pect all this fuss." But there's bound to be a commotion when one of the school district's most respected and best-liked employees decides to "leave employment outside the home." When it happens, receptions, luncheons, dinners and special recognition by the school board can be expected. Boyer has served as secretary to the superintendent of the Novi Schools for 10 years. Each of her four children attended the Novi Schools. Her ties with Novi date to 1956 when she and her family moved in.

She remembers Novi when the A&P Plaza at Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Road was a dairy farm; when Village Dr. Piwko were so good to work for." Oaks was a farm where her kids helped she said. the farmer bale hay and Haggerty she calls "the best job in the world." But the decision is made and Boyer

She's not leaving out of boredom either. "People have asked how I sit "This is really cutting a tie with the through the board meetings, but they're community," Boyer said wistfully, not boring to me. I get a real kick out of them. The meetings are where you see the process, the planning for the future for the kids of the community. How can that possibly be coring: 'There's a certain amount of routine to a school year," she continued, "but each year brings a different perspective to the routine. There has to be a pattern or there wouldn't be order."

Boyer won't let anyone suggest it really has been the superintendent's secretary who has been running the school district over the years. "That's an awful thing to say. I hate it when people say that. I don't (run the district) and don't want to. A secretary's role is not to run things. They keep things moving smoothly, but they don't run things." Beyond that her multi-faceted job is "I'm 51 and I've got a lot of things I hard for Boyer to describe. She handles telephone calls, correspondence and preparation of board materials; general secretarial work. But the important part of the position is what Boyer calls "facilitating communica-"It's the people you work for that tion between the superintendent and the

Her contacts with people is the important part of the job. "There is a lot of interaction between this office, the staff and the community."

Boyer said she did not monitor who went in and out of the superintendent's office, because "both superintendents had an open door policy." But she has served as a barometer, telling the cautious whether it the timing was right for seeing the superintendent.

For many teachers her's was the first voice they heard as they sought a job interview. And many times it was Boyer who told them they had a job. She was the one who gave them their first impression of the Novi Schools.

If it was a positive impression, it's because that's the kind of person Boyer is. She "hates negativism" and those who worked with her say it was reflected in her job.

She has a lot of positive things to say about the school district, too.

'Chuck and I both feel the Novi Schools did a great deal for us as a family. The staff offered our children a . lot of individual attention. I think its the smallness (of the district) and the staff tnemselves. They gave us the feeling they cared about the kids; they still ask about how they are and what they are doing."

Boyer feels Novi is unique in a lot of ways. "The citizens care about the schools, and the school board works hard at maintaining an excellent program. That's a compliment to the community, the whole community has concern and interest in a strong school system. Education is a high priority for the citizens.

Though she is optimistic, Boyer also is realistic. "Sure there have been bad times; there have been growth problems," she said. "But there haven't been any insurmountable problems. There's always been people willing to find solutions and work very hard at it. They keep things in perspective. "There haven't been problems that couldn't be solved — that's part of the strength of Novi as a community,' Boyer said.

Skip Boyer plans to spend more time with 'Caroline' and her family's other seven horses.

Blizzard hits Novi

Novi residents are among those who will be telling their grandchildren about the winter of '82 with its near recordbreaking snow falls and the storm that struck in April - April 5 to be exact.

Everyone can tell the grandkids that Novi Police declared a snow emergency at 8:45 a.m. Tuesday, asking all motorists to stay off the roads unless absolutely necessary.

"We've been swamped," reported Lieutenant Robert Starnes. "It's been one call after another — cars in ditches, traffic hazards and assisting citizens." Starnes said the police received one emergency call regarding a man with "a medical emergency" in a car at Chateau Estates Mobile Home Park. At press time, however, Starnes said he did not know the status of the incident. The decision to close the Novi Schools came at 5:40 a.m. Tuesday. Superintendent Robert Piwko said he believes weather has closed the schools more times this year than ever before. Novi schools have been shut down due to snow at least five times this winter. City Manager Edward Kriewall predicted it would be approximately 9 p.m. Tuesday before city streets would be cleared of the early spring snowfall. He said Tuesday morning that main roads "can be travelled, but they're not in great shape." Department of Public Works crews (DPW) were kept from working on subdivision streets Tuesday morning because the main roads, which take top priority, kept drifting closed, Kriewall said that while the DPW had not put the snow removal equipment in storage for the season, they had already taken down snow fences before Tuesday's storm.

Lee Stage moved to Novi two weeks ago to be closer to his job, monitoring emergencies on Channel 9, but Tuesday he faced an emergency of his own — he could not get out of his drive.

County sets aside funds for assessment appeal

Legal counsel retained by Oakland County has been authorized to spend county funds to initiate a court fight against the State Tax Commission to assessments by levying a "factor."

The Oakland County Board of Commissioners voted 21-0 last Thursday to adopt a resolution from the county finance committee setting aside $10,000 to initiate legal proceedings. Acting Civil Counsel Jack C. Hays said after the Second school to close administrative functions in a single facility has been recommended in various studies as a means of cost-saving and improving efficiency.

The recommendation was made most recently in the Citizens Committee on Declining Enrollment and Facility Utilization which was presented at the board's second meeting in March. Parents of students at Union Lake Elementary offered little opposition to the proposed closing of that school at a public hearing last Thursday. The school, which was built in 1928, is in need of extensive repairs, and parents appeared accepting of the need to close the school in light of declining enrollment and current economic conditions. The proposal to close either Oakley Park or Decker elementary is not likely to be as readily accepted by parents, however. Several citizens expressed opposition to closing one or the other of the schools when it was proposed

And, "because of continuing depressed sales, all Ford plants throughout the United States are experiencing production cutbacks and economic conditions of the Wixom Assembly

Goepp said the number of salaried and hourly employees at the Wixom facility has dropped from 5,926 in July 1981 to 3,097 in March 1982. Production at the Wixom plant has dropped from 656 units per day with two shifts in 1979 to 328 units per day with one shift at the present time.

"Obviously, the Wixom Assembly Plant is operating far below capacity," said Goepp. Despite the fact that the request was turned down by Wixom's Board of Review, Sailor said he believes Ford has a good case to present to the

All facts needed for millage vote

Walled Lake's Board of Education decided wisely Mon- on county assessments, the day to rescind a motion that revenue picture for the school would have placed a request for a district will be improved ac-2.5 mill tax increase on the June cordingly. If the county prevails, 14 ballot.

The board is confronted with a difficult problem as it attempts to put together a balanced budget for the 1982-83 school year. At the core of the dilemma is a basic uncertainty as to just how big the financial problem actually is.

According to the "best estimate" of Assistant Superintendent for Business Harry Carlson, the Walled Lake district will have a $3.2 million deficit in 1982-83.

But Carlson would be the first to admit that the deficit could change significantly in the weeks ahead as more information becomes available.

In developing budget projections. Carlson has to make a calculated guess at what the district's State Equalized Valuation (SEV) will be next year. In the budget he put together last year when union contracts were same time obliged by law to being settled. Carlson's "best estimate" was that the district's SEV would go up 10 percent.

In preparing a budget for the board in January, Carlson projected a five percent increase in SEV this year and thus came up with the $2.9 million deficit figure presented to the board in Latest estimates based on the best available information at the present time are that the SEV will increase only 3.6 percent. thus jacking up the projected deficit to the $3.2 million figure now being used by the board.

Unfortunately, the SEV picture is clouded further by the current battle between state and county officials over local assessments. The county says its assessments are correct; the state says the county's assessments are too low and has threatened to levy a factor to br-' tional system they want their ing them up to proper levels.

better known as Skip, has decided to step down. She is not retiring,

She served her final day and attended her last school board meeting Thursday. Skip has served as secretary to the Superintendent of the Novi Schools for the past 10 years. But ties with Novi date to 1956 when she and her family moved in, and she is much more than simply the person who has answered the telephone: "Dr. Piwko's office."

Although she handled telephone calls, correspondence and preparation of board materials — the general secretarial work — for Skip the important part of the position is what she described as "facilitating communication between the superintendent and the community and staff."

For many teachers her's was the first voice they heard as they sought a job interview. Skip frequently was the one who told them they were employed. She was the one who gave them their first impression of the Novi million deficit. In the midst of the uncertainty over the SEV, it is impossible to give voters a true and accurate picture of the financial situation. Nobody will know what type of problem exists until the SEV has been finalized.

Obviously, it will be difficult to convince voters to approve a millage increase during these trying economic times even if the financial situation were perfectly

In light of the existing uncertainties, cancellation of the proposed millage election on June 14 appears appropriate.

In the meantime, residents in the Walled Lake district should keep a careful eye on the proceedings. Although the board itself cannot get a firm grasp on the extent of the deficit, it is at the develop a balanced budget that can be adopted by July 1.

Some 137 teachers were pink-slipped; reading support and special education programs trimmed; extracurricular activities such as music, art, forensics and debate all but wiped out by the severity of the cuts.

Although uncertainty exists about the extent of the deficit, it is also true that the educational program will be seriously impaired even under the best of outcomes.

Residents who care about schools should monitor the situation; the day will come shortly perhaps before the end of summer - when they will have tomake a decision at the ballot box as to just what type of educacommunity to have.

Thanks to the tricky shuffling of stocks, bonds and moola by that convicted aristocrat, I've got to start tossing some of my loose change in an extra savings account for court costs should I ever come up against his like in the halls of our judicial system.

Claus, for those of you not up on your current events, is the Hampton (South Hampton? North Hampton? Lionel Hampton?), Rhode Island rich guy nailed with attempting to kill his wife by injecting insulin in her. (Sorry, Claus, that no one believed you thought she was diabetic.)

If the courts are right, Claus is not the type of guy you want to have hanging out near the medicine chest. Not only did he shoot her up once, but when she came out of a coma the first time, he sent his wife Sunny back into a cloud with another injection. Word comes out of the New England area that now

Claus has decided a new way to prepare an appeal for his case. A private investigating team has been hired by Claus to "probe the jurors on the weaknesses of the (Claus') defense team.' "The rich get richer" that old adage goes. And Claus is determined to prove that rich people don't go to jail.

In that mythical, sarcastic film of a few years back

"And Justice for All," Al Pacino declared manically,

"I'm out of order. You're out of order. The whole judicial system is out of order." If Claus gets away with this one that dialogue may not be far from the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth so help me God.

We've come a million light years from the days of the old hanging judge, but is the current system really fair? Or is it just fairer to those that can financially back appeal after appeal after investigation after delay? Serving as a juror is a demand placed on Americans to live under the American judicial system. It is a requirement. And it is a privilege.

Obviously, I don't have the Wall Street bankroll that old Claus does, but even if I did that would not justify my hounding of jurors. Jurors often have a tough enough decision to make — determining whether or not an individual should have a black mark on their life forever. That's pressure enough. Now, jurors will have to think during deliberations about the possibility of undergoing some cross examination about their

If I could believe that Claus' helpers were searching merely for answers to where his defense erred to aid the future, perhaps I wouldn't be quite so disgusted. But I know how this whole investigation of what you were thinking when you did such-and-such works.

Journalists have been maligned for their thoughts prior to acting. And now the worm has turned and the gun is pointing at juries. If Barbie Q. Grill, a juror on the Von Bulow case, tells Claus' Sam Spade that she was thinking about her dear departed mother, a diabetic who died from lack of insulin, when the guilty decision popped into her head what's to stop Claus' attorneys from crying 'foul.' She may have been influenced in a way that even pre-jury selection interviews may not have revealed. "Ms. Grill, your honor, could not make an objective opinion despite what we earlier believed. Therefore, I request that Mr. Von Bulow be set free on the grounds that he did not receive a fair trial." Money talks and sometimes people have to listen. And what's in the future? How about an interview with the judge? The prosecuting attorney? The police investigators or the medical examiner? If Claus could figure out how to do it, he'd probably get his bloodhounds to question Sunny — but she's in a coma. Hey wait a minute! Maybe some scientists have developed a method to decipher brain waves while someone's in a coma...

Ah shucks, what's the price tag for some medical assistance? $200,000? $1.5 million? How 'bout a new wing for your university hospital?

That is how John McMartin, his mother Ellen and his sister Trudy McMartin Johnson feel about their 27-year-old jewelry store business on Milford's Main Street.

Because of this philosophy, the firm offers an appraisal service that has become extremely popular. "Most people have a diamond, whether it be from

As one of the few distributors in the United States, McMartin's is the sole distributor in the Midwest for the Florentine mosaics that range in size from 101/2 by 14 inches to 47 inches in diameter

The store began carrying the colorful and useful mosaics after John traveled to Brazil in early 1980 in search of unusual stones to offer customers. The adventurous businessman flew to the foothills of the Serrado Esphinhaco mountain range and then went by Volkswagen to reach the province of Minas Gerais, a rich mining region. There he learned that the aquamarine, pink topaz and crysoberyl he purchased, for example, are removed from caverns by wheelbarrow as a by-product of other mining. PLYMOUTH HILTON INN at 14707 Northville Road has been notified by the Automobile Club of Michigan that it has been awarded AAA's four-diamond rating for 1982. This rating will be listed in the 1982 edition of the Michigan-Wisconsin TourBook. The hotel is one of 24 Michigan lodgings recognized for this achievement. It is the highest rating given any Michigan hostelry. According to AAA, a four-diamond rating is awarded only to those exceptional properties which "significantly exceed AAA requirements in most physical and operational categories." Nationally, only eight percent of all accommodations rated by AAA received this prestigious rating for 1982. James R. Drury, AAA manager of travel operations. announced that the Plymouth Hilton will be receiving an award plaque signifying the honor.

KEITH MacRAE has been named assistant center manager at Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi. The appointment was announced by Robert C. Larson, president of The Taubman Company, Inc., leasing/management agent for Twelve Oaks.

MacRae will be responsible for assisting Center Manager William Clogg in the direction and administration of management activity and daily center operations at Twelve Oaks. Prior to joining Taubman, MacRae spent 18 years with Hughes & Hatcher, most recently as general operations manager for 13 of its 27 stores in the Detroit area. A native of Detroit, MacRae currently resides in Canton. Twelve Oaks Mall features the selection of four major stores - Hudson's, Sears, JCPennev and Lord & Taylor — as well as a distinctive mix of specialty stores and services. The Taubman Company, Inc., is regarded as one of the nation's leading regional retail development firms. The company is headquartered in Troy and maintains regional offices in California and New York. Since its founding in 1951, the company has developed and/or constructed more than 70 million square feet of real estate properties.

Landmark Smoker Study:

Rigorous smoker tests confirm MERITas proven taste alternative to higher tar smoking.

Just released—the results of extensive new research conducted by MERIT.

The conclusion: In tests comparing taste and tar combined, MERIT is the clear choice over leading higher tar brands.

MERIT Remains Unbeaten.

In impartial new tests where brand identity was concealed, the overwhelming majority of smokers reported MERIT taste equal to—or better than -leading higher tar brands.

Moreover, when tar levels were revealed, 2 out of 3 chose the MERIT combination of low tar and good taste.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined

That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

Taste Turning Smokers TO MERIT.

In a separate part of this study, smokers report that MERIT taste is a major factor in completing their successful switch from higher tar brands.

Confirmed: 9 out of 10 former higher tar smokers say MERIT is an easy switch, that they didn't give up taste in switching, and that MERIT is the best-tasting low tar they've ever tried.

Year after year, in study after study, MERIT remains unbeaten. The proven taste alternative to higher tar smoking—is MERIT.

Questions? Write to Attorney Larry Korn, care of Sliger Livingston Publications, Post Office Box 160, Northville, Michigan 48167. Questions will be answered on a space-available basis. Answers in this column are directed at specific facts and may not

Q. I started a no-fault divorce case while my wife and I were living in the marital home together. We had one isolated act of sexual intercourse. Would this act of intercourse deny me the right to a divorce case under the no-fault divorce statute?

A. The Michigan Court of Appeals held in the case of Cowsert vs. Cowsert that an isolated instance of sexual intercourse between the parties in a divorce action which occurs after the commence ment of the divorce action but more than one year prior to trial, is not. in and of itself, a sufficient basis upon which to deny a divorce under the no-fault divorce statute.

The question in a no-fault divorce action of what constitutes an irremediable breakdown in a marriage has absolutely no guidelines and therefore is to be determined on a case-by-case

The "no-fault" divorce statute requires a presentation of evidence; such evidence must show a dead or dying marriage and there must be little likelihood of reconciliation. A trial court must hear the proofs of both parties in a "no-fault" divorce action and must exercise its judicial function in determining if there is any hope for saving the marriage.

Q. My father deserted my mother in 1962. I was 13 years old at that time. My parents were divorced and my father was ordered to pay child support but never paid a dime. I have located my father in New York and he is doing very well financially. Can I sue him for non-

A. When the Judgement of Divorce was entered, you father was ordered to pay to your mother through the Friend of the Court a specific amount for your support. Your mother would be entitled to sue your father for all of the back support payments that he did not make to her for your support, until you attained the age of majori-

However, your mother may have been guilty of laches (not taking timely action) and failing to sue your father for the money owed her under the terms of the Judgement of Divorce. Also, a judgement must be renewed through court action every 10 years. If your father lived in Michigan, it is quite likely that the judge ment could be enforced by citing him for contempt or failure to obey the court. You, however, cannot sue your father for non-

Q. One year ago I purchased a building that formerly had been occupied by a restaurant. I was advised by my attorney that all of the fixtures and equipment that were fastened down to the building would go with the land and building. I did not purchase any stock or inventory of the former restaurant.

Last week I was sued by a creditor of the former restaurant owner who alleged that because the previous owner of the restaurant had not filed a bulk sales affidavit and that I was liable for

A. If all you purchased was the land and the building and you did not receive any stock or inventory from the seller, you are not liable for the debts of the seller. Hire an attorney to defend the lawsuit and the case should be thrown out as all you purchased was the real estate.

Q. My father did some work as a sub-contractor, was paid onehalf at the onset of the job and was promised the rest at completion. My father has been unable to collect his money. He was given a check that wasn't any good, and the company has gone into

A. If the time lapse has been less than 90 days, a lein could be filed. However, writing a check that will not clear the bank is a felony with possible imprisonment for two years. I don't think anyone wants a criminal record. Have your father file a claim, at which time the company will be brought into the prosecutor's office to be fingerprinted and photographed. I feel at that time the check will be made good.

Q. When my child was born and I went on Social Services, there was a hearing to determine paternity. The father who had been beating and threatening me at that time said he would pay me $1,000 and gave me an agreement to sign stating that I would never go after him for child support. I signed this agreement and for the past 13 years I haven't received any support.

A. The State of Michigan will not recognize any such agreement between the father and mother of his child. Either the Department of Social Services or the mother can file a petition with the circuit court to get an order for child support.

Q. I have been married to the woman I love for almost 40 years. We have a 21/2 year old son. My wife was married before and I am very much afraid that she and her first husband are going back together. She has threatened to take my son and move to California with her first husband. She is not working but she does have income from interest on savings of over $6,000 per year. What should I do? A. If you feel that your wife is leaving you to remarry her first husband, I would suggest that you start your suit for divorce before your wife does. File a motion with the court to get immediate custody of your child. The court will generally give the first party who files for divorce custody of the minor child under the circumstances you relate. Since you would have custody of the child, you could move out of the marital home and have complete control of the child until such time as the court hears both parties relating to temporary and/or permanent custody. If, as it appears in your letter, you love your wife, it might be advisable that you seek marriage counseling for both yourself and your wife. Perhaps that might help you and your wife put the broken pieces of your marriage back together.

Q. For four years I have been setting out my garbage every Friday morning. In March of the fifth year, the waste disposal company sent me a bill for $246. I had been under the impression that my taxes included this pick-up. Am I liable to pay this? The owner of the disposal company said he would settle for half the amount, however still feel I should have had the choice to accept the services.

A. Check with the city attorney to determine whether or not the waste disposal company was authorized by the city to pick up your garbage and the terms of the contract with the city. If there was such a contract, each resident was to pay for garbage pick-up, it is quite likely that a judge would award the disposal company the reasonable value of the cost of picking up your garbage. If the disposal company had a contract with the city, I would accept their offer to settle for half the amount due.

Q. Just what is rheumatoid arthritis and exactly how are joints affected? I would also like to know what the thinking is regarding exercise as therapy for sufferers. I am 62, take aspirin for pain. Are there other medicines? People I talk to say I should be wary of exercise because it can make it worse. Would a warmer climate help me?

A. Arthritis means inflammation of joints. Rheumatoid arthritis is one very common form, which affects many millions of people of all ages, but particularly those in middle age and women, While researchers are still trying to pinpoint the cause, some evidence seems to point to the body's immunity system, since certain kinds of antibodies can be found in the blood of victims. It is thought that these antibodies might be triggered by viruses. Research is continuing.

cause of the problem, one has to speak in terms of control rather than cure. The twin goals of control are to allow mobility and to alleviate pain. Aspirin has been the mainstay of medical treatment. However, recently newer aspirin-like, antiinflammatory compounds have been introduced for those who cannot tolerate the sometimes large con-

It is important for the arthritis patient to use the various physical therapies available to maintain maximum joint mobility. Simple hot tub baths in the morning can help make activity and tolcrable exercise problems possible. Hot soaks of the hands for example, may make those joints more mobile. Care must be taken in any exercise program however, to be sure it does not further aggravate joint inflammation. May hospitals have special physical therapy programs to guide arthritics in such programs. You would not want to engage in jogging on diseased knees or ankles, or do push-ups with in-flamed wrist, elbow or shoulder joints. Thus, programs must be tailored ones. One should never exercise beyond the point of pain, while remembering that the best exercise is one that puts the affected joint through its full range of motion. The most painfree times of day are best exercise times. In cases where RA has become incapacitating.

more radical approaches can be considered, such as surgical replacement of an entire joint. Great improvements have been made in such surgery and has restored mobility for many patients. While rheumatoid arthritis occurs in any climate, it is true that a more salubrious one can help by making the patient feel better and more likely to get out of doors for valuable activity. Otherwise, climate has no direct influence on the course of the Central netters gear up for conference title run

Walled Lake Central tennis coach Frank Ja- to call now, Jasieniecki said. sieniecki doesn't want to make any predictions this nave designs on the inter-Lakes Conference title "I don't want to make predictions and then end up the Bluebonnet Bowl like some other teams around," joked the Central net mentor. "We just have a solid team. I look at things as being favorable for us." The 30 youngsters currently laboring on Central's courts provide a good reason for Jasieniecki's preseason optimism. Out of that group comes a large number of returning players from last season's 9-5 Viking squad.

Only three seniors were lost from Central's second-place (behind Livonia Stevenson) team. And there is quite a bit of young talent to make up for those departed graduates. Jasieniecki can only definitely tab six starters at this point in the preseason. Some experienced varsity members are finding themselves in a fight to maintain a regular position this year. One player who has clinched a spot is senior number one singles player Daryl Pigeon. He recorded a winning record at second singles last year, according to Jasieniecki, and looks to be one of the top individuals in the conference.

"He's really fine-tuned his game this year," commented the Central coach." His brother Eric Pigeon, a sophomore, is joined by seniors Jim McLeod and Steve Erwin in fighting for the three remaining singles spots. It's too close There's heavy competition for positions on the season; but it is safe to say that his Viking netters three doubles teams as well. Jasieniecki feels that this season.

"Those teams who beat us will be the teams that are solid from number one (singles) through third doubles. I don't think we'll lose to any teams that are just strong in singles or doubles," he explained. Sophomores Kevin Beers and John Boone have a fairly solid lock on the top doubles slot. But there's a wild race to claim the last two spots.

Last year's number-two team, Rick Russell and Scott Armstrong, is in the hunt, as are Andy Phelps, John Zienert, Joe Durand, Chris Owens and several others, according to Jasieniecki "We've got a good crop of ninth, 10th and 11th graders. Things look good for the next couple years,'' he said. Things don't look too shabby this year, either. Jasieniecki figures that Stevenson and Farmington will provide a strong challenge for his netters in any

"My strength will be in having 10 strong guys. We can put our 10th guy against our number two or three guy and not know the outcome," he added. Unless the weather changes soon, it may be a while before any outcome for Central is known. A scheduled match with Lakeland today looks doubtful, barring a sudden warming trend. That would move the team's opening date back to April 19 against Walled Lake Western.

Warrior net coach says team is ready

Noah Gregory, the wily veteran tennis coach at Wailed Lake Western, has a fev tricks up his sleeve this spring. "I think we're going to be able to sneak up on a few people this year because obody's expecting too much," said Gregory following practice Monday.

"Everybody knows we were pretty much wiped out by graduation and that's gog to be something that will work in our favor.? Graduation was indeed rough on the Warrior net squad, robbing them of Mike Sacco and Larry Garza at first and second singles as well as the tandems of Jeff Dine and Gary Waymire at first doubles and Greg Cooper and Randy Shell at third

But Gregory is hoping the 1982 version of the Warrior tennis squad will do as well or better than the 1981 edition which posted a 7-8 record and finished third in the Two reasons for optimism are seniors Don Peasley and Chris Smith who will be moving up from the third and fourth singles slots they held last year. Another strong contender for one of the top three singles positions is Spencer Solomon, a sophomore who did not come out for the team last year. Unfortunately, Solomon broke his hand Monday and Gregory is unsure of his status at the present time.

Another contender for a singles slot is sophomore Karl Buttenmiller, who won the singles title at the W-6 junior varsity tourney last year. Gregory said he likes the way Buttenmiller carries himself - "He's very serious about his tennis," observed the Warrior mentor, Two Warriors who figure prominently limite doubles picture are Leroy Schultz and Dan Smith. Schultz was a frequent starter for Gregory's charges last yea while Smith also saw frequent varsity action Terry Sova, who is returning to tennis after a two year hiatus, is also destined to see considerable action as a doubles player as are Bill Harper and Mike Peasley, two players who distinguished themselves as members of last year's junior varsity Gregory said he feels good about his 1982 squad, but is unwilling to guess at just how well his charges will do. "I've been around too long to be overly optimistic or overly pessimistic," said the only tennis coach Western has ever had. "We'll just take them a match at a time and see how well we come out.

"I'll tell you one thing," he added quickly, however. "This is a really super group of kids. We're going to sneak up on a lot of people."

Slogan winner named

Lisa Ortlieb of Wixom has been named winner of the Walled Lake Library's slogan contest, according to Librarian Donna Rickabaugh.

'You're long overdue at your library" is the slogan that helped Ortlieb win a $25 check. Her slogan will be printed on balloons to be given away to children during open houses at the library for National Library Week,

April 18-24. Rickabaugh said Ortlieb faced tough competition in the slogan contest. "We had 240 entries," Rickabaugh said. "It was a very, very popular contest. We had a lot of good entries."

Ortlieb's winning slogan will be the theme used at the Walled Lake Library during National Library Week, Rickabaugh said. During that time, refreshments will be served and balloons will be handed out.

The library also is sponsoring a reading contest for elementary students in conjunction with National Library Week. Registrations are already being accepted and reading is underway.

McDonalds of Walled Lake will provide free coupons as prizes, and a trophy will be presented to the reader of the most books at a party for participants at the close of the contest. For more information call the library (624-

Additionally, the Internal Revenue Service's Package X is available at the library. Patrons will find the forms needed for filing income tax returns in this package which can be photocopied. Call the library for more information on the service.

metroplex of Southeastern Michigan

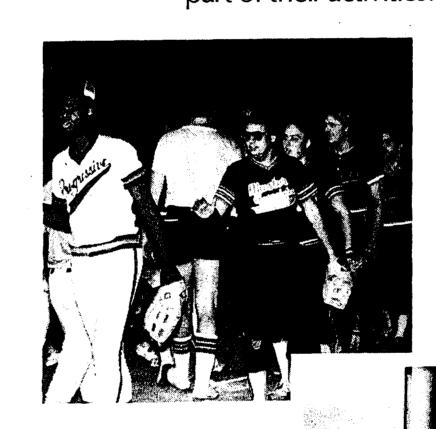

Brightmoor Tabernacle affiliated with the Assemblies of God of many denominations worship together.

26555 Franklin Road Southfield, Michigan (near the Holiday Inn) 352-6200

Brightmoor Is... Charismatic In Worship

We here at Brightmoor Tabernacle believe in worship which is Holy Spirit centered.

We sing choruses that exalt the Trinity: Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Psalms 100:2, Psalms 105:2 (Many of them being scripture choruses)

We lift up the name of Jesus in praise and adoration. 1

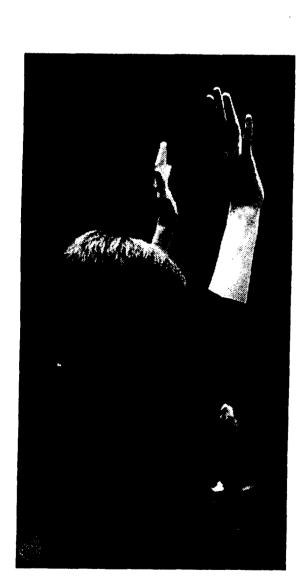

We believe in praying one for another. James 5:16

We believe in praying for the sick with the annointing of oil. James 5:14

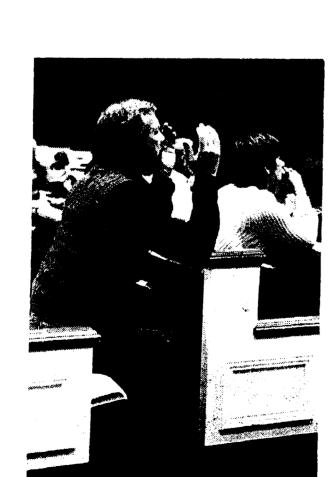

We believe in the praying in an unknown tongue (prayer language). I Corinthians 14:2

We believe in the gifts of the Spirit and that they are to be exercised in the church. I Corinthians 12 & 14

We believe the church today is to be patterned after the early church as described in the books of Acts.

I will lift up my hands in Thy Name PS. 63:4

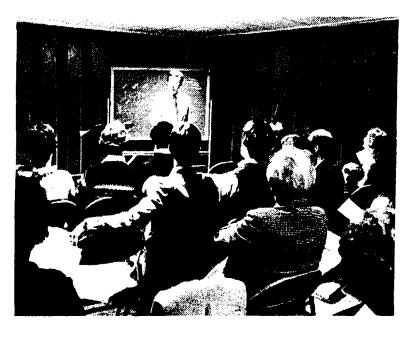

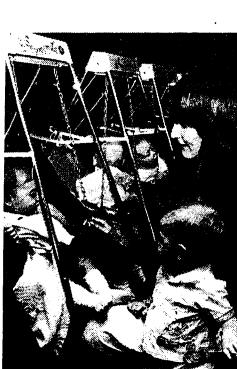

Adult Ministries

Brightmoor is... Centered in God's Word

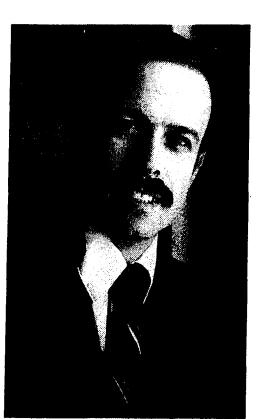

Rev. Phil Krist Minister of Youth

The objectives of the Christian Education Department are to see that all who enter receive Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord; to help each person know, believe, and obey the Bible as the inspired Word of God; to develop Christ-like character; and to help each person find and fulfill his place of service in the body of Christ.

To attain these goals, Bible-centered classes are offered to all age levels taught by dedicated and qualified individuals. Classes are designed to meet the specific needs of each age group with an emphasis on practical Christian living.

Rev. Tim Gambino Minister of Education

The "LIFE FORCE" youth ministry at Brightmoor Tabernacle believes that in Christ, they are the power of God within their world! "LIFE FORCE" has these ministries:

WORSHIP - "... that we might be to the praise of His glory."

TRAINING -"Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life?" "LIFE FORCE" is providing answers - aiming at spiritual and personal maturity - to be like Jesus.

RELATIONSHIP -Close bonds of interaction mark the youth ministry... brothers... sisters SHARING - "Go... and disciple all nations" LIFE FORCE is at a significant confrontation with everyone in their world."

Brightmoor is Adults

Adults need Bible teaching that assists in the unique problems of their age plus social and recreational outlets. Brightmoor programs meet these requirements.

We Believe...

... the Bible is the inspired and only infallible and authoritative Word of God.

... there is one God, eternally existent in three persons: God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Ghost.

... in the deity of our Lord Jesus Christ, in his virgin birth, in His sinless life, in His miracles, in His vicarious and atoning death, in His bodily resurrection, in His ascension to the right hand of the Father, in His personal future return to this earth in power and glory to rule a thousand years.
... in the Blessed Hope — the rapture of the Church at Christ's coming.

... the only means of being cleansed from sin is through repentance and faith in the precious blood of Christ.

... regeneration by the Holy Spirit is absolutely essential for personal salvation.

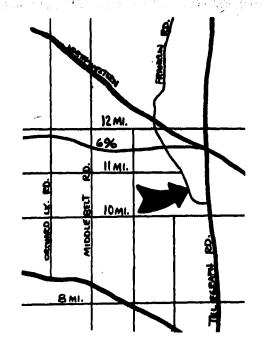

... the redemptive work of Christ on the cross provides healing of the human body in answer to believing prayer.

... the baptism of the Holy Spirit, according to Acts 2:4, is given to believers who ask for it.

... in the sanctifying power of the Holy Spirit by whose indwelling the Christian is enabled to live a holy life.

... in the resurrection of both the saved and the lost, the one to everlasting life and the other to everlasting condemnation.

Brightmoor Tabernacle 26555 Franklin Rd. Southfield, MI 352-6200

Words with our Senior Pastor

Question: Who is Brightmoor Tabernacle?

Pastor Trask: "Brightmoor Tabernacle is a charismatic church with an adherence of nearly 2,000 people. We are affiliated with the Assemblies of God, the world's largest and fastest growing Pentecostal Denomination."

Question: To what do you attribute the growth of Brightmoor Tabernacle?

Pastor: "The fact that we have been careful to direct our message and ministries to the needs of people, believing that Jesus Christ is the answer."

Question: What types of needs do people have today?

Pastor: "They are really three dimensional: spiritual, physical and emotional. The spiritual needs are met through the preaching and teaching ministries of the church. The physical and emotional needs are met through professional counseling and planned social functions."

Question: What do you see as the role of your church for the Metroplex area?

Pastor: "To bring a message of hope where there is hopelessness; a message of encouragement where there is despair; a message of life to those who know not Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior; a message of healing for the body, mind and spirit. In the complexity of problems people face today, the church's role has never been more important."

Question: What do you see as the future for Brightmoor Tabernacle?

Pastor: "I, as Pastor, have never anticipated a greater future. We have a facility and staff who are ready and who are being used to meet people's needs. I see the church continuing to expect outstanding growth, numerically and spiritually. We are anticipating enlargement of our physical complex, preparing to enlarge for its teaching ministries. If Jesus tarries, I see a 'marvelous' future for Brightmoor Tabernacle."
