Trail backers give council piece of mind

By JAN JEFFRES

You either love it or hate it seems to be the sentiment in Novi over a now-defunct plan to place a winding system of public pathways through common land in subdivisions citywide.

Monday, it was the pro-Natural Resources Design Plan faction which turned out big for the first time at a Novi City Council meeting. Paul Black spoke on behalf of 500 residents of Country Place

Other easements scheduled to go back to the developers run through The Maples, Royal Crown and Addington subdivisions and Wexford Town Houses.

These easements were dedicated to all the residents of the City of Novi. Personally, I think it stinks," said Ed Phelps, a member of the Natural Resources Design Plan Committee.

Planning Commissioner Rob Mitzel agreed.

This council and the planning commission find public input to be very important. Is it proper to relinquish city property without a public hearing?" he said.

Hoffman, longtime editor, is dead at 61

By LEE SNIDER Editor

Jack W. Hoffman, longtime community leader and acclaimed newspaperman, died in Indian River, Mich., Sunday, Oct. 17.

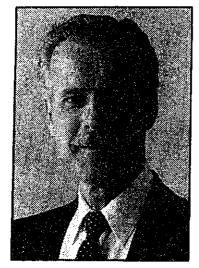

Hoffman suffered from a heart condition, and was stricken with a heart attack in his home. He was Hoffman's journalism career spanned 37 years, much of it as editor of The Northville Record and The Novi News during the 1960s and 70s. He was known as a caring individual and a consummate professional who considered service to community a high responsibility and the duty of every good chronicler of local affairs.

"He wasn't a great idea man, but he performed," said Bill Sliger, former owner of The News and Hoffman's boss for many years. "He was more than an employee. If he had to walk through a wall for you, he would."

Hoffman came to the area in 1958. He served briefly as editor of The South Lyon Herald before beginning a long tenure as editor of The Record.

He left his position in the early 60s to take a higher paying job as a public relations man for General Motors. The post didn't suit him. however, and he was soon back in Northville doing the kind of work for which he was uniquely qualified.

JACK HOFFMAN

He remained at Sliger Home Newspapers - the former name of HomeTown Newspapers - until 1985, when long hours and deadline pressures forced him to adopt a quieter lifestyle. At that time he moved with his wife, Joan, to the northern Michigan resort town of Indian River and purchased The Straitsland Resorter, a small weekly.

Characteristically, he lavished attention on the publication and elevated the newspaper to a standard of excellence out of proportion to its modest circulation.

Hoffman was born Dec. 13. 1931, in Flint to Jacob and Emma (Dreuth) Hoffman. He attended Flint public schools, graduating from Beecher High in 1950.

He completed an academic program at Flint Junior College in 1952, and served, stateside, with the U.S. Army, 1952-54.

On Jan. 9, 1954, while they were both in the military, he and Joan De Pree were married in Braunfels, Texas. Joan would become a lifelong confidente and advisor, help-ment in the city. And as an attorney who owns a Bubblin' crude in Novi? Oil, that is?

By JAN JEFFRES

It ain't Texas, but Novi apparently remains happy hunting grounds for oil wildcatters.

Permits were applied for Monday for seismic testing in Novi, City Manager Kriewall said. The tests for oil and gas deposits are conducted by bouncing sonar waves off underground geological deposits.

"I presume they're doing a search for oil. It's happened two or three times before," he added.

Arepresentative of the firm could not be reached by press-time. When the testing is under way,. drivers will see an interesting sight, Kriewall predicts. "It's kind of a weird-looking truck with electronic things hanging over the side. They're kind of different,"

Two oil wells have already been dug in Novi and the Traverse Citybased Savoy Oil and Gas Company is seeking oil and gas leases for a possible well in the Nine Mile/ Meadowbrook roads area.

As far as many residents are concerned, oil and a suburban lifestyle don't mix.

Residents in Meadowbrook Lake and the Deerbrook subdivision, who were approached by Savoy in September successfully petitioned the city council to turn down a request from the oil company to lease the oil rights to Novi's Rotary Park.

In 1992, the Southern Michigan Oil Company (SOMOCO) drilled its well after a seven-year battle with the city and residents of the nearby Echo Valley Estates subdivision on Ten Mile Road.

Madrigal Dinner's a fine-time fundraiser

By RANDY COBLE Staff Writer

"In days of old, when knights were bold," quoth Jimmy Buffett . . . Get ready to party, medieval style.

The Novi High School Choirs will present their second annual Madrigal Dinner this December, Actually, they're going to have two evenings this year - because you can't get enough of a good thing. What's the madrigal dinner, you ask? A night of splendor, singing, food and fun for all ages. The choirs will recreate the pomp and pageantry of merry olde England with a anhonest-to-goodness medieval banquet, resplendent with the appropri ate decor. It'll make you feel like a gypsy in the palace. To serenade diners, choir members will take on the parts of a full court, complete with king and queen, singers and wandering entertainers The gala affair will be held Friday, Dec. 10, and Saturday, Dec. 11, in the hall at the Novi Civic Center. Tickets are $21 per person; $160 reserves a table for eight. For more information or reservations, call 349-1984 or 349-2839. The event, by the way, raises money for choir activities throughout the year. Food, fun and song - and it's all for a good causel A special feature of the Madrigal Dinner is the decor. Courtyard and castle gate frame the entrance to the great hall, in which hang Renaissance banners. Almost 50 exiquisite medieval costumes will adorn those involved, complete with hats.

A special medieval meal, prepared by Maria's Bakery of Novi, will be on the menu. Directing the evening's music and drama will be NHS choral director Paula Joyner-Clinard. Seating is limited, so choir folks recommend early reservations.

LARA will host forum for city's candidates

Not sure who to vote for on Nove

Here's a chance to hear the spiel of each and every candidate for mayor and Novi City Council — and ask them a few questions yourself. The Lakes Area Residents Associa tion (LARA) is holding a candidates night on Oct. 26 at 7 p.m. and everyone is invited. "The public is welcome, even non LARA-members," LARA president

Harry Avagian said. "This provides Novi residents and merchants with a unique opportunity to engage in a question-andanswer session with all of the candidates."

Avagian does mean all. Write-in candidate for mayor, retired Novi police chief Lee BeGole, has been invited to the LARA event. BeGole was shut out of a candidates' debate by the League of Women Voters.

Three ballot candidates are seeking the mayor's job: Nancy Cassis, Kathleen McLallen and Joseph Toth. The term of office is for two years. Seven candidates are also vying for three seats on the city council: incumbents Hugh Crawford and Tim Pope and Oliver Hayman, David Ruyle, Robert Taub, Walt Jenkins and Rob Mitzel. A council member is elected for a four-year term. The event is at the Walled Lake Middle School on the north side of Pontiac Trail between Beck and West

Don't let foot problems sneak up

Most people don't realize the punishment they put their feet through every day. Squeezing your feet into shoes that are too tight or wearing heels that are too high may aggravate foot problems. Sporting activities and certain medical conditions may also cause foot and ankle discomfort which could hamper your daily routine.

That's why it will probably take more than a pair of sneakers to make your feet feel better. Your first step to healthier feet is to call West Oaks Foot & Ankle, Novi. Dr. Hilary Rosenthal will diagnose your problem and recommend treatment so you are walking in

Dr. Rosenthal provides quality care to all age groups for a variety of foot and ankle complaints, including sports injuries (sprains and fractures), ingrown toenails and diabetic and geriatric foot problems. You will receive quality, compassionate care, combined with the latest in diagnostic and therapeutic equipment.

Whether you have a foot problem now or just want to be sure you never get one, you have two very good reasons to call 348-7684 today. And those two reasons are your own two feet.

Poll says cable firm improving sponsored by MetroVision of Oakland County shows the cable firm is steadily improving its cable television

The annual Customer Service Survey was included in customers' August cable bills. Responses, which were independently tabulated by Schoolcraft College, indicated that MetroVision, Novi's cable supplier, has improved every major aspect of its service since the last survey in

The most marked improvement was in television signal reception. Over 88 percent of respondents rated their TV reception "good" to "excellent," up 8.7 percentage points from the previous survey. Vice President and Regional Manager Tom Bjorklund said, "Technol ogy has changed dramatically over the past few years. We have made large investments in new equipment o keep our system state-of-the-art The system is technically more reliable than ever and the picture is cleaner. That's essential because more and more customers are demanding perfect pictures."

Also highly rated on the survey were MetroVision's customer service representatives. More than 91 percent of respondents rated their service "good" to "excellent." System Manager Bob McCann said, "We voluntarily set our own customer service guidelines even before they were imposed by the Cable Act of 1992. We also train our representatives extensively so that every conversation with a customer is efficient and friendly." MetroVision also extends that training to its repair technicians, who were rated highly as well. Satisfaction from their service was up almost 6 percentage points from the last survey to over 91 percent. "Our repair techs must have people skills as well as technical skills. They are out meeting our customers, In their homes, all day long. Sometimes they are the only representatives from our company the customer ever sees. We try to make sure our first and only impressions are good ones," added McCann.

MetroVision's billing department also received high approval ratings consistent with the previous survey. Overall, almost 90 percent of respondents gave the cable system "good" to "excellent" ratings. "We will continue to work on that other 10 percent until they're completely satisfied," said

The following programs are available through Novi Community Education this month. Call 348-1200 for more information.

Music & Masks: Come join the Halloween fun with the Musical Moms. Songs, games and mask making will be included. This class is for students in grades K-4.

The one day class will meet Monday, Oct. 25, from 4:15-5:30 p.m. in Novi Woods Community Room. The fee is $7.

Reflexology: Find out how stimulating the nerve endings in your hands and feet can help certain chronic problems to heal your body the "natural" way. Bring a hand towel and wear loose clothing. The one day class meets Tuesday, Oct. 26 from 7:30-9:30 p.m. in High School Room 111. The fee is $7.

Basic Vinyl Siding: Receive basic instruction on the techniques for applying modern vinyl siding materials using classroom lecture and limited hands-on demonstration with a mock-up. The instructor will cover estimating materials, trimming, cutting, and how to install vinyl siding over all types of existing surfaces.

The one day class meets on Thursday, Oct. 28 from 6:30-9:30 p.m. in High School Room 226. The see is $45.

Clay, Color and Creativity: Express your artistic ideas! Students in Grades K-4 will create a variety of pottery pieces and art forms using clay and other mediums.

This session will recet on Mondays, Oct. 25-Nov. 15, from 3:45-5 p.m. in Middle School Room 411. The fee is $25.

Judge puts molester on probation

By SHARON CONDRON

Months after a former Northville Fownship resident was charged with six counts of sexual misconduct but found guilty of only two attempt charges, a Wayne County Circuit Court Judge has sentenced the man to five years probation.

On March 10, Northville Township Police arrested David Thomas Broad and charged him with six counts of criminal sexual conduct, four in the first degree, two in the second degree. Police picked up the 25-year-old after the mothers of the two 8-yearold girls he allegedly abused filed

According to the police report, the abuse happened sometime between June 1992 and March 10, 1993, in the Queen Anne Court home where Broad was living at the time with his girlfriend and her daughter. After the allegations surfaced the man moved

Time to rethink vote to kill greenway plan

If there was any doubt about the need for more thought on the issue of the Natural Resources Design Plan linear greenways trail system, it should have come Monday night.

Just as the Novi City Council had previously heard from an angry group of homeowners that they did not want to have the paths built near their homes. the council heard this week from an equally impressive group of residents that said they do indeed want the paths to be installed in and near their

I just call them as I see 'em

And if the facts I uncover about a given story just don't happen to match someone else's preconceived notions about what that story should be . . . well, tough. A lot of people came to me over the last couple weeks with a rumor about mayoral candidate Nancy Cassis that, if true, would be pretty damning. "It's a character issue." is a statement I must have heard at least a hundred times as folks recited

So when the story came out in Monday's edition, the ing round. Many readers and politicos concluded I was playing the part of Cassis' apologist.

No. I just looked into the matter, sorted through the evidence, confronted Cassis with what I knew and what I'd been told, and then printed the results. And in the face of the evidence, this rumor just didn't seem to hold up. I'm not going to pretend that my story about Cassis's reported fender bender with Realtor Shirley Cash's car in the parking lot of the Country Epicure earlier this month was news to anyone in Novi. Word had pretty well spread throughout town. I doubt few residents had not already

So the story served as more of a "reality check" if you will, or perhaps as "rumor control." That's a legitimate role for the newspaper to play at times . . . checking out rumor and seeing how much of it is true.

Keep in mind that all the interest in the incident was less a question of whether Cassis had run into Cash's car than about how she handled it afterward. If she hit Cash's car, why didn't she say something about it right away? Why did she wait till late in the evening to make the call? Had she engaged in some attempt to cover up what would count as a pretty minor accident?

Cassis's explanation is simply this, when she tried to Michael Malott is the Managing Editor of The Novi News.

call them like I see them. pull into the space next to Cash's Cadillac DeVille, she did not think she had hit the car. That evening, went out and looked at her car and that is when she found the scratch on her bumper.

But in my research, three other pertinent facts came out. A) Both of the Cassis cars werein the restaurant parking lot during the event, and when Cash's insurance agent went looking to see if he could find the person who had hit her car. B) The police usually give the driver involved in a minor property damage accident 24 hours to come forward before the accident would be considered a hit-andrun. C) The owner of the collision shop said, after viewing both cars, said he couldn't be sure it was Cassis's car that did the damage.

> What does all that mean? My best guess is that Nancy was not the one who hit Shirley's car, despite the fact she has accepted responsibility and offered to pay for the

Now, I don't see where that is necessarily a positive story for Cassis. It would mean she's likely fessed up to something she didn't do, and I don't see that as a "positive character trait." It puts me in mind of the guys you hear about in the big cities who run to the police department to con-ment was likely to investigate, a spurious confession would get in the way of truth and justice just as much a

But that puts Cassis in the middle of a double bind doesn't it, a damned-if-you-do-and-damned-if-you-don't position doesn't it? Yup, it sure does. But like I said, I call them the way I see

Home sales transfer tax eyed

By TIM RICHARD

Homeowners won't be entirely off the school property tax hook under Gov. John Engler's reform program. They could choose between [1] a 4 percent real estate transfer tax when they sell their homes and (2) a 16-mill tax for three years. The state transfer tax is a better alternative than a personal income tax increase," said Engler's detailed message to the Legislature. "Property owners who benefit from the tax cut of Senate Bill 1 will be responsible for paying the new tax only when they sell their homes.

"In contrast, an increase in the personal income tax would apply to Michigan families who may not own property -- that is, renters." The tax would raise an estimated $479 million of the $6 billion in new state taxes Engler seeks to replace the abolished school property tax. Realtors vehemently oppose the plan, contending it's too narrowly focused, will eat big hunks of homeowners' equity and will dampen young couple's efforts toward the Great American Dream. "I've never heard of a sale being lost because of the Realtor's commission," Engler replied. "They charge 7 or 8 percent commissions." The sales tax on a $100,000 house would be $4,000, the equivalent of 80 mills in property tax on a house assessed at $50,000. But a homeowner would have the

saves lives

As wintertime approaches, the flu epidemic looms on the horizon. Soon. people everywhere will be coughing. sneezing, and suffering from symptoms such as fever, runny nose, sore throat and aches and pains. While most will recover within a week of the onset, thousands may die during a flu outbreak.

Dr. Larry Rawsthorne, of Pulmonary & Critical Care Consultants in Lansing is well aware of the dangers of influenza. As a board member of the American Lung Association of Michigan, he has been among those leading the effort to get local resi-takes on a greater sense of urgency amid forecasts of a severe flu season. According to officials at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. there is a strong likelihood that this year's flu season will be predominated by a severe strain of the flu virus - type A Beiling - leading to increased severity of influenza cases. Dr. Rawsthorne also noted, This

3rd Annual Fiction Contest

Even though he was an alcoholic, Charlie was sure of one thing. He'd never take another drink. And this time he meant it.

The reason he didn't tell anybody was because nobody really cared what Charlie thought about anything. After all, they figured, you don't get to be the Town Drunk by sitting as sober as an opening prayer in the front row of the Rev. Whitfield's church every Sunday morning. People had decided a long time ago that a man like Charlie - who'd lived his entire life right across the street from the church, practically eavesdropping on the Sunday services but had never once gone inside - wasn't about to start now. So Charlie made it a point to stay on his side of the street.

But Slim Jim's place, also across from Charlie's house but down a block in the opposite direction from the church - well, that was a different story...

So began the winner of our 1991 Fall Fiction contest, "Remembering Charlie" by Robert H. Thomas.

The 130 year old plaster and wood lath gave way with resounding cracks and snaps as Marie pulled on the crowbar with more strength than she knew she possessed. But she was a woman with a mission. This old gothic revival on the corner of West and

Main

Street would once again stand as proud as it did in 1860 when it was built.

Marie was determined to restore this place to its former glory. She was equally resolute to strip the rest of the gathering room ceiling before Tom came home.

She attacked the ceiling feeling the crowbar bite into something solid and pulled down strongly. Crack, snap, wood and plaster crashed to the floor as ancient dust rose up and choked Marie. She stepped down off the ladder and bent closer to the floor looking for fresher air. It was then that she spled it. Laying amidst the rubble and splintered wood was a brittle, yellowed envelope addressed to Corporal Russell Thornton. United

The words could be your own. It's time for the third annual Northville Record/Novi News short story contest for adult writers. Have you written a short story? Or have you got an idea for one but you haven't put it down on paper yet? This is your chance. Send a copy of your original short story to us for our 1993 Fall Fiction contest. Your story will be judged by a panel of professionals in the writing and literary field. The only major requirement is that the story must, in some way, relate to this community. It can be set in Northville or Novi, or involve the community in some other way.

The top three winning stories will be published in an upcoming issue of the Northville Record and The Novi News.

More rules follow: 1. Contest is open to all teenagers and adults. 2. Stories must be original and relate in some way to Novi or Northville. For example, the story must be set in t2he area, relate to local history, or involve a local experi-

DAVID JEROME

Attorney works to keep Junior Baseball alive

By DOROTHY NASH

"I love law," said David Jerome, the Northville lawyer with offices on Center Street, "but I love baseball, too" and that's where his volunteering comes in.

He's been on the board of the Northville Junior Baseball board for eight years - as treasurer, secretary and now as president.

The Junior Baseball program, he said, was started in 1973 when local enthusiasts felt that Parks and Recreation wasn't doing an adequate

As a result of the take-over, the program is now an opportunity for 1, 100 boys and girls, about 60 teams he said, in ages from 5 through 18 with girls in softball and boys in baseball.

Most teams are "house teams," Jerome said, but two in ages 12 and over travel to compete in places as far as Ann Arbor and Flint.

"Local merchants are sponsors" of the teams, and each team sports shirts with its sponsor's name on Elaborating on his intense enthusiasm for the program, Jerome said, "I'm a coach, and my son (he's 15) coaches with me. It makes a kind of neat bond" because it's something "that boys and dads can do together."

Being president of the Northville Junior Baseball board takes time, he said, and coaching takes more more in summer than winter maybe four to six to ten hours a week in season.

But it's worth it because, as he said, The program is a good one - a big one, a lot of fun - and an asset to the community."

The term of office for a board member, Jerome said, is limited to three years, "but I could come back, run again, even though my son is out of

Wildcats snare tennis title

Lemay, Coonce lead the way

By SCOTT DANIEL Sports Editor

It's time to hoist the championship flag at Novi High. For the second time in three years, the Wildcat tennis team is king of the Kensington Valley Conference jungle. Novi easily outdistanced the field Oct. 12 to cap a perfect league season.

According to coach Jim Hanson, his team was in top form for the meet held at Howell High. "We played the best we have all year," he said, "and that's when you want to do it. The kids really came through under some tough circumstances."

Novi posted a spectacular 10-0 KVC dual meet record this year. But, said Hanson, the Wildcats had to either win or take second place in the league tournament to take the overall crown. "We didn't want second," he added. "We wanted to win it

Even with all the success the Wildcats have had over the last few years, Hanson said Novi had to take advantage of its opportunity.

"How many oppotunities do you get to win a championship?" the coach asked. "The kids rose to the occasion. We seized the moment." The title could have easily been a three-peat for the Wildcats. Novi finished second last fall, one point behind Brighton in the KVC finals. "We had an excellent team last year," added Hanson. Winning a championship, of course, takes championship per-formances, and the Wildcats had plenty of those.

Susan Lemay won the No. 3 singles title. Doubles teams Debbi Coonce and Jackie Gabriel, and Sarah Rittner and Lisa Burrows also won KVC titles.

According to Novi coach John Hoffman, the difference in the game was in mental preparation. "I don't think we were mentally ready to play," he said. 'It's one of those things that nothing will correct but experience. We just didn't do it Thursday."

Kearney hit yet another three-pointer to cut the lead o one with 2:22 left. She got it back down to one moments later with 10 seconds to go. Amy Pietila sealed the win with a pair of free throws with just two seconds left. Kearnev led Novi with 16 points and Kenny had eight before fouling out late in the third quarter.

"She had a great game," Hoffman said of Kearney. "She's playing much better."
Sutton and Sikorski each had 10 points for South

Neither team scored for more than two minutes as South Lyon played a game of slow-down, often just holding the ball to run time off the clock. Kelly Kearney hit a long jumper with 2:14 to go before halftime and the horn sounded with Novi up 13-11. The Wildcats got off to a quick start in the third quarter as guard Becky Pylar hit a jumper from the right wing and Kearney nailed a three-pointer from the top of the key to make it 18-11. A Sutton free-throw broke the ice for South Lyon with 5:25 left in the period. The Lions then went into a full-court press and scored seven straight points. The press forced three straight

Novi turnovers, all of which led to baskets. "If we execute," Hoffman said, "we break the press."

The coach said his team needed to be prepared for South Lyon's charge.

school difficulties. However, if not diagnosed and left untreated, some adolescents and young adults can become vulnerable to suicide, which is now the second leading cause of death among people between the ages of 15 and 24.

Likewise, depression among the elderly may not be fully recognized because symptoms such as sadness, fatigue and withdrawal from life may be mistaken as part of the normal aging process. Symptoms of depression can include the following:

■ Feelings of sadness or irritability

Loss of interest in sex and other activities Changes in appetite Changes in sleeping patterns

■ Feeling guilty, hopeless and or worthless ■ Inability to concentrate and make decisions Fatigue or loss of energy

REAL ESTATE Conserving energy

By James W. Woodard Copley News Service

As we move into the winter months, the subject of energy conservation in the home becomes increasingly important.

"Why is my home electric bill so high? I think the electric lines coming into our home must somehow throw electricity into the atmosphere."

That comment was expressed by a homeowner who attended one of many energy-conserving presentations delivered by Monique Castro. an energy services representative for the Edison Co. She answered the question and offered information that is usable by homeowners throughout the country.

"It's not possible to loose electricity by having it escape from lines and drift into the atmosphere." Castro said. "But the comment is typical of those I hear at service clubs and other groups where I present information programs. Many people don't know the basics of energy and its conservation in the home.'

For warm fall days, Castro suggests several specific commonsense steps to keep electricity costs down. For example, she recommends opening windows to cool the house instead of using the air conditioner. Set the thermostat to "off" when you're away from home.

She also urged people to keep their drapes closed during the day to reduce heat gain. And shade window areas from direct sunlight with window awnings, trees or

As we move into the winter season, Castro has other suggestions for saving energy costs.

"By setting the thermostat at 68 degrees or lower you can save a lot of electricity and cost. Just a 4 percent reduction can save as much as 28 percent in heating energy consumption. And you can save even more by lowering the thermostat to 55 degrees when you go to bed or when you're away from home during the day."

Castro also recommends keeping windows and doors closed when heating the house. Weatherstripping around those windows and doors will effectively cut down

She also suggests drawing the drapes on cloudy days and at night to reduce radiated heat loss through windows. But on warm days, open the drapes and let the sunlight in, she said.

By ALICIA GARRISON

When Eileen and Bill Andersen of Brighton Township decide to take a stroll through their a with winding sidewalks accentuates the gardens, it usually turns into an all-evening

You see, the Andersens have a real "Secret Garden" to behold. Their 15-acre horse ranch is filled with interesting trees, brilliant colors and the sweet-smelling aroma of blossoms.

"It just makes me happy when I walk through my garden," said Eileen. "It's one of the most relaxing hobbies you can have."

When the Andersens purchased their ranch in the late 1970s, it didn't have one tree on it. Eileen said she started to envision how beautiful her yard could look with landscaping, flowers and trees, and her vivid imagination soon led to the creation of a breathtaking gar-

Today, the Andersens have more than 60 varieties of trees planted around their grounds. Ceramic signs are hung on the trees in case they forget their names. Some of the more unusual trees which can be found on the property are Japanese Tree Lilac, Kentucky Coffee Tree, Camphor Down Elm and Weeping Purple Beech.

Globe Locusts are lined along both sides of the entry drive, giving the Andersens' home a dramatic introduction. An English garden southern end of the ranch, and the barn area is surrounded by more trees yet.

In addition to their trees, the Andersens have more than 100 varieties of flowers, plants and herbs. They have an English garden, a vegetable garden, an herb garden and massive beds of perennials.

Indeed, the Andersens have their hands full caring for their arboretum and many gardens, but they wouldn't have it any other way.

"I guess you could say it's my main recreation...I can't be out here enough," said Eileen, who admitted to spending an average of 25-30 hours a week working in her garden. "Sometimes I think I created a monster, but if I didn't have it, I don't know what I would do."

Since the Andersens planted their first tree 15 years ago, their garden has continued to flourish through the years. Eileen said she wants to expand her English garden and Bill wants to make a tunnel of Zel Cova trees leading to the barn.

"I always have a couple mounds of mulch on hand to create new areas," Eileen said.

The Andersens' gardens aren't just for looks. Eileen said she has a purpose for everything she plants.

From her herb garden, she takes the sweetsmelling dried flower petals to make scented bouquets and potpourri. She grows edible herbs-such as sage, dill and mint-for seasoning foods, and harvests fresh flowers, buds and seed heads for wreaths. She makes the arrangements in a studio above the barn. where she hangs vrious plants to dry.

Eileen said she also sells dry herbs and different plants at the Brighton and Northville farmers' markets.

"I started doing this 15 years ago and it just intensifies every year," Eileen said.

Whenever the Andersens visit different states in the country, it's not unusual for them to rent a trailer to bring back new trees for planting.

"The trees we've lost we probably shouldn't have planted in the first place because of this climate," Eileen said. "You have to nurture it (new tree) well during its first few years, but if it's really difficult to keep, you just can't fight

Fall cleanup will reduce spring's pests

By C.Z. Guest Copley News Service

By the end of October, most gardeners wrap up the gardening season. Yard and garden cleanup at this time is important to reduce pest problems next spring.

To prepare the vegetable garden for winter, remove all crop debris from the garden. Dead plants provide winter all dropped fruit. hiding places for insects and diseases, which can cause problems the following spring. Either till debris into the garden or put it on the compost heap.

Plant material that is diseased should be disposed of or properly composted so the temperature in the pile is high enough to kill disease organ-

Fall plowing or tilling can benefit the garden in several ways. Besides mixing in organic matter to improve soil structure and fertility, it also disrupts the life cycle of many insect pests exposing larvae and pupae to winter cold.

places for insects and diseases plays a large part in a control program. Practices to in an orchard sanitation program include:

- · Mowing grass under trees and removing mulch within 1 inch of the trunk.
- · Removing and destroying
- · Raking and disposing of apple and cherry leaves.

 Pruning and destroying all dead or diseased limbs, branches and twigs.

Canes of bramble fruits are biennial, the crowns are perennial. After fruiting, the old canes die while new shoots develop from crowns. Old fruiting canes may be removed any time after harvest.

They should be cut close to the base of the plant, removed from the plot and destroyed. Some growers, as a sanitation practice, do this immediately after harvest. However, most wait until the dormant pruning in late winter.

"BY THE TIME I'M OLD ENOUGH TO HAVE HEART DISEASE, THERE'LL BE A CURE."

-Joanne Meeks, 1950-1988

Sure, it's possible that someday heart disease will be as easy to fix as a broken fuel pump. And you won't have to worry about prevention. But would you bet your life on it?

But if Rover is chewing up shoes and mauling furniture, it may not be all his fault. Animal behaviorists say one reason dogs misbehave is that they are lacking social contact, whether with dogs or other humans.

For the dog who is being left alone during the day, now there's Yuppie Puppy Day Care in Novi. As the name implies, it's a daycare service for send their kids to daycare centers, so too can working dog owners get their pets the socialization they need to grow up healthy.

The service is offered five days a week from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. The capacity for Yuppie Puppy Day Care is 15-20 dogs per day.

"We can do cats," said owner Barb Bocci. "But the reason dogs tend to be more popular with us is because they are social animals. With dogs, behavior problems tend to erupt when they're left alone.
