Novi's Cubberly victim of armed robbery attempt

Well-known television personality and Novi resident Gary Cubberly was the victim of an armed robbery attempt as he was walking his dog near his home in the Village Oaks subdivision late Sunday night.

Three suspects were apprehended by Farmington Hills police shortly after the incident occurred and were arraigned on charges before Judge Martin Boyle in the 52nd District Court in Walled Lake

Monday afternoon.

Facing charges of "assault with intent to rob while armed" are Gary Bernard Waters, 19, of Detroit; Christopher Bernard Turner, 19, of Detroit; and Cleatha Woods, 21, also of Detroit.

An additional charge of "possession of a fire arm in the commission of a felony" was lodged against Woods, who is alleged to have held a gun on Cubberly.

Judge Boyle set a $35,000 cash surety bond with no 10 percent permitted on Woods. Bond for Waters and Turner was set at $20,000 each with 10 percent permitted.

All three suspects remain lodged in the Oakland County Jail, according to Novi police. Preliminary examination before 52nd District Court Judge Michael Batchik is scheduled for Feb. 13 at 8:30 a.m. Cubberly told police he was walking his dog on the south side of Village Oaks Drive, west of Cranbrook, at approximately 11:50 p.m. Sunday when he saw a vehicle approach westbound with its parking lights and high beams on.

Because he was concerned with his dog, Cubberly said he did not pay any attention until the vehicle stopped next to him. As he turned toward the car, he observed a black male in the front passenger-side seat pointing what appeared to be a small-calibre, semi-automatic, silver-plated pistol at him, according to reports.

Cubberly told investigating officers that the suspect said, "Stay there. I want your money."

When the man stepped out of the vehicle, Cubberly observed that the interior lights did not come on but said he was able to see two other black males in the car — one in the driver's seat and the second in the rear seat behind the drive.

Cubberly said he told the man that he did not have any valuables with him as he was merely out walking his dog. The man with the gun, later alleged to be Woods, conducted a "pat search" and discovered that Cubberly was telling the truth.

Board seeks input on school proposal

By MICHELE M. FECHT
staff writer

Novi residents may be asked to support a bond issue this spring for construction of a new K-4 elementary school should the board of education approve an administrative recommendation to build an additional facility.

Construction of a new elementary is one of two alternatives the school board is considering for handling the district's projected enrollment increase. The other option is adding classrooms to the existing elementary facilities.

The board will hold a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 12 in the cafeteria of Novi Upper Elementary School to receive community input regarding the two proposals.

At a special study session last Wednesday, the board reviewed alternatives cited by a citizens' task force for dealing with the district's swelling enrollment.

The task force, charged with compiling data on school enrollment, building capacity, etc., presented its findings to the school board in December. While the committee was not asked to recommend how the district should deal with its growing enrollment, alternatives

Barr: 'In the last two years, there has been more single family housing bought and occupied than in the last seven to eight years' were cited in the report.

At the first of two study sessions last month, the school board ruled out only one of the six alternatives proposed by the task force. Last Wednesday, the board narrowed its options to two.

Board members agreed that the present grade structure should be retained, which ruled out three of the remaining alternatives. The board approved a motion to keep the grade alignment at K-4, 5-6, 7-8 and 9-12.

"I think it's important to look at the direction the school district is going in during the next couple of years and long term as well," Superintendent Robert Piwko told the board in presenting the administration's recommendation to construct a new school.

The building proposed by the administration would house approximately 500 students in 18 classrooms. Cost is estimated at $5 million. In addition to the new facility, the administration proposed converting the south wing of Novi Upper Elementary to house additional classrooms and to build a new maintenance facility. Total cost of the three projects was estimated at $6 million.

The administration proposed constructing the new building on the district's Taft Road property just west of the bus garage.

Other considerations for location included purchasing property west of Taft Road or possibly purchasing acreage on another site.

Council finalists: Johnson, Toth, Shulman, Balagna

By ANNE E. WILLIS
staff writer

On Friday, Jan. 30, at 4:30 p.m. there were 11 applicants for the seat on the Novi City Council created by the resignation of Arlen Schroeder.

By Monday, Feb. 2, at 9 p.m., city council had pared those names down to the four it will interview tomorrow, Feb. 5.

Joseph Toth, Judith Johnson, Joela Shulman and John Balagna are the four finalists.

Meeting in a special session last Monday night, the council decided on a 4-2 vote that each council member would submit four names from the original 11 applicants with the top four vote-getters being granted interviews for the appointment.

Council Member Nancy Covert objected strenuously to the decision not to interview all 11 candidates, calling it "the biggest impasse since I've been elected to the city council."

"I don't like being dictated to," Covert told the council. "Sometimes it is very difficult to go along with the majority, and tonight it is particularly difficult."

"I'm thinking of the individuals who took the time to apply. They're hopefuls. Maybe we can learn something from each person. I am leery of making a first cut like this. I might miss something. I would like to give each person their time," she added.

The proposal to limit the number of interviews was made by Council Member Hugh Crawford and seconded by Council Member Martha Hoyer.

Council Member Edward Leininger said, "Our original intent was to advertise to find the largest group of interested people. Then we pare it down to a reasonable number. I don't feel that I would interview all 11 people. That is why you have applications... to get it to a workable number that we should interview. Some are more qualified than others."

Mayor Patricia Karevich told Covert she appreciated her feelings on the proposal to limit the number of interviews to four, but felt it was important to interview all the candidates in the same evening.

"The interview process has to be long enough to get a good interview. Forty-five minutes is a fair length of time, knowing the questions we propose to ask."

Hoyer agreed: "We need to do justice to the nine-and-a-half month term of office. We need someone who can immediately pick up the issues. It is far better to devote 45 minutes to four people than to devote 15 minutes to 11."

Doug and Kathi Erwin cherish the memory of their son Chris

Novi News/CHRIS BOYD

Make a wish Fund-raiser slated to say thanks

By PAMELA DUNDAS
special writer

Most of Doug and Kathi Erwin's memories of the past 17 months are painful and frustrating.

But because of the help of the Make A Wish Foundation of Michigan, they also have some wonderful, happy memories of their son Christopher, who was nine years old when he died of cancer last November.

And they are trying to turn their gratitude for those happy memories into positive action by hosting a Valentine's Day fund-raiser for the Foundation at the family-owned Erwin's Farms on Novi Road.

"A year ago last August, Chris was a normal, healthy, happy little boy," said Erwin, whose grandfather opened Erwin's Farms on Ten Mile and Novi Road in the 1920s as an outlet for produce from the family farm.

"Chris loved the outdoors, and helped his mom in her garden, and knew almost as much about the farm tractor as a mechanic. He liked to help in the store, too — especially after I stopped farming."

"The customers got to know him and liked him. He really enjoyed stacking the green peppers and sweet corn."

In September 1985, Christopher was diagnosed as having Wilm's

Tumor, a supposedly slow to metastasize kidney tumor usually found in children under the age of five years. Surgery was performed, but complications arose, and Chris didn't start school until December. He attended New Hudson Elementary School until April of 1986 when a routine x-ray found more cancer and a cat scan showed the disease had spread throughout his body. He was given two to four months to live.

"Chris had always loved the ocean — knew more about sharks than a TV documentary we saw once," his mother recalled. "He had always wanted to see Disneyland and Sea World and the whales. Doug's parents were trying to figure a way to get him to California, and then a friend found out about the Make A Wish Foundation for us."

The Make A Wish Foundation of Michigan, based in Traverse City and headed by Northville native Larry Angove, exists to grant the wishes of terminally and critically ill children under the age of 18.

The Foundation is administered almost entirely by volunteers, so that collected funds can go directly toward the costs of granting the wishes. The wishes can be as simple as one little girl's desire for a kitten or a boy's need for a computer or as full as Chris's wish to see the ocean.

There are no restrictions as to race, religion or financial status. The only criteria are that the wish truly be the child's, that the wish be grantable and that the child be truly suffering from a life-threatening disease.

"Larry (Angove) was so wonderful about it all," Kathi recalled. "We contacted him, and he said we met the criteria. When we explained we were working with a time limit, he said to let the paper work wait, just go and be sure Chris had a good time."

Christopher, his parents, his sister Jenny and brother Scott, and his paternal grandparents were flown to California, given lodging and — largely through coordinated effort with the San Diego chapter of the Foundation — were given entrance passes to Disneyland, Sea World and the San Diego Zoo.

Everywhere they went, doors were opened to them, and the mention of Chris' name brought special kindnesses. Chris and his family were also given a harbor cruise and allowed to tour a guided missile frigate. Although it was the wrong time of year for whales, Chris was content to play for hours in the ocean waves. The entire family was able to have a really happy vacation together.

Countdown—Four in running for council seat

JOHN BALAGNA

A Novi resident for 16 years, John Balagna lives on Park Ridge Road in the Meadowbrook Glens subdivision. He is employed by Price Brothers Company in Novi.

JUDITH JOHNSON

A Novi resident for nine years, Judith Johnson lives on Cherry Hill in the Meadowbrook Glens subdivision. She is vice chairman of the Novi Planning Commission.

JOELLA SHULMAN

A Novi resident for 13 years, Joella B. Shulman lives in the Country Place Condominiums and is employed by the Detroit Public Schools on a part-time basis.

JOSEPH TOTH

A Novi resident for 17 years, Joseph Toth resides on Chestnut Tree Way in the Village Oaks subdivision. He is employed by Williams International in Walled Lake. He is a past winner of the Novi Jaycees' Distinguished Service Award.

"I have been a resident of the City of Novi since 1971 and in that period of time I have seen Novi grow from a population of 4,000 to current. I am pleased with the way Novi has developed. I want to be part of the decision-making process that will continue to set the tone for the future characteristics of Novi.

"I want to continue to promote a positive and pleasant image of our community, both in the manner in which we are perceived and the way we are seen. I am extremely pleased with our low profile community and I want to insure it remains such.

"Our city needs leaders who can think clearly, study the issues, listen to the residents and make factual and objective decisions. I have this ability and want to share it with all our residents.

"I currently live, raise my family and work in Novi and I want to share my time, my talent and my resources to continue to make Novi a quality community for others to live, work and raise their families.

"I have a thorough knowledge and understanding of the construction industry and development business. I have a working knowledge and complete understanding of construction drawings and specifications. I have a working knowledge of all types of building materials. I know what good construction and development is both on paper and on site. I want to use this expertise and share this expertise with other council members.

"My family and I have taken from this community all that it offers and now it is time to pay the community back. I want to repay Novi for what it has given me. I have always felt the greatest gift you can give a community is the gift of time. I am ready to make the commitment it takes to be an effective leader of Novi."

"My reason for wanting to serve on the city council is the same as my reason for serving on the planning commission; I want to be involved in the decisions that will affect the quality of life in Novi.

"As a homeowner and parent, I am concerned about the direction of the development of our city. I understand from first-hand knowledge how difficult it is to accept change on property in your 'own backyard.' I realize that the residents have an emotional as well as a financial investment in their homes, as I do.

"I also understand how hard it is for the small businessman to be successful. My work with the Chamber of Commerce is starting to produce a better understanding of why the city implements certain changes. The Chamber group feels they are being listened to and allowed to participate in the decision-making process. And I think the homeowner's are doing the same.

"I have never viewed myself as pro-growth or anti-growth. I try to remain open-minded and willing to listen to all the facts and both sides of the issues. And then make a decision based on those facts.

"I have taken advantage of all educational opportunities in planning that are available through seminars and conferences. The knowledge I have is valuable in making decisions on planning issues that the city council deals with. My position on the board of directors of M.S.P.O. is providing access to solutions that other cities use for problems that are common to all cities. If I am appointed to the council, I will still retain my seat on the board of directors. My position is making the directors from all over the state more aware of Novi.

"I have the ability to work with large and diverse committees to arrive at acceptable solutions. I feel I generally earn respect from developers for being willing to listen and give them an objective hearing, even when I disagree with them. And I work very hard at whatever I take on. I don't assume that I know all the answers to our problems, but I have never hesitated to ask questions in pursuit of the answers."

"I wish to serve the community as a councilperson because I have a stake in the continued success of Novi. I believe that my varied experience and training would be an asset at the council table.

"Issues with which I am concerned are:

- Maintaining and enhancing the stormwater management system.
- Development of an effective water and sewer system.
- Actively seeking known quality developers and encouraging them to develop in Novi, while at the same time discouraging 'known' developers of poor quality.
- Preserving the best assets of our community.
- Working to reduce the property tax burden of the individual homeowner.
- Enhance the development of parks and nature preserves to add to the aesthetic value of Novi.
- Giving direction to city employees to support council policies.
- Putting the legal apparatus in place to keep the community in control of zoning for the master plan.
- Involve homeowners' groups in zoning plans prior to proposed changes.
- Set up a Department of Commerce 'incubator' for small businesses in our community."

"My contributions to our city include nine years on the planning board/commission and my involvement with numerous other community projects (Stormwater Management Program, Woodlands and Wetlands, Civic Center, Senior Citizen Housing etc.). These are, and continue to be, my investment in the development of our city.

"Personally, I believe that city government will require a relatively consistent direction that can only be nurtured and controlled by informed and experienced people on the council.

"I have these qualifications plus my attendance record, service on various sub-committees and general involvement. However, the main reason that I would like to serve on the council is my deep and abiding concern for our city and community."

Shulman has a BA in Government from the University of Detroit and a MA in Training Technology from Marygrove College.

She has worked on the Fire Department Planning Committee II, was coordinator of Fire Department Mitigation Campaign, served on the Stormwater Committee, Financial Review Committee, Cable Access Committee, All-American Cities Committee, Civic Center Mitigation Committee and the Sensitive Lands Team.

Shulman won a 1983 Outstanding Citizen Award from the Novi Jaycees and is past vice chairwoman of the Novi Land Conservancy.

Walled Lake '87 Winterfest

Beating the winter blahs

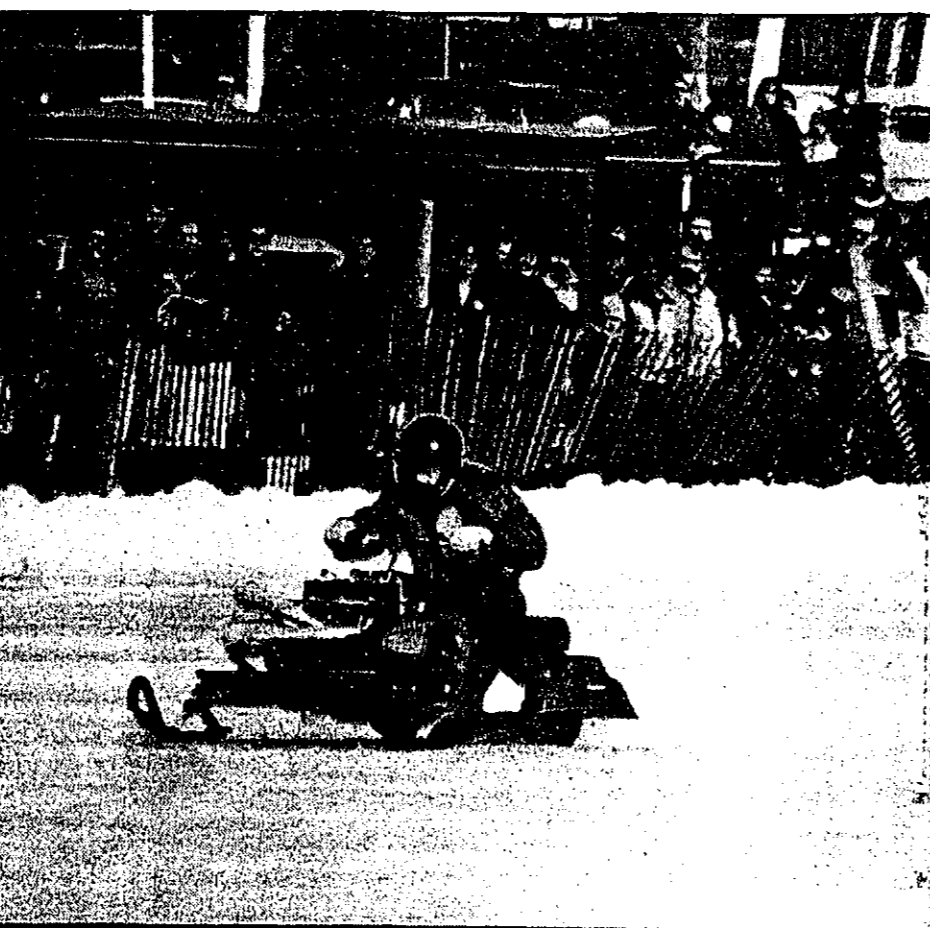

One could almost hear the roar of engines over Walled Lake this weekend as the city hosted its fifth annual Winterfest. Snowmobiles, motorcycles, trucks and cars were out in full force for the two-day festival. Throngs of residents and winter enthusiasts turned out for the festivities held under sunny skies. The event kicked off Friday night with plenty of partying. Weekend events included snowmobile drag racing, soft ball games, radio controlled airplanes, a demolition derby and ice fishing. It was a great way to beat the winter blahs.

Interview process is criticized

By ANN E. WILLIS
staff writer

Digirolamo: 'It seems to me that city council need a lot more input from the neighborhoods, and individual residents. Personally, I think they could have learned a lot from interviewing everybody.'

Reactions varied to the Novi City Council's decision to interview only four of the 11 applicants for the vacancy created by the resignation of Council Member Arlen Schroeder.

"I think it's a shame," commented Robert Schmid, one of the applicants who was passed over by the council. Schmid served 10 years on the council, four of them as mayor (1981-85). "It's too bad. I put my name in because I knew I could step in and fill the gap immediately. It's very short-sighted, but then that's typical of this council."

Schmid said he thought it was probably a mistake for the council not to interview all 11 applicants. "It sounds like a political decision rather than a conscious one," he said. "There is no question about my experience. I am surprised, and I wonder about the thought process of those who made the decision."

The 11 initial applicants for the position were Matthew Quinn, Gerald Haran, Enrico Digirolamo, Jr., Richard Bixman, Rose Crain, Rodney McCloud, Schmid, Joella Shulman, Joseph Toth, Judith Johnson and John Balagna.

Applicant Enrico Digirolamo said, "It would have been worth their while to spend at least five minutes with every applicant." Digirolamo is a member of the Meadowbrook Lake Subdivision Association and worked on the implementation committee for the new 1-1 ordinance. "It seems to me that city council needs a lot more input from the neighborhoods and individual residents. Personally, I think they could have learned a lot from interviewing everybody."

"I was trying to inject some new blood into the council, some new ideas that probably should be there. It needs to be done."

One of the concerns that arose during council's discussion of which applicants to view for the appointment was the potential for conflict of interest charges regarding Matthew Quinn. Quinn is a principal in the law firm Cooper, Shifman, Gabe, Quinn & Seymour. The firm is an outside contractor for the city and is the city's prosecuting attorney.

Council Member Hugh Crawford told the council at Monday's meeting, that barring the conflict of interest possibilities, Quinn would have been one of his top four picks.

"The number one reason I put my name in, was I thought I would do a good job. The conflict is an extremely narrow one," Quinn said. "My firm is not up for review this year as far as our contract is concerned. I would not vote on any police department budget appropriations." The firm is funded from the police budget.

Quinn said he believed the council had acted appropriately in paring down the number of applicants. "I have no problem with that. It's an expedient way to do the job, given the 30 day time period. It's in everybody's best interest."

Those who violate the proposed act will face a misdemeanor charge punishable by up to 90 days in jail and/or a maximum fine of $1,000 for the first offense. Subsequent convictions under the act bring a one-year jail sentence and/or a maximum fine of $5,000.

"Boating is one of the most popular water recreation sports in Michigan," said Fessler. "My bills insure boaters are protected from unlicensed mechanics and that there is more money for marine safety education so we can all enjoy our water resources safely."

Fessler proposes new boating law

LANSING - Boaters will face an additional safety violation fee and motorboat repair facilities will be subject to more stringent regulations under two bills proposed by State Senator Richard Fessler (R-West Bloomfield).

"Boaters should be responsible for their boats and knowing safety rules, and should be confident their crafts are properly maintained by certified mechanics," said Fessler.

Fessler introduced Senate Bills 920 and 921 to achieve those goals in the last legislative session and intends to reintroduce the legislation as soon as possible in the new Senate year.

"I don't intend to let these bills die with the last session," he said. "They are too important to help insure the safety and training of all boaters in Michigan."

Fessler's first bill requires courts to assess a $2 judgment fee upon convictions of violations of the state's Marine Safety Act. Fees would be distributed to the county where the violation occurred to help fund its marine safety programs.

"The water recreation industry is growing rapidly in Oakland County, and these new fees will make sure there is money to pay for education and training programs," said Fessler.

Fessler said he was led to sponsor Senate Bill 921 by several Oakland County boating mishaps which could have resulted from bad repair work. Fessler will revive the bill early this year to implement a state Licensing and Regulation of Motorboat Mechanics Act to insure those who repair and maintain motorboats are properly certified to do the work.

"A two-year-old girl was tragically killed when a boat, which was thought to have been properly fixed, blew up on an Oakland County lake," said Fessler.

"I can't say all accidents are caused by faulty repairs, but I can help make sure motorboat repair facilities are staffed by trained and certified individuals," he said.

Fessler's second bill will require repair shops in Michigan to employ at least one specialty or master mechanic certified in each category of service the facility provides. Under the bill, any work performed by a non-certified mechanic will have

New living science program slated

"Andes and the Amazon" is the title of a program that will be presented by the Living Science Society at Novi High School on Thursday, Feb. 12, at 7:30 p.m.

Based in Novi, the Living Science Society is a non-profit organization dedicated to inspiring a deeper understanding and appreciation of the natural world. The public is invited to attend the program which will be held in Room 107 of Novi High School at Ten Mile and Fair Road.

Timothy Joslyn, director of the Living Science Foundation, will present the program entitled "Andes and the Amazon."

The program will consist of a multi-media travelogue of his excursion to the tropical rain forests of the Amazon Basin and the Andes Mountains - home of the Incan Empire.

There also will be a discussion of the continuing destruction of the rain forest and possible ways to halt it. Those who attend will be able to han-

Hearing set to discuss school

In projecting the need for more space to house its growing student population, Assistant Superintendent William Barr told the board the administration looked at three-year and five-year enrollment projections.

"In the last two years, there has been more single family housing bought and occupied than in the last seven to eight years," Barr said. "While projections show an increase of 687 students by the 1989-90 school year, Barr said he did not expect the district's enrollment to reach that peak for another five years.

Using a three-year projection, Barr said he predicted enrollment would reach 3,939 students (a 45% student increase) by the 1989-90 school year.

He said the biggest influx in enrollment will occur at the elementary level and possibly in grades 7-9.

"In two of the last three years, we've had an 11 percent increase of eight graders into ninth grade," Barr said, adding that there has been only a one percent increase in grades 10-12. This year, the total 9-12 enrollment increased by only 12 students.

"I don't think the high school is in any danger of overcrowding in the next few years," he said.

Should the board decide to build a new facility, following the public hearing, the administration has proposed a bond issue for financing the project. In addition to the bond issue, school officials also discussed levying one mill for other building projects.

It is anticipated that the district's present debt levy will be reduced by approximately two mills for the 1987-88 school year. The superintendent noted that the board could ask voters to retain the current millage levy for debt retirement (for approximately 7-12 years), thereby, earmarking the millage for a building and site fund.

Among the additional needs school officials have discussed are the construction of a high school walkway, a resource room at Village Oaks, building modification to Novi Upper Elementary, administrative facilities, a cafeteria at Village Oaks, a multi-purpose room at Orchard Hills, modifications at Orchard Hills, replacing hallway tile at the middle school and adding high school classrooms.

The superintendent explained that the additional one mill for building and site could be used to finance the district's additional needs. If there is not a need for the one mill levy in building and site, the millage could be reduced, he added.

While trustees did not object to the one mill for building and site, some board members voiced concern about earmarking the funds for specific projects.

"My concern is more as a taxpayer than as a board member," board secretary Raymond Byers said. "The blank check concept disturbs me."

Trustee Robert Schram echoed

Byers' remarks. "I have a little bit of a problem having so much flexibility with the building and site fund," he said, adding that some of the projects could be included in the bonding proposal.

If the district is to build a new facility, the project will have to get under way this spring, Barr told the board.

"In order to have the building up by the fall of '88, we would have to have the shell of the building up this fall," he said.

In order to get a bond issue to the voters this spring, the board will have to make some sort of decision by its Feb. 26 meeting, board president Joan Daley noted.

Barr reminded the board that the district has $1.3 million from the sale of Old Novi Elementary to get the project started.

The administration is expected to come back to the board at its next meeting with cost estimates for the proposed projects.

Novi Chamber

CHAMBER MEMBERSHIP: Membership in the Novi Chamber of Commerce has climbed to 152 with the addition of three new members in 1987.

Newest members of the Chamber are Cliff Seiber, president of Seiber, Keast & Associates in Farmington Hills; Richard Czekel, owner of American Speedy Printing Centers in Northville; and Douglas Polidori, president of Polidori Landscape Nursery in Novi.

NOTES OF THANKS: The Novi Chamber is thanking the following members who contributed gifts for "Christmas bags" which were handed out at the Chamber's December meeting at the Red Timbers.

Chamber members contributing gifts were Mohawk Liqueur Corporation, The Chamber also thanked LaFleur Florist for donating poinsettias plans for all the tables as well as the arrangement on the head table and flowers for board members.

DUES ARE DUE: Executive Director Connie Mallett reminds Chamber members that it's time to renew their memberships for 1987.

The dues structure for the coming year is $150 for businesses with one to four employees, $200 for businesses with five to 24 employees and $250 for businesses with more than 25 employees. Associate memberships are available for employees of a member business at a cost of $100.

For more information about dues or memberships contact the Chamber office at 349-3743.

RISE 'N SHINE: The Chamber sponsors Rise 'n Shine breakfasts the fourth Wednesday of each month. The meetings are held at Denny's restaurant on Novi Road near Twelve Oaks Mall at 7 a.m.

The meetings feature speakers on a variety of topics of interest to the business community.

Athas, former city manager, killed

The body was discovered at approximately 3 p.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 27, by a woman and her son who had come by the house to pick up money from a previously pledged donation to a charitable organization. The woman observed the body through the partially open door, reports said.

Richard Baltinger, DuPage County Coroner, placed the time of death somewhere between 7:45 and 9:45 a.m. that same day, shortly after Athas' wife Arvie and 14-year-old daughter Kristi had left the house in the morning, according to reports.

Detective Steve Hochstetler of the Naperville Police Department is heading up the investigation. Hochstetler could not be reached for comment.

Although sources indicate the investigation is leading toward a determination of either suicide or accidental death, police are looking into several suspicious circumstances surrounding the discovery of the body.

According to reports, Athas had been shaving shortly before the fatal gunshot occurred. Half his face was clean-shaven and the other half was covered with shaving cream when the body was discovered. Further, a razor was found by police investigators in a sink filled with water in a second-story bathroom.

Additionally, pry marks were found on the front door of the residence. The door has been confiscated by Naperville Police for further investigation, according to Novi Police Chief Lee BeGoie.

James Leonardo, the police reporter for The Naperville Sun, said a source close to the investigation has said the pry marks on the door had been freshly made.

Athas has owned a camera shop in another suburban Chicago town. He had had an appendectomy operation in mid-December and had been resting at home under doctor's orders. The day he was shot was the first day that doctors had permitted him to return to work.

Leonardo also said police sources show that 45 calibre handgun found next to the body was owned by Athas. In addition, ballistics tests show that the bullet which killed the former Novi city manager had come from his own gun, Leonardo said.

Born in 1934, Athas was 52 at the time of his death.

He moved to Novi in April 1968 and was one of the first residents in the then-new Meadowbrook Lake subdivision. He served on the Novi Planning Board from 1969 to 1971 and was chairman of the board when he was appointed acting city manager in April 1971.

He was the third city manager in the history of the City of Novi, succeeding Harold Ackley and Dallas Zonkers.

It was during his term as city manager that the groundwork was laid for the development of Twelve Oaks Mall.

Athas resigned as city manager in October 1972 to accept a position with the Chapper Organization, a real estate/development company.

Athas subsequently was elected to a two-year term on the Novi City Council in the November 1973 election. It was the same election in which Robert Daley defeated Joseph Crupi in the mayoral race. Elected to the council along with Thomas W. Roethel, Louie Campbell and Phillip Goodman.

Erwins offer 'thank you' by hosting fund-raiser

They needed those happy times. Chris' condition deteriorated rapidly during the late summer and he was never able to return to school.

The family had moved from South Lyon into a house in Northville that Chris had liked as an incentive to keep him fighting the disease, but he never found the fishing hole that was supposed to be nearby. Soon the entire family was absorbed in the agony of losing a family member. But the pain was buffered by memories of the trip the Make A Wish Foundation had provided.

"One of the reasons I want to have this promotion in the store is so I can sort of explain and apologize to all the loyal customers who knew the store wasn't at its best, but didn't know why," Doug explained.

"I couldn't think about displays and food selections, and I couldn't explain what was wrong without really upsetting me and the customers."

Kathi also found it hard to leave Chris to come to the store and hard to deal with the questions of curious strangers.

Both feel they would have had trouble holding onto their sanity if they had not had the memory of the trip to California.

"Other families who have lost a child have such pain that they get negative about the whole world," Erwin said. "If not for the Make A Wish Foundation, we'd have nothing but negative thoughts, too."

Because the whole family was included in the trip, Scott, 5, and Jenny, an honors freshman at Novi High School, have a much-needed happy time to look back on, and the memory binds the surviving family members together.

Soon after Chris died, the Erwins began formulating a plan to repay some of the Make A Wish Foundation's kindness. They originally wanted no publicity, and the Foundation was completely supportive - it requires no repayment.

But Doug needed a place to channel his anger and grief, and Kathi had to find a purpose... some good had to come out of Chris' ordeal. The more they realized how much they appreciated the Foundation, the more they wanted to repay it in some way.

Christopher was the 68th of 83 children helped by the Foundation since it was founded in 1964. The group hopes to help 150 children in 1987. To do so requires approximately $500,000, and a way to reach out to more families. The Erwins hope to make people aware of what the Foundation has to offer.

Plans for the "Valentine For Kids" are still indefinite, but involve both Novi and Northville high schools, drawing a video tape, refreshments and promotional items for sale.

The goal is to help people become aware of what the Foundation is and, according to Erwin, "to do something positive for kids and families in the worst possible circumstances. We want to help other parents find a way to displace the anger and hurt, and let sick children know there's still lots of love around."

"We want to give another troubled family what the Make A Wish Foundation gave us - a great experience that helps the child for a special time and helps the family for a lifetime."

If the Valentine's Day Promotion is successful, the Erwins hope to make it an annual event. If they can, it will provide them with some good out of their son's death and some more happy memories. They could really use some more happy memories.

Cubberly escapes robbery attempt

"I heard someone inside the car yell, 'Waste him... do him in,'" said Cubberly. At that point, fearing for his life, Cubberly dived head-first into a ditch on the side of the road.

The man got back in the car, and the driver sped off eastbound on Village Oaks Drive.

After the car had left, Cubberly ran to a nearby residence and asked the owner to call police and report the incident.

Based on Cubberly's description, police issued a BOLO (be-on-the-lookout) bulletin to Farmington Hills police for a light-blue Ford Mustang containing three black males.

At approximately 12:05 a.m. Monday, Farmington Hills officers informed Novi that they had apprehended a vehicle matching the description and containing three black males on Eight Mile near Sealine.

Upon further investigation, police discovered a small-caliber, silver-plated handgun concealed in a fuse box located next to the steering column in the suspect vehicle, reports said.

All three suspects were placed under arrest on suspicion of armed robbery and were transported to Novi police headquarters.

Investigating officers later discovered that the interior lights of the Mustang did not work when the front doors were opened.

Novi Police Captain Richard Faulkner praised Cubberly for maintaining his composure during the attempted armed robbery. "It was able to provide an excellent description of the car and the suspects," said Faulkner. "That information was what helped make the arrests."

NO SELLING...

Although there will not be any selling of products at this show, the public is invited to obtain brochures, get estimates, ask and get the answers—to any questions they might have about merchandise on display or services available.

"AN IMPORTANT FEATURE OF THE SHOW is that advice will be given on virtually every aspect of construction (home improvement)," says Woodworth. Consumers will be able to ask questions on everything from insulation and custom shelving to lighting fixtures and jazzcuts.

IN ADDITION to having the opportunity to do all of their comparison shopping at one time, the public will be able to talk to the professionals and receive personal attention, unlike most shows of this sort that promote only glitz and glamour.

"OUR SHOW WILL HAVE A PERSONAL TOUCH...the owners of the companies will be there to answer all of your questions with ease," comments Woodworth.

Street cop gives anti-crime tips

By PHILIP SCHOEN
special writer

"What does a street cop write about when called upon to be a newspaper columnist?"

As the new Crime Prevention Officer for the Novi Police Department, this is the first of many crime prevention articles I hope to be writing for the Novi News. If the information provided in them saves one person from becoming a crime victim, it will be worthwhile.

One of the primary goals of the Novi Crime Prevention Unit is to promote the Neighborhood Watch concept throughout the city.

"W.A.T.C.H." is an acronym which stands for "When All the Citizens Help." This requires community involvement in preventing crime from the standpoint that each citizen uses his/her eyes and ears and is willing to report suspicious observations to the police.

Police officers develop sharp powers of observation because of the nature of their day-to-day professional duties. They do not "just see," but rather truly "observe" their surroundings. Every individual has the ability to develop this power with a little conscious effort.

Neighborhood Watch is a group of residents in any given subdivision who organize to "observe" their own as well as their neighbors' homes for mutual protection of property. Complicated organization or time commitments are not required for the concept to work, but when a majority of residents in a neighborhood decide to make the W.A.T.C.H. a reality, it really makes a difference.

What a Neighborhood Watch is:

A majority (usually 50 percent or more) of the residents in a subdivision or neighborhood who vocally and mentally commit themselves to helping their police prevent crime in their area by becoming "security conscious" and reporting suspicious circumstances when they observe them.

Homeowners permanently marking their valuable property with a driver's license number or other unique identification for ease in recovery should they be stolen.

Neighborhood residents learning how and taking steps to make their own homes more secure against burglary and other unwanted intrusions.

People getting to know their neighbors for the common good and safety. A good, observant neighbor is probably the best crime protection a person can have.

What a Neighborhood Watch is Not:

Time consuming or complicated for the individual citizen.

A vigilante committee.

Neighborhood Watch members silently observe suspicious activities and report them immediately to their police. They do not confront suspected criminals or take other "police" action on their own. There is no police authority conferred upon a Neighborhood Watch group.

Crime prevention is everybody's business and Neighborhood Watch is a good place to start. Anyone interested in learning more about this or other crime prevention concepts should feel free to call Officer Philip Schoen of the Novi Police Department's Crime Prevention Unit at 348-7100.

Condo coverage requires research

Choosing insurance coverage for a condominium may require extra research and consideration, according to a spokesman for the insurance industry. The owner's policy must be tailored to mesh with that of the condo association to assure there are no coverage gaps or duplications.

Unlike the owner of a house, whose property and liability interests can be covered by a single insurance policy, the condominium owner generally is protected by at least two: his/her own policy plus another policy purchased by the association.

"It is vital that coverage under these two contracts be coordinated," said Terry Buckles, president of Michigan Association of Insurance Companies (MAIC). "If the policies are duplicative, the consumer may be paying too much. If there are coverage gaps, he or she has even bigger problems."

Buckles urged consumers to carefully review the condo association's legal documents before purchasing their own insurance. These documents, such as the master deed, by-laws and insurance contracts, define those property and liability losses for which the unit owner may be responsible.

In a typical situation, the condo association buys a master insurance policy which covers all buildings and other jointly-owned property. It may also include liability protection for condo owners and the association.

Property coverage afforded by this master policy will vary from one condo organization to another, however. The MAIC spokesman said some association insurance contracts insure the building(s), but not interior property items such as carpets, appliances, cabinets, partitions and wall coverings. Other master policies do insure such items. It is these differing circumstances which make it important for the consumer to select his/her own policy with extra care, he added.

The condo owner's policy, often called a "unit-owner's" and/or HO-6 contract, also includes several property and liability coverages. Examples of these are:

Coverage for personal property, such as furniture and clothing, from loss or damage due to fire, wind storm, etc.

Personal liability insurance for bodily injury/property damage claims or suits.

Limited loss assessment coverage for the owner's share of special assessments necessitated by a property or liability loss not covered by the association's master policy.

Limited building items coverage for interior property items such as carpet, partitions, and cabinets which may not be covered by the association's master policy.

Coverage for additional living expenses which might be incurred if the condo is temporarily uninhabitable following a loss.

Buckles said basic condo owner policies offered by different insurance companies vary somewhat. He also indicated most insurers offer several optional policy endorsements which should be considered. These include:

Higher policy limits for liability.

Loss of rent coverage. This provides reimbursement for rental income lost if the property becomes uninhabitable due to an insured loss.

as $25,000, $50,000 or $100,000, but higher limits are available for relatively little cost.

Increased coverage for interior property items and loss assessments. Most basic policies have a limit of $1,000 on each.

Replacement cost insurance for special assessments necessitated by loss of depreciated value only. For an additional premium such losses would be reimbursed on a replacement cost basis.

Higher policy limits for certain types of personal property. Most basic policies have coverage limits of $200 to $2,500 for items such as silverware, guns, furs, jewelry, etc. Additional coverage can be purchased, however.

Higher policy deductibles. This option helps reduce premium costs.

Flood and earthquake insurance. Most standard property insurance policies do not include such coverages.

Loss of rent coverage. This provides reimbursement for rental income lost if the property becomes uninhabitable due to an insured loss.

Joe Rivard says he's lucky to be alive after his truck flipped over on Ten Mile Friday morning.

Accident victim thankful to be alive

"I thank God I'm alive."

That's how Joe Rivard described his feelings following the rollover of his dump truck on Ten Mile last Friday, Jan. 30.

An overnight snow storm had left roads slick and at 5:10 a.m. when Rivard was traveling west on Ten Mile between Wixom and Napier roads, another car slid from the eastbound lane toward his truck.

"A car was coming down the road toward me and lost control. It was coming at me head on, so to avoid the head on crash I swerved toward the side of the road. I veered off, then shot across to the other side of the road. I was in the ditch before I could do anything," Rivard said.

"When I went into the ditch, the truck rolled upside down and started to smash me. But the man upstairs must've been looking out for me."

Rivard managed to crawl out of the truck.

"Once I was out, I just kept walking away from it," he said. "I didn't even look back."

Rivard managed to get a ride home from a passing car. He then called the Oakland County Sheriff's Department and the Novi Police.

According to Rivard, the big orange dump truck that he uses for his handyman service has been totally destroyed.

"I'm sore, but I'm sure glad I'm alive," he said.

Seat belt law accepted

Michigan's safety-belt-use law continues to be popular with residents, and the majority would like to see the law strictly enforced, according to a statewide survey.

Eighty percent of those surveyed said they favor the law, which requires drivers and front-seat passengers to wear their safety belts. The law took effect July 1, 1985.

Approximately 80 percent of Michigan residents believe that belt laws save a significant number of lives, and three-fourths of those interviewed said they favor strict enforcement of Michigan's safety-belt-use law.

"These figures are extremely encouraging," said Constance Soma, executive director of the Michigan Coalition for Safety Belt Use.

"Our task now is to develop the safety-belt habit among an even greater number of residents, so that use levels will rise to the support demonstrated by these results," Soma said.

The public opinion poll of 500 randomly-selected Michigan adults interviewed by telephone in November was funded by Traffic Safety, Inc., a non-profit organization devoted to promoting safety-belt use through passage of belt-use laws.

"The people of Michigan firmly believe that safety-belt-use laws are working," said Bob Van Dam, director of the survey project and president of Nordhaus Research in Southfield.

Virtually all of the Michigan residents surveyed (99 percent) said they are aware of the state's safety-belt-use law.

"It's good to know that Michigan residents stand behind our efforts to minimize traffic deaths and disabling injuries," Soma said.

The figures from the Michigan survey parallel the strong public support for belt-use laws revealed in a national public opinion poll conducted in July 1985 by Decision Making Information of Santa Ana, California.

That survey indicated 76 percent of Americans favor safety-belt-use laws in their states, 76 percent favor strict enforcement, and 81 percent of Americans believe that safety-belt laws are saving lives.

Twenty-four states and the District of Columbia are covered by safety-belt-use laws.

Oakland judge is selected

Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Gene Schnelz has been selected to serve on the faculty of the National Judicial College/Winter Session on the campus of the University of San Diego.

Schnelz will lecture on current issues in family law, focusing on problems involving child support enforcement.

A Walled Lake resident, Schnelz currently serves as chairman of the Michigan Judges' Association's Domestic Relations Committee. He is a commissioner for the State Bar of Michigan and chairs the newly-created State Bar Task Force charged with investigating the use of advanced technology in the courts.

Schnelz is a lecturer for the Michigan Judicial Institute and the Institute of Continuing Legal Education. In addition, he is an adjunct professor in the para-legal program at Madonna College in Livonia.

Area housing costs above average

Would you spend $84,300 for a new house?

If you live in Northville or Novi you would. The average sales price for a home in Northville last year was $120,043, while the average price of a Novi home was $98,155.

Both figures are well above the $84,300 figure which was the average price of a typical home built in the United States during 1985, according to the U.S. Census Bureau. In 1984 the average price of a new house was $79,900.

According to the Census Bureau, the average house (at a price of $41.45 per square foot) was a single-story residence built on a slab with 1,665 square feet. It had three bedrooms, two baths, one fireplace, wood siding, electric heat and central air conditioning.

Other statistics in the Census Bureau report include:

- The largest percentage of houses completed last year (57 percent) had three bedrooms. That was about the same proportion as in 1984 but down from 1981 when 60 percent of new houses had three bedrooms.
- The percentage of houses with two or more stories has increased to 42 percent in 1985 from 40 percent in 1984 and 32 percent in 1981.
- About half the new houses (48 percent) had two baths — the same percentage as 1984.
- Most houses (54 percent) now have one fireplace, up from 50 percent in 1981.
- New houses with central air conditioning rose to 70 percent in 1985 from 65 percent in 1981.

New amendment requires berms

Light industrial subdivisions which abut residential developments will be required to put in six-to-10 foot earth berms at the time of construction, according to a new amendment to the Subdivision Ordinance passed by the Novi City Council at a special session on Jan. 14.

The berm is now required by the city for the protection of the adjacent residential developments. This amendment was one of the changes requested by residents of the Meadowbrook Lake subdivision during meetings with city officials and developers of light-industrial subdivisions.

The ordinance requires that the berms be installed at the time an industrial subdivision is platted, stipulating that the berm be six-to-10 feet high. The exact height will be determined by the planning commission.

According to the new amendment the berm must be effectively seeded or sodded to prevent erosion. The landscaping of the berms does not have to take place until the individual lots are built. Landscaping approvals are part of the planning commission's site plan review process.

The motion to amend the subdivision ordinance was passed unanimously by the city council and will go into effect.

Wildcat cagers hang tough to nip South Lyon

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
staff writer

From past experience, it's hard to believe the Novi cagers didn't lose against South Lyon last Friday (Jan. 30).

The Wildcats were on the road, going up against a red-hot shooting Lion squad and it was a close game heading into the final five minutes. But Novi bucked recent history, canned their free throws down the stretch and beat the Lions 66-59.

It was a close contest most of the way with the spread never reaching much more than five points. But for the first time this season, the Wildcats came through in the clutch when the Lions, who shot a blistering 55 percent from the field, buckled under the pressure.

"We made our pressure foul shots at the end — finally — and that was basically the difference," Novi Coach John Cicchelli said. "We made them, and (South Lyon) didn't."

It was a welcome change of events for the "Cats (7-5 overall, 3-3 in the KVC). In all five previous losses, poor play in crucial situations led to defeat, each of them by less than six points. But this time it was Novi's chance to win the close game, and Cicchelli hopes the win will chase away his team's late-game jitters.

"It was a good sign that we came through at the end," he said. "We played like I expect us to play. We looked more like the veteran team we are instead of a bunch of first-year players."

The Lions opened the game with the hot hand, led by four points after one quarter and one at halftime. Cicchelli felt fortunate his team stayed close because South Lyon shot 66 percent from the field in the first half, many of the shots coming from the 15-20 foot range.

"I thought they were playing, maybe a little over their heads," Cicchelli observed. "They were making baskets on shots they shouldn't have even taken, but we did stay close."

The third quarter featured more of the same, with Novi scoring mostly inside and the Lions pounding away from the perimeter. It wasn't until the 4:39 mark of the fourth quarter, when forward Matt Kamish nailed a jumper, that the Wildcats took the lead for good. After a 6-0 run, Novi eased ahead by five points and, as time ran out, South Lyon began to flail. This time the Wildcats canned their shots from the free-throw line.

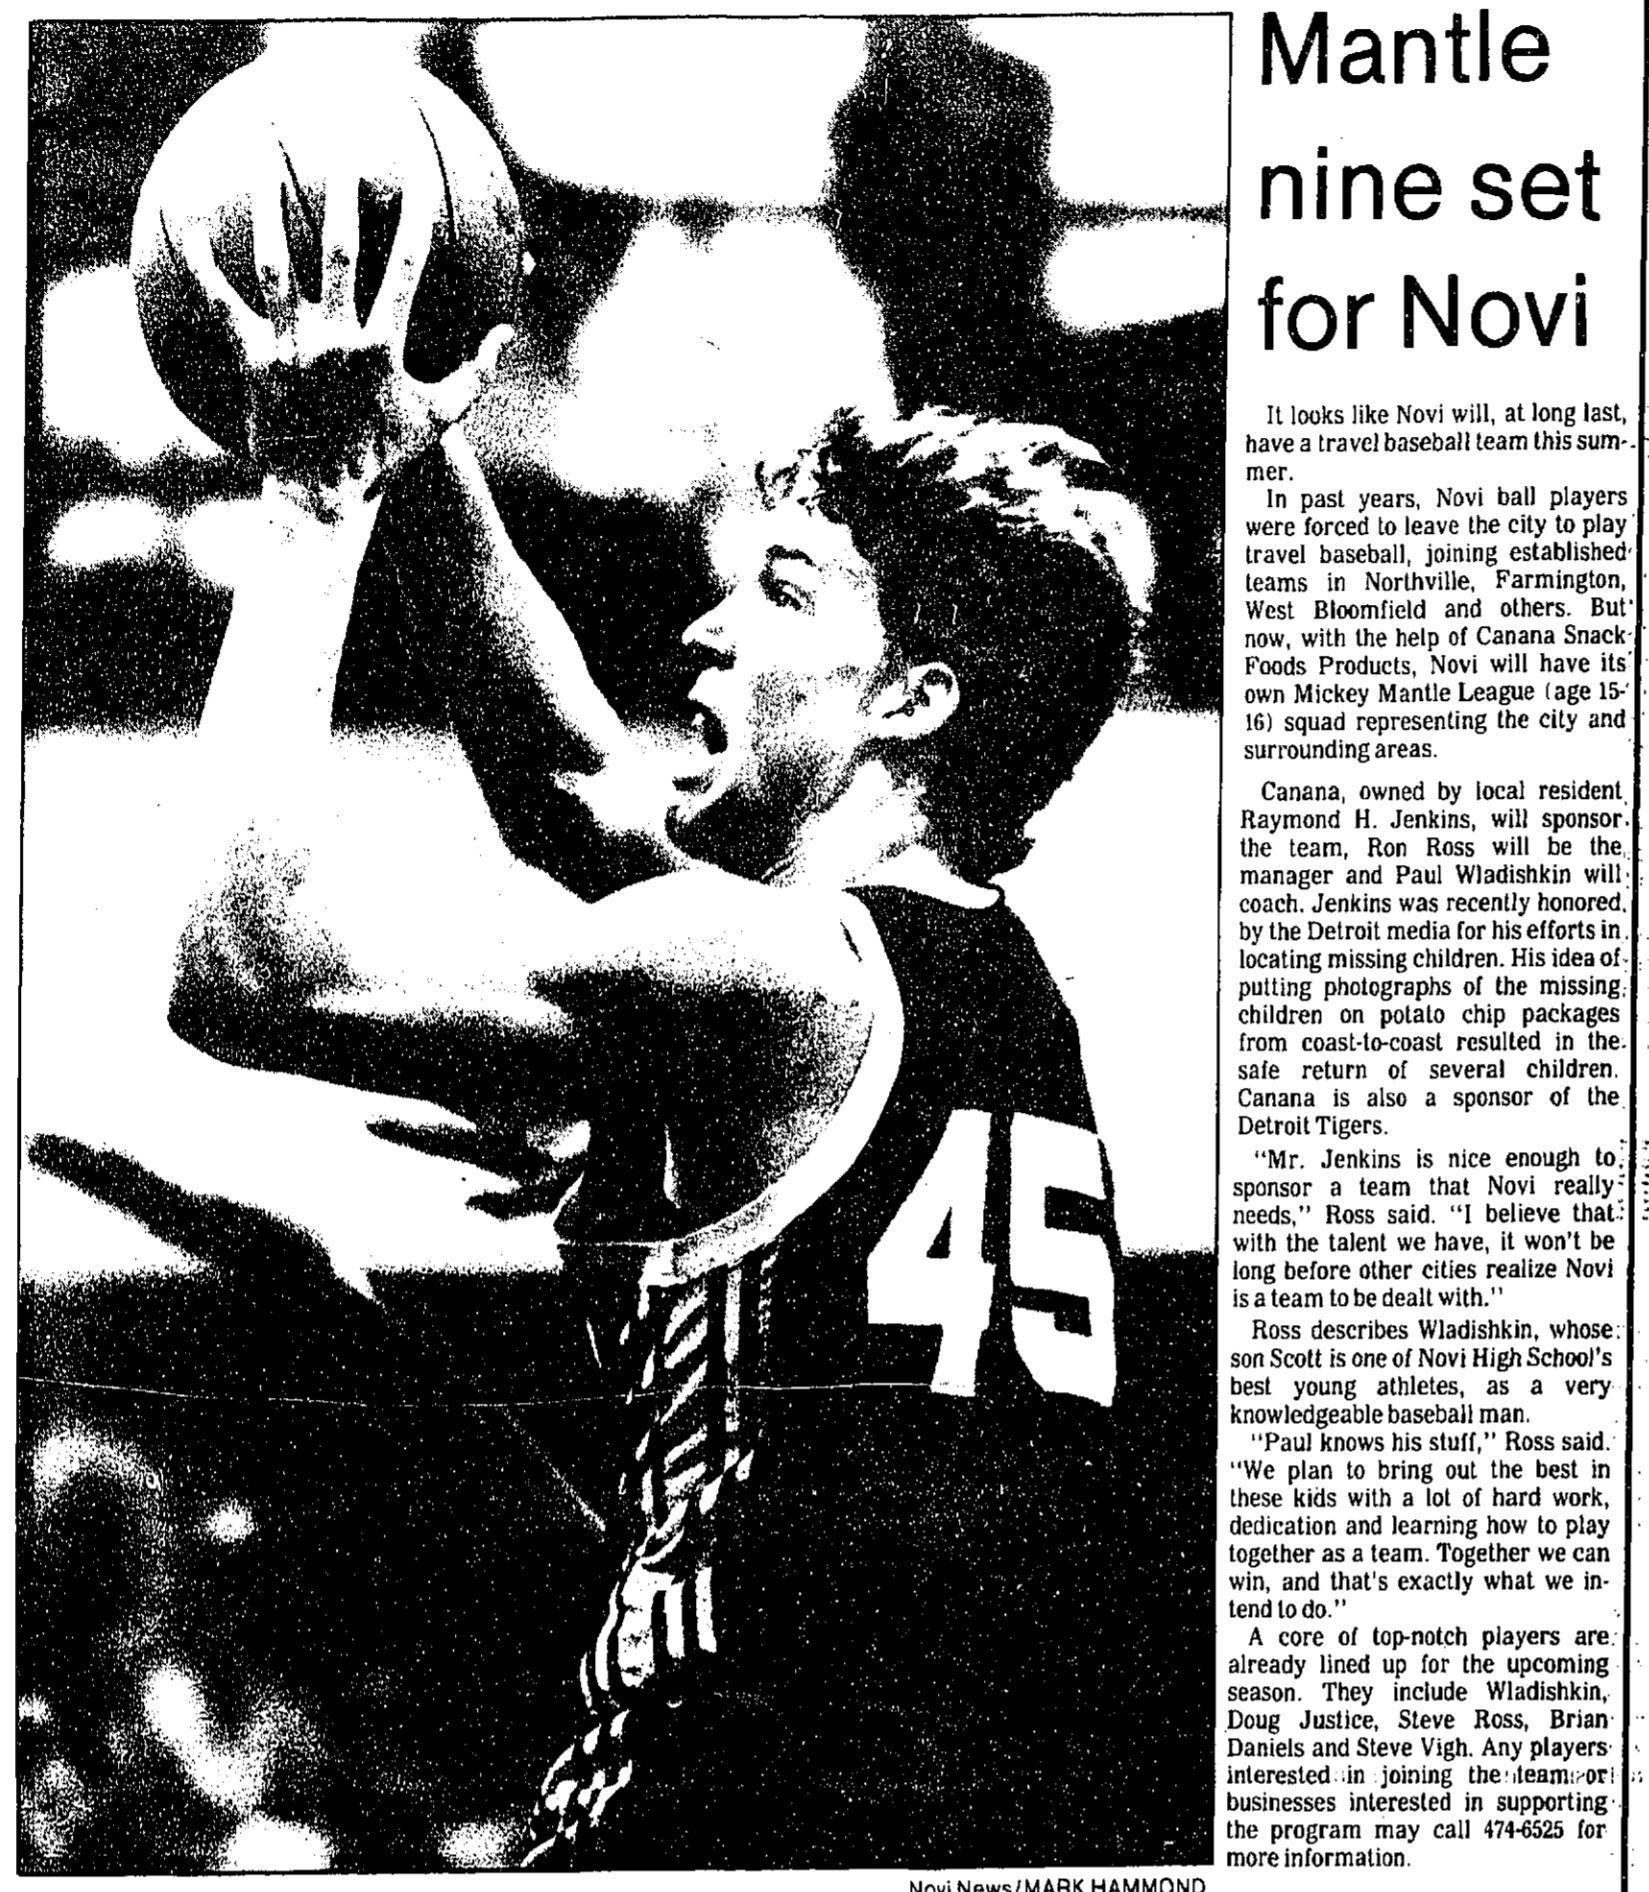

Kamish hit 4-for-5 from the charity strip, and Joe Miskovich added two more in the final three minutes. As a team, the Wildcats connected on 8-of-12 in the final quarter to hold onto the lead.

"Our defense played a pretty good game, but (South Lyon) was shooting the lights out," Cicchelli reported. "Our kids hung tough in the end, when it mattered, but you have to give South Lyon credit — they played awfully well. They shot nearly 60 percent from the field and lost."

In addition to the free throws, another key was Novi's domination on the boards. The Lions were outboarded 29-17, thanks to the outstanding board work of Dave Skown (11 boards) and Brian Schram (nine). Miskovich led the balanced Wildcats attack with 16 points. Skown added 15, while Kamish and Schram chipped in 12 apiece. Guard Craig Cowden, who played much of the game when Jeff Tanderoy got into four trouble, also contributed nine points off the bench.

Novi is now tied for third place in league play with Brighton, two games behind first place Howell. The Wildcats will travel to Brighton to take on the Bulldogs Friday (Feb. 6) for the second time this season.

"Brighton is a very talented team," Cicchelli said. "We felt they were the best team we played the first time around in the league, even though we beat them."

Victory eludes Wildcat spikers

The streak has now reached a whole year.

The last time the Novi volleyballers won a match was a year ago yesterday (Feb. 3, 1986) when the Wildcats bumped Taylor Truman. Now, 12 months and 17 straight losses later, Novi is still in search of that elusive victory that has been long overdue.

The "Cats suffered their sixth and seventh losses of this season last week to Redford Union and Howell, and the whole situation has Novi Coach Kathy Bedor wondering out loud.

"We do seem to be getting more competitive and improving, but it is getting very discouraging," she admitted. "I just tell them to keep working harder and harder, and hope it will turn around. Every week somebody improves on the team in some area — maybe it's just not enough."

The 4-15, 15-11, 7-15 defeat at Redford Union on Jan. 26 was especially difficult because it was a battle between two winless teams. Novi starter Kristina Higley sat out the first game due to illness, but came back to help the team win the second game.

"(Higley) is one of my main hits and that didn't help matters much in the first game," Bedor said. "We were coming off the weekend, and we just didn't seem to get into the game. We played well in spurts."

Even though the second game went to a fairly easy win in the decisive third game, thanks to some outstanding serves by Nicl Hayward.

"We finally got everything together," Union Coach Rhonda Amble said. "We've got everything turned around, and we have it in our heads that we can win."

Howell, one of the KVC's top squads, clobbered the Wildcats 15-5, 15-5 on Jan. 29 in Howell and this time it wasn't nearly as close.

"It didn't go very well for us," Bedor said. "There are not a whole lot of good things to say about it. We missed a lot of serves, all our spikes seemed to go long and we weren't hitting. I think the girls were just down mentally heading in because they know Howell is a good team."

Higley left Novi in his (two spikes) and serving (5-0-8), but the bright spot was the play of junior hitter Amy Rafferty.

"Amy did a good job coming off the bench, especially with her returns of serve," Bedor said.

The Wildcats got back into KVC action tomorrow (Jan. 5) against South Lyon, the same team that handed Howell its only conference defeat this year.

Novi tankers swamp Mustangs

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
staff writer

Talk about a turnaround.

A year ago, the Novi swimmers fought to an 86-86 tie with Northville. This year it wasn't even close.

With Wildcat fortunes on the upswing and the Mustangs in the midst of a rebuilding year, Novi's 59-24 victory last week was hardly a shock. But it's hard to believe a year could make such a difference.

"It was the kind of meet we do well in," Wildcat Coach Larry Teahan said. "Northville's pool has only five lanes so you need to take first places, and that's what we did."

As a matter of fact, Novi won all 11 events. Individual strength is more important than team depth in smaller pools.

As usual, the Cohen brothers dominated the meet, accounting for seven of Novi's 11 wins.

Jeff and John Cohen joined Matt Lorenz and Steve Warthman to win the 200-yard medley relay in 1:46.30. Jeff Cohen also notched two individual firsts as he won the 200 IM (2:15.72) and 100 freestyle (1:40.05). Jon won his only individual race, the 100 freestyle (50.79), and was a member of the winning 400 freestyle relay team along with Rudy Speersneider, Warthman and younger brother Steve. The quartet set a new school record in the event with a time of 3:29.91.

Steve Cohen, just a freshman, had one of the most impressive outings of his young career with wins in the 200 freestyle (1:50.66) and 500 freestyle (new pool record 4:52.24).

Other Novi winners were Lorenz in the 100 butterfly (58.17) and 100 backstroke (1:03.20), Warthman in the 50 freestyle (1:23.55) and Joe Jablonski in diving (personal best 174.85 points).

Speersneider (24.84 in 50 freestyle) and Josh Matza (5:33.66 in the 500 freestyle) were the only Wildcats to take seconds.

Last weekend, Novi (6-1 overall) was one of five teams to compete in the Chelsea Invite. Despite placing second overall, it was the type of meet the Wildcats wouldn't normally excel in. The heats were broken down into classes, with the seniors racing only seniors and so on. Results were kept for classes as well as overall and Teahan's squad put in a respectable showing.

"It was a different set up that was basically tailored to Chelsea," Teahan said. "It's the kind we don't do well at because you need depth, and we just don't have that many bodies. So I was happy with the outcome, especially the performances of the younger kids."

To complicate matters, Steve and John Cohen did not compete at the Invite because both were in Milwaukee, Wis. trying to qualify for the United States Swimming Nationals. As expected, Chelsea took first place overall and also won the freshman, sophomore and junior championships, Albion, which placed fourth overall, won the senior class title.

The Wildcats won five overall firsts in the 11 events as well as numerous class firsts. The team of Tom McBride, Jeff Cohen, Lorenz and Speersneider won the 200 medley relay (1:49.27), Warthman took first in the junior and overall 200 freestyle (1:53.21), Jeff Cohen followed with a victory in the 200 IM (2:12.72), Lorenz was the junior and overall winner in the 100 backstroke (1:03.17) and the 400 freestyle relay team of Matza, Steve Strauberg, Warthman and Dave Suchyta combined for a win (3:41.92).

The only senior winner that wasn't an overall winner was McBride in the 100 backstroke (1:04.01). Junior champs included Lorenz in the 100 butterfly (58.21) and Warthman in the 100 freestyle (50.83). Josh Matza was a sophomore winner in the 200 freestyle (2:04.70) and the 500 freestyle (5:40.24). Freshman titlists include Strauberg in the 200 freestyle (2:08.22) and 100 butterfly (1:05.34), Speersneider in the 50 (24.61) and 100 (54.14) freestyle events and diver Brian Dudas.

"It was a fun meet, and it gave the youngsters a chance to get some firsts," Teahan said. "Guys like Strauberg, Matza and Dudas really responded. It was not tailored for a team like ours, so it was a tribute to our swimmers that we could finish second as a team."

Wildcats of the Week

STEVE COHEN

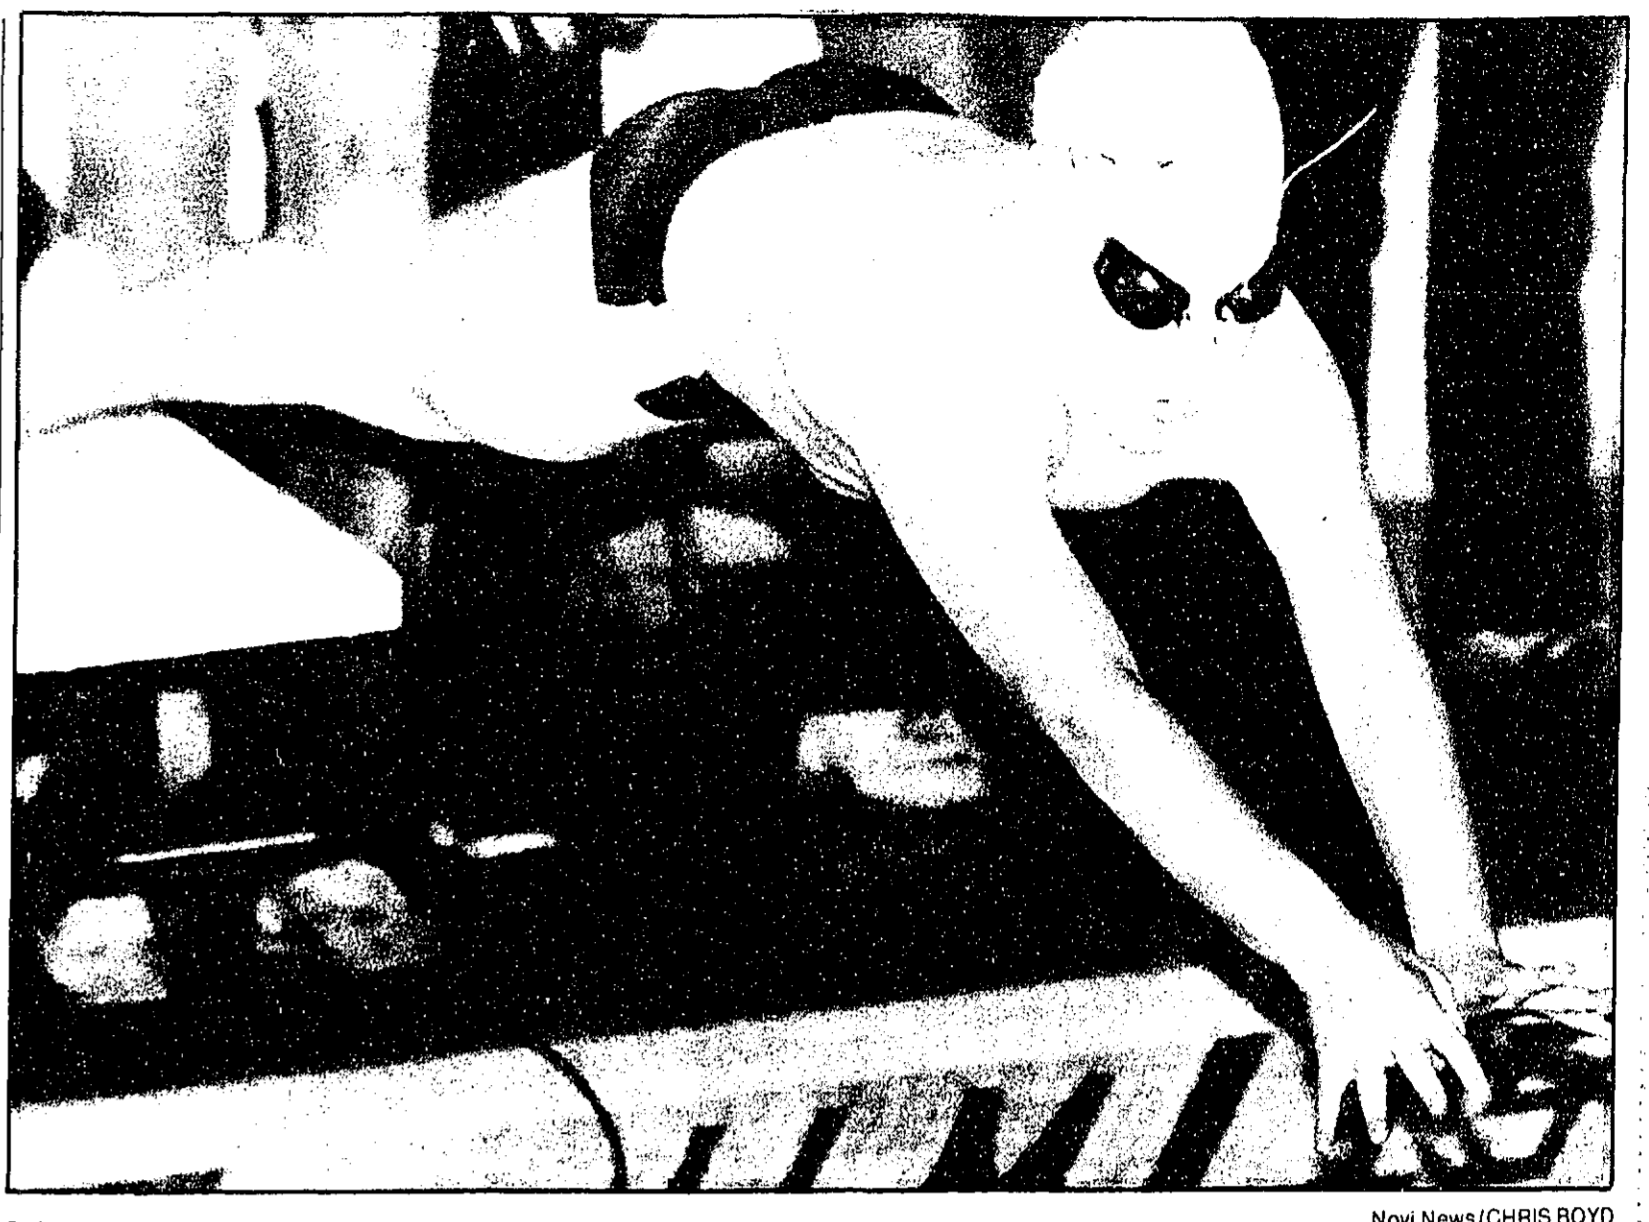

The youngest Cohen brother, Steve, didn't take a backstage to anyone in last week's swimming meet with Northville. The freshman was responsible for three wins in the 59-24 win over the Mustangs to earn "Wildcat of the Week" honors. Steve joined brother Jon, Rudy Speersneider and Steve Warthman in winning the 400-yard freestyle relay with a school-record of 3:29.91. Steve then followed it up with victories in the 200 freestyle (1:50.66) and the 500 freestyle (4:52.24). His time in the 500 set a new Northville pool record. Steve, who holds numerous state records for his age group, was in Milwaukee, Wis. last weekend, trying to qualify for the USS Junior Nationals.

MATT BRINKER

Although not normally a starter, wrestler Matt Brinker has responded well every time he's been called upon to fill in for injuries. For his outstanding effort substituting for Kurt Schuster last week, Brinker has been named a "Wildcat of the Week." With Schuster out of action in a definitely with a sprained knee, the 155-pound slot is in safe hands with Brinker. In a dual meet against Howell, he decided Dave Reynolds (42.05), second in the 25 freestyle (15.78), second in the 50 breaststroke (45.23), second in the 100 IM (1:28.09), second in the 25 backstroke (19.49), second in the 50 butterfly (44.86) and fourth in the 25 breaststroke (21.62).

In a dual meet against Howell, he decided Dave Reynolds (42.05), second in the 25 freestyle (15.78), second in the 50 breaststroke (45.23), second in the 100 IM (1:28.09), second in the 25 backstroke (19.49), second in the 50 butterfly (44.86) and fourth in the 25 breaststroke (21.62).

Brinker went 2-2 on the day in one of the toughest weight divisions. "Matt is nice to have around," Novi Coach Tom Fritz said. "When Ron Fritz was hurt he filled in, and now with Schuster out, he's doing a fine job again."

Bobcat swimmers claim medals

"We were very pleased with the results."

That's how Pat Duthie, coach of the Novi Bobcat swim team, summed up his squad's performance at a USS-M "B" meet held at Novi High School the weekend of Jan. 24-25.

"We had many outstanding swimmers, some 'AA' qualifying times were set, and we broke some Bobcat records," added Duthie. "The whole club pulled together to make it a very successful meet."

Individual team scores were not kept at the meet which was hosted by the Novi Bobcat Swim Club and drew dozens of teams from across Michigan as well as Canada and Ohio.

Duthie said the Bobcats performed extremely well in the meet, setting six new club records, winning six events and posting 49 "top-six" finishes.

The following is a list of the top six finishes registered by Bobcat swimmers:

EIGHT AND UNDER BOYS: Erick Kelly — second in the 25-yard butterfly (19.72), second in the 100 freestyle (1:15.39), second in the 50 backstroke (42.05), second in the 25 freestyle (15.78), second in the 50 breaststroke (45.23), second in the 100 IM (1:28.09), second in the 25 backstroke (19.49), second in the 50 butterfly (44.86) and fourth in the 25 breaststroke (21.62).

Pump falls short in Hot-shot finals

Karen Pump won't be going to the national finals of the Pepsi Hotshot Contest.

But the 12-year-old Novi girl came within three points of earning the right to represent Michigan in the finals of the national basketball competition which will be held during the NBA playoffs in Los Angeles during April.

Karen's trek toward the national finals began several months ago when she won the local Pepsi Hotshot competition at Novi High School. The trek continued when she won the zone finals at Wayne State University.

The trip came to an end at the regional finals during the Detroit Pistons game at the Silverdome on Jan. 7. Competing with two girls from Detroit and another from Springfield, Ohio, Karen just missed claiming the trip to L.A. as she scored 106 points — just three less than the winner and 12 more than the third-place finisher who had 88 points.

Karen is the daughter of Tony and Carolyn Pump and resides in the North Hills Estates subdivision off Center Street. She is a seventh grader at Meads Middle School in Novi and was a member of the Meads Mill girls basketball team last fall. She's currently plying her considerable talents for Our Lady of Victory Church in the Catholic Youth Organization (CYO) basketball league.

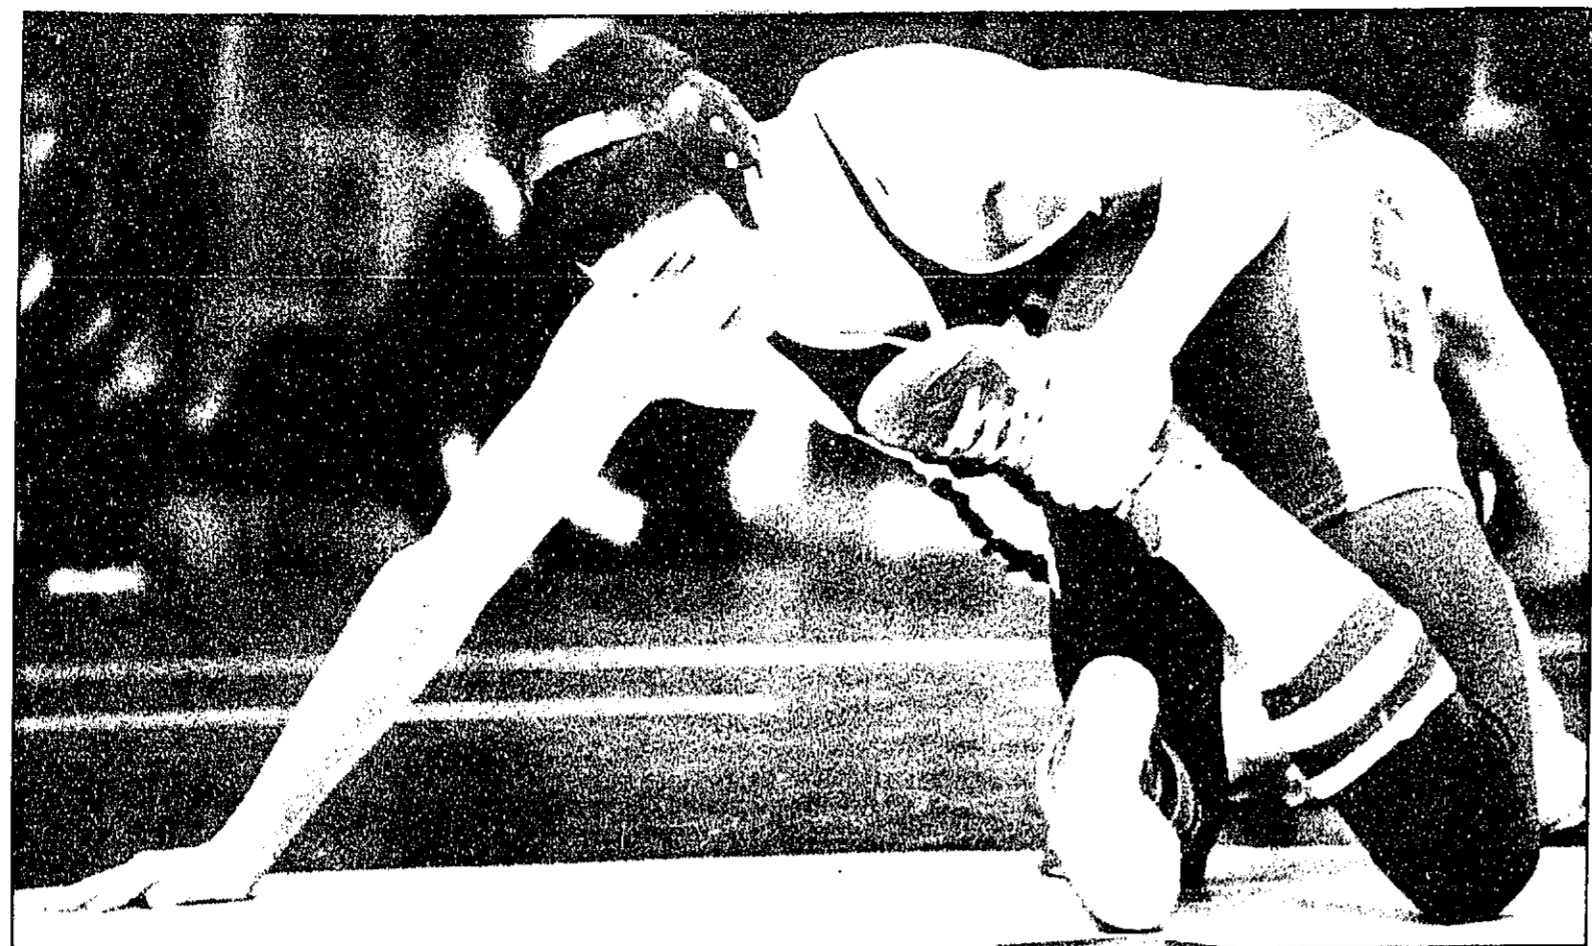

"We're extremely proud of her," reported her father. "The Pepsi Hotshot Contest draws more than 2.5 million kids across the nation, and Karen came within three points of qualifying for the national finals."

A large contingent of Karen's neighbors, friends and teammates traveled to the Silverdome to root her on in the regional finals. Some 14,000 fans were at the Silverdome for the event.

"The 100 points was the best she's ever done in the Hotshot competition," added her father. "The competition consists of three one-minute rounds with players shooting from five pre-designated spots ranging from 12 to 21 feet from the bucket."

"Karen did the best she's ever done, and she did it when the pressure was the greatest. She was there before 14,000 fans, battling for a chance to go to the national finals, and she maxed out... did her best ever."

"We are very, very proud of her."

Title hopes fade as Novi falls

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN
staff writer

Novi's hopes for a WVC wrestling title went down the drain last Thursday when the Wildcats dropped a 37-23 dual meet decision to Howell. The Wildcats now have two losses in four league outings, making the task of catching undefeated Lakeland just about impossible.

"We are pretty much out of the race," admitted Tom Fritz, coach of the Novi grapplers.

The Cats managed just one win in the first five bouts against the Highlanders and never recovered from the early 16-6 deficit. The lone victory in the lower weights came at 105 where Ron Nutt pinned Howell's Brad Gehring.

Other winners were Dan Brogan at 132, Matt Brinker at 155, Ron Fritz at 167 and Bret Keir at 188. Brogan defeated Chris Klebba; Brinker, substituting for the injured Kurt Schuster, defeated Dave Reynolds 7-

6; Fritz topped Tim Hembree 14-0 and Keir pinned Dennis Ancombe. "There wasn't a whole lot to say about it," commented Fritz. "I was always told if there isn't anything good to say, don't say anything."

"Howell was a lot tougher than I thought, and I suppose we are weaker than I thought. We should be close to peaking as a team and we're not even close. I want these kids to wrestle as well as they did at the Oakland County meet."

The Wildcats wrapped up a week's work on Saturday by finishing sixth out of 17 teams at the Lincoln Park Invite. Novi scored 108½ points, nearly 50 behind first place Grosse Ile.

"It was a very good tournament with a lot of good, quality competition, but a lot of our kids didn't fare too well," Fritz reported.

Only one Wildcat managed to advance all the way to the championship finals, but a total of six wrestlers ended up losing to the eventual champs. Keir made it through the preliminary rounds unbeaten, but lost to Holly's Greg Waller 10-1 in the 198-pound finals. It marked the third time this season Keir has lost to Waller.

Don Welch (heavyweight) and Nutt (105) each fell to top-seeded opponents in the early rounds, but fought back to finish third by winning in the consolation finals. Welch's only loss was to Steve Anderson of Romulus. He edged Grosse Ile's Brian Mathias 4-3 for third place. Nutt grabbed a third by beating Trenton's Kelly Shimmell 3-1 in the consolation finals.

Ron Fritz had the misfortune of competing in the toughest weight classification (167) and ended up placing fourth. It was an extremely close race between five quality wrestlers all fighting for one first-place trophy. Fritz fell to the eventual champion, Ron Ruehle of Lincoln Park, 4-3, in the semi-finals on some questionable officiating. Then, in the consolation round, Fritz lost another heart-breaker, this time a 7-5 decision to Grosse Ile's Ray Jurecki.

Dave Brownlee, a standout at 187, placed fourth overall, but may have sustained a season-ending injury. Brownlee made it to the consolation finals but separated his shoulder in the process and had to default. Fritz is still waiting doctor's reports, but fears Brownlee may be out of the rest of the year.

Both Andy Price at 138 and Stacy Marsh at 145 placed fifth despite losing only once on the day. Each had the misfortune of meeting the eventual champions in the first round. Price lost to Jim Schlerer of Romulus, and Marsh lost to Dave Bendtke of Belleville.

There is more bad news concerning Kurt Schuster's injury. He has a severely sprained right knee and is questionable for the remainder of the season.

Novi Eagles bust 100-point barrier

The Novi Christian cagers split a pair of contrasting games last week, giving the team a 12-4 record on the season.

The Eagles put on an offensive show Jan. 27 by blasting West Highland Christian 113-37, but then took it on the chin three days later when they lost to Springfield Christian, 79-70.

The West Highland contest featured 11 Novi Christian players in action, with the starters scoring 59 points and the reserves adding 54. Junior Larry Karvonen paced the attack with 34 points. Scott Sorby added 18 and Eric Jacobs chipped in with 15.

The Eagles went ahead 30-12 after one quarter and pulled away from there. Highland managed to score just 25 points in the first three quarters combined, while Novi Christian burned the nets for 85.

The game at Springfield Christian was a complete change of pace as the Eagles trailed by as much as 24 points in the second quarter, only to pull close and make a contest of it in the second half. A late-game surge by Sorby kept it respectable as he hit for 15 points in the third quarter alone and another 11 more in the fourth.

Sorby ended with a career-high 33 points and grabbed 17 rebounds. Jacobs added 15.

'Lifecall' offers quick response for emergencies

By MATTHEW J. VALLEY

Nearly everyone at some point in his life is in need of emergency fire, police or medical service.

Don Truesdell, owner of New Emergency Response Systems in Farmington, realizes that fact.

"Truesdell is an authorized dealer for Lifecall, an emergency communications system designed primarily for individuals who might need assistance alerting the proper authorities in a life-threatening situation.

The Lifecall system consists of a hand-held, pocket-sized radio transmitter and a microprocessor in a base unit. When activated, the Lifecall microprocessor signals through the subscriber's telephone lines and registers at a 24-hour monitoring station.

The signaling device looks similar to a garage door opener and can be worn with a waistband clip. It also comes in a 1.5 ounce pendant that can be worn around the neck. Both have a transmitting range of 100 feet.

The basic system, including installation, costs $150 to lease over a two-year period. The more comprehensive system costs $250 to lease for two years.

The signal is received at a monitoring station where a computer monitor displays the name, address and known medical conditions of the subscriber. An operator contacts the subscriber directly to acknowledge the call and confirm the need for assistance.

At the same time, a second operator alerts local emergency services and contacts physicians and relatives as designated in the subscriber's file. All information in the file can be viewed by the operators on the computer's monitor.

The information includes standard medical information about the subscriber — prescribed medications, known allergies, nearest relative and preferred medical facility. It also includes specific directions for the quickest route to the PSYCHOTHERAPY & COUNSELING SERVICES, INC. has announced the formation of four separate group therapy offices in the Northville Shores Offcenter at 670 Griswold in Northville.

Business Briefs

Richard Jankowiak, MD, psychiatrist, and Arnold Keller, MA, are offering a general group therapy program, inviting both men and women to participate. The group will meet to resolve individual, couple, family and career problems and concerns in an informal, relaxed setting.

Ann Harris, ACSW, is forming a women's general group therapy program for women of all ages to discuss and explore problems women face in today's society — marital, child-rearing and family problems.

Kevin Salk, MSW, CSW, is forming a couples group to discuss dual-career problems — child-rearing and problems frequently encountered in today's relationships such as jealousy, trust, infidelity, etc. Salk also offers group therapy for substance abuse problems.

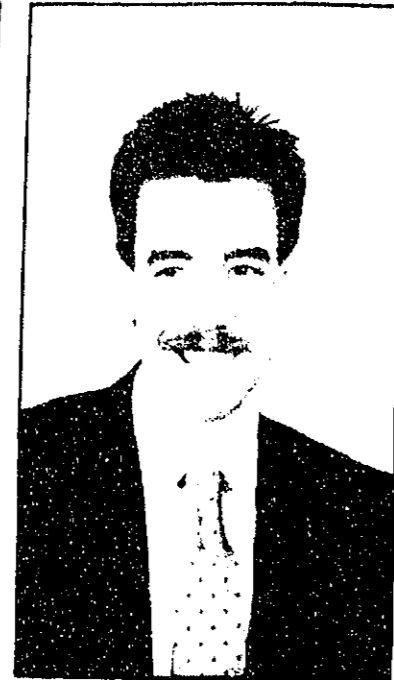

In addition, groups are being formed to deal exclusively with losing weight and stopping smoking.

Anyone interested in joining any of these groups may call 348-1100 Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for information about dates, times, health insurance coverage or fee schedules.

Laura J. McFEGGAN has joined the R.A. DeMattia Company as marketing coordinator. She is responsible for many of the firm's marketing and promotional activities.

QUALITY COLLISION, formerly of Brighton, recently opened its doors at 54530 Pontiac Trail in South Lyon. Owner Jim Edwards and manager Russ Davies spent eight years in Brighton.

Quality Collision features an expanded facility and modern shop. Edwards and Davies also have purchased a new spray booth and easy liner frame machine.

RICHARD S. CLAY, a 1979 graduate of Milford High School, has been named an Associate of the Society of Actuaries.

To be named an associate, Clay successfully completed an intensive course of study and examination administered by the society on the basic concepts underlying the financial analysis of risk and its application to life and health insurance, pensions and other security programs.

Actuaries are trained mathematicians who study and evaluate risks and determine the costs of benefit programs such as pension plans or life insurance policies. They are also frequently experts in the design of such programs in computer systems, finance, marketing and management.

The Society of Actuaries, an international organization of professional actuaries, performs research in actuarial science, provides continuing education for members and maintains high standards of competence and conduct.

Clay is an actuarial consultant with Lincoln National Corporation in Fort Wayne, Ind. He attended the University of Michigan, where he received a bachelor's degree and a master's degree in mathematics in 1983 and 1984, respectively.

Lucky winner

John Jackson poses above with the 1987 Ford Escort GT that he won in a Ford Motor Company Contest for service to customers. A service advisor at McDonald Farm Ford in Northville, Jackson received the award for his good service, as cited by customers who had been given coupons to send in to the company. Customers filling in the coupons were called at random to check that repairs were done properly, and weekly awards were given. At the end of the contest, a drawing was held for the top prize, the Escort GT, and Jackson was the lucky winner.

MESC announces new job service link

A program to help individuals looking for new jobs is being offered by the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC).

Michigan and five adjacent Midwest states — Minnesota, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and Wisconsin — are linked by computer in the new Job Service Resume System.

The system matches job-seekers who have four specific kinds of skills — professional, managerial, technical and sales — with employers looking for workers with those talents.

MESC Director Richard Simmons Jr. said employers will find the resume system especially helpful in their employee searches. "When the system becomes fully operational, we will be able to provide employers with resumes from highly-qualified job-seekers in a six-state area who have been selected because they meet the employer's job requirements," he said.

Job-seekers and employers can participate in the resume system by contacting their local MESC Job Service office.

Applicants are asked to prepare one-page resumes with specific information about occupational background and experience, salary history, education, managerial experience and foreign language skills.

Employers submit job offers to MESC listing requirements they seek in a potential employee. At first, a search is made for qualified local applicants. After exhausting local files, MESC can obtain resumes from the new system of qualified applicants and supply employers with a selected list for consideration. Employers then can arrange to interview the candidates.

If the employer wishes, he or she can use MESC's facilities for the interviews. MESC does not charge a fee to either the employer or job-seeker who use the resume system. Veterans are given preference in the process.

Information about the system and how to prepare the application form and the resume is available from any MESC Job Service office. Offices are listed in the white pages of the telephone book under State of Michigan, Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Strategic Fund offers help for entrepreneurs

It might have happened anyway. But now the state is formalizing the spread of "seed capital," contributing money and publicizing it through the Michigan Strategic Fund.

"This is more systematic and provides more resources," said Thomas D. Demery, who has been awarded a $2 million state loan to provide formation capital and advice to entrepreneurs who think they have a good business idea.

For the last 11 years, Demery has been known as a vice president and financial officer of Awrey Bakeries in Livonia. Now the Franklin resident also will do business as Demery Seed Capital Fund.

"I was going to do this anyway," said Demery. "But the Michigan Strategic Fund deserves a tremendous amount of credit for structuring to make the funds available."

To qualify for a $2 million loan, he had to show his firm could raise $1 million in matching capital.

Two companies headquartered in Oakland County and two in Ann Arbor were awarded a total of $8 million at 9 percent, above loans from the strategic fund. The other three are:

- Onset Seed Fund, whose principal is Dwight Carlson, founder of Perceptron Inc. in Farmington Hills.
- Enterprise Management Inc., Ann Arbor, whose partners are Hayden Harris and Thomas Porter.

Its strong interest is high technology and providing managerial help, said Philip H. Power, a member of its advisory committee and founder of Suburban Communications Corporation.

- Diamond Venture Associates, Ann Arbor, headed by Howard Diamond, an experienced venture capitalist.

Power pointed to a pattern in the state loans — "a geographic arc from Ann Arbor to Rochester. That's where there's engineering talent. That's where there's marketing talent."

"At either end you'll find the University of Michigan and Oakland University. In between, there are people who have dreamed up a business idea."

At least three of the seed capital firms are expected to operate on a statewide basis, said Steve Rohde, who heads the tiny staff that runs MESC's seed capital program in Lansing.

Power predicted three general locations would attract seed capital from these and other firms. The Ann Arbor/Rochester area is already famed as Michigan's high-tech corridor.

In recent decades, seed capital has been hard to find in Michigan, Power contends. Banks typically have no interest in that. Banks are irrelevant to new companies, to the Joe Joneses working out of their basements.

The seed capital program is one of three main programs of the Michigan Strategic Fund. Others are a $5 million capital access program, allowing banks to make loans to small- and medium-sized businesses, and BIDCO, a state-licensed Business and Industrial Development Corporation to handle "middle-risk" financing.

If you won't read these 7 signals of cancer...

You probably have the 8th.

1. Change in bowel or bladder habits.
2. A sore that does not heal.
3. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
4. Thickening or lump in breast or elsewhere.
5. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
6. Obvious change in wart or mole.
7. Nagging cough or hoarseness.
8. A fear of cancer that can prevent you from detecting cancer at an early stage. A stage when it is highly curable. Everyone's afraid of cancer, but don't let it scare you to death.

NOT EVERY DOG HAS HIS DAY.

Take a look at your own pet. Can you picture him cold and starving? Or abused. Or worse. It's an awful picture. Yet it's one that thousands of animals are forced to live every day.

We at the Michigan Humane Society are putting a stop to that. But we need your help.

We offer more than just shelter to lost and abused animals. We provide them with the medical attention and love they so desperately need. And we have a legal branch that investigates and prosecutes cruelty cases. But it takes money to continue this work. Please help.

Give to the Michigan Humane Society.

Dr. Detroit, MI 48211

One Thomas Edison is not enough.

training in advanced electronics. We can take a qualified young man or woman with no prior training, and, in a few months, have him well on the way to being not only an electronics expert, but a confident, mature individual.

Then, when his education is completed, he'll have the opportunity to see much of the world while he works with the most sophisticated electronic equipment he'll ever see. For which he'll receive a good salary as well as all Navy benefits.

We'd be happy to send more information about the Navy advanced electronics program. Simply send in the coupon below.

The world, with all its problems and difficulties, needs all the Edisons it can get. And while true genius is rare, there will always be a need for people who can continue what he began.

But there are two problems. Finding talented people. And developing their talents.

You can help with the first problem if you know a high school graduate who is interested in electricity or electronics. If so, we can solve the second problem. The Navy offers what we believe to be some of the world's finest

Steppin' Out

From the waltz to the watusi, dance lives on with the dance! let you be unconfined;

No sleep til morn, when Youth and Pleasure meet
To chase the glowing hours with flying feet
— Lord Byron

Ferris State University. A fraternity party. Somebody sticks "Gettin' Down to Business" by Bachman/Turner Overdrive on the stereo, and a smelk goes up from the fraternity brothers and sorority sisters. They start clapping hands. Then their knees. Now they're kneeling on the floor, slapping their hands against the carpet in time with the strains of the BTO.

Now they're lying on their stomachs, lying on their sides, kicking their feet in the air. "It's 'The Gator.' Great fun. The latest craze on college campuses. It's dancing.

According to the World Book Encyclopedia, "dancing is an act of moving the body in rhythm, usually in time to music."

There's more. "People seem to have a natural urge to express their feelings through rhythmic movement. . . . In dancing, people organize the expressive movement of their bodies into rhythmic and visual patterns."

The World Book Encyclopedia also says dancing is both an art and a form of recreation.

It's Friday night at Whispers, the lounge at the Novi Hilton.

The band starts at nine o'clock, playing what is popularly known as "top 40" songs. There are lots of handsomely dressed men and women, holding drinks and milling around the dance floor. The men are scouting out the scene. What women look good? The women are scouting out the scene. Only more discreetly. What men look good?

The band's first set goes slowly. Not much action on the dance floor. But as the night wears on the floor becomes crowded with couples, bouncing up and down. Having a good time. Does the dance they're doing have a name? Or is it merely moving to the music?

It's dancing. But the dancing is almost secondary to the primary purpose — an opportunity to meet members of the opposite sex. It's also called the "bar scene."

Dancing is one of the oldest activities known to mankind. Prehistoric paintings found in Africa and southern Europe show people dancing. Social scientists believe dancing may have played an important part in forming and many other activities in prehistoric life.

Scientists study the dances of various cultures because the kinds of dance a people do — and how and why they do them — can reveal much about their way of life.

Wonder what they'd think of "The Gator"?

Two kinds of dancing are recognized — theatrical and social. Theatrical dancing, according to the World Book Encyclopedia, is performed for the entertainment of spectators.

Manager Darryl Maggio said the basic course is best taken over a period of one week's time or at least no more than two weeks so that the steps are not forgotten between lessons. Upon completion of the introductory course, the instructor will sit down with the student and work out a "program" of lessons which will include private and group sessions for more advanced training. He said the cost of these is dependent on the program worked out.

On Friday evenings, the studio offers a night-club setting for a two-hour dance practice party where students will get more of the feel of going out dancing for the evening, Maggio said.

Romance a la carte

Ah, Valentine's Day approaches. Now's the time to start thinking about making this year's Valentine's Day a little special... a little out of the ordinary.

Why not take her out to dinner at a lovely restaurant? Let her get dressed up. Feel elegant and beautiful.

Where, you ask. Fear not. The area abounds with outstanding restaurants. Lovely places with excellent food. Perfect for making your sweetheart feel like the beautiful woman she truly is.

So, read on.

Warm and comfortable, MacKinnon's in downtown Northville is a perfect spot for a St. Valentine's Day dinner.

There's something romantic about visiting Northville's Main Street in the first place with its warm, turn-of-the-century street lamps and interesting shops.

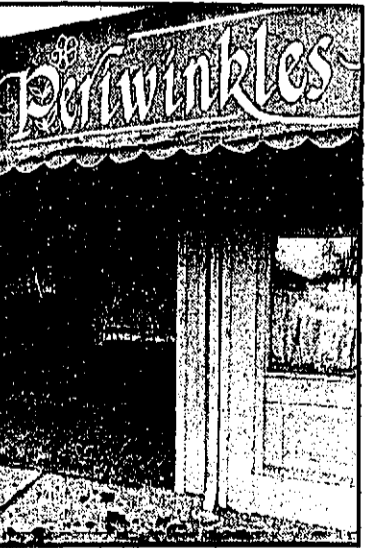

But MacKinnon's is the piece de resistance with its linen-covered tables and lace curtains over the windows. A 22-foot mahogany bar greets diners as they enter the restaurant, and the dining room features beautiful works in stained glass.

Tom MacKinnon, the owner and chef, has earned quite a reputation among culinary experts for the quality of his cuisine. And you'll find the menu filled with interesting appetizers, terrines and pates as well as an outstanding selection of entrees.

The wine list is particularly impressive, and recently received an Award of Excellence from The Wine Spectator, one of only 51 restaurants in the United States to be so honored.

Complete your dinner with a selection from the dessert menu. We recommend the Chocolate Chocolate Creation, a sheet or rolled chocolate filled with chocolate mousse and strawberries, that's sinful and sensuous.

MacKinnon's, 130 East Main Street, Northville. Liquor license. All major credit cards. 348-1991. Reservations recommended.

Admittedly it's been awhile since we've visited Periwinkle's in downtown Brighton, but the memories of a romantic, candle-lit dinner linger still.

The interior is dark and romantic with small booths along the walls and antique chairs pulled up to the tables in the center of the room.

Again, those who enjoy a good bottle of wine with their meals will not be disappointed. Selections ranged in price from $9 to $140 on our last visit.

Periwinkle's may be characterized by its attention to detail... as apparent in the presentation of the food as it is in the appointments on the table.

Appetizers may include assorted cheeses, escargot or cognac shrimp. Dinner salads are served simply but artistically.

There are 14 different entrees plus special creations from the chef which vary nightly.

As for desserts, there is again a simple elegance to the selections — fresh berries covered with cream or Italian ices in addition to a pastry cart.

Periwinkle's, 400 West Main Street, Brighton. Liquor license. All major credit cards. 229-4115.

Yet another Main Street restaurant is the Appe'teaser in Milford — which, like Northville and Brighton, has recognized the desirability of a traditional downtown area and taken steps to preserve and revitalize it.

Despite its somewhat flippant name, the Appe'teaser has recognized the importance of the restaurant to the town and moved to further establish the link between the town's beginnings and contemporary times by lining the walls with pictures of historic Milford.

At the same time, the restaurant's decor is somewhat eclectic. In addition to the old pictures, the original walls of brick and stone have been restored. But there's also an airy contemporary feeling with natural woods, lots of greenery and suspended stairs which reach up to a third dining level.

Chef Chris Angelosante comes from a family with a long history of operating restaurants, but the 28-year-old chef also qualifies as one of the new breed of culinary artists with experience at the New York Institute of Culinary Arts.

The food is excellent. Appetizers include moules a la marinere (fresh mussels in garlic, thyme, shallots and wine) and spinach tortelline de Firenze (fresh spinach pasta with cheese and topped with a tomato sauce).

There are a variety of interesting entrees; a house specialty is the chicken livers with strawberries. And the selection of desserts occasionally reaches the sublime — a grand marnier souffle, for example.

The Appe'teaser has a more than adequate wine cellar. And there's a piano bar on the lower level — a nice place for an after-dinner cognac or Amaretto.

Appe'teaser, 335 North Main Street, Milford. Liquor license. All major credit cards. 685-9989.

Chez Raphael's in Novi is not a Main Street restaurant. What it is is an ambitious undertaking to create not only the premier restaurant in Michigan but also one of the premier restaurants in the country.

The chef is young, ambitious Keith Famie. And he is backed by the financial commitment of the Anthony Wisne family, which has spared no expense in creating a truly luxurious restaurant.

The restaurant has been decorated in the style of a French country inn. Rich oil paintings of French pastoral scenes decorate the walls, large wooden beams criss-cross the ceiling. A highlight is the large antique hutch hand-crafted of pear wood that dates back to the 1860s.

As you might expect from a restaurant with such lofty goals, everything at Chez Raphael's is exemplary. Maite d'hotel Achille Bianchi is a skilled host, and the tuxedoed wait staff has been thoroughly trained in service and presentation.

There's a large wine menu with selections from around the world, including several Michigan wines.

But, more than anything else, it's Famie's artistic and creative cuisine which makes Chez Raphael's so exquisite.

Terrine of duck foie gras, crabmeat salad and Beluga caviar with warm blini and sour cream. And those are only the appetizers.

Entrees? The menu has 18 of them; and Famie always offers several special creations nightly.

Desserts are of equal calibre. A wonderful apple and cherry galette served in a puff pastry with raspberry cream sauce and accompanied by maple ice cream — an all-Michigan creation.

There's also a comfortably appointed lounge with a piano player — a perfect spot for an after-dinner drink, a lovely ending for a lovely dinner.

Chez Raphael's, 27600 East Sheraton Oaks Drive, Novi. Liquor license. All major credit cards. 348-5555. Reservations required.
