While denying any liability in the matter, the Novi school board members have reluctantly agreed to pay $10,000 in order to dispose of a lawsuit brought against them by ousted Special Education Director Patrick K. Best.

Board members voted unanimously to approve the out-of-court settlement after meeting in executive session with their attorney Thursday.

Although board members denied all charges brought against them in the suit, Best's attorney Patrick Bruetsch, when contacted after the meeting, viewed the settlement as a victory.

He characterized the settlement as 'just compensation for the wrongful termination of my client."

The offer is expected to be accepted by Best, enabling the courts to dismiss the suit against the schools, former Superintendent Gerald Kratz and individual board members.

In the suit, Best sought $1 million in damages, reinstatement and full back pay. He claimed exercising his right to ed trial which would tie up adfree speech by pointing out alleged mishandling of special education funds cost him his job.

Under terms of the agreement included in a motion made by Trustee Joel Colliau, the suit will be settled "for $10,000 of which the Novi schools will pay $3,000 (an insurance company will pay $7,000) when it has received a signed release of all claims against all those named in the suit, and containing an expressed disclaimer of all liability."

In addition former Superintendent Gerald Kratz has agreed to drop a counter suit brought against Best for allegedly libeling the suprintendent.

A break in the investigation came last summer when an eye witness - Tommy LaPlante - came forward with information regarding the incident.

Testimony at Smith's preliminary examination revealed that Ostwald was taken to the field and killed by a blow to the head with a tire iron for $105 he was carrying.

The youth and his parents were visiting relatives in Novi when he disappeared. He had been in the country just 11 days. He was last seen alive on August 23, 1979 in the Farmington Fun Factory, a pinball arcade at Ten Mile and Grand River in Farmington Hills.

According to testimony the youth left willingly to go for a ride with Smith and LaPlante. While driving it was decided they would go to the field in Washtenaw County on the pretense of looking for a motor bike which had been left there.

Although the youth first said he did not want to look for the bike, he was convinced he would face a long wait in the car and decided to enter the field, according to testimony. After he began the search for the bike he was attacked

Smith first knocked the youth out with a wooden club, then returned to the unconscious body with a tire iron and beat the German youth, according to testimony. In a pathologist report at the preliminary exam, it was learned the youth died as a result of a blow to the head with a blunt instrument. Two broken areas with 1.5 to 1 inch holes were found in the skull.

Ostwald was dead for approximately two months before his body was found. Indentification was made possible by comparing the teeth of the body with dental records from Germany.

Sisterly advice

When Greg Belliston, 4, didn't seem to get the hang of making his crayon transfer sister Lisa, 7, took things in hand and showed him exactly how it's done. With the outline drawn by big sister and an admonishment to "color this," Greg was soon on his way. The youngsters were participating in one of the weekly Saturday Special programs sponsored by Novi Public Library. Children's Librarian Jane Brown demonstrated crayon transfers — coloring on paper and then ironing the picture onto cloth — in Saturday's craft class. Flu season

Student absentee rates reach 15 percent in three Novi schools

If you ask how hard Novi is getting hit by the flu season, you're likely to get a variety of answers.

Principals at Middle School North, Middle School South and Village Oaks Elementary report a high number of flu-related absences. But attendance at Novi High School, Orchard Hills and Novi Woods elementaries is reported to be normal for this time of year.

Officials at the Novi Providence Center say the number of flu cases peaked near the holidays and has been dropping ever since.

In the schools, Middle School North Principal Paul LePlae reported Monday that 75-80 students were absent nearly double the usual number of absentees.

There are 582 fifth and sixth graders enrolled at the north school, for an absentee rate of 15 percent, he reported.

"Last week we had a lot of fifth graders out. This week it looks like the number of absences in the sixth grade is high. The illness appears to be more concentrated and lasts over a longer period of time," LePlae said.

He said his students have exhibited symptoms of two kinds of flu. One strain is stomach flu with vomiting and diarrhea symtoms, while the second strain is what he calls body flu where students are tired and feverish. Infected students have been out on the average of three to five days, the principal noted.

LePlae said he believes it will be another week before the flu runs its course through the North Middle Middle School South Principal out Monday, approximately nine per-Charles Nanas reports his school also has been hard hit this flu season.

"Last week was unusual, because early in the week we had 90-100 kids out - that's about three times the normal rate. Monday of last week kids were coming to school, but we probably sent 15-20 kids home that day. By Thursday absences were cut back to 54. That's still more than normal. This time of year there are usually about 30 kids out with illness. And now it looks like the absences are going back up."

Nanas reported that 61 students were absent Monday, or approximately 11 percent of his 534 students. Early last week nearly 17 percent of the Middle School South students were ill.

"We're not super-concerned yet, but we are monitoring it closely. The secretary notes why the students are absent and almost everyone is out because of the flu."

He said this appears to be the second week of the flu outbreak, so he expects at least one more week of the illness.

Village Oaks Principal Dave Brown reported the number of illnesses there are "very high." Monday there were 42 children out of school and 52 students were absent Tuesday. Most of those absences were "flu-related," according to Brown.

"This is the most students we've had out all year," Brown said. He noted that absenteeism at Village Oaks hit 15 percent on Tuesday.

But at the other three school buildings absences were running about

At Novi Woods there were 32 students cent of the students enrollment. Principal Roy Williams said there has been no more illness at Novi Woods than is normal for this time of year.

"We could still get hit, but so far our flu season," Williams said. Orchard Hills Principal Joseph Im-rick reported that only 15 of his 380 students were absent on Tuesday, and only four of those were flu-related absences. Dr. Robert Youngberg, principal at

Novi High School, reported much the same. "At this time of year we usually see flu and colds, but I haven't seen absences in any alarming numbers this year." Officials with the Oakland County Health Department say there is no hard and fast rule for when a school district should close due to the flu. The department's policy is that it recommends closing when "flu is significantly prevalent and is responsible for absenteeism and if it interferes with the effective operation of the schools. There is no significant advantage to the health of staff or students in closing the schools, so closings are not a public flu. health decision, but is left up to the school authorities."

Superintendent Robert Piwko is out of town and could not be reached for experienced in several of the schools.

Assistant Superintendent William rate of 10 percent is normal, but the figure varies from building to building. He noted that in his previous experience it is not until the districtwide absences hit 20 percent that individual buildings are closed.

"It doesn't appear this will get worse. but it is a situation we will continue to monitor. Another key is the number of teachers who are out. Just two weeks students have been healthy during this ago we were having trouble getting substitutes — we're not in that situation now." Barr said.

Meanwhile, at Providence Novi officials said that just before Christmas and throughout the holiday season a large number of flu cases were reported. But the number of cases has dropped.

Dr. Merle Rydesky said that illness can be attributed to an influenza strain - one of the hundreds of thousands of flu strains which exist. In this climate people are hit with one strain or another every year.

Symptoms are pains in the joints, chest congestion, temperature, chills or fever, cough, respiratory problems, vomiting and sometimes diarrhea.

Aspirin or Tylenol can be given to combat a fever. Drink fluids (chicken soup, for example) and rest in bed, he reccommends. Three to five days is usually needed to fully recover from the

The disease is spread when the virus is coughed or sneezed into the air, Rydesky said.

This year the strain most commonly comment regarding the flu epidemic attacking Novi residents appears to be affecting the upper respiratory system. A large number of people have suc-Barr said that a district-wide absentee cumbed to pneumonia and bronchitis,

Sewer back-up closes Twelve Oaks restaurant

An improperly connected sewer line in Twelve Oaks Mall backed up last week, causing Pedro's Restaurant to be closed until repairs are completed, according to an Oakland County Health Department official.

A kitchen water sewer line, accidently hooked to a storm water sewer when the restaurant was opened in March, became clogged with grease, resulting in Thursday's backup, reported Keith L. Krinn. Environmental Health Con-

When the problem was discovered late Thursday evening a contractor was called. The clean out operation which involved letting out the blocked sewer line took 18 hours, reported William Clogg, manager of Twelve Oaks Mall.

Cleaning the line did not damage the mall, but plumbing repairs will require removing a portion of the floor in the restaurant in order to reach the pipes, basin.

'There were no damages — the water used was pumped out with vacuum

He went on to say that a combination of circumstances resulted in the plugged line and "no one is at fault."

"There is an obligation to keep the grease trap clean that goes into the operation of a restaurant. It wasn't cleaned properly and the grease got into the line," Clogg said.

The problem first became noticeable when the trees in Penny's Court started drooping. Those trees are connected to a small storm sewer line which drains off the excess when the trees are watered. The line for the trees should be connected to a larger storm water sewer which carries the drainage from the mall parking lot to a retention

Through an apparent miscalculation when the restaurant plumbing was installed, a sanitary sewer line was contrucks as they finished with it," Clogg nected to the tree's storm drain. The restaurant line was connected to a dish washer, sink, floor drains and a grease trap. Since the lowest point in the line was the trees, that is where the water backed up.

> Krinn said that after examining the restaurant's plumbing, it appeared as if the line was improperly connected because the sanitary and storm sewer lines appear identical. He noted two small mall stores were converted into one to get a facility of the right size for the restaurant.

> Although it is expected the sewage running into the storm drain worked its way into the mall's retention pond, Krinn said he does not expect any adverse environmental impacts as a result of the mix-up.

Krinn explained there is grey water sewage - like that from the restaurant sinks, dishwasher and floor drains, and black water sewage which contains human waste and similar impurities.

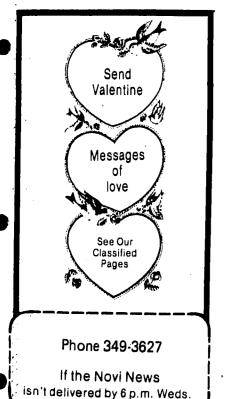

"The toilets from the restaurant were properly connected, so the only sewage into the storm drains was grey water sewage," Krinn said.

To make sure no contamination took place, the Department of Natural Resources has been asked to monitor the rentention pond, Krinn said.

On the bright side - it looks like the trees will live. Clogg reported the trees were removed from their containers, the dirt was replaced and the trees were then replanted. "All the horticulture experts we've talked to said there should be no negative effects on the trees since it was primarily a dish water back up and the dirt has been replaced." Clogg said.

Bulgarelli, a long-time Walled Lake attorney, began serving his eight-year term on the 52nd District Court bench two weeks ago. And took his place full-time in the Never mind that Bulgarelli has been a practicing lawyer for 19 years. Life on the other side of the bench is guaranteed to be an educational experience for the "Sure, I've been a practicing attorney for almost 20 years. But a practicing attorney is totally obscure to what the judge is doing," said Bulgarelli, explaining that an attorney's sole concern is for his client. Bulgarelli has already begun the transition from one side of the bench to the other through a Lansing program established for new state judges. The 52nd District Court's newest judge was among those who picked up pointers at the Michigan Judicial Institute during a one-week session.

Bulgarelli doesn't expect the going will be easy early in his term. Attorneys that he practiced alongside will probably stand before the bench and test his judicial

"A judge should always be in charge of the court," he said, projecting what he believes will be one of his fundamental duties. "I'll be tested." But persistency and consistency will be pursued during Bulgarelli's pro-

"I plan on taking the bench at 9 o'clock and letting people know I'm here, even if the attorneys in a case decide to spend the first half-hour talking," Bulgarelli adds. "You've got to let people know what you're doing, not sit in your chambers until 9:45 until the attorneys are done." However, there remains an important ideal that Bulgarelli hopes to never lose sight of - life as an attorney. "A lot of attorneys have said to me, 'Harold, don't forget you once were an attorney.' That's something I've thought about putting right here so I can remember it," Bulgarelli says, pointing to a spot on the bench top. The change from private practice to district court judge will mean a different, but not necessarily better, distribution of his time. For Bulgarelli, his new role will mean better understanding the system he is now a significant part of and spreading himself between 11 municipalities.

From the outset, and throughout his campaign, Harold Bulgarelli has insisted that the district court is a "people's court." It is, he observes, usually the average citizen's first encounter with the American judicial system. "The thing I'm looking forward to most is the help I can be. In order to gain respect, you've got to give respect. And I expect to do that in the courtroom.

"You may be firm, but you should be compassionate." But Bulgarelli has almost a respect of the apprehensions he has. Above all other hings, even personal threats he might receive, Bulgarelli confesses to being most fearful of sentencing people.
"Sometimes, I don't think fines do anything," the judge said. "I'm very interested in alternative sentencing and giving the community service. "If I find out a youngster is going to church. I may say, 'Meet for two hours with your pastor' — along with some other service to the community." Bulgarelli makes it clear there are many things he will have to consider when deliberating a sentence — the victim, and effects a particular crime has had on that victim, will be vital parts. "I would be as concerned about the victim — as much as about the accused...If

Novi council okays sewage rate increase

New rates for users of the sewer system serving northern Novi which will bring quarterly rates to $58.75 per customer were approved by the Novi City Council Monday

City Manager Edward Kriewall told the council that the $34.75 per quarter increase per customer which is being required by Oakland County has been investigated and not unreasonable. Previously, residents were charged $24 for sewage treatment. That rate will be increased to $34.75. Residents also pay a $24 debt service fee which goes toward paying off the community's share of the construction of the plant. "What we're seeing with this increase is an attempt to adjust the central administration costs for each of the county's sewage treatment plants so they more accurately reflect the amount of administrative work required by each plant," Kriewall said.

He explained that up until this year administrative fees were charged to each sewage

City lowers offer for Prescott land

A lakefront property owner raised the price of his parcel and the city lowered its offer in the on-going negotiations over property that now dates back to

Walled Lake's City Council unanimously approved a motion to offer John B. Prescott $40,000 cash for his lakefront site adjacent to the city's Mercer

Mayor Gaspare LaMarca read a letter from Prescott informing council that he had raised the price during the January 6 council session. "He will now take $50,000." LaMarca told his colleagues. "He has now raised his price."

Council members said they decided on the lower offer because in their opinion Prescott was anxious to sell the property and the city apparently is the only interested buyer. The city offered Prescott $46,000 in September en he made the property available for $55,000 Prescott dropped his offer to approximately $50,000. But the city still was not satisfied and dropped out of the bidding. The offers and counteroffers have continued to fly between Prescott and the city since that time. In November, the council failed to muster the necessary five votes to purchase the lakefront parcel for $46,000. Four of six council members favored the purchase, but Council Member William Roberts, then campaigning for state representative, was absent during the ballot counting. Roberts had supported the purchase previously. Some city officials speculated that Prescott may have made an offer to Robert Sukenik, developer of the proposed Watersview Inn to be located in the former Car Store dealership on Walled Lake Drive. Sukenik's property is immediately north of

City Attorney Richard Poehlman has assured council he could make the city's last offer to Prescott without five votes. If Prescott accepts and the city needs to enter into a formal agreement, then the five-vote total would be necessary.

If purchased the property would probably be used to expand the lakefront recreation area. A public access site has also been discussed for boat launching on the parcel.

Property rezoned to light industrial

The Walled Lake Plan Commission has agreed to recommend that city council rezone a segment of property on West Maple Road between Decker and Welch roads from general commercial (C-1) to light industrial (I-1) in order to bring the zoning of the existing businesses on the strip in line with

The decision was reached after Winston Hill, owner of Winston's Towing, asked the commissioners in December to recommend his property be rezoned to the industrial classification. Hill, who purchased the lot recently, was unable to obtain a variance from the zoning board of appeals (ZBA) to conduct his business under the commercial classification. Instead, the ZBA advised Hill to

SPECIALS ALL THREE LOCATIONS seek rezoning. When Hill approached the plan commission with the ZBA's decision, Plan Consultant Tod Kilroy (Joy-Hix Shopping Center) (Corner Cherry Hill) told commissioners that the strip of land Hill's lot was located on had originally been zoned industrial but had been changed several years ago by the city 41652 W. 10 Mile in order to be consistent with existing zoning along Maple Road from Decker to Pontiac Trail. According to Kilroy, most of the property owners along West Maple between Welch and Decker rpads operate their businesses under nonconforming use variances. A laundromat, gas station and apartment building all operate there as ANY COMBINATION AND GET non-conforming businesses, he said.

Commissioner Mickey New questioned why the parcel had not been changed back to I-1 if that was how the property was being used and asked whether the entire area could be rezoned. The commission later moved to conduct a public hearing on proposed rezoning of the entire section, in addition

Following last week's public hearing on the proposal, commissioners voted to recommend council approve the suggested change.

treatment plant based on the amount of sewage

However, it was found that each plant requires a certain amount of administrative costs regardless of its size or the amount of sewage treated. For that reason larger treatment plants in the county were absorbing a greater share of the administrative costs than they should, Kriewall explained. Over the next three years, rate increases designed to recover funds from those plants which were not contributing the proper amount for central administrative costs will be in effect.

Mayor Romaine Roethel pointed out that if the roads are paved they must be built to city standards in order to insure that they last. "We don't want any false pretenses that we would build a road that is not up to our standards."

Commerce eyes office proposal A proposal from Manfacturers Bank of Novi to rezone a 4.6-acre site from single-family residential to office moved one step closer to approval last Tuesday as the Commerce Township Board passed a resolution making the request eligible for further The rezoning request will be considered at a future board meeting.

Manfacturers is proposing to construct a bank and adjacent office development on the northwest corner of Union Lake and Commerce roads. The roperty is currently under option to be purchased

A bank official present at the board meeting said his firm found the traffic flow past the site ideal, a significant factor in the competitive market. In addition, the bank spokesperson said he was not opposed to developing only the corner site for his firm. But Oakland Development, which owns the parcel, has reportedly told the bank the 4.6-acre parcel is the minimum it will sell. Trustee Paul Collom, who cast the sole dissen ting vote, said he believed the bank should consider ther sites in the township already zoned for office

"There's a lot of office (zoned land) available a Richardson and Union Lake roads." Collom told his colleagues. "At the present time, the master blan shows this site as residential and I feel there's ample office zoning available." Both Trustees Edward Holmes and Bruce En-

He observed that Plannng Commission Chairman George Allard lives in the adjacent subdivision and did not raise many o the arguments against the development that Col-

"If I was going to build a house, it wouldn't be at that corner," Enfield said, adding that developnent of a bank would be more advantageous. A motion to send the request back to the planning ommission failed by a close 4-3 vote. Collom Robert Long and Patrick Dohany cast ballots favoring the action.

County park usage increases

Attendance in the Oakland County Parks rose some 12 percent in 1980 reaching a record of more han one million visitors. A total of 1,040,276 people visited the parks in 1980 compared to 913,528 in 1979.

The largest increase came at day-use facilities where camping, picnicking, tennis and swimming are popular. These figures grew by some 20 per More than 741,000 people visited day-use parks in 1980 compared to nearly 589,000 in 1979. R. Eric Reickel, Oakland County Parks Commis sion manager, attributed the steady annual rise in park attendance to people seeking leisure opportunities close to home. "Our parks are nearby so cost-conscious families are visiting Oakland County Parks instead of driving long distances for recreation," said Reickel. All of the Oakland County Parks can be reached from any part of the county within 35 to 45 minutes. Golf course use also rose by some eight percent. More than 200,000 golfers played the Oakland County Parks courses during 1980. Reickel projected that park use figures would continue to increase during 1981 as a result of rising energy costs. "Higher gas prices will mean that people will be seeking inexpensive leisure pursuits loser to home," he said.

citizens committee which will study the financial status of the Walled Lake School District appeared to get off to a slow start last Thursday.

Although Superintendent Don Sheldon outlined the district's financial plight, it appeared that little enthusiasm was generated for the formation of a committee that will make recommendations as to how the impending shortage of revenues should be handled.

For the record, the economic picture shapes up something like this. The Walled Lake Schools anticipate a deficit budget of some $1.057 million during the current school year. That's not the problem, however, because the 1980-81 deficit will be covered by the fund equity (savings) account more books for the libraries? which currently stands at $1.54

The real problem comes during the 1981-82 school year when there is a projected deficit of $815,800. The projected 1981-82 budget is an "iffy" proposition because there are just too many unknowns at this point in time.

For example, the 1981-82 budget projects increases in the cost of supplies, heat, electricity, gasoline and outside services (atstorneys, auditors, etc.). It also programs and no change in staff-

Perhaps more important is what the projected 1981-82 budget does not include. Specifically, it does not include any wage increases for school employees beyond the regular incremental

And, since personnel costs make up approximately 80 percent of the district's expenditures, the upcoming negotiations with various employee groups will have a profound effect on the 1981-82 budget.

For example, a one percent increase in wages for all district employees equates to $170,000. If employees negotiate new con-tracts this year which call for a seven percent increase, the total cost to the district will be approximately $1.2 million.

Add that $1.2 million figure to the projected deficit of $816,000 and you have a total deficit of approximately $2 million.

Further, the fund equity account at the end of 1980-81 will stand at approximately $500,000 - an amount far too low to cover the projected $816,000 deficit in 1981-82, much less the possible $2 million deficit.

There appear to be just two alternatives: raise more money (boost the millage) or make cuts in program and staff.

The Walled Lake Schools have tried to warn citizens of the mittee gives the "loyal opposiimpending budget crunch for tion" a forum to air their views. some time. Millage proposals were presented to the electorate Additionally, it gives them an opon three different occasions last portunity to demonstrate their concern with the future of public year, and each of them was turneducation in the Walled Lake School District.

The proposal to form a citizens committee to study the economic situation is an interesting development. School officials have adopted a "handsoff" approach to the committee.

According to Sheldon, the committee will have access to all financial records and be free to develop whatever recommendations it sees fit. It is possible that the committee may suggest no . . . A page for your expressions and ours

Desk organized?

What do you mean - write about my messy desk?! A "mess" is a disorderly or confused collection of things, a jumble of hodgepodge.

I prefer to think of my desk as "full." A full desk does not just happen. Each new item is intentionally placed, according to its subject and urgency, in the appropriate pile and layer. This requires not only organization, but also a fairly good sense of balance. Paperweights are never used in this system because they make the piles top-heavy, and thus sudden breezes can be a problem.

When I am away from my desk, employees often sneak new items onto the top of the center pile on my desk, thinking this automatically endows it with priority 1. When I return, of course, these items are immediatly re-categorized. Occasionally, a department head will write me an especially urgent memo on a rock, so that if it slips below priority 1, it creates an attention — getting lump in in my system.

Each night, I go home with the peace of mind that comes from knowing that no matter what turns out to be needed the next morning, it will be there somewhere — on that 3 x 6 foot organizational monu-

A school system probably uses more paper in its day-to-day operation than any other organization or agency in the community. While at the same time, it seems natural for our school and community members to always want to evaluate how well a task is accomplished, such as "A's," "B's" and "C's."

The boy was but one of many troubled youngsters who were stunned by John Steimel's death Saturday. To them he was more than just a friendly adult.

During the past two decades the Northville postmaster had served as a "foster father" to more than 100 boys and girls, many of whom are now adults, have married and are themselves parents. Actively involved in so many other community pursuits, John's behind the scenes counseling of children escaped the attention of even some of his closest friends. Children were referred to him by parents, churches, social agencies, schools and police departments.

Not only did he counsel them, he housed and clothed many of them. As busy as he was, he would drop everything instantly if a boy pr girl came to him for advice at all hours of the

I was with him late one evening when he dashed off to Pontiac to retrieve a young runaway held by police. He took that youngster into his home and changed his life. Today, at 16, the boy is an honor student in

His rapport with kids amazed me; he was extraordinarily successful when the professional counseling of others failed

Having seen and heard his unsophisticated but straight-forward approach to delinquents, I asked him once why kids went to him with their problems. He laughed and replied, "I don't really know why they come except maybe it's because I have the perfect shoulders to cry on."

But John, who street-talked his way into their hearts, soon had them smiling and able to cope. They came to him troubled; they left with a fresh perspective on life.

New! Checking Accounts with Interest on your checking account. But on January , 1981, you'll have the chance to take advantage of a brand new service from Standard Federal Savings — checking accounts with interest. In addition to providing savings accounts which pay the highest rate available on insured savings, Standard Federal also offers the opportunity to earn the highest interest allowed on your checking account.

These accounts will earn 51/4% annual interest continuously compounded — adding interest every month to your account for an effective annual yield of 5.467%. This is the highest interest allowed on

You may open an account in any amount. However, with a minimum balance of $500.00 OR an average daily balance of $1,000.00, you may write all the checks you wish, with no monthly service charge. (A $5.00 monthly fee is assessed if you go below the minimum or average requirements)

- Each month you'll receive a detailed statement of your account which lists your checks in numerical order, your deposits, any service charges assessed and the interest earned during the statement period.
- Personalized chécks are printed free of charge if you choose not to have your checks returned with your

ANNUAL INTERES monthly statement. There will be a charge for printing personalized checks if you wish to have your checks returned to you. With either option, you may select a style that provides a carbon copy of each

> A permanent record of each check will be kept by Standard Federal Savings. If you need a copy for any reason, microfilm copies of as many as 25 checks per year (or all checks relating to an IRS audit) will be provided at no charge.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO CUSTOMERS 62 YEARS OF AGE AND OLDER:

Customers 62 years of age and older who have direct deposit of social security or other retirement checks into any Standard Federal Savings account will pay no monthly service charge on their checking accounts.

Something's fishy

Pete Darocha and son Peter, 9, try to lure in their prey

on Walled Lake

Winter sportsmen play waiting game ... and sometimes lose

ped in frozen Walled Lake. Or if there were, they certainly weren't interested in

Only a pair of insulated coveralls, a lot of jumping around and a few nips of peppermint schnapps helped Darocha keep warm. Whipping across the snowcovered lake, those winter winds were pretty nasty, although it was a beautiful,

And Darocha had his work cut out for him keeping up with his 9-year-old fishing enthusiast son, Peter, who knelt by one of the holes calling, "Here fishy, fishy, fishy. Here fishy. Here fishy."

Unfortunately, even Peter's persuasive whispers weren't enough to lure any fish toward the Darochas' holes. "Daddy, where are all the fish" asked Peter. "Why aren't we catching

Those were the same questions everybody else on Walled Lake was asking Everyone, that is, but Ralph Silver. He couldn't pull them in fast enough. That was a little frustrating for Darocha, whose two holes were located only feet or so away from Silver's hot spot. "Wow, Daddy!" squealed Peter. "He got another one. Let's fish over there. Over where Silver was, it seemed like the perch were falling all over themselves to get hold of his line. Maybe it was the bait - corn grubs and meal worms - that did the trick. Maybe it was the location. Whatever it was, it was working. And Silver had really come prepared for the elements. He'd brought a chest-high screen to reroute the winds and a small stove to warm his hands over.

In fact, there was only one problem. The fish were small. Real small. Most of them were only five or six inches long - hardly worth cleaning. But still, bet-

Darocha sighed. "I'm what you'd call a real expert fisherman," he said. "When I go out fishing, everybody else gets 30 or 40 fish. I get one. Yep, I'm a "But I'll tell you what. I'm going to get a fish before I go home today. I'm

The experts will tell you there are all kinds of ways to catch fish, whether you go out in a boat, stand on the shore or chop a hole in the ice to do it. But the truth is that while you can plan your attack strategy all you like, unless you are actually out there spearing pike or other big fish, you are pretty much resigned You can pick your location, your lures or bait and the time of day or year. But it finally comes down to the fish's decision as to whether or not he's going to n ice fishermen get ready to go out on one of Michigan's frozen pon or lakes, they know they're going to spend a lot of time sitting around waiting

But the fishermen don't see it that way. According to Darocha, "You've got to do something in the winter other than sit in front of the tube. This is a good way to get outside and do something fun."

It's also pretty inexpensive, especially for individuals who do a lot of fishing in the warmer months and already have all the equipment they need. Cost for a few grubs and some liquid antifreeze is negligible. That's an important concern for men like Darocha and Silver, both of whom work at the Northville Ford valve plant, slated to shut down permanently later this year. The way things are going, they say, the odds that they will be placed in another Ford plant aren't particularly favorable.

It can be tough to forget about that uncertain future, even out waiting patiently for fish on Walled Lake. That's where shanties come in handy. Once inside one of the little shacks that seem to spring up overnight on lakes, usually clumped together like miniature villages, there is a certain mesmerizing atmosphere that really makes ice fishing seem fascinating. Peaceful, in fact.

Dave Carriveau, who used to work at the Northylle Ford plant, says it's easy to sit for long periods of time in the little shantles, most of which cover large holes in the ice that were removed so fishermen can spear pike through the openings. With the door to the shanty closed, it's warm and quiet inside.

Plus, there's a strange glow that comes up from the water and ice and is visible in the darkness of the shanty. Says Carriveau: "It's sort of hypnotizing to sit here, like looking into an aquarium."

Carriveau and Dale Woolfram of Northville weren't having much luck at tracting fish to their location either. They were waiting for pike, ready to snare one with evil-looking spears. Attempts to lure the pike consisted of using a sucker — a pond-raised fish blissfully unaware of the predatory nature of pike — stuck to a line that was attached to a reel on the ceiling of the shanty. Eight or nine perch drifted near the sucker, ready to move out at the first sign of danger. and the perch rested on the bottom. "Not much going on," declared Woolfram. Not much was going on out in the open where Darocha and Peter were standing, but Silver was doing alright. "Let's go in there, Daddy," Peter called out, ing a real whopper like Ralph pointing to the shanty. "They've got lots of fish."

That thought appealed to Darocha. "If I could see them, at least I could move my hook toward them," he laughed. "This is like fishing blind." He considered chopping another hole in the ice, this one closer to Silver's hole. But as it turned out, it wouldn't have done any good. The perch were suddenly sniffing at even Silver's bait and turning away. "They've stopped biting,"

he said. "But they'll come back." Some days are like that.

Dental Dialogue of A. Allen Tuchklaper, D.D.S.

BRUSHING A MATTER OF DEGREE

me to brush my teeth?

A. Most dentists recommend using a soft bristle brush, and starting at right angles to the gums while using a massaging motion that comes down over the tooth. Also be sure to brush the biting surfaces. If you can, brushing after meals is best. However, brushing is only one part of oral hygiene. It is most effective in combination with the correct use of dental floss, stimulators, disclosing tablets, and water spray devices. Your teeth are too important to give them the "brush-off."

Hypnotic hints could help you control habits

Hypnotist John Greer will conduct several hypnosis clinics Monday, January 26, at Walled Lake Western High School. The self-psych stop-smoking and weight control clinics are being offered through the Walled Lake Community Education

According to a spokesman for the department, Greer will use hypnosis to help participants reprogram their subconcious minds to make the positive changes they desire in their lives.

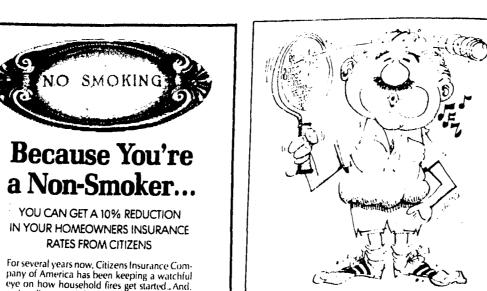

The stop-smoking clinic will begin at 7 p.m. and costs $30, while the weight control clinic will start at 9 p.m. the same evening for a fee of $22. Registrations for the classes, which both include literature and a cassette tape used to reinforce the hypnotic suggestions, are being accepted at the community ed offices, 624-0202.

Participants in both clinics will be introduced to three hypnotic inductions while Greer makes suggestions to their subconcious minds. Greer's approach is designed to help people change the emotional attitudes that make them overeat or smoke too much, the spokesman adds.

"We get hooked on the gratification of eating from the time we are born," Greer notes. "We've been programmed to look on sweets as rewards and to feel we're bad if we don't eat every bit on our plates. To lose weight painlessly and permanently, your attitude toward food must be changed."

In his stop-smoking clinics, Greer attempts to help participants reprogram their subconscious minds to choose to be non-smokers rather than maintain their old habits of smoking.

"If a smoker converts to a non-smoker, he doesn't feel he is giving up something he loves," Greer explains about the goals of his hypnotic suggestions. "Instead, he stays away from cigarettes simply because he has no desire to light up.

If you think all interest-earning checking accounts are the same you haven't been reading the fine print. Just one example: Major financial institutions in this area require minimum balances ranging from $500 to $2000 for such an account, in order to avoid monthly service charges. First Federal Savings of Detroit requires only $300. So if you're about to open an interest-earning checking

History is served up in elegant style at the newly opened White House Manor in Novi. The longvacant historic mansion on Nine Mile, which could be a copy of Tara in the classic movie, "Gone with The Wind," has been converted into an elegant restaurant — thus preserving part of the colorful history of the pioneering farm on which the former home of the inventor of condensed milk is located. Young employees are shown below putting things in place just prior to last week's opener.

Russell Smith, with costumes by Marilyn Renaud, settings by Jules Heading the cast is Kevin McGee (Livonia) as Mack Sennett, Sheri Akey (Livonia) as Mabel Normand, Deborah Barwinski (Dearborn Heights) as Lottie and Bob Lambert (Detroit) as Frank Wyman.

"Wine in the Wilderness" was first presented by Television Station WGBH n Boston in 1969. As the first play in the series "On Being Black," Author Alice Childress explores the meaning of Harlem tenement during the disturbances of the summer of 1964. A young artist, Bill Jameson, is pain-

ing a triptych called "Wine in the Wilderness;" three canvases on black vomanhood. Two have been completed, one entitled "Black Girlhood" and the second the "African Queen." The un-

HOWARD F. CHANTER of Holly has been named the new chief park ranger at Kensington Metropark near Milford, succeeding Robert L. Skellenger of Novi, who retired after 25 years service. For the past 10 years, Chanter has been a lieutenant in charge of the Road Patrol Services with the Oakland County Safety Department. Graduated from Holly High School, he was with the United States Air Force from 1965 through 1969. He has been active with the Michigan Law Enforcement Officers Training Council, where he was a police instructor and also taught courses on physical management and self defense.

Skellenger's early association at the park came as a scout leader and getting to know several persons on the ranger staff. At that time Skellenger and his father operated an aluminum shop in Novi, but he enjoyed the outdoors and meeting the public and first took a part-time job at Kensington in 1953.

Skellenger was appointed chief park ranger on January 1, 1955. Since then he watched the park expand its use from 1.4 million to over 2.6 million persons — and saw the addition of many new facilities. "I believe the early park visitors were more aware of nature, while perhaps the urbanized visitor needs more information on how to use various park areas," said Skellenger, before retiring December 31

Skellenger's duties included the supervision of the day to day operations of the ranger staff, with responsibility for the maintenance of a safe and enjoyable park for the public, providing permits for special activities, supervise employee safety programs, fire fighting techniques and park safety procedures. The department employs 19 persons, including full-time, part-time year-around and seasonal workers.

Skellenger, who plans to continue outdoor activities of camping fishing and hiking in retirement, has been active in several professional organizations, including being a board member of the Michigan-Ontario Juvenile Officer Association, the Inter-Lake Police Chief Association, Novi Fireman's Association, the Oakland County Medical Service and disaster Control Committee and the Michigan Chapter, International Assocaton of Arson Investigators and the second secon

Guardian also services the amateur photography market through a nationwide network of 13 photo processing facilities.

STARR ADVERTISING, Incorporated, of Northville announces that it has retained Frank J. Lipford as an independent marketing consultant effective immediately. Because of the agency's growing commitment to the automotive, industrial and heavy-duty aftermarket areas, the firm states it feels that Lipford's experience and expertise will add an extra dimension to the total strategic marketing services and communication planning it offers. Lipford's most recent position was that of vice president-general manager at NAPA, the nation's largest automotive aftermarket parts programmmed distribution group. Prior experience also includes 17 years with Monroe Auto Equipment as vice president-sales manager.

Hank Starr, agency president, indicated that business development will begin immediately in areas where this affiliation will be most advantageous when addressing such critical issues as total distribution awareness and "defined market" advertising. In a special meeting for this announcement for January 15, Starr related, "This arrangement is one of many innovations tha has helped establish Starr Advertising as an agency offering a unique balance of solid marketing approaches and street-wise communications.

"Even without the economic climate we're in today, manufacturers are facing an ever-increasing level of sophisticated marketing problems that we of the service industry must overcome," stated Lipford. "Simple answers are not always totally identifiable at the communications level nor at the marketing level. It's going to require associations such as this to achieve real growth in the '80s.' 'Cat five falls short in Howell runaway

You've got to hand it to Ron Flutur. He knows when he's been licked, and he'l

"We obviously came across a team that could manhandle us at will," the Novi basketball coach said following his team's 80-52 debacle at the hands of the Howell Highlanders Friday. "They were just too much."

No truer words were ever spoken. It never was much of a contest, save a game first-quarter performance by a young and hustling Wildcat five.

That was encouraging, especially after the visitors hit their first four shots to race to an 8-2 advantage. The Wildcats, sparked by some good perimeter shooting and some better defense, climbed back to within 16-12 after the period. Then the inevitable happened. Howell — boasting four starters of 6-4 height or over — began wearing Novi down. The Highlanders kept getting three or four shots at the bucket with each possession, and were travelling toward easy street

The Wildcats' Kensington Valley Conference rivals upped that lead to 56-36 after the third period, and from then on it was garbage time. "We just had to work too hard," Flutur correctly assessed afterward. "We wanted to go man-to-man with them to keep them off the boards, but then they went to an isolation game...from then it was just a matter of them getting the ball into the guy who had the biggest size advantage over his opponent."

Novi also was done in by its inability to connect from outside. Sharpshooter Brian Jordan was limited to four points and suffered foul trouble, while teammate Todd Parsons was held scoreless. "They shut down our outside stuff," Flutur said, "so we were forced to go inside. And it was tough to shoot with all of those trees in there." The coach also said that part of the game plan was to run on the Highlanders, but added that "you need to get rebounds in order to run. They were just scoring Despite the fact that Novi was dwarfed inside, Steve Wright bowed his neck and came out with eight rebounds to go with 15 points, several of those coming from the free throw line. Mike Rentner added 12 points, surprising Howell with a couple of nice drives to the hoop. Six-foot-seven center Steve Rowe scored 23 points to lead the winners. The Wildcats, now 1-6 and 0-4 in the KVC, will try for their first conference win at Hartland Friday. And while Flutur isn't ready to chalk that one up in the victory column just yet, he's happy to be opposing a team with a similar style.

"It'll be two scrapping teams going at it," the young coach predicted. "That's

Warrior cage heartbreak extends into overtime, 59-57

The Walled Lake Western basketball team, as it demonstrated Friday at Livonia Churchill High School, can shoot (54 percent against the Chargers). And it can crash the boards (50 rebounds to Churchill's 31, by Western ac-

But it still hasn't learned how to win. The Warriors suffered the most excruciating defeat of their 1981 basketball season Friday night, watching a 16-point second-quarter lead melt before succumbing, 59-57, in overtime. Add that to an 80-68 loss against Waterford Township three nights earlier and you've got a 1-8 start, including sole occupancy of the Western Six Conference basement (0-4).

"This was our bitterest pill to swallow," Warrior Coach Ted Felegy said afterward. "We knew how hard it is to play at Churchill, and we knew that since it was a league game we had to have it. It should have been ours." No denying that. The Warriors came out like gangbusters against Churchill, connecting on eight of 10 field goal tries to take a 20-14 lead after the first quarter. Then, on the strength of eight-for-12 second-quarter shooting, they led by as much as 16 before settling for a 38-28 halftime cushion. "We had our fast break going, we were getting good shots and we were playing good defense," Felegy recalled. "We also broke their press but still were throwing the ball away too much. I told them they needed to be more consistent

Despite the coach's words of warning, however, Western continued to turn the ball over. And, combined with a three-of-nine shooting effort by the Warriors in

Blow 16-point margin

It was around this time that Felegy made a coaching decision that he knew would be challenged afterward. The veteran pilot elected to go to a delay offense, but the gambit failed when — in the latter stages of the third quarter and early minutes of the fourth — the Warriors went to the free throw line five times in a one-and-one situation and missed the first shot on each occasion. "I knew I'd be second-guessed if it didn't work," Felegy admitted. "But we needed this game so badly...I thought this was the best way for us to keep our It wasn't, though. Churchill eventually tied the game at 55-all with a minute left before Western wound down the clock in an effort to get the last shot. Warrior Guard Jim Woods had a last-gasp effort partially blocked at the buzzer, and the teams went into overtime. After the clubs traded baskets at the onset of the OT, the Warriors saw Lady Luck spit on them again. Churchill scored a controversial basket on what some thought was a charge, then Rob Yarmak — who was fouled with six seconds left — missed the front end of a one-and-one. Mike Xenos and Henry Burke both tried to put the ball in before the buzzer, but each saw their shots drop off the Western's second-half stumble was perhaps best reflected in Xenos' pel-formance. The Warriors' top scorer netted 18 points, but 16 of those came in the first half. Meanwhile, the brothers Burke played well as Paul had 15 points and 11 rebounds. Henry's 14 caroms led the locals. The latter Burke had also played well (14 points and six rebounds) three nights earlier against Waterford Township, but Western couldn't shut down the speedy Skippers and lost, 80-68. The winners coasted to a 21-11 lead after the first quarter of that one and never trailed again. "Looking back, I'd say Township (currently 8-1) is one of the best teams in our area," Felegy said. "We didn't play particularly good man-to-man defense" against them, and they hurt us on the transition game. The Warriors, who went just five-for-12 in the opening stanza, cut the gap to 40-31 by halftime. Western was able to get within four points on one occasion inthe third quarter, but couldn't dent a 53-46 deficit it faced entering the final

The hometowners were led in scoring by Xenos, who rang up 18 points. Woods contributed 11, while Mike Sacco chipped in 10 and seven rebounds. Western, incidentally, still awaits the return of senior center Brian Cullen: The 6-4 pivotman, who recently suffered a broken finger, is slated to return for

Nancy Wallace coached the Walled Lake Central gymnasts in 1979 and was replaced the following year by Denise Kin, who had led the Walled Lake Western gymnasts the previous winter. This season, 1980's Warrior tumbling boss — Sue Curry — will coach the Central squad, but so will Kin. And Pam

Perhaps this tidbit of information will help clear the dust somewhat: The Vikings will alternate Kin, Curry and Adams in 1981 because Kin and Curry plan to alternate maternity leaves. romp over Plymouth Salem last Monday, then repeated the performance two days later in a 93.5-85 win over perennially-strong Bloomfield Hills Lahser. Harrington's performance against Salem included an 8.65 on the yault, 8.75 in floor exercises, 8.85 on the parallel bars and an incredible 9.35 on the balance beam. And, as Curry noted, those scores were given by highly reputable judges. Such standout efforts are nothing new to Harrington, however; in fact, last week's accomplishments dull in comparison to previous honors that the Central senior has received. She's a United States Gymnastics Federation (USGF) Class 1 state champion for her age group in addition to finishing fourth in nationals competition this year.

"Right now, Celeste is just having fun," Curry said after the wins. "This is a little easier than the kind of competition she's normally used to. But she still is in contention for the state championship...we'll just have to wait and see if she Fellow senior Barb Burke, meanwhile, wasn't far behind Harrington's showing against the young Rocks with three state scores of her own. Burke pulled a 7.6 on the beam, 7.9 on the vault and an 8.25 in floor exercises. Another 12th grader — Connie MacDermaid — reached the mimimum state-score total (6.8) on beam as well as totalling a 7.55 on vault.

Then Harrington and Burke were a vicious one-two punch in putting out the light on the Knights last Wednesday, as each swept to state scores in all events. Harrington and Burke piled up respective scores of 8.3 and 8.1 on vault; 9.1 and 7.2 on bars; 8.0 and 7.8 on beam; and 8.6 and 8.5 on floor. Viking freshman Kirsten Carlson (7.6 on vault) was the only other Central performer to reach state-qualifying status against Lahser. Central is next slated to take its 2-0 record to Northville Friday.

Hot Central ski squad • gives Milford the gate

Walled Lake Central Ski Coach Marty Vikes; Bob Hittenger was fifth. Neighbors was obviously pleased with the performance of his male and female downhillers after they glided past a young Milford team Wednesday. And why not? His boys swept three of the top four spots in an 11-27 triumph, and the girls did the same in an easy 15-21 suc-

against a very tough team," the secondyear coach said. "Milford made some technical mistakes in terms of reading the course...we. on the other hand, look-

That they did. The Viking males just missed a perfect 10 score (one point for first, two for second, etc.) as Ted The Novi volleyball team saw its 2-0 disorganized without her. They always Salmeto led the way with what Neighbors called "two very consistent runs." The sophomore finished just over 24 seconds on each of his slalom runs, totalling 48.61.

Furthermore, if Milford had any good skiers to win." hopes of snagging a second, Central senior Paul Santi destroyed that hope mate Salmeto. Jim Adams, despite on West Bloomfeld next Tuesday.

caroming off a hill at one point, "bounced back" to finish third overall for the Bob Schimmin (seventh) and Chris Holler (11th) rounded out the Central

The girls, as usual, were led by Kerry Weber. The Central ace breezed to a first-place finish with a 52:01 time, topping Viking teammate (and number two finisher) Margot Robb by more "Kerry handled the course tremendously," Neighbors said. "The threesecond difference shows what a great skier she is. Barring any serious injury, she's state material." Despite the fine outings by Weber and Robb, however, Neighbors cited the efforts by Sarah Morgan (fourth place) and Jeanette Wunsche (eighth) as keys "Since we're skiing without two (suspended) girls, it was crucial for them to ski well," Neighbors said. "You have to have more than just one or two Sherry Strohs was ninth for Central.

Central's boys and girls, each now 1by recording a 48.64 time - just three- 1, next oppose Pontiac Catholic at hundredths of a second behind team- Alpine Thursday. The Vikes then take winners aren't built overnight.

Hirsch: Loss should be forgotten

With those cliches in mind, the Walled Lake Central volleyball team is more than willing to forget Friday's disaster against Livonia Stevenson. The Spartans dominated the strong but inexperienced Vikings throughout, coasting to 15-6 and 15-4

"The whole match is better left forgotten," Central Coach Cathy Hirsch admitted. "We played defensive volleyball, and you're not going to win doing that."

The loss came despite the fact that the Vikes served at an 86 percent success rate (meaning that only 14 percent of their serves weren't playable). However, the locals failed to execute in other key aspects of the game.

"We were free-balling it (lobbing the ball over the net from the back Rome wasn't built in a day. And rows) all night," Hirsch said. "We weren't organized; we didn't play our game.

Hirsch said that a bright spot in defeat was the play of Amy Remibsz, the 6-0 junior who excelled for the girls' basketball team this past fall. "She started playing aggressively against Stevenson," the veteran pilot said, noting that Remibsz converted eight of her 10 spiking tries. "If she comes on for us. that would be a great help."

The Stevenson defeat came on the heels of Central's first win of the season four days earlier. The Vikes pounded Waterford Township 15-2 in game one, but let up in a 15-9 middlegame loss before rallying to a 15-10 triumph in game three.

"Overconfidence," Hirsch said of the middle-game reversal by her squad. "It was just like last year. That's going to kill us, especially

shorts

against better teams."

Molly Odette served for 10 points in a match where Central served at an 89 percent rate. The team also spiked at a decent 66 percent ("anywhere over 60 is pretty good." Hirsch said) as Wendy Keelty went nine-for-14 in that department.

The Vikes had begun their season January 8, dropping identical 15-10 decisions to Farmington. Central served at just 77 percent, with many of those failures coming just when the locals seemed to be gaining momentum.

Nancy Paluszczak served for six points to pace the home team that night.

Central, now 1-2 in three Inter-Lakes Conference affairs, next travels to Northville Friday. It'll then play at Troy in a three-way match Monday, with Royal Oak Dondero also participating.

Holder lacking Wildcat swimmers

Doug Holder's not asking for much. All the coach wants is a team to field.

"As a whole, we're improving," the Novi boys' swimming pliot said despite the Wildcats' 115-50 loss at Livonia Churchill last Tuesday. "But it's hard to build for the future with just 10 or 11

Holder, who earlier in the season had suspended a couple of his tankers for disciplinary reasons, suffered another setback after the meet when Dave Messink - one of the team's top performers — told the coach he was quitting. Messink said that team-related functions were taking too much of his time, according to Holder.

The ace freestyler's importance to the team was perhaps best demonstrated by his showing against Churchill. The senior recorded a first and second place with respective times of 24.6 and 56.6 in the 50 and 100-yard freestyle events. However, leading the way against the Chargers was Chad Balk. The

Keep the faith. Although baseball season seems a long time away yet, it'll be here quicker than you can say

Sparky Anderson. In fact, Walled Lake Little League and Lakes Athletic Association officials are already preparing for The Summer Game by holding registration sessions in the Walled Lake Central High School cafeteria. Little league registration begins Thursday, while Lakes league sign-ups begin February 9. The Little League Round-Up will be held Thursday, Monday and next Wednesday from 7-9 p.m. at Central's cafe. All prospective players must register at these times.

The league has added two new divisions for the upcoming season — the Junior Division (for players who will reach age 13 before August 1 of this year) and the Big League Division (for players who will reach the age of 16 before August 1 and who will not reach age 19 before the same date). That will bring to six the number of age divisions offered by the league, meaning that now area youths aged 6-18 are eligible for league play.

Basic registration fees for all league divisions except the new Big League Division remain unchanged from 1980 at $20 per player, with a family discount registration fee is $50, payable in two 9019.

Every team member plays in every game in the Walled Lake Little League. For further information about the program, call Registration Chairman and Player Agent Dick Poole (363-5724) or League President Chuck Bonar (624-

Meanwhile, Lakes Athletic Association registration dates are February 9 and 16 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at the Central cafetorium. Children aged seven to 16 may play, and payment is not required until a later date.

top spot all winter long.

A further look at this week's top 10 shows that another player from Milford - Lakeland's John Lang - has crept from nowhere into the seventh slot. Lang had just barely failed to make the top 10 the previous week.

In addition, three Walled Lake players had a good time of it — at least scoring-wise. Walled Lake Central's Erin Hill moved up a notch to the number three spot, and teammate Tom Nicklin inched into the number 10 position as the Vikings split their two games.

Meanwhile, at Walled Lake Western, Mike Xenos contributed a couple of 18point outings to quietly move into the number five hole. Xenos has been the only consistent scorer on a team that presently stands 1-8.
