

Meet Mike Austin, Golf Pro

The pupil decided he was being hustled... all three of the other players in the foursome were winners. He wanted to get even with one big game and then quit.

Mike agreed to help. Although the pupil looked like he couldn't afford the instructions, Mike says that he was never paid more money than he received for those three lessons.

Several weeks later Mike received a call from his pupil. "Meet me at the airport", he asked. Mike did and was driven by his pupil, now well-dressed and in a chauffeured limousine, to the most exclusive men's apparel shop in Hollywood.

"Pick out any outfit you'd like", instructed his ex-pupil.

Then he told Mike that he appreciated his help, that he had "taken" the hustlers for all he had lost and more, and that he was quitting golf.

And he introduced himself to Mike as Howard Hughes.

Back in the forties and fifties Mike played a number of tournaments on the professional tour. But he says that prize-money in those days was not as enticing as the money that could be won gambling.

"I never hustled...that implies cheating", explains Mike. "My bets were always based on skill...either playing head-to-head four-way Nassau or making trick shots".

But Mike did well in several tournaments, too.

He won the driving contest at the 1946 George S. May World Championship tourney held at Tam O' Shanter in Chicago. And Mike will tell you that he can drive a golf ball today as far as any man, pro or amateur.

In one of the first Bing Crosby tournaments he scored a fabulous 29-37-66 playing in snow and rain over the Monterey Peninsula course. He lost the Montebello Open in 1954 in a play-off with Jerry Barber and Gene Littler.

And in the finals of the California PGA tourney in 1960 he shot what must be the best 18-holes ever recorded from tee to green.

It was a match play affair on an official score was not recorded for the round because Mike won several of the holes when long putts were conceded.

But Mike hit all three of the par-five holes in two, was on four of the par-four holes in regulation figures.

He was seven-under par from tee to green! Unfortunately, it was a 36-hole final and although he was five-up at the end of the first 18-holes, Mike lost to Bud Holsher on the last 18.

In that same tournament Mike eliminated Paul Runyan, Lloyd Mangrum and Mac Hunter on his way to the finals.

Mike has known and played with most of the greats of golf. He'll tell you that Dutch Harrison is the nicest fellow you'll meet on a golf course "because of his feeling for fellow pros".

He picks Bobby Jones and Jack Nicklaus as the greatest golfers of all time. "Jones would beat anybody playing with today's equipment and on modern golf courses", Mike states.

Next in his list of all-time greats he picks Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson, Gary Player and Sam Snead. "Player's the best for size", he adds.

Mike calls Arnold Palmer the "guttiest player" he's ever seen because "despite an obvious flaw in his game, he's a big winner".

Mike explains that the over-flexed position of Palmer's left wrist at impact often causes a smothered shot, or a hook.

His single best tip for game improvement is to observe and emulate good golfers. He cites Bobby Nichols, Nicklaus, Bruce Crampton, Tony Jacklin and Gene Littler as the classic swingers.

He says that, like Palmer, Doug Sanders and Billy Casper are good golfers despite bad swings. "There's a lot better and easier way to hit the ball than the way Casper does it," Mike points out. "But he has exceptional control of his hands. It takes a hell of a lot of talent to hit a ball the way Casper does".

Mike Austin has his own ideas about teaching golf. First of all, Mike calls himself a "kinesologist", a student of muscular action. He demonstrates the action of the body joints involved in the golf swing by using a "skeleton" suit, black leotards with an outline of the bones and joints drawn in white on the leotards.

And he is the inventor and manufacturer of "The Flammer", a gadget used to develop and correct golf swing.

"You must know the body and use the joints as they are designed to be used to teach the golf swing properly", Mike declares.

When he instructs a pupil, he teaches proper balance and use of the 12 levers — the two wrists, two elbows, two shoulders, two hips, two knees and two ankles.

It applies to all sports, Mike declares. And to prove it, he has taught baseball, tennis and boxing as well as golf at his Mike Austin School in Hollywood.

He has lectured the world over; has made four films for the Japanese government (using his skeleton suit) and still conducts exhibitions.

Before 1971, Mike took me outside his small pro shop at Chemung and hit a few drives, a one-handed three iron and a left-handed three-iron seven-iron shots off a dirt-road surface, alternately hitting high punch shots and wedge-high shots that feathered down where he said they would.

Right now I'm lining up a match with a couple golfing buddies who have hustled me a few times.

I'm going to introduce them to my new partner, who will be wearing a leotard skeleton suit and tennis shoes.

The only club he'll have in his bag will be a Coke bottle. I figure it's my turn to get even.

Mike and his "Flammer", which he demonstrated at the famous St. Andrews Royal and Ancient Golf Club when he participated in the Open Golf Championship.

Out of the Horse's Mouth

AREA POSTMASTERS lunched together last Thursday at the Canopy in Brighton. Perhaps they were comparing notes on the new U.S. Postal Service which takes effect Thursday. Above (l. to r.): are: John Steimel, Northville; Elwood Grubb, Wixom; Mabel Hann, South Lyon; Elmer Bakto, Novi; and Al Bosworth, Brighton.

Send your questions, comments, and horse show news to "Horse's Mouth," care of South Lyon Herald, South Lyon, MI 48178. This column is open to news of all breeds of horses and ponies, including the horse and pony, and the horse and pony industry.

If the rider is smart, he will have walked the horse long enough after being worked—so that he does not have to cool the horse once he has dismounted. There are instances, however, when the horse may be too nervous to cool off with a rider on his back.

In any case, the horse must be cooled off before he is groomed and returned to his stall. There are several reasons for this: first, all of a horse could get quite a chill; or it could become foundered, a condition where the blood more or less settles in the feet, causing an expansion of sensitive tissues.

Because the walls of the hooves are hard, they will not cool off with a rider on his back in great pain from the resultant pressures. This condition could cause a chronic, if not permanent, disability.

The horse should be at least breathing normally when he is brought to the barn to be cooled off. If he is sweaty, the rider will untuck him quickly and rub him thoroughly with a towel. A cooler or similar absorbent blanket is put on the horse. The horse is then walked, with intermittent sips of water, until he is cool between his front legs. The cooler is removed and the horse is thoroughly groomed.

If the weather is warm, the horse may be sponged with warm water to which a little vinegar or veterinary absorbent has been added. The excess water is removed with a sweat scraper, a cooler is put on the horse, and the horse is walked until dry. If the weather is quite warm, the cooler may be removed after a few minutes and the horse may be walked until the excess moisture has evaporated. The horse may then graze as long as he is not in a chilling breeze.

If the weather is warm because of humidity rather than internal heat, the horse may be sponged off or even hosed with cold water and allowed to sprout until dry. In any case, the rider must use his own judgment. His concern is not allowing the horse to become chilled, not allowing him to drink too much cold water at once, and not feeding him grain when he is over-heated.

Ideally, said Youngberg, elementary school should range from kindergarten through sixth grade and the high school should handle 10 through 12. "This centers our emotional level more than the present K-6, 6-8 and 9-12 breakup."

Youngberg said that generally sixth graders have not sufficiently developed out of the elementary stage of the educational approach, and ninth graders have not quite reached the high school stage.

"It is hoped," Youngberg said, "that new projects, and innovative teaching methods might be attempted which would spark greater productivity in the student and lay a more solid base for high school."

Youngberg summarized the basic purposes of the Middle School:

To serve the educational needs of "in-between-agers." To provide optimum individuality in curriculum and instruction; To plan, implement, evaluate and modify, in a ABLAZE—Two recent fires raced through three barns belonging to H. J. Hunt, 42500 11 Mile, above, Thursday and the Walled Lake Park bathhouse Sunday. Both properties were destroyed despite fireman's efforts to save them. Fire trucks from Walled Lake, Farmington and Novi fought for four hours Thursday in a vain attempt to control the blaze which fed on papers within the Hunt barns.

Middle School: New Approach

Novi's Middle School, now under construction and slated to open in the fall, will provide a transient stage of development and attempt to better serve the educational needs of children in the seventh through ninth grade age bracket, according to principal Robert Youngberg.

—exploratory experiences and other activities in a balanced program directed toward personal development; —major emphasis on interests and skills for continued learning; —exploratory experiences and other activities in a balanced program directed toward personal development; —appropriate attention to development of values.

According to Youngberg, team teaching is prevalent in the middle school program. "Each middle school student, he said, "is a member of an instructional group taught by a team of specialists representing language arts, social studies, math and science. Variations in teaching skills and roles, the use of special centers staffed by other specialists, and the coordination of professional and non-professional staff are an integral part of the team teaching concept."

"The middle school concept depends on freedom for innovation found in a new organization unshackled from the dominant traditional patterns of elementary school self-containment and secondary school departmentalization," Youngberg said.

"It is an opportunity to do the best of what is known into operation at a newly defined level that promises to strengthen the earlier and later years that children spend in school."

Henderson New Prexy

Gilbert Henderson was elected president of the Novi Board of Education by fellow trustees in a special meeting Friday night.

Henderson was elected 4-3 over fellow member LaVerne DeWard.

His term of office will not begin until that of current Board President Bruce Simmons expires Monday.

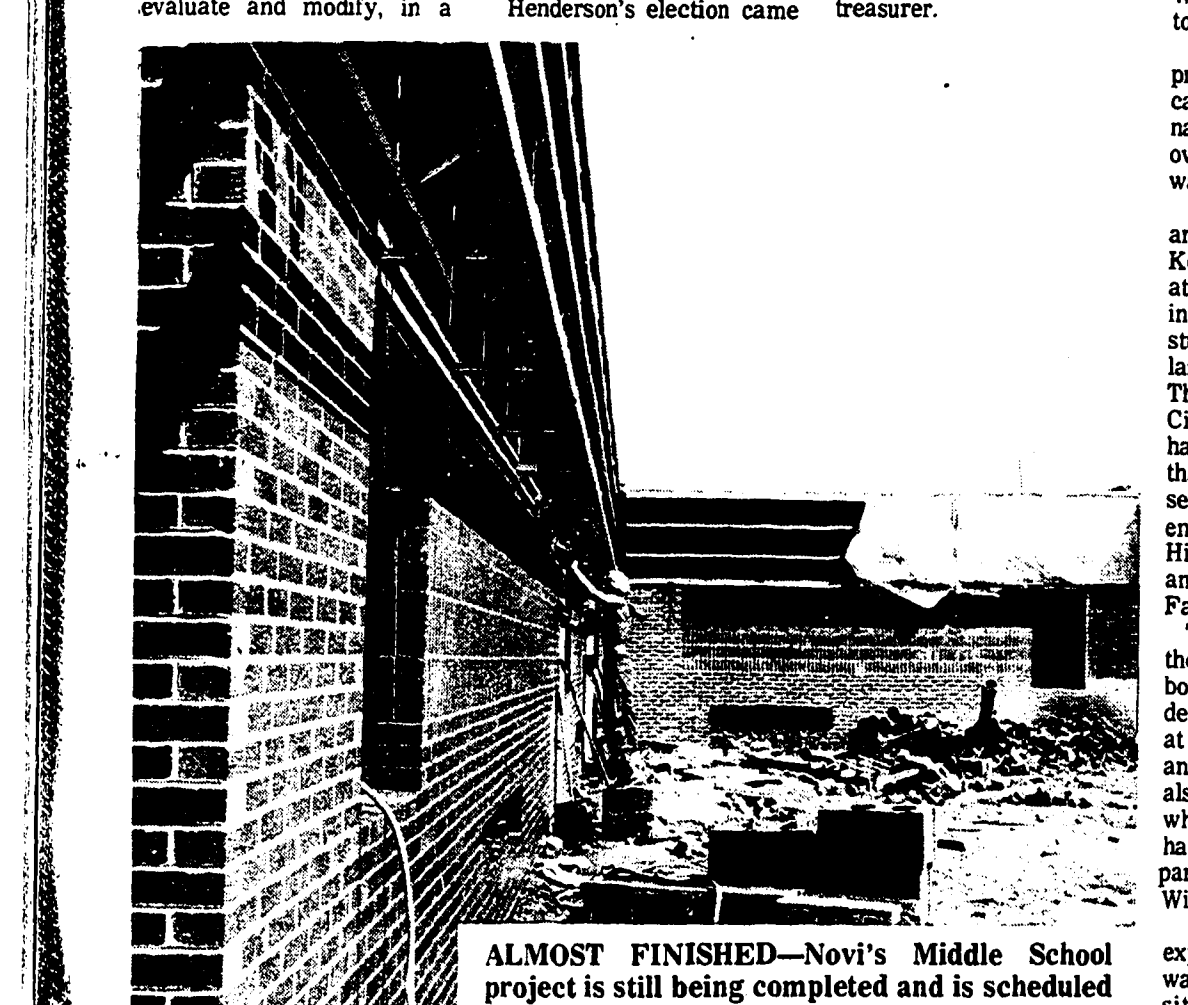

Henderson, a principle in the Farmington school system, was elected to a four year term in board elections held last month.

He was elected to a three year term in 1968 when Novi switched to K-12 school district.

Henderson's election came after Simmons officially announced he would not seek re-election. He mentioned calls he had received, which he labeled as "crank," that had accused him of "deserting" his children.

Simmons relied on his record of community service, particularly that as a little league coach, and said the criticism should "knock one professionally and not personally."

He was elected to the office of vice-president by a 4-3 vote. Others elected were Robert Wilkins, 4-3 as secretary and Sharon Pelchat, unanimously, to the post of treasurer.

ALMOST FINISHED—Novi's Middle School project is still being completed and is scheduled for a fall opening.

THE NOVI NEWS

Vol. 17, No. 8, Two Sections, 26 Pages Novi, Michigan—Thursday July 8, 1971 15c Per Copy, $6 Per Year In Advance

Police Pact Ok'd; Chief's Pay Hiked

Novi Councilmen unanimously ratified a two-year police contract Tuesday night and set salaries for four officers not included in it.

The contract, announced last week by negotiating teams from the city and the Novi Police Officers Association (NPOA) excluded four non-contracted positions: a uniformed and a detective sergeant, a detective lieutenant and the chief of police.

These four fill supervisory capacity, according to City Manager George Athas, and thus were excluded from the contract dealing with various grades of patrolmen.

The uniformed sergeant will receive $12,900, the detective sergeant $15,400, the detective lieutenant $13,800 and the chief $14,200.

Last year the detective sergeant received $10,900; the detective lieutenant, $13,300; and the chief of police, $13,000. Uniform sergeant is a newly-created position.

Council adopted the salary recommendations from Athas in a split vote over an accompanying recommendation to pay time-and-one-half overtime to the four.

Athas said that each of the four claimed approximately one-third of the overtime he put in and that the city would pay the time-and-one-half, the amount would reach some $4,000 annually.

Councilman Louis Campbell and William O'Brien were against the overtime because of the supervisory role of the officers involved.

"I would just as soon," said Campbell, "see you raise the salaries of the four men involved an extra $1,000 than hand out overtime pay to supervisory personnel."

In support of the police contract, Councilman Edwin Presnell mentioned that, in his opinion, "the contract eliminated the possibility of hiring the two new patrolmen requested by Chief Lee BeGole in his recent budget.

Earlier in the meeting, councilmen agreed to turn over $441 in escrow funds to residents along Buckingham Court so four sidewalks on the court could be paved.

Mayor Joseph Crupi, told Robert D. Fischer, representative of Buckingham Court citizens, that they were to contract for the job, get it done and the city would pay for it, up to $441.

In other business, councilmen decided to have specifications drawn up on a permanent fire building in the Walled Lake area.

—Were petitioned by Robert Runk of the Pepper Tree Restaurant on Novi Road for the city's one class "C" liquor license.

Runk said he'd been in the community for 15 years and stood near the front of the line for the application.

Mayor Crupi said that the council had previously decided to save the license for the possibility of a "large development coming in this area."

—Set payment for those not under contract to the Walled Lake sewer at $600 per tap. Additional debt service fees, according to Athas will be $64 or $86 depending on whether or not a user puts in his own lateral or hooks into those already available.

—Passed a set of covenants for Kaufman and Broad's Village Oaks subdivision according to changes made in the contract by City Attorney Howard Bond.

—Received information, in a letter from school superintendent Thomas Dale, indicating that the Novi school board expects to pay some $15,000 in interest on borrow money in fiscal year 1971-72.

The letter was in response to communication carried on between Dale and Athas concerning the school board's advisory committee, passed last month in the Novi School Board election, which would allow for collection of one-half the school's millage in July with city taxes and one half in December with county taxes.

An opinion called for last week from Bond said that such an arrangement would be legal should "the governing body, the city council in this case, approve the measure.

Four Named As Planners

Novi councilmen returned one planning board member to a three year term, Tuesday night, and tapped three new members for one unexpired two-year term and two three-year terms.

Returning to the planning board will be Mrs. Jean Rumble of 2780 Maude Lea. She is a housewife and was originally appointed to fill an unexpired term.

Ron Birou, an engineer from Meadowbrook Lake subdivision, and John Roseth, a pattern maker from Village Oaks, will replace Olen Green whose term has expired, and George Athas who resigned the chairmanship to become City Manager.

Mrs. Barbara Enzor, 1304 East Lake Drive, will fill the two year term by the resignation of long time member and former chairman, Kalin S. Johnson.

Other members of the planning board are Robert Bretz, 4715 West Nine Mile, Merle Jenkins, 26821 Meadowbrook Road, William Weber, 47233 Glamorgan, Peter Alcala, 1227 East Lake Drive and James Cherloff, 24565 Hampton Court.

Wixom Meets Will Wixom

California who produced the book, The Cousin called him "Wixom" and was told to "get up there fast."

William Wixom subsequently ordered the book from the publisher in Salt Lake City. He and his wife Hazel began studying the genealogy and found the listing for Alishah Wixom, noting that a town in Michigan had been named after him.

Locating the city and planning a trip "some day" to visit the city by his name, was then discussed by Bill and Hazel who like "old things."

The time to know Norm Wixom was celebrating his 100th year.

The guests were taken to the Metalla home where the book and lives of the Wixom descendants were discussed at great length. Mary Parvul and the Robert Dingley's also entertained the couple who explained how they happened to find they were a part of the eighth generation of Wixom's.

Two years ago, Wixom explained, a Wixom family was working at a construction site in Iowa. He met another Wixom from probably Walcheln and it appears in the Domesday Book compiled by King William I in 1086. At the time of compiling the name was changed to Wychham. The history of Sommershire states that Sir Robert Wychham was born of Rectar John Wycham of Rother field. A William Wycham bought Brougham Castle and is still held by his descendants.

The history of the Wixom family in this country began with the landing of Robert Wixom in Massachusetts in the year 1630, writing his name as "Wixam" but in the third generation of the family in this country the name generally was written "Wixom". Branches of the family also wrote the name Wixom or Wixon but all including the name of the City of Wixom are descendants of Robert Wixam the First.

The Wixom family is now camping at Proud Lake, met with members of the City Council, were luncheon guests of Mayor and Mrs. Gilbert Willis and will be returning to the City bearing their name next week when a tour of the Wixom Ford Assembly Plant is scheduled.

The Wixom Family Coat of Arms bearing the Latin motto "Mores Hominum Faciunt" was found in the book "Wixom Family History".

The motto "Manners make the man" lies below the shield described as "Arms Argent or chevron sable three roses gules seeded on crest. A bull's head sable. A night's helmet of steel faced visor open."

Evening Vows Unite Couple

Barbara Ellen White became the bride of George J. Ciot, Jr. in an evening double ring ceremony June 19 in Forest Hills Missionary Church in Farmington.

The parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. White of 26250 Beck Road and Mr. and Mrs. George J. Ciot, Sr. of Walled Lake.

Officiating before an altar decorated with fireside baskets of blue tipped carnations and white gladioli was the Reverend Harold Beigle. Church decorations included candelabras and white pew bows with blue roses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress designed and made by her mother of sheer polyester over taffeta and net. Accenting the empire gown was a high collar and long puff sleeves. Rose appliques highlighted the dress and train and pearls and lace edged the collar, cuffs, empire waist and train.

She wore a fingertip veil of white illusion net and carried a nosegay of white roses and baby's breath.

The bride chose Marty Little as her maid of honor. Attendants were Sue Beigle and Cindy Orville.

Garden Club Plans Picnic

A French Cafe atmosphere, created in the gardens of the William Walker Home, will lend an international flavor to the annual summer picnic on Monday of the Northville Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association.

Members will meet at Happy Acres, 39900 East Eight Mile Road, 1:30 p.m., bringing a passing dish and their own place setting. Dessert and beverage will be provided by the hostess.

To complement the French decorations of red and white checked table cloths and wine bottles, it is suggested that women might try cooking with a French flair. For instance if your speciality is one of these you might try salade nicoise (tossed salad), mousse au jambon (ham

Kids Stage Parade

About 80 youngsters participated in a Fourth of July parade held Saturday in Meadowbrook Glens Subdivision. Leading the parade were flag bearers David Warneke, Terry Thompson and Sandy Kovar. After saying the pledge of allegiance, the parade marched up Hampton Hill. Children decorated their bicycles for the occasion and were awarded prizes by judges Mrs. Richard Freeman, Mrs. Gunther Hancken and Jerry Asher.

Prizes were awarded in three categories. Recipients were: bicycles, David Ziegler and Debby Freeman; bicycles with training wheels, Scott Smith and Kelly Parker; tricycles, Ricky Kramer and Erin Chertoff. Sparklers were distributed to the youngsters following the parade.

Local Coeds Elected To Girls State Posts

If women ruled the state of Michigan what changes, if any, would occur? Legalized abortion, gun control and free drug counseling might be established.

These were the areas given top priority by 504 young female legislators meeting to form their own government at Eastern Michigan University last month. They were participants in the 30th annual Girls State, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

"It was a great experience and I'm very thankful to the Legion for sending me," exclaimed Northville's Karen Duguid upon her return. "We learned so much about city and county government which ordinarily you just don't hear too much about."

Karen was one of five area girls who attended the weeks sessions from June 10 to June 17. Others were Joy Frehe, Roberta Day, Diane Horvath and Janet Warren. They are among a select group of local women who have attended Girls State since its inception in 1941.

Upon their arrival at Eastern each girl was assigned to a certain city and county. Karen explained. In all there were seven counties in Girls State with three cities of 24 girls in each county. Cities were designated by girls living on separate floors in a dormitory.

From there the girls elected representatives and formed their own local governments. Karen served on the county board of supervisors as did Janet Warren.

"I wanted to set up a free drug counseling service," Karen said, "but we changed to smoking to bring it down to the Girls State level." A separate committee set aside where girls who smoked could come in and discuss their habit.

On higher levels a state legislative considered abortion legalization and gun control laws. A state supreme court considered judicial cases including the attempted "assassination" of the governor. Girls were advised on the duties of their positions throughout the week by graduate students and professors from the University of Michigan.

Local Gal Heads Up UF Drive

Directing the 1971 Torch Drive residential campaign in Northville this fall will be Mrs. Robert A. Yanover of 43243 Eight Mile Road.

Mrs. Yanover has been appointed a division chairman in the campaign's west unit comprised of the Wayne County area west of Woodward Avenue. She will be responsible for enlisting, training and organizing volunteers to conduct the house-to-house canvass in Northville.

Following their week at Girls State the girls traditionally describe their experience to a meeting of the legion auxiliary in the fall.

"Something new happens every time but the high level of enthusiasm among the girls is unchanging," noted Mrs. Denune. "This year will be no exception."

It also offers housewives, the retired and the self-employed - all those not contacted at work - an opportunity to make their contributions.

Mrs. Yanover served as a neighborhood chairman in the last two United Foundation campaigns. A graduate of Michigan State University with a degree in secondary English, she is the mother of two children, Jennifer, 5, and Jonathan, 2. Her husband is president of 3 P.M. Inc.

Garden Reception Fetes Newlyweds

Following the marriage of Patricia Jane Hammond and Albert James Uren on June 19 in Livonia's St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, a festive garden reception, complete with accordion music, was held at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Crispin M. Hammond of Northville.

Miss Hammond and Mr. Uren were married in a double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of green and yellow mums. The Reverend William White officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nellis W. Hammond of Livonia. The bridegroom, who is employed by the Kroger Company in Northville, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Uren of Livonia.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire styled wedding gown of white organza. The gown was trimmed with pearl embroidery and a long organza train edged in lace. Mrs. Marjorie Wdowiak, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a long empire styled gown of yellow organza with daisy appliques at the waist. Matching flowers and a veiling headress completed the outfit.

Bridesmaids were Karen Montroy, sister of the bride, Pat Sitterlet, and Laura Uren, sister of the groom.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was his brother, Robert Uren. The three ushers were Charles Sitterlet, David Wdowiak and Gary Van Ek.

About 178 guests from Florida, Wisconsin, New Jersey, Ohio and Michigan attended the garden reception following the wedding. Dinner was served to them at tables set up under the trees with musical accompaniment on the accordion provided by the bride's cousin, Conrad Fedus.

Following a week's camping trip in Northern Michigan, the newlyweds will make their home in Canton Township.

SUMMER GARDENING - Mrs. Elmer Schubert picks flowers from her garden of wild roses, baby's breath, lemon lilies and blue delphinium.

Half-Wild Gardens Yield Beauty

Somewhere—and a circus of color erupts in the gardens of area residents.

An especially good example of flowers cultivated by local gardeners are those at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schubert, 413 Beal. Their gardens reflect the feeling of old fashioned elegance which the Schuberts have tried to restore in their old home.

"Our gardens are natural, sort of half wild like gardens used to be," Mrs. Schubert described. "Personally I never cared as much for formal gardens with stiff, neat rows of flowers."

And so it is that a person sitting in the back yard might easily imagine himself deep in the countryside. Almost completely enclosed by trees, one sees only a grassy cliff dotted with wild flowers, leading down to a secluded portion of the Rouge River.

The only sounds are birds chirping, the babbling river and the occasional quack of wild ducks which live on its banks.

"Sitting down by the river you would never know you're in the center of Northville," Mrs. Schubert declares.

From the backyard a series of circular steps wind down to the river, furnished with cross-sections of tree trunks. The steps circumvent to the right wild flowers and a vegetable garden, and an old fashioned weed garden on the left. "I love to save some of the weeds, dry them and make winter flower bouquets," says Mrs. Schubert. Included among her "weeds" are several types of tall flowering grasses and an abundance of Queen Anne's lace.

Occasionally the Schuberts lose some of their plants to wild animals, living along the river. "The groundhogs eat our cucumbers like corn on the cob," laughs Mrs. Schubert. "There's also a family of raccoons living somewhere down there."

Wild ducks also seem to enjoy living behind the Schuberts. "There are about four hens nursing along the river bank," Schubert relates. "Every morning a choir of quacking ducks assemble outside the back door for breakfast. We feed them with corn we've bought, then they sit on their tails and slide back down the cliff to the river."

In the front yard gardens, Mrs. Schubert has followed a color scheme of red, white, blue with touches of gold. Of special interest is a double cylinder milk can, which has been painted wedgewood blue and filled with wild red roses.

The can is nestled among more roses.

"We resurrected that old can from the city dump," Schubert notes.

In other gardens Mrs. Schubert has planted more red roses, amidst arrangements of white daisies, Easter and Lemon day lilies, vanishing blue bells and fragile blue delphinium.

The unusually dry weather, coupled with recent winds and hard rains, has been hard on flowers this year. Mrs. Schubert feels. Many of the taller plants have been broken and knocked down, and blooms are smaller than average.

"Fortunately our yard is on a slope," she observes. "Water runs off carrying away particles of sand and clay."

Her interest in gardening has led to her active participation in the Northville branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association.

The colorful blossoms contrast with the old house, which is painted light green. Schubert has been working to restore its original charm since they purchased the place in 1967. He figures it will be done in about three more years. "I take care of the inside of the house, Nancy fusses over the outside," he jokes.

When the restoration is complete, the Schuberts plan to invite back old residents who knew the house years ago.

The Fourth: Best Ever

THROGS OF SPECTATORS jammed Northville's Main Street Saturday when it was turned into a parade of bands, antique cars, horses, floats, pretty girls, clowns and youngsters on decorated bikes. More than 650 chicken dinners were served at the bar-be-cue following the parade and fireworks display topped off the day's events. For more pictures of the Jaycee sponsored Fourth of July festivities, see Page 6-A.

Jaycee Event Attracts Throng

Sunny skies and warm temperatures set the stage for Saturday's Jaycee sponsored Fourth of July festivities as thousands of spectators lined the streets of Northville to watch the hour-long parade kicking off the day's events. Over 650 chicken dinners were served at the barbecue following the parade. Everything was "sold out" before 4 p.m. In past years, rain has dampened the barbecue but this year the weather remained beautiful the entire day. Antique, arts and crafts booths set up at the barbecue grounds at city hall saw hundreds of browsers and buyers, while the evening fireworks display and drawing for a trip to two of the Bahamas capped the day's events. Winners of the trip were Mr. and Mrs. David Ebaecher of 337 Sherrie Lane who had purchased a ticket in the drawing Saturday afternoon. Over 1,700 tickets were sold, Jaycees report. Newcomers to Northville, having moved here from Westland in May, Mrs. Ebaecher said "We're really looking forward to the trip. We're so excited, we've never won anything before." The

Meters Coming Off City Parking Lots

Streets To Get Repairs

The city council Tuesday night kept a promise it made when the now-completed double-deck parking facility was proposed. All off-street parking meters were ordered removed. The action opens up three "blue-metered" lots (two along Dunlap, one on North Wing) to free, all-day parking. It leaves parking meters on the main streets in the business district only. In taking the action the council discussed its over-all parking situation, particularly in reference to the new deck facility and to abuse of the parking accommodations by businessmen and their employees. Councilman Charles Lapham, himself a merchant, urged the council to send a letter to all merchants suggesting that business district employees be encouraged to park their cars in the lower level of the new parking deck and in the Wing and Dunlap lots where meters are being removed. "That would leave the more convenient spaces open for customers, and that's why we've provided the parking," he argued. Councilman Lapham also suggested stronger promotion of the parking deck, particularly the upper level, to encourage more use of the facility. It was agreed that the huge deck is still somewhat confusing to customers because it lacks signs. Proper lettering will soon designate the structure as a "free municipal parking lot for business district customers." Under its new parking program the council hopes to: —maintain and enforce street meters to provide curb parking spaces for the short-visit customers; —enforce two-hour limits on all municipal customer parking lots adjoining stores, including the upper deck of the new parking structure on Cady street; —permit, at least for the time being, all-day parking (but not overnight) on the lower-level of the parking deck and on the fringe-area lots that had been metered for all-day parkers.

The council also decided to charge customers of Northville Downs for parking in the lower deck of the Cady street parking structure. The manager was directed to negotiate with a local scout troop for operation of the lot during evenings of the meet. The council was firm in its attitude that merchants must cooperate to help promote the Continued on Page 14-A

For 232 Apartments Levitt Plan Approved

A plan to build 232 apartments on Seven Mile Road just west of Northville State Hospital won preliminary approval from township planners last Tuesday night. Submitted by Levitt Multihousing Corporation, the plan calls for one, two and three bedroom units in clusters of contemporary building design. Planners granted preliminary approval of the building arrangement concept, subject to referral to the board of appeals for the variance on the length of the buildings. Township zoning limits length of apartment buildings to 180 feet and, according to the plan, Donald Boor expressed concern over the density of the apartment complex, 11.75 units per acre. "The density is high," he noted, "even though the open spaces between gives better esthetics." The plan goes before the board of appeals on July 19. In other action, planners tabled until August 31 a request from Greenspan Building Company to rezone 16.295 acres of land from residential to permit construction of a 160-unit apartment complex. The land is located near Northville Forest Apartments on Five Mile Road.

Police Get $90,000 Grant

A federal grant establishing a traffic division within the Northville City Police Department was approved last week by the Office of Highway Safety Planning of Michigan. Sergeant Louis Westfall will be in charge of the new division, Elkins said, with three officers trained and assigned to work with him. Two additional patrolmen will be hired when the department is reorganized. Elkins said one current patrolman will be transferred to the division. Sergeant Westfall said he will be meeting with representatives of the Office of Highway Safety Planning within the next two weeks to work out guidelines for establishment of the traffic division. "Within the new division of the department," the sergeant explained, "traffic service will receive top priority over all other police matters, except in cases of emergency." "The extremely high traffic volume is handled by the total police force and not singled out for specialized attention except as specific calls are received," he said. Chief Elkins said the "police generalist" approach has been discarded due to the city's rapid growth in population and the resulting increase in traffic related problems. "The major goal of the traffic division," the chief explained, "will be to maintain a low traffic accident rate and improve traffic flow in the face of increasing traffic volumes." "We will be able to create a specially equipped and trained division so that top priority can be given to traffic," he said. Officers will receive special training in accident investigation, breathalyzer testing and traffic problem reporting from police academies. In-service training in traffic control, traffic law enforcement and traffic patrol procedures will be given by the chief and division sergeant. Among equipment to be purchased with funds from the grant are radar and radio units, traffic counters and microfilm readers. Chief Elkins and Sergeant Westfall said they hope to have the division operating by fall.

Music Festival to Open

Music of American composers such as Edward MacDowell, Aaron Copland and Charles Ives will be featured in the fifth annual Summer Music Festival held at Schoolcraft College this month. As in the past the festival will comprise three series of concerts. The chamber music series will feature guest artists. The court orchestra series, directed by Wayne Dunlap, will be performed by a group of highly skilled musicians drawn largely from the Detroit Symphony. The third series of concerts will be performed by Schoolcraft music students. Unlike previous seasons, when the festival highlighted the music of pairs of composers, this season's concerts will consist almost entirely of music of American composers. The closing festival event on Tuesday, July 27, will feature another court orchestra concert. Their performance will include Charles Ives Third Symphony as well as cellist Mario DiFiore in a work by Frederick Delius. Soprano Rosemary Jackson will perform the Knoxville, Summer of 1915, by Samuel Barber. The first court orchestra concert, on Tuesday, July 13, will have two outstanding features. James Tocco, Detroit pianist, will be heard in Edward MacDowell's Romantic Second Piano Concerto. The complete ballet music, in its original scoring for 13 instruments, to Aaron Copland's Appalachian Spring, will also be presented. On Monday, July 19, the duo of F. Gerald Ervante, clarinetist, and Althes Waites, pianist, will perform music written within the past decade, with some tape and electronic sounds. Their recital will conclude with Sidney Hodkinson's The Dissolution of the Serial, a theatre event not to be missed. Detroit's nationally known Kenneth Jewell Choral will perform on Tuesday, July 20, singing music ranging from William Billings and the Moravians to Stephen Foster. Negro spirituals and American folksongs. Moving on up to the present they will conclude their program with Danile Pinkham's Christmas Cantata for choir and two brass ensembles. Performing on Friday, July 23, will be the Tipton Trio with Albert Tipton, former principal flutist of the Detroit Symphony; Mary Norris, pianist; and Mario DiFiore, CITATION — Schoolcraft College's retiring president, Dr. Eric J. Bradner, left, receives a special citation from A. Russell Clarke of Northville, president of the Schoolcraft College Foundation. The Foundation recently hosted Dr. and Mrs. Bradner at a dinner at Meadowbrook Country Club. The citation, prepared by Phelps Hines, paid tribute to Dr. Bradner's decade at the helm of the College, and appointed him a life member of the Foundation. The Foundation also established a $500 revolving loan fund in Dr. Bradner's name.

Pianist James Tocco Returns to Schoolcraft

James Tocco, the popular young pianist from Detroit, will appear again this year as guest artist at Schoolcraft College's fifth annual Summer Music Festival. Tocco, who placed fifth at the International Tchaikovsky Piano Competition in Moscow a year ago, will perform Edward MacDowell's "Second Piano Concerto" with the Court Orchestra on Tuesday evening, July 13. The concert, which begins at 8:30 p.m., will be under the baton of Wayne Dunlap, director of the Schoolcraft College Summer Music School and Festival. This year's Festival at Schoolcraft focuses on American music, and there are some items of special interest on the series. Tuesday's concert opens with Henry Kimball Hadley's overture, "In Bohemia." Hadley was one of America's leading composers in the early years of the present century, but has since dropped into virtual oblivion. The piece, dedicated to Detroit's friend, Vietri Herbert, was commissioned by the Bohemia Club of San Francisco in 1901. A most interesting event will be the performance of Aaron Copland's "Appalachian Spring" in its original complete version for thirteen instruments. Probably Copland's most famous work, the score was commissioned by the Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge Foundation and first performed at the Library of Congress in 1944 with Martha Graham and her Troupe. The orchestra calls for nine strings, three winds and piano. Preceding Tocco's performance of the MacDowell concerto, Michael Stoune, guest artist from Ann Arbor, will perform Robert W. Jones' "Nocturne" for Alto Flute, Strings and Percussion. Jones is Composer-in-Residence at Schoolcraft College. Stoune, a doctoral student at the University of Michigan, gave the "Nocturne" its world premiere with the Plymouth Symphony in January. The July 13 concert will be in the Waterman Campus Center on Schoolcraft College campus, which is located on Haggerty Road between Six and Seven Mile Roads in Livonia. Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for children. The Summer School Orchestra will present its first concert on Friday, July 16. That concert, also beginning at 8:30 p.m., will include Charles Ives' "Second Symphony," Robert Ward's "Jubilant Overture," and Brahms' "Variations on a Theme of Haydn." The concert will be in the Waterman Campus Center on Schoolcraft College

Police Blotter

Township Arrests Pair on Drug Charges

Northville Township Police arrested two men on charges of possession of narcotics Saturday evening.

Arraigned on the charges Sunday morning were Donald H. Cline-Smith, 22, of Salem and Robert C. Schulz, 20, of Saginaw.

Both men pled "not guilty" and examination will be held July 15 before 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis. Cline-Smith is being held in lieu of $10,000 bond and Schulz in lieu of $2,000 bond.

According to township police reports, the two men were arrested on Northville Road near Six Mile after officers were alerted by Wayne County Sheriff's Department that two men were allegedly selling firecrackers in the township. A bag containing suspected marijuana and a bottle of suspected hashish were thrown from the men's car when they were pursued by officers, police said.

Reports also stated officers confiscated narcotic paraphernalia in the car. Township police officers apprehended an escapee from Northville State Hospital last Tuesday afternoon. According to reports, the escapee was found at a home on Stoneleigh, asking directions to Canada. He was turned over to hospital guards after he was subdued with the help of police.

Arraignments on information will be held July 19 before Circuit Court Judge Horace Gilmore.

They were arrested by Michigan State Police on June 24 after they allegedly passed heroin on to each other on June 11.

Wixom Newsbeat
There's No Place Like Home

By Nancy Dingledey "Bring On Those Lazy, Crazy, Hazy Days of Summer", and you have a song that pretty well fits the mood of Wixomites. From a sampling of people it seems that most of us are staying close to home or just taking short jaunts here and there this summer.

Good news from the Cavallero family. Carmen was released from the hospital a week ago and is now at home recuperating. It will be sometime yet before he is back in the swing of things but we're glad to hear he's on the mend.

Also home recuperating after surgery is Ruth Counts. We're happy to hear she's doing well although it will be a while before she will be able to resume all her normal activities.

June Sereno is another Wixomite who has returned home from the hospital and we wish her well in her recovery.

Marsha Spencer is settled with her "new" family, Dr. & Mrs. Sevilla and their three sons in Manila, the Philippines. Marsha is spending the summer there as part of the Youth for Understanding Program. Word was received by Pat and George Spencer that Marsha was ready to enter classes at the Philippines Women's University. Her afternoons will be spent at a Finishing School run by her "mother" Mrs. Sevilla. The family has planned several outings to acquaint Marsha with the Islands.

By now our Wixom girls who journeyed to Strasbourg, France, with Western's French Club are settled in their new quarters and caught up in the activities of the University.

Terry McAtee, Lori Armstrong and Laura Shoemaker are spending this week at Camp Beach Point. While there, the girls will be attending classes to acquaint them with methods of teaching children the Bible and other Church related subjects.

The past Sunday marked the beginning of the Wixom Baptist Church annual Outdoor Drive-In Church services. This is for the Sunday evening services only and as usual, all are cordially welcome.

And for stamp buffs, the newly organized Postal Service is offering four different historic stamp posters at $1.50 each or all four for $5. They are all on display in the gaily decorated Wixom Post Office and may be ordered by mail.

Beginning July 1, the Post Office System changed over to the U.S. Postal Service offering better, most efficient service to all of us by i n s t a l l i n g Commemorative stamps and envelopes were on sale the day of changeover and the Post Office was really a blaze of red, white and blue. I was totally unaware of the activity and was really surprised with the pennants and banners strung up announcing the change.

A reminder that the summer library program has begun and will run through August 11. Mrs. Dorothy Thompson, the Librarian from Wixom School, conducts the Summer Program which meets every Wednesday from 3 to 3 p.m. offering a story hour and a chance for the children or check out books.

DESCENDENTS—Iowa's Mr. and Mrs. William Wixom, eighth generation of the Wixom family, (center) prepare to have lunch with Mayor and Mrs. Gilbert Willis, Tuesday.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Fifteen years ago there was a chubby, crew-cut, red-headed youngster of about 14 taking most of the pictures and doing all the darkroom work for The Record. As new owner of the newspaper, I wondered how such an important job could fall into the hands of a mere boy.

I was to learn that Harold Duncan Hartley only looked like a boy. He thought and acted like a man.

Harold's 29 now. He's thin, long-haired and the possessor of a doctorate degree in English literature.

He's been a fulltime student since 1960, when he graduated from Northville high school, and he's also been a graduate teaching assistant and instructor while earning his BA degree from the University of Michigan ('64), his MA degree from Wayne State University ('66), and his Ph.D. from WSU in '67.

This fall Harold will become Dr. Duncan Hartley, assistant professor of English literature specializing in Shakespeare at William Paterson University in Wayne, New Jersey.

At Wayne State University they call his dissertation the best ever submitted in the department of English. It was a 250-page study of Shakespeare's "The Two Gentlemen of Verona", which required one-and-a-half years of reading and research and six months of writing.

Very little has ever been written on "The Two Gentlemen", which was one of Shakespeare's early plays. Generally, Shakespeare's early works have been considered less intellectual than his later accomplishments.

But Harold's study disagrees and concludes that the so-called stupidity in the play was intentional and that "The Two Gentlemen" was really satire on courtly life, a comedy.

As I chatted with Harold last week, my thoughts went back to the days when I'd call at his house where he would often do work for the newspaper in his own darkroom.

Harold wouldn't always be home. He had other things going besides his job at The Record. He went out for football, played the tuba in the band, had a photography business on the side, and was an avid birdwatcher.

Frequently, I'd interrupt a discussion group composed of a variety of people from all walks of life: Mrs. Hartley, an artist; Mr. Hartley, a carpenter and poet; Dr. Josselyn Van Tyne, head of the U of M Science Museum and recognized as the greatest ornithologist in the world; and many others who enjoyed discussing politics, literature and nature, such as the Dick Groenbergs, Jesse Hudson, Roland and Marie Bonimici, the Duncan Hursleys.

Harold was a part of this, too, even as a teenager.

"My parents made life exciting and interesting for me, but not with money", Harold points out.

Mr. Hartley died in 1966 and Mrs. Hartley passed away last year. Harold retains the home whose beauty was its warmth and its cluttered look...the stacked paintings, the nature trails outside unchanged by a gardening; and he inherits a love for nature and a belief that great changes must be made in our society through love, not violence.

The story of Dr. Duncan Hartley (he's dropping the Harold), is probably not unusual. There are many who have worked their way to three degrees and finally gained an $11,000-a-year job as a professor of English literature.

But it's written here for the friends and parents of youngsters who did not accomplish enough to gain more than six lines in a newspaper.

Drab reading, indeed compared to the youngster who signs a five-figure contract to pitch baseball, or becomes an All American tosser of a football.

The press and the public rarely respond to Ph.D.'s in Shakespeare, not when there's a good curve ball or a touchdown pass to write and read about.

From Kyungju, Korea comes a card from Northville's Clifton Hill. He's on another world tour and reports that in Japan trucks and buses are equipped with television screens in the front and cameras mounted on the rear of the vehicle so the driver has a wide-angle view of what's going on behind.

"It's more accurate than mirrors, no blind spots", says the local attorney. "Wonder who will be the first to import them to the USA", he asks.

Probably Hill.

I'm sure the thousands of area citizens who enjoyed the Fourth of July parade, barbecues and fireworks (celebrated on Saturday) will agree that it was the best ever staged here.

Northville's Jaycees deserve community thanks for an excellent program. The undertaking is a major project which calls for many hours of volunteer effort.

Speaking for Myself Men Better Cooks Than Women?

Yes...

The question has been asked, who are better cooks, men or women? Before an answer can be determined a differentiation must be made between cooking and the art of cookery. We already know what cooking means so what about the art of cookery? It means carefulness and inventiveness, willingness and readiness of appliance; it means French art, Teutonic persistency, English thoroughness, and Arabian hospitality. It also means the economy of our grandparents, much testing, no wasting, and the science of the modern chemist.

To master this art takes many years of study, research and hard work. Few women, if any, have the patience, persistence or time to really master this art. True, most women prepare food for their families to eat. They cook. They like and dislike their families and close friends form the perimeters of their culinary knowledge. We find that most women regard cooking as a drudgery much the same as washing dishes, ironing, scrubbing floors, vacuuming, cleaning rugs and the like.

On the other hand, the man who has chosen cooking as a profession must spend years adhering to the criteria of study, research and hard work. Study and research into the culinary delicacies of many countries. He becomes proficient in the hows, whys, whats and whens of food combinations. He also has a deep knowledge of nutritive and chemical substances.

ROBERT L. BREITHAUP Director of Culinary Arts Schoolcraft College

No...

Of course not. Heresy. The mind boggles. To squash the idea, to bare the facts on the table, to reduce the entire watery supposition and move quickly to the meat of the matter—an unabridged definition: "Cook (kook), noun; one who dresses or cooks for eating; originally, an officer in large households, later a woman, especially a domestic servant."

My wife is a culinary genius. I have proofs. The household will not soon forget Kahlua and Carp, a succulent entree of broiled fillet basted with a half cup of chick peas and liqueur. Our beagles were awed; a respectful silence hung over the face of that creation.

Or macaroni and cheese, a rare dish so continental as to recall a finely textured Vichyssoise. Rich, buttery-smooth chocolate fudge; the precious, quiet moments of water, alone, before the fire place, with love dancing in her eyes, my wife will go like a goddess to the stove and unfailingly return to me with an exquisite sauce for butter almond ice cream.

But no generation lives in isolation. What are we owe, in no small proportion, to our parents. I have never known spaghetti like that my wife makes. It is an old family recipe her mother sent us from Pontiac.

NOTE: The writer is camping with his sons. Following is one of his previous columns published in October, 1969.

Old Fred Athworthy used to hold court on his rickety porch three lots back of our place.

He was a miserable failure in all that he did but for two remarkable talents. He could shove a wad of tobacco into his mouth, later it up in nothing flat and then, with uncanny accuracy, fling a syrupy bullet over the porch railing and splatter a fly on the wing.

Stains on the porch side of the railing were either from deliberate mischief or sudden crosswinds. In steady wind he could adjust his aim, lead the fly a little more, and still score a bulls-eye. Yet, he never learned to cope with the swirling breezes that sneaked in around the corner of the coal box that hung from the side of the house. But no one discredited him for this singular weakness.

Although he commanded the kids' respect with his chewing and spitting abilities, his greatest claim to fame were the stories that he somehow managed to splice in between his shots at flies.

Old Fred Athworthy could breathe life into the simplest, most ordinary story. Buried deep in his memory or imagination, his story invariably would come out slowly, almost as if it pained him, pick up speed, and then, as it tumbled swiftly down the stretch, drag others after it. Like all good story-tellers, he always saved his best for last.

When old Fred Athworthy worked himself into a lather over his final story he was the world's best. He was like a belching, hissing steam engine on the verge of popping its rivets. And there, was a kid around who hadn't wet his pants or ignored an angry parent's call rather than leave and miss the explosion.

He told his most memorable story a few days after a couple of us boys had untied two of his pet goats, opened his screened door, shoved them inside and then ran laughing for our homes. It bothered us that he didn't mention the prank but

Methodists to Start Vacation Bible School

A child's approach to art, ecology, brotherhood and the Bible in their relation to Christian involvement will be explored this summer in vacation church school at the Northville United Methodist Church.

Mrs. L.M. Lancaster, chairman of the education work area, invites all local children to take part. Each Wednesday will offer the children a "self-contained" look in depth at their own christian involvement in one area of topical interest.

July 14, music-Christian, modern pop. July 21, Bible-its history, its message today; one group will try to write their own psalm.

July 28, brotherhood-races and nations with emphasis on this year's Mission study of South America. August 4, art-a look at the masters' works for appreciation of our own talents.

August 11, ecology-our individual responsibility here in Northville. August 18, nature trips (permission required).

The school will be held every Wednesday for the six weeks from 9 a.m. to noon. Classes will be held in the new Methodist church education facilities at 777 W. Eight Mile.

Attendance at all six times is not required to enroll. Children may attend on any Wednesday of their choice or on all activity days, officials report. It is hoped that by this arrangement more children will have the opportunity to join in some of the fun-games, a pinata party, prizes, crafts, trips and time for pursuing individual interests.

A large staff at the Methodist Church has been busy finalizing plans for the bible school. They are: Margary Lancaster and Lou Wolf, co-directors; Janet Hood, Gerri Parkinson, Joan Phelps and Sharon Owings, kindergarten; Eileen Wittenberg, Dorothy Kirkpatrick and Lane Norton, first and second grade;

Riki Gans and Dale Luebke, third and fourth grade; Charlotte Feath and Peg Beard, fifth and sixth grade; Nancy Bishop, art; Betty Knapp, music; and the Reverend G. W. G. Branstner, Bible.

Several teenagers will also be working as teacher assistants and general helpers. They are: Merilee Becker, Lori Schultz, Janet Moore, Kathy Miller, Donna Guard, Kim Marshall, Carolyn Duncheck, and Bonnie Angell.

For further information call the church office, 349-1144.

Featured in the assembly program are dramas of Biblical events with relevant meaning for people today. The principle address entitled "When All Nations Collide Head On With God" will be delivered at 1 p.m. Sunday by A.D. Schroeder from Brooklyn, New York.

Arrangements have also been made for an Immersion service for those who have made the necessary preparations to be baptized as disciples of Jesus Christ.

CLEAN-UP MAN—This July Fourth Clown had the dubious distinction of serving as "clean-up" man. He wasn't a batter, though. He followed the horses!

Northville's Fred Holdsworth, pitching for the Detroit Tigers' Carolina A-League farm club, recorded his fourth straight win in mid-June with a 3-1, nine-inning shutout over Lynchburg.

Four Straight For Fred

Through June 20 Holdsworth boasted a 4-1 record with Rocky Mount and the team's leading earned run average (.69).

parking accommodations. It agreed that adequate parking is available, perhaps not at present, but that it is possible for merchants and their employees fill up prime parking areas.

The city manager was directed to prepare a letter that would encourage use of the fringe area lots by employees of the business district, and would also urge merchants to help promote the city's new, convenient parking facilities, particularly the upper deck of the Cady street structure.

In other business involving the parking deck the council agreed with two members of the Parking Authority, Russell Amerman and Robert Freydl, that a protective fence must be installed around the upper deck, that the facility must be kept clean and rubbish containers provided, and that signs must be erected.

It was also proposed by Councilman Paul Folino that high school art classes be asked to paint murals on the walls of the lower deck to avoid less attractive and offensive artistry.

A sealer has also been ordered for the concrete structure to preserve the surface against damage by water, snow and salt.

School's SEV Rate Less than Expected

Final state equalized valuation (SEV) for Northville School District for the 1971-72 school year is $74,308,000, the increase is less than anticipated. Superintendent Raymond Spear said, "and will raise $75,000 less revenue than we estimated."

Coupled with a state aid loss of $125,000 if the grandfather clause (guaranteeing a school district no less state aid per pupil than received the previous year) is totally cut, the budget exceeds the anticipated revenue by $200,000.

The superintendent said "unless something happens, the school board will have to choose between asking for more millage or curtailing the program by $200,000."

He said the district should see the final state aid by late July or early August. But, should the district have to ask for more millage, a decision would also have to be made whether or not to set the election simultaneously with that of Schoolcraft College.

On September 13, Schoolcraft will seek voter approval to levy one-half mill for construction and one-half mill for operation.

"Two millage questions pit one against the other," Spear said, "and could result in the defeat of both requests."

He noted the final decision on whether or not a millage increase is needed can only be made by the school board after the state aid formula is known.

"We just have to wait and see what happens to the grandfather clause in Lansing," he concluded.

Students Earn CMU Degrees

A Novi girl and a Northville man were among the 1,495 students who received degrees from Central Michigan University during recent commencement ceremonies.

Local recipients included Constance Marie Cook of 4180 Aspen Drive, Novi, who graduated "cum laude" with a bachelor of science degree in education, and John Clark Jameson of 45743 Clement Court who graduated with a bachelor of science degree in business administration.

Miss Cook maintained a grade point average between 3.15 and 3.33 (based on a 4.0 scale) throughout her college career, earning her the "cum laude" designation.

Faulkner mentioned was residents who disturb the scene of a burglary by walking through it, straightening things up, or touching things.

"Thieves leave distinctive clues behind them," Faulkner said, "and these can be destroyed by well-meaning residents anxious to clean-up after a break-in."

"If there's one thing residents should do, Faulkner concluded, "it's to inform them of strangers in the neighborhood. People who come to the door asking for someone who doesn't live there and never has, and then go on to the other side of the street, or simply drive off, should be reported. If they're innocent, no harm can come of it. If they're casing the neighborhood, someone can be saved a lot of grief."

The Northville Record in NOVI
Brighton Argus THE SOUTH LYON HERALD
Wed.-Thurs., July 7-8, 1971

PATRIOTIC ADDRESS—The old bandstand, formerly in the Main-Center Street intersection, was a forum from which patriotic speakers addressed Fourth of July crowds. This picture, taken on the Fourth in 1921, shows the Record building in the background. That's the late N. D. Schrader Sr., founder of Schrader's Home Furnishings in the foreground.

A TYPICAL REUNION—of Northville's Yerkes' family taken in 1915 at the family's first Northville address, 535 Baseline Road, now Eight Mile.

Old-Fashioned Fourth's of July Have They Changed?

It was a weekend for celebration, north of Northville, when people would eat home-made ice cream and shoot off Roman candles.

It was a day for patriotism, public barbecues, donkey baseball games and cascading fireworks displays illuminating nighttime skies with multi-color explosions.

Instead of playing baseball on a donkey, a young man would shimmy up a greased pole; instead of community barbecues, there were huge family reunions; instead of jumping into the car and driving hundreds of miles to the cottage, there was a stroll to a nearby park or a picnic at a nearby lake.

But the fireworks haven't changed. They've always been the trademark of July Fourth.

While the commercial displays now in fashion may be more spectacular (and certainly, safer), they can't compare with the fun, frolic and confusion caused by the firecracker-throwers of the old days.

Area residents remember Fourth's a few decades ago when it was impossible to sleep past dawn for the noise of exploding firecrackers.

Everybody had fireworks," recalls Edmond Yerkes, of Northville. "My dad used to come back from Ohio with suitcases full of them. That was the place to go unless you wanted a special display, in which case you'd have to order it by mail."

During the forties, according to Ruth Burkman, another Northville resident, you could see fireworks displays held over the Detroit River from the hills along Haggerty Road.

Other area residents recall massive family reunions in the twenties and thirties when relatives would come from all over the country to be in one place for one occasion.

"People used to furnish their own amusement," said one long-time Northville resident. "There were picnics and barbecues in Cady's grove," (an apartment house now stands on the Sheldon Road site, north of Northville Downs) "when people would eat home-made ice cream and shoot off Roman candles."

It was a day for patriotism, public barbecues, donkey baseball games and cascading fireworks displays illuminating nighttime skies with multi-color explosions.

BAHAMA BOUND — Mr. and Mrs. David Ebacher (center) of 337 Sherrille Lane had an especially happy Fourth of July. Residents of the Northville community for only two months, the Ebachers claimed the winning ticket in the Jaycee Fourth of July raffle. The prize...a expense paid trip to the Bahamas. The Ebachers...all he could say when Jaycees Paul Vandenburg (left) and Doug Loomis gave him his prize was: "You've gotta be kidding."

Burglar Warnings

Faulkner recommended obvious precautions: cancel paper and milk deliveries, have a neighbor pick up mail, mow the lawn, perhaps park a car in the driveway.

"It's very important," he said, "to let the police department know you're gone and when you'll be back."

Faulkner said that burglaries can occur not only while a resident is on vacation but while he's at the store, or in the backyard gardening.

"The biggest single percentage among methods of entry, 20 percent," he said, "is through an unlocked door. It's gotten so that if you want to enjoy your backyard on a summer evening, you'd better lock your front door."

Burglars take things that people like to buy, according to Faulkner, who said that the biggest percentage of items stolen are those that can be sold fast.

"They'll sell a $400 color television to a fence for $50 just to get rid of it," said Faulkner.

Groups Announce Car Wash Plans

The Junior Walther League of St. Paul's Lutheran Church is planning a car wash on Saturday, July 10, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. The car wash will be held in the church parking lot at the corner of Elm and High Streets in Northville.

A special call has gone out encouraging all class members to come and work. For further information contact: The Johnson, 349-2528, or High Sonk, 349-5758.

Decided to meet with Detroit Water Board director, Gerald Remus, to determine why water pressure to the city is permitted to drop below the desired 40 pounds. Manager Frank Ollendorf noted that hour-by-hour checks must be made of the water tower and reservoir to be certain that pressures are high enough to keep them filled.

Decided to advertise for bids on the city's ambulance. The manager reported that it has been unused for more than a year.

Delayed action on the proposed Randolph drain district designed to handle water drainage for a vast area northwest of the city. The project, which comes under county coordination and involves both Northville and Novi, will cost between $600,000 and $1 million. One plan, favored by Manager Ollendorf, would provide a 12-acre lake on city property west of Tall Road and north of Eight Mile that could be used as a recreation area as well as for water-retention purposes. Council wants to study comparative costs.

Two-Child Exemption Limit Eyed

LANSING — Any children born in Michigan to families who already have two or more children won't be counted as tax exemptions much longer if Senator Gilbert E. Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, has his way.

A family could adopt children and count them as exemptions, however, even when they became the third or more children.

The bill has no chance of passage this year. But, it falls in the classification of ideas that might be just a few years ahead of their time and should be watched — much the same as issues like open housing 10 years ago.

Similar legislation has been introduced in Congress by Sen. Robert Packwood, R-Ore., and Charles Percy, R-Ill.

BURSLEY'S PROPOSAL would not be retroactive to affect families which already have three or more children. It would, in its present form, disqualify children born into a family after December 31, 1972, from being used as income tax deductions if the family already had two other children.

A continued galloping increase in our population. "We have given exemptions to families who increase demands in each of these areas and have indirectly required taxpayers who have no children to bear the tax burden and pay the increased expenses.

GOV. WILLIAM G. MILLIKEN has been treating some men who normally fall on the other side of the political fence from him with some unusual kindness in recent months.

It all started last winter, when the Governor named former Deputy Secretary of State William Hettiger director of the State Department of Administration. Hettiger is a life-long Democrat and the appointment raised quite a few eyebrows.

More recently, the Governor had some very kind words for outgoing State AFL-CIO Gus Scholle, a man who has been a power in the Michigan Democratic Party

Disclosure of the Pentagon Papers, the Justice Department's court action to suppress publication, the arguing in and out of the courts, subsequent publications by newspapers other than the New York Times, and finally the Supreme Court decision have dominated the headlines during the past month.

Ask the man on the street the upshot of it all and he'd probably concede that when Lyndon Johnson was President he lied to the American people. "There was deception in high places," he'd charge.

It would look like this was indeed true. But there are few facts in the 47-volume report that bear out the assertion of lies and deception. And a few columnists have bothered to point out this fact.

William Boyd of Knight newspapers, shortly after the New York Times publication of its version of the documents, related only two incidents which substantiate the hypocrisy conclusion. And Stewart Alsop in Newsweek singled out the same two damaging facts, as revealed in the Pentagon Papers.

On September 4, 1964, there was reportedly a "general consensus" that air attacks on North Vietnam were in order. Less than three weeks later, President Johnson was proclaiming to the American people during an election campaign that he wanted no such thing.

And on April 1, 1965, the president authorized the sending of another 18,000 to 20,000 to Vietnam and gave the word for two Marine battalions to take the war initiative. Yet at the press conference, President Johnson dismissed the suggestion that "anything very dramatic" was taking place, although his action had committed the U.S. inextricably to the "land war in Asia."

Other facts have also been brought to light about the men who apparently drafted the Pentagon Papers that cast some doubt on the validity of the Papers. Reportedly, these men had a bias against the war and furthermore, because of the ordered secrecy of the study, neither the State Department nor high administration officials who had a hand in the war were consulted.

This isn't to say that Lyndon Johnson, the President, is vindicated, nor that the Pentagon Papers should be disregarded as insubstantial records of little consequence, for they definitely do trace our increasing involvement in a hopeless war.

But what one must remember, although he would like to find a scapegoat, is that the Pentagon Papers are just part of the total record or picture. And not until all the assessments have been made and the records are imprinted in history will the truth, or a closer facsimile thereof, be known.

Babson Report

Soaring Labor Costs Unchecked

BABSON'S REPORTS INC. — Labor costs have been moving upward from one all-time height to another, a reflection for the most part of spiraling pay rates and fringe benefits for workers in all lines of business. An advance in workers' earnings is in itself a sign of prosperous times. But it is also a factor in perpetuating the inflationary pressures that are so dangerous for the country's economy and for the American people.

half-hearted stab at curbing runaway pay hikes in construction, and jawboned a bit against letting wage-price inflation get out of hand. But none of these modest moves has reversed—or even slowed—the powerfully rising trend.

THE RESULT has been an entirely free-wheeling system of labor-management negotiations in all important instances, except for a not unexpected congressional intervention to stop a railroad strike. President Nixon has accepted wage boosts up to 6 percent as noninflationary, although all significant settlements have been substantially larger than that.

a 6 percent raise is not inflationary today when an upslant of more than 3.4 percent was so considered only three or four years ago.

The President's continuous aversion to direct wage-price controls still prevails, and those closest to the White House—some of whom have long favored controls—do not expect an early change in his attitude. About the farthest he has gone in the direction of interfering has been to have hints leaked out from his office that import regulations could be used as leverage to keep the settlement pending in the steel industry within reasonable bounds.

This Administration admitted that the settlement in the can industry—9 percent annual gains plus full living-cost clause—was inflationary. The 31 percent + three-year labor agreement in aluminum improved slightly on that adjustment, especially in such areas as pensions and vacations. Current steel bargaining is expected to continue this pattern of concessions. The union intends to gain a pay hike of approximately 32 percent for the three years, including living-cost escalator provisions. High on the list of demands are better pensions, more liberal weekend work arrangements, and broader vacation bonuses. These outlays will boost labor costs for Big Steel enough to force the corporations to lift prices, despite White House appeals for price restraints.

Fresh wage-price upswirls will not be limited to steel during the remainder of the year. There will be negotiating activity in ship-building, aerospace, electrical equipment, bituminous coal mining, maritime companies, and communications. In each instance, union leaders will feel called upon to win for their memberships wage increases and fringe benefits in keeping with those already racked up in earlier bargaining sessions this year. Since there is still little chance of wage-price curbs unless there is a new twist of inflation that really hurts, companies must prepare for a continuing climb in labor expenditures, at very least through the remainder of the year.

from the Pastor's Study Christianity - Simple or Profound

Arnold B. Cook, Pastor First Baptist Church of Novi

One cannot help but question whether or not present day Christianity with all its profundity is in any way related to the simple life-style as taught by Jesus Christ. Ministers today strive for intellectual sounding titles for their sermons, and the themes upon which they often expound, cover every facet of matter imaginable, often having little relevance to the things of the Spirit.

Years ago when the Official board of Trinity Church in New York made plans for their house of worship, they decided that since Trinity was the church at the nations crossroads, and multitudes of people visiting New York would come to Trinity for worship—and too, since there were different ministers preaching to the changing crowds of people, they wanted to make certain that each minister knew what his task was, so they had carved into the desk-top of the pulpit one sentence (unseen by the people, but always visible to the preacher). That sentence was: "Sirs, we would see Jesus."

—diminish Him, and whatever else you put in His place, be it ever so palatable to the emotions, or entertaining to the intellect, or stirring to the soul, it is not the message of the hour and the command of our Sovereign God, ministers strive for profundity, and shun the simple faith.

To believe in Jesus Christ and to commit ones self by faith to Him is a simple child-like exercise. In doing this one discovers that Christ is all that he needs. He is our Saviour from sin. He is our Priest, and by His priestly function prays for us, and to alleviate our concern for the future, He is our coming King.

The younger generation may be justified in pointing a critical finger at the church when it demands genuineness without hypocrisy, and truth that it has not been toned down. "Tell it like it is," they want to know.

Man today has not devised a more powerful message, nor a message with a greater subject than the Bible presentation of the love of God revealed in and through Jesus Christ. Man with all his frustrations, anxieties, temptations and fears needs to know that Jesus Christ came into this world to deliver man, not only from sin's penalty, but also from sin's power, and from the problems of self and society. In June 23-24 paper we printed an article on proper stock seat equitation. Due to a mix-up, only half of that article was printed and that was the rules for the American Horse Show Association. There is, however, another set of rules that a horse and rider may be showing under, that of the American Quarter Horse Association. These rules state:

The 4,720-sq. ft. structure blends into the natural setting with its design and wood shingle roof. It has a large assembly room equipped with nature science study centers. There is a fireplace and a balcony library at one end. Movie projection facilities are provided for both inside and outside viewing. Big June in Parks

Over 1,675,092 persons visited Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks in June of 1971, compared to 1,525,100 for the comparable month of 1970. Hot, dry and sunny weather most of the month plus a heat wave the final week of June helped increase attendance at all Authority parks.

Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Utica had a record 442,300 visitors last month, which surpassed the previous high of 436,100 set in June of 1970.

Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford had 421,000 visitors last month, which surpassed the 386,000 persons visiting the park in June of 1970, but below the record high of 482,000 set in June of 1969.

TOO HIGH

"Taxes and school millage are too high," says Novi resident Herb Koester, who this week launched a one man drive picketing the Novi City Hall. "I'm getting all they want to give me," he said. "I'm just paying too much for it." Pretty Trudy Siewert, of Plymouth, shown here talking to Koester, agreed but for a different reason. "Too much of our taxes go to that war," she said referring to the Southeast Asian conflict, "I just won't agree to that."

At present, according to City Manager George Athas, the city has sold, or committed, 181 taps that it doesn't have.

"We've already sold, either outright for cash or on a contract, 3,615 of them. There are taps we've committed to but not actually in the ground for some time, but what the difficulty and what worries the council, is that someday Novi may wake up and find that everyone wants to use their taps at once."

Discussion on the matter came before councilmen in a study meeting Monday night during which they also considered:

The Randolph Drain. Councilmen were reluctant to share with Northville the price of construction and maintenance of the county facility which, if built as proposed, would draw assessments from residents southeast of a point along Beck Road and on-half mile North of Eight Mile.

Councilmen Raymond Evans and Donald Young contended that recent and unwise building in Northville had caused a flooding problem which the Randolph Drain was expected to handle for Northville citizens only.

According to Young, "Novi is still dumping as much water as it did 10 to 20 years ago."

Athas was directed to set up a meeting with Northville officials to discuss the matter.

Allocated Sewer Taps Exceed Novi's Limit

A good business in Novi might be selling sewer taps, that is if you could deliver the merchandise.

"We've already sold, either outright for cash or on a contract, 3,615 of them. There are taps we've committed to but not actually in the ground for some time, but what the difficulty and what worries the council, is that someday Novi may wake up and find that everyone wants to use their taps at once."

October Decision Set on Petition

A controversial annexation petition submitted to the state boundaries commission by the City of Novi isn't expected to be decided until October.

Township officials said that the decision will be made Wednesday during the preliminary public hearing at Lansing. According to the state official, the decision is to follow a public hearing here in Novi in October.

At last week's hearing attorney and representatives of both the city, which seeks to annex a large portion of Novi Township, and the township presented their cases.

Specifically, eight of the nine parcels of township land—all but that part of Brookland Farms subdivision located in the township—are sought by the city.

Township Attorney Emery Jacques and Township Clerk Boyd Armstrong represented the township last week, arguing that those township lands included in the annexation petition now are adequately protected by fire and policemen.

Novi city firemen currently answer fire calls to the township, at $200 per call, under a contract with the city. Furthermore, township citizens are protected by the Michigan State Police and Oakland County Sheriffs, who can answer a call in a "few minutes", township officials said.

Walled Lake Slates Third School Vote

In another attempt to secure needed millage, the Walled Lake School Board has announced a special election to be held on August 17.

The first election regarding the millage was held on April 29 at which time voters turned down a combined six mill package.

A second try was made on June 21 when voters approved a split bill, approving a four-mill renewal proposition but turning down a two-mill additional.

The school board claimed the fourth renewal was necessary to continue the level of education now being offered the children. The system but cuts would have to be made should the additional two mills fail to pass.

Before putting into effect the cuts necessary since the two mill proposal did not pass, the school board decided to once again put the issue before the taxpayers.

Listed in a five-page bulletin supporting the need for the additional 400,000 gained from a two mill levy are: $14,500 to provide adequate transportation for special education children who are now being served erratically or not at all; $5,000 for continuing educational field trips; and $2,000 for the purchase of custodial equipment and tools.

Also, $3,000 for teacher conferences; $18,000 for new and replacement books in school libraries; and $8,000 for employment of parents to replace teachers as well as $20,000 for a meaningful drug education program.

Wixom Appraisal Due; Cost Set at $16,450

Wixom will be reappraised by United Appraisal Company, of Cleveland, Ohio at a cost of $16,450.

Wixom councilmen Tuesday night unanimously accepted the recommendation of Mayor Gilbert Willis to contract with the firm.

In taking the action, Councilman Gunnar Metalla mentioned that of the two companies selected from 10 originally interviewed, United seemed to be the most dependable because it used manual computation instead of a computer method.

"There's a possibility of a foul-up," Metalla said, "and Wixom can't afford another mistake."

Willis mentioned that United's men would probably be in the city within 30 days and that citizens would have ample time to review and re-evaluate, if necessary, their appraisals.

Willis appointed Wynn Berry, Commerce assessor, as a temporary part time employee to assist United.

Concerning Wixom's current tax roll, Willis said that as yet he had not heard from the State Tax Commission about the city's late tax bills, but that commissioners were due to meet Wednesday.

In a related matter, councilmen decided to hire their planning consultants, Vilcan and Leman, to "assist the city" in reviewing zoning standards for an improved, or re-worked, zoning ordinance.

Cost was set at $8,000 to be paid in four quarterly installments.

Councilman Elwood Grubb, and Councilwoman Mary Parvo objected.

"I think our planners know what they're doing," Grubb said. "I think we've got a crack at this project."

The measure passed after Councilman Metalla pointed out that the suggestion to enlist Vilcan and Leman had come from the planning commission.

Originally from Southfield, the ADE program has been working in Walled Lake for eight months. Its main function is to provide representatives who appeared before councilmen, is counseling and giving advice to current and potential users.

"The program lists among its other contributors, Walled Lake and Wolverine, each for $2,500 and Commerce for $5,000.

The group may get additional funding from Oakland County, according to Willis.

Adopted a bid of $1,885 for the construction of additional office space in the police department from Paul Profit Construction of Walled Lake. Two other bids submitted ran between $3,900 and $4,500.

Listened to Willis as he announced that the city and the police department had reached an impasse in their contract talks and that a compulsory arbitrator would probably be requested.

Main point of contention, Willis said, was the departments request for $11,400 top salary. The city's offer Willis said had been $10,600.

Supported opposition from the City of Berkeley to Oakland County's proposed construction of a new sports stadium.

"As much as I'm for sports," said Councilman Robert Dingley, "I don't think the county should be spending that kind of money."

Combined the duties of the health officer and the building official.

"Many times," Willis said, "one has to approve the others activities."

Appointed Councilman Dingley as representative to the annual meeting of the Michigan Municipal League on Mackinac Island September 24.

Four of Seven Absent

The regularly scheduled Novi Board of Education meeting this past Monday was postponed until next Monday because of the absence of four of the seven members.

Three members are vacationing and a fourth newly elected William Ziegler, reportedly had a minor "setback" in recuperating from a heart attack suffered several weeks ago. He was slated to enter the hospital Tuesday for a brief period, fellow members learned.

Vacationing are Board President Gilbert Henderson, and trustees LaVerne DeWard and Robert Wilkins.

Missing A Bike?

Novi Detective Lieutenant Richard Faulkner has a problem.

He has eight bicycles, both boys and girls models, that he believes were stolen from Novi residents, but he has no idea who they were stolen from.

"Our department doesn't have any complaints from people who have had bicycles stolen. I know they've been stolen... people just haven't reported it."

Ray Warren's Elected

It was erroneously reported in this newspaper last week that Robert Wilkins had been elected secretary of the Novi Board of Education.

Actually, it was Ray Warren who was elected to the post in a 4-3 secret ballot over Wilkins at the board's organizational meeting July 2.

Others elected include Gilbert Henderson, president, by a 4-3 vote over LaVerne DeWard; Bruce Simmons, vice-president, by a 4-3 vote over Wilkins; and Mrs. Sharon Pelchat, treasurer, by a unanimous vote.
