Racing Old Man Winter

When Colleen Heaton decided to join the Run for Reyes sponsored by the Novi Department of Parks and Recreation and Security Bank of Novi, she didn't know she'd be taking a jog on a snow-covered Bob-O-Link Golf Course. But Old Man Winter pulled a fast one on the runners and covered the mile-long course with the season's first snowfall. The white stuff didn't slow down Heaton, however, who completed the course with cold toes and a good feeling inside. (Photo by Steve Fecht)

Mayoral candidates Schmid, Roethel address issues

JOHN ROETHEL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Novi chapter of the League of Women Voters and The Novi News asked the two candidates for mayor to respond to five questions regarding the future of the city and their candidacies. Candidates were asked to limit their responses to 400 words.

The two mayoral candidates are John Roethel and Robert Schmid. Following are biographical sketches of the candidates and their responses to our ques-

Is a former officer in Jaycees, American Legion, homeowners associations, local chapter of Michigan Education Association and little league. Served with U.S. Army during Korean War and is member of American Legion. Elected to Novi City Council in 1975 and reelected to a second four-year term in 1979. Married to Romaine best to provide them. 2) Study city bureaucracy that now requires a manager, assistant manager and five department heads to operate departments with 10 percent or more annual cost increase for personnel services. 3) Question current budget balanced by reliance on state revenue sharing.

SCHMID: As city councilman for the last six years my priorities have not changed. We need to provide the best possible services to the citizens within the restraints of dollars available. Those restraints require efficiencies in administration and staff. We have eight to 10 fewer city employees than in 1975 while improving responsiveness to the citizens. Monies have been specifically earmarked for capital improvements assuring the capabilities of providing necessary amenities as our city grows.

2. Describe areas of possible cooperation between the city and the community school district.

ROETHEL: If by community school district is meant the Novi School District, the principal areas of cooperation would be in the physical development of the city complex at Ten Mile Road and Taft and the continued cooperation of the Novi district schools with Novi Department of Parks and Recreation for year-round recreational and physical fitness programs.

SCHMID: My commitment to assure a quality community through sound planning, strict ordinances, strong commercial and industrial tax base to generate the tax dollars is compatible with school board goals of providing excellence in education. Cooperation presently exists in Student Government Day, Michigan Week activities, parks & recreation and school sharing facilities. As mayor I would encourage greater communication between city officials and school boards of Novi. Walled Lake, Northville and South Lyon which

• Novi to undertake pavement repairs

Repairs to approximately 1,405 square yards of concrete in Novi subdivisions have been approved estimated at approximately $38,500.

Council members agreed to award the project to Century Cement Company, the lowest of nine bidders for the job. Work is to be done in Country Place and the Meadowbrook Glens subdivision as well as on Nine Mile and Heslip Drive. Subgrade undercutting and gutter repair also will be done.

In response to questions raised previously by the city council, City Engineering Consultant Raymond Cousineau said the low bid for repairing the concrete is well below what the city could have expected to pay if the city had a formally budgeted roadway maintenance program.

He explained that $28,000 of the $38,500 project is

'routine maintenance.' Cousineau said he compared accepted repair costs from asphalt and concrete paving associations to generate figures showing what the city could have expected to spend in "routine maintenance"

If the city had a regular maintenance program the project might have cost as much as $56,000 compared to the $28,000 which is the city's share of the low bidder's price for the project. As a reaction to Cousineau's comments, the counril requested an inventory of all local roadways so a maintenance program for city streets can be

Council members also previously questioned proposal to fund street repairs with monies from the one-mill street fund - monies collected in accordance with provisions of the city charter. It was explained by Department of Public Works Superintendent Edward Smiadak that $10,000 of the project would be paid by the one-mill road fund for work in Meadowbrook Glens and Country Place, and Act 51 monies returned from the State of Michigan would pay approximately $22,000 of the cost of the project. Another portion would be paid by Holtzman and Silverman, developer of Meadowbrook Glens, for work needed in that subdivision.

Walled Lake will clear Prescott site

The abandoned house on Walled Lake's Prescott property should be demolished. That was the decision reached last week by the Walled Lake City Council after a special study session to discuss the disposition of the property adjacent to Mercer Beach on East Lake Drive. Specifically, the council voted 6-1 to dispose of the existing structure and direct City Manager J. Michael Dornan to present a recommendation for retaining services (drinking fountains and toilet facilities) on the site.

The lone dissenting vote was cast by Council the city's Master Parks and Recreation Plan calls for the house to be retained as a recreation center. Disposition of the house on the Prescott property has been debated by council members since the city purchased the lakefront parcel earlier this year. Support for retaining the structure was expressed by Parks and Recreation Commission Chairperson Dorothy Dingman who told council October 6 that the commission's first recommendation was to renovate the house. The commission's second recommendation, said Dingman, was to move the building to another site. Marian Clifton, a member of the parks and rec commission, suggested the building be renovated to include a parks and rec office, meeting room for community groups, refreshment stand for residents using the beach and a "warming room" for skaters, ice fishing enthusiasts and snowmobilers. Clifton's proposal also called for the attic to be remodeled for living quarters for an on-site

Opposition to retaining the house was led by Council Members Linda Ackley and Hannah Honeyman. Ackley has noted that the city's intention in purchasing the site was to demolish the building in order to expand the beach area. Honeyman has told the council that the building does not meet city standards and should not be retained.

Additional support for tearing down the building was expressed last week by residents Cameron Rose and Ardys Mercer. Rose said the building should be demolished and the property used as a boat launch for city residents. Mercer also called for the house to be removed from the area. The council's decision subsequent decision to demolish the house was applauded by Roy Mercer, "I think it would be a crime to have that building in the city for another 20 years," he remarked. "The city's top asset is that lake and it would be a shame to permit any structure on that property which blocks the view of the lake."

Bob Schmid heads ballot in Novi mayoral contest

ROBERT SCHMID continues to be the top choice in the Novi mayoral race.

Novi voters are fortunate to have two mayoral candidates as well-qualified and dedicated as Schmid and his opponent, John Roethel. Both have strong qualifications and have demonstrated their interest in the city for many years — Schmid as a councilman since 1975 and Roethel as a planning board member since 1972.

After a careful analysis of both candidates, however, we retain the opinion, as we did in the August primary, that Schmid is the better choice.

During his six years on the council, Schmid has consistently espoused a philosophy that calls for Novi to adopt new approaches to planning and development that hopefully will enable the city to avoid the mistakes made in other communities.

For example, he led the fight to limit building heights to five stories instead of 10 as initially proposed. He also has been an outspoken opponent of the "convenience shopping center" philosophy, insisting instead that the city's commercial needs can be served through a centralized business district that will have minimal impact on residential areas.

Although we have no reservations about our support for Schmid, we regret not being able to support Roethel who has been a dedicated citizen for the past decade. It is our perception, however, that in recent years Roethel has been more willing than his opponent to compromise on the decisions which will affect the future of the

Although we share some of the concerns Roethel has raised, we are not yet willing to make the compromises that call for something less than can be optimally expected. High standards which prove unrealistic in the future can be relaxed. Unfortunately, the process cannot be

In the race for three spots on the city council, voters have two solid choices in incumbents PATRICIA KAREVICH and RONALD WATSON.

A council member since 1975, Karevich has worked diligently on ordinance revisions and other committees and made a major contribution in the area of governmental accountability by pushing for administrative goals and objectives and regular evaluations of the city

Our choice for the third council seat is not as clear cut. Russell Button, Edward Dobek and Guy Smith are well-qualified and have demonstrated their interest in the city. None stands out as superior to the others, however.

Smith, an incumbent seeking election to his second four-year term, has the knowledge and intelligence to serve the community well. However, in the past four years ne has not fulfilled his potentia

Although we have no problem with his perception of being a council "auditor," his style has done little to further his viewpoints. In fact his obliqueness often has led to confusion, leaving others to guess 'what was Smith trying to say?'

Dobek and Button also have strong qualifications. Button has been a key figure in the history of the city, having served on various village and city incorporation and charter commissions.

Dobek has served well as a planning board member since 1972. Conscientious and knowledgeable in the areas of planning and construction; his shortcoming is his limited understanding of the city's financial situation. His positions on instituting citywide garbage collection and street lights run contrary to the city's current direction — providing essential services and keeping millage rates low.

Annexation proceedings. Decreases in grants and governmental funding. A continued struggle against rising costs for services to residents. Each of these looms large in the future for the city.

Walled Lake has consistently prided itself on being a friendly community. But when facing the economic cutbacks confronting municipalities, it is much easier to get a smile from residents who are assured their government is doing all it can to provide services without marked increases.

Mayoral candidate THOMAS BROOKOVER is the leader needed to direct Walled Lake during this crucial period. During his tenure on council, Brookover has demonstrated the ability to deal with critical decisions that translated into decreased costs to taxpayers.

At the same time, he has shown a conscientious and sensitive understanding of city operations that has provided a progressive balance.

Brookover's total understanding of the political system on the local, state and national level will aid Walled Lake as it fights back against the inflationary times ahead.

Brookover has earned the respect of his colleagues on council, who understand the importance of his insight and frequently wait for his response before confronting issues. As mayor, Brookover would offer firm direction for the council as it leads the

The communication abilities of also provide a good foundation to support Brookover will open new doors and create better understanding for Walled Lake. His interest in more joint meetings between the city's boards and commissions is a ment, but he can provide fresh ideas and a start at the top. But Brookover has also sharp expertise on financial and budgetary snown through past efforts that residents can expect an open ear to their problems.

For city council

We believe incumbents WALTER LEWANDOWSKI and JAMES CLIFTON combined with newcomers JEFF SOBOLEWSKI and DOROTHY DINGMAN will provide Walled Lake with a solid mix of ideas, experience and knowledge.

Lewandowski will provide the experience needed in a council that will have at least two new members seated. During his tenure, Lewandowski has demonstrated an ability to be fair-minded and weigh each issue judiciously. He also brings a strong ability to communicate openly with constituents.

Clifton, while having been on council only several months, has many of the same scrutinizing contracts should receive YES characteristics as Lewandowski. He has votes.

"Living in

a Humpty Dumpty

Recently a political leader described the prokenness of our time by referring to "Humpty Dumpty people existing in a Humpty Dumpty world." This intriguing phrase recalls childhood and the poor egg who fell from the wall. He was so badly broken that all the king's men could not put that splattered egg back into the shattered shell. That rhyme is a commentary on modern life. People today are battered and bruised by a vast number of complicated problems. Often the cause of the breakdown seems obvious (afer all, the king's men could see what had happened to Humpty). Yet solutions are vague, difficult, and usually contradictory. People are confused, often concerning the basic issues of life. Hurting men, women, and young people usually see experts and critics who "couldn' care less." What they really need to see is a crucified Savior who "couldn't care more!" You see, every problem is ultimately a spiritual problem. We need to turn from all the king's helpless men to the King himself. Jesus Christ, the King of Kings, specializes in healing broken lives and, more profoundly, He forgives people's sins. When Humpty Dumpty people come to the King of Heaven, the broken bodies, broken dreams, broken hearts, and broken homes can be transformed to a wholeness of life impossible to find anywhere

Daring each other on, they sneak down the halls of the darkened house, peeking around corners and tip-toeing up stairs. No one wants to be the first in line and no one wants to be last. They are afraid to go on, but too determined to go back.

They are there to be scared. This is the world of Jaycee haunted houses, of empty buildings painted black inside and narrow mazes leading to rooms of terror. There are more creepy characters inhabiting these places than any house that was really haunted could ever offer. -

'side, the boasts begin. "That was boring," declared one teenager after a trip through the Novi Jaycees' house. "I wasn't even scared." Ahhhh, but the Jaycees tell another story and so does anyone who takes a trip through.

Just getting to the Novi Jaycees' haunted houses is an ordeal. Late on Friday night, the parking lot behind the old Novi Elementary School building (a pretty spooky place in its own right after sundown) is a sea of mud and there are no lights to help drivers avoid axle-wrenching potholes. Walking up to the Jaycees' house northeast of the school, the brave and timid alike pass between rows of old fruit trees and come into a clearing edged with snow fences and abandoned buildings. Off in the distance,

But clearly, the action is here, where people are lined up in a shivering string waiting to be admitted to the haunted house by Jaycee Phil Koneda. Dressed in a bright green jacket, Koneda looks slightly out of place standing next to a warning sign that reads: "Many have entered — few have returned."

Senior smarts

Senior citizens in Walled Lake displayed their talents for handmade crafts at a hobby show at Clifford Smart Junior High School recently. And Violet Howard was no exception. Area Jaycee haunted houses will be open to fearless folk and courageous friends through Friday. And the Novi Boy Scouts Troop 54 will scare visitors until Halloween's over, as they will be the only group manning their house Here's a listing of haunted house hours:

 In Walled Lake, Jaycees will be open from 8-11 p.m. each night through Friday. Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for children under 12. The house is in the same building the Jaycees used last year, right next to the Pizza Hut restaurant on Pontiac Trail east of South Commerce Road. Jaycees have been given use of the house courtesy of Penny Lake Market, according to house chairman Dwayne Miller.

. In Union Lake, Jaycees announce that members of the men's service club are daring residents to tour their haunted castle at 900 Round Lake Road in Union Lake. Hatfield suggests small children not attend. The house will be open from 7:30 to 10:30 tonight (Wednesday) and tomorrow. The house will be open on Friday until the crowds leave. Admission to the nine-room house is $1.50 per person. •In Novi, Jaycees will haunt a house located behind old Novi Elementary School on Novi Road north of Grand River. Visitors should park behind the

The Michigan Alliance on Small Business is one of the major products to come out of the Michigan Conference on Small Business in May.

Bacci also said the MASB has a unique advantage in pressing for political action: because of the way the group is structured and due to the fact that small businesses are found throughout the state, the MASB has the wherewithall to establish a direct pipeline with every member of the Michigan legislature.

Paul Hense, MASB chairperson, notes that the key to bringing about needed legislative changes is "to unify a force of small business persons across Michigan who can force the state's lawmakers and bureaucrats to honor their verbal commitments to improve the small business climate."

Richardson said the corporation traditionally has relied upon regular savings deposits as a primary funding source.

However, he continued, this has become a more expensive, less reliable source as customers are increasingly investing in higher interest bearing accounts, such as NOW accounts, Money Market Time deposits and money market funds.

The rate for Money Market Time deposits, for example, reached a historic high of 16.104 percent in August. Partly as a result of high rates, the growth of the corporation's rate-sensitive liabilities, primarily short-term certificates of deposit, has outpaced the growth of rate-sensitive assets, comprised mostly of commercial loans and securities maturing within one year.

The purchase of federal funds, which was increased earlier this year to offset the decline in regular savings deposits, was reduced during the third quarter. Instead, certificates of deposit were used Detroit area. third quarter, a sustained decline is required to relieve pressure on the interest margin. The Money Market Time deposits, which continued at a high cost for most of the quarter, are a major component of the interest expense.

Richardson said these deposits are expected to diminish somewhat as a result of the introduction of the All Savers Certificates on October 1. These certificates have a lower yield, but offer tax advantages which should result in a shift in some Money Market Time deposits.

As a result of the earnings decline and the level of tax-exempt income, Richardson said Manufacturer's National Corporation has not been able to absorb all available tax benefits. Therefore, the credit for applicable income taxes during the third quarter was reduced to $1.9 million, compared to a credit of $2.3 million for the second quarter. "The corporation's earnings decline results primarily from a problem in the spread between interest income and interest expense," Richardson explained. "Both our consumer and commercial loan portfolios are sound and of high quality. "Net loan charge-offs were $5.7 million for the first nine months of 1981, compared to $7.3 million a year ago. Non-performing assets are at .67 percent. compared to .72 percent on September 30, 1980. "Using either of these measures, the corporation compares favorably with other bank holding companies," said the chairman.

Richardson said more stringent criteria for credit card, installment loan and residential mortgage applications will continue to be applied as long as the cost of funds remains high. "A return to lower interest rates and resolution of the 'due on sale' clause issue should increase home sales and the opportunity to refinance homes at current mortgage levels," he continued.

"During the third quarter, Manufacturers Bank introduced an adjustable rate mortgage which enables mortgage rates to increase or decrease, based upon a national index. "Also, we will continue our advocacy efforts in Lansing to remove the statutory interest rate ceilng on consumer loans.

"The control of operating expenses continues and has enabled the corporation to keep non-interest expense increases below the level of inflation in the

The Vikings strode to a 6-3 first quarter lead and pumped in 10 unanswered points at the start of the second period for a commanding 13-point lead. And even with Rembisz, and guards Strohs and Kathy Narducci forced to the bench with fouls midway through the third quarter, Butler's reserves never let the Spartans get any closer than six points. "We stayed ahead," noted the Viking mentor, "but we could never put them away - they wouldn't let us. They played hard, and any ballclub that plays hard will never get put away." The league victory raised Central's Inter-Lakes record to 2-1 for second place behind (4-0) Farmington. Stevenson fell to 0-3 and dwells in the basement behind third-place (1-3) Waterford Township. Central's triumph over Flint Southwestern was a rout from the opening tip-off. Rembisz tallied 22 of the Vikings 31 first-half points to lead Central to a 31-13 halftime advantage. The lanky center finished the contest with a season-high 30 points and 15 rebounds despite sitting out the better part of the second half including the "Southwestern's a very physical team," cautioned Butler. "With the game already sewn up, you don't want her hurt again. Amy's the type of player who never lets up regardless of the score."

The ridiculous margin permitted Butler to clear his bench as early as the second quarter. The Vikings fought off Southwestern's zone with pretty passes inside from Narducci and Strohs, and poured n numerous outside shots as well. Patty Fitzgerald generated seven points and Narcucci, Lamb and Strohs each scored six. The Vikings now return home for a pair of nonleague contests against West Bloomfield (Tuesday) and Walled Lake Western (tomorrow). The Warriors beat Central 44-35 the first time out, but this time the game will be on the Vikings' own court. But as Butler notes, Central's own hardwood might appear foreign to his own team. "In our first 13 ballgames, we've only played at home four times," observed the veteran coach. Western also fields a smaller team which in Butler's estimation, seems to give his Vikings greater fits than taller teams. "Officials tend to let more go under the boards against bigger teams," said Butler, "so Amy can play her game. But against smaller teams they call a lot of little fouls which go unnoticed against bigger

Wildcats clinch conference championship

By DAVE JOHNSON

After two years of looking up, Novi coach John Osborne finally has the Kensington Valley Conference Championship where he wants it -- in the bag. Hermetically sealed

There's no taking it away By defeating Hartland 14-3 last week, the Wildcats had at least a guaranteed share of the KVC crown. Milford's 15-14 upset win over Lakeland, however, automatically gave Novi the title outright.

"We finally reached our goal," commented Osborne. "But it wasn't easy. We've had a few breaks go our way — there's no denying that. But the kids have been able to cash in on them as well."

The big story all season long for Novi has been the exceptional play of its defense. By holding Hartland to a first-quarter field goal the Wildcats have yet to yield a touchdown in 23 consecutive quarters.

In fact, the field goal itself were the first points allowed after three straight shutouts over Brighton, Pinckney and Lakeland. In six conference games the Wildcats have given up only 12 points; a touchdown and extra-point to Howell way back on September 18; a safety to South Lyon the following week; and last week's field goal.

"Our defense has certainly been key toward our success," said Osborne. "Our offense has band a band a bend time of getting it together at itsees."

Closing in on playoffs

Novi's victory over Hartland last Friday did nothing to improve the Wildcats' fourth-place stand in their quest toward the high school playoffs — but they are still very much in the thick of it.

All three teams ahead of Novi in the Class B-Region 3 rankings won — so the rankings remain: 1. Avondale; 2. Marysville; 3. Farmington Harrison: 4 Novi; and 5 Marine City.

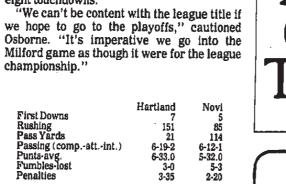

if Avondale wins, for the undefeated Yellowjackets (victors in their last 19 contests) are regardless of what occurs in the other game much farther ahead of Harrison in playoff, or kiss any playoff aspirations away.

And with the start of the third quarter it for Moran who amassed 100 yards overall. On didn't appear to get any better. Novi's first play from scrimmage upon receiving the second half kickoff resulted in a turnover on its Ironically, the fumble was the turning point of the ballgame - for Novi. Instead of dwelling on the miscue, an inspired Wildcat defense stopped Hartland cold on four plays. Taking over on downs, Osborne's offense methodically marched 26 yards in seven plays to their own 49-yard line, where on second down, quarterback Eric Deline sucked up the Hartland secondary on a bootleg run before lofting a 51-yard touchdown pass to The reception was just one of five on the day

Novi may already lay claim to the KVC tito play the spoiler's role this Friday. The Redskins have an excellent passing attack with three-year starting quarterback Dave Monroe at the helm. Through seven games, Monroe has already passed for 804 yards and eight touchdowns.

Unfortunately for Central, Kowalske is a senior and along with six other players - Hewitt, Tuson Williams, Jim Cooper, Rodney Schatz and Kevin Anderson — won't return next year. Only three players from this year's team will return: juniors Sieverwright and Matt Stakoe, and sophomore Chris Lafave.

Stevenson spoils Central's tri-championship bid, 20-7

The more things seem to change, the more they remain the same.

Walled Lake Central's 20-7 loss to Livonia Stevenson last week propelled the Spartans to their sixth straight Inter-Lakes Conference title and tenth championship in 14 years.

The Vikings completed the conference campaign in third place at 1-2 and take their 2-5 overall record into their final two contests of the year.

Going into Friday's contest, Central coach John VanSicklen had hoped to upset Stevenson to force a three-way first-place tie with Waterford Township (2-1), but the superior Spartans would not hear of it.

On third down at the Stevenson 27-yard line. sophomore quarterback Tom Menard lofted a perfectly executed screen pass to tailback Tom Kaufman who zigzagged into the end zone for his fourth touchdown of the year.

Menard's arm accounted for 102 yards on the day as the young, but gifted signal-caller connected on six of 14 passes. His touchdown completion to Kaufman was his third scoring strike of the season drawing praise from Van-
