geese killing under investigation

By ANN E. WILLIS staff writer

George Earl Cummins, partowner of the Westbrooke Golf Course (formerly Bob-O-Link) at Beck Road and Grand River in Novi, has been served with a warrant charging him with two counts of killing Canada geese with an automobile, according to Officer Eve DeLine of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

Cummins was served with the warrant by DeLine on Friday, May 22. The warrant was issued by the 52nd District Court. No date for arraignment has been set.

Cummins could not be reached

The killing of wild water fowl is a misdemeanor, punishable by up to 90 days in jail or a fine of up to $500 upon conviction. In addition, anyone found guilty of the charge may be assessed restitution costs to the state of up to $500 per bird.

DeLine, whose territory is Oakland County, was contacted by another DNR officer after the department had been contacted about the killing of the birds by the Novi Police Department.

Denise Muscat, a resident of Beck real nice."

Road, said she called Novi police after observing a blue Mercedes Benz convertible chasing geese on the golf course at 4:10 p.m. on Tuesday, May 19. Muscat said she saw the car hit the geese and a man reach out and put the dead geese in a "white sack."

Sergeant Gerald Burnham of the Novi Police Department responded to the complaint and said he recovered a white sack containing two dead baby Canada geese from the dumpster behind the clubhouse at the Westbrooke golf course.

"I started crying when I saw what he was doing," Muscat said. "Those geese have been like pets to me. We see them come in every spring and have a ball watching Muscat said it was not unusual to watch cars pull off Beck Road, and families get out to watch the geese swimming on the pond at the golf course.

"I'm really attached to them," Muscat said. "They're just really pretty, and they don't cause any problems."

Muscat said she was shocked at the action on the part of the new owners of the golf course because they "had been keeping the grounds

Dennis Clark Runner was arraigned in 52nd District Court Saturday on charges of open murder and using a firearm in the commission of a felony. He is being held without bond in the Oakland County Jail. Preliminary examination has been scheduled for June 1 in the 52nd District Court in Walled Runner is charged in conjunction with the death of Korte in what Novi Police Captain Richard Faulkner called a case of "mistaken identi-

The shells were recovered by Novi High School students in a field north of Ten Mile and west of Wixom Road. Faulkner said police enlisted the aid of the high school students to scour the vacant field on their hands and knees after efforts to locate the shells with a tracking dog on Saturday proved unsuccessful. The shells currently are being processed in the Michigan State Police crime lab. Korte's body was found by passing motorists in a ditch on Ten Mile just west of Wixom Road at approximately 11:40 p.m. on Wednesday, May 20. Faulkner said Korte had been shot in the left side of his head, chest and arm. Korte was transported by ambulance to Botsford General Hospital in Farmington Hills where he was pronounced dead at 12:38 a.m. on May

The murder apparently involved a love triangle between Runner, his estranged wife and a third party who was not identified in police

According to police, Runner's estranged wife had left him in February and was living with relatives on Taft Road in Novi while seeking a divorce.

Witnesses said they saw Runner's truck cruising in the Taft Road area the night the murder occurred. Runner was alleged to have cruised past the house where his estranged wife was living and then park at the base of the driveway to Novi Woods Elementary School.

In the meantime, Korte was visiting the home of his parents which is located in close proximity to the residence where Runner's estranged wife was staying.

"He (Korte) left his parents' home around 9:40 p.m. on Wednesday night to drive back to his home in South Lyon," said Faulkner. "From where Runner was parked, it apparently looked like he (Korte)

By CHRISTOPHER J. KOZŁOWSKI

Conference centers in the City of Novi may soon be allowed to be as tall as 10 stories high if amendments to the city's "C District" are approved by the city council.

By a close 5-4 vote last week, Novi planning commissioners recommended the amendments be forwarded to the city council for its input, but not before commissioners and community residents expressed concern that the height exception may be a "Trojan horse" for

Concerns of maximum height generated the most debate, and one resident - former mayor Robert Schmid - predicted that if the city were to make one exception to its height restrictions, Novi would soon be flooded with developers wishing to do the same.

"I submit, and I sat on the city council for 10 years, that if you allow one high rise you are going to get bombarded from others to go up additional stories," said Schmid, who served as mayor from 1981-85. "Some time ago, the city took a hard look at what type of community they would like to have and they limited the height to five stories in some districts," Schmid added. "At that time, the council and a number of citizens felt that five stories was the type of development that could stand in a community which is residential-oriented, and one that would not allow growth to exceed the trappings that affect rapidly growing communities.

"If you look at Southfield and the height limitations they have, and the problems they have and are going to have, I cannot understand why we would want to raise our height limitations," Schmid added. Much of the debate concerning the height limitation centered on the proposed Sheraton Oaks conference center.

"It may be the Sheraton's goal to become one of the five largest conference centers in the state of Michigan, but is that the goal of the residents of Novi?" asked Laura Lorenzo, a Novi resident. "I favor maintaining a low-rise, low-profile community," she added. "And I believe many other residents of Novi do as well. I am deeply concerned that allowing this project would set a precedent, and encourage other special height

Residents were not, however, the only ones concerned that such an amendment could be opening the floodgates for building height exceptions within the city.

Commissioner Riley Richard stated he was opposed to the proposed conference center amendments because he felt the city would be in a weak position defending exceptions in court.

'(The amendments) would be a high risk to the city for attempting to defend it," Richard said.

Planners backing the amendment said city officials could always maintain control of height exceptions by maintaining the city's zoning ordinances and the Master Plan. But commissioners opposed to the amendments maintained that the courts may be able to overrule the city on the grounds of legal precedent.

Commissioner Richard Clark said the courts could change the city's zoning without the input of the planning commission or the city council. He referred to the amendments as a possible "Trojan

"Southfield didn't just rise over night, Clark said. "It started with one, and grew."

The amendments were originally proposed as amendments to the city's current "C-District," which applies to convention and conference centers within the city. The recommendation that was passed by the commission last week excluded all references to convention centers in an effort to prevent such projects from being developed in the city.

Commissioner Gary Phillips recommended the exclusion of convention centers. "I do not see any need for or desire for a convention center in the city of Novi," Phillips

Bond proposal discussed June 2

An informational meeting to the other meetings to attend and discuss the $6.25 million bond issue proposal on the June 8 school election ballot will be held next Tuesday, June 2.

The meeting will be held in Novi School Administration offices on Taft Road near Eleven Mile at 7:30 p.m. All interested citizens are urged to attend.

The meeting is part of an on-going campaign by school district officials to make the public aware of the $6.25 million bond issue proposal. District officials previously have held meetings with subdivision associations and parentteacher organizations.

The meeting next week is a final opportunity for anyone who missed ask questions, according to Superintendent Dr. Robert Piwko.

In the June 8 election, district voters will be faced with a proposal for the district to sell up to $6.25 million worth of bonds. If the proposal passes, bonds would be sold early next year to finance three phases of construction projects.

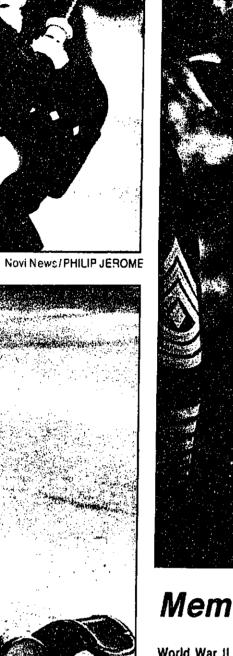

First on the construction schedule - if voters okay the issue - would

Novi High School wins top honors

National Secondary School Recognition award from the United States Secretary of Education as one of the country's most exemplary high

The award was formally announced Wednesday, May 27, at the high school's honors convocation for graduating seniors.

Novi High School is one of 14 schools in Michigan and 271 nationwide to receive the honor, which was conferred on the basis of many factors evaluated through a written application and an on-sile visitation. "We're very excited about it, and we're especially excited because our students, faculty, parents and other community supporters have made it able to be achieved," said Dr. Robert oungberg, principal at Novi High

Youngbery added that the school district's administration and board of education share credit for the award because "they're always so positive and make everything work the way it should."

Youngberg stressed that the honor demonstrates the strong ties between the schools and the community in Novi. The award carries additional importance because of what it will mean in the future to students who graduate from the school, he added.

This is the first year for a national recognition program for secondary schools. The Novi Community School District's Orchard Hills School has received a similar national recognition on the elementary school level.

The students are featured in a public service announcement promoting the message, "Don't Drink and Drive, Together We Can Make a World of Difference." The announcement is one of a series airing daily on Channel 4 during May and June. The campaign is centered around the high school prom season when teenage alcohol-related accidents reach a peak.

AND THE WINNER IS: City Manager Edward Kriewall was declared the winner in the name-the-development project conducted by developer Jay Eldridge. The development project is the restaurant/commercial/hotel venture undertaken by the city and Eldridge at the sight of the old Novi casino complex at the juncture of Novi Road and Walled Lake.

The winning entry was "The Landing." Seven entries containing the words "the landing" were submitted, so contest officials decided to put all seven names in a hat to choose the winner. Ed Kriewall was picked. He wins a weekend at The Landing.

According to Eldridge, it was "apropos for Ed to win in light of the development being his pet project.' Thirty-five names were submitted by 15 people for the contest.

STEPHEN HITCHCOCK

An attorney with Nystrom, Nystrom and Hitchcock in Bloomfield Hills, Hitchcock was appointed to the Novi school board in the spring of 1986 to fill the vacanacy created by the resignation of Gilbert Henderson. He was elected to a one-year term on the board in the June 1986

Prior to being appointed to the board, Hitchcock served on two millage renewal committees and the district's Task Force on Excellence in Education. He has been a member of the city's zoning board of appeals since 1984. Hitchcock is a graduate of Western Michigan University and the Detroit College of Law. He is married and has two children, both attending Novi schools.

Planners reject cluster option

By CHRISTOPHER J. KOZLOWSKI staff writer

The Novi Planning Commission last week ended a three-year dispute between a developer and Eleven Mile residents by denying use of the cluster housing option for the proposed Braes of Commissioners rejected the request by an 8-1 vote, reasoning that although the project met one technical qualification for cluster, traditional development of the land may be possible without destroying sensitive land on the site. "We have already established that one of the conditions (for use of the cluster option) does exist, that is with the natural resources. However, it has not been shown that a conventional subdivision approach to a residential development would not work in this instance," said Commissioner John Balagna. "What is (the site's) unique environmental significance? I do not know," Balagna added. "In my opinion. I feel this site plan does not meet our ordinance, and with that in mind, I move to deny the plan approval." In his motion for disapproval, Balagna read from Section 2403 of the zoning ordinance to reinforce his opinion. Paragraph 1-B of the ordinance says a cluster approval could be granted if "... the Planning Commission finds, after reviewing the proposed site plan and after a public hearing , that the conventional approach to residential development would destroy the unique environmental significance of the site, and that the use of the cluster option is a desirable course of action to follow." The cluster housing option is an ordinance designed to preserve and protect designated wetlands and woodlands by allowing developers to but he has not met the preliminary requirement parcel of land. One of the conditions for cluster approval is that at least 50 percent of the planned site must be made up of wetlands and/or woodlands. The Braes site, which has been owned by developer Aaron Zola for about 12 years, is a 48.96 acre site on the south side of Eleven Mile between ded. Taft and Beck roads. It is zoned R-4 (single-family

Attorney Norman Hyman, representing Zola, recounted the history of the project for the commissioners prior to their decision. The Braes project was originally approved for cluster hosuing in May 1986. But the city required were made to the city's cluster ordinance. Commissioners last month postponed a decision on the cluster until they could review previously submitted project site plans. "Mr. Zola has jumped through every hoop that has been placed in front of him," Hyman said. "He complied with the old ordinance, he complies with the existing ordinance. "Every expert who has looked at this property agrees that he qualifies," Hyman added. "More than 50 percent of the land is sensitive, either by being wetlands or woodlands, and we are entitled to the approval. We meet every test.' Although planning commissioners agreed that more than 50 percent of the site in question contained wetlands and woodlands, all of the commissioners agreed that cluster approval is dependent

"The only thing the petitioner has shown us is that he qualifies by statistically managing to show that he has over 50 percent of sensitive land on this development," said Commissioner Riley Richard. "He has established that (a cluster) is feasible.

construct homes closer together in open areas on a that (cluster) is preferable. "I have read the community impact statement, which (the developer) prepared, and I see nothing in there . . . that would indicate one reason why this particular cluster development is preferable to traditional single-family housing," Richard ad-

> "I would also like to point out that the intent of this ordinance is to give an option to allow multiple development in order to protect sensitive lands," Richard said. "There is nothing here that shows me this sensitive land is any more protected by the use of cluster housing than it could be protected by appropriate use of single family housing." "I have a problem when I see an application like this that really pushes the intent of the or> dinance," said Commissioner Charles Kureth. "And I have to agree with Commissioner Balagna's comments regarding 1-B. I think he hit the nail right on the head. And I think this is an attempt to push (the ordinance) for all it is worth. "I think there has not been shown there is anything unique about this plan," Kureth added. "There are woodlands, there are wetlands, but > there is nothing to show that the overall environment on the site is particularly unique. Quite frankly, I do not believe it is. It has not been shown that way.' Kureth added that he does not disagree with the cluster housing option in principle. "It is single family housing. And at this particular site the density would be the same. I think the impact on the area, at least in terms of traffic, would be no more or less than if an R-4 subdivision went in there. So, generally. I favor the trade-off in terms of environmental reasons. But only if we are going to be protecting a unique area. And this (project)

River clean-up June 6

There is an important resource in Novi that a lot of residents don't even know exists. Six miles of the Rouge River run through Novi. On Saturday, June 6, residents will have a chance to help this valuable tributary by participating in the annual "Clean-Up the Rouge Day."

According to Susan Nayh, environmental specialist for JCK & Associates, the city's consulting engineers, more awareness of the river and its effect on the city is needed, and the annual clean-up day is an excellent way for the community to get to know the river. On June 6 interested volunteers are asked to meet at the Michigan Tractor and Machinery office at 24800 Novi Road at 7:45 a.m. Coffee and doughnuts will be served, and work groups will be organized. The groups are scheduled to be moved via city vehicles to spots on the Rouge beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Volunteers will work until lunchtime when a picnic lunch will be served and drawings will be held for donated door prizes. Organizers have planned the work day to be a fun day as well, according to city officials. Robert Shaw, Novi's director of public services, said last year's Rouge clean-up was a tremendous success. Some 136 volunteers formed 14 work crews to clean up log-jams along the Middle Rouge tributary which starts at Walled Lake and flows through Novi. Nayh said the work done by crews last year has made a significant difference on the river's flow through the city and most of the areas cleared last year have remained open this year. Volunteers willbe concentrated on the areas of the river clogged with debris. City workers will man chain saws and other heavy equipment, and volunteers will be used to help haul the refuse up the sides of the river and in to trucks, Shaw said.

Shaw advise volunteers to dress sensibly, preferably in long pants, long-sleeved shirts and boots. Tennis shoes and shorts may not be suitable for what could be mosquito-laden areas, said Shaw.

Volunteers will concentrate on areas north of Twelve Mile, Nayh said, where the river is still heavily forested. She said JCK employees had been walking the river looking for clean-up sites all week.

Log or refuse jams are problems for the river, according to Shaw, because if the flow is stopped in one place, it seeks another route causing a diversion of flow and ruining habitat in the area. The Rouge is an important watersource for Novi in many ways, Nayh said, and her office is in the midst of a water study funded by the city's Stormwater Committee budget. Engineers will take 15 water samples from the Rouge in Novi this week and again in the fall for a comparison of water quality standards. The tests will be conducted on an annual basis for comparison purposes.

Nayh said the study will help document the whole picture of water quality in the Rouge and how the city's wetlands and retention ponds are helping to increase the quality of the water in the Rouge. Likewise, she said, the study will allow the city to backtrack and locate problem areas and potential illegal dump sites from industrial sources into the river.

"The Rouge is an important resource for the city," Nayh said. "Its habitat value is very important for wildlife such as migrating birds and deer." She said as a city develops its flood plain, or river area, is often the last to develop and wildlife naturally are pushed to the edges of the river

In Novi, Nayh said, wildlife flocks to the river because most of the Rouge in Novi is heavily forested. North of Twelve Mile Nayh noted, the engineers have seen many signs of deer along the river

The Rouge also is important from a purely scenic point of view, Nayh noted, and while it does contain some fish now, she'd like to see the city eventually begin some fishery work on the river.

If Novi is to be a quality city,

The Novi Planning Commission after three years of debate has finally decided to deny a developer's request to allow the Braes of Novi project to be developed under the city's cluster housing option.

The Braes of Novi project is located on the south side of Eleven Development Mile between Taft and Beck roads The area is currently zoned R-4, the city's most dense classification for single-family homes.

The commission voted 8-1 to deny use of the cluster option on the property. The cluster housing option is designed to preserve and protect designated wetlands and woodlands develop it is time the city began conby allowing developers to construct centrating on single-family homes. homes closer together in open areas on a parcel of land. The idea is that although the developer will stay completely out of sensitive environmental areas, his overall density will remain the same.

The commissioners should be applauded for finally coming to a decision on what has been a very heated issue. Neighbors in the Eleven Mile area have protested the proposed cluster option, maintaining the "country atmosphere" of the area would be destroyed by the clustered homes. Most of those protesting the zoning under which the Braes of Novi proposal live on large lots of one-acre

The commission had much to look at a current city zoning map take into account when reviewing the shows an abundance of R-4 zoning in Braes project for the proposed cluster option. The wording of the cluster ordinance requires that the developer meet certain criteria, such as having over 50-percent of the project area include a designated woodlands or wetlands. Even after being shown that the Braes project did meet those standards, planning commissioners relied heavily on the "may" wording of the cluster ordinance. Approval "may" be granted, if the conditions are met. That doesn't mean it shall, it just means it may be. In this case it

Planning commissioners voted against the cluster option deciding that although the 49-acre site had the 50 percent of the sensitive lands needed, it could still be developed in a more traditional single-family home method under the current R-4

We agree with a planning decision that upholds more single-family home development. The current state of the real estate market backs

Truly 'exemplary?'

The Novi Community School Education for its outstanding District achieved another prestigious honor when Novi High School was selected for national recognition as an exemplary educational facility by the United States Secretary of Novi High School was one of 14 public schools in Michigan and 271 across the nation to be selected for recognition in the program which is designed to bring attention to the importance of education.

This is not the first time a Novi school has been acclaimed as "exemplary" by the U.S. Secretary of Education. Similar honors were achieved last year by Orchard Hills Elementary School which was cited as one of the nation's "exemplary" elementary schools.

Novi High School and Orchard Hills Elementary became eligible for national recognition after being selected for honors by the Michigan Department of Education. Although it has not received national acclaim, Novi Middle School also has been cited by the State Department of later. Or if there is something unique, interesting or rare on and I want it in my growing "video library," I can have it at a very cheap price and all I have to do is an almost instinctual need to begin collecting some sort of movies or programs on video. As a big fan of Alfred Hitchcock films, that became my first goal — to tape and collect as many Hitchcock movies as I could. It seems like just about every week, you can find one of them on cable television's many channels. In the span of a month, I already had "Rope," "Dial M For Murder," "Frenzy" and "The Man Who Knew Too Much." It was easy.

Soon came "Torn Curtain," "Psycho," "The Trouble With Harry" and many more. But as I continued to add to the collection (that has now reached over 30), I discovered a little-known dirty trick that T.V. stations are doing to devoted movie fans - in astonishing numbers, they are cutting scenes out that were certainly included originally.

Now I'm not sure if it is the stations doing it or if they receive the movies already chopped up. Regardless, it is a very disturbing trend. Just like many others, I view classic films with high esteem, and this practice is kind of like defacing a work of art. Cutting a scene out of a Hitchcock film is like tearing pages out of a Pulitzer Prize-winning novel.

The reason must invariably have to do with money. For every minute of the film that is disposed, a couple commercials can be added instead — and that means more cash. And much of the time, the cuts will go pretty much unnoticed unless someone has previously seen the movie. These film butchers often dispose of very important or relevant scenes. Even the parts that aren't critical to the story should be left in tact anyway because obviously the film makers thought it was important enough to include it in the first place.

The film "Saboteur," a 1942 Hitchcock classic, was on television and I taped it. What had been a nearly twohour original, was chopped by more than a half hour. And amazingly, some of the scenes that were eliminated were extremely relevant to the narrative. One minute Pricilla Lane didn't trust (and actually) hated) Bob Cummings, but after a strategically placed commmerical, they were suddenly lovebirds.

This cutting technique happens all the time. It doesn't matter what time of day the movie is shown, or. for that matter, what calibre the films are. I've seen Hitchcock classics like "Psycho" chopped up as well as . "The Birds" and "Vertigo.

During his peak in the late 1950s, Hitchcock worked extremely hard to retain complete artistic control over his films. Before signing on to direct a film, Hitchcock would insist that a clause be included in the contract with the studio that would give him the final say on all artistic matters. In 1959, when his masterpiece "North By Northwest" clocked in at well over two hours, MGM tried to chop it up a bit. Hitchcock quickly brought up that little clause and the studio was forced to put its

CHARLIE BAKKILA of Northville, president of Car Care Centers of America, was among Michigan small business owners participating in a Washington, D.C., presentation of Small Business Association of Michigan (SBAM) as part of the National Small Business United's annual Washington presentation, May 19-20. Bakkila was a delegate to the White House Conference on small business and serves on SBAM's board of directors.

Opposition to government mandated benefits was the top priority that small business owners from Michigan took to their representatives when they participated in the annual presentation. The group asked members of Congress to leave the negotiation of employee benefits as a voluntary process between employers and

Faith Run slated for June 6th

The sixth annual run sponsored by the Faith Community United Presbyterian Church has been scheduled for Saturday, June 6.

The event will include a four-mile race and a one-mile fun run, according to race coordinator Michael Everett. Check-in time is from 8 to 8:30 a.m. The fun run will begin at 9 under way at 9:15 a.m.

Everett reported that the course is 75 percent flat.

Registration fees are $4 for the fun run/walk and $7 for the fourmile run. Registration fee for the four-mile run will be $9 the day of

The top three male and female finishers in the four-mile race will receive plaques. Medallions will be awarded to male runners who finish fourth to 50th and female runners who finish fourth to 25th.

Everett said the awards ceremony and raffle will be held mmediately after the race. All registered runners will be automatically entered in the raffle. In addition, the first 100 egistrants for the four-mile race ill receive tote bags. All one-mile fun run entrants will receive rib-

Playing down to the level of veaker opponents has been trademark for the Wildcats in recent years, but pulling out victories in close games against inferior ompetition also has been a pat-

True to form, Novi trailed Farmington for most of the game only to rally for six runs in the sixth inning the big blow coming on a grand slam homer by Jeff Tanderys — to salvage an 8-4 win. "It wasn't easy." Wildcat mentor

Gar Frantz said. "I think we took the win for granted a little bit. Heck, Farmington was only 4-16." The victory advances Novi (14-10 overall) into the district tournament in Northville. The 'Cats will take on the winner of the Plymouth Canton/Walled Lake Western clash at Northville High this Saturday

The Falcons drew first blood with a run off Tanderys in the top of the first without a hit, but Novi came back to take a 2-1 lead in the bottom of the inning on lead-off hits by Scott Wladishkin and Chris Henderson and a two-run double by Dave

The senior slugger ripped a shot down the third base line just inches foul and then hoisted a shot over the left field fence that also went foul. But given a third try, Tanderys smacked the grand slam. Before the inning ended. Mike Bobbish delivered an RBI double that made the final score 8-4. Tanderys pitched well enough to win, but it wasn't one of his classic outings. He went the full seven innings, gave up seven hits, three walks and three earned runs. He also fanned eight including one in the fifth that marked his 250th career strike out.

"Jeff threw O.K. but he hadn't thrown in a week and he really didn't have his good stuff," Frantz said. "He battled them, though." Offensively, Wladishkin, Hender son, Skown, Piotrowicz and Kamish all collected two hits apiece.

The belated loss charged to Novi from the Howell game leaves the Wildcats with a 6-4 league mark. The Lions currently sport a 7-2-1 record - the tie coming on a similar suspended game. If Novi sweeps the twinbill, the league crown is theirs. But South Lyon may have the chance to make up their suspended game tie and, if they manage a win, the title would be shared between the two schools. Wildcats of the Week

JEFF TANDERYS

TAMMY ONOFREY

There can't be a better candidate for "Wildcat of the Week" honors than pitcher/shortstop Jeff Tanderys - even if he is the first athlete of the spring season to be honored twice. In Novi's 8-4 pre-district triumph over Farmington on May 22, the senior not only went the distance on the mound to notch his eighth win of the season, he also blasted a grand slam home run to key a six-run sixth inning, thus erasing a 4-1 deficit. It was Tanderys' tenth homer of the season (in 24 games) and upped his team-leading RBI total to an amazing 34. He went the full seven innings against the Falcons, recorded eight strike outs and surrendered seven hits and three earned runs. For the season, he is 8-1 with a 1.36 ERA, 85 strike outs and 20

Novi's Tammy Onofrey proved on May 22 that she is the best half-miler in the KVC and in Oakland County and if that isn't enough to warrant "Wildcat of the Week" honors, nothing is. The competitions included the KVC Championships and Oakland County Championships and the event was the 800-meter run. Onofrey, the junior running standout for Chris Ceresa's squad, grabbed her second straight league crown in the 800 on May 20 in a time of 2:23. Onofrey was also a member of the winning mile relay team (4:12.3) and placed second in the high jump (5'0"). Two days later she blistered around the Hazel Park track in a time of 2:19.30 to capture first place at the county meet by a full three Future's bright for Novi netters.

The end of the '87 season rolled around for the Novi tennis team last the KVC and 4-9 overall.

And already Coach Jim Newbold is talking about "next year." "I can't believe it," said Newbold, a little surprised at himself. "We just finished one season and already I'm excited about next year. We're losing three seniors - Eric Polinsky at first singles, David Cho at third singles and Ben Krpichak off our second doubles team, but we've got some good kids coming back.

"The big thing will be to find someone to fill in at first singles. I think Chris Cottam (second singles) could do it, but Ken Chasse could move up from fourth singles. He (Chasse) is only a sophomore, but he's looked good this year.

"It all depends on who goes out and works hard during the summer." Newbold's optimism about the '88 campaign comes despite a rather ignominous end to the '87 season. The Wildcat netters finished fifth (out of six teams) in the Kensington Valley Conference (KVC) championships and then dropped a 4-3 decision to Clarenceville in the final dual match of the season.

Novi finished the season at 3-8 in

The final action of the year came when the Wildcats were eliminated in quick order in the MHSAA Class A Regionals at Ann Arbor Pioneer.

Despite the fifth-place finish in the KVC Meet, Newbold was clearly pleased with the Wildcats' performance. Novi failed to win any championships, but did have two second-place finishers. In addition, six of the eight Novi entrants advanced beyond the first round into the semi-finals.

Leading the way with second-place finishes were Chasse at fourth singles and the second doubles team of Krpichak and Tom Wigley, Chasse won his first match 6-2, 6-2 and then pulled off a major upset by defeating the second seed at fourth singles in three sets (6-2, 4-6, 6-4). Chasse lost in straight sets in the finals, but Newbold could not have cared less.

"Ken was a little overwhelmed to make it into the finals," observed the Novi net mentor, "But he did well, and now he knows what it takes to be successful in tournament play."

Novi's other second-place finish was turned in by Krpichak and Wigley at second doubles. Seeded second, they drew a bye in the opening round and dispensed of a Howell team in three sets in the semi-finals before losing to Brighton for the championship. "It was a tough match to lose because they had beaten those Brighton kids earlier in the season," Newbold remarked.

Although Chasse and the Krpichak/Wigley team were the only Wildcats to make it to the finals, four other Wildcats won opening round matches to advance to the semifinals. Polinsky at first singles and Cottam at second singles both made it to the semi-finals, as did the doubles teams of Brian Anderson and Mike Everett at third doubles and Rick Mathias and Josh Matta at fourth doubles. The Wildcats came out on the short end of a 4-3 score when they played Clarenceville in the last match of the season on Wednesday. "That's the first time we've lost to Clarenceville students who cleaned up pretty good for them at a couple of spots.

Novi's only singles victory came from Chasse who won 6-2, 6-0 at fourth singles. Krpichak and Wigley stroked out a 6-4, 6-1 victory at second doubles and the Anderson/Everett duo prevailed 6-0, 6-2 at third doubles.

Things weren't much better at the Ann Arbor Regionals as the Wildcats managed to come up with just one first-round victory. The Anderson/Everett combination hammered a Romulus team 6-0, 6-0 at third doubles to advance to the second round where they were defeated 6-0, 6-1 by Ann Arbor Pioneer.

"It was a good experience just to be there," said Newbold. "The kids got to see some very good tennis."

Statistically, it was a tough season for Newbold's troops. In singles, only Chasse managed a winning record as a part-time player at No. 4 with a fine 6-2 mark. Polinsky, who competed at both first and second singles, also had a successful campaign and ended up with a 6-6 mark.

But the rest of the singles players - Chris Cottam (4-8), Dave Cho (5-7) in eight years," reported Newbold. and Bill Benton (1-3) - struggled "They had a couple of exchange much of the year. The Wildcats also had trouble in doubles play as none of the four teams had a winning record for the season. As a matter of fact, doubles teams had a combined won/loss record of 19-29.
