Officials back woodlands law

By BRUCE J. MARTIN
 staff writer

A woodlands protection ordinance is in place for the City of Novi. But despite its unanimous thumbs-up from city planning commissioners and council members last Wednesday, developers and officials alike are perceiving serious flaws in the document.

The new ordinance makes it more difficult to clear trees in city areas designated as woodlands, which occupy less than 15 percent of Novi's 33 square miles. A permit is now required of landowners in order to cut down healthy large (mostly defined as six-inch diameter and up) trees within these woodlands.

City authorities will review permit applications to determine whether the trees' removal is necessary for the developer to obtain a fair return on his property investment — and the burden of proving retaining the trees would impose a hardship will rest on the developer.

Whether the new ordinance will apply to projects which already have obtained site plan approvals is unclear at this point, but the threat of court action may dissuade the city from enforcing the ordinance for projects between the site plan approval and building permit stage. Among the projects which will be affected by the new ordinance are the Trammell Crow Company's proposed office development southwest of Meadowbrook Road and Eleven Mile; and conceptual plans for Section 11 (the square mile north of Twelve Oaks Mall).

Most of the areas designated as woodlands are in the west and particularly the southwest of the city, land southwest of Shawood Lake and land in Novi's northeast sections. Smaller but significant woodland regions in eastern sections of the city are located northwest of Haggerty Road and Grand River Avenue, southeast of Meadowbrook Road and Grand River, northwest of the Orchard Hill Place development at Eight Mile and Haggerty; and north of I-96 between Novi Road and Haggerty.

Approval of the ordinance, several years in the making and loosely based on a similar ordinance in West Bloomfield Township, occurred last Wednesday at a joint session of the Novi City Council and Novi Planning Commission. While officials were en-

Rouge cleanup plans in gear

While the Ford Motor Company got the headlines for giving a donation to help clean up the Rouge River, a Novi firm is quietly making just as big an impact.

Michigan Tractor and Machinery Company, 24800 Novi Rd., is one of a select few businesses determined to do its part during Rouge Cleanup Day Saturday, June 7, by hosting a four-hour river-clearing program from 8 a.m. to noon. The City of Novi's Department of Public Works will help coordinate the project.

"We could use a couple hundred volunteers," said Robert Shaw of the DPW. "About 15 DPW work leaders will coordinate the cleanup and handle some of the heavy machinery we'll need."

Registration will take place at 8 a.m. and workers will be transported to work sites at several locations along the seven miles of the Rouge and its tributaries which flow through the city. After the cleanup, Michigan Tractor will host a cookout with hotdogs and refreshments.

The Ford Motor Company will donate 150 sets of gloves and 150 trash bags for volunteers.

"If you've ever been by our facility, you know we take pride in how our buildings look in front. We take the same pride in our backyard," said Mark Jung, president of Michigan Tractor, which backs up to the Rouge.

Jung says he expects 25 of his company's workers and their families workers to forego their day off and to spend it removing a logjam on the northern end of the company's grounds at 10 a.m. Jung said the logjam formed late last autumn but its effects are being felt now, as the river is backing up and overflowing.

"In a way, we're privileged to be upstream, where the river is relatively clean," Jung said. "We don't have the problems some of the other communities have, since the water coming out of Walled Lake is very clean."

Volunteers should contact city offices for more information at 349-4300. More information on how to assist in the Rouge clean-up project downriver of Novi can be obtained by calling the Friends of the Rouge, 42-Rouge, or by contacting the group at its Livonia location, 13325 Farmington.

Organizers of the Rouge Rescue '86 caution volunteers they will not be allowed in the water. Participants are asked to provide work gloves and to wear long pants and shirts while working.

All work south of Eight Mile will be organized and supervised by Wayne County Parks employees and the work will consist of picking up and loading debris in dump trucks or dumpsters, cleaning up debris along the shore and placing it in garbage bags and pulling on ropes to remove debris from the river.

Victor and Megan Carney of Novi were among hundreds of patriotic participants in Monday's Novi Memorial Day parade, which was seen by thousands of spectators who lined Novi Road and Ten Mile to watch the activities. Ceremonies preceding and following the parade were a great success, according to coordinators of the event.

Landowners agree to roadwork

Roadwork expected to disperse traffic headed to and from the city's central commercial district has obtained the financial backing of a group of property owners.

City council members were informed last week that a $4 million-plus special assessment district for Section 15 — the square mile of property immediately west of Twelve Oaks Mall — was officially agreed upon last week.

Nine property owners including Progressive Tool and Industries (owners of the Novi Sheaton) and Ramco-Gershenson (owners of West Oaks shopping center) have agreed upon a plan to supply the eastern half of the section with public road improvements, drains and water service, possibly by late fall of this year.

A "technicality" prevented the council from approving the sale of special assessment bonds for city road, water and drainage improvements for the construction last Wednesday.

Novi Mayor Patricia Karevich said the bonding contract was not drawn up by the city bonding attorney, so council members will await the attorney's recommendation. The bonding issue will be on the Monday, June 2 agenda. The public improvements to roads and utilities will allow expansion of the existing commercial area in the central-city areas toward the west. City traffic engineers expect the roadwork will improve traffic flows to and from the city's regional commercial area in the Novi Road-I-96 area by dispersing traffic toward western entrances to the shopping areas such as West Oaks and the Novi Sheraton.

Development related to the construction may release the city from its obligation to pay for improvements to the I-96 ramps at Novi Road, and will permit the opening of the westbound ramp from Novi Road.

Novi High School luminaries: Salutatorian Scott Bushman and valedictorians Michele Wagner and Sanjay Gupta

Top students defy cliches

While the similarities among the three top students in Novi High School's senior class are evident, behind the perfect and nearly-perfect grade point averages are very diverse individuals.

Sharing valedictorian honors in the Class of '86 are Sanjay Gupta and Michele Wagner. Salutatorian is Scott Bushman.

Despite impeccable academic records, the high school careers of both Gupta and Wagner have included participation in athletics, extracurricular events and community activities.

Bushman, whose "B" in ninth grade typing is the only blemish on an otherwise flawless record, admits he's kept his nose in his books through much of his four-year tenure at the high school. However, he has closed his calculus text long enough to participate in the school's Ski Club, French Club and Science Club.

The three seniors will address members of the Class of '86 at commencement June 8. The words of wisdom each will offer

Candidates expound on election issues

Incumbents, challengers vie for three school board seats

ROBERT SCHRAM

The eight candidates in the Monday, June 9 annual school board election include three incumbents and five first-time challengers.

Incumbent Robert Schram is seeking reelection to his third four-year term. Sandra Thornton, a teacher and 10-year resident of Novi, is challenging Schram in his reelection bid.

Incumbent Raymond Byers, who was appointed last September following the resignation of former trustee Ronald Milam, is seeking election to the two-year post (the remainder of Milam's term).

"I feel the board needs a greater blend of insight in order to be balanced," she notes. "The board presently is heavily management weighted."

While praising the task force for its recommendation, Byers also notes the committee "showed the board where there were shortfalls in curriculum."

He also says he would like to see more attention focused on computerization and micro-processing in schools.

He says he believes the district will not form a study group to begin looking into building a new facility.

"Priority issues for the incumbent include addressing both future curriculum and enrollment needs."

"I think the task force did an outstanding job on redistricting," he notes. "It could have been a very volatile issue."

Thornton challenges Schram for four-year term

Robert Schram

When Robert Schram moved his family from Farmington to Novi in 1976, it was with some hesitation.

However, the challenges facing the district are a far cry from the issues of a decade ago.

"Novi is in a period of refinement education," Schram says, adding that the district will have to work toward maintaining its high level of achievement.

"We need to do more with computers" as well as prepare for the challenges of early teacher retirements.

Bullard sponsors 'grandparent' bill

State Representative Willis Bullard (Novi, Milford) announced last week he is co-sponsoring legislation requiring grandparents, when financially able, to support a grandchild born to an "unemancipated" parent.
The legislative package is titled "The Grandparent Responsibility Act," and includes six bills loosely patterned on a Wisconsin law which became effective last November.
The legislation would stipulate that paternal or maternal grandparents would be responsible in sharing the costs for an unemancipated parent's child. These costs would include health care (prenatal and postnatal as well as "birthing" costs), food, clothing, shelter, dental care, child care and possibly educational expenses. The financial support obligation, once determined by a circuit court order, would be limited to the emancipation of the parent. This usually occurs at 18 or can occur when a minor is emancipated due to financial independence, joining the armed forces or marrying prior to the age of 18.
"It is my hope that if and when this legislative package passes and financially able to support a grandchild born to an 'unemancipated' parent. 'More importantly,'" he continued, "I hope that teens with the support of their parents will postpone sexual involvement until they are ready and able to support offspring and will further realize that their sexual activity does not just affect them, but their parents and society as a whole."
Michigan recorded over 33,000 pregnancies in 1984 among girls 15-19, according to the most recent public health department statistics. There are several other states instituting legislative activity concerning grandparents supporting grandchildren; among these are Ohio, Pennsylvania, Florida, Minnesota and New York.

Parks booklet has lots on tap

Novi's 1986 summer recreation program brochure is out, and included inside is information on popular offerings from the past and an introduction to new programs as well.
Among the familiar events is the Camp Lakeshore Program. Recreation Supervisor Daniel Davis said this day camp is one of the most popular events in the program.
The camps for children between 6 and 12 years old. There are three three-week sessions with 40 participants in each one. The sessions are from 10 to 4 p.m. and are $60 for the three weeks.
Davis said the day camp will include nature, sports and water activities in addition to special guests. He said among the special guests are a mime, nutritionalist and a naturalist.
"It's a pretty well-rounded program and pretty well received by the kids," Davis said.
Once again the department is offering amusement parks tickets at a discount, Davis said. Among the parks available are Bob-Lo Island, Cedar Point, Detroit Zoo, Mackinaw Island and others.
The Junior Olympics June 28 is also popular. This year the olympics will be expanded with a training camp June 16 to 27 from 9 to 10:30 a.m. at Novi High School. The fee is $8. The practice sessions are designed to teach proper training methods for in each of the track and field events.
Other new programs are Walk Michigan and golf lessons for youth, Davis said.
The Walk Michigan program is sponsored by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan, the Michigan Recreation and Park Association and Nike shoes. Novi and Farmington Hills will sponsor a kick-off walk May 31. It will be a 9-mile walk along the I-75 pathway at 9 a.m., starting at the Novi Hilton, 8 Mile and Haggerty Roads.
Davis said the walk is promoting fitness and parks and recreation programs.
Both Novi residents and non-residents are eligible for the events, however non-residents will pay a 10 percent higher fee, Davis said.
Registration for events must be completed in person at the Novi Parks and Recreation Office, 4315 Sixth Gate, or through the mail. Registrations can not be made by phone.
For more information call the recreation hotline 349-3904 or the parks and recreation office 349-1976.

6 percent pay hike approved

Only one of the school district's five bargaining units has yet to negotiate a new contract settlement following the Novi Board of Education's unanimous approval Thursday of a two-year pact with its custodial workers.
The board's ratification of the master agreement with the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 547, AFL/CIO, marks the fourth agreement reached between the district and its five bargaining units before the July contract expiration date.
The new custodial contract includes a 6 percent salary increase for each year of the new agreement. The

The last thing you need now is a problem with your homeowners insurance. Home, sweet home. Sometimes it's difficult to keep it that way. And the problem with homeowner's insurance is you never know how good it is until the roof caves in. Then it can be too late. A Homeowners policy from Auto-Owners offers you replacement cost coverage on your home and personal property. Some homes qualify for optional Guaranteed Home Replacement cost coverage. And the great news is... this one encompassing policy may cost you less than the coverage you have now because Auto-Owners offers several discounts and rating advantages. There's no place like Auto-Owners when it comes to Homeowner's protection. Just ask your "no problems" agent!

THERE HAVE BEEN MORE EXPULSIONS from the Southfield Public Schools in the last four months than in the last 12 years, according to Harold Bussey, a school board member for the past 16 years.
Nine students were expelled at the May 6 school board meeting. Bussey said possession of weapons was involved in each incident that resulted in expulsion. "We have to ask ourselves, 'Why is this happening all of a sudden?'" said Bussey.
The Southfield Schools administration has asked the board to consider hiring a chief security officer when it adopts the 1986-87 budget. Bussey also called for more cooperation from the community and the Southfield Police Department to make it more difficult for students to acquire weapons.

RETAINING A SMALL COMMUNITY ATMOSPHERE is one of the goals identified by the Farmington Downtown Development Authority (DDA). The DDA was established by the Farmington City Council in response to concerns about the future of the downtown area.
Other goals listed by the Farmington DDA are 1) establishing a distinctive downtown image; 2) maintaining a retail and service mix; 3) increasing the number of downtown residents; and 4) encouraging other compatible land uses downtown — office, recreation and public facilities.

A copy of the proposed budget will be available at the Administrative Services Building on May 30, 1986.
The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and discuss the levy of an additional millage rate and the proposed School Budget for 1986-87. Portage's mayor also took Novi ideas back to Portage, Karevich said. Several Portage officials were taken on a tour of Novi's facilities the same day as Novi officials' tour of Portage.

Karevich noted Portage has open dumpsters while Novi encloses theirs. She said their mayor, Charles Marschke, was impressed with just sitting and waiting for a fire," she said.

Novi's fire department is run completely by on-call paid volunteers. Portage uses the volunteers also but does not rely solely on them.

Karevich said Portage has some creative architecture. She said Novi is trying to cultivate more creative architecture but Portage has a few buildings already. She said Portage has less development going on than Portage officials also requested copies of several of Novi's ordinances including the dog and cat restriction ordinance. She said unrestrained dogs and cats are a new problem in Portage.

She said most of Portage's city officials are paid while Novi depends primarily on volunteers. "They have very little of that. They were very much impressed," Karevich said.

Award-winning choir set for concert tomorrow

Novi residents who enjoy good choral music should make a point to stop by Novi High School's Fuerst Auditorium on Thursday, May 29, at 7 p.m. for the last district-wide vocal concert of the 1985-86 academic year.

Performing will be the Novi Woods and Novi Middle School South choirs in addition to three high school choral groups — the Women's Vocal Society, the Concert Choir and the Novi Singers.

Admission is free. "We'll be showcasing all the vocal groups in the school district," reported Paula Joyner, vocal music director for the Novi Schools. "The whole program will be popular music, and it should be a lot of fun for everyone who attends."

Joyner also reported that it's been an outstanding year for the various high school choirs and choral groups. Beginning with the District IV Solo and Ensemble Festival on February 1 and concluding with the State Choir Festival on May 1, students in the high school choral program have enjoyed an award-winning year.

Novi sent 10 soloists, three duets and two large ensembles to the District IV Solo and Ensemble Festival at Bloomfield Hills Andover High School on February 1. And the students earned eight first division (superior) and seven second division ratings.

Stephane LeBlanc, Tammy Jex, Mike Lunden, Amy Davies, Jennifer Connelly and Shannon Krause. Joyner was even more pleased with her students' performances at the District and State Choir Festivals.

The Concert Choir, Women's Choral and Women's Vocal Society participated in the district festival and accomplished a first in the history of Novi High School history. All three groups earned first division ratings in both performance and sight-reading to qualify for the State Choir Festival.

Joyner noted that only three high schools in the entire state managed to qualify three groups for the state festival.

The honors continued to pour in at the State Choir Festival at Jackson Community College on May 1. The Women's Vocal Society, a volunteer choir that meets one night a week, led the way by receiving a first division rating for what one of the judges called "a stunning performance."

As We See It

Laws of nature, laws of man

Novi Planning Commission Chairperson Ernest Aruffo was right on the beam last Wednesday when he called the public hearing on the city's new woodlands protection ordinance one of the most constructive hearings the city has ever conducted.

There are indeed problems with the new ordinance which might not have been brought to light without the hearing. The woodlands ordinance is expensive to the property owner with a small-scale need to cut trees. Engineers have pointed out there needs to be some give-and-take regarding standards for drainage of property since trees affect drainage. Concerns raised by registered foresters that the city's planning staff lacks adequate expertise for evaluating tree removal merit investigation.

On a larger philosophical ground, criticism that the ordinance is a burden on the reputable developer is quite correct. It's extremely unfair to require good developers to catalog go through a tough permit process because a few developers consider their ownership of property carte blanche to strip their land clear of trees.

Unfortunately, it's an injustice land developers brought on themselves because they do an inadequate job of policing their own profession. As planning commissioner Richard Clark eloquently pointed out, "For 200 years we let private interests dictate public policy. But with pollution, toxic

THAT'S SHOWBIZ: You know, someone said "All the world's a stage." I think it was Elvis Presley. Anyway, as far as newspapers are concerned, the King had it about right.

I've come to think the business of putting out a weekly newspaper is a bit theatrical. Every Wednesday's the performance. The news stories make up the plot, usually in the modern realism style, but sometimes farcical. Unfortunately.

The columns are little soliloquies. The teasers on the front page sort of an overture. The editorials are The Moral Of The Story. The letters are sort of the critics' reviews.

Sometimes we've got heavy drama. When we don't, we try to pull off a song and dance, and at least keep the audience entertained. Some weeks we don't have either. In showbiz, this is called a "bomb," or a "turkey."

One of the ugly things about these weekly plays is that they are not like the nightly news or a daily newspaper, or even a play. In those media, a turkey can be closed on opening night, forgotten by the next day, and a new one will come along. Here, these turkeys sit around and gobble for a whole week, waiting for the next Wednesday to make them obsolete.

When you've got a groaner or two, that week seems awfully long. Last week in The Novi News, there were two biggies (that we know of, anyway). First, Jon Dostal's responses to League of Women Voters questions of school board candidates were omitted during page production and the omission was not caught by yours truly. For another, Rick Smith's very nice front-page photograph was credited to our regular photographer, Jerry Zolynsky.

Well, today we ax the old turkey. Hopefully we'll be bofo this week.

AND NOW SOME LIGHT COMEDY: The sick Chernobyl nuke plant jokes are finally in. Try and stop me if you've heard 'em: What glows in the dark and flies? Chicken Kiev. What do you drink with Chicken Kiev? Black Russian. What's the five-day forecast for Chernobyl? Three days.

In other media, a turkey can be forgotten by the next day. On a weekly paper, a turkey sits around and gobbles for a whole week, waiting for the next Wednesday to make him obsolete.

Political bilge

City administrators' intent to appointing construction of the regional system.

Resources permit for construction of a sewage treatment plant is so fraught with political overtones, it elevates the messy subject of waste disposal to an importance city residents would be wise to consider.

The most significant political issue construction of such a plant raises is its impact on the city's future growth. Here's why:

If officials block efforts to build the plant, and if a regional sewage disposal system never materializes, the limited number of sewer taps (tie-ins) to the existing sewage disposal system will grind most types of development in the city to a halt within 2-5 years.

For present city residents, at first consideration, that prospect probably doesn't sound all that bad. The prospect is considerably less appealing, however, if one wants to build in Novi. That goes for the family who wants to build one house as well as for a multi-million dollar industry.

In addition, should commercial-industrial growth die at the same time as an influx of residential housing with private septic disposal, city residents' taxes will go up. More commercial-industrial development may be unpleasant to some, but doing without business contributions to the tax rolls (school and city services to residential development cost more than residential tax revenues generate) will be equally, if not more, unpleasant.

Add in the potential influx of groundwater contaminants from private septic tanks and the fact that reasonably-priced housing would disappear, and it's clear putting the brakes on any future sewage disposal plans is going to hurt a lot of people sooner or later.

So what's fair? What's really fair is construction of the regional treatment system which Detroit officials have short-sightedly blocked at every turn. Detroit's disposal systems are already too far past capacity to accommodate more suburban sewage, so contends what Detroit gains in op-

I ran into Diane Hofess at the Birmingham Art Fair a couple of Saturdays ago. I didn't recognize her — she was a bit dressed up in a flashy purple top with wrap-around sunglasses. Going incognito, maybe.

But she walked up to me and graciously introduced herself, sparing me the embarrassment of not recognizing one of Detroit's leading media personalities.

For those of you who don't know the name, Diane Hofess is the gossip columnist for The (Detroit) News. She's doing a good job, too, mixing it up with John and Marilyn, carrying on a little feud with Kirk Gibson. She's even been rumored to be dating Al Neuharth, the multi-millionaire media magnate who recently purchased The Evening News Association including The (Detroit) News. Diane denies it; Neuharth asks who Diane Hofess is.

But I remember Diane Hofess as the little (she's about five-feet tall and weighs 90-some pounds) girl who strolled into my office wearing blue jeans and a white blouse three years ago to ask for a job. Told me she was really terrific and the paper would be making a serious mistake by not giving her a job.

That was during the height of the recession, and we were trying to figure out how to get the job done with fewer people, not more. But you could tell Diane had it together. That she was bright, attractive, personable and aggressive. And was going to go places.

She didn't ask me if I had heard any media gossip, and I didn't ask her to plug The Novi News in her column. It was just nice seeing her again. Go get 'em, Diane. You've earned it, kid.

Remembered

Holiday spurs patriotic rebirth

Jean Day

Monday's Memorial Day tributes to those who have sacrificed for their country not only brought out veterans, scouts, bands and local officials in our communities of Northville and Novi but many more spectators than in years past. I have to believe, they symbolize a changed feeling that is nationwide. The observances were dignified, not long but impressive.

As I listened to thoughtful comments made in ceremonies in the small veterans' section of Rural Hill Cemetery in Northville I could not help but remember how concerned and, yes, angry I had been in other years when it was more popular to burn the flag, as Northville Mayor Paul Vernon pointed out, than to respect it and our country.

One of my earliest memories was the hushed respect we all had for Uncle Andy who had served overseas in World War I and could tell of experiences with mustard gas — encounters that took their toll physically the rest of his life. I also remember standing in a country cemetery north of Flint when the body of a friend was brought back to be buried with military honors. He was just 21. His widowed mother already had lost his twin.

Those of us with such vivid memories of sacrifices had a difficult time living through the Viet Nam era. We knew about the Blue Star Mothers and those who later changed the star in the window to gold. We knew this was not the total involvement that affected everyone, that put women into production lines when

Novi Master Plan's been cheapened

Letters

Your editorial analyzed the problem. Item 1 and Item II perfectly. Your overall comments concerning Westbrook Place were valid and to the point. I part with your logic when you try to weave the Westbrook plan into the fabric of the planning Master Plan. The Master Plan is not any longer worth the paper upon which it is written, both from a philosophical perspective and from a practical plan for land use for orderly and quality development. The rape of the Master Plan is one of the most flagrant violations of the doctrine of public trust that I have seen.

A good Master Plan provides the tools to enable a new growing city to ensure reasonable traffic control. It has been the policy of both the city administration and the city council to build, build, build and when traffic becomes intolerable it will force the county to do something about the county roads. Well, times have changed. There is no money for the city to bail the city out as a result of the city's irresponsible planning decisions. It is the homeowners who are going to pay, pay, pay, both in taxes and quality of life.

You think you have traffic problems. You ain't seen nothing yet. Just wait.

We are not opposed to a reasonable tree ordinance, but this one would be a disaster. It would cause more government involvement and create more bureaucracy, unnecessary expense and problems than it solves. You may spend a lot of money trying to save a mature tree only to have it die because you have changed its environment and it may cost $1,000 to take it down. Mature trees are like old men — tall and majestic; but they may be hollow inside. Small trees will grow like weeds when the sun gets to them.

May we invite you to drive down Meadowbrook Road north at Eight Mile road where a curb was built to save some old maples. Wouldn't it have been wiser to spend the money to plant some new ones? There is equipment available today to move existing trees that are desirable. Some are not, such as poplar, elm and poison sumac. Some large trees will not live if the protective cover is removed because the sun dries them out. They also are sensitive to grade changes which complicate the grading problems in a development.

If we are going to save large strands of mature trees, the only way to do it is to buy it, put a fence around it and call it a park. There are some places where this should be done if we can find a way to pay for it.

Four candidates on school views

ard Hills PTO and served as a member of the Projected School Growth Task Force/Needs Assessment Committee.

"I feel I can bring the same enthusiasm and concern to the school board that I have to other community projects," says the 10-year resident and mother of two.

Among the goals and objectives Konedo would like to see the board address in the coming years are future enrollment growth, communication between the school board and community and maintaining the current program.

"I think we have to become an anticipatory educational system," Konedo says. "We have one of the finest administrative and teaching staffs in the state. With that in mind we have to continue to support our teachers to stay ahead of the kids through in-service training."

"Another thing I'd like to see is a holistic approach — where we teach the whole child," she says. "I'd also like to see vocational training involving the business community."

Though the district is holding tight to its revenues from the sale of Old Novi Elementary (in anticipation that those dollars might be used to build a new school), Konedo says she "is delighted the board's declared a starting point for the renovation of Orchard Hills."

Konedo notes that while she does not see any major flaws in the school board's communication with the community, she says she would like to see more public participation at the board level.

"It's disappointing that the only time you hear from someone is when there is a problem," she notes.

Konedo is employed in the information processing/telecommunications area at Stanley Door Systems in Troy. As chairperson of the Community Education Advisory Council, she has implemented projects such as "Safety Town," "Child Identification" and the "Needs Assessment Survey." She is past vice president of the Novi Jaycee Auxiliary and a member of the Woodlands Committee. She lives at 23555 High Meadow with her husband and two children.

Dostal's remarks missed last week

Jon Dostal's responses to League of Women voters questions submitted to Novi School Board candidates, were omitted from publication last week due to a production error.

Here are Dostal's answers printed in their entirety, along with the original questions.

Why are you a candidate for a term on the Novi School Board?

As an appointed member of the Novi School Redistricting Committee, I realized that in the next few years the Novi School District will have many important decisions to make as to what direction our educational system will take. In addition, I would like to participate and be directly involved with the implementation of projects, development of school facilities, and I would also like to see a standing committee formed to assess future needs or requirements of the school system.

Describe any specific educational goals you would work to have adopted by the Novi School Board.

1. Communication is education, board.

In your view, what are the strengths and/or weaknesses of the Novi Community School District?

The strengths are well known: staff and school awards, state and local test scores show high achievement — by students, excellent curricula that are presently being implemented in stages, influx of homeowners and students because of our educational reputation, the number of citizens willing to volunteer for boards or committees and to work in our schools as needed.

As far as weaknesses are concerned, I do not see any single major problem. One area that could be enhanced is the use of more citizen task forces on major decision making projects under advisement to the school board.

Opening day

Coleman Young gets the call when the Detroit Tigers open another season. But when play begins in the Novi Youth Baseball League the responsibility for throwing out the ceremonial first pitch goes to Mayor Patricia Kerevich. The Novi mayor showed up with glove-on-hand to handle "first pitch" duties when the Novi Youth Baseball League opened play in its 1986 opener May 18. For the record, Kerevich has a mean fastball and sufficient control of her pitches to miss The News photographer kneeling precariously on the ground between the mound and the plate.

We don't care if you paint your hair blue, rip the sleeves off your shirt or pierce your ear.

But don't smoke just to be like your friends. Or to be different from your friends.

Or to be anything at all. Because with everything we know about cigarettes today there's only one thing you'll do if you start smoking now. And that's sorry. Sorry you can't get up in the morning without coughing your lungs out. Sorry you can't climb a single flight of stairs without getting winded. Sorry that every time you light one up, your risk of heart disease goes up. If you're already a smoker, take some time to stop and think it all the way through. Right now, it's your decision in the long run, it's your life.

Don't just have a garage sale. Take your time to plan it out for maximum exposure and results. We at Sliger-Livingston Publications can help. Here's some tips for a successful garage sale:

- Place your garage sale with The Green Sheet classified section to reach thousands of households in Northville, Novi, South Lyon, Milford, Brighton and Livingston County. To avoid busy phones or long lines, use the form here and mail it or drop it off with your payment. We have offices in Northville, Milford, South Lyon, Brighton and Howell.
- When you place your ad with us, don't forget to pick up your free Garage Sale kit. It includes two sale signs, two directional arrows, a garage sale ledger and helpful tips for a successful sale. You must pick up the kit at one of our local offices during regular business hours.
- If you know any neighbors interested in selling, have a sale together. The more items available for sale, the greater the incentive for customers. Make sure you mark the items according to the seller.
- Be sure all your merchandise is clean and neat. A dusty old item will not sell as well as a clean old item.
- Display your merchandise in an interesting manner. For example, sort nails and screws by size and use colorful jars or cans for display.
- Separate items by category and make signs to hang over each category.
- Sort clothing and mark with size tickets.
- Place your merchandise where it can be easily seen. A few items on the lawn can serve as attention-grabbers.
- Group under-a-dollar items in one area. People will often spend more on several small items than on one big-ticket item.
- Have plenty of small change on hand for customers paying with large bills.
- Number each item in the sale and write it on your ledger. Record all transactions and cross off items when they are sold.
- Offer free coffee, iced tea or other refreshments. Your hospitality may make people more inclined to buy.
- Be prepared toicker about the price of any item. Selling at a reduced price is better than not selling at all.
- Have paper bags, boxes and newspapers on hand for packing items when they are sold.
- Don't forget the children. They love small, inexpensive items.
- If you have several items left on the last day of your sale, group them together and offer them as a single package with an attractive price.

Give a foreign student a good home

Two organizations are looking for host families which might be interested in hosting foreign exchange students in the months ahead.

Youth For Understanding, one of the largest non-profit, international high school student exchange programs, is looking for American families to host international students from 26 countries for either six months or a full year.

Nacel Cultural Exchanges, a non-profit organization listed with the National Association of Secondary Principals, is looking for families which will host a teenage exchange student from France or Spain for four weeks of a full year.

Both organizations also offer reciprocal programs which permit American youngsters to live with a family in a foreign country.

Host families in the Youth For Understanding (YFU) program provide room and board to the student as well as the same guidance and love the United States and has growing programs in Spain and Germany.

Julian and Evelyn Prince of West Bloomfield are Michigan coordinators of the Nacel program. Families don't have to speak French or Spanish as exchange students are required to have studied English for four to eight years. The national parents supply their children with pocket money and pay for transportation and insurance.

Nacel also offers a reciprocal program which gives American teenagers with at least two years of foreign language study the chance to spend four weeks during the summer with a European family.

For more information about the Nacel program call the Princes at 628-6641 or write them at 3452 Buckingham Trail, West Bloomfield, Michigan 48003.

Wildcat trackers shine at final KVC meet

Girls grab two titles, 5th place

Now that the Novi girls' track team knows how to compete, the rest of the Kensington Valley Conference is finding out the hard way that the Wildcats aren't a team to be taken lightly.

At the KVC league meet on May 20, Novi scored 64 points and placed fifth. The point total is more than the team has scored in its last three KVC meets combined.

"It was a real success," Coach Chris Ceresa said. "We have good athletes and now everybody else is finding what kind of a team we can be."

In the four years Ceresa has coached the Wildcats, the highest individual finish by one of his players was third at the KVC meet — that is until last week. Tammy Onofrey and Amy Rogers each placed first in a pair of events for grand individual league titles.

Onofrey, who just missed qualifying for the state meet in the half mile, pulled off a measure of revenge by winning the 800-yard run with a time of 2:30.3. In the process, she beat out three runners from Brighton, Howell and Milford who are state qualifiers.

"It doesn't make up for not being able to go to state, but it was a small way of showing everybody that she belongs here," Ceresa said.

Rogers, who has qualified for the state meet in the long jump, took first in the event with a jump of 15'8 3/4" in spite of the wet conditions. Like Onofrey, Rogers is a runner and an underclassman who will be back on the team next season.

Kelli O'Neill provided the team with a lot of inspiration with her effort in the shot put. After placing second overall in the discus (63'7"), O'Neill sprained an ankle while warming up for the shot. Ceresa immediately put ice on the ankle but it swelled and continued to be very painful.

Despite the pain, O'Neill told Ceresa she'd like to compete anyway and the ankle was taped. The swelling was so great, O'Neill's shoe wouldn't fit unless her sock was removed, but she went out and threw the shot put anyway. In an exhibition of great desire and courage, O'Neill placed third with a throw of 30'4".

"The injury probably cost her second place but it really emphasized the day for us," Ceresa said. "It ran the best spirit of her life and takes a special kid to do something placed third in the 100-yard dash like that."

The mile relay team of Becky Probst, Denal D'Ambrosio, Yodzvics and Onofrey finished in a time of 4:28.00, seventh at the KVC and she was

Schram, 4x880 unit pace boys

Sophomore high jumper Brian Schram was Novi's only top six-ranked performer heading into the Kensington Valley Conference track championships on May 20.

Schram lived up to his ranking by placing second overall in the event, but a few other Wildcats rose to the occasion on a wet and rainy day to place high enough to score some points (top six) and surpass even Coach Bob Smith's expectations.

Novi scored 17 points. That's about six more points than Smith expected — and yet the Wildcats failed to pull themselves out of the KVC basement again this year.

"We found points where we weren't expected to score," Smith said. "Since we weren't in the hunt for the league title, we had the luxury of juggling people into specialized spots where they could perform the best. Unfortunately, the weather didn't cooperate."

The wet track slowed times and caused trouble for everybody, fouling up Smith's plans for a bunch of personal-best times and maybe even a school record or two.

As expected, Lakeland scored 185 points in another routine KVC championship. Milford was second (114), followed by Brighton (72), Howell (56), South Lyon (54), Hartland (29) and Novi (17).

Schram had been ranked second in the high jump behind Milford's Steve Pitcher, and that's how it ended. With nobody else even close to the six-foot mark, Schram and Pitcher went head to head after everyone else was eliminated. Schram cleared the 6'0" mark without a miss but failed three times at 6'1". Pitcher then made it over at 6'1" to grab the league title.

"(Schram) is a gamer and it scares me," Smith admitted. "He doesn't do very well in practice but always seems to rise to the occasion in the big meets."

Pitcher's effort wasn't even close to the KVC meet record set by Novi's Paul Mootie in 1984 (6'7"). Ironically, Mootie's best jump as a sophomore was 5'9" putting Schram (who has cleared 6'2" several times) way ahead at a comparative stage.

Joel Finzel helped Novi place 6th in the 400-meter relay determined not to let it happen this time," Ceresa explained.

It was a meet of surprises. Milford took first-place honors with 185 points, followed by South Lyon (75), Brighton and Howell (74), Novi (64), Hartland (27) and Lakeland (26). Howell, the lead for third, didn't event win a KVC dual meet all year and last-place Lakeland was 3-3.

McKillop and Tom Marcus moved up with a pair of sixths in the 400-yard relay (46.92) and the 800 (1:36.7). Other than the high jump, the Novi field events didn't fare very well — except for Matt Stahr. He placed sixth in the discus with a throw of 122'4" despite the wet conditions.

In addition, the four-man group of Joel Finzel, Mike Jenkins, Larry registered by Jenkins who didn't score a point, but did qualify for the finals of the 100-yard dash. His 10.51 placed seventh, just a hair out of the points.

"It is the first time a Novi runner has made it to the finals of the 100 since '76," Smith said. "I think the best here was in 1977."

The Wildcats' two mile relay team was ranked last heading in, but moved up a few places in the final and placed fifth. The team of Mark Schneider, Mike Starns, Mike Dillon and Paul Sumner grabbed two unexpected points with a time of 8:41.86.

In addition, the four-man group of McKillop, Mike Jenkins, Larry registered by Jenkins who didn't score a point, but did qualify for the finals of the 100-yard dash. His 10.51 placed seventh, just a hair out of the points.

"It is the first time a Novi runner has made it to the finals of the 100 since '76," Smith said. "I think the best here was in 1977."

Novinine bumps Brighton 4-3 in districts

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN staff writer

It's payback time.

It's a chance to come back a second time and get the last laugh. It doesn't happen very often in high school sports. But the Novi baseball third strike. Walks, errors, blood squad has that chance right now — singles and the like plagued Novi's and so far they've made the most of the opportunity.

With the Kensington Valley Conference over, the Wildcats get their chance to prove something to some of the league teams in district.

"Jeff didn't have his good stuff to action of the state tournament. Six of day, but even then he's outstanding seven KVC squads ended up in the ding," Frantz said. "The kid has same district and that means it's really going up. If it was last year, payback time. The second season is the probably would have paved in, but here and the Wildcats have the ideal he did exactly what he had to do."

"This curve wasn't getting over the for the summer — and the first vic-plate and down the stretch, all he threw was fastballs. It was like he 21 games heading into the second round district clash with Novi on May 15. In Novi's second inning, and the 23. But the Wildcats, behind the pit-game scores, Yankowski singled ching of Jeff Tanderys, slipped by and advanced to second on a passed Brighton 4-3 in a classic confrontation. Andy Trombly ripped a single to tion to advance to the district's final four. For the Bulldogs, the '86 season right field scoring Yankowski and is over.

"He's, Brighton is a darn good Brighton tied it up in his half of team," Novi Coach Gar Frantz said, the third but Novi bounced back with "We feel fortunate to win but we three more in the bottom of the inn- worked hard and made the big plays ing to go up 4-1. Consecutive walks to when we had to."

And big plays were numerous for RBI hit by Tanderys and then KVC). Like Bill Yankowski's third, two-run single in the sixth, or Jeff Tanderys' 14 off Tanderys to make it 4-3. In the strikeouts — the biggest one with two bottom of the inning, Yankowski and two men in scoring position slapped his third hit of the game to in the seventh.

"You strike out 14 Brighton kids first while watching to see if the ball and you're doing something," Frantz cleared the fence. When it didn't, a said of Tanderys. "I'm sure the Brighton players are glad they won't have to face (Tanderys) again until next season."

In seven innings of work, Tanderys allowed three runs, six hits and four walks. But he always seemed to get to save a certain run-purged blood single.

"Steve's been doing things like that for us all year long," Frantz said.

"He's in a class by himself."

An infield hit followed to put Novi in a bind with runners on first and third and only one out. Frantz then pulled the infield in and Shankel responded by fielding a sharply hit grounder and firing to catcher Matt Kamish who made the putout at the plate. The runners advanced to second and third with two outs on the and Tanderys reared back to battle one last batter.

After fouling off four straight pitches, Tanderys blew it by the batter with the game.

With the win, the Wildcats will take on the Howell-Lakeland winner Saturday at Howell and get another chance to eliminate yet another KVC opponent.

Novi pitching staff needs help

The problem: the Wildcats didn't play up to that that day. It wasn't a case of just plain getting beat. No, it was a lack of effort, a lack of motivation and a lack of concentration. It was a team with less talented players seemingly wanting to win the game a whole lot more.

"It was the day before the pro," Frantz said. "I should have seen a little light turn on in my head telling me, 'Hey, these kids aren't ready to play today.' But I didn't."

It's not an excuse. We were beaten soundly, but I believe that the kids' minds were somewhere else besides baseball. And that's my fault — I am the one that has to get them to concentrate on one team and not take anything for granted."

The result was simply a monumental mistake regardless of blame. Take the two losses that day and make them wins and the Wildcats are in the thick of the title race. In other league games, Novi split doubleheaders with the KVC elite — Lakeland, Howell and Brighton — an swept Milford.

But maybe too much emphasis is being placed on the losses to Hartland. Hitting deficiencies in the defeats against Lakeland, Brighton and Howell were just as much to blame.

"We get behind a lot in the early going and then I have to be more conservative," Frantz explained. "Instead of stealing and taking chances, we have to sacrifice and play it safe when were behind and I think that has really limited our offensive potential."

Neil Geoghegan

Heading into that fatelul May 9 doubleheader with the Eagles, Novi was just a half-game behind first-place Lakeland with a 4-2 record. But consecutive 11-5 and 7-3 defeats all but ruined the entire season and Coach Gar Frantz saw it.

Instead of a 6-2 mark, the Wildcats fell to the middle of the pack at 4-4 while Lakeland, Howell and Brighton — the other contenders at the time — wondered how they could be so lucky. Without so much as lifting a finger, perhaps the KVC's most talented and dangerous team was out of the race.

"I keep thinking about that game," Frantz admits. "When we blew the doubleheader with Hartland, we blew our chances for the league title... that Hartland loss eats at me bad."

Frantz doesn't want to dwell on just one series but admits it is hard to dismiss such a loss. It was clearly a doubleheader Novi should have won had the Wildcats played up to potential.

Wildcat netters build for future

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN staff writer

It was a season of twists and turns of fate for the Novi tennis squad in 1986, but Coach Jim Newbold is hoping that some of the adversity will prove beneficial in the long run.

"I guess you would say it was a rebuilding year," he pointed out. "We had quite a few kids who never played on the team before and some of their overall records are kind of disastrous. But we did see some good signs and did get some valuable playing experience — I just hope it pays off next year."

Newbold: 'I guess you would say it was a rebuilding year. But we did see some good signs and did get some valuable playing experience — I just hope it pays off next year.'

The Wildcats wrapped up the campaign with an overall record of 5-9, but a costly injury to third singles player Craig Cottam signaled the beginning of a late-season slump. After winning two of the first four dual meets, the netters got into a rut, lost Cottam and proceeded to drop seven of the final 10 meets.

"Losing Cottam for three weeks really did cause some trouble," Newbold said. "It disrupted our lineup. We were to a point prior to that where we were happy with a few of the combinations in doubles and then after he got hurt, it messed all that up."

The back problem sent shivers of pain down Cottam's back, particularly when serving. And as a left-hander, Cottam's slicing serve was a major weapon in his serve and volley game. In limited play, Cottam had an overall record of 4-2.

"He got to a point where he said to me, 'I can't play because I can't serve,'" Newbold reported. "He likes to play and likes to win and kept bugging me to get back in the line-up and once I did let him, we both found out it was too early."

The emergence of senior Karl Gunderson was one of the bright spots for Newbold. Gunderson, overall record 7-7, had never played on the varsity before, but somehow managed to get by on hustle and desire, rather than pure tennis talent.

"Karl had one of the better overall records on the team and he always showed good hustle," Newbold admitted. "He would get upset when he lost because he is such a competitor — he just wouldn't let points go by."

"He often played like a first-year player, because he was one. But he always seemed to make up for it in hustle."

Another costly loss to graduation for next year will be Mark Boksha. After a week or two as the No. 2 singles player, Boksha moved into the No. 1 slot after Eric Polinski had all sorts of trouble from the outset. Boksha continued all the way through the season, taking on every team's toughest and most talented players and came out of it with a 7-7 record and his head held high.

"I think Boksha reached a level of play that he can live with," Newbold said. "He took it on the chin sometimes but was always in his matches and always played pretty good tennis."

In the meantime, Polinski suffered through a lackluster season. Even after the move down to No. 2, Polinski had a rough time with his game.

Newbold has said all along that the junior has the best tennis skills on the team, but never could quite get out of the rut.

"I'm not sure what happened to him but if he works hard in the off-season, he could bounce back next year and turn it all around," Newbold predicted.

Darrell Beyer, Eric Cupp (7-5 record) and Rob Dodds are three more seniors who will be lost, and on three played key roles in doubles play. But Newbold is hoping youngsters like Bill Benton, Tom Wigley, Matt Boksha and Ben Krpichak, with another year of experience, can fill the gaps at doubles.

Dave Cho started the year in No. 1 doubles but moved up to singles occasionally with the injury to Cottam and performed well. Newbold says he plans to use Cho in singles next year, an incident the senior-to-be can handle it.

"His another hustler like Gunderson," he pointed out. "He proved to me he can hit the ball well and play singles."

Newbold isn't looking anyone. He knows that the Wildcats are still a notch below the talent of a team like Milford, the KVC champs — but he also knows that his kids can play and that the effort is always there.

"We may not be in contention but we have kids who can play," he said. "They have to go out and work at it this summer and it will pay off next season."

Junior Dave Cho will play singles in '87 for the Wildcat tennis squad

Wildcats of the Week

STEVE SHANKEL

Steve Shankel has been doing it all for the Novi baseball team this season. In a district win over Brighton, Shankel made key defensive plays twice in the last two innings to almost single handedly end several Bulldog rallies and preserve a close 4-3 win.

"He's been doing it for us all year," Wildcat Coach Gar Frantz said. "He wants to play football next year in college but a lot of schools would love to have him on their baseball team. He is in a class by himself."

Shankel has also been doing the job at the plate in '86. His 372 batting average and .492 on-base percentage is second on the team. He has smacked a homer and 10 RBI in 51 at-bats and has committed just three errors all year long in the field.

Shankel was a star on the Novi football team in the fall, the basketball team in the winter and now his specialty is baseball. For all his great plays and efforts, Shankel has been named a "Wildcat of the Week" this week.

TAMMY ONOFREY

A judge's error may have cost Tammy Onofrey a chance to compete in the state track meet, but the sophomore star proved to everybody in the KVC that she belongs with the rest of the state's finest half-milers.

Onofrey placed first in the event at the KVC meet May 21, beating out three runners who are state qualifiers, to notch a league title. Her winning time in the 800-meter run was 2:30.

"The track was real wet but everybody had to run on it," Novi Coach Chris Ceresa said. "Tammy went out and outperformed the rest of the field."

In addition to the first place, Onofrey was a member of the Wildcat mile relay group (with Becky Probst, Denal D'Ambrosio and Kristi Yodzvics) that came in third overall with a time of 4:28.

These outstanding efforts by Onofrey helped lead Novi to a fifth place finish with 64 points and notch a "Wildcat of the Week" honor as well.

Sport Lines

LEO KINSELLA, along with four other former athletes at Minot State College in Minot, North Dakota, has been selected by the college's Athletic Hall of Fame for induction this year.

Kinselfa, a Novi resident; Ted Keek of San Marcos, Texas; Jim Linke of Lansford, North Dakota; and Doyle Radke and John Thompson, both of Minot, will be inducted this fall.

Kinselfa wrestled for MSC from 1964 to 1967 and posted the school's best record of the 1960s with 61 wins and 13 losses. In his four years, Kinselfa won the conference title twice, placed second one year and third another. He also placed fourth and fifth in the national wrestling championships.

While wrestling for MSC, Kinselfa led the Beavers to conference titles in 1965, 1966 and 1967 and was named outstanding conference wrestler and captained the team in his senior season.

Kickers end big year

Years from now, the 1986 season will probably be looked back upon as the pivotal year of development for the Novi girls' soccer program.

For the first time in the team's three-year history, the Wildcats won a game — five, in fact. For the first time they placed higher than last in the Expressway League. Plain and simply, the team learned how to win.

"Human nature is such that if you don't believe in yourself or your team, it's the most destructive kind of thinking to a team," Coach Nick Valenti said. "But once you start to win, you start to believe in yourself and that's what happened this year."

Novi ended the season with a 5-7 overall mark — a vast improvement over 0-13. A 3-6 record in the Expressway League placed the team 11th overall (out of 14 teams) and sixth in the Western Division (out of eight). No matter how Valenti looks at the year, he can't help but beam with pride.

"This was a team that went out and grabbed whatever they could get," he said. "We never predicted or expected anything, we just tried to learn and teach the game."

"The girls never gave up and should be very proud of what they accomplished — I couldn't be happier."

According to Valenti, after just a week of pre-season practice, he knew that scoring goals wouldn't be a major problem for the team like it has been in the past. With talented offensive youngsters like Nichole Parmaley, Stephanie Groom and Margaret O'Kopney, Valenti was confident that they could be contributors despite their youth.

"In past years, we couldn't score so whenever we got behind it was very difficult for us to catch up," Valenti pointed out. "But this season, we could score and many times we came from behind and that is one of the most rewarding things."

Parmaley, a sophomore, paced the team's attack with 11 goals in 12 games and added four assists. Groom, just a freshman, was next with eight goals and junior midfielder O'Kopney was tied for third with four.

With the bulk of the scoring attack returning next year, Valenti will turn most of his efforts to the defense. The only goalie the Wildcats' have ever had, Erin Barry, will be lost to graduation and the stabilizing force in the defense, Annie Hwang, will also be gone.

"We have got to find a goalie for next year," Valenti said. "We're looking but we're going in at ground zero."

"Defense is a priority because it is so important. Defenders don't get much publicity but someone like Annie Hwang was really the backbone of our team. She was always in the right position and was a hard worker. I'd say she was our most underrated player."

Although Valenti feels that the program has turned the corner, a steady influx of experienced young players is always needed the strengthen the program even more.

"If we keep getting the young and experienced players, we can be competitive," he said. "As a community, Novi is still thin in the feeder programs. We have only one 14-and-under girls travel team but a place like Northville has four or five."

"In a way, it's a numbers game and it makes all the difference in the world."

Softball: long wait

There is nothing like an almost two-week hiatus just before the end of a season to take all the momentum out of a team.

And for the Novi softball team, there wasn't really any momentum to begin with. But the Wildcats must still wait out the long lay over anyway before taking on South Lyon in two games May 27 and 28 (after News' deadline) to wrap up the season.

Novi (5-14 overall, 3-7 in KVC) is riding a seven-game losing streak and has already been knocked out of the state tournament.

The Wildcats' May 20 doubleheader with South Lyon was postponed until this week due to poor weather. Then the season finale — a May 21 date with Clarenceville — was cancelled entirely.
