little more than three months old, the Kazoo Band is the pet project of Ed Leininger, although Leininger, typically, passes on the credit to just about everybody but himself. "Actually, the Kazoo Band was the brainchild of Kathy Crawford," says the director of the group composed of senior citizens at the Oakland Livingston Human Service Agency (OLHSA)

Center in Novi. "Kathy mentioned it to my wife at a Jaycee Auxiliary meeting, my wife mentioned it to me and that's pretty much how the whole thing got started," reports Leininger. "I guess music is in my blood," he adds, noting that he formerly played trombone in the Michigan State University marching band and also plays a mean accordion. And that's when support from various organizations and individuals started to roll in.

The Jaycee Auxiliary and the Novi Parks and Recreation Department put forward the funds to purchase kazoos, sticks, triangles and the various ' and assorted other instruments which comprise a really first-rate kazoo band.

And Leininger lined up additional support from Susan Gries and Dean McQuiston. Susan, who plays piano at the Novi United Methodist Church. and McQuiston, another Novi Methodist and a semi-professional banjo player, agreed to provide the all-important background music which holds the kazoo band together. "Susan is really the backbone of the kazoo band," says Leininger. "If she can't play it on the

The Novi Kazoo Band got off to a slow start, Leininger reports, with just five people showing up

But then things started to pick up. Anna Gargalino, director of the Novi OLHSA Center, decided that she, too, should join the band. And Leininger demonstrated that his skills on the trumpet are readily adaptable to the kazoo.

And the group has continued to grow ever since. Several distinguished members of the Grammas and Grampas Kazoo Band sponsored by the Walled Lake Community School District heard about the Novi group and decided to add their talents.

Harold and Norma Heslitt of the Walled Lake group started attending rehearsals — Harold plays the gut bucket, while Norma is an accomplished performer on both the washboard and bicycle horn. Ed Rosenkranz, another member of the Walled

"We'd like to expand our schedule of public performances," said Leininger. "The band is really beginning to sound pretty good, and we're going to see if we can't do some concerts in the elementary schools this fall."

After that, of course, will come the performances with Leonard Bernstein and John Williams, although Leininger asserts that the band, regardless of its accomplishments, will never forget its humble beginnings.

"We're still accepting local billings," he said.

Voters okay parks millage

Novi voters approved a permanent renewal of one-half mill for Parks and Recreation by nearly a 150 vote margin in a light primary turnout Tuesday, according to unofficial results.

A charter amendment designed to ensure that up to one-half mill will be available for parks and recreation purposes in the future unofficially received 782 positive votes, while 635 voters opposed the charter

Approval of the amendment means that the millage levy now will become a part of the city charter, giving the city council the authority to levy the parks millage annually without returning periodically to the voters for renewal.

"It's super," was the reaction of Parks and Recreation Director Tom O'Branovic. "We're really encouraged and think people are going to see a lot of things happening now. We're very encouraged to see this kind of support. Now we can work on developing an established, well-rounded parks program."

Voters strongly supported the onehalf mill renewal in Village Oaks, where the measure passed by a 74 vote margin and in Orchard Hills where positive votes outnumbered negative votes by 60. Chateau Estates also supported the measure by nearly a two-

Unofficial vote totals are as follows: Precinct 1 — 68 yes, 103 no; Precinct 2 - 112 yes, 106 no; Precinct 3 - 58 yes, 59 no; Precinct 4 - 57 yes, 64 no; Precinct 5 — 129 yes, 55 no; Precinct 5 - 129 yes, 55 no; Precinct 6 - 104 yes, 79 no; Precinct 7 - 142 yes, 82 no; Precinct 8 — 60 yes, 33 no.

On absentee ballots 52 voters approved the measure, while 54 opposed it.

We want to thank the people who took the time to learn about the issue and understood it," O'Branovic said. "We were concerned that the ballot language called for a charter amendment and that the county parks and recreation question was on the ballot might confuse the issue. But people got the message and we're very pleased with the results."

He thanked the committee which worked for the millage passage and he went on to explain that the campaign largely centered on getting the people who were active in parks and recreation to the polls.

"These are the people we had easiest access to, who were familiar with what we were doing and hope to accomplish. We hoped that by working with them support would spread by word of

Rogers mansion rezoning granted

Mansion on Nine Mile into a "first-class restaurant" moved one step forward and one step backward Monday as the Novi City Council approved a rezoning request to accommodate the proposed restaurant, but delayed action on a request for a liquor license.

Council members voted 6-0 to rezone the 2.12 acre parcel on which the mansion is located from its existing multiple family (RM-1) classification to a light industrial (I-1) zoning. Restaurants are allowed in light industrial zoned districts if the project meets certain conditions spelled out in the city's zoning ordinance. City Planning Consultant Charles Cairns recommended the rezoning to the council, saying the request complies with the existing and proposed master plan. "There is industrial zoning across and adjacent to this property, light industrial zoning is compatible with the present and future master plan and we believe we can live with this zoning," Cairns said. He added that even if the mansion were not converted to a restaurant the light industrial zoning wold be appropriate for the parcel.

"We would not like to see that happen, and there can be no more industrial zoned property to the west of this parcel, but we could live with a

Plans to convert the old Rogers light industrial zoning on this property," Cairns said.

He also told the council that general business and neighborhood business zoning classifications, which are normally the areas where restaurants are located, would not be acceptable zoning for the parcel since they would jeopardize the residential zoning on other corners of the Nine Mile and Novi Road intersection.

Irwin Arkin, who owns the mansion, encouraged the council to approve the rezoning request.

"As Marshall has its Schuler's and Brighton has its Canopy, Novi could become known for this quality restaurant." he said.

Council members discussed the parking plans for the restaurant which call for handicapped parking in front and 120 cars to be parked in the rear of the house. They also questioned whether an elevator would be installed to make the upstairs of the restaurant acessible to handicapped. Plans for leaving the trees as they presently stand also were reviewed.

The council subsequently voted 6-0 to approve the rezoning request. Mayor Romaine Roethel had an excused

Corn may delay Decker Road plans

Never let it be said that Novi has sacrificed its semi-rural atmosphere for progress sake.

Construction of Decker Road may be briefly delayed while field corn grows in the proposed path of the roadway.

Novi City Council members learned Monday that it was agreed, when a portion of the Decker Road right-of-way was given to the city, that the property could be used for farming until it became necessary to construct the 📥e available. "I have been contacted by the property grantor who tells me the land is being used for corn and this is the middle of the corn season," City Attorney David Fried told the council at Monday's session.

"I'm concerned about accepting a bid to begin construction on the project and then having the contractor delayed in getting on the property because the farmer won't get off," Fried added.

He asked the council to include in the contract a clause which removes the city's liability if the contractor incurs costs as a result of being delayed in gaining access to the property.

The attorney said the farmer is not tresspassing on the property, although it has been given to the city. "The farmer is the person in possession of the property and we can be liable for

Fried went on to say that the farmer had been notified he should vacate the property and if necessary court proceedings to obtain possession of the property could be initiated.

The council then voted 6-0 to award the contract to the low bidder — J.D. Armstrong Landscaping Company of Fraser, Mayor Romaine Roethel had an excused absence.

what headache pain means? There is a good reason for pain-just as there is a good and siren on a police emergency vehicle. Headache pain is nature's signal warning that something is amiss somewhere in your body. When your head aches, it does so because something is

Walled Lake questions senior allocation

Walled Lake's City Council was slated to consider the fate of a request from Novi to provide funds for the Lakes Area Senior Citizens Center at last night's (Tuesday) meeting (after our press time).

The council tabled a request for funds from Novi's senior citizen center at its July 15 meeting and placed the item on its agenda for yesterday's gathering. The council decided not to act upon the Quest last month requesting a report on the center's use by Walled Lake residents along with data on programming at two local senior citizen centers. A letter from Novi Accounting Supervisor Frances A. Loynes requested that Walled Lake pay $1,388 into the Lakes Area Multi-Purpose Center project. A similar request was made of all municipalities with senior citizens who participate in the program located in the Novi Community Building. Major concern over the payment was expressed by Councilmember Thomas Brookover at the July 15 meeting. Brookover cited the item's purposeful Walled Lake Villa and Commerce Township's Richardson Community Center both provide senior citizen programming for Walled Lake residents. Richardson even serves as one of the Oakland-Livingston Human Service Agency's (OLHSA) nutrition sites. Councilmembers reflected concern for the continuation of senior projects, but were hesitant to financially contribute to what may be a duplication of services. Another councilmember. This concern, of exactly what services are provided, coupled with a precise count of Walled Lake residents, who consistently participate in the Novi program, are the questions council sought to answer.

In response to opposition from Ramco-Gershenson Company property owners, the Novi City which is developing the West Oaks Council is contemplating a cutback in plans for providing utilities to Section 15 — that choice piece of real estate on the west side of Nov Road opposite the Twelve Oaks

Development of Section 15 is an important part of the city's future financial planning because it reasonably can be expected to provide a significant portion of the city's non-residential tax base. And it has been demonstrated that nonresidential tax base is critical to financing services to the city's residential sectors.

The extent of the tax base that Section 15 can be expected to provide will not be realized, however, until such time as the area is made accessible for development through construction of an interior road system and utilities (sewer and water) are made available.

The property sanitary sewer — that would be owners who are not yet ready to develop know they need the improvements but don't want to financed totally by benefitting property owners through a special assessment district. commit funds until they are prepared to begin construction and

Initially, the city had proposed west road (West Oaks Drive) off of Novi Road. The proposed five-lane road would then veer sharply to the north where it would intersect with Twelve Mile.

Also envisioned in the initial road proposal was a "marginal access road" parallel with Novi Road and Twelve Mile around the perimeter of Section 15. The rationale behind creation of the marginal access road was to minimize curb cuts along Novi Road and Twelve Mile, thus improving traffic flow and safety by minimizing turning movements on the two major arteries.

Both the five-lane road and marginal access road proposals have been strongly endorsed by City Planning Consultant Charles Cairns as critical to providing proper traffic flow through Section 15. Identical sentiments have been expressed by Michael Ward, an executive vice president with the Low-cost housing? An interesting insight into the apparently contradiccted by nature of residential housing costs another proponent of the multiplefamily classification who reported that his company is presently preparing a site plan for construction of condominiums on a parcel near Walled Lake.

> He said the condominiums in the proposed complex will sell for between $79,000 and $89,000. Additionally, he said that units in a well-planned condominium complex will sell for more money per square foot than many single family homes.

So what's the meaning of that

In the first place, it should remove any lingering doubts that condominiums are any less desirable form of residency than single family units.

But it should also dismiss the arguments of those who persist in maintaining that the multiplefamily district is the answer for those individuals who cannot afford to purchase those "high-priced" Those comments were single family units.

Speaking for Myself

Who makes best auto?

I've owned both American and foreign cars. I now own a foreign car and for what I bought it for — off-road driving — it's fine. But it's not economical and it's hard to find parts for.

Convenience is the main reason you buy a car. Buy-ing a new foreign car can be a problem. Can you get all the items you want on it and, the big question, is it built

The main arguments people have for buying a foreign car are that it is economical and is supposed to be built right. But if it isn't, you're stuck waiting for parts or for a major repair job that only certain service stations can handle. What about the parts? If the dealer doesn't have them in stock there's usually a waiting period of 10-15 days.

It seems like the small foreign cars are built sound, but just like American cars are sometimes lemons foreign cars can also be lemons - and if something goes wrong you're back with the problem of trying to find parts that are hard to come by and someone to fix it pro-

It's a difficult question of which is better and you have to be your own judge, but when it comes to buying foreign or American, it's much more convenient to buy American-made cars.

There are so many American cars out there, I would think there'd be something that's sound.

Buy American? Sure, I'll buy American when the American car industry begins producing economy cars comparable to those made in Germany and Japan. But until then, give me a foreign car.

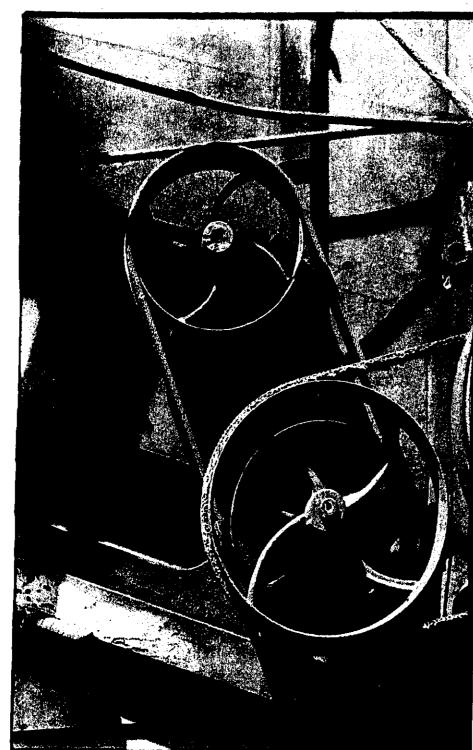

Many would consider this unpatriotic and counterproductive to both the Detroit and national economies. But because our economy is based on the theory of competition, the consumer should be looking for the highest quality product at the best price.

So a boycott of American cars is not unpatriotic, nor is it counterproductive. In fact, a boycott can, in the long run, be considered productive. If domestic car sales continue to drop, our car industry will be forced to re-examine its product. What they will find is that a large part of their sales are being lost because consumers are opting for the quality and design of foreign automobiles.

If the American car industry can combine the design qualities of the German autos with the production quality found in Japanese autos, they can begin underselling the import car market and become a bullish industry again. The first sign of this new trend may be the Chrysler "K" cars, but until some positive results are obtained, I'll buy foreign, thank you.

THIMBLES, a national chain of women's apparel specialty stores expected to exceed 200 stores by 1990, will open its second store August 8 at Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi.

The chain is the newest marketing venture of the BATUS Retail Division of BATUS, INC. of Louisville, which owns and operates the 31 prestigious Saks Fifth Avenue stores coast to coast, including two in Michigan at Fairlane Town Center in Dearborn and Somerset Mall in

Other BATUS Retail Division operations are Gimbels department stores in New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Milwaukee and Kohl's Supermarkets in Wisconsin and Illinois.

Targeting "women with traditional to updated tastes," the new stores will carry 90 percent sportswear and 10 percent dresses and

The chain was created to fill a void in the typical regional shopping mall, according to Thimbles President Max Garelick, former vicepresident and merchandising manager of contemporary and updated sportswear at Saks Fifth Avenue, who was with Detroit's J.L. Hudson Company in 1974-75.

"Suburban shopping malls offer endless options for trendy juniors and higher-priced, contemporary misses-size customers," he said. "But until Thimbles, no national specialty chain focused directly on the homemaker and career-oriented woman with a taste for timeless, quality clothing at affordable prices."

The 3,500 square-foot Twelve Oaks Mall store, located on the lower level off the center court, will be managed by Detroit native Martha Flemming, formerly department manager of designer sportswear at Saks Fifth Avenue, Somerset Mall. The store will hire 11 salespeople, Fleming said.

The first Thimbles store opens August 7 in suburban Chicago, the third opens August 15 in Milwaukee. Additional openings are scheduled for 1981 in Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Chicago and Short Hills, New Jersey. The chain is expected to be nationwide within five years.

Jan Bennett of Novi, owner of Country Craft, noted that the store is designed to sell all sorts of crafts on a consignment basis. Featured at Country Craft will be the work of artists and craftsmen from the local area. Among the first exhibitors in the shop will be the "soft sculptures" of Milford's Yvonne Lynch, crocheting and tole painting by Milford's Debby Yackley, silk flowers and pottery by Farmington's Anna Mae Gemmill, knitting by Walled Lake's Mary Ellen Sample and the photography of Walled Lake Western High School

Mrs. Bennett said she ultimately hopes to have the works of more than 200 artists on display in the store. Virtually every art form will be accepted for exhibit on a consignment basis.

This is the first business venture for Mrs. Bennett, a Michigan native. Her husband, Gary, is the State Farm Insurance Agent in Novi.

In addition, new responsibilities will include managing the firm's European operation in Bremen, West Germany. Nield joined Diamond in 1966 as a sales

And in another world We'll share the Happiness that's always Strangers on a plane, Side by side but miles apart, Thinking separate thoughts. Waiting for the trip to start.

> Each has papers, magazines, knitting in a bag, Each has never flown before, What is this thing called jet lag?

Engines scream, the plane takes off. Their eyes meet with a smile. They talk of this and that and those, Friends for quite a while.

Journeys end, they both stand up.

Walk down the aisle and off the plane

Home to loved ones, friendly faces,

Strangers once again.

My Thoughts

It is nice being with family and friends, The going and coming that never ends, It's nice seeing the flowers & trees, And to know that God had a hand in all of these, The birds in the morning. How nice to hear.

And the trains as they pass By so loud & clear. The grandchildren so precious To every grandparent's life And the prayers that they turn out so strong and so right These are the things we all take in our stride

And in His Great love we all will abide

The Key

Listen, Children, and you shall hear, The reason for your hate and fear. If you will just look in the mirror. And ask yourself, "Why am I here?"

Pandora once possessed a key. A woman's curiousity, . Revealed to us, our destiny. It made us strong, will set us free.

We learned to crawl, we learned to walk. We learned to utter, learned to talk. We learned to curse, we learned to balk. We learned to criticize, find fault. We learned to laugh and ridicule. Our words became our building tool. The walls we built were by this fuel. We learned so well to be so cruel.

I wonder when we'll learn to hear. Our own false words with our own ear? to understand our hate and fear. To ask ourselves, "Why am I here?"

Tired Angels wind up record-setting season

Major league ballplayers just might have a legitimate gripe when they complain about the rigors of extensive travel and the fact that they frequently go weeks without an off-day. But they'd probably get no sympathy from the Guardian

The Angels, perennially a strong team in the Walled Lake Community Education's summer softball league, recently completed a backbreaking stretch which saw them play 53 games in less than three months. And they won 47 times. Included among the Angels' accomplishments this summer were the following: clinched six championships and a runner-up finish; won the Walled Lake Invitational Tournament (incredibly, first time a team from Walled Lake had won it): won the Walled Lake Class A playoffs; and reeled off a 30-game winning streak.

"One thing's for sure," Angels' Coach Tim Bolinger said last week. "We put the town of Walled Lake on the map in southwest Michigan." The Angels' string of successes ended with the Community Education League's "A" playoff title July 27. But that was one monumental struggle.
First, the Angels — who are coached by Bolinger,

Jim Boedecker and George Shea — were hit by the Liry jinx. "Seven of our 19 girls were hurt one way or another," Bolinger said. "One played with a broken nose, (one had) a broken finger...we had pulled thigh muscles, shin splints, you name it."

The way the closing weekend began wasn't exactly a good omen, either. After an 11-6 success over On Spot Portable that Friday night, the locals dropped a tough 6-5 contest to Glengary Inn the following morning.

Then, just one defeat away from being ousted in the double-elimination tournament, the Angels began flying. First it was Copper Mug taking it on chin to the tune of 15-4 Saturday afternoon before the Angels won four straight games the next day to clinch the "A" title. Biting the dust in rapid succession were Cesaro's, 11-3; Glengary Inn, 9-3; Town Pump, 3-2; and Town Pump again, 9-5 in the

That championship, difficult as it was to achieve, was just icing on the cake for the Angels. Just a week earlier, they'd clinched the regular-season league title with a 16-2 record. Before that, there was a runner-up 5-2 performance in the Kalamazoo Inditational Tournament July 13 and the following Erney wins: Waterford Invitational (5-1) June 29; the Walled Lake Invitational (5-0) June 22; the Coldwater Invitational (6-0) June 14: and the Howell Classic (4-0) June 1.

Apparently, the enormous success his team enjoyed this year didn't surprise Bolinger,

"When this team was organized four years ago," Bolinger said, "we knew it would take some time to build a really strong team like we wanted. And we were right. Last year we were bridesmaids

"But everything started clicking for us this year," he continued. "It was just a great time for everybody involved. I can't say enough about the girls; they're a great group of people."

Encouraging Matt Swiatek to 220 pounds, Nelson watches intently

It may be argued that it's easy to be nice when you're on top. But the Angels got a real test of what they were made of when their 30-game winning streak was halted in a 2-1 league loss to Cesaro's.

"The girls accepted it very well," Bolinger said. "They knew it had to come sooner or later." Angels did must boast some pretty impressive individual statistics. However, the team decided against releasing any. As Bolinger put it, "what we'd end up giving you would be enough to fill two

"The statistics are nice, but they aren't all that important," the coach added. "What's important is that now a lot of people know what Guardian Corporate and Guardian Photo mean."

Local boaters will compete this weekend

According to Butch Marriott and Jack Henry of Walled Lake, dedication is the name of the game when it comes to drag boat racing. As owners of "The Mist." the current American Drag Boat Association (ADBA) circuit points leader in the blown fuel flatbottom class, they've really had to prove their dedication this year.

Marriott and Henry opened the 1980 season in London, Ontario in May with a brand new Hondo hull and Chrysler engine. During a qualifying run down the race course, the boat capsized and settled at the bottom of the lake. Though the driver was uninjured, the hull was unrepairable and it seemed "The Mist" was finished for the season.

Not to be discouraged, Marriott and Henry traveled to California later that week for a new hull, Returning home just in time to install a fresh engine, the team was ready to race the following weekend at the Holloway Reservoir in Columbiaville. The dedication paid off with a win at the Blue Water Classic and again in Dayton, Ohio, a few weeks later.

Driven by Larry Cowell of California, "The Mist" will return to Holloway August 9 and 10 to try and further its lead in the race for the American

"We're expecting the top drag boats in the United States and Canada for the nationals," said Mike Kelly, Michigan Chapter ADBA president. "But we have the top contenders in many of the classes right here in Oakland County."

"Ambush," the 1977-79 Central/Eastern Champion blown fuel hydro driven by Bill Vance of Walled Lake, reached a speed of 199,73 miles per hour in Dayton and will be trying to break the 200 mark at Holloway. Butch Tomezak of Drayton Plains won the blown alcohol hydro class at the Blue Water Classic and the Molson Classic with

Meanwhile, Jeff and Charlie Wallace of Highland lead the competition jet class with "Mother's Outcast." Mike Locherle of Pontiac is expected to be a strong contender in the blown gas hydro class with "Night Stalker." These boats will race in High Point, North Carolina, July 27 before returning to Holloway for the Eastern Summer Nationals. Over 100 custom designed drag boats from across the United States and Canada are expected to compete in various classes divided according to type of hull, engine modification and type of fuel burned. Racing side-by-side in straight, quartermile full acceleration runs, each driver will strive for top speed and the lowest possible elapsed time between start and finish. Sponsored by the Michigan Chapter of the American Drag Boat Association in cooperation with Genesee County Parks, the Eastern Summer nationals is the sixth of nine American championship circuit races held across the nation. Winners will be awarded circuit points for each round of racing won. At the final race in Richmond, Virginia, in October, the boat in each class with the most accumulated points will be named the American champion for that class.

In addition to points, winners at the Eastern Summer Nationals will receive plaques, a guaranteed purse of $7,500 and $17,500 in contingencies from various sponsors. Time trials begin Saturday at 11 a.m. and elimination heats begin at noon Sunday. Admission is $4 on Saturday and $6 Sunday. Children under 12 will be admitted free of charge. The Holloway Reservoir is located Columbiaville and North Lake Roads in Columbiaville. Take I-75 to the Mt. Morris exit, go east to M-15, then north to Dodge Road where signs will direct spectators to the race site. For nformation, call 623-9647
