Planners put final touches on master plan

Novi's Planning Board has put the finishing touches on the proposed Master Plan for Land Use Development and set a public hearing for adoption of the plan on Wednesday, October 1, at 7:30 p.m.

Highlights of the revised master plan which will be presented for adoption at the October 1 public hearing include:

- Implementation of a "ring-road" system around the city's central business district (the Novi Road/Grand River Avenue intersection).

- Adoption of a "convenience commercial" center philosophy to meet the day-to-day shopping needs of residents in the residential areas.

- A reduction in the amount of property slated for industrial development and a corresponding reduction from heavy to light industrial zoning designations.

- An increase in the amount of property slated for professional or regional office development. The primary regional office corridors are to be located along the west side of Novi Road between the C&O railroad tracks and a point just south of Ten Mile, and along the south side of Twelve Mile, north of I-96 and west of Novi Road.

- Adoption of a system of collector streets in the residential areas, and implementation of a six-lane boulevard approach to Twelve Mile from the city's easterly limit at Haggerty Road to what is proposed as a reconstructed interchange with I-96 at Beck Road.

The element of the proposed master plan which is expected to receive the most attention at the October 1 is the planning board's preliminary approval of the "convenience commercial" center philosophy.

The master plan approved for the public hearing by the planning board last week proposes a total of four convenience commercial shopping centers.

In addition to the existing convenience center on the northwest corner of Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Road, the proposed master plan also shows convenience centers at the following locations:

- On the northeast corner of Ten Mile and Beck Road.

- On the north side of Eight Mile, near the intersection of Eight Mile and Griswold Street.

- On the southeast corner of Novi Road and East Walled Lake Drive (the existing Flea Market site).

Proposals to rezone the Ten Mile-Beck Road and the Eight Mile-Griswold Street locations to commercial zoning designations have been met with strong opposition from local residents who are expected to reiterate their concerns at the time the master plan is presented at the public hearing.

A convenience commercial center is designed to meet the day-to-day shopping needs of adjoining residential neighborhoods. Convenience commercial centers typically contain such uses as grocery, hardware and drug stores as well as such related uses as barber/beauty shops and dry cleaning establishments.

The Urban Land Institute states that convenience commercial centers should contain approximately 10 acres in order to properly provide for setback, off-street parking and landscaping requirements.

The proposed Novi Master Plan does not at this time contain language as to how large convenience centers should be, however.

In discussing the convenience center concept last week, City Planning Consultant Charles Cairns informed the planners that they should adopt an "all-or-nothing" approach to the convenience centers.

"Either you have them at strategic locations around the city or you don't have them at all," he said.

The planners ultimately approved the convenience commercial center philosophy, after making minor changes in the convenience center proposed at Ten Mile/Beck Road and questioning the need for a convenience center at the Eight Mile/Griswold Road location.

The planners decided to retain the proposed convenience center on the Building inspector is quite a lady

By MICHELE JASINSKI

At one and a half years of age she was carrying the hammer and nails, helping her father in the construction business. Dad taught her the fine points of plumbing and heating at an age when most kids couldn't reach the faucet, let alone the thermostat.

Today, Winnie Dobek's title is Building Inspector for the City of Novi, a female pioneer in the business of inspecting houses for plumbing, electrical, fire and heating systems to meet the standards of Novi's building and zoning codes.

Mrs. Dobek, the mother of 10 children, and a licensed builder since 1956, said of her job that, "Everybody treats me wonderfully. I love the construction business."

She attributes her motivation in a traditionally male-dominated industry to her father's military-like discipline in raising her. "He was a man who would not accept such excuses as 'not knowing how to do something' or 'I can't do it,'" she said.

Admittedly stubborn and set in her ways, Mrs. Dobek put herself through college over a period of 12 years and several pregnancies. She graduated from the University of Michigan with degrees in drafting, mechanical engineering and building.

She was a custom builder for many years in Dearborn, Detroit, Troy and Bloomfield Hills. She has since dropped out of building houses, but, a unique project she designed and constructed, is an exact replica of former President Andrew Jackson's Heritage House that stands at 23700 Old Orchard Trail in Orchard Lake. The house, she built from memory, featured mixed mortar, parquet floors, a marble fireplace and sprayed on acoustic ceilings.

Daughter Debbie, 19, one of two children living at home, says her mother is a perfectionist. "She takes pride in her work even when she's making rabbit cages."

Mrs. Dobek, who at one time thought she wanted to be a neurosurgeon, said, "The trades world has changed. Pride in workmanship is not what it used to be. It has become a cutthroat business. The young folks are out for the money. There are developers who will rake you over the coals."

Her advice to other women interested in the industry is, "More power to them!" She claims she has experienced little sexual discrimination on the job or as the only female in college classes years ago.

She is President of the Blue Star Mothers for Chapter 47, an organization of women whose sons served in wars, dedicated to helping victims recovering in Ann Arbor's Veterans Hospital by writing letters for them, doing personal

State says 'no danger'

Algae plagues Meadowbrook Lake

The cause of a red discoloration which created concern among residents on Meadowbrook Lake recently has been attributed to algae.

City officials reported the lake was inspected by city employees on August 18. A water sample was taken for analysis in order to determine the cause of the red covering along the shoreline.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources was contacted and they suggested the water should be analyzed by the Institute of Water Research at Michigan State University.

According to the report from Darrell King of Michigan State University, the lake contained "an abundance of filamentous blue-green algae Oscillatoria.

There also was cysts of Euglena sanguinea — a small flagellated alga which develops a red pigment which if the alga grow in abundance makes the water look red, King reported.

"It appears the red color in Meadowbrook Lake is most probably due to a bloom of the small flagellated alga Euglena sanguinea," King said after analyzing the sample.

Department of Public Works Superintendent Edward Smladak said that according to the report from Michigan State the algae growth is no cause for alarm.

"There was no recommendation for eliminating the condition, but it apparently disappeared on its own," Smladak said. He indicated that the red coloring on the shoreline was gone when he re-inspected the lake.

"It seems this is a summertime condition generated when the water gets warm. Most of the time algae is blue-green so people get alarmed when it is red," he said.

Smladak said that besides temperature changes, rain will break up the algae.

The condition was first noticed in mid-August, he reported.

Swimming in Meadowbrook Lake has long been banned as a result of annual tests conducted on the lake showing bacteria counts which make it unsafe for bathing.

Fire station bids under estimates

Construction of two fire stations will be within their budget, if the city accepts the low bid on the projects submitted by Adair-Chaldecott, according to City Manager Ed Kriewall.

The contractor has said the fire stations can be built for $711,711, which breaks down to approximately $505,000 for fire department headquarters Fire Station I to be built on Grand River, and $209,000 for Fire Station II on Thirteen Mile.

The contractor indicated the price of the construction projects would be approximately $2,000 cheaper if he is awarded the contract for both projects — bringing the total cost down from $714,000 to $711,711.

Council members were expected to review the bids at a regular meeting Tuesday, after The News deadline. No action on awarding the bids was anticipated since no administrative recommendation was to be offered until a review of sub-contractors has been completed, Kriewall said.

Keeping construction costs of the fire stations within their $1 million-plus budget had stirred controversy on the city council when council members were told by the project architect that Fire Station I could run $165,000 over budget.

It was projected at that time that in addition to using revenues from the $1 million bond sale for fire improvements approved by the voters in November it might be necessary to subsidize the project with general fund monies as well.

Voters had been told Fire Station I would cost $385,000 and Station II would run approximately $230,000. Earlier this year, however, Architect Ronald Ebejer told the council the fire station headquarters would cost $550,000 to construct and Fire Station II costs would run $240,000.

Council members became concerned that a "credibility problem" could arise if the fire station construction bids came in as the architect expected.

City administrators, however, maintained that the economic climate, with many contractors out of work, would drive the price of the buildings down.

It also was explained that the price of constructing Fire Station I would be higher than the $385,000 price tag placed on the project during the election, because the size of the building was to be increased to accommodate the department headquarters.

When the bids came in, Fire Station I was eight percent cheaper than the architect estimated and Fire Station II was 25 percent less expensive than anticipated by the architect.

Reduced costs realized in the construction of Fire Station II should keep the project within budget, according to a funding plan outlined by Finance Director Les Gibson.

The bid on that station came in $21,000 less than expected. He also noted that the facts the city will not have to pay for demolition of the existing Station II if Adair-Chaldecott's bid is approved, and it will not be necessary to spend the anticipated $40,000 on an alternate location to store Station II equipment are factors which will help keep the project within budget. It will be necessary to reduce the contingency funds for the project from $92,050 to $33,050, however.

As expected the projects drew a lot of interest from hungry contractors, with 19 actually submitting bids on the project.

"This was an unusually high number of bidders, but it is a reflection of the economy," Kriewall said. Bids ranged from the low of $711,711 to nearly $980,000.

"The bids were very advantageous to the City of Novi. The plans are specific

Library marks 20 years with bookmark contest

Got a spiffy idea for a bookmark? Then you'd better hurry and get it down on paper before the deadline passes for entering it in the 20th Anniversary Bookmark Contest sponsored by the Novi Public Library.

The library is sponsoring a bookmark contest this fall to celebrate its 20th anniversary. Prizes will be awarded in five different age groups. The deadline for entries is September 15.

Librarian Jane Brown reported that bookmarks should be no larger than three-by-nine inches and must be useable as a bookmark.

There is no other limitation except your own imagination, she said, and the library is looking for some real creativity.

Bookmarks may be constructed of any material or fabric, including lace, patchwork, foil, posterboard, metal, collage, oil paints, velvet, macrame, knitting, etc.

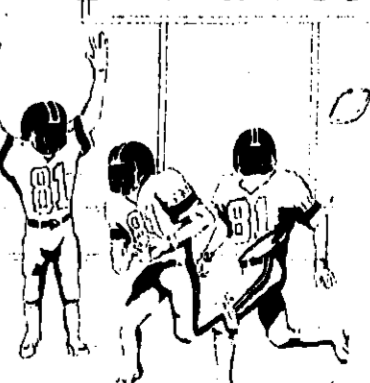

Prizes will be awarded in five different age groups on the basis of originality and creativity. The five age groups are, pre-school and kindergarten (A), grades 1-4 (B), grades 5-8 (C), grades 9-12 (D) and adults (E).

All winning bookmarks will be displayed during the library's anniversary celebration on Saturday, September 20, and one bookmark will be chosen to represent the library. The winning bookmark will be printed for use by patrons during Book Week in November.

Mrs. Brown noted that entries should be accompanied by name, address and category (A, B, C, D or E).

Judging will be done by members of the staff and the library board. Additional information on the bookmark contest and the 20th anniversary celebration is available by calling the library at 349-0720.

Summertime Christmas

Christmas came early this year for the Walled Lake Senior Citizens, and it looks like Santa's getting the presents this time. The seniors celebrated Christmas in August so individuals who can't negotiate ice-covered walkways in December wouldn't have to miss the Yule festivities. They did it up right, too; Christmas dinner was served with all the trimmings and carols were sung with gusto. Of course, Santa brought along his pack full of goodies. That's Lillian Byrd showing her appreciation with a kiss (left) and Ruth Wodolan whispering in the jolly man's ear. (Staff photo by John Galloway)

Walled Lake Community Ed offers wide slate of activities

Today when the school buses rolled around to collect the kids for their first day of classes, most parents probably heaved a sigh of relief. The late summer rush for school supplies and fall clothes is usually hectic and exhausting.

But early September — after the youngsters are limited to reminding them to the fall term offerings of the community education department. Brochures were mailed last week to area families and registrations for the sessions are being accepted now through September 22.

Guaranteed to appeal to just about everyone, the classes are a virtual grab-bag of delights. Sessions range in length from one meeting to 12 weeks long. Supplies required for the workshops vary according to subject, and most teachers are seasoned pros.

"WE PUT THE MAKINGS OF A DELICIOUS PORK DINNER INTO ALL THE SAUSAGE WE MAKE"

The best way to make sausage delicious is to make it with the best cuts of pork.

So at Bob Evans Farms, we don't settle for just the pork trimmings like some other companies do. Instead, we include all the choice fresh hams and tenderloins in every pound of sausage we make.

Then we limit the fat. So you get lean sausage that cooks up plump and tender every time. Not greasy.

And there's nothing artificial in Bob Evans Sausage. We use no preservatives.

So try Bob Evans Farms Sausage. Because our breakfast sausage is so meaty and delicious, it could even be the makings of your next dinner.

'Super Sophs' lead Western golf team

Steve Draheim leads the Warriors

It's the year of the sophomore for the Walled Lake Western golf team.

Nine Warriors were named to the varsity edition of John Fundukian's club last week, and seven were 10th-graders. But before you write off this year's team as inconsistent and inexperienced, hear Fundukian out.

"This is the nicest-looking group of sophomores I've had since I've been at Western," the veteran links coach states. "They all are eager to improve, and I think they have the chance to do just that."

One who looks a cinch to lower his 1979 scores is Steve Draheim, who made the varsity team last fall as a ninth-grader. Draheim's 44-plus average last year was the best among this season's returnees.

"He's got some real promise," Fundukian says. "He's probably the second-best young golfer I've ever had, after Randy Dixon. Steve's long game looks good right now, and his short game is also coming along. His future looks good."

Also getting the opportunity to play some varsity golf this year will be sophomores George Molinar, Jeff Fidler, Jeff Pierce, Mike Sorrentino, Chip Schultz and Craig Kimmel.

The rest of this year's varsity squad consists of a sophomore and a senior, Mike Bulgarelli, while the team's elder statesman is Fred Miller.

Miller — who, along with Draheim, is the only returning letter-winner this fall — averaged around 45 a year ago. There are no juniors on the 1980 squad, although Fundukian said Friday that he's "looking a few over."

As of now, though, there is an unusually high number of underclassmen on the squad. Consequently, Fundukian is realistic in terms of predicting his team's finish this year.

George Molinar is part of Western's 10th grade clan

Novi boys, girls strong

The diagnosis on this year's Novi boys' and girls' cross-country team from Coach Norm Norgren: So far, so good.

The veteran Wildcat boss has been encouraged by what he's seen in practices so far this fall. As a result, he's hoping the steady improvement shown by the clubs as last season progressed will continue into this season.

Novi's males finished with a 2-6 dual meet record for a fifth-place Kensington Valley Conference finish, but Norgren added that "we got a lot better as the season went on." Proof of the pudding was Craig Braue, the junior who surprised everyone by earning a medal at the state meet last year.

Braue tops list of eight returning Wildcat letter-winners in 1980. The senior is hoping to close — or erase — the distance between him and the number one man at the state meet (21 seconds last fall).

Joining Braue for this year's runs are two seniors and five junior lettermen. Jerry Rixie and Frank Somers are the 12th-graders.

Heading the juniors is Brian Jordan, who Norgren says has enjoyed "an exceptionally good camp." Also back are Jim Weber, Joe Fitzgerald, Mark Grimm and Sarbjit Aurora.

The high number of returnees is a good sign for Norgren, not to mention the others who are trying out for the varsity squad. The Wildcat pilot is quite pleased with the boys' turnout this fall, as the 18 who are currently on hand make it the biggest total ever.

"It's nice to see the interest," Norgren said. "It's very encouraging to me that more people want to run cross-country. It makes me feel even better when I see how some of them have been running."

The veteran boss, in fact, says that some of his boys who aren't returning letter-winners are running "extremely well." Included in that group are juniors Scott MacEachern and Dennis

Kick-off time arrives Friday

Football enthusiasts, a long summer of waiting is over.

Another high school grid season will officially open Friday night, kicking off another autumn of following your favorite teams. And ironically, all three local squads — Novi, Walled Lake Western and Walled Lake Central — will feature a new look that evening.

The Wildcats of John Osborne will be stalking a Kensington Valley Conference title from a new home site, as Novi has just erected an athletic facility at the high school. The team, which used to play its games at the old Novi High, will play its first game at the new facility Friday at 7:30 p.m. against the Chelsea Bulldogs.

Pre-game festivities celebrating the opening are slated for 7:15, and Novi school officials are thanking the community for its continued support of the school system by charging no admission.

Meanwhile, Walled Lake Western will kick off its 1980 campaign in the post-conference of the Frontier Silverdome. The Warriors of Chuck Apple, coming off a best-ever 5-3 season in '79, square off with the Skippers of Waterford Township at 6 p.m.

Spectators interested in seeing the Warriors start the 1980 campaign at the Silverdome can do so; themselves and the school a favor by purchasing tickets for the game. Tickets are available only in advance and prior to the game. Tickets for the Warriors' home game are $4.00, and for the away game $5.00. Tickets are available from the Skippers ticket office at the Silverdome, 6000 W. River Road, Waterford, Michigan. Tickets are also available from the Warriors' ticket office at the Novi High School, 1200 N. Main St., Novi, Michigan. For more details on the teams, see the special section in this week's News.

Big third inning carries Blues

An 11-run third inning helped push the blue all-stars past the red all-stars, 23-11, last Tuesday in Novi women's softball action.

The 11-run surge, which was helped along by four red team errors, shattered a three-all tie. Fox and Company's Sherrie LeFever and Lynn Bara, Bodytone/Country Place's Sue Brennan, Goat Farm's Pat Kaercher, Pit Stop's Janet Cook, O'Brien's Angels' Sue Thomas, Suburban-Rent-it's Dianne Scheppelle and Linda Tampir of Tru-Temp Heating all scored in that frame.

The blues went on to post six more markers in the top of the fourth to take a 30-4 lead, and the reds never got closer than a 12-run deficit in the rest of the way.

Bark and Brennan paced the winning club with five-for-five evenings. Each scored five times in the rout. In addition, Sally Larzelere of Suburban-Rent-it went four-for-five with three runs scored while Sue Thomas also had four hits and scored once.

Meanwhile, the losing team was paced by the four-for-four effort of Typewriter Shop's Carol Chamney. Progressive Tool's Chris Zerber belted an inside-the-park home run for the reds, and Dana Bauer (Goat Farm) and Pat Lutosky (Bodytone/Country Place) each were three-for-four and scored a run.

The winning team was managed by Mary Sobash.

Velarde, Shepherd take golf titles

Janice Velarde and Dick Shepherd are the ladies' and mens' champions in the Novi Parks and Recreation's 1980 summer adult golf league.

Velarde finished the season with a 386-point total, far outdistancing runner-up Nellie Parsons' 250 output. Velarde's eight handicap classification was also lowest among the women.

Finishing third behind Velarde and Parsons was Nancy Monroe, who tallied 235. Dolores Minch had a 220, good for fourth. Rounding out the top 10, in order, were Dorothy Hamilton and Judy Pamer, 180; June Strang, 170; Val McLucas, 160; and Charmagne Albers and Elise Novak, 150.

On the mens' side, Shepherd's 220 total was just enough to win. He nipped second place Ron Walk by five points, with Paul Pamer another five back at 210.

In fact, the top seven finishers in the mens' category finished five points apart. Carlos Gutierrez was fourth with a 205 score, followed by Gary Monroe, 200; Chuck Parsons, 195; and Ken Albers, 190.

Winter hockey action offered

Summer went by in a blink, and before you know it, we'll be saying the same thing about fall. That's why those of you who are thinking about playing hockey this winter should be advised that boys and girls will be offered the sport in Milford.

The sport is offered to males and females aged three to 18, and will take place at the Lakeland Arena. Other programs offered at the arena include figure skating lessons, mens' hockey tennis and senior citizen skating.

Registration forms for all programs are available at the arena office at 7330 Highland Road. Additional information is available at 666-1910.

Dr. LaLone of the Lakeland Hockey Association said that the group is trying to make the public aware that the Lakeland Arena is open and eager to help kids who are interested in sports.

Young athletes are being encouraged to try hockey at this time in particular because of the current cutbacks in athletic programs due to budget shortages in many school districts.

"Obviously, this is not a free sport like the schools offer," noted Mrs. LaLone, "but costs can be kept to a minimum by the number of kids involved and used equipment for sale at the beginning of the season."

of Pit Stop and coached by Don Fradette of Suburban-Rent-it and Jim Allen of Fox and Company. Other all-stars included Debbie Berg of Rent-it, Pit Stop's Chris Lakkivids, Marie Russell of O'Brien's Angels, Ultra Vans' Sherry Huismann and Kathy Muldoon, Stacey Hoger of Bodytone/Country Place, Sue Kolb of Tru-Temp Heating and MNB-West Oakland's Rene Carlson.

Managing the red team was Jan Edwards of Typewriter Shop. That team was coached by Dick Schaeffer of Fox and Company and Tru-Temp's Jody Johnson. Also playing for the reds were Typewriter Shop's Renee Farras and Mary Weber, Sherry Whalen and Cheryl Kazmierczek of Progressive Tool, Fox and Company's Kathy Diangelo, Kim McKee of Ultra Vans, Sherri Crowe of O'Brien's Angels, MNB-West Oakland's Terri Lloyd and Pat Pelavin, Cappy Birdwell of Tru-Temp, and Goat Farm's Kathy Ortwine.

SPORTS AND HEALTH

Whether your favorite sport is football, baseball, tennis, racketball or bowling one thing is for sure. Our bodies are exposed to stress and trauma. Tackling, swinging, jolting, colliding or sliding all can exert thousands of pounds of force on our spines causing spinal misalignments called subluxations. The nerve force that controls the body and its muscles flows from the brain down the spine to all parts of the body. The danger exists when a subluxation is choking off some of this nerve force causing health or body problems. The Chiropractor is a specialist in locating and correcting spinal subluxations.

SPORTS INJURIES CAN PRODUCE PARTIAL OR EVEN TOTAL DISABILITY. EARLY CHIROPRACTIC CARE IS ESSENTIAL TO MINIMIZE THESE EFFECTS.

BAD ELBOW - COULDN'T PITCH

"I was a pitcher for the Novi High School team when one day my elbow started hurting me. It was so bad that I couldn't pitch anymore. My parents were going to Dr. Doinidis for their health problems so they convinced me to go also. I am glad I did because two visits later I had no pain in my elbow and could pitch again. I recommend that anyone with sports problems visits Dr. Doinidis."

These coaches long ago developed a style all their own. Instead of telling you the obvious, they somehow come up with a deluge of tried-and-true cliches that wore out before Ohio State went to its first Rose Bowl.

"He tends to be over-aggressive" - (he's on loan from the math).

"We didn't run up the score. You can never get enough points against these guys." - (it couldn't happen to a nicer team).

"We're shooting for a .500 season" - (we've got a mediocre team, at best).

"We respect them, even if they haven't won a game yet" - (like a team come).

"Nobody will blow us out this season" - (we'll lose a lot, but we'll be close).

"The can't seem to make the big plays" - (we can't seem to stop choking).

"We lost a lot of starting seniors to graduation, but we've got a lot of good, young talent" - (turn out the lights).

 Reid Creager

Before putting my neck out on the line with predictions for this year's Sliger area football teams, I give you the case of Brian Martin, editor of the Brighton Argus at football time last year. Caught up in the fall frenzy, he proceeded to prognosticate the Kensington Valley Conference final standings even after admitting that he'd never seen any of the KVC clubs run a single play from scrimmage.

The results, were predictably unpredictable. Brian forecasts were almost the reverse of how things actually turned out. The reverse of how things turned out from any further verbal or physical abuse. (I wonder if he's picking Tampa Bay to go undefeated and win the Super Bowl?)

At any rate, for some masochistic reason, I've decided to follow Brian into the world of the unknown. And unlike my area teams in action, I've seen at least some of the Sliger football's American Conference Central Division last year.

Before you start calling your favorite bookie, though, be advised that I picked the Warriors to win the championship. They entered their first season in the Kensington Valley Conference a year ago knowing full well they'd have to struggle with schools like Brighton and Howell that had multiple winning seasons.

Now the Warriors are back for the 1980 season, and both have strikingly alike. The Lions and the Warriors both have most of their talent in the Sliger area teams that will come away with conference titles this autumn. The other club be the only two of the eight Sliger-area teams that will come to me as if South Lyon and Walled Lake Western will finish the top two in the American Conference Central Division last year.

Now the Warriors have picked the Champions to win the championship. They entered their first season in the Kensington Valley Conference a year ago knowing full well they'd have to struggle with schools like Brighton and Howell that had multiple winning seasons.

And that, coupled with the team's returning players, is enough to get anybody into a winning mood.

The Warriors, on the other hand, caught the winning spirit for members of a junior varsity team that went undefeated in 1979. And that, coupled with the team's returning players, is enough to get anybody into a winning mood.

This year, aided by the efforts of all-state running back candidate Augusto Bulzoni (1,101 yards gained in '79, averaging 5.9 yards per carry with nine touchdowns and only one fumble), Western looks ready for a title move.

Speaking of the Warriors, you'll notice that they're the only team in this year's football that have a team photo that includes the junior varsity squad (see page 16). That came about because of a policy of Western Coach Chuck Appap, who explained:

"The junior varsity football players are football players just like the guys on the varsity. Whether they get a lot of playing time or not, I always tell them that they'll at least get their picture in the paper with the rest of the team. I think they deserve at least that much."

Such a gesture is not uncommon for Appap, who has become a popular figure at the school for the way he treats his players and the reasons Appap has been successful in turning that football program around.

And finally, a wordabout thinking to football coaches. To facilitate me as how he can avoid saying what you know he's probably thinking.

Whitmore Lake TROJANS

Wednesday, September 3, 1980 - FOOTBALL PREVIEW - Page 21

Quarterback is key for Trojans

By JEFFREY LAPINSKI

The roar of cars and tractor trailers streaming by nearly drowned out the voice of George Housner as he ran part of the Whitmore Lake varsity football team through its drills.

There, on the football field nestled between US 23 and a section of residential housing, Housner worked out with all nine of his senior players. That's not just the senior defensive unit; those nine players are all the seniors on the team.

Where other coaches in the area worry about trimming their teams to 40 or 50 players, Housner only needs to think about the nine seniors, nine juniors and one sophomore which make up his Trojan squad.

The lack of players is not a new problem to Housner. When he took over as head coach of the Trojans last year, his team numbered in the teens and injuries shrunk the squad to an even smaller number.

While the Trojans only number 19 this year, Housner said he feels a lot better this year than he did last year, when Whitmore Lake managed to squeak out a 2-7 record in the Tri-County Conference.

"I've really got a good group of kids," Housner said as he watched his seniors run around the field. "I don't think I've got any quitters. I can't expect all 19 (players) to be with us at the end of the year."

One of the nine seniors Housner is expecting big things out of is Billy Wagner, a 140-pound all-around athlete. Housner said he will use Wagner at wing back and split end during the upcoming season as well placing him in other spots as needed.

"He's (Wagner) a tremendous all-around football player," Housner said. "He seems to get better every day."

Of his juniors, Housner said Bruce Luchs will be starting at center and is expected to anchor the offensive line along with senior Rob Givens. C.J. Baker, another junior, will be counted on to spark the Trojan's defensive effort.

The lone sophomore on the squad, Jim Robeson, will pull double duty as a running back and a middle linebacker. Robeson played on the junior varsity team last year, where he excelled in running, according to Housner.

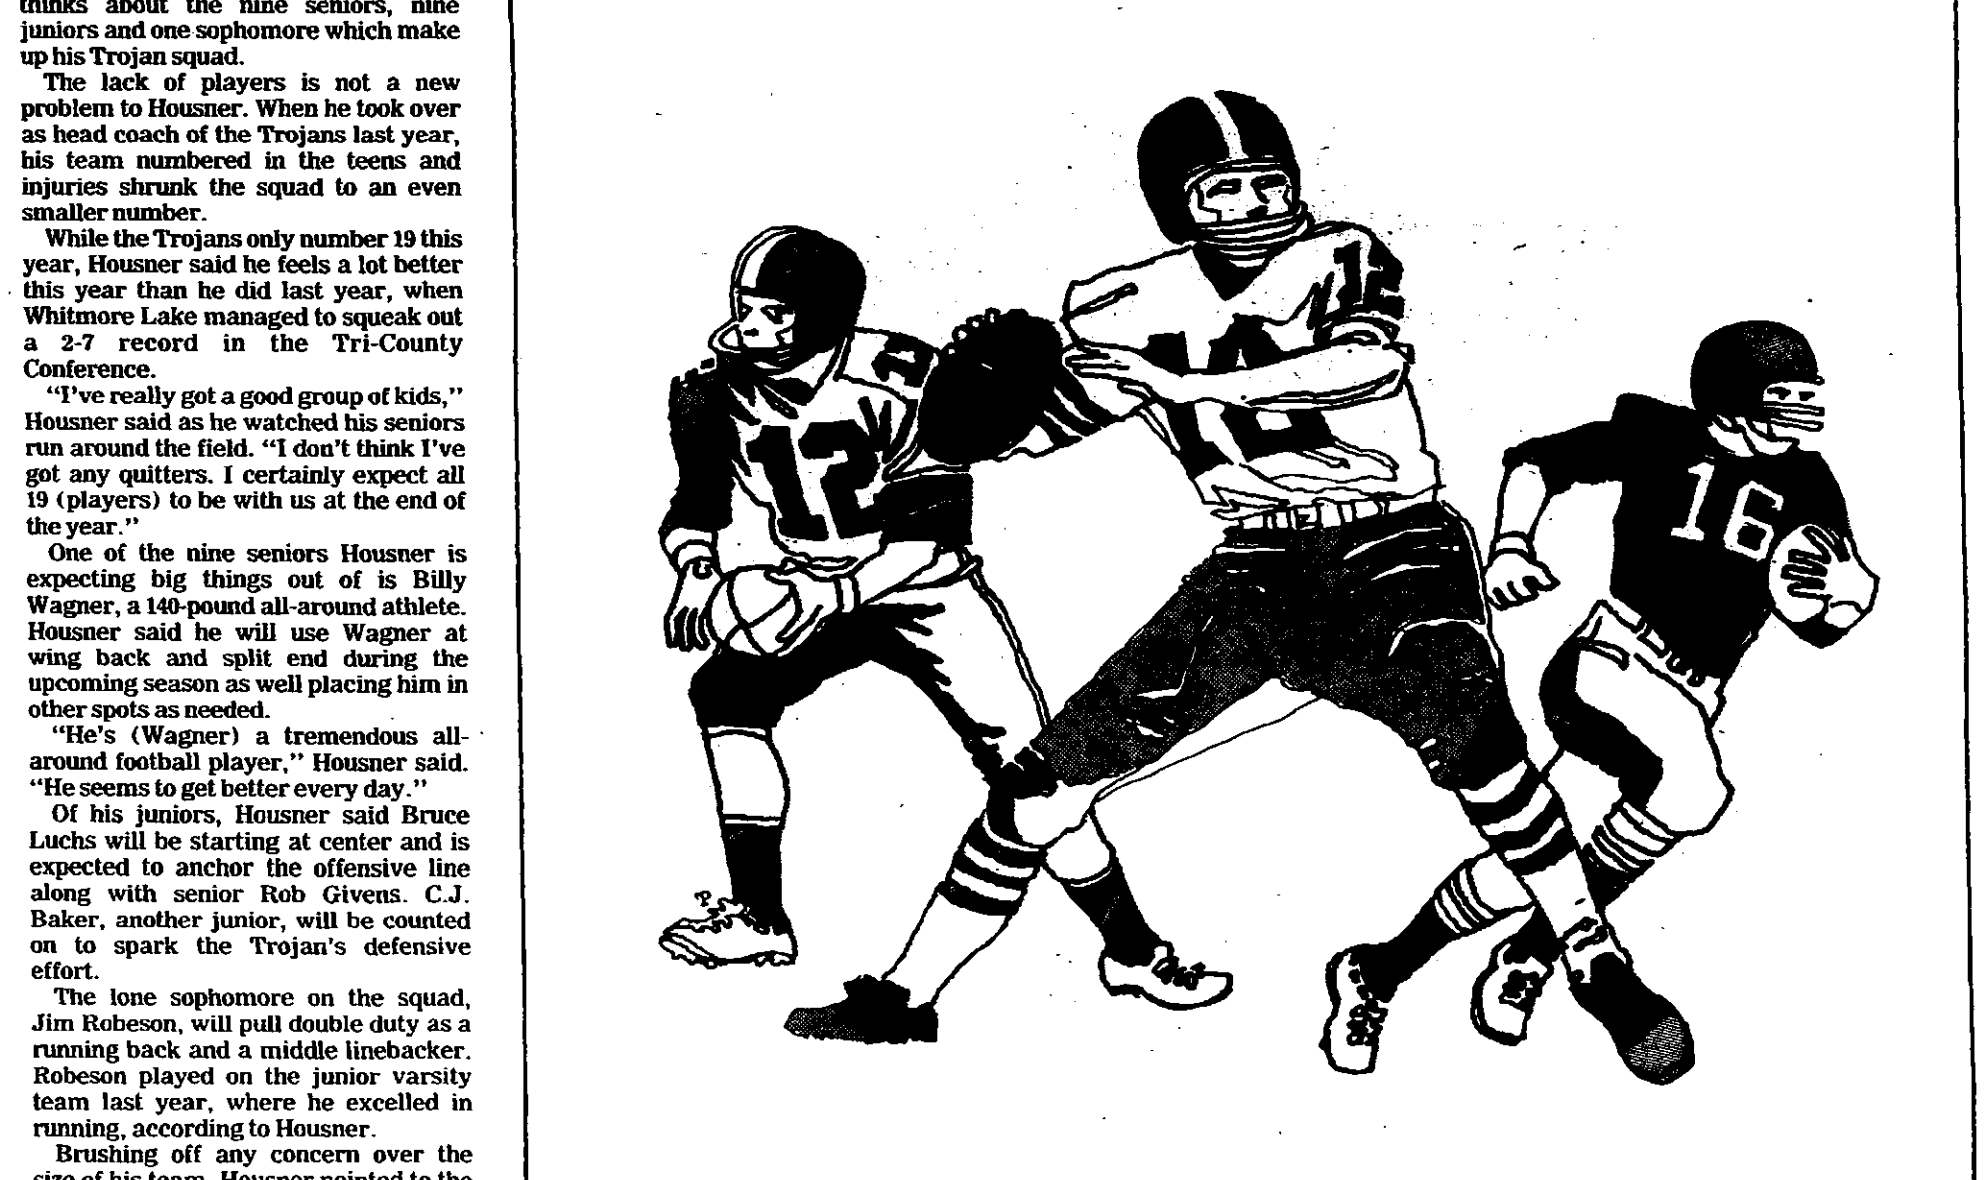

Brushing off any concern over the size of his team, Housner pointed to the quarterback's spot as the big question mark this season. "If we've got a problem at all, we've got a problem at quarterback," he said.

Losing last year's signal caller to graduation, Housner is working with two players for the key position—senior Steve Lowe and junior Richard Paul.

According to Housner, Lowe played back-up quarterback last year but needs to be consistent on the field this season. Paul, who played junior varsity last year, is expected to alternate with Lowe at the crucial position.

Asked what his team's strength was, Housner responded with defense. "It's something we worked a little harder on," he said, adding that the Trojans have always tended to perform a little better on defense.

Helping out Whitmore Lake's offensive effort will be Dave Richmond and Bob Groslick, who will be playing at tailback and light end, respectively.

We're backing you up.

John Van Sicken: A new era at Central

Van Sicken, Vikings show new look

There's a new look to Walled Lake Central's football team this fall — in more ways than one. The Vikings, meanwhile, will be a different team from the one that played last season.

Almost as important as the fact that Van Sicken is making the jump to the head coaching job is the fact that he is bringing with him a new coaching staff. Van Sicken's new staff includes assistant coaches Dave Greer, Tony Burgess, and Tom Kaufman. Van Sicken's new staff also includes assistant coaches Dave Greer, Tony Burgess, and Tom Kaufman.

Slam-bang chase expected

Entering the picture of the conference championship race is last year's runner-up, Waterford. The team, under new coach John Saam, is looking to improve on its performance from last season. The team's new coach, John Saam, is looking to improve on its performance from last season.

Foes plot to end Churchill reign

Prior to last year's opening game Livonia Churchill High School football coach Ken Kaestner was sure his squad would be able to repeat as Western Six Conference league champ.

He called his team "second division" compared to Walled Lake Western, Farmington Harrison and Northville.

But he was just being modest.

This year, with Churchill's 5-0 league sweep fresh in their memories, the other five league teams are bound and determined to strip the title from Churchill.

Western Six

"We are looking for five tough ball games this year," predicted. "This is the 10th anniversary of the league and every squad is greatly improved."

Churchill is always tough and with their all-league players back surely Harrison and Western will be in the running," Colligan forecast. "And I think the Western Six teams will do real well outside the league this year."

Northville also must be considered a contender. If its offensive line can open some holes for the talented Mustang running backs.

Senior quarterback Dave Greer is a big plus for Northville along with 20 other returning lettermen. As a junior Greer passed for 800 yards and ran for more than 350.

"If our offense line can come through we will have a potent offense," Colligan predicted.

And he is confident that his defense can handle all comers.

"We are big on front and we have a lot of strength," Colligan said. "We are expecting some good things from our defense."

Walled Lake Warriors

Warriors want it all in 1980

Angelo Buttazoni: Gunning for more records

Third-year Walled Lake Western Head Football Coach Chuck Apap says his club has three goals for for the upcoming season.

"Number one, I want us to go out there every game and do everything we possibly can to win," Apap says, "and have fun doing it. Number two, I'd like to see us win the Western Six Conference. Number three, I'd like us to play our first game in the Silverdome this year."

The Warriors will have a dogfight on their hands to make goals number two and three happen, and they just may be able to pull off a conference win as well as a taste of post-season action — with the team they've got in 1980. Apap, in fact, puts it this way:

"In my 11 years of coaching," the peppy pilot says, "this is the strongest team I've had the pleasure to coach. And besides, they're individuals of high quality — they work hard and never complain."

Indeed, Western looks on paper to be tougher than the 1979 team that finished 6-3. Perhaps as impressive as the club's contagious spirit is its depth.

"We can go with 22 players and still have another eight or nine who can really play," Apap says. "We've got juniors here who are pushing seniors who started last year."

The Warrior coach points to his backfield as an example of that depth. Linebacking will be, among others, all-league pick Shell and senior Mike Xenos (6-0, 190), another returning starter. Tozzi and Burke, both safeties, anchor the defensive secondary.

Burke will also handle the punting chores — as can Day — while Xenos will handle the kicks. Imms has shown promise in the latter category also.

All in all, Apap virtually gushes with enthusiasm about this year's prospects.

"There's no telling what this group of young men can do," he says. "The only hard part for me will be keeping them all happy. But I'll take that problem."

That's not to say that his club's unbeatable, though. Apap concedes that there's still plenty of work to be done; he'll even go so far as to say that his team has weaknesses. What they are, though, he's not revealing.

"That's for the other coaches to find out," he says.

Because of the tremendous changes projected for the '80's in the automotive field, the importance of a well trained mechanic, is essential for the repair and maintenance of automobiles and trucks in this decade. Realizing the importance of this challenge to the teachers of our school's automotive classes, the managers and employees of KNIGHTS AUTO PARTS STORES in co-operation with many leading manufacturers of automobile products welcome this opportunity to embark on a program of incentives for our young people.

Whereby each school's automotive instructor will select his outstanding student mechanic each month. This award issued by the instructors will honor the students' efforts and achievements. These awards will be published each month in this paper by KNIGHTS AUTO PARTS STORES.

Lions on prowl for another title

By PAUL MAGUIRE

Dan Skatka is three for three in the coaching department, and his Lions look strong to continue his string of league championships at South Lyon. Skatka has coached the Lions since 1978, and has won the South Lyon League Championship in 1977, 1978, and 1979.

Skatka said a final starting roster has not been decided yet, but some of the players who will be in the starting lineup are Dan Skatka, Jim Zacher, Paul Maguire, and Ed Tomlin. Skatka said the Lions are working on their offense and defense, and he expects to have a strong team this year.

Kellogg Park is filled up on Sundays as the Plymouth Rotary serves 16,000 chicken dinners from noon to 6 p.m. (Staff photo)

Sunday, Sept. 7
People still flock to Plymouth on Sundays of the Plymouth Fall Festival each year to watch 16,000 meals being served in six hours.
The attraction is the annual chicken barbecue sponsored by the Rotary Club of Plymouth from noon to 6 p.m. in Kellogg Park.
For those unable or unwilling to dine in the park, the Rotary Club operates a take-out site at the corner of Sheldon and Ann Arbor roads from 1:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Sunday.
For $3.50 per person, each diner receives a half-chicken (particed with 25 years experience), an ear of corn, chips and beverage.
Sunday visitors to the festival can take a stroll down Penniman Avenue from Main to Harvey to view the antique exhibit. This year, 70 cars will be on exhibit from noon to 5 p.m.
THE COSTUME Contest, sponsored by the American Association of University Women (AAUW) of Plymouth, will be held from 1:30-2 p.m. at the handsell in Kellogg Park, with winners being called up on stage from 3:10-3:30 p.m. Sunday.
Another highlight will be the produce judging and exhibit at Central Middle School Church at Main.

Especially for you
This guide to the Plymouth Fall Festival is especially prepared for people who plan to attend one or all of the days of the four-day event.
In the middle of the section you will find a two-page schedule with a map showing the location of major events. Readers are intended to make the Fall Festival more enjoyable for you. The section was planned by advertising coordinator Ed-dry Root and editorial coordinator Ter-t Banas.
Also included in the festival guide are:
We hope you will do the same in 1980.
We hope you save this guide because it is intended to make the Fall Festival more enjoyable for you. The section was planned by advertising coordinator Ed-dry Root and editorial coordinator Ter-t Banas.

hosted by the Plymouth Kiwanis Club followed by a beef rib dinner by the Plymouth Jaycees. And Sunday is the greatest eating extravaganza of all as some 16,000 barbecue chicken dinners is served in six hours from noon on by the Plymouth Rotary in Kellogg Park.
The Plymouth Symphony League will be sponsoring an antique mart Friday, Sunday at the Plymouth Community Cultural Center. The Plymouth Community Arts Council offers an arts and crafts show on Saturday and Sunday at Central Middle School for a donation of $1.
A square dance begins 7:30 p.m. Friday on Penniman Avenue, the Plymouth Optimist Club Pet Show starts 9 a.m. Saturday, the Big Band Dinner Saturday from 8:30-10 p.m., produce judging Sunday at Central Middle School and an antique auto exhibit Sunday on Penniman Avenue. The Plymouth American Association of University Women also will have its annual costume judging contest Sunday at the handsell in Kellogg Park.
Inside this section, readers will find schedules of specific events with times and locations, plus more information on Plymouth's four-day Fall Festival. The Fall Festival Board will have an information booth on Main Street between Ann Arbor Trail and Penniman Avenue to aid visitors.

The Three Cities Art Exhibit always attracts interest on the Main Street side of Kellogg Park. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

Established in 1956
and still growing strong.

That's number 25 coming up, Plymouth.
In fact, our Fall Festival is one of the oldest community events of its kind around.
But more important, each year it's a reflection of that very special quality of life we're all working for in our hometown.

In short, our Fall Festival isn't just getting older or simply getting bigger every year. It's getting better, just the way Plymouth is getting better all the time. So congratulations to our fellow old-timers. And welcome to all you newcomers. Have a great Fall Festival!

Antique Car Show

An antique automobile display will be one of the features Sunday for festival visitors from noon to 5 p.m. on Pennington Avenue. The cars are expected, and there should be something for everyone. Anyone who wants to display an antique or classic car should show up from 10 a.m. to noon Sunday. Some of the types of vehicles to be on display are a 1937 Ford convertible, a couple of antique fire trucks, antique Ford trucks, classic cars from the '20s and '30s, and a 1966 and '68, and post-war birds from the '50s and Corvettes from the '60s, and post-war Ford sport cars, foreign sport cars from the '50s and '60s, and special interest cars.

Saturday, Sept. 6

Wake up Saturday morning, drive into downtown Plymouth, and find the Masonic Temple on Pennington Avenue across from Kellogg Park. There'll be a long line in front for the pancake breakfast, but the line will move along pretty fast. Members of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club will be serving pancakes from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m. and as diners can get some hearty barbecue beef hot off the coals in Kellogg Park between the Masonic Temple and the Penn Theatre.

Saturday is a great day for the kids, too, as the Plymouth Optimist Club's annual pet show will be held from 9-11:30 a.m. at the bandshell in Kellogg Park.

For a scene out of the past, festival-goers will want to watch the firemen's waterball fight involving the departments from the city of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Canton, Salem, Northville and other nearby communities.

Sounds out of the past will be heard Saturday from 8:30-10 p.m. as a dance featuring the big band Plymouth Community Arts Council (PCAC), at Center Street and a jazz band, sponsored by the Plymouth Community Arts Council (PCAC), at Center Street.

Another Saturday highlight is the opening of the art and crafts show, sponsored by the Plymouth Community Arts Council (PCAC), at Center Street.

Preparing packages keeps Kiwanis busy Saturday morning and until 5 p.m. Saturday in the Masonic Temple. (Staff photo by Gary Caskey)

Thursday, Sept. 4

Each day of the Plymouth Fall Festival is special in its own way. Thursday is, of course, opening day. And if opening day 1980 is like the past 24 years, it should be a good day to attend the festival for those who don't like to get lost in the crowds.

Traditionally, the turnout to the festival is lowest on Thursday as the crowds pick up momentum as the four-day event marches towards Sunday.

And so Thursday is a great time to visit all the booths, sample the goodies, take the kids on the pony and train rides, visit the flea market, and get a good flavor of what the Fall Festival is all about.

This year, Thursday also is a special day because opening ceremonies have been planned that evening in Kellogg Park. Because this is the silver anniversary of the Fall Festival, the special opening ceremonies have been planned at the bandshell from 7-8 p.m.

IN BETWEEN, though, festival-goers will want to have lunch with the Grange and dinner with the Kiwanians. Home cooking and homemade baked goods offer a great fare for diners in the Grange Hall on Union immediately north of Pennington Avenue near the northeast corner of Kellogg Park.

And then from 4-9 p.m., the Colonial Kiwanis Club of Plymouth will sponsor its annual spaghetti dinner in the park with the serving line being along Pennington from Union to Main.

For out-of-town visitors, most of the meals are served at or near Kellogg Park, which is in the heart of Plymouth at Ann Arbor Trail and Main Street (Plymouth Road).

Arts, crafts, good food is found at the Grange

A four-day arts and crafts sale and a lot of good home cooking will be the Plymouth Grange's contribution to the 1980 Plymouth Fall Festival.

Fourteen craft booths selling candles, flower arrangements, needlework, ceramics and many Christmas items will be at the Plymouth Grange Hall at 273 Union near Pennington Avenue.

The times of the arts and crafts sale are from noon to 8 p.m. on Thursday, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, and from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday. There is no admission charge.

The Grange Hall also is a good location to enjoy some homemade cooking and baked goods for lunch or snacks. Soups, sandwiches and homemade pies and doughnuts will top the menu for lunch and dinner each day of the festival.

The Plymouth Grange is the oldest continuing Grange Hall in Wayne County, and each year is a center for good homemade cooking and baking for the Plymouth Fall Festival.
