Bill Prohibits

Discrimination

State Representative Marvin Stempien (D-Livonia-Northville) has offered a joint resolution to amend the State Constitution to prohibit discrimination based on sex.

House Joint Resolution BBB would accomplish on a state level, what the U.S. House of Representatives has been trying to do for years on a national level, he said. The equal rights amendment has been introduced in every Congress for 48 years.

Representative Stempien's resolution listed 98 representatives as co-sponsors, including all 58 Democrats. A total of 74 votes are needed to pass an amendment to the constitution in the House.

The resolution would amend the existing language of the constitution, by simply adding a sentence which reads: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the State because of sex."

Beware! Superhighwaymen On The Loose

Many of Michigan's half million motorists driving through Florida and the thousands going to the Southwest this winter may be victimized by gas stations and garages along the way, according to an article in the December issue of Automobile Club of Michigan's Motor News magazine.

The article, entitled "Superhighwaymen," alerts Auto Club's 995,000 members about three methods used to fleece motorists, as discovered through complaints received nationally by the club.

Highway gyps exposed through the article-although complaints about Michigan gas stations and garages have been few-are "double stamping" and "kiting" of credit card charge slips and scotch tape receipts.

Northville's Swimmers Top Churchill

Northville Coach Ben Lauber had told his swimmers to expect their toughest meet of the season when they traveled to Livonia Churchill last Tuesday to take on the Chargers in their first Western Six Conference competition of the season.

And although Lauber's prediction that the meet would be their closest did indeed prove to be accurate, the final outcome was still rather lop-sided, as the Mustang swimmers chalked up a convincing 70-35 victory.

In their previous victories, Lauber's tankers have piled up margins of 47, 51, and 53 points over their opponents to make Tuesday's 35 point triumph practically a "squeaker" by comparison.

Racing Resumes

Continued from Record 1 have plagued cold weather racing here during the past two seasons. The new track surface is similar to a limestone track, most popular winter racing surface with the nation's harness horsemen.

Hicks Wins WMU Letter. Former Northville High School star Fred Hicks was awarded his second varsity letter recently at Western Michigan University.

Northville's victory over Churchill was notable on a couple of counts. The only school record was turned in by junior Bill Witek who re-captured his mark in the 200 yard individual medley relay by turning in a 2:17.2 clocking.

Northville's swimming team is making a shambles of the high school record book. After just four dual meets and two tournaments, Coach Ben Lauber's young and enthusiastic charges have already set new records in six of the eleven events that comprise the Michigan High School Athletic Association swimming program.

Surprisingly, Northville's early success has come without any special push on behalf of Lauber or his swimmers. "We're going to try to peak at the end of the season," said Lauber. "That's what we're gearing ourselves for. We don't want to hit our peak until the league meet and the state meet."

Maguire, a senior this year, has bettered his old record no less than three times, but he no longer holds the best time in the 100 yard freestyle. Witek, a sophomore, has bettered his old record no less than three times, but he no longer holds the best time in the 100 yard freestyle.

longer holds the current school record. Again it was an underclassman who removed Maguire's name from the record book, junior Bill Witek. Witek shaved more than a full second off the previous mark as he stroked to a 53.6 timing in the Schoolcraft Invitational.

Witek and Kelly clash head on in the 200 Individual Medley (I.M.) Relay. Tom Thompson, now a member of the Michigan State swimming team, held the old school record in the event with a 2:19.5 timing, a record that lasted no longer than the first meet of the present season.

In that meet - against Dearborn Riverside - Witek was clocked in 2:18.2 to establish a new school record. Witek's mark stood until two weekends ago when Kelly recorded a 2:17.4 in the Schoolcraft Invitational.

Maguire beat Kelly, the first time he's accomplished that feat all season. "We clocked Bill at 23.9 said Coach Lauber, "but their timers had him in 24.2 and they were holding the official watches so I guess we'll have to go by that."

The 100 yard freestyle mark is also undergoing stern competition, and again it was Maguire who started the current season in possession of the school mark with a time of 54.8 seconds. Maguire twice has bettered his record with his best time being a 54.1 turned in against Churchill, but as in the case of the 50 yard freestyle mark, he no longer holds the current school record.

commercial and governmental centers? The Gerald Avenue industrial park—is it to be a 10-acre City project or a 60-acre community development?

The Township is facing tough decisions such as the need for greatly increased police protection. Will they decide to form their own police department thus building another roadblock to unification? Do they build a new fire station or do they add a complete administration and police complex? Will we build an adequate community library?

Most important, will our community leaders let their respective citizens know the levels of service they can expect if we remain separate? Will they explain the difference in cost of remaining separate? The independent jointly sponsored study of 1968 showed better service and lower cost resulting from unification than by remaining separate. Will the report stay on the shelf much longer?

I predict that if affirmative action is not taken soon, if we continue to look at individual and isolated problems and projects rather than facing up to the major over-riding decisions, we will be left without a real choice in future years. 1972 is the year for our decision: one community or two?

Townhouses on a 16 acre parcel on Five Mile Road. As for the Township I believe that we are going to have to go to the people and ask for millage to build a new Town Hall - Fire Station and Police Station on the north side of Six Mile Road, at Winchester Drive.

The water line from Eight Mile Road to Seven Mile Road and over to Six Mile Road—up to Sheldon Road—will be completed. Possibly, there will be people that would like to hook into the water. The State Hospital will be hooked into the water. The present 12" water line so that we will have a complete loop which will improve the water pressure in the Southeast part of the Township.

Presently the Planning Commission is making a study to determine the need for sewer capacity in the new Interceptor Sewer which is to be constructed in the future.

According to the County the Haggerty Branch of the Hannan Sewer will be started in the summer of 1972—this sewer starts at Oakland County, flows into the Township along Haggerty Road to Wilcox Road and will then hook into the interceptor.

Hopefully, the State Police will be located in Northville Township, which will include headquarters, post and laboratory. This will be helpful to the community.

Trade Skills Get Boost

Opportunities for persons to improve their job skills through Related Instruction (apprenticeship) programs at Schoolcraft College have never been better.

According to Ken Schultz, the college has openings in 24 trade and industrial-related areas. Four major fields of study are offered: 1. Design-Drafting; 2. Machine Trades-Machining; 3. Manufacturing Trades; and 4. Service-Maintenance trades for industrial application.

Schultz is the director of the apprenticeship program which currently has facilities and classroom openings for up to 200 new enrollees. There are no entry tests or qualifying exams, and for many the tuition and fees are paid in full or in part by their employer. The Board of Trustees recently adopted new policy which will enable Schoolcraft to enter into contracts or agreements for instructional programs and services with business, industry, and governmental units located within the College district.

Under the policy the college will be able to offer in-district tuition rates for employees included in such agreements. Apprentices may attend either day or evening classes. Most have just one class weekly, usually one to two hours long. Evening classes at Schoolcraft are conducted from 5 to 11 p.m. Programs are usually completed in four years.

Here's how to enroll in the program: 1. Request a work authorization form from the college. This may be done by telephone (591-6400, ext. 301) or by mail (18600 Haggerty, Livonia 48151).

2. Have the form completed and verified by your employer and return it to the college.

3. Await notification from the college for advising dates and an appointment with Director Schultz who will assist you in selecting a program of study.

4. Return to the college for registration at the assigned time this coming January 3 and 4. Late registrations will be accepted through January 11.

Employers may call or visit the college for complete details about the apprenticeship program. The office is open daily until 5 and special appointments will be arranged by Schultz. Apprenticeship training is governed by the Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training of the U.S. Department of Labor. The Bureau writes the educational standards which call for agreement among the employer, the union and employee. A large part of the program is conducted in-plant or through on-the-job training assignments.

All instructors in the program at Schoolcraft are journeymen in their own right. Because they are gainfully employed in the area in which they instruct, they are able to transmit the practical application of skills and training.

Persons interested in attending the winter term should contact Schultz at the College without delay. Those wishing general information may request a booklet describing the entire program and class offerings, including class and course descriptions.

Welcome the New Year

Turning the leaf of a New Year, we wish you success and happiness. To you, our appreciation.

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

"War and Peace" by Tolstoy always seemed like a magnificent tome that a person might carry around for academic display, rather than a book one would read with abiding interest. But I'm inclined to think otherwise now.

The change has come about as a result of seeing the production of Tolstoy's "Resurrection" on channel 56, the educational station out of Detroit. The dramatization by BBC, divided into four segments of one hour each with an introduction by Alastair Cook, was superb.

Simply, the story tells of Prince Dmitri Nekhyudov's efforts to atone for seducing a young maidenservant, Maslova, and the subsequent life of prostitution which she suffers.

Like most Russian stories, this one relies heavily on irony. After Maslova drops out of Prince Dmitri's life, she re-appears when she goes on trial for having poisoned one of her customers. Prince Dmitri serves on the jury.

She is unjustly found guilty of the murder of other women in the house committed and Maslova is sentenced to prison. She is to be sent to Siberia.

Prince Dmitri then tries to seek her release, using every influence his position affords him. The suspense hinges on a race between Dmitri's efforts to obtain Maslova's freedom and the date set for the train to depart for Siberia.

The emotional involvement with Maslova, what ever it is, is of paramount importance. Does Dmitri love Maslova? Is it merely guilt which he feels? Will he indeed make the trip to Siberia to be close to Maslova and to render any assistance he can give?

The beauty of the story is that Dmitri's motivation is never quite clear, even to himself. Trying to explain his actions is as difficult as trying to determine why you had that extra cup of coffee yesterday.

With Tolstoy, as "Resurrection" indicates, there is no simple answer. Dmitri eventually does secure the release of Maslova, just before she entrains for Siberia. But Maslova chooses instead to go with the inmates she has befriended to Siberia.

Dmitri, too, boards the train.

Alan Dobie plays Dmitri and Bridget Turner, Maslova. What Dobie's or Miss Turner's previous accomplishments are, I don't know. But their acting in "Resurrection" was something to behold. Both were moving, inexplicably moving.

When 18-year-olds Order Up A Draft at the Local Bar, It May Raise Eyebrows, But It'll Be Perfectly Legal After Midnight, January 1

Is New Law Uncorking '72 Headache? Police Worry as Teens Belly Up

While he doesn't believe the 18-year-old drinking law will have a major impact on schools, Superintendent Raymond Spear notes that because of the peer relationship that exists it will mean a new category of minors (under 18) will have easier access to alcohol.

Says 20-year-old Tedd Wallace of South Lyon: "Without a doubt bars will be swamped. It will be a big fad at first. Many will overdo it. Many will be mature but there are always a lot of clowns. I believe it will die down after the initial fad passes."

Wallace adds this warning: "Fatal accidents are bound to increase."

South Lyon Police Chief also expects a "dramatic rise in highway fatalities since most of them are already caused by drinking."

Although he doesn't anticipate "to much problem locally," Dale says gangs of youths going into bars for their first drinks may pose some initial problems.

"I have mixed feelings," says South Lyon Superintendent Donald Burns. "I'm inclined to believe that it will be a 'big deal' one or two times and then become sort of a 'ho hum' or 'oh, so what' situation. But it could have ill effects on a percentage who may be encouraged to drink at a younger age than they would have otherwise."

Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole, who believes the new law is a particularly bad one, predicts it will make the bad kid respectable.

"The normal 18-year-old has no great desire to drink," says BeGole. "The ones who have always turned to drinking before 21 are usually trying to compensate for some inadequacy. I expect to have no more problems with the 18-year-old well-raised drinker than I expect from the 20-year-old well-raised drinker. It's the problem group—the ones who drink in search of filling personal inadequacies—who will cause the problem."

"I expect more problems now because it is easier for the inadequate group to get their liquor."

BeGole believes the 18-year-old is immature. "We're allowed to have 18-year-old policemen under the law," he says, "but I don't want any 18-year-old policemen in Novi. I'd reject them on the grounds of lack of maturity."

"It'll drive me nuts," asserts Northville Township Police Chief Ronald Nisun. "Accidents and drunks will be up until the novelty wears off. It will be very critical, especially at the beginning."

Continuing, he notes: "We have the problem now (with kids drinking) but they are doing it hidden. Now they'll be able to sit in a bar, have six beers and not realize how drunk they are until they try to drive home."

Steve Showerman, whose South Lyon business sells packaged liquor, dislikes the 18-year-old law and is especially unhappy that it becomes effective in this holiday season.

"It's lousy timing," he contends. "December 1 or January 21 would have been much better if they had to do this at all. The 18-year-olds will now be buying for 16-year-olds and the 17-year-old will try to buy it. And with one piece of identification, in most cases, it's going to be a real hassle."

"I'd rather keep the age at 21 and not have the increased sales volume. I'm just not looking forward to this at all."

The problem of identification, says Livingston County Sheriff Charles R. Harp, will be a big one, posing a major responsibility for the bar owner—not us."

from the Pastor's Study 'I Am Who I Am'

Rev. Frederick Prezioso, Pastor, Epiphany Lutheran Church, Northville Township

There is an interesting give-and-take in the New Testament when the people come to John The Baptist with the question, "Are you the Christ?"

John said, "I am not the Christ, but he was very clear on the matter of the exact role he was to play, in the course of history."

John was not going to pretend that he was any more than God intended him to be, but neither was he going to be any less than history demanded of him.

When we come face to face with this Man, Jesus of Nazareth, this is the question we find ourselves struggling with: "Am I going to live my life, or not?"

How does a man like John, or like you or me, get this kind of clarity about his role in the scheme of things? I'm beginning to see that it has something to do with that episode where we find John on the "asking" end of the dialog, quizzing Jesus with the question, "Are you the one that we have expected, or shall we look for another?"

In response to such questions, it is the Lord who says, "You decide." And my answer? Well, perhaps it can be stated like this: "I am not the Christ, No. I am not the Christ. But I am who I am. And I live as one who points to the presence of God in the hearts and lives of the people he loves."

IF ONLY I HAD MORE TIME. A large graphic illustration of a clock face.

We all know that feeling of frustration that comes from not finding enough hours in a day. Time to kill is a luxury for most of us.

New Year's reminds us that time is one commodity that cannot be bought. Try as we will, we cannot crowd more than twenty-four hours into a day.

After all, in a hundred years, we'll all be gone. This thought makes current problems look pretty small. Proper balance of work, play and worship makes happier lives.

sibility for barkeepers. "How well they can control their part," he says, "will determine how well we can do ours."

He suggests that bars require two identifications because some people will try to purchase liquor by showing fake or borrowed identification.

Like other police officers, Sheriff Hards anticipates more problems involving the contribution to minors. "Most 21-year-olds don't hang out with the under-18 crowd too much. But the 18-21 year-olds do, so they'll be more likely to buy something for younger people."

Drinking, he says will be "a new thing to many young people — people who have no experience with alcohol — and it probably will result in bar fights. Younger kids can be more of a problem than older people because they're more like to give you some back-talk. But we'll treat all drunks the same."

A 10 to 15-percent increase in business is predicted by Howard Taylor, manager of the Brighton Bowl-N-Bar. The new law will attract a younger crowd because his business offers a recreational activity. Nevertheless, he doesn't anticipate any problems although he admits that those businesses dealing in alcohol will have to be especially careful about identification.

Wixom Police Chief thinks "the general population will be surprised to find the new drinkers will be able to control their drinking better than many adults."

Unlike most other police officials, Wixom Police Chief George Von Behren believes "the general population will be surprised to find the new drinkers will be able to control their drinking better than many adults."

In fact, adds the chief, "I think there'll be a definite change in the atmosphere of bars. There will be more of a social atmosphere attached to bars — something like the English pubs. They will become a meeting place for young people. There'll be a lot more girls in bars. I think the social atmosphere means bar owners will be making less profit because there'll be more talking and less drinking."

Von Behren doesn't expect a major problem because "the young are better educated about the dangers of the drug-alcohol syndrome. They've been taught what overdoses of alcohol can do to a person."

One of Von Behren's police officers, however, believes the new law will mean "a lot more trouble in bars in the way of fights, particularly gang fights. People under 21 tend to hang around in packs more. I think you'll see an increase in the number of these gangs hanging around bars and getting disturbances and fights started."

Brighton Police Chief Walter La Morie is worried about the likelihood that purchase of alcohol for minors will increase.

"We pick them up now at 15 or 16 stoned," says La Morie. "It'll probably just be easier for them to get it (alcohol) now."

The Brighton chief also fears an increase in traffic accidents directly attributed to drinking.

"We don't tolerate any fighting now and we won't then (when 18-year-olds begin drinking), insists Bill Welch, owner of the House of Dougherty at Brighton.

"We'll demand an ID with a picture," he says, noting that no one can really predict whether or not the new law will create additional problems. He does anticipate that the first drinkers may pose a problem because "they don't know how to handle liquor and they may be out to prove how big they are after a few drinks."

"Personally, I think 19 or 20-year-olds may be more of a problem than 18-year-olds. They've had to wait but the 18-year-old didn't so they may have a chip on their shoulder."

Hartland School Superintendent Edwin Gray hopes there will be no problems, emphasizing that "if we've given our young people the opportunity to function as young adults we shouldn't have any problems. We really won't know until we get into it, though."

Gray thinks it may create some disciplinary problems, such as an 18-year-old saying, "Why should my parents have to come to school when I'm legally responsible for myself?"

The Hartland superintendent suggests that "perhaps the change will create a new sense of responsibility in our young people. There even may be fewer discipline problems."

Like other school administrators, Brighton Superintendent doesn't see any major initial school problems resulting from the 18-year-old law.

"We've established sort of a 'crash' program called the Age of Majority for those who will turn 18 soon," he says. "We have various representatives from the community speak about such things as insurance, contracts, legal responsibilities. It has been very well attended."

(Most other school districts have or are planning similar type Age of Majority programs.)

"The potential is there for a definite increase in traffic accidents," asserts Lieutenant Christian Walters, commander of the Brighton State Police Post. "The number of drivers while under the influence of alcohol and the number of drinking-related incidents, such as fights" may increase, he says.

Bar owners, he says, will be "faced with more responsibility... but they know their licenses are in jeopardy so they'll be careful. There always has been problems with faking and borrowing IDs and it probably will increase."

"The real salvation for the bar owner is the picture on an ID card," he said, noting that the Michigan Licensed Bar Association recommends two IDs should be checked. The Michigan Operator's (driving) License is the best ID, he says.

Buying for minors also is likely to increase, Commander Walters adds, giving the same reason as given by Showerman.

For the young man or woman tempted to use a "fake" or borrowed ID to purchase liquor, Walters reminds them that this illegal act can result in a $100 fine or 90 days in jail."

And Sergeant Louis Westfall offers this piece of advice for the 18-year-old who raises his stein tomorrow:

"They must realize if they drink and drive they must accept the consequences if caught. Conviction for drunk driving carries a mandatory 90-day revocation of drivers license."

Furthermore, Westfall points out that in addition to the new 18-year-old drinking law, another new law should make the 18-year-old, as well as any older drinkers, think twice before downing "one for the road." The law will lower the alcohol count from .15 percent to .10 in .10" and the vigor in business capital spending in the second half of 1972.

Therefore, while yields on bonds and preferred stocks are considerably lower than at the height of the credit crunch of 1969-70, investors will have a generally favorable climate for making investments in good-quality fixed-income securities.

STOCK MARKET OUTLOOK

Babson's Reports is looking for a good year for the stock market in 1972. The advance which began just after Thanksgiving Day 1971 should be extended in the year ahead, although correction phases are to be expected. Barring some unforeseen major development, such as a radical degeneration of international conditions, the Dow Jones Industrial Average can mount yet another challenge to the previous all-time high near the 1,000 mark. Indeed, chances are that the previous top can be pierced as the stock market marches toward its high for the year, with the peak coming sometime in either the latter part of the summer or the fore-portion of the fall season.

Right now, the bargain counter is still laden with attractive buys in common stocks of all varieties. One can find an array of good-quality growth stocks, rebound situations for capital appreciation, and speculative situations at varying prices. Naturally, as previously mentioned, with the favorable prospects for building, stocks of companies which stand to benefit from the home building boom are among the attractive buys for 1972.

Nor should investors overlook the companies which stand to benefit from the investment tax credit. These include manufacturers and purchasers of trucks and truck transportation equipment. The farm equipment companies can also benefit from this "tax break", and considering the excellent farm year of 1971, demand for agricultural equipment should be turning upward after a long downturn.
