NOVI — A very heavy turnout is expected in Tuesday's general election, according to City Clerk Geraldine Stipp. Stipp expects at least 73 percent of Stipp expects at least 73 percent of the city's 16,459 registered voters to turn out for the presidential election. She noted almost 10 percent of the city's registered voters already have cast their ballots by voting as absentees. The city clerk says the high number of absentee voters is an indication of the interest in the upcoming election. In the last presidential election approximately 70 percent of the city's registered voters cast ballots.

"They're saying Michigan will get a 67 percent turnout and we always do better than the state average," Stipp said.

Voters are encouraged to cast their ballots early on election day to avoid the crowds, Stipp said. The polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

During the day those at home also are encouraged to vote as soon as they can to distribute more evenly the number of voters throughout the duy, Stipp said.

"Between 4-8 p.m. we usually have as many voters as we've had during the previous eight hours of voting. That means between 4-8 p.m. we get the heaviest turnout," Stipp warned. Voters also are urged to find out which polling place they are supposed to report to before going to vote Tuesday.

Races voters will decide on election day include the following: U.S. President — Incumbent

Ronald Regan, R., and challenger Walter F. Mondale, D. U.S. Senate — Incumbent Carl Levin, D., and challenger Jack Lousma, R. □ U.S. House, 18th District — Incumbent William S. Broomfield, R., and challenger Vivian H. Smargon,

The big attraction on the third level of Twelve Oaks Hudson's was noted author George "Sparky" Anderson, on hand last Wednesday to sign copies of his Detroit-area best-seller, "Bless You Boys." For ostriches who might wonder why people would queue up for some religious book, we'll clue you in: Sparky's "Bless You Boys" is a dayby-day account of the 1984 baseball season by the World Champion Detroit Tigers' manager.

The paperback tends to translate Sparky's inimitable speaking style ("If he don't make that catch, there ain't nothing can't keep them from

Some lugged as many as a dozen copies of "Bless You Boys" through the long line. While the earliest to arrive waited nearly 2½ hours, they spent less time waiting than latecomers. But there were no complaints.

After 2½ hours in line, Novi resident Darlene Lane and son Jeremy, 7, finally made it to the front. Sparky

Review slated for plan

NOVI — Four public bodies will meet in November to discuss recommendations regarding development of the commercial area surrounding the Grand River/Novi Road intersection, known as the Town Center.

The city council, planning board, Economic Development Corporation and civic center planning committee will hold a joint meeting to discuss the six recommendations proposed by Zuchelli, Hunter and Associates (ZHA), the firm hired to plan the Town Center.

City Manager Edward Kriewall said the meeting is needed to address decisions which must be made before plans can proceed.

"We feel a need to call together all the agencies that are touched by the implementation strategy to review the salient features of the various

Sparky made his entrance accompanied by a security guard and a few Hudson's personnel assigned to keep a steady flow of open books under his pen. A burst of applause and cheers rippled through the crowd as he made his way to a table on a riser.

"We love you Sparky! Smile!" shouted the book-toting fans, and when Sparky dutifully obliged, he was rewarded with a blaze of instamatic flashbulbs going off in his face. No wonder he has such a deep tan.

The manager-author cheerfully kept his signing hand going in a blur. "From here, I'm going home, then

"We bought Jeremy the ball a few years ago to get Milt Wilcox's

Lane. "He was just thrilled to finally get Sparky to sign."

Another young Tiger fan from Novi, 10-year-old Todd Schuh, collected Sparky's signature on a baseball that already bore the autographs of Lance Parrish and Alan Trammell.

It wasn't as if Novi residents predominated. Many fans had followed Anderson all the way from his earlier appearance that day at Eye Browse Bookstore in West Bloomfield, where copies of "Bless You Boys" completely sold out.

Others came from Farmington, Livonia, Bloomfield Hills, Garden City and other locales near and far. Credit Sparky with sending plenty of them home as happy as they were Sunday, October 14.

"These features need to be discussed to determine what should be done next," he added.

A firm date for the meeting was discused by the city council Monday, but not finalized. Dates being considered are November 14, November 17 and November 20.

Council Member Martha Hoyer suggested the meeting be held as soon as possible. "I don't want to see this delayed," Hoyer said. "We need to get into the elements of that plan, especially considering we already have people out there in the field (talking to potential developers.)"

Kriewall said the report received recently from ZHA called for a number of policy decisions regarding planning for the Town Center, so it was decided to hold a meeting to discuss those issues.

"We decided we should get everyone involved in on the discussion," Kriewall said.

"It's apparent the report really evolves into an action plan," Kriewall said. "It's even called an implementation strategy. There are various elements that have to be addressed.

The ZHA report recommends the city follow a six-point plan to implement the consultant's concept for the Town Center. Those steps include adopting a policy statement with a physical design plan, rescind the current Town Center zoning and rezone the entire area, adopt a new or-

NOVI — Final revisions to the ordinance regulating the screening of dumpsters were introduced to the city council Monday.

The ordinance, which went to the city council's ordinance review committee for revisions nearly four months ago, will be largely unchanged. Monday, the ordinance committee recommended changes to the ordinance which it believes provide relief where necessary and at the

But under provisions introduced Monday, the appeal committee overseeing application of the screening standards will have the power to waive requirements in cases where sceening is a part of an overall design in a development.

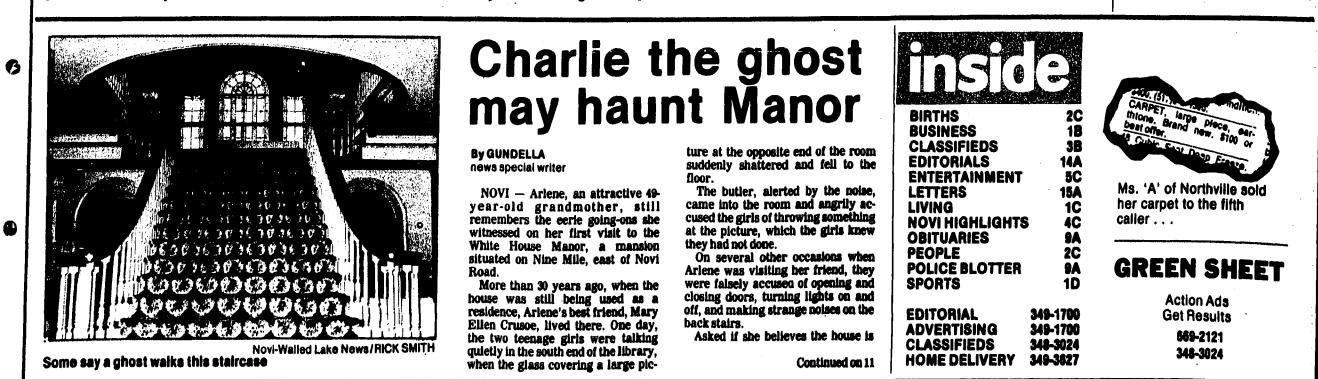

"The ordinance gives the appeal committee flexibility so if there are dumpster screens designed into a development the ordinance provisions can be waived," reported Council Member Patricia Karevich of the ordinance review committee.

New provisions also allow evergreens to be used for screening, Karevich said.

Additionally, the ordinance was clarified to say dumpsters for light industrial developments which are exposed to other light industry but cannot be seen by the general public need not be screened. However, if the dumpster can be seen from a general parking lot, it must be screened because it is in the public view, Karevich said.

"With the additional flexibility and increasing the discretion of the review board, we were able to return to the intent of the ordinance," Karevich said.

Middle schools proposed for 1987-88

WALLED LAKE - Secondary ad-ministrators this week asked the school board to consider implementing a middle school program in the 1987-88 school year.

The board took no action on the proposal, but requested additional information, including a more detailed explanation of the advantages and disadvantages of the middle school concept. Superintendent Don Sheldon described the study completed by the secondary administrators as a "very small first step" toward instituting middle schools in Walled Lake. Secondary Education Director

Dr. Sami Alam, director of program, planning and evaluation, pro-

"Based upon these projections, it is anticipated that each proposed mid-dle school, grades six, seven and eight, would contain approximately 837 students for the 1967-68 school year,'' Pacacha explained. Therefore, it is recommended by the committee that 1987-58 be the year (considered for) implementa-tion of the middle school concept." At the same time the middle named by the professional association for those in the field of public safety telecommunications As president Nelson will chair the bi monthly meetings, represent the Michigan Chapter at national conferences and appoint committees. Keeping abreast of issues affecting public communications is also a major part of the job, Nelson said. The Association of Public Communication Officers (APCO) is a group of 5,000 members committed to safety telecommunicators and equipment manufacturers. "The organization is made to get everyone together to improve the level of services offered and to discuss the problems that are experienced by lecommunicators," Nelson said.

Committees study the problems associated with public safety communiciations and APCO provides free consulting services to members.

It also serves as the frequency coordinator for Michigan by making recommendations to Federal Communications Commission regarding requests for changing frequencies or obtaining néw frequencies. The primary goal for the coming year

WALLED LAKE - City council this week approved purchase of a $39,000 computer system for use in tax and water billing.

Funds in the amount of $38,500 for a computer system were allocated in the 1984-85 city budget. The greatest portion of the amount, $34,500, will be paid out of the water department operating und. An additional $1,500 will come from the treasurer's department, $2,500 from the clerk's office and the remainng $1,200 will be transferred from the water department maintenance and reserve accounts.

Earlier this month City Manager J. Michael Dornan received proposals for the computer system from five companies. The bid was awarded to Arizala Corporation of Ann Arbor. Dornan noted the low bid in the amount of $29,460 did not meet the desired specifications. The highest bid was in the amount of $59.300. The approved purchase amount includes voters registration software costing about $1,200. Arizala has indicated that delivery could be made within two weeks, Dornan reported. Staff training could be completed in time to have the system operating by January 1, he added. The city, therefore, could begin using the system in preparing the 1985-86 budget.

Electronic equipment was stolen from a residence in the Village Apartments on October 26 between 6:30 a.m. and 3:45 p.m

Police said entry was gained through a sliding glass door, but very little property inside the apartment was disturbed and several larger items of value were not taken.

Stolen were an AM/FM cassette radio and a one-piece stereo unit with two speakers. The responsible parties also ate an old pizza which had been left on the kitchen counter, according to

Both extremely active in community affairs, the popular candidates have waged a sign war that pits friend against friend and neighbor against neighbor.

On paper, Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson, Republican veteran of 12 years, could have been the object of a stiff challenge from Democrats. Instead, Democrats came up with a lawyer from a one-man firm who never had prosecuted as much as an ordinance case.

Worse, the Democratic challenger failed to develop any of the legitimate issues against Patterson — his advocacy of the reactionary Proposal C, his campaign for the barbaric death penalty, his overkill prosecution for conspiracy against the be an improvement over outgoing Sheriff Johannes Spreen and nuclear protestors at Williams International and his underkill in his delusions of persecution. prosecuting electricity theft cases.

At 65, Nichols may be only a one-term sheriff, but that to be clouded, even under his own fairly high standards.

Many of Brooks Patterson's ideas and rhetoric are easy to dislike. But no one has seriously questioned his credentials as a term, practically by default.

Long's top choice in Commerce race

Since a single Democratic candidate is running for office, Commerce Township voters have only one local race to decide on the November 6 general election. Incumbent Republican Supervisor Robert Long is being challenged for re-election by Democrat Robert Kratage. Voters have a very easy choice in this

Supervisor since 1967, Long has provided sound, effective leadership for Commerce Township. He has spearheaded efforts to stave off annexation attempts by neighboring communities, and worked to obtain future sewer capacity and preserve local park lands. It would be difficult to find an elected official who has worked more diligently or more selflessly on behalf of his constituency than Long. While not always agreeing with Long's posion, there has never been any question about his motivation

Challenger Kratage provides a very different type of candidate. Freely admitting ignorance about major issues facing the township, Kratage is a single issue candidate. That issue, he says, is the Huron Valley Hospital. Such a statement may be misleading. Certainly there have been legitimate questions about the environmental impact of this project. Kratage, however, mentions the project then moves into a litany of wrongs he said had been done him by township officials.

Over the last few years, Kratage has sought to develop two residential projects in the township. Township officials regularly said Kratage had failed to meet ordinance requirements or submitted incomplete data about his projects. Kratage charged un-fair treatment. Without being been privy to each incident, it is difficult to determine if either side is totally wrong. What is clear, however, is that Kratage is running as a disgruntled would-be developer.

Many times people become involved in politics with a burn-ing desire to correct injustices. Unfortunately, Kratage's platform is highly personal. He sincerely seems to believe that Com-merce officials have wronged him. That is no reason for residents to vote for him.

Instead of seriously addressing the issues, Kratage has preferred to make wild statements and accusations. Attention grabbers, certainly, but equally irresponsible. Commerce residents don't need this type of unqualified official. Voters should maintain their well-led township government and cast their votes for ROBERT LONG.

Broomfield merits re-election in 18th

The biggest question in the 18th Congressional District is "When will Bill Broomfield retire?" After 28 years in Congress, Broomfield, 62, generally is conceded to have a lock on the district.

Every two years, the Democrats dutifully put forth a challenger who dutifully claims not to be a "sacrificial lamb" and avows that "Bill Broomfield can be defeated." In the 1982 election, the venerable Birmingham Republican received the largest majority (75 percent) and margin (100,000 votes) in his Congressional career.

The Democratic challenger this year is Vivian Smargon, 42. Self-employed as a Southfield attorney and owner/manager of a small business (Smargon Optical) in Detroit, she is intelligent, articulate and more liberal on social issues than Broomfield. She also has been a political analyst for several television networks and planned political campaigns, but has never held public office. Broomfield, on the other hand, with his 28 years' experience in Congress is an influential person in Washington and is the ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, a position which gives him direct access to the president.

One of the knocks on Broomfield is that he is so involved in national policy that he does not do a good job of representing his Michigan constituents. We do not find that criticism to be accurate, however. On the contrary, local officials report that Broomfield has used his considerable influence on behalf of his constituents when called upon to do so.

Vivian Smargon is a worthwhile challenger, but BILL BROOMFIELD remains the best choice in the 18th Congressional District.

John Nichols, the Republican nominee, has the richer credentials. He has been police commissioner of Detroit, undersheriff of single term should be sufficient to restore the department's morale and groom a successor.

Henry (Hank) Hansen, the Democratic nominee, has been in criminal investigation division. In most counties he would be a firm shoo-in. But the Oakland Sheriff's Department's problems are pretty serious, and Nichols' background is too outstanding. Our endorsement goes to JOHN NICHOLS.

In the other Oakland County races: LYNN ALLEN has had no complaints and much praise in his four terms as county clerk/register of deeds, and the Republican candidate warrants re-election, especially since his opponent has the erroneous notion the county clerk has something to do with voter registration. (It's handled by city and township clerks).

Drain Commissioner GEORGE KUHN not only administers his department well but is a visionary in promoting a regional board for what is truly a regional water and sewer department. His opponent, a UAW political worker for the past four years, would fail to protect county water users' interests by dropping the regional water board project and the damages suit against Vista Disposal Company.

Treasurer C. Hugh Dohany takes credit for computerizing what used to be a pencil-and-paper operation, but now he says there are no more issues. Can that be? His challenger is the strongest Democrat on the ticket – Louis Miller, who has two degrees in political science, 20 years experience with the U.S. Postal Service (he was director of local relations in the Detroit] law-and-order prosceutor. Voters probably will give him a fourth the department 28 years, rising to lieutenant in charge of the area) and the presidency of his own management consulting

> If voters stick with Dohany, as seems likely, Oakland Republicans should disregard Miller's Democratic label and find some use for this man's impressive talents.

Honigman, Bullard for state rep

Honigman best in 24th

Voters in Walled Lake, Wixom, Commerce and West Bloomfield have an opportunity to put a bright, young, aggressive, energetic representative in the State House of Representatives by nam-ing DAVID HONIGMAN to the 24th District seat.

Only 28, Honigman, a West Bloomfield Republican, appeared on the local political scene with a splash this summer when he defeated incumbent Robert McGee in the Republican primary with a well-financed campaign.

The knock on Honigman is that he is ambitious and had the advantage of his family's financial resources to defeat a seated Republican incumbent. Honigman's reply is that he wants to serve in the State Legislature and was forced to spend money to overcome the considerable advantages of incumbency, including franking privileges and name recognition. A newcomer, he says, has to spend money to get his name known and make voters familiar with his opinions.

We can accept that explanation. More importantly, we summarily reject a candidate's financial resources or lack of them as an issue. What is an issue is the individual's philosophies and ability to perform.

In Honigman, the 24th District will be represented by an intelligent, ambitious young man who has demonstrated a willingess to work hard and educate himself on the issues. Like all candidates these days, he describes himself as a "fiscal conservative," but cites educational and enviromental issues as chief concerns along with the need to further improve Michigan's business climate.

Marvin Surowitz, the Democratic challenger in the 24th District race, is a West Bloomfield resident and a political science professor at Macomb Community College. Frankly, he appears too easy-going to make an impact in Lansing. He lacks the ardor and energy demonstrated by his opponent.

Honigman, on the other hand, ap-pears to have a bright political future that may well carry him beyond the State

Foley in tight 2nd district race

One of the hottest races in western Oakland County is the bat-tle between Democratic incumbent William J. Foley and Republican challenger Richard G. Skarritt for the 2nd District (Wixom) seat on the Oakland County Board of Commissioners. Foley, who calls himself an independent Democrat, is seeking a second term. The Republican challenger claims his oppo-nent has voted lock-step with the urban group instead of suburban commissioners. There is no question that both candidates are informed and qualified. What makes the choice more difficult is that both are truly concerned about the communities they would represent. Foley and Skarritt are the types of candidates we all hope would run for office.

While we share Skarritt's concern about Foley's voting record, we do not see it as sufficient reason to replace him at this time. We give the edge to WILLIAM J. FOLEY in this race.

The News began its endorsements for the November 6 general election in its October 17 edition. Here's a recap of our editorial endorsements.

U.S. CONGRESS: Novi, Walled Lake, Wixom and Commerce are included in the 18th Congressional District. Our endorsemen goes to WILLIAM BROOMFIELD.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE: Walled Lake, Wixom and Commerce are included in the 24th State House District. Our endorsement is for DAVID HONIGMAN. Novi is included in the 60th District where our recommendation is for WILLIS BULLARD JR.

COUNTY COMMISSION: In the 2nd District (Wixom) we endorse WILLIAM J. FOLEY. In the 24th District (Novi) we endorse JOHN CALANDRO for a second term. In the 25th District (Walled Lake and Commerce) G. WILLIAM CADDELL is the best choice.

OAKLAND COUNTY: In the race for County Executive, DANIEL T. MURPHY has been an outstanding administrator and is clearly a superior choice to Johannes Spreen who has had difficulty administrating the sheriff's department.

competition a second time in his 1984 race to maintain the 25th District seat on the Oakland County Board of Commissioners The 25th District includes Walled Lake and Commerce Township primary, Caddell's experience and responsiveness to his constituent communities leave no persuasive reason to favor his opponert, who in the November 6 general election will be Democrat Michael Hughes.

Caddell was first elected to the board of commissioners in a 1979 special election. He was re-elected in 1980 and again in 1982. Within two years of taking the position, Caddell secured the chairmanship of the county's finance committee. His knowledge of the county's financing and his position of leadership are an ad-vantage for the Walled Lake/Commerce area when it comes to the allocation of county funds.

Caddell has been a responsive commissioner for the com-munities in his district. Walled Lake and Commerce residents will benefit by returning G. WILLIAM CADDELL for a third term on the board of commissioners.

Bullard in 60th district

Novi voters should re-elect WILLIS BULLARD JR. to a second term in the State House of Representatives from the 60th District.

Bullard, a Highland Township Republican, is being challenged by Democrat Glenn R. Betts of Novi. A lowkeyed race, we do not see this as a real contest. Betts is knowledgeable and concerned, but lacks Bullard's credentials and experience.

Hard-working, dedicated and conscientious, Bullard has done a good job of helping constituents and keeping them in formed. While we realize he has been get ting his feet wet during this first two years in office, we hope to see him sponsor more worthwhile legislation in his next term.

Program proposed Betts challenges Bullard in 60th

NOVI — After serving his first two-year term as State Representative from the 60th District, Highland Township Republican Willis Bullard Jr. is being challenged by Democrat Glenn R. Betts, a longtime Novi resident.

Few observers see the race in the traditionally Republican 60th District as being close, however. The 60th District includes Novi as well as South Lyon, Lyon Township, Milford and Highland Asked whether a full or part-time legislature is needed in Michigan, Betts favored full-time legislators "to meet the demands in a rapidly changing world. The business that Michigan transacts can only be served by full-time persons," Betts said.

While Bullard also feels a full-time legislature is needed, he says he "would be in favor of limiting when the legislature meets.

"The only time controversial things get settled is when we're going to adjourn. Maybe we should be in session from January until May and then return in the fall," he continued.

Bullard said proponents of a parttime legislature argue that only 20 percent of the time is spent in session. However, he points out that he spends 60 to 70 percent of his time in constituent relations.

"Perhaps a solution is a legislative ombudsman to whom I could refer questions from my constituents," Bullard added

Both Bullard and Betts favor increased funding for higher education, but their approach to obtaining such funds differs. Bullard noted that he has supported Governor Blanchard's shifts in work programs for employable adults to Fort Wayne, Indiana, and that will of General Motors in Livonia in quality priorities in the budget which increased who are now receiving welfare benefits continue to happen unless we reform assurance. Entertainment

'Wilkommen' to Number 1

The Number One tourist attraction in Michigan? The Mackinac Bridge? The Renaissance Center? Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum? Nope. The Number One tourist attraction in Michigan is Frankenmuth, a small town of 6,500 residents located approximately one hour away from the metropolitan Detroit area off the I-75 freeway. It's easy to see why tourists are attracted to Frankenmuth - good dining, unusual shopping, lots of interesting things to see and do. Frankenmuth is probably best known for its success in preserving its Bavarian heritage. Signs saying "Wilkommen," the German word for "welcome." greet tourists as they drive into town. And the Bavarian influence is everywhere, particularly in the architecture of what seems to be every building in town.

A highlight, of course, is the Bavarian Festival in June which draws 200.000 visitors and such wellknown entertainers as Myron Florin from the Lawrence Welk Show.

Frankenmuth was founded in 1845 by a group of missionaries. With the goal of spreading the Gospel to the Chippewa Indians, they immigrated from Bavaria in Franconia, Germany. The first building they built was the St. Lorenz Church, which is one of Michigan's oldest Lutheran congregations and one of its largest. The Frankenmuth Chamber of Commerce bills the city as "Michigan's Little Bavaria" and describes it as "A City of Tradition. Charm and Pride." The chamber is right on both counts.

The citizens obviously take much pride in their city. Certainly one of the most lasting impressions of Frankenmuth is that it's incredibly clean and tidy. Neat, trim, well-manicured lawns and baskets of flowers everywhere the eye looks provide ample testimony that this is a town which indeed takes pride in itself and the impression it leaves on others.

At the heart of the town are two fine restaurants - Zehnder's and the Bavarian Inn, both famous for their family-style chicken dinners. William Zehnder is president of the Bavarian Inn; his brother, Eddie, heads up

Zehnder's. And whether or not the two restaurants are reason enough for taking a trip to Frankenmuth, there can be no doubt that any trip to the city is incomplete without lunch or dinner at one or the other — take your

If you have trouble envisioning a one-acre showroom devoted almost totally to Christmas, you haven't been to Bronner's which has more than 500 different styles of Nativity sets, Bibles in 30 foreign languages, 350 animated figures and 3,000 styles of artistic glass or- Street has more than 25 unique naments from around the world.

After Zehnder's and Bronner's there's still plenty to do and see in Black Forest cuckoo clocks and the Frankenmuth. Flour and mixes made in the mill can be purchased in the general store. As for shopping, there's lots of that, too. There's the Schnitzelbank Woodcarving Shop, the Frankenmuth Cheese Haus and the Morse Haus, which bills itself as Michigan's largest miniature shop. The School Haus Square on Main

We could go on and mention the Military and Space Museum, Rau's Country Store, the Cass River Forge with its master blacksmith or Rapunzel's Weaving and Arts Studio Just outside of town, a half-mile north of the main shopping district, is The Weathervane, a unique little shore featuring weathervanes, quilts, braided rugs and other folk art on the upper floor of "The Old Barn." Frankenmuth i famous for several things - Bronner's Christmas Decorations and the Bavarian Festival every June, for example. But most of all, Frankenmuth is famous KOVACS for the family-style chicken dinners served up at the town's two stellar restaurants Zehnder's and the Bavarian Inn.

The two restaurants are separate entities. The waitress on our last visit explained that the restaurants are competitors, but friendly competitors.

"We'd prefer that people come here and they prefer that people go there, but we cooperate ... we share services like the same laundry room for all our linen," she said.

Zehnder's and the Bavarian Inn are both housed in magnificent, huge inns directly across the street from each other. And they're owned by two brothers. Eddie Zehnder runs Zehnder's: William "Tiny" Zehnder is president of the Bavarian Inn. Both claim to be "world-famous" dining establishments, and they probably are. Zehnder's reports that three-quarters of a million people annually enjoy its family-style chicken dinner, while the Bavarian Inn serves up over 200,000 chickens (325 tons) per year.

Both restaurants also serve more than chicken. Also on the menu you'll find steaks and seafoods as well as specialized Bavarian fare - homemade sausages, wienerschnitzel, sauerbraten and kasseler rippchen.

But when you're talking about either Zehnder's or the Bavarian Inn, you're really talking about chicken - lots and lots of chicken.

On a recent Saturday excursion to Frankenmuth, my companion and I decided to go to Zehnder's, primarily because the lines outside the building seemed a little shorter, so we'll talk about our experience there in this review. But it really doesn't make much difference which one you go to because the food and menu is virtually the same with only a few minor variations. And, yes, there are lines so be prepared for it On our last excursion, we lined up for dinner at 4:30 p.m. and still had to wait approximately an hour to be seated. But don't be dissuaded. The wait is worth it.

Knowing all along that you go to Zehnder's for chicken, our attention was directed to two selections on the menu — the chicken plate dinner at $8.45 or the "world-famous, family-style chicken dinner" at $8.95.

The food's basically the same on both, but for an extra 50 cents we felt the family-style was worth it. You get two extra salad selections with the family-style, plus the family-style is served "family-style," meaning it's served on platters and you get all you can eat. If you run out of chicken, for example, just notify the waitress and she'll rush back to the kitchen for another platter. After placing your order, sit back and wait for the food to arrive, which it does shortly. They start you off with a bowl of chicken noodle soup and two types of homemade bread made in the Zehnder's own bakery. Noteworthy is the "fruit bread," sort of a fruitcake, only made as bread. Next come the "salads." Beets, coleslaw, large curd cottage cheese and delicious homemad pickles. The trick is to leave room for the main course, so don't go too heavy on the preliminaries As for the main course, well ... it's a lot like Thanksgiving with chicken instead of turkey. And it truly is served family-style. You get an empty plate. And the waitress then places serving bowls mashed potatoes, noodles, squash, stuffing, gravy and, of course, lots and lots of chicken on he table

Sit back, dig in and enjoy yourself. There are lots of desserts. too - ice cream, sundaes and pies are maintstays, and the parfaits are noteworthy.

Both Zehnder's and the Bavarian Inn have nice selections of wine. And, because you're in wine country - St. Julian and the Leelanau Wine Company have outlets in Frankenmuth - there's a nice-to-see emphasis on Michigan wines.

As measured by the number of visitors. Frankenmuth is Michigan's number one tourist attraction, and Zehnder's and the Bavarian Inn are two of the leading reasons. Anyone who hasn't visited the town and dined at one or the other of these restaurants has missed one of the state's leading treasures.

Here's what Gene Schnelz, Oakland County Circuit Court judge and Walled Lake resident, says are his favorite things to do:

1. WATCHING MOVIES "I'm an absolute movie nut," says Schnelz, Cowboy movies are at the top of the list, with "The Searchers" starring John Wayne being his number one favorite. He likes renting movies for his home VCR and tries to catch all the movies at the Maple Theater in Birmingham.

2. EATING Schnelz has earmarked all the best restaurants in the Detroit Metro area. It's the Red Devil for "the best pizza in Detroit." It's Ah Wok in Novi for Chinese. The Little Cafe at Gratiot and Woodward for German and Toni's at the Birch Run exit of I-75 for the best platter of french fries and gravy you can get anvwhere

3. COOKING Cooking has to come right after eating, Schnelz says. Although he says he just lost 36 pounds, he still enjoys cooking "any and everything." He and his wife have a collection of at least 400 cookbooks, and they enjoy whipping up 12-course dinners for groups of close friends ... which, Schnelz notes, do not include 52nd District Court Judge Harold Bulgarelli, because, Schnelz claims, "if it doesn't have ketchup on it, he wouldn't know it."

WALLED LAKE — For the second straight year, Walled Lake Western's Laurie Floto has qualified for the MHSAA Class A State Finals.

Only a sophomore, Floto finished 17th at the MHSAA Regionals at Marshbank on Saturday with a time of 21:21. As a team, Western finished sixth out of 17 with 184 points. Milford, Bloomfield Hills Lahser and Rochester finished first, second and third in the regionals to qualify for the state meet. Milford collected just 39 points, while Lahser had 96 and Rochester 159. Walled Lake Central was fourth (163) and Lakeland was fifth Floto will compete against 10 other unattached runners on Saturday at the Class A Finals at Dama Farms near Howell at 1 p.m.

Melissa Champion finished 27th (22:26), Traci Karttunen was 41st (23:29), Sarah Nimmo was 47th (23:47), Lynn Gallmeyer came in 5?nd (24:18) nd Lizz Amati finished 70th in 25:20. "We ran about as well as could be expected," said Western Coach Jay Creech, "considering we lost our only senior runner, Jill Junnola." "Laurie came back and really did well," he added. "She wasn't in a ualifying position until late in the race." In fact, said Creech, Floto was 22nd after the two-mile mark and stayed there until a "nice run" on the last mile brought her up to 17th. Earlier in the week Western finished seventh at the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) Meet with 126 points. Livonia Churchill won the WLAA title with 89 points; Northville was second with 94.

"We didn't do well at all," said Creech, who's team ended up tied for first in the WLAA Western Division with both Churchill and Northville. Floto led the Warriors in the league meet as she finished 12th in 21:17, good for a second team berth on the All-WLAA squad. Champion was 23rd (21:56) followed by Karttunen (27th in 22:25), Gallmeyer (29th), Nimmo (35th) and Amati (49th). "We had a good season,

Rasinske paces Wildcat cagers

NOVI - Sue Rasinske got back to her old unstoppable self last week, pumping in 32 points to lead Novi to a 58-51 victory over Brighton Tuesday of last week.

Rasinske was 0-for-2 from the line, but hit four baskets in each quarter for her best outing since returning to the lineup following an ankle injury. "It was a fairly tight, fast-paced game," noted Novi Coach Bill Ayotte. The Wildcats never led by more than eight points and led by just one with six nutes to play. But that's when Rasin-

"Pretty select company," Norgren summed up. Novi got gutsy showings from freshman Kelly Rolfes and sophomore Cathy Johnson. Rolfes finished 21st in 21:12 and Johnson came in 24th in 21:28. Norgren called Rolfes' time "exceptional for a freshman. She was just super." Johnson was running in pain due to a knee injury, yet still rallied to pass six runners in the last quarter-mile. "Afterwards, she could hardly walk," Norgren said.

"That's how the whole team has been," he added. "Other coaches have trouble getting their girls to show up for practice. But this year, our girls have not only done their best to make every practice, they've run at home when a doctor's appointment or something kept them away."

Viking ace off to state WALLED LAKE - Dave Darnton's Walled Lake Central harriers wrapped up their 1984 season with a flourish last week - finishing second in the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) Meet at Cass Benton on Tuesday. The Vikings also finished eighth at the MHSAA Regionals at Marshbank on Saturday. But even that finish had its silver lining as distance ace Jeff Madsen finished 16th to qualify for the State Meet this Saturday "We were delighted to finish second in the league meet," noted Darnton. now in his fifth year as coach of 'he Viking cross-country squad, "Our 4-3 record in dual meets this season was the first time we've won more than we've lost in six years."

Central's second-place finish at the WLAA Meet came as something as a surprise, Farmington won the WLAA hampionship with 19 points, while Central had 107 points to edge Walled Lake Western (121) for second place.

As usual, Madsen led the way. The talented junior won All-WLAA honors by finishing sixth. Arles Kimray finished 16th, followed by Scott McLean (21st), Don Chapin (27th) and Steve McLean (39th).

"It was great to finish second," said Darnton. "We were fifth last year and ninth in 1982, so that second place feels pretty good."

Darnton was disappointed with the Vikings' eighth place (out of 19 teams) finish in the Marshbank Regionals. "We could have finished as high as fourth, but some of our guys had an off day," he explained.

For ten years, Dan Murphy has done his job right.

Many people in Oakland County don't worry about their county government. They don't have to. For ten years, County Executive Dan Murphy has managed the county like a business, putting tax dollars to work in the most cost-effective ways. He works with the county commissioners and through his own departments to bring Oakland County residents award-winning services when and where they need them, within budget. In that time, Oakland County has grown to more than one million people. It has a budget of a quarter of a billion dollars. Yet the tax rate is dropping and the services continue to win awards. That's because for ten years Dan Murphy has done the job of County Executive the only way he knows how: The right way.

A balanced budget every year for ten years.

For 10 years Dan Murphy has done what many county executives only wish they could do: he's operated Oakland County within a balanced budget. Not just for one year, or two years. For the past decade.

A lower tax rate over the last four years.

It's true. Oakland County's tax rate has actually decreased during several of the past four years with Dan Murphy in charge. How did he do it. By managing your tax dollars instead of looking for ways to spend them. By cutting back on the size of county government and by implementing cost-saving and revenue- producing programs that have become models for other counties nationwide.

Dan Murphy's management ability saves county taxpayers money.

A commitment to creating and filling new jobs.

at 14 Ø

With Dan Murphy's support and vision, Oakland County has helped promote a 1,800-acre technology park. The park will emphasize research and training, and will help draw the industry to Oakland County needed to create thousands of new jobs.That's just a start.

Dan Murphy has brought together leaders in business, labor and education to map out a full-scale economic development plan for the entire county.

Dan Murphy was instrumental in attracting a new General Motors automotive plant to Orion, bringing with it jobs and an expanded tax base.

Wherever you go in Oakland County, Dan Murphy has built a county for you.

Working with the county Board of Commissioners, Dan Murphy initiated and helped secure $2.8 million in funding over the next eight years for completion of Interstate 696. Funding will supplement federal funds and remove a heavy financial burden from South County taxpayers.

While surrounding counties are cutting back on Sheriff Department services to outlying towns and cities, Dan Murphy has designed and implemented an innovative program of contracting for those services, enabling towns and cities in the western portion of Oakland County and elsewhere to offer residents high-quality law enforcement at reduced cost.

With Dan Murphy's support, the Troy/Auburn Hills area is becoming the center of the county's robotics industry. Contributing significantly to the growth is the county-owned and operated Pontiac Airport, the second busiest in the midwest.

With Dan Murphy's help, a new General Motors automotive plant went up in Orion, providing jobs and greatly expanding the local tax base. The county is also building a state-of-the-art solid waste management plant in the northern part of the county that will bring jobs to the area while it serves all of Oakland County.

Working closely with home-owners associations, cities and the state, Dan Murphy helped achieve a complete turn-around for Telegraph Road, now a model highway-rehabilitation program for the rest of the county.

Endorsing Dan Murphy for County Executive.

The Detroit News

"Oakland County works. One of the reasons it works is County Executive Daniel Murphy. To be sure the County is extremely fortunate.

The sheriff's biggest failing isn't bickering with his own men or his political opponents, however, it's been his fundamental failure to do the job.

Dan Murphy should be re-elected as Oakland County Executive."

The Observer and Eccentric

"Murphy would never claim credit for a multitude of innovations and efficiencies that have been spawned during his regime, because so many other people have been involved. Murphy has preserved the atmosphere of cooperation, the openness to new ideas and the first-class staff he works with to make excellent things happen."

The Royal Oak Tribune

"We believe that greater consideration ought to be given to more administrative fare. On that score, we contend Murphy is the better choice. Dan Murphy has a convincing record of a proven administrator who has been able to get the job done. We endorse his candidacy and urge a vote for Daniel T. Murphy in the November election."

Spinal Column

"Under Murphy's guidance, Oakland County has been one of, if not the, best run government units in the state. While the state government was running up massive deficits during the last recession, Oakland County's budget remained balanced. When tax increase questions were the order of the day, Oakland County's tax rate actually dropped.

Today the sheriff's department is a disaster area, running poorly when it runs at all. Electing Spreen to the executive's position would be the most destructive thing Oakland County voters could do.

There is little doubt about it, voters will have to return Dan Murphy to the executive post if they want the county to continue moving ahead."

Oakland County Deputy Sheriff's Association

"Under no circumstances should Sheriff Spreen be remotely considered for the job of County Executive. In the name of good government you must re-elect Dan Murphy as County Executive."

Civic Searchlight

The Oakland Citizens League (Civic Searchlight) gave County Executive Dan Murphy their highest rating: "Preferred and Well Qualified".
