MAYOR'S EXCHANGE DAY—One of the many stops of Vicksburg Mayor Franklin Smith and his wife Monday was Novi's sewerage treatment plant. Here Ed Kriewall, head of the Novi Department of Public Works, explains the operation of the plant, judged by some to be the most modern of its kind in the country and a prototype for the future. Novi City Manager George Athas (left) looks on. Mayor Smith and his wife came to Novi for the day, while Novi Mayor and Mrs. Joseph Crupi along with Mayor Pro-Tem and Mrs. Denis Berry journeyed to Vicksburg as a part of Mayor's Exchange Day in Michigan Week festivities. Mrs. John Roethel and Mrs. Leonard Karevich were co-chairman of Novi's Mayor's Exchange Day program.

BOOSTER—VFW Post 4012 is one of the biggest boosters of Northville's Recreation Department activities, annually contributing monies to buy shirts and equipment for the department's summer baseball program. This year was no different as Commander Jerry Rotta (above) presented a $500 check to Department Director Robert Prom.

Quite possibly save enough to pay for a new chair. A couple of tables. Perhaps even carpet a room.

And when you get your mortgage from NBD, we'll also give you a good estimate of how much your total cost of closing will be—including our fee, insurance, prepaid taxes, everything.

Which means, at NBD, we'll not only save you money on your closing costs. We'll also save you from any unexpected surprises when you sit down to close.

Parade Marks Memorial Day

Novi will honor its war dead Monday, May 29, as the traditional Memorial Day parade gets underway at 10 a.m.

Duane Bell, a veteran of World War II, will be honorary parade marshal.

This year under the direction of Philip Cozadd and James Leatherman of the Novi Jaycees; Peter Alcalá, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission; and Herbert Parah, president of the Fireman's Association, the Memorial Day activities will include the parade and memorial services at the Novi Road Cemetery, the memorial at the Novi Community Building and the Orchard Hills Cemetery.

Cozadd expects one of the largest parades in the history of the event in Novi.

Led by various veteran organizations, the parade will include the Blue Star Mothers, the boy scouts, girl scouts, cub scouts, and brownies.

In addition, members of the Novi city council and Mayor Joseph Crupi will ride in cars in the parade, as will Todd Price and Mrs. Sandra Mitchell, presidents of the Novi Jaycees and Jaycee Auxiliary, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Crawford, district Jaycee officers from Novi.

Officers of various Homeowner's Associations and the Novi Chamber of Commerce will also participate.

Further entries from local organizations are welcome. Information is available by contacting Alcalá at 624-1088 or Cozadd at 349-7466.

All parade units should assemble in the vacant lot across from the Novi Cemetery at 9:30 a.m. The parade will then proceed to the Novi Cemetery where Father Leslie Harding of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church, assisted by Reverend Philip Seymour of the Novi United Methodist Church, will conduct a short memorial service.

The assembly will then march down Novi Road to the Community Building where a wreath will be placed on the memorial marker and then proceed to the Orchard Hills Cemetery at the corner of Novi and 12 Mile Roads where a second short memorial service will be conducted.

School Board Names New Superintendent

A 38-year-old Southfield school administrator with a doctorate degree in education has been named superintendent of the Novi public school system.

By unanimous action of the board of education Monday, Dr. Gerald B. Kratz of 2140 Lathrop, Southfield, was hired as superintendent here effective July 1.

He will fill the post of Thomas Dale, who has resigned with the closing of the current school year.

The appointment ends a lengthy search for a new chief executive that involved assistance from college placement services, screening of dozens of applicants, and interviewing of many of the candidates who were given priority standing.

Dr. Kratz comes to Novi from Southfield where since 1969 he has served as assistant superintendent of instruction and employee relations.

Married with four children, Dr. Kratz was administrative superintendent of personnel services in the Huron Valley school system (Milford) from 1966 until taking the Southfield post.

He was an administrative intern to the superintendent of the Detroit Public Schools (1965-1966) and administrative assistant of employee relations in Detroit in 1969.

Dr. Kratz began his educational career as a teacher at Catholic Central High School in 1955. The following year he became a teacher at St. Theresa's High School.

In 1964-65 he was a teacher in the South Redford School District, and he taught night classes (driver education and recreational courses).

From 1960 to 1963 he coached track, from 1968 to 1962 was publication advisor, and in 1968-69 he was a guest lecturer for Michigan State University.

Receiving his bachelor of science degree from Wayne State University in 1955, he was awarded a master's degree in education from the same institution the following year. He received a humanities degree from Columbia University in 1964, and in 1969 received his doctorate from Wayne, majoring in curriculum development.

His doctoral dissertation was on collective bargaining. He assisted Dr. Samuel Brownell negotiate the first collective bargaining agreement in Detroit in 1966, assisted A.V. McCutcheon negotiate in Detroit the following year, and from 1967 to 1969 negotiated teacher and non-teacher contracts in the Huron Valley system.

His professional background has included: Camp director of youth activities, conducting teacher workshops, chairman of a steering committee investigating a House plan concept, past official of the Michigan High School Athletic Association, and member of several professional associations.

He has been affiliated with the Parent-Teacher Association, member of the Redford Township Economic Opportunity Commission (1960), the Jaycees (now an "exhausted roster"), past president of the Huron Valley Human Relations Association, past representative of the Torch Drive, and a member of Kiwanis.

He served in the Air National Guard from 1957 to 1961 and in the Air Force Reserve from 1961 to 1964.

Dr. Kratz becomes the sixth Novi superintendent since the district was consolidated.

First superintendent Dr. William Medlyn served four years until he was replaced by Tom Culbert in 1961. Culbert remained until 1965, and was temporarily replaced by Gerald Hartman, who was named acting superintendent.

Later in 1965, Robert Young of Freeland twice accepted the post and twice rejected it, serving only three weeks on the job before Dale was hired in January, 1966.

Appointment of Dr. Kratz fills Dale's post, but the post of Assistant Superintendent, T. Richard Hendrickson, who resigned recently to accept a superintendent's post this summer in Williamson, is yet unfilled.

While there has been no confirmation by the board, rumors suggest Dale may be considered for the assistant's post.

The salary of the new superintendent has not yet been fixed by the board.

'72-73 Budget Adopted

Although Wixom's 1972-73 budget has been boosted to a new record high, just under $700,000, the operational millage rate was peeled back slightly for the third straight year.

In giving the new budget its unanimous stamp of approval Tuesday night, the city council also fixed the millage rate at 5.7 mills following the public hearing. This rate, explained Mayor Gilbert Willis, represents a one-tenth mill decrease.

Also approved was a 4.4 mill decrease, against the city's sewer debt.

Only one change in the budget was made Tuesday, and no citizens raised any objections or comments about it during the hearing.

Overshadowing the new budget, however, was the disclosure that a government grant for expansion of the city's sewage disposal plant has been approved.

Cost of the project, which Mayor Willis predicted will get underway before June 30, was put at $1 million, with the government picking up 80-percent of the cost.

Because of federal government participation, which has long been sought by Wixom, officials are confident no increase in debt millage will be necessary.

First word of the grant's approval was contained in a letter from State Representative Clifford H. Smart. The letter was read to the council at a special meeting last week Wednesday.

Calling it a "bread and butter" budget, Mayor Willis explained that the decreased operational millage rate was made possible by holding cost increases to a minimum and because of an increased equalized valuation, which was pegged at $59,925,000.

Willis also noted that committed but unused funds from the present year's budget have been recommitted in the new budget, accounting in part for the record-high document.

Last year's budget was approved at just over $625,000. Revised budget estimates, however, anticipate that this figure will climb to more than $655,000 before the end of the fiscal year.

Lone budget change made Tuesday was prompted by a suggestion of Councilman Gunnar Mattia that the outlay for snow removal supplies be increased by $1,000—from $2,500 to $3,500.

Metzler argued that in light of past costs for snow removal, the $2,500 was unrealistic. He noted that citizens had raised "static" over the snow removal outlay.

In voting on this measure, two of the six councilmen voted "no." They were Mrs. Mary Parvu and Councilman Dr. Val Vangieson.

The change means $1,000 is to be transferred from the contingency reserve to the snow removal account.

Questioned by Councilman Parvu, Mayor Willis disclosed that budget plans call for expansion of fire department facilities. He said negotiations for property is underway, but he declined to disclose details or location so as not to jeopardize the transaction.

Major salary increases in the new budget include:

KIDS VERSUS COPS—It'll be Wixom's first annual "Kids versus Cops" softball game tomorrow (Friday) at 4 p.m. behind the Wixom City Hall. Led by Chief George VonBehren and City Attorney Gene Schnelz, Wixom's "finest" will take on a crew of local teenagers in the crucial showdown.

Here David Henry (left) takes an "eagle's claw" victory over Police Investigator Walter Sprenger, while Records Clerk Larry Rourke eyes the proceedings. The game is part of the city's Hospitality Day festivities in its week-long celebration of Michigan Week.

AN AUCTION can be one of the greatest ways possible to raise money for a cause. That, at least, was the experience of Base Line Quarters antiques society Monday which held a silent auction among the membership to benefit Northville Historical Society.

Each member had donated an antique, and in a matter of minutes a pair of amethyst curtain backs, a ribbon-patterned cruet, a pair of Nippon salt dips, a pressed goblet and other donations had brought about $85 to be added to $50 in the treasury to equal a $135 gift for the Millrace restoration project.

As Mrs. Fred Wagoner, meeting hostess, explained, each member wrote her bid for any item she wanted and placed it under the antique. High bidder, of course, won.

It also was the chapter's annual meeting and election. Mrs. Edwin Langtry was named to a second term as president. Other officers are Mrs. George A. Spencer, first vice-president; Mrs. R.D. Willoughby, second; Mrs. Charles Brosius, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Wagoner, recording secretary; Mrs. George Miller, treasurer; Mrs. Paul Beard, historian.

Mrs. Beard reported on the national convention in Indianapolis, and Mrs. Leonard Klein on the state. The state fall meeting is to be held in Waldenwoods in Hartland.

A MEMORABLE graduation present was the trip Northville Valedictorian Reese Lenheiser and his parents, the Dean H. Lenheisers, took to Germany, Austria and Switzerland. They returned last week after touring Zurich, Salzburg, Lucerne, Munich and the tiny principality of Liechtenstein between Austria and Switzerland.

One of the trip highlights, Mrs. Lenheiser recounts, was taking a cog train to a mountain top restaurant in the Alps. The 10-day trip was with the Michigan Catholic Cultural Society.

A real "plus," she adds, was son Reese's ability with the German language. A four-year language student in Northville High, he found his German very well understood.

Exciting, but not so pleasant, was the jolt he received when his umbrella was struck by lightning in an Alpine thunderstorm.

THREE AWARDS were garnered by the Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association at the Michigan Division 46th annual meeting May 18 at Oakland Hills Country Club.

A second place award was given Northville branch for its education work for achievements in 1971 in competition with other clubs in its size category. Third place awards were received for conservation and horticultural therapy achievements.

Mrs. William Switzler, immediate past president of the Northville branch, attended.

TOWN HALL tickets for the 1972-73 series are going "extremely well" with about 250 already sold, Mrs. Jack Doherty, TH chairman, reports. She adds that there is a small confusion about reservations for the celebrity luncheon at Farmington Holiday Inn, which follow each of the four lectures. Luncheon reservations are $4 a luncheon now, or $16 for the season.

Mrs. Richard Booms, luncheon chairman, says that luncheon reservations may be made by including the amount with the request for the town hall ticket. Town Hall season tickets are $12. Requests should be sent to Northville Town Hall, Box 93, Northville, 48167.

SUSAN ALTMAN

Susan Altman Is Graduate

Letter From Paris

Former Staffer Studies in Europe

Editor's Note: A former member of The Northville Record summer editorial staff, Prudence Hart, has been studying in Paris following her graduation from Bradley University last June. She has written the following letter to the staff as her year in France comes to a close. Obviously, she has fallen under the spell of Paris.

What I should like to do is find temporary work in Paris this summer, save enough to travel around a bit before returning to the U.S. this fall. If I do not find work, I shall return much sooner.

Living in Paris has been quite an experience, rather hard to describe. I really don't feel any older or wiser, rather I've just discovered more questions. The life here, among foreigners, anyway, is very gay and slightly uncertain. Everyone is always arranging to meet in a cafe or for dinner and every hour offers such a wide choice of lectures, concerts, shows.

Unlike some cities Paris never closes down. At every hour, even on Sundays, there are places to go and things to do.

I've been about 10 times to the ballet (saw the Ballet au Bolshoi last week) and to many concerts. Jazz seems to be particularly popular over here. It seems to have replaced rock as THE sound among the students.

The theater is a little more difficult to get into because it requires such fluent knowledge of French, but we keep trying, and we've discovered opera. Two of my best friends are art majors, and we've been to so many, almost too many, art museums. I've particularly come to enjoy Wassily Kandinsky and the Blue Rider school, and of course there was Michelangelo's David.

Profiting from a Eurorail pass I had last fall I have managed to take quite a bit of traveling on weekends and during vacations. So far I have traveled to Zurich, Geneva, Munich, Vienna, Madrid and Brussels. I've traveled all over Holland and seen most of France, except the Riviera.

A real treat was at Easter when I toured Italy for two weeks with eight other girls. We visited Venice, Florence, Sorrento and Rome, and all liked Sorrento the best.

An old man on the Isle of Capri, as our guide, took us around the island and to dinner. Later we learned that he is deeply involved with the Mafia, strongly suspected of killing his brother.

I plan to visit the British Isles this summer. Meeting other people has been by far the most interesting and challenging aspect of the past year. Since most of my classes are with other foreigners, I have found it very difficult to meet the French, and note that every other foreigner I know has had the same problem.

The French just aren't terribly anxious to meet foreigners but, none the less, I have a few French friends and especially the Sorbonne. As I said before, life is very gay and a little uncertain. So many people come for a few months and leave suddenly.

Quite often I will see someone several days in a row, and not again for several months. As the campus is spread across the city, there seems to be less of a student quarter, more of a student aspect to every faction. For one thing student representatives are elected to many branches of municipal government and the national political parties take a very active interest in student politics.

Many students are very political and big rallies are frequent. Often they protest a conglomeration of things all together. For instance, they recently went to one rally protesting the low wages of university restaurant employees, the holding of several Algerian political prisoners and the U.S. imperialism in Vietnam, simultaneously! I have not yet heard anything favorable about the U.S. in Southeast Asia, even from the south Vietnamese.

Several people, though, mostly students, have said that the rest of the world is eagerly awaiting the American youth of today because we are the first generation that has refused to fight. Of course, most of my friends come from the university—

There is so much more to tell I find it impossible to cram into one letter. I hope to see you again, soon.

Sincerely,
 Pru

Crupi-Reynders Vows Repeated

Jo Ann Crupi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crupi, 4529 Galway Drive, became the bride of David A. Reynders in a double ring ceremony at noon last Saturday, May 20, at Our Lady of Victory Church.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Reynders, 4920 Ridge Court. Father John Wyskiel officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, who is mayor of Novi. She wore an ivory satin-faced gown of green gown with Alencon lace yoke and cuffs and bishop sleeves. A deep plume of matching lace bordered the skirt and full, chapel train.

A camelot cap held her cathedral-length mantilla of the same lace. She carried a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses and a white orchid.

The bridegroom's mother chose a long gown of turquoise chiffon with an empire bodice of lace. Her corsage was of pink roses.

A buffet dinner reception was held at Bonnie Brook Country Club for 150 guests. Music and dancing followed.

After a wedding trip through Kentucky, Virginia and the Carolinas, the newlyweds will make their home in Rochester.

Business Women Install Slate

Northville Business and Professional Women's Club embarked upon its silver anniversary year as it installed officers for 1972-73 at a dinner meeting Monday at the Hillside Inn.

Mrs. Marlene Danol began her second term as president. Other officers installed in the ceremony conducted by Mrs. Myra Roose, District Nine Director, were Mrs. Dorothy Guido, vice-president; Mrs. Simone Sandrock, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Virginia Plunkett, recording secretary; and Mrs. Doreen Jud, treasurer.

Mrs. Inga Allen, immediate past president of the Northville club, was in charge of the meeting.

Mrs. Sandrock, scholarship committee chairman, reported that the committee had selected the recipient of the 1972 Womanhood Award, which is accompanied by a check for $150. It will be presented to a Northville High School senior girl at the annual awards banquet May 31 at the school.

Seven members of the club planted flowers in the new redwood planters at Main and Center streets and also in the planter at the entrance to the city parking lot on West Main (across from the planters) last Saturday, Michigan Week Civic Pride Day.

The club chose yellow marigolds and ageratum to carry out the slate colors of blue and gold.

Seven members of the Northville BPW were among the nearly 800 women attending the 54th annual convention of the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women held in Grand Rapids this month. They saw Mrs. Phyllis Clark of Alma, a corporate accountant, accept the gavel as state president.

Involvement in all phases of activities for and about women is part of the club's program. Elevating the standards of women and service to communities and the nation are state aims.

Attending the convention, which included talks by Kentucky stateswomen Katherine Peden and television's Lou Gordon, were Mrs. Danol, Mrs. Mildred Cucchetti, Mrs. Judd, Mrs. Marian Kelllogg, Mrs. Plunkett, Mrs. Hazel Starr and Mrs. Grace Reed.

A meeting to give more information on school busing will be held by the Mariners, a new couples club at Northville First Presbyterian Church, at 8 p.m. today, May 25, at Northville Church. It is open to anyone interested.

Raymond Spear, Northville superintendent of schools, will supply background but later has no stand on the issue. The Reverend Larry Glenn, of Broad Presbyterian Church, an inner city Detroit church, will give his viewpoint.

Mrs. Robert S. Frellick of the Mariners explains that most couples in the group have children who would be involved in busing so that the Mariners planned the meeting to learn more about it.

New Warden Favors State Merger

"Not making people any worse when they leave here than when they came may very well be an accomplishment."

Those are the words of John M. Amberger, new superintendent at Detroit House of Correction (DeHoCo), expressing one of his goals for the prison.

"I will measure the success of my philosophies by the fewer number of people who come back here," the 41-year-old Amberger commented.

Amberger was appointed to the superintendent's post "It's really a euphemism for warden" April 25 by Detroit Mayor Roman Gribbs. He succeeds William Bannan who died in February at the age of 72.

Heading the facility, located on Five Mile Road in Northville and Plymouth townships, is the first time Amberger has had an opportunity to work in a correctional institution.

A graduate of Wayne State

University, Amberger has a degree in psychology and is a masters degree candidate in public administration at the university.

He has worked as a caseworker, probation officer, supervised and trained workers in both fields and served as a correctional planning specialist for Region One Criminal Justice Planning Agency in Detroit.

From March 1970 until his appointment to DeHoCo, Amberger served as executive assistant to Mayor Gribbs and a liaison to the health and social service departments.

He believes that with his background he brings to the job a "thorough knowledge of the city system. I know where to go for what and that's essential in getting things done."

Amberger said he hopes to develop a "better linkage between society and the prison. The systems in the city should be hooked in here so DeHoCo can serve as a half-way house.

"When the inmates are released, they should know who they can turn to for help," he commented. "The groups, organizations and people should be working here with the inmates, preparing them for re-entry into society or they'll end up back here as soon as they get out."

After inmates complete training programs at

School Supports Voc-Tech Millage

School board trustees voted unanimously to support a one-mill request to establish four Wayne County vocational-technical area centers.

The question will appear on the June 12 ballot along with four local issues:

- continuing hike in operational millage;
- $750,000 bond issue;
- filling two four-year term seats; and
- filling one two-year seat.

If approved by 34 school districts in the county (Detroit and Livonia have asked to be excluded from participation in the vocational centers), the mill would raise an estimated $6.5 million yearly.

Donald Levenez, occupational education director for the Wayne County Intermediate School District, told board members Monday night that the millage would be used for the first three years to pay for construction of the four centers and then used to operate the centers.

He explained that 20 percent of Northville's juniors and seniors would be eligible

Annexation Petitions OK'd

Petitions for the annexation of the township to the City of Northville have been validated and a spokesman for the Michigan Boundary Commission disclosed last week.

That means, it was explained, a sufficient number of valid signatures of city and township residents were present on the petitions to properly bring the matter before the commission.

Next step in the annexation procedure, the Lansing office said, will be to hold a non-public hearing on legal sufficiency—a meeting of the commissioners to formally review the validated petitions and examine the accompanying map of the area in question.

Date of this hearing has not yet been set.

Subsequently, the commission will formally call for a public hearing on the annexation request. Latest this hearing can be held, under the law, is 180 days from the date the petitions were filed (March 6). The latest date, therefore, is the first week of September.

Sitting at the public hearing will be the three Michigan boundary commissioners and two boundary commissioners representing Wayne County.

In the case of Northville, where the city extends into two counties (Wayne and Oakland), the two boundary commissioners from the largest area in question (township) sit—hence the Wayne Commission in this case and not the Oakland commissioners, it was explained.

'Free Our Prisoners' Parade Set Monday

"Free Our Prisoners of War" is the theme of the 1972 Memorial Day observance in Northville.

The community's 104th consecutive Memorial Day observance being held Monday, May 29, will begin with a parade at 10 a.m. under the direction of Northville VFW Post 4012, which alternates in making arrangements each year with Lloyd H. Green American Legion Post 147.

VFW Parade Marshal Jerry Rotta announces that the parade will include traditional wreath-laying ceremonies at Oakwood (Cady Street) and Rural Hill cemeteries as well as an address at Rural Hill by VFW Past Commander of the Fourth District Ernie Stratyckuk.

Theme of the principal address will be freeing the POWs.

A colorful feature of this year's parade will be the appearance of the Detroit Naval Reserve color guard and detachment of 40 marchers from the Brohead Naval Armory.

Prayers will be given by The Reverend Lloyd Brasure of Northville First Presbyterian Church and the Reverend Father John Wittstock of Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church.

Following the district commander's address the parade groups will return to Northville Downs parking lot where all young people participating will be given ice cream bars, courtesy of John Carlo of the Downs.

The junior unit organized just two months ago, met charter requirements of 10 members and now has about 15, according to Rotta.

The parade is to assemble at 9 a.m. Monday in the Northville Downs parking lot. It will repeat last year's route, going up Church Street to Main Street. Marchers will proceed west on Main to Wing, going south to Cady Street, stopping at Oakwood Cemetery.

Aftermath of Fire

They Ponder Future

The shock of the fire that destroyed their laundry and dry cleaning business remains with Harvey and Richard (Skip) Ritchie a week later as they ponder their future in business.

Only the walls and a boiler room at the 331 North Center street Northville Laundry building remain following the 1:30 a.m. fire Wednesday, May 17.

Completely destroyed was an estimated $100,000 in equipment and customer laundry and dry cleaning.

The Ritchie brothers are undecided about the future. They seem certain that they'll never enter the family laundry business again. "Maybe shirts and dry cleaning," they echo.

A lot depends upon damage to the building itself and how much it might cost to restore the facility.

(See "Speaking for The Record," page 14-A).

Meanwhile, the two brothers are turning their attention to settling the immediate problem of cleaning up after the fire.

They point out that all the winter clothes storage orders are safely stored elsewhere.

Some of the dry cleaning—those orders slated for delivery on Wednesday through Saturday of last week—was cleaned in Plymouth and has been taken to Bloom Insurance Agency, 108 West Main street, where it may be claimed by customers.

All the family laundry and shirts done completely at Northville Laundry were lost in the fire.

Legally speaking, there's no obligation on a service business to make compensation for customers' items lost through fire, so long as negligence isn't involved, the Ritchies explain.

"But we feel very badly about the thousands of items destroyed and we want to do whatever we can to assist customers in recovering their losses," Harvey stated.

They advise all customers to file their claims for lost clothing with their homeowners' insurance agent. If there are customers who do not have insurance on their possessions, they can file a claim directly with Northville Laundry (see advertisement, page 7-A).

The fire also means the loss of employment for 15 employees, another concern of the Ritchies. "We've told them to file for unemployment. We don't know what we'll do about the business," they added.

Cause of the fire is still undetermined. But the fire marshal's report indicates that it was started at the rear of the building, in the double garage, where two new delivery trucks were housed.

The report also states that "the fire was not accidental."

Ironically, Harvey followed fire trucks called from Plymouth to the fire, not knowing they were going to his building. He has been out of town for the evening and was returning home.

Both brothers noted that pictures appearing in The Record, which showed one of the garage doors open.

"We had closed at 6 p.m. and everything was locked up. Someone would have had to open the electronically controlled door from the inside, unless the fire caused a short, or something, and the door came open because of the flames," Harvey pointed out.

"It's hard to understand how a fire would start in the garage seven hours after we'd left the building added Skip.

The Northville Laundry building was constructed in 1934 by the Fred brothers,

Amerman Honored

As part of Amerman Elementary's Michigan Week activities, the school observed Tuesday as Amerman Day.

Guests at a luncheon and assembly included Mr. and Mrs. Russell H. Amerman. The school was named for Amerman, long time Northville school superintendent.

Honored at the assembly were nearly 90 mothers who worked regularly as classroom and library volunteers each week. Principal William Craft said.

Lighting is important both for comfort and for decorative effect. First, check your rooms to see if the lighting is adequate in every reading chair provided with its lamp? Are there lights near beds, and is lighting easily accessible from every doorway? Are the lights in your cellar workable, adequate? Do your larger closets have adequate lighting? First discover where the needs are for lighting in your home; then let your decorator's instinct go wild!

KEEN Urges Board

Don't Cut Activities

Co-chairmen for Northville's KEEN committee appeared before school board members Monday night, seeking assurance that the board would not "zero in on one group of activities to make the cuts."

William Fuertges, a group of interested citizens, petitioned the board to place a one-mill question on the ballot in June.

"Extra-curricular activities are a criteria for acceptance at many schools," Cook commented, "and I want to be sure the desires of the people working on the millage are coming across to you (board members) loud and clear."

Cook pointed out that if the millage fails he hoped the board would not cut out all activities without making cuts in other areas.

Trustee Glenn Deibert lashed out at Cook, asking, "Why aren't you more adamant about the (sixth hour)? You've already told us you have no faith in our proposed cuts."

Extra-curricular activities, sixth hour at high school, food service, transportation program and second assistant principal at the high school have been threatened by the defeat of millage in April.

Trustee Glenn Deibert lashed out at Cook, asking, "Why aren't you more adamant about the (sixth hour)? You've already told us you have no faith in our proposed cuts."

Extra-curricular activities, sixth hour at high school, food service, transportation program and second assistant principal at the high school have been threatened by the defeat of millage in April.

The KEEN committee, a group of interested citizens, petitioned the board to place a one-mill question on the ballot in June.

"Extra-curricular activities are a criteria for acceptance at many schools," Cook commented, "and I want to be sure the desires of the people working on the millage are coming across to you (board members) loud and clear."

Cook pointed out that if the millage fails he hoped the board would not cut out all activities without making cuts in other areas.

Charges of driving under the influence of liquor and resisting arrest have been brought against a 48-year old Novi man — Jack Sterling Lambath, Senior, of 41089 Malott Drive. Lambath was arrested by police Thursday, May 18, on charges of drunk driving. He was taken to the Novi police station where he consented to take a breathalyzer test, police reported. Just before the test was to be administered, however, Lambath attempted to leave the station and walked into the arms of Corporal Frank Barabas. Lambath started fighting and was subdued by Barabas and Officer Gerald Burnham after considerable damage had been done to the Detective Bureau trailer. He was handcuffed and taken to the Oakland County Jail.

Eye Sports Stadium
Novi could well become the indoor sports capital of Michigan if the present rate of development continues. The city council heard requests from three developers Tuesday in regard to the establishment of a bowling alley, an ice rink, and a roller skating rink. In each case, however, direct action on the request was stalled pending further investigation. Plans to build a bowling alley-restaurant complex are being discussed by J. Robert Langon. If completed, the complex would be on the northwest corner of Novi Road and Grand River, surrounding Dave's Hamburger stand. Langon would like to build a bowling alley, an ice rink, and a roller skating rink. In each case, however, direct action on the request was stalled pending further investigation. Plans to build a bowling alley-restaurant complex are being discussed by J. Robert Langon.

SIGNAL INSTALLED—After more than a two-year wait, a traffic signal was installed at Seven Mile and Northville roads Friday. The signal, temporarily only blinking a yellow caution, will become a conventional green-red light once motorists are accustomed to its location. Spearheading the light's erection was a Northville Township citizen, V. E. Clement, 1541 Jamestown, who fired off numerous letters and telephone calls to the county road commissioner before receiving assurance from Commissioner Philip Neudick that a light would be installed.

Swimming Dates Revealed

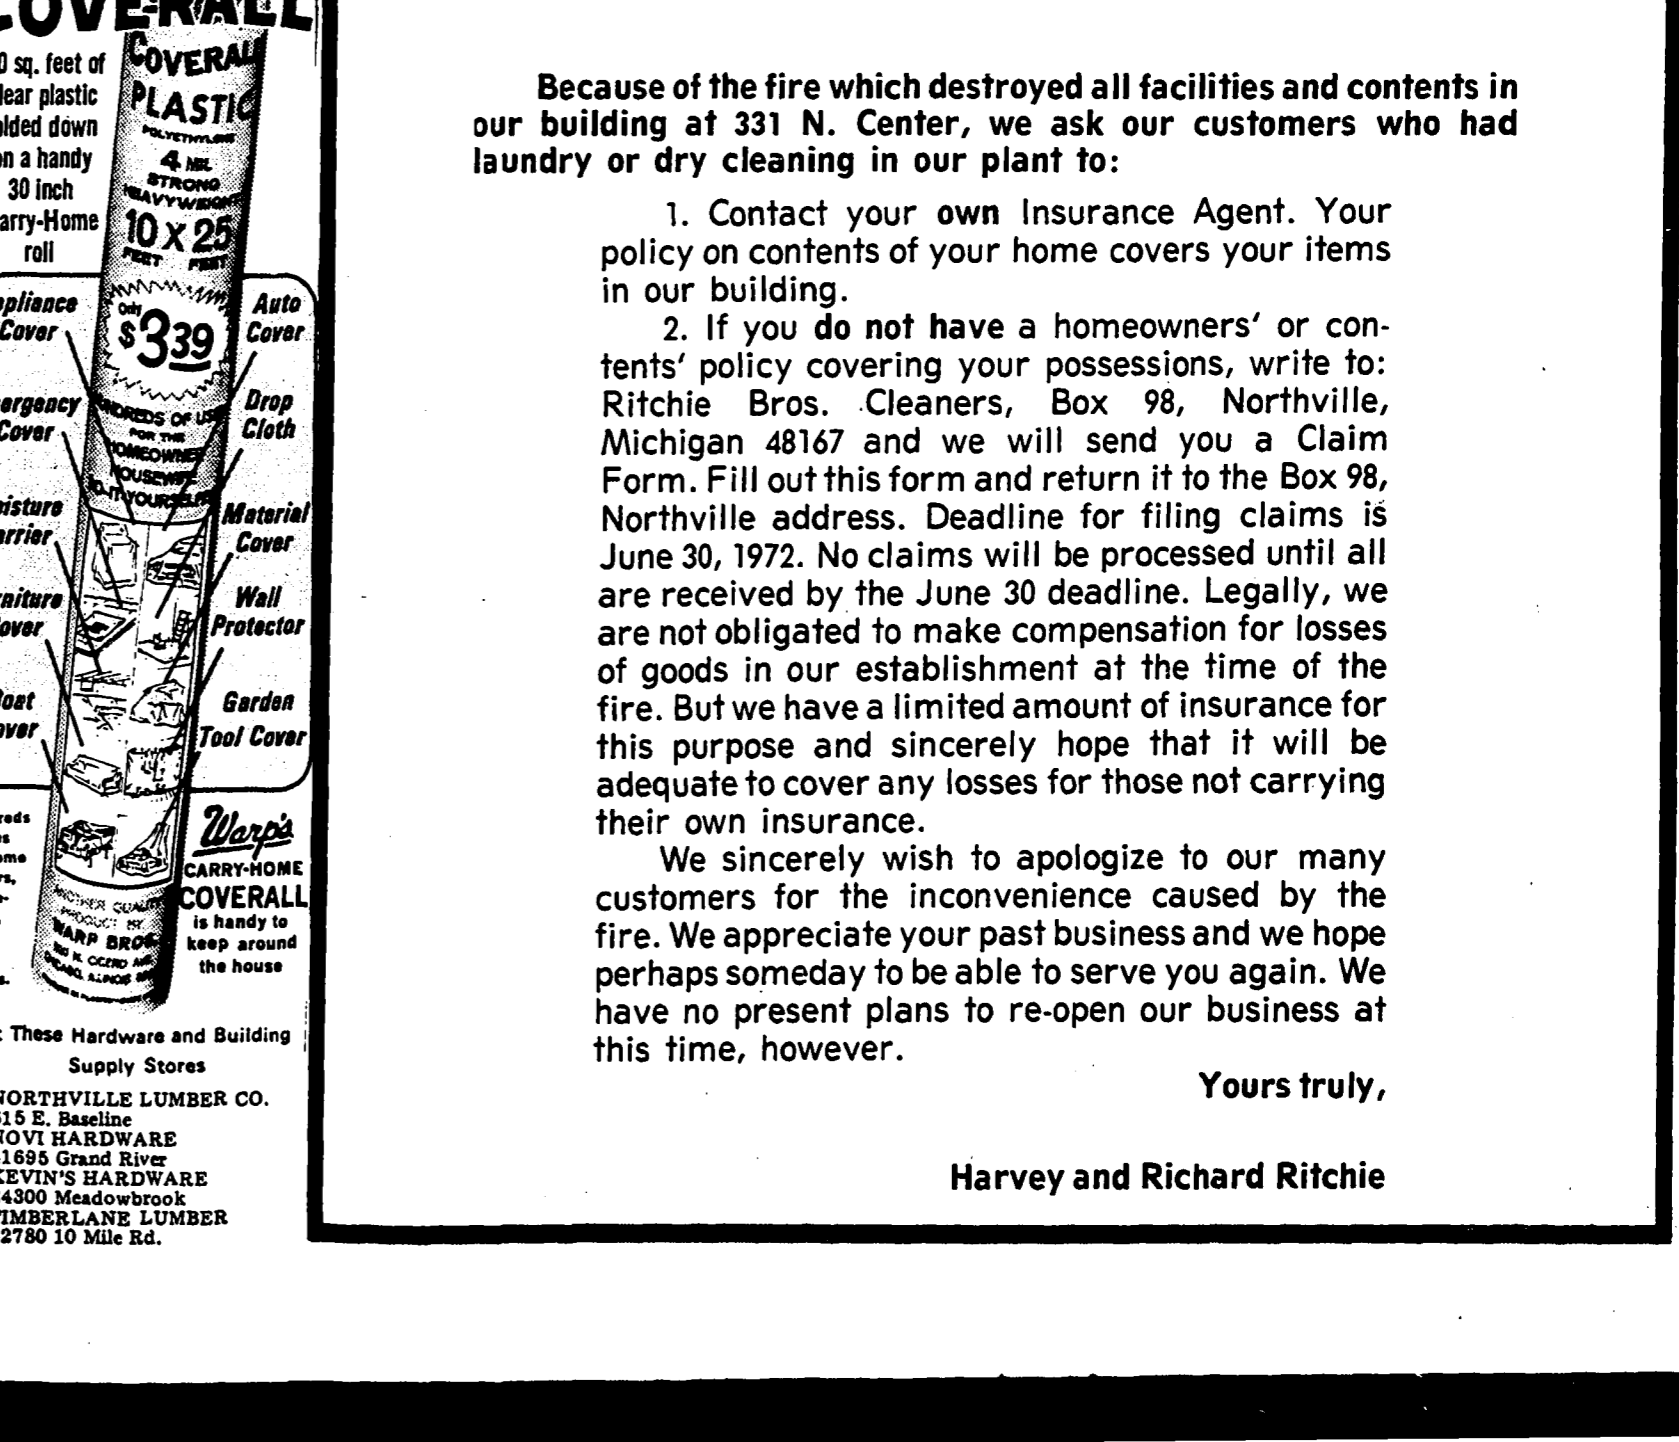

Northville High swimming pool will begin its summer schedule of lessons and open swimming Monday, June 19. Monday through Friday, swimming lessons, sponsored by the Recreation Department, will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. Open swimming times are 3 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays and 1 to 5 p.m. Saturdays. Charges will be made of 65 cents for students and $1 for adults. The schedule will be in effect through Saturday, August 19. School officials remind swimmers that all girls must wear bathing caps and everyone must bring his own suit and towel. Children under eight years of age must be accompanied by an adult. Persons using the pool are asked to use the side door of the high school when entering and leaving the building. The door is located between the music and physical education departments, just off the west side of the parking lot.

A NORTHVILLE WELCOME—Mrs. Jay Allen, wife of the Oxford Village president, has her corsage adjusted by Northville's Michigan Week Chairman Mrs. Donald Ware while Mrs. Leland Lamb, wife of an Oxford councilman, watches. Both received orchids from Mrs. Ware as part of the annual Mayor Exchange Day festivities Monday.

From Oxford and Northville Cities Welcome Allens

Northville gained a President Jay L. Allen Monday while Mayor A. M. Allen went to Oxford in the annual exchange on Mayor's Day of Michigan Week. Accompanying Oxford's President Allen to Northville were his wife and Councilman and Mrs. Leland Lamb. The guests were welcomed here by City Manager Frank Ollendorff and Michigan Week Chairman Mrs. Donald Ware and her husband. Other official hosts were Councilman Paul Polino, Kenneth Rathner and David Biery and their wives.

Mrs. Ware assumed chairmanship of Northville's Michigan Week for the second consecutive year. It opened officially last Saturday as organizations enlisted members to pick up trash, plant flowers and sweep the streets on Civic Pride Day. New planter boxes at Main and Center streets and at the parking lot across the street were planted by members of the Northville Business and Professional Women's Club. Mothers' Club members collected trash on Griswold Street to Eight Mile. Scouts and other volunteers helped clean the streets, which were washed down by volunteer firemen.

While Oxford officials came from the Oakland County community located about 10 miles north of Pontiac, Northville's Mayor Allen was accompanied here by Councilman Paul Vernon and two Northville students, Robin Couss and Bruce Maher. After participating in a flag-raising at the city hall at 9:30 a.m. Monday, the guests were invited to have coffee at the senior citizens' Kerr House. Northville Jaycees under Mrs. Peter Lindholm were hostesses at the coffee. Mrs. Russell Anger and Mrs. Ross

Totten assisted. Historical society plans for the Millrace Restoration were explained by Mrs. Milton Koenig while Mrs. Beatrice Carlson told of the beautification commission's work. Mrs. Richard Sharon, senior citizens' president took the guests on a tour of Kerr House. A noon luncheon was hosted at Northville Presbyterian Church by Northville Rotary. Walter R. Greene, chief executive assistant to Detroit Mayor Roman Gribbs, was the guest speaker. His address described the effect Detroit's problems is having on suburban communities. A final taste of Northville hospitality was given Oxford visitors Monday afternoon at the home of Michigan Week Chairman Mrs. Ware and her husband. Councilmen's wives had helped prepare a sherbet punch and fancy cakes and cookies for the group who toured the Ware garden and then rested before returning to Oxford. For Mrs. Allen it was a day away from school. She is a fifth grade teacher in Oxford. The Allens have one daughter, now in kindergarten. Mrs. Allen agreed that she and her husband are among the youngest community officials in the state. When her husband first was elected in 1966, he was the state's youngest, she said. The visitors had toured Northville Downs, Northville

Sprucing up Northville for Michigan Week Festivities

Mayor's Aide Says

Suburbs Have Stake in Detroit

Suburban communities and their citizens have a stake in the welfare of Detroit, emphasized Walter R. Greene, executive assistant to Mayor Roman Gribbs, during a Michigan Week address here Monday. On the subject of education, Greene, a black leader in his community, asserted that given a good educational system Detroit citizens would have no desire to have their children bused elsewhere. And during the question and answer period, Greene hit hard at what he termed is the injustice of the property tax while supporting the thesis that education should be state controlled to guarantee equal opportunity. The financial plight of the big city, he explained, is compounded by the fact that the bulk of the central city's population is made up of those people who are least able to pay this mounting cost. Combined with the fact that urban renewal, for highways, playgrounds, hospitals, etc., has removed some 35-percent of the property from the taxrolls makes the task of Detroit unbearable without outside financial help. Much of the central city's population, he explained, consists of immigrants from other states where, because of inadequate opportunity, citizens were forced to look elsewhere for a chance to get ahead. Detroit and other big cities, therefore, are faced with the education, jobs and services that some states have failed to do, he suggested. Providing adequate housing alone in such a monumental job that no single mayor could solve the problem during his tenure of office—even if he had the means to do so, said Greene. Despite his plea for assistance and his bleak picture of Detroit's current financial plight, Greene nevertheless stressed that it is "silly" to conclude that Detroit is dying. The big city will survive, he asserted, but its passage through this particularly troublesome period can be eased by outside (state and federal) help.

At Highland Lakes New Model Opened

"LAVISH"—That's the way Deora for Doris Anderson describes the new housing model in Levitt's giant Highland Lakes development.

Levitt and Sons has opened a new town house model, The Canterbury, at Highland Lakes, a 450-acre site in Northville Township which the company is converting from a cratered gravel mine into a $50 million lakefront community of town houses and homes.

The Canterbury is a two-story "village home" with two bedrooms and one and a half baths, which has been decorated by Doris Anderson, AIA, well-known west coast designer.

She calls the lavishly decorated model "the answer to the young family and the young in heart."

A gambrel roof reaches down to meet the all brick front of the Canterbury, and entrance is into a large living room designed with many feet of uninterupted wall space for a variety of furniture arrangements.

There is a powder room on the first floor and the combination family room and dining room stretches across the rear of the entire home, with an insulated sliding glass door-wall looking out into the patio area.

The kitchen of the Canterbury has decorated wood cabinets and a pantry with generous storage space. In the kitchen area, a color coordinated refrigerator-freezer, oven and range with hood, waste disposal and stainless steel sink.

Upstairs are two large bedrooms with huge closet space, a bath with vanity and ceramic tile floor and tub area.

Also included are individually controlled air conditioning and heat, shag carpeting, a full basement with laundry tub and ample room for planning a recreation room. The Canterbury is priced at $27,500.

"At that time their efforts and contributions of time and money were the sole source for the continuation of the library. We hope that many of the members of that group will team together with newer residents to give us an active, vital organization."

A "Friends of the Library" group has no specific functions other than bettering the library. Mrs. Alcala pointed out Members do anything and everything from promoting legislation and financing building programs to planting shrubs and making general repairs.

The campaign to reestablish the group is taking the form of soliciting support through the distribution of flyers in the Homeowner's Association.

Any one interested in joining the group should contact Mrs. Alcala at 624-1088.

"Our library is presently circulating more than 25,000 books per year," Mrs. Alcala added. "I think it's important to see the library grows along with the community."

'Friends' to Reform

Currently underway in the effort to reactivate an organization known as the "Friends of the Library," spearheaded by Mrs. Peter

Alcala with the full concurrence of Novi Library Board Chairman Philip Canale, the movement has as its goal the formation of a group of interested citizens who would promote and improve the present library facilities.

"Back before the days of middle there was an active 'Friends of the Library' chapter," Mrs. Alcala recalls.

"At that time their efforts and contributions of time and money were the sole source for the continuation of the library. We hope that many of the members of that group will team together with newer residents to give us an active, vital organization."

A "Friends of the Library" group has no specific functions other than bettering the library. Mrs. Alcala pointed out Members do anything and everything from promoting legislation and financing building programs to planting shrubs and making general repairs.

The campaign to reestablish the group is taking the form of soliciting support through the distribution of flyers in the Homeowner's Association.

Any one interested in joining the group should contact Mrs. Alcala at 624-1088.

"Our library is presently circulating more than 25,000 books per year," Mrs. Alcala added. "I think it's important to see the library grows along with the community."

Foreign Study Topic Tonight

Northville High's International Club will sponsor an introductory session at the high school tonight (Thursday) beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting will introduce families to the possibility of serving as hosts to foreign students and programs for sending American students abroad.

"As a general goal," Temple noted, "the International Club hopes Northville can send at least one student abroad each year and provide two host families for exchange students."

planned, "is so each may learn about family, school and community activities of each through participation."

Student exchange programs are handled through Youth For Understanding, a youth group which has been approved by the United States Department of State.

The Laughs Died in Flames for the Ritchie Brothers

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

I've never known a time, regardless of how tough business was going, when I couldn't get a lift and renewed energy simply by talking for a few minutes with the Ritchie brothers.

Maybe it was because we shared similar problems—always another piece of equipment to buy to do the job better; always another loan at the bank.

But mostly, I think, it was because of their sense of humor. They could always joke about a situation, regardless of its gravity.

And last week, barely 36 weeks after they had watched 23 years of effort disappear in the flames of an early morning fire that destroyed everything but the walls of Northville Laundry and Ritchie Bros. Cleaners, the droll humor remained.

"What now?" I asked them.

"Personally, I'd jump at an offer of a 40-hour-per-week job," mumbled Harvey.

"What would we do with the extra 30 hours of time on our hands?" responded Skip.

There has probably never been a time in the business careers of Harvey and Skip that they have felt real security. They've been builders. First it was laundromats with a dozen or more automatic washers. Then shirts, more washers, semi-automatic shirt-pressing units, then the family laundry business, then bigger washers, a compressor, a boiler, rolling laundry carts, garment conveyers, delivery trucks, dryers.

It seemed they had turned the corner with their new family laundry business. They bought the old Northville Laundry five years ago and replaced practically every piece of equipment in the 5,000-square-foot building.

Two days before the fire Harv worked most of Sunday hooking up a new washer. They used it for the first time Tuesday, their last day of business.

What with all the colored shirts these days, they needed another washer.

And they figured by November, if business kept going at its present pace, they could breathe a little easier, maybe take a little money out of the business.

"We've never paid ourselves a decent wage. Honestly, I've had it with the struggle," said Harv.

Then—"maybe the shirt and dry cleaning business, but never the family laundry."

Their insurance will probably pay off their debt on equipment and maybe restore the building, if the walls are still sound.

They feel worse about all the laundry and dry cleaning lost in the blaze. Legally, there's no obligation for a service business to make compensation for such losses. They're covered by the customer's homeowner's policy.

But the Ritchie Brothers know that among their hundreds of customers there are some without insurance. And for that reason they have always carried protection for such circumstances. It may be enough. They hope so.

But to start again from scratch—with experience as the only difference between their beginning 23 years ago and now—is enough to scare even the likeable, good-humored Ritchie brothers.

Their wives, Alice and Ruth, have been a big part of that struggle, too. They've worked in the laundry; they've held other jobs.

Maybe a 40-hour-per-week would be better.

But, personally, I hope Harvey and Skip return to the struggle—even if it's just shirts and dry cleaning.

Maybe Northville's Economic Development Corporation can help them get started again. And there's always Russ Clarke at Manufacturers Bank.

When things get tough in the newspaper business, where can I find two guys with the same problems plus a couple of laughs?

The laughs died in flames for the Ritchie brothers.

Protest...

On May 16 more than 808,000 Michigan voters went to the polls to cast their votes for Wallace. Best estimates would indicate that one third of these votes came from Republicans who will vote for Nixon in November, and two-thirds from Democrats who wished to put their party on notice that the third party candidate of four years ago is now saying things that they want their party's candidate to begin saying. Thus, voters from both parties were primarily registering a protest by voting for Wallace.

The Wallace vote was not simply a protest against court-ordered bussing but runs far deeper than that. It was the protest of ordinary citizens who feel that they have been sold out by the ultra-liberal leadership of the organizations and groups which have traditionally supported and which, up to now, have always represented them.

Thus teachers throughout the state, angered and dismayed by what they perceive as a pro-bussing stand by the Michigan Education Association leadership, found a way to protest by voting for the anti-bussing candidate. Similarly, PTA members, learning that the anti-bussing resolution passed at their state convention had later been reconsidered and tabled through parliamentary maneuvering by their state board, protested by voting for Wallace. Most significant of all, thousands of rank and file workers ignored the pleas of union leaders and registered their protest by voting for Wallace too.

Bussing, high taxes, self-serving government bureaucracy. Throughout the state voters took up the call to "Send them a message." The message was not just for the administration in Washington, but for leaders of groups everywhere who have abandoned the very people whose interests they are supposed to represent.

R. Robert Geake
Northville GOP Leader

Speaking for Myself

The Wallace Vote

Bona Fide...

With the recent presidential victories of George C. Wallace, political leaders of both major parties are rushing to explain and assure their erstwhile followers that it was merely a protest vote. In their manic-stricken state of mind, Wallace's adversaries have the unmitigated audacity to proffer that the Michigan electorate voted out of sympathy, notwithstanding pre-primary polls to the contrary.

The truth of the matter is that the body-politic is "fed-up" and in mass rebellion. Had George Wallace not voiced the seething uprising on a national scale, someone else would have led the growing dissent against the rapid approach of this nation to a socialist dictatorship via misuse of high office and political hypocrisy.

The people are tired of political promises that are never kept. They are through paying confiscatory taxes that are turned against them with utter disregard for the will of the people. So "fed up" are the American people, voters are deserting life-long party affiliations to cast their ballots for the candidate rather than the party.

The political phenomenon that is George C. Wallace can be attributed to an awakening of the American body-politic to their responsibilities. Governor Wallace has led the way. If the people are denied their "choice" at the Democrat's National Convention, it is not inconceivable that history could repeat itself ala the American Revolution.

It's not enough that they burrowed into the pyramids, plundered their treasures, and carted off the stiffs so that you and I can queue up at museums to gawk at the grisly remains.

Now they want to carve open the bodies, searching for heaven knows what.

"Rest in peace."

It's more like rest in pieces.

If those old potentates had wanted a parade of busybodies snooping around they wouldn't have scribbled curses on the walls of their tombs.

And they wouldn't have had themselves plastered in tar and rags, encased in frightening caskeys and sealed in a labyrinth of stone.

No indeed.

But "civilized" man, exhibiting ghoulish genius, threaded his way through the maze, waltzed past the curses and hacked into the plaster to show us what the dead look like after a few thousand years.

Good ol' King Tut and his royal comrades must have had a good chuckle while back when man discovered, to his utter amazement, that one of the bodies he had been gazing at for years wasn't some rich kid's kid but rather a hairy baboon.

Which brings me to the latest discovery. You may have been following the story. Some of the world's biggest archeologists let it be known that they would enrich mankind's knowledge by slicing open a wrinkled old mummy's stomach.

It was a moment of high drama and excitement. Never before, so the story went, had man peered into a mummy's belly.

Anyway, with the elite of the scientific world gathered around the operating table last week, the surgeon began cutting. And when he was finished, there, inside, was a note.

Yes, an honest-to-goodness note. And on it were scribbled these words: "The sun rose in Cairo at 5:29 a.m. and set at 6:21 a.m."

Written in French and Egyptian, the note was dated April 15, 1903.

Oh, how I would have liked to have seen the expression on those scientists' faces. Not since the allies stormed in to take Berlin only to find that "Kilroy" had already been there has man's ego been so deflated.

I hope the scientists heard the ancient bellylaugh.

Question Year Round, Election

To the Editor:

Northville Residents have rejected the Year-Around School Proposals by a majority vote, but they continue to be supported by the Board of Education. Board members supporting Year-Around School Proposals assume that the honest citizens of Northville will continue to accept manipulation without a struggle.

It is time to send them a message. Year-Around School Programs are actually more expensive than the original estimates. The need to hire additional personnel is one example of added burdens on the taxpayer. Few estimates are given regarding the need for higher salaries of faculty and staff members. They deserve higher pay if they are providing services for a longer period of time.

Year-Around Proposals also lack sufficient research as well. They will eventually result in a lowering of quality education, if programs are not coordinated properly. Voters should crusade against manipulation by government and demand that Year-Around School Proposals be terminated.

Lynn A. VanderMolen
18555 Jamestown Circle

To the Editor:

I do not wish to use the Northville Record as a debate arena but I must comment on the letter from Dr. VanderMolen concerning year-around school. I am curious as to how many meetings Mr. VanderMolen has attended, regarding this new concept. He seems to have a few words when bombarding the Board of Education all those, quote, "publicly hunting propaganda" but I am afraid he has missed the whole point of the Year-Around School Proposal.

We are not forcing the majority of the people to join us. This is to be an experimental program for interested volunteers. It works out well and benefits the children of this area—wonderful! Then maybe the whole state can learn from our experiences. With the population increase in the Northville area, we can not continue forever with an outdated system which is already over crowded and getting more extreme each year.

It amazes me to think Dr. VanderMolen objects to the cost of an ad. in the Record yet thinks nothing of the fact that building many new schools to continue in our present system would put a large bite in everyone's pocketbook. Including retirees and others with no children in school. I have watched our city grow and prosper for 27 years. I feel it only fair to give this program a chance a good try. As you know, Northville rates as one of the highest educational systems in Michigan. Let's progress and keep it that way.

OVER THE HILL—New railroad flashers were installed on southbound Novi Road as a result of a Jaycee traffic safety project. The top set of flashers allows motorists to be warned well in advance of the crossing.

On Novi Road

Jaycees Spur Crossing Sign

New railroad warning lights were installed on Novi Road last week as a result of a Northville Jaycees traffic safety project.

The Jaycees petitioned Michigan Public Service Commission to modernize the existing warning flashers installed in 1930 and labeled "inadequate for current vehicle and train volumes."

Following a public hearing on the matter, the commission ordered the railroad to install new flasher equipment at the crossing.

The new high-level signal, includes top flashers designed to warn southbound Novi Road traffic of the railroad crossing well in advance of the crossing.

"Since the actual crossing is located at the bottom of a steep cut, regular signals were not visible until motorists were quite close to crossing," explained David VanHise, Jaycees traffic safety chairman.

A count in 1970 showed the passage of more than 12,000 vehicles in 24 hours over the intersection. Up to 50 percent of the vehicular traffic was estimated to be commercial and heavy trucks.

Railroad traffic, the report showed, consisted of 12 trains each way daily, at speeds up to 45 miles per hour.

At NBD, it's the same low flat closing fee, no matter what size house you buy

At NBD, we have a closing fee that has nothing to do with the size of your mortgage.

Instead, it's one low flat fee. One low flat fee whether you're buying a $20,000 house. Or a $100,000 house. So you might say, the more your mortgage, the more you save at NBD.

Quite possibly save enough to pay for a new chair. A couple of tables. Perhaps even carpet a room.

And when you get your mortgage from NBD, we'll also give you a good estimate of how much your total cost of closing will be—including our fee, insurance, prepaid taxes, everything.

Which means, at NBD, we'll not only save you money on your closing costs. We'll also save you from any unexpected surprises when you sit down to close.

And those are just two of the reasons more people come to us to finance their new home than to any other bank in town. Come see us.

HINDERED HURDLER—A healthy Pat Boyer would have been all the Wildcats needed to cop second place in the Southeastern Conference championships last week, according to Novi track coach Del Munson. Had the junior thinned been healthy, Munson believes, he would have won the long jump, defended his high jump title, and taken enough points in the two hurdles events to host the Wildcats ten points from sixth to second place.

Boyer Out—Ross Leads Thinclads

Novi's 1972 track season came to a close last week in much the same manner it began two months ago—in frustration. Condemned to an 0-7 record in Southeastern Conference dual meets by injuries to key personnel, lack of an overall sprinter, and an strong shortness of talent, Coach Del Munson, nevertheless, felt his team had a chance to surprise more than a few teams in the Conference championships at South Lyon last Thursday. His reasoning was sound. In large meets, a team with a few stand-out performers has a far better chance than a team with greater depth, but fewer standouts. In Bill Ross and Pat Boyer, Munson felt he might have just enough talent to spring a few upsets.

Chelsea was second with 30; South Lyon third with 29; Lincoln fourth with 24; Milan fifth with 24; Novi sixth with 20; Dundee seventh with 19; and Dexter last with 15. But, fittingly, Boyer was injured. The 6' junior competed only in the long jump and the high jump and did not even enter the high and low hurdle events. "We missed second place by a grain injury," said Munson referring to Boyer's track championship with 78 points. "With Boyer healthy, he'd have won the long jump and the high jump and taken points in both hurdles. Those points would have put us in a far better chance than a team with greater depth, but fewer standouts. In Bill Ross and Pat Boyer, Munson felt he might have just enough talent to spring a few upsets."

Bosak Hurls Shutout For Lone Wildcat Win

Steve Bosak had quite a week for himself. Tuesday the Novi High School senior became the first 18-year old ever to be elected to public office in Novi and Saturday the young politician exhibited skills of quite a different nature as he hurled the Novi baseball team to a decisive 9-0 victory over Detroit Country Day. Unfortunately, Bosak's victories were about the only ones Novi Coach Rick Trudeau could point to after the week's activities. On the whole it was quite a different nature that should just as well be forgotten as far as the Wildcats were concerned. Novi was scheduled to play five games and if it hadn't been for Bosak's whitewashing of Country Day Saturday, they'd have lost every game as if they had been Chelsea, then Willow Run, Saline, and Country Day (in the second half of a double header) recorded victories over the Novi team.

Novi got another outstanding performance in the nightcap as big Bob Pisha made his initial appearance as a starting pitcher. Pisha pitched quite a game, lone recording six hits and striking out seven in the first game. The Wildcats scored twice in the opening frame, as Gary Colton and shortstoping Bob Pisha each roughed up the Country Day pitcher with triples. The two runs were all Bosak's needed, but his teammates scored four more in the third and one in the fifth to give the senior hurler a comfortable margin. Singles by Pisha, Eric Hanson, Duane Miller, and John Pantalone sparked the four-run third inning, while Pantalone scored the final run on a two-out error by the third baseman, a stolen base, and another error by the third sacker. Novi got another outstanding performance in the nightcap as big Bob Pisha made his initial appearance as a starting pitcher. Pisha pitched quite a game, lone recording six hits and striking out seven in the first game.

JVs Slam Saline, But Lose Three

Novi's junior varsity baseball team has just got to learn to pace itself. On Friday Coach Bob Wineburger's Jayvee Wildcats slugged their way to a 2-1 victory over Saline, but the sad truth of the matter is that they could have used a few of those runs far better in their other three games last week, as they dropped two one-run decisions and then were shutout 5-0. Chelsea's 6-5 victory over Novi Thursday set the pace for the week.

Novi's scoring was spread over four different innings. Ron Buck, Mike Riley, Brian Wroten, and Sean O'Neil each collected run-scoring singles for the Jayvees. Saline offered Wineburger's charges little opposition Friday, handing Novi the game 2-1. The Wildcats' offense, meanwhile, was in a scoring affair, and Saline chipped in with 12 walks and 15 errors to aid the cause. Kevin LaFleche, Paul Bosco, and Gary Galey paced the Novi hitters with two hits apiece, while Pat McAllen recorded 10 strikeouts in going the distance in the second inning. Detroit Country Day took a doubleheader from the junior Wildcats Saturday. The first game developed into a tight pitcher's battle between Novi's Eddie Brown and Country Day's Eric Hanson. Country Day scored once in the first, and La Fleche singled to tie the game in the fifth, but the score stayed deadlocked at 1-1 until the eleventh inning when the Detroit school scored on three straight singles to take a 2-1 decision.

The two Wayne County boundary commissioners, who are appointed by the judge of probate, are: Eric Götling of Detroit, an attorney who has been a member for the past 1 1/2 years. William Moshier of Romulus, an attorney who also has served about the same length of time. The public hearing, it was explained, is held in the community involved. Once the commissioners decide the proposal, "One Northville" will meet tonight at 8 p.m. at Northville Downs.

Planners Schedule Hearings on Rezoning

Two more rezoning requests have been scheduled for public hearing within the next two months. At its meeting last week Wednesday, the Northville City Planning Commission approved hearings for these two matters: Rezoning of three lots on North Center Street, south of Lake, from residential to a professional office classification. Rezoning of Councilman Paul Folino's property on South Center Street, south of Cady, from residential to commercial.

The former request is to come up for hearing on June 20—the same date the controversial apartment zoning request on Randolph Street, west of Center, is to be heard. Folino's request is pegged for hearing on Wednesday, July 5, a rescheduled planning commission date because of the July Fourth holiday. The councilman is requesting the zoning change to permit him to relocate his insurance office, now located on Main Street next door to the proposed Northville Square commercial development.

He told planners earlier that he has had an offer from Richard McManus, developer of Northville Square, for purchase of his property on Main Street but that the sale has not been signed. The North Center request was initiated by Denis Roux, who asked that the lot immediately next to one on which he plan to develop professional offices be rezoned. His immediate plans for the additional lot, he explained, is to use it for parking. In reviewing the request, the commission decided, by its own action, to add two DeHoCo, he hopes they will be pre-enrolled in similar training programs in Detroit. "The inmates should be trained for employment opportunities we know exist. I'm very impressed with the potential here at DeHoCo," he said. "It's the best location in Michigan—close to resources. When the Jeffries freeway is completed, DeHoCo will be a half hour from Detroit and that will make the institution more valuable than it is now." Amberger has much praise for the prison's staff of 350 which handles 1,200 inmates. "They've done wonders with a $3-million budget and I'm very impressed."

Amberger said escape problems have been greatest among the women since they are at DeHoCo for stiffer penalties while the men are serving shorter sentences. Amberger said he believes the field of corrections has been neglected but that there is hope. "Most of the Law Enforcement Assistance Association funds have been going to the police and courts. But now people are willing to look at corrections as a way of stopping the crime problem by rehabilitating people." He also hopes to be able to get more community involvement at DeHoCo through person to person counseling. "People have a wish to do relevant things with other people and counseling has proved valuable across the United States." Amberger, his wife, 10-year-old son and 13-year-old daughter currently live in Detroit but plan to move into the house provided at DeHoCo this summer. "The kids are thrilled they'll be able to keep horses," he said. "I'm very excited about the job here, I have had a number of positions, but I'm very much challenged by being head of an organization like this. It's the most important field today."

WILLIAM BROOMFIELD JACK McDONALD McDonald vs. Broomfield

GOP Battle Shaping Up

Five Livingston County municipalities which are included in the new 19th Congressional district won't have to wait long for some hot political infighting. Battle lines for the August primary were drawn last week when Jack McDonald and William S. Broomfield, two incumbent Republicans, announced they will seek the 19th district seat. Currently, McDonald represents the 19th district in Washington, while Broomfield represents the old 18th district. To make the confrontation possible between these popular Republicans, Broomfield moved from Royal Oak to the 19th district, which political pundits predicted he would do. In announcing his candidacy last week in Pontiac, McDonald said he was happy to welcome to the 19th the 22,000 residents of Hardand, Tyrone, Brighton and Green Oak townships and the City of Brighton. All these Livingston County municipalities currently are in the Second Congressional District, which is represented by Marvin Esch, Republican from Ann Arbor. "I trust that as we get to know each other," McDonald continued, "you will call upon me whenever I can be of assistance. I also look forward to learning your views on the critical problems confronting our nation." In moving his residence from Royal Oak to Birmingham, Broomfield said, "I spent the past week consulting with voters, old friends and party leaders throughout the county. Their support and encouragement has helped me to make this decision." McDonald was a Redford Township supervisor before he ran for congress. A member of the House Public Works and Merchant Marine and Fisheries committees, McDonald is seeking his fourth two-year term as congressman from the 19th district. A state senator for two years before winning the congressional seat from the old 18th district, Broomfield is seeking his fifth term in Congress. Currently, he is third ranking minority member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. The new 19th district was created by order of federal Judge Damon Keith when the State Legislature was unable to agree on a reapportionment plan, as required by the 1970 census.

Financial Measure Proposed

"A measure to insure financial stability for the state's school systems" has been proposed by House Republican Leader Clifford Smart of Walled Lake. "With the possibility that property taxes could be ruled unconstitutional or be voted down at the polls the tax anticipation notes presently held by school systems could become worthless, causing a major financial crisis, the lawmaker explained. "Since my original legislation was drafted with financing of school systems as the primary concern, it would be ruled unconstitutional or be voted down at the polls the tax anticipation notes presently held by school systems could become worthless, causing a major financial crisis, the lawmaker explained. Morgan Generates Voltige

Horsing Around's Old Sport

"I hope to show area Morgan people that their horse is a good choice for voltige and dressage, and encourage use of snaffle bits in the process." So says Mrs. Karin Wolski of Marquette Road, Lyon Township. A recognized expert in the relatively little-known sport of voltige, Mrs. Wolski has a background in this "gymnastics on horseback" field that includes training of German cavalry during World War II.

Her remarks support two of her major contentions. "The Morgan is an excellent horse for this type of work. They have good conformation, which is very important, along with gentle dispositions, a smooth gait, quiet nature and coupled back which are essential," according to the veteran trainer and teacher. "If Morgans have a single drawback, it is in their relative lack of height." She has had great success with other breeds, notably Palominos, prior to moving into this area (from Detroit) this past December and "discovering" the Morgan. On the use of bits in training horses, Mrs. Wolski is most emphatic. "You cannot properly train a horse by hurting him," she believes. "If you use a sharp bit, the pain will hinder his attention to the details of training which are all important. A softer bit, such as the snaffle, or no bit at all is to be preferred."

The horse, first, must be trained before riders can be taught the intricate and often complex gymnastic types of movements associated with voltige. Mrs. Wolski says she prefers working with a horse six or more years of age in voltige training, she may begin with a three to 3 1/2 year old horse, "if untouched by prior training attempts", for dressage.

Voltige as Mrs. Wolski explains it, is a sport that dates back to the Cossacks of the present-day Ukraine. "They lived on horseback," she says of the Cossacks, "and they learned to do everything while on horses. It was their ability on horses that led to the eventual popularity of voltige in Western Europe."

She explains that every accredited riding school in Europe teaches voltige and will train competitive teams when their pupils show sufficient skill. Voltige is judged on a 0-10 scale, with 10 perfect. Voltige itself is the performance of various gymnastic maneuvers at various gaits — standing, trot and canter — around a circle. The rider — or riders in double and triple (and quadruple) voltige — mounts, dismounts, and performs such feats as headstands and balancing activities.

The students shown in the accompanying pictures are young learners in the recently established program at the David Battons' arena on Bright's Mile west of Pontiac. As new pupils, they are not schooled in any of the intricate details that go into an exhibition, such as the one Mrs. Wolski's Union Lake pupils will perform in the All-Morgan Show at the Michigan State Fairgrounds in early July.

Letting to properly sit on horseback is the first essential she teaches a new rider. "Sitting is all important," she points out, "if you can't learn to sit properly, I can't teach you voltige." While she does not discourage anyone, Mrs. Wolski does stress that some athletic ability is essential if a student hopes to achieve enough skill to compete. She prefers to start with 10-year old children, and has pupils ranging in age up to about 90. "In Europe, unusually skilled six-year olds are taught voltige, but they prefer 10-16 year olds in their programs," she relates.

GOP Governors in Nixon's Camp

LANSING—The strength of President Nixon's position in the Republican Party this year is perhaps best demonstrated in the ranks of the Republican Governors Conference.

The conference includes his two chief rivals from 1968 days—Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Ronald Reagan of California. Its chairman this year, Governor William G. Milliken, backed another man (Rockefeller) in 1968.

Yet all three are actively backing the President this year. In fact, they are half of a group of six Republican governors designated as surrogate candidates to stand in for Nixon until after the Republican convention in August.

The six are going to be travelling around the country, mainly in their own geographic areas, to keep the Republican faithful moving until Nixon starts working publicly on his re-election after the convention.

My own experience is enough to justify the foregoing statement. It started with my parents in the '40's. They were in collision, if not a conspiracy, with the "friendly" grey-haired man in the white colonial home with the green shutters a few blocks away.

"You will go to the dentist," my dad told me in no uncertain terms at the breakfast table. No back talk from me. I just squirmed uncomfortably, like the man helpless to change his fate, the fact that the appointment was three days away providing at least temporary and definitely illusory relief.

Those three days passed quickly, not unlike a 10,000 pound bomb hurtling toward earth. The explosion of 'D' day arrived and I found myself sitting in the dentist's chair, with all its familiar smells, the quiet swirl of water in a fountain and the paralytic on the chair and the somber becalmed dentist as he peered folicle-close and sternly said, "Wider."

My fingers, foreign appendages now, gripped the chair arms with a will of their own. They, too, knew what was coming. Sweatbeaded on my nose, my feet began to twitch and the operation began. The deadly sound of the drill had begun.

Into my mouth sailed that silver drill, searching out no one of several cavities my dentist announced I had. No novocain was used. The drill growled through my mouth as it was seeking an opening through the top of my back.

It was then and it is now a personal battle between me and the dentist. No way is he going to make me cry "Uncle." While I'm getting psyched up for anything that might be in store, in the back of my mind is a certain envy and a begrudging hatred those who have pearly white teeth devoid of cavities.

Is there any wonder why a person who has gone through the same or similar experience feels a twinge today, when he comes time to go to the dentist? Neither the novocain, nor the highest speed drill can desent those who wish to delay.

But my experience is put in pathetic relief by experiences others had than I have had. If today's drill is high speed, and yesterday's is low speed, last week's was slow death.

The drill way-back-when was operated by the dentist pumped a pedal with his foot. If your dentist's foot is not dined, or if he had bunions on his big toe, it could be murder. And by the stories I've heard, it was.

negative rather than positive force for Milliken.

NOW IT'S two years later, and the shoe is on the other foot. Nixon is running for another term, as is Republican Sen. Robert Griffin, a long-time friend of Milliken's.

In Michigan and the Midwest the Governor, who isn't running for office, is a plus rather than a minus for both Nixon and Griffin, so he is actively campaigning for them.

He also said at a separate time the President's decision not to seek a constitutional amendment to ban busing was made for the wrong reason.

NO TWO PEOPLE agree completely on everything, and Milliken told an interviewer earlier that he doubts he'll ever agree 100 percent with any politician, Republican or Democrat.

He is sincere in his support of Nixon. The Governor admires the President's grasp of government and his approach to problems, even if he doesn't agree with some of the results.

Besides, this is 1972 and it's the President's turn on the ballot. If the President can stay out of Michigan to help the Governor in 1970, then the least the Governor can do is travel in and out of the state this year to help him.

AMIDST ALL the aggravating things government finds to do to taxpayers, there are a few glimmers of good news.

One of the latest bits comes from the office of Secretary of State Richard Austin. Austin announced that for the second year in a row next year, Michigan motorists with insurance on their motor vehicles won't have to kick $1 per vehicle into the uninsured motorists fund.

Austin was able to do this through a law passed by the Legislature in 1971 which set a minimum level for the fund. If the fund is above that level then the $1 fee is not collected.

THE $1 WASN'T much, but it bugged a great many people who shelled out a couple of hundred dollars a year in car insurance that they had to pay out another dollar to help cover the people who don't, for some reason or another, get insurance for themselves.

Austin recognized this and pushed for removal of the fee as soon as he reached office.

"Although the dollar was a small amount of money to pay into the fund to provide benefits for innocent victims of uninsured drivers, it was an extremely unpopular assessment against Michigan's responsible motoring public," he says.

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

We've come a long way, baby. Have we ever. And I don't mind it a bit, although I've got a hunch, I'd like it better.

What I'm talking about is dentistry today and the shudder the annual six-month visit provokes. While man may have emerged from the Dark Ages some 500 years ago, only within the past 15 years has he emerged from the dark ages of dentistry.

My own experience is enough to justify the foregoing statement. It started with my parents in the '40's. They were in collision, if not a conspiracy, with the "friendly" grey-haired man in the white colonial home with the green shutters a few blocks away.

Horse's Mouth

This column is open to news of all breeds of horses and ponies. Send your questions, comments, and horse show news to "Horse's Mouth", care of South Lyon Herald, South Lyon, Michigan 48176.

TRAIL RULES

(1) The horse should be walked the first ten minutes to warm him up and give the rider a chance to get comfortable and relaxed.

(2) Walk the horse on paved roads and up and down steep hills to eliminate the danger of his falling and to reduce the wear and tear on his legs.

(3) Do not let the horse eat leaves or grass on the trail or any other time when you are mounted. This can become a very annoying habit.

(4) Keep at least one horse's distance between horses for the safety's sake.

(5) Do not begin a faster gait without warning of the contending one's riding companion so that he too might be prepared.

(6) Never canter past a group of riders.

(7) Do not move any faster than the poorest rider in the group can manage with ease.

(8) When a strange vehicle approaches, try to move off the road.

(9) Do not hold branches back. It is dangerous to the next rider and will swing back and smack him in the face.

(10) When riding with a group, always follow the lead horse and all decisions given by the leader.

(11) Warn others of approaching vehicles.

(12) When crossing a busy road the group should all cross at the same time. It is dangerous to have horses on both sides of the road when a car passes.

(13) A group of riders should always ride on the same side of the road. It is difficult for the passing motorist to watch for horses on both sides of the road at the same time.

(14) It is a good idea to face approaching traffic. The horse can see the approaching vehicle better, as can the rider.

(15) If one rider must stop, halt the entire group of horses; otherwise his horse will not want to wait.

(16) Do not canter in a field unless the ground is very familiar and keep a lookout for new holes.

(17) Do not ride in fields without the owner's permission, and do not ride in fields with growing crops.

Living by The Sword

Rev. Philip M. Seymour
Novi United Methodist Church

Have we lost the ability, or just the will, to love our neighbor as ourselves, and to listen to him as a fellow child of God? When we encounter someone with whom we disagree, don't we tend to become hostile toward them? When our neighbor crosses our path, whether he lives next door or on the other side of the world, don't we want to "knock his block off?"

Jesus knew what he was saying when he spoke: "Put the sword back into its place; for all who take the sword will perish by the sword" (Matt. 26:52). We have become a nation who lives by the sword.

As reported in a national magazine earlier this month, a father and son attempted to force their respective life styles upon each other. Their relationship came to a head and the father was forced to kill his own son in self defense.

Because Martin Luther King, Jr., stood for certain ideals which made many of us angry, he was gunned down on the balcony of a Tennessee motel.

And at the other end of the political spectrum, because George Wallace stood for certain ideals which made many of us angry, he was gunned down in a Maryland shopping center. Yet we continue to refuse to license guns as we have automobiles and dangerous drugs. We continue to hate people who differ with us in politics, skin color, religion, and hair length. We refuse to accept all others as our brothers and sisters under God. We continue to fight against our coming together as a nation, and continue to preserve an unequal status quo where most of us are comfortable and privileged, many of us are not. It's really not all that surprising that violence erupts every now and then, here and there.

It's much too simplistic to shout, "He pulled the trigger. He committed the crime." As a society we breed hatred when our children cross the bad guy in a T.V. cartoon, when we curse the enemy in Viet Nam, when we curse our husband or wife. I wonder when the words of Jesus will begin to be lived, and not just memorized and recited? "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your strength, and with all your mind; and your neighbor as yourself" (Luke 10:27).

"I'm never going to open another book again!" sighed Pete as he collapsed in my chair following his high school commencement.

But three months later, Pete had changed his tune and was ready for college.

Since then, he's had other graduations—from college, from medical school. Each time Pete has discovered that it isn't all over when you graduate. Something is just beginning.

Some people want to "graduate" from church at a certain age or time. They're just like Pete when he left high school. They think they've outgrown the Church.

How empty Pete's life would be now if he had stopped at that first graduation. How empty your life would be without the Church.

Maybe it isn't all over for you! The church doors are always open.
