Pheiffer honored for service by jaycees

By CRISTINA FERRIER Staff Writer

The Novi Jaycees awarded Robert Pheisser the annual Distinguished Service Award (DSA) Saturday morning at a breakfast cere-mony in the Sheraton Oaks hotel.

Pheisser, who has been active for many years as a Novi Parks and Recreation volunteer coach, thanked his family for supporting his work. He sald it has often taken away from his time with them.

But the fact that it was a family member who nominated him for the award says a lot.

"At first I thought I should be embarassed, but that's not true," he told the crowd. "I'd like to recognize my family for allowing me to be so involved."

Pheiffer was modest about the award.

"I can't see that I do anything more than any other parent would." he said. But he called on those who do not volunteer to join him in serving the community.

Being a volunteer is not something that's hard to do," he said. "With shorter work weeks and earlier retirement, there is more time for everyone to be involved."

Pheister said his five children have been the driving force behind his volunteering, which has largely consisted of coaching soccer, softball. T-ball and basketball. As the seasons change, so does his volunteering. He also serves on various advisory boards for the Parks and Recreation as well as working as a band and athletic booster.

As far as the time away from his family. Pheiffer said he doesn't worry too much.

"I would worry if I thought they didn't understand," he said. But as the years have passed, his oldest sons have become involved in volunteer work as well so often the community activities have become a family affair.

"It feels good that they have learned the importance of doing this kind of thing," he said. "I guess it's really a compliment that they see it as a benefit." Pheiffer was one of nine community members nominated for the DSA this year. The other nominees were Tim May, Chris Heffernan, John O'Brien, Laurie Cook, Steve Myers, JoAnne Eagan, John Goodman and Kathy Langham.

O'Brien, Goodman and Langham were awarded the Outstanding Service Awards.

Among those in attendance at the breakfast were four past DSA winners including Jeanne Clarke (who won the award in 1979), Joe Toth (1983), Margaret Schmidt (1990) and Kathy Mutch (1991). -The keynote speaker for the event was retired Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole. BeGole joked that, since a letter he received from the Jaycees indicated the topic of his speech was "flexible," he would talk about "ilexible."

He pointed out that the definition of "flexible" is "responding to changing conditions." He then entertained the crowd with a series of stories about Novi from the 1950s to the 1990s.

"I wanted to illustrate how flexible we were," he concluded. "We met the challenges as they came. And today's public safety departments in Novi are meeting the challenges I never had to meet. You have to be flexible to meet the crises of the day."

Board veep assails new union pacts

By RANDY COBLE

Could a millage increase be in the cards for the Novi Community School District?

One member of the Board of Education thinks that's almost inevitable if the state succeeds in slashing property taxes — and because the board approved new emplovee contracts which include salary increases.

Board Vice President Stephen Hitchcock said he thinks the board should not have agreed last week to the terms of new three-year union contracts for teachers, secretaries and paraprofessionals as well as food service personnel. The deal calls for 3.75- to 4-percent yearly salary increases. About 60 percent of the district's teaching staff will receive those increases over and above automatic increases for seniority and educational advancement.

Hitchcock was the lone dissenter when the board voted 6-1 for the contract terms at its Feb. 25 meeting.

Hitchcock said that the board should have waited longer before cutting a deal -especially one with pay raises - given both the economic times and the political winds in Lansing. As it stands now he continued, if a state property tax cut plan becomes law, the board will have to increase the district's miliage levy to cover million-dollar budget shortfalls.

The district is currently assessing 29.2 mills for general operations, less than the amount allowed by the state's Headlee Amendment. The board can vote to increase the millage levy of the district to that amount without a vote by the Hitchcock said that if a bad enough tax cut plan becomes law, however, the board will likely ask ■ The pay raises given in the Novi school district contracts are greater than they may seem at first glance, says one board member. On top of the base salary hikes of 3.75 to 4 percent, "step" increases will add nine to 14 percent for most teachers. The story is on page 5A.

School board president Ray Byers defends the recently approved employee contracts as the best possible decision under the circumstances. The story is on page 5A.

voters to approve a millage increase over and above the Headlee limit. Board President Raymond Byers said he disagreed with his colleague, and that the board made the best decision possible.

The district will have to consider the possibility of a millage if a damaging state tax cut plan were to pass. Byers said, regardless of the salary increases in the contract. He said that settling the issue now was the best move for the district.

The vice-president took a different view.

"If you compare these raises with the ones (negotiated) in some other districts," Hitchcock said, "you can say that we've been able to get a cheaper contract. But you also have to view that in the context of the flnancial situation of your district.

"You also have to look at this in terms of what is a fair wage increase in light of the economic times for the citizens of Novi who are going to have to pay for this," Hitchcock Continued from 5

Zingers fly over city cablecasts

Cop in right place nabs theft suspects

By CRISTINA FERRIER

Novi police officer Matt Conquest just happened to be pulling into the Total gas station on Novi Road Feb. 24 when he heard the dispatcher report a larceny at that location.

The suspects he arrested turned out to be a group that had just robbed a Speedway gas station in Milford and escaped.

Apparently eigarettes were the coveted items for the alleged thieves.

Conquest reported that, as he pulled into the Total station, he noticed the blue 1992 Dodge listed as the suspect vehicle in the Milford thefts. Three suspects were in the

A clerk at the Total station then told police that one of the suspects came into the store and tried to distract him while the other wandered around. He said that, when they left the gas station, he noticed the man's jacket seemed thicker than when he first walked in.

Engler flunked in mental health

By TIM RICHARD

A coalition of labor, advocacy and religious groups gives Gov. John Engler an "F" in mental health for his first two years in office. A conservative think tank gives him an "Aminus" and says he should get tougher with public employees' labor

"We don't measure treatment by looking at the number of (mental) institutions," the Republican governor replied in an interview with this newspaper. We look at the treatment of people and services delivered.

For three decades, Michigan has shifted its focus from massive, staterun mental hospitals to communitybased treatment and private hospitals. The situation is coming to a head, however, under Engler.

"Tragically, the Engler administration has earned a failing grade in mental health," said the Michigan Fair Budget Action Coalition [MFBAC], the Detroit-based group flunking the governor. Spokesperson Kathleen Gmeiner described it as "a coalition of religious, labor and advocacy groups."

MFBAC accused Engler of working to "dismantle the mental health system." It says the community mental health boards are overburdened "with over 15,000 persons waiting weeks or months for severely limited but essential services."

MFBAC said there was inadequate capacity for the elderly mentally ill, abused and neglected children and those with dual problems (such as mental illness and substance abuse). It faulted his closing of nine state facilities. Particularly controversial was the closing of Lafayette Clinic, a Detroit facility which did much mental health research and some treatment. (Its research money has been reallocated to Wayne State University

Engler's reply is that citizens should look at the output rather than count the number of state institutions and state employees in judging his performance. Here are the questions and Engler's answers from the

Q. The latest critical critique of your igministration says nine m health units have been closed, is it your desire to phase out all state menlal Institutions?

A. "No. Institutional care is going to be part of a mental health continuum. We don't measure treatment by looking at the number of institutions. We look at the treatment of people and services delivered. That investment is up.

"We won't continue institutions where there are nine patients and 100 employees, as we did in Traverse City, and 30 patients and a couple hundred employees as we did at Lafayette Clinic.

Q. You're saying there's not an absolute goal of doing away with all state mental hospitals.

A. There still would be mental

"The (private and local) hospitals have picked up a lot of that burden. They've reduced the need as they've opened up psychiatric wards to treat people in their home communities. No longer is it necessary to stigmatize anyone by sending them away to the (state) institution

"We have a mental facility for people who have committed crimes. That vill continue to exist. A dozen or so institutions we expect to continue into the 21st century. They may be smaller. Their locations may be different. The facilities may be better. But there will still be some institutions."

Engler's office issued a report on his first two years which says more than $70 million has been redirected to community programs. These programs include Assertive Community Treatment, Fairweather Lodges, Supported Employment Programs, clubhouse programs and in-home services for families and

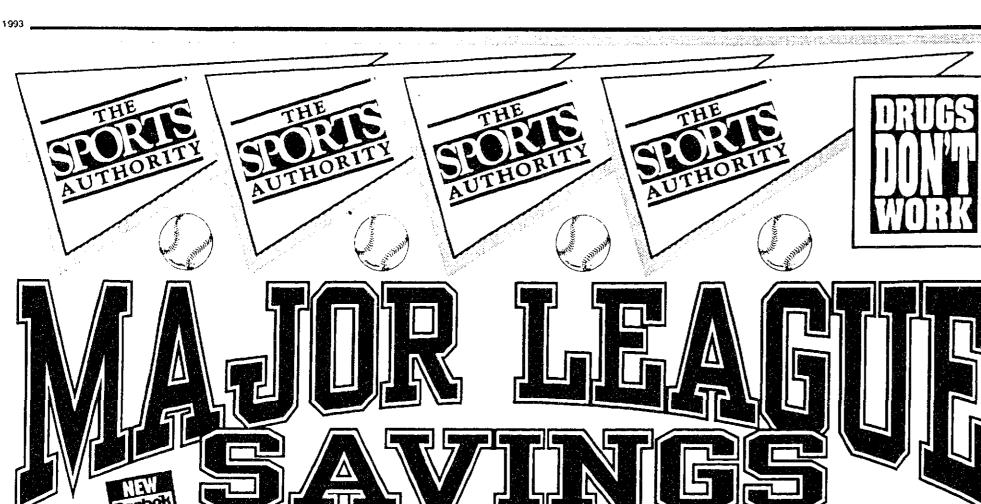

The administration argues it is "maintaining a substantial financial commitment to mental health research - over $16 million committed to research in 1992."

Some in the Engler administration ay organized labor --- particularly in the Lafayette closing — has agitated patients in the name of mental health care but with the true purpose of trying to protect unionized jobs.

The Mackinac Center for Public Policy, a Midland-based conservative think tank, praised Engler for reducing the state's permanent work force by 8.4 percent - from 64,000 in 1991 to 59,000 today. It did not comment specifically on the mental health issue. But the conservatives faulted Engler on another point:

The governor took no major action to address the coercive power of the state's labor unions and the political clout, such as requiring that workers be informed of their rights under Supreme Court decisions to refrain from joining or supporting unions beyond the costs of collective

The thought and intent at that time was we would have a dedicated channel. Very reluctantly we have taken the various members of council and administration down the rocky road to get them on television. People are interested and say they enjoy it," Toth said.

The interested public is free to attend the budget meetings at any time, Crawford reminded the council. He was all for saving the money. "Sometimes people get the feeling that if we don't televise meetings, we're hiding something. Our meetings are open, as they were years before they were televised," he members will engage in less nitpicking if their actions are televised. "We certainly won't see any missles flying across the room when a council member gets angered by another council member's statement," she predicted.

This happened in a 1990 budget brawl when Crawford flung a wadded-up Toth memo in the author's direction and Cassis walked out of the meeting, which ended just before 4 a.m., in protest.

"It's going to be very interesting to see how it plays out. The city is only 21 percent of the total tax budget. The real entity that deals with a $30 million budget is the school district," Quinn said.

He called for the school district to get on the bandwagon by televising both the regular Board of Education meetings and the budget sessions. The city council first went on-

Committee to study preschool

Novi Community Education Director Clara Porter hopes to form a preschool committee, which will review the procedures used for selecting and notifying parents of preichool class assignments, and possibly recommend some changes to hose procedures.

But for the current year, for pre-school applications submitted between now and May 28, a placement committee will assign 126 children to the program for 4-year-olds and 90 to the program for 3-year-olds.

Porter offered that explanation last week to answer some questions raised by parents about a statement included in the recently published Winter/Spring 1993 Novi Community Education brochure, stating that, "The first 126 applications for 4's and the first 90 applications for 3's will be scheduled for placement. All others will be placed on a waiting list and at a later date notified of available

To explain, Porter said, "It is my intent to form a Preschool Committee, made up of preschool parents, to review past procedures used for selecting and notifying parents of class placement. They will also make suggestions for adjustments in these

The future of education

The Novi school district dedicated its new Instructional Technology Center (ITC) last Thursday - and someone who had a hand in its becoming reality put in an appearance. Former Superintendent of Schools William Barr attended the event. Above, Barr and friends see what one of the ITC's computer labs has to offer. Today's students are tomorrow's leaders. The ITC's computers and other equipment will provide powerful tools to take students into the 21st century. At left, Elizabeth Bohme, 7, a student at Orchard Hills Elementary, gives one of the ITC's Macintosh computers a whirl.

Shortly after Steele's series appeared, women began invading men's restrooms, eyes modestly averted, in such places as Cobo Hall and Crisler Arena. I don't know whether the relationship was merely temporal or cause and effect. But I suspect the invaders were desperate. Bladder infections and cancers don't tickle.

In 1986 Steele and I visited the state Plumbing Board with suggestions for rewriting the code. The chairman, whose name charitably escapes me, treated Steele with ingratiating courtesy and courtly charm, but did nothing to help. Not until a woman member of the Legislature's Joint Committee on Administrative Rules squawked did the Plumbing Code get changed.

plain about how the Detroit newspapers and television stations only come into their communities when something bad happens. They bring their acid pens and their satellite-equipped vans into the peaceloving suburbs, the refrain goes, only when there is a tragedy or when someone is charged with a sleazy crime. Then, like a conquering army, they march through the town gathering up the spoils before beating a hasty retreat along the same path they came in on, the only route in and out of the city that they know. Journalists make up a close-knit fraternity and, though we tend to be competitive, we also like to think of ourselves as allies in the struggle to strip the veil of secrecy that shrouds the truth. We love to champion each other's causes and we are the first ones to raise the victory flag when a reporter gets to the bottom of some hitherto unseen corruption festering at the core of officialdom. I'm no different than most journalists in that I love to hear how a published report roused popular indignation and forced slothful lawmakers to get off their behinds and

Police Chief Rod Cannon talking about how a callous, arrogant Detroit television crew had invaded Northville. "They don't have to live with us like you do," the chief told me as I made an imaginary high-five. "They don't care what they disrupt. They know they're going to be gone in

The chief was referring to an incident a few weeks ago in which administrators of St. Paul's Lutheran School asked the Police Department for "help" in keeping the TV stations out of their building. A teacher at the school had been charged with criminal sexual conduct and, faster than you could say film at 11, a reporter, soundman and camera person could be seen trampling through the halls like they owned the place, dragging their cables behind them.

It's funny how you can feel free to take your turn digging into something then all of a sudden become protective and smug when someone from the outside tries to do the same thing. It's happened to me before. The most recent occassion was when the TV news program Prime Time Live did a hack job on the city of Detroit in a 16-minute piece that aired on ABC. The producers of the program ripped into Detroit unmercifully, criticizing everything from Devil's

Night arsons to Mayor Coleman Young. I'm no Detroit apologist and I've taken plenty of shots at the Motor City myself, mostly in private conversations among like-minded friends. But, somehow, I managed to come up with four or five air-tight reasons why that "Prime Time" segment was a textbook case of muckrakers run-

After Chief Cannon was through hurling his epithets I wasn't quite sure what to say. I wanted to stand on my chair and applaud but I thought better of it. You never know when someone is going to accuse you of sensationalizing a story, and, when and if that happens, knowing you were consistent on the public's right to know helps get conviction into your voice.

So, instead of cheering at the top of my lungs, I just sort of broke into a self-satisfied smile and thought, "Thanks. chief. I owe you one. The next time I hear someone knocking a cop, I promise I'll speak up and go to bat for the men and women in blue who regularly stick their necks out for the law-abiding citizen."

Northville offers many ways to supplement college

Scholarships are becoming an increasingly popular way to finance a college education.

In fact, few young people make it through their college careers without some form of financial aid. Locally, several groups make it a goal to provide scholarships to students who choose to further their education. And students are responding to their gen-

In 1982, only eight students applied for local scholar-ships at Northville High School.

Things have changed since 1982, and now a lot more students indicate interest in these scholarships each

In 1985, the application process was changed to encourage more students to apply. A common applica-tion is now used and consists of a form that lists all of the available local scholarships. Applicants simply fill in the pertinent information and check off the scholarships in which they are interested.

The applications are then forwarded to the groups that award the scholarships. Committees within each local group review the applications and make the final

Check with the Northville High School counseling office for further information on this form.

The following is a list of local scholarships that will be awarded to Northville students this year:

Irene Audra McMinn Scholarship: Applicants must be enrolled in a school of nursing, or physical or occupational therapy. Financial need is considered.

Robert Niemi Scholarship: Applicants must be participants in athletic and student activities, and must participate in an outside-school activity.

George Berryman Scholarship: Applicants must be accepted by a post-secondary institution to continue the study of music or teaching, and must show participation in extra-curricular activities and community

Northville Woman's Club Grant-In-Aid: Applicants must have attended Northville High School for at least two years and have a grade average of B- or higher. Applicants must be enrolled in college for the fall of 1993, and must participate in a personal interview pro-

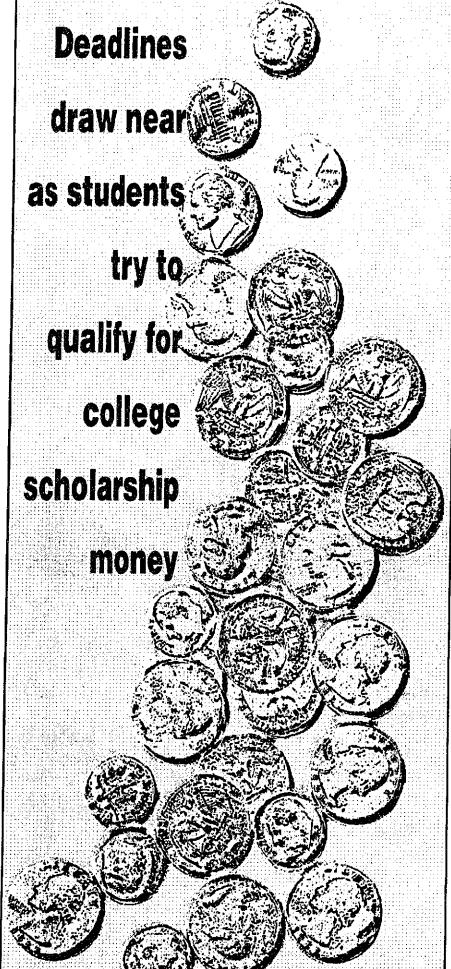

Diana Lance Memorial Scholarship: One of the applicant's parents must be a member of the National Education Association. The applicant must also show participation in extra-curricular activities and community activities. A 3.0 or higher grade average is required.

Nancy J. Soper Scholarship: The applicant must show involvement in the arts, drama, vocal, instrumental or visual arts. In addition, applicants must have a 3.0 or higher grade average and leadership experience.

Delta Kappa Gamma Scholarship: Applicants must have attended Northville High School for at least two years, and be considering teaching as a career.

American Association of University Women Scholarship: Applicants must show academic achievement, willingness to work to pay for education, school and community involvement, clarity of education goals and evidence of financial need.

Local scholarships highlight Novi's list of available money

Interest in local scholarships in Novi soared approximately seven years ago, as groups within the community began to provide more and more scholarships.

Today, high school seniors in Novi receive about 32 individual awards, according to Novi High School counselor Mary Jane Baird.

That's a lot more than many other communities. The process of applying for a scholarship is rather simple. Students can pick up a common application from the high school counseling office. The form lists all of the local scholarships available to them, as well as the criteria used to determine the winners. Students can check off the scholarships they would like to apply

Applications must be turned in by 2 p.m. Friday, March 26. Late applications will not be accepted. Baird offered helpful hints to students applying for local scholarships: Keep grades up, develop talents and get involved in extra-curricular activities. Also, be sure to apply to colleges early in your senior year and work with that college in pursuing other scholarships.

Another piece of advice that Baird recommends to students is to look at less-well-known colleges and

"If you go to the University of Michigan, there's a slim chance of receiving financial aid," she said. "If you choose a popular school they're not likely to provide Figures included in a Michigan College Guide show that 38 percent of the students attending the University of Michigan receive financial aid from the school. At smaller colleges such as Northern Michigan University, 51 percent of the students receive financial aid. And at Wayne State University, 60 percent of the students receive financial help.

*Look at schools that are recruiting because they want to attract you," Baird said.

The following is a list of scholarships that are available to Novi students this year.

Novi Education Association Scholarship/Gerald and Ruth Hartman Memorial Scholarship: Applicants must have maintained a B average, show financial need, and be a prospective graduate of Novi High School. The student must submit with the application two letters of recommendation from teachers.

Novi Education Secretaries and Paraprofessionals Scholarship: Applicants must have a B or better grade average and good moral character. Financial need Interact Club Scholarship: Applicants must have served the school and community in some outstanding way. There is no financial or academic requirement.

French Club Scholarship: Applicants must be seniors who have demonstrated keen interest in French culture and have worked hard to aquire fluency in French. The student must intend to study French in Spanish Club Scholarship: Available to students who have studied three or more years of Spanish and intend to take Spanish in college. Applicant must write an essay in Spanish about goals and plans.

Paul Folino

Folino's sweet treats fielded recreation seat

By DOROTHY NASH Special Writer

You could say that Paul's Sweet Shop, which operated on Main Street in the 1950s, made Paul F. Folino, Northville native and owner of the State Farm insurance agency, a member of the Northville Parks and Recreation Commission.

The Sweet Shop was a favorite spot for kids to come to," he said, and it let him in on their recreational needs.

In a short time a three-member Northville Recreation Commission was talked up, and Folino was one of the three who worked it out with the school's recreation department.

"We held one meeting a year," Folino said. "We met to approve the budget. After several years we had two meetings. The second one was to review progress - and our budget."

The school eventually gave it up.

So the city and township governments took over. Now there are four city members and four township members on the commission, meeting monthly, alternately at Township Hall and City Hall.

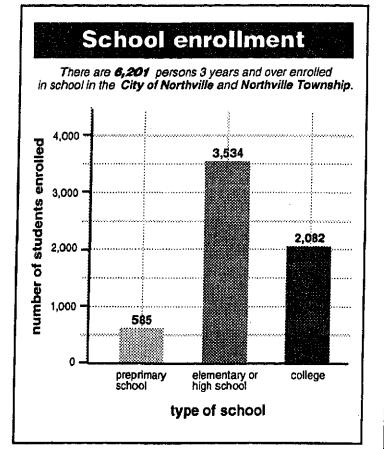

Paul Folino is one of the city members. He is also a city councilman. At one time - in 1969 - he was on both the council and the commission. He was also the council representative on the commission.

The commission, he said, "Sets policy and helps raise funds to carry out the programs."

"That's homework," he said, and he added, "It's part of being a good volunteer," knowing the subject at

'Cats on roll going into Milford game

By SCOTT SIGLER and SCOTT DANIEL

Both coaches are downplaying the importance of Friday's Novi/ Milford game, but there's no denying the players will be ready to hoop. The obvious player motivation factor is for the Redskins (14-4, 9-2 KVC), who with a win tomorrow night — 7:30 p.m. at Milford High School — can seal outright the Kensington Valley Conference championship. Milford finished the first half of the conference season at 6-0 with a clear lead in the conference. but since the midway mark the 'Skins have been hounded by Howell (9-8, 8-3 KVC).

With Milford's 62-54 loss to South Lyon (6-5 KVC) Friday, it looked as if the Redskins would lose their shot at an outright title. But thanks to a huge 62-59 Hartland upset of Howellon Friday — the first time Hartland has beaten the Highlanders since 1969 - Milford retains a one-game lead and can take the title against the Wildcats. "Had Howell not gotten upset if could have been a difficult game to

The point we're tyring to convey is we're going to play and have fun and take the pressure off ourselves," Palmer said. "We don't want to back into it (the title), but you play 12 games and the team matter when you get the wins For two-time defending KVC champ Novi, the game is somewhat less important. The 'Cats were knocked out of the league race early this season and have been finetuning for the state playoffs for the past month -- meaning the 'Skins aren't the only ones looking ahead.

Novi coach Bob Shoemaker said his team's approach to the game will depend greatly on the district draw. A first-round by ewould mean the Wildcats start the state tournament Wednesday instead of Mon-

The 'Cats edged Waterford Ket-tering 67-62 on Feb. 23, a team that beat Milford. Novi played solid defense and found just enough offense to beat Kettering, hallmarks of the squad in its championship

"This helps us," Shoemaker said. "It gives the kids confidence going into Milford.

They beat Kettering, and Kettering beat us," Palmer said. "It's a big game, but it's not the same as il Howell would have won. I'm telling the kids that there's only one team in the league that can get 10 wins, and that's us."

The Novi High volleyball team lost in a match against Milford Thursday, Feb. 25. The Redskins upended the Wildcats in two straight games, 15-10 and 15-12. According to coach Amy Wagner, both contests were very "in the second game we were ahead 9-1 and lost," she said. "They had a good server step up and we were having difficulties receiving that serve. That server scored points five through 12 against us. Wagner credited Novi team member Beth Vanderhoff as top performer in the match. "She served the first nine points in that second game," she said. "Even in the first game she served seven out of 10 points. She was a real hot server at that match, and she was also able to place the ball to find the weak places and serve to those places." Vanderhoff was also a top performer as setter. Wagner said. "When the passers get the ball to her, she has to mix up the plays,"

she said. "She kept Milford on its toes, and they didn't know what to The problem, however, was in converting the sets into points against Milford. "Even when Beth did get the ball up, our hitters weren't finishing the plays," she said.

This Saturday, March 6, Novi will host the district tournaments. Novi will play Northville at 11:30 a.m. Plymouth Salem will play Livonia Churchill at 10 a.m. and the winner of that match will go on to play Canten at 11:30 a.m.

Seniors seminar on tap at center

By CINDY STEWART Special Writer

Last month the groundhog saw his shadow which meant six more weeks of winter. Since today is March 4, we only have two more weeks to go. We hope.

March has always been a good month - closer to spring than to winter. Kathy Crawford and Jan McAlpine from the Novi Senior Center want us to start thinking about warm weather and come "Celebrate Spring in the Senior Center."

The Senior Center staff works hard all year filling each and every day with exciting activities and programs for little or no cost. "Whatever the interests, I can guarantee we have something for everyone," said Special Recreation Coordinator Kathy Crawford.

After a cold winter, we always need more exercise to get ready for the warm weather. Good things we have clogging classes beginning this week. Learn the basic steps and then you can dance to any type of music from Billy Ray Cyrus to Bob Seger. Parks and Recreation offers Monday, Wednesday and Friday classes and open dancing afternoons and evenings. Call for dates and times.

While you're working on health and fitness, don't forget that mental health is important too. The "Say Yes to Life" workshop series begins tomorrow, March 5. This four-week seminar from Catholic Social Services will be offered at the Senior Center on Fridays at 10:30 a.m. They will offer information vital to each and every one of us. You don't have to be a senior to attend.

The free, four-part series includes: Part 1: "Surviving the Blahs and Dealing with Depression," and Part 2: "Parenting is Forever & Relationships." The session will uncover whether you are a friend or a foe to your relatives, and teach how to practice assertiveness in dysfunctional relationships). Part 3 is "Coping with Life's Trials and Jubilations and of medications on memory and developing memory enhancing tools).

There are many discounts offered to seniors at area restaurants, theatres, department stores, specialty shops and even colleges. If proving your are over 60 is a problem, drop by the Novi Senior Center March 10 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., and have a free photo I.D. card made while you

Be sure and get plenty of rest prior to the week of March 15, because the staff has a busy week planned for you. Since nutrition is important, a free seminar sponsored by Oakland County Cooperative Extension will be offered Tuesday, March 16, at 10 a.m., What You Eat When You Don't and door prizes will be provided, as Feel Like Cooking."

Thursday, March 18, is a good day for a Travel Show. It was a tough winter and we need to start planning our summer vacations. How about Colorado and the Canadian Rockies? Stop by the Center at 9:30 a.m. and speakers will show slides of the area and discuss topics of interest to travelers, such as packing tips, insurance, illness, etc. Refreshments well as other upcoming travel

> Don't forget that the Novi Senior Center van is also available for transporation to and from the Novi Senior Center at no charge to Novi residents. Advance reservations are necessary and you may call 347-0414 between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m.

So now you have no more excuses not to come out to the Novi Senir Center and celebrate spring. Well, maybe eight or 10 more inches of snow. But remember, it takes more than a snowflake to stop the Novi Senior Center from bringing you enjoyment five days a week, 12 months a year.

MAYBURY STATE PARK

Location: Eight Mile Road between Beck and Napier Roads.

Park hours: 8 a.m. to dusk. Phone: 349-8390.

Maybury's 15 kilometer of ski trails are conviently located in Northville. The Park's ski trails consist of open fields, woods and hills.

According to Anna Sylvester, assistant park manager, about 21/2 kilometers of traisl are rated as easy, 4 kilometers are difficult, and 81/2 kilometers are most difficult.

Ski rentals and heated facilities will be available at the concession stand. The concession statnd will only be open when conditions permit, i.e. when there is snow — on weekdays from 12 p.m. to 6 p.m. and on weekends from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Ski rentals will cost $4.25 for the first hour, $2 for the second hour and $1 for each additional hour. With advance reservations, group rates are available by calling the concession stand at 348-1190.

Also, ski lessons can be arranged at Mayberry by contacting the Northville Recreation Department at

"We don't sponsor lighted trails anymore because there was little demand," Sylverster said. "But if we were called ahead of time, we might leave the park gates open for people to do night skiing, but we won't have lighted trails."

Maybury use to have a sledding hill but it is now closed.

"There was a lawsuit at a different park," Sylverster said. "Our hill was looked at and it was decided that it was a high risk factor and closed."

PROUD LAKE RECREATION AREA Location: Wixom Road between Glengary and Sleeth Roads.

Park hours: 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Phone: 685-2433.

Proud Lake offers the cross country skier over 10 miles of groomed and ungroomed trails on flat land from pine woods to hills. The trees provide some shelter from the wind.

"Proud Lake's a neat place to ski becuse on a windy day the snow won't blow all around," said Alan Heavner who operates the concession stand at Proud Lake.

Heavner Concessins operates out of Proud Lake's former nature center which was closed due to state budget cuts. The concession stand will only open when conditions permit - i.e. enough snow for people to ski on. When this occurs, the consession stand will be open on Monday, Tuesday. Thursday and Friday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.; on Wednesday from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.; on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.; and on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Heavner rents out and sells skis from his concession for skiers using

Proud Lake and for those going to nearby Highland. Ski rentals cost $6 for the first hour, $2 per hour after with a maximum charge of $12. Children under 10 receive a half price discount and seniors get 10 percent

Beginning cross country skiers can recieve a brief 15 minute lesson when trying their skis on. More extensive ski lessons are offered by the Huron Valley Schools. Call 684-8146.

Phone: 685-2433. Highland Recreation Area is located just a few miles north of Proud Lake. Due to state budget cut backs, Highland's visitor center and the historic Haven Hill Lodge, Henry Ford's summer retreat in the 1930s, were closed after they fell into disrepair.

Highland and Proud Lake have both been placed under the same management and Heavner Concessions at Proud Lake offers ski rental for both parks.

Highland's a very beautiful area to ski in," Heavner said. People wishing to rent skis at Proud Lake can take them to Highland. Heavner said that he does allow for travel time for skiers to take the skis up to Highland and back.

Highland has some 12 miles of intertwining trails through woods, along a lake, and over hills. Night time skiing is not recommended.

"Highland is a very large area and you can get lost easily at night," heavner

Highland also sports a large sledding hill but it is neither being maintained nor supervised this year.

Park hours: 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Phone: 229-7067.

Island Lake is just south of Kensington Metropark and it is open for cross country skiing and snowmobiling. A majority of the park's land is composed of undeveloped woods and

"We don't restrict snowmobilers or cross country skiers to stay on trails," said Joan Stritmatter, Park Manager.

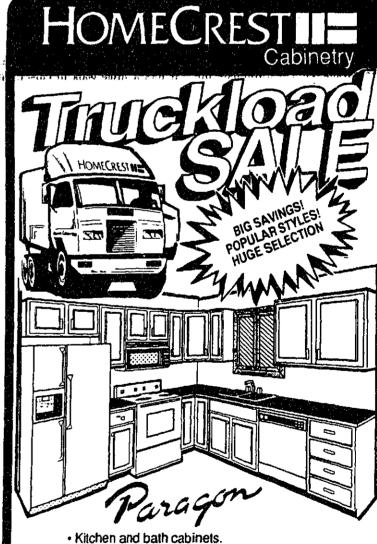

Skiers must bring their own skis to Island Lake and blaze their own trails. Snowmobilers can only use their machines if there is at least four inches of snow.

Even though Island Lake has some open hills, none are developed for sledding, Stritmatter said.

This concludes our guide to local parks in the area for those who want to take advantage of the snow when it does finally stick to the ground. For cross country skiers who want additional informatin on trails outside the metro-Detroit area, a book, Michigan Trail Atlas, provides a detailed look at ski trails across Michigan. Even though some of the information is dated in the book, it proved to be an invaluable source of information when this article was written.

Beware of scam artists

By James M. Woodard Copley News Service

This column recently focused on a scam in which a Spanish-speaking family was conned into signing a blank grant deed, subsequently used to transfer ownership to the con artist.

Such scams apparently are becoming ominously commonplace. I received a call from Andrew Koenig, an attorney with a regional legal services association, saying he knows of at least 10 other recent cases where homeowners were hoodwinked into transferring their grant deed to a smoothtalking operator.

"There seems to be a web of people who consistently prey on homeowners." Koenig said. "As I review records, I keep seeing the names of the same people who are involved in these schemes."

In one case, a 72-year-old woman agreed to give a man a quitclaim deed on her home when she received a $6,000 loan from him. The man then used the deed to obtain an $80,000 mortgage loan from a lender, using the woman's home as security. After receiving the loaned funds, the man defaulted on the loan and left the area.

Land fraud cases also are active in today's market, according to Kirk Grossman, an attorney specializing in real estate cases.

"In one case, a group of people invested in a proposed land development project in Hawaii," Grossman said. The promoter wined and Skylights are sprinkled liberally throughout the Richards, a 2,700 square-foot single-story home. Richly windowed and designed for construction on an extra-wide lot, this home allows its owners to take full advantage of a panoramic view.

Five skylights are in the three tar garage. Others illuminate the living room, hallway, den and master suite with natural light. In the huge kitchen/family room, four garden windows brighten the kitchen, a wall of windows lines the eating nook, and a large solarium expands the family room.

A wide deck, extending across most of the width of the home, expands living space to the outdoors

The custom-designed fireplace has two hearths, one in the family room, the other in the den. In the family room, a media center with five shelves is nestled into an alcove next to the fireplace on one side. The wood box on the other

The bathroom shared by the occupants of the two other bedrooms is large and unique. It features a bench, twin vanities and a customdesigned tub and shower.

The McGuire family's 2,300-squre-foot log cabin-style meets and enters the side of a hill in Livingston County.

For 18 months they dug, they pounded, they sawed and they measured—until at last—they moved out of their camper and into their dream home.

Nearly 13 years later and after putting on a few additions, the members of the McGuire family in Livingston County's Deerfield Township are proud of all they have accomplished. Their 2,300-square-foot, hand-built, log cabin-style home is a beauty to behold below the ground.

Below the ground? Yes, the one-level home is covered by about two feet of dirt and the entire back wall rests inside of a hill. Only the front and one side of the home are exposed to the open air.

The house—dubbed an "earth home"—is unique because of its likeness to a cave. In addition, it's a terrific structure because of its energy-saving attributes.

The McGuires don't heat their home with a furnace or a heat pump or even with electricity. Instead, they rely exclusively on their woodburning stove and about $350 worth of wood to make it through the winter.

For the majority of homeowners, $350 is a true bargain. To heat typical homes for the winter, the costs for fuel can easily top the $1,000 mark.

The McGuire's earth home, however, benefits greatly from the ground it's built into. The remainder of heat is then supplied by the woodburner and, in the daytime, the front side of the home absorbs the rays from the sun.

"It works along the lines of the Thermal Mass Theory," said Frank McGuire, who spent a lot of time researching the benefits of earth homes before he and his wife, Barbara, and sons Noel and Brian began building. "A lot of people might think the dirt acts as the insulator, but that's not really the case. There's just so much mass in the earth that it takes a while for the heat to escape."

McGuire said many of the questions he had about earth homes were answered in a publication called "Mother Earth" and in a study done by scientists at the University of Minnesota.

Ray Sterling, an associate professor in the University of Minnesota's geology department, said dwellings built below the ground can be very energy-efficient.

"You have to go down about 30 feet in order to reach a constant temperature in the earth troughout the year." Sterling said. "In Michigan, that would be around 55 degrees. But even if you get down four or five feet, you start reaching temperature changes and the mass of the earth is going to act somewhat like an insulator."

The McGuires' main exterior wall is insulated four feet across the top. Below that, the structure is butted right up to the soil.

"If we don't have the woodburner going—no matter how

Know your climate

By C.Z. Guest Copley News Service

The key to success in gardening is knowing which plants to plant where. For example, plant those best suited for your area. A good gardener knows on average how cold the garden gets in winter, the yearly rainfall and how hot and dry it becomes during the summer season.

If you don't have this information at your fingertips, check with your local nursery or your state's agricultural college for a climate map. Skilled gardeners use these maps as general guides because they realize that within 50 miles of their gardens, there may be different conditions that will affect the choice of plants and, of course, planting times.

A factor to consider Plants react to exposure. Western and southern exposures are best; besides, they match a plant's needs to the correct exposure.

Wind can cause havoc with plants, so shield them from wind in all seasons to increase their odds of survival.

Consider elevation when selecting plants since cold air sweeps down and rests in low areas. Keep in mind these frost pockets are OK for some plants, deadly for others. Put

Use shrubs, trees, fences and sides of buildings to your advantage. Watch the play of shadows at different times of the season, winds and the flow of snowdrifts in winter. These varying situations are perfect for some plants; for others, harmful. In short, make the most of what your garden has

WATCH THE RAIN

We are all aware that rain brings with it mixed blessings—it provides the moisture flowers and vegetables need, but it also can wash away the nutrients that nourish them. The key to success is to sidedress at least twice per season

In order to keep the garden flourishing, extra fertilizer should be applied to the soil in —he form of side-dressing. If there is a lot of leaching rain, you must fertilize more frequently.

In sandy soil, more frequent side-dressing is also needed when crops are grown. Use side-dressing fertilizer

Realty firm emphasizes ethics

By ANNE SEEBALDT GOGOLIN

A Highland family-owned-andoperated real estate company takes the golden rule of "do onto others as you would have them do onto you" to heart.

Faye Jones Real Estate Inc. emphasizes values and ethical behavior between the client and the real estate professional, said Dawn Jones-Baer.

Baer, Faye Jones' daughter and a registered nurse, qualified for her real estate license in 1990 and has been too busy for any nursing jobs

She added that a commitment to customer satisfaction is the company's ultimate goal.

We really care what's right for them, not what's right for us," she said. "We never have to be embarrassed about our ethics ... Everybody we have dealt with we have treated kindly and fairly." Ken Jones Jr. said, due to the high ethical standards that all Faye Jones associates strive to maintain, he feels "we bring credibility to our profession.

An unusual feature of the business is that only two people working there are not related by either blood real estate licenses. Faye and her son Ken also have broker licenses.

Other family members involved in the business include Faye's sister Debra Sexton, her daughter Valerie Jones-Calas, and Faye's nephew Brian Risner, who, as he explained, stormed into the family business after Desert Storm." Risner is an Air Force Reserve Captain and graduated with a computer science degree.

Debble Jones (Ken Jr.'s wife) is waiting to receive her real estate license as well and begin a realty сагеег.

Services offered at Faye Jones Real Estate Inc. include brokerage, notary public, commercial and residential home sales and personalized attention, Ken Jr. said.

The company lists and markets homes for clients in a variety of ways including use of a multiple listing service, market evaluation and pricing assistance, advertising, signage and personal home tours.

He added that Ken Sr. and Faye, who are semi-retired, offer the ability to relate to and address the concerns of older adults. And having recently bought their own homes, he, Risner and Baer all can comprehend and ad-gan the business in 1985. All possess ing their first home.

The crux of our business is serving people the way we want to be treated," he said.

Faye Jones has had a real estate license for about 25 years, according to her son, Ken Jr.

Husband Ken Sr. also obtained his real estate license after a lengthy and distinguished educational career in the local Huron Valley school district. Both parents earned degrees in education and all their children earned university degrees as well.

Ken Jr. said it is unusual to have a real estate agency where all the agents are college-educated, but added that the strong emphasis on education in his family accounts for the difference. He has a degree in business administration, which allowed him to obtain a broker's license in 18 months - about half the usual time.

In addition, all the Jones children were "products of the Huron Valley school system," he added.

The company, started in 1985, offers a range of services to its customers. In addition, the customers tend to become part of an extended "family," Jones said.

GENERAL . COOPER . DUNLOP

In fact, according to Ken Jr., the two employees that are not related to the Jones family are satisfied former customers: Office manager Rhea Dobson and realter John Welch.

The business has seen some changes over the years. The younger generation is starting to take over more business responsibilities as Fave and Ken Sr. move into semiretirement.

In addition, more family members are working in the business frecent additions include Risner and Welch in 1992 as well as Baer in 1990.) Another change was office relocation.

In late 1987, Ken Jr. urged the purchase of a new location for the office, he said. He saw the potential of the older home, located at 112S. Milford Rd. in Highland Township. After extensive renovation, the new office opened.

The business also offers clients the advantage of dealing with people who have lifelong knowledge of the Milford-Highland-White Lake area. Rose Township and Hartland are two other areas in which Faye Jones Real Estate specializes.

CHECK YOUR PROPERTY PECORD CARD

The first step is to find out whether your house has been accurately evaluated by the tax assessor. To verify the accuracy of the information the tax assessor has on your property. you need to review your property record card which you can obtain from the tax assessor's office.
