Novi Hilton plans clear obstacle

Construction of the proposed Novi Hilton may yet get underway this year as a result of action by the Novi Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) last week.

Specifically, the ZBA granted two variances which had prevented Orchard Hill Place Associates from obtaining site plan approval for the proposed seven-story, 250-room hotel at the northwest corner of Eight Mile and Haggerty Road. As a result, Orchard Hill Place Associates will return to the Novi Planning Board October 27 for preliminary site plan approval.

'We're anxious to proceed and we'd like to begin this year," said Joseph Gerak, a partner in Orchard Hill Place Associates, developers of the proposed received October 27, Gerak said permits for footings would be obtained from the Novi Building Department.

Once the footings are in, structural steel would be erected during the winter and be in place for the start of the 1983 outside construction season.

The planning board rejected the site plan because it proposed parking in the front and exterior sideyards and exceeded the maximum number of stories permitted in the OSC zoning district.

The city's zoning ordinance prohibits parking in both the front and exterior side yards, while buildings in the OSC district are limited to five stories and 65

In seeking variances to permit parking in the front and exterior sideyards, Gerak said the site proposes difficult topographical problems. Additionally,

Gerak stated further that the height of the proposed Hilton would be lower than other buildings in Orchard Hill Place because of the topographical elevations. The top of the hotel, he said, will have an elevation of 888 feet, while the top of the existing Digital Equipment Corporation building, by comparison, has an elevation of 897 feet.

The ZBA voted 4-2 to approve the variance which will permit the proposed hotel to be seven-stories high, although it still must conform to the 65foot height limitation.

Gerak has reported that Orchard Hill Place Associates is proposing a twophase construction program. The first phase will consist of the 250-room hotel, while the second phase will add 150 hotel rooms as well as a related office building and convention facilities.

Gerak has estimated that a 250-room hotel will be a $17 million facility and provide approximately 250 jobs after it has been completed. Approximately 150 additional jobs will be created when the second phase has been completed.

Trustees to give administrators 6-percent raises

Raises for 14 administrators and eight non-bargaining employees were approved by the Novi Board of Education October 7.

Retroactive to July 1, the raises include six-percent hikes for the 1982-83 and 1983-84 school years. Raises for the second year are contingent upon a successful yearly evaluation and renewal of contract

During the same meeting, board members unanimously accepted contracts with the district's five employees the school board has been asked to apunions, which had been ratified by union members. Members of the bus administrators and non-union drivers and custodians unions ratified their contracts hours prior to the board meeting. (See related story.)

Joel Colliau, president of the school board, endorsed six-percent raises for Piwko and Dr. William Barr, assistant superintendent.

"The top management of this district deserve no less," Colliau said.

Raises will put the superintendent's salary at $55,650, up from $52,500 during the 1981-82 school year. The assistant suprintendent's salary will increase from $47,500 to $50,350.

At the request of a school trustee, the Novi Board of Education soon will consider ways to find a buyer for its most lucrative piece of available real estate: the 11-acre parcel of land on Novi Road that is the site of Novi Elementary Discussion of selling the school will be discussed at the October 21 board meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p.m. at Novi Middle School South.

Trustee Gil Henderson, a member of the school board from 1968-75 who was re-elected this June, asked why board members were acting as "caretakers" for the property at the October 7 board

"Why doesn't the board sell that property?" Henderson asked. Henderson said he appreciated that a poor economic climate had contributed to slow real estate sales in recent years, but suggested the board may have overlooked opportunities to sell the property before the economy plunged. 'The period between 1975-1980 was a pretty good real estate time in this town," he said. "It bothers me that as a member of the school board, that property is not collecting interest and we don't know if we could sell it. I think we ought to make a concerted effort to sell

"We're caretakers of property that has been empty ... for all intents and purposes, for eight years. I'd hate to see another eight years go by with the same

Trustee Robert Schram agreed with Henderson, and pointed out that several years ago he and Trustee Joan Daley had wanted to retain an appraiser to determine a market price for the property but had not been able to get support from other board members.

"We only had two votes and an administration that wasn't anxious to sell it." Schram said.

"This board has never established a price for that land then?" Henderson asked. Board members said no firm price has been quoted.

Phaffenhausen is charged with first degree murder and possession of fire arms in commission of a felony in connection with the shooting death of a Phaffenhausen's attorney Jerome Sabota requested the forensic examination, saying: "I've met with my client twice for two hours and he has difficulty communicating. I'm not sure he understands what is going on.'

Sabota also told the court Phaffenhausen has a past history of psychiatric problems, including a mental breakdown.

"Four years ago he was under a physcian's care and was told to take medication to control psychosis. He has ceased taking his medication although his doctor advised him to continue its use,'' Sabota said.

The prosecution had no objections to Phaffenhausen's undergoing a forensic hearing. His examination was postponed until completion of the hearing to evaluate his competancy.

He is charged in connection with the death of Harvey Martin, 59, of 24011 Meadowbrook Road. Martin's body was found at 27479 Meadowbrook when police were called to the scene of what was believed to be an accidental shooting. Martin had been shot in the face and was pronounced dead at

Walled Lake trustees nix bid for vacant elementary

An offer to purchase the abandoned Union Lake Elementary School has been turned down by the Walled Lake Board of Education.

The school board voted Monday to reject an offer rom Jay Ross of Hazel Park to purchase the former elementary school near the corner of Commerce and Union Lake roads for the sum of $350,000.

The offer to purchase the 10.44 acre parcel was the first that has been presented to the school board since Union Lake Elementary was closed at the end of the 1981-82 school yard and placed on the market

Faced with the combined problems of declining enrollment and revenue shortfalls, the school board voted last year to close the building and attempt to sell it. Union Lake Elementary was selected for closing on the basis of the age of the building as well as its location at a prime commercial intersection. Board members decided that the Union Lake Elementary site would be attractive to developers because of its location at the Commerce/Union

Funds for Dick's van are slow — but steady

There's more good news for Dick Edington, the 16-year-old Wolverine Lake youth with cerebral "I guess the lift is our big, big news," said Jackie

Somerville of Wolverine Lake, who is coordinating the project for Dick and his foster mother, Carol According to Somerville, the lift was checked over by Gresham's Driving Aids in Wixom and will require only a small amount of work to become ser-

The lift was donated by a friend of Walled Lake resident Columb Harrison, who heard about the project and persuaded his friend to donate the threeyear-old lift to Dick.

Somerville lauded Harrison's contribution to the project, which will save fund-raisers an estimated $1,500. With the exception of $500 needed to install and update the lift, all other monies can now be applied to the purchase of a used van for Dick. "Mr. Harrison really went out of his way for us,"

Somerville said. "He was just super. He was so excited about it." The contribution of the wheelchair lift puts friends of Dick Edington that much closer to their goal, which now is about $6,500 - rather than the originally estimated figure of $8,000. The series of fund raisers and donations from community service groups, individuals and businesses have brought together an estimated $2,400 and the fund is still growing.

Recently, more contributions were added to the fund, including $100 from the Walled Lake Senior Citizens. Several seniors who listened to Somerville's pitch before voting on contributing the money also decided to give personal contributions, the Proceeds from a booth at Market Day brought in another $225, Somerville said. The booth, also used by the Walled Lake Jaycees to build its membership, featured baked goods, a raffle and helium

More than $165 was made from the sale of pastries alone. Somerville said. "That's a lot of baked goods to sell," she noted.

The baked goods were prepared by women from the Walled Lake United Methodist Church, Somerville said. The owners of Weaver's Bakery also donated some pastries — along with free helium balloons and helium that Somerville and her helpers sold for a quarter each.

Somerville noted Joan LaMarra of the Hair Carousel, who has already sponsored two benefits for Dick, contributed some proceeds from her Market Day booth to the fund raiser.

Driving range wins first okay

The concept of a temporary driving range on 11.1 Beck Road has been approved by the Novi Planning

The approval is the first step for Domenic Mancinelli, who must now proceed to the Zoning Board of Appeals for permission to proceed with plans for the driving range.

Mancinelli told the planning board last week he would not be asking to use the land for a driving range if the ecomony were improved. He had hoped to expand his current facility on Twelve Mile, but now simply wants to get some financial return from the property until the economy turns.

"I wouldn't be proposing this if the economy was better. I want to develop that property," Mancinelli said. "I won't be able to wait until sewers are available if I can't make this pay off somehow. I just want to pay the taxes and make the payments Planners suggested if the driving range became successful Mancinelli might want to continue it, rather than develop the property with an industrial use, as it is zoned. They questioned whether under those cicumstances it would be preferable to review an actual site plan, instead of approving a concept and a rough drawing. But City Planner Charles Cairns said the Zoning Board of Appeals reviews permits for temporary uses annually and if it appeared this was becoming a permanent use the permit should be denied. "If this becomes a problem, they shouldn't grant a permit," Cairns said.

Planner William Briggs agreed, saying: "In the case of a driving range, he's got to keep his act in gear. If he creates a problem the ZBA will say this is a big, bad thing and his permit will be rejected." Mancinelli concurred, saying: "I don't want to ruin the integrity of my property. I have 10 acres that already have a building on them. I bought this property to develop. Because the driving range is a temporary use the requirement for a hard surface parking lot should be waived. Cairns also noted.

The matter will be sent to the ZBA for its review.

It's great. Jackie Somerville, Project coodinator

Somerville is quick to point out that most donations received so far have been small amounts, often from individuals who have heard about Dick and Pitcher and simply want to help.

"It isn't big (money)," she said, "but it's steady. As long as it keeps coming in, we'll be doing great." Somerville said Pitcher and Dick "are really excited" about the donated wheelchair lift and the prospect of a van.

But she noted she has been even more impressed with the community involvement that has supported the project. "I'm really overwhelmed that people all know what this is for," she said. "The awareness, I think, is there in the community. It's great." Somerville is still eager to line up fund raisers although she has a long list of sponsors ready to go

The Walled Lake Jaycees, who are sponsoring the program with Somerville, are planning to earmark some proceeds from their haunted house to the project. Jaycee Dave Roddy found a man who is willing to donate pumpkins so Somerville is now looking for volunteers to sell them at the haunted house. Hopefully, she said, she'll be able to find a Scout troop willing to tackle that one. Also, the teen club from the Walled Lake United Methodist Church is scheduling a rock-athon for October 30. Teens are planning to dress in costumes for the event and got a pep talk from Somerville recently, who showed them the van and lift she uses to help her 12-year-old daughter Amy get around.

"They're really up about it," Somerville said of the teens. "They're really enthusiastic." A breakfast benefit is in the works at McDonald's and Big Boy's. Fifty percent of breakfast intake at each of the restaurants will be donated to Dick's van fund during the weekend of October 23-24.

Workers at both restaurants will contribute their time as well, working breakfast hours at no cost to

On Saturday, October 23, Georgine Hayes of the Big Boy is hosting breakfast from 6 a.m. to 11 a.m., during which time 50 percent of all breakfasts sold will go to the fund. Tom Borin, owner of the Walled Lake McDonald's, said his restaurant will do the same from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. Sunday, October 24. "I can't tell you how many people have told me they're going to both of them," Somerville said. "It really sounds good."

An added homes is the contribution advertising the breakfasts. The flyers, printed at no cost to the van project by Now Printing on Pontiac Trail, will be distributed at the Jaycees' haunted house, both restaurants and several churches. To volunteer, call Somerville, 624-4137

Ross supports rent tax credit ed that the state legislature has enacted his plan to help senior citizens cope with rising apartment

"Michigan seniors will no longer have to fear being pushed out of their apartments by rents that increase faster than their incomes." Ross said. The new rent relief program is to be phased in over three years because of the state's tight budget, Ross said. In 1982, any rent that tenants 65 or older pay exceeding 50 percent of their incomes will be refunded to them through a state income tax credit, according to the plan. In 1983, all rent more than 45 percent of a senior tenant's income will be refunded. And in 1984 and each year after, rent exceeding 40 percent of income will be refunded. "This new program establishes a ceiling on a senior's rent based on that person's income." Ross said. "When fully in effect in 1985, the program will insure that no senior is forced to pay more than 40 percent of his or her income in rent, no matter how much rents rise in the years ahead.

Enactment of the rent relief program came after a difficult four-year legislative battle, Ross said. "When I was first elected to the senate in 1978, I received a great many letters and calls from seniors unable to keep up with rising rents," Ross said. "Many were terribly frightened."

"A Treasury Department study revealed that more than a third of all Michigan senior renters already were paying more than 40 percent of their incomes in rent. Furthermore, nearly all those seniors had incomes of less than $8,000 a year. Action was urgently needed."

With the help of a number of Oakland County seniors, a similar version of the rent relief program was passed by the Senate in 1980 but funding was tied to another measure that died in the House. Ross

"The seniors never gave up," the senator said. "And with the help of sympathetic apartment owners, we finally prevailed.' Passage was made even more urgent by recent Reagan Administraton decisions to severely cut back funding for low and moderate income housing for the nation's seniors. Ross said.

Governor William Milliken is expected to sign the neasure soon, he added. "This program will enable seniors to hold on with some peace of mind until we figure out how to provide decent housing that many of our elderly can afford." Ross said.

Library wing is almost done

Residents who go to the Walled Lake Library to check out books, won't be able to help checking out the new look of the building. The addition to the library is nearly complete, with exterior work all but finished. And if all goes as planned, the library's interior will be done next month.

Becky Harkey, children's librarian, said that although the library looks "sparse" inside, progress is being made every day. By the end of this week, she said, library patrons will be able to use the new library entrance on the west end of the building, which is connected to the parking lot by a sidewalk installed by the city DPW. An electrician is finishing all new wiring this week, she said, and interior decorations will probably get underway in the near future. When complete, the library will sport a new look of browns, rust and tans, to be reflected in its wallpaper, carpet and paint. Right now, Harkey admitted, the library isn't exactly at its best: "It kind of reminds me of working in a garage," she said. But the library staff is planning to have its collection back on new shelves before Christmas. And until then, patrons are reminded that the library is

Providence offers lectors

Providence Hospital's speakers bureau offers a wide variety of health and wellness topics to community groups and organizations.

The program, coordinated by the community health education department, will provide a program speaker free of charge upon request. "People today are more interested than ever before in adopting lifestyles which enhance their health and well-being," observed Pam Ashworth, coordinator of community health education. Available topics include weight control, nutrition, parenting, child and adolescent development, aging and the proper use of medications. Ashworth said she also will be happy to locate speakers for topics by special request.

"Providence always has responded to requests from the community for speakers," said Judy Mecum, assistant director of community relations who is helping coordinate the program. "Health care professionals have valuable information to share with individuals concerned about their health and well-being. This program is just one more way Providence reaches out to serve the community." Persons interested in getting a speaker for their group or organization should call the community health education office at 552-9041 for details. There is no charge for the service.

Journal

There's a man in Wixom that I worry about. He's an older fellow, sort of alone in the world and lives mostly for his job at the Wixom Ford Plant. I don't know him personally -- only through police

I see him through the eyes of the Wixom police, because they are the ones who know him. They worry about him too.

You see, this man keeps getting robbed. And we worry because the robberies are getting

Several weeks ago, he was mugged and hurt quite severely. Two men jumped him in his apartment building and beat him up with a truck tire iron. They left him lying unconscious in a pool of blood and ran off with about $6,000 cold cash. After spending days in the hosptal, doctors say he now needs a brain operation to help him recover.

Last year the man was robbed, too, and that time he lost even more money: an estimated $34,000. The guy who police said stole the money tried not to hurt him much apparently. But he left him bleeding, lying in a ditch on Wixom Road.

This man hasn't done much to deserve such treatment; actually, he's done only one dumb thing. He carries cash. Lots of it. And too many people know about it. He's been known to carry hundreds of dollars rolled up in a rubber band and stuffed in his pocket.

Several police officers — not to mention all the other people who've seen it too — have stood in line behind him at the grocery store while he peels bills off his big wad. They've warned him not to do it, and so have town merchants who know it's not wise to have so much cash on hand if you want to keep it long. This guy is nothing more than an easy mark to some people. To others, he's plain stupid for carrying that But to the Wixom police, he's a guy they keep having to go patch up, sometimes telling him they found the person who got his money. They never get the money. And they worry that someday they'll find this guy really hurt or even dead because somebody knew or thought he had big bucks on him and decided to go after

Police Chief Phil Leonard is afraid that people who hear about this guy will think any old fellow walking down Wixom Road is the money man, and that all kinds of innocent men will get bopped on the head by people looking for easy money.

But there is not a thing the police can do about it. Except write up the reports. And warn him about carrying cash. And hope it doesn't happen again. Unfortunately, things like this don't seem to stop of their own volition. Another example: I met a man who lives on a farm in Lyon Township. He was having a garage sale to get rid of all the things in his house, and he gave me some for free. "Better you get it than them," he said. His house is robbed every winter while he's in Arizona. Last year, thieves carted off most of the antiques they could, leaving behind only those that were too big to fit through the door or too battered. This year, he decided to turn the tables on the thieves. He'd get rid of everything himself just so they couldn't get it. He decided to sell everything inside the house he was born in, that his father built, that his grandmother died in — and leave it bare as bones.

"It's a terrible thing to be robbed," he sighed. He had decided not to go through it again. Even if it meant emptying the house from top to bottom.

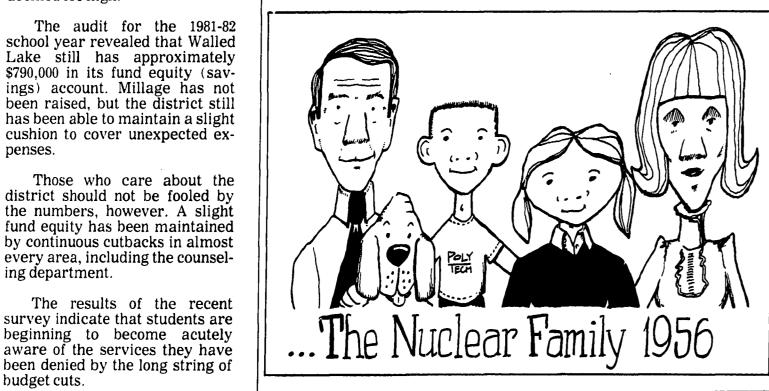

Theft is a terrible thing. There's no way for the victim to fight back; so often, the thief is as anonymous as a face in a crowd. Unless it's an unusual robbery or they get excellent tips, police often have very little evidence to

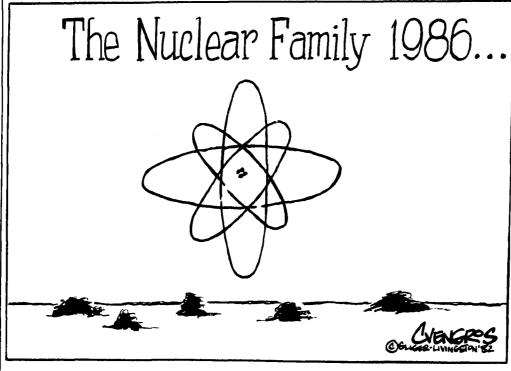

But whether you lose thousands of dollars or one TV set, the feelings of violation and fear are just as strong. How do you protect yourself? Give your money away? Sell all your belongings until there's nothing left to be stolen? Buy a gun and hope you never have to use it? Those aren't really solutions. The basic problem is there aren't any solutions, no sure-fire guarantees. You know it, I know it and the

That's why everybody worries. Everybody except the guys with the tire irons.

Ron Milam doesn't scare me. And neither does Karen Rice, although I think the two may be working together to psych me out.

To make sense out of that introduction you've got to understand that Novi will hold its annual Run for Reyes this Saturday at the Bob-O-Link golf course on Grand River and Beck Road. It's a good event because it raises funds for research into Reyes Syndrome and also promotes physical fitness by encouraging people to get out and do a little running.

At any rate, the organizers of the event are trying to raise a little more money for Reyes Syndrome by staging a "celebrity" fun run prior to the real race and asking people to guess the winner and the winning time at 50 cents a guess. All sorts of local officials have been invited to participate in the celebrity run; and I got an invitation, too - probably because I get my picture in the paper a lot.

That's where Milam and Rice come in. Milam, a member of the Novi school board as well as an alleged runner, also will run in the While performing my job of editing copy, I ran across a story by Rice about Milam's participation in the big marathon in Detroit recently. According to Rice's alleged story, Milam allegedly ran in the marathon and allegedly completed all 26 miles.

Frankly, I don't believe any of it. And even if it were true, I don't think it would make much difference because I am determined to destroy the competition Saturday and win by a large margin, reducing Milam and the rest of the field to specks on the horizon as I flash across the finish line.

Not many people know it, but I was quite a runner back in high school and also did some distance running in college. Sure, it's been a while since I've run competitively, but I figure running is something like riding a bicycle - once you learn how ....

Besides, I plan to begin training any day now. I'm sure there will be those who'll plunk down their 50 cents on Milam or some other pretender to the crown. But remember this, it's only a mile, practically a sprint. I promise to be humble in victory.

The Novi Wildcat Marching Band was awarded first place honors when it participated in the Michigan State Fair recently.

Novi's band performed "Aztec Fire," "Endless Love" and "Elvira," among other selections, and received $500 for its first-place showing.

Area high school bands appear in concert and are judged on their performance. In coming weeks the Novi Marching Band has a busy fall schedule. Besides playing for football game half-time shows, the Wildcat band recently participated in the Westland "Half-Time Review." Six area high school bands were invited to present a half-time show at John Glenn High School in Westland.
This Saturday the band will perform at the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Assocation festival. Bands will be judged and given a rating classification. This year the event will take place at Brighton High School.

They also will participate in the annual band "March-athon" Saturday, October 23. The march-athon is a major fund-raiser for the band. Novi residents will be asked to pledge an amount per mile as students march across town, playing at various stops along the way. The group is hardy and usually hikes about 10 miles, according to a band booster spokesperson.

To round out the month, the band will participate in its first official state band competition at Lakeview High School in St. Clair Shores on Saturday, October 30.

Stach recalled. Although the business is named after him, the amiable Stach attributes most of the success to his wife Pat who owns the restaurant.

"Pat has been tremendous. She greets people with a smile and listens to their troubles. Without her, this place couldn't operate." Stach remarked. PSYCHOTHERAPY AND COUNSELING SERVICES, 511 North Center in Northville, announces the development and implementation of its phobia and anxiety disorders clinic.

According to Clinic Director Stephen Paul Stocker, phobias and generalized anxiety reactions are among the most common emotional difficulties — and also are the most responsive to treatment. In recent years, highly specific treatment techniques, such as hypnotherapy, systematic desensitization, grade practice experiences, have been applied to phobias and anxiety reactions.

Stocker indicates that these approaches all are available at the clinic. Medication is available on a case-by-case basis to assist the patient in coping with extreme anxiety or panic reactions.

Staff members include Stocker, Dr. Alexander Petrides, Diane presented recently by Carl Lyngso, life sales manager for American States Insurance, and Bill Given, property and casualty sales manager, at the Northville Insurance Exchange office at 160 East Main. It marked the first time the agency had sold more than $1 million of life insurance with one company in a single year. The actual total was $1,100,000. In making the presentation, American States noted that it was unusual for an agent specializing in property and casualty insurance as Barnum does to rank so high in life in-

RUTH BARD, LPN, has been named administrator of the Williamsburg Convalescent Center, 21017 Middlebelt Road, announced Regional Supervisor Connie Schwaderer, RN.

The Novi resident comes to the 112-bed skilled nursing home with experience in long-term care as a nurse and social worker. Before becoming administrator at Williamsburg, she underwent an administrator-in-training program with Beverly Enterprises, a national health care company. She participated in the training program at Beverly Manor Novi, where she was also a social worker for three

"The program is designed to familiarize potential administrators with all areas of nursing home operation before they take over a facility," Schwaderer said. "It also insures that each of our administrators is knowledgeable of Beverly policies that uphold quality patient care." Besides being a licensed practical nurse, Bard has a bachelor's degree in business administration from Madonna College and is a social work technician.

In her new position, she will oversee the operation of Williamsburg Convalescent Center in every aspect - from patient care to administrative duties. She will supervise about 100 employees and be responsible for the care of more than 100 elderly and handicapped

POPULAR AREA SINGER David Walz, who did so well last summer with his "Assembly Line Blues," has just finished a recording session for Artisan Records in Nashville. His first recording, "Living With a Ghost," is scheduled for release this week. The tune was written by Terry Carisse, 1981 Grammy award-winning best songwriter of the year in Canada.

David Waltz has been successful in the Midwest during the past two years with two albums recorded locally and released under his own label, "County Old, Country New" contains "Assembly Line Blues" and "Ghost Riders."

His business manager, Judy Wyllie of Heather Publishing, Wyllie Productions and Daju Records of 676 Fairground, Plymouth, says the contract with Artisan Records, coupled with a contract signed last December with Elk Publishing, another Nas hville-based company, to publish some of his own songs, represents "a big step forward" for a multi-talented young man who has been trying for nine years to break into the national recording scene.

CONNIE MANRING has joined the staff of Rymal Symes Realtors, Novi office, as a Realtor Associate. Connie, her husband Phillip and two children, are long-time Novi residents. She has an impressive list of community credits to her credit. She served as Sunday school superintendent at Novi United Methodist Church for four years and was chairman of the church Board of Trustees in 1980.

She has been secretary, vice president and chairman of Village Oaks School PTO and currently is a member of the board of directors of the Novi library and has served the library in various positions since 1979. She also is an active volunteer in the United Fund. In announcing the appointment, Conrad Jakubowski, Rymal Symes president, said, "Mrs. Manring's broad background in community service and her genuine desire to make Novi a better place to live, helped make her a natural for real estate, and because our business is essentially a people business, and Connie's friendly professional manner and her persistent dedicated attitude are two most helpful traits needed for home buyers and home sellers today, Connie Manring is a most welcome addition to our professional staff.

Consumers benefit with lower prices in beef market

All kinds of good food buys greet shoppers this Food shoppers will find lower retail beef prices at the meat counter during October, according to

Ada Shinabarger of the Cooperative Extension Ser-

Supermarkets are cutting prices and promoting beef more heavily to reflect price decreases that have filtered down from producers and packers in recent weeks, she said.

Consumers have already responded to the lower beef prices and heavier promotion by purchasing five percent more beef. Beef prices should continue to weaken for another month or so and then stay at the lower levels for a while, Shinabarger said. She cites cheap feed and heavy marketing of cattle as reasons for the drop in prices. Retail pork prices, on the other hand, are anything but low. The high price of pork is not expected to drop significantly before mid-1983. Broiler prices have strengthened in recent weeks and retailers will likely use them for an occasional featured item. But beef will be the main meat promotional item for quite some time. Fresh mushrooms are a likely ingredient in some favorite beef recipes and national output of them is Excellent quality fresh mushrooms now are available in most supermarkets. The 1982-83 national output is up to 10 percent, continuing an upward trend that started about 15 years ago. Michigan is the number three producer of fresh mushrooms and production here is up about five percent, according to the Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service.

A huge crop of California table grapes will be on the market this month. Choose from pale green Thompson seedless or red Tokay varieties. Michigan Concord and green Niagara grapes also are available.

Bartlett pears from California and Michigan also will be on the scene. Homegrown pears will be smaller, but they will make up for their size in October is the month to search out novel varieties of apples, such as the Gala, a large yellow apple blushed with pink. Other attention-getters are Newton Pippin, a huge cooking apple, and Cortland, excellent for salads because its snow-white flesh stays bright longer. After October, shoppers will be limited to Michigan varieties grown in commercial quantities, including Jonathan, Ida Red, Delicious, MacIntosh, Spy and Rome.

As for fall vegetables, the biggest eye-catchers are pumpkins and hard-shell squash. Even the names of the squash are unusual - turban. hubbard, butternut, acorn and spaghetti, which cooks up much like the pasta product. Cauliflower peaks in October. #### Gramma's Grape Jelly

Of all the things I remember Now that Gramma's passed away, Is picking her luscious grapes On a cool September day.

And up into a tree. The tree was fun to climb And oh, how far you could see!

Later we'd wash the grapes And put them in a pan. After cooking them awhile Got out the jars to can.

The jelly was a special treat Our family loved so much. It was tart, it was sweet, It had Gramma's special touch.

But the best part of all

Could not come from a shelf. It came right from Gramma, The love she gave from herself.

'Warriors rebound with Churchill win

Walled Lake Western returned to its winning ways this past week at Livonia Churchill's expense, 14-7, with defense again playing the lead role. Statistically the game was not nearly as close as the score indicates. The • Warriors, behind the bruising ball carrying of senior tailback Paul Imms (179) yards in 30 carries), outgained Churchill in total yardage 353-36 while amassing

19 first downs to Churchill's two. In truth, Western was its own worst enemy last Friday as it fumbled the ball away three times deep in Churchill territory while penalties thwarted several

The game could have been a rout, according to Warrior coach Chuck Apap. "We just made too many crucial errors at critical times," said Apap of the Warrior offense. "But that (mental lapses) happens after coming off a ballgame (a heartbreaking loss to Farmington Harrison) like we did. I kind of Defensively, however, Western was as strong as ever. Especially in the final minute of play when it stopped Churchill cold deep in Warrior territory after a bad snap from punt formation gave Churchill the ball and an opportunity to knot the score at 14-all from the Western 30 yard line.

"There's no question our defense saved us," said Apap. "It was outstanding All told, Western ran off 63 plays to Churchill's 34, while controlling the clock. the Warriors backed Churchill up for a grand total negative 28 yards on the

rambled to a 7-0 lead only 1:30 into the game. Western, after kicking off, fumbled the ensuing punt at its own 20-yard-line. The turnover resulted in a fourth-down 20-yard touchdown pass and an early Churchill lead. Temporarily stunned, Western quickly recovered on its next possession and marched upfield to the Churchill two only to be turned away empty handed with a pair of holding penalties and a missed Scott Wandeloski 34-yard field goal at-Western finally tied the score at 7-7 with 3:00 left in the first half with Imms barreling into the end zone from three yards out to cap a 63-yard, 11-play drive. Similarly, Western took the second half kickoff and marched 60 yards in 12 plays for the winning touchdown with Imms again going in from a yard out to put the Warriors ahead to stay 14-7. This Friday Western (3-1-1) stays on the road, this time to face Plymouth Canton (2-3). Canton's three losses have come against stiff competition: Farmington Harrison (5-0), Plymouth Salem (5-0) and Northville in overtime.

Tell me about your high gas heating bills ### and I'll tell you how you can save up to 20%* with Ameri-Therm.

For years I've talked with people who are tired of wasting fuel and noney. Gas rates keep going up, so they come to me for advice. Every day, for homeowners like you, I correct the money-wasting roblem of gas energy loss with Ameri-Therm® Vent Dampers: The problem is very common:

When a furnace, boiler or water neater shuts off, warm air is uickly lost up the chimney. Energy escapes, but you still end up paying for it.

People want to save as much as they can, so I tell them to keep heat inside with an Ameri-Therm Vent Damper
