Developer wants to try farming

By STEVE KELLMAN Staff Writer

The Novi Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) last week tabled developer Neil Sosin's request to farm land he intends to turn into an industrial park, citing the need for a review of property's wetlands.

Sosin still faces charges of alleged wetlands violations after workers drained an area on his site south of West Road. That case goes to pretrial today.

Last Tuesday, Oct. 2, he appeared before the ZBA requesting a variance to farm part of the more than 176 acres of land he controls on either side of West Road east of

The property is zoned I-1 (light industrial) and I-2 (general industrial). Sosin said he wanted to raise soybeans, com and possibly pumpkins on part of the land.

"We do have an intent to develop these properties as they are zoned over the next several years," Sosin said. But he said he wants to farm the land in the meantime to help pay the taxes on the property.

He said farming "is not inconsistent with their proper usage," claiming that the land had been farmed as recently as 10 years ago.

The ZBA sent out 22 notices of Sosin's request to neighboring property owners before last week's meeting, and received four in reply. Three respondents were in favor of the variance, though one of the three asked that the wetlands not be disturbed and another objected to some concurrent uses like composting or raising livestock. Sosin assured the commission that there would be none of either on the property.

Sosin faced some tough questions from ZBA members. Bullen asked, "You don't plan on altering the wetlands, do you?"

"No," Sosin replied.

Sandstone area plan tabled

By SHEILA PHILLIPS Staff Writer

Planning commissioners sent plans to build a 1,362-unit residential development, combined with 80,000 square feet of commerical space, back to the drawing board at their Oct. 3 meeting.

It seems that Sandstone developers. Hughes Properties and Robert Leighton and Associates, made a slight oversight and forgot to include a woodland area in their impact study. Their wetland review was also incomplete, prompting a unanimous vote to table the project's proposed area plan until revisions are made.

"It was just a friendly table," commissioner Ernie Arufo said. "Instead of approving the plan as it is or disapproving it, we felt it was the prudent thing to do."

Novi teens arrested for flag burning

By SHEILA PHILLIPS Staff Writer

Six Novi teenagers were arrested Sept. 28 for burning at least one American flag and possibly a second, which were allegedly taken from a Farmington Hills industrial park.

It could have been seen as an exercise of their consitutional rights — but not if the flag was stolen, according to Farmington Hills police, who hope to charge all seven individuals in connection with the incident. No charges had been issued by presstime. Police believe the flag involved in the incident was taken from a business on Freeway Drive in Farmington Hills, which is near the spotted burning according to police.

Officers saw a suspicious car parked in the middle of Research Drive. After following it around the block, the officer spotted a what he believed to be flaming flag being dangled out the

One of the suspects got out of the car, put a bundle in the middle of the street, lighted it and an "enormous flame five feet high" erupted, according to police.

Because police found sticks wraped in socks and soaked in gasoline in the car's trunk, they are uncertain if the item they saw burning was a flag or merely a torch. The car sped off as officers approached. Later the suspects were stopped by a uniformed officer at Seven Mile and Newburgh in Livonia.

The car's 17-year-old driver, who would be tried as an adult, had to be forcibly removed from the vehicle as he clung to the steering wheel and refused to get out, police said.

A sheathed knife that belonged to one of the 15-year-old youths was also confiscated. A total of six flags were reportedly found in the car, police said. However, they were still uncertian where the youths obtained the flags at presstime. The suspects could face charges of arson and possession of an incendiary device.

The 15-year-old could also face a concealed weapons charge for the knife, according to Farmington Hills police, who were still investigating the incident at presstime.

ing to Novi police.

Novi Police hope to raise at least $500 for the city's Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE) program by auctioning off a scarf once owned by rock star Madonna. The scarf is the same one which was stolen from Twelve Oaks Mall, along with the singer's dress, nearly two years ago. The dress has long since been returned to MTV, which loaned it and the matching scarf for display purposes. However, the scarf was inadvertantly

"We have been trying to return it to MTV for over a year now, but finally gave up and decided to auction it off to help DARE, which is a great cause." said crime prevention and DARE officer Bob Gatt. He explained that a recovering party takes legal possession of unclaimed items after a period of time, so the police department is now the legal owner of the famous scarf. Both the scarf and dress were recovered shortly after the Twelve Oaks theft by Novi detectives who tracked the culprit down at her residence in South Carolina, where she was working as a go-go dancer. The thief was extradited to Michigan, charged, convicted and given probation, accord-

Oil spill fuels fender-benders

The intersection of Grand River and Novi Road was closed for three hours Monday afternoon while firefighters and Department of Public Works (DPW) employees cleaned up spilled diesel fuel from a leaking freight truck.

The fuel was actually puddled at the Novi Road interection when we got there, and given the rain, it acted just like ice, resulting in several fender-benders," Fire Chief Art Lenaghan said. Cleanup operations included use of the city's vacuum truck, placement of absorbant padding along roadways and at drains, the spreading of sand, which was the hardest part," Lenaghan commented. "The DPW did a good job of pushing the sand around with its equipment and then we had to take shovels and spread out the rest. Then, when we were done, we had to turn around and shovel it all back up again."

Similar cleanup operations were required at the other two intersections, which weren't as severly effected as Novi Road.

REOstoring Novi's original fire truck

The year was 1928, it was still the Jazz Age and Novi Township had the money to buy its first commercial fire vehicle --- a snazzy chrome and brass and red enamel REO (Ransom E. Olds) Boyer tanker/pumper.

The 500-gallon vehicle - proudlyemblazoned with No. 1 - saw the township, now city, through the Depression years following the October 1929 stock market crash. At the time, Novi had an all-volunteer department and no fire station. The truck was kept at an auto parts store and when the emergency call came, the proprieters — the Tuck family revved up the engine for the fire crew.

By 1940, the earliest existing logs of fire department runs, the REO Boyer had disappeared from the records. In a later incarnation, it was used to salt the city roads and then in local parades.

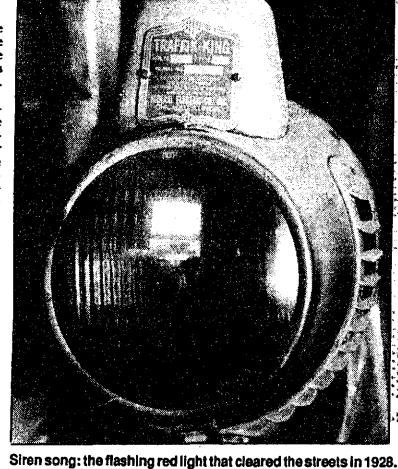

Now it sits, out-of-service and dusty, in storage for the past 10 years in an old barn. But not neglected. And not for long. The city donated the tanker to the

With his volunteer labor, Conn estimates it will cost $10,000 to refurbish the fire truck. The historical society plans to get some of the funds through a raille of a child's electric fire engine at the next Michigan '50s Festival. But donations of time, labor, original parts and tools are sought for the project. Conn is also 1928 vehicle. He did ferret out the orTownship Engine No. 4 from 1958, out, call Conn at 349-2162.

Directors must settle charges

By STEVE KELLMAN

Any agreement between Northville and Novi for financial support of the Novi Library likely would be made by the two library boards, according to Novi Library Director Brenda Evans.

Evans made the remarks Monday after Northville Library Director Pat Orr warned the city council that Northville could face borrowing limits or a request for financial assistance from the Novi Library because of its increased use by Northville residents. Orr said such limits could be imposed by the Wayne Oakland Library Federation (WOLF), the library cooperative to which both Northville and Novi belong. Evans said increased use could be a matter of concern to the Novi Library, but she was uncertain what action the library could - or would - take in response. "It hasn't been an agenda item on our board's meetings," she said. But she said the topic would likely come up at the next library board meeting, scheduled for Nov. 12. Evans added that any financial agreement between Northville and Novi would likely be discussed by the respective library boards. "It really isn't a WOLF decision," she said. "It's not something that they would immediately become an agent of - restricting services or ity would be to determine whether the matter is worth pursuing financially. "If the amount of money we're talking about is not significant, then it might not be worth our time," she said.

Evans added that the Novi library board's first prior-

Evans said non-resident library use has not been a serious issue for most libraries. But the West Bloomfield library had a similar problem with Commerce residents, she said, because Commerce Township did not have a library of its own. The two municipalities eventually agreed that Commerce would pay a percentage of the operating cost for the West Bloomsield library.

"So there's some precedence there," she said. Evans also agreed in theory with Orr's assertion that Northville residents may be using the Novi Library because of its weekend hours. The Northville library is closed Saturdays during the summmer and offers no Sunday hours at all.

"It makes some sense because Saturday's the busiest day of the week," Evans said. "I can see that people like having access to libraries on Saturdays."

Evans said the recent introduction of Sunday service at the Novi Library might increase use by Northville residents even more. "It does spark a potential for increased use by non-Novi residents, but it's something that we would have to formally address," Evans said. "We don't even have data on the increased (Sunday) hours yet."

If the Novi board does address the issue, she said, They will need to see it from the perspective of a cooperative member, one who shares reciprocal

Orr had asked the city council to approve a near 37-percent increase in wages and salaries for the coming year's library budget to fund yearround Saturday service. She argued that the increased service could lure Northville residents back to their own library, and head off borrowing limits or financial assessments against Northville by the Novi Library or other libraries where Northville residents account for more than five percent of

The more things. change. the more they remain the same."

Alphonse Karr, 1849

Like our commitment to outstanding community newspapers for example.

It was only a couple of weeks ago that we changed our name from Sliger/ Livingston Publications to HomeTown Newspapers. But you've probably noticed that nothing else has changed. We're still bringing you the same excellent community newspapers that you've learned to depend on for everything you need to know to live in your home town.

The Michigan Press Association (MPA) hasn't noticed much difference since we changed our name either. In fact, the MPA acknowledged our continued commitment to excellence by awarding us a total of 21 awards in the recent Better Newspapers Contest. That makes HomeTown Newspapers the most honored newspaper chain in the state. Here's a look at how we did.

Novi Police Department changes under BeGole

Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole has seen the department evolve from a single officer to a force of 50. This department has changed from a one-man operation with a single telephone line to a modern, progressive, fully equipped department with 50 officers and twenty or so civilian employees," he said. BeGole, who started the police department in 1954, remembers operating out of a single bay at the old fire hall on Novi Road and using his own

Certainly Michigan's delegation didn't cover itself with glory. The only members who tried to act responsibly were Reps. John Dingell and Sander Levin. Bill Broomfield, Bob Carr, Bill ford and Carl Pursell should be ashamed of themselves. I have only three words, as follows: "Feckless": adj. Lacking vitality; feeble; ineffective. The single greatest threat to our country is continued tolerance of enormous and growing annual federal budget

They drive up interest rates, making it more expensive for us to buy houses and cars. They drive down the value of the dollar, making it cheap for foreigners to buy American corporations and farms. They risk severe recession, making economic growth uncertain and job security

Yet for the 10 years since the great tax cut giveaway of 1981, America's federal deficits have spiralled up and up. The 535 members of Congress and two presidents have huffed and puffed without result. For the record, the gross national debt as of the end of fiscal 1990 was $3.113 trillion. That comes to $12,408 for every American man, woman and child.

And now this last episode, which would be funny if it weren't so tragic for the country. How could this happen? "Craven": adj. Characterized by abject fear; cowardly. In our politics, there exists a separate class of politicians whose entire careers consist in running for and re-elected, such old-fashioned notions as responsibility, leadership and courage are pointless. Certainly it's tough to vote for increased taxes on gaso-

Just three words for Congress I spent the weekend oscilline, cigarettes and booze, And it's even tougher to vote for increased premiums on Medicare.

But if that's what it takes to get the deficit under control, that's what you do - if you have any courage or sense of responsibility to the country as a whole. Why didn't the U.S. House of Representatives do it?

"Self serving": adj. Furthering one's own interests. The House's astonishing rejection of the budget flew in the face of the entire leadership of both parties: the president, the speaker of the House, the minority leader, the chairs of powerful committees, both Democratic and Republican party chairs.

From the time I was an administrative assistant to a congressman in 1965. I never have seen such a revolt against "The Leadership.

How is this possible? Today's politics are fundamentally different from any time in the past. Members of Congress used to depend on the leadership of their parties for money and campaign workers.

But with the new technologies of polling, computer lists and television, each member can function as an individual political entrepreneur, responsible solely to his or her own career ambitions

They dominate because they—not the leadership—get members of Congress re-elected. And re-election - not national leadership — is the name of the only game. A troubling image comes to mind. Wasn't it Emperor Nero who fiddled while Rome burned?

So when the Michigan Press Association released the results of its 1990 Better Newspaper Contest, there was an outbreak of modesty in the newsrooms all across the Home-Town Newspaper chain.

The staff here in the east office, which puts together The Novi News and The Northville Record, pulled in no less than seven awards in the Class B weekly division of the contest.

The Novi News was awarded second place in the general excellence category for its "clear, well-organized layout and strong news coverage," according to the judges. It was beat out for first place in this category by The Millord Times and was closely followed by The South Lyon Herald in third place. Both of those papers are owned by the same company which owns The Novi News, HomeTown Newspapers.

City Council? Does fairness matter to the Novi City Council? Those are the two questions which are central to the oil well controversy

MOCO informed Echo Valley residents that there was oil directly under their subdivision. When residents resisted allowing drilling, SO-

MOCO reported that the oil was centered under a nearby field and only fringed the subdivision. 2. On September 8, 1990 on the oil vell tour, Mr. Gottschalk of SO-MOCO said that the anticipated size of the pool of oil was 750,000 barrels. On September 17, just nine days later, SOMOCO reported to the city council that the size of the oil pool

3. On September 17, 1990 when SOMOCO made its presentation to city council, they represented the gas and oil lease holdings near Echo Valley as belonging to SOMOCO Inc. Uninvited guest has new home: jail

A Detroit man who for days lived as an uninvited guest at a Northville Township home has a new address — the . Wayne County Jail. Township police last week arrested Eric Joseph Socia.

24, and charged him with breaking and entering a Farm-' crest Lane residence. Police say Socia allegedly lived in the home from early Oct. 2 until 6:30 p.m. Oct. 5, when a relative of the owner found him on the premises. Socia allegedly lived in the home, stole silverware and a mink stole and coat, and returned to the home after township police arrested him on a disorderly person

Police allege that Socia's bad week began at approximately 1 a.m. Oct. 2. Socia reportedly told police he arrived at the Farmcrest Lane home of an aquaintance at during a routine pat-down.

that time and knocked on windows and doors. When no one answered, Socia allegedly let himself in through an unlocked window and fell asleep. According to police reports, Socia looked around the residence the following morning and found silverware and the mink stole and coat. Socia allegedly stayed inside the residence until 7:30 p.m. and then decided to drive to Detroit to sell the items.

Socia reportedly told police that he was on his way to Detroit when his brakes failed. He allegedly said he pulled - into the parking lot of the Mobil gas station at 39425 Six A witness at the gas station told police that Socia drove his 1975 Olds Cutlass through the station at a high rate , of speed and that the vehicle's muffler was dragging and showering the lot with sparks. Socia allegedly left his vehicle near the Mobil lot and began to walk from the scene. A Mobil employee called township police, who saw Socia and asked him to come over to the car to answer questions. Socia allegedly responded that the car was not his. The officer continued to attempt to question the Detroit man, who police said became abusive. Police said they found an opened 32-ounce bottle of beer in the car and asked Soica if it belonged to him.

Socia allegedly replied that the police officer planted the bottle and that he did not drink that particular brand of beer. Police then gave Socia a sobriety test, which they say he failed.

During a search of Socia's vehicle, police allegedly found a cloth containing sterling silverware. Police also said they found a mink stole and coat wrapped in plastic in the trunk of the vehicle.

Police say they also found a woman's gold ring on Socia ocia said the items belonged to a friend's mother.

The owner identified by Socia was contacted and denied knowledge of the items, police said. He also said he had bought them from a man at a street corner on Joy Road in Southfield, police said.

Police then charged Socia with disorderly conduct and placed him in jail. He was issued an appearance ticket at 35th District Court in Plymouth and was released the following day, police said.

Socia then allegedly returned to the Farmcrest Lane home and stayed there until a relative of the owner appeared at the residence at approximately 6:30 p.m. Oct.

The relative said he entered the home and heard a noise, according to police reports. The relative said he saw a man running from the back of the home and

Projects get green light

Local governments got a regional agency's green light for 260 traffic improvement projects. Cost to the federal government will be $298 million. matched by $290 million in state and local funds.

But the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments gave only conditional approval to the Haggerty Road project pending an environmental impact report. The Haggerty corridor runs north-south between Novi and Farmington Hills to Pontiac

The Traffic Improvement Program has a one-year "annual element" followed by a two-year program.

"The annual element is the most critical portion of the TIP as it includes a realistic list of projects proposed to receive federal funds," said Don Jensen, chair of SEMCOG's transportation council and an Oakland County commissioner from Birmingham. Here are area projects:

 Michigan Department of Transportation — resurfacing of I-75 in Oakland County, continued work on M-59 and I-75 near the Oakland Technology Park and interchange improvements for I-94 at Merriman and Middlebelt near Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

Cost for the annual element will be $143 million federal land $47 million

 SMART (Suburban Mobility Authority for Regional Transportation) —The suburban bus authority seeks 41 grants for expansion of buses and routes in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. It does not cover the city of Detroit.

Costs will be $47 million under two federal program and $43 million in state and local funds. Oakland County — 75 projects for the federal aid urban system (FAUS), including 21 the first year and 54 the second and third years. First year projects include wide-ning Eight Mile Road in Novi and Farmington Hills, widening Pontiac Trail in Walled Lake and widening Thirteen Mile in Farmington Hills.

First year cost: $16.8 million, with $6.9 million federal and $9.9 state and local. Wayne County — Only the annual element was submitted by Wayne's public services department Major projects are the widening and reconstruction of Merriman, Base Line (Eight Mile), Belleville, Cherry Hill and Sibley roads. Projected cost is $10.3 million fed-

Northville City police officer John Shier hopes to leave local teen-agers

"Scared Still"." The officer was trained last week in a Ford Motor Co.-sponsored program to educate teen-age drivers about the dangers of drinking and driving.

Officer Shier acts as the police department's school training officer, and has taught his own safety courses to driver education classes at Northville High School. He sees "Scared Stiff" as a valuable educational tool in the fight against drunk

The program has its own script, he said, "but it gives you an opportunity to ad lib."

While the program is hard-hitting, it does not resort to the "blood on the highway" scare tactics that some programs use. The program uses "no real blood and guts," Shier said. They did show some real bad accidents but no bodies . . . There's more to the imagination than there is actually seen. Shier believes part of the program's effectiveness stems from its ability to make students think about the aftermath of an accident. Instead of showing the mangled bodies of strangers, the program leads students to imagine what would happen to them or their friends in an accident, and what the final result would be. They show an autopsy table and they show a pathologist, and then I describe an autopsy," Shier said.

Shier said he plans to incorporate the 40-minute program into Northville High School's driver education

Cabinet maker caters to variety of homeowners

By: RICK KEATING Special Writer

Dan Mansfield, owner of Mansfield Cabinets in Novi, feels complete customer satisfaction is as important as a profit margin. We strive for customer satisfaction. We believe in it and want customers to be satisfied."

Mansfield, like his father and grandfather, was a journeyman carpenter. In 1976, what is now Mansfield Cabinets began with Mansfield and his father working out of a garage on 12 Mile Road in Novi where Toys 'R Us now stands. From there, they moved to two leased buildings in Novi before acquiring their own shop, which the Mansfields built themselves.

Mansfield said the company has prospered by "working hard for people, trying to back our products. Whatever we sell, we try to back up. We have grown along with the community. We've learned how to provide what the community is asking . . . We plan on being here a long time and we want to do a good job for people. "We offer a full custom shop," said

JAMES B. MARTIN has joined the Michigan Sugar Company's Saginaw-based corporate operations staff as an electrical engineer. The appointment was announced by general factory manager Leif L.

In announcing the appointment Nielsen stated, "Rapid technological upgrading at all of our processing facilities dictates a need for creative, frontline engineering personnnel. Martin will join such a

In his new position, Martin will provide electrical engineering and other services to all Michigan Sugar Company's facilities. A 1977 graduate of Northville High School, Martin holds a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering from Michigan Technological University in Houghton, Michigan. Martin, his wife Terry, and their 4-year-old daughter reside in Freeland, Michigan.

A subsidiary of Savannah Foods & Industries, Inc., Savannah, Georgia, Michigan Sugar Company operates sugar processing plants in Caro, Carrollton, Croswell and Sebewaing. Great Lakes Sugar Company, a Michigan Sugar subsidiary, operates two facilities in Ohio; Freemont and Findlay.

The company's main product, sugar, is marketed under the Pioneer, Great Lakes and Peninsular brands as well as more than twenty MICHIGAN MILK PRODUCERS ASSOCIATION (MMPA) in Novi has named Kirk and Julie Traver, Williamston, as the state winners in MMPA's Outstanding Young Dairy Couple (OYDC) contest. Galen and Suzanna Schalk, Hillman, were selected as the runner-up couple; The Travers, representing District 4, milk 64 Jersey cows and operate 250 acres. They are members of the Webberville Local. The Schalks represented District 12 and the Hillman Local.

Along with the 10 district winners, they competed in the recent state OYDC competition at MMPA's state headquarters in Novi. At the conference, the couples learned about milk marketing, current activities with the dairy industry and MMPA. The couples also participated in interviews and speaking activities. The Travers will receive their award at the MMPA annual delegate meeting in East Lansing on March 16, 1991. They will represent MMPA at key dairy industry functions during the year. Selection is based on the couple's farming operations, farm-related and community activities and demonstrated leadership abilities.

MMPA is Michigan's largest dairy cooperative. It is owned and controlled by about 4,000 dairy farmers.

The Prichard Family English manor mixes country charm with city style

By James McAlexander

Like an English manor, the Prichard puts a good night's sleep above a good time had by all. Atop this two-story home, a fireplace-equipped master suite and other bedrooms stand ready to revitalize a spent family with a good night's sleep. Below this private area, the main floor yields to both formal entertaining and less-formal pursuits, like lounging over coffee and a Sunday morning paper.

Built for a family, this three-car garage. low-slung looker combines luxury with livability- all on a city lot. From the back of picture windows in front to the spacious entryway, the Prichard's open layout spells elbow room.

Visitors step down into a sunlit dappled living room graced with vaulted ceilings. After cocktails, amble next door to the dining room, which opens onto the deck.

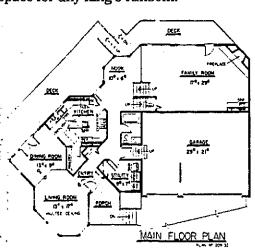

For the chef using this gourmet kitchen. pleasing the fussiest plate comes easy. Be it a hot dog or a Caesar salad, culinary delights spring to life in this magic corner of the house. The kitchen combines a country view with big-city sophistication.

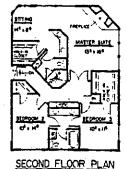

An island boasting a second "vegetable sink" means extra hands can join in the cooking. Also, a full pantry provides food for rainy days. For more private moments, the nook acts as that perfect in-house hideaway where a beat parent can savor midmorning tea and relish a chapter of the who-done-it mystery.

If the nook means solitude, the family room-complete with wet bar-means marathon Monopoly games or singing Christmas carols around the tree and fireplace.

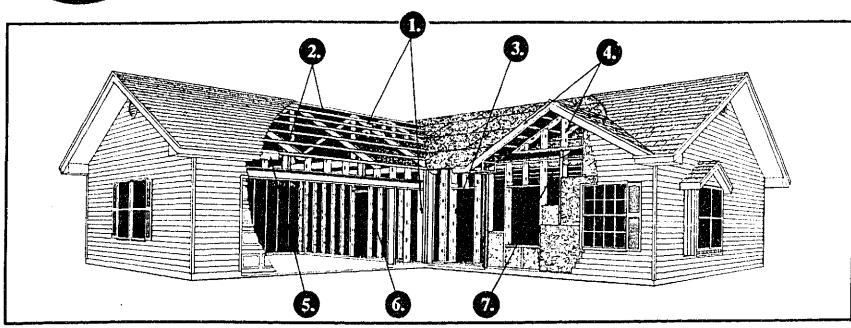

But upstairs, it's sweet dreams amid cozy comforters and thoughtful design. The master suite features a sitting room for those pensive moods and a walk-in closet for those fashion moods. Throw in a doublesink vanity and a huge shower, and the Prichard's billpayers have what they deserve: luxury.

Another two-sink vanity in the Prichard's third full bathroom separates the other two bedrooms. And there's enough storage space for any king's ransom.

For a study plan of the Prichard (209-32), send $5 to landmark Designs, P.O. Box 230 CN, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name and number when ordering.)

The cut-away drawing of this Tri-steel house shows the features of the steel frame features. They include: 1. bolt together steel columns and rafters; 2. metal roof purlins; 3. eight-inch steel stud system for exterior walls; 4. metal framing components for all dormers, roof and porch saddles; 5. metal subfacia material for roof overhangs; 6.3 5/8-inch metal studs and track for interior walls; 7. metal furring channels for ceiling esidential construction is borrowing a page from the office and commercial construction industry manual — steel framing. Steel frame homes, nearly unheard of in Michigan, may become a more important part of home construction as wood prices rise.

Kevin Adams, a former Farmington Hills resident and a builder of steel frame homes in Onsted near Irish Hills, stressed steel frame homes are not pre-fab or modular homes.

"They look exactly like conventional wood frame homes when completed." Adams started building homes six months ago and chose steel framing because his background in mechanical engineering leads him to believe there are advantages to steel frame homes.

"The main advantage of steel is the strength of materials," Adams said. Greater strength allows larger spans - which create more open space within the home - and more flexible floor plans because interior walls are not needed to support weight.

Steel frame homes are also more energy efficient because, since the steel frames are wider than wood studs, they permit a greater degree of insulation in the walls and ceilings, he said.

"The insulation also creates a quieter home." Adams said.

Steel frame homes are built so tight they require an air-to-air heat exchanger - a filtering system that allows old, stale air to leave the home while transferring heat from the exiting air to the incoming air. And finally, there is perhaps an environmental reason for building steel frame as opposed to wood homes, Adams said.

"I used to live in Oregon and if you've ever seen the barren mountains that used to have trees on them, you have to wonder where all the wood has gone."

Adams said that business is still slow, but he's optimistic that steel frame homes will take off.

"I've had a lot of inquiries, but most people are waiting to see some finished homes before making any deci-

New ideas take time, he said, adding that he plans to build mainly custom homes at first, but intends to branch out into subdivisions as business grows.

William Ku, president of architectural firm Yamasaki Associates in Troy, said that 30 years ago he tried his hand at building steel frame homes because "it was a time of experimentation — it was during the building boom (of the late 1950s and early 1960s) war, and people were building different ways to see what could be done."

Ultimately, it was not practical, Ku said. "You just couldn't compete with the other builders.

"With one or two houses, it can work - it's not so much of a problem, but with larger projects building steel frame homes was too expensive, and the steel was harder to work with," he said.

"It was all right for small-scale building, but not for normal, massproduction housing," Ku said.

The main advantage of steel framing - its strength - was not enough to outweigh the advantage of wood its cost.

"You would see it in high rise residential housing and commercial and office, but not homes."

Wood has had sufficient strength for most residential homes because load-bearing and exterior walls do not need to hold up as much weight as large apartment, commercial and office buildings.

Steel does offer some advantages because of its greater strength and resistance to termites, Ku continued, but unless the cost is brought down substantially, he doubts steel frame homes will ever catch on.

But all that may be changing, according to Richard Calooy of Tri-Steel Structure Inc., a Dallas firm that specializes in steel frame home packages.

In the last decade, wood prices have increased and steel prices have remained stable or have fallen, Calooy said.

Furthermore, the quality of wood today has suffered, Calooy said. "The Grade A wood of today is not the same Grade A wood of yesterday."

In the past, wood frame homes were built from mature trees. Today's wood frame homes are made from relatively young trees, he said. Wood from immature trees warps more and has less strength.

The quality of steel can be made consistent, Calooy said.

Steel frame homes can also be less expensive, he said. Because steel can be pre-engineered, it can be assembled quickly. Also, because less steel is required to achieve the strength and durability of wood, steel is lighter.

In some cases, he said, wood is still cheaper. "Once (the house) gets below 2,500 square feet, it's probably faster and cheaper to go with wood because you can't take advantage of the economies of scale,"

In homes larger than 2,500 square feet, steel frame homes are also built at a comparable price to wood frame homes, generally costing $60 to $80 per square foot, he said. While materials are slightly more expensive, simplicity and ease of assembly helps even out the costs, Calooy said.

Steel frame homes are sent in component form, and are "stick-built" on site just as a conventional wood frame home is built, but pieces are pre-sized pre-drilled and labeled.

Calooy said geography and traditional building practices dictate the use of steel as opposed to wood framing in homes, which is why Michigan homes are predominantly made from wood frames.

"It's not as bizarre as people think it is," he said. "Steel frame homes are fairly common (in the Southwest) and in the Southeast."

Michigan has always had a great deal of wood in its forests so builders use the most available natural resource, he said. In the Southwest and Southeast, where steel frame homes have been more the norm, there is less wood available for home construction.

Second, Calooy said, Michigan builders are just in the habit of building wood frame homes. "That's a major obstacle. With a lot of builders, their fathers built wood frame homes, and they've always done it that way, too. That's what they're used to."

Seniors have a variety of home options

By James M. Woodard

Seniors have more housing options today than ever before.

For seniors over age 62, special financing plans are now available to build a second "accessory apartment" in a single-family home. The apartment, containing a room, bath and private entrance could provide the senior independence and privacy but with nearby help from a tenant if needed.

Special financing also is available to build a separate, self-contained housing unit on the lot of an existing home of a relative. Or a senior could convert his home into a multi-housing structure with up to four units.

Still another option for seniors is to receive favorable financing when selling his or her home to a family member or investor, then leasing it back (saleleaseback arrangement). This allows the senior to receive proceeds of the sale without moving.

Financing for all these situations is provided through a special pilot program launched late last year by the Federal National Mortgage Association-Fannie Mae. It's called the Senior Housing Opportunitites (SHO) program. The loans, giving seniors favorable terms and greater qualification leniency, are available from primary mortloans are funded, they can be sold by the lender to Fannie Mae, the nation's largest investor in home mortgages.

It's not surprising that Fannie Mae and other agencies and companies are developing new housing programs for seniors. Seniors constitute the fastestgrowing segment of our market.

In 1988, seniors age 65 and older made up about 12.4 percent of the U.S. population, according to the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP). That translates to one in every eight Americans-or about 30.4 million people.

By the year 2000, about 13 percent of the population- or 34.9 million Americans-will be 65 or older. By the year 2030, the number will climb to about 21.8 percent, or 65.6 million Ameri-

Another increasingly popular plan whereby seniors can receive financial assistance and still continue to own and reside in their established residence is the use of a reverse mortgage.

This concept provides senior homeowners (age 62 or older) the opportunity to receive monthly tax-free payments from a mortgage company by tapping the accumulated equity in their home. And in the most popular reverse mortgage plans, those payments continue for the life of the person or as long as he gage lenders in all 50 states. After the or she owns and resides in the home.

A study by AARP revealed that 56 percent of seniors in the United States are now aware of reverse mortgages. And that "awareness proportion" is steadily growing.

The same AARP survey indicated that 86 percent of today's senior homeowners prefer to remain in their own homes after retirement. That segment of seniors is up from 78 percent in 1986, reflecting a substantial increase.

The typical reverse mortgage user is a widow or widower, age 75, according to James H. Burke, president of American Homestead Mortgage Corp., based in Mount Laurel, N.J. - the pioneer firm in providing reverse mortgages for senior homeowners.

That typical user owns a home valued at $150,000 and receives about $750 per month tax-free from American Homestead. Burke's firm has provided more long-term (lifetime) reverse mortgages for seniors than all other plans combined.

"A reverse mortgage is not for all seniors," Burke noted. "But for the increasing number of seniors who want to remain in their own home and need added monthly income, it often works

Q. How can military reservists who are called to active duty in the Persian Gulf continue to make their home mortgage

A. A little-known law will help. Many existing mortgages are eligible for reduced interest charges during the time the reservists are on active duty. This is covered under a provision of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act. Loans that qualify under the ACT may have their interest rates reduced to 6 percent during the reservists' tour of active duty. The difference between the actual and reduced interest rate is

"forgiven." It cannot be collected. Borrowers should check with their lender to determine if their mortgage loan qualifies.

Q. Is it true that most home mortgage lenders insist that any person who cosigns a mortgage note must be a resident in the house securing the loan?

A. Yes and no. If the mortgage loan is 90 percent or more of the property's market value and the lender plans to sell the mortgage to Fannie Mae, he insists that a co-signee be a resident in the house.

That's a Fannie Mae requirement. Otherwise, it doesn't matter whether a qualified signee is a resident or not.

By JAN JEFFRES

Rumors have been flying about the old Chase estate at the apex of Eight Mile and Griswold roads. The word's been circulating that the stately 1920s-era white mansion would open as a bed-and-breakfast, that the main house could be rented for weddings, that the multi-building complex is a new addition to historic Mill Race Village . . .

These are just a few of the rumors the owners and architect of the building have heard. They're untrue, but it shows the degree to which area residents are intrigued with the house and the goings-on there.

The Great Gatsby allure of the 15-acre site that piques the curiousity of passers-by today is exactly what intrigued the new owners, who admired the home for over 20 years.

We'd been driving by here all the time going to the cider mill. There still is a mystique about this property for some reason. We were always interested in it. We never dreamed of owning it, but as it happened, it happened," said Larry Bennett, president of the Livonia-based Premier Video, a video duplication firm.

He and his wife, Anita, moved in on August 15, after 19 months' worth of renovation and redecorating. Their son, Marc, a student at Eastern Michigan University, will be living with them. The couple also has two daughters.

From 1830 to 1898, the property was known as the Beal family farm. At the turn of the century, lumber baron and Detroit police commissioner Florance Eatherly built his $10,000 mansion, "Braeside," on the estate. A few years later. George Yerkes bought the house and, during redecorating, it burned down. In 1922, the then-Wayne County prosecutor built the existing structure. From 1952 to 1989, the family of William Chase, the inventor of shatterproof glass, lived in the home at what is now 801 Griswold.

Then, the Bennetts decided it was time to make an offer on the estate. Tom Grace, of Grace Architecture in Northville, was put in charge of renovating the 5,500-square-foot, three-bedroom house. We're the home-wreckers. One year ago, it was a pile of dust back there," he said. While the Bennetts prefer not to disclose how much money they spent refurbishing the property, the work was extensive. Paint was stripped inside and out, white marble was laid in the foyer, the 68 original windows were removed and re-glazed, the steam boiler and 70-some radiators were replaced with a modern furnace, the back-yard was landscaped and the driveways were bricked. A swimming pool with twin waterfalls and a facuzzi was added. The guesthouse has been modernized. The greenhouse was saved for future use and an unused smokehouse was left intact for old-fashioned ambiance.

The Bennetts really liked the detail and charm of the house. They did not want to see the charm removed. Our real goal was to make it look like nothing ever happened to the house," Grace explained. "We probably added about 200 square feet to the name, remains. The grand staircase house just by pulling out the radiators.

Glassed-in porches flanking the house were replaced with more formal "colonnaded portes cochere" open carriage porches. The Bennetts were browsing through Materials Unlimited in Ypsilanit when they stumbled upon a pediment from the old Dearborn Inn, an Albert Kahn floored library off the parlor became region-by-region placement by a conbuilding constructed in the same on the door hinges. The style of the house design is what Grace calls a hybrid: an all-American mixture of Georgian, Colonial and Federal. Inside, the servants' quarters were knocked out to create an expanded, Country French kitchen and an upstairs family room. On the kitchen wall, a call box used to ring for servants, which bears Mrs. Yerkes' in the fover was expanded from a boxed-in style to one of a more commanding open design. "It was one of the things I fought with the architects about. They kept leaving it out of the prints, and I kept saying. Where is my round stairway? Larry Bennett said.

with Honduran mahogany coffered ceilings and paneling, herring-bone oak floors and a green marble

After Grace restored the house, designer Bobbie O'Dell of the Northville-based interiors By Bobbie put her "heart and soul" into creating the home. Anita Bennett wanted a look that was "formal, elegant but homey." The family decided to start from scratch, discarding most of the furnishings from their previous Northville residence.

O'Dell worked with a palette ranging from pink to mauve to burgundy. and mint green to hunter. Louis the XV and XVIII antiques were selected. The look is dignified but inviting oldworld traditional, but still cozy.

Down in the basement is tucked away the home's piece de resistance: a bricked-in wine cellar with 5,000 bottles of French wines awaiting

Volunteers

Bill Bastien

Volunteering is like a sport for Bastien

Confidence building, physical fitness and fun all in one activity? You bet, says Northville resident Bill Bastien who volunteers as director and manager for the girls' recreational softball teams.

The teams are offered through the Northville Parks and Recreation Department and are available to girls of most ages and all abilities.

"We take arry kid regardless of level," says Bastien, whose two daughters participate in the softball league. The league is divided into four different levels: T-ball, for small children, ages 4-6; Primary Division, girls aged 7-11: Intermediate Division, giris ages 12-15; and Senior Division for girls under 18 years old. All levels paly slow-pitch softball. Some of the better girls who are 14 or 15 like to play Seniors (Division) to get better competition," Bastien Bastien says the summer recreational sports teams are an important activity that hundreds of local children look forward to.

"Kids need an opportunity to be involved with other kids doing something active, something healthy," Bastien says.

The league is organized so all girls who sign up are placed on a team according to age rather than playing ability.

Nobody is denied a chance to play ball," Bastien says, "Everybody gets in for at least half the game and everybody bats."

A former high school player himself, Bastien says he used to enjoy the competitive aspects of playing baseball but has since come to value the fun of it. "As an adult I much prefer this type of team as long as there are highly competitive teams out there." Bastien says.

Bastien laughs at the notion of his coaching as "volunteer work." "Basically, what I do is go out and have a whole lot of fun helping the girls to have a lot of fun."

Calling all skiers: Tell us the best spots to go

By Iris Sanderson Jones

I attended a travel marketplace sponsored by the Canadian government in Southfield last week. Canada was promoting its ski destinations.

The cold-weather profession als were all there. Western ski resorts like Banff, Lake Louise, Whistler Mountain and Big White. Eastern ski resorts like Sutton, Orford, Mont Sainte-Anne, Owl's Head, from the Eastern Townships in Quebec. Ski packagers like Skican and UTL.

Provincial tourist bureaus from Ontario and Quebec were represented, and cities ranging from Quebec City to Sault Ste. Marie. And that most popular Ontario area for Michigan skiers, Blue

I nodded my head a lot, as if I knew what they were talking about, but the truth is that I have failed several bunny slopes in my life and finally gave up skiing. Skiers will tell you that any idiot car learn how to ski, but I prefer not to comment on that.

I had an ulterior motive in attending the show. I was looking for skiers. We're plan ning special winter sports pages in late November and I want to talk to all you skders out there who strap wooden boards on your feet and slide down icy slopes in defiance of ber of ski club members at the Canadian show, all of them lapping up inormation. Ski Angels. T-Birds. Powderhounds. Playboys.

I found National Ski Patrol skier Bill Heinz of Milford. And several members of the Metropolitan Detroit Ski 'Glubs. I found lots of winter lovers, but I need more. If you ski; I need you.

I'need you to tell me where your favorite ski slopes arein Michigan and outside of Michigan. How far are you willing to go for a winter weekend? When you go out of state, do you always go west, or do you go north to Canada pr east to New England? Are any of you like Bud Moore of Brighton, who usually skies in

Brighton may sew up KVC this weekend

The Brighton High football team is leaving little doubt that it will win the 1990 Kensington Valley Conference title. In a game last Friday, the Bulldogs ripped

Brighton (5-0 in the KVC) at least a tie for the championship, but that's not enough to satisfy Coach Bill Murray and his Bulldogs. "We don't want to be co-champs," Murray said. "All year we've been preparing to win the KVC and we don't want to share it."

Bulldogs' heels, although Brighton controls its own destiny. A Homecoming win over Lakeland tomorrow would seal the title outright for the Bulldogs, who last won a crown in 1983. "This week we can't be distracted because of Homecoming activities," Murray said, "The game against Lakeland counts just as all the

Krygier comes off hot rookie campaign

Despite missing five of the last eight games of the regular season with a sore heel, Hartford Whalers center Todd Krygier of Northville capped off his impressive rookie season in the National Hockey League (NHL) with points in four of his last five games including two gamewinning goals and a game-winning

With one strong season already behind him, Krygier had proved that he can play in the NHL. Now he intends to build on that solid base with an even better year in 1990-91, In his first full season, the hard working University of Connecticut graduate accumulated 18 goals and 12 assists for 30 points in only 58 games. The speedy center also had a penchant for scoring some big goals. Among Krygier's 18 markers, five came on power plays, one while short handed, and he also added three

With his *National Hockey League or Bust" attitude, Krygier impressed the Whaler staff with his quickness and hard-working style at the team's 1989 training camp. Krygler survived the initial cuts during the camp and made the team, only to be sent down to Hartford's top minor league affiliate in Binghamton, N.Y., after a slow start. Brighton topples Novi runners

The Novi girls cross country squad placed well down in the rankings during the recent Oakland County Meet Saturday, Oct. 6. But coach said his team's 23rd place showing really is not that bad and he is not disappointed.

"We are still being plagued by injuries and illness," he said. "Once we get two of our fastest runners back. we should do okay. I am of the philosophy that nothing counts until the regional, anyway. If we are back to full strength for the regional, we should do okay and we can progress

The squad's fastest runner was Cherie Stuart, who placed 41st with a time of 22:39. Tanya Frank placed 80th (23:41), Deanna Hayden came in 163rd (26:41), Karen Schantz came in 173rd (27:28), Pattie Corbin placed 195th (30:57), and Lia Cook finished 197th, (31:30).

That performance gave the team and overall place of 23rd in the rankings out of 39 teams. Total score for Novi was 652. The winner of the event was Southfield Christian High School. Milford placed second and Holly came in third.

BRIGHTON 19, NOVI 42: The Novi girls' cross country squad is improving, but the improvement wasn't nearly enough against Brighton one of the KVC's elite programs. The Bulldogs placed runners in 10 of the top 12 spots and clobbered the Wildcats 19-42 on Sept. 25.

Novi Coach Norm Norgren has a young, inexperienced squad and injuries to Bria Powers (knee) and Pattie Corbin (back) have been especially difficult to overcome. In addition, top runner Cherie Stewart has been bothered by allergies, but it didn't stop her from placing third overall against the Buildogs in a time of

The rest of the Wildcat finishers included Tanya Frank in sixth place (23:43), Deanna Hayden in 13th (26:25), Becky Messer in 14th (26:58), Karen Shantz in 16th (27:33), Karrie Jettie in 19th (29:29) and Lia Cook in 20th (32:01).

(I-r) Tanya Frank, Bria Powers and Angel Konarske run for Novi earlier this season

Wildcats of the Week

ELLEN SUROWIEC

Facing some of the best swimmers in the state, Ellen Surowiec managed to figure in all of the Wildcats' scoring at the Oakland County Meet on Saturday. Add to that her four event wins against Farmington Harrison on Oct. 2, and it's easy to see why Surowlechas been named a "Wildcat of the Week." At the county meet, she finished sixth in the ultracompetitive 50-yard freestyle, close to a state cut at 25.99. She swam in Novi's 200 and 400 freestyle relays which also medaled. Against Harrison, she provided the excitement for an otherwise dismal meet for the Wildcats. Coming from four seconds behind on the anchor leg of the 400 freestyle relay, she touched out for the win. She also won the 200 IM and the 100 backstroke in addition to sharing the 400 medley relay victory.

TANYA SHEPPLEY

It seems ironic to say that Tanya Sheppley tends to get lost in the crowd at a golf meet. She is, after all, a girl playing on a boys team. But since she's forced to play from the boys' tees, she doesn't get quite the scores she would if all things were equal. Nevertheless, she smacked the cover off the ball last week scoring a 91 at the Oakland County meet, and tied No. 1 golfer Steve Megesi with a 42 in a dual meet with Milford last Tuesday. "If she was playing with the girls, she'd be among the top 8-10 players in the state," said Novi coach John Peace. She will also be eligible for All-State consideration among girl players in the spring.
