Schmid wins mayor's race by wide margin Karevich, Smith, Watson re-elected to council

By KATHY JENNINGS

Robert Schmid has been elected to Novi's two-year mayoral term, and incumbent council members Patricia Karevich, Guy Smith and Ronald Watson were returned to their council seats in Tuesday's general election.

Schmid took all eight precincts for a total of 1,786 votes, easily beating opponent John Roethel's 703 votes.

There was a light turnout at the polls with 2,510 votes cast — approximately 17 percent of the city's 14,400 registered voters.

City Clerk Geraldine Stipp said the turnout was slightly more than she expected for the general election.

After votes were tabulated, Schmid said: "I think the results indicate the people want a Novi they can be proud of, a town that they are proud to say they're from and that they can stand up a little taller when they say it. We're going to build a quality community since the people of Novi have said that's what they want.

"When you look at the results precinct by precinct the philosophy I've espoused over the past six years seems to have met the approval of those throughout the community," Schmid said.

Schmid also thanked his many campaigners: "There were literally dozens and they made the difference in the size of the margin." He offered a special thanks to his wife Kay "who did a fantastic job — without her there could not have been this success."

Schmid was first elected to the council in 1975 and re-elected to a second four-year term in 1979.

Roethel ran for office for the first time in this election. He has served appointed positions in the city, serving on the planning board for nine years and the zoning board of appeals from 1976-1978.

The two men competed for the mayoral post vacated by Roethel's wife, Romaine who has served as mayor for the past four years, but who decided not to run for re-election.

In the mayor's race the results show Schmid scored heavily citywide. Precinct totals break down as follows:

- Precinct 1, Novi High School, 235 votes for Schmid and 70 for Roethel;
- Precinct 2, Novi Middle School North, 259 votes for Schmid and 102 for Roethel;
- Precinct 3, Novi Public Library, 150 votes for Schmid and 69 for Roethel;
- Precinct 4, Lakeshore Park Community Building, 138 votes for Schmid

- and 36 for Roethel;
- Precinct 5, Orchard Hills Elementary, 202 votes for Schmid and 102 for Roethel;
- Precinct 6, Novi Fire Station 1, 165 for Schmid and 95 for Roethel;
- Precinct 7, Village Oaks Elementary, 268 for Schmid and 173 for Roethel;
- Precinct 8, Chateau Estates Club House, 216 votes for Schmid and 10 for Roethel;

- The vote by absentee ballot was 188 for Schmid and 46 for Roethel.
- Schmid's election to the mayor's post means the council now will have 30 days to appoint a replacement to fill the unexpired portion — two years — of his term.

Results of Tuesday's election show two challengers in the council race posed no real threat to the incumbents.

Karevich was elected with 1,939 votes. Smith was returned to office with 1,486 votes and Watson received 1,415 ballots.

Council opponents Russell Button and Edward Dobek received 659 and 920 votes respectively. Button is a lifelong Novi resident, who has served on numerous local organizations throughout the community's history. Dobek has been a member of the Novi Planning Board for the past 10 years.

Karevich, the top vote getter in the election, was first elected to the council in 1975 and re-elected to a four year term in 1977. She has served as mayor-pro tem for the past two years.

Smith was seeking his second consecutive term on the council. He was elected to the council in 1977.

Watson also was making his first bid for re-election. He was elected to a four-year term on the council in 1977.

Storyteller charms youngsters

Tall tales become reading lessons

By KAREN RICE

There are a lot of unusual things about Dinghy Sharp.

To begin with, "Dinghy" is an uncommon name, although the South Carolina-born Sharp says it's perfectly ordinary in the area she grew up.

Then there's Jeffrey, a ghost who lives in Birmingham, Alabama, whom Sharp considers a friend.

"You probably don't believe he exists," Sharp told a roomful of children at the Novi Library Saturday. "But let me tell you what he did. He makes my life very exciting...."

Finally, there's Dinghy Sharp's profession. She is a speech and reading teacher turned storyteller who views her craft as a way of encouraging children to read more.

Her concern for children's reading habits is all the more interesting because Dinghy Sharp can't read very well herself.

"I cannot read beyond the third grade level," says Sharp, who has dyslexia, which causes her to transpose letters when reading.

"I decided to be a storyteller because I cannot be a fluent story reader," she explains. "My goal in life is to persuade children that no matter how badly they read, they can read something."

If the medium is the message, Dinghy Sharp's strategy looks to be working well. A room full of rapt youngsters listened to her tell Halloween ghost stories Saturday at the Novi Library. Although some of the stories have been around awhile, Sharp's vocal techniques and expressive face puts them in a new light for many children.

She uses books primarily as props and finds some of her best stories develop from combining her own experiences with an author's work. For example, "Big Fraud and Little Fraud," a story by Ellis Credle, deals with a southern family and some practical jokes. Sharp adds her own background to the storytelling with this:

"Down in the low country, we're awful afraid of the fraids. The fraids come out at night, when the mists come out and the moon shines. 'Fraids' is a southern expression for ghosts...."

A learning consultant for the Farmington Public Schools, Sharp says the difficulty she had with learning to read encouraged her to help children with reading problems find an easy way to understand the printed word. She feels if she can keep a child's interest in stories alive, she might be able to encourage him to keep trying to read.

Sharp maintains one problem children with reading trouble have is that they don't understand the words an author uses to explain his ideas. By incorporating storytelling into her teaching techniques, Sharp says, she is able to help children understand story concepts in their own words and then make the leap to deciphering the meaning of an author's words.

"Story telling has been worked into my way of teaching reading," Sharp explains, "and it works. I can't believe what good luck I've had with it."

Sharp's good luck with storytelling may derive in part from her family background. She is a great-niece of Clement Moore, who wrote "The Night Before Christmas" as a holiday gift for his family. The tale is strictly an American tradition, Sharp says, although it has been translated into many languages; there is even a Cajun version of the poem.

Dinghy Sharp also has another famous great-uncle: H.E. Spalding, sports equipment mogul.

It seems there's just no end to the unusual aspects of Dinghy Sharp's life. Maybe that's why she is so comfortable with the thought of having a ghost for a friend. Besides, talking about Jeffrey makes a good story, which is important to a professional storyteller.

"Every time I talk about him something happens," she says. "I don't have an explanation for what happens. I'm sure there is one...."

"But doesn't it add beautifully to my story?"

DINGHY SHARP: "I decided to be a storyteller because I cannot be a fluent story reader. My goal in life is to persuade children that no matter how badly they read, they can read something. Story telling has been worked into my way of teaching reading and it works. I can't believe what good luck I've had with it."

Council approves foster care home

By KATHY JENNINGS

Novi's City Council has recommended a license be granted to an adult foster care family home where a single individual is being cared for instead of a proposed group home in the Meadowbrook Manor subdivision.

Licensing applications have been filed for both foster care homes which are within 1,500 feet of each other.

State law provides there must be a minimum of 1,500 between licensed adult foster care facilities, unless the local municipality decides to allow the establishment of two homes closer than 1,500 feet.

Novi previously notified the state that it does not recommend the licensing of a home at 41386 Llewelyn in the Meadowbrook Manor subdivision because it is within 1,500 feet of another foster care home. It has been proposed that six emotionally disturbed and developmentally disabled adults currently institutionalized at Clinton Valley be placed in the group home.

The council Monday recommended the licensing of a second home where a mentally retarded man is being cared for by deciding not to act on a notice from the Michigan Department of Social Services. The letter notified the city an adult foster care family home license application had been filed for the home at 41720 Eight Mile.

One portion of the notice requests information on the proposed facility's proximity to other adult foster care homes.

The council had three options in the matter. They could have notified the state that:

- "the proposed facility is located less than 1,500 feet from an existing similar facility, or another proposed facility. Issuance of license is recommended."

- "the proposed facility is located less than 1,500 feet from an existing similar facility, or another proposed similar facility. Issuance of a license is not recommended."

- or take no action and thereby indicate approval of the license application.

Court hears 'reasons' behind firing engineer

By KATHY JENNINGS

Before his dismissal as president of Moshier-Kapelczak, Inc. Harry D. Moshier was given 30 days to correct problems including "alcoholism, substance abuse, psychiatric problems and absenteeism," according to documents filed on behalf of the corporation in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Attorneys for both Moshier and the corporation had no further comment on the charges.

That claim is made in the court record of the case against Novi's firm of engineering consultants. Following his dismissal, Moshier filed suit against the firm, asking the court to dissolve Moshier-Kapelczak, Inc. and give him the "fair value" of his share in the corporation.

The firm has asked that the case be dismissed on the grounds that Moshier was ousted "as a result of his own actions" which "threatened the loss of more than 95 percent of the corporation's business."

Legal wrangling between former Novi City Engineer Harry D. Moshier and the corporation he presided over for three years — Moshier-Kapelczak, Inc. — is now at what is called the discovery stage with both sides telling the court what they believe are the facts in the case.

At this point in the legal negotiations Moshier's attorneys have asked questions about the corporation's response to the suit. The questions must be answered under oath by corporate officials.

Moshier's legal counsel requested the corporation name the problems Moshier allegedly was given 30 days to correct and identify the position which Moshier was given an opportunity to maintain in the corporation.

The question relates to the corporation's claim that it received information from the City of Novi and other clients that the "actions of Moshier if allowed to continue would cause the corporation to lose substantially all of its clientele."

According to the court record, the corporation claims the problems were discussed with Moshier in March and he was given 30 days to resolve them.

In its answer to the request for more specific information, the corporation's legal records state:

"The position Mr. Moshier was given an opportunity to maintain with the corporation was that of President. Further, answering the problems which Mr. Moshier was given 30 days to correct involved among others, "procrastination, inefficiency, alcoholism, substance abuse, psychiatric problems and

Ford schedules spring opening for Lincoln dealership

One new automobile dealership opened this week in Novi and another may be opened during the second quarter of 1982.

Now open for business on Grand River Avenue is the new Marty Feldman Chevrolet dealership.

"And an official from the Ford Motor Company said last week that the company hopes to open the Twelve Oaks Lincoln-Mercury dealership sometime in the middle of 1982."

"We definitely plan to fill the point," said William Carroll, assistant public relations manager of the Ford Division.

"We have no plans to tear it down or turn it into a flower shop," he added.

City officials, as well as residents, have been concerned about future plans for the dealership which is located in the city's regional center area near Twelve Oaks Mall and adjacent to the Sheraton Oaks hotel which is nearing completion.

Sheraton Oaks officials hope to have the hotel open for business no later than March 1982.

Construction of the Twelve Oaks

Lincoln-Mercury dealership began in September 1978 and was completed in March of 1980. A permanent certificate of occupancy was issued by the Novi Building Department in November.

The dealership has not yet been filled, however, and the building remains vacant.

The state equalized valuation (50 percent of true market value) on the building is approximately $571,000. The 1981 tax bill on the property was $30,550.

Carroll said no decision has yet been reached on whether the building will remain a Lincoln-Mercury dealership or be transferred to the Ford Division.

Carroll also stated that the search for a dealer will begin in earnest early in 1982. The company is not currently looking for a dealer for the facility, he said.

"People have been holding onto their cars longer and the scrapage rate on the roads is climbing," said Carroll.

"We think there's a lot of pent-up demand which is going to break loose pretty soon."

Similar optimism about the immediate future for the American auto industry was expressed recently by Louis Lataif, vice president of Ford Motor Company and general manager of the Ford Division.

Speaking in Birmingham, Lataif said sales will increase because the number of households is increasing. The housing industry has found a market in widows and singles persons who set up or maintain their own households and the same phenomenon helps sell cars, he said.

Lataif also said a national compilation of maintenance records indicates that America's "fleet" of autos "is not being very well maintained."

"The pent up demand will explode one of these days," he said.

Mayor says city must watch sewer issue

Presiding over her final meeting as mayor of the City of Novi, Romaine Roethel urged the council and city administration to continue the fight for sanitary sewers and "not let the past five years of efforts go down the drain."

"I recently picked up a newspaper in Dallas and read what was going on in Congress as far as sewer projects are concerned. It's imperative that you stay on top of this," Roethel said.

In her parting remarks, Roethel has led several contingents of local officials to Washington to impress upon legislators the need in southeastern Michigan and Novi for federal funds for sewer construction — specifically the so-called super sewer.

In her parting remarks, Roethel also said she "appreciated the working relationship I've had with the council during my involvement over the past eight and one-half years. I've enjoyed my term as a council member and as mayor."

"It's been an education and has been rewarding. And I don't think I'm bragging or being too proud to say I've been a part of it."

Roethel also thanked the city administrators, saying "I've had a good working relationship with every one of you."

"Thanks for putting up with me," the mayor said.

Mayor Pro-tem Patricia Karevich presented a plaque to Roethel honoring the mayor for her years of service to the community.

The plaque bears the inscription: "Through four years of growth, development and expanded services, the city of Novi has achieved tremendous progress in this city and I'm proud I've been a part of it."

great job well done May 1977-November 1981.

Karevich presented the plaque, saying: "All you've done has been for the city and it's betterment. I'm proud to have been your mayor pro-tem."

Roethel's term as mayor expires with the swearing in of the mayor who was elected Tuesday.

Roethel was elected mayor in 1977 and re-elected to a second two-year term in 1979. She was not a candidate for re-election this year, following her decision to pursue the national presidency of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Roethel assumed the national presidency of the Auxiliary in August.

Township officials blast Walled Lake's annexation attempts

Criticizing the City of Walled Lake for its attempt to "strip the township of its industrial services," Commerce Township Supervisor Robert Long lashed out at city officials last week before a gathering of nearly 300 residents of Commerce and Wolverine Lake Villages.

Long charged Walled Lake with exaggerating benefits it could offer residents whose property was awarded to the city. He also quoted from The Novi-Walled Lake News and other area newspapers in support of his argument that Walled Lake was misrepresenting its case.

Specifically, he addressed the city's contention that it could offer unified plans for growth through zoning, more "environmental sensitivity," improved coordination with the county particularly via SEMCOG and better sewer and water treatment services.

"I am shocked to read the Walled Lake petition," Long stated.

He questioned Walled Lake's "ability to plan for the city and the township when it doesn't even have a master plan," and asserted his own years of experience with SEMCOG assured residents equal or better representation on the regional board.

Further, Long quoted county, Walled Lake and Novi documents as saying expansion of the cities' joint water treatment facilities would be impossible in the near future, meaning Walled Lake would be hard pressed to offer expanded sewer and water services to township-turned-city residents.

Long contended the boundary commission was aware of the discrepancies but still approved the boundary change.

The supervisor also called Walled Lake's request for township land east of the city a "blatant attempt to skew our base."

Together, the two parcels comprise over one-third of Commerce's industrial base. Long said, adding, "It's the area Walled Lake wants to steal in order to help out their own tax base."

Over the next 10 years, the township could lose close to $1 million in taxes if both annexations are approved, McGee estimated.

Township officials were particularly upset that the boundary commission decided to approve a recommendation to give the western parcel to Walled Lake less than a week after the state Senate had approved a resolution calling for a moratorium on annexation decisions in Oakland County. Commerce representatives were a driving force in efforts to introduce the resolution, scheduled to be voted on in the state House of Representatives this month.

The resolution received unanimous backing from county officials and state legislators from Oakland County, said county Commissioner Dr. G. William Cadebit, who lives in Wolverine Lake Village.

"We are 100 percent behind Bob Long and Commerce's efforts to stop this land grab," he noted.

Commerce Trustee Paul Collom told the audience "Bob Long asked all the legislators to go to bat for us and they did. The boundary commission voted today not to honor the moratorium."

"To me, that is a slap in the face of our state Senate."

Recent decisions by the boundary commission appear to be forging a strange alliance throughout Commerce Township.

The unanimous support from county officials on the moratorium request, for example, prompted Commerce Township Clerk Robert McGee to quip the issue is probably the only thing some county officials have ever agreed on.

The annexation also brings together the Wolverine Lake Village Council and members of the Commerce Lakes Study Committee, who have clashed repeatedly in the past over the village's lake rehabilitation project. Representatives for both the council and committee admit it is unusual, but rather pleasant, to be working together instead of fighting.

And one villager at the meeting, Robert Klavitter, asked the question that has probably run through most Commerce residents' mind since the commission first handed down its recommendation to change township and city boundaries on the west.

"How can we get rid of the boundary commission?" she asked McGee.

The clerk replied: "There are some appropriate reasons for the boundary commission (to exist). This does not happen to be one of them."

"We've asked you folks here tonight to help us prevent that annexation," Long said.

After the meeting, residents picked up separate petitions calling for a referendum vote to place the annexation decision on a ballot next year and for incorporation of the township to cityhood.

Before petitions were distributed, however, township officials blasted the City of Walled Lake and urged residents' support for "the fight that has to be won," as Township Clerk Robert McGee put it.

A tense Long told the audience, "Commerce Township residents are faced with the possibility of losing the ability to maintain essential services."

"Walled Lake wants to strip the township of its industrial services and leave Commerce Township as a bedroom community."

The supervisor read portions of a petition submitted to the boundary commission by the city that detailed why it felt another portion of the township (this parcel about one square-mile east of Walled Lake) should be awarded to Walled Lake.

Long charged Walled Lake with exaggerating benefits it could offer residents whose property was awarded to the city. He also quoted from The Novi-Walled Lake News and other area newspapers in support of his argument that Walled Lake was misrepresenting its case.

Specifically, he addressed the city's contention that it could offer unified plans for growth through zoning, more "environmental sensitivity," improved coordination with the county particularly via SEMCOG and better sewer and water treatment services.

"I am shocked to read the Walled Lake petition," Long stated.

He questioned Walled Lake's "ability to plan for the city and the township when it doesn't even have a master plan," and asserted his own years of experience with SEMCOG assured residents equal or better representation on the regional board.

Further, Long quoted county, Walled Lake and Novi documents as saying expansion of the cities' joint water treatment facilities would be impossible in the near future, meaning Walled Lake would be hard pressed to offer expanded sewer and water services to township-turned-city residents.

Long contended the boundary commission was aware of the discrepancies but still approved the boundary change.

Commerce referendum petitions filed Tuesday

Petitions bearing signatures of about 6,000 Commerce Township and Wolverine Lake Village residents have been filed with the State Boundary Commission by Commerce officials in an attempt to overturn a recent annexation ruling by the commission.

The petitions call for a referendum vote on the commission's October 29 decision to approve annexation of a one-square-mile parcel of township land to the City of Walled Lake.

Township officials had until November 28 to appeal the ruling.

Following verification of the signatures, the issue will be placed on a ballot and could be presented to voters as early as next spring or summer, Township Clerk Robert McGee said.

If voters in either the parcel in question or the balance of the township (including Wolverine Lake Village) vote against the boundary commission's decision, McGee said, the land will remain part of Commerce. The boundary commission's ruling also would be voided should Walled Lake citizens vote on and turn down the question, McGee added.

Two other petitions are still being circulated in the township. Both call for the township to incorporate as a home rule city.

Commerce property owners who are registered voters and live in the township are eligible to sign both the three- and seven-page incorporation petitions.

"We hope to God that this is not necessary," McGee told about 500 township and village residents last week. If the boundary commission does not change its position of deciding annexation rulings in favor of cities rather than townships, McGee continued, these petitions are essential or we're going to lose everything we've been fighting for."

In defense of its incorporation filing, Commerce officials cite a desire to protect township hours, maintain continuation of a 38-year development plan, maintain and promote community services, and maintain and encourage essential services at lowest possible cost.

The two incorporation petitions are a follow up to a petition filed September 16 by the township, McGee said. The validity of the first petition is now being questioned by the state commission because it has fewer signatures than required.

According to James Hyde, executive secretary of the township, the first petition submitted by Commerce contained signatures of only one percent of the township's population and should have contained signatures of five percent.

Township officials were not available Tuesday to address Hyde's comment.

Anniversary observed by Crossroads church

An overflow crowd gathered at Crossroads United Presbyterian Church in Walled Lake October 18 to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the first worship service held by the congregation, according to Virginia Spurr. Special music was provided for the celebration by the church's chancel choir, which was joined by a reunited choir of 19 former members of the youth club. Both choirs sang separately and then combined for "The Crossroads of Our Life" by John Smith.

Reverend Richard Peters, pastor of the church, spoke on "The Church is People, Mission, Future."

Current members of the congregation who helped charter the church were recognized. They are Fred and Lomilla Chamberlain, John and Vivian Dobb, Anthony and Genevieve Lichvar, Charles and Eileen Long, Abbie McAlpine, Thelma Newman, Hettie Snow, Marian and Roy Thompson, Nettie Weikel and Norman Wolff.

Others who were recognized at the service included Kathryn Reeh and Duff Chamberlain, among the first members of the church to be baptized there; Gerald and Helen McArthur, former longtime members now living in California; and family members of the late J. Albert McCrory, former pastor of the church.

As a symbol of future growth, a red maple tree was planted and dedicated on the church grounds near the sanctuary October 18, Spurr said.

After the Sunday morning service, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall.

Anniversary celebration planners included Jean Norgrove, Marilyn Kruse and Lorraine Skoog. Eileen Long headed the anniversary committee.

Special project assistants were Peggy Reich, Ginnie Spurr, Pat West and Reverend Richard Peters.

Commerce 'goofed' first petition, according to state official

By STEPHEN CVENGROS
Townships uniting to gain a moratorium against annexation "appear" to be creating a "crisis political climate," according to a memorandum written by State Boundary Commission Executive Secretary James Hyde October 21.

Commerce Township officials filed an insufficient petition and were outmaneuvered by Walled Lake so that the necessary additional signatures cannot be filed. They goofed! They have now run to their Senator and the Lt. Governor asking that their chests be yanked out of the fire.

"They (townships) are attempting to create a crisis political climate in which they can influence and push state officials into taking hasty, drastic action..." — James Hyde, State Boundary Commission

County's study of annexation moratorium questioned

By STEPHEN CVENGROS
Is Oakland County taking sides in the proposed annexation moratorium? It depends who you listen to.

But surprisingly, Oakland County took a position in the matter—choosing to concur with a moratorium. Two separate letters presented to the committee, one from County Executive Daniel Murphy and the other, a combined effort by county officials Lynn Allen, George Kuhn, L. Brooks Patterson, Johannes Spreen and C. Hugh Dohany, supported a halt to further annexations until a study can be conducted.

Opponents of the moratorium claimed the county is taking sides and if a study is to be conducted—it should certainly be done by some group other than Park suggested there may some impropriety with Oakland County's conducting the study.

Murphy isn't taking sides. Martin defended his superior's position saying, "It would not reflect well on the county executive to present a one-sided viewpoint."

Township, city face-off in State Capitol

By STEPHEN CVENGROS
Commerce Township and Walled Lake officials faced off for the first time since a September State Boundary Commission decision granted approximately one square mile to the city at a State House of Representatives Committee hearing yesterday morning in Lansing.

"You don't see our citizens marching to Lansing complaining about taxes." — Gaspare LaMarca, Walled Lake mayor his township as gloomy. "Every township in Oakland County has been planning its development for many years," the township supervisor said. "All of that can be destroyed by annexation."

Commerce's top official also queried about what effect Walled Lake's continued growth would have on more populated areas of the county such as Hazel Park.

Services have been provided to a portion of Commerce over the past decade, according to LaMarca. Commercial, Williams Research, which is on Walled Lake's sewage system but in Commerce, is seeking to add to expand its service.

LaMarca re-elected to second term

By STEPHEN CVENGROS
Incumbent Mayor Gaspare LaMarca scored an overwhelming victory defeating challenger Thomas Brookover by a 404-188 margin in Walled Lake's general election yesterday.

Another incumbent, Walter Lewandowski, tallied 427 votes—enough to take over the mayor pro-tem's seat on Walled Lake's City Council.

Lewandowski led the fight for four council vacancies. James Clifton, the other incumbent in the council race, received 390 votes and Parks and Recreation Chairperson Dorothy Dingman was named on 359 ballots to also seal four-year terms.

City Plan Commission member Edward Horsman was fourth in the voting with 302 votes and will serve out the remainder of Heather Hill's term over the next two years.

Thomas Brookover manned the polls in yesterday's mayoral election, but could not beat incumbent Gaspare LaMarca.

Spencer scores easy victory

Lillian Spencer won election to a third consecutive term as mayor and two incumbent council members were returned to office when Wixom voters went to the polls in the general election Tuesday.

Spencer was an easy victor in the mayoral race as she outpolled challenger Gary Lentz by a margin of 425 to 312.

Two incumbent council members—Dennis Andrews and Gunnar Mettala—topped the balloting for three posts on the city council.

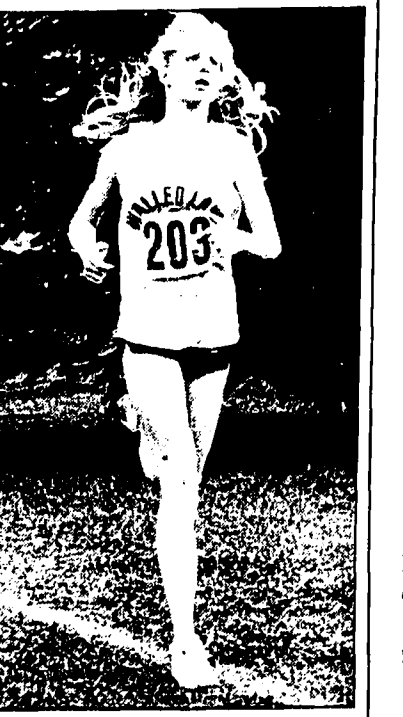

Andrews received 446 votes to lead a field of five candidates for three vacancies on the city council. Mettala finished second in the council race with 396 votes.

LILLIAN SPENCER

City Clerk June Buck reported a light day at the polls as approximately 700 of Wixom's 3,600 registered voters showed up to cast their ballots—a voter turnout of roughly 16.67 percent.

Hook asks area police consider gun safety plan

By STEPHEN CVENGROS
County Criminal Justice Coordinating Council, told the police chiefs that there is "developing concern over residential firearm use."

"I think we have to develop some type of guidelines for citizen handgun handling," Rhodes added, pointing out current concerns that both he and Hook share.

At a time when police are coming under fire about deciding when to fire their weapons, Hook observed, "there's a tremendous demand on law enforcement officers. We have to know when to shoot and when not to shoot. They (citizens) should too."

Rat race

Who ever said life was laid back in Walled Lake? Ken Schimnoski (alias Mickey) of South Lyon and 11-year-old Jackie Schimnoski (aka Minnie) proved running around Walled Lake can be a real rat race. The costumed runners were just two of the many athletes that mixed sport with the Halloween holiday in Saturday's Hobgoblin run sponsored by the Walled Lake Jaycees.

Commerce 'goofed' filing, according to official annexation law passed in 1970 both the Michigan League and the Michigan Townships Association agreed with and were a part of the compromise that resulted in its passage.

"But in 1972, the state official noted, the townships association "changed his mind and started attacking the law, the (State Boundary) Commission, and its processes through the courts."

"Since 1977, when this ruling was issued, the townships have continued to repeat many of the same arguments and changes to anyone who would listen. Through this process, they have tried to create a political climate in which the townships are cast as the good guys and the Boundary Commission as the bad guys."

Townships have been successful, since 1972, in changing the annexation laws "to reflect arguments they have made before the (boundary) commission and courts" in only one instance—the 1968 amendment to the Charter Township Law, Public Act 242 of 1968, according to Hyde.

Reached early Tuesday morning by telephone in Lansing, Hyde said, "I really don't care to comment on that," when asked about his perception of the townships' motives and the memo in general.

However, during a meeting in Lansing yesterday morning a member of the State Boundary Commission, James Smith, made similar accusations. Smith told a State House of Representatives Committee that he believed the entire proposal to initiate an annexation moratorium in Oakland County was a result of Commerce filing a "faulty" incorporation petition.

Rally set for pool drive

A drive to earn money to re-open the swimming pool at Walled Lake Western High School will shift into high gear this week when the Walled Lake Western Pop Band holds a rally at the Maple Plaza shopping center in Walled Lake.

The rally is slated to begin at 11 a.m. and last for two hours. In addition to requesting contributions, members of the Walled Lake Community Pool Study Committee will be selling special buttons with the inscription, "Go, Go, H-Two-O."

Western, according to project chairman Ann Shelly, Committee members are asking residents to "purchase" a gallon of water to help re-open the pool. Each gallon of water is priced at five cents. The pool holds approximately 200,000 gallons, and the committee hopes to raise a total of $10,000 by selling all 200,000 gallons.

Anyone interested in buying a gallon or more of water should make checks payable to the Walled Lake Schools' Pool Fund. Mail them to Walled Lake Consolidated Schools, 695 North Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, Michigan 48088.

Batchik attends conference

Fifty-second District Court Judge Michael Batchik has received a certificate of completion for the General Jurisdictional session held at the National Judicial College on the campus of the University of Nevada-Reno in October.

The National Judicial College is affiliated with the American Bar Association. The session attracted 99 judges from 37 states, including appellate, military, territory and foreign judges.

The session was a comprehensive review of judicial procedure with emphasis on new trends in law and court administration.

When Matt Huff put on his rabbit ears before joining the costumed fun run in Wall-ed Lake, he wasn't thinking about being considered a playboy. But he was hoping they would help him be quick as a rabbit and keep up with the front runners. Unfortunately, his legs were more interested in moving like a tortoise than a hare. Huff crossed the finish line quite a way behind the leader — with ears still intact. (Photo by Steve Fecht)

Wixom moves to take over Willis Park

Taking advantage of a ruling by the State Supreme Court, Wixom's City Council has passed a resolution to annex the 46-acre Gilbert C. Willis Memorial Park. The park is owned by the City of Willis but located in Commerce Township. Assistant to the Mayor Stephen Bonczek reported that the city council last week adopted a resolution to add the park to the City of Wixom. According to Wixom, the city does not have to go through the normal annexation process with the State Boundary Commission because of a supreme court ruling which permits park property to be annexed by a city when the property is located in an adjacent township.

The ruling was handed down in a case involving Owosso, Bonczek said. "The park will belong to the City of Wixom as soon as all the legal papers are filed with the Secretary of State's office," Bonczek asserted. Wixom officials have been attempting to add the 46-acre park to the city for approximately two years. Although the addition of any additional property to the city's tax base, acquisition of the property has been urged by Police Chief Philip Leonard in order to facilitate law enforcement activities. Wixom police who are deputized by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department have jurisdiction in the park, but Leonard has maintained that enforcement of city ordinances would be facilitated if the property were legally part of the city.

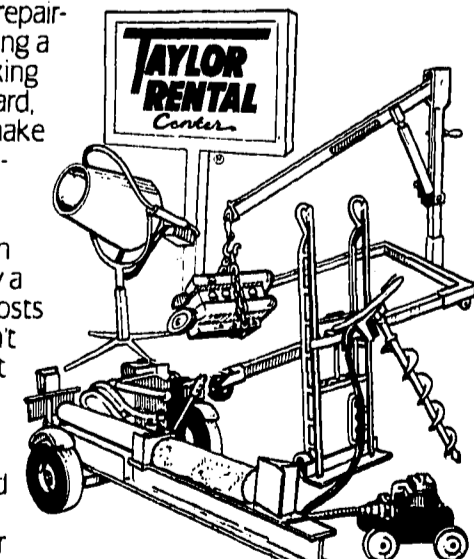

Wixom police who are not deputized by the Oakland County Sheriff's Department are obliged to make a citizen's arrest and then hold the subject until an Oakland County sheriff can be summoned to the scene. Currently, all members of the Wixom Police Department are deputized by Oakland County. Although Wixom has moved to acquire the parkland, Bonczek said Tuesday that the city has no plans to seek annexation of any additional property — either "in Commerce Township, Lyon Township or anywhere else."

Both Commerce and Lyon township officials have been concerned about the possibility of losing property to adjoining municipalities through annexation proceedings. The State Boundary Commission recently approved the annexation of a portion of Commerce Township to the City of Walled Lake. Walled Lake also has annexation petitions pending against another portion of Commerce Township property.

Concerned that the actions of the Boundary Commission could lead to the virtual demise of the township form of government in the State of Michigan, the Michigan Township Association is currently backing a call for an annexation moratorium in Oakland County until the potential ramifications have been analyzed.

Novi resident faces trial

James H. Sexton, Jr., of 41875 LaFleur in Novi will face trial in Oakland County Circuit Court after waiving examination on one charge of breaking and entering and a second charge of felonious assault.

Sexton also was sentenced and released after appearing in 52nd District court Monday on charges of failing to obey a police officer's signal to stop and charges of entry without breaking in connection with an incident in which the man eluded police by swimming through Village Oaks Lake.

Sexton faces charges in connection with a break-in on the 30000 block of Montmorency in Chateau Estates Mobile Home Park in which a coin collection worth $20 was stolen, as well as an incident at the Speedway Gas Station at Ten Mile and Novi Road.

At his arraignment in 52nd District Court a personal recognizance bond was set and examination was scheduled for October 19.

At his examination the failure to obey a police officer's signal charge was dismissed when Sexton pled guilty as charged to entry without breaking.

Sexton was arrested in September after he allegedly failed to stop for a police signal and fled the scene. He was chased through Novi's Village Oaks subdivision and swam through a large man-made lake in the subdivision.

Pellet wounds Novi youth in accidental shooting incident

In Novi A 15-year old Novi youth was struck in the face with a pellet from a shotgun in an accidental shooting incident reported October 25.

Police said the boy was treated and released for a pellet wound in the right cheek. The youth apparently was shot after he walked into a field where his brother was taking target practice.

Jewelry valued at $5,000 was stolen from an apartment in Beachwalk, Novi police reported. The owner told police the rings were kept in a wallet in his bedroom and were last seen three weeks ago.

She told police a $4,000 engagement and wedding ring set and a $1,000 ring were stolen.

Novi city council members authorized widening one leg of the Twelve Mile/Haggerty Road intersection in a special meeting Saturday.

Novi officials are working with Farmington Hills to improve the Twelve Mile/Haggerty Road intersection. It is believed traffic congestion at the corner will be relieved if the eastbound lane on the west leg of Twelve Mile is extended to provide more "stacking room" for traffic turning left.

Nichols specifically said such comments would come from Wayne County. However, Nichols did not altogether chastise the idea. "I just want something that's absolutely going to fly," he told his colleagues.

Niemisto, who precluded his comments by noting he is a member of the National Rifle Association, which has long opposed restrictions on citizens' rights to purchase firearms, raised several related matters that concerned him.

area blotters

Tools worth approximately $2,800 were stolen from Trudeau Concrete, 5200 Ten Mile in a theft reported October 23.

The owner told police two air hammers worth $1,300, a $600 form bay clamp, a $600 ballroom charger, a $256 weed eater and a wheelbarrow of empty beer cans worth $12 were stolen.

There were no signs of forced entry to the building, police reported. The owner said a past or present employee may have been responsible for the theft.

A thief made off with more than $2,000 worth of goods in a break-in of an apartment in the 4000 block of Timberlane.

Police said a guitar which the owner said is a collector's item was taken in the break in. The instrument is worth $2,000. Also taken were a tool box with 300 worth of tools and a 100 bottle of prescription drugs.

The owner told police he left the apartment at 10:45 a.m. and discovered the break-in when he returned at noon.

He reported two cabinet doors, a desk drawer and the bathroom medicine cabinet had been opened. Police reported no signs of forced entry and the owner said a master key may have been used to enter the apartment.

A Novi woman told police she believes her ring worth $1,333 has been either lost or stolen from her home in the 200 block of Faywood.

The woman said she left the ring in an ash tray in the kitchen and noticed it missing several weeks later. She told police her husband may have accidentally thrown out the ring when he was cleaning.

Li'l devil

When midnight came around Halloween night there's no telling how many souls this Li'l devil bought, but they must have had a hard time turning down this grin. Although the collection of souls is uncertain there's no doubt Angela Mully, 5, got her share of trick-or-treat goodies.

Ruth Clynick was among those who contributed to Angela's haul.

Novi to proceed with widening intersection

Novi city council members authorized widening one leg of the Twelve Mile/Haggerty Road intersection in a special meeting Saturday.

They also authorized the city's consulting engineers to obtain the right-of-way necessary for the project.

The contract for widening one leg of the Twelve Mile/Haggerty Road intersection has been awarded to low bidder Detroit Concrete, which said it could complete the job for approximately $20,600.

Novi officials are working with Farmington Hills to improve the Twelve Mile/Haggerty Road intersection. It is believed traffic congestion at the corner will be relieved if the eastbound lane on the west leg of Twelve Mile is extended to provide more "stacking room" for traffic turning left.

Originally there was some confusion as to whether or not it would be necessary to obtain right-of-way for the project.

City Manager Edward Kriewell told the council that the Oakland County Road Commission has a different approach to acquiring right-of-way, and it might not be necessary to purchase property from the land owners.

But City Attorney David Fried pointed out that the city would be contracting for the work - not Oakland County.

"They may have to contract and do the job, otherwise we would be trespassing," Fried said. "The city would be assuming the liability."

It was later determined that the city would in fact have to purchase right-of-way and the council has now authorized the engineers to do so.

Co-directors tell qualifications to operate group home

Are the co-directors of a proposed foster care home in Novi's Meadowbrook Manor subdivision qualified for the job? That was the question raised during a recent meeting of Meadowbrook Manor residents to explain plans for the home. Joan DiGregorio and John Quarton, co-directors of the proposed home, have explained their educational and professional backgrounds. DiGregorio has a bachelor's degree in psychology from Michigan State University. She also has Montessori teacher training from Merrill Palmer Institute. She received her master's degree from Oakland University in developmental psychology. She has a two-year post-master's specialist certification from Merrill Palmer Institute, and is a doctoral candidate in psychology at Union Graduate School in Cincinnati. Her employment history includes teacher and program director at the Montessori Center in Detroit, psychological and case work services at the Macomb Child Guidance Clinic, and family case worker services with abuse and neglect cases for the Child Aid Society. She has been program director of new programs at the Methodist Children's Home—a home for seven children between the ages of 2½ and six years who were severely abused and too disturbed to be placed in a family foster care home. She supervised and implemented a program, supervised 11 counselors, and served as staff psychologist providing therapy for children and their families. DiGregorio also has been an undergraduate instructor at Henry Ford, instructor in foster parent education program at Eastern Michigan University, and psychological staff intern at Plymouth Center in the unit for the most severely and profoundly disturbed. At Plymouth she served persons who are dually diagnosed preparing them for the transition into the community. She has further provided psychological services for out-patients and consultant for existing group homes at the Center for Human Studies in Detroit. She now works in private practice at Humanistic Resources. Quarton has a masters degree in humanistic and clinical psychology from Merrill Palmer Institute. His employment experience includes a psychology internship at Plymouth Center and experience with the foster-parent training program from Eastern Michigan University. Quarton served in supervisory positions at Methodist Children's Village including Activities Supervisor—responsible for recreation staff and village activities. There he also designed, developed and implemented a activity program for emotionally impaired children. He further served as Webber Cottage Supervisor where he designed and implemented a therapeutic relationship milieu in the cottage program for adolescent males diagnosed as mildly mentally retarded and severely emotionally impaired. Quarton also was Village Evening supervisor where he coordinated evening programs including activities, limits of all residential cottage units between 5 p.m. and 11 p.m. He was responsible for administration and training counselor's in the philosophy, theories and skills relative to village residential services; how to use the structure of the day therapeutically; how to recognize behavior development; and importance of the natural milieu in the cottage program for adolescents. Currently he is in private practice at Humanistic Resources.

Novi council recommends licensing family foster care home

Continued from Nov. 1 City Manager Edward Kriewall explained "the council must consider either taking no action or telling the state it recommends approval of the Eight Mile facility. The issue is whether this existing home could impact the other home that is being pursued in the general area." Normally, the matter would be handled administratively—the notice would have been returned telling the state that the city did not recommend the licensing of the home because it is located less than 1,500 feet from a proposed facility, the council was told. But since the city had the option of indicating its approval for one home or the other the matter was brought before the council. City Attorney David Fried explained if the council took no action it was recommending licensing approval of the Eight Mile home. He noted that the decision for the matter was being brought to council because it "may favor the licensing of this home over the proposed group home." Council members discussed the possibility of telling the state that they support the licensing of the home although it is less than 1,500 feet from another proposed facility. But they determined that they would be recommending the approval of two adult care facilities rather than showing a preference for the Eight Mile location. Council Member Guy Smith questioned what the council was being asked to do. "We are taking action by taking no action," Smith said. "They've made the decision for us." Council Member Robert Schmid said: "Under the present guidelines the community placement program is a problem in Novi and perhaps we should not be on record as accepting any delay tactic. I know there is tremendous activity on the part of the Michigan Municipal League on this issue. There might be a chance if we recommended the license might give the state more options. "They could select the home that is less appropriate for Novi," Schmid said. Hoyer said she would like to see the resolution sent to all state legislators. The council subsequently decided not to act on the notice.

Wolverine Lake project remains at a standstill

Three weeks after Oakland County Engineer William Klockow told the Wolverine Lake Village Council plans for this year's lake rehabilitation project would probably have to be abandoned, the status of the rehab is still on hold. There has been no essential change in the factors impeding the village's efforts to clean up its lake, according to Klockow, an engineer for the county drain commission's office who was appointed to coordinate the project. Wolverine Lake is still unable to lower its water level because downstream Commerce Lake remains at a level higher than it is legally allowed to be. The entire Huron/River chain is experiencing high water tables because of dredging fall rains, said Klockow, who receives daily reports of the levels of the lakes. The uncooperative weather conditions are also hampering a planned drawdown of Pontiac Lake, which requires daily repairs of the levels of the lakes. Patterson to be speaker at Novi chamber meet Oakland County Prosecutor and gubernatorial hopeful L. Brooks Patterson will be the featured speaker at a special breakfast meeting of the Novi Chamber of Commerce on Thursday, November 11. The breakfast meeting will be held in the Red Timbers restaurant on Grand River Avenue at 8 a.m. Tickets to the breakfast are available at a price of $6.50 by calling Chamber offices at 474-2910. Tickets also may be purchased the morning of the breakfast. Patterson has been Oakland County prosecutor since November 1972. He was re-elected to the post, each time as the county's leading vote getter, in both 1976 and 1980. Prior to being elected prosecutor, he was a trial lawyer in both civil and criminal practices of law. As prosecutor, he commands a staff of 58 lawyers and is responsible for a budget of $3½ million, prosecuting all state crimes which arise in Oakland County — the second largest county in the state. Politically active, he addressed the National Republican Platform Committee prior to the 1976 Kansas city convention on the need for national parole reform. He was an early supporter of Ronald Reagan's presidential campaign and was called on frequently by the Reagan/Bush team to act as a surrogate speaker and debater on their behalf in Michigan. Patterson announced in August his intentions to run for governor of the State of Michigan. All Novi residents are invited to attend the special chamber breakfast next Thursday. Previous speakers in the Chamber breakfast series have included Richard Headlee, president of Alexander Hamilton and author of the Headlee amendment to the state constitution, and U.S. Senator Carl Levin.

... astrology, herself and her new office

By MICHELE McELMURRY and KAREN RICE

Astrology is a very precise science, June Lowe contends, and putting together individual's chart requires a great deal of math — including logarithms, involved calculations, knowledge of angles, degrees and increments. But once the basic numbers and placement of planets is worked out, the real work begins. According to Lowe, an astrologer is only as good as his interpretation of each astrologer has a different view of what chart configurations mean. "No astrologer is ever wrong," she says. "What they discover" is their own impression, their own interpretation. You have to use your own judgment (when reading charts). "I study the people along with the sign and make my own judgments."

Looking for Mr. Good Sign? Who isn't? It's no coincidence that most of the questions astrologer June Lowe is asked relate to romance. It seems that just about everyone wants to find out what's in the stars when it comes to love. On her talk show, broadcast by WCXI-AM radio, Lowe is asked repeatedly for the compatibility between various signs. People under any sign can get along; "but some signs work together better than others."

Parks and rec sets up Community Art Fair Saturday

More than 40 craftsmen and artists will display their talents and sell their artwork this weekend at the Novi Community Art Fair sponsored by the Novi Parks and Recreation Department at Middle School North. The art fair will run from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday and 1-6 p.m. on Sunday.

Among the works will be painting, calligraphy, quilting, silk flower arrangements, woodwork, doll house furniture, stained glass, needlework, photography and pottery. Demonstrations in pottery, ceramics, calligraphy, weaving, painting and other arts also will be offered. Local groups will provide entertainment, including the Chorales, who will sing at 3 p.m. Saturday. The Novi Jazz Band will play Saturday at 1 p.m. and the Brass Enlightenment Ensemble will perform Sunday at 2 p.m.

Novi Highlights

By Jeanne Clarke 624-0173

CHURCH WOMEN UNITED: An ecumenical women's group, Church Women United, will celebrate World Community Day Friday (November 6) with a candle-lighting worship service at 10 a.m.

The theme of the celebration, "The Last Commandment — Put Away Your Sword," will be featured in discussion groups and scripture readings from the Gospel.

Written by Orthodox Christian Women, the service will be held at Novi United Methodist Church, 41671 West

TE MILLS: Women of all denominations are welcome. Call Sandy Wigley, 349-2649, for more information.

VFW: The Novi Veterans of Foreign Wars will meet Friday (November 6) to complete plans for their annual Veteran's Day program and pancake breakfast at the Novi Community Center, 26300 Novi Road.

Joined by the Novi American Legion and Blue Star Mothers, the VFW will host breakfast at 9 a.m. and a program will begin at 11 a.m. Wednesday, November 11.

The VFW sponsors bingo games every Wednesday at the community building at 7 p.m. Volunteers are needed to help with bingo.

A new room at the post home on Grand River has been completed due partly to the efforts of Leo Selasky and Harry Urton. More members are needed; Viet Nam vets are especially encouraged to join the post.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE: Oakland County Prosecutor and gubernatorial hopeful L. Brooks Patterson will be the speaker at the Veteran's Day breakfast sponsored by the Novi Chamber of Commerce on November 11 at 8 a.m. at the Red Timbers.

Reservations can be made by calling the chamber office, 349-3742. Cost of the breakfast is $6.50.

WELCOME WAGON: Newcomers are invited to contact Sue Lyle, 348-6232, for details on the next newcomers' coffee. The meeting will be held near Dunbar Pines Tuesday, November 10, at 7:30 p.m.

The annual wine and cheese tasting party is coming up Saturday, November 14 at 10 a.m. The bazaar is headed by Arvie Athas and will be held in time for Christmas shopping. It will offer handmade gifts for the home, children, infants and baked goods, among other things.

Everyone is invited to attend the sale at the church, 46200 West Ten Mile.

HOLY CROSS: The women of Holy Cross Episcopal Church have been busy every Tuesday throughout the fall preparing for their annual bazaar on November 14 at 10 a.m. The bazaar is headed by Arvie Athas and will be held in time for Christmas shopping. It will offer handmade gifts for the home, children, infants and baked goods, among other things.

Everyone is invited to attend the sale at the church, 46200 West Ten Mile.

COMMUNITY ED: Some of the second session of fall community ed classes begin this month, with coupon-referencing strategies starting November 13 at 7 p.m. The course runs three weeks and helps consumers learn to shop wisely, use coupons and returns to stretch money and can also help residents get gifts and money.

Dried and silk flower arranging Camp dates will be available that GIRL SCOUTS: All leaders and assistant leaders are reminded of an important meeting at Village Oaks School tomorrow (Thursday) at 7:30 p.m. Leaders are asked to bring sample crafts, field trip ideas, names of sponsors and lists of the girls in their troop to the meeting.

Camp dates will be available that

BUSHNELL CONGREGATIONAL: Dr. Robin Meyers, pastor of Bushnell Congregational Church, invites area residents to join church members at Village Oaks School Sundays at 9 a.m. Bushnell members are sponsoring a food drive and are trying to gather 5,000 cans by November 22. The canned goods will be delivered to an inner city church where about 60 percent of area residents are unemployed. Anyone who would like to help with the project is asked to call Molly Dalley, 477-1621.

Church women also are working on a bazaar for November 14. It will be held at the church's original Detroit home, 15000 Southfield, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

PIN POINTERS: Shirley Vincent won the mystery game. High bowlers were Linda Scarver (197 and 186 in a 540 series), Jackie Stoecklin (185) and Rosemary Banish (183 and 183 in a 534 series). ATHLETIC BOOSTERS: The Boosters will meet at 8 p.m. tonight (Wednesday) in Room 107 of Novi High School. The group is open to all parents interested in the school's athletic program.

Presently, the Boosters are handling concession stand sales at home football games and thank community members for their support. The annual fall sports banquet is coming up and will cover football, girls tennis, golf, girls basketball and cross country. The annual bowling party is set for Saturday, November 28. Call Fred Almond, 348-2387, for details.

SENIOR CITIZENS: The nominating committee of the Novi Senior Citizens has presented a slate of officer-candidates for the coming year, including Al Weiss, president; Ted Brenner, first vice-president; Kate Magus, second vice-president; Frances Daleo, treasurer; and Cecile Thompson, secretary. The nominating committee is made up of Mabel Hughes, Peg Wilcox and Frances Daleo.

Carriers win prizes, trips during contest

Good things are often hard to come by. But Danielle LaFond — with her eye on a long list of good things — learned that a little bit of hard work goes a long way. And after several years of delivering newspapers, 15-year-old Danielle LaFond finally cashed in.

After signing up 72 new subscribers to The Novi-Walled Lake News, Danielle signed herself up for a list of prizes, including a television set, a pocket camera and a calculator.

In fact, an excited Danielle noted she also earned a colored pen set, a bike tool set, athletic socks and a crazy cube puzzle.

Although Danielle could have chosen a trip to Toronto as one of her prizes, she decided instead to select prizes she would be able to enjoy for several years.

A 10th-grader at Walled Lake Western, Danielle LaFond has been delivering papers in Novi's Chateau Estates for two years. She got the job when her sister, who also delivered papers for The Novi-Walled Lake News, took a larger route with the Detroit News. Danielle took over her sister's territory and has since expanded it.

"Danielle — also revealed her sales technique. "I just went up to the door and asked them if they'd like to get The Novi News for $6," she said.

And it worked. In fact, Danielle's route is so big now that she can't ride her bike while delivering papers on the Wednesday afternoons. She has to take a wagon along with her.

In any case, Danielle is still working

T-shirt design contest is open to Novi residents

Designer T-shirts is what the Novi Parks and Recreation Department is looking for. And local residents with a bit of artistic talent can get into the act by entering the T-shirt design contest being sponsored by the parks and rec staff.

Designs should be created to be screened as one color, Scott said, and should depict the variation of recreation activities available in Novi.

The winning designer will be awarded a plaque, free registration into a recreation program for a year and a T-shirt imprinted with his design.

For more information, contact Scott at 349-1978.

Dental Dialogue
of A. Allen Tuchkpler, D.D.S.

INSURANCE INFORMATION

Q. Is dental insurance worth the money and hassle involved?
A. Yes. Until recent years dental insurance wasn't readily available. Now there are many group dental plans offered by employers and unions, and a few individual plans are obtainable through private insurance companies.

The concept of dental insurance is probably new to you, but don't let the redtape and paperwork involved keep you from making a worthwhile investment that can substantially reduce the amount of the dental bills you pay. If you're confused or have questions about completing the forms, ask the advice of whomever handles the patient insurance forms for your dentist, they'll be happy to help.

This column is presented in the interest of better dental health. From the office of

Astrologer June Lowe talks about signs

in the middle of the night and ask me what color she should paint her kitchen!" Lowe explains.

"For those people who can't get out of bed in the morning without checking out their daily horoscope, Lowe advises seeing a psychiatrist rather than an astrologist.

"I don't want people to read the paper and think they can't go outside. That's ridiculous, that's totally ridiculous," Lowe says.

"There are fanatics. What they don't understand is that astrology is a little bit like a rainstorm: You can't stop the rain but you can carry an umbrella. The stars impel. They do not compel. You can change anything you want to. You control your own destiny."

Does that mean people who see negative characteristics in their charts can change them into something better? It is possible.

According to Lowe, characteristics of each sign are mainly tendencies and can be altered with some hard work, although they won't go away entirely.

And there's more to an individual's sun sign than meets the eye.

"Everyone has two different personalities," Lowe explains. "The one you keep to yourself (thoughts and emotions) is your sun sign and the one you show to others is your rising sign."

Additionally, depending on the location and exact moment of birth, position of the planets vary — changing personality traits. That is what makes preparing and reading astrological signs difficult and time-consuming.

Lowe takes Lowe about an hour to prepare and an hour to interpret a chart, although she does not do many of them because she says she doesn't have time.

Instead, she offers worksheets to people who would like to figure out their own charts and occasionally conducts workshops. She is hoping to hold classes in her Center Street studio once she settles in.

Lowe's interest in astrology stems from her childhood and her Transylvanian-born mother. Lowe explains that her mother was "a very psychic woman" and it was from her upbringing that she developed an interest in the zodiac.

Lowe's astrological mentor was the Reverend James Crews, considered to be one of the best astrologists in Detroit.

After years of individual tutoring with Crews, Lowe landed a job with the Detroit Free Press, writing a weekly column for Detroit Magazine.

In 1978, WCAR offered Lowe a weekly radio program. When the station changed over to WCXI in 1979, Lowe's program was extended to four hours per week.

Lowe does not take telephone calls about personal astrological matters but will answer questions by mail. Anyone who would like more information can send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to her in care of WCXI, Box 1130, Detroit 48135.

Char visits Town Hall

Audience participation is promised Northville Town Hall ticketholders when they attend the second lecture of the current series at 11 a.m. next Thursday, November 12, at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

Char, the Southfield-based psychic who has supported herself by giving psychic readings, scheduling about four a day at $30 for a 45-minute session. She has been seen by television viewers on Kelly and the Hearthsides Company.

Char says she has the ability to distinguish between a normal person and a person who is being visited by spirits from the degree in speech and supernatural world.

Char's forte is giving strangers names of their loved ones without any coaching.

A celebrity luncheon will follow the lecture at the Plymouth Hilton. Reservations at $8 should be made this week with Mrs. Severo Armada, 349-7255.

Inflation Investing

Normal year-end portfolio planning this year happens to coincide with a spate of very abnormal market events. The result has been a much larger than usual outpouring of individual stock recommendations from broker and advisor alike.

The quantities have been so voluminous, in fact, that it is a rare day when the typical investor is not virtually inundated with batches of new suggestions. The fresh ideas, of course, are not unwelcome to most investors. Indeed, most take the position, the more the merrier. After all, they apparently reason, anything would be an improvement over much of their present holdings.

Then there is the basic appeal any "new" idea always has along with its subtle (but ill-defined) promises of riches. Investors are also susceptible to that very human condition which starts out "Hope springs eternal..."

We have no basic quarrel with this process either. It is, after all, the marketplace at work. It's been that way, or nearly so, since the great Buttonwood Tree Agreement of 1792, which got the investment markets in motion in the first place.

What does occasionally rattle us, however, is the random manner in which most of the recommendations are made. Sizzle often replaces substance, and virtually all are without any hard format that would allow the investor the very modest luxury of understanding what he is investing in and how appropriate it might be for his own objectives.

Our annoyance is significantly compounded when we review the "all-purpose" bulletins that contain so many recommendations. The investment process is reduced to something more akin to a plain crap shoot.

Such "enlightened" shotgun approaches invite the investor to select, buy and sell at random, wait a few days or weeks and then repeat the process. Success becomes a pure accident of chance. And that's just no way to treat anything as serious as an investment program.

Investors' varying interests are better served, in our opinion, if they'll draw upon a battle plan that we've used through the years, one that attempts a basic classification of stocks (and the companies behind them) into categories.

This technique greatly facilitates their evaluation, makes the selection process more manageable and assists the investor in matching stock with objective, a critical activity that otherwise gets completely ignored.

The groupings we have in mind are very simple ones, consisting of three broad categories with umbrellas large enough to cover almost all of the common stock choices that come along. Using this approach won't produce guaranteed profits, we admit, but it might make them more attainable. It most certainly will reduce expensive buying and selling of ill-suited issues.

Umbrella number one covers what we call "income" stocks. Such issues, as the name implies, should be purchased for their high current dividends and relative price stability. Those with income requirements on their mind (widows and orphans, please note) should probably stick to this category exclusively.

Income stock examples? The woods are full of them. Let's start with public utilities. They operate in a monopolistic environment so the dividends are safe. It so happens they're also high. Returns of 13 and 14 percent are almost commonplace in today's market. And sometimes they grow, at least a little.

Moving right along, our next convenient category has been dubbed "growth" stocks. Favorites of most long-term investors, growth issues are bought for their potential price appreciation. If fortunes are made in the stock market (and they are) this is the group that usually produces them, albeit with risk. No, or low dividends though. Profits get plowed back into the business for tomorrow's greater glory. The trade-off, in our opinion, is worth it.

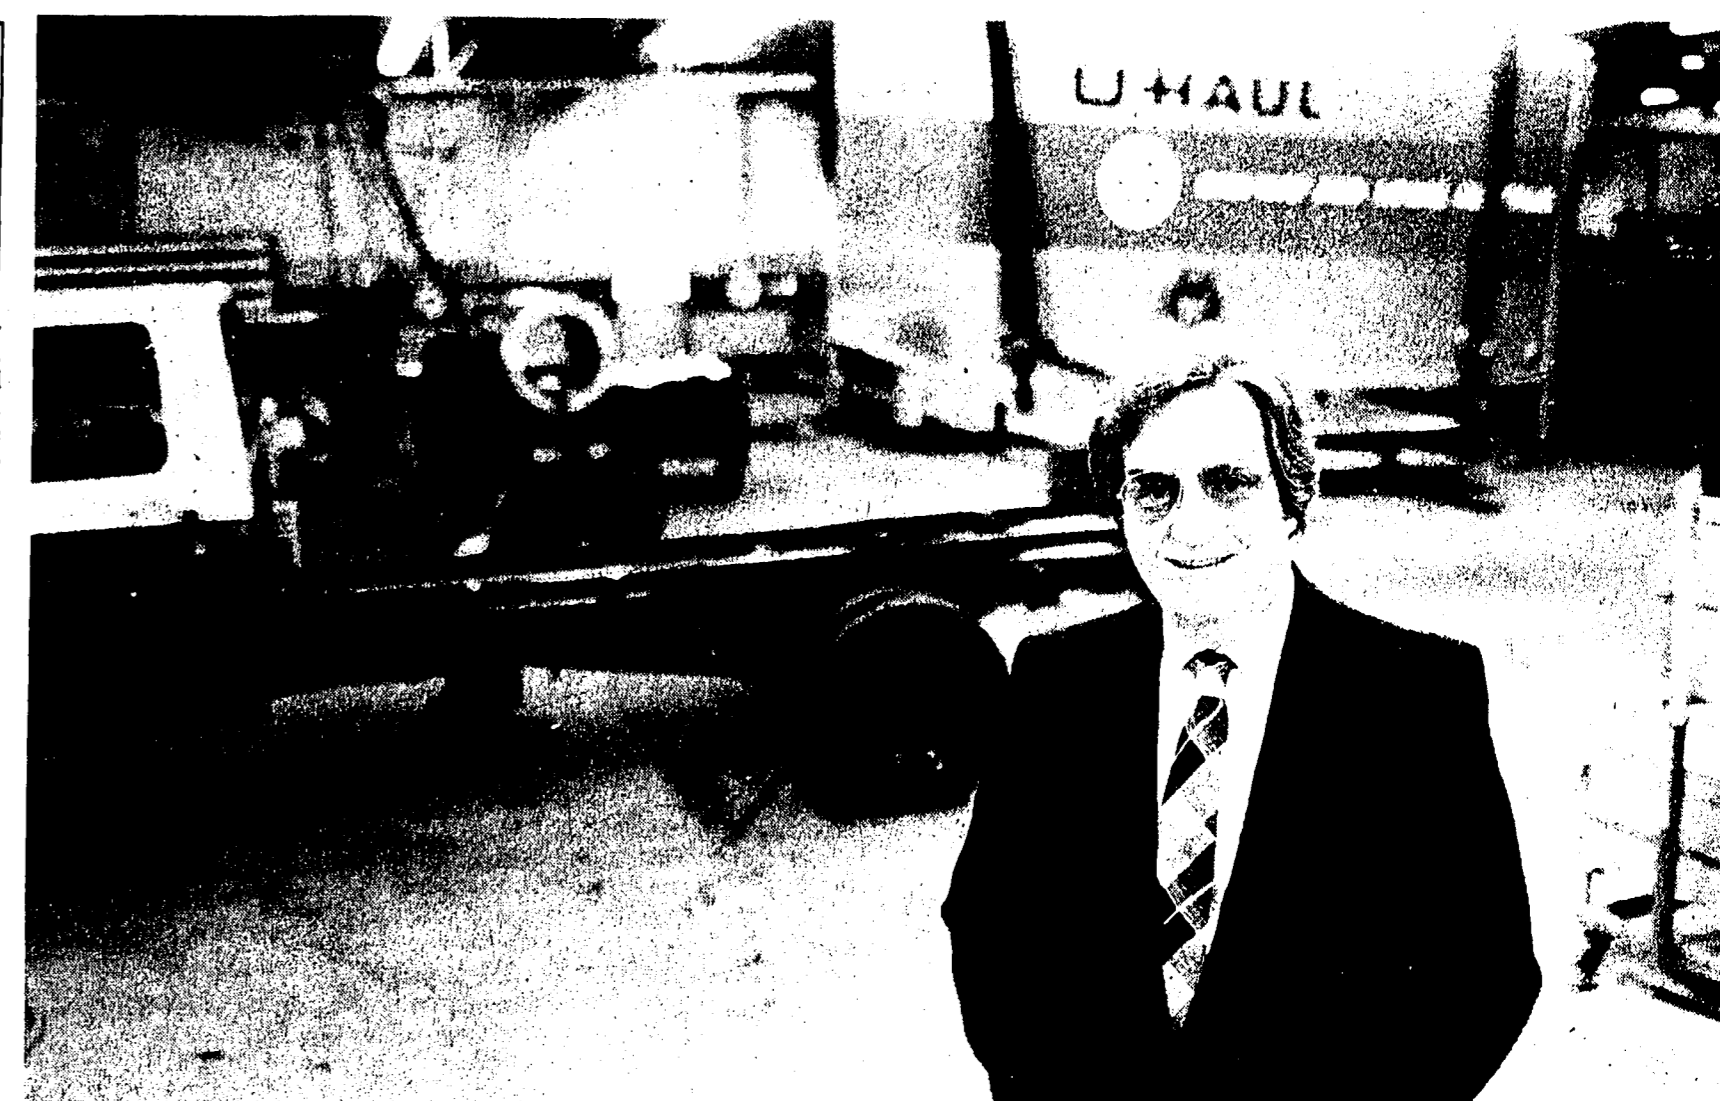

By the way, if you're looking for growth don't settle for piddling program.

Henry Kelly oversees U-Haul operations at Novi Manufacturing

Henry Kelly worked his way to top

By PHILIP JEROME

Organize...Deputize...Supervise. It's one of the basic credos espoused by Henry Kelly, president of Novi Manufacturing.

"Organize" means finding the right man for the right job; "deputize" means giving him the authority to get the job done; and "supervise" means you constantly check the work to make sure it's the way you want it.

It's a simple formula, but it's proven successful for Kelly who at 42 has been president of Novi Manufacturing for 17 years.

Novi Manufacturing is a division of the Amerco Corporation — "We refer to it as the U-Haul Company," Kelly explains.

Founded by L.S. Shoen, Amerco — or U-Haul — is still a family-run operation.

The company is virtually self-contained in that it manufactures the vast majority of the materials used in the construction of the U-Haul trucks and trailers. The firm even has a division which manufactures all the emblems and insignias used on the U-Haul vehicles.

Novi Manufacturing is one of two Amerco companies which manufacture the U-Haul trucks and trailers. The other is in Pennsylvania.

Kelly's rise to the top is somewhat remarkable in that it has been accomplished without the benefit of any formal education beyond high school in Philadelphia.

"My father told me to get a job after high school and I started working on a press for U-Haul at $1.05 per hour," he recalls.

"All I wanted to do was make a few bucks before I entered the service, but the situation was such back in 1957 that the plant manager would post a list every Friday of who had a job the following week."

"It was cheaper to keep a guy like me around so I was always on the list of people called back to work the next week."

NEIGHBORHOOD PROFESSIONALS from Century 21 Suburban, 200 South Main in Northville, will be going door-to-door throughout the community through Saturday, November 7, in a quest to raise an all-time record amount for Easter Seals. They will be among more than 3,500 Century 21 brokers and sales associates across the state who will be seeking donations in their communities across upper and lower Michigan during Dollar Days for Easter Seals.

"We hope our neighbors will be watching for the folks wearing gold coats as we go block-by-block on behalf of one of the nation's most worthwhile charitable causes," said associate broker Barbara Llewellyn of Century 21 Suburban. "Our goal is to help Century 21 raise a total donation of more than the $46,000 that was collected for the Easter Seal Society's last campaign and, moreover, to surpass our all-time cumulative record of more than $50,000. Dollar Days for Easter Seals is a concerted one-week effort to do the very best we can, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, community-by-community, throughout Michigan. We're very optimistic because the people of Northville have always been generously supportive of good causes."

"Importantly, 85 percent of the money raised in an area is put to use directly in that geographic area, so it's truly a local campaign," she said.

There are 300 independent local Century 21 offices in the state. Their Easter Seals work is coordinated by Century 21 of Michigan, the Southfield-based center for all Michigan offices. Nationally, Century 21 raised nearly $1 million for the 1981 Easter Seals campaign as the country's largest corporate contributor.

CREATIVE DAY NURSERY in Northville is sponsoring a series of workshops for mothers and 4-6 year olds.

The first workshop, "Shadow Theater and Shadow Puppets," is scheduled for Friday, November 6, from 10-11 a.m. The second workshop, "Poetry and Choral Speaking," will be held November 9 from 1-2 p.m. and the third workshop, "Exploring Paper and Paint," will be held November 20 from 10-11 a.m.

All courses are taught by Heather Fee and Ellen Wahl, owners and operators of the school. Enrollment is limited to 15 students per session so early enrollment is recommended.

Creative Day Nursery is located in the Old Main Steet Elementary School at 501 West Main in Northville.

MICHIGAN'S LARGEST SHARED EFT network is now operational as 32 financial institutions, including Manufacturers National Corporation and Michigan National Corporation banks, are offering MAGIC LINE service to customers at over 500 terminal locations throughout the state.

MAC-LINK, Inc., the developer of the MAGIC LINE service, currently has 129 member institutions, representing banks, credit unions, and savings and loan associations. Many of these financial institutions are in the final stages of implementing the MAGIC LINE service to their customers. Over the next two years, MAC-LINK will have over 1,000 MAGIC LINE terminals available throughout Michigan.

Current locations of MAGIC LINE terminals include banks, supermarkets, shopping centers and office buildings. To participate in the MAGIC LINE network, a financial institution does not need to own its own automated teller machines, but simply needs to issue access cards to its customers. The customers then can use the card at any MAGIC LINE location throughout the state.

MAGIC LINE customers will be able to perform the seven basic transactions at any MAGIC LINE location: deposits to checking accounts, deposits to savings accounts, withdrawals from checking, withdrawals from savings, transfers from checking to savings and savings to checking, and cash advances from a credit card or credit line.

Michael McEvoy, director of MAC-LINK, said that "MAGIC LINE represents a major step by Michigan financial institutions to provide greater customer convenience through electronic banking. The MAGIC LINE service culminates two years of development, and is already one of the largest networks of its type in the country."

Local financial institutions now operational in the MAGIC LINE network include Detroit Bank-Novi, Manufacturers Bank of Novi, Security Bank of Novi and Michigan National Bank-West Oakland.

The Nubers are the proud owners of the first new car sold from the new Feldman Chevrolet dealership which opened Monday. Marty Feldman Chevrolet is located in Novi on the south side of Grand River Avenue between Novi and Meadowbrook roads.

It is the first new dealership point approved by General Motors in the Metro Detroit area in 10 years.

Feldman previously was co-owner of the James-Martin Chevrolet dealership in Detroit.

Guardian Industries Corporation is a leading manufacturer and fabricator of flat glass products used in construction and, to a lesser extent, automotive applications. Other building products manufactured by the company are fiberglass and mineral wool insulation. Guardian also services the amateur photography market through a nationwide network of 12 photo processing facilities.

THE EASE OF ONE-STOP telephone shopping is now available at Novi's Twelve Oaks Mall with the opening of a Michigan Bell PhoneCenter store this month. The new store permits shoppers to select telephone equipment in the convenience of a mall.

According to Haze Wilson, local community relations manager, Michigan Bell is moving to a "retail concept" of marketing telephone products and services.

"The new PhoneCenter stores are conveniently located in malls with other retail outlets. This way, customers can come in and talk to sales personnel, look at the various telephone colors, styles and services available, choose the phones that best suit their needs and take them home the same day," Wilson explained.

The Twelve Oaks PhoneCenter opened October 22 and is located on the mall's lower level near Lord & Taylor. There currently are 38 PhoneCenter stores in Michigan.

ASHTON'S LOCK AND KEY Service, Inc. has moved into new quarters at 1546 Union Lake Road in Union Lake. The store is now located in the building formerly occupied by The Pocket Pleasers.

Founded as a "home business" 13 years ago, Ashton's Lock and Key is owned and operated by a father-son team, Jack and Bob Ashton. As the business expanded, Ashton's moved to a store in Pontiac, then moved to a site at Elizabeth Lake Road and M-59 and then moved again into quarters in the Village Square Shopping Center in Union Lake before moving recently to the former Pocket Pleasers location.

According to Manager Bob Ashton, a 1976 graduate of Walled Lake Central, the company specializes in security locks and systems for residential, commercial and industrial. Services include setting up master key systems for commercial and industrial clients as well as 24-hour "lock out" services for individuals who get locked out of their homes or cars.

Ashton's Lock and Key also deals in high-security cylinders which are pick-proof. Keys for the high-security cylinders can only be duplicated by the original dealer. The company also sells safes for homes and businesses and has plastic, sign and trophy engraving services.

Both Jack and Bob Ashton are members of Associated Locksmiths of America and the Michigan Master Locksmiths Association.

E. EVERETT PERKINS, president of The State Savings Bank of South Lyon, announced the retirement of A.J. Wooster and Norman L. Comfort from the bank's board of directors, effective October 19.

To fill the vacancies, Perkins announced the appointment of Susan G. Bailo and Ronald H. Sweet.

Both Wooster and Comfort were elected to the board in 1966 when the bank's assets were $6.8 million. Currently, the assets are listed at $31 million. A retired farmer, Wooster was elected vice-chairman of the board in 1977. Comfort joined the bank in 1955 and left it in 1966 to explore a variety of business ventures. Most recently, Comfort operated Comforts Real Estate Company and built custom homes.

Bailo, 32, is a life-long South Lyon resident and a local attorney. She received her bachelor's degree from Michigan State University (MSU) in 1972 and her Doctor of Laws degree from Lansing's Thomas M. Cooley Law School in 1978. Sweet, 41, is also a long-time resident of South Lyon and president of H.C. Sweet Company and Sweetco, Incorporated. He received his bachelor's degree in business administration and accounting from Cleary College in 1964 and an associate degree from MSU in 1956.

In addition to Perkins, Bailo and Sweet, other members of the bank's board include Gerald W. Diloway, Duane L. Edwards, Richard E. McFadden, John M. Renwick, D.H. Roberts and John K. Shuster.

STEPHEN M. CASTLE of Novi has been appointed assistant loan officer in the Metropolitan Corporate Division of National Bank of Detroit.

As a loan representative, Castle arranges commercial loans for businesses in the metropolitan Detroit area. With the bank one year, he has served as an assistant credit officer in the Credit Administration Division.

Castle holds a BBA degree in accounting from Western Illinois University and an MBA degree in finance from Indiana University.

RONALD J. WOODS, president of Thermofill Incorporated, Michigan based producer of engineering thermoplastics, has appointed John C. Licht as vice president of sales and marketing. Licht most recently served the company as National Sales Manager. He will be responsible for all sales and marketing in the North American operations and will be based at the corporate headquarters in Brighton.

Licht earned his bachelor's and master's degrees from Wayne State University and is a graduate of the Chrysler Institute, also having completed advanced studies at Dartmouth University.

Hoffman assumes top position

Sliger-Livingston reports management realignment

In a readjustment of top management responsibilities for Sliger/Livingston Publications, Inc., Jack W. Hoffman, 49, of Northville has been named vice president and general manager in charge of all operations.

Sliger/Livingston publishes nine community newspapers in three counties and is headquartered in Howell. It employs 145 persons, not including delivery personnel, and operates two production facilities — in Northville and Howell.

In other management changes, Roland Peterson becomes executive editor and Michael Preville becomes director of sales.

For the past two years, these three men have shared management of the company, a subsidiary of Suburban Communications Corporation, carrying titles of directors.

According to Richard Agman, corporate president, Hoffman takes charge of all company operations and will be based in Howell. He gives up direct editorial involvement with the newspapers in Oakland and Wayne counties, including The Northville Record, Novi-Walled Lake News, South Lyon Herald and Milford Times.

Other newspapers published by the company, all located in Livingston County, are the Livingston County Press, Brighton Argus, Harland Herald, Pinckney Post and Powerville Review.

Peterson assumes editorial and planning responsibility for all of the newspapers, Preville the sales and

Novi Manufacturing chief worked his way up

"I became something of a 'floater,'" he continues. "When someone was out for one reason or another, they'd assign me to take his place. After awhile, I got so I knew just about every job in the plant and they made me a line foreman."

Shortly thereafter, his organizational abilities and knowledge of the job led Amerco Corporation to make him a "company floater," traveling to different plants across the country to iron out problems.

When Kelly was still only 21, the company decided it wanted to begin making trailers in Canada. They purchased a building and assigned Kelly to make it operational.

"They asked me to go up there and show them how to make trailers," he recalls. "I went there, started hiring employees and within a year we were manufacturing trailers."

Kelly's career with U-Haul was interrupted when he decided at 23 to enter the service. But his work had impressed Amerco officials to the point that they had a job waiting for him when he finished his hitch in the Army.

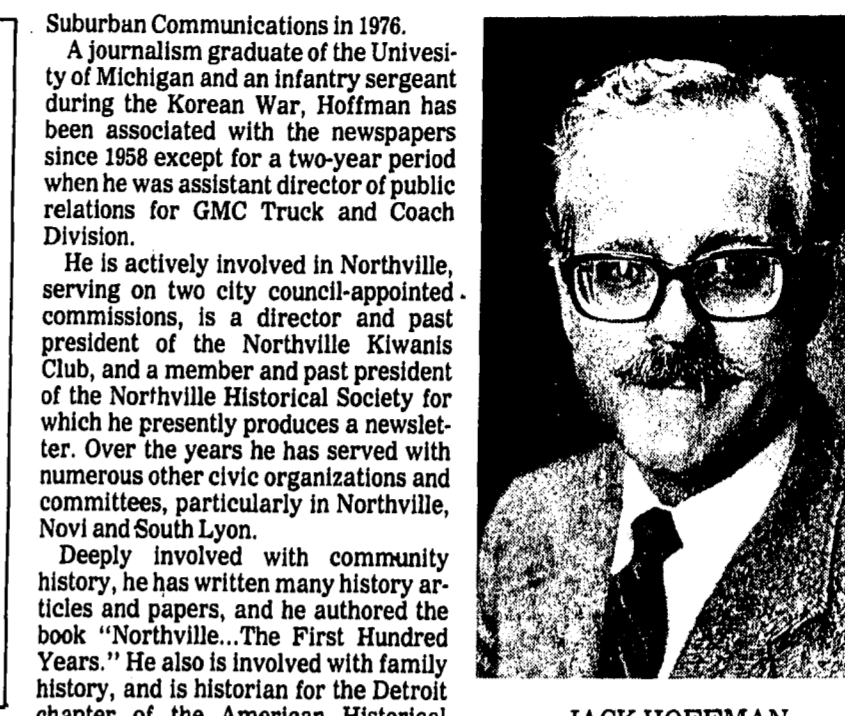

He was initially assigned to a plant on the East Coast but was transferred to Michigan in 1964 to head up the new operation which now is Novi Manufacturing.

Kelly's allegiance to Amerco is well-documented in his Seelye Road office which contains numerous "toy" versions of the trucks and trailers which carry the U-Haul emblem.

"It's a good company," he says. "They insist on high quality, that's why we manufacture virtually all of our own materials — we just can't get the quality we want anywhere else."

But the reason business is good for Novi Manufacturing is not necessarily good for Michigan.

"There's a high demand for our product right now," says Kelly. "But what's good news for U-Haul is bad news for Michigan."

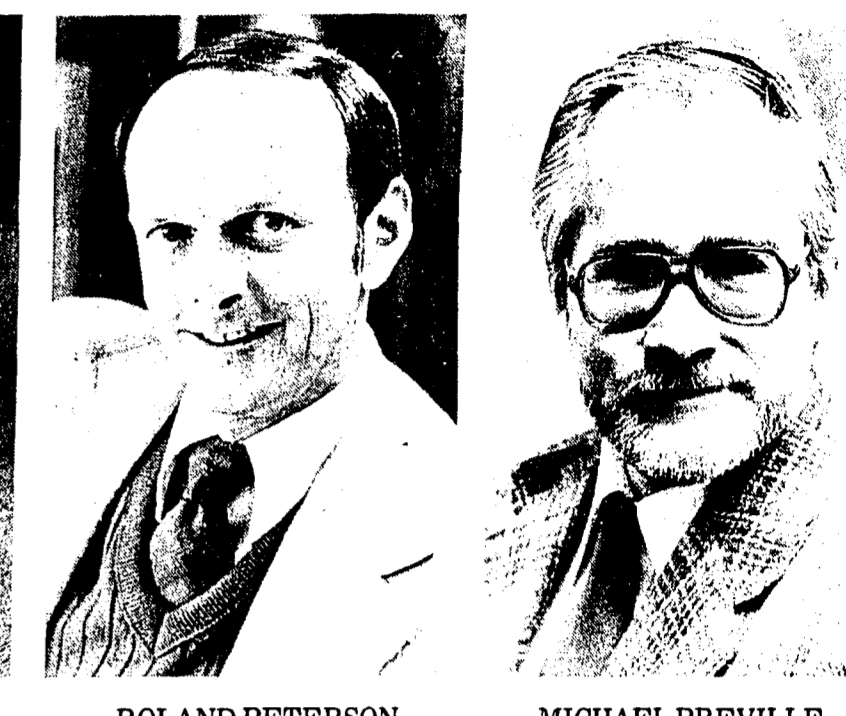

JACK HOFFMAN

He is actively involved in Northville, serving on two city council-appointed commissions, is a director and past president of the Northville Kiwanis Club, and a member and past president of the Northville Historical Society for which he presently produces a newsletter. Over the years he has served with numerous other civic organizations and committees, particularly in Northville, Novi and South Lyon.

Deeply involved with community history, he has written many history articles and papers, and he authored the book "Northville: The First Hundred Years." He is also involved with family history, and is historian for the Detroit chapter of the American Historical Society of Germans from Russia.

He has served in a number of professional organizations, including serving as president of the Wayne State University Press Club, and in 1977 he was named editor of The Record; Philip Jerome is editor of The News, Jeffrey Lapinski is editor of The Herald; and Susan Kaupila is editor of The Times.

Additionally, Preville is editor-in-chief of all these newspapers. His column will replace that of Hoffman's in The Record and The News.

ROLAND PETERSON MICHAEL PREVILLE

marketing responsibility for all of them. Preville and Peterson also will be based in Howell.

All three are long time professional associates in the Livingston County area.

Hoffman joined The Record as a reporter in 1958 after two years as a reporter/business reporter for the Saginaw Daily News. The Record and several other of the company's newspapers were owned by William Sliger. Sliger sold his newspapers to Industrial-commercial construction company.

Editorships of the individual newspapers remain unchanged. Jean Day is editor of The Record; Philip Jerome is editor of The News; Jeffrey Lapinski is editor of The Herald; and Susan Kaupila is editor of The Times.

Additionally, Preville is editor-in-chief of all these newspapers. His column will replace that of Hoffman's in The Record and The News.

In Northville when he began writing parttime for The Record. In 1967, he gave up the classroom for fulltime newspaper work. Over the years he has served in several different editorial-management capacities for this newspaper group.

He and his wife, Wendy, who also is a former Northville High School teacher and now a practicing attorney, are residents of Genoa Township in Livingston County.

amounts of it. Bonafide growth issues today are recording 25 and 30 percent annual rates. Concentrate on these little baubles, at least for operators.

Category number three goes by the unappealing name of "cyclical." It covers almost everything that's left, i.e. they're not growing, at least not steadily, and they're not dividend payers.

Cyclical companies are usually engaged in the manufacture of a product the purchase of which can be deferred. Like automobiles, for instance. Or washing machines. Or TV sets. And so forth. You get the idea.

Cyclical stocks are best bought for short-term or long-term trading objectives. Nothing wrong with that, of course, but it's a tough game to play, and the wrong game to play with serious investment bucks.

That's our system. It's always worked for us. Maybe it will for you, too. At least it'll help you sort through that big pile of new stock recommendations that came in today's mail.

Milford foils Novi's playoff bid...

Novi lost the Mud Bowl last Friday night and with it the opportunity for a spot in the postseason playoffs. The loss mathematically eliminated the Wildcats from playoff contention, although in the long run it probably really wouldn't have mattered. All

'Milford played good, strong defense against us, but the field didn't help us either. The entire field was just mud and not just in the middle, which made it difficult for both teams to run.'

—John Osborne,
Novi football coach

Slip-slidin' away

Playing under the worst possible field conditions, Novi found its 10-9 loss to Milford last Friday a hard pill to swallow as the Redskins erased away any post-season aspirations the Wildcats might have had. three teams ahead of Novi continued to win, and with only one game left to play, all but eliminated the Wildcats via their own triumphs.

Understandably, Novi coach John Osborne was somewhat disturbed, nonetheless.

"Milford played good, strong defense against us, but the field didn't help us either," commented Osborne. "The entire field was just mud and not just in the middle, which made it difficult for both teams to run."

Fortunately for Milford, it lives and dies by the pass, so the less than desirable field conditions didn't hurt the Redskins quite so bad — as long as they passed. As a team, Milford lost yardage on the ground as the Wildcats held the Redskins to a negative two yards rushing throughout the game.

Defensively, John Pilch, Brian Wright, Pete DeBrule, Vince Meo and Al Smith were all over Milford quarterback, Dave Monroe. That is, when they could catch him.

Eight times Monroe was sacked. But often the elusive quarterback slipped away. And when he did, Monroe usually found a receiver open. On the night, the third-year signal-caller connected on 12 of 18 passes for 126 yards.

One of Monroe's passes went for paydirt, giving the Redskins a 7-0 second quarter lead. The touchdown pass was his ninth of the year.

Novi, meanwhile, continued to literally spin its wheels throughout the better part of the first-half without compensation. With Milford playing four defensive linemen between Novi's tackles, the Wildcats couldn't move forward.

Whenever Osborne's backs tried to go wide, slippery soil would only give out.

And when Novi elected to go over the top, the ball either made its way back into the turf or wound up in Redskin hands.

Thirteen of junior quarterback Eric Deline's 15 passes went incomplete with

With its conference crown safely tucked away but a playoff berth hopelessly lost, Novi still has added incentive for winning Friday's season finale — it's against Northville.

For 10 years the two schools have lined up facemask to facemask with each team victorious in five. Friday marks the eleventh meeting, and though Mustang coach Dennis Colligan prefers to downplay the rivalry significance,

Wildcat coach John Osborne disagrees. "Quite a few of the kids grew up playing with the Northville/Novi Colts," observed Osborne. "I'm sure there's added incentive."

Thus far in the series each team has won in streaks. Novi took the first three contests, and the last two, with Northville winning the middle five. Through 10 games the Mustangs hold a 160-146 scoring edge.

Northville's widest margin was a 41-6 victory, but its biggest victory came at the expense of a Novi 21-game winning streak in the 1974 season opener.

Following is a capsule of the 10-game series.

Earn 10.77% and write a Tax Exemption up to $2,000

with Security Bank's All Savers Certificate

It's a fact. You can write a tax exemption up to $2,000 and earn this high interest rate with an All Savers Certificate at Security Bank. For those savers who are placed in a higher taxable income bracket due to their income plus interest earnings, this new tax-free interest investment offers the best possible advantages.

- You receive the highest rate allowed by law. The certificates can only be issued from October 1, 1981 through December 31, 1982.
- The interest earned is tax free up to the first $2,000 of interest earned by married couples filing a joint return and $1,000 for individuals. Reminder: The "tax-free interest" is a one-time lifetime exclusion of interest income regardless of the number of certificates purchased or the number of years in which exclusions are taken. Any interest earned above the $1,000 or the $2,000 limit is fully taxable.
- The term is for one year and the minimum deposit is $500 or more. Rate at which you open your certificate remains fixed until maturity. If your certificate matures on or before December 31, 1982 you may renew it at the then-available rate.
- Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal from certificate accounts. Early withdrawal from the All Savers Certificate also results in the elimination of the tax-exempt status. And, if a depositor elects to withdraw interest on a periodic basis prior to maturity, the effective yield to the depositor of the All Savers Certificate will be lowered.

- Deposits are insured to $100,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.
- Other certificate investments can be converted to the All Savers Certificate WITHOUT PENALTY providing (1) there is less than a year of maturity on the existing certificate, and (2) the certificate has the same, or higher rate than that of the All Savers Certificate rate.

Yes, you can write in that $2,000 or $1,000 tax-exemption by having an All Savers Certificate. Once-in-a-lifetime you have the chance to have more in spendable income as versus taxable income. Check the table to figure your income bracket — then visit your nearby Security Bank office to arrange for an All Savers Certificate that's right for you.

10.77% is an annual rate, effective November 1 through November 28, 1981.

Taxable Income Levels (married, filing jointly)	$20,200-24,600 (25%)	$24,600-29,900 (29%)	$29,900-35,200 (33%)	$35,200-45,800 (39%)	$45,800-60,000 (44%)

Vikings whip Western in cage play

If last week's Walled Lake Central-Western clash is any barometer, Ken Butler's Vikings again appear to be state tournament bound.

Having lost to Western 44-35 in their first meeting, the high-powered Vikings avenged that earlier defeat with a convincing 77-42 victory last Thursday (October 29) night.

The top-sided decision kept both Central's and Western's streaks in tact, with the Vikings (6-9) winning its last five in succession while the Warriors (3-12) falling for the fourth consecutive time.

Playing without the services of their top player in Cathy Artye, the Warriors never seemed to get untracked. Central ran up a 15-5 first quarter lead and by halftime held a commanding 33-18 advantage.

Western made a run at the Vikings mid-way through the fourth quarter with 10 unanswered points, mainly from its range by Fran Cullen, but the Warriors were too far behind by that time to pose any threat.

As usual, center Amy Rembis led all scorers with 28 points with sophomore Patti Fitzgerald and Caryn Lamb tallying 16 and 14, respectively.

Cullen finished with 17 points to lead the Warriors in scoring. Joyce VanVelzer contributed 15.

According to Butler, the reason for his team's turnaround from its dismal 1-9 start is three-fold. Naturally the presence of Rembis back in the lineup is first and foremost. There aren't too many better.

A second factor is the improved play of Fitzgerald, who earlier in the year consistently made sophomoreish mistakes, in Butler's estimation, but who in the last six or seven ballgames, has developed into "top-notch varsity material."

"We (the coaching staff) weren't too sure we were making the right decision in letting her play varsity earlier in the year," admitted Butler. "Being a

Warriors place three players on All-Western Six team

Farmington Harrison dominated this fall's Western Six All-League team placing nine players on the 24-man first-team unit and garnering six Honorable Mentions as well. Northville and Livonia Churchill each boasted five All-League selections while Plymouth Canton and Western placed three apiece.

Western's Jim Iafraate and John Adams earned All-League honors for the second straight year on offensive tight-end and defensive lineman, respectively. Todd Stone achieved All-League status for the first time in this, his senior year.

In fact, 23 of the 24 nominees were seniors, which according to Western head coach Chuck Appa, is par for the course.

"Whenever it comes down to selecting players of equal ability, the coaches tend to go with the senior," reasoned Appa. "They figure it's his last shot, so why not give it to him."

The Warrior mentor also noted that a player often gets overlooked if he plays on a team with a subpar record.

"Quite often a player receives more votes than he really deserves based on his team's win-loss record," observed Appa. "And some don't receive as many as they should. There's no doubt in my mind that our team has more than three All-Leaguers, but our 0-4

Warriors suffer fourth straight defeat

Walled Lake Western coach Chuck Appa is hoping this Friday's homecoming game will have a positive affect on his ballplayers. After all, he's been waiting for something positive for five weeks now.

And waiting. And waiting. And waiting some more.

Last week Appa found his Warriors on the low end of the scoreboard again, this time 13-3 against Southfield Lathrup, for their fourth consecutive loss. Not since Western whipped Central October 2 have the Warriors found the winning edge.

In its last four games Western has accumulated 29 points — while giving up 77. But the exuberant Appa still contends his Warriors have been playing good football.

"We've played fairly well between the 20-yard lines," said Appa, "but we've broken down near the goal line."

As has been the case throughout the season, Western dominated the statistics in the Lathrup game last week, but came away with a loss. Twice it drove within the Charger five-yard line, only to come away empty-handed.

The defense, on the other hand, beleaguered by injuries to four of its starters, held Lathrup at bay for most of the game, but still had nothing to show for it at the final gun.

On Lathrup's first possession, the Chargers marched 60 yards in 11 plays with Will Montgomery going in from three yards out for a 7-0 lead.

For all practical purposes, that one drive accounted for most of Lathrup's entire offensive showing as the Warrior defense stiffened in allowing only 153 yards total offense on the day. In fact the 60 yards on the first drive combined with Montgomery's second touchdown run of 54 yards in the third quarter accounted for three-quarters of the Chargers total offense — but it was enough.

Western's offense, however, had almost as much trouble getting going as Lathrup's. Only a second-quarter Paul Imms's 42-yard field goal averted Western's second straight shutout.

Imms also rolled up 121 yards rushing on 30 carries.

But the junior tailback never had a chance to get it into the end zone as the Warriors fumbled the ball away.

All totaled, Western coughed up the ball four times, twice on the ground and twice through the air.

The two interceptions came on Western's final two possessions as quarterback Rick Hunter desperately attempted to get the Warriors into the end zone from the Charger 35-yard line, only to find the dutches of Lathrup's Paul Bobbitt at the goal line, instead.

On the day, Hunter completed six of 12 passes for 50 yards. All-League tight-end Jim Iafraate caught five of those passes for 40 yards. The junior signal-caller also advanced the ball to the Lathrup two-yard line in the second quarter on a fourth-and-two situation from the Charger 12, only to have the play called back on a clipping penalty.

Lakers swamp Vikings, 28-2

Exploiting Walled Lake Central's relatively young and inexperienced defensive secondary, West Bloomfield passed its way to four first-half touchdowns enroute to a 28-2 non-conference victory over the Vikings last week.

The loss dropped the Vikings' record to 2-6 with Brighton (3-5) slated for the season finale Friday night.

Junior tailback Tom Kaufman accounted for 74 of Central's 101 yards on the ground and sophomore quarterback Tom Menard amassed 56 more through the air going five for 11 with two interceptions.

The Lakers, meanwhile, took to the air early in setting up touchdown runs from 10, five and five yards out. West Bloomfield's fourth touchdown came on a 10 yard pass play.

Central's only points came in the second quarter when the Vikings caught the Laker quarterback in the end zone for a safety.

Turnovers continued to kill Viking drives including one in which fullback Kevin Wheeler fumbled at the goal line before going into the end zone — or at least that is what the officials ruled.

After reviewing the films, Central coach John VanSicklen wasn't so sure his Vikings weren't robbed.

"Our films clearly show we were in the end zone before we fumbled the ball," said VanSicklen. "Unfortunately the officials saw something else."

"But that play alone didn't kill us. We just didn't play a very good ballgame," opined the Central coach.

"Turnovers killed us," VanSicklen continued. "We threw three interceptions and fumbled three times. It's typical of our entire season, so why change now?"

Central runners take 12th at cross country state meet

Central Kim Curry placed 41st overall in the state meet

Twelfth place. It wasn't exactly as high as Walled Lake Central coach Brian McKenna had hoped his young harriers would place in last Saturday's state meet in Flint, but the second-year coach had to be pleased, nonetheless. "We had hoped to crack into the top 10," commented McKenna, "but even 12th out of 22 teams isn't that bad. The important thing this year was just getting there. That in itself was a major accomplishment. "With all but one girl returning next fall," McKenna continued, "we can look forward to bigger and better things next time around." Of Central's 14 runners, the Vikings' only loss will be senior Kahl Harris. Next fall the Vikings will return three freshmen, seven sophomores and three juniors from this year's team — and more importantly, a great deal of experience. "We might not have brought home any medals this time," noted McKenna after winning a regional trophy the week before. "But what we did bring home was as every bit important — experience. "It's amazing what the exposure of state competition can do for a runner."

Only two of McKenna's runners had ever participated in state meet competition. In Central's first season of girls cross-country last year, a year in which McKenna's motto was "I don't care where we finish, as long as it isn't last," sophomore Kim Curry and junior co-captain Diane Montgomery finished 34th and 54th, respectively, as individuals. This time around, that experience, according to McKenna, definitely shined through. "Kim and Diane ran pretty relaxed throughout the race," observed McKenna, "mainly because they've been there. Many of our other girls were tight, however, and as a result, we didn't really place as high as we're capable." Sidelined through the better part of the season with "tired" legs, Curry proved she's still the queen of McKenna's court finishing first for Central in 20:26 and 41st out of 150 girls.

Freshman Lisa Laansma, McKenna's top runner through the second half of the season, finished 55th overall in 20:50 — one second ahead of Kahl Harris in 56th place. Montgomery splashed her way into 63rd place along the rain-soaked I.M.A. Brookewood Golf Course in 21:03 and was followed by sophomore Sandra Krueger (21:22, 77th); freshman Leigh Messel (21:47, 90th); and junior co-captain Becky Poole. Central's team total of 292 points edged 13th place Milford by 13 points. The Redskins, however, ran without the services of ace runner Beth Gilmore who had taken fifth overall in the regionals, one notch ahead of the Viking's top runner in Laansma. Flint Northern (114) won the state meet with Davison (116), Redford Union (129), Flushing (140) and Brighton (153) finishing second through fifth.

Vikings finish second

Invitational lures young harriers

In preparing for last Saturday's state meet, Walled Lake Central's freshmen and sophomores tuned up earlier in the week at Royal Oak Kimball's "Freshman/Sophomore Invitational." Central (82) finished second to Berkley (48) with Walled Lake Western (118), Troy-Athens, Lakeland, Birmingham Seaholm, Clarkston, Novi (215), and Hazel Park following in succession. Kimball, Royal Oak Dondoro, Rochester and Ferndale tieded a couple girls apiece, but not the minimum number of five to figure in overall team scoring. The course itself was flooded at points forcing each runner to wade through several points, in some cases up to their waists.

Rochester's Melissa Howell won the five-kilometer event in 20:18 with Central's Lisa Laansma placing second out of 70 girls in 20:14.7. Novi's Mindy Parke, a freshman, took eighth overall in 21:37. Freshman Betsy Giagola finished first for Western in 22:11 for 14th place overall. In the boys event Novi's Jeff Kawak and Don Pine finished 32nd and 75th in the freshmen race and Jim Kohli, Bob Peery, Paul Moore, Paul Killick and Rick Gilbert placed 10th, 18th, 45th, 71st and 84th, respectively. The girls race combined freshmen and sophomores.

Hackmann wins contest

Football contest winner Bruce Hackmann of Northville was not alone in predicting that the Novi Wildcats would defeat the Milford Redskins. Of all the contestants, only two correctly guessed Milford's upset of Novi. However, that was the only loss Hackmann suffered in 18 picks and, thus, took home the $10 first prize. Another key game was Illinois' upset of previous Big Ten leader Iowa. Only 14 entrants, including Hackmann, thought the Fighting Illini would upend Iowa. Surprisingly, only 14 persons went with Purdue over Ohio State (OSU) won despite the fact the Bolermakers had not lost a Big Ten home game since September of 1977. Seven contestants were log jammed at the Novi Wildcats with perennial contest winner Chris Odum of Northville grabbing the $5 second prize by virtue of the tie-breaker. Northville's Don Chamberline claimed the $3 third prize by virtue of his closer guess on the Army/Air Force total points scored tie-breaker. For the week, 10 persons had 16 winners, four had 15 correct, 10 had 14 winners and seven had 13 correct.

Rivalry is all that remains for Novi score of the ballgame while everyone else was looking "pass." The Wildcats went on to win seven straight before losing to Carleton Airport in their season finale to capture their third straight SEC crown. • 1975: Northville 20, Novi 6 Northville erased a 6-0 halftime deficit with three second-half touchdowns to clobber Novi. The Mustangs recovered three Wildcat fumbles and blocked a punt in sending Novi into a season long lullapin and its first losing record (4-5) in five years. Novi did win its final three games, however, after losing five of its first seven.

• 1976: Northville 41, Novi 6 Northville parlayed numerous Novi mistakes into a series tying victory (3-3) handing Novi its only regular season loss. The Wildcats' 8-1 record carried them into the state playoffs for their first (and last) postseason appearance. All-League quarterback Randy Wrote led the Wildcats to their fourth SEC title in five years before losing in the playoff game, 35-15, to Okemos at Rochester High School. Wrote finished the year with 1,059 yards rushing on 168 carries.

• 1977: Northville 21, Novi 6 The Mustangs made it four straight over Novi with Don Borthwick scoring all three Northville touchdowns including one on a 59-yard pass reception and a second following a 64-yard punt return to the Novi one-yard line where he took it in on the next play. Wildcat quarterback Steve Weber tallied Novi's lone touchdown on a six-yard run in the fourth quarter, but on the day the Wildcats could only muster 69 yards in 28 plays. Over the season, Novi went 2-7 for its worst record ever.

• 1978: Northville 20, Novi 14 Northville put up a tremendous late fourth-quarter goal line stand to stop Novi quarterback Jeff Laverty at the three-yard line on fourth down with a 20-14 lead. The meeting came in the season finales for both teams marking the first time in seven seasons that the two teams did not meet in the season opener. Novi finished 3-6.

Wildcats retain title

Continued from 1-D Deline's punting kept Novi close throughout the third quarter as he lofted successive punts to the Redskins two, three and seven yard lines. But despite its favored third-quarter field position, the Wildcats couldn't put together a serious threat. And when they did break loose for a 16-yard gain to the Milford 24, a holding penalty brought the ball back to the 40 Milford's 15-yard line only to come away without a point. A healthy Caudell would have certainly added six more points to the Wildcat cause as Monroe connected on back-to-back 35-yard and 26-yard passes to forge forward to the Novi 14-yard line. But almost as fast as the Milford offense zipped forward, the usually reliable Novi defense pushed it back again, sacking Monroe for the eighth time, back to the 23 yard line. All told, Monroe lost 49 yards on the day in 18 carries.

But for Novi, it didn't push Milford back enough as Dave Mitchell drilled a 49-yard field goal which barely cleared the cross bar for a 10-7 Milford lead. It was the first time in nearly three years that Milford attempted a field goal. Osborne reports that Caudell's injury, a hyper-extension of the right knee, should not prevent his ace-kicker from participating this Friday.

TAX-FREE

all Savers Certificate

Here's what the one-year All Savers Certificate can mean to you.

- You can exclude up to $2,000.00 interest from federal income tax on a joint return ($1,000.00 on an individual return). The amount excluded is also not taxed by the State of Michigan.
- Your All Savers Certificate is insured to $100,000.00 by the FSLIC.
- Your interest rate is guaranteed for the full term of the certificate, unlike other investments such as money market funds where rates fluctuate daily.
- You can participate with a deposit of $500.00 or more.
- Funds in your Standard Federal 26-Week Money Market Certificate can be transferred to an All Savers Certificate without any early withdrawal penalty on the transferred funds.

If you elect to receive interest at maturity there is no compounding and the interest rate on your All Savers Certificate will be 10.770%. If you wish to have interest payable monthly or quarterly, the annual simple interest rate on your All Savers Certificate will be 10.229% and interest retained in your All Savers Certificate will be continuously compounded for an effective annual yield of 10.770%. These rates are available for All Savers Certificates opened through November 27, 1981. Rates for accounts opened after November 27, 1981, will be announced later. However, the rate established at the time an All Savers Certificate is opened is the rate in effect for the full one-year term of the account. You should also know that in the event of early withdrawal from an All Savers Certificate federal law and regulations require a substantial early withdrawal penalty and loss of the interest exclusion for federal income tax purposes. The All Savers rate of 10.770% is equivalent to the yields for taxable investments shown in the table. This table demonstrates how the All Savers Certificates can provide you with a higher after-tax yield than you may be earning from a money market mutual fund or on other investments. The deposit needed in your All Savers Certificate to achieve the maximum allowable deduction is $18,570.10 for a joint return and $9,285.05 for an individual return.

Compare the Tax-Free All Savers Rate of 10.770% with Yields on Taxable Investments.

TAXABLE INCOME ON A JOINT RETURN	COMPARABLE YIELD ON TAXABLE INVESTMENTS	TAXABLE INCOME ON A JOINT RETURN	COMPARABLE YIELD ON TAXABLE INVESTMENTS
$10,000.00	13.13%	$ 70,000.00	23.41%
20,000.00	14.17%	80,000.00	23.41%
30,000.00	17.10%	90,000.00	26.27%
40,000.00	18.89%	100,000.00	26.27%
50,000.00	21.12%	110,000.00	29.92%
60,000.00	21.12%	120,000.00	29.92%

The yields shown in this table are based on 1981 tax rates but do not reflect the effects of any tax credits that may be available in 1981, nor do they take into account the 50% maximum tax rate on salary and wages. If tax-free interest is received in 1982, the comparable yield on taxable investments should be calculated using 1982 tax rates. In addition, the yield for the All Savers Certificate actually will be somewhat higher because the amount excluded from federal income tax is also not taxed by the State of Michigan.
