Novi City Clerk Maryanne Cornelius is gearing up for the biggest event of the year for her election day. In less than a week, she and her team of poll workers will help Novi residents exercise their constitutional right by voting in the Nov. 8 city general election. In this city council and may-oral election, the city will be using a new optical scale voting machine for the first time. In fact, every voter in Oakland County will use the new M-100 voting machine. The device, which costs about $5,000 and was purchased with federal grant funds, has a digital display and will tell the voter right away if something is amiss.

Former planning commis-sion chair Gwen Markham is still on this year's city general election ballot although she's no longer a candidate for city council. Her name still appears on the ballot because she did not pull out of the race until after the deadline for candidates to withdraw.

Instead of "connecting the arrows" on the ballots like in previous elections, voters will fill in an oval next to the candi-date or answer of their choice with either a black or blue medi-am ball-point pen. What happens if a voter draws eutside the oval? "That's OK, as long as you darken a majority of the oval." Cornelius said.

Mayor Lou Csordas knows that The Townes at Liberty Park is more than just another proposed condominium complex in Novi. This second phase in the development, to be built by Palte Homes, is the final portion of land Novi gave up in the infamous Sandstone settlement in June 2002.

After losing a hotly-contested lawsuit, the city council voted that summer to convey about 84 acres to Sandstone Associates Limited Partnership rather than pay the developer more than $70 million following a judgment against the city in 1999.

MY GOALS WHEN RE-ELECTED:

To widen Grand River Avenue from Novi Road to Haggerty, to relieve the congestion on Ten Mile Road. Strive to look elsewhere for funding of the road improvements, other than the Novi taxpayers pockets.

To improve major intersections within the city, to alleviate back-ups on major roads during rush hour traffic.

To widen Novi Road from Ten Mile Road to Grand River Avenue.

To install another quarter of the Ring Road system at Grand River and Novi Road to alleviate truck traffic at the Novi Road/Grand River intersection.

MAJOR PROJECTS

MY RECORD:

The new Office Service Technology (OST) ordinance and district: This creates a strong financial tax base for the city.

The Gateway zoning ordinance and district: This supports Novi's downtown district and leads to development of vacant land along Grand River. This means additional tax dollars to the city.

The Catholic Central Campus is complete and Catholic Central is open for business.

The new Rock Financial Showplace: Almost having lost the Novi Expo Center to a surrounding community; it's now here to stay. Providence Hospital Campus: The ground-breaking took place earlier this month. A full service hospital is under construction. MY GOALS WHEN RE-ELECTED:

To work to improve the OST ordinance to entice new, high quality businesses to locate in our community. To assist in the re-development of the old Expo Center site bringing jobs and tox dollars to the city.

To attract new businesses by making Novi a reasonable place to do business.

To alleviate the delays in the permitting, inspection and approval processes by opening the doors of communication between city staff and applicants.

Endorses Mutch

Vote for Margolis

As neighbors of Terry Margolis for over 10 years we are very excited that she has chosen to share her many talents with Novi as a member of our City Council. Terry has proven business and leadership skills as demonstrated though her career with Wayne State University's School of Business as associate director of Professional Development. Equally impor-tant, however, is Terry's experience as a Novi resident, a parent of two children educated within the Novi Public School District and as a tircless community vol-

Terry's list of community volunteer activities is quite amazing, from her work with the Novi Public Library to her involvement with the Friends of the Novi Theater Guild. Yet when you see Terry taking a stroll through the neighborhood with her husband, David largolis, she always has a smile on her face and time to chat with a friend. Terry has a unique, graceful style that displays honesty, sincerity, and integrity. She will be a wonderful asset to our city as it embarks on a new chapter of growth. Thank you, Terry, for sharing your many talents to

On Nov. 8, I'm voting for Andrew Mutch. In most elections, I vote, but with tempered enthusiasm or anticipation. This year is different. I get to vote for a candidate that I trust and believe in.

Andrew Mutch has demonstrated his desire and ability to help keen Novi a family-oriented community He has done this by providing the needs of the broad-er community during his service with the Novi Library Board, the Novi Planning Commission and the Friend of Novi Parks. In each of these arenas he has put the interests of our children and of our community's future ahead of the interests of millionaire developers.

Congratulations and thanks to all candidates for pursuing elected office in Novi. I know first-hand how time-consuming and difficult public service can be, but your service is critical to Novi's future

I do not take my right to vote lightly. Citizens have a responsibility to acquaint themselves with candidates and issues prior to voling. I have read all the brochures, watched the debates and read the candidate responses in the paper. While I do believe that all of the candidates in this Mayor/Council race have the best interest of Novi at beart, my choice for Mayor and Council will be David Landry, Kim Capello, David Staudt and Terry Margolis because of their diverse professional backgrounds and experience. Vote for Lowell

I am proud to announce my endorsement for Lowell Sprague, CPA for the Novi City Council. I am voting for Lowell for three main reasons. The first reason is his strong financial background. Not only has Lowell been a CPO for almost 20 years in his professional career, but he is a certified public accountant. I feel comfortable he will be able to han dle any opcoming financial issue Novi might face in the future The next reason is his previous jublic service. He has sat on numerous committees, from Master Planning & Zoning, Environmental, Budget, Main Street Committee and on the Planning Commission. think this experience has prepared him for the city

Our endorsements on Nov. 8

Typically, there are candidates in every election who for one reason or another are overshadowed by their colleagues. That is not the case in the Novi City Council slate voters will see on Tuesday. Voters can only pick three, but all six are well-qualified and truly dedicated to this city. Our hats are off to all for offering their time and energy to make Novi a better place and, regardless of the butcome, we hope all continue to volunteer.

KIM CAPELLO, the only incumbent running, is our first choice for council. His track record the last four years is solid, and his experience will continue to be an asset. He has a firm grasp of the issues - both short- and long-term - that face Novi, and he has solutions. We especially like his pro-business attitude and background.

DAVID STAUDT will bring an excellent business and technological background to council, and we are impressed with his work with the Parks,
