceptance.

Northville's study has thus far focused on the Four-Quarter Plan, presently operating in Atlanta, Georgia. Students are divided into four groups and assigned by family units to attend three of four school quarters. In any given sixty day quarter, three-fourths of the students are in school, the remaining fourth on vacation. The plan has common vacation periods for all children at Christmas, Easter and ten days in August.

The 45-15 Plan, now implemented in Valley View, Illinois and St. Charles, Missouri, also divides pupils into four groups. Each group attends school for 45 class days, then has a 15 day vacation. Attendance schedules are staggered 15 days apart so that only three of the four groups are in school at one time. All families have a vacation of 15 days in each of the four seasons, but on a staggered basis.

Parents will be asked to list family attendance and vacation preferences for a four year period.

Wixom Assessments Rejected

Wixom Board of Review refused Saturday to certify the assessment role prepared by City Assessor - Mayor's assistant Robert Case.

In a resolution presented to Mayor Gilbert Willis Monday, Board Chairman Lloyd Croft called for the city to assume 1970 assessment figures and take whatever factor would be assigned by the Oakland County Equalization Board.

Asked for an estimate of what that factor might be, Case said Tuesday it had been quoted to him by Herman Stevens and William Hoover of the board as "possibly falling somewhere between 1.4 and 1.5."

Wixom had a factor of 1.21 in 1970. A special meeting was slated last night during which Willis hoped to present the resolution to the council and have it consider Case's resignation which was tendered in February.

"There's nothing we can do," said Willis, "it's up to the county and the state. The council has nothing to do with it."

"I'm very greatly disappointed at his performance," said Councilman Robert Dingleday Tuesday concerning Case's tenure as assessor.

"The Board of Review didn't certify the role and as a councilman I have to stand behind them 100-percent. There were many inequities in the role. It was a job poorly done."

Willis said Tuesday he thought "the board was acting in good faith."

"They haven't complained about any specific area but the entire document in general. It's a case of work not being done that should have been done," the mayor said.

Willis said that the assessment role should have been completed by the first Monday in March so the board members could have 10 days to review any inequities before their first scheduled meeting on March 9.

"It wasn't ready, however, and they had no chance to discharge their responsibilities. There were over 100 people in city hall," Willis said, "complaining about gross inequities and the board just said that they weren't going to do the assessor's work for him."

Case himself admitted that his role

is "not perfect."

"I feel there is room for correction," Case said, "but the Board of Review should make those decisions. I am willing to make changes where assessments are out of line."

"It's the board's responsibility," said Case, "to make corrections as it sees fit, to listen to arguments, and correct inequities."

"However," Case added, "if they change any significant portion, they should realize that they'll have to adjust the rest of it as well."

According to City Attorney Gene Schneitz, were the city to go back to 1970 figures, notices would have to be sent out so that citizens would have ample opportunity to protest, and new hearings would have to be held.

City Manager Resigns Under Council Fire

Novi City Manager Dallas Zonkers, under council fire for several months, resigned Monday night effective April 16.

The third manager in Novi's history, Zonkers, who doubled in the role as city assessor, is slated to leave for Washington, D. C. tomorrow on a two-week vacation. He was appointed city manager on November 1, 1969, and appointed city assessor in September of last year.

"It's just too much... I've explained that in the past," Zonkers said in explaining his resignation. "I was hired on as a manager and although I'll do the assessing job, they are both full-time positions and just too much for one man to handle."

Zonkers, who replaced Harold Ackley, said he was aware of no "bad feeling" of the council toward himself, and he took the position that there had been no internal pressure leading up to his resignation.

However, Councilman Denis Berry told this newspaper that intention of asking for Zonker's resignation had been pending with council for six months. "Two months ago," said Berry, "we decided that if his attitudes didn't change he would be dismissed."

Berry charged Zonkers with not being able to make decisions and not knowing the proper way to do things. Instead, the councilman said, he was always "calling (Councilman) Don Young to find money for him in the budget or (Councilman) Edwin Presnell to assist him on assessing questions."

Zonkers replied that Berry was entitled to his opinion and that he was surprised that he (Berry) didn't "tear into me Monday night."

No immediate replacement for Zonkers is contemplated, according to Mayor Joseph Crupi, who indicated that for the present he would take over administrative duties while advertising for a replacement takes place.

Following his verbal resignation, councilman expressed concern that the assessment role might not be completed, certified, and presented to county officials by the April 5 deadline without the assessor's presence.

City Treasurer Gerry Stipp told councilmen that all that remained to be done on the role was "to figure in the changes made by the Board of Review and total it."

She added that county personnel would be on hand to assist in the preparation of the document, and she noted that it was doubtful that the city would be held to the deadline "especially since the county is helping us."

Zonkers added that he knew "pretty much" what is on the role and, if necessary, could sign the incomplete document before he left.

Councilmen pointed out that by charter the resignation of the city official must be submitted to the city clerk in writing. Zonkers said he would comply.

Zonker's predecessor, Ackley, took over the post—after a lengthy interim when no manager served—from Novi's first manager, Fred Olson, who held the post before the community was incorporated as a city.

In other business Monday councilmen — Heard Presnell explain that he had checked through city and county records and could find no notice of the city ever vacating its right-of-way on Chapman Street in a area of Novi Road and Lake Shore Drive.

The street, supposedly dedicated by the city, runs directly through the property on which Detroit developer, Gabriel Glantz recently obtained a permit to operate a dance hall.

Presnell said that no further site plan should be issued until "the owners of that property can prove they are the owners of that property."

— Accepted the work done by the Novi Recreation Department in its preparation of an application for state recreation funds.

The program, which Chairman Peter Alcala is directing, involves two projects: one utilizing the Novi City Park as a public area, and the other to build recreational facilities on local school grounds. Potentially, $30,000 are available.

Resolved to write a letter to the school board, regarding a recent request that school taxes be collected by the city in July and December. The letter is to say that the measure would cost the city money and that the school board would have to be charged accordingly.

Comment among councilmen Monday night ran generally against the proposal.

"I know," said Councilman Louie Campbell, "that there are homeowners in the community who could not afford to pay it. If the citizens want us to do it, we'll do it, but let's stay on our side of the fence. If we collect the school's taxes for them, when the tax bills jump, citizens are going to come to us and raise hell, not the school board."

The proposal called for the paying of school taxes twice a year instead of once.

City treasurer Gerry Stipp said the collection rate would double city's bill-work.

Surveys reveal "qualified acceptance" Parents, students, teachers said

Parents, teachers and students last year were asked their opinions on the year-end survey by the Novi School Board. The survey, "Year-round School: A Feasible but With Areas of Concern," was conducted by the Novi School Board and the Novi School District.

The survey, which was conducted by the Novi School Board and the Novi School District, was designed to gather feedback from the community on the feasibility of a year-round school program.

The survey results, which were presented to the Novi School Board last week, showed a "qualified acceptance" of the year-round school concept.

The survey also revealed that parents, teachers and students were most concerned about the impact of a year-round school on the community and the school system.

The survey also revealed that parents, teachers and students were most supportive of a year-round school program that would allow for a more continuous learning environment.

Extended school year

MERITS

- opportunity to provide more relevant learning experiences to meet the needs of individual students.
- students who are high achievers at the time of the year-end school year would be on a higher level of learning.
- a high school student who is a high achiever would be on a higher level of learning.

PROBLEMS

- changing community vacation and living patterns.
- overcoming the many and varied misconceptions as well as the resistance to the extended school year concept.
- planning the scheduling of extra-curricular activities and year-end recreation programs within the community.
- whether an extended school year only in Noviville could have a beneficial effect on the community.
- determining a school calendar which offers educational opportunity, economic efficiency, and acceptability to the community.
- ability to guarantee every aspect of an extended school year prior to actual implementation.
- establishment of acceptable neighborhood attendance areas.
- determining the desirability or necessity of air conditioning in all school buildings.
- reduction of future building requirements will save on staff, maintenance and interest costs.
- better use of teaching supplies and equipment.

Research reveals concept means improvement, savings

Year-round school in Noviville, or in any other district, would require major changes not only in school buildings, but also in the way of thinking. The research reveals that the concept is not only feasible, but also offers significant improvements and savings.
