Novi requests EMS proposal

By KATHY JENNINGS

Proposals from companies interested in providing regional ambulance service to Novi and three surrounding communities will be sought in coming

Novi City Council members agreed to seek proposals from ambulance companies Monday night after City Manager Edward Kriewall explained the action was prompted primarily by complaints of high ambulance rates.

Of the other communities seeking regional ambulance service, Northville Township is expected to follow Novi's lead in December. Northville has already taken that step and Farmington was to act on the matter Mon-

The move is an attempt to obtain an element of local control over the provision of ambulance service, as well as obtaining service without paying a financial subsidy to an ambulance com-

Kriewall explained an ad hoc committee of representatives of each of the four communities studied ambulance service in the area after receiving repeated complaints regarding rates charged by Novi Ambulance, the company currently serving each of the four communities.

'About one year ago we were barraged with complaints from the area and we even received complaints from some people outside Novi," Kriewall

Kriewall noted, however, that Novi Ambulance reduced its rates following the negative publicity regarding its charges for ambulance service.

The consortium also met to discuss possibilities for obtaining a "better level of ambulance service," Kriewall said. "We had no pre-conceived notion of the direction we should head."

The committee came back with a recommendation that the four communities request provision of emergency medical service on the basis of one regional service area.

It suggested a proposal for five years of service with rates guaranteed for two years. An adequate level of insurance will be required of all companies. The communities also will request formation of a review committee to review ambulance service and resolve disputes which do not relate to medical Dredging to that depth is contingent on the granting of easements to the city by residents around the lake.

The council voted 6-1 to approve the lake dredging with Council Member James Shaw casting the lone dissenting

Dredging the lake will be a main step toward construction of the Patnales Drain - one of six major drainage projects approved by taxpayers when the voted for a $4 million bond issue in August.

Residents reminded city officials of a previous committment to dredge the lake 15 feet deep, but said 12 feet would be a compromise they could accept.

Novi assumed responsibility for dredging the lake since two-thirds of the city drains into the subdivision's private lake. Meadowbrook Lake has gradually silted over the years and now in most places it is only three to four feet deep, according to city engineers.

Members of a citizen drainage committee reveiwed the matter and recommended the city dredge the lake to 12

But Novi's consultant engineers recommended the lake be just 10 feet deep. Engineering Consultant Clif Seiber told the council that according to his research the lake apparently was Dredging the lake to 10 feet would return the lake to its original depth and provide four feet of storage for future sediment. The lake probably will not have to be dredged again for 30-40 years if it were 10 feet deep, Seiber said, and making it deeper would not make a substantial difference in water quality because of the nature of Meadowbrook

Council members questioned the advantage of dredging the lake an additional two feet in light of the fact it would cost $66,000 more than the engineer's proposal. Citzen Committee Chairperson Joseph Toth reported the 12-foot deep proposal was largely a compromise, struck because Meadowbrook Lake residents have approved many revisions to the original Patnales Drain pro-

The engineers have the feeling a 10 foot depth would suffice, but the additional two feet will make sure it doesn't turn into a problem lake in the future,"

Taxi services request licensing

Is Novi large enough to support more than one cab company?

That was one the questions asked by Novi's City Council after three companies recently applied for city licenses.

All three companies have passed equipment inspections, while drivers for each company have passed checks conducted by the police department.

Southfield Cab Company requested licensing for five cabs, Simplistic Transportation asked approval for three cabs and Huron Valley Vetrans Cab Company sought licensing for two cabs. Meanwhile, employees of the city's lone existing licensed cab company opposed licensing of Southfield Cab Company vehicles. The council is impowered by ordinance to grant licenses if it determines a cab company is suitable. It also permits the council to refuse to grant licenses if it determines the city has a sufficient number of cabs to serve the

 Mitchell Roberts, Community Cabs

Mitchell Roberts of Community Cab, the only company currently licensed in the city, told council his company is barely making a profit and licensing other companies would invite disaster. He specifically objected to licensing Southfield Cab charging it has operated illegally in Novi, since it is not licensed. "I'm here to object to a license being issued to (Southfield Cabs) because of their lack of good will and respect for the law," Roberts said. "Times are hard and we can't afford the competi-eight cabs. We have five cabs and only three of them operate. I have no complaints with the other companies, but I don't see how we could cooperate with them." Representatives of the companies seeking licenses denied their cabs had worked in the city, but admitted it was possible such an incident occurred without their knowledge. Mitchell asked the city council to consider his company offers a personalized service to customers who regularly use tion. They have asked for licenses for his cabs.

A Community Cab employee also asked the council to consider the company "has been there when it was needed." Linda Turner said there "was a senior citizen at Twelve Oaks who had a heart attack. She wouldn't go in the ambulance when they called it. They called us and we transported her to Botsford, because she felt safe with

A cabbie, Ken Robinson, reported there is not enough business in Novi to support another cab company. "There is an atmosphere in the company of competition between drivers for calls coming in. There's not business for more than one company. If business doesn't increase we will lose everything we've worked for. With more than one company 'a person can't make a living

But Frank Bezak, representing Southfield Cabs, told the council the city needs more taxis. "We believe there

Park, recreation master plan gets nod

A long-range parks and recreation master plan which will form the outline for development of recreational facilities in Novi was approved by the Novi Planning Board as presented last

No citizens turned out to discuss the plan, although a public hearing was scheduled by the planners.

The long-range plan includes two citywide parks, six district parks, 12 neighborhood parks and bikepedestrian paths routed between them. Planners made no revisions in the parks proposal.

Members of the planning board discussed the possibility of asking developers to provide some aspects of the parks and recreation master plan, such as open space and pathways.

r lanners asked if it were possible to encourage development of the plan by would be difficult to say they can't, but putting some aspects of the proposal into subdivision regulations and adding provisions for easements.

The planners also discussed the possibility of developing language to require developers to put in bikepedestrian ways as part of platted subdivisions. City Planner Charles Cairns told the board he would use the parks master plan the same way he will use the city master land use plan when he studies plans submitted to him for review. Parks and Recreation Director Thomas O'Branovic explained after the meeting that the plan would be used to encourage developers to provide such things as open space.

"If someone wants to put something in an area where we wanted a park it people now our intentions going in," O'Branovic said.

Planners also questioned plans for the Bob-O-Link golf course at Grand River and Beck Road.

They asked if the city could realistically hope to obtain the golf course and if financing would be available.

O'Branovic explained the city would like to see the golf course remain a park acquisition, pathway construcrecreational facility. If another party purchases it, it is hoped the property will still be used as a golf course since the city planner believes it provides an important transition between the industrial development on Grand River and residential development on Beck

He informed the planners there are the plan gives us some leverage. It lets various methods of financing the city could use if it wishes to purchase the property.

O'Branovic said after the meeting that now the plan is adopted it will be used as a guideline for developing Novi's recreational facilities.

It will be used by a recently formed committee which will be forming priorities for a three-five year capital improvement plan. They will look at tion, park development and park maintenance facility and construction. The 12-member committee was recently formed by the city council. It's goal will be to develop a funding proposal to finance construction or acquistion of recreational facilities for the November 1983 ballot.

Plan Consultant Tod Kilroy of Community Management said he thought the lake greenbelt was "a good planning concept" but if residents were that upset and some commissioners were not sure it should be included, then the wording should be changed.

"We need six positive votes in order for adoption. I don't want to see this not be adopted tonight because of one area of disagreement. Commissioner Judy Hamilton said she thought the entire controversy hinged on the greenbelt's inclusion on the parks and recreation plan.

But Commission Chairman Ken Tucker said he was frustrated by the whole argument, pointing out that the commission had made repeated attempts to explain what greenbelt meant and residents were unwilling to consider planners' views.

He proposed the land be designated "private recreation," and asked for objections from residents. Only Schultz said the word recreation was what concerned him about Tucker's suggestion. He said he would like to see the greenbelt removed from the parks

Committee recommends village charter changes

Wolverine Lake Village voters will be asked to decide whether or not to change several clauses in the village charter during the April election.

The village council accepted recommendations from a charter revision committee to place the items on the April ballot. Among the items to be changed would be a provision that now requires the village council to appoint

As We See It

Wixom situation is lesson for all

Wixom officials and residents are currently confronted with an issue which has proven a source of much controversy in communities across the state — group

The Macomb-Oakland Regional Center (MORC) recently informed Wixom officials that a barrier-free home for six developmentally-disabled individuals is proposed for construction in the Birch Park sub-

The home is to be somewhat different from conventional group homes in that is being constructed specifically for individuals who are handicapped as well as mentally retarded. Four of the six residents, MORC officials have said, will be confined to wheelchairs.

A group of Birch Park residents attended last week's council meeting, asking questions of MORC representatives and expressing their fears and con-

Although the residents were courteous for the most part, there was definitely a feeling that plans to construct a group home in the subdivision are considerably less than good news.

If the city does attempt to block construction of the home, it may well rest its case on the requirements of Public Act 423 which requires MORC to seek local input in placement of the Wixom officials maintain that the conversation and followup letter were insufficient notice. MORC officials say they met state requirements. Because they deal with the statute every day, we suspect MORC may well be in

We offer two thoughts. First, if MORC is in compliance with requirements set forth by state law, there is a need to rewrite the statute to make it more specific. We can understand the surprise expressed by Wixom officials when plans to construct the group home were announced.

More importantly, however, the lesson learned by Wixom should serve notice to surroun-The prospect of having to ding communities that they selection and planning process.

It seems logical that all communities should establish committees to work with the state agency in the future. Not only will it eliminate "surprises," but also provide community input regarding location of group homes. It might also eliminate a portion of the controversy which has reared its head in communities where group homes are proposed across

That's what Governor Milliken and the Novi and Walled Lake school boards all agreed when they passed resolutions declaring today Community Education Day. A national resolution also was passed.

There should be no doubt that community ed is a service deserving of special tribute once in a while. It is perhaps the only school program that truly reaches out to all segments of the community — from preschoolers to senior citizens, from families to single adults, from high school dropouts to high school students.

We are proud of the jobs being done by Nov. and Walled Lake community ed departments. Each seems to be growing stronger every year, reaching more people with more classes and achieving higher enrollment. The frequent curriculum changes reflect the variety of residents' interests: Both departments know their communities well and

This is also the perfect time to commend the hundreds of people who teach community ed classes in Novi and Walled Lake, who offer their time and talent to others. They are, by and large, a dedicated and enthusiastic bunch. Their work is not as visible as classroom teachers', but it is appreciated.

The growth of the community ed departments also has helped school districts get more for their money from school facilities. with adult ed classes meeting nights in various district buildings, making double use of computers, libraries, gyms, swimming pools and classrooms.

Community education is the trend of the future. As families get smaller and enrollment in traditional schools decreases. reaching out to the mainstream of the community will become increasingly important.

The people who develop and support community education are a vital part of the school systems — and should be recognized as such.

You may have heard about the orchids and onions given out to area groups and buildings for their architectural value (or lack thereof). Well, as I was driving through Walled Lake and Novi Friday, the thought occurred to me that we've got room right here for some awards and booby prizes of our own. Herewith. I'll offer my choice of laurels and lumps to those who deserve them. My basically optimistic nature is showing, since there are substantially fewer lumps than laurels. If you think I've missed some of either, feel free to write. • First off, laurels to Spirit of '76 park, that non-descript corner on Eleven Mile and Taft Road that is a popular lunch spot. On nice days, I've seen several car loads of adults brownbagging it on the grass or picnic tables at the park. Nice to see it being used. My first lump goes to the series of traffic signals on Novi Road between Grand River and Twelve Mile. I consider it a major miracle if I manage to hit one green light there. Kathy Jennings tells me engineers swear the lights are timed correctly, but they're frustrating enough to make me go miles out of may way just to avoid them. Say, maybe that's how they help control traffic flow. • Laurels to the friendly fellow at the Union 76 station on Walled Lake Drive. He pumped my gas in the pouring rain and allowed as how it really wasn't all that bad to have late October raindrops pouring down his neck. Could be worse, he said. Could be snow.

• Here's a pat on the back for the City of Walled Lake, which is really pulling out all the stops in trying to spruce up the downtown lake area. Mercer Beach never looked better, Walled Lake Drive is turning into one of the most beautiful scenic roads around and good old Liberty Street is sure to become a pedestrian thoroughfare — if something of an obstacle course for the snowplows. Laurels to all concerned.

• While we're at it. DPW Supervisor John Nail also rates a laurel. He's been keeping an eye on the progress of the Liberty Street paving project almost daily and has been recording the work with photos.

• Now, all you folks who've been complaining about the fact that the city is paving over all of "old Walled Lake," take a lump. There's nothing wrong with preservation, but what purpose does it serve to keep things in their sorriest states? All the beautiful, but horribly run-down old houses that have been restored (Wixom's Tiffin House, for example) are made more beautiful by being brought back to their by-gone splendor. The same is true with the downtown. Who cares if it stays the way it always was if no one ever goes there? • A big hand to the neighbors on Welfare Street. You've never met a more friendly bunch of people, who watch each other's kids and pets like they were their own. The atmosphere there is terrific.

• Linda Rowe, special education teacher at Novi Woods, also rates laurels. She organized a haunted house in her classroom for all the kids at Novi Woods. The "house" featured a borrowed coffin, scary music and masked monsters. That's the spirit!

 Add to that list of laurel-earners the City of Novi and it's engineers for getting things moving on its drain project, Nobody could be more happy than the folks in Meadowbrook. Lake sub, some of whom are planning a celebration for the day the dam is removed. And you thought it was impossible to get people excited about drains.

• Everyone involved with the drive to raise money for Dick Edington's wheelchair lift and van is to be heartily commended. Laurels to the Teen Club at Walled Lake Methodist Church, the employees and owners of the Big Boy and McDonald's restaurants, the Walled Lake Jaycees and many others. Two special honors go to the mysterious benefactor: who donated a wheelchair lift, and to Jackie Somerville, who took the bull by the horns and started the drive.

• Finally, a laurel for my own boss. Not only does he treat, his staff to games of Pac-Man occasionally, not only does he spring for donuts once in a while, and not only has he been a known to take his reporters out to dinner — he's also helping. furnish their apartments. See. Phil and his wife Diane are lovers of Danish furniture, and when they buy a new piece they must get rid of the old. That's the reason he's offering two dressers for whoever puts dibs on them first — me or Kathy. Kathy is the truly needy in this case, and I'm the truly greedy? - since I don't really need one but want one anyway. I guess that means I've got to take a lump.

It was a logical question. She wanted to know why I was crawling around on the floor.

"No cause for alarm," I responded. 'There's something wrong with my back; I don't seem to be able to stand up."

The only thing that hurt worse than my nagging back was the nagging realization that old age is gradually sneaking up on me. "Sneaking up" may be a bit of a hyperbole; really seems to be galloping full speed ahead.

The backache was merely the latest in a series of subtle signs that have not gone unobserved.

It's the little things that hurt. Like when the clerk at the men's store asks if the flash new sports coat you're looking at might be a tad "frisky" for someone of your age.

Or when the barber snips the hairs in your ears — just like he used to do to the rold men" back when you were finally tall enough not to have to sit on that booster seat he pulfed out for the "babies."

Or when people no longer express surprise at the fact you have as much grey hair as you do. Or they try to assure you that you won't lose any more hair if you've managed to keep it this long.

Or when the pretty high school girl down at the 5&10 asks if you're the father of one of her classmates. Or when the members of your staff start calling you "Dad."

Yes, sir, this growing old business definitely no fun. But the good news is that I've figured out a way to stop it. First thing tomorrow I'm going to post an official memo - any member of my staff who calls me "Dad" is going to be in a whole lot of trouble, even if I have to crawl to work.

Some of the owners of the cars were ticketed, O'Neill said. However, O'Neill said he thinks there are extenuating circumstances in some cases and does not feel ticketing is always warranted. O'Neill suggested some cars may be owned by "boys in the service" who do not want to pay for insurance and license plates while they are away from home and unable to drive the cars.

"The eyesores should be removed," he said. "But as for unlicensed cars in good shape, I think it's unfair to penalize someone for not insuring and not licensing them." O'Neill said owners of disabled cars are sent a letter by the village clerk warning them to repair the auto or face a

A 1968 graduate of the school of medicine at the University of Bombay, she practiced medicine in India until 1972 when she came to the United States. Following a one-year internship in Philadelphia and three years of training in psychiatry, Dr. Joshia move to Ann Arbor with her husband. The doctor is currently a staff psychiatrist in the admissions and intensive treatment areas at Ypsilanti State Hospital. She will have vening and Saturday morning office hours in South Lyon.

Dr. Joshia is a diplomat of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology and is licensed to practice medicine in Michigan, Pennsylvania and California.

GAIL GROSS of Northville has been named manager of the Early American Shop at 621 South Main in Plymouth, Duncan Hartley of New Jersey, president of Early American Shop, Incorporated, announces. The appointment was effective October 2.

A graduate of Central Michigan University, Ms. Gross says she plans to continue the high level service for which the shop has been known since it began in 1954. She states that the shop will continue to carry famous lines of merchandise, including Baldwin brass, Connecticut House pewter, Conover and Harden furniture lines.

DAVID B. FIELD of Northville, a staff engineer at Detroit Diesel Allison Division, General Motors, Detroit, is the 1982 recipient of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers' Diesel and Gas Engine Power Award. The award is presented "in recognition of his outstanding contributions in the design and development of the high speed, two-stroke cycle turbo-charged diesel engine."

The award presentation is to be at the Engergy-Sources Technology Conference and Exhibition in Houston, Texas, February 1, Field joined the Detroit Diesel Engine Division of GM after receiving his BS in mechanical engineering from the University of Maine in 1953. After serving as an experimental engineer in the engine laboratory he moved into engine performance and combustion work where he was involved in the mechanical development of the first turbochagers applied to the GM two-stroke diesels. After an assignment in application engineering, he became a group leader in charge of combustion and turbocharging for all production engines. This was followed by a series of responsibilities which led to the position of staff engineer in charge of design, development and production of the Series 92 V6, V8 and V16 engines.

He currently has the assignment for developing an electronic fuel injection and engine control system for advanced low emission diesel engines. Within ASME. Field has been chairman of the Diesel and Gas Engine Power Technical Conference, Besides ASME, he is a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers and Tau Beta Pi. ASME is a technical and educational organization with a membership of some 105,000. It conducts one of the world's largest technical publishing operations, including codes, standards and operating principles for in-

THE U.S. AIR FORCE has opened a new recruitment office at 352 North Main Street in Plymouth. The office serves the communities of Northville, Novi, South Lyon, Plymouth and Canton. The office is managed by Staff Sergeant William Eddy, a 71/2 veteran of the U.S. Air Force and chief recruitment officer in this area. A Detroit native, he graduated from Redford High School in 1972, attended basic training at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas and was trained as an aircraft mechanic at Chanute Air Force Base in Illinois. Staff Sergeant Eddy is married to the former Cathy Jo Green of Plymouth; they have two children.

As Air Force Recruitment Officer for the area, he is responsible for providing information on all Air Force programs and opportunities, including Air Force ROTC scholarships, the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado and the Community College of the Air

Staff Sergeant Eddy also is available to speak at various community and school-related activities. Anyone with questions regarding any aspect of the U.S. Air Force may contact him for additional information at the new office in Plymouth.

Professor sees auto depression continuing to '84

The country's sagging economic growth will do little to alleviate high unemployment levels, according to a Michigan State economist. Predicting that unemployment levels will remain at 8-9 percent at least through 1984, Charles C. Killingsworth told a Displaced Workers Conference in Washington recently that market forces operate too slowly and feebly to prevent chronically high levels of unemployment in declining industries. He said the American automobile industry, once an "exemplar for industry all over the world," is today generally regarded as a "sick industry."

''Roughly one-third of the regular force of the industry is now on layoff," he said. "A substantial part - no one can predict with any certainty exactly how many - of these layoffs will Greater attention must be paid t

Killingsworth is a professor at MSU's School of Labor and Industrial Relations and a member of the National Council on Employment Policy, which sponsored the conference. He emphasized that current unemployment problems are concentrated "to an unusual degree" in the hard-hit auto, outlook is dim. A major factor in the auto industry's current slide, Killingsworth said, is that the industry has now provided roughly one automobile for each licensed driver n the country, which means the industry is "approaching an upper limit on the rate of growth." when sales of U.S. cars decreases so do tire sales, contributing to the decline in the rubber industry. He said the radial tire, which provides better mileage than the bias-ply tire, and a slowdown in new car sales "have created a major problem of excess capacity in the industry." Foreign competition and increased labor costs also have hurt the industry, he added. "Even if automobile sales recovered to the levels of 1977, the last reasonably good year, the rubber industry would be substantially smaller than it was then.'

"Steel's biggest customers — autos. construction and home appliances have been among those hardest hit by the present recession." he said. "Stee also has a significant problem of foreign competition, meaning that foreign producers are able to underself the domestic industry on many product

"The present outlook is not encouraging," he said. "Continued reliance or the alleged magic of economic growth as the cure-all will be nothing more than an excuse for inaction, which will permit the unemployment problem to become even more intractable and ar increasing threat to public tranquility." While there is disagreement among economic forecasters about whether the recession has touched bottom, Kill-

Veterans Day

On this Veteran's Day, November 11, 1982, we are gathered once again. To remember our "Doughboy's", that served in that war, that the German's began. We are reminded that war so long ago, that in vears numbered 64.

Of those that lived, and are still alive, would in average age total 84. Now, these young men that marched away. were heard to say

"We will finish the job, and from that, we will not swav. Some were singing "K.K.K. Katie, others 'Over There,'

They were bound for the Army, Marines, Navy and others to fly in the Air. This War to end all Wars, was called number-I-,

But after the teens, the twentys, came the thirtys and no fun. With the fortys, came World War Number II, The young going to war, and jobs for the fathers

Dreams & Wishes

Did you ever wish when you were born your parents had once climbed the Matterhorn? or your home was Aspen, white and cold, where summer rockies are lined in gold.

Mountains that reach to the unyielding sky, Did you ever wish you were a butterfly? or a bird, or a bear, or a fish in a stream, or the old man that sells all the icy ice cream?

You can dream to your heart's content, You could be a sultan inside of a tent, or a genius and know what ichthyology meant

Did you ever wish you were a tree, or a rock that lays all day by the sea? A doctor, a poet, an author, a knee (yes a knee); There are so many things that we all wish to be.

But what about you and what about me?

I think we're probably what we're meant to be. Sure we can try things we've wanted to try, Skiing, and surfing, and skating, and my, If you wanted, you could take a plane to the sky!

We can't live our lives on dreams, it is true,

But just dream your dream, anything's possible the trees breathe I walk in need

When I Have Learned

When I have learned to laugh at life, Find humor in its flaws, And realize that strees and strife Are part of worldly laws-

When I have learned to ride the crest Of hopes for which I live, And long to make the very best Of all I have to give—

When I have learned to compromise With dreams that can't come true, And listen closely to the cries Of others dreaming too-

When I have learned that time on earth Is but a short-lived stay A stepping stone to greater worth On heaven's golden ray-

When I have learned to set life free While living with its truth— Then I will have earned maturity In exchange for my youth.

tion's All-Area offensive and defensive teams as divisions of the U.S. Air Force. The 13 members of the All-Area offense could attack enemy defenses by air or by ground. The 12-member defensive unit could do just the opposite. It could snuff an air attack and stop a ground attack from enemy forces. Put the two together and the 25man squad picked by sports editors of The Northville Record, Novi-Walled Lake News, Milford Times and South Lyon Herald be victorious in any battle it encountered. Novi, Walled Lake Central and Walled Lake Western supplied their share of the offensive and defensive artillery. The Wildcats had Eric Deline, Dave Williams and Mike O'Connell on offense with Tim Bunker and John Antonczak on defense. Central's Mike Arnold was selected to the offense, while teammate Steve Thibert was placed on defense. Western's Paul Imms was tapped for the offense, while Todd Coulter and Rick Hunter were named on defense.

Receiving honorable mention ecognition were Jim Comiskey Tom Menard, Tim Ginster, Kevin Wheeler and Jim Kreutzer from Central; Rich Sinda and John Monitz from Novi and Matt King. Frank Garbacik and Aldo Buttazzoni from Western. The 1982 Sliger/Livingston All-its burgeoning trophy case by winning the Michigan Christian Athletic Association's state championship

Paced by Sara Johnson and Missy Pelky, Novi Christian claimed the title by posting a 36-34 victory over the defending state champs from Factoryville. Novi reached the finals by romping to a 54-19 victory over West Highland Christian in the semifinals, while Factoryville got 32 points from senior guard Paula George in posting a 49-16 semi-final victory over Fowlerville Defense marked the first-half of the championship tilt as Coach Debbie Fitrakis employed a triangle-plus-two defense in an attempt to corral the high-scoring Factoryville ace.

Novi led 4-3 after the first quarter, but Factoryville came back to lead 13-8 at halftime. Novi finally got its fastbreak untracked in the third stanza as Johnson and Pelky had four buckets apiece to spark an 18-10 scoring edge that enabled Novi to take a 26-23 lead into the fourth quarter. Factoryville managed to knot the score at 30-30.

Jody Boatwright canned two charity tosses to clinch the 36-34 victory and the state title. Novi was sparked in the weekend tourney by Johnson and Pelky who combined for 65 points. Johnson had 40 points in the playoffs, while Pelky added 25 more.

Gromacki wins contest

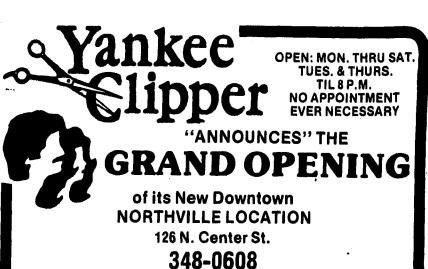

Three contestants came within one game of perfect scores in this week's Novi-Walled Lake News football contest. Linda Gromacki of Novi, Ron Barnum of Northville and Paul Zuby of Farmington Hills picked 13 of 14 winners. But Gromacki claimed the $10 first prize with her closer guess on the Penn State/Notre Dame total points tie-breaker. She picked 37 points, while Barnum predicted 45 points and Zuby selected 57. The actual 🕒 📗

In addition to the three entrants with 13 correct answers, seven had 12 correct and seven more had 11 correct. Five entrants selected 10 winners, six more had nine right and there was one each with eight and seven correct There appears to be some confusion about the tie-breaker game. Entrants are to pick a winner in that game as well as select the total points scored, which will be used in case of a tie. Therefore, contestants are asked to select 14 winners, plus predict the total points scored in game number 14.

Dental Dialogue of A. Allen Tuchklaper, D.D.S.

SHIFTING TIMES Q. Several years ago I had my teeth straightened. Now a few teeth have shifted, why? A. If you could do the impossible and remove your teeth and place them on a table out of harm's way they would remain perfectly straight. But because of the forces that are exerted in your mouth due to chewing and other causes there will be some adaptive changes that your teeth will make so they function in the best manner. Sometimes the teeth do not stay exactly as the dentist placed them with braces. This

Many have already made their holiday plans Images of sleeping in, baked goods, and turkey, parades, football and fellowship invade our minds. But unless we are careful, it will be a day of everything except gratitude.

The example of Jesus can best give us our priorities of thanksgiving. Jesus gave thanks for the simplicity of the gospel (Matt. 11:25). Aren't you grateful that true salvation is available to you through simple faith? Other problems may tax our wisdom to the limit, but orgiveness of sin is easily understood. Our Lord also gave thanks for daily food gratitude to God for your food, but Jesus did

Church group seeks socks

Wouldn't happen to have about 650 pairs of warm winter socks lying around, would you? That's how many pairs of socks the Outreach Committee at the Faith Community United Presbyterian Church in Novi needs for a special Christmas project this year. Members of the Outreach Committee plan to provide special packages of socks and candy for people at the Open Door Mission which is sponsored by the Fort Street Presbyterian C' arch in Detroit. Committee members have been going to the mission every Friday to assist the church in preparng and serving food to people who are down on their k and need a helping hand. Anyone who can donate some warm winter socks to the cause is encouraged to call Faith Community Church at 349-5666. Donations are needed by December 5 so they can be prepared and wrapped in time for the Christmas party at the mission.

SAVING FOR THE HOLIDAYS CAN BE A BEAR.

You've heard the saying, "Christmas comes but once a year." Well, for people with a stack of bills to pay in January, once is quite enough. But now, First Federal of Michigan can take that Bah-Humbug spirit out of your next holiday season when you join our Christmas Club now. You'll be prepared for those January bills and your money will be earning 51/2% per year daily interest, paid and compounded quarterly.

And when you join now, we'll give you a present. A Christmas Cub Bear like the one you see here, free with a weekly deposit of $20 or more. Or only $2 with a weekly deposit of $10.

Stop by any branch office for full details on First Federal's Christmas Hanukkah Club. While you're there, you can enter our drawing to win a big 40-inch Christmas Bear to be given away at each office, December 17, 1982. Everyone's eligible. No obligation.

Open a Christmas Club account at First Federal of Michigan today. Next year you'll get many happy returns.
