Outside firm may analyze main reroute

The city is seeking quotes from outside engineering firms on the costs of investigating consultants JCK & Associates' reasons for rerouting a water main on Novi Road into Mystic Forest subdivision.

A Novi City Council majority of four Monday instructed City Manager Edward Kriewall to contact firms headquartered at least 100 miles from the city and which have had no prior professional contact with Novi.

"Let's not keep this gaping wound going. Some people have suggested it's time to move on. The way to do it is this way," Council Member Nancy Cassis said.

An independent assessment was suggested by John Donohue, a lawyer retained by Cassis and Council Member Tim Pope.

"It's fair to ask and second guess a city consultant, but it's not fair to come to any conclusions regarding the wisdom of these conclusions without the expertise of an outside independent engineer." Donohue, the city attorney for Farmington, Farmington Hills and Walled Lake,

"A lot of the questions are not yet answered. A lot of the explanations that have been given raise more questions."

The issue was already the target of an investigation by City Attorney David Fried, who concluded that no impropriety had occured but called for a written policy for the consultants.

Voting against hiring an outsider were Mayor Matthew Quinn.

180-foot phone tower wins first approval

By RANDY COBLE

Portable phone users in Novi. Wixom and on I-96 are one step closer to improved service. The Novi Planning Commission approved the preliminary site plan for a new 180-foot communications antenna submitted by telephone giant Cellular One.

Before the vote Oct. 21, however, commissioners debated whether the tower, which would be the sixth like it in the city, would be an eyesore and a safety hazard. Afterwards, the commission asked city staffers to look into the issue, particularly the question of whether the city can control the number and location of future

The commission gave the green light to the antenna's final site plan as well, subject to the Zoning Board of Appeal's (ZBA) approval of lot size variances the company has requested. If that happens, the matter will be passed onto the Novi City Council for final approval.

The antenna is needed, Cellular One representatives said, to accommodate growing demand. It is one of a network of towers the company has in the area to provide cellular phone service. The proposed

Novi Police Chief Doug Shaeffer has issued a list of tips for parents, children and people who will be driving their cars on Halloween

"Many youth and adults in our community will be enjoying the activities that go with [Halloween]," he said. "The Novi Police Department wants everyone to have fun, but to do so safely."

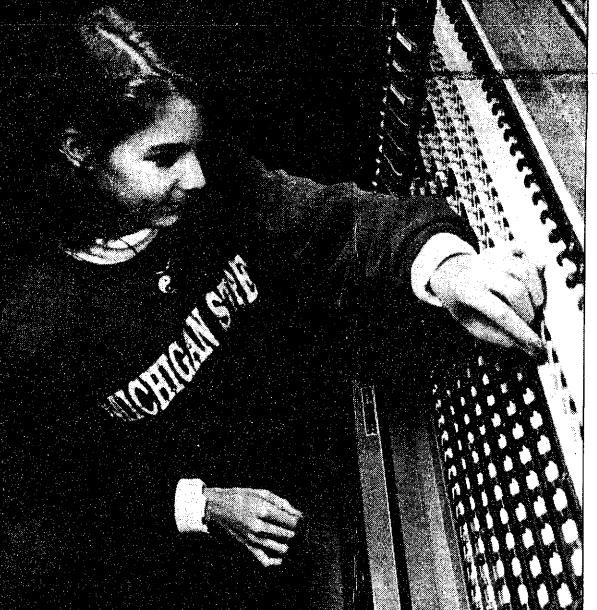

Recommended trick-or-treat hours this year are from 6 to 8 p.m. Shaeffer noted that special care should be taken by anyone driving through Novi neighborhoods (or any neighborhoods) during and around the hours children will be trick-or-treating. There will be many children walking throughout the neighborhoods," he said. "They will be excited about the evening's activities. They may not look before crossing the streets.

Rock the vote

Students at Novi Middle School had the chance Tuesday to do what most folks. t-vote The school held a mock Presidential election to instill the value and the power of the ballot in young people, with a borrowed voting booth. At left, eighth grader Sarah Schmidt casts her vote for Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton. Above, eighth graders Keith Noblett (left) and Kyle Provo (right) show a seventh grader how to choose a candidate. Seventh and eighth graders had to register to vote (90 percent did so), and have made posters over the last four weeks for their choices, discussing issues and stands among the three candidates. Who won? School officials said that votes would be totaled Friday.

Trash proposal is carried to voters

By JAN JEFFRES Staff Writer

Taking out the trash is one dirty job that will change forever, if a proposal for city-wide waste collection meets with voter approval Nov. 3.

As Whispering Meadows resident Pam Flick sees it, the switch to mandatory curbside recycling will be fairly cheap — just under $150 per year - and more convenient if all single family homeowners in Novi are under contract to one waste hauling company.

"I think basically the new goal is to encourage people to do it (recycling) the easiest possible way. It's such an important thing to do. People agree, but people are basically lazy," Flick said.

If voters go for it, a common sight on collection days along local streets will be standard trash bags accompanied by one large plastic bin to hold all recylables, plus clear bags for compostable materials such as lawn clippings and

This weekly pick-up would eliminate hoarding unsightly stuff like newspapers, plastics, glass and cans in a garage or basement until it's time for a trip to the recycling center behind city

"I think basically the new goal is to encourage people to do it (recycling) the easiest possible way. It's such an important thing to do. People agree, but people are basically lazy.".

"It's real, real easy. People who are recycling now, they'll really appreciate it," Flick said, "That's why we chose the method of co-mingling. It doesn't take up much room. You don't have three buckets sitting around."

Flick is one of the seven-member Novi Citizens Solid Waste Committee. The group was mandated by the City Council in February 1991 to find the best way to bring Novi single-family homeowners in line with fellow members of the Resource Recovery and Recycling Authority of Southwest Oakland County (RRRASOC.) Each community pays $50,000 membership dues to the consortium annually.

RRRASOC members such as Farmington, Farmington Hills and Southfield have already been engaged in mandatory recycling for well

RRRÁSOC has a 10-year landfill contract locked in. Haulers within member communities will be charged tipping fees which cannot jump upward rapidly during that time. If RRRASOC goes ahead with plans to build a materials recovery facility in Southfield, it will market the recyclables. Until then, each community's hauler is responsible for that job. For this waste collection service, Novi homeowners would pay $138 per year, with an additional $2 sent to RRRASOC, which will be running the billing service, committee member

Nancy Schubring says. Included at no extra fee would be a twiceyearly hazardous waste collection day and the pick-up of large items such as couches, refriger-

pected of a quick-change scheme

According to police reports, the man made three attempts to commit a larceny-by-trick at local restaurants, but was successful only at one. Each time, police say, the man entered the restaurant and asked to fill out a job application, then purchased a soft drink with a $50 bill and tried to confuse the cashier by asking for different change. A manager at Bob Evans called police after the suspect unsuccessfully made an attempt there. Police stopped the man as he was leaving the parking lot and arrested him based on several arrest warrants on

Upon further investigation police discovered that the man also attempted the same quick-change scheme at the Novi Road Big Boy and the Kentucky Fried Chicken in Pheasant Run Plaza, where he was allegedly successful.

Police say the suspect denied attempting a quick-change at Kentucky Fried Chicken.

Trial begins: Jury was selected and trial began Monday in Novi Police Detective Karen Koester's lawsuit against the City of Novi.

Koester charges that she was discriminated against and harassed during the two times she was pregnant while on the job as a road patrol The trial is taking place before Oakland County Circuit Court Judge

Gene Schnelz. A similar suit by Novi Officer Deanna Hall is expected to come to trial early next year. In a highly-publicized complaint a year ago by Hall to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), she charged that she, too, was harassed while pregnant on the job.

Correction: An article appearing in the Oct. 8 issue of the Novi News incorrectly stated that the curbside recycling proposal on the ballot next Tuesday would include the levying of a tax to pay for the program. In fact, the recycling program and city-wide trash collection service will be paid for through a flat per home fee. Although the figure is not final, it is estimated the cost will be less than $150 per year.

Forester certified: Novi Forester Chris Pargoff recently completed the Certified Arborist examinations administration through the International Society of Arboriculture (ISA). The purpose of the ISA certification program is to improve the level of knowledge among those in the tree care profession. It identifies those who developed, through education and examination, a thorough knowledge of tree care practice.

Pfeffer is a noted Michigan artist and has been painting Michigan in all its seasonal splendor for as long as she can remember. Pfeffer has aquired several local awards, has sold her work to various corporations, and has created numerous commissioned pieces including magazine covers for different corporations and newspapers.

She has organized and directed several art exhibits throughout the area, and very much enjoys hanging shows. She has owned and operated a picture framing shop for the past 15 vears which has also kept her crealively in tune.

She has studied Zen and applies it to everything she does. She said, "Zen is a wonderful tool of understanding with which to live . . . # Perot

AN OPEN LETTER TO ANYONE WHO LOVES THEIR FAMILY AND THEIR COUNTRY

THE PEROT 92 CAMPAIGN WOULD LIKE TO ASK YOU A SIMPLE QUESTION:

DO YOU WANT YOUR CHILDREN TO LIVE IN AN AMERICA CRIPPLED BY DEBT, WHERE THE STANDARD OF LIVING IS MUCH LOWER THAN WHAT YOU ENJOY TODAY?

THE NATIONAL DEBT IS ALREADY A MONSTER .... AND ITS GROWING. THIS DEBT LOAD HAS THE POTENTIAL TO DESTROY OUR ECONOMY. BUT, IF WE ACT NOW, WE CAN FIX IT.

THE LIFE BLOOD OF OUR NATION IS BUSINESS .... YET BUSINESSES ARE LEAVING OUR COUNTRY. THEY DON'T HAVE TO... WE CAN FIX IT.

ROSS PEROT OFFERS REAL SOLUTIONS FOR THE TOUGH PROBLEMS, INCLUDING HEALTH CARE AND JOB SECURITY.... AND MOST IMPORTANT: ROSS PEROT GETS THINGS DONE!

Please note that the "experts" you see or hear in the media are usually individuals that have party affiliations. An ex-senator or a former governor will always back their party's candidate and downplay an independent. Remember, Ross Perot has no party, so the media doesn't show us many "experts" who support his ability to win. However, even these "experts" often support the Perot programs and admit that Ross Perot has touched the hearts of the American people. Why then can't he win? If you feel he is right, then Vote! There are millions of you out there. Also, Ross Perot is on every ballot. His name may be in strange places and/or small print on some ballots. Don't be manipulated. Vote for the candidate

PLEASE CONSIDER YOUR CHILDREN AND THEIR FUTURE.

THERE ARE MORE INDEPENDENT VOTERS THAN THERE ARE REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRATS COMBINED....YOU CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE

ROSS PEROT CAN WIN .... YOU ARE NOT WASTING YOUR VOTE!

Sincerely,

The thousands of volunteers of United We Stand, America / Michigan Chapter Paid for by: PEROT 92 / Michigan Chapter 3401 E. Saginaw , Lansing, MI 48912 (517) 332 -1313

Town meeting debates tax relief proposals:

State treasurer Douglas Roberts made no guarantees at the Northville PTA's Legislative Action Network Town Meeting Wednesday night that Proposal C would spur the new economic growth the state needs to fund the tax proposal. Even though Proposal Cknown as Gov. John Engler's Cut and Cap plan seeks economic growth to fund the proposed tax relief plan which calls for a 30 percent cut in school property taxes in the next five years, Roberts said he makes no promises that will happen.

"We may not get the growth," Roberts told the sparce audience that attended the Town Meeting last week. "I have no guarantees about that but I am not proud of the (state's) economic history."

Roberts who's been a state official for the past 20 years said he's frustrated with the state's economy. Since 1966 he said he's watched the state's unemployment rates remain equal or higher than national averages. The fact that taxpayers in Michigan pay higher total tax burdens than most residents in other states is also nothing to write home about. "The data is overwhelming that something is fundamentally wrong with the economic condition of the state," he said. "For 25 consecutive years Michigan's unemployment rates have been above national averages. This is something that begs for discussion. Even in our best year we didn't even have a good or equivalent unemployment rate.

"We aren't growing or creating

Four square off for 11th Congressional seat

By JAN JEFFRES

The departure of veteran lawmaker William Broomfield from politics has made for a lively race for the new 11th Congressional District

Previously designated as the 18th District, boundaries were redrawn in the apportionment process earlier this year to realign the district to include much of southern, western and central Oakland County, including Novi, and portions of northern Wayne County, including Northville.

The district was the scene of a hotly contested, and dirty Republican primary, in which State Senator David Honleman and former circuit court judge Alice Gilbert squared off against each other. But it was Republican Joe Knollenberg who survived the GOP contest.

And now that the race has reached the general election, coming up Tuesday, Nov. 3, the field is more crowded than ever.

Facing Knollenberg is Democrat Walter Briggs, who has run for the seat before in an unsuccessful bid to unseat Broomfield. Additionally, the race has attracted Libertarian Brian Wright and Natural Law Party candidate Henry Clark. The Novi News interviewed the

In terms of a line item veto. I agree that Congress and Washington in general is out-of-control. The president has failed to submit a balanced budget in the last 12 years and in 11 of those years, Congress has returned to the president a budget that has had lower spending in it than the president submitted. We have a general problem in Washington that is going to require more than a line item veto to do that job. It's going to require the individual responsibility of all the Congressmen.

My other concern is the line item veto swings the balance of power far too far in the other direction. If you look at the appropriations bill in the education department as a single line, you can veto that entire department in Congress and Congress could be held hostage. You could trade a Civil Rights act off for vetoing the education department.

If they were going to pass a 10 cent tax increase that wouldn't bother me much. It would discourage a certain amount of degradation of the roads.

But you don't have a real market One of the reasons our party was system. It is fairly easy to envision known non-polluting alternatives to trollinguse and getting prices and usbusiness, but I see no reason why it most should pay for them the most.

In terms of local roads, I'm not real clear on the exact way that you could go about privatizing local roadways. secondary roads and city streets. But it is clear to me that the system that enables Miejer Thrifty Acre to show up on Haggerty Road, with all that blacktop and all those storm sewers and the transportation system required to get people to and from the store, that we are subsidizing them. In a sense, they get a free ride.

So what I'm saying is that the costs are distributed among the population and the roads are really bad. There needs to be alternative transportation systems. Opponents of the plan say that cut and cap is a bad idea because of the following:

■ Growth will not happen as predicted. To maintain current levels of services, people will just see other taxes rise. Low property taxes aren't a cure-all. Businesses have lest the state due to poor economic times, despite receiving tax abatements, such as the Willow Run plant.

The state would have to make up the money that 'no.' school districts lose, but could cut drastically the amount of state aid beyond that figure. Legislators wouldn't pay back the wealthier districts

(who are entitled to the most money), even if they had the money, since most of them represent poorer districts. Those involved in the Novi Community Schools District are almost uniformly against the plan. The Board of Kriewall Education has unanimously adopted a strongly-worded resolution against Proposal C. ators and Christmas trees. There's no limit to the amount you can put out. They do expect there to be a lot the first few weeks because people save it up," Flick said. The committee in fall 1991, after placing the city-wide hauling plan out for bids, settled on a contract offered by Duncan Disposal as the best Novi was preparing to begin mandatory recycling on July 1. Then a wrench was thrown into the works by Patrick Anderson, a leader of Taxpayers United. Anderson contended that a recycling fee the city would have imposed was a tax in violation of the 1978 Headlee Amendment. The group threatened to sue Novi if the city did not place the issue on the ballot

Novi, unlike its RRRASOC neighbors Farmington Hills and Southfield, agreed to let the voters decide. Meanwhile, Duncan held firm on Its proposed contract prices. If the proposal is victorious, the city council still has the right to accept Duncan's offeror rebid the job, Schubring

Flick and Schubring, a Birchwood subdivision resident, have been busy putting their case to meetings of homeowners associations. The game plan is to start recycling first with single family residential, then ease apartments and condominiums and mobile home communities into the

As part of its work, the citizens committee surveyed 35 homeowners' associations and learned that trash collection in Novi - predominantly without recycling - ranges from to $213 per year for Timber Ridge subdivision to $96 per year at Carrington Green. The average cost is $151, without recycling. Schubring said

"Pebble Ridge is really supportive. They really were looking forward to it. Some of them are paying $200 a year. That was without recycling. I talked to one person who was paying $110 per year, that was without recycling. Now, he'd be paying $150. He said it was worth it to get recycling because he was tired of taking it to city hall," Schubring reports.

The only visible opposition Schubring and Flick say they have seen to the ballot issue is in the form of flyers being distributed to Novi homeowners by another hauler, Arbor, which would be displaced if the proposal wins voter approval. According to a flyer circulated by

Hornbeck, residents will be forced to pay for the service whether they use it or not and will see tax increases, low quality trash collection with no competition. The firm is offering to lock in their prices at $132 per year for one

They're saying it's not competitive and that's not true at all. This isn't a lifetime contract. They want to come back now and encourage us to vote no when they didn't even try when we asked for bids," Flick said. "How would residents not use the service? They have to have trash

The city-wide contract would come up for new bids every three years, Schubring said. That's why big firms such as Waste Management Inc. have been supportive of the commit-tee's goals, Flick says.

The transition to one hauler will have an added benefit, according to Schubring: "We'll keep a lot of traffic out of the subdivisions. There will be only one hauler one day per week.

You won't have 10 haulers." Flick and Schubring say that based on the response they've had from residents, the future of the program the committee has outlined looks bright.

And if all systems are go, the citizens group will stay together on a long-term basis to evaluate how the contract is working. As more consumer goods come in recyclable containers, the day may come when residents will send far fewer loads for the landfill. Novi might then find it economically feasible to move to a payby bag user fee, a program which the committee found was too costly to adopt at present. Another plus she says, is that recyclers will have greater assurance that all the work they do rinsing out bottles and peeling labels off cans won't go to waste. The recycling center at the Novi Civic Center has had problems with "contaminated loads" when the materials are not properly cleaned or when the wrong stuff is dumped into the bins. These loads purchase the goods. But what if residents just say no? The option that exists is that Novi can write an ordinance to require recycling in which case, costs for everybody would increase. Then the hauler who you're using, they say, you're paying this now, now we tack on another $5 per quarter.' If Novi doesn't require recycling, the federal government is going to. A city-wide contract keeps the prices down," Flick argues. Schubring says that the committee has talked to representatives from the other municipalities which led the way on recycling. Farmington Hills, Bloomfield Hills, Southfield. Walled Lake and Wixom. "We learned from their mistake, so we should have one of the best contracts around," she said. On the citizens committee with Flick and Schubring are Debbie Meyers. Esther Miller, Charles Staab. JoAnne Zimmerman and former Lakes Area Residents Association president Sarah Phelps.

Recycling containers would become a familiar sight along Novi roadways on pick up day if voters accept a city proposal on the ballot Tuesday, Nov. 3.

It has been a hot contest from the beginning, but that will not make the choice much easier for voters when they go to pull the level in Novi's 11th Congressional District race.

Long-serving U.S. Rep. William Broomfield decided to step out of politics this year with the reapportionment of his district, setting up the contest. The number of uninsured motorists continues to climb and if we do not address the affordability issue, the number will continue to rise with each passing

By holding down medical litigation expenses, we can still enjoy the nation's best benefit system (it just won't cost as much). Michigan is the only place in the world that forces its citizens to purchase unlimited medical benefits as a requirement to drive a car. This unvielding policy must be changed so we can make insurance available for everyone. By allowing consumers the right to choose the level of insurance coverage that best serves their needs, our society can also reduce the number of uninsured

The problem of cost containment is a real one. Proposal D is a fair and equitable way of addressing the cost containment problem. By voting for Proposal D, we can cut down the cost of auto insurance and still enjoy the benefits of the nation's best No-Fault law.

Senior citizens continue to be faced with property tax bills that in some cases are now higher than their original mortgage payment. First time home buyers see relief with the reduction of interest rates, but the uncertainty of rising property taxes raises concerns.

The Northville schools have had a battle over funding with taxpayers. In December, the Novi school board will be requesting an in-crease for much needed expansion of buildings. ## Challenger courts voters in judge race

Taylor, 49, of East Lansing, was appointed last March by Republican Gov. John Engler, his close friend. Taylor previously had lost bids for Congress and attorney general.

"Marty and I had a combined fundraiser in Oakland County and one up here," said Taylor in his Lansing office. "We grossed $60,000 in Oak land and $30,000 up here." Taylor said they are close on criminal issues, but they are running separate advertising campaigns.

Doctoroff added, We have both been evaluated 'preferred and well qualified' for the 2nd District Court of Appeals by the Oakland Citizens League, a division of Civic Searchlight. This is the highest rating the organization gives."

"Money is difficult to raise," said Killeen, "because no incumbent has ever been beaten."

The state's second highest court handles about 12,000 appeals a year from trial courts and writes 5,000 opinions. It had original jurisdiction when 50 suburban school districts, including Novi and Northville, sued the state for categorical aid and social security money. Just a relative handful of cases go up to the state Supreme Court. Yet the 24 appeals judges toil in relative obscurity. Rarely does the public see them; indeed, many cases are handled entirely with written briefs and no oral arguments by attorneys. Seldom do any issues surface at election time. Irish names do well. In 1988 five of the six winners of new appellate Judgeships had Irish names. The 2nd District rambles across 15 Michigan counties — but let Killeen describe it:

"Oakland has one-third of the see have one-third plus. The others have the remaining one-third, with Ingham having one-third of that, or one-ninth of the total." Doctoroff is from Oakland County, Taylor from Ingham, Killeen from

Killeen has the same name as a former Macomb and Wayne county commissioner. He figures he has name recognition from a 1980 run for Genesee prosecutor and the Macomb name. In college-day jobs, he was a member of the UAW and the Retail & Wholesale Dairy Workers, AFL-CIO. He has the endorsement of the Michigan Trial Lawyers Association the hobgoblin of corporations, doctors and Republicans. A graduate of Mott Community College, Eastern Michigan University and Wayne State's law school, Killeen is the sole occupant of a building behind the courthouse in Flint, where he handles civil contracts, divorces. personal injury and some drunk driving cases. Killeen said Taylor and Doctoroff, despite their party differences, are conservatives. In his analysis of 59 cases, Killeen said Doctoroff voted for the defense 51 times. "I'm the least conservative of the three," he said. Doctoroff graduated from Harvard in his home town of Cambridge. Mass., came to the University of Michigan law school and spent three years as an FBI agent. By 1980 he was a senior partner in the firm of Bushnell, Gage, Doctoroff & Reizen. He went through the legal ranks: public administrator in Oakland, special assistant attorney general, special prosecutor for an Oakland grand jury, chair of the state Attorney Discipline Board, other bar association posts. "My most exciting case was when I developed a new theory of recovery against the Michigan Department of Transportation," he said. "If I could establish that the state was guilty of maintaining a nuisance, then my client's contributory negligence (by drinking) wouldn't be an issue." A couple of cases - one decided on appeal in 1977 - brought him fame and funds, just at the time one of his four sons was starting Harvard. He did heavy-duty defense work for Detroit Edison. Then his practice evolved to major divorce cases.

These days, Judge Doctoroff sees himself as a strict constructionist rather than judicial activist. "Our court isn't supposed to write the law. I'm going to come as close as I can to what the community wants."

He's proud of his opinion in a bitter divorce case between two psychiatrists. He held that the mother could collect damages because the father had used his psychiatric knowledge to brainwash their three minor children against her. Doctoroff's ruling reversed the Wayne circuit judge who had barred the mother from collecting damages.

Bush and Clinton masks lead the polls at costume stores

By CRISTINA FERRIER

If you are planning to dress up as one of the presidential candidates this year, don't expect to stand out from the crowd.

The Bill Clinton masks are sold out. The George Bush masks are going fast.

But Ross Perot masks can't be found, said Jim Plantz, owner of Costumes by Nightmare in Novi Town Center. The store is a seasonal shop that sells Halloween costumes and accessories.

"I think Perot got in too late for the manufacturers. If you really wanted to dress like Ross Perot, though, you could Just strap on a big pair of ears."

Whether your Halloween party affiliation is Democratic, Republican, independent or none of the above, it's definitely time to get your costume together.

"Halloween is on a Saturday this year," said Costumes by Nightmare clerk Linda Certo. "So there are a lot of people planning to dress up and go out.

"A lot of people won't even tell us what they are planning to be. They want to win the prize."

Bars and nightclubs across the metro area traditionally hold Halloween costume contests, awarding cash prizes for the most original. In fact, Certo said, they have been selling more adult-size Halloween costumes this year than those designed for kids.

"People like to dress up," she said. In fact, a few people are planning Halloween weddings and the members of the bridal parties have been in the store to choose their costumes for the wedding." Talk about a wedding to remember," Plantz said. More costumes to avoid, if you are going for originality, are Morticia or Gomez Addams of The Addams Family movie. Ditto for Catwoman, Batman or Spock. Those Sandie Wallace is a waitress at Country Epicure Restaurant, and she coordinates a volunteer project. which she originated: celebrating birthdays, Easter, and Christmas with the 35 residents of The Whitehall Home for the Aged.

For a long while, she said, "I'd drive by an old folks home and think 'I have so much; why don't I go inside and ask whether I could do a birthday party once a month with balloons, a cake, and flowers."

And so she did — did it for seven years at a nursing home where she lived. Now she's doing it at one near where she works. She's been doing it at Whitehall, with others helping her. for almost two years.

The last Wednesday of each month she brings a party to celebrate the birthdays of those born that month.

The Village Florist in Milford gives her bunches of flowers, "bright and happy colors" - one for each birthday person. The Foodtown Supermarket in Hartland supplies her with

Spooky events a-plenty found in Novi area

By SHARON CONDRON

With Halloween lurking around the corner, Novi and Northville are dishing out a healthy plateful of happy haunting. Take a peek at what's planned:

On Saturday, come in costume to the Halloween Carnival in the former Children's Palace store in Novi's Town Center. From 5-8 p.m. the place lights up carnival games and a haunted palace walk. Sponsored by Novi Parks and Recreation and the Novi Town Center merchants, the carnival offers a costume and karaoke contest and free apple cider. Admission is free but game tickets are 4 for $1.

■ The Novi Jaycees and the Tollgate Center have joined forces to breath doom and gloom into their 13-room Haunted Barn. The Barn is open Thursday from 7-11 p.m. and Friday and Saturday from 7 p.m. to midnight. Admission for adults is $6 and $4 for children 12 and under. The barn is handicap accessible. Toilgate Center is located at the northwest corner of Twelve Mile and Meadow brook, one mile from Twelve Oaks Mall.

■ Novi's Tollgate Center is also home this year to Polly Pig's Pumpkin Palace. Open Friday from 7-9 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from noon-8 p.m., there will be fun and games, crafts and cookies. Admission is $3 and there's prizes for all little gobblins. For more information call the Tollgate Center at 347-3860, ext. 217.

■ Twelve Oaks is hosting a Spooktacular Celebration which kicks off at 6:30 p.m. on Halloween night with trick or treating at all stores. Each child in costume will have a keepsake photograph taken compliments of Twelve Oaks. A trip to Universal Studios in Florida will also be given away and Q-95 radio personality Kevin O'Neill will be on hand to emcee the haunting event.

■ Children can enjoy safe Halloween trick or treating with their favorite cartoon characters at the Children's Halloween Funland hosted by Novi's Metro Medical Group on Halloween afternoon. The Funland will be open from noon to 4 p.m. and features Sesame Street's Big Bird, Batman Robin

The chamber has established next March 13 and 14 as the dates to launch the first Novi Health Expo. The event will be part of an ongoing effort to convey information to the people of the community as to how and why it is important to be healthy as an individual and as a community.

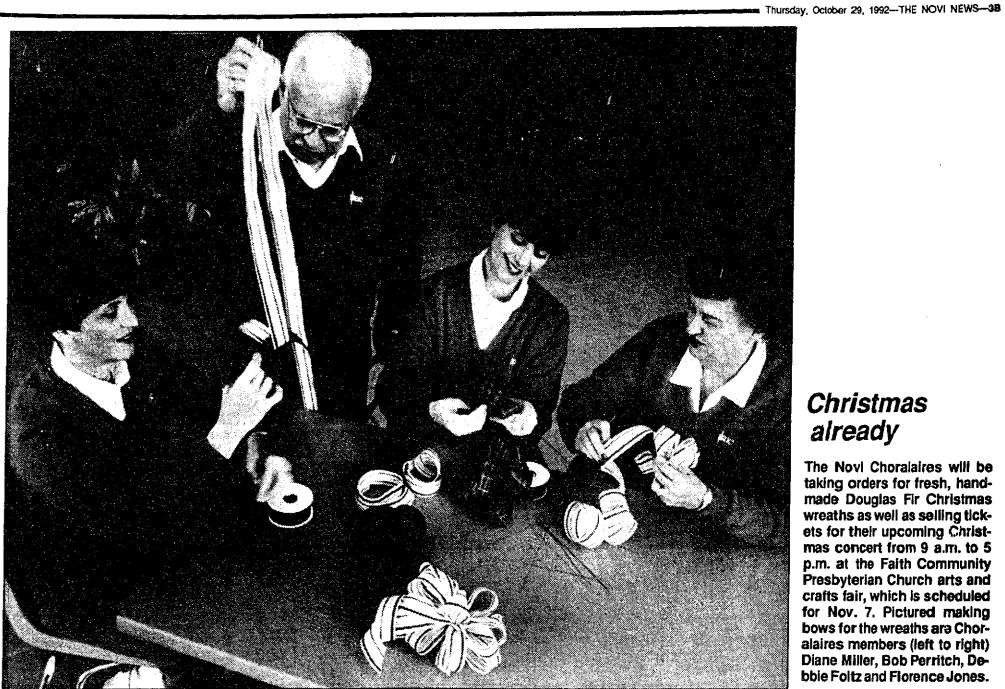

"We hope to educate Novi to become healthier," explained Health Expo "team leader" Sharon Ford. She is one of the chamber members involved in organizing and finding volunteers for the event. "We're going to go from restaurants to fitness areas to the doctors (looking for demonstrators)," she said. "We're even hoping to get Nike and Reebok to show us about proper walking shoes."

The Health Expo, which will be free and open to everyone, will be totally educational and will include no The health expo volunteers are or-

9: We are looking for a tour of South America that focuses on the natural world. Any tips?

By WILLIAM T. TOMICKI

A: The ecotours in Machalilla National Park, in Quito, Ecuador, are designed for people interested in studying nature up close.

The tours last from four to six days, with itineraries that include foests, marine-animal habitats and archaeological digs. Inside the lush 90,000-acre national park are a tropical dry forest, a cloud forest constantly shrouded in mist and animal refuges similar to those of the Galapagos Islands. For further information contact Adventure Associates, 13150 Coit Road, Dallas, Texas 75240 or call (214) 907-0414. Information is also available from your local travel agent.

Q: What are the chances for good fishing and diving in Honduras?

A: Many consider the waters off Honduras to be the "ocean's breadbasket." A wide variety of fish inhabit the waters there. Dazzling tropical species and ewel-like coral formations are a big attraction for marine 9: Is it true that travelers can now visit Nepal's Mustang region?

A: The Mustang region — a small, once-autonomous kingdom inside Nepal — is now open to trekkers. The valley has an altitude of 11,500 feet to 12,500 feet, with spectacular cliff walls that rise sharply to heights of more than 20,000 feet. In the annals of fashion it's difficult to imagine a more adventurous beginning for a sweater. In summertime the sheep are brought up to the mountain highlands, where they are fattened up for two months during the endless days of the short Icelandic summer. In fall they are brought back down before winter comes. The roundup goes on in driving rain, blinding snow and morning fog.

The sheep are run through mountain passes and rivers that rise and fall The work is done almost entirely from the back of Icelandic horses. These sturdy, muscular beasts with long flowing manes are one of the world's purest breeds. On the fifth day, in a deep valley, more than 3,000 sheep are driven across the last icy river to a corral. It's here that a process known as the "rettir" begins; dozens of owners must sort through the sheep to find their own. Some sheep are marked by cuts on their ears, made when they were lambs. Others have numbers carved into their horns.

After trading possessions, Novi got its offensive machine rolling by taking over on downs at its own 43-yard-line. The Wildcats used a pass-interference penalty on Hartland to keep the drive going on a third-and-10 play.

Tailback Andy Sill ripped off runs of 13 and 14 yards to get Novi into scoring position. Whitehead finished the drive at about the midpoint of the quarter with a sevenvard TD run.

The 'Cats made it 14-0 on their the Eagle 40-yard-line after a bad JOHN OSBORNE next possession. They took over on punt and scored 10 plays later. Big plays of the drive included passes from quarterback John Lahti to receivers Kevin Serra for 15 yards and Brian Csordas for 10 yards. Whitehead found the end zone again on a one-yard launt as the second quarter began. Novi's defense sparkled. The Eagles either punted or lost the ball on downs on every possession of the first half.

The 'Cats closed the scoring in the half by scoring on a third straight possession. On the 10th play of the drive, John Wroe took a handoff from Lahti and then hit Kanewith an 18-yard TD pass. Novi took the 21-point bulge into "It was a very solid half," Osborne uniform. The 6-foot, 175-pounder has played above and beyond all expectations this season, ranking as one of the state's best passers. Walsh simply doesn't have Lahti's throwing ability Wide Receiver The Wildcate go five deep in receiving threats with the likes of Ron Kane, Kevin Serra, Dereck Gavigan, Randy Naumann and Brian Csordas, Northville is led by Brian Jackson, Justin Cataldo and Eric Shaw. Both groups are capable of big games. The key will be which quarterback has time to get them the Lines

Neither squad boasts outstanding size. Offen sively. Northville has improved in recent weeks, particularly on run blocking which has freed Kevin Shaw and Walsh to run outside. The Wildcats, although extremely small, have done a superior job giving Lahti lots of time to throw and opening holes for Sill. Novi has had touble on the defensive side. Teams have run at them successfully and for big yardage. The Mustangs' John Gatti, a defensive end, could be a big factor in the game by putting heat on Linebacker Both schools feature hard-hitting, mobile players. Csordas and Jason Fischer, who may not play because of injury, anchor Novi. Bryan Kelley is Northville's top linebacker while Scott

Hartsough adds support. Defensive back The Mustangs have an outstanding secondary. Walsh, Marc Golden and Eric and Kevin Shaw provide excellent coverage and big-play potential. Kane and Mark VanPoperin

Special teams The Wildcats kicking game, both punting and place kickling, has been a sore spot all season. The Mustangs have been average on punting, but kicker Mike Hirvala has become a real weapon. Northville, led by Walsh, has also excelled on returns and seemingly gained points every game. If Novi can shutdown the Mustangs here, it will be a big boost.

An analysis Novi has put up awesome offensive numbers this fall behind Lahti and his receivers. The 'Cats haven't played a defense as mobile and quick as Northville's, though, Novi must show a balanced attack to stay in the game.

Mortgage agreements can be very costly

By James M. Woodard Copley News Service

How can a mortgage loan with a "no prepayment penalty" clause result in a hefty prepayment penalty for the borrower?

That question was recently asked by a young couple who were refinancing their home mortgage loan. They were asked by the original lender to pay a prepayment penalty in the amount of $3,765, even though their mortgage note (contract) clearly stated no such charge would be made.

"It's a problem that's surfacing in an increasing number of refinance cases," according to a mortgage loan officer of a major bank, who would speak only on the condition of anonymity. "Many people probably pay the charged penalty without question. It's unfair to borrowers and they should be alerted to the possibility of this improper charge."

The most recent case, she said, involved the young couple who needed to refinance their home mortgage loan, originally made by one of the nation's highest-volume mortgage lenders. In planning the refinance loan, the couple carefully calculated all their costs. But

Side-to-slope make the Hines unique

By James McAlexander Copley News Service

Design plans for the Hines take full advantage of a side-to-side slope to create a home with four separate levels, each a half-flight up from the last.

Not surprisingly, the garage is on the lowest level. Most of the family living area, including living room, dining room, kitchen and utilities, are on the second level. The family room is on the third, and sleeping rooms are at the top.

All four levels center around a lofty skylit entry foyer, partially encircled by railed stairways and open to the ceiling at the top.

An eating bar that angles out from the kitchen work island offers an open invitation to sit and chat with individuals working in the kitchen. For more formal meals, this counter doubles as a buffet.

A Lazy Susan, built into the lower corner cupboard, provides powder room and a small utility are conveniently close to the kitchen.

The 14-by-20-foot family room has its own storage closet and opens onto a wide balcony that runs the length of the room—a natural spot for catching a few rays.

In the front corner of the owners' sleeping room, a uniquely designed pop-out dormer could be built as a window seat, or left open for a sewing machine, easy chair or what have you.

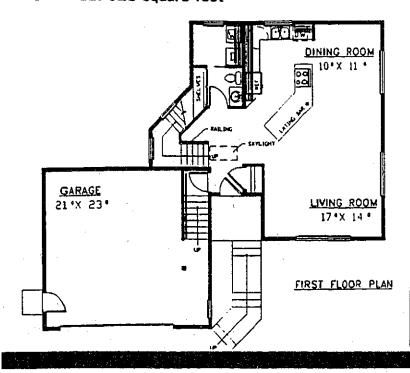

Other features in the master suite include a walk-in closet, oversize shower and twin lavatories. Two other bedrooms share a bathroom with compartmentalized water closet.

Fishin' & Collectin'

Collectors like to show off, usually with shelves full of wonderful finds. Treasures may include plates, coins, depression glass, and even teddy bears.

You might say that Will and Norma Cash of Lyon Township are collectors of sorts. Their eclectic keepsakes add a special personality to the decor of their farmhouse which is over 100 years old. The owners have every reason to show off, and their treasures are not confined to shelves.

For example, Will, a keen fisherman, has visually employed his favorite pastime as an interesting motif into the garden and house design. Driving up to the charming two-bedroom home, located on Silver Lake Road, passers-by are treated with a scene nostalgic of Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn.

On the front lawn, Will constructed a 16-by-16 foot dock and anchored a 12-foot aluminum boat adjacent to it. A statue of a boy sits on the edge of the dock, with legs hanging lazily over the side, in a fishing pose. Realistic details include a minnow pail, fishing pole, standing pelicans, driftwood, and roping. The theatrical mood is successful without the element of water.

"I grew up next to a pond," Will said, "I like water and fishing. I've been fishing since I was a kid."

Will was named Lunker of the Year in 1990 by Michigan Bassmasters. He participated in January of this year in the prestigious B.A.S.S. Master Invitational Tournament held in Leesburg,

Color for winter

By C.Z. Guest Copley News Service

For any gardener, the longest season is the one when the only color around is in the pages of the latest seed catalogs. A good way to combat those winter-season blues with some real-live color so that February and March don't have to be just shades of gray is to plant some early-spring-blooming bulbs now.

Early-blooming tulips, narcissus, crocuses and other minor bulbs will grace any garden with flowers even while surrounded by snow. These delightful, small flowers are subtle and delicate, so for greatest impact, plant them in large snowdrifts. Some specific bulbs you might consider are:

• Species crocus. Naturalizes well in full sun or shade. Blooms in February and grows 4 to 6 inches high. Plant 10 to 20 bulbs per square foot.

Dwarf iris. Grows in sunny beds, borders, rock gardens and also containers.
 Blooms from February to March and grows 4 to 6 inches high. Plant 15 bulbs per square foot.

• Waterlily tulip. Will thrive in beds, borders or rock gardens. Blooms March to April and grows 6 to 10 inches high.

GARDENING

For any gardener, the Plant five bulbs per square foot.

• Glory of the snow. Grows easily in rich, well-drained soil. Good companion to forsythia. Blooms late February to early April and grows 4 to 8 inches high. Plant 20 bulbs per square foot.

• Siberian squill. Plant in a sunny rock garden or shaded woodland. Makes a good companion to snowdrops. Blooms March to April and grows 4 to 6 inches high. Plant 12 to 20 bulbs per square foot.

• Narcissus Cyclamineus hybrids. This includes tete-a-tete, February silver and February gold. All are at home in sun or semishade, rock gardens, beds or woodland. Blooms February to March and grows 6 to 10 inches high. Plant five to seven bulbs per square foot.

Caution: Buy only hybrids that have been professionally propagated — this species is

The destruction of signs, public facilities and campsites in our nation's forests says one thing loud and clear.

Respect doesn't grow on trees. It must be cultivated.

From camper to hiker. Parent to child. Generation to generation.

The sad truth is unless we begin to help people appreciate the forest for the priceless gift it is, something valuable will be lost. Our access to it.

Vandalism. It's time to draw the line.

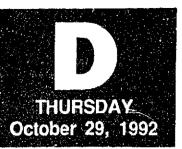

Give a hoot. Forest Service, U.S.D.A. Don't pollute.

Teacher taps into students' creativity

By RICK BYRNE Copy Editor

Ann Oberts doesn't just teach piano. In fact, she seems to spread a little music everywhere she goes.

When she isn't holding piano lessons at her Novi home, the mother of two can be found teaching future elementary school teachers at Eastern Michigan University, serving the community as vice president of the Novi Arts Council or counseling frantic EMU students with lessons that go far beyond the 88 keys.

"I deal with everything from drugs, to suicides, to 'I'm flunking a class,' " she said.

That's some pretty heavy duty stuff for a piano teacher. But in the beginning, Oberts had only intended to be a music teacher. She got her bachelor's and master's degrees in music education at Northern. She gave her first piano lesson in 1967 while she herself was still a student at Northern Michigan University.

"My mother had a friend who wanted to take some lessons," Oberts said. "I found that by doing that, I could supplement my spending money, and it gave me a chance to build up my teaching technique."

It must have worked because for the next six years she taught music to elementary school students at Sawyer Air Force Base near Marquette.

"I was teaching 650 kids, twice a week," she said. "I got to know how to deal with children and to get them to be creative."

But it was while teaching piano to children that she became interested in the conflicts that children faced

"Unless there's an outbreak of automated teller machine crimes, or cost tens of millions of dollars to imsome helnous act involving a cash machine which gets a lot of media attention, I don't see tougher security be so restrictive. What's more, there measures being passed," said Ray Van Hoeck, vice president of the retail banking group for the National Bank of Detroit.

The bank operates 206 cash machines in the state, 25 percent of which have surveillance cameras. Another 10 percent have locks that check the cards of people entering a cash machine vestibule against computerized bank records. Overall, there are 4,000 automated teller machines in the state.

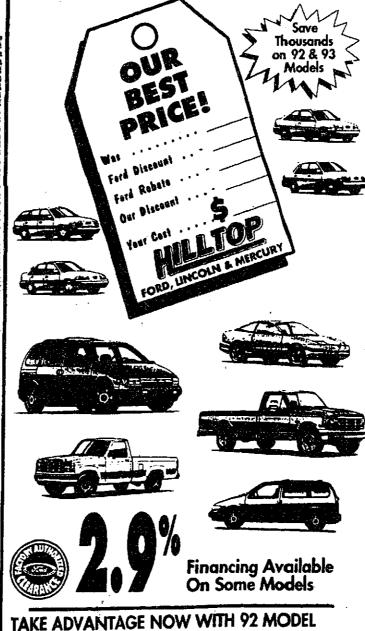

These types of crimes are few and far between. We haven't had one incident involving a cash machine," said Chief Robert Scoggins of the Plymouth Police Department. "Of course, we have a small area to patrol, and we're very visible."

Across the state, there were 240 bank robberies last year, up from 200 in 1990. The records division of the Michigan State Police Department does not categorize such crimes by type. Both the city of Rochester and Rochester Hills reported no robberies involving cash machines have been committed since the murder incident two years ago, and even then, the cash dispenser was a case of one crime leading to another.

"Most of our machines are in 7-Eleven stores, and as such there are people around when someone uses them," said William Yaw, senior vice president and director of marketing for Standard Federal Bank in Troy. "I don't know how you can get any safer than that." Yaw said the bank has 186 ATMs, 127 of which are operated independently from the institution's 119 state branch locations. He declined to reveal the number of machines with cameras, citing security reasons. Cameras are concealed.

In seeking legal redress for an ATM crime, Patrick Burkett, an appellate lawyer for Sommers, Schwartz, Silver & Schwartz in Southfield, said it was highly unlikely victims could sue a bank for not providing adequate security. Q: Should an independent audit be used to reveal problems with a company?

A: An audit is a verification of financial data using procedures and tests known as GAAS (Generally Accepted Auditing Standards). While these procedures are the best known for checking the reliability of financial data, they have not been designed to uncover fraud and

Neither does GAAS purport to test every single business transaction. As a result, there will be a certain degree of statistical error inhe-

Q: What are hidden liabilities?

A: The term "hidden liability" is used to decorate any eventuality that might arise later and cost you, as the new owner, money to fix. ## FALL IN LOVE WITH YOUR KITCHEN AGAIN

If you're looking to spruce up your kitchen but don't want to spend thousands of dollars in refinishing or replacing, you need a Kitchen Tune-Up.

Kitchen Tune-Up is a nine step reconditioning process that will restore your wood and laminate surfaces. This is not refinishing. A Kitchen Tune-Up leaves no mess, has no drying time and leaves no smelly or harmful fumes.

So if you're ready to fall in love again, give us a call. We offer free courtesy demonstrations with no obligation.
