By KATHY JENNINGS

Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole has disbanded the city's Surveillance Investigative Unit (SIU) in the wake of a grievance over financial compensation. The action comes at a time when the city is cutting back manpower to meet a decrease in general fund revenues which are projected to be $20,000 lower than 1979-80 levels.

As a result of budget considerations, the city has instituted a policy of not replacing employees who resign their positions. Although the policy has been applied equally throughout the city, officials are particularly concerned with maintaining patrol strength in the police department at last year's levels.

As a result of the hiring freeze, two patrol officers who resigned in the past year will not be replaced, but city officials hope to increase patrol strength through transfers within the department.

Additionally, a detective position vacated through the promotion of Detective Robert Starnes will not be filled, according to City Manager Ed Kriewall.

Altogether that means the number of sworn officers on the police force has dropped from 29 to 27.

Originally, the city had planned to bolster patrols by reclassifying SIU officers as patrol investigators and using them to fill in on shift shortfalls.

However, the city's original plan has been abandoned and the SIU disbanded after the Police Officers of Michigan in Novi (NPOAM) filed a grievance which reportedly takes the position that as patrol investigators SIU officers will be doing detective work and should be compensated at the detective pay rate.

SIU officers presently have patrol status and have been receiving patrol salary which is less than the detective pay rate.

Tuesday BeGole denied the NPOAM grievance, saying budget constraints would not allow those officers to be paid as detectives. He then disbanded the investigative unit. Beginning Monday SIU officers will be returned to the road patrol.

Previously, the police department has been operating with four four-officer platoons. As a result of BeGole's action to disband the SIU, 19 officers now will be available for patrol.

The chief's action reduces the number of plain clothes officers in the department from 10 to six.

Before the grievance was filed the city was prepared to transfer one SIU officer to the patrol division, Kriewall explained in his recent budget message.

The three remaining SIU officers would have become patrol investigators. One of the three patrol investigators would be scheduled to work every four-day weekend in the shift where he was most needed.

The two patrol investigators not on weekend assignments would have been scheduled into patrols which were running short due to vacations or scheduled time-off. When not serving as patrol officers they would have been available for investigatory duties.

BeGole had recommended in his budget request that the SIU be used as uniformed officers to fill in shift shortfalls. However, he advised against breaking up the unit since it would be "impossible for their present assignments to be handled by anyone else due to the work load."

BeGole said the SIU was responsible for covering vice and narcotics cases, intelligence, personnel and internal investigations, gang activity surveillance and liquor law enforcement among other duties.

The SIU was organized five years ago under a federal grant from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration. When the grant expired the city continued the unit and expanded its responsibilities from surveillance to various undercover operations.

West Oaks first applicant for Novi EDC financing

Novi has received its first applications for funding through the city's newly-created Economic Development Corporation (EDC).

City Clerk Geraldine Stipp reported that the city has received three applications for EDC financing from the Ramco-Gershenson Company.

Ramco-Gershenson is the developer of the proposed West Oaks (K mart) Shopping Center on the west side of Novi Road opposite the Twelve Oaks Mall. The shopping center is proposed to include a K mart and a Service Merchandise Catalog Store as its major tenants as well as a Kroger's store, a Perry's Drugs store and 14-18 retail outlets.

All three applications for EDC financing involve the proposed West Oaks development.

Specifically, the city has received applications for EDC financing of $5.175 million for the West Oaks development, $3.4 million for K mart and $2.588 million for Service Merchandise.

EDC Chairman Donald Grevengood said the three applications will be reviewed at the EDC's next meeting on Thursday, May 8, in the Novi Public Library at 8 p.m.

Michael Ward, an executive vice-president of the Ramco-Gershenson Company, said the applications were submitted separately even though they all relate to the same development partly because of federal regulations which limit EDC bonds on a single project to $10 million.

The total of the three applications filed with the city last week is $11.163 million.

Ward added, however, that separate applications for West Oaks, K mart and Service Merchandise are consistent with development plans which call for K mart and Service Merchandise to erect their own buildings while Ramco-Gershenson constructs the rest of the shopping center.

The Ramco-Gershenson executive said he is hopeful that the applications will be favorably received by the EDC at its May 8 meeting. If the EDC approves the applications, it will adopt a resolution of inducement which, in effect, tells the developer that the city is interested in his proposal and "induces" him to proceed with plans.

"The letter of inducement is not the final step in EDC approval because the procedure calls for public hearings and approval from the city council," said Ward.

"But we plan to begin site work on the shopping center if the EDC is favorably inclined to our proposal and gives us the green light to proceed.

"There's an element of risk involved to the developer if he proceeds because there's no guarantee that he will get final approval of EDC financing. But we're anxious to get moving with this project so it's our intent to begin work immediately if we get the letter of inducement."

Although preliminary plans called for the West Oaks Shopping Center to be open as soon as November 1, Ward said it was doubtful that the initial timetable could be met.

"By November 1 the site work and building structures should be finished so it's going to look like a shopping center," he said. "But as a practical matter when the interior work is considered, I think we're looking more realistically to an opening in early spring of 1981."

An EDC is a quasi-governmental body which is empowered to issue tax free revenue bonds to assist with industrial and commercial development. Since lending institutions do not have to pay taxes on interest earned from the bonds, they will make money available for development at two to three interest points lower than is available under conventional financing.

Ward and others in the development industry have indicated that those two to three interest points are critical during times of soaring interest rates.

The bonds are retired solely through payments from the company and do not affect the city's credit rating or ability to borrow money.

Grevengood, chairman of the Novi EDC, said he was pleased that applications for EDC funding have started to arrive so shortly after the development corporation officially was established.

"I think these applications justify the action of the city council in establishing an EDC as a means to serve the goals of the community," he said. "I'm very optimistic that the EDC will prove to be an important contributing factor to the future of the city."

Weekend dispute stalls police talks

Contract talks between the Novi Police Officers Association (NPOA) and the city have broken down in the early stages. After four lengthy sessions, the two groups have broken off negotiations and entered mediation.

The city and representatives of the Police Officers Association of Michigan (POAM) in Novi have been meeting since February. The current three-year police contract is due to expire June 30.

Both sides report their bargaining positions are "very far apart" and predict the talks could enter binding arbitration if some agreement cannot be reached.

The major stumbling block appears to be the four-day weekend which each patrol officers receive every three weeks. The clause granting a four-day weekend was added to the 1977 police contract, according to City Manager Ed Kriewall.

City officials now say that shift shortfalls which occur as a result of the four-day weekend is costing too much money in overtime pay and they want the provision out of the police contract. The city has offered a four-day weekend every four weeks instead.

"According to the records studied by our financial department the four-day weekend is causing a hardship in terms of weekend staffing, especially as the schedule is impacted by vacations and sick days. We definitely think it's causing a problem," Kriewall said.

The city expects to spend $90,000 for police overtime in the current fiscal year — double the amount originally budgeted. In the 1980-81 budget overtime expenditures are expected to be approximately $79,000.

Under the existing schedule a patrol officer gets four days off, work seven days, takes two days off, works eight days and then has four days off again.

Contract language states that officers assigned to the patrol division "shall receive one four-day duty free weekend on Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday for 96 consecutive hours... on a 28-day rotational basis."

Police maintain that the shift shortfalls are not the result of the four-day weekend, but are instead caused by inadequate manpower.

NPOA Representative Officer Alan Rassmussen said the police will fight for the weekend since it represents one of the few times they can adjust their schedules to be with families.

As a result of constant shift changes, police say their schedules rarely match those of their families. The weekend arrangement also gives single officers time when their schedules match those of other working people, Rassmussen said.

"The four-day weekend may create a hardship when several people are off sick or on vacation or injured. But no place hires enough employees to cover for vacations all the time. It's ludicrous to think the four-day weekend is the sole cause of overtime," Rassmussen said.

In meetings with the mediator both sides have been asked to prioritize their demands. Economic issues have not yet been discussed as a result of the disagreement over the four-day weekend.

While talks between the city and police are at a stalemate negotiations with two other employee groups continue to progress.

The city's bargaining team and representatives of Teamsters Local 214 sat down at the bargaining table March 25 and have had three subsequent meetings. Assistant City Manager Alex Allie reports the sessions have been productive.

Regular meetings are scheduled throughout the month of May and Allie indicated that within the next 30 days the city should know whether a settlement can be reached before the contract expires June 30.

Teamster officials could not be reached for comment at press time.

The Teamsters represent hourly Department of Public Works employees; clerical and secretarial personnel; building inspectors; and the code enforcement officer, fire marshal and chief inspector.

A preliminary negotiating session required by state law also has been conducted with the three-member Lieutenants and Sergeants Association.

Meanwhile, the Novi police clerks and dispatchers were scheduled to conduct a union vote Tuesday after The News deadline. That group will decide whether it will continue to be represented in contract talks through its own association or join the POAM.

Cop turns in badge to pursue ministry

By REID CREAGER

After serving as pastor of Milford's South Hill Baptist Church for the past four years, Dale Gross awakened early one Sunday morning last January to find that his personal "judgment day" had arrived.

Gross, who also has been an officer in the Novi Police Department for the past 14 years, knew the time had come to determine whether he should devote all his energies to the ministry. And what transpired soon afterward convinced him that his decision to leave the police department was indeed the right one.

"I prayed to God, and said 'if you're calling me full time into the ministry, I've got to know,'" Gross recalled at his near-empty office during his last day as a police sergeant Friday. "So I came up with a way to find out.

"Since our congregation is small and we'd never had more than 85 or 90 people for a service," he continued, "I decided that if we had exactly 100 people — no more, no less — it would prove that God had given me the calling.

"I didn't tell anybody, not even my wife. But before the service began I told my son, just so there'd be someone to verify it.

"And sure enough, we had an even 100 people that day. The next Sunday, we had exactly 100 again. Those kind of odds have to tell you something."

What it told Gross was that it was finally time to walk away from a way of life that he'd come to love. So when fellow officers assembled for a luncheon in his honor during his last day at the department Friday, Gross was understandably touched.

However, he said, that sadness would disappear quickly. "This is a happy day for me," said the man who was first ordained in 1978. "I am at total peace with my decision.

And though I'm taking a salary cut of more than 50 percent and will lose my pension benefits at the department, I have no doubts that I'm doing the right thing.

"I may not know what the future holds for me," he adds. "But at least I know who holds it."

Actually, Gross can't see what all the fuss is about. After all, he says, what he's devoted the rest of his life to isn't that different from what he's giving up. "The career choices aren't as paradoxical as they seem," he contends. "Both jobs involve dealing with people in need of help or guidance, and both deal with administering to needs people have.

"But the ministry is more than just a job," Gross adds in the same breath. "I firmly believe that what the Bible says is right — that helping people come to know Christ is the most satisfying thing a person can give of himself."

That's not to imply that Gross discounts the importance of a police force, though. The Milford minister says the police department is "the only thing that holds our society together and insures tranquility." As a result, he adds, it's been "a real privilege and a learning experience" to be associated with the Novi police department as Commanding Officer of the Patrol Division.

During his days with the force, Gross says, he shot just two people. "Both were shooting at me, and I really had no choice but to shoot back in self-defense," he recalls. Consequently, Gross says he sees no ideological conflict between the image of a business-like, pistol-totin' lawman and a mild-mannered, peaceful minister.

"I've got no problem with that," says Gross, who comes from a strict Baptist upbringing. "In fact, the Bible teaches capital punishment. And the 13th

Parks board advises millage vote

Novi's Parks and Recreation Commission has recommended that voters be asked to consider permanent approval of one-half mill for department operations in the August primary.

Parks and Recreation Director Tom O'Branovic said the proposal still is in the discussion stages, but the commission has recommended placing the question before the voters.

The city currently levies one-half mill for operation of the Parks and Recreation Department, but that levy is slated to expire July 1, 1981. The millage originally was approved by the voters for three years. Permanent approval of the millage would require voter approval of a charter amendment.

"We still have to look at the proposal to determine if this is the best way to go, but so far it looks better than the current arrangement," said O'Branovic. "When you have to go to the voters every three years for a millage renewal, it is difficult to plan ahead."

"We hope we have established ourselves enough so that people might be convinced to give us enough funding to see what we can do on a permanent basis," he continued. "A permanent millage would give the department a certain amount of revenue it could count on each year."

Should voters approve the one-half mill proposal, it would generate "just enough tax dollars to sustain operating costs," according to O'Branovic. He said that in each succeeding year the parks and recreation millage has provided "less and less for capital improvements."

Capital improvements in the Parks and Recreation Department mean major park developments and land acquisition. O'Branovic foresees that in the future any capital improvement projects will have to come before the voters.

"We're saying to the voters give us one half-mill to continue to operate and we will let you decide what and when we undertake major developments. A renewal would sustain the general operations of the department. Then we would have to come back to the voters for approval of specific capital improvement projects."

O'Branovic indicated that many of the department's expenses at this time are costs incurred because the department is young.

"We are incurring a lot of start-up costs because we are a new department and are just acquiring a lot of our equipment," he said. "In a more established department there would be only replacement costs. We have to buy things we need on a spot basis while making sure we aren't neglecting development and programming. We've been spread pretty thin."

Most of the programming offered by the department is self-sustaining, according to O'Branovic.

Commerce eyes millage to buy parks

By DAVID RAY

Commerce Township officials are studying a plan to seek voter approval of a four-year millage proposal to raise funds for the purchase of some 260 acres of Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA) park land.

Instead of requesting a specific millage levy, though, Commerce officials may ask voters to approve a plan that would raise $247,000 a year for four years to buy the property on land contract, according to Township Supervisor Robert H. Long.

A letter outlining the proposed park purchase arrangements was being prepared last week to be submitted to the HCMA Board of Commissioners at its May meeting, Long said. The township parks and recreation committee also will be asked to review the plan at its May 6 session. In order to have the millage proposal considered at the August 5 primary election, the township board must approve the ballot language and submit it to the Oakland County Elections Division by June 3.

Because of concern over the Headlee tax limitation law and due to changes in state equalized valuation (SEV) each year, the millage proposal would allow the township board to set the tax rate at a level that would raise the funds to make payments on the land contract, Long explained.

Based on estimates of Commerce's 1980 SEV, about one mill would be required to make the initial payment on the park land, if the special tax is approved, he added.

The two parcels of HCMA land the township hopes to acquire this year include property north of Glengary, between South Commerce and Log Cabin, and another site near Glengary and Bensten. The regional park authority has said the appraised value of those parcels, totalling 261.79 acres, is $837,000.

At present, the township leases all HCMA land in Commerce from the authority for $1 a year.

Township officials have said that the HCMA's power to sell or lease its surplus land to local units of government may be threatened by state legislation, and, since Commerce has little park land of its own, the parks panel decided to look into the possibility of acquiring the property to meet the township's future recreation needs.

The HCMA has said it is willing to sell all of its 365 acres in Commerce to the township for $1.15 million. Earlier this month, parks committee members decided to find out whether the HCMA would be willing to sell a portion, instead of all, of its land to the township and to explore other options for the proposed purchase.

If the acquisition of the initial 260 acres is approved, Long said the township could consider another millage proposal in four years to raise funds to buy the rest of the HCMA land.

The township has applied for a 50-percent federal grant of $775,500 to help pay for the park land purchase, but proposed federal budget cutbacks and the size of the grant request have made some Commerce officials doubtful of chances for approval.

Some $70,000 in federal community development aid funds has been allocated for the purchase of park land by the township board.

Central's 'Top Four' are Tricia O'Connor, Ken Artega, Lizanne Cooper and Jim Owens

Class of '80

Central recognizes top scholars

Scholastic competition at Walled Lake Central is so stiff that the school has ended up naming two valedictorians and two salutatorians for the 1980 graduating class.

Kenneth Artega and James Owens were named co-valedictorians as they both completed their high school careers with perfect 4.0 grade point averages.

And Lizanne Cooper and Tricia O'Connor were named co-salutatorians as they were close behind with identical 3.976 grade point averages.

Principal Gerald Wallace noted that the school has had co-valedictorians and co-salutatorians in the past, but never two of each in the same year.

In addition to scholarship, the four students at the top of Central's 1980 graduating class share the common trait of having been active in extracurricular activities.

Artega, for example, has been a member of the varsity cross-country, baseball and swimming teams as well as the student council, National Honor Society and Model United Nations Club. In addition, he was a team chairperson in Central's recent volleyball marathon for Rey's Syndrome.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Artega of Union Lake, he has been appointed to the United States Air Force Academy where he plans to study Computer Science and Aeronautical Design.

Owens, who shares valedictorian honors, has been active in cross-country and track and was named to the Inter-Lakes All-Conference Cross-country squad this past year. He also is a member of the National Honor Society and the Chess Club.

An outstanding mathematics student, he finished second in the 1979 and third in the 1980 Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition. As a member of the school's mathematics team, he was one of four students in the United States to earn perfect scores on a battery of six separate tests.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. James Owens of West Bloomfield, he plans to attend either the Massachusetts Institute of Technology or the University of Michigan Engineering School.

Cooper played on the varsity tennis team and is a member of the National Honor Society, serving as president her senior year. She also was honored as the Outstanding Senior Scout of Oakland County for 1979 and won Central's Century III Current Events Leadership competition.

A four-year member of the marching band, she has won 14 "superior" ratings in state competition for flute, and also won a "superior" rating for voice in her senior year. Additionally, she had leading roles in the school's productions of "Once Upon a Mattress" and "Oklahoma."

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cooper of West Bloomfield, she plans to attend Western Michigan University where she will study Theater and Music.

O'Connor's extracurricular involvement ranges from varsity gymnastics to the drama club. She is on the executive board of the National Honor Society and also is vice-president of the senior class.

She also serves on the student council, is a member of the concert choir and is general editor of the yearbook. She was the junior class attendant on the 1978 Homecoming Court, and has worked as a local and state Public Health Department instructor.

O'Connor is headed for the University of Michigan in the fall where she will study English and Journalism. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Connor of Union Lake.

Revenues down in Wixom budget

Noting that "storm clouds which appear on the national horizon could have a dramatic effect on municipal operations," Wixom Mayor William Spencer has submitted a proposed general fund budget which projects revenues of $1.545 million and expenditures of $1.57 million for 1980-81.

In comparison, the city projected general fund revenues of $1.604 million and general fund expenditures of $1.65 million in 1979-80.

In order to balance the 1980-81 budget, the mayor has appropriated some $25,565 from the general fund balance.

"While such an appropriation is not in the long term in the best interests of the city, unusual economic and political circumstances dictate such a decision," commented Spencer in her budget message to the city council.

The council is scheduled to begin its review of the mayor's proposed budget next Monday at a public hearing for appropriation of federal revenue sharing funds. Subsequent work sessions on the budget have been scheduled for May 12, 14 and 15.

All budget work sessions are open to the public and will be held in Wixom City Hall at 7:30 p.m. The council is required by charter to adopt the 1980-81 budget no later than its regularly scheduled May 27 meeting.

In spite of the reduction in projected revenues, the mayor's proposed budget calls for millage rates to drop slightly in the upcoming fiscal year.

If the budget is adopted in its present form, the city will continue to levy 6.33 mills for general operations, although the sewer debt millage will be reduced from 2.6 to 2.15 mills — an overall reduction of 9.43 mills to 8.38 mills.

Nevertheless, the budget projects an increase in real and personal property tax revenues of 26 percent (from $728,800 last year to $921,300) due to an increase of 29 percent in the city's State Equalized Valuation (SEV).

The major reason for the projected reduction in general fund revenues from $1.604 million in 1979-80 to $1.545 million in 1980-81 can be attributed to uncertainty over funding from the federal government.

In her budget message, Spencer noted that Congress has been carefully reviewing the effectiveness of various federal programs, most notably federal revenue sharing and Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) funds, in an effort to combat inflation.

"While both programs are projected to be renewed at reduced appropriation levels, we are being fiscally prudent by not depending on these revenue sources for the next fiscal year," said the mayor.

As a result, her budget projects a hefty reduction in federal revenue sharing funds from $303,000 in 1979-80 to $81,000 in 1980-81.

If federal revenue sharing is extended, it will be allocated as the primary revenue source for the city's newly-created Capital Improvement Program.

"While federal revenue sharing represents a substantially larger revenue source, the CETA program has a more obvious impact on municipal operations," cautioned Spencer. "Its termination would leave the three positions currently funded by CETA in jeopardy."

Highlights on the expenditure side of the mayor's proposed budget are as follows:

- * A $100,000 increase in the police department budget from $408,000 to $508,000 in fiscal 1980-81. The mayor noted that a new three-year agreement was recently negotiated between the city and the police officers' union that has resulted in increased costs in wages and fringe benefits.
- * A $22,000 increase in the fire department budget from $121,000 to $143,000 in fiscal 1980-81.
- * A $16,000 of that proposed increase can be attributed to the mayor's proposal to make the fire chief a full-time position. The fire chief received a salary of $4,000 in 1979-80 when he served in a part-time capacity, but will make $20,000 this year as a full-time employee if the mayor's budget is adopted.
- * Creation of the Capital Improvements Program (CIP) fund which is designed to identify and fund long term capital needs. Primary revenue sources for the CIP are federal revenue sharing, state and federal grants, and contributions from the general fund.
- * The proposed CIP fund projects total revenues of $689,000 — $235,000 from federal revenue sharing, $292,500 from state grants, $60,000 from state grants, $43,000 from private contributions and $48,500 in contributions from the general fund.
- * Major proposed CIP expenditures include $20,000 for the city's sewer facilities plan, $155,300 for the re-paving of Beck Road, $117,500 for park land development and $65,000 for a drain improvement project.

State approves Sports Village marina permit

A marina operating permit has been issued to the Sports Village, Incorporated, by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

The permit, issued April 22, allows the Sports Village the "continued operation of the existing marina with 48 boat wells and one dual-unit fuel pump."

In a six-page report on the permit application, DNR water quality specialist Mark W. Feidhauser concluded that the Sports Village marina "will provide benefits to the public interest in the form of recreational boating opportunities that are greater than the public interest in the minimal resource degradation which may result from marina operation."

Feidhauser also concluded that the marina "will not cause a significant increase in boat traffic or boating safety hazards on Union Lake beyond the volume it contributed prior to enactment of the Inland Lakes and Streams Act (of 1965)."

Further, he stated that the marina "will have minimal affect on public health (since it is) in compliance with local and State Public Health Department requirements" and "will have no significant adverse affect on the water quality of Union Lake... (or) on the environment or the public trust in the waters of Union Lake."

The action to approve the permit may be administratively appealed to the DNR, and an appeal decision could be challenged in court, Feidhauser added.

The permit application was opposed by the Commerce and West Bloomfield township boards and by the Union Lake Shores Association, which represents about 700 property owners who have Union Lake privileges.

They said the marina operation would increase the already heavy use of the 465-acre lake and would pose noise, safety and water pollution problems as well.

Some sort of boat livery has been operated on the Sports Village site, located on Union Lake Road at Wise Road in Commerce, for more than 25 years, officials and residents agree, but the homeowners' group says the size and type of watercraft has changed over the years from rowboats to speed boats, sailboats and pontoons.

Association President Anthony B. M. Housten also said the lake has the second highest accident rate in Oakland County.

Feidhauser said an examination of aerial photos showed that the marina — the known as Dunham's — was in operation as early as July 1964, prior to the adoption of the Inland Lakes and Streams Act. He added that an August 1968 survey by the DNR revealed 49 boats docked at the marina and a total of 638 watercraft at commercial and private docks and the state-operated public access site on Union Lake.

The marina operating permit requirement was added to the state law in 1972, but the Sports Village did not apply for the permit until last August.

In addition to the boating, watercraft and fishing recreations opportunities provided by the Sports Village, Feidhauser said the marina also offers "a benefit to commerce and industry."

On the issue of lake capacity, he stated that "since use intensity is substantial."

Car Store closes downtown dealership

The Car Store in Walled Lake appears to have become the latest victim of a sluggish economy which has led to the closing of several automobile dealerships in the metropolitan Detroit area.

Signs which announced that the Chrysler-Plymouth dealership was closed appeared last Friday.

And John Sterbling, manager of the local dealership which is owned by Hugh McVey of Milford, confirmed Monday that The Car Store had been closed indefinitely.

Sterbling said he did not know if or when the dealership would be reopened.

"At this point, we're closed indefinitely," he said.

McVey also is the owner of the Redford Chrysler-Plymouth dealership which was closed earlier this year.

The Car Store is the second automobile dealership which has been closed in Walled Lake during the past year.

The Shuman Ford dealership at South Commerce Road and Pontiac Trail was closed last fall. Richard Shuman, owner of the dealership, reportedly was under pressure from Ford Motor Company officials to close the Walled Lake operation and move the dealership into an existing new building on the west side of Novi Road opposite the Twelve Oaks Mall.

Shuman opposed the move, however, and reportedly closed the Walled Lake operation rather than take over the Novi site.

The new building on Novi Road, which is identified as "Twelve Oaks Lincoln-Mercury," is still unoccupied.

Judson Taylor, whose father owns the building in which The Car Store is located on East Walled Lake Drive, said Tuesday that he has not yet received notification of the closing from McVey.

"I know there's a closed sign on the door, but I haven't heard anything yet."

Tuttle column prompted action

Senator proposes changes in state EDC law

By DAVID RAY

A former Walled Lake council member's recent guest column in the Detroit Free Press on the evils of development, especially growth spurred by local economic development corporations (EDCs), has prompted a state senator to propose changes in the EDC enabling legislation.

Senator Stephen V. Monsma (D-Grand Rapids) has asked the Legislative Service Bureau to draft a bill that would require adoption of an ordinance, instead of a resolution, to create an EDC. The measure also would allow residents of a municipality the right of referendum to disband an EDC "any time during the existence of a corporation."

The bill will be introduced in the senate as soon as it is drafted, Monsma informed former Council Member Ruth Tuttle in an April 17 letter.

"Surely we should do all we can to assure that communities are able to control their own destiny by way of local initiative," he added.

The move to change Michigan's EDC law started with a letter to the editor of The Free Press in which Tuttle assailed an Oakland County circuit judge's ruling a year ago that local development corporation ordinances are not subject to referendum — repeal — by the voters.

Free Press Associate Editor Reese Clegghorn decided to turn the letter into a guest column that was published April 3 opposite the editorial page. A member of Monsma's staff saw the column and contacted Tuttle for her suggestions on dealing with the urban sprawl issue. Tuttle's proposed changes were referred to the Legislative Service Bureau to be put in the form of a bill.

The former council member was one of several Walled Lake residents who circulated petitions in late 1978 for a referendum election on the city's EDC ordinance which was adopted in June of that year. When the city council set a November 1979 election on the ballot, the developer of the proposed Walled Lake Commons shopping center filed suit against the city, challenging the voters' right to referendum. That suit prompted Circuit Judge William John Biegi's April 1979 ruling against referendary proposals to repeal an EDC.

Tuttle has said that the costs of providing government services to new businesses sometimes is more expensive than taxes generated by the development. In the Free Press column, she also said that an EDC "can be used to foster urban sprawl in communities such as Walled Lake which are not ready for a mass influx of population, traffic and congestion."

Her suggestion to change the law to require incorporation of an EDC by ordinance instead of resolution was prompted by a 1978 amendment to the state measure that gave counties and local units of government the right to create a development corporation by resolution. Previously, the law required enactment of an ordinance to establish an EDC; that was the method used by the city council.

Since the Walled Lake EDC was set up almost two years ago, the cities of Wixom and Novi also have organized similar development corporations. The Oakland County Board of Commissioners has created a county-wide EDC, too.

The proposal to create an EDC was presented to the city council two years ago by Walled Lake Commons general partner Stuart Frankel, who subsequently applied for $3-million in revenue bonds to build a 2.6 million sq ft plant at Pontiac Trail and West Maple Road. The plan was withdrawn last July when K mart officials decided that rent for the Walled Lake facility would be too high, due in part to delays — including the referendary petition drive and resulting lawsuit — and increasing construction costs.

Proponents of the Walled Lake EDC said that the lower interest rates available on the bonds — because the lending institution doesn't have to pay income taxes on the interest — would encourage commercial and industrial development in the city despite Walled Lake's relatively high property tax rate.

State approves new sewer plant

A sewer construction permit for a one-million-gallon-per-day wastewater treatment plant has been issued to the developers of the proposed Commerce Central commercial-office-apartment complex by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

Before ground may be broken for the facility, though, the developers, Standard Industries, Incorporated, must enter into an agreement with Commerce Township for municipal ownership of the sewage treatment plant and the township, in turn, must approve agreements with Oakland County public works officials for operation and maintenance of the facility, according to Daniel D. Lublin, president of Standard Industries.

The township also must adopt a sewer use ordinance.

Lublin said he expects the three agreements to be completed in 30 to 60 days.

Approval of the sewer plant permit also signaled the beginning of intensified negotiations between the developers and prospective builders and tenants of the commercial, office and apartment

Brookover wins Democratic convention trip

Walled Lake Council Member Thomas W. Brookover was elected as an alternate delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Saturday's 19th district caucus.

He is committed to support Massachusetts Senator Edward M. Kennedy. The 35-year-old Brookover is legal counsel to the Kennedy for President Committee in Michigan and served as chairperson of the 19th district's credentials committee at the April 26 caucus.

Kennedy beat President Carter by a margin of 57- to 43-percent — 299 votes to 225 — in the 19th district caucus presided over by Brookover.

"Bedwetting is Serious and Harmful..."

If you have a bedwetter in your home, I strongly urge you to take steps at once to end it. The correction of bedwetting is an important mental health aid. It is very harmful to the child, distressing to the parents and can lead to very serious complications later on in life. Don't be blind to this problem no matter what you have been told by anyone else. Do something about it and do it now.

BED WETTING IS CORRECTABLE

Many procedures such as restricting liquids, taking a child to the bathroom on a schedule, soiling, etc. do not end bedwetting. It can be stopped as early as 3 years of age. It should definitely be stopped before school age.

The most serious mistake parents make is to wait for the child to outgrow bedwetting, because there are millions of adults who never outgrow it.

Murder puzzles police; citizen help requested

Millford police are seeking information on the whereabouts of a 50-year-old Walled Lake man from the time he disappeared April 14 until his body was found six days later near a Proulx Lake State Recreation Area picnic site.

Walter Earl Rubel, of 121 N. Pontiac Trail, was last seen alive about 7:30 p.m. April 14 near his Walled Lake apartment, according to Millford Police Lieutenant Dale Mallett. His body was found near the Power picnic site, west of Wixom Road, about 1 p.m. April 20.

Rubel died of shotgun wounds to the abdomen and head, according to the Oakland County Medical Examiner's Office. He apparently had been dead for 24 to 48 hours when his body was discovered by a park officer. The officer reportedly saw the body from a distance Saturday afternoon, but didn't realize it was a body, police say.

An employee of the Ford Motor Company's Wixom assembly plant, the Walled Lake man was a regular customer at Wixom's Cafe, 235 Pontiac Trail. He had breakfast and dinner at the restaurant the day he disappeared, according to Walled Lake Police Chief Wilford G. Hook. Rubel reported to work for the day shift April 14, but was absent the next three days.

A missing person report was filed by Rubel's friends when he failed to show up at the restaurant. A Ford personnel spokesman also told police it was unusual for Rubel to miss work, Hook added.

Officers went to Rubel's apartment, where he lived alone, after the missing person report was filed, but they found nothing missing and no evidence of foul play, Hook said.

Rubel reportedly carried large sums of money — $5,000 to $6,000 — which, officers say, concerned his friends and co-workers as well as police, who had cautioned him against "carrying around a lot of money," Hook added.

Police believe Rubel may have been murdered as part of a robbery case, possibly, because of a loan he had made to someone. His wallet has not been found.

When Millford police listed the apparent murder on a law enforcement teletype April 20, a Walled Lake officer recognized the description of the victim and contacted the village department. The Walled Lake officer accompanied a Millford police sergeant to the county morgue that evening to identify Rubel's body.

"We've talked to a lot of people," Mallett said, "but we're not getting anywhere."

"We're trying to figure out where he was from Monday night to Sunday when his body was found," the lieutenant added.

Anyone with information on Rubel's whereabouts for the six days he was missing is asked to call Lieutenant Mallett at the Millford police department 1-884-1815.

Marina permit issued

jective and particular to a given individual, no acceptable way has yet been found to determine the point at which there are too many boats on a lake. It is not currently possible to determine the right number of boats for Union Lake.

The report also states that "Union Lake is a high-use lake but not particularly hazardous to user safety when compared to other lakes in the county," based on a review of records and statistics for the last five years compiled by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Marine Safety Division.

"Approximately half of the watercraft moored at Sports Village are pontoon and sailboats," Feldhauser wrote, "with the remainder being small ski and pleasure boats. This type of watercraft have been moored at the Sports Village for at least 10 years."

The sheriff's department doesn't believe that "more congestion and safety problems on Union Lake can be attributed to users from this marina than to other users on the lake," he added.

Most of the lake is in West Bloomfield Township, although the Sports Village, the Union Lake Beach Club and the DNR public access site are in Commerce.

from them as to their future plans," he said.

Taylor's father, Jacob Taylor, got into the auto sales business in 1922 when he opened a Chevrolet dealership in Walled Lake.

The original building was destroyed by fire in 1945 and rebuilt in 1946, according to Taylor.

The building was leased in 1969 to Dick Morris Chevrolet which maintained operations at the site until moving to a new location on Haggerty Road at the Pontiac Trail in Commerce Township several years ago.

Taylor reported that McVey's lease on The Car Store building is slated to expire in August.

"Right now, I don't know what his or our plans are," said Taylor. "I'm just going to have to wait until I hear something definite."

Novi library looks forward to bright future

(Fifth in a series on the Novi Public Library during National Library Month)

The Novi Public Library will celebrate its 20th birthday this coming fall. Previous articles in this series have shown the development of the library since 1960 and highlighted its present collections, services, staff and "connections."

This article will take a brief look at the future of the Novi Public Library.

Of course, present collections and services will be maintained in the future, enabling the library's users always to be able to find the information and materials they seek in their own community.

The adult and children's book collections, "Teen Alley" and the reference collection will continue to grow with newer titles added and older volumes removed. The children's record collection will be expanded.

Story hours during the year and the summer reading program will continue to be offered, as will the popular Saturday Morning Movies. In short, current programs will be maintained and expanded.

The library board and staff are continually exploring new ideas for collection and services, though, to improve the library's service to the community. Three particular areas are on the "drawing boards" for the future:

- 1) Audio Visual Materials: The board has chosen as its third annual project the "investigation into the area of audio-visual materials and services with the anticipated result being the development of an acquisition program."
- 2) The 1979 community survey indicated that many residents would like to see more in the way of audio-visual materials at the library. Hopefully, the acquisition program will be completed by the end of the year.
- 3) Automated Circulation System: The entire Wayne-Oakland will soon have the ability to engage in a system-wide automated circulation network that will result in better control over circulating items. The status of any given book or other item can be given quickly and the Novi library will be able to "call up" a particular item and find out immediately what library in the system owns that item.

A by-product of the system is that surveys of what is currently being checked out by the library's users will be made quickly and efficiently; thus, the staff can order more items that will be used by all.

Subject Growth: The 1979 Community Survey generated a ranking by subject area of those subjects that people want to see expanded in the library. Over the next three years, extensive efforts will be made to systematically develop the various subject areas that were ranked at the top of the list.

Another area for future participation by the library is the advancement of cable television in the Novi area. Library administrator Diane Elish has worked with city and school officials to study the potential of cable television for the library, schools, local government and community at large.

Other staff have attended various workshops as well to investigate programs that the library may offer via cable. One popular choice is a nightly "children's story hour," highlighting books available at the library. Many other ideas are being developed in preparation for the time when cable television is available.

The library will continue to reach out to other libraries and agencies throughout the county beyond in the years ahead. Membership in the Wayne-Oakland Library Federation will continue, pending any drastic changes in the system. The library also will continue to utilize the services offered by the Oakland County Library.

An informal group of southwestern public libraries, begun last year, hopefully will result in formation of cooperative selection plans and sharing of existing resources among the group's members. Future developments of this group will result in better service and the availability of more items to all communities in this part of the county.

An informal study of ways "multi-type" libraries (public, school, college, university and company-related) in the county can cooperate in sharing resources also is currently underway. A wealth of information is available in the many libraries throughout the county, and the librarians are trying to find ways to share within their limits. The savings are passed on to all taxpayers whenever libraries are able to cooperate to the best of their abilities.

Mention of taxpayers leads to the question of future support for the Novi Public Library. The library's primary source of support comes from the charter's granting of up to one mill in taxation. A relatively unknown fact is that the library board only asked for that one mill once — the year the new facility was opened when many funds were needed to furnish the building.

In years past, the board has used .85 mill or less as the basis for computing millage for the library. Due to efficient management of funds, the board has not required the full amount that could be used, thus saving the taxpayers some money for their own use. The general operating policy of the board is to take and use only what is really needed and offer the best quality service around.

The current budget for the upcoming fiscal year calls for $261,000 in revenues, of which 90 percent is generated by millage, five percent from state aid and the remaining five percent from other revenues. The breakdown of expenses is as follows:

Wages/employee expenses	$147,390	56%
Books/materials	$36,700	14%
Library services	$7,000	3%
Utilities	$18,700	7%
Building Maintenance	$38,700	15%
Miscellaneous	$12,460	5%

develop collections and services.

The library board wants its users to know in Michigan a person who donates money to the library is entitled to a credit of 50 percent of that contribution or 20 percent of that person's total state income tax (whichever is less), up to $100 per individual return or $200 for each joint return.

As a concluding remark, all are encouraged to visit the Novi library at their next opportunity. A great many items of interest are available, and all are welcome.

This series has tried to tell the story of the Novi Public Library — come help write the next few chapters in the years ahead.

Novi begins review of revised master plan

A special joint session to consider a proposed revision of the master plan for land use development will be held by the Novi City Council and Planning Board tonight (Wednesday) in the Novi Public Library at 8 p.m.

The meeting marks an end to preparation of the revised master plan by Planning Consultant Charles Cairns of Villac-Leman & Associates and a beginning to the city's deliberation of the proposed document.

Work on the revised master plan has been going on for almost a year.

Cairns reported that the purpose of tonight's session is to give him an opportunity to point out sensitive areas of the plan which need policy decisions from the city before the revised master plan can be put into final form.

Approval of the master plan is the responsibility of the planning board, but the planners have requested that the city council be involved in approving the document since it is the body which makes final decisions on zoning matters.

After the planners and council members have made the policy decisions requested by Cairns, the document will be put into final form. The city must hold public hearings before the final document can be officially adopted.

The revised master plan involves four separate planning studies: a commercial areas plan, an industrial areas plan, a thoroughfare plan and a residential dwelling areas plan.

Cairns said he would be asking city officials for input on three areas in particular.

One of those areas involves a proposal to change a large tract of land west of West Road from an industrial to a residential orientation, while a second area involves a proposal to change property on the west side of Novi Road between Flint Street and Ten Mile from an industrial to a professional office orientation.

Cairns said if the city approves the proposed changes in those areas on the master plan, it should also be prepared to institute rezoning actions to bring the zoning into conformance with the master plan.

The third—and potentially most controversial—segment of the proposed revision of the master plan involves the commercial areas plan.

More specifically, the segment of the proposed commercial areas plan which is expected to be carefully scrutinized by city officials is the location of "convenience commercial" centers.

A convenience commercial center is a shopping center designed to provide for the day-to-day convenience needs of residents in adjacent neighborhoods. Typically, convenience commercial centers include grocery stores, drug stores, cleaners and barber/beauty shops.

Cairns has proposed that convenience centers be located in the West Road/Pontiac Trail area, Meadowbrook Road/Thirteen Mile area, Beck Road/Ten Mile area, Twelve Mile/Dixon Road area and the Novi Road/Grand River Avenue area.

The proposal appears to conflict with a recent city council decision to deny a rezoning request that would have led to construction of a convenience commercial center at the Beck Road/Ten Mile intersection.

The rezoning request had been recommended for approval by an 8-1 margin by the planning board, but was rejected on a 7-0 vote of the council.

One other area which may be discussed at tonight's session is the proposal to construct a ring road around the Novi Road/Grand River Avenue intersection. The ring road proposal may be tied in with consideration of the convenience center areas plan since expansion of the existing commercial area at Novi Road and Grand River may diminish the need for convenience commercial centers in residentially-oriented segments of the city.

Additionally, expansion of the Novi Road/Grand River commercial area may permit the city to cut back on the extent of commercial zoning along the Grand River corridor.

Grant approved for super sewer facility plan

A federal grant of $811,800 has been awarded to the Wayne County Board of Public Works for the facility plan phase of the so-called super sewer regional wastewater control system.

Novi and Commerce Township are among the 16 Oakland and Wayne county communities participating in the project.

The grant award was announced Friday by the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) regional office in Chicago. The federal funds represent 75 percent of the cost of the first phase of the controversial sewage treatment plant.

Official announcement of approval of a $4.86-million federal grant for the design work of the facilities—the second of three phases of the project—is expected to be made soon, possibly this week.

State grants of five-percent of the total costs also are expected to be approved in the near future, according to Duane R. Egeland, deputy managing director of the public works board, and the study and design work could be started at that time.

Under an agreement with the EPA, the first two phases of the project are to be completed in 18 months—approximately October 1, 1981.

Local communities have agreed to pay 20 percent of the facility plan and design costs. The total cost for both phases, including state and local funds, some miles to the north.

The design work will include capacity for the northern communities, although the proposed wastewater treatment plant and interceptor line could be scaled down if the facility plan doesn't justify extension of the system to southern Oakland County.

If the proposed regional system is extended, the northern communities would have to pay for re-design or additional design work of the interceptor facilities in the event they decide to remain in the project. Commerce officials insisted, though, on a memorandum of understanding with Wayne County that would allow the township to drop out of the plan at that time without incurring additional costs.

The regional sewer system should only serve the southern tier of Wayne communities as well as Van Buren and Canton townships in the western part of the county, but the federal agency agreed last year to a facility plan study of communities from Plymouth Township to Commerce to determine whether the system should be extended another 20-

Novi rejects multiples rezoning

A rezoning request which would have allowed construction of condominiums on the southwest corner of Nine Mile and Novi Road has been rejected by the Novi City Council.

Council members voted 7-0 last week to deny a request from the Stein/Weiss Company to rezone the 5.7-acre corner parcel from its existing single family residential (R-4) designation to a multiple family residential (RM-1) classification.

The change in zoning would have increased the density level from 4.3 to 11 dwelling units per acre.

In voting to deny the rezoning request, city council members opposed the recommendations of both their planning consultant and planning board who had recommended approval, but upheld the wishes of surrounding property owners.

Residents asked the council to retain the single family residential character of the area. The planners had suggested condominiums were more desirable than commercial development there.

The council's action last week marked the third time that it has rejected a rezoning request on the parcel. Previously, council members have rejected requests for an office-service classification, a residential use and construction of a medical clinic and a general business designation which would have led to construction of a restaurant on the site.

After the general business classification was denied, the property owners took the case to court. Although the case was dismissed, owner George Haggerty maintains a non-residential use for the property still is valid.

Planner Charles Cairns told the council he recommended approval of the rezoning request because multiple-family dwellings would "still be residential and it is important to maintain the residential orientation of the entire area."

He also indicated that he would prefer to have the parcel zoned for multiples since it is a residential classification, than have the courts decide the zoning for the parcel.

Cairns told the council that if the corner has something other than a residential zoning it would be difficult to maintain the residential character on the west side of Novi Road.

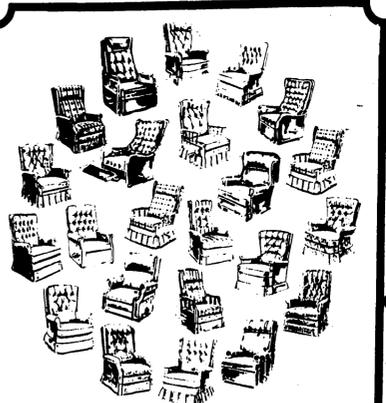

Cairns noted the site is located at the intersection of two major thoroughfares and also fronts on its east side to industrial non-residential uses on industrial zoned land across Novi Road.

Developer Robert Stein explained plans for the property include construction of 10 units per acre of condominiums called stacked ranches. He described them as two-story apartments with private entrances.

But council members were not satisfied with the developer's presentation.

They suggested that since the property owner was asking the city to change the proposed use of the corner, it was his responsibility to demonstrate he is unable to develop the property as it is presently zoned.

"He's requesting a change in the use and density without proof (that) he can't use it (for single family residential)," said Council Member Martha Hoyer.

Bundo seeks federal injunction

Camelot Inn owner Benjamin Bundo will take his challenge of state rules that ban establishments with liquor licenses to the federal courts.

A hearing has been scheduled for Friday in U. S. District Court on a motion to enjoin the Michigan Liquor Control Commission (LCC) from enforcing the so-called nudity rule, according to Bundo's attorney, Thomas P. Rabeite. If the injunction is granted, the Walled Lake bottomless go-go bar could regain its liquor license which was revoked 18 months ago by the LCC.

And, if the State Court of Appeals denies a rehearing on its recent decision to uphold a lower court's ruling on the constitutionality of the regulation, Bundo is asking the Michigan Supreme Court to allow a further appeal of the case, Rabeite said he is likely to ask the U. S. Supreme Court to hear the arguments against the nudity rule.

The appellate court's April 9 decision in the Ingham County version of Bundo's challenge to the LCC was "another disappointment," Rabeite said.

"We had hoped for a conflicting opinion," he added, referring to an appeals court decision last August that upheld a similar ruling in favor of the LCC regulations by an Oakland County Circuit Judge.

"I think it's fair to say that the court of appeals was impressed by the state supreme court's decision to hear the (Oakland) case."

If the appellate court and the state supreme court continue to rule the same way in the Ingham case as they did in the Oakland lawsuit, Bundo would have 60 days after the last state court ruling to file a motion to appeal with the U. S. Supreme Court.

The Walled Lake bar owner chose not to appeal the Oakland case to the nation's highest court within the time limit earlier this year. The appeal in the Ingham complaint, Rabeite said at the time, "is our second bullet."

The federal court case was filed in March 1979, shortly before the LCC revoked Bundo's liquor license for violation of the nudity rule. U. S. District Judge James P. Churchill denied a motion for a temporary restraining order to block the license revocation at that time, and declined to act in the case until the state courts had ruled on the issue.

Bundo has charged that the LCC regulations, which took effect in November 1977, violate his constitutional rights of free speech and equal protection under the law. The state court lawsuits also challenged the LCC's authority to establish a dress code and the state legislature's delegation of authority to the agency.

The regulations prohibit bottomless dancers and other forms of sexual entertainment in establishments which hold state liquor licenses. Bundo was cited for violation of the rules about two weeks after they took effect 2 1/2 years ago by Walled Lake Police Chief Wilford G. Hook.

The LCC ordered the revocation of Bundo's liquor license and fined him a total of $900, but the penalties were not carried out while the challenges were pending in the Oakland and Ingham county circuit courts.

Funding freeze threatens Novi park projects

Novi officials have been informed that federal funds for development of the Ella Mae Power Park on Ten Mile may not be forthcoming.

City officials have received word from the Heritage Conservation and Recreation Services office that improvements planned for the park may not be funded as a result of President Jimmy Carter's freeze on land and water conservation funds.

Parks and Recreation Director Tom O'Branovic explained the city had expected $27,500 in land and water conservation funds for development of the park. The grant requires a 50-50 match from the city.

The city's project proposal had been awarded high priority status.

The funds would have gone toward construction of a concession-storage-recreation facility to serve the ball diamonds in the park. A "major adventure" playground also was proposed as part of the park development project.

"We're not sure where things stand because of the freeze, but we expect to receive word by June," O'Branovic said.

He said the last word he had received regarding the possibility of funding was optimistic, but the decision will rest with U. S. Congress and "no one is sure how they will act."

The city has several alternatives for developing the park in the event the federal grant does not materialize, according to O'Branovic.

One option is to retain the existing funds in the budget for another fiscal year in hopes that federal funding will again become available.

If the funding does not materialize the project could be either accomplished in phases or simply eliminated.

"We could lose not only one five-acre parcel, but be shooting a whole portion of the city from Eight Mile to the expressway. That bothers me very much," the mayor said.

The council subsequently voted unanimously to reject the zoning request.

Wixom faces trash fee hike

Wixom residents may — or may not — be faced with an increase in garbage collection rates as of July 1.

Mayor Assistant Stephen Bonczek told the city council last week that the city's trash collector says he is losing money in Wixom and wants to raise his rates from $44 to $66 per customer per year.

"Right now I don't know what we're going to do," the mayor assistant told the council. "On the one hand, we have two years remaining on our contract with the company, but if he's losing money he could simply renege on the contract and we'd be left without any form of trash collection service."

Bonczek said the firm's request was being reviewed administratively and would be brought back to council with a recommendation for action along the administration has decided what direction it should take.

The announcement that the trash collection company is seeking an increase in rates prompted an angry response from Council Member Wayne Glesner who said "it takes a lot of gall for him to try to renege on a new fee structure when there are two years remaining on an existing contract."

However, other council members suggested it might be wise to consider the request for a rate increase from the collection firm.

Council Member Dennis Andrews noted that the firm, the Great American Disposal Company, can choose to renege on the contract instead of continuing to provide service which is costing him money.

"If he reneges on the contract, the city can always sue him. But then we'll incur legal costs and we'll also have to pay someone to pick up the garbage while the case is in court," stated Andrews.

Bonczek informed the council that the request for a rate increase was being presented simply as an informational item at this point.

"The contract calls for the collection firm to provide the city with a $5,000 performance bond which still hasn't been posted," reported the mayor assistant. "I've informed the company that we will take the request for a rate hike under advisement as soon as he's lived up to the contract and posted the bond."

Wixom adopted a new trash collection system at the start of the present fiscal year. Under the previous system, the cost of trash collection services came from general fund revenues. Under the existing system, trash collection services are available to all owners of single family homes who request the service and pay an annual collection fee.

Master plan review will direct growth

Novi's City Council and Planning Board will attempt to come to grips with potentially controversial areas in the proposed revision of the city's master plan for land use development in a special joint session tonight (Wednesday).

The special session will be held in the Novi Public Library at 8 p.m. And Novi residents who have any interest at all in land use policies in the city might find it worth their while to attend.

It should be noted up front that tonight's meeting is only preliminary in scope. The proposed master plan revision has been prepared by City Planning Consultant Charles Cairns. Although the planning board has provided input to the revision at various stages, the plan to be considered at tonight's meeting basically is Cairns' proposal.

The purpose of this preliminary session is to give the consultant an opportunity to point out areas in the plan which may be controversial or require policy decisions from the planning board.

After those decisions have been made, the consultant will put the proposed revision in final form and submit it to the planning board for approval. Public hearings must be held before the revised master plan can be officially adopted.

In spite of the preliminary nature of tonight's meeting, Novi residents might find it beneficial to attend.

It's sad but true that all too often residents don't become concerned about land use development until a proposal directly affects their property. If the planning board and city council decide to reject a rezoning request which is in concert with the city's master plan, they do so at the risk of litigation.

As a result, it's just as important for residents to attend meetings about revisions to the master plan as it is to attend rezoning hearings. For example, if there are strong objections to extension of a commercial district along Grand River Avenue or establishment of a convenience commercial shopping center at a given intersection, residents might well be farther ahead by expressing their objections at a time when the master plan is being discussed.

In one sense, objecting to a particular development at the time of rezoning may be paramount to shutting the barn door after the horses have escaped.

As a final note, we would suggest that concerned residents who attend tonight's session be as well prepared to listen as they are to talk. Planning is an inexact science at best, but valid planning issues occasionally can be obscured by colloquial interests.

Obviously, "colloquial interests" are implicit in the democratic process. At the same time, good planning occasionally involves making decisions which are in the best interest of the overall community even though they may not be in the best interest of a particular segment of that community.

One of the topics to be discussed at tonight's session is the proposed plan for location of "convenience commercial" shopping centers. A rezoning request to locate a convenience commercial center at the Ten Mile/Beck Road intersection recently prompted a strong protest from surrounding property owners.

Whether the planning board and city council will come to a decision on the proposed convenience commercial centers plan at the meeting is not known. However, it's the type of issue which is of great concern to Novi residents. Attending the session, listening to the discussion and providing input promise to be important factors as city officials go about the process of developing a well-planned community for the future.

Example for Wixom

Citing a lack of interest in the service among residents, Novi's City Council has decided not to get into the trash collection business at the present time.

The decision makes good sense and should be reviewed by the Wixom City Council.

The trash collection issue in both Novi and Wixom have run concurrently from a chronological standpoint—even though the results of council deliberations on the issue were far different.

Novi began studying the trash collection issue as a result of a recommendation from a Citizens Advisory Committee that the city provide the service. Wixom, on the other hand, has had trash collection service for several years, but was forced to revise its system beginning July 1, 1979, after receiving a legal opinion that the city no longer could fund the service from general fund revenues.

As a result, Wixom's system was altered to make the service available to residents of single family homes who sign up for the service and pay an annual fee which is collected by the city on the summer tax bills.

Wixom contracts with a private trash collection firm which provides the service to eligible residents, under the system now in effect.

The proposed system which has been rejected by the Novi City Council would have been very similar to the program now in effect in Wixom.

has had more than its share of problems with the new system since it was instituted at the start of the current fiscal year. Less than four months after the city contracted with a private firm for trash collection services, the company went out of business. Fortunately, the contract was assumed by another firm.

There also have been numerous complaints from residents about non-performance of service. Most recently, the present trash collection firm has informed the city that it is losing money in Wixom and must increase its rates—in spite of the fact that two years remain on his contract with the city.

We expressed serious reservations about the advisability of entering into city-contracted trash collection services when it was first proposed in Novi a year ago. If the experiences of Wixom are typical, we expect that Novi's council has made the correct decision in not moving to offer the service to its residents at this time.

Although extension of services to citizens is the right and proper function of government, it seems wise to let trash collection service be provided by the private sector. City control can be exercised through appropriate licensing and ordinance regulations.

That's what Novi has done. And in light of the problems experienced in Wixom over the past 12 months, it might be wise for officials in that city to consider similar action.

Speaking for Myself

Girls ask guys out?

YES

Asking a male out for a date is not a sign of promiscuity but rather a step in the struggle for sexual equality. Although a question of moral values and ingrained tradition, reversing the roles of social interaction is healthy and non-detrimental.

Suppose a male is too shy to initiate a relationship. In this case a female could take this opportunity and confront the male for some type of an engagement.

Many presumable relationships never commence because a male is too reserved or a female is restrained by social norms.

Often when a female is forced to move to another community or state, she lives an unsocial life due to the limitations placed on her by society. If society did not install these restrictions and pressures on the female, she would be able to pursue a more social life.

Presently, although it may be diminishing, society stereotypes the kinds of females that would ask a male out for a date. This is sad because it deprives many respectable and amiable females of a gratifying relationship. Times have changed, old traditions have died, and sexual equality is a long-awaited social change.

GLAD EVANS

NO

I question why any girl would put herself in the position for a turn-down when with just a little extra effort (I believe the old-fashioned term is flirtation) the same end can be accomplished and a "good time had by all."

Here are some comments from boys I talked to about this subject. "No way," "Too aggressive," "Too much pressure on the guy," "If they ask for date—what else do they want?," "Type you'd take home to father—not to mother," "Not feminine—I'm old fashioned," "Men prefer the subtle approach," "Girls are too smart for this," "I'm a romantic," and "I like hard-to-get girls."

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

Liar coined 'middle age'

Nobody grows old "gracefully," least of all columnists in "the prime of life."

When I came to town barely out of my teens (if you don't count the infant years), almost everyone in this office was older, so I was the "young man" who resented the label. Today almost everyone in the office is younger, so now, having only last year tossed my class of '50 sweater into the trash barrel, I'm "middle aged" and equally resentful of the label.

When I came to town the owner of the paper was older than I. Today he's younger. So I can say with some degree of authority that age hath no advantage. A boss is a boss is a boss. Age counts only on draft boards and social security forms.

All of which is to say that age labeling should be banned. It is relative nonsense.

Labeling me "middle age," for example, is like calling Michigan a "mid-west" state. How can something in the east be in the middle of the west?

Similarly, how can someone born in December be in the middle of his age? How can someone well beyond half of life expectancy be middle aged?

My father used to tell me he was middle aged the day he became exactly twice my age. But he reclaimed the title each time his other three children hit this magic number.

With six kids of my own, using my dad's formula, I can keep the middle age title on and off through age 70.

I wouldn't want this to get back to my wife, but if we had one last hurrah, making it number seven this year, I could reclaim the middle age title in 2027 at age 94.

No sir, I say the guy who coined "middle age" was either a young liar or an old imbecile. And neither had kids.

Second session set

Few residents attend meeting on library millage

Few Commerce residents attended a meeting April 22 to discuss the library millage proposal that will appear on the August 5 primary election ballot, according to Township Supervisor Robert H. Long.

Those on hand, though, suggested that parent-teacher associations and the Walled Lake Education Association should be contacted in a bid to gain support for the proposal, he added.

Another meeting to explain the need for a special library tax has been scheduled for 8 p.m. May 14 in the township hall, 2240 Fisher Avenue, Long said.

If approved by township—including Wolverine Lake Village—voters, three-tenths of one mill (30 cents for each $1,000 of state equalized valuation) will be collected under Commerce's five-mills charter township limit to provide library services under contract with the Walled Lake, West Bloomfield and Milford Township libraries.

Some $65,700 in new revenues would be generated by the tax to be distributed to the three libraries on the basis of estimated use figures. The libraries also would qualify for state aid equal to the three-tenths mill local tax effort, the supervisor said.

Commerce now levies 1.41 mills for township general fund operations, but, as a charter township, taxes could be increased to five mills without voter approval. Commerce officials said in September 1979, though, that they would like to see voters without the voters' Lake and Milford to continue library services through the end of this year will be presented to the township board at its May 13 meeting, the supervisor said.

Last month, the board approved a 10-percent increase in its 1980 budget for their request for the three-tenths mill funding level.

A proposed contract with Walled Lake and Milford to continue library services through the end of this year will be presented to the township board at its May 13 meeting, the supervisor said.

Last month, the board approved a 10-percent increase in its 1980 budget for library services for a total of $38,500. A portion of the monies—$8,750—covered the first three months of this year under the 1979-80 contract for library services, while the remaining $29,750 will be used to pay for the service for the nine-month period from April 1 through December 31.

Walled Lake receives 75-percent of the library funds, based on estimated use figures, and Milford gets 25 percent.

West Bloomfield provided library services to Commerce until 1976 when the agreement was dropped due to the library's request for the three-tenths mill allocation. West Bloomfield has indicated, though, that it would be willing to enter into a new agreement with Commerce, if the millage is approved.

Candidate says board relinquished power

To the Editor:

There has been disagreement regarding "board versus administrative" functions in the Walled Lake School District. The board members are having this situation clearly stated because school boards are the most misunderstood form of democratic representation and power in the country.

The idea that the superintendent and the school board are separate but co-equal powers in a school district, similar to the executive and congressional branches of our federal government, is definitely not true.

The board of education has both legislative and judicial control. It has the authority both to make the rules and to judge the results. The superintendent's actual and only power base is the majority of the school board because the superintendent is hired and fired by the majority of the school board.

The seven members of the school board are elected by the voters and the majority of four members determines the local schools. For example, they have elected by the people to insure local public control and decision-making in education.

The seven members of the school board are elected by the voters and the majority of four members determines the local schools. For example, they have elected by the people to insure local public control and decision-making in education.

The history of the Walled Lake school board shows that board responsibilities have been assumed by the administration, or delegated to them. This took place because the board members at the time permitted it, or in fact desired to relinquish their role in management.

Never board members, eager to accept positions of public trust, have been disappointed at being excluded from full participation in district management and decision-making.

If the board is to regain its rights and authority and begin exercising its responsibility to direct the superintendent. This will result in a harmonious, productive relationship. Obviously, the present board is administratively oriented. What the district needs now are independent thinking board members who will exercise the responsibilities accorded to them by law.

As a board member, I will strive for the full acceptance of responsibilities by the board so that plans and policies can be established to strengthen the district and recover the confidence of the community in the board.

School library cuts deplored by resident

To the Editor:

The Walled Lake School Board has made budget cuts that have severely limited library services at the local high schools. For example, they have cut the library staff at Western High School so students can use the library only half time.

They have cut the library budget so that no new books, periodicals or supplies can be purchased.

These cuts have been made at the same time that money is being spent on golf, skiing, volleyball and cheerleading. Obviously, athletics have a higher priority than academics.

Art Cornell

Our children will soon be looking for employment and the odds are they will not find it in athletics. Some will soon be heading for college unless, of course, they are too poorly prepared to be accepted.

I believe that athletics are important and desirable; but they should not take precedence over academics.

Please ask your readers to write or call the superintendent (Don Sheldon, Walled Lake Schools, Walled Lake, Michigan 48088—Phone 824-4801) and tell him they agree. I will follow up with the school board.

Fessler sets local forum

State Representative Richard D. Fessler (R-West Bloomfield) will hold a town meeting tonight (April 30) in the Walled Lake City Hall, 1499 E. West Maple Road.

The session, designed to gain citizen comments on key issues pending before the legislature, is set for 7:30 p.m. in the city council chambers.

During these difficult times, it is important that lawmakers and their constituents work together to solve the problems facing us," Fessler said.

"I always look forward to discussing issues, problems and concerns with people during my visits around the district. Events such as town hall meetings keep the lines of communication open and allow me to better represent my district in Lansing."

The third-term legislator also has scheduled a meeting in White Lake Township for tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the township hall, 7255 Highland Road (M-59).

John and Ed Grabowski swept to a tie for first place in the city's 10 kilometer run on Saturday

Novi race draws 100 entrants

Ed Grabowski, John Grabowski and Lois Kulver had one thing in common last Saturday. All three of them were participants in the first annual 10 kilometer run sponsored by Michigan National Bank—West Oakland and the Novi Parks and Recreation Department.

But that's about all they had in common. The Grabowski brothers coasted across the finish line in a dead heat for first place, while Kulver was the last of the entrants to cross the finish line in 52nd place.

And the Grabowski brothers are veteran long-distance runners, while Kulver was participating in her very first long-distance race.

"I didn't stop once," she reported proudly after finishing the race to the cheers of the crowd. "I ran every step of the way."

The first place finish of the Grabowski brothers came as no surprise to anyone interested in long-distance running in southeastern Michigan.

John Grabowski, 24, won the West Bloomfield marathon in a field of 200 runners one week before his victory in the Novi race, while his brother Ed finished third in the West Bloomfield event.

John Grabowski has raced in 15 marathons including the famed Boston event, while brother Ed has run in three marathons. And the two Orchard Lake residents maintain a busy schedule of racing during the year.

On the weekend prior to the Novi race, they had run in the Lawrence Institute of Technology race on Saturday before distinguishing themselves in the West Bloomfield event on Sunday.

The two brothers also were slated to run in another long-distance race on the Saturday after the Novi event.

Tom O'Brane, director of the Novi Parks and Recreation Department, said he was pleased with the results of the city's first long-distance running event. Approximately 100 runners of all shapes, sizes, sex and age participated in 10 and five kilometer runs, although 92 of those 100 entrants opted for the longer distance.

"It was a very worthwhile event," commented O'Brane. "Right now we're hoping that we can make it an annual occurrence."

ular on the work of the Novi Police Department in protecting runners from automobiles on the roads.

O'Brane also praised the Novi Ambulance Company for assisting with traffic control and standing by to handle any medical problems of which there were none.

Top Novi finisher was former Novi High School ace Jeff Johnston who finished fourth overall and first in the 19 and under division.

The oldest participant was Bob Taylor of Millford who said he was 59 and would be 60 in a couple of months. Taylor edged out Novi's Robert Parrot for "oldest" competitor honors. Parrot is 58. Both men ran the full 10 kilometers.

Other notable local residents who participated in the race included School Superintendent Gerald Kratz, former Mayor Gilbert Henderson, and Dr. Claude Curry of the Novi Rotary Club.

"It was a very worthwhile event," commented O'Brane. "Right now we're hoping that we can make it an annual occurrence."

School staff increases get board approval

In order to meet anticipated staffing requirements for the 1980-81 school year, the Novi Board of Education voted last week to hire nine new employees at a total estimated cost of approximately $120,000.

Specifically, board members voted 4-2 to hire nine employees and eliminate 2.5 elementary teaching positions.

Positions which were added to the staff include two classroom teachers at Middle School South, two teachers at Novi High School, and a special subject teacher to be shared by the North and South Middle Schools.

Special Education positions which were added in order to meet state and federal guidelines include a full-time special education teacher for Middle School North, one half-time special education teacher at the high school and one half-time position at Middle School South.

Currently the Novi schools employ 193 certified staffers which include professional teaching staff and administrators. There are also 137 auxiliary employees. Another new position recently approved by the board is a half-time gifted and talented coordinator.

The proposal approved by the board at last week's meeting was the least expensive of three staffing proposals submitted for consideration by Superintendent Gerald Kratz.

One of the alternate proposals called for the addition of 13.7 positions at a cost of $194,500, while the third alternate called for the addition of 25.5 positions at a total cost of $425,100.

The only objections to the proposal adopted by the board last week were expressed by Trustee Joel Colliau who questioned the addition of two teachers at the high school—the same question he raised when the proposal was introduced to board members three weeks ago.

Straight line projections (enrollment projections based strictly on the advancement of students currently enrolled in the district) show high school enrollment should increase 33 students next year.

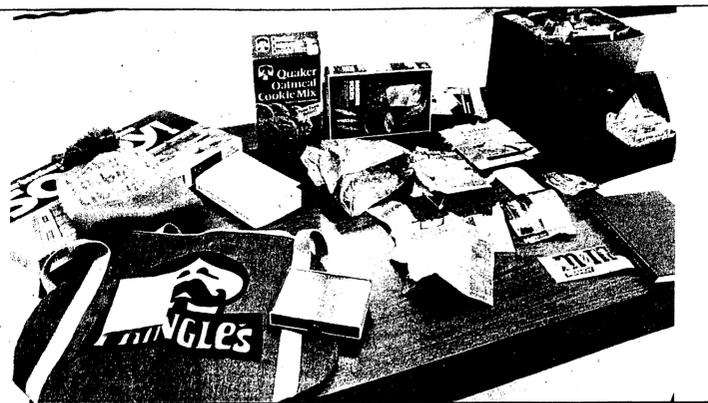

Colliau expressed opposition to adding 2.5 staff members at the high school for 33 new students. However, he went on to say that even though the student/teacher ratio was low, it was also desirable — "as long as the district does not get carried away."

Dee Watson and Gerry Hallett try coupon-clipping

There's gold in them thar' coupons, gals

By NANCY DINGELDEY

Just a minute, Susie — are you sure you want to throw that box away? Don't mangle the inner seal. And that zip off strip from around the top of an orange juice can? Don't pitch it!

There's a P.O.P. and a U.P.C. and a S.M.P. There's a "form needed" and a "no form needed." Identification numbers, expiration dates.

It's all part of the newest "game" to sweep the country. Call it coupon clipping, refunding, scavenging, whatever. But, if you're a part of the growing group, every slip of paper, initial, number, zip strip and inner seal means one thing — MONEY.

The name coupon clipper is something of a misnomer. It implies that a person simply spends time zipping, ripping and clipping quantities of coupons from magazines and newspapers.

Discounting the person who occasionally saves 10 cents on Fido's dog food or a couple of pennies on a bar of soap, coupon clipping is big business.

There's gold in them thar' slips of paper.

It leads addicts to search supermarket shelves for specially marked boxes, soak stubborn labels from plastic bottles and piece together mutilated inner seals. It can even lead to composing apologetic notes to the company offering the refund — "Dear Sir, My dog chewed up the net weight portion of the box. Will you please accept the three stars from the top instead?"

At this point the coupon clipper has graduated to the ranks of the refundeer — the person who not only saves five cents on a box of breakfast cereal through a coupon, but winds up outitting, entertaining and even getting money back from the manufacturer.

Sound confusing? "Oh, it is at first," declared Kathy Rowe during a Coupon Clippers workshop at the Wilcox Library. The Northwest YMCA director said once clipping is begun in earnest it almost automatically leads to other things. "You're hooked when you realize that by playing your cards right it's a simple thing to top $5, $10 even $20 from a grocery bill."

"Playing the cards right" means watching for stores offering double coupon days coupled with "specially marked packages" offering tremendous refund bargains of enclosed coupons or money back.

The nomenclature of clipping is the first step in learning how to stretch a buck. POP is the proof of purchase, a printed shield, circle or box placed somewhere on the container that is sometimes asked for in refund offers.

Others will ask for the UPC — the universal product code. That's the series of thick and thin lines underscored with numbers found almost universally on all packages.

Then there's the S.M.P. That's the specially marked package that shoppers look for. It's the one-bar-free in the three-bar pack of soap, the cents-off box that offers even more cents off on a special coupon tucked inside.

Some offers are come-ons, some great, others questionable. "That's when logic and personal decision come into play," said the coupon leader. "Don't buy the product if you are not going to use it," she emphasized. "But don't throw the coupon or refund slips or POPs, SMPs or UPCs away either. Save them to exchange with someone else."

"Couponing sometimes leads to scavenging," she laughed. "Don't cast a disparaging look at the person who bends over to pick up a gum wrapper from the street. Not only are they riding the countryside of litter, they're probably making money."

The comment led to yet another facet of couponing — pack-rating — how and how to save it. The boon is the "specially marked box," the bonus. Add to that the POP and the UPC that is printed on the box and the consumer has gained the opportunity to cash in on additional refunds.

"However, I swear company's stay up nights thinking of ways to throw off the refunders. Sometimes it works too," she grimaced. How to beat the thinkers? Save everything, the entire box.

Looking at refunds further, the coupon-refund pro said the wise consumer can find coupons for free eggs, milk, even ground beef just by reading an offer and thinking ahead. "For example, one manufacturer always offers money for ground beef during the summer if the person uses his product. Why wait until summer to use the product?"

Car stolen in auto wash break in

In Novi

A car and $2,800 in cash were stolen when thieves crawled under the garage door of the Novi Auto Wash on Novi Road in a breaking and entering April 23.

The incident still is under investigation.

A counterfeit $20 bill turned up in the daily receipts of the Today Store at Twelve Oaks Mall on April 22.

The phony bill was of the 1975 series. Employees of the store told Novi police they did not remember obtaining the bill. It was turned over to Michigan National Bank after the bank was advised the bill was counterfeit.

An 18-year-old Novi man has been arraigned on charges of auto theft, Novi police report.

Bobby Hunt, 1755 Paramount, appeared in 32nd District Court Friday where his attorney waived examination. The case now moves to Oakland County Circuit Court.

Hunt was arraigned on one count of unlawful driving away of a motor vehicle and a second count of possession of stolen property valued in excess of $100. Bond was set at $2,000.

Hunt was arrested April 16 after police found a 1974 MG parked behind his home. Police earlier had received a report of the theft of a MG roadster from in front of the owner's home.

Upon investigation police found the ignition of the MG roadster allegedly found behind Hunt's home had been tampered with and the rear license plate removed.

A truck with a camper top was reported stolen from the Twelve Oaks Mall parking lot on April 24.

Together the truck and camper were worth an estimated $11,000. Items inside the camper which also were taken included a $300 television set, fishing gear worth an estimated $250 and a tackle box worth approximately $250. The truck also was equipped with large off-the-road-vehicle tires and a citizens band radio.

A 16-year-old Saline youth was arrested on charges of indecent exposure after allegedly pulling down his gym shorts in the Twelve Oaks Mall on April 22.

Police reported three white males were first seen entering the mall near the Magic Pan Restaurant.

One of the youths allegedly dropped his shorts in clear view of people inside the restaurant.

The three youths subsequently were apprehended by mall security. Two of the youths were released, while the third was released after being booked on the indecent exposure charge.

In Wixom

It was not until they were interviewing other residents of a Village Apartment unit that Wixom Police learned of two neighbors who apparently were eye witnesses to a breaking and entering in the building. The neighbors told police they saw two men beating down the door of the apartment but did not contact the department to investigate the disturbance.

Police said they believe the two men beating down the door are responsible for the theft from the apartment of an $800 color TV set, a stereo recorder valued at $300 and a down-filled jacket listed at $50.

The apartment resident discovered the splintered door when he returned to the city from a weekend trip. The investigation conducted by police led to the two silent witnesses.

A string of larvae at Metro Transport Company on South Wixom Road was discovered by an employee and reported to police Wednesday. Motor vehicles parked in the storage yard at the company took the brunt of the late night attack by the responsible parties.

Taken from the vehicles were miscellaneous hand and tire tools, fittings, hydraulic jacks and a CB unit. Nearly $1,000 in equipment was declared missing through a check by company employees. The fenced storage yard was said to have been locked.

Stolen bicycle complaints continue to reach the Wixom police with three logged in the department complaint book last week.

The theft of a 10-speed bike from a garage on Nightingale was reported during the week. Value of the bike was placed at $109.

In addition, two bikes were reported stolen from a garage on Teaneck Circle early Saturday morning. The bikes, valued at $200, were discovered missing just past midnight by returning homeowners.

Kenneth Jewell Chorale performs here Saturday

Singers from the Kenneth Jewell Chorale will present a "Panorama of Choral Works" in the final concert of the 1979-80 Sixth Gate Fine Arts Series.

The concert will be held in Fuerst Auditorium at Novi High School this Saturday at 8 p.m.

Tickets priced at $5 for adults and $3 for students and senior citizens may be purchased in advance by calling 349-0036. Tickets will be sold at the door the evening of the concert beginning at 7 p.m.

Music Director Eric Freudigman and Concert Host Charles Greenwell have prepared an exciting evening of commentary and choral music which will include Bach, Haydn and Mendelssohn as well as English and American folk songs.

Select numbers sung in the recent Brahms Festival will add to this diverse program by the professional choral group in its first Novi appearance.

The Kenneth Jewell Chorale, an ensemble of 50 highly skilled musicians, has presented many concerts throughout the midwest since its inception in 1962. Most chorale members are graduate musicians and featured soloists with local opera companies and major church choirs.

Few groups have the ability and resourcefulness to be able to present great music by both past masters and contemporary composers. The exciting standards of the chorale's history, Dr. Kenneth Jewell (now Doctor Emeritus), and his successor, Eric Freudigman, plus the musicianship and professional skills of its outstanding vocal artists, enable the Chorale to artfully communicate all types of music to large and small audiences alike.

The Chorale has made over 30 appearances with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, including a successful tour in the spring of 1979 to New York's Carnegie Hall and Washington's Kennedy Center, performing Richard Strauss' opera "Die agyptische Helena" with Antal Dorati, which they also recorded for London Records.

They also have worked with such conductors as Sarah Caldwell, Aldo Ceccato, Sixten Ehrling, Eduardo Mata, Neville Merriam, Michael Tilson Thomas and Krzysztof Penderecki. During the summer, they appear regularly at the Meadow Brook Music Festival.

In addition to their most recent recording with London Records, the Chorale has produced two Christmas recordings on the Musical Heritage Society label — "Bring a Torch, A Christmas Celebration" and "A Child Is Born."

Sixth Gate Fine Arts Series is sponsored by the Novi Foundation for the Performing Arts and Renaissance Concerts, Inc., with Misha Rachlevsky as artistic director. This series is due in part to grants from the Michigan Council for the Arts, J.L. Hudson Company and B. Dalton Booksellers.

St. William's to present 'Jus' Country'

Take a cross-section of the action of the Grand Ole Opry, Hee-Haw and Laugh-in. Add about 40 unique talents from St. William's Parish and once again, it's showtime.

For the 21st consecutive year, St. William's will stage its showtime featuring an original script, costumes and dances. Marking the popularity of country and western music and comedy, showtime this year is entitled "Jus' Country."

It's made up of a cast of 40, a script-writing team of five plus stagehands and technicians, many of whom have inception in the yearly review since its inception.

The show opens tomorrow (Thursday) night in the Upper Zeph Hall at the Walled Lake church. Repeat performances are scheduled for Saturday and Sunday and again the following Thursday and Saturday. Curtain time is 8 p.m. for all performances.

Advance tickets priced at $2 are available from St. William's Credit Union or Howard Phillips at 624-3157. Tickets at the door will be available for $2.50.

The script-writing team of Marshall Mesaros, Marcy Cillo, Don Smarjess, Janet Reeds and Dale Robinson took the "best and the worst" of the three shows on which "Jus' Country" is based. Some of the lines, they say, are downright corn. The show is directed by Shawnee Spedden and produced by Dale Robinson.

Although many familiar faces will appear on the stage, the production this year will feature many new talents. Dancer Spedden said the two-act show is laced with music, color and dance, all with a "down-home" flavor.

Betty Schulte who has provided her imitation of Carol Burnett and the like in the past, will appear this year as Walled Lake's own Dolly Parton singing her rendition of "Rhinestone Cowgirl."

"It's a sure show-stopper," claimed the director who has a background in drama from Wayne State and the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York.

Lending their instrumental musical talent are the "New Cut Grass" sawing away at bluegrass music on the upright bass, rhythm guitar, fiddle, five-string banjo and mandolin.

Local families report births

The birth of their second son has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. James Byrd of Loon Drive in Wixom.

Jonathan David Byrd was born March 23 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac. He weighed in at eight pounds, two ounces.

Greeting his brother at home was two-year-old James Raymond Byrd.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Walsh of Wixom, while maternal great-grandmother is Mrs. Lillian Byrd, also of Wixom. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Byrd of Charms Road in Wixom, and paternal great-grandmother is Mrs. Violet Forton of Detroit.

The birth of identical twin daughters is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hatcher of Wixom. Valerie Ann and Abigail Lynn Hatcher were born at Botsford Hospital on March 26. They weighed five pounds, three ounces and five pounds, four ounces respectively.

The pair spent a few extra days in the hospital due to their size before joining their parents and young brother Christopher at home.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Remick of Detroit. Mrs. R. A. Hatcher of Hartland is the paternal grandmother.

Jaycettes slate bingo benefit

The Novi Community Building will be the beneficiary of a night of bingo this Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

The benefit bingo party is being sponsored by the Novi Jaycee Auxiliary as a community-service project to raise funds to clean-up, paint-up and spruce-up the multipurpose center.

Karen Jones, newly elected president of the auxiliary, said the building is in need of "lots of things" including some fresh paint inside and out as well as shrubs and flowers on the outside.

"Just how much we can accomplish at the building depends on the bingo benefit," she said. The building is used as a meeting place by senior citizens as well as a community theatre group and area scouts. Although old, it is the gathering spot for a host of other organizations and activities.

Mrs. Jones said that the concerted effort by the auxiliary to "spruce it up" would make the building even more appealing for more people.

The project is just one of several community efforts planned by the Novi service group.

The benefit will begin at 7 p.m. when door cards are issued at a donation price of $1. Additional cards for the avid bingo player will be available at $2 cents each.

A variety of munchies and beverages, including pop and coffee, will be available at an auxiliary-sponsored concession stand.

In addition to the regular rounds of bingo, the Jaycettes will offer a top prize of $100 during the last game of the evening.

Walled Lake Western's Noel Fitzgerald with award-winning communications display

Student scores big at science fair

For the second year in a row, Noel Fitzgerald has been the only Walled Lake Western student to enter the Metropolitan Detroit Science and Engineering Fair. And he appears to be a young man who believes in the adage, "try, try again."

He earned a couple of ribbons for his experiments in light communications with his entry last year when he was a freshman. But he also picked up some valuable ideas during his visit to the fair at Cobo Hall and immediately began to pursue them. He claims the first project was still warm when he set to work on his latest effort, all built from scratch.

The visit to the fair and many hours of work led to a first place ribbon in the physical sciences division at the fair, placed him in position for the grand prize and earned him two supplemental awards from the Army and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Visibly proud of her student's accomplishment, science teacher Janet Helton said Fitzgerald's project this year was scientifically and technically more accurate. She added that his visual display was better and that the project research was of higher caliber.

The three-day fair drew in excess of 500 entries from schools throughout the Detroit metropolitan region covering all areas of the sciences. "It's really a very exciting show to visit," the teacher claimed.

Fitzgerald, the 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fitzgerald of Wixom, chose to expand and upgrade his original theme — communications using light beams.

Fitzgerald employed the use of a tape recorder to act as the receiver. It also recorded and amplified the sound. Power was supplied by a silicon solar cell contained in the receiving unit. Encased within the cell was a convex lens retrieved from an old movie camera to boost the recording range. Ear phones helped Fitzgerald monitor the signal during experiments.

A buzzer allowed Fitzgerald to create a steady tone that was picked up by a microphone attached to the transmitter. It too was equipped with a convex lens to increase the range of transmission.

Mounting the transmitter on a tripod, Fitzgerald attached red and infra-red light emitting diodes and laser diodes to create the necessary light beams for transmission to the receiving unit. The theoretical range of the compact project was listed at one-third of a mile.

What's the project on the drawing boards for next year's fair? Fitzgerald says he's going to delve into photochemistry which he says involves breaking apart molecules with lasers.

Church women plan fellowship

May Fellowship Day will be celebrated by the Church Women United of the Walled Lake this Friday. And it may be the last event ever sponsored by the 12-year old group.

Strangely enough, the topic for the day is entitled "Lord, Is That All There Is?" Speaker for the day is Carol Stupnatter.

The celebration, scheduled to begin at noon in the Walled Lake United Methodist Church, will be followed by a salad luncheon. Child care will be provided.

There is no charge for the luncheon, but a free-will offering will be collected during the service. It is earmarked for the Lakes Community Chorus, formed under the sponsorship of the Church Women several years ago.

Betty Webber, current spokeswoman for the group, said the Friday celebration would be the last for the Church Women United. She claimed the Walled Lake unit, formed in 1968, will disband after the meeting. The demise, Mrs. Webber said, is due to a lack of volunteer leadership. The group has been without a president for two years and also lacks a celebrations chairlady.

Church Women United involves nine area churches and sponsors three functions each year. An event in November serves world missions. The second is World Day of Prayer in March and, finally, May Fellowship Day. Dues are set at $6 per year.

"There is so much good that can come from Church Women United," said Mrs. Webber, who was on her way to a state convocation of the group. A member of St. William's parish, she looks to the organization as a way to better understand the entire religious scope of the area as well as meeting women who share a common understanding.

Mrs. Webber indicated she was disturbed at the thought of the disbanding

Boating safety classes set

The Walled Lake Community Education Department and the Oakland County Sheriff's Department will host boating safety classes for 12-16 year old youngsters next month.

The classes are necessary for minors to obtain a boating safety certificate which enables them to operate powercraft without adult supervision.

The first session will be held at Walled Lake Junior High School beginning May 6 with subsequent classes on May 13 and 15.

The second session of classes will be held at Clifford H. Smart Junior High School on May 12, 14 and 16.

All classes will run from 7-9 p.m. in the school cafeteria. A $1 fee is charged for the classes. Registration must be made in the community education offices in Walled Lake Junior High School. Call 624-0202 for additional information.

Red Cross slates local blood drive

In order to continue to supply an adequate amount of blood to meet daily needs, the American Red Cross will conduct two bloodmobiles locally during the upcoming week. The first host site is Novi High School, while the second is at Shepherd of the Lakes Lutheran Church in Walled Lake.
The Novi blood drive will be conducted this Friday at the high school from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. The Walled Lake donor center will be held next Wednesday, May 7, from 2-8 p.m.
Although appointments are not necessary and walk-ins are welcome, coordinators of both events recommend that appointments be made in order to facilitate the scheduling of volunteer Red Cross workers. Donors with appointments will be taken ahead of walk-in donors arriving at the donor site at the same time.

Appointments may be made by calling Novi High School at 349-5155. The Walled Lake center, coordinated by the Community Education Department, may be contacted at 624-0202 for appointments. In addition, the Walled Lake center will provide baby sitting services between 2-5 p.m.
According to Dr. A. William Shaler, Red Cross Blood Services director, the supply of blood is low. He attributed the level to mounting unemployment and industrial plant closings. Both are a major source of blood supply.

Dr. Shaler said that between 950 and 1,000 units of blood are needed each day to supply patient needs in more than 75 metropolitan area hospitals. Generally, anyone between the ages of 17 and 66 who is in good health and weighs at least 110 pounds may donate blood. The process is a simple one, taking less than an hour from registration through refreshment.

Here's where to get your 'just desserts'

By PHIL JEROME

You say your wife is complaining because it's been three months since you took her out to dinner and then it was only because it was your anniversary and she really expected something more than hamburgers and fries at the local drive-in?

And you say your kids are all over your case because you used to take them down to the Burger Biggie for treats whenever they got an A on their report card, but the high cost of food has got you worried and you keep adding that Ford and General Motors are laying off workers and your company makes fan belts and your children have just turned into a 1980's version of the Whizz Kids and you haven't seen so many A's in one place at one time since the last time Oakland was in Detroit to play the Tigers?

And you say your in-laws are coming to town next week and your wife is already hinting that it would be "really nice" to take them out to dinner because it's their anniversary and your mother-in-law makes Kate Smith look like a summa cum laude graduate of Weightwatchers?

Is that what's troubling you, bunkie? Well, there are alternatives.

And, if you're worried about the rising cost of everything from gasoline to fuel oil, but don't want to give up those pleasant evenings of dining out with the wife, you can take advantage of them.

Why not take the little woman — or the kids, for that matter, out for a special dessert?

There are all kinds of area restaurants which offer unique and interesting desserts which will treat the taste buds and provide the perfect ending to a pleasant evening whether you're dining out, going out for a dessert after dinner at home or just stopping off after an evening at a concert or the movies.

So the next time you're looking for an inexpensive touch which makes an evening something special, treat yourself to some of these mouth-watering goodies.

"Some places call it Bananas Foster and others call it Bananas Flambe, but here we call it Bananas Tropicale," reports Richard Stoychoff, co-owner of THE SARATOGA TRUNK on Grand River in Novi.

As is the case with most 'flambe' desserts, the taste of Bananas Tropicale is enhanced by the showmanship involved in having it prepared at your table.

The dessert, a specialty at The Saratoga Trunk, is made with brown sugar, butter, rum, cognac and creme de banana which is heated in a pan and then spooned over sliced bananas and ice cream.

Other dessert specialties at The Saratoga Trunk are Strawberries Romanoff and a selection of alcohol-based desserts which include Spanish Coffee.

If you like cheese cake, head for LEO MCGINNIS' on Grand River Avenue in Brighton.

"There's nothing particularly exotic about cheese cake, but it's one of the best and most popular desserts going," says Steve Stewart. "And we've got some of the best cheese cake around."

McGinnis' imports its cheese cake from Al Nicolosi's Dell which is located in New Jersey across the river from New York City. Stewart claims it's one of the "best cheese cakes in the United States."

McGinnis' also offers a special selection of cream drinks for desserts, including banana, strawberry and peach pina colodas.

Delicious desserts are a matter of pride at THE MAGIC PAN CREPERIE in Novi's Twelve Oaks Mall.

"We've got about 15 desserts on the menu and all of them are unique and delicious," claims Manager Andy Marinic.

One of his personal favorites is a Strawberry Crepe made with fresh strawberries served in a crepe filled with sour cream and topped with whipped cream and brown sugar.

Also popular are a Southern Praline Crepe which features a crepe filled with vanilla ice cream and covered with a praline sauce and a Cherry Royale Crepe which consists of whole black branched cherries spooned over a folded crepe filled with creamy cheese filling.

There's nothing particularly fancy about the desserts at THE GOLDEN PLATTER on Pontiac Trail in South Lyon unless you happen to love authentic Greek baklava, says Chef John Bricolas.

Baklava is a Greek pastry made of filo (strudel leaves) and filled with chopped honey and walnuts.

The baklava at The Golden Platter is made at a Greek bakery in Farmington and shipped to the South Lyon eatery.

"Red Apple Delight" is the name of the dessert specialty at THE CANOPY on Grand River Avenue in Brighton.

"We get a lot of calls for it because it is unique," comments kitchen supervisor Evelyn Stevenson. "And once you've tried it, you'll know why."

Red Apple Delight has almost nothing to do with apples. What it is is a large scoop of ice cream shaped and colored to look like an apple and then filled with creme de cocoa.

"It's delicious," says The Canopy's kitchen supervisor. "It's the house speciality."

Norm LePage, owner of NIFTY NORMAN'S in Walled Lake, says his chef is working on a dessert menu that is distinctive as the special selection of hamburgers offered at the popular spot, but for the time being customers will have to be content with the Nifty's Strawberry Pie.

And anyone who's ever had it can tell you that the Strawberry Pie is a lot of contentment. Simple enough, it's a good, old-fashioned piece of strawberry pie with a glaze topping. For an extra touch, have it served with a scoop of Hagen Dazs ice cream.

"Hot Apple Mountain" is what it's called, and it's one of the most popular desserts going at NORTHVILLE CHARLEY'S on Seven Mile in Northville.

Hot Apple Mountain is made from a special mixture of apples, cinnamon and sugar served hot over a shortcake and vanilla ice cream in a deep dish.

Sort of a deep-dish apple ala mode. "It's great," says Kitchen Manager Terry Turner. "People just keep on coming back for more."

And those are only some of the special desserts offered at area restaurants. Without putting too many more miles on the automobile, you can enjoy Amaretto Mousse at MAUDE'S in Ann Arbor or Mud Pie (a frozen chocolate mocha ice cream pie with a graham cracker base) at MOUNTAIN JACK'S in Farmington Hills. The point is — going out for dessert is both delicious and inexpensive.

Bedding plants produce an overnight splendor

Bedding plants make gardening easy

Instant gratification is a pleasure sought by many people, but found by few gardeners included.

Gardening with bedding plants will satisfy a person's needs for immediate fulfillment with a minimum of effort.

The marvelous and colorful flowering annuals and perennials that are available in the form of professionally grown seedlings from nurseries and garden centers.

The seedlings are mature enough to go directly into the garden or containers. They provide instant color to otherwise barren or uninspired landscapes.

Seedlings are the overburdened homeowner's answer to starting plants from seeds. Germinating seeds takes time, diligence and special materials, and often results in weak, spindly plants because ideal conditions are difficult to provide.

In addition, home grown seedlings frequently fall victim to the common, fatal disease—"damping off."

Bedding plants are so called because traditionally they have grown to glory in flower beds. Flower-filled beds of geraniums, petunias, marigolds, zinnias and all the other spectacular annuals are still a visual delight.

Combining annuals and perennials in the same bed can be a particularly effective approach to gardening.

Perennials, such as delphinium, foxglove and shasta daisy, will come up each year in the same spot. Ever spring a different selection of annuals can be used along the border of the bed and to fill in between the periodically blooming perennials for a continuous display of color throughout the summer.

Their distinctive colors make annuals excellent for defining space around the home grounds. They are superb for lining walkways, and work wonders separating different garden sectors.

Bedding plants need not be restricted to setting roots exclusively in the garden. All kinds of container plantings are possible, from the ornamental, embossed terrace, patio, porch or window.

Redwood tubs, wooden wine barrels, window boxes and ordinary flower pots are all viable containers in which bedding plants can be grown to perfection.

Small pots and boxes can be moved from spot to spot for the most striking and decorative effect at any given moment.

Any hanging baskets filled with colorful petunias or ivy geraniums are lovely, yet take up no valuable garden space.

The care and handling of bedding plants poses no special problem.

Condition the earth before planting with about two inches of organic matter such as peat moss, leaf mold or compost. In addition add 5-10-5 fertilizer at a rate of two pounds per 100 square feet.

After the danger of frost has passed, transplant the seedlings into the ground on a cool, cloudy day or in the evening. Once they are in place the gardener can water the seedlings thoroughly.

"Throughout the summer, water the plants any time the soil feels dry. Gardeners cannot rely on Mother Nature alone to provide ample water week in and week out. To encourage vigorous growth and flowering, add additional fertilizer to the plants every two to three weeks.

The weekend gardener whose time is precious will find the dazzling array of bedding plant seedlings to be the perfect shortcut to a spectacular floral display.

On Saturday the backyard might be bare, but by Sunday it could be in bloom.

Pedal to see nature at park

Naturalist Steve Horn will conduct a bike tour at Kensington Metropark near New Hudson on Saturday, May 10 at 1 p.m.

The five-mile bike path will be used to observe the natural beauty of woodland, field, and lake shore habitats. The tour will begin at the Nature Center parking lot and will last about two hours. Participants must provide their own bikes.

Advance registration is required. Persons wishing to register or wish additional information may call the park at 685-1561 (Milford).

Learn how to grow wildflowers

A special program entitled "Planting Your Own Wildflower Garden" will be presented at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark near New Hudson on Saturday, May 20 at 10 a.m.

Naturalist Bob Hotelling will lead the two to three hour program. Subjects to be covered include choosing a site, preparing the soil, sources of plants, selecting the right species, and maintaining the garden through the year.

Participants should meet at the Nature Center building. Advance registration is required.

Persons wishing to register or additional information may call the park at 685-1561.

Eastern Hemlock ideal grower in moist areas

A moist area in the landscape can be a problem.

But if the soil is well-drained that same area can also be an opportunity — an opportunity to add an Eastern Hemlock (Tsuga canadensis) to your home grounds.

According to Harold Davidson, extension horticulturist at Michigan State University, the Eastern Hemlock does well on moist soil as long as it has good drainage. It will grow well on the north side of a building or wall, where many other evergreens would not thrive.

And it performs nicely as an understory tree in wooded landscapes as long as it receives sufficient moisture.

The Eastern Hemlock has a pyramidal crown and long, somewhat drooping branches. Its needles are short — one-half to two-thirds inch long — and flat with two parallel whitish lines of stomata (pores for respiration) on the underside.

"The needles are arranged in flat sprays, which give the plant its characteristic delicate appearance."

A native of many parts of the Upper Peninsula, the Eastern Hemlock also is found in lower Michigan, especially along lake shores.

In the landscape, the hemlock can be left to find its own form or pruned into an evergreen hedge.

For a dramatic effect, Davidson recommends Sargent's Weeping Hemlock. A graceful, mound-shaped plant, it is two to three times as broad as it is tall (eight to ten feet at maturity). Its drooping branches give the impression of an evergreen waterfall.

Though beautiful, hemlocks are not often used in Michigan landscapes, probably because they will not thrive in a dry, open spot.

Persons whose home grounds contain a suitable planting site — shaded and moist but well-drained soil — are asked to consider the hemlock, Davidson says.

"It can be a magnificent addition to your landscape."

THE ADJECTIVE "DARLING," never used to describe the new Heidi's Salon at Twelve Oaks Mall. Carefully avoiding the stereotypical "pink" effect of many hair salons, Heidi's draws a new standard of sophistication to the beauty salon world.

Heidi's Salon in Novi is the fifth in a chain owned by local entrepreneur Heidi Branchtein who feels strongly that quality hair design and sophisticated surroundings should be both convenient and accessible.

The salon offers a full range of beauty services including cut, style, perm, color, make-up consultation, manicure, pedicure and special cut, and a grooming program just for children.

Through this effort, the Council hopes to create greater public awareness of the vital importance played by correct posture and proper spinal health care in the preservation and maintenance of overall good health.

The Council points out that many of today's health problems originated from postural mis-alignments that started as a result of childhood falls, bumps or minor accidents that went undetected at the time.

Wildcat ace no-hits Pinckney nine, 4-2

Bill Bishop is the ace of the Novi baseball pitching corps and he proved it by losing a no-hitter against Pinckney on Friday.

Bishop, 2-0 on the young season, gave up two unearned runs enroute to the 4-2 victory.

Pinckney scored both of its runs in the third inning when, with one out, Bishop walked a man. The Pirate advanced to third on a throwing error when he tried to steal second.

The next man up hit a slow roller to second, which was bobbled, putting men on first and third. The runner on first stole second and the next batter hit a broken-bat grounder which went between the legs of the third baseman, sending both Pirate runners home.

Bishop worked out of that jam and then retired the enemy batters in order for the remainder of the game.

Bishop went the distance, walking three and striking out eight.

Sobkow beaten despite no-hitter

Tracey Sobkow's arm is heating up, so batters beware.

The senior hurler pitched in three games last week and allowed a total of two earned runs.

She even tossed a no-hitter against Pinckney.

After a rough start at the beginning of the year, Sobkow seems to be finding the groove.

This is one area of concern that coach Jim Tinsley can stop worrying about. Now he has to iron out the Wildcat defense.

The Novi defense is leaky at best. In fact, Sobkow's no-hitter turned out to be a losing effort as errors allowed the Pirate squad to score three times.

Novi had only two hits and could score just once. Sobkow and the Wildcats lost 3-1.

"It was the best I've ever seen her pitch," Tinsley said. "It was phenomenal how well she threw."

Sobkow went the distance, giving up four walks and striking out 15 batters. In fact, she made only two bad pitches all afternoon, but they were costly.

With Novi leading 1-0 in the second inning, Pinckney came to bat. Sobkow walked the first batter, the next hit a ball to second base that was bobbled allowing the lead runner to move to third. Sobkow then gave up the first of two wild pitches she had during the game.

The runner on third scored to tie the game.

The second wild pitch came in the fifth. Again, the lead runner got on by walk. The next batter bunted and the catcher threw the ball into center field in an attempt to cut down the runner at second.

The centerfielder picked up the ball and threw it over the third baseman's head, allowing one run in.

Sobkow then uncorked the wild pitch, allowing the third run to score.

Novi scored its run when Carol Champney walked, stole second and moved to third on a sacrifice by Deb Agarwal. The Pirate hurler then threw the pitch in the dirt, allowing Champney to score.

Lori Giorgio and Mary Weber were the only Wildcats to get hits in the game.

Sobkow had another gem on the mound last week. She beat Brighton 7-4 Tuesday.

She went the distance, giving up seven hits, four runs, three walks and she struck out five Bulldogs.

Sobkow was cruising along with a shutout until the fifth inning, when she pulled a muscle in her back.

Brighton scored all of its runs in that inning. But Sobkow overcame her pain, and in the seventh inning she retired the third, fourth and fifth batters in order.

Champney collected two hits in the game, but the real offensive star was Weber.

She had two hits, scored two runs, stole two bases, and knocked in a run.

On Wednesday Novi lost to Milford 9-4.

Champney started on the mound but didn't last long. She was rocked for eight runs in three innings.

Tinsley was forced to bring in Sobkow. The move was productive in that Milford scored only one more run in the game. But the Novi offense was non-existent.

Sherril Crowe, playing in her first game of the year, banged out two hits for the losing squad.

Novi is now 3-4 overall and 1-2 in the league. The leading hitters on the team are Champney (.390), Agarwal (.384) and Giorgio (.475).

The Wildcats will travel to Hartland on Friday for a 4 p.m. contest.

KVC adds two teams

Kensington Valley Conference high school principals voted Monday to admit Milford and Milford Lakeland into league competition beginning with the 1982-83 school year.

The exact vote to expand the first-year conference was not released, but it is known that at least five of the six schools voted in favor of the action.

"Brighton High School Principal Lyle Powers, who chairs the board of principals that govern KVC activities, said he welcomed the new entries and was excited by their addition to the league.

"Our goal in this league is to improve ourselves," he said. "We are going to be better through our activities."

The size of the two Milford schools—they will be among the largest in the KVC—appeared to be the biggest stumbling block.

Both Milford and Lakeland are Class A schools. Only Howell and Brighton of the KVC schools are Class A. The other four schools, Hartland, Pinckney, South Lyon and Novi, are Class B.

Both Pinckney and South Lyon reportedly had reservations about adding two larger schools.

Powers, who declined to reveal the final vote, said it was "unfair" to speak of Pinckney or South Lyon apprehensions.

Two marks fall in Western wins

Anyone thinking that the Walled Lake Western boys' track team was a fluke after its previous three non-conference wins was set straight post haste Thursday.

The Warriors of John Fundukian showed the Western Six Conference that their victims aren't limited solely to non-league foes, frolicking to an 85-47 triumph over Farmington Harrison. And on a bigger scale than that, Western then proceeded to record its highest point total ever in the Ashley Relays Saturday.

Against Harrison, it was as easy as the score looked with the Warriors sweeping the top three places in the discus and shot put. Western also dominated the non-field events, posting nine other firsts.

Kelly Canfield's throw of 152 feet, six inches in the discus led the field Thursday and teammate Angelo Buttazzoni paced all shot-putters with a 48-foot, 11-inch toss.

Meanwhile, brother Aldo Buttazzoni rung up a first of his own, taking the high jump with a 5-8. And Paul Burke was 10.4, over and out in the 100-yard dash.

Western also had three individuals who won or tied for firsts. John McCormick tied his brother Rob and a Harrison performer in the pole vault with an 11-foot height, then claimed the half-mile run on his own (2:38).

In addition, Steve Sutherland and Andy Juszcyk were two-time winners. Sutherland swept the mile (4:42) and two-mile (10:13) events, while Juszcyk took the high and low hurdles with respective times of 15.6 and 40.1.

The mile relay team of Juszcyk, John McCormick, Bruce Martin and Martin Saitau then put the frosting on the cake with a 3:38.7 clocking in the mile relay. Juszcyk anchored the quartet with an excellent 51.8 time.

Western may have even done better than that as a team at Saturday's relays, but the caliber of competition forced the locals to "settle" for a fifth-place showing of 40 points — an outstanding showing against some of the area's best teams.

The Warriors' total trailed the winning output of Dearborn Fordson, which finished with 92 points. Pontiac Northern was second, Birmingham Brother Rice was third and Bloomfield Hills Laker was fourth.

Perhaps the best effort in a series of strong Western showings Saturday came from Canfield, whose 156-7 discus throw broke his old school record for the umpteenth time. That toss was good for fourth in the meet. And Canfield ranked even higher in the shot put with a third-place 49-7 throw, while Buttazzoni was fourth in the same event with a 48-2½.

Four weeks earlier, Western had notched its third win with an 84-48 success over Waterford Township as the Warriors took 11 of 16 firsts. Among the highlights were Angelo Buttazzoni's second-place throw of 50-3 in the discus, setting a record for Western Juniors. Canfield led all throwers with a 50-7 toss, making Warrior history as the first time two from that school hit 50 feet in the same meet.

Juszcyk then made some history of his own, finishing the 330-yard low hurdles with a 39.2 clocking for a new school record. Ironically, that broke the old 40.5 standard set by his brother Steve — who happened to be present to watch his record fall. Andy and older brother John Juszcyk now hold the Western records in the low and high hurdles.

Central girl harriers get in victory column

As Walled Lake Central Girls' Track Coach Brian McKenna said last week, "the first one is the hardest to win."

Assuming that the above is true, the Viking harriers should have an easier time of it from here on in following their 65-58 win over Farmington Thursday — the team's first win under McKenna.

Central notched eight first-place efforts in the win, which gave the locals a 1-2 record on the year. And not surprisingly, it was sophomore Kathi Harris who led the Central individual efforts.

The versatile Harris was a victor in two events, capturing the discus with an 87-foot, six-inch throw and the long jump with a 15-foot, 5½-inch leap. Other solo winners for the Vikes were Sandy Kaufman, who took the shot put with a throw of 26 feet and a half inch; Kris Olin, champ in the 800-meter (half-mile) run with a 2:45 clocking; and Kristie Carrel, winner in the 200-meter run with a 28.6 time.

But the Vikings' initial '80 triumph couldn't have occurred had it not been for the relay events, where they picked up a quick 15 points. Harris, Carrel, Kelly Stone and Cheryl Griem were first in the 800-meter relay with a 1:54 time, while the quartet of Carrel, Stone, Margot Robb and Polly Ross grabbed 400-meter honors on the strength of a 55-flat outing.

The other Central victory came when Harris, Griem, Andrea Meenanah and Pam Smith took the 1600-meter relay with a 4:30 clocking.

The Vikes were also buoyed by some other strong showings, all of them placing efforts. Diane Montgomery had times of 5:49.5 and 12:38 in the mile and two-mile runs; Robb had thirds in the 100 (14 seconds) and the 200-yard dash (29.8); and Ross and Andrea Meenanah were consistent placers also.

Central accomplished more of the same against Walled Lake Western last Tuesday, taking two more relay wins and three individual firsts although dropping a 7½-51½ decision. And more encouraging was the fact that McKenna's club was within reasonable distance of the Western Six Conference champs even though Central ace Harris participated in only one event.

Harris was part of a winning effort of 1:51.4 in the 800-meter relay, along with teammates Stone, Griem and Carrel — the same foursome that won against Farmington. In addition, Central won the 400-meter relay with a 54.6 clocking as Stone, Robb, Ross and Carrel did it again.

The Vikes wound up the week by stubbing their collective toes, however. Central finished a dismal 11th in the Stafford Relays Saturday.

Vikings hate Stevenson but "love" Western, 7-0

By REID CREAMER

Walled Lake Central Tennis Coach John Shadford's not yet conceding defeat in the scramble for first place in the Inter-Lakes Conference this spring, but you've got to wonder whether he's thinking about it. Although the spring season is barely two weeks old, the Vikings' hopes for that elusive L-crown have already suffered a couple of severe blows. First it was Farmington dealing Central a crusher in the opening league match recently, then Livonia Stevenson — annually the team to beat in the conference — shacking Shadford's men Friday by a 6-1 count.

A 6-2, 6-1 triumph by Central second singles player Rob Kamenoff was the first time this spring.

Stevenson dominated the action on their home court. Included among the losers in that match were the second doubles team of Darryl Pigeon and Jim Chinarian, who were defeated for the first time this spring.

"We were mentally up for them,"

Central's Scott Boone (right) bested Western's Mike Sacco

Scott Boone beat Mike Sacco, 6-1 and 6-4; and Greg Boone bested Larry Garza by two 6-2 verdicts.

"You figure it out," Shadford said of the Jeky-and-Hyde performances Thursday and Friday. "It's just impossible to know what's going to happen. We expected the Western match to be close, but instead we play our best match of the year and win easily."

The Vikings enjoyed the same kind of match last Wednesday, beating Waterford Township by a 6-1 count. Again, Central's wins were all of the straight-set variety with the only loss going to Gruber.

The victory over the Skippers represents the only Viking league win as of now, but 1-2 Central (3-3 overall) will be looking for 1-1 win number two when it travels to Pontiac Northern today (Wednesday). The Vikings then return home Friday for an engagement with soon-to-be former league partner Milford Lakeland before hosting Farmington next Monday.

Central then will move on to Waterford Township for a rematch two days later.

Novi netters drop trio

Novi tennis coach Dick Haywood wondered if he would ever get to see his whole team in action.

If it wasn't injuries, it was vacations. It wasn't sickness. It was the weather. Finally, against Brighton last Friday, he had his whole team ready to play. Or so he thought.

His number one singles player, Mike Rice, has been out of action with tons of aches, he has been so out of action, he lost almost 20 pounds in the process.

He had returned to school last week, and Haywood thought he would be ready for the contest Friday.

Rice was game, and gave it a go, losing a heartbreaker 6-7 in the first set. Looking pale and weak, Rice followed the advice of his coach and called another day, giving his match to the Bulldog by default.

The other Wildcat netters weren't faring very well, either.

Paul Henderson, at second singles, lost 3-6, 4-6; at third singles, Dave Boehmer won 7-5, 6-4; and Rob MacPherson lost at fourth singles 1-6, 3-6.

The doubles squads fared about the same. Steve Discher and Alex Crossley were beaten 7-6, 4-6 in a tough, well-fought match.

Second singles also went three sets, but Dean Marshall and Phillino Samson lost 6-2, 4-6 and 2-6.

Standout outing by Hines earns Warriors a split

After a grueling stretch of four games in five days, the last thing the Walled Lake Western pitching staff needed was a doubleheader Saturday. Especially with crosstown rival Walled Lake Central paying the Warriors a visit.

Enter Bruce Hines and Rich Briggs. The Western duo threw a couple of gems at the Vikings as the Warriors finished another week by splitting the twinbill with Central. Steve DeMar's crew claimed a 4-1 win in game two after dropping the opener by a 2-1 count.

In other games last week, Western split a make-up doubleheader with Milford Lakeland, winning 7-5 after losing 3-4, and dropped Western Six Conference contests with Waterford Mott and Farmington Harrison, 7-4 and 13-7. Hines boosted his 1980 state to 2-0 Saturday with six innings of two-hit ball as the Warriors won the nightcap. Rob King's run-scoring triple in the third inning proved to be the key hit in that contest, and he later scored to provide the winning margin.

Western, which played two insurance runs in the fourth, was bailed out in the victory by Jim Kelly. After Hines surrendered his only run in the sixth inning and had two runners reach in the seventh, Kelly threw cold water on the Vikings via a strikeout and pop-up to bail out his own partner.

Briggs was equally tough in the opener, recording Western's second complete game of the spring. But the Warriors wasted some key opportunities to score and dropped a 2-1 heartbreaker.

The Western bats managed just three hits in that game off Central's Scott Payton, yet probably would have beaten him if they could've managed just one more safely at the right time. The Warriors stole six bases in that game but could only manage an unearned tally in the second inning. Western knocked on the door in the fifth and seventh frames, only to have it slammed in its face each time. Payton had runners on second and third with nobody out in the fifth, but escaped unharmed, and further frustrated the Warriors by retiring King with the bases loaded to end the game.

The Western failure in the clutch meant that a two-run Viking fourth proved decisive. Briggs suffered his only shaky inning then, yielding a single, triple and another single to doom him to an 0-2 record.

As it turned out, the well-oiled, defense dominated games proved to be the exception rather than the rule as the Warriors dropped three of four games earlier in the week. In fact, Western's victory during that span came on the strength of another patented seventh-inning miracle.

The latest Warrior shocker came Thursday during the second game of the double dip with Lakeland. After the local bats had slept in a first-game 3-0 defeat, it looked like more of the same in the nightcap as Western trailed 5-0 entering the seventh inning.

But then the natives got restless. Apparently fed up with being shut out for 13 innings that day, they rallied for seven runs with the game-winning marker coming on a single by Steve Somerville. Jim Woods, Steve Sharpy and Brian Karnes also had hits in the uprising.

That sudden turn of events made a winner of freshman Guy Whittington (1-0), who yielded just one run after relieving starter Joe Gabriel at the beginning of the fifth inning.

Western's Mike Turner (1-2) wasn't fortunate enough to benefit from any similar surge in game one, however. Despite yielding only three hits and one earned run while fanning eight Redskin batters, the Warrior bats produced just two hits — singles by Mike Xenos and Jay Grace.

And if the absence of Western's offensive productivity in that loss wasn't bad enough, the Warrior defense took the day off during the setbacks to Mott and Harrison.

After last Wednesday's league battle with the Waterford club, Warrior Coach DeMar termed it "a game we could have won" — if his team hadn't committed seven errors, that is. In fact, the Western headmaster opined, starter Kelly (1-1) may have been a winner if he didn't have to pitch out of jams caused by the clang of Warrior gloves.

Despite a carnival-like atmosphere in which the locals committed three errors in a single inning (Mott didn't score), Western actually held a 3-1 advantage entering the fifth inning. But Kelly, perhaps tired from battling out of so many tight situations, finally succumbed to a four-run inning that proved deadly in the 7-4 final.

The give-away was unfortunate, especially in light of the fact that the Warriors wasted seven stolen bases. Western had two-hit days from Mike W Turner and Somerville but couldn't come up with the clutch hit it needed.

More bungling occurred in the first game of the long week, when Western committed six more errors during a 7-0 loss to Harrison in the teams' conference opener. But Mike Turner was wild in his 1 1/2-inning stint, and Gabriel and Hines didn't fare much better as the enemy vaulted to a 12-0 lead going into the sixth inning.

To their credit, though, the Warriors didn't give up. They rallied for all of their runs in the last two innings, highlighted by an RBI single from Bruce Meyer and a three-run homer from King, the team's first circuit ball of the spring.

Not surprisingly, the locals took a host of firings in that success. Duskey and Donagan, a formidable twosome in the discus, each recording personal bests with respective heaves of 110-2 and 107-3. Duskey then tacked on a winning throw of 31-4 1/2 in the shotput.

Dixon likewise had an easy time beating her Harrison rivals, taking the long jump with a 15-3 and the high jump with a 4-8.

Meanwhile, the 100-yard dash went to Cathy Van Putten on the strength of her 12.4 clocking. But she needed to high-tail it to beat out freshman teammate Fran Cullen, who was right behind with a second-place 12.8. Van Putten also took the 220 dash with a 28.5 time.

The quarter and half-mile runs, of course, belonged to Yuhn. She was tops in the former event with a 53.3 time, and scurried to a 2:33.7 finish in the half.

The Warrior ace was also part of a mile relay team that finished first with a 4:28.5 time. She was cast in that role along with Cullen, Maher and Wilson. In addition, the foursome of Theresa Byrne, Michelle Juszycki, Wilson and Van Putten took the 880 and 400 relays with respective times of 1:56.6 and 55.8.

During this day of topside wins, the closest race was between Warrior freshman Janet Ford and Nancy Giagola. Each crossed the tape in the two-mile at 3:17.1, but Yuhn said Giagola won "by a lean." As things turned out, that was the only real suspense of the day as the Warriors totally dominated the meet.

Western had dominated in much the same manner against Walled Lake Central a couple of days earlier, handing the young Vikings a 7 1/2-5 1/2 defeat. The Warriors took 12 firsts in that meet, led by two wins apiece from Yuhn (quarter mile and mile), Duskey (discus and shot put) and Dixon (high jump and 200-meter hurdles).

Again, there weren't many surprises for Yuhn's team, which was expected to handle the inexperienced Central club rather easily. However, the Warriors' Annette Worden notched her "first first" with an 18.7 clocking in the 100-meter hurdles.

Western now will have to take its winning act on the road for three straight encounters after hosting Central on Friday. The Warriors meet Waterford Mott in a dual duel tomorrow (Thursday), travel to the West Bloomfield Relays Saturday and then take on Milford Lakeland next Tuesday.

Boost record to 3-1

Warrior girls excel in relay, two dual wins

By REID CRAIGER

Deja vu hit Walled Lake Western track in relay action Saturday, and the Warrior boys' and girls' teams were no doubt happy to see it happen.

The Warrior males, as reported elsewhere in this section, finished fifth in the highly competitive Ashley Relays with a 40-point total — their best ever in that competition. But the trackers of Sharon Yuhn weren't to be outdone.

The queens of the Western Six Conference participated in relay competition of their own, hosting the Stafford Relays. And, in a stranger-than-fiction result that even Ripley might find hard to believe, the Warrior girls also came in fifth — with 40 points, too.

One more coincidence: like counterpart John Fundukian, Yuhn was pleased with her team's outing.

"There were some awfully awfully tough teams that we were up against," Yuhn noted. "But we still managed to hold our own, especially in the relays. And though you'd always rather finish first, this still was a good meet for us."

That much appeared true. Warrior relay teams finished second on a couple of occasions, and even managed a first. That occurred in the sprint medley relay, as Kris Maher, Janet Wilson, Cathy Van Putten and Judy Yuhn collaborated to stop the timer at 4:26.5.

The runner-up times came in the two-mile, with the quartet of Maher, Yuhn, Lisa Roselle and Martie Asse combining for a clocking of 10:41.7; and the discus relay, as Karen Duskey, Devany Donigan and Laura Wilcox totaled 278 feet, 10 inches. Duskey's throw of 105-2 won a medal as the best individual performance Saturday.

Best team performance, though, went to Brighton on the merit of its 104-point total. Livonia Stevenson was second with a 79, while Pontiac Central scored 75. West Bloomfield garnered 60 points.

Western also recorded a third place at the Staffords as Wilson, Roselle and Sandy Dixon turned in a 42-foot, 10 1/2-inch effort.

In addition, Yuhn's army had earlier duplicated the trick turned by the Western boys — namely, the annihilation of Farmington Harrison. The Warrior girls boosted their dual meet record to 3-1 with a 95-30 de-clawing of the Hawks Thursday, treating their W-6 rivals rather rudely in the conference opener.

Not surprisingly, the locals took a host of firings in that success. Duskey and Donagan, a formidable twosome in the discus, each recording personal bests with respective heaves of 110-2 and 107-3. Duskey then tacked on a winning throw of 31-4 1/2 in the shotput.

The Vikings' luck was so bad last week that they even lost the one game where they scored a good number of runs. Ken Butler's troops were looking up at a 5-0 deficit in the fourth inning when they were defeated by Waterford Township last Wednesday.

In the win, Central's Scott continued his torrid hitting with a fourth-inning, run-scoring triple that scored George Burgess, who had pitched the previous game.

Fortunately for the locals, though, Central's Scott Payton made those runs stand up Saturday for a 2-1 win in the first game of a doubleheader against Walled Lake Western. The Vikings continued their problems at the plate in game two, however, dropping a 4-1 decision to the Warriors. Those results came on the heels of a 5-1 loss to Livonia Stevenson the day before and an 8-6 setback at the hands of Waterford Township last Wednesday.

Komenaga's club cops league wins

After blowing an 8-2 lead in its season opener against West Bloomfield the previous week, the Walled Lake Western softball team wasn't taking any chances last week against Farmington Harrison and Waterford Mott.

The Warriors went right to work in their April 21 encounter with Harrison, cruising to a 16-4 lead after three innings en route to an 18-12 win. Western averaged a 12-8 loss at the hands of West Bloomfield with the victory, and continued the rampage with a 15-14 success over Mott last Wednesday.

Coach Nancy Komenaga took advantage of her club's speed and Harrison's defensive lapses in the Western Six Conference opener for both squads. The Warriors established their game plan from the first inning when Cathy Fuson stole two bases and Margaret Grubb another during a two-run rally which featured only one Western hit.

That surge countered a three-spot by Harrison in the top half of the frame. Then, after the enemy plated one more run in the top half of the second, the Warriors benefited from seven walks and numerous Harrison misplays to go on top for good, 8-4. An eight-run Western third then settled things.

And believe it or not, all of those second and third-inning runs came without the aid of a single fly. In fact, Harrison outlit the locals, 10-7, as Grubb was the only Warrior to achieve a two-hit afternoon. But that was a winner out of Kathy Arley, the freshman who is being counted on by Komenaga to be the staff ace. Arley went the first five innings to claim the victory, surrendering just four hits before Cathy Boardman finished up.

Two days later, Western built up a similar cushion only to have to hold on for dear life at the end. Six Warriors crossed the plate in the opening inning against Mott, thanks in part to hits from Michelle Bryant, Cindy Hart, Brigitte Arens and Kris Meltema (triple).

The Churchill game was scheduled for Monday afternoon, after town today (Wednesday) before the Warriors travel to Central tomorrow. Western then plays at the Mustang site Monday.

Registration for girls summer softball is continuing at the Novi Parks and Recreation office.

Junior League is for girls nine to 12 years of age while the senior division is for girls 13-16.

Registration in the senior division has been light so far, officials report. Deadline for registration is Friday, May 9.

Tryouts for all new players will take place on Saturday, May 10. Registration fee is $12 per person.

Baseball fields open Sunday
The Walled Lake Little League's new Glenary Road fields will see plenty of action Sunday when the league's 1980 season unfolds.

All divisions from T-ball to the majors will be in action on that date with play starting at 12:45 p.m. In addition, local personalities such as Commerce Township Supervisor Robert Long and State Representative Richard Fessler are expected to be on hand for the field's official opening.

The fields will formally open despite repeated acts of vandalism that have occurred recently. The league has announced that it is offering a $100 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of individuals responsible for recent property assaults.

Scott: red-hot

When a baseball team only scores nine runs in its first four games, it requires some near-perfect pitching for that squad to win any of those contests.

Alas, Walled Lake Central didn't get any such effort and began the season in an on-and-off-horrible hitting with a fourth-inning, run-scoring triple that scored George Burgess, who had pitched the previous game.

Fortunately for the locals, though, Central's Scott Payton made those runs stand up Saturday for a 2-1 win in the first game of a doubleheader against Walled Lake Western. The Vikings continued their problems at the plate in game two, however, dropping a 4-1 decision to the Warriors. Those results came on the heels of a 5-1 loss to Livonia Stevenson the day before and an 8-6 setback at the hands of Waterford Township last Wednesday.

"Even the weather's against us"

When you're really down and out, even the weather won't give you a break. Ask Walled Lake Central Softball Coach Nancy Smith.

"We're definitely struggling right now," the veteran mentor admitted after watching her club drop its first four games of the season. "We need to practice more, but it seems to rain only when we don't have a game. Even the weather's against us."

Unfortunately, however, it hasn't been raining when the Vikings have been scheduled for a contest. Smith and Company would doubtless have preferred that after their first two losses of last week — 17-1 and 12-0 — they were to have a game. But we borrowed Walled Lake Western's pitching machine Saturday, and maybe some practice will help us come around.

"It's no secret by the last three scores that we're not doing much hitting, either," Smith said. "We've been leaving seven or eight runners on base a game. But we borrowed Walled Lake Western's pitching machine Saturday, and maybe some practice will help us come around."

With Central scoring just three times in its last three games, the Viking coach is willing to give it a try. Molly Odette was shelled for nine runs during her two innings.

A bad day? Maybe. But Drost was the starting pitcher against Township, and the Skippers didn't treat her any better than West Bloomfield had.

However, an encouraging sign took place in Friday's 6-2 loss against Livonia Stevenson. In that one, Connie MacDermaid went all the way, striking out five batters and yielding just eight hits. Now if the bats would just come around a little.

"Then, in their third straight day of action, the Vikings travel to Milford Lakeland Friday. Central also plays at Farmington the following Monday before hosting Waterford Township two days later.

Novi harriers still struggling

The Novi girls track team ran into a bunch of maulers at Milford Tuesday.

The Wildcats put up a valiant fight, but with only two first place finishes they didn't stand much of a chance, losing 92-31.

Amy Traynor took a first in the long jump, sailing 19'3". She also broke the school record in the 220-yard hurdles. But her time of 34.5, which broke Ginger Hensel's old record of 35.6, was only good for fourth.

Traynor also added a third to the Novi point total, clocking in at 17.6 in the 110-yard low hurdles.

Frosh Deanna Routart took the only other first for the Wildcats, winning the mile with a time of 6:20.8.

She doubled back to place second in the two-mile run, recording a time of 13:49.7.

Cindy Ihan and Mary Roberts tied for second in the high jump, each clearing 4'9".

Elysee Sobczak recorded a second in the shot put with a toss of 24'4".

Albers took a third in the mile behind Routart. She ran a 6:24.2.

Ihan took a second in the 440-yard dash, running a :73.3.

In the 880-yard dash, Krista Borsvold's 2:44.1 was good for second.

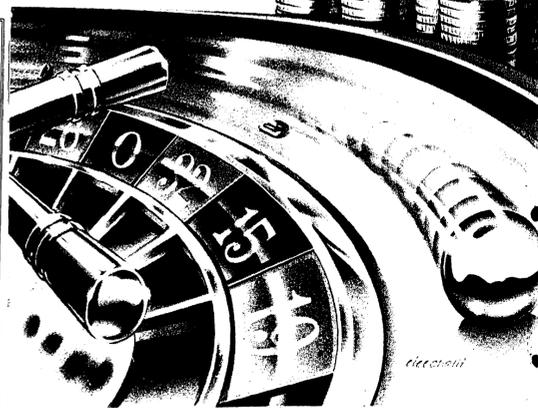

Carrie Wastelweiss took a second in the 220-yard dash with a time of :29.4.

Wildcat harriers humbled—again

Novi boys track team encountered overwhelming weather and overwhelming Brighton numbers Thursday, resulting in a loss and a disgruntled Wildcat coach.

"It was raining and cold. I had 17 guys with me because the others on the team were either sick or injured. Brighton had fifty or sixty guys. It was pouring bad," Novi coach Greg Todd said. "I asked Brighton's coach if we could postpone the game, and he said no way, that you can't call it off once its started. The track official agreed with him. I didn't want to jeopardize the health of my remaining runners, so I scratched a few and the others ran with their sweats on."

Todd is still waiting for the official results of the meet, but he has a pretty good idea of the score. The Wildcats could place in only three events.

Mike Iban won the 330-yard low hurdles race in a time of :43.1, and the 800-meter relay unit won by default because Brighton team members in the race were wearing dissimilar uniforms. Jay Dinan, who finished second in the discus with a toss of 103'0", was the only Wildcat to place in the field events.

On Tuesday, Novi faced Milan and while coming away with another loss, the 102-30 drubbing wasn't nearly as hard to take as the Brighton debacle would prove to be.

"The Milan team was the nicest, most courteous team we've run against," Todd said. "The coach is real nice guy. It made losing that badly that much less unpleasant."

The Wildcats did manage to pick up some points in the meet.

Dinan placed first in the discus with a toss of 109'10", and Terry Smith finished second at 106'4".

Pat Korte took a third in the high jump with a leap of 5'6". Scott Quinn was second in the long jump, touching down at 17'8".

Dinan doubled back to take a second in the shot put, heaving it 39'8".

Smith took a first in the pole vault at 11'0", while Mickey Gopigian was third with a vault of 10'0".

In the running events, Mark Wroten took third in the 100-yard dash (:10.7) and Frank Sommers was third in the 440-yard dash (:57.1).

Iban took a second in the 330-low hurdles (:43.0) while Wroten came back to place third in the 220-yard dash (:24.5).

Novi will meet Hartland at home tomorrow, with the meet beginning at 4 p.m.
