Cancer Patients

The American Cancer Society has set up a Patient Service Program for the Southwest Oakland County Area, including Novi, Wolverine Lake, New Hudson, Wixom, Walled Lake, and Commerce Township.

Patients who have had cancer surgery often have to go for treatment after they are home from the hospital. Usually a friend, relative, or neighbor will provide transportation, but when this is not possible, volunteer drivers assist. Volunteers give whatever time their schedules will permit.

more volunteers for this community service. For more information or to volunteer, call Mary Ann Weber at 349-5022 or ask for Kathy McGrath at the ACS office at 557-5353.

Fire tears through Indian Lodge complex

A Commerce Township fire broke out at approximately 2:15 p.m. on Wednesday afternoon. The fire broke out in the Indian Lodge Apartments on Pontiac Trail. The fire spread quickly, and firefighters arrived to find the building in flames. The fire caused significant damage to the building and surrounding area.

Wixom escapes derailment disaster

Electrical service and railroad communications were interrupted, overhead traffic signals torn down, and a 1,000 gallon propane storage tank narrowly missed in Wixom Sunday afternoon. The mishap occurred at the busy intersection of Wixom Road and Pontiac Trail as the last 12 cars in a fast moving Chesapeake and Ohio freight train left the tracks.

Annexation bill stalled

A bill that Commerce Township officials at one time had hoped would provide a means for the township to merge with Wolverine Lake Village to form a new city is stalled in the state House of Representatives and probably won't be acted upon in time to benefit the protection of boundaries. The measure, House Bill (HB) 4030, would provide the same protection of boundaries for charter townships that is now enjoyed by home-rule cities, although it would allow for the annexation of an entire charter township.

Hellman says

Nike base still in running as prison site...

The former Nike Missile Base in Commerce Township still is in the running to become a state prison. State Representative Russell R. Hellman (D-Dollar Bay) said this week.

"The Nike base is still in the line of fire," Hellman said, "but it's down the road." Hellman said the committee still is a need for some 1,600 more beds in correctional facilities.

Hellman added. He also noted that committee members had opposed the acquisition of the warehouse because "it's on two busy streets and doesn't have adequate open area for (prisoners) recreation."

"It's still in the running," he said, "but I guess we'd have to take another look at (existing prison) conditions and some legislation that calls for locking up these guys and throwing away the keys."

Many political observers believe the Democrat-controlled Capital Outlay Committee is looking for prison sites in Oakland County as a result of county Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson's petition drive to place a referendum on the state "good time" law.

"The citizens' group has based its opposition on the proposal on the grounds that state-owned recreation lands should not be transferred to other agencies for non-recreational uses."

The governor, at a meeting with the Concerned Citizens in December, said that he would prefer to find another prison site in the city of Detroit as a replacement for the Hudson's warehouse.

...but it's not in department's plans

The state Department of Corrections does not have plans to convert the former Nike Base in Commerce Township to a prison facility, according to Perry M. Johnson, director of the department.

Johnson's statement on the controversial proposal to convert the former Nike Base in Commerce Township to a prison facility, according to Perry M. Johnson, director of the department.

Hellman's legislative committee has the power to approve funds for the acquisition, construction and renovation of correctional facilities.

The Nike base, located off Wase Road between Carroll Lake and Union Lake roads, is a part of the DNR's Pelletier Lake Unit of the Proud Lake Recreation Area.

Mrs. Timmons digs through memories as firemen fight to save her home

Of long-time Novi couple

Fire destroys residence

A blazing fire completely consumed the home of a long-time Novi couple last Thursday afternoon.

Left homeless after the blaze which roared through their two-story frame residence at 1801 East Walled Lake Drive were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Timmons.

Mrs. Timmons had lived in the home for approximately 22 years. She and her husband have resided at that location since their marriage 21 years ago.

"We lost everything," Timmons, 71, told The News Monday. "Everything we owned went up in smoke. We got out with the clothes on our back and that was about all," he stated.

The Timmons are presently living in Novi with Kenneth Andrews, Mrs. Timmons' son by a former marriage and a teacher at Walled Lake Junior High School.

In spite of the loss of their home and possessions, Timmons remains cheerful and optimistic.

"I've got a lot to be thankful for," he said. "My wife and I both escaped without injury and we have wonderful children. God has been good to us."

"Who knows, maybe the fire will turn out to be a blessing in disguise."

Timmons also reported that he and his wife are in fairly good financial shape in spite of the blaze. The home was adequately covered by insurance and members of their church have provided them with clothing.

"One man gave me three suits which are as nice as any suits I've ever owned in my life," he said. "I'm a member of the Mormon church which has its own welfare system. If we needed help, I could call on them and they'd do everything they could."

Although Lieutenant Gerald Race of the Novi Fire Department reported that the cause of the blaze is still under investigation, Timmons believes the fire may have started in the chimney.

"We had some trouble with the damper that day and there was some smoke in the house, but I thought I had fixed it," he said. "Then I opened up the windows to let the smoke out."

Timmons reported that he was downstairs on the first floor when he saw a spark fall from the second floor above the fireplace. When he went upstairs he saw the flames.

He said his first impulse was to fight the blaze himself, but he decided to call the fire department instead.

He then went outside to look for his wife who had been looking for one of their two dogs. "That was my biggest relief — when I saw that Helen was outside," he reported. "I was thinking that I might have to wrap some wet rags around myself and go back inside to look for her."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Timmons questioned the response time of the Novi Fire Department. Mrs. Timmons estimated that it took firemen almost 20 minutes to respond.

Timmons said that he had called the operator and asked for the fire department, but in the confusion of the situation was uncertain as to whether she had contacted him with the Novi or the Walled Lake fire department.

Lieutenant Race reported that the fire department was notified of the blaze by a neighbor at 2:12 p.m. and arrived at the scene within three minutes.

"The fire was already through the roof when we got there," he reported. "There wasn't much we could do at that time because of the age and wood-frame construction of the building."

Firemen were hindered in their efforts to combat the flames by the unavailability of water. Hoses would not reach the nearest hydrant and water was carried to the scene by fire department tankers.

Plans for millage finalized by board

The Novi School Board will ask voters to approve a three-pronged millage proposal on March 16, seeking to renew 13 mills that expired in the December tax collection, another mill for increased operating expenses and another half-mill to be used for energy conservation.

The board is requesting that the 13 mills be renewed for five more years, while the one mill and half-mill proposals are each for three years.

The millage proposal was passed by the board by a 4-2 vote at its January 31 meeting. Board members Sharon Pelchat and Joan Daley were the dissenters, both questioning the request for the additional half-mill for energy conservation.

Board members Robert Wilkins, John Milam, Ruth Waldenmayer and President and Jean Daley were the dissenters, both questioning the request for the additional half-mill for energy conservation.

In speaking against the proposal, Mrs. Pelchat asked board members to look around the administration room.

"That's look around this room," she said. "Every light is on and the shades are not drawn. If we were doing that, we would be conserving energy. And here we are asking the voters to spend $83,000 (the amount raised by one-half mill) for energy conservation."

Mrs. Pelchat also noted that the addition of the third proposal might threaten the passage of the other two requests. She noted the Financial Needs Assessment Committee, which met six times to examine the district's money needs, had recommended the 13 mills renewal and the additional mill but had said nothing about another half-mill.

Mrs. Daley commented she was "not opposed to energy conservation, but was not prepared to vote on something without figures and plans."

The proposal for the additional half-mill for energy conservation was made by Wilkins, who said "the community can get $3 for every $1 spent on energy conservation. It would save the $1 to begin with."

Besides the energy conservation millage proposal, Wilkins also made mention that the board combine the 13 mills renewal with the one mill for new operating expenses because he thought that the 13 mills renewal would actually be a cut in spending due to inflation.

"If the citizens vote for the 13 mills the school district will be forced into a deficit financial condition."

Principal selection viewed

With the retirement of Mrs. Ester McDonough as principal of the Orchard Hills Elementary School, Novi school board members are contemplating how to go about choosing a replacement.

Superintendent Gerald Kratz presented the board with two alternatives to selecting a replacement at the February 2 meeting — an administrative intern program, which would give local teachers a shot at the position, or an administrative trial program, which would give the edge to experienced administrators.

A decision on which selection process to use will be made at the February 9 board meeting.

Kratz recommended to the board that the administrative intern program selection process be used, but admitted there "is always Plan B."

The intern program would allow the school district to hire someone from within the system for a one-year test period at a salary of $10,000 a year. The intern would still be under the tutelage of more experienced administrators, although he or she would still perform the same duties as any other principal.

The wide-open selection process would allow all candidates an equal chance in the selection and, according to Kratz, would probably mean the hiring of an experienced principal at about $25,000 for the year, since a teacher could not reasonably compete against someone with years of experience.

Regardless of which selection process is used, a salary of $27,000 would be paid the principal as soon as final approval was granted.

In speaking for the proposal, Kratz said if the intern program were not used, "in-house people wouldn't have a chance" of being selected.

"Part of being in the school district is the feeling that there is a chance for advancement," Kratz said. "It's a morale booster."

Kratz added he thought a young person would bring in fresh ideas and may indeed be the best person for the job. He also said if teachers inexperienced in administration were not given an edge, they would never be given the opportunity to break into the administration field.

Board members Robert Wilkins and Ray Murphy both questioned whether an intern program would not be limiting the number of candidates who would qualify for the position.

"The main reason in hiring a principal is to get the best person for the job, isn't it?" Murphy asked. "Doesn't this limit you in the people you select?"

Murphy added he didn't care how the selection was made, "just so you get the best person for the job."

Board member Sharon Pelchat commented that the board has hired experienced principals in the past and they have turned out to be less than satisfactory.

Allen Morrison, representing the Walled Lake Secretaries' Association (WLSA), said the charges were filed because the board has refused to negotiate grievance procedure.

"It's our position that grievance procedure is a mandatory topic of bargaining under the Public Employees' Relations Act (PERA)," he stated.

He maintained that the board has refused to discuss grievance procedure in talks with the WLSA.

Morrison stated further that the charges filed with MERC ask that the school board be found in violation of PERA and that they be ordered to cease and desist (from refusing to negotiate grievance procedure).

The charges also seek reimbursement of punitive damages which the court might assess.

Walled Lake secretaries file unfair labor charges

Walled Lake Superintendent Dr. Don Sheldon told The News Tuesday that he did not believe there was a basis for the charges.

"PERA provides that we must negotiate, but it does not provide that we must agree on issues," he said. "We have a position on each of the issues, but our positions do not necessarily agree with those of the WLSA."

Sheldon added that he believed that progress has been made in talks with the WLSA.

"We're still open to recommendations," he stated. Although the charges relate specifically to the negotiation of grievance procedure, Morrison indicated that he hoped the action will spur the board to action on reaching a settlement of the WLSA contract.

"The board has refused to respond to our proposals since October 18," he stated. "We've had two sessions with a mediator since that time, but we were the ones who asked for mediation and we were the ones who asked for both mediation sessions."

"The board has made no serious effort to reach a settlement of this contract," he said.

Morrison reported that a proposal was submitted by Harry Carlson, head of the district's negotiating team, which asked that all unresolved matters in the contract dispute be negotiated at the table with the exception of grievance procedure which would be submitted to binding arbitration.

Morrison said the proposal was rejected by the school board.

WLSA President Penny Wells stated that the members of the bargaining unit are considering several courses of action once the unfair labor practice charges have been resolved.

Morrison indicated that the WLSA is currently assessing its position on the 10-mills for 10-year renewal which is slated to come before the public in a March election.

City, Twelve Oaks agree on mill tax assessment

The City of Novi and the Twelve Oaks Mall have reached a tentative settlement over the assessed valuation of the mall as of December 31, 1976, both agreeing at a figure of $11 million.

City assessors had valued the mall at $16 million and mall officials had placed a $6 million dollar price tag on their property at the time the assessments were made. The mall had not opened yet and was still under construction when the assessment was made.

The compromise figure of $11 million means that the Novi School District will lose about $150,000 in anticipated tax revenues, while the city will lose about $55,000.

Assistant Superintendent Dr. William Barr says that the school district has already begun cutting corners to pare an additional $100,000 or so from its budget.

City Manager Ed Kriewall says he thinks the city can absorb the loss without too much difficulty.

City Assessor John Merrifield says he thought it was a fair settlement.

"I feel we have reached a settlement neither one of us (Novi or Twelve Oaks) can find out just where we stand," Merrifield said. "The question raised by all officials was how much the mall would bring if sold at that time."

The assessment negotiations were handled by a host of agents on both sides. For the city, Merrifield, attorney Dave Fried and Virginia tax specialist Hunter Hogan were involved. For Dayton-Hudson, attorneys from several companies were present.

Merrifield says at least 15 people were involved in various phases of the negotiations.

The city assessor is presently working on the 1978 assessment of the mall. "If I had to guess, I would say it would be assessed at $20 million or so," he says.

Snow carnival's coming

Warming up for the start of this weekend's winter carnival in Novi, Chris (left) and Kendall Mercer carry the banner that will greet participants and observers of the youth speed skating races to be held Saturday afternoon at Lakeshore Park. The races get underway at 12 noon and are open to youngsters aged six through 15. They'll be broken up into five different age brackets and will range from 50 to 300 yards in length. Among other activities planned for the two-day gala affair, sponsored by Parks and Recreation, are cross-country and slalom ski races, ice sculpting and a fishing derby complete with awards for the biggest, smallest and most fish caught.

Greenaway panel slates meeting

The Greenaway Drain Committee, created last summer by the Walled Lake and Wolverine Lake Village councils, will hold its first meeting since November's city election Friday morning.

Among the topics to be discussed, according to Village President John McLellan, are the 103-lot Lakeland Hills subdivision in Walled Lake and city action against Camelot Inn owner Ben Bundo, who last fall blacktopped the parking lot to his bar.

McLellan said the village "wants some say" on the Lakeland Hills subdivision, being developed by B. H. Carey, because drainage from the 40-acre site would flow into the Greenaway which empties into Wolverine Lake.

When the Walled Lake council approved a tentative preliminary plat for the development last month, Carey said he planned to have enclosed drains serve the subdivision and noted that the county officials would have to okay the plat for drainage into the Greenaway, which is operated by the county Drain Commissioner's office.

As for Bundo, the village president said that the blacktopping of the Camelot Inn's parking lot last fall will add to the problem of runoff into the drain.

In December, McLellan wrote the Walled Lake Plan Commission about the Camelot parking lot, stating: "We seriously question whether this large amount of paving will increase significantly drain runoff into the Greenaway Drain."

"The Village of Wolverine Lake is committed to stopping any additional drain runoff until the effects on Wolverine Lake from the Greenaway Drain are determined," he added.

The Plan Commission referred McLellan's letter to the joint committee, although city officials later cited Bundo for blacktopping the parking lot and remodeling the former bowling alleys in his establishment into a discotheque.

Bundo has asked for a jury trial in the 32nd District Court on the charges that he remodeled the building without filing site plans, requesting city inspections and obtaining a certificate of occupancy for the disco lounge.

The village president said last week that studies have shown that some 50-60 percent of the city's watershed empties into the Greenaway which, he added, contributes 25 to 40 percent of the pollutants entering the lake.

Meeting's next Tuesday

Walled Lake board to review K-Mart site

Walled Lake's Plan Commission is tentatively scheduled to review the site plan for the proposed K-Mart Store at its meeting next Tuesday.

Kathy Frey, plan commission secretary, told The News Tuesday that a final decision has not yet been reached as to whether the K-Mart site plan will be placed on the agenda for review.

"There have been a number of changes on the site plan," she said. "If they have been implemented in time, the site plan will be on the agenda Tuesday."

Residents of Walled Lake's Tri-A Subdivision are expected to mount a protest over the proposed site plan for the K-Mart.

They are expected to protest plans for an entrance to the K-Mart Store off Gamma Street which flows into their subdivision.

A Tri-A subdivision resident told the planning board at a January 24 meeting that he was concerned that traffic from the K-Mart development might pose a threat to the safety of children in the subdivision.

Plans to construct a K-Mart Shopping Center on a 10.6 acre site near the southeast corner of Pontiac Trail and West Maple Road were announced by Stuart Frankel in January.

The K-Mart Store, part of an overall development named Walled Lake Commons, would be located on the site where the Great Scott grocery store is currently located. Plans call for the grocery store to be torn down.

According to the plans announced by Frankel, the K-Mart Store would encompass some 68,337 square feet.

Attached to the K-Mart would be a 37,800 square foot building which would contain a variety of retail stores, including a grocery store.

Also included in Walled Lake Commons would be a 3,500 square foot building, tentatively slated to be a bank with drive-in facilities.

Frankel told the planners that he has a tentative agreement with K-Mart for a 25-year lease. The agreement is contingent upon site plan approval.

Key stumbling block to site plan approval could well involve the city's off-street parking requirements. City Planning Consultant Todd Kilroy noted that the zoning ordinance has two categories for commercial parking which could relate to the development; one requires parking space for each 100 square feet and the other requires one space for each 150 square feet of retail area.

The developers of Walled Lake Commons indicated, however, that they would prefer to use a formula of five spaces for every 1,000 square feet of gross leasable floor area.

Kilroy stated that it may be necessary for the developers to seek a variance from the Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) to resolve the parking requirements

Wolverine Lake will petition for cityhood election

township will remain separate political units, but two petitions submitted to the Boundary Commission by Walled Lake for annexation of several portions of Commerce will then be considered by the state panel.

While village officials hope to block Wolverine Lake's incorporation order through an election, Commerce Supervisor Long said that township officials feel cityhood is the only position we can take to protect our boundaries.

Commerce residents on November 18, 1971 filed a petition with the Boundary Commission to become a home rule city in an effort to head off plans by the city of Walled Lake to annex a large portion of the township, basically the area south of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks, Lang said.

He added that to incorporate the village and a portion of Commerce as a home rule city.

The Boundary Commission decided, instead, to order the village and township to merge and incorporate as a new city.

Village officials appealed that order to the Oakland County Circuit Court which, on April 26, 1976, upheld the Boundary Commission's position. The State Court of Appeals last October also upheld the state agency's decision, prompting village officials to ask for a re-hearing by the appellate court, which was denied November 21, and the application for leave to appeal the Supreme Court.

This is D-Day for us," McLellan said last week. "This is another sign of too much dictatorship from Lansing."

"I definitely will go after the petitions because it looks like that's the only way we're going to block incorporation."

Long said he feels township officials will "have to favor cityhood under these circumstances."

If residents of the two communities of the township, what's going to stop them? "The supervisor asked."

However, even if the incorporation order is blocked by an election, Long indicated that the Walled Lake annexation could be delayed in the courts, hopefully long enough for a Detroit-based development company, Standard Industries, to proceed with a planned 1,800-unit multiple-family complex in the southeast corner of the township.

If Standard Industries' development is built — although the company still hasn't requested rezoning of its property at Haggerty and 14 Mile roads from single-family residential to multiple — there could be more than 100 residents in the complex by the time a court battle is completed, which would be sufficient to require an election on the annexation, the supervisor added.

Existing state law provides for an election on annexations where more than 100 persons live in the affected territory, while no election is required in areas with less than 100 residents.

Walled Lake officials have said that annexation of portions of the township would enable the city to provide water and sewer service to the area in return for the added tax base. At present, several Commerce businesses are served by city water and sewer facilities through contracts between the township and Walled Lake.

Long said the incorporation annexation battle goes back to 1967, when Walled Lake sought to add a portion of the township including Commerce's industrial area.

After that move proved unsuccessful, he said, a group of township residents petitioned for incorporation of Commerce and the village as a city, and the village sought to incorporate as a city, including part of the township's industrial area.

Both of those moves were rejected by voters in the affected communities, the supervisor added.

Complaint cites Walled Lake board

law at school administration offices on January 20 — three days prior to the meeting.

The public notice stated that the school board "will be convening in a Clerical Association grievance hearing" on Monday, January 23.

The law also prescribes, however, that public bodies are required to send copies of such notices by first class mail to individuals, organizations, firms, or corporations upon their written request and the payment of a reasonable fee for printing and postage. The same notices must also be sent to the news media upon their written request at no charge.

Several parties, including The News, were not notified of the January 23 meeting.

Stokus maintains that the January 23 meeting should have been an "open meeting" because the school board "convened as a public body at which a quorum was present for the purpose of deliberating toward or rendering a decision on a public policy." Further, he charges that the Public Meetings Act was violated because the meeting was not posted specially as an "open meeting" and that insufficient public notice was given because notices were not sent to individuals who have requested in writing and paid a fee for notification of all public meetings.

Stokus said that his intent was not to prosecute the members of the school board, but to "get them to conform with the Public Meetings Act."

"People pay to have notices of public meetings sent to their homes and this was not done," he said.

"I want this question to go before the courts and have the court tell the school board and administration that they have violated the law. I don't want to get lines for the members of the school board, I just want them to obey the law."

"If we can get the court to say that the law has been violated, the school board will have the threat of a second violation of the Public Meetings Act hanging over its head. Maybe a first conviction under the law is going to be what it will take to force them to conform," he stated.

Under the provisions of the law, a public official who intentionally violates the act is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000.

However, a public official who is convicted of intentionally violating a provision of the act a second time within the same term shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than $2,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both.

Superintendent Dr. Don Sheldon told The News Tuesday that he has not seen anything or heard from anyone relevant to the charges except what he has seen in the news media.

"I would say that the charges are groundless, however," Sheldon commented.

Sheldon said that the January 23 meeting was an "open meeting" of the school board. He admitted, however, that notices of the meeting had not been sent to everyone who has requested notices.

"Notices were sent to those who would be participants in the grievance process," Sheldon stated. "It was known at least by some as an open meeting."

schools whenever there are "questionable road conditions," Colliau said.

"We will take chances in the other direction for we may have to close when we could not," Colliau said.

"We will be very diligent not to go overboard and close down on the first snowflake that falls."

In addition, Colliau said, Superintendent Gerald Kratz will begin a conference call program with other schools to ascertain what other areas are going to do.

Tadashi Tokuhito, a father of children in Novi schools, told the board that he did not find the proposed solutions to be satisfactory.

"It is not the policy which is in error," Dr. Tokuhito said, "but who makes the policy."

Tokuhito suggested that the responsibility of closing the schools be transferred from Barr to Kratz.

Colliau said that the decision to close the schools was not solely Barr's decision but rather one made by himself, Barr and Kratz. Colliau noted the decision to open school on January 26, however, was made by himself and Barr since Kratz was at a meeting in Grand Rapids.

glare of the TV cameras upon him, was first to respond to the angry crowd.

"I want to assure you, your comments have not gone unheeded," Colliau said. "The situation that day was unfortunate and the decision made that morning proved unfortunate. There's no question about that."

"At that time, the decision was made by Dr. (William) Barr and myself," Colliau said he and Barr made the decision to open schools at 6 a.m. after driving the roads and listening to weather reports.

"At 7:45, Dr. Barr and I conversed and we admitted we made the wrong decision and we decided to close the schools."

Colliau said "two times this year the decision has not been proper, two times we have had to change our decisions. It's unfortunate and I apologize."

Colliau then told the audience that the board has changed its position on closing schools from a strict policy to a lenient one. In the past school was only closed if road conditions "jeopardized the safety buses."

More open space ahead?

Novi considers changes in subdivision standards

Subdivisions don't have to look like subdivisions anymore. With modern advances in planning techniques, it's no longer necessary for subdivisions to be laid out with "grid-type" street patterns and houses on uniform lots throughout the entire development.

Some proposed changes based on the general direction of the council's decision. One of the elements of the city's zoning ordinance which is sure to receive a thorough perusal is the Subdivision Open Space Option. The option is one of the key elements in providing open space in residential developments.

In essence, the Subdivision Open Space Option permits a developer to request lot sizes beneath the standards of the zoning district provided that the amount of land shaved from the individual parcels is returned to the overall development in the form of open space.

Another portion of the Open Space Option which will receive attention is a restriction which prohibits the location of open space within 120 feet of the perimeter of the property.

The general purpose of the restriction is to make certain that the open space is located within the development so that it will be more readily accessible to a greater number of residents.

The only opposition to increasing the possibilities for additional open space was expressed by Councilman Robert Schmid who stated that he felt conventional subdivisions were also a viable alternative in single family residential construction.

Hearings set for Novi rezonings

Novi's Planning Board will make a decision which could go a long way toward determining the future location of property on the west side of Meadowbrook Road between Eight and Nine Mile Roads on Wednesday, March 15.

That's the date the planning board has slated for two public hearings on rezoning requests which could have a strong bearing on the future development of property in that section of the city.

The question the planners will have to decide is whether the property should be developed under an R-2 zoning or an R-3 zoning.

The R-2 zoning requires half-acre lots (minimum lot size of 21,780 square feet with a minimum lot width of 120 feet) while the R-3 zoning prescribes a minimum lot size of 12,000 square feet and a minimum lot width of 90 feet.

The first public hearing, the planners will consider the request of Victor J. Gornall to have a 6.5 acre parcel rezoned from its present R-1 (one acre) designation to an R-2 classification.

At the second public hearing, the planners will consider the request of Fuller-Stone to have a 13.5 acre parcel rezoned from R-1 to R-2.

Novi plat rejected

The lot-averaging formula to increase the number of lots in its subdivision, since the yield of 2.6 units per acre, which would come in the conventional R-3 zoning, was maintained.

City Attorney Dave Fried commented he did not think Gallant's proposal conformed with the ordinance's requirement of average width size.

Gallant responded that he had made some changes in the plat since then and had won Calms approval.

Derailments prompt call for State House committee

A resolution calling for the creation of a Michigan House of Representatives Committee to study railroad accident investigations has been co-sponsored by Lakes Area Republican Representative Rick Fessler.

The resolution is at least in part a reaction to the three separate railroad derailments that occurred in Novi during the summer of 1977 and the subsequent furor that surrounded their investigations.

Novi city officials charged that the investigations were slow and inadequate. Shortly after the investigation into the Novi derailments, the Federal Railroad Administration judged that Michigan's state railroad inspectors did not meet federal standards and halted railroad accident investigations as of November 6, 1977.

Another railroad mishap occurred February 5 in Wixom along the same Chesapeake and Ohio line that caused the Novi derailments.

Novi planners turn down plans for medical clinic

Novi's Planning Board has rejected a request for site plan approval of a proposed medical clinic on the east side of Meadowbrook Road between Ten Mile and Cherry Hill Drive.

By rejecting the site plan, however, the planning board could be faced with the possibility of litigation.

The proposed clinic would be located on a 3-acre lot immediately north of the Beverly Manor Convalescent Home.

The market values of homes in the conventional subdivisions in Farmington Hills have appreciated considerably in recent years," he maintained.

City Attorney David Fried pointed out that the Open Space Option is, in fact, an option. The developer does not have to utilize the option and the council has the right to deny use of the option, Fried stated.

City Planning Consultant Charles Cairns of Villac-Leman told the planning board last week that city officials had decided that the standards of the OS-1 Office Service District (which does permit construction of medical clinics) should be applied to the site.

Bedroom intruder flees when Novi woman screams

In Novi
A 24-year-old Wixom man was arrested by police after he allegedly attacked a woman in the Waterway Farms Apartments in the early morning of February 1.

The woman then looked out her window and saw the man who had allegedly attacked her in a car in the parking lot, apparently stuck, police reports said.

The woman told police she had been asleep with her husband and felt someone touching her, but thought it was her husband. When the man tried to kiss her, she said, she realized it was not her husband and she screamed.

The intruder reportedly told police he was just trying to visit a girl he had met while working in a bar. The apartment number of the girl he had meant to visit was similar to the one in which he intruded. He told police he knocked a few times but didn't get an answer.

The burglars got a hold of a classified account number, call into the store, order an item, and get a package pickup number and then come in and pick the item up.

Novi places second in districts

Six 'Cat wrestlers head for regionals

For a while Novi's wrestling squad looked as if it were going to make a comeback at last Saturday's Class B district meet at Dearborn Heights Robichaud.

Coming off a regular season performance that included three tournament championships, 16 dual meet victories and a top 15 ranking among the state's wrestling powers, the Wildcats stormed through the first round of the tournament. All 12 of the team's entrants won their opening matches, leaving each of them just one victory away from a regional qualifying berth.

As fate would have it, though, a second-round letdown sent seven Novi grapplers reeling to defeat and cost the Wildcats a chance at the regional.

And that, said Novi mentor Russ Gardner, wasn't good enough. "I looked just terrible," Gardner remarked later. "I really feel we could've won it had we wrestled as well as we're capable."

Kevin Mills, seeded first in the 129-pound weight class, and Dennis Maier, the turney's number three seed at 135 pounds, were the club's only second-place finishers while 115-pounder Eugene Yzquierdo and 149-pounder Mike Doyle both seeded second originally, wound up fourth.

The only Wildcat qualifiers to match or better their original seedings were 101-pounder Jim Longhurst, who was seeded fourth, and 106-pounder Dan Williams, who was seeded eighth and placed fourth, and Maier.

Mills, who brought a 36-3 record into the district, earned his first victory of pins in each of his first two matches and a 13-0 decision over South Lyon's Gandy Folly in the semi-finals. He was upset by Ralph Gerbo of Willow Run, 5-4, in the championship bout.

Longhurst, the team's only third-place finisher, easily beat his first two opponents on decisions but lost to Willow Run's top seed in the semis. He won the consolation with a 19-2 victory over Guy Miller of Pinckney. Williams battled his way into the regionals the hard way, upsetting the fourth and fifth seeds in his opening rounds, but dropped his last two to place fourth.

Yzquierdo and Doyle both advanced to the semis with a pin at a decision. Yzquierdo then defaulted on penalty points to Terry Watson of Robichaud and suffered a 13-5 setback against Dexter's Tim Young in the consolation.

Doyle, however, lost a heartbreaker in his semi-final match when he was pinned by Oak Park's Terry Taylor after being dizzied by a slam. He had been leading 8-2 over the slam.

Not surprisingly, the Southeast Conference did exceptionally well at the tourney. Three other SEC schools (South Lyon, Dexter and Chelsea) were competing and two of them (South Lyon and Dexter) joined Novi among the top five finishers.

Twenty-two wrestlers from the four schools placed in the districts. There was at least one regionalist from them in all but the 194-pound weight class, and the SEC swept all four placements at 135 pounds.

Earlier last week the Wildcats closed their regular season with a 5-5 victory at Northville, winning 12 of a possible 13 matches and hitting their dual meet record to 16-1.

Longhurst (7-0), Williams (10-9), Spielman (17-14), Maier (10-3), Andy Auler (11-14), Len (9-6) and Weber (14-0) all won on decisions while Mills, Doyle, Bayne and Dave Ford had pins and Yzquierdo won by forfeit.

As of last weekend Novi's individual leaders were Yzquierdo (47 takeovers, 26 escapes), Doyle (40 near-falls), Mills (22 pins, 39 wins and 189 team points) and Longhurst and Maier (each with 30 reversals).

Warrior outlook bleak after pair of losses

The sun is slowly sinking into the west for Walled Western basketball hopes of a Western Six title.

The Warriors suffered their fourth conference defeat last week against only two wins and after the 69-68 loss to Waterford Mott the high conference listenings seemed to have lost some of their shine.

"I guess you could say we're behind the 8-ball," said Warrior coach Ted Felegy. "We're still in it mathematically and we're not throwing in the towel. We've got (league leading) Canton twice yet and I don't think they'll win the rest either. The league is so well balanced that it is conceivable that there will be a tie for first. It's anybody's guess but Canton is in the driver's seat, and we certainly cannot afford to lose any more games. One more league defeat and we're through."

Western faces Northville at home and Canton both home and away after playing Harrison Friday night.

Senior Jim Seefeld scored his season high 30 points to keep Western in the game for two and a half quarters, but it was the Mott press, or the inability of Western to handle it, that did the damage.

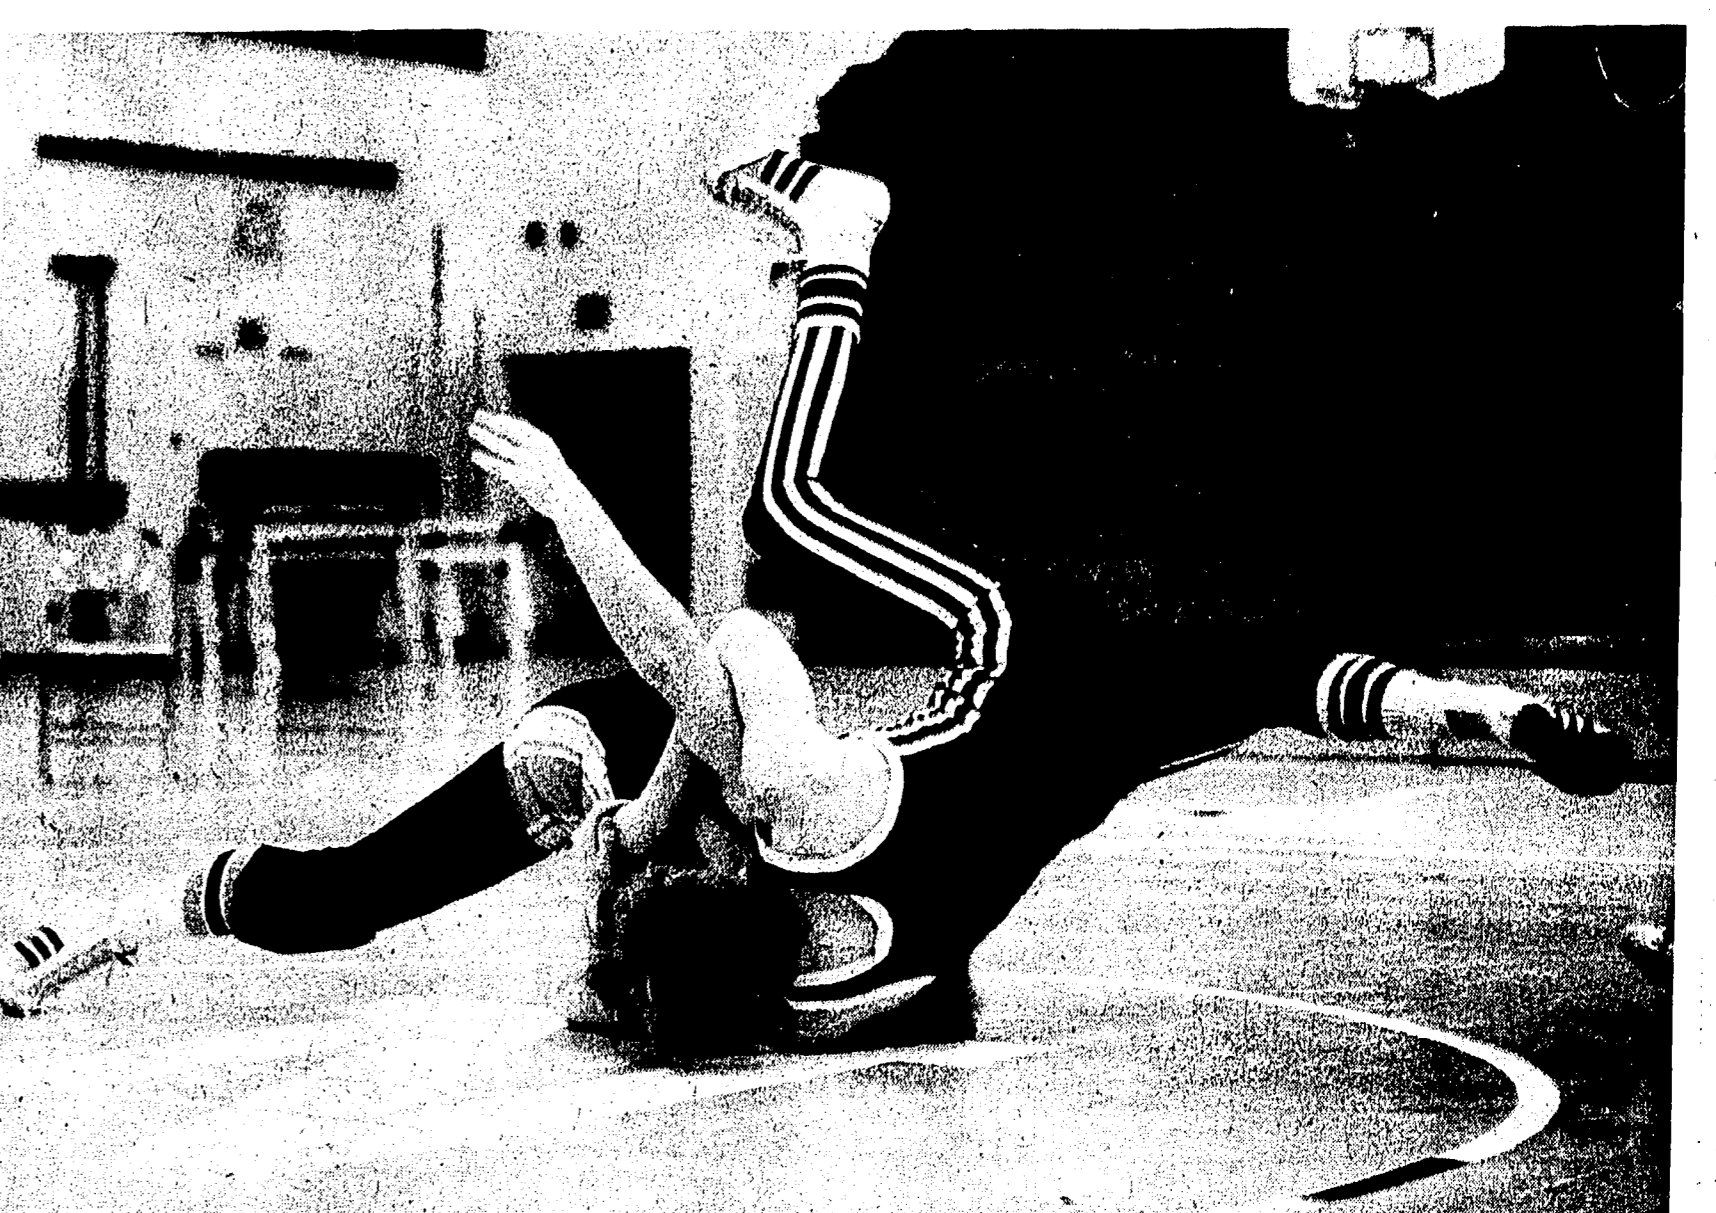

"We cut it (the Mott lead) to five," said the coach, "but we couldn't get any closer. They got a couple of easy buckets at the end."

In addition to Seefeld's 30 points, Marty Kaszubowski scored 11 for Western.

Earlier in the week the Warriors let a victory slip away at Lakeland, falling 64-61. Western posted a six-point half-time margin but saw that diminish completely in the second half.

"I guess you could contribute that to a lot of things," said Felegy. "It was our first game after an 11-day layoff and we started slow. Probably the deciding factor was that we hit only 19 of 36 from the free throw line and shot 39 percent from the floor. We also were playing our first game without Paulson."

Senior captain Mike Paulson, a 6-3 center and the team's leading rebounder and scorer, suffered an ankle injury January 20 and will be lost for the remainder of the regular season.

Viking skiers hope to win division

Muriel Wittmer is hoping her Walled Lake Central ski team will "clean up" in tomorrow's divisional ski meet at Alpine Valley.

And there is no logical reason why they shouldn't. Her boys' team is currently undefeated at 6-0 while the girls' unit stands at 5-1.

"I think we have a real good shot at winning the whole thing, both boys and girls, if everybody stands," said Wittmer. "Our girls were beaten by Lakeland but two of our girls skied with very high fevers; and nobody's come close to our boys' team."

The Viking boys piled up three more victories last week in knocking off Oak Park, Lakeland, and Pontiac Central.

Central was led by the Turner brothers as the senior-junior combination finished one-two in the first two meets and tied for first in the third.

"Those two are super skiers," said Wittmer. "They compete every weekend in CUSA (Central United States Ski Association) and they both do very well."

Behind the Turners follow Bruce Weber, Larry Morris and Eric Penske, in no particular order but always near the top.

Wittmer's snow ladies were forced to compete the entire season without top skier Kerry Weber (suffering from a broken leg), but have still buried opponents.

"I'm really looking forward to it all," said Wittmer. "The only thing that can stop us is bad luck."

Novi cagers improve with split

They may not be playing championship basketball yet, but Novi's youthful cagers are showing they're still a force to be reckoned with in the Southeast Conference.

After keeping close for eight minutes against Saline last Tuesday night, the Wildcats dropped an 89-63 decision, but then bounced back with one of their stronger performances of the season in a 64-54 triumph at Ypsilanti Lincoln Friday.

"I was pleased," coach Ron Flutur said of his team's efforts against Saline and Lincoln. "I think we're starting to do some things that are showing signs of creative basketball."

Among Novi's better aspects during last week's action, he noted, were its ability to handle press pressure more handly, its defensive rebounding and its low turnover rate (only 40 in the two games combined). He did point out, though, that the Wildcats are still having problems controlling the offensive boards.

"That worries me," he admitted, explaining that, among other things, his players haven't been positioning themselves near the basket quickly enough after taking shots.

"That's where we got hurt against Saline. It's something we have to work on."

Trying to avenge an earlier loss to the league-leading Hornets, Novi stayed close for one quarter but then started folding after center Dave Pisha got into foul trouble early in the second stanza. Saline went from a 17-12 lead in the first quarter to a 19-point bulge in the second, and by half-time it was 38-24.

Although the Wildcats narrowed the gap to 10 early in the third quarter they were never in the game again, and went down to their fifth defeat in eight SEC contests this season.

One major difference was Saline's shooting. While Novi hit only 35.4 percent of its floor shots during the game the Hornets were burning the nets with a 58 percent accuracy. The win lifted their conference mark to 6-1.

Louis Balough topped the Wildcats with 18 points while Phil McCarty and Dwayne Ridenour 11 each. Pisha, the team's leading scorer throughout the season, sat out much of the game and tallied only four points, his lowest output of the year.

Ridenour led the losers in rebounding with 14 while Pisha picked off six shots. McCarty and Balough five each. Pisha also contributed four assists while Pyant and Jeff Laverty had three apiece.

Playing at Lincoln Friday the Wildcats jumped out to a 35-23 lead at half-time and sailed past the Raispliters 64-54, hiking their overall record to 6-8, 4-5 in the conference.

This time Pisha went all the way and led all scorers with 20 points while adding 19 rebounds. His rebound figure gave him 237 for the year, a new school record for one season at Novi. That broke the mark of 230 previously held by his brother, Bob.

He got support in the Lincoln game from Balough, who had 13 points, and McCarty, who scored 13 and nabbed five caroms. Pisha and Laverty contributed four assists each.

Flutur also noted strong bench help as a key factor in the victory. Bill McCauley came in to score seven points of seven of 11 free throws while Bob McAllister tallied six. Both had eight rebounds as well.

The Raispliters, who never got closer than eight points in the second half, were paced by Bill Hallie's 14 points and Duane Newton's 13.

Novi's next game takes place tomorrow night when the Wildcats host South Lyon. Tuesday they play at home against Brighton in a make-up game postponed by last week's blizzard.

Hadash only district champ

Seven local wrestlers advance

Led by district champion Rod Hadash of Walled Lake Western, seven area wrestlers will advance to regional competition this Saturday after turning in fine performances at last week's district meet at Walled Lake Western.

The host Warriors advanced five wrestlers from the 14-team competition, while Walled Lake Central qualified a pair. Warriors Andy Wurst (101), Ed McCormick (185), Rod Hadash (168), Randy Brown (181), and Al Green (HVY) will be on the mats this Saturday at noon, along with Vikings Tom Ogar (121) and Dan Lemaster (188).

The local grapplers earned the right to compete against the winners of the Hazel Park district by finishing among the top four of their respective weight classes in the district journey Saturday. The team competition was won by North Farmington with 157 1/2 points, while Walled Lake Western finished sixth with 78, and Walled Lake Central ninth with 31 points.

Individually, Warrior lightweight Andy Wurst finished third in district competition. The sophomore was seeded third and received a first round bye before pinning a West Bloomfield opponent in 1:01. In the third round, Wurst lost to second seed Aarsmull 4-1, but in the consolation finals he dunned a Milford opponent, 10-8.

"He did a fine job," said Warrior coach Carl McBride. "He's been improving all year and it didn't surprise me a bit."

At 135 pounds it was Warrior Ed McCormick, also a third seed, who advanced for the host school. McCormick pinned a West Bloomfield opponent and then won an overtime match against a Harrison opponent by a referee's decision. In the third round, he fell to eventual winner Petroff of North Farmington, but came back for a victory against a Novia Stevenson foe, 7-2.

"It's a nice honor for Ed," said McBride. "He's been doing a nice job for us all year and he deserves to advance to the regionals."

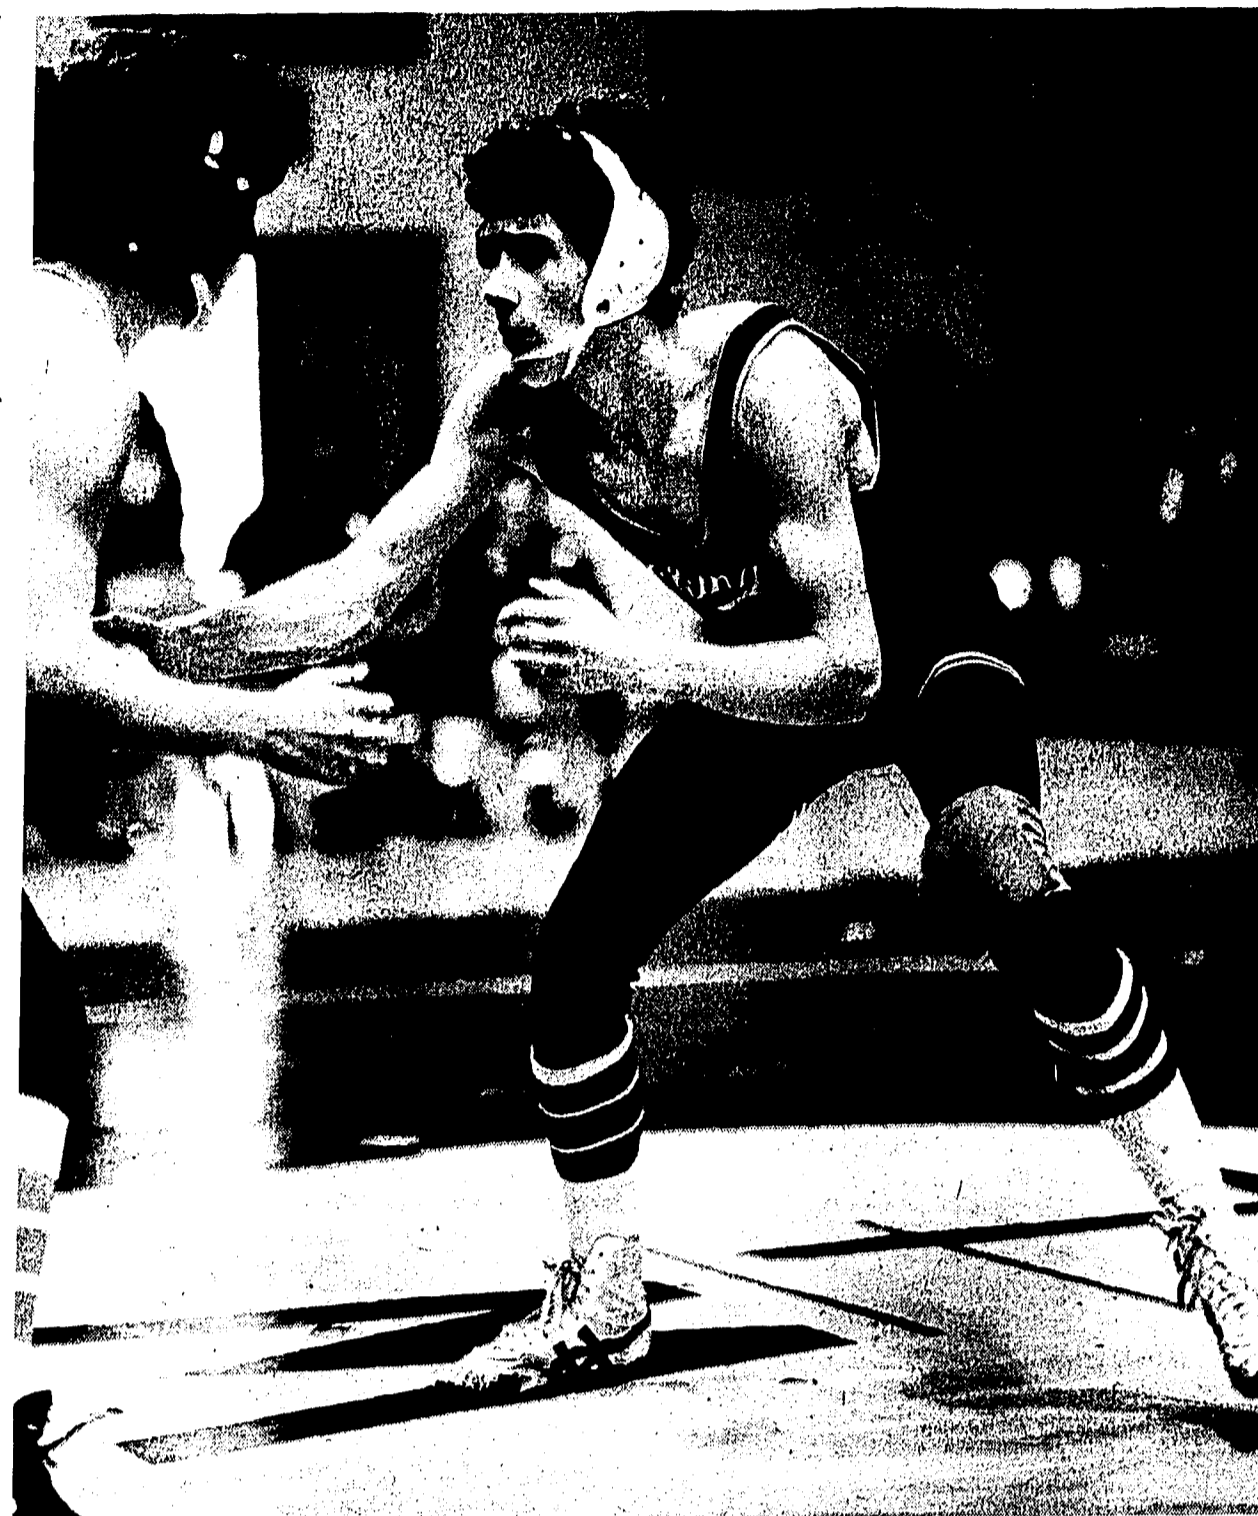

At 168, Rod Hadash outwrestled everybody in becoming the area's only district champion. Seeded third, Hadash was forced to defeat a couple of wrestlers who had beaten him earlier in the year. The senior co-captain pinned a Southfield opponent in 1:47, and beat West Bloomfield foe 5-2 before taking on the number one and two seeds who have given him trouble all year. Hadash shut out Walled Lake Central's Dan Lemaster 4-0 and then beat Suddkamp of North Farmington 7-2 for the title.

"Did he come through and do a good job," said McBride. "The North Farmington boy (Suddkamp) won the Oakland County tournament and beat Rodney at Schriener in a close decision. Rod also beat Lemaster of Central in the ladder and Lemaster is pretty good because he beat Rodney in a dual meet not long ago. Rodney has been getting better and better; he's a hard, dedicated wrestler who's willing to work and when you've got that, it's hard to stop you."

Another of McBride's Marauders, 181-pound Randy Brown, advanced all the way to the finals before losing to the sixth grade in as many tries, and it's starting to puzzle coach Karen Wolski. "Again, I thought we were evenly matched from the start," said Wolski, "but we lose steam and can't keep going. We just lost it."

The loss to Mott completed the first round of Western Six play for the Warriors, losers to all five conference opponents.

Central's Tom Ogar was one of the area's qualifiers

Thurston foe 6-1 before losing in the finals.

"I think he had a little letdown when he had to face Blackmen," said McBride. "Blackmer had beaten Randy a couple of times before and I think that might've gotten to him. I'm telling him it doesn't matter what happened before, but to just beat him (Blackmer) once when it really counts."

Fourth seeded heavyweight Al Green lived up to his pre-district rating by finishing fourth. Green had a first round bye, but then pinned a Southfield wrestler in 2:10. He then lost a 13-0 decision before being pinned himself by Greenbury of North Farmington in 4:59 in the consolation finals.

Walled Lake Central's Tom Ogar took a fourth place in the districts at 121 after receiving a first round bye. The senior co-captain then pinned a Harrison opponent in 2:30 before losing to a Thurston foe 5-2, and a Farmington wrestler 4-0.

"I was counting on him to take a top spot," said Viking coach Randy Hyde. "We'll just have to see what he can do in the regionals."

At 168 pounds, it was senior co-captain Dan Lemaster taking third. The second seed opened with a pair of pins in 1:10 against Redford Union and Bishop Burgess wrestlers, before losing a 4-0 decision to Western's Rod Hadash. Lemaster then beat a Milford opponent 1-0 for his third place finish.

"We did all right," said the coach. "I was hoping to get Mike Clees (141) through, but he lost his second round match. At 155, Brian Swett got pinned with just three seconds left in the second round, and he was ahead. Had he won he would've made fourth place."

The seven wrestlers will all be back this Saturday at Walled Lake Western to face the wrestlers from the Hazel Park district at noon.

Volleyball 'no joke' to Jokers

By AL SCHULTZ

They call themselves the Village Jokers, but when it comes to playing volleyball their game is no joke. Competing in the Novi men's recreational league, the Jokers have compiled an amazing 57-3 record, and are running away with the league title. And they're the oldest players in the league.

Western gymnasts face crowded schedule ahead

If Walled Lake Western gymnastics coach Gail Cotter had any complaints about the lack of competition during her team's 15-day snow layoff, she won't have them now.

The Warrior gymnasts have added five meets to their schedule and will now compete every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday for the rest of the season.

The additional meets could give the Warrior gymnasts more chances to obtain state qualifying scores, or, according to Cotter, they could make the gymnasts very, very tired.

Judy Mecham's first place 6.85 in vaulting was good for her third top score, and the junior added a third place in the floor exercises against Northern.

Ruth Hubbard posted the other state qualifying score with a 6.45 on the uneven parallel bars, good for first place.

Michelle Kumm didn't earn any qualifying scores in the Huskie meet, but she did capture first place in the floor exercises and balance beam competition, and a second in vaulting. Other Warrior finishers were Shelly Squires' second on the balance beam; Sue Cook's third in the floor exercises; and Barb Bonner and Margaret Grubb's third and fourth on the uneven parallel bars.

Against Canton, the Warriors lost the meet, but put together seven state qualifying scores and scored their highest point total of the season.

What Cotter did get was some outstanding performances from her gymnasts including three qualifying scores from Judy Mecham.

She posted her second top score in the floor exercises (7.15) and the balance beam (6.85), and her fourth such score in vaulting (7.65). Mecham will now compete in vaulting in the regional meet March 4 in Ludington.

Shelly Squires took third place in two events, but her beam routine put her a little closer to a regional berth as she earned a qualifying score of 6.85.

Sue Cook earned her second top score with a second place 6.9 on the balance beam; Kendra Marsh scored a second place state qualifying 6.4 on the uneven bars; and Ruth Hubbard scored a 7.2 for her first top score in vaulting.

"We're starting to come along as a team now," said Cotter. Western hosts Bloomfield Hills Lahser this Friday night.

Central gymnasts still even at 2-2

The Walled Lake Central gymnastics team split a pair of decisions last week, and falling 77-65.6 to Andover, before thrashing Plymouth Salem 67-30-1.

"We were a little rusty against Andover," said Viking coach Nancy Wallace. "That layoff hurt our routines. That was our lowest total of the year, but then the Salem meet was our highest total of the year."

Central didn't manage a first place against Andover, but junior Kristie Carrel scored a 7.1 in the vaulting exercise, good for a state qualifying score and a fourth place. Carrel also placed second on the balance beam (6.25) and fourth in the floor exercises (6.3).

Trisha O'Connor placed fifth in vaulting and sixth in both the balance beam and floor exercise competition. Carrel took a third, fifth, and sixth on the uneven parallel bars with Rene Deputula (6.65), Connie MacDermid, and Sandy Hoyt respectively.

The Vikings fared much better against Salem, taking first and second in every event and earning three state qualifying scores.

Christians split a pair

Novi Christian rebounded from a 65-57 defeat at the hands of Genesee Christian to take a 36-15 decision from Regular Baptist Academy in an accelerated Christian Education Association game.

In the week's opening game, Christian forward sensation Chris Cahill pumped in 35 points and hauled down 19 rebounds, but it wasn't enough to stop his team from losing the non-league game.

"Genesee is a much larger school," said Christian coach Dick Burgess. "Plus we had some problems in the fourth quarter when Chris Cahill fouled out and his brother, Ken, was on the bench with muscle cramps. Plus we had quite a few turnovers late in the game."

In Friday's game the Christians were aided by a pair of transfer students in stopping league foe Regular Baptist 36-15. Sophomores Jim Jidov from Walled Lake and Greg Blaz from Brighton contributed 11 and eight points apiece in the win. Jidov also added 10 rebounds for his new team.

"These boys only had a chance to practice with our team once before the game and they both did a beautiful job. I really didn't expect us to do that well, but the team showed tremendous spirit."

Novi Christian-faced Regular Baptist without the services of three starters, including the Cahill brothers.

The Christians are currently 4-1 in the ACEA and 5-4 overall, with an upcoming game against West Highland Christian Academy this Friday.

Vikings win, even at 3-3

Call it a close encounter if you like, but Walled Lake Central's Kathy Johnson came away with a smile after her Vikings pulled out a 16-14, 15-11 volleyball win over Farmington last week.

"We played very good under pressure this time," said Johnson, "and both games were very close."

Central trailed Farmington 14-12 in the opener before senior Cindy Long scored on her final four serves, including two aces, for the come-from-behind win.

"She really surprised me," said Johnson, "I hadn't expected her to serve that well. She and Cathy Panzo served well all night."

In the evening's second game it was senior Karen Ausmus who served the final three Viking points to break open a 12-11 contest.

"Karen has a real good floater serve that was working," said the coach. Johnson also praised the fine play of Ausmus in the back row; spikers Kim

Shortened work week in our future?

By JOHN BECKETT

Howell's Don Carney usually leaves for his job at the General Motors Proving Grounds in Milford at about 11:30 p.m.

Like many people, Carney works the midnight shift. Unlike many others, however, Carney doesn't finish his shift at eight a.m. Carney finishes at noon. He works three days a week from midnight until noon and then is off for the next four days.

Carney's work shift is a bit unusual because he has a somewhat unusual job, working at the Proving Grounds as a dynamometer technician. He is one of 48 persons at the grounds who serve in that capacity and work a three-day, 36-hour week as a result.

Carney has been working a three-day week since the Proving Grounds initiated the concept last August and he says he likes it. Before the company went to the three-day week, Carney worked 40 hours a week plus overtime — a lot of overtime, sometimes amounting to nearly 30 days of work per year.

Now, Carney says, he "misses the overtime pay" but appreciates his additional personal time — time to baby-sit his children, work around the house and keep active in groups such as the Elks and barbershop singing.

Carney still gets some overtime, occasionally working a Sunday or filling in on some other day. And the Proving Grounds has its dynamometers machines which measure the engine exhaust emissions — manned 24 hours a day, seven days a week, approximately 360 days a year.

Such work arrangements are highly unusual. Even such a huge employer as General Motors has only a few operations which even compare. But they are representative of changes taking place in the working lives of hundreds of thousands of Americans these days, as the traditional 40-hour work week slowly changes into new and varied working situations.

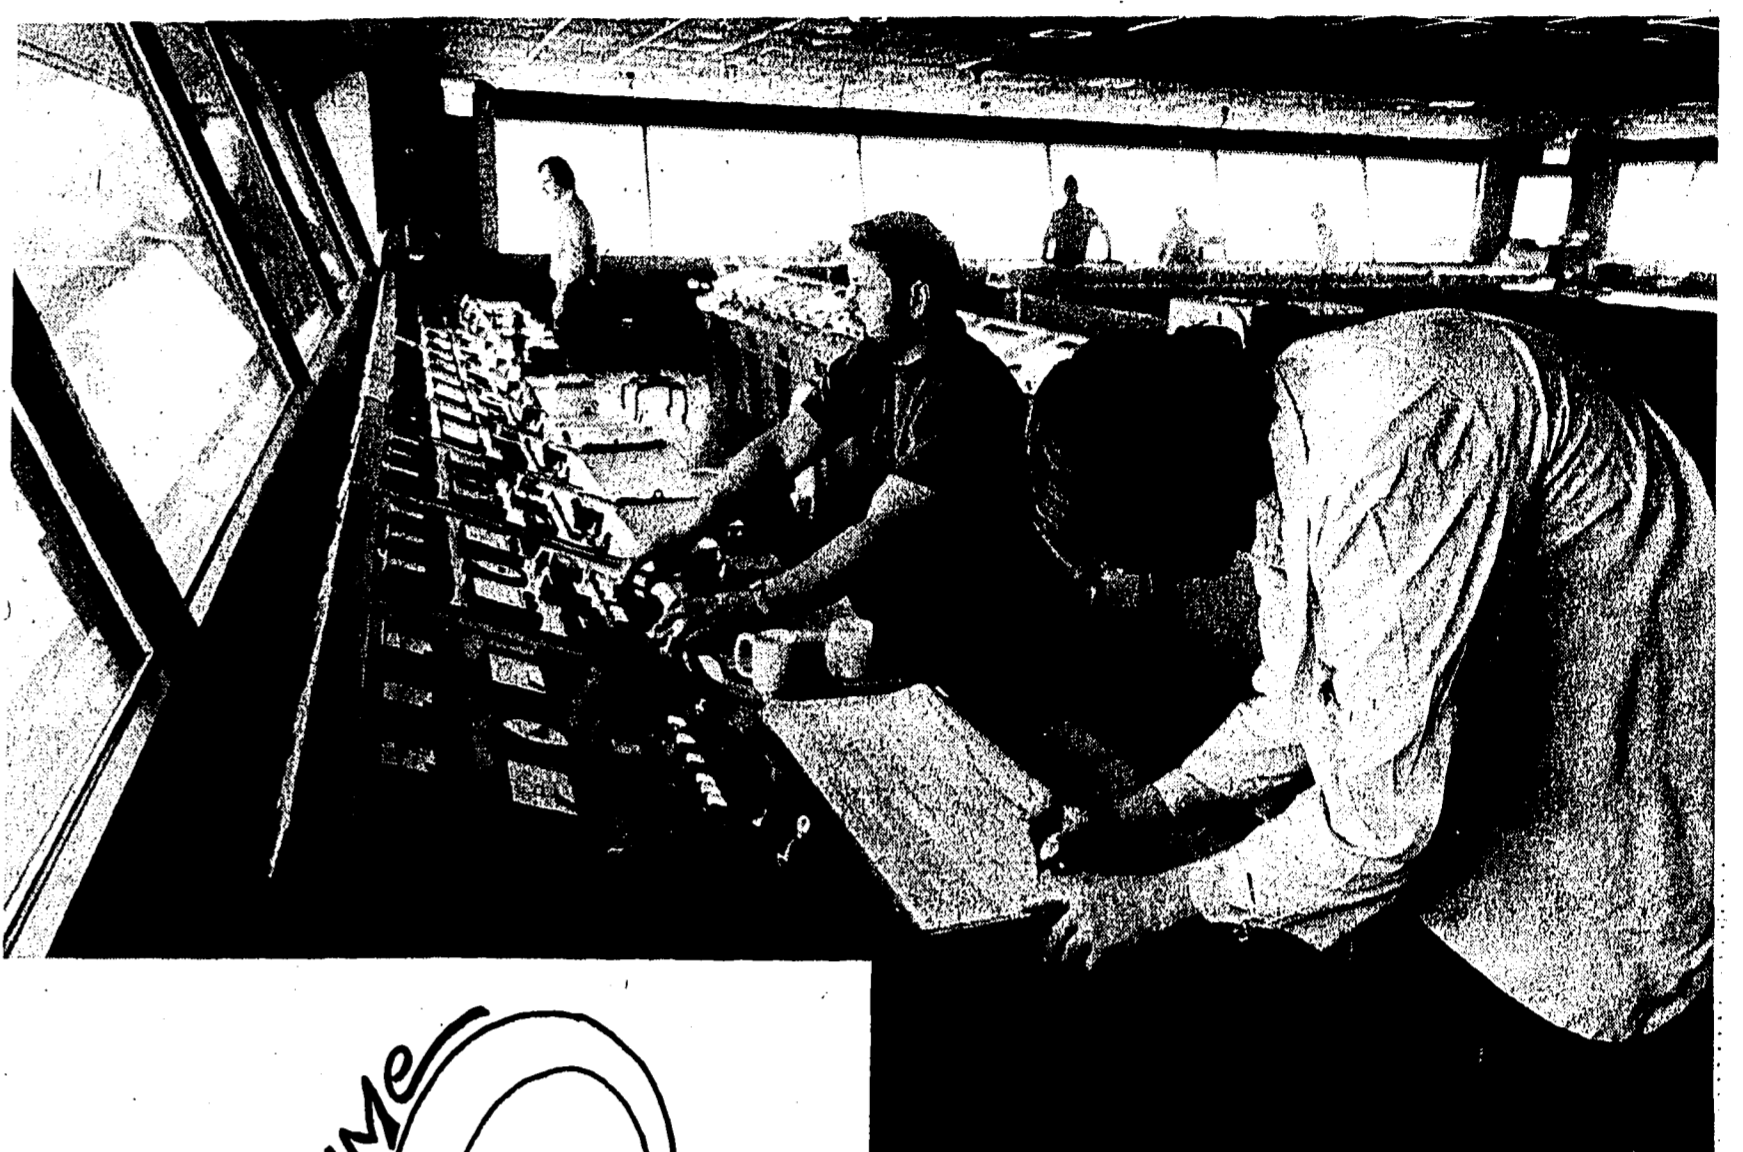

Sometimes, such changes take the form of a "shortened" work week — a four-day, 16-hour-per-day week, for instance. Or the changes may be manifested through the European concept of "flextime" — a concept which allows employees some voice in deciding when they're going to start and finish their working days.

Sometimes, the changes are even more subtle, manifesting themselves in contracts which provide for more holidays and personal days off the job — which result in occasional three or four-day work weeks for the employees. But no matter what the changes are, or how they manifest themselves, one thing is certain — there is something of a limited revolution going on these days in the world of work here in America, home of the work ethic.

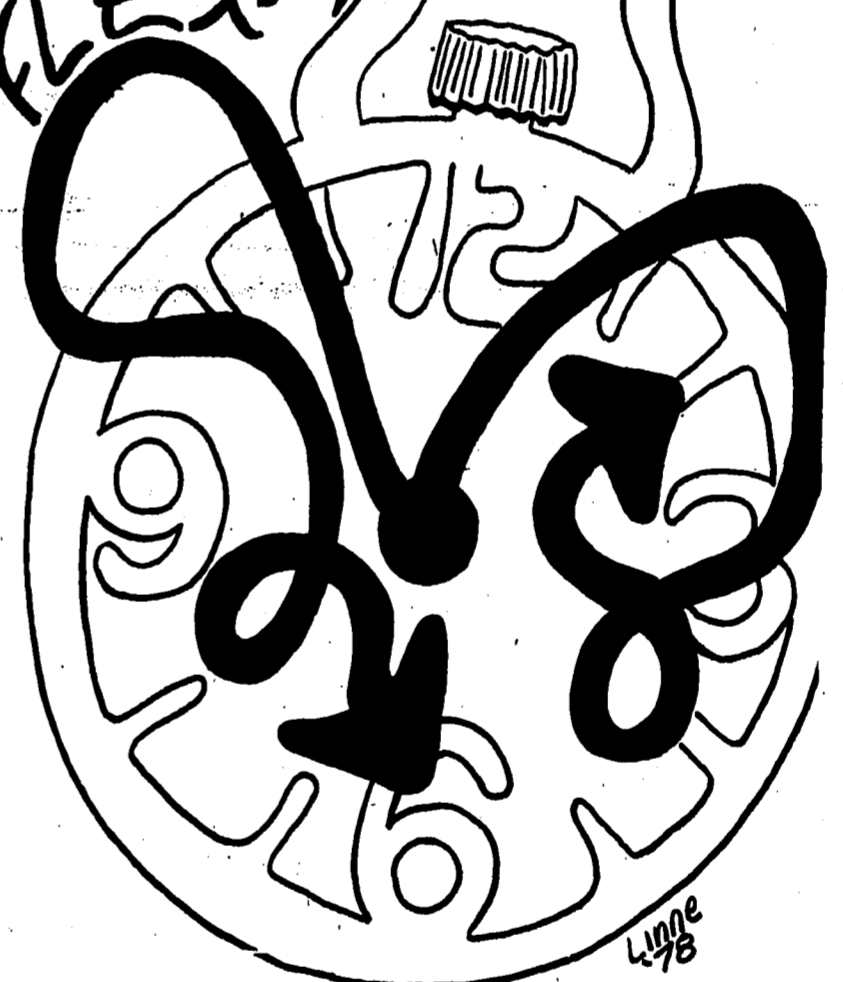

Take "flextime," for example. A European concept which originated in Germany a few years ago, flextime has now spread to this side of the Atlantic. According to the July issue of New Yorker magazine, 3,200 companies in the United States were using flextime, 5,000 more were primed for conversion to the concept and two bills had been introduced in Congress for the institutionalization of flextime for employees of the federal government.

Basically, flextime allows workers to pick their own working hours — within certain limits — as long as the quality and quantity of work output does not fall as a result.

A typical flextime program might allow workers to begin any time between 7 and 9 a.m., take a mandatory half-hour lunch, and then leave for home any time between 3:30 and 5:30 p.m. The concept presents certain basic advantages — reducing office or plant traffic congestion, for one — as well as affording employees opportunities to

At Kensington

Park worker honored

A Kensington Metropark employee is the recipient of the "1977 Michigan Recreation and Park Association Maintenance Leadership Service Award."

He is Richard C. Dahm, maintenance supervisor at Kensington Metropark near New Hudson, where he has worked for over 27 years. As maintenance supervisor, he is in charge of year-around maintenance for such facilities as natural ice rinks, toboggan runs, ski trails, roads, picnic areas, a golf course, swimming beaches and buildings.

His responsibilities also include construction projects such as building modifications, additions, improvements, sign-making and other finished carpentry shop work.

Dahm was cited for his "outstanding attention to detail, innovating scheduling of personnel, modification of maintenance procedures and recommendations concerning labor-saving equipment" and recently received an "MRPA Plaque" symbolic of the honor.

Dahm resides in Livingston County. He is the third employee of the Huron-Clinton Metropark system to be so honored.

J. R. JOHNSON

NATIONAL BANK of Detroit has announced the appointment of J. Richard Johnson of Northville Township as assistant director of public relations.

Johnson is responsible for the bank's media relations, direction of public relations programs and the administrative management of the public relations department. With NBD over a year, Johnson previously worked at WJL Radio.

He holds a BA degree in mass communications from the University of Miami and an MBA from the University of Detroit.

Johnson is active in several civic and professional organizations including the Detroit Press Club; the University of Detroit chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary business fraternity; and the Business/Education Alliance, serving on the membership and clergy-business committees.

ROB SMITH

ROB SMITH has joined the real estate firm of Bruce Roy Realty, Inc., 150 N. Center Street, Northville.

Smith has been a licensed real estate salesman for the past five years. However, three years ago he interrupted his real estate career to work as supervisory technician on the Alaskan pipeline.

Smith is specializing in the sale of residential homes, farms and vacant properties in the area.

FOUR VICE-PRESIDENTS and three assistant vice-presidents have been named at McPherson State Bank. The new vice-presidents are Edna M. Alexander, formerly cashier, who becomes vice-president and cashier and Robert N. Tibbitts, George W. Seger and Vincent L. LaRosa, who were assistant vice-presidents.

David B. Storey is now assistant vice-president and auditor and Barbara J. Wright and Philip J. Arbour assume the title of assistant vice-president.

Alexander has been in banking for 19 years, the last nine at McPherson, where she has held a number of managerial positions. She is a member of the Metropolitan Detroit Chapter of the National Association of Bank Women and has been a life long Livingston County resident, presently living on a farm south of Fowlerville with her husband, Donald.

Robert Tibbitts has been loan officer and credit manager at the bank for eight years and continues in these capacities. He has 28 years of banking experience, has attended Cleary College and the American Institute of Banking and is a Navy veteran. He makes his home at Lake Fenton.

Seger and LaRosa are managers of McPherson offices in Brighton Township and Pinckney, respectively. Their promotions are recognition of their increased responsibilities in the growing areas which their branches serve.

Seger is a graduate of Brighton High School and is well known in the Brighton area for his active participation in many civic activities over the years. He has 13 years in banking, seven of these at McPherson, as well as an extensive educational background of banking schools and courses. He is a veteran of the Air Force and lives near Brighton with his wife, Fritzie, and four sons.

LaRosa has lived in Pinckney all his life and also has been extremely active in civic affairs, having served as president of the Village. He owned and operated a family business there for many years prior to joining the McPherson Bank staff in 1971 and along the way, he and his wife, Denise, have raised a family of nine children.

He served in the Army and attended Eastern Michigan University, as well as completing the School of Banking at Central Michigan University and extensive A.I.B. work.

David Storey continues as auditor of the bank and has been employed by the bank for nine years. He attended Central Michigan University and has completed two schools relating to bank auditing, sponsored by the Bank Administration Institute at the State University of Iowa and at the University of Oklahoma. He makes his home in Howell.

Barbara Wright also lives in Howell with her husband, Ron, and two daughters. She is a loan officer, primarily in the mortgage loan area, and began her banking career in 1954, joining McPherson in 1964. Wright has also been active in American Institute of Banking work and has filled many management positions at the bank over the last 13 years.

Arbour is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University and will continue to manage data processing. He has spent four years with McPherson, and is also an A.I.B. student. He, wife, Lorrie, and their set of twins reside in Dexter.

In addition, Patricia T. Greubel, personnel manager, was assigned the additional responsibility of security manager.

KEN CLUM

KEN CLUM of Rizzo Real Estate, Inc. has been inducted into the elite "Million Dollar" sales club for the year 1977. He earned the coveted status by virtue of his sales for Rizzo.

Except for a two-year vacation in Florida, Clum has been a Northville resident since 1961.

He has been associated with Rizzo Real Estate, Inc. since 1976. His sales success is attributed to a combination of two factors: extensive background in marketing and selling in the wholesale food business prior to entering the real estate field; and the fact that he is associated with Rizzo, a leader in not only condominiums, used and new homes, but also in the marketing of vacant acreage in this area.

During his tenure with Rizzo, Clum has been involved with negotiations of several large parcels of industrial properties, representing corporations at various governmental boards and commissions.

FRANK J. FAZEKAS of Brighton has joined Loeb Rhoades Hornblower and Company as an account executive in the Detroit office of the world-wide banking and brokerage firm.

Previously executive vice-president at the Brighton State Bank, Fazekas is a graduate of the Detroit Institute of Technology. He and his wife, Janet, and their eight sons live in Brighton.

shape of most Americans' working lives.

Changes are more likely to come via such avenues as additional days off, especially in union situations, according to Chrysler's Ambler.

"For instance, in our current contract, a guy with 20 years on the job gets 20 days vacation, five days allowed absence, seven paid personal holidays plus 13 other holidays," Ambler said.

"And then there are provisions for sick days and bereavement days and so on.

"Now if you add all those up, they amount to a significant number of days. And we even figure them out so everyone gets some Mondays and some Fridays for long weekends.

"I don't know if we'll ever really see a four-day, 40-hour week as very prevalent," Ambler said, "but in all probability you add all those days off up and you'll see that some people are actually working four-day weeks pretty often."

A SING-A-LONG NIGHT, dance band and an all-you-can-eat buffet will mark the grand re-opening this week of the newly remodelled Edelweiss German-American Restaurant and Banquet Room, 7436 M-36, three miles west of US-23 in Hamburg.

Carl Allore and his Saurkraut Band will entertain Thursday night and offer a sing-a-long. The Octoberfest atmosphere continues Friday and Saturday as Eric Neubauer's Village Musicians take the stage to provide dancing and dining music. Sunday will feature an all-you-can-eat family buffet.

The Edelweiss also has imported beer, wine and cocktails to compliment its authentic German dishes. New hours are 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday and 10 a.m. to midnight on Friday and Saturday.

Kenton swings

The sound was enormous, sweeping, loud, rhythmic.

It was the Kenton artistry at the keyboard, the Kenton artistry in music, vibrant, alive, colorful.

It was Stan Kenton in concert Saturday night at Novi High School.

It was the big band jazz sound that totally overwhelmed a capacity audience where both the band and the acoustics of the auditorium did justice to one another.

It was physical involvement, energy, sensitivity, excitement.

It was Kenton and his musicians conducting a jazz clinic in the afternoon for students. It was the professionals talking, urging youngsters to stay away from drugs and alcohol, to practice, to take their music seriously, to get their educations. It was articulate men talking scales, chords, harmony, theory.

It was students and adults who may not have known the name Kenton in the morning but certainly went home with the name on their lips at night.

It was young musicians from Novi and Northville wowing the crowd with their performing ability in jazz.

It was enthusiasm of the crowd for more with the night called impressive, fabulous, fantastic. It was youngsters saying with eagerness, "It's the best stereo I've ever heard."

It was a fantastic night to remember.

And hearts and flowers and lace

Antique valentines had 'soul'

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Hearts and flowers are still around for the sentimental valentine giver, but the cards of today are a far cry from the ornate, gilded cards of yesteryear.

The valentine is thought to be the forerunner of the greeting card industry with the paper card dating back to the 15th century. Early cards contained flowery poems, elaborately trimmed with yards of real lace, satin ribbons, mother-of-pearl and even spun glass.

The Duke of Orleans is believed to have made the first such card while imprisoned in the Tower of London in 1415. He wrote love poems, or "valentines" to his wife in France.

Valentine's day itself, however, has no apparent connection with any saints of church history. Historians believe instead the actual roots of the sentimental day are entwined with those of an ancient Roman fertility festival.

Lupercalia, as it was called, honored the great god Pan and was a time of feasting and frivolity. Ceremonies included the drawing of the names of eligible young women as companions for the time of the feast.

After the Romans became Christian, churchmen apparently wishing to give the pagan festival a Christian meaning, tied the day to the martyrdom of St. a priest or two in the third century. Thus began the traditional association of St. Valentine with courtship and affairs of the heart.

It was once thought that Valentine's day was the time of year when birds began to mate, a chubby little love god named Cupid aimed his arrows at the hearts of the young, and future happiness was connected and determined with whom the day was spent. Introduced to the United States as becoming popular during the Civil War, the illustrations and messages of affection on the valentines of that era were embellished with saccharine verses.

The popularity of the card grew even greater with the introduction of the penny postage and envelopes during the mid-19th century. Within a few years the day received almost as much attention as Christmas.

Collectors of earlier valentine cards found their senders adding personal messages to those verses already imprinted on the cards. Hazel Farley of Wixom who shared a portion of her collection of early greetings for this feature has one such addition.

With a message of love and extreme affection appearing on the front cover, the personal note urged the receiver to "Remember well and bear in mind that a good true friend is hard to find, but when you find one good and true, trade not the old one for the new."

By the Way

With Nancy Dingeldey

It would seem we have just passed through a time which necessitated the need for a list of 25 things to do to avoid cabin fever. Better stated, that list of 25 might serve a greater purpose if it were written for kids thus lessening the chance of housebound parents going nuts.

My kids balked after the fifth episode of shoveling the driveway...for a change of pace I suggested the front yard. The silence was deafening.

The oldest one, adventuresome in spirit, hoofed it to Walled Lake to shop for some gadget he just had to have. I thought the trek foolhardy even in good weather but dear one said "let him go."

It was sometime later that the phone rang informing the home front that adventuresome one was sure he was suffering an extreme case of frostbite followed by, "Dad, will you come get me?"

Those words are well known to parents everywhere!

The tiny Sun Bird with Dear One at the wheel made the trip, picked up the kid, and headed home. By that time the snowdrifts were really piling up with the Sun Bird proving no match to mother nature's force.

Dear One learned that no walk, even to avoid cabin fever, is worth digging out of three humungous drifts of snow that all but enveloped the little white car.

Words said over, under, around and through the third drift are totally unprintable, but certainly understandable.

Meanwhile, on another front, two enterprising young ladies put their housebound minds to work.

With a hint of a suggestion from one of their dads, Rene Kane and Andrea Eskelinen decided to have a white sale...using the cheapest, most readily available commodity at hand...snow.

Together the girls fashioned a beautiful sign and placed it for all to see at the end of their street. Passersby at Log Cabin and Gengary in Commerce Township chuckled at the sign announcing "First Annual White Sale...Snow for Sale...Cheap...Clean...Top Choice...Will deliver...5 cents a pound."

Jim Edwards of Wolverine Village called the two seventh graders at Walled Lake Junior High requesting a load be dumped in his driveway. Seems Edwards was having such fun with his snowblower he wanted more to blow away.

The sign has caught many an eye, not because of the item offered for sale, but because it makes light of what was a miserable few days.

What better time of year could there be than now for a super adult-type party featuring sport, exercise and gaiety until the wee small hours.

The what has become an annual Beat the Blues Bash is the brainstorm of Jerry and Penny Sutton and is organized each year by the ambitious couple.

First, rent the "bubble" at The Court House on Maple Road for an entire evening. Then invite couples who enjoy tennis, racquetball, saunas, and general all-round fun. Set up snacks and goodies and find a super-nice neighbor who will venture out at midnight to deliver a dozen-plus pizzas.

To lend a little continuity to the evening, one hour of the party is programmed into a round robin tournament with each person participating in both sports.

So as not to create problems, husbands, wives and dates are never paired with each other. Apparently tennis and racquetball pairings cause gnashings of teeth similar to those found at a bridge table.

Eighteen couples gathered Friday night for the round of fun including former Walled Lakers Howie and Phyllis Chenoweth, now of Warren, and Jim Martin of Ypsilanti. Others were Judy and Ken Breit, Cindy and Bob Eiser, Linda and Niles Anderson, along with Chris and Ken Lee and Jan and Garth McAllister.

The party has served a dual purpose, introducing many of the couples to the sports of racquets and balls. Up until last year, Marcia Dunlop had never approached a court. Since the party, however, she's totally hooked, finding herself involved with the sports as often as possible.

Both Marcia and hubby, Jim, were on hand Friday night along with Ray and Carolyn Lane. He, of course, is the popular Channel 2 sportscaster. Other players included Ken "A-Z", Tom and Pat Kopp, along with Elaine and Scott Peterson.

Rounding out the list were Carol and Ray Nix, Mike and Barb Dean, Hugh and Ann Schulkins, Laurel and Randy Kibloski, Carol and Greg Kreutzer and Lou and Linda Binonemi.

The divesting of a bank account by the no longer active Wixom Chamber of Commerce has swelled the coffers of the Wixom Historical Society by $1000. The announcement of the gift was made by the last C of Executive board Tuesday.

Sharing in the Chamber savings were the Wixom Senior Citizens who received $500 to be used towards the purchase of kitchen equipment. And the Wixom girls' Pigtail softball team gained slightly over $90 for their use.

Historical Society President Margaret Ladd learned only a short time after receiving the check that the society's application for a gas permit to the Tiffin House had been approved thus allowing a furnace to be installed at the restoration site.

The blizzard may have put a damper on some plans to attend a going away party Saturday for Arlene and Rolf Munk of Wixom but it didn't stop it from happening. As a matter of fact, well-wishers continued through a brunch Sunday and on into the wee small hours Monday morning.

Hosted by Rae and John Momberg of Teaneck Circle, along with the Schumanns and Murphys, also of the Circle, plus Laurel and Dennis Cavanaugh of Washington, D.C., the party would have been a whopper if everyone could have made it.

Personal
A very unique club called the Birthday Club celebrated its 25th year last Tuesday with a dinner at the Plymouth Hilton. This club was originally a group of young mothers who banded together to go out socially once a month. This they have continued to do all year with several of the original members still with the group. One of the former members, Ada Brown, now living in Indianapolis came for the dinner and got snowed in. Local members are Audrey Ortwin, Millie McCall, Christine Watson, Dorothy Paquette, Vi Ortwin, Phyllis Freeman, Irene Paquette and Gerry Spino.

Little League Baseball
A family get together was held last week at the Harold Ortwin residence in the Novi Heights Subdivision. The occasion was the birthday of their son, Mark. Guests included Cathy and Del Ortwin of Commerce, their daughter, Colleen, age three years, and their new daughter, Erin, born on December 12.

Orchard Hills Booster Club OLHSA
At the board meeting Tuesday, January 31, plans were made for a family portrait night to be held at Orchard Hills School in January. These will cost $5 plus $1.20 in postage. The board also planned to purchase a pull down 9'x9' movie screen, a chalkboard for the physical education program, and additional equipment for both the kindergarten playground and for the one used by the older youngsters.

Community Education
The newly formed Novi Community Theater Group had a very successful organizational meeting Tuesday, Feb. 7, at the Novi Community Center. The group ranged in age from high school to grandmothers, from experienced to inexperienced. They had an additional meeting on February 6, and anyone interested in this activity can call Anne Lormes at 349-0647.

NOVI LIBRARY REOPENS

Local students dance to help combat MD
These dancing kids from Northville and Novi are at it again. For the second year in a row, students from both communities will be joining forces in a dance-a-thon to raise funds to combat muscular dystrophy. Last year's event was rated a huge success by the organizers, but they say this year's effort will be different and better.

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

LCC revokes Bundo license

Michigan Liquor Control Commissioner Thomas Van Tien has ordered the revocation of the liquor license for the Camelot Inn and imposed a fine of $300 each on three charges that bar owner Ben Bundo violated LCC rules which prohibit total nude performances in establishments with Class C permits. An effective date of March 20 was placed on order, although Bundo may appeal Van Tien's ruling to the full commission.

If Bundo appeals the decision, the trial would not begin until a week and a half later, the hearing process is completed, an LCC spokesman said.

The News was unable to reach Bundo or his attorney, Paul Valentino, for comment.

Meanwhile, the bar owner's suit against the LCC, which seeks a court order prohibiting the state agency from harassing Bundo, was adjourned in Oakland County Circuit Court until March 8.

A pre-trial hearing in that case is scheduled for March 8 before Judge Gene Schmalz.

The LCC recently rejected Bundo's request for three additional bar licenses for the Shadow Fox, although he may appeal that ruling, too.

The disco has served drinks under a concourse license that Bundo held for bowling alleys that were under what is now the Shadow Fox area, but the state agency discontinued that permit and one for after-hours sale of food and beverage because the establishment no longer qualifies for those uses.

continue, failure to comply with the rules and failure to cooperate with the police.

Under the rules, the LCC may revoke or suspend a Class C license and/or impose a fine of up to $300 for each violation.

If the full commission upholds Van Tien's decision, Bundo may appeal the ruling through the courts.

The Camelot, located on East Maple Road next to the Walled Lake City Hall, features topless and bottomless women dancers six nights a week and bottomless male dancers on Wednesdays.

The city also has a case pending against Bundo in 52nd District Court, charging the bar owner with violation of the building code for failure to obtain a certificate of occupancy before opening the Shadow Fox discotheque in December.

A pre-trial hearing in that case is scheduled for March 8 before Judge Gene Schmalz.

The LCC recently rejected Bundo's request for three additional bar licenses for the Shadow Fox, although he may appeal that ruling, too.

The disco has served drinks under a concourse license that Bundo held for bowling alleys that were under what is now the Shadow Fox area, but the state agency discontinued that permit and one for after-hours sale of food and beverage because the establishment no longer qualifies for those uses.

Village launches annexation fight

A petition drive aimed at forcing an election on the proposed incorporation of Commerce Township and Wolverine Lake Village as a new city is expected to get underway today.

Residents of the two communities must gather signatures of 20 percent of the registered voters in the township and village, estimated at 1,500-1,800, between today and April 3 to call for an election on cityhood, according to James Hyde, administrator of the State Boundary Commission.

If the petition drive is successful, Hyde said, the Boundary Commission staff will validate the signatures and ask the commission, at a public meeting, to schedule the election date.

The administrator said he has no idea how soon the election may be held.

If the petitions are not submitted or do not contain enough valid signatures collected in the 45-day period, Carey said the commission then would order the election of a nine-member charter commission for the proposed city to draft the incorporation document.

Hyde said that, contrary to published reports in another area newspaper, he is unaware of any attorney general's opinion that would require an election on the incorporation without the petition drive.

He added that the procedure for the petition campaign, including agreement on the start and end of the 45-day period, was reached last week by Village Attorney Gary Allen and counsel for the Boundary Commission.

Village officials had planned to start the petition drive at last Wednesday's council meeting, but Allen said that, in order to be on the safe side, the campaign should not be launched until the 20-day appeal period on the recent Michigan Supreme Court decision had expired.

The Supreme Court on January 25 refused to grant the village leave for further appeal of Oakland County Circuit Court and State Court of Appeals rulings that upheld the Boundary Commission's 1973 order for incorporation of Commerce, Wolverine Lake and a portion of West Bloomfield Township that extends into Union Lake.

The appeal deadline was midnight last night, but Allen has indicated that the village has no further recourse through the courts on the incorporation issue.

Most of the crowd of more than 100 people who attended last week's council meeting appeared to oppose cityhood. Council President John McLellan said that the village is independent and self-supporting and would not benefit from incorporation with Commerce.

Township officials, however, have said that they favor cityhood in order to block two petitions for annexation of its property by the City of Walled Lake.

If the incorporation bill fails, Commerce Supervisor Robert Long said, the Walled Lake annexation petitions would come before the Boundary Commission.

Irene Savich to retire

Irene Savich, Wolverine Lake Village's clerk for 11 years, will retire this August or September, Council President John McLellan announced last week.

Mrs. Savich and her husband, Emil, who will retire from the Ford Motor Company's Livonia transmission plant in May, will move to Florida late this summer.

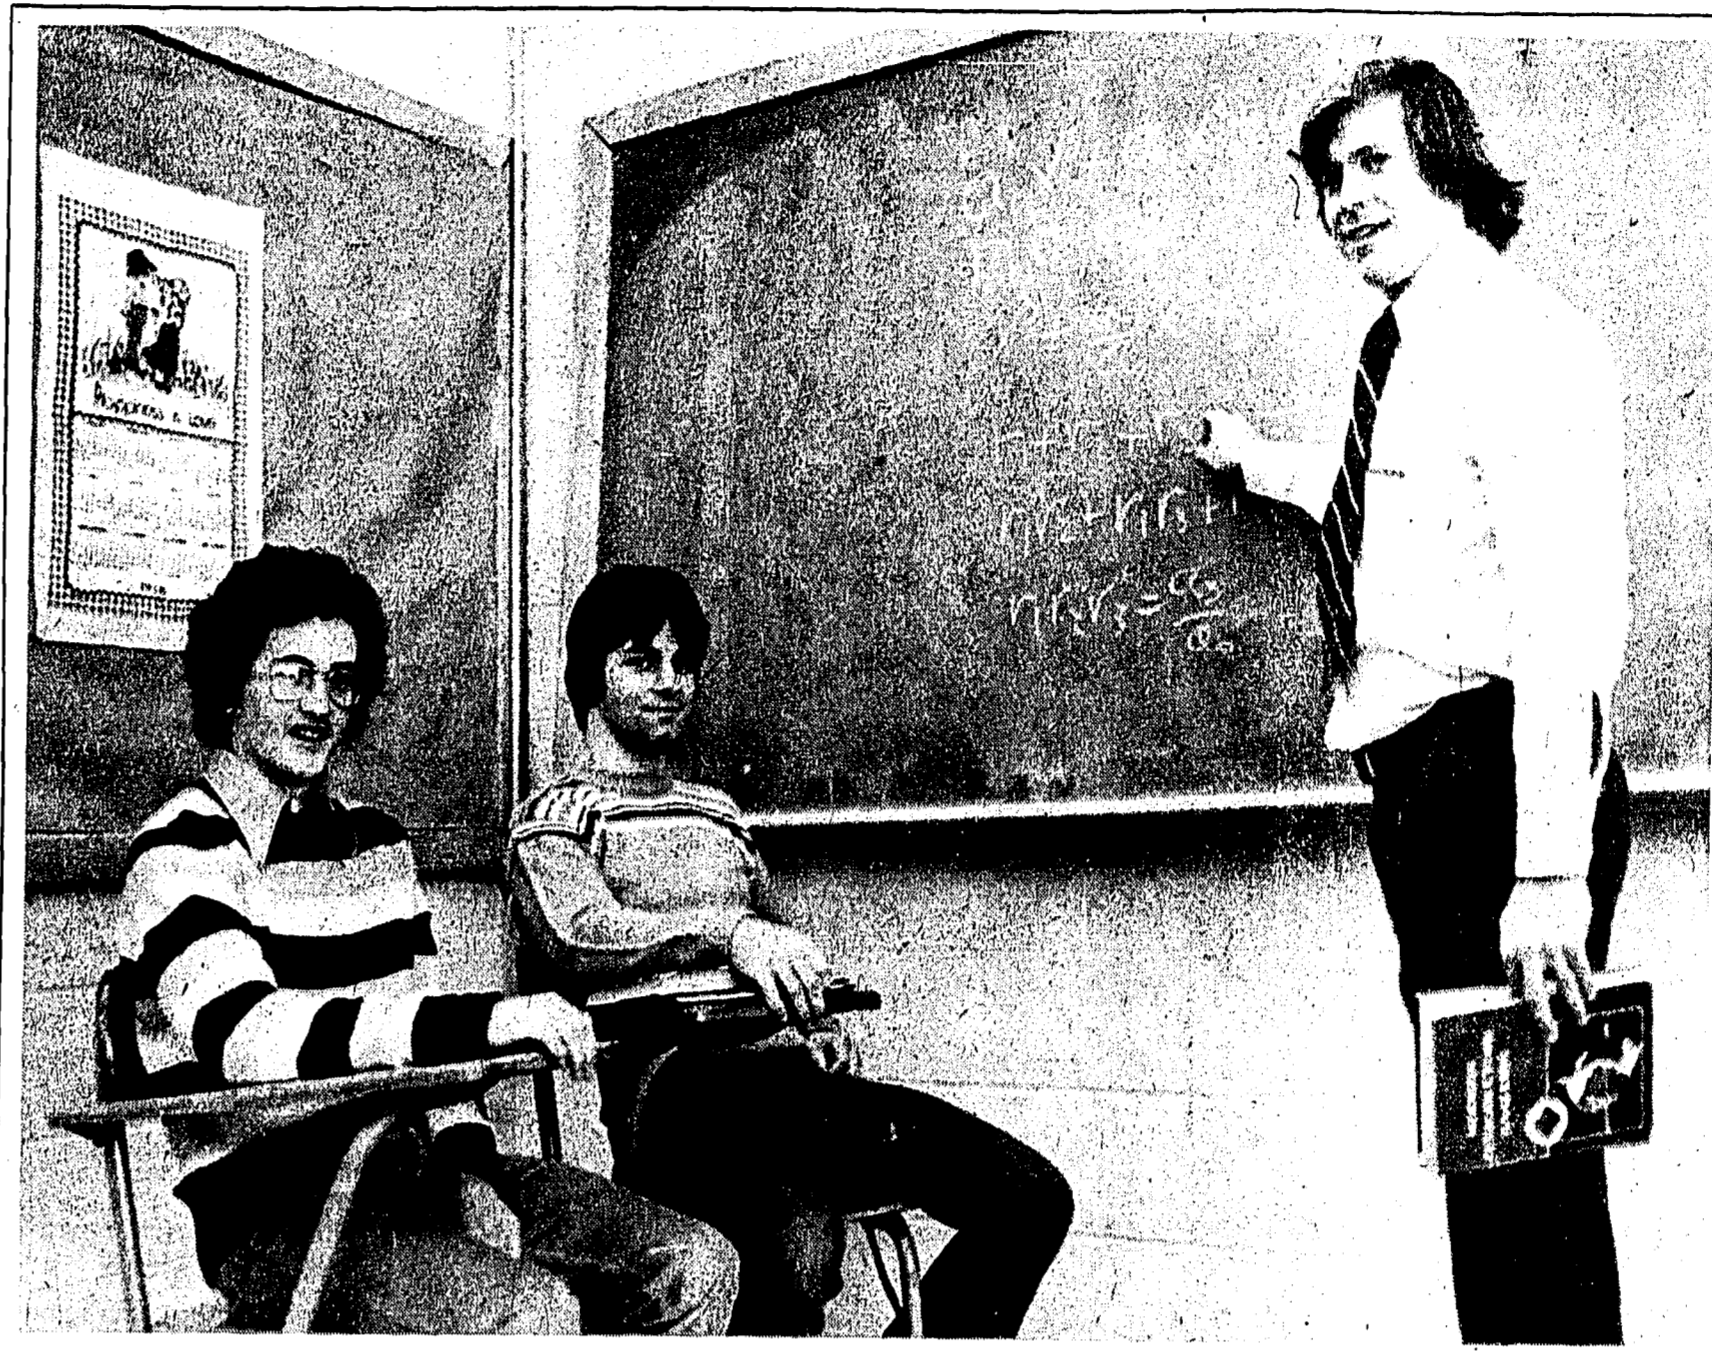

In an effort to replace the long-time clerk, the Village Council last week authorized a federal comprehensive employment and training act (CETA) position to hire and train an administrative assistant who probably will become clerk on Mrs. Savich's retirement.

A screening committee of McLellan, Councilwoman Pat Howarth and Administrator Bill O'Brien has been named to interview applicants for the job and make a recommendation to the council.

O'Brien said the addition of a new employee may allow officials to keep the Village Hall open from noon to 1 p.m. each day and possibly could provide Saturday office hours. At present,

Math whizzes

Two Walled Lake Central students — Jim Owens (left) and Tom Ogar — have been named winners in the 21st Annual Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition. They placed in the top 110 of 23,590 students throughout the state who took the test. Ogar, a senior and a standout on the Viking wrestling team, plans to attend the University of Michigan in the fall, majoring in pre-medicine. Owens, a sophomore and a key member of the Viking cross-country squad, said he still has two years left to make career plans, but that he will select a math-related field. The two students will be honored at an awards program at Eastern Michigan University on February 25.

Council tables action on parkway

The Walled Lake City Council has tabled action on a proposed letter, drafted by developer B. H. Carey, that provides additional information on the Walled Lake parkway alternative to the cancelled M-275 freeway project.

Council members voted 4-2 February 7 to delay the letter for further study.

Carey, who was not present at last week's meeting, drafted the letter after the State Highway Commission last month agreed to have the four-lane, divided parkway studied as one of four alternatives to the controversial freeway project that was cancelled a year ago.

The mayor letter was given to City Manager Peter Parker, who referred it to council members January 31 for their comments. Mayor Gaspare LaMarca told Parker to put the letter

M-275 options eyed

A series of meetings between the Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation's M-275 alternatives study team and local officials and citizens is being arranged by Oakland County Commissioner Robert A. McConnell (R-Farmington Hills).

McConnell said yesterday morning that Highway Department staff members will attend a session at 7 p.m. Thursday, February 23, with the Commerce Township Board, Planning Commission and Road Study Committee to discuss a boulevard plan he proposed last month in an effort to reach a compromise on an alternative to the cancelled freeway project.

The meeting will be held in the Commerce Township Hall, 2840 Fisher Avenue, and is open to the public. McConnell said he has invited officials from White Lake, West Bloomfield, Farmington Hills and Novi to attend the meeting.

Director John P. Woodford said Monday that the study team will present the alternatives to the Michigan Environmental Review Board (MERB) on February 27 to find out what the panel wants covered in an environmental impact statement on the plans.

Terry Yonkers, of the MERB staff, said the department's request will be discussed at the February session, but added that he is "not totally aware of what the alternatives are."

Yonkers said the MERB "will have some involvement in the environmental assessment of the alternatives," but added it is unclear what procedures the review board will demand in terms of an impact statement and public hearings.

Woodford said the department still does not have a work schedule on the review of alternatives, but added that he expects a timetable to be ready this week.

The alternatives under consideration include:

—McConnell's four-lane, divided boulevard that would follow Hagerty Road from 1-96 in Novi to about Pontiac Trail in Commerce where it would veer west over the original M-275 alignment to M-59 in White Lake;

—The Walled Lake four-lane, divided parkway that would follow Novi Road from 1-96 to about Thirteen Mile Road where it would parallel East Walled Lake Drive east of the lake, connecting to Nicolet Street and cutting across to Benstein Road where it would proceed north along Benstein and, north of Sneath Road, the original M-275 alignment to M-59; and —The Citizens in Opposition's plan for improvements, but not widening, to Hagerty, Union Lake and Williams Lake roads between 1-96 and M-59.

Lee, who opposed the parkway at the January 23 meeting, said the letter "seems to reiterate what was said at the meeting." He said that most of the letter was factual and suggested that the community factors section could be dropped for further discussion.

A motion to have Parker write a new letter, changing the right-of-way to 120 feet and dropping the community factors, was made by Lee, but council voted to delay that action for further study.

Councilman James L. Scott joined LaMarca, Staman and Lewandowski in supporting the delay, while Miss Hill and Lee dissented.

Carey, developer of the proposed 103 lot Lakeland Hills Subdivision on Decker Road, served as co-chairman of the M-275 Road Crisis Committee which
