Wondering

Did we fill a void in each, bring something that

Was the closeness always there, I felt a deja vu,

Did it all come prearranged — destined to be

Could the magic never end — a story without

Was it just imagining, or was it really fact?

Her world dissolving, hope growing dim Softly, softly she called to him, Caressing the face she had loved so much As if to revive his love, his touch. Trembling with fear, feeling insane, Again and again she called his name Willing the spell case on him to break. Knowing her love was all it would take To banish the nightmare in midflight To excape the darkness of this night. With vision blurred by unshed tears She saw him wake, she lost her fears.

Restoring all that was before, She felt his warmth, time stood still. They loved, they laughed unborn chiid within her stirrec

She called again, but no one heard.

You feel good when you speak it

It takes a load off your mind

You were brought up to believe

Vou can blame it on me

But I blame it on when

You are an original sin

Cursed to love somebody

Cuz you hate to be alone

And suffer eternal damnation

Too bad you bought everything

That the Catholic Church told

You want to love somebody

In the original sin

Sounds like something that you learned

To help you through the nights Sounds like something someone told you

You tell me that it's over

To make you feel bettei

Sounds like an excuse

Dr. Kelly blows a mean trumpet

NOVI - From St. Clair Shores to Novi is a pretty long road, and from music to medicine and back again is even longer. But for Dr. Annetta Kelly "it's not too far if you really love music." And clearly, Kelly is not your average music lover. Kelly plays trumpet in the Novi Community Band. Although a St. Clair Shores resident since 1949, she commutes the 30-mile trip regularly because "the Novi band is one of the most interesting around.'

"They work hard, the music is interesting and most of all, they're a lot of fun," she says. When not playing trumpet, Kelly heads up the Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology at Henry Ford Hospital. How does she combine the two activities? "A lot of patience and a lot of driving." A musician since she was four and a professional at 14, Kelly has played with Major Bowes in the Big Band era, toured South America with Leopold medical school for a program of research and teaching. "It was a very attractive offer, so I moved to Michigan," she says. "I've been here ever since. Pursuing her chosen career took fulltime attention, long hours and years of dedication. But the lure of music pulled her back to performing. "Almost six years ago I realized that there was a missing ingredient in my life.

Stokowski and performed with the Cleveland

"I realized that I could combine the two. In fact, music complements my practice. It's the perfect antidote for stress, and my job entails a lot of that. Music is my outlet.' And what an outlet. In addition to playing in the Novi band. Kelly is a regular in five other community and school orchestras. "I could play every night if I wanted to," she says. "This way I can plan many different kinds of music — heavy on Monday, light on Wednesday. If it's Tuesday, it must be Sousa.

"I drive the extra distance to Novi because of the community band. There's such variety, the people are great, the music is interesting and fun. Plus, we never play the same thing twice." The Novi Community Band was founded in 1973, but fell on hard time and was disbanded, only to be reformed in 1982.

"Community bands last either three years or 100," maintains Ray Murphy, manager of the Novi band. "We sort of broke up in 1978 and everybody went to Northville. A few years later the Northville band went under and we got them all back in Novi." Murphy, a sales analyst for Ford, is proud of the band's versatility. "Everything from Bach to Bacharach,' that's our motto. You name it, we play

"As our concert in February, we did the Euryanthe Overture, then followed it up with Flashdance. "Our musicians perform metro-wide." he continues. "They're a real good bunch. Like most community groups, we have a wide mix. Our ages range from an eighth grader to retirees in their 60s. And we do operate on a shoestring; everybody brings in "I'd say the total investment by the City of Novi is

$150. What a deal!' Annetta Kelly confirms Murphy's statements "That's right," she says, "they are a real fine bunch. We like to play together and it's relaxing Fun. Novi has a fine band and the community should be proud."

Is it worth a 25-mile drive?

Ice cream

Of course, it's ice cream. Has to be ice When you're talking about America - particularly American summers — it has to be baseball, hot dogs, apple pie and ice cream. And this is a particularly good summer for all those traditional American pastimes. The Tigers are taking care of the baseball; what's better than a Hygrade's Ball Park Frank for hot dogs; and ony Mother can take care of apple pie, of course. But when it comes to ice cream, there are a variety of places people in Novi, Walled Lake and Northville can go to quench their appetites for the icy-cold delicacy which tastes and feels so good all the way down on a hot summer day.

For starters, how about the GUERSEY FARMS DAIRY on Novi Road in Novi? There's nothing fancy about this popular spot. It's a traditional, oldfashioned business owned and operated by the McGuire family under the caring gaze of John McGuire, the founder of the company as well as the father of the McGuire clan.

dairy. Milk, cream and ice cream are made right What's special about Guersey's is its ice cream. In fact, Guersey's butter pecan ice cream recently was voted the fifth best "regular flavor" ice cream in a national poll conducted by People The secret is the homemade cream. On a recent trip to Guersey's we encountered the chefs from Raphaels, the highly acclaimed restaurant at Sheraton Oaks, on a "cream purchasing" expedi-

Guernsey Farms Dairy is exactly that — a

Guernsey's has far more than butter pecan, of course. In addition to all the regular flavors like chocolate and vanilla, the McGuires offer such special flavors as cookies n' cream, strawberry cheesecake and pina colada.

You can also enjoy Guernsey's ice cream at GENETTI'S in downtown Northville. Same delicious ice cream ... only the setting is different. John and Toni Genetti installed the ice cream counter recently for the benefit of those people who like to enjoy a come while taking a leisurely stroll through Northville's lovely downtown area.

Any number of ice creams have laid claim to being the best in the country. Best known is Haagen Dazs, but there's a newcomer on the scene -Gelato Classico, which some connossieurs maintain is superior. It's available at GELATO CLASSICO at Twelve Oaks Mall.

The Gelato Classico shops have come to Michigan only recently. Started in San Francisco where it immediately received wide acclaim, the Gelato Classico brand of ice cream takes its inspiration from Italian ice cream

The difference is the amount of air pumped into he ice cream during production. Whereas some ice creams contain as much as 50 percent air. Gelato Classico contains no air whatsoever. It's made totally of natural products and contains no

The flavors are as distinctive as the ice cream itself. For example, arancio is made of fresh orange juice and grated orange peel. Coppa mista is a combination of chocolate, vanilla, almond and pistachio. And torta di mele is made of fresh green

Gelato Classico is served in cups, not cones, and availability of flavors depends on which fruits are in season. Before we leave the subject of ice cream, two other spots are popular with local residents - the WALLED LAKE DAIRY QUEEN on Pontiac Trail in Walled Lake and the CONE ZONE at the corner of Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Road in Novi. Both feature "soft-serve" ice milks in two flavors — chocolate and vanilla. It's what you do

NOVI - Tom Fritz uttered a heavy sigh of relief when he received word from school officials that he will have a job in the Novi Community School District next year. The news was just as enthusiastically received by Wildcat wrestling fans, who were equally happy to learn Fritz will be back next year for another season as coach of the Novi mat squad.

4D THE NOVI-WALLED LAKE NEWS/Wednesday, June 27, 1984

"We're really fortunate to have him back. He is as good a teacher as he is a coach," said Athletic Director John

"He really has built quite a wrestling program since he has been here in the district. He has competitive teams which the team record can attest to." Osborne added. During his first year at Novi, Fritz led the Wildcats to a fine 17-4 record. In addition, the team finished 14th in the state and at one point was ranked among the state's top 10 Class B high school wrestling teams. Three Wildcat wrestlers qualified for the state finals.

For much of the year, it was uncertain as to whether Fritz would be back for the 1984-85 season. Fritz came to Novi last year after losing his job in the New Boston Huron School District due to financial conditions. A vacancy opened up in the Novi schools when a science teacher took a one-year leave of absence, and Fritz was hired to fill the post.

Earlier this year, there was some question as to whether there would be a teaching position for Fritz in 1984-85. But the science teacher was granted an extension of the leave, and for the first time in years projected enrollment figures for the freshmen class were on the upswing. Fritz's prospects appeared brighter. Whether or not the teacher returned from leave may have been irrelevant because he is qualified to teach mathematics and we are offering more sections next year. So, in that sense he had some protection," said Novi

High School Principal Robert Youngberg. Fritz was elated with the administration's decision to keep him on staff. "Teaching is my livelihood and coaching is my love. I don't know of a better community than Novi to combine the two." he said.

"I think Novi is a great community because the people are concerned about education and really support the schools." he added. The lack of job security in the teaching field is nothing new to Fritz. "Before I came to Novi, I was laid off from the New Boston school district. So I know what it's like to be in the position where you don't know if you'll have your job from year to year. Teaching is a vulnerable position,"

While teaching at New Boston, Fritz coached the wrestling team to two Class B state championships before he was pink slipped. "It doesn't matter how good a coach you are, there is always the possibility you might be laid off,"

Now that Fritz is assured of being around at least another year, his attention focuses on the future. "I'd like to have a permanent home for me and my family in Novi. My son is in high school and he doesn't want to change schools again. We had to move a lot in the last few years. I'm excited about staying here."

"It's tough to live in Novi on a teacher's salary. But aside from that, it's a great community to be a part of," he

At the start of the wrestling season Fritz predicted that the Novi wrestling team would contend for the state title in a few years. He remains committed to that belief.

Novi Mack team posts four wins

By B.J. MARTIN

NOVI — Novi Mack is on the right track. The Novi entry in the local Connie Mack League upped its record to 5-2 last week by notching four straight wins, capping the streak with a doubleheader sweep at Allen Park Saturday. "We hope to keep it up," said acting coach Barry

Ritchie, subbing last week for vacationing Bob Weinburger. The Novi team's schedule won't make that easy there's an away game tomorrow (Thursday) against tough North Farmington-West Bloomfield I at 6:30 p.m. and a 10-team tournament at Plymouth

Canton High School Friday and Saturday. Novi's big week started Tuesday with an 8-2 breeze of a win over North Farmington-West Bloomfield II. Lee O'Brien scattered six hits and struck out six en route to the complete-game victory. Joe Dulzo and Bill Ritchie each had two hits and two RBIs, and outfielder Kendall Stevens drove injured his knee in Tuesday's contest and missed the game's final hitter with the bases loaded to save "Greg had good stuff," said Ritchie. "His fastball was working great. When he gets his curve going as well, we'll be in good condition." Ed Turik, Bill Ritchie and Stevens each rapped out two hits to pace a balanced offensive attack. Turik was primed for a big day Saturday when his first-inning two-run homer set the table for Novi's 7-4 victory over Allen Park in the first game of a twinbill.. Unfortunately the big first baseman had a Godzilla-meets-King Kong collision with beefy catcher Stevens in the second inning, sidelining Turik for the remainder of the afternoon (he's better miration was his defense. "I always felt confident on a fly to center," noted Newman blossomed late, hitting three Mustang Coach Fred Holdsworth.

Joining Frellick in the outfield is Milford mainstay BOB CLEMENT. A second-team All-KVC choice, Clement tion. led the Redskins in RBIs (20) and extrabase hits. He had two home runs and stole 14 bases. He hit .307, but walked 20 times, as pitchers were reluctant to give the powerful senior anything to hit.

Rounding out the first team is Lakeland outfielder SHAWN KIND. A first-team All-KVC pick, Kind "caught everything" in the outfield, according to Coach Ganzel. Kind also hit everything, packing a .372 batting average.

Our second-line pitchers are DAVE FORD of South Lyon and DOUG DOYLE of Northville. Ford accrued a 5-2 record and a 1.80 ERA and fanned 72 batters in 581/3 innings. An All-KVC pick, the Lion ace also hit .369, scored 18 runs and had 16 RBI.

Doyle was 4-1 for the Mustangs despite a slow recovery from mononucleosis, packing a slim ERA of run, 13 RBI and seven stolen bases. 1.88. The lefthander was a second-team All-Area selection last year.

At first is South Lyon senior PAUL GABBARD, who had a .988 fielding average to balance his .317 batting average. He was an honorable mention All-KVC pick.

Northville's All-WLAA infielder MICKEY NEWMAN gets our nod at second. A .333 hitter with a reliable glove, homers in his last six games (including one that broke up a Gabriele shutout). He was a first-team All-WLAA selec-

Second-team shortstop is Walled Lake Central's MARK MAMAYAK, the Ozzie Smith of the WLAA Lakes Division. "Nobody's better in the field," noted Coach Ken Butler. An All-Division selection, Mamayak had 16 RBIs and 15 runs for the 10-10 Vikings. Beside Mamayak is Central third baseman DAVE LOBERT. The senior led his team with a .338 batting average and 18 runs, and was a 4-2 pitcher.

Second-team catcher is KENDALL STEVENS of South Lyon. The powerhitting backstop had 21 RBIs and three home runs.

Second-team outfield picks include Novi'second-team All-KVC selection, junior BOB HUOTARI, a .347 hitter who ended the season with three home runs, 15 RBIs and eight stolen bases. Northville's DOUG HARTMAN had similar stats — .377 batting average, one home

South Lyon's JERRY BOMAY rounds out the second-team outfield. Playing completely errorless center field. Bomay was an honorable mention All-KVC pick. He had 18 RBIs, 23 runs. three homers, three triples and five

Western's Dan Gabriele displays All-State form

Warrior ace wins berth on All-State

WALLED LAKE - Dan Gabriele, the Warriors' top pitcher for the past two years, became the first Western player ever selected for All-State honors.

Gabriele was named to the All-State first team during balloting Friday by the 13 regional directors from the state's baseball coaches association, according to Warrior Coach Chuck Apap. Two pitchers were selected to the first team.

"They narrowed it down to the 26 best pichers in the state and then they voted on each of them," said

"Dan Gabriele in my estimation is the best pitcher in the state," Apap added. "I hate to say that it creates a lot of pressure on the youngster - but it's true. But then I'm prejudiced about that."

Gabriele was 11-2 for Western this year, including a no-hit game, one one-hitter and two two-hitters. He also picked up two saves and tossed three shutouts.

Gabriele won six of the Warriors' seven postseason games on their way to the MHSAA Class A title. He earned a save in the other contest.

The righthanded fireballer also collected 160 strikeouts this season while allowing just 39 walks and 45 hits. His ERA was a sparkling 1.31.

Only a junior, Gabriele's career numbers include 25 wins against four defeats, 34 complete games, 299 strikeouts and an ERA of 1.69. He also holds five school records at Western.

"Dan is the first All-Stater at Western." said Apap. "It's a great day for Danny, his school and his

Action heats up in Novi Youth League

Farm split a pair of games last week in Novi Youth Baseball's Senior League. Goat Farm won the opener 4-3, while Andy's took the second game 11-9.

Todd Linguist delivered a clutch, bases-loaded single with two down in the last inning to give Goat Farm a 4-3 victory in the opener. Earlier in the game, Linquist had belted a basesempty homer over the centerfield Leading hitters for Goat Farm were Dan Gerry and Linquist. Neil Gerry pitched a strong game, striking out seven in seven innings. Collecting one hit apiece for Andy's were Greg Gertsen, Todd Lewis and Rich Kurtz.

Andy's won the re-match by outscoring Goat Farm 11-9. Todd Lewis hurled NOVI — Andy's Meat Hut and Goat seven strong innings for Andy's despite some shakey defensive support. Lewis helped his own cause by driving in the winning run in the fifth. John Gilleo delivered an insurance run in the sixth when he walked with the bases loaded.

Charlie Plumley, Dan Gerry and Andy Trombley led Goat Farm with three hits apiece. Andy's was sparked by Jeff Gertsen who had three hits and two RBIs while scoring twice. Greg Gertsen added a pair of hits, while Scott Brown, Rich Kurtz, Todd Demorest and Bernie Fornwald also collected hits.

Sinacola remains atop the Senior League with a 5-0 record. Darin Keir and Rodney Sickels head up the Sinacola mound corps, while Larry McKillop, Mike Jenkins and Bill Huotari have provided the offense.

In the Major League, Novi Police leads the American Division with a 7-5 record and Bobby T Ranch heads the National Division with a 7-3 slate.

Novi Police are led by the pitching of Brad Lewis and Jason Helling and the power hitting of David Suchyta, Aaron Ball, Tony Meo and Mike Hansen. Pitcher Scott Beck has shined for Bobby T Ranch. He struck out 15 batters in a recent outing against Yankee Peddler, receiving offensive support from Travis Trombley.

In the Minor League, Novi Floor Covering streched its lead over Wixom Carpet to 2½ games with a June 12 victory. Eight Floor Covering runs scored on round trippers by Mark VanPopren, Paul D'Agostino and Chuck Joswiah.

SHRINE HOSPITAL NEWS

Volume 5, No. 1 ● Published by Moslem Shrine Temple, A.A.O.N.M.S. ● Detroit, Michigan

THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT

1984 marks the fifth consecutive year that Moslem Shrine Temple has conducted a Shrine Hospital Fund Drive in Southeastern Michigan to benefit our Crippled and Burned Children's Fund. We earnestly thank you for your past and present generous contributions.

The Shrine Hospital System began in 1922 and today consists of 18 (soon to be 19) Orthopedic Hospitals and 3 Burns Institutes located throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico. Remarkably, no Shrine Hospital has ever accepted a single penny of government or third-party funding; neither has any patient, parent or guardian ever paid for care or treatment in a Shrine Hospital. Many years ago, this endeavor was given the name of "The World's Greatest Philanthropy" and today, children from infancy to age 18 still receive the finest in medical and rehabilitative care free of charge and without regard to race, color, creed and national origin.

Each of Shrinedom's 185 Temples shepherds its own flock of kids. Locally Moslem Temple, serving an 11-county jurisdiction in Southeastern Michigan, has an acitve patient load of over 990 children most of whom regularly travel to either the Shrine Orthopedic Hospital in Chicago or the Shrine Burns Institute in Cincinnati. Moslem Temple's 1983 expenses for transportation, prosthetic appliances and specialty supplies alone exceeded $400,000.

The red fez with black tassel was chosen as the Shrinedom's official headgear over 110 years ago. Then as now, it has become to children and parents alike a symbol of hope for a better and fuller life. It has also become the hallmark of a great fraternity whose motto proclaims that "No man ever stands so tall as when he stoops to help a crippled or burned child."

Thank you once again.!

Thank You, Shirley Jones!

For her generous donation of time and talent on behalf of the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, Shirley Jones was presented with a plaque from the Shrine of North America and Shriners Hospitals by Imperial Sir Walker Kisselburgh.

Shirley Jones and Mickey Rooney demonstrated their support of the Shrine by recording 30-second and 60-second public service announcements promoting the Shrine's toll-free number and Shriners Hospitals. These PSAs were mailed out to 7,000 radio stations and 700 television stations across the United States earlier this year.

"Without the Shriners Becky Wouldn't Be Where She Is Today."

Shrine patient Becky Smith seems like any other active 12-year-old girl. In addition to playing the trumpet and marching in the high school band, Becky attends band and volleyball practice and gymnastics five days a week. She also takes modeling and baton classes.

But what sets Becky apart from others her age is that she learned all of these activities after her right foot was amputated and she was fitted with an artificial limb at the Shriners Hospital in Erie when she was

As an aspiring gymnast, Becky recently appeared on the network television news show, "Good Morning America." The determined junior high school girl will not tolerate the word handicap. "I just have a little problem," Becky says, "I don't really have any big limitations."

Becky says gymnastics is her favorite activity because "it's fun" and also because her sister Tammy's gymnastic ability was an inspiration to her. She also likes to roller skate, ice skate, and wants to try snow skiing. Four years ago she enrolled in the USA Gymnastic Academy in Steubenville. Ohio and now she is a class 4 gymnast — the first level in competitive

"Her favorite event is the trampoline for fun and uneven parallel bars for competition," says her mother, Emma Smith. Becky plans to compete locally for the first time this fall. Her ultimate goal would be to one day compete in the Olympics on the uneven parallel bars.

"She's got terrific determination and drive," says her mother. "Becky won't give up. Her leg might be red and beginning to blister, but she won't give up and she

Becky entered the spotlight last year while participating in a walk-a-thon and taping a public service announcement with olympic athlete, Kurt Thomas, who invited her to his aymnastic training camp.

Soon after, the producers of "Good Morning America," heard about Becky's enthusiasm and sent a film crew to trail her activities at home in Mingo Junction, Ohio and at the training camp.

At camp, Becky proved her gymnastic ability by winning the handstand and handwalking contest. She walked a 50-foot floor mat 2½ times on her hands. "They didn't think I could do it, but I did!" she said.

Becky gets instruction on the uneven paral-Becky, age 12, demonstrates her strength by using her arms to support her 65-pound-body. Nothing Seems Impossible to Shrine Patient Michelle

The blue-eyed blonde flashes a smile and begins an animated conversation about her teen-age activities. Michelle Holdorf, 13, is so enthusiastic you almost forget that she has no legs and only one arm, and that everything she does in this world is unusual.

The Quad-City Times has been reporting on Michelle's life since she was a baby learning to walk on "duck feet" fitted with springs so they would move as she shifted her weight.

Today, the spunky teen-ager continues to amaze everyone. She goes camping with the Girl Scouts and roller skating each Friday (via wheelchair), plays trumpet in the school band, sings second soprano in the choir, is manager of a volleyball team, attends all of the school's football games, is thinking of accepting a bid to be cheerleader for the wrestling team, takes babysitting jobs and is toying with traveling to Switzerland with her Girl Scout troop. She was also on the runway at a Daughters of the Nile fashion show.

A young Michelle walked on "duck feet".

Nothing seems impossible to the daughter of David and Linda Holdorf, who give full credit for her amazing abilities to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children in "Her treatment hasn't cost us a penny all these years," Mrs. Holdorf says, adding that the Shrine has paid for every hospital stay and the various types of legs and clamp-like hooks Michelle has used since she was 9 months old.

Mrs. Holdorf and Michelle travel to Chicago twice a year on the Shrine's Dad's Van for check-ups. The size of her artificial legs and arm must be changed as she grows.

Her father has become so interested in the Shrine that he's now one of 20 Kazoo Klowns and is master of his lodge. And Michelle has reigned as queen of two Shrine Bowl games.

Michelle's current interests are pretty much the same as any teenager. She particularly likes to go shopping — with blouses, sweaters, earrings and make-up on the top of her list.

She crawls easily into the artificial limbs that are already dressed in a pair of jeans. socks and shoes. When she stands up, she has a new perspective from 5-foot-2 instead of 3-foot-6.

"It's been too hot to wear all this," she says, so she gets around the house and school using her own method of scooting. "At the Chicago hospital they tell me I'm the best two-hip walker they have."

Her mother puts her on the school bus each morning and gets her in the wheelchair each night. A second wheelchair remains at school, and when she finally begins wearing her artificial legs full time. she'll leave those at school, too.

"My new wheelchair will have a righthand drive," Michelle explains. "My teacher, Gary Fears, says now I drive like a drunk going down the highway because I weave from side to side."

Friends who push Michelle around the skating rink in her wheelchair are urging her to substitute a pair of rollerskates for shoes and try skating on her own. The idea appeals to Michelle. "Someone else seems to think I could ski," Michelle says with a "maybe I could" shrug. Michelle began her musical studies on the tuba, "but I switched to trumpet," she says, explaining that it's an instrument that can be played with one hand. She plays in the eighth grade concert band at North Scott Junior High School and tried out for the jazz band "but didn't make it."

Michelle's sister, Tracy, is a varsity cheerleader, and Michelle is tempted to try cheerleading, also. "They've asked

Today's Research is Tomorrow's Patient Care At the Shriners Burns Institutes

Through improved research, physicians are now better able to understand how the human body reacts to severe burns. This knowledge has allowed them to develop new treatments aimed at helping burn victims recover easier and faster. The development of techniques to grow human and artificial skin, along with a better understanding of the role nutrition plays in fighting infection, have greatly increased a burn victim's chances of survival during the last decade.

Much of this research and the mastering of new treatments have been accomplished through the Shrine Burns Institutes, located in Boston, Cincinnati and Galveston. Since the early 1960's when the Shrine made its first commitment to burn research and treatment, the fraternity has invested some $200 million in its three the Boston Unit opened the first skin bank. The bank supplies surgeons with cadaver skin to use as a temporary cover over the burn wounds. The donated skin is kept frozen until it is needed. Patients must be kept in sterile tents to ward off infection. Drugs are administered to keep the body from rejecting the cadaver skin.

The body will ultimately reject foreign skin, creating the need for more grafting operations using skin from unburned portions of the patient's body.

But with the advent of artificial skin and the ability to grow human skin, doctors hope there will be less need for donor skin in the

The artificial skin process involves removing the burned areas and applying the thin skin-like substance over the wounds. The artificial layer protects the burned areas from bacteria and facilitates the growth of the body's own skin. Within a few weeks the artificial layer is removed and bits of the patient's unburned skin are applied to the area. Widespread use of the substance, however, rests with the approval from the Food and Drug Administration.

The ability to actually grow human skin in the laboratory will also offer several significant advantages to burn treatment, explained Dr. John Kinney, chairman of the Shrine Burns Advisory Board and professor of surgery at Columbia University. This area of treatment is "tremendous," an area "we are just beginning to see the benefits of." Kinney said. The major advantage of this technique is that the patient's system considers the new skin as part of the body's tissue and won't reject it — thus reducing the need for repeated

The laboratory-grown human skin does not contain sweat glands or hair follicles. These are two drawbacks Shrine researchers are hoping to solve.

During the next decade Shrine researchers will also be exploring the role nutrition plays in a burn victim's ability to fight infection. The Shriners Cincinnati Burns Institute will play a major role in this very important area of research, Kinney Infection has always been a major concern in burn treatment. There is still the risk of infection, but it is much less than it used to be.

Nutritional support plays a major role in survival. A burn patient uses higher than normal amounts of protein and fat as the body tries to maintain a normal temperature and ward off infection. This may cause the patient to lose excessive weight creating a danger to his recovery.

Artificial skin is grown in a laboratory.

Burn patients must have their bandages changed often. Research in this area is being conducted at the Shriners Galveston and Cincinnati Burns Institutes and it will continue to be an important area of study in the coming

Currently, patients suffering massive burns are given large amounts of protein — up to 25 percent of their daily caloric intake - to increase their chances of survival.

Nutrition still has many facets to warrant further study. The role of nutrition in recovery may prove to be the most significant area of research in the future.

The establishment of the Shriners Burns Institutes has alerted the medical world to the importance of burn research and treatment, and since 1966 has resulted in the opening of more than 200 non-Shrine burn centers throughout North America. Recent Shrine advances in burns care have not only contributed to the treatment of burn victims, but contributed to other aspects of medicine as well.

Keeping in mind that today's research is tomorrow's patient care, the Shrine will continue its efforts to be among the world's leaders in burn care.

Designated Mid-West
Spinal Cord
Injury Center

The Chicago Unit of Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children has recently been designated as the Spinal Cord Injury Center for the mid-west region of the United States.

The Unit will be the second Shriners Hospital designated for spinal cord injury specialty work.

The Unit was chosen as the midwest center, among other reasons, because it is a modern, state-of-theart facility. The building has three operating rooms and a spacious post-operating area.
