Novi agrees to regional ambulance service pact

By KATHY JENNINGS

The first step in moving toward regional ambulance service was taken by Novi's City Council Monday when it accepted the recommendation of a task force to contract with Community Emergency Medical Services, Inc. (CEMS).

The council's action culminates an 18-month process in which the prospects of a regional service for Novi, Northville, Northville Township and Farmington were studied.

The four communities became involved in the review as part of an attempt to obtain local control over the provision of ambulance service and receive service without paying a financial subsidy to an ambulance company. Novi was prompted to join the task force primarily as a result of complaints of high ambulance rates.

After months of study the communities decided in November to request proposals on a regional system and received three bids. Novi Ambulance, Community EMS and Fleet Ambulance submitted proposals. However, Fleet Ambulance subsequently took itself out of the running, council members learned Monday.

Upon reviewing the proposals the ad hoc committee recommended contracting with Community EMS. The contract would incorporate elements of the proposal submitted by the company and would not include any financial compensation by the city. The companies were asked to calculate their rates based on the premise that none of the communities would subsidize ambulance operations. Novi and Farmington have accepted the regional ambulance service as offered by CEMS, and the two Northvilles are expected to act on the proposal in coming weeks. In order to proceed with the regional ambulance concept, each of the four communities must approve the agreement.

Council members approved proceeding with a contract with Community EMS on a 6-1 vote. Mayor Robert Schmid cast the dissenting ballot.

Schmid explained he did not believe the ad hoc committee had provided "sufficient evidence to suggest the company now serving Novi should be removed."

The mayor closely scrutinized the comparison between the Community EMS and the Novi Ambulance proposals. asking Assistant City Manager Craig Klaver to justify each of the five conclusions presented by the committee as the rational for its recommendation.

The committee indicated Community EMS should receive the bid because it would provide three advanced life support ambulances compared to Novi's two. The commit-. tee also indicated Community has 15 medics trained in advanced life support compared to Novi's 12. Additionally, Community can provide its own back-up, while Novi relys on Fleet Ambulance, indicating to the committee that Community's response time may be better since it does not need to relay requests for assistance to another company. The committee also found Community provided better insurance coverage.

form a committee to study the possibility of constructing a new community center in the municipal-school complex on Ten Mile.

Because it may take as long as three years to plan, finance and construct a new facility, Father Leslie Harding urged the council to appoint a committee so work can get underway.

Harding suggested it is time to consider completion of the municipalschool complex with a community center which also would contain city and school offices. The community center now being used by the city is the former gymnasium at Novi Elementary School on Novi Road.

"I think the time has come to give serious consideration to a community center," Harding said. "With the school board moving to sell the property (on

Residents who once feared they would be taxed off their property are now reaching agreements with the City of Novi on their tax bills and the property on which they live.

One by one, the city is reaching argeement with property owners in Section 15 whose objections to special assessments have halted construction of streets and water and sewer systems in the area.

Novi had proposed to fund the improvements by selling bonds to be paid off by special assessments against Section 15 property owners over 15 years. The agreements call for the city to purchase the property within 60 days of sale of bonds used to finance the construction of Section 15 utilities. If the city is unable to sell the bonds, residents would retain their property and the city would be under no obligation to purchase it, explained Fried.

City council members approved an agreement to purchase Madelyne Daye's property on Twelve Mile for $300,000 if the city is able to proceed with the sale of bonds used to finance the public improvements.

As part of that agreement Daye will be able to continue to live on the property until the city needs the land for construction of public utilities. Daye will be responsible for any delinquent property taxes on the property before it is turned over to the city.

The council voted 6-0 to approve the puchase of Daye's home and property. Council Member Guy Smith was absent.

Consultant choice stalls Wixom downtown plans

A request for presentations from consulting firms bidding for Wixom's downtown revitalization project will delay awarding a contract until April. Council members had been expected to select a consultant at their March 15 meeting. The firm of Anderson/Lesniak and Associates of Royal Oak had been recommended for the project by Mayoral Assistant Steve Bonczek. Bonczek had reviewed the project bids along with

Council Members Nancy Dingeldey, Wayne Glessner and John Lee. The consensus of the members had been to award the contract to Anderson/Lesniak at a cost of $8,500. Lower bids for the project had been submitted by the city's planning consultant Vilican-Leman and Associates, David Donnellon / Associates and Christopher Wzacny / Associates. Laupmanis Associates equalled the $8,500 bid.

During the discussion, Mayor Pro Tem William Wyllie suggested having some of the consultants attend the joint council-planning commission meeting March 30, delaying selection of the consultant. Wyllie's suggestion apparently stemmed from planning commission support for Vilican-Leman in "I would like to see this project completed without

A motion to award the contract to Anderson/-Lesniak was offered by Lee. The motion was tabled after Wyllie voted yes to break the tie vote with Dingeldey and Lee casting opposing votes. Mayor Lillian Spencer and Council Member Gunnar Mettala were both absent from the meeting. Following council action Lee said he remained opposed to the tabling. He said the entire bidding process was being brought into question by having selected bidders make presentations. In addition to the two firms mentioned. Launmanis Associates is also going to be asked for a presentation at the study session. The firm receiving the contract would handle design and bidding services for the first phase of the revitalization project. girls. Novi athletes will be able to ride the late bus home after practices. At least for the rest of this

The Novi Board of Education, acting on a request by middle school students headed by Jill Sobkow, last week decided to try a pilot program allowing athletes to ride the late bus run for the remainder

In past years, students staying after school were able to ride the late bus home if they were not participating in athletic events. Athletes were not permitted to ride the late buses because of scheduling difficulties that would have buses overflowing on some days and near empty on others However, middle school students asked the board to reconsider the policy in March, pointing out it was difficult for them to get home from school since they had to depend for rides on their parents, many Assistant Superintendent William Barr noted the district could add several bus runs to the late bus schedule. He said two buses would probably be sufficient to accommodate the increase "Now they wouldn't be full all the time," he said. 'Sometimes they would be substantially full, though. Most of the time I think it would take two buses, but I can't guarantee two would do it. I think we'd have to play it by ear, or play it by bus, so to

"Some kids do end up waiting along the curb a little longer than we'd like.' He said he would consider shortening football practices so his students could take the late bus athletes to ride them for the remainder of the school year, stipulating administrators report later on whether the practice should be continued next year. The motion passed 5-0 with Norman Miller abstaining and Joan Daley absent.

"I'd like to thank the board for reconsidering this," said Jill Sobkow. "If it doesn't work out, at

Parson to Person. . . Temptation

Dr. James Luther

What a frightening word! It suggests ruined lives, broken bodies, and eternal regret. Some are tempted to be dishonest. How simple it is to tell a half-truth in a business deal. Who would know if you take some "extra" nings from your employer? Who cares? Some live with lust. It is a gamble with home and future, yet you still feed the fire.

You allow impure thoughts to capture your mind, which leads to impure actions that Some are tempted to end it all Discouragement dominates your heart. here seems to be no way out.

And the list multiplies! If I try to name every area. I might miss your private battlefield. What can we do about temptation? First, avoid those things that lead to temptation. Identify the thoughts, habits, or circumstances that lead to temptation. Second, remember that God gives power to overcome any temptation (I Cor. 10:13).

Find out how to appropriate that power. Finally, fill your mind with God's Word. The Bible is the Sword of the Spirit, and provides a wonderful defense (Luke 4:1-13). Join us this Sunday for the sermon-'Barabbas: The Man Who Missed His

Shanty rule considered

Fishermen who take to Walled Lake's ice next winter will have to register at city hall if they want to set out a shanty

That's the gist of a new ordinance being considered for adoption more than a year after the Walled Lake City Council decided such a rule was The city council held the first reading of the ordinance March 15. A second reading is scheduled for the first meeting in April. Basically, the ordinance will require any shanty owner to make sure the shelter is registered with the city clerk before it is set on the ice. A waterproof registration tag must be attached to the shanty during March but must remove them each If a shanty owner does not remove the shelter by the end of February, a city ordinance enforcement officer will be charged with marking the structure with the time at which the shelter may be removed. The shanty cannot be removed less than 12 hours or more than 48 hours after notice has been given. The city will then notify the registered owner that the shanty has been confiscated. Storage fees may be charged. If the owner does not claim the shanty within 30 days, it may be sold by the city.

punishable by a $50 fine or up to five days in jail. The intent of the ordinance is to prevent fishermen from abandonning shantles at the close of ice fishing season. The city has experienced problems with the shanties sinking into the lake when the ice melts, breaking apart and littering the shoreline with driftwood. On East Walled Lake Drive, the litter is especially a problem since it is often blown onto the road in the path of traffic. However, the City of Novi has not adopted a shanty ordinance so the ordinance adopted by the City of Walled Lake would be effective only on that portion of Walled Lake within the City of Walled Lake's boundaries, roughly that area north of Fourteen while it is on the ice. There will be a fee for the registration tag and processing, although the price All shanties must be removed from the lake by

CITY OF WIXOM NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Wixom Planning Commission will hold a Public Hearing on Monday, April 4, 1983 at 8:00 P.M. at the Wixom City Hall, 49045 Pontiac Trail, Wixom, Michigan 48096. This hearing is to establish a new industrial district entitled IRO - Industrial Research Office. The purpose of designating land areas for this new type of use is to encourage uses which are office or research type in nature, or industrial uses which have limited impact outside of the industrial building. Such uses are consistent with many of the high technology or research and development type industries which the State of Michigan, through its Department of Commerce, is actively pursuing in order to diversify the State's auto dependent manufacturing base.

During an earlier meeting, council members had agreed the rules were too lengthy. Only one section of the regulations was eliminated, restricting enforcement to the city police.

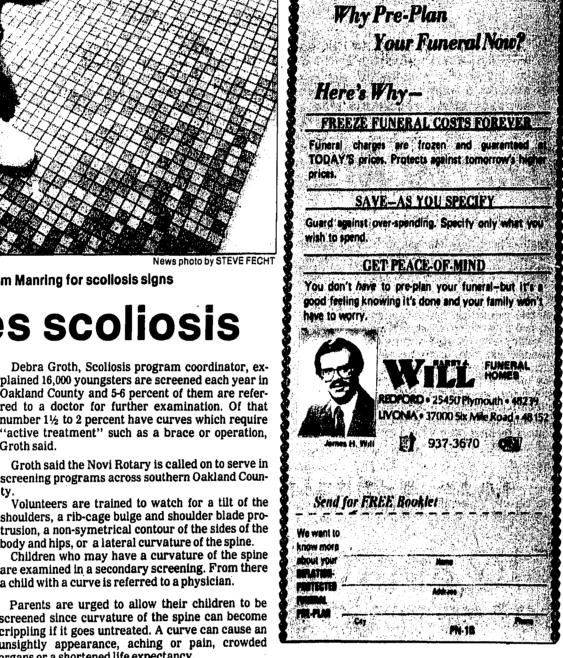

Police Chief Phillip Leonard said the rules were extensive but would provide "some real backup for enforcement." City Attorney Thomas Connelly said it was good for the city to have an ample ordinance, but it would have to be enforced.

Council Member Dennis Andrews agreed that the regulations were "wordy" but added he had found nothing that he wanted to eliminate. When no recommendations were offered to reduce the proposed rules, the council voted unanimously to adop the regulations. Parks Director John Momberg, who prepared the regulations, said the adopted rules would be posted in city parks. One council member asked if the rules would be burned into wood for a rustic type sign.

Every working person with earned income from performing personal services is now eligible for an Individual Retirement Account. Contributions to this account are TAX DEDUCTIBLE each year and earnings are also TAX DEFERRED until retirement (age 591/2). A working person may contribute up to a maximum of $2,000.00 per year. A husband and wife who are both working may EACH contribute up to a maximum amount of $2,000.00 (total $4,000.00). A working person with a non-working spouse may contribute up to $2,250.00 per year.

YOU ACTUALLY SAVE MONEY TWO WAYS: 1) TAX DEDUCTION

For example, even though an actual cash contribution has been made in the amount of $2,000.00, it would cost the taxpayer in the 40% tax bracket only $1,200.00 in actual dollars because of the $800.00 tax savings incurred.

2) TAX DEFERRAL

Interest earnings on your annual $2,000.00 contribution are also tax deferred until retirement when tax brackets are usually lower. Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal from certificate accounts, and withdrawals from your IRA prior to age 591/2 may result in tax penalties. When you withdraw the money in your IRA Account at retirement after age 591/2; your withdrawals will be taxed as ordinary income at

As We See It

Millage proposal ensures stability

district will be asked to approve the renewal of 13 mills for operating expenses for five years when they go to the polls next Monday.

While they have not said specifically what cuts will have to be made if the renewal is defeated, officials say the 13 mills — last approved in 1978 — represent nearly half the mills currently levied by the district for operating expenses.

Voters should be apprised that, in essence, what the school board is asking them to do is reinstate millage that has been rolled back as a result of passage of the . Headlee Amendment.

When the assessed value of property in a community rises faster than the rate of inflation, the provisions of the Headlee Amendment mandate that millage levies be rolled back. If voters renew the 13 mills as requested, they would approve the rate at the same level rolled-back rate.

It also is important to address the recommendation of the millage needs study committee. The group, which studied the millage question for a month, decided not to seek a reduction in the millage request before voters; rather, it suggested mills. We see no reason why they the school board ask for a full renewal and then exercise prudent financial management, levying only the mills needed to continue

The fact that the 13-mill renewal issue represents something of an increase over the original millage approved in 1978 may be the reason voters who want to vote "no" will feel justified in doing so. Additionally, those looking for a reason to vote "no" may hang their hats on the fact that 13 mills may be more than is needed to operate the schools next year.

In essence, the school board is asking voters to approve more mills than may be needed during 1983-84 to promote financial stability and facilitate educational plannwas in 1978, rather than at the ing. The other half of the equation is that the board has indicated it will exercise fiscal responsibility.

Journal

An interesting phenomenon has occurred since we began writing columns at The News. My brother Michael summed it up best

"Watch out what you say when Karen's around," he tells the rest of my family and anyone else who will listen. "If vou're not careful, it'll end up in her column." I told him that not everything I hear finds its way into my column, but he didn't believe me. He cited numerous examples: I told the world how much turkey he ate for Thanksgiving, I wrote about him when he graduated, I even called him my little brother once too often.

Then when I wrote about my parents' new talking car, I happened to casually mention it before the column was

"See?" he cried. "I told you she'd get that in the paper." My father conceded he's become something of a local celebrity since that column came out. Seems quite a few people told him they'd heard about his new car, namedropping this column as the source of information. "You know you've arrived when your local newspaper carries an item that you bought a new car." I told him, in my best apple-polishing manner. People outside my family are sometimes more wary. For example, after I met my friend Marty, his buddy Bill Barker told him to be very careful what he said and how he treated

"If you do something crummy to her, it'll end up all over the papers," he warned Marty. "You should have seen what she wrote about the last guy she went out with. It wasn't a pretty sight. Be very nice to her.

I laughed when I heard that. Then I sent Bill $5 to keep up the good work. Columns are a funny thing. We've learned people really get a charge out of being mentioned on the editorial page especially when it's complimentary. I have to admit I feel pretty good when I read about myself in my boss's column, the famous "After the fact" — which Phil Jerome keeps threatening to bring out in book form.

Once in a while, people will surprise you. John McLellan, former Wolverine Lake village president and smooth-talker. extraordinaire, even gave me a kiss for the column I wrote about him — the last thing I expected, since it wasn't entirely flattering. I think he knew that was the last thing I expected from him. Knowing John, that's probably why he did it.

There's also the problem of omission. My other brother, Randy, complains that my columns never mention him by name. He says I concentrate too much on Michael. Kathy Jennings has a similar complaint: She says Phil writes about me more often than about her.

That's proof that you can't please all of the people all of the time. Write about them and they grumble that they have no privacy; leave them out and they protest they're overlooked. Kathy says she's continually amazed by the reactions generated by the columns we write. Especially when she finds out her column has just been pasted on somebody's bulletin board or refrigerator, right next to Ann Landers' advice.

Then there are the columns that get your stomach in an uproar. For example, she woke up one Wednesday morning and decided in a panic she should never have written the column that came out in the paper that day. When she walked into the office, our office manager said, "Nice column, Kathy."

You never can tell. The columns we write are often the most enjoyable writing we do all week, usually the most revealing about our own individual personalities and sometimes the words that are the hardest to spit out.

In fact, they can be more revealing than we realize. I remember meeting one fellow who remarked, "Oh, I feel like I know you. I read your columns all the time."

Now that was an uncomfortable feeling. Here was a person who knew all about me, yet I had never seen or heard of him before in my life. I hardly knew what to say to the man. Instantly I began searching my memory, trying to remember everything I'd ever said in any of my columns.

By the same token, I can relate to that since I often feel the same way about some of the columnists who write for our metropolitan dailies. I had occasion to meet Jim Fitzgerald once and I was dying to tell him how much I liked reading his columns and that I felt as though I knew him. But having been put in the same spot myself, I realized it would probably make him uncomfortable. (Too much flattery is bad for the soul, you

If you haven't driven past 610 Pontiac Trail in Walled Lake recently, you should. The Vicary Apartment building is boasting a new look thanks to a special grant program that provided low-cost loans to rental unit owners like Al Karner, who owns the Vicary. The building was the prime beneficiary of a program pulling in $96,000 in grant money to improve rental housing in Walled Lake. Judging from the smile on the face of resident Gordon Gala — and workers Doug Oliver (left) and Dennis Maki (center), all the effort was worth it. MARIAN SZCZEPANSKI, owner of International Diamond Tool Company, is flying flags at his rainbow-painted building at 21141 Old Novi Road to announce his expansion into the automobile repair business. He is pictured (above left) with manager Howard Hancock at the building located immediately east of the railway track and North of Eight Mile in Northville.

Szczepanski's firm produces top quality diamond bits. He is listed in Who's Who in Finance and Industry and is the author of "Brittleness of Steel," an authoritative book on the subject.

"Because the construction industry has been down," Szczepanski explains, "I looked for a type of business promoted by the recession in order to survive again." He recalls that he is a survivor of 1½ years in German prison camp. He has hired a team of six fully licensed automotive mechanics, he says, headed by Hancock.

Szczepanski says his new business is able to handle automotive work from oil and lubrication or tune ups "to the most responsible repair work." The firm is equipped, he says, to rebuild engines and do mechanical and electrical work. "Sports cars are our favorite dish,"

"Quality is our top priority," he stresses as he explains he feels more people are going to be requiring automobile and truck repairs at

WISNE AUTOMATION Engineering Company in Novi has begun expansion of a 50,000 square foot addition to its facility on Ten Mile.

Wisne Automation builds automated welding assembly lines. Once an order is placed, Wisne Automation proceeds to design and build the line at its Novi facility. Other companies supply the actual robots which are then programmed and incorporated into the line.

After a line is thoroughly tested at Wisne Automation, it is disassembled into stations and transported to the end user. These lines transfer the car bodies from one station to the next for spot welding by

The 50,000 square foot expansion is a design/build project of the R.A. DeMattia Company. The Wisne facility contains four 25-ton cranes. Extension of these cranes into the new addition required careful field measurements and engineering coordination to assure perfect alignment of the crane rails and proper operation of the Along with the 50,000 square foot addition, another 20,000 square feet of canopy is being constructed by the R.A. DeMattia Company. This canopy will provide a sheltered loading and unloading area to support assembly operations. Canopy foundations and supporting steel have been designed to accommodate all the live and dead loads of an enclosed structure, including cranes.

The R.A. DeMattia Company is located in Farmington Hills and owned by Robert A. DeMattia of Northville.

Hazel Watson demonstrates Easter candy making

Candy making classes aid business in South Lyon Curiosity Shop

After the Easter rush, Watson plans to expand into a full line of ready-made candles with such hardto-find goodies as Jordan almonds, candy rocks. spearmint crystalettes, rainbow jellies and dried fruits, nuts and seeds.

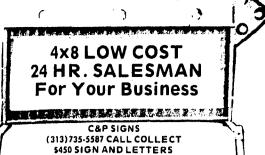

Watson said cake-decorating classes will have a larger emphasis this summer, too, when the candy companies don't ship chocolate because of the danger of melting during warm weather. "Class schedules are planned to coincide with holidays," Watson explained. "I can only take 15 people per class, and we always have to offer extra classes before Halloween, Christmas, Valentine's Day and Easter in order to accommodate Watson said she learned the "hard way" how to make perfect confections and has made "lots of mistakes" and had many successes, all of which make it easier to instruct others in the candy A devotee of Dover books, a "high-quality" paperback, Watson said she will continue to offer these classic murder mysteries, children's books, craft selections and out-of-print novels as an added attraction at her "curious" shop.

WOODLAND MEDICAL CENTERS: OUR PATIENTS ARE OUR FAMILY

After years of providing highly personal and friendly medical attention, the Weiner family doctor had retired—leaving the adult Weiner's in dicament. How were they to find a doctor they could trust-indeed like-as well as the one who had treated them for 20 years.

Thomas Weiner drove by Woodland Medical Center each day on his way to work. And he often wondered if medical services in a clinic setting could be as caring and comfortable as those provided by the "family" doctor in a small, private office.

WOODLAND MEETS IMMEDIATE NEEDS

Thomas' questions were answered suddenly when he developed severe upper intestinal pains while on the familiar route to his job. This day, Thomas drove directly into the Woodland parking lot and walked in the front door.

He was greeted by Woodland's patient advisor—whom Thomas found to be very pleasant and friendly. The advisor was able to arrange an immediate appointment with a Woodland internist.

The internist, a physician who has extensive training and experience in diagnosing and treating illnesses that could occur anywhere in the adult body, examined him. He arranged for a number of important tests to be performed immediately inside the Center.

Within hours Thomas was informed that his problem stemmed from his heart. not his stomach. The internist felt he should see a Center cardiologist.

Thomas was able to see the cardiologist the same day and was able to receive a prescription for immediate medication.

WOODLAND'S GOAL IS TOTAL CARE AND CONCERN FOR EVERY PATIENT

Thomas was surprised by the news of his condition. But he was amazed at the efficient, yet gentle, treatment he was receiving. His new physicians were certainly as concerned about him as his past physician had been. But in addition, they had outstanding equipment and facilities.

He discovered that Woodland housed 65 professionals—not only physicians, but psychiatrists, dentists, social workers and psychologists. And those medical specialists worked not only as highly skilled individuals, but as a team when necessary, to provide the complete care every patient needed.

VISITS TO WOODLAND ARE PLEASANT AND EASY

The building surroundings were very pleasant, very spacious and comfortable. And there was no need to leave the building for any part of his treatment

This was certainly a far cry from the days when the family doctor required him to go to outside laboratories for tests. Or the nights and weekends he and his wife had visited hospital emergency rooms when their doctor was unavailable.

Before Thomas left, he was issued a special plastic identification card. This card gave Thomas instant identification in the Woodland computer for all the necessary insurance information clerks would need after each of Thomas's visits. Once he had filled out the necessary personal information and insurance forms he would not have to do it again.

WOODLAND OFFERS SECURITY FOR EVERYONE

Thomas realized as he left the building that no matter what medical emergencies arose in the future, because of the large and varied staff and services of Woodland, help was available whenever anyone in his family needed it.

Why Not Discover what Thomas and thousands of pleased patients have found in Woodland's 20-year history? Woodland professionals treat their patients as they would their own families.

Make your family part of the Woodland family of patients. Give yourself and your loved ones the comfort, care, concern, and ease of treatment for which Woodland is famous.
