

Kriewall Named Acting Manager

Edward Kriewall, head of the Novi Department of Public Works for the past three years, was unanimously appointed acting city manager by the Novi city council Tuesday.

Kriewall, 31, will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of George Athas until such time as a permanent manager is appointed by the council.

Athas' resignation was accepted by the council last Friday, October 13. Kriewall will assume the managerial duties at that time.

Kriewall will receive an annual salary of $16,200 during the time he serves as acting manager under the terms reached with the council Tuesday. The permanent city manager's position has a budgeted annual salary of $20,000.

Although Kriewall was appointed Tuesday to a purely interim position, members of the council made it obvious that he would have their full support.

"As far as I'm concerned," said Mayor Joseph Crupi, "Mr. Kriewall will have the full authority and responsibility of a permanent manager."

Kriewall's public career began in 1961 when he went to work for the Michigan Highway Department. After four years he moved to the DPW of the City of Detroit where he spent an additional four years. While with Detroit

Kriewall worked in the Bureau of Highways and Expressways.

In September of 1969, while Harold Aclley was city manager, Kriewall was appointed only on an "acting" city manager basis, his name is still being considered for the permanent position.

The council has directed that advertisements for a new manager be placed in the Michigan Municipal Review, but has also made it clear that Kriewall's application for the position is welcome and would be considered along with the others.

He is presently completing work on his degree at the Detroit Institute of Technology with a major in political science and minors in public administration and English.

Council Says OK To Traffic Grant

A $35,000 grant from Michigan's Office of Highway Safety Planning was unanimously accepted by the Novi city council Tuesday.

The unanimous acceptance of the grant came as somewhat of a surprise to certain city officials who had expected some opposition to the action.

In accordance with the terms of the grant, the funds will be used to establish a Traffic Services Bureau in the city of Novi. In addition, the money will enable the city to add three new men to the existing police force.

News that Novi had received the grant was first given the council by City Manager George Athas at their regularly scheduled session a week ago Monday.

At that time Athas asked the councilmen to study the terms of the grant and be prepared to take action Monday.

Discussion of acceptance of the grant Monday was interrupted by the collapse of Councilman Denis Berry (see story under picture). The meeting was adjourned until Tuesday when acceptance of the grant was moved to the top of the agenda.

At the Monday night session, Councilman Edwin Pressnell had raised questions about the city's ability to finance the project.

During the first year of the grant the city and state match funds on a 50-50 basis. During the second year, however, the state picks up only 35 percent of the cost and in the third year the state provides only 20 percent of the funding. After the third year, the city must bear the entire responsibility for funding the program unless additional funds are applied for.

"It would be ridiculous to argue that we don't need the men," said Pressnell. "The question is whether we have the money to pay for them?"

"This is going to cost us $55,000 in the second year and $64,000 in the third year," Pressnell stated.

Athas reported that additional funds would be available from several sources:

1. A $7,500 surplus in the general fund.
2. An increase of a minimum of $3,000 in the federal Public Employment Program.
3. Increased court revenues. "We know that proper law enforcement will bring about increased court fees," he said. "For example, our returns from the court since we added our own breathalyzer have increased several times. For example, we received $475 in July and last month we got $1,400."

"This in no way implies that we're going to be creating speed traps, it's just that a matter of being confident of the fact that as enforcement improves court fees go up."

Mayor Joseph Crupi pointed out that Novi would soon be receiving federal funds from the revenue sharing program—a figure estimated at $48,000.

"There's no doubt in my mind whatsoever that we will be able to comfortably afford this program," Athas told Pressnell and the council.

Corporal Frank Barabas, who was instrumental in preparing the application for the funds and will head the Traffic Bureau, told the council that the grant calls for three "experienced" officers to be used in the traffic division.

"We will establish a selective enforcement bureau," he continued. "We'll put our traffic officers on duty in the times and at the places where our records show accidents take place."

Most accidents occur between 6:10 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and 75 percent of Novi's accidents take place on either Grand River (20 percent) or Novi Road (57 percent), Barabas reported.

Chief of Police Lee McGole added that the "so-called traffic officers are first and foremost policemen and will handle felony cases as they occur just as any other officer would."

"The Traffic Bureau will

COUNCIL CASUALTY—Monday's Novi City Council meeting was brought to an abrupt halt at 10:30 p.m. when Councilman Denis Berry suddenly "blacked out". Fortunately, the council was discussing a matter regarding the police department at the time of the incident and several police representatives were present. Sergeant Dale Gross raced to his patrol car to get an emergency supply of oxygen, which was administered until the Fire Department arrived with the resuscitator. Above Fireman Duane Bell administers the resuscitator while Corporal Frank Barabas (right) helps put the fallen councilman on a stretcher. Berry was transported to Botsford Hospital where his black out was diagnosed as being due to heat prostration and exhaustion. He was released later that night.

Bond Will Appeal State Suspends Novi's Attorney

Novi City Attorney Howard Bond has been suspended from the practice of law for 18 months by the State Bar Grievance Board on the grounds that he has improperly used funds from an estate he was handling.

The suspension became effective August 21 and was issued as a result of an appeal by the grievance administrator who argued that a previously issued reprimand did not constitute sufficient discipline for the offense.

Contacted at City Hall Wednesday morning for his reaction, City Manager George Athas stated that he felt Bond has been "smeared." "I hate to see it happen to the man," said the Novi City Manager.

The charges of improper use of funds from an estate stem from a case involving John Sam Pappas, who retained Bond in March of 1963 to probate the $300,000 estate of George Pappas, his father.

According to John Sam Pappas, he wrote checks totaling $104,395 to Bond with the understanding that the Novi city attorney would pay federal estate taxes of $76,000 and estimated state inheritance taxes of $10,000. The money involved included expenses of $1,300 and fees of $21,500, according to Bond.

Pappas was cited for contempt in 1969 and 1970 as a result of the fact that Bond failed to pay the taxes.

Bond allegedly used $68,000 of the estate funds to pay taxes of his own mother.

Bond told The Novi News Wednesday morning that he felt the initial action of the grievance board in reprimanding him had been "plenty tough."

"Those large checks were known by the executor and he had agreed to them. He has admitted that his original complaint was false. That was taken into consideration by the original board but the state board failed to take it into consideration," Bond said.

"The suspension was sought by assistant grievance board administrator Eugene N. LaBelle. "Bond has conducted himself honorably through his first 35 years as an attorney," LaBelle stated, "but his misuse of the estate funds further discounts him than a simple reprimand."

Bond said he would appeal the ruling, as he had "not misused the funds."

David Fried will take over as Novi's city attorney. Fried has been retained by the City since October of 1971 when the original charges were lodged against Bond.

In testimony before the hearing panel Pappas admitted that he had loaned the money to Bond. It was his contention that Bond had failed to pay it back within the time limit agreed to at the time of the loan.

Bond reported that he had lost $25,000 in an Ann Arbor convalescent home project, which prevented him from paying the taxes. He has since paid the taxes with penalties, Bond said.

"The suspension was sought by assistant grievance board administrator Eugene N. LaBelle. "Bond has conducted himself honorably through his first 35 years as an attorney," LaBelle stated, "but his misuse of the estate funds further discounts him than a simple reprimand."

By Wixom Council Trailing Park Denied

A rezoning request previously denied by the Wixom Planning Commission to permit the establishment of a mobile home park within the city limits has been unanimously denied by the Wixom City Council.

The request of Michael Martin to change his land from single family to a multiple family district was rescheduled for a second public hearing Tuesday night.

At the hearing Charles Leman, a Wixom planning consultant, was present to give expert testimony to the council as to the benefits and hazards of rezoning the land.

The parcel of property, which is located at the northeast corner at the end of Charms Road, includes about 80 acres. Tuesday night, close to 50 residents appeared to show their objections to the mobile home park.

Citizens of Wixom living in the area in which the park was requested were given an opportunity to speak out on the matter, and then Leman told the council why the mobile home park should not be established in that particular location.

Under the ordinances of the city, Leman explained, mobile home park must be located on a major thoroughfare. The closest road to that land which could be considered a thoroughfare is Napier Road. Leman said, which is designated as a secondary road.

Leman further pointed out to Council that the land owned by Martin was, in the master plan for the city, intended to be used for single family dwellings with large size lots. "This land is out of character for a mobile home park," he said.

Later on in the hearing, Leman pointed out that in the master plan, which was developed in the early 1960's, mobile home parks were to be used as "buffers" between industry and single family residences or industry and something else."

Leman told the Council and the citizens that the master plan for the city was only a guide and would have to be changed, but he still could not give his approval for mobile homes in that area.

"Mobile home parks should not be plucked down in the middle of a single family area."

By Novi School Board Salaries Hiked

Administrators' salaries ranging from $26,500 for the superintendent to $14,300 for the Village Oaks principal—were approved by the Novi Board of Education Tuesday night.

In addition to setting these salaries, the board approved granting of dental, disability and term life insurance—equivalent to those plans granted teachers—to administrators and central office staff personnel.

It also approved salary adjustments for 12 teachers who have received additional educational training, and it granted salary increases to six non-certificated employees.

The salaries of Superintendent Gerald Kratz and Assistant Superintendent William Barr, hired this past summer, were fixed at $26,500 and $22,000, respectively. Their salaries had not been previously set.

Salary of former superintendent Thomas Dale, now administrative assistant, was set at $17,006.64. As superintendent, Dale was paid $21,056.

Planners Tap Roethel

John Roethel was elected Chairman of the Novi Planning Board at its September 21 meeting.

Other Planning Board officers elected at the meeting were Ronald Birou, vice-chairman, and Jean Rumble, secretary.

Roethel succeeds Robert Bretz as chairman of the nine member board. Bretz, who was recently appointed to a new three year term on the board by the city council, had indicated to the board members that he did not wish to continue in the capacity of chairman.

Merle Jenkins, vice-chairman, and James Cherifoli, secretary. Like Bretz, both Jenkins and Cherifoli were recently reappointed to three year terms on the board.

New board members Edward Dobek and Donald Gleason were appointed to the Site Plan Review Subcommittee.

Major projects on which the Planning Board is presently working include a complete redraft of the Novi Zoning Ordinance, a new Sign Ordinance, and an update of the Master Plan, relating particularly to the half of Novi south of 12 Mile Road.

The Planning Board worked in conjunction with city planning consultants, Vilcan Leman and Associates, Edward Vettel is the Vilcan Leman representative currently serving Novi.

As specified in the city charter, the Planning Board acts only in an advisory capacity to the city council. Thus, the new ordinances and Master Plan revisions must be submitted to the council and public hearings have to be held before they can be adopted.

Livingston County's Newest Shopping Plaza Beautiful, Exciting

First Federal Savings wishes to compliment the Mason Company for their foresight and know-how in planning and developing the excellent project now known as Ridgewood Plaza. Through still in its early stages, the entire scope of the development is clearly envisioned in the proposed architect drawings.

The total plaza will encompass a full multiple shopping center, with stores leased to prestige firms handling nationally-known products and services. The Mason Company is currently in the process of selecting a site for the plaza adjacent to the mall, which will house as many as 300 families. This total living concept is new, in that people residing here will have the opportunity of shopping so to speak, from their doorsteps.

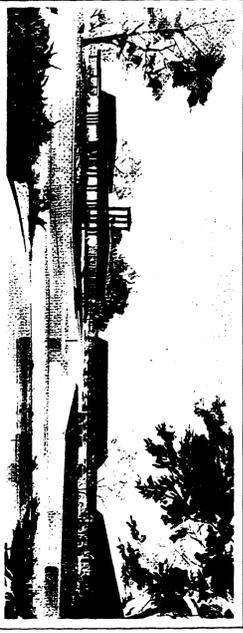

In conjunction with the First Federal Office, space is available for such types of businesses as realtors, doctors, dentists, architects, lawyers, accountants and many others. These business services will be an added benefit to the apartment shopping in our first growing area will welcome the type of much-needed retail, medical and financial complex where so many needs can be conveniently met.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

THE BIG MOVE in our town, of course, has been the relocation of the old library and the Greek revival house on the Millrace. Even those who would have preferred the vintage buildings remain on their original sites have been commenting on how "right" they seem at the Millrace, the site off Griswold street for the historical park.

Because this is a community project, the Northville Historical Society is hoping everyone—from second generation residents to those who recently have moved here because Northville is a "small town"—will support its efforts this year.

It is meeting at 8 p.m. today (Thursday) in the Scout-Recreation building on Cadz street. John C. Burkman, president, will welcome new faces.

Also in process of relocating are Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Woodruff of Beck road.

The Fred Waggoners' move from Old Bedford Road in Northville township will take them out of the area. He is retiring and they are going to Moberly, Missouri. Norma Waggoner's friends in Quarters and Northville Woman's Club already are regretting the loss of the talented craftsman who has demonstrated the view 'd' optique and decoupage arts for many.

Just before school started, the Earl Egbert family moved from Northville Estates to Tecumseh, Michigan.

THE STONE CELLAR'S owners, Jean and Verne Magee also are getting ready to move. They have purchased one of the Victorian store buildings on the main street of Clinton, Michigan, and will be living there.

Jean Magee hopes to open her new shop there by Christmas.

Speaking of the closing of the Stone Cellar at 335 North Center, another local dealer candidly remarked that Northville is "losing its classiest antique shop" as Mrs. Magee is known for the quality of her antiques. As many realize, she is the sister of the Schmidt brothers who long have had a large business in Ypsilanti.

FROM CHIGWELL, Essex, England, comes news of the William Slattery, former Northville Estates resident. Phyllis Slattery, who has maintained her local Woman's Club and garden club memberships, attended a meeting of the Associated Country Women of the World at Westminster Abbey Memorial Hall in London in July.

She has been appointed to represent the Michigan and the Women's National Farm and Garden Association in London. (The WNFGA is a member of the world organization, she explains.)

During a visit with her children in Michigan in June she attended the four-day national meeting of the WNFGA on Mackinac Island.

The Slattery's recently entertained John Canterbury at their apartment. They also have had visits from Dr. and Mrs. T. E. McDowell, long-time friends now living in Northville, and from the Robert Hallams.

The Orin Hoves will be moving late this year into the Cape Cod home they are building on Lexington boulevard behind the Northville Methodist Church. With a son and daughter in college, the Hoves are condensing from five bedrooms to three in their new home. Mrs. Hove already has had the fun of selecting wallpapers and colors to complement her antiques.

Former Northville residents, the Eugene Karrers, will be moving back as they have purchased the Hove home on Pinebrook drive in Shadbrook. They formerly lived in Northville Estates before being transferred away by Ford Motor company.

Since the city has purchased the home of retired Northville librarian Rhea (Mrs. Charles) Wilcox on West Cadz street, she will be moving to a new duplex at 250 First Street when it's completed.

Moving vans also have been on Arsenal drive as Elsa (Couse) and Dick Stuber, with their young sons have moved to a home in the Ann Arbor area.

For the Hurd H. Sutherlands it was a "right around the corner" move as they switched homes with their daughter and son-in-law, the Paul Lemons. The Sutherlands changed their address from 418 Dunlap to 115 Linden.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY—The 80th year of the Northville Woman's Club will begin with a luncheon, Friday, October 6 at the Meadowbrook Country Club. To help make the luncheon a festive and attractive one, several Woman's Club members met at the home of Mrs. Charles Fountain this week to make table arrangements. Among those present were: Mrs. J. F. Keese, Mrs. A. P. List, Mrs. Leo Larue, Mrs. Charles Hertstreit, Mrs. Gene Cushing, Mrs. Peter Lindholm, Mrs. Robert Mohr and Mrs. Robert Ison. Members are reminded that they have until this Friday, September 29, to make reservations for the luncheon. Special speaker of the day will be syndicated light verse writer Elinor K. Rose.

Luncheon Planned, Too Five Homes on Tour Today

Five homes, each with a very different and distinct personality will be open to the public today (Thursday) for the sixth annual Homes Tour sponsored by the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

Pediatrician Opens Office

Dr. Elspeth Reagan, a board certified pediatrician, will open the doors of her home on October 2, to begin her first private practice. She said she decided to open a practice in Northville because, "I think there is a very great need for pediatricians in this area." Dr. Reagan, a native of England, moved to Northville in 1968 when her husband, Dr. Paul Reagan, began his duties as director of Maybury Sanatorium. She graduated from John Hopkins Medical school in 1956 and her internship and residency were done at the University of Arkansas. In the past, she has worked mainly in public health, most recently in Detroit at the Comprehensive Health Clinic.

BIRTH

Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Eberhart proudly announce the birth of their second child and son, Jonathan Ronald, born September 19 at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. The baby weighed six pounds and 12 ounces at birth. Young Jonathan has a brother, Christopher John, who is 19 months old. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Browne of Beaverton, Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eberhart of Northville are the paternal grandparents.

Verse Writer To Speak Here

Nationally syndicated light verse writer Elinor K. Rose will be the featured speaker at the meeting on Friday, October 6, which will open the eighth year of the Northville Woman's Club. The luncheon meeting will begin at 12:30 p.m. at Meadowbrook Country Club. Members are reminded that it is a guest day and that reservation requests should be sent to Mrs. William Switzer, 43423 Reservoir Road, Plymouth, by Friday, September 29.

Program Chairman Mrs. William Crump will introduce Mrs. Rose whose talk will be centered around the theme "Through Rose-Colored Glasses." For her light-verses Mrs. Rose specializes in taking frustrations and incidents from daily life and putting them into quatrains. Members are also reminded that program books will be available at the luncheon.

At the Richard Wheaton home, tour goers will see many original decorating ideas designed and executed by the homeowners themselves. Mrs. Walter Carter's original oil paintings are displayed in the Carter's modern furnished home. In announcing the tour, the Women's Association has stressed that because the money from the Homes Tour comes from the community, it should be funneled back into the community. It is for that reason that the organization has decided to contribute proceeds from the tour to UKANBE Council for Community Concern, the Northville State Hospital patients reading fund and Presbyterian Missions.

Search for Junior Miss

The Northville Jaycees have announced that the search has begun for a new Junior Miss for Northville.

The local pageant is open to all girls who are presently seniors in high school. The Jaycees are looking for a minimum of ten entrants for the November pageant. Senior girls desiring to participate or who would like additional information about the program are urged to contact David Van Hine at 349-3015.

The Junior Miss Pageant is a program of the Jaycees to recognize the accomplishments and achievements of senior girls across the country.

Participants in the pageant are rated by a panel of judges in the fields of scholastic achievement, personality, poise and appearance, individual talent, physical fitness, coordination and the results of an in-depth interview with the judging panel.

Northville's present Junior Miss, Lorrie Diebert, will be crowned on the November pageant to crown her successor. Lorrie went on to the regional contest in Pontiac last year where she was named first runner up in the state.

Trim! Be bold! Choose lace, binding, ric-rac, braids, pom-poms! Make clothing interesting again! One of the nicest ideas we have heard in a long time has to do with making a maxi-skirt and decorating it, adorning its fullness with as many different kinds of braids and trims as you can imagine. Choose a pretty background material; then sew what you can do to complement it. Today there are some very exciting braids on the market: be sure to investigate.

NEWS BRIEFS

NEW OFFICERS will be elected to the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce, probably at a meeting slated for this week. At its annual dinner meeting last week, Chamber members elected Carl Johnson to the board of directors, and re-elected Margaret Zayti and N. C. Schrader.

NORTHVILLE TEACHERS were praised by Superintendent Raymond Spear, who told board members this week that following a personal survey of each classroom in the system he came away convinced teachers are doing an "excellent" job of teaching. Despite the teachers one-day strike at the outset of the year, Spear said it was the finest start by teachers in his tenure as superintendent. Hangup over negotiations notwithstanding, Northville teachers, he said, are exhibiting "real professionalism."

PARKING violators in the township will soon have their fines doubled for paying tickets late. Township trustees directed their attorney to amend the parking ordinance to include a $10 fine for tickets paid more than 10 days after the violation is issued. Tickets paid before that remain at $5.

APPROVAL to apply for a loan not to exceed $250,000 on tax anticipation notes was unanimously approved by the board this week. This figure is the same amount borrowed last year.

REGISTRATION of voters—a special drive sponsored by the Northville Jaycees—will be held at the Northville post office from 9 a.m. to noon and at the Chatham supermarket from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday.

IN CASE YOU'VE forgotten, tonight's (Thursday) scheduled public hearing on plans for Maybury State Park. The hearing will get underway at 8 p.m. at Schoolcraft College's Waterman Center.

School Board Prepares For Special Education

Despite a philosophical challenge by one member, the Northville Board of Education has approved the hiring of two persons as the first stage in implementing a far-reaching special education program here.

The lone dissenting vote Monday was cast by Trustee Glenn Diebert, who argued against the philosophy of specialized treatment of handicapped.

Trustee Andrew Orphan who voted yes "reluctantly," warned fellow board members the program may signal eventual take-over of all services for the handicapped by local school districts—even to the extent of assuming the services provided by the Wayne County Child Development Center and the Plymouth State Home, both located in Northville Township.

Provisions being made by local school districts, explained Miss Florence Panatoni, director of instruction, represent initial planning for state mandated programs approved by the legislature last year.

The new state act specifies responsibilities of the state education department, the intermediate school districts, and the local districts in providing special education for handicapped from birth through age 24.

Basically, it suggests that children presently being treated outside local classrooms be returned to those classrooms for their formal education—including vocational training.

The basic philosophy of the district," she said, "has been and continues to be not to separate children from the mainstream of education any more than absolutely necessary. This is in keeping with recently adopted state philosophy."

"The whole thing tends to make me ill," said Diebert, who argued that such a philosophy can seriously damage local school districts economically if all handicapped averted themselves of these services.

"To provide special treatment of handicapped, in the formative years, he said, is highly unlikely.

"Consideration of Ambler and several other former board members, former board candidates and citizens of the district was made by the board at an earlier executive (secret) meeting, Board President Orlo Robinson told audience at Monday's meeting.

Ambler was a unanimous choice of those attending that meeting, he said.

Trustee Glenn Diebert, who did not attend the executive session, told fellow board members that while he had been "thumping" for the appointment of Mark

In Master Plan Proposal Track Expansion Curbed

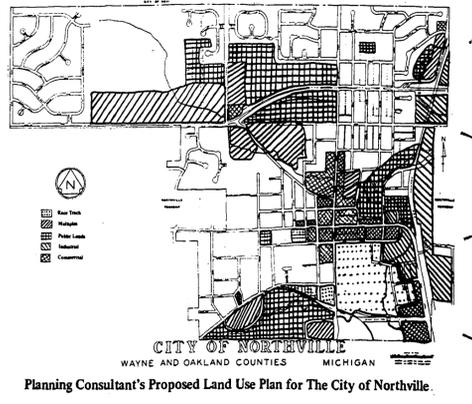

New boundaries for future race track development will represent the most significant changes in the land use plan proposed recently by the city's planning consultant and now being considered by the planning commission.

This suggested departure from the existing land use plan, part of the city's master plan adopted in 1966, concerns the area west of South Main between Beal and Seven Mile roads.

In the existing plan, long range projections called for Northville Downs to encompass the present area southwest of Seven Mile and Center streets and most of the area west of South Main between Beal and Seven Mile roads.

In the proposal by Consultant Ron Nino now being studied by planners as part of the updating of the master plan, a large part of the area west of South Main has been removed from a track designation and slated for commercial and industrial use.

"There does not appear to be any justification for retaining the designation of extensive areas for race track expansion as indicated on the original comprehensive plan," according to Nino, who suggested that the northern boundary be designated as Cady Street, the eastern boundary the Griswold Street extension and the alley bet-

For Township Trash Pickup Runs into Snag

An unexpected hurdle was dumped into the path of the planned intergovernmental garbage-refuse collection service last week.

It appears, on the basis of an opinion by Northville Township Attorney Donald Morgan, that one or possibly two of the four member communities of the Northwest Wayne County Sanitation Authority may not be able to participate.

Meeting in special session last week, the Northville Township board learned that Michigan law may prevent Northville Township—and possibly Plymouth Township—from joining with the cities of Northville and Plymouth in the service scheduled to start January 1.

On the basis of Morgan's opinion, the board delayed approving a letter of intent to participate in the service and directed Morgan to obtain an interpretation of the law from Michigan Attorney General Frank Kelly as quickly as possible.

"The cities of Northville and Plymouth already have approved letters of intent," Representatives of the authority meeting with the board last week, including City Councilman Paul Vernon, informally agreed to go ahead with the rubbish pickup bidding process while the attorney seeks the attorney general's opinion.

Basically, Morgan concluded——That Northville Township may pay for community garbage service only from monies in the general fund by special tax. (In the latter instance, voters of the township would have to first approve the tax).

—That the township has no specific authority to bill the cost of garbage and refuse collection and disposal against the property owners.

—That state law, intentionally or unintentionally, does not give townships, as it does cities, permission to prevent refuse disposal or refuse transporting units within its boundaries without a license.

—That an individual may dump refuse on his own land so long as it does not create a nuisance or hazard to health. Authority may not be able to participate.

Under NWCSA plans, it proposes to accept bids and award a three-year contract to a private company for pickup service in all four municipalities, and bill those municipalities for that service.

In the case of Plymouth and Northville townships, participating township customers would be billed by the township for the service. The two cities plan to pay for the service out of their property tax monies as they are now doing.

The city of Northville presently operates its own pickup service, while the City of Plymouth has contracted out its service. Plymouth's contract expires January 1.

Northville Township officials have concluded, that it does not have sufficient monies in its general fund for community pickup and that a special election, at least for the next several months, is highly unlikely.

And since a proposal of Northville township Supervisor Kumar Stromberg to bill township residents appears, in the opinion of the attorney, to be illegal, the township's participation on January 1 seems unlikely unless the township receives a favorable interpretation soon from the attorney general.

Ironically, Plymouth Township, whose attorney

Study Delays Construction

A short-handed Northville township planning commission made short work of a semi-busy agenda Tuesday night by either tabling or postponing action on most of the matters.

Planners pointed to a density and land use study (See Page 1-A) soon to be started in the township as their chief reason for delaying action on any rezoning.

A request by Edward Rose Builders to construct some 300 apartment units on 54 acres on Bradner road was tabled until the study is complete.

The Rose company representative was visibly irritated by the delay and called upon the commission to vote "yes" or "no" on the proposal. The commission declined any action until the land use study is completed.

A request from Levitt for approval of a site plan for unit two in Highland Lakes, 100 dwelling units on 17 acres south of the intersection of Silver Spring drive and Rippling Lane, was given conditional approval.

Planners present at Tuesday night's meeting were Robert Bogart, J. Craig Bowly, Lini Hand and Jim Nowka.

Several of those from the Novi area who attended the Eastern Star Dinner on Sunday in Walled Lake were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Salow, Mr. and Mrs. Hadley Bachert, Ewald Collins and Mae Atkinson.

Karen Clarke, was guest soloist at the De Molay installation ceremony in Commerce on Saturday night, she was accompanied by Mrs. Bernice Stewart.

Specifically, FISH officials emphasize two needs: "Need for all of those who volunteer agency to assist persons in need—is hopeful citizens will turn out for a special meeting Wednesday, October 4."

The meeting, billed as a "do or die" gathering, will be held at 8 p.m. in the social hall of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

"We want to say a big thank you to those who called in response to last week's appeal...and to those faithful few who have stuck with FISH to help those in need over the past two years," a spokesman said.

"But we must have a steering committee and we must have all these people at the meeting so that we can solve the problems of FISH and plan for the future."

A possibility still exists that the organization may fold if it is unable to attract sufficient volunteers.

Following next week's meeting, refreshments will be served.

When given a chance for rebuttal, Martin directed much of his questioning and comments to Leman. First, he asked that Leman tell everyone present which parts of the city are suitable for mobile parks.

He went on to refute Leman's statements about taxes, saying that the park owner may pay taxes to the city even if the owners of the mobile units pay taxes directly to the state.

Councilman Val Vangieson asked Martin whether or not he knew what the zoning for the land was in 1967 when he first purchased the property.

Martin said he did and that he purchased the land with the intention of developing it.

"You took your chances then when you bought the land," said Dr. Vangieson. "Then, if the request is denied, you may lose money on it."

BeGole added that officers will now be able to spend more time patrolling the city.

It's Decathlon Time Here

By NANCY DINGLEDY

A multitude of events hitting the Wixom scene in the next week or two. Set down dates and times—join in and have some fun.

First, this Saturday starting at 9 a.m. at the City Hall grounds, the annual Parks and Recreation Department's Decathlon. All Wixom students from the first through sixth grades are cordially invited to participate in the Decathlon games.

Lots of kids came out last year and it is hoped that an even greater number will enter the races this year.

The games will consist of the football kick, baseball throw, bicycle races (grades four through six only), a variety of dashes, jump and touch and running broad jumps.

Prizes and ribbons will be awarded to all winners in all events.

Hopefully, there will be a bright autumn sun shining this Saturday as the kids give their all in the Wixom version of the Olympic Field events.

Bring the kids or just come and watch if you'd like. There's plenty of activity.

Monday, October 2 is the beginning of Adult Education Programs offered through the Walled Lake School District.

A large variety of programs suited to any need are offered and you still may take advantage of them.

Registrations are still being taken at the Community Education Office at 624-0202. Join the unhooked (from TV) generation and take up a hobby.

Tuesday is a busy, busy day. On October 3 from 9 a.m. until 12 noon, Walled Lake's Fall Immunization clinic is open to all children up to the age of 18.

Immunizations for diphtheria, pertussis, measles, polio, tetanus and rubella as well as Tuberculin tests are offered at no charge.

Sponsored by the Walled Lake Jaycees and the Oakland County Health Department, the clinic gives medical assistant students at the Vocational Center an opportunity to aid the physician and nurses giving the injections.

The clinics are held at the Voc. Ed. Center. There will be no clinic hours in November. The next clinic will be held on Tuesday, December 5.

Brook obtains the services of a young reporter to educate Billie, who is willing to become a pupil, and who falls in love with Paul Verrall, the reporter. Billie Dawn's hastily acquired knowledge of history and politics causes her to rebel against Brook's crooked schemes, and she gives Verrall incriminating documents which will expose Brook's scandalous transactions. Billie and Verrall eventually walk out on the anti-social and antidemocratic Brook.

Education Center but meeting in the dining room will be the Wixom Chamber of Commerce holding their quarterly general luncheon meeting.

Beginning at noon on October 3, a buffet luncheon will be served followed by two twenty minute presentations.

Guest speakers for the day will include Johannes F. Spreen, former Police Commissioner of Detroit and the Chief of Detectives from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Both will be speaking on topics relating to the criminal justice system.

Seating is limited in the dining room and is reserved for the Chamber and guests. Businessmen from Wixom and residents interested in the Chamber are cordially invited to attend.

Rounding out Tuesday's busy schedule of events is Wixom Elementary School's annual Open House.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m., it provides parents with the opportunity to meet their children's teachers, and become acquainted with new principal Donald Lamb.

Refreshments will be served throughout the evening and children should not be brought to the Open House.

A reminder to residents of the City who are qualified to become electors but have yet to register. In addition to the regular office hours at City Hall from 9 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, the City Clerk's office will be open to those wishing to register on Saturday, September 30 from 8 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. and Sunday, October 1, from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m.

If you wish to cast your votes in the November 7 Presidential Election, you must register before 8 p.m. on October 6. The Clerk's office also reminds those who have not voted in the past two years to check for eligibility to vote in the Presidential election.

The Hank Mack's and the Ray Mustonen's of Wixom joined six other couples in Cadillac this past weekend for their annual golfing expedition.

The outings, always planned one year in advance, brought a great weekend of golf, swimming, sauna's, good food and squeezed in somewhere, a little relaxation. It may have been a gray weekend here but over in Cadillac the sun shined brightly. Some people have good luck with the weather!

The trees are really begin to change to the autumn hues by the shores of Loon Lake and the pumpkins are getting huge and golden on their vines. The nights are getting chilly, the days cooler. The harvest moon has been out in its round glory these past few nights and I'm getting the hint that it's about time to start packing away the sleeveless dresses. It's getting more and more evident that our summer is gone and we're slipping into the fall. It's a beautiful time of the year but it means a scurry of yard work to start getting ready for the snows.

Just another thing to add to the list—besides my inevitable race with the weatherman and my window washing!

CRAFTSMAN—In case you've wondered those "stones" aren't really stones that Joe Freckleton is erecting at the former Methodist church at Center and Dunlap where a restaurant is in the making. Using a craftsman's touch, Freckleton is forming the "stone" from cement plastered on the wall and dyed to resemble brown stones in castle-like walls. A native of Scotland, he perfected this unusual skill while working in Australia. Not only is he "carving" simulated stone, he's also creating simulated brick out of cement to fill in window openings on the west side of the building.

'Born Yesterday' Stars Local Residents

Three Northville residents have been cast in roles for the Schoolcraft College production of Garson Kanin comedy "Born Yesterday" to be presented September 29, 30 and October 1.

Mark Hlohenec, Robbie Clarke and Chris Keyes will be among the actors taking the stage during the run of the comedy. Each performance will begin at 7 p.m. at the Schoolcraft College Liberal Arts Theatre, 18600 Haggerty Road in Livonia.

The story of the comedy revolves around Harry Brock, a vulgar and egotistic junkie, who rents a swanky apartment in Washington, D. C., for the purpose of making crooked deals with the high-ups.

He has brought with him Billie Dawn, a former chorus girl, whose dumbness and lack of social amenities embarrass him and everyone else.

There are many types of wall coverings on the market today which can be installed easily and are fairly inexpensive. One of the nicest of these is plywood, which is now available in many types of surfaces, and also in many convenient shapes.

Plywood, with an outer veneer of expensive wood, can make a beautiful covering for any wall. It can be fastened to the wall by adhesive, special metal clips, or nails. Why not see the selection that is available today?

NORTHVILLE LUMBER CO., 615 E. Baseline, 349-0224 has a beautiful selection of pre-finished plywood paneling by U.S. Plywood, Masonite, Royakot, and Panellit. We also carry pre-finished wood and plastic moldings and a complete line of K.V. hardware and shelves, decorator cork, and Dacor brick and stone. Delivery service. Open: 8-6, Mon-Fri; 9-2, Sat.

LWV Invites New Members

A membership tea will be held on Thursday, October 5, at the King's Mill Clubhouse by the Northville-Plymouth League of Women Voters.

The informal get acquainted meeting is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. and end at 3 p.m. Babysitting will be provided.

Mrs. Stephen Orban of Northville, president of the chapter, will explain to area women over 18 years of age how the organization works through its members to encourage informed and active participation in government through its programs.

The League, which is a nonpartisan organization, consists of housewives, students and business and professional women. When a woman joins a local League, she also becomes a member of the state and national League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Orban, in inviting prospective members to the meeting, said that she has found the League to be "an excellent way to keep informed as well as the perfect place to meet interesting people."

Co-Op School Opens

September 18 marked the opening of the Northville Co-operative Preschool. The school is being held in the Scout-Recreation Building.

Teachers at the school this year are: Big Gazley, Rae Diebert and Eugenie Bemish. Officers of the school for the 1972-73 school year are: President Patti Zollars, Vice President for Group A Betty Hoffman, Vice President for Group B Lynn De John, Secretary Stephanie Ruter and Treasurer Susan Rasmussen.

Kelly to Speak

Michigan Attorney General Frank Kelly will be the speaker at the meeting on Wednesday, October 4 of the Livonia Interested Democrats. Northville area residents are invited to attend.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. and will be held at the Senior Citizens Building located at Farmington and Five Mile Roads.

Two Artists Show Work

The works of two Michigan artists will comprise the first formal showing at the Northville Gallery, 142 North Center Street.

For two weeks, beginning Sunday, October 1, the art of Lynn Hayes and Thomas Hale will be on display. The official opening will be from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. when both artists will be present.

This will be the first special showing for both artists.

Miss Hayes is a resident of Farmington. She was awarded a bachelor of fine arts from Wayne State University and once worked as an interior designer.

Hale lives in Redford Township and works as a designer for the American Motors corporation. He was an art major at Michigan State University and attended the Art Center College of Design in California.

NOVI BOARD OF EDUCATION ANNUAL REPORT

SEPTEMBER 21, 1972

This report reviews the financial position of the Novi Community School District for the period ending June 30, 1972. The report also contains the achievements of the year and recommendations for the next succeeding year.

The 1971-72 school year was another year of growth for Novi Schools. 1953 students were enrolled in the district's five elementary and secondary schools. Projections of enrollment for the 1972-73 school year exceed 2100 students.

Major construction projects authorized by the voters in 1970 saw the completion of the new Village Oaks Elementary School on Willowbrook Street and the completion of the new Novi Middle School on Jeff Road. These buildings are enrolled in design and construction and they will serve the school district for years to come.

In the 1971-72 school year the district's state aid was drastically reduced by the contingency fund. In spite of the reduction of these funds by $17,300.00 the district was able to operate successfully with a balance of receipts over expenditures of $6,400.00. The General Fund Equity was increased to $74,500.00.

Federal aid for special projects in the district was increased from $11,064.00 to $40,990.00. Two additional teachers attended the reading literacy program at Oakland Schools. Novi Schools also received authorization to employ two additional staff members in the Special Education Program. This brings the total to five with the addition of a Type C consultant for the mentally handicapped at the Middle School and a School Social Worker to serve the entire district.

The English curriculum at the high school level was modified to include 26 one semester courses in place of the traditional program. Progress has been made toward meeting the needs of all students. Continuous study and modification must be made with the goal of educational excellence as the criteria for change.

The public schools will continue to carefully observe and select the best means of education. The future will see innovative schools employed on a pilot basis, but only after careful review and evaluation as to the best curriculum for the Novi Community Schools. Our major goal will be to reach toward maximum achievement of instructional objectives for each individual child. We must realistically prepare people to live in an age of cybernetics and at the same time in an age when human relationships have never been more important.

Police Blotter

Mother Charged With Brutality

In Novi

A Novi woman, 19-year old Linda Karol Race of 25222 Taft, has been charged with the restaurant for approximately five minutes. When she returned, she reported, the purse was missing.

The theft occurred at approximately 2 p.m. Monday, October 18.

Lewis Diem of 23925 West LeFest reported a spare tire valued at $60 had been stolen from the trunk of his car.

Diem told officers the theft could have occurred while the car was parked in Southfield, he reported.

John Moon, 22, was arrested on charges of issuing checks on a non-existent account last week and lodged in the Oakland County Jail. She is being held on a $5,000 cash bond.

Arrested on charges of driving under the influence of liquor last week were Monte Bruce Charles, 26, of 2925 Henry Brookmough, 41, of Livonia; Charles Woodruff, 30, of Livonia; and Casimir Stanley Pachota, 50, of 4925 Mile Road while Brodack's car struck a tree and burst into flames.

A 16-year old was arrested for disorderly person-drunk upon a complaint September 25 that he had knocked youths from their bicycles in the King's Mill area.

Theft of a tachometer, valued at $21, and a stereo tape player, valued at $40, from a car was reported by the owner September 19. According to reports someone forced entry into the car of Donald Reed of 46049 Neeson. The vehicle was parked in his yard.

In Wixom

Wixom police narrowly missed interrupting a breaking and entering of the Micro-Poise plant on Pontiac Trail while it was in progress Monday, September 18.

At 9:23 p.m., according to reports, police were summoned to the Micro-Poise building with reports that a burglary was in progress. At the scene, officers met the complainant, Gunnar Metala, who told them that a pair of youths had just exited the building and fled in a car on west-bound Pontiac Trail.

Police followed the route pointed out by Metala, but were unable to find any evidence of the car involved in the theft.

Investigation of the plant showed that entry had been gained by breaking in a portion of the loading door. A number of vending machines had been broken into, as had a number of desks in the office portion of the building.

Sixteen truck tires valued at $3,200 were reported stolen last week.

Norman James Boman, a truck driver from La Salle, told police he was supposed to pick up a truck from the Auto-Lite Division driveway September 15. When he arrived at the site, however, he discovered the tires had been stolen from the truck.

The trailers had been parked in the driveway since September 9.

Two Wixom youths were arrested at Walled Lake Western High School Tuesday, September 19, on charges of possession of stolen property.

"Taken into custody" were Gregory Heller, 18, of 2055 North Wixom Road and Kevin Dale McDermott, 17, of 1730 North Wixom Road.

The pair were booked and taken to the 52nd District Court in Walled Lake for arraignment. They are being held on $1,000 personal bond, according to police reports.

A pair of motorcycles, valued at $500 apiece, were stolen from the garage of a residence at 2938 Loon Lake Road. James and Gerald Byrd, owners of the cycles, told

In Township

Two motorists escaped serious injury at 12:30 a.m. Sunday when their cars collided at the intersection of Six Mile and Sheldon roads and one of the vehicles burst into flames.

According to police reports, a car driven by Dwight D. Martin pulled to a stop at the intersection and was struck in the rear by a car driven by Philip B. Brodack of Southfield.

The impact sent Martin's car skidding across the intersection to the east side of Six Mile Road while Brodack's car struck a tree and burst into flames.

A 16-year old was arrested for disorderly person-drunk upon a complaint September 25 that he had knocked youths from their bicycles in the King's Mill area.

Theft of a tachometer, valued at $21, and a stereo tape player, valued at $40, from a car was reported by the owner September 19. According to reports someone forced entry into the car of Donald Reed of 46049 Neeson. The vehicle was parked in his yard.

In Northville

Two bicycles were reported stolen from a residence on September 25. According to police, Michael Heater of 317 West Dunlap and Larry Brown of 4801 Galway Drive claimed their bikes together on Northville Lanes and upon returning they had been stolen.

The bikes are a purple five-speed Schwinn and a yellow 10-speed Schwinn.

A wallet containing a $300 check was reported stolen from a car parked at the home of Sally Puckett, 344 First Street on September 15. The wallet was owned by Mrs. Puckett's son.

Cass J. Weller of Ann Arbor suffered minor rib injuries September 22 when his car collided with a car driven by Charles P. King, 656 Thayer, at Eight Mile and Novi roads.

Mrs. George White of 865 North Center Street reported that on the evening of September 22 someone rang her doorbell and then smashed the storm window in the door. The car was parked at 30 River and when he attempted to start the car he discovered the battery had been stolen.

A purse reportedly containing a $400 diamond ring was stolen from a car parked

In Northville

Betty Macura, 4625 West Main Street, was bitten by a dog at her home, police said. The dog was owned by Susan Hesse.

Police are investigating a burglary that took place on September 23 or 24 in the garage of Charles E. Chapman of 19576 Maxwell. The garage was unlocked.

Stolen was a saber saw, valued at $40, and a chain saw, valued at $200.

A 22-caliber pistol was reported stolen over the weekend from the Howell Construction office at 42320 West Seven Mile Road. The owners of the cycles, told

ANNOUNCING THE OPENING OF A NEW WEIGHT WATCHERS CLASS IN NOVI

Novi United Methodist Community Church
 41871 Ten Mile Road
 (between Meadowbrook & Novi Road)
TUESDAYS - 7:00 p.m.

We have examined the balance sheet of the various funds of the NOVI COMMUNITY SCHOOL DISTRICT as of June 30, 1972 and the related statements of revenue and expenditures for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. The scope of our examination covered the financial records of the school district, but did not include the fiscal accounting records.

In accordance with recommendations of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Revised Manual of Instruction for "Financial Accounting for schools," the school district maintains its financial records on a modified accrual basis of accounting. Under this method, generally, revenues are recognized as the date they become receivable and expenses are recognized when incurred.

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheets and related statements of revenue and expenditures present fairly the financial position of Novi Community School District at June 30, 1972, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting practices generally followed by Michigan school districts applied on a consistent basis.

(Signed) JAMES C. KETTER
 Certified Public Accountant

School Sets Open House Wednesday

Parents of Northville's Middle Schoolers will have an opportunity to experience their children's school schedules next week as the Middle School holds its annual open house.

Date of the open house is Wednesday, October 4, Middle School Principal Roy Horwath reported Monday.

Elect Officers

Novi High School's student council elected officers for the 1972-73 school year recently. President of the student council is Jan Pantalone.

Other elected officers are Ronald Broquet, vice-president; Judy Traynor, secretary; and Bill Ross, treasurer.

The council is comprised of four members from each of the four high school grades. Representatives from the senior, junior, and sophomore classes were elected last spring. Freshman class officers were elected last week due to the fact that the ninth grade has been switched from the Middle to Northville just this year.

Blood Bank Set

Volunteers registering for appointments to give blood when the American Red Cross Blood Mobile comes to Novi Tuesday, October 3, have been disappointingly light so far.

That was the report Monday from Mrs. Sandy Mitchell, who is handling appointments to the Blood Mobile.

Former Trustee Dies

A former Northville Township trustee and planning commissioner, William Smith Jr., 50, was fatally injured in an automobile accident Friday, September 22 at Edward Hines and Outer Drive.

Mr. Smith, who lived at 1560 Robinwood, was on his way to work early Friday morning when his car was struck by another. He was alone.

An architect for the Detroit Edison Company, Mr. Smith had served on the township board for a year, having been appointed in September, 1969 to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Thomas Armstrong. He lost his bid for election to the board in the 1970 primary.

Earlier, he served on the planning commission.

As a township official, he had served as the township's representative to the Plymouth Adult Education program and to the recreation department.

Born September 2, 1922 in Sanilac County, he was the son of William M. and Anna (Steinman) Smith. He moved to this area from Ypsilanti in 1954.

He attended Central Michigan University and was a graduate of the University of Michigan. He was a member of St. Kenneth's Catholic Church in Plymouth, the American Institute of Architects, the Michigan Society of Architects and the Michigan Association of Professions.

Zoning Funds Ok'd

A preliminary $5,000 allocation for study and revision of Northville Township's zoning ordinance was approved last week.

The allocation, approved by the township board, represents less than one-third of the total estimated cost of the project recommended by the township planning commission.

The board decided to provide the initial $5,000 but to delay approval of additional funds pending an updated accounting of budgeted township monies.

Clerk Eleanor Hammond argued against a $15,000 to $20,000 outlay at this time "Because I don't see any place (in the budget) where we can squeeze out (the money)."

Suggestion by Treasurer Joseph Straub that at $5,000 allocation for fire department equipment be transferred to the general fund for the zoning ordinance project was rejected as was a suggestion of Trustee Charles Schaeffer that monies in the township's cash balance fund be used.

(PG. POL. ADV.)

ESTELLA PRESTON Mrs. Estella P. Preston, 80 of 24880 Novi Road died Monday, September 25 at endry's Convalescent Home. She had been ill for the past year.

Born April 9, 1892 in Royal Oak, she was the daughter of John and Cynthia Price. Her husband, Floyd, died in 1965.

Mrs. Preston was a resident of the Northville area 25 years, moving to Detroit for 16 years before returning to Novi.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Fred Vincent of Novi and Mrs. Ralph Ziebarth of White Oak; three sons, Wayne of White Cloud, Michigan, Paul of Northville and Floyd of Northville; 14 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held today (Thursday) at 2 p.m. from the Richardson Bird Funeral Home in Walled Lake, with the Reverend Lawrence Kinne officiating.

Burial will be in West Farmington Cemetery.

Trustee Leonard Klein, who joined with Stromberg in urging the ordinance, immediately argued that "we will spend more money in fighting court cases (zoning) than we will for the study if nothing is done."

The courts, he explained, are less likely to back up zoning ordinances based on land use, such as Northville's, than those ordinances that place their emphasis on density factors.

NAA Taps Novi Man

Timothy P. O'Hara of 2270 Brook Forest Road, Novi, has been elected to the position of director of member attendance for the Detroit Chapter of the National Association of Accountants for its 1972-73 fiscal year.

NAA is the world's largest accounting association, with 70,000 members in more than 275 chapters across the United States and abroad.

O'Hara is a partner with Gerhardt, O'Hara & Rowe, Detroit. He is a member of the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Wall-to-wall carpeting is one of the most popular floor coverings used today. Perhaps that is because carpeting gives a sense of spaciousness to a room especially if the room is small. Wall-to-wall carpeting creates a sense of unity, it is luxurious, easy to care for, and is of good quality. If there are children in the family, such carpeting can even cut down on the number of falls these little ones can take.

encourages such people to look for special treatment programs in accordance with society later in life. "I think they should be treated as normal human beings" even if they are unable to keep up with fellow classmates.

Superintendent Raymond Spear and Miss Panatoni provided that the proposed programs will be suggested by Deibert, provide in-district classroom education of such children instead of transporting them out of the local environment to specialized centers outside the district.

Furthermore, supportive staffers explained for the programs, explain Spear, are primarily for assisting parents and teachers in teaching and training handicapped—not teaching such youngsters themselves.

Training of the severely handicapped, such as the blind and deaf, they explained will continue to be handled outside the district. Miss Panatoni said.

In voting Monday, the board approved the hiring of a school social worker and a part-time psychologist to meet immediate needs of the administrative staff completes planning for implementation of the program next year as required by law.

According to Miss Panatoni, the district has already begun assuming more local responsibility of training handicapped.

Last year, she said, 32 students received such training—31 of which were transported outside the district to nine different cities and 15 different schools. This year 22 students are receiving special education (others having been integrated into the classrooms)—20 of whom are being transported outside the district to four different cities and nine different schools.

"It is apparent," she said, "that there are needs to meet in the district as indicated by these figures. In addition, we are faced with preparation for Public Act 186 which was approved by the Governor in December, 1971 (Commonly known as Mandatory Special Education Act)."

Under this act, she explained, local school boards have the responsibility to—

1. Provide special education programs in accordance with the county plan operating the program with qualified personnel, supportive services and the educational program.
2. There is no financial advantage to a district which does not provide programs. In fact, the district is at a disadvantage if it does not provide them.
3. If local districts fail to provide adequate programs, the county will do so at the expense of the local district.
4. Expense to a district for contracted services will cover building facilities, equipment, programs, transportation and room and board.
5. The county role is considerably stronger.
6. The local board's commitment to special education programs will be formal and legal.
7. Services are to be provided from infancy to age 25.
8. The state board's powers are considerably greater.

Spot for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

You'll read elsewhere in this edition that the Northville board of education made an appointment Monday night to fill a vacancy on the board.

The selection was actually made last week at Hillside Inn at another of the board's secret meetings, the little get-togethers members prefer to call "executive sessions".

It's a funny thing about school board members. When they're running for office and anxious to win voter and newspaper support, they always talk about their opposition to "executive sessions".

I can still recall the advertisement (published June 10, 1971 to be exact) at which time Sylvia Gucken declared (along with her fellow anti-year-round-school candidates) that "we support open board meetings, except in those rare instances, such as negotiations", and criticized her opponents by pointing out that "...the incumbents have encouraged and participated in secret, closed board meetings".

Mrs. Gucken wasn't elected in 1971, but she's a board member now and she participated in last week's secret session at which time the board made a final, flat decision on who would be appointed to the board. (The appointee was summoned to Hillside, interviewed and persuaded to accept the position).

It really isn't fair to single out Mrs. Gucken, except that her declaration of opposition to secret meetings is the most recent.

On June 8, 1967 Andrew Orphan, who also took part in last week's secret meeting, said: "only by conducting all business during public sessions can elected officials hope to stop...rumors".

At one time or another all the present board members have indicated they stand for public meetings.

I'm certain the board can ably defend its little get-together at Hillside to "talk about personalities". They may even try to justify their action by stating that the official appointment was not made until an open meeting.

But the decision was made at a closed session.

How and why the board reached its decision is information the public is not privileged to know.

It's difficult to understand the change in attitude regarding secret meetings that takes place in candidates once they become board members. Presumably, they believe open discussion of the merits and qualifications of various proposed appointees is something so sensitive that only board members possess the maturity to weigh the issues.

Based upon past performances, we can expect the newest appointee will soon be seating himself comfortably in the secret confines of an "executive session" as members convene to discuss another subject too sensitive to debate in public...perhaps administrative salary increases, for example.

A remark made by a township resident at the recent annexation hearing conducted by the State Boundaries Commission should not go unchallenged because it's a typical misconception.

He implied that, unlike city officials, township officials work "for very little" and that members of township governmental bodies perform their duties more or less in the spirit of public service.

In the reality, the opposite is true.

It's my personal conviction, and that of many other observers of local level government, that citizen participation on most public bodies should be volunteered without pay.

And in the case of the school district and the city government, this is largely true.

Let's compare, for example, both elective and appointive bodies in the Northville district, city and township.

1—The Northville board of education, seven members, meeting about 40 times per year, unpaid.

2—The city of Northville planning commission, nine members meeting approximately 36 times per year, unpaid.

3—The city's board of appeals, nine members meeting 12 times per year, unpaid.

4—City's Building Authority, three members meeting periodically to handle affairs of parking deck project, unpaid.

5—City council, four councilmen and mayor, meeting about 35 times per year, councilmen paid $500 annually, mayor paid $600 annually; city manager paid $18,200 plus $1,000 car allowance annually; total cost for city council and manager—$21,800.

6—Northville township planning commission, seven members meeting about 20 times per year, paid $10 each per meeting, annual cost—$1,400.

7—Township board of appeals, three members holding about 15 meetings per year, paid $10 each per meeting, annual cost—$450.

8—Township water and sewer commission, five members averaging 12 meetings per year, paid $10 each per meeting, annual cost—$600. (In the city the manager performs this duty).

9—Township board of trustees, seven members including four trustees and supervisor, clerk, treasurer; held 29 meetings last year, trustees paid $20 each per meeting; annual pay for supervisor, $8,457; clerk, $7,736; treasurer, $7,027; annual cost for trustees and three officers—$25,540.

After the November election salaries of the township board of officers will be increased to $12,500 for supervisor and $10,000 for clerk and treasurer.

This will boost the annual cost of the elected members of the township board to $34,820 compared to an annual cost for elected members of the city council plus the city manager of $21,800.

Item No. 4 above lists a "building authority" in its three members are unpaid. The township is presently preparing to approve its articles of incorporation to form such an authority to build a $500,000 township hall-fire-police complex.

And board members agreed that the articles should provide for compensation for members of the township authority.

To some the above may merely represent more "newspaper nit-picking". But it may cause others to wonder how three local units of government should have such different philosophies in regard to community service.

The school district holds to a policy of paying neither elective nor appointive citizen bodies. Most school districts do pay board members. The Northville board has traditionally voted not to do so. It is the choice of the board members.

In the city none of the appointive commission or board members are paid. Their service is considered a contribution to the welfare of the community.

In the township nearly all appointees are paid. (Exceptions are the recreation and library commissions where members represent both the city and township).

It is my personal feeling that there is meaningful significance to the fact that the township pays its appointees. And though it is not totally irrelevant, the money involved is not the important consideration.

At any rate, the implication that township board and commission members work for less than their city counterparts should be recognized for the myth that it is.

ALAN STONEX

YES...

Yes! I believe that cities should provide bike paths. The City of Brighton has a Comprehensive Parks and Recreation Plan which was the product of a great deal of study and effort by a committee of the City Planning Commission.

This plan was formally adopted about this time last year. Our plan envisions neighborhood playground areas, several larger parks, and a baseball field—all of which will be spread throughout the city and connected by a pedestrian-bicycle path network. Ore Creek, would be a scenic route connecting one end of the city to the other.

This plan is being implemented in stages with the dedication on October 14 of the first major portion of the project—the Mill Pond Park.

In planning for this bicycle and pedestrian network, we see their future use as being safe, healthy, aesthetically attractive and as a reduction to possible congestion on main streets.

I know I would rather see my young son ride his bike on such a path rather than in the possible way of motor traffic.

Alan F. Stonex

HERBERT BONDY

NO...

I don't think that it is at all necessary to have a bicycle trail in South Lyon.

From my experience in riding a trail bike up north we find that it becomes boring to ride over the same area repeatedly. We want to find new places to explore. I'm sure the children would feel the same way and when they tire of the same trail they will start destroying the signs and whatever else they can damage.

A bicycle trail won't keep them from going wherever they please.

If enough parents think that it is needed, I wish they would present their ideas to Council. I don't like to see children traveling South Lyon's streets during heavy traffic and I and other councilmen will be happy to listen to their arguments.

However, I still feel they will ride whenever and wherever they want to and providing specific paths would not help that situation. Children in this city are considerate and most do observe traffic laws on our streets now.

"I never met an American who was polled."

Senator George McGovern made that observation in attacking the validity of the major pollsters who show him trailing President Richard Nixon by a whopping percentage.

Sour grapes? Perhaps.

But, so help me, I've never met an American who was polled either. Come to think of it I've never met a non-American who was polled.

And that's odd because I and lots of people I know have received unsolicited pornographic literature. That the pornos know me and the pollsters don't, hurts a little.

Anyway, it occurred that perhaps the pollsters have blackballed others as well. So this past week I conducted my own poll...a poll about the pollsters.

It wasn't very scientific, mind you, but a random selection of 12 area telephone numbers. Figuring that each of the persons called is acquainted with a minimum of 100 other persons, I'd guess it sampled at least 1200 people.

Each of those polled were asked if they had ever been contacted by a major pollster, such as Gallup or Harris, or by one of the television rating services. They also were asked if they knew of anyone who had been contacted.

The results show the pollsters are far behind in the credibility contest.

Why Wasn't 1-Mill Used?

To the Editor: Leon Herman, a Southfield attorney, is the state appointed factfinder. (The factfinding date had been scheduled for September 27th; however, Mr. Herman was contacted by board's representative and the date has now been rescheduled for October 7th.) The teachers have proposed binding arbitration which has not yet been responded to by the Board of Education. It is accepted by the Board, the factfinders recommendations could result in an agreement, thereby eliminating the possibility of an interruption in classroom activity.

Two of the major issues are class size and salary. The Superintendent states teachers are asking for large raises. His contention is erroneous. What Mr. Spear is asking is that teachers pay again this year for the wage price freeze of 1971. His feeling is that since we did not receive all of our wages last year, offering us those same wages this year constitutes an increase. The teachers association adamantly opposes his position and refuses to negotiate last year's salary agreement all over again. They are only asking competitive wages with other metropolitan school districts, a genuine 5.5 percent increase consistent with the presidential guidelines. The Board's team also refuses to recognize the class size issue as being real and viable. It is a most important issue that must be dealt with. Students in overcrowded classrooms cannot receive the attention they deserve. We are aware that some classes are smaller than others, but teachers are concerned with the over-crowded classrooms of 32 and 34. Northville is a community that is growing rapidly, and new students arrive each week. The schools are already 100 students over the projected growth for this year and our building program proceeds at a small's pace, far behind our student growth. Teachers want programs that were reduced years ago such as counselor, library services, art and music to be fully restored. Why did the school board not use the 1 mill passed by voters to restore these services? In short, the concern is for quality education which must be maintained. Signed by Marilyn McCarthy For Paul Osborn President, Northville Education Association

Out of the 12 persons, one "may" have been contacted a number of years ago; two had been surveyed by television rating services; and none knew of anyone else who had been contacted by a major pollster.

Mine was the first.

Mrs. Chester Davies was the lone person who might have been contacted. As best as she can recall, someone may have contacted her several years ago but she cannot recall the circumstances.

"No, never in my lifetime and I'm 50 years old," Harold Ferris said. "You know I've always been curious about that. The polls quote this and that and I've never been contacted, nor have my neighbors or any of the people I work with. Just who are they calling?"

Ferris did, however, receive a call a year ago concerning television shows.

"Never," said Mrs. Allen Cassidy.

Mrs. Edward Feast said she never has been contacted, nor have any of her acquaintances. "They're fun to read but that's about all," she remarked.

"It's funny but I've never gotten a call from any of them," said Mrs. Royal Keller. "If I knew of anyone who had I'd tell you. It seems to me what people think is their own business. I'm not sure about those polls."

Gus Kolb has never been contacted but he believes the polls are "pretty accurate" in giving President Nixon a big lead over Senator McGovern. "About the only kind of poll I get are the letters from Congressman (Marvin) Esch. You going to vote for Nixon? You should, he's a good man."

Mrs. Richard Janes neither supports nor rejects pollsters, but she admits that neither she nor her acquaintances have ever been contacted.

"They're a waste of time," said William Hirth, who did, once, receive a call about the television shows he watches.

"I think they're ridiculous," said Mrs. Ray Mudge. "It's like asking people what kind of toothpaste they use. Or let me put it this way: it's like asking what paper you like best—South Lyon, Novi or Northville. They're so much alike. Now if you asked me between the Free Press and News I'd say The News but you wouldn't know that my real favorite was the old Detroit Times."

"I've always wondered about that," commented Thomas Ford. "Who in the world are they contacting. They've never called me and I don't know anyone they have. If they'd let us know from time to time the people they're calling, maybe we could believe them a little. For all you know, those polls favoring Nixon were based on calls all to Republicans."

Mrs. John Blackburn has never been contacted and she doesn't know anyone who has.

Said Mrs. Robert Morris: "None, we've never gotten any calls like that. But, by the way, while we're on that subject, we didn't get our paper yesterday. We miss it. Would you see what happened?"

Bike Film Kicks off Season

Two films are coming up next week—the first of the 1972-73 travelogue series and the first joint sponsorship by the Rotary clubs of Northville and Plymouth. Kicking off the six-program series will be the appearance at the Northville High School on October 4 of Julian Gromer, who will present the film, "Wheels Across America."

College Students Ready for Trip Across The Country

According to Northville Rotarian Robert Webber, this year's travelogue series will feature the first three programs in Northville and the final three in Plymouth. Following Gromer here on November 9 will be John Strong — "Brighton Belgium", and on January 3, George Wilhelm—"South Pacific Isles."

The next three programs, scheduled in Plymouth, included: February 7, Don Cooper—"Lumberjack's Alaskan Adventure"; March 5, Nicol Smith—"Enchanting Bali"; and Robert Brouwer—"Rio Colorado."

Gromer's appearance here at 8 p.m. will feature a unique film of a bicycling adventure across America. It traces the adventures of 40 college boys who pedal their 10-speed bikes from San Francisco, 3700 miles to New York City, averaging 120 miles per day.

Narrating the film, Gromer will use a device of his own invention that makes it possible to focus the projector from the tape recorder on the stage. By projecting the original film, instead of a print, and focusing from the stage, a sharp picture is always seen on the screen.

Discusses 'Maybury Mess'

To the Editor: The mess at Maybury indicates the need for strong leadership in township government. When bands of roaming thieves and gangs invade the property, and vandalize the immediate area, citizens have a right to complain about the destruction created by the overflow upon their private property. The Township Supervisor should demand an immediate response from the State Department of Natural Resources to protect the rights of citizens in the area. The legislature approved an appropriation for the park earlier this summer. State police should protect the homeowners and provide some type of patrol to insure

Criticizes

For the past nine months I have been a resident of Highland Lakes Condominiums. During that period of time I have become increasingly frustrated in my attempts to solve certain construction problems with my home by dealing with the builder. These frustrations have included unreturned phone calls, broken promises, and a general lack of concern for my individual problems. It is a real shame that the same individuals who are so unconcerned with the problems of existing residents, such as myself, are able to sell and build additional units while those of us already here are forced to live with, and pay for, something less than we were sold.

Trash Pickup

residents seem to favor the service proposal and are asking for it.

In Northville Township, however, very little public reaction to the proposal has been noted, according to Supervisor Stromberg, who remains hopeful that the township may yet participate.

"If people know they will get it for less money (than they pay presently for privately contracted service) they will want it," he said following last week's meeting.

Presently, some people are paying $50 or more for collection, he said.

While bids are not yet in on the proposed pickup service, the authority on the basis of a preliminary investigation, predicts it will get a contract for approximately $2.10 per month per pickup, means the annual bill would be approximately $25 for each residential customer, he said.

"Why would they want to continue like they are if they can get it (pickup service) for less?"

Even if they wanted the service, however, the question remains as to how they can be legally billed through the township offices.

The authority does not intend to deal directly with customers but rather with the municipalities. Its plan call for collecting for the service from the municipalities retaining a small service charge (perhaps 10 cents of the $2.10), and then paying the contractor.

While Plymouth Township will not subsidize the collection service, "we are thinking that maybe we will pay the month's bill from the general fund, say $2,000, and then recoup that amount from the customers," Mrs. Richardson said. "That way our expenditure would be only temporary each month, with money going out and coming back."

If Northville Township does not participate in sanitation service program, the project will very likely go ahead, according to Northville Councilman Vernon.

Plan Curbs Expansion Of Track

Main, and for the South Main strip from Gardner to Johnson.

For the area lying between Cary and Park Place on the north, South Main on the north, Johnson on the south and the Griswold Street extension on the west he suggested an industrial classification.

Another change from the original plan is the consultant's suggestion that the area north and northwest of the Ford plant be designated for open space use. In the original plan, part of this property, owned by the Ford-Motor company, is designated for industrial use.

Should planners accept the consultant's suggestions — and that can't happen until after a public hearing is held — the commercial area would encompass the existing downtown area, together with commercial on either side of Main Street to Park Place (excluding the Ford plant); the area bounded by Wing, Dunlap, Griswold, and Center; a strip along the east side of Center south from Lake Street; and a bulk of the land north of Randolph, between High and Center, and south and east of the Lutheran Church property to Center.

Concerning the latter area, between High and Center, Nino suggested it "is ideally located for specialized office structures and serves the purpose of functional separation of use activities."

Nino's suggested central business district could, he noted, provide for a revised loop or loop street system.

The northern portion of the loop, he said, could follow an extension of Randolph Street realigned easterly to Hutton and then south and east along the easement to the north of Main, to Griswold.

Most of the remainder of the land within the city is left for a residential classification by the consultant. A significant large multiple-family unit development is projected for the area north of Randolph, south of Baseline, and west to near the Ford Road area. Much of this property is presently occupied by Eastlawn Convalescent Home.

"The topography of this area and its ownership (one owner) makes it extremely attractive for a large scale planned development," he said.

"An alternative use suggests public ownership and development as a multi-purpose recreational area, however regional facilities now available and planned suggest that its acquisition by the City of Northville may not be warranted."

Board Rejects 'Arbitration'

Request by the Northville Education Association that a "binding arbitration" be invoked in current teacher contract negotiations was formally denied by the board of education Monday night.

Although it took no formal action, the board authorized its attorney, Fred Schwarze, to verbally report to the NEA its opposition to binding arbitration.

Under binding arbitration the two sides would agree to a third party's findings and would have to accept his recommendations for a contract settlement.

—That since formal settlement has not been reached on all issues, technically even those that have been informally approved are subject to renegotiation by either side.

—That the board's position on class size remains firm, namely that the existing contract language be continued.

—That the extra curricular issue concerns payment to teachers, not whether or not some activities should be eliminated or changed.

According to Superintendent Spear, the fact that some cuts made in 1968 (such as remedial reading teacher, elementary art and physical education instructors) have not been restored "has nothing to do" with the board's decision not to levy some of the authorized millage.

Decision in August by the board not to levy one voted mill was based on a conclusion that a "sound education program" would be possible without the added taxes, he declared.

Restructuring of the program, he and Florence Panattoni, director of instruction, explained, has made it unnecessary to have remedial classes have been replaced by more positive classroom studies, such as speed reading and individualized reading emphasis, which are proving more beneficial than were remedial classes.

Pressed for answers by a spokesman for the PT council, who had hoped the board would consider a public forum on negotiations, Schwarze made the following disclosures:

—That he, Schwarze, has represented the school board at the bargaining table since mid-July.

—That while formally 13 or more issues remain to be resolved, informally most of the issues have been settled.

—That mediation has been underway since early August.

—That while formally 13 or more issues remain to be resolved, informally most of the issues have been settled.

—That since formal settlement has not been reached on all issues, technically even those that have been informally approved are subject to renegotiation by either side.

...The color-etching brush of fall creeps southward with the disappearance of September to proclaim again, "It's apple cider time." And in this area there are plenty of places to see cider made and enjoy its refreshing, sweet taste. A favorite near South Lyon is the Olsen Cider Mill at 10550 Rushton Road in Green Oak Township, and in the Brighton area three cider mills are especially popular: Tom Walker's on Parshville Road north of Hartland, Clare's inside Brighton on Grand River, and Henry Town on Grand River between Brighton and Howell.

Nine of the 61 awards presented Michigan weekly newspapers in the annual Michigan Press Association's newspaper contest were won by Siger Publications—The Northville Record-Nowi News, Brighton Argus and South Lyon Herald.

Announcement of the results was made this week by the MPA. Some 210 entries were judged by members of the Nebraska Press Association.

First place awards won by Siger Publications include: best editorial page; competition in this category included all weekly newspapers, regardless of size, second place was won by the Livonia Observer and third by the Birmingham Eccentric; —The Herald for news pictures.

Other awards included the third place, as noted above, to The Argus for news reporting; second place to The Record for use of pictures; second place to The Record for advertising ideas; second places to The Herald in the overall general excellence category; and third place to The Record in general excellence.

The Record had set something of a "record" for Michigan weekly newspapers by winning the general excellence designation three years in a row.

Ambler Named

Lysinger, unsuccessful board candidate at the June election, nevertheless was delighted with the appointment of Ambler.

Deibert said he had been assured the board's decision was reached democratically and that several people had been carefully considered for the post at the executive meeting. He called Ambler an "exemplary" choice.

A graduate of Northville High School, he attended Eastern Michigan University and presently is an executive with the Chrysler Corporation.

Commenting on his appointment, Ambler said, "I believe we have competent and conscientious school board, a good administrative staff and a good teaching staff. I consider it an honor to be associated with them and I hope I can make a contribution to their continued success."

behalf of annexation of the township to the city, while Lysinger was the chief spokesman for those opposing annexation.

Formerly a resident of the city, Ambler now lives in the township at 4703 Timber Lane. He served as a Northville city councilman from 1961 to 1965, and he also served on the city planning commission.

A life-long resident of the community, Ambler, ironically, was on the opposite side of the fence from Lysinger at the recent annexation hearing. He is secretary of the One-Northville committee, and hence was a chief spokesman in

Host Soviet Poet

Poet Isosif Brodsky, recently-appointed poet-in-residence at the University of Michigan, and almost as recently banished from his native Russia, will appear at Schoolcraft College on October 3.

Considered by many as Russia's foremost poet, Brodsky was "invited" to leave permanently for Israel this past summer. Instead, he chose to come to the university to accept a post filled only once before — by Robert Frost from 1921 to 1923.

Brodsky, 32, was met at Metropolitan Airport in early July by his friends, Carl R. and Eileen Proffer, who were instrumental in his coming to Michigan.

Brodsky will appear at 8 p.m. in the Liberal Arts Theater. His appearance is sponsored by the Cultural and Public Affairs Committee, arranged by David Perkins, an English instructor. There is no charge.

Park Plans

Park naturalists will provide guided morning "Autumn nature walks" open to the general public at Kensington Metropolitan Park near New Hudson on four Sundays starting October 8 at 7 a.m. (Dates are Sunday, October 8, 15, 22 and 29).

Families and individuals should meet the park naturalist at the Nature Center. The purpose of the guided nature walks is to help the park visitor enjoy and understand the plant and animal life of the area during the beautiful fall season.

Boy and Girl Scout groups, other civic groups and school children may request guided nature hikes at Kensington through Friday, with appointments made through the Detroit Office by calling 961-5865 (Detroit).

Thomas H. Smith, chief naturalist for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, advised persons to dress according to the weather and to wear sturdy shoes that will keep their feet

Michigan Mirror

Is $45,000 Enough for Governor?

LANSING—Can the governor of Michigan survive on a salary of $45,000 per year plus expenses? Can members of the State Supreme Court get by on $42,000 per year plus free parking privileges? Should the 148 Members of the legislature get more than the $17,000 per year and $2,500 expense allowance they now get?

The new pay rates go into effect Jan. 1, and will be in effect for the next two years. The creation of the commission took away from the legislature the politically embarrassing job of raising its own salary base. Lawmakers still have the power to overturn decisions of the commission, but they must vote specifically to overturn it.

Supreme Court justices didn't get anything the first time around, but in 1970 they received a $7,000 increase to $42,000. The court's efforts for pay raises have raised more eyebrows than other branches the past few years. IN 1970 COURT Administrator William Hart said it was "embarrassing" for the judges to be paid so little as they are. Then he suggested a $37,000 salary would be equitable.

Some PEOPLE have a tendency to read things too literally. For instance, there are some of the people who ride Detroit's public buses. The bus drivers recently began handing out leaflets to their riders urging them to support Gov. William G. Milliken's transportation package. The 5 x 8 inch leaflets listed 18 members of the State Senate from in and around the Detroit area and a map showing their districts to enable the reader to identify his senator.

Babson Report

Construction Hits Record

Wellesley Hills, Mass. - Spending on public and private construction during 1971 totaled a record-shattering $109 billion, according to the U.S. Department of Commerce. Of this amount, expenditures for public construction accounted for $30 billion, the private sector for $79 billion. For the current year, total construction outlays are expected to advance 8-percent to $118 billion, with private construction accounting to $86 billion, public spending to $32 billion.

Looking ahead to 1973 and beyond, a continued high level of construction activity may be expected as a result of the enormous task of replacing the nation's outdated industrial and commercial facilities as well as meeting sustained demand for better housing and more service establishments of all types. By the year 1975, total construction is likely to reach a historic height of $150 billion, 38 percent above the record pace set during 1971.

Public utility construction was second only to residential construction in terms of percentage gain last year. With a record volume of $14 billion expected to be spent erecting gas, electric, and telephone facilities this year, the category should once again be a pacesetter in terms of percentage improvement.

Sleeper Park Ideal For Color Touring

Now is the time to begin planning that vacation jaunt to Michigan during the annual fall color spectacular. Gone are the throngs of summer visitors, highways and byways are less congested, a tranquility of color is frequently attained at between-season rates and the warm days and mild nights of Indian summer can be savored, according to the Michigan Tourist Council. Nature sets the stage and her colorful cast numbers in the millions. With more than 85 species of hard and soft-wood trees scattered throughout some 6.4 million acres of public forest, Michigan is America's autumn showplace.

Open Horse Show, October 1, 8:30 a.m. sharp, Wayne County Fairgrounds, Belleville. Judge, Keith Forbush; entry fee, $2 per class. Classes for ponies and horses. Six ribbons and trophy in each class. Sponsored by the Krazy Horse-H Club of Grosse Ile.

A natural history course will be taught at nearby Kensington Metropolitan Park's nature center this fall. Miss Patricia Eising, supervising naturalist, will teach the 2-day course entitled "Vignettes in Natural History," which will be offered on Wednesday and Thursday, October 11-12. The course fee is $15.00.

State Marine Lore

Museums Salute Ships

There are hundreds of museums throughout Michigan, but five of them have a special appeal. They are devoted entirely to marine lore and history. Together, they offer more nautical lore than any other Great Lakes state, according to Automobile Club of Michigan. Their presentations are varied and also extensive. The largest is housed in the specially-designed building. Three are aboard former ships that once sailed the Great Lakes. The fifth is a lighthouse.

The city of Detroit III, built in 1911, belonged to the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation Co. fleet. She operated on overnight service between Detroit, Buffalo and Cleveland, making her last run in 1930. Before the ship was dismantled six years later, its contents and furnishings were sold. A wealthy Clevelander bought entire interiors of rooms, and from this source the Great Lakes Maritime Institute, a non-profit organization, acquired the Gothic room after a successful fund-raising drive. Two years of restoration followed, directed by the museum's curator, Robert E. Lee, who worked personally on the job with the aid of a small staff of volunteers.

The Dossin Museum and its enthusiastic curator, who insists he was named after the steamboat and not the Confederate general, believe in making marine heritage come alive. A youngster can grasp the wheel of a bygone ship. By pushing a button he can make the paddle wheels turn on a model of the Frank E. Kirby, a famous express steamer. There is real ship-to-ship radio chatter. Another exhibit shows navigation light functions. There is a restoration of the entire interior of a turn-of-the-century pilothouse. Among static exhibits are pictures, marine lithographs, Nature Center at 685-3417 (Milford).

About Abortion

Father John Wyskiel, Associate Pastor, Our Lady of Victory Church, Northville

November 7th approaches and with that comes the time for choosing between concrete alternatives. One question to be decided election day for the state of Michigan is liberalized abortion. It would be nice (but naive) to think that before November 7th the issue underlying the abortion question will be settled. But it will not. For that issue, as I see it, is one of life. Precisely: Is human life involved?

Our civil society in Michigan has already decided that it is within the scope of its responsibility to speak on behalf of and to defend the unborn child. To cite the example of Wayne County Circuit Judge James L. Ryan, if it should be in a car accident involving the injury or death of an unborn child through my negligence, I would be made to answer before the court for my action.

But, in addition, if the abortion law is changed as now proposed, it could happen that I am brought to court for unintentionally injuring an unborn child and a woman would receive no sanction for intentionally taking the life of the unborn she is carrying.

Is this human life? This is the question that must first be considered, discussed and finally answered. It cannot be merely brushed aside as a moot question of no consequence. Upon the answer to this question hinges the abortion issue. If what is within the mother is not human life—just a question of some sort—then it deserves little respect or consideration, and the only concern should be the convenience and the well-being of the mother.

However, until the medical profession is able to present a case showing that the fetus is not human life the fundamental right to life is so to be respected as to cause me to take the safer course, grant that life is present and operate in that manner. (The evidence supporting the presence of human life from the time of conception is, indeed, quite strong.) And on November 7th I have to act upon the evidence at my disposal and proceed as if the fetus is an unborn child with all the rights and protection due a human.

Furthermore, since the unborn child cannot protect himself, my Christian conscience calls to me what I can to protect him as I would any other weak and defenseless person. This means that abortion is not a private matter between a woman and her physician. It is rather an issue involving three: the woman, the physician and the unborn child. I say it involves three because unless a woman at certain times in her life grows a second heart, has two brains and two different blood types, then the child she is carrying is a unique individual, dependent on the mother, yes—but all the more for every year after birth—but not really a part of the mother the way her appendix is a part of her.

If we operate in this way we are taking a step backward in our civilizing process. For civilization is the process of barbarians trying to restrain to non-violent ways of solving problems and living with one another. Abortion is a violent solution.

Of the three involved two can speak for themselves, but who speaks for the child?

If someone wants to commit suicide we do not say, "Well, if he's going to do it there is no way you can stop him—he'll do it in a back alley or off a bridge—so why not take him to a hospital (have it covered by Blue Cross) and help him to take his life?" No, we try to help him find another less radical and less violent solution to his problems. Likewise in the area of abortion.

Rather than liberalizing abortion laws let us work to build a society where abortion would cease to occur because we are dealing with the real underlying problems in a civilized and humane way.

A man does have to look after his brother. That's what Timmy said the other day, as he stood beside our baby. And I told him he was right. "You are so much stronger than this tiny, little creature," I said. "From now on, you've got a real responsibility!"

A man does have to look after his brother... especially when that brother is weak. But there are moments, too, when even the strongest man may need a brother—especially on Worldwide Communion Sunday!

In the eyes of the Church, all men are brothers, just as all men are equally beloved. As long as there is a church near you, you are not alone. You have only to open the door and walk in and you will be at once with your fellow man... and at home with your brothers.

Along the Campaign Trail

Broomfield

"If federal judges are the guardians of our Constitutional rights, who is guarding us from our guardians?" asked Congressman William Broomfield, 19th district, in the campaign trail.

Lately, a growing trend has surfaced, he charged this past week, on the part of federal judges to become involved in areas that "once-upon-a-time courts had enough sense to avoid."

"Too many federal judges are, for whatever reasons, overstepping their boundaries into activities that are more properly legislative or administrative. Whether their moves are good or bad, I think it represents a dangerous threat to the delicate balance of authority that for so long has existed among the executive, legislative and judicial branches."

Growing complaints of the people regarding judges are legitimate, deserving a solution, he said.

"That's why I have introduced a Constitutional Amendment that calls for the review of federal judges by the U.S. Senate every eight years. Every federal judge from the district courts to the Supreme Court would be subject to these re-confirmation hearings."

"This requires a slight change in the Constitution. I think it is justified in response to a drastic change in the way the courts traditionally have operated."

Specifically, Broomfield noted that it "is not unusual" today to see courts "telling school administrators how to run their schools, what kind of salaries to pay and how long they should stay open. Courts have become entangled recently in hospital administration, construction projects, labor negotiations and indirectly have ordered new taxes by requiring public officials to make certain expenditures."

"Who knows what will be next?"

According to Mrs. Dumas, who recently toured the Wayne County jail facilities, the necessity of a new jail appears questionable at the present time.

"As a result of my observations and in view of the lower average daily population, which results from the question of building a new addition to the present facility requires further study," she said.

"Meanwhile, we should continue with rapid renovation of the present facility."

"Furthermore, if the 30 month Action Program of the Wayne County Criminal Justice Coordinating Committee is successful in cutting by half the time between arrest and trial dates and in increasing probation services for misdemeanors and minor offenders, this will continue to reduce the number of persons housed in the jail awaiting trial."

Mrs. Dumas called for immediate attention to the need for added youth detention and care facilities.

"Since the average age of those being processed at the Wayne County Jail is between 17 and 25 years and most of those are repeaters, it is obvious that we have failed to provide effective preventive measures at an earlier age," she said.

"How many commissioners have bothered to acquaint themselves in hand with the Youth Home, the Wayne County General Hospital, the

In Michigan, running against incumbent Republican Robert Griffin and Democrat Frank Kelly, is Thomas Dennis, 54-year-old chairman of the Michigan Communist Party.

Dennis is a former member of United Auto Workers Union who now is a member of the United Office and Professional Workers Union, AFL-CIO.

Seeking election to one of the two vacancies on the Wayne State board of governors is Peggy Goldman, a 23-year-old former Wayne student.

Alan Maki, 20, an unemployed man from Grand Rapids is opposing the Ford for the Congressional seat in Michigan's Fifth District.

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners was taken to task this past week by Mary Dumas, Republican candidate for the board.

"It is no great credit to the present (board) that they have waited until just before election day to investigate and demand financial accounting of various criminal justice programs which they have approved from federal tax dollars or funded directly from the Wayne County general fund budget," she declared.

Not only is the project long overdue, she said, but continuous evaluation has been lacking to avoid waste and duplication of funding and to provide maximum service to the people.

"Instead, they have waited until two months before the election. And now, with the cries of the voters in their ears, they demand to know where all the money went and why some funds have gone down the drain in poorly planned and inadequately supervised programs."

In addition, they suddenly come forth with glowing reports of what they plan to do in the future after they are re-elected."

Michigan's Communist party has selected three state candidates to run with their presidential and vice presidential candidates on the November 7 ballot.

The CP is on the ballot after reportedly obtaining 24,000 signatures; 14,000 were needed.

Top of the ticket is Gus Hall, a former CIO steelworker organizer under the late CIO President Phil Murray. The vice-presidential Communist candidate is Jarvis Tyner, a

Keake

Dr. Robert Keake, candidate for state representative in the newly apportioned 55th (Northville-Livonia) district, has endorsed President Nixon's plan to stop all foreign and military aid to nations which promote or permit the flow of drug traffic into the U.S.

"I applaud the actions of our President," stressed Keake in a meeting for campaign workers in his Northville home Friday night.

"Now there is a real opportunity for meaningful action at the state level. For too long we've heard state politicians say their hands are tied because the tremendous drug problem requires program at the federal level. To me that's pure nonsense."

For example, the state legislature has the money and the power to implement a drug education program throughout all the high schools in the state of Michigan, he said. "In addition, I strongly support increased state efforts in the areas of treatment and rehabilitation. While funded by the state, these programs should be locally controlled."

"While the public generally is very aware of the tragic direct effects on the user, many people are not fully aware of the side effects. For example, experts attribute as much as fifty percent of car-stereate addicts attempting to support habits which may cost up to $100 a day or more. Drug abuse creates other kinds of crime such as stealing from homes and stores and crimes of violence committed by persons grappling for the tremendous illegal profits of the drug trade."

"I have spent much of my life working in the areas of school psychology and mental health and I can tell you there is no problem in our society today so much in need of immediate attention as drug abuse."

"If elected as the state representative from the new 55th district I pledge myself to work for reordering of state spending priorities. I'll be fighting excessive welfare spending and attempting to use some of those funds to broaden our drug education and mental health programs."

L. Brooks Patterson, Republican candidate for Oakland County Prosecutor, has announced the appointment of Troy Attorney Richard Thompson as his campaign manager, effective immediately.

Thompson, 35, of Troy, will have overall responsibility for Patterson's campaign.

"I am delighted that Mr. Thompson has agreed to manage my campaign. A native of the Detroit Metropolitan Area with almost a decade as a practicing attorney, he is thoroughly familiar with all facets of law and law enforcement," Patterson said, "as well as politics in Oakland County."

A 1968 graduate of the University of Michigan, Thompson spent two years as a U.S. Army Intelligence Officer and enrolled in Wayne State University's Law School in 1961 following his discharge. He received his law degree in 1964 and was admitted to the bar the following year. Thompson has been trial attorney since 1965 and presently is a partner in the firm of Gelman, Hand & Thompson.

House Majority Leader Marvin R. Stempien (D-Livonia-Northville) has asked the Fair Campaign Practices Committee to investigate and denounce the claims of the Republican Marvin L. Esch of Ann Arbor that he is Livonia's incumbent Congressman.

In a telegram to the committee, Stempien called Esch's actions "misrepresentation" and said they violate Michigan Election Law. "What Mr. Esch is doing is just not honest," Representative Stempien said.

"If he were to fairly represent himself to the electors of Livonia, he would have honestly had to say that Jack McDonald is their representative in Congress," he continued.

"I have been the incumbent State Representative in Livonia for three terms, and yet in this campaign I have not used words such as 'keep' or 'retain' in presenting my record to the public in any area of the new district."

Representative Stempien said Esch has mass mailed to every residence in Livonia six times since the Federal Court Order was issued that changed the Congressional lines for the session that begins in January, 1973.

"He has even set up an office in Livonia which is outside his district at taxpayer expense," Stempien said. "Because the actions of my opponent in recent weeks show a pattern of this untrue representation in violation of Michigan election law, I have asked my attorney to seek a Court Order to stop them." A hearing was scheduled before Judge James Ryan in Wayne County Circuit Court earlier this week.

Esch

Congressman Marvin Esch, candidate for re-election in the reapportioned Second Congressional District, has appealed to President Richard Nixon to urge settlement of the Northwest Airlines strike.

Noting that Michigan citizens have been without the services of Northwest Orient since June 30, the Republican representative asked the president to urge negotiators to go into around-the-clock bargaining.

"The labor dispute has created an unbearable burden for business in the Second Congressional District in Michigan and throughout the region," Esch wrote the President. "The strike has long since ceased to have any productive impact and has been hard on both the strikers and Northwest Orient."

"It seems to me that it would be in the greatest good of the public that you encourage the negotiating parties to begin around the clock negotiations until this dispute is settled."

Not only is the project long overdue, she said, but continuous evaluation has been lacking to avoid waste and duplication of funding and to provide maximum service to the people.

"Instead, they have waited until two months before the election. And now, with the cries of the voters in their ears, they demand to know where all the money went and why some funds have gone down the drain in poorly planned and inadequately supervised programs."

In addition, they suddenly come forth with glowing reports of what they plan to do in the future after they are re-elected."

Michigan's Communist party has selected three state candidates to run with their presidential and vice presidential candidates on the November 7 ballot.

The CP is on the ballot after reportedly obtaining 24,000 signatures; 14,000 were needed.

Top of the ticket is Gus Hall, a former CIO steelworker organizer under the late CIO President Phil Murray. The vice-presidential Communist candidate is Jarvis Tyner, a former teamster who heads up the Young Workers Liberation League.

In Michigan, running against incumbent Republican Robert Griffin and Democrat Frank Kelly, is Thomas Dennis, 54-year-old chairman of the Michigan Communist Party.

Dennis is a former member of United Auto Workers Union who now is a member of the United Office and Professional Workers Union, AFL-CIO.

Seeking election to one of the two vacancies on the Wayne State board of governors is Peggy Goldman, a 23-year-old former Wayne student.

Alan Maki, 20, an unemployed man from Grand Rapids is opposing the Ford for the Congressional seat in Michigan's Fifth District.

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners was taken to task this past week by Mary Dumas, Republican candidate for the board.

"It is no great credit to the present (board) that they have waited until just before election day to investigate and demand financial accounting of various criminal justice programs which they have approved from federal tax dollars or funded directly from the Wayne County general fund budget," she declared.

Not only is the project long overdue, she said, but continuous evaluation has been lacking to avoid waste and duplication of funding and to provide maximum service to the people.

Griffin

Dr. Robert Griffin, Michigan's Republican candidate for re-election this year, will be in Troy, Oct. 3, at a dinner-dance at the Polish Century Club, Outer Drive and East Seven Mile, Detroit.

Cocktails will be served beginning at 6:30 p.m. with dinner and a brief program following at 7:30 p.m. There will be dancing after the dinner until midnight.

Tickets are $25 per person. For ticket information, contact Dr. Stanley Zajdel (GA 7-2330 or 477-8863) of 37985 Rhonwood Drive, Northville.

The evening is sponsored by the Polish-Americans for Senator Griffin, chaired by Jerome Jablonski, of 21380 Harvard, Southfield.

House Majority Leader Marvin R. Stempien (D-Livonia-Northville) has asked the Fair Campaign Practices Committee to investigate and denounce the claims of the Republican Marvin L. Esch of Ann Arbor that he is Livonia's incumbent Congressman.

In a telegram to the committee, Stempien called Esch's actions "misrepresentation" and said they violate Michigan Election Law. "What Mr. Esch is doing is just not honest," Representative Stempien said.

"If he were to fairly represent himself to the electors of Livonia, he would have honestly had to say that Jack McDonald is their representative in Congress," he continued.

"I have been the incumbent State Representative in Livonia for three terms, and yet in this campaign I have not used words such as 'keep' or 'retain' in presenting my record to the public in any area of the new district."

Representative Stempien said Esch has mass mailed to every residence in Livonia six times since the Federal Court Order was issued that changed the Congressional lines for the session that begins in January, 1973.

"He has even set up an office in Livonia which is outside his district at taxpayer expense," Stempien said. "Because the actions of my opponent in recent weeks show a pattern of this untrue representation in violation of Michigan election law, I have asked my attorney to seek a Court Order to stop them." A hearing was scheduled before Judge James Ryan in Wayne County Circuit Court earlier this week.
