Novi leader dejected by state budget

DeRoche sounds off on near shutdown

By Chris Jackett
STAFF WRITER

Michigan missed a full government shutdown last Monday as the legislature passed an income tax increase and sales tax expansion at 4 a.m. Gov. Jennifer Granholm signed new budget-setting bills into law that afternoon.

"These are going to further damage Michigan's economy. Families are struggling with budgets and businesses," said State Rep. Craig DeRoche (R-Novi). "The winners are the government bureaucracies, with a 10 percent tax increase. The losers are the residents. It's completely backward."

Craig DeRoche

The income tax was raised from 3.9 to 4.35 percent by narrow voting margins. The House passed the bill 57-52 and the Senate passed it 20-19 with Lt. Gov. John Cherry making the tie-breaking vote. The bill will raise $745 million and gradually drop back down to 3.9 percent from 2011 to 2015.

The current 6 percent sales tax will expand to many services including astrology, personal trainers, dating services, weddings, tanning and landscaping, among others. It took the House two attempts to pass the bill, 56-54, while the Senate again passed a bill 20-19 with Cherry offsetting the tie. The expansion will raise $614 million annually.

"Experience and leadership are lacking in the House of Representatives," DeRoche said. "We never had to raise taxes. We passed out our budgets in May and had them approved in time. (The democrats) held off until there was almost a shutdown so they could get tax increases."

Library director named?

By Kelly Murad
STAFF WRITER

Members of the library board were expected to announce the new director of the Novi Public Library at their regularly scheduled meeting last night.

As of press time, library board president Bob Cutler confirmed that a new director was selected prior to the meeting, whose name he would not release.

He did confirm interim library director Mary Ellen Muletone was not offered the position.

"I'm going back to my role as assistant director and will continue to work in support of the library and the board," Muletone said on Tuesday. "I don't want people thinking this change is bad."

Muletone, who has worked at the library since 1986, has been running day-to-day operations.

Cutler said he is unsure whether the unanimous decision reached by six of the board members during a private session last Saturday followed correct procedure of the Open Meetings Act.

As of press time, City Attorney Tom Schultz could not be reached for analysis.

This was the second round of candidate interviews since longtime Novi Library Director Brenda Lussier retired in February.

The position pays about $83,000-$85,000 in annual salary and includes a benefits package. Nineteen people originally applied for the job.

Olympic medalist leads Novi Wildcat homecoming festivities

The Novi High School students the 1956 Olympic Games in Melbourne, Australia, are at the homecoming parade.

Homecoming Parade Route

Novi High School employee Jim McIntosh looks at his book from the 1956 Olympics in which he won a silver medal as part of a four-oar rowing team. McIntosh will be the honorary Grand Marshal for Novi's Homecoming parade this weekend.

McIntosh said he never forgot the experience of competing in the Olympics. He was part of a four-oar rowing team that won a silver medal. He was 19 years old at the time.

McIntosh, who has been the parking lot attendant at Novi High School for the past seven years, said he was honored to receive such a prestigious role in the homecoming festivities.

"I can't tell you how surprised I was," McIntosh said. "I left my home in Michigan to go to the Olympics."

Journey to the silver

After high school, McIntosh was recruited by his parents to join the Detroit Red Wings. He was involved with rowing and was a member of the Detroit Rowing Club.

When we went to the Olympics, McIntosh said, "I was a little nervous, but I was excited."

McIntosh believes his crew benefited from not undergoing the same hardships of everyone else in the world during those times.

"We were very fortunate that none of us had gone to war," McIntosh said. "It was a distinct advantage we had."

Novi High employee Jim McIntosh looks at his book from the 1956 Olympics in which he won a silver medal as part of a four-oar rowing team. McIntosh will be the honorary Grand Marshal for Novi's Homecoming parade this weekend.

In 1956, the Detroit Red Wings sent over two crews to compete in the summer Olympic games. McIntosh's crew, which consisted of four members and a two-member double scull team with an alternate single sculler.

"I probably like to think I was a great athlete, but in comparison to the athletes today, I'm just proud of the fact that I went," McIntosh said.

McIntosh and the six other crew members celebrated the 50th anniversary of the 1956 Olympic Games. "We gathered together last year," he said. "All seven of us are still alive."

Novi High School Students have until midnight tonight to cast their on-line vote for the Wildcats' 2007 homecoming king and queen.

Unlike years past, this year the school created a program for students to vote on-line rather than using a paper ballot.

"Since our students are so tech-savvy, it's more convenient for them," said Nicole Carter, dean of student activities at the high school.

After counting the first set of ballots by hand, the on-line voting program was designed as a means to save time.

"I think it would be easier if it was on paper," said Katie Barry, homecoming court princess for the class of 2010. "But for the people who count it, it's easier on-line."

Other students fear the on-line voting will result in less votes.

"I don't think as many people will vote," said Ryan Dougherty, homecoming court prince for the class of 2009. "But I guess who ever wants to vote, will vote."

Regardless of how the voting is done, the Wildcats' royalty feel honored to be a part of the homecoming court.

"It's an honor because you feel like your classmates look up to you, like they wanted you to represent their class," said Ashley Bush, homecoming court princess for the junior class.

The members of this year's homecoming court aren't just known for their pretty faces; they are also actively involved with school-related activities as well.

school's fall play "Kiss and Tell." "There are a few people who get on because of their name, but there are people who get on because of their reputation too."

Other activities members of the homecoming court are involved in include, numerous sports, student council, National Honor Society, SADD, mentor programs and many more.

As the big night approaches, court members are beginning to feel both nervous and excited.

"I'm scared to walk on the football field," Bush said. "I don't want to fall!"

Senior princess Madelyn Gardner isn't worried about falling, she is just hoping to get the cast on her foot removed before tomorrow.

"I'm excited and happy," she said. "I have a long dress for the football game, and I'm wearing flat shoes."

■ DeRoche sounds off on near shutdown

The two tax increases will account for $1.35 billion of the state's deficit. The income tax hike takes effect Monday and the sales tax will take effect Dec. 1.

"Don't think we haven't given up fighting to make these really temporary wherever we can. We're looking to get whatever money we have left into the schools and roads in Novi," DeRoche said.

Also passed was a 30-day continuation budget to maintain current spending approved by the House last week. The Senate joined in passing the bill 20-19, with Cherry making the tie-breaking vote. The continuation will allow legislators to work on budget cuts to cover the final $435 million of the state's $1.75-billion deficit.

"We have a list of over $1.5 billion that would be responsible to cut and improve," DeRoche said. "You'd like to think that schools will get affected well. Most of the growth for democrats have been in Medicaid and welfare spending over the last four years. We hope to reform the Medicaid and welfare system. (Granholm) is also renegotiating employee contracts. It would be nice to see more money go to K-12 and higher education."

"I think we'll do this pretty systematically. We have the money from last year, plus 10 percent. The government grew under the rate of inflation and can now grow at 10 percent. I hope the budget can be balanced with all that money."

DeRoche said many goals of the republicans include making improvements to the education and corrections for efficiency, changing the Medicaid program and privatizing services such as foster care.

Before the near shutdown

By Chris Jackett
STAFF WRITER

With the state on the edge of shutting down, local residents utilizing services at the Novi Secretary of State office didn't seem too concerned, and many treated the threat of a shutdown almost as a blind bluff by legislators.

"It could potentially cause chaos," said Jennifer Dreyer, 43, of Wilcox. "The loss of liquor licenses would be a problem. People would go to Ohio and hope they wouldn't get caught, but, if there's no (state police) patrol, that shouldn't be a problem."

Other residents felt liquor licenses and other government services were too intertwined with daily life for the government to shut them down.

And they were right. At 4 a.m. last Monday, a budget decision was agreed upon, ending a two-party stalemate.

"How are they going to shut down the lotto, casinos and liquor sales?" said Roger Burkholder, 60, of Royal Oak last week, who also said people would take the 90-minute or less drive to Ohio, Canada, Wisconsin and Indiana to get around the potential Michigan liquor losses.

Dreyer, Burkholder and others said they wouldn't let the Secretary of State office interfere with their lives if it were closed during a potential budget shutdown.

"All people are going to do is drive without (a license)," said Burkholder, who was renewing his drivers license and license plates. "What are cops going to give you a ticket so you can fight it in court and win because the place is closed? It's a big, vicious cycle that uses taxpayers money."

A common theme among residents last week in solving the budget crisis was to look at the legislators themselves and make changes there.

The House's proposed income tax increase wasn't popular either because it would only affect Michigan residents.

"I'd make all the lawmakers take a pay cut, make them put their money where their mouth is. I'd look at the budget for other things to be cut. We don't need to raise taxes. Maybe we'd have to push back road repairs for a year," Dreyer said. "Whenever the legislature did away with the Single Business tax without a replacement, that was stupid. It's got to come from somewhere. Nothing's for free."

Woman caught with marijuana and mushrooms

A woman was arrested on charges of possession of marijuana and possession of a hallucinogen just before 6 p.m. Sept. 18, reports said.

The woman was initially pulled over on southbound Meadowbrook Road near 11 Mile Road for driving 58 mph in a 40 mph zone, reports said.

According to the officer, when he approached the woman's black Ford Fusion he smelled a faint odor of burnt marijuana.

The woman denied possessing anything illegal and denied the officer permission to search her vehicle.

According to the report, as soon as the officer informed the woman that he would have a k-9 come to the scene, she admitted to having a marijuana pipe in the car.

Once the woman allowed the officer to search the vehicle, he found a half-smoked marijuana cigarette and a plastic baggie containing several large hallucinogenic mushrooms in the center console, reports said.

Vehicle damaged at local elementary

A Novi resident's vehicle was damaged while parked at Village Oaks Elementary School Sept. 22, reports said.

According to the recent report, the victim parked his car at about 8:30 p.m. and went with some friends to the playground area.

While at the playground, a van full of boys ages 16-17 drove by yelling threatening messages to the victim and his friends, reports said. Allegedly, the van drove off, con-

Locks won't keep thieves away

According to a recent police report, a man's wallet, keys and Master padlock were stolen from a locker at Bally Total Fitness on Crescent Boulevard between 7:30 and 9:15 p.m. Sept. 24.

The victim's black leather wallet contained a Mastercard, Chase debit card, license and S30, reports said.

According to the report, the victim was certain he secured the locker but the officer observed the locker to be only partially secure when closed.

While canceling his credit cards, the man was informed that his Mastercard had been used at T.G.I. Friday's and the Sunlight Hut in Novi, reports said.

A rocky relationship

A rock was thrown through the window of a resident at Woodland Glen Apartments, near Eight Mile Road and Roscommon Drive, reports said.

According to the resident, he left for work at 8:30 a.m. Sept. 14 and when he returned home at 3 p.m. Sept. 15, a rock had been thrown through his bedroom window.

The victim suspected a neighbor he had been having problems with. According to the report, the neighbor denied throwing the rock through the victim's window, but told the officer he has a problem with the victim because his alarm clock goes off for an hour before he turns it off.

The officer informed the neighbor that she would speak to the victim about his alarm clock, reports said.

TOOTH MAKEOVER

While body reshaping may involve extensive exercise and/or modification surgery, tooth reshaping is a relatively easy matter. It involves removing small amounts of enamel to eliminate or minimize imperfections. For instance, the points of upper canine teeth can be blunted somewhat to eliminate their fang-like appearance. Tooth reshaping (or enamel recontouring) can also help improve the look of a smile by altering the shape, length, contour, or position of a tooth and its relationship to adjacent teeth. The technique can be used to reshape chipped, overlapped, or fractured teeth, as well as to minimize the appearance of crowding. In addition, tooth reshaping may be undertaken to correct developmental imperfections and abnormalities, such as pitting and grooves in the enamel.

When you look good, you feel good. It's really that simple. If your smile is not becoming to you, you should be coming to us for dental care tailored specifically to your needs. Aren't you curious how today's cosmetic dentistry procedures like tooth reshaping can enhance your lifestyle? We'd be glad to tell you about the many ways we can help make your smile a dazzling one. Opening day draws thousands of shoppers to Novi

Twelve Oaks transformed and Nordstrom wing open

By Kelly Murad
STAFF WRITER

Danielle Stein of Grosse Pointe missed a doctor's appointment she scheduled months ago to attend the grand opening of the store that carries her pink, Coco Chanel lipstick. Stein, along with thousands of other shoppers, spent last Friday morning waiting in line for the highly anticipated opening of Twelve Oaks Mall's new Nordstrom wing. More than 2,000 people waited outside Nordstrom in hopes of being among the first 450 people in line to receive a complimentary SWAG bag. Although Stein didn't make the cut, Christine Thornton of West Bloomfield did. In order to be one of those 450 people, Thornton arrived at 5:30 a.m., sacrificing a morning of work and leaving her husband in charge of putting their kids on the school bus.

"It's a once in a lifetime event," Thornton said. "We're making history."

Thornton's SWAG bag of goodies contained gift cards, candles, Oakley sunglasses, jewelry, chocolate and other items from stores throughout the mall.

Once everyone moved inside, a complimentary breakfast buffet was provided featuring quiche, fruit, yogurt, cappuccino and smoothies. Although the stores in the mall didn't open until 10 a.m., festivities began at 8:30 a.m. with the cosmetic tailgate party "Beauty, Breakfast and SWAG."

Cosmetic stations were placed in the new wing of the mall for shoppers to receive demonstrations and consultations from representatives of M.A.C., Estee Lauder, Bobbi Brown, Lancome, Philosophy and many others.

Geir Ness, the designer of Norway's first international fragrance Laila, was in attendance to introduce his line exclusive to Nordstrom.

Avid Nordstrom shoppers, such as Melaney Eschley of Canton, enjoyed a complimentary makeover from a Nordstrom beauty expert at the M.A.C. counter.

"It's my favorite store (Nordstrom) but I'm kind of far," Eschley said. "It's a lot faster to get here."

As the cosmetic tailgate party came to an end, State Sen. Nancy Cassis spoke in honor of the grand opening.

"Today, we add another page to the history books," she said. "Michigan is alive and vibrant."

City of Novi Mayor David Landry school Cassis by saying Twelve Oaks has become the retail destination for the state of Michigan.

In commemoration of Twelve Oaks' 30-year anniversary, General Manager Dan Jones, on behalf of Taubman Centers Inc., presented Novi's Public Library Interim Director Mary Ellen McKernan with a check for $30,000.

LET'S TALK
Jewelry
WITH GARY S. WEINSTEIN
GEMOLOGIST

WHITE GOLD

White gold provides the look of platinum at considerably less cost. Like yellow gold, white gold can be 18-karat, 14-karat or 10-karat. The more karats, the more gold is alloyed with the gold. For instance, 18-karat white gold is a combination of 75% gold and 25% white metal (such as palladium or silver). Because the natural color of white gold is actually more of a light gray, white-gold jewelry is usually coated with a layer of the white metal rhodium, which possesses many of platinum's properties including its white color. While rhodium is very durable, it will eventually wear away. Thus, it is recommended that white-gold pieces be re-rhodium plated every 12 to 18 months.

Search no farther than WEINSTEIN JEWELERS OF NOVI to find exquisite gold jewelry of fine design. Whether you prefer white gold with its soft, shimmering beauty or yellow gold with a bright mirror finish, there is really nothing quite like the feeling you get when you wear gold jewelry. We hope you'll take the time from your daily routine to immerse yourself and browse among our selections of gold necklaces, chains, bracelets, earrings, and rings. If quality is for you, then see us at 41950 Grand River Ave., because that's all we carry. PH: 248-347-0303. We are licensed by the city of Novi to offer loans on jewelry.

PS: White gold is very popular for engagement rings.

Presented by Michael S. Rowe, M.D., F.A.C.P., C.P.I.

EGG IS THE MOST COMMON CHILDHOOD FOOD ALLERGY

We hear about peanut allergies in children, but there are many other foods to which many children are allergic. The most common food allergy in children is to eggs. Approximately 2.5% of children have an allergy to eggs. Children with these allergies can react to the egg white or yolk. Although most children grow out of egg allergies by 5 years of age, young kids who have egg allergies are more likely to develop asthma as they grow. The flu vaccine is an immunization that children with egg allergies should generally avoid. Experts once recommended that egg-allergic children receive the MMR vaccine, which was cultured using egg components, in six shots. They have since learned that this is not usually necessary. If you're concerned about serious food allergies, consult with a specialist. Call the ALLERGY AND ASTHMA CENTER.

Explore the world in one place, downtown Novi

International Festival Saturday

By Kelly Murad
STAFF WRITER

Novi residents will have the opportunity to explore 20 different countries throughout the world, while strolling along Main and Market streets in downtown Novi this weekend.

The Novi Parks, Recreation and Forestry Department is hosting the seventh annual International Festival from noon-6 p.m. Saturday.

"The main focus of our department is enriching lives and strengthening community," said Derek Smith, recreation supervisor for the Novi Parks Department. "Through different cultural organizations, not just in Novi but across the country, we are becoming a more diverse society."

Representatives from countries such as Japan, China, India, Pakistan, Lebanon, Taiwan and Mexico will be sharing their cultures' traditions with the Novi community.

As part of the festival, a Parade of Nations will begin at 3 p.m.

"We are a very diverse community," Smith said. "We are hoping to have kids from all over participate (in the parade), wearing their native attire."

Festival goers will also have the opportunity to sample and purchase authentic ethnic cuisine from local restaurants such as Kim's Gardens, Lazy Lizard Cantina, Gus O'Connors and Basic Asian Mart.

Entertainment will be provided free of charge throughout the day. There will be two stages with performances including a professional Japanese flute player, a puppet show from Taiwan, Korean fan dance and drumming, a Lebanese dance group and an Armenian trio.

Kids will have an opportunity to participate in arts and crafts by making Mexican flowers and receiving Henna tattoos.

According to Smith, numerous local businesses have contributed

"It's a good opportunity for our local businesses to get involved with our community," Smith said. "Our diverse businesses, locally, are part of what attracts (members of different cultures) to Novi."

Smith is expecting the festival to attract between 2,000-3,000 people, especially if weather permits. If there is inclement weather on Saturday, the festival will be moved inside the Atrium of Novi.

Strike a Balance Between Saving for Retirement, College

If you have young children, you may want them to attend college someday — and you may want to help them pay for it. At the same time, you also need to save for a comfortable retirement lifestyle. Are the two goals compatible?

There's no easy answer to this question. But one thing seems clear: For many parents, saving and investing for their children's future is every bit as important — and maybe more so — than saving and investing for their own. In fact, two-thirds of parents said they would postpone retirement if necessary to help pay for their children's college education, according to a survey by Alliance Bernstein Investments, Inc.

Parents have good reason to believe that investing in a college education will pay off for their children. Over the course of their lifetimes, college graduates will earn, on average, about $1 million more than high school graduates, according to the U.S. Census Bureau.

So, since a college education appears to be quite valuable, shouldn't you do everything you can to help pay for it?

Ultimately, you'll have to weigh your potential college contributions against your need to save for your own retirement. On one hand, you'd like to help your children as much as possible; as a parent, you don't want your children saddled with enormous debts when they leave college. But on the other hand, that type of reluctance may be based more on emotion than on a sound financial strategy. After all, college graduates seem to find a way to eventually pay off their loans. Furthermore, your children may be able to find grants, scholarships and work-study opportunities. Many students can earn a decent amount of money at summer jobs, too.

Nonetheless, you still may feel obligated to pay something toward your children's college education. But if you're going to help pay for college, be smart about it. For example, think twice before borrowing from your 401(k). Such a move will slow the growth potential of your retirement funds and it could prove costly in other ways, too. For one thing, if you leave your job, voluntarily or involuntarily, you'll need to repay your 401(k) loan completely, usually within 60 days. If you can't, the balance will be considered a taxable distribution — and you may even have to pay a 10 percent penalty on it.

Instead of tapping into your 401(k), IRA or other accounts you've designated for retirement, look for other ways to help build your children's college funds. You might decide to open a Section 529 plan, which offers tax-free earnings potential, provided the money is used to pay for higher education costs. You can put whatever you can afford into a Section 529 plan, along with gifts from grandparents or other relatives. Contributions are tax-deductible in certain states for residents who participate in their own state's plan. Please note that a 529 College Savings Plan could reduce a beneficiary's ability to qualify for financial aid. You might also want to consider a Coverdell Education Savings Account, which offers another tax-advantaged way to save for college.

As you already know, much of your life involves balancing acts of one type or another, so you should be able to handle one more — college for your kids against a comfortable retirement for you. By making the right moves, though, you may be able to reach an "equilibrium" that works for everyone.

Novi businesses help residents stay young, feel great

By Chris Jackett
STAFF WRITER

Aches and pains are a normal part of the aging process, but there are a lot of methods to help relieve these pains before they become debilitating or crippling.

One of the more common methods to relieve pain is through massages, which are offered in a wide variety of different purposes.

Massages promote general relaxation; increase flexibility and joint movement; relieve muscle tension and relax muscle spasms; help the body produce natural pain killers to ease pain and soreness, and promote faster recovery from injuries and illnesses.

Also, by reducing stress, massages can give a renewed sense of well-being and improve circulation of the blood and lymph system, which strengthens the immune system.

Boo Sadikot, owner of personal training facility Fitness Together in Novi, is opening Elements Therapeutic Massage on the northeast corner of 10 Mile and Beck roads next week. Elements will offer Swedish, deep tissue and trigger point, sports, prenatal and hot stone massages.

"Each body experiences pressure differently," Sadikot said of the different massages. "It doesn't matter if they're young or old, the benefits are benefits. They'll have a renewed sense of well-being."

Sadikot said customers coming in for massages a couple times each month is common, unless there is a pre-existing condition such as heavy knots or muscle stress, in which case he may recommend once a week.

"We live in a society where the average person feels overworked with family and always being on the go," Sadikot said. "Massage is a point where we can typically relax, recuperate and relieve some tension and stress."

Sadikot said many people need massages to help cope with the stresses of their daily lives, but don't take the time. Other methods that help people maintain youthfulness include chiropractic adjustments, yoga, meditation and simple exercises.

Boo Sadikot and Kimberly Warner will soon open an Elements Therapeutic Massage shop at 10 Mile and Beck roads. Warner will manage Elements, and Sadikot runs Fitness Together, just next door.

Dr. Karl Tarkanyi, founder of Ket Chiropractic Center in Novi, said it's important for people to find such a method of release so they can relax and recharge.

"Most people don't have the time, but you need to make the time. No one else is going to do that for you," Tarkanyi said. "The important thing is to realize the things you do today are going to affect you down the road. If you have an injury and get treated and don't know the cause, you're just treating the symptom, not the cause."

Tarkanyi is one of 10 Active Release Technique-certified physicians in Michigan, and the only metro-Detroit with a bio-mechanics certification.

"ART is a soft tissue technique developed through Iroman. The more active someone is, the better off they are," Tarkanyi said, noting, "I got a lot of triathletes who are going to go and run through injuries and don't stop. A lot of doctors go and look at a joint, but not above and below it."

Dr. Sarah Hegger, a chiropractor and clinical nutritionist at Ket Chiropractic Center, said a lot of the injuries they see are sports related with youths and transitions into arthritis as people get older. In both cases, she said it's important to have a strong core of muscle groups, which includes areas such as abdominal muscles and the back.

"Developing a core gives you stability around your spine. I look at patients to see what it is to stop causing the problem. I look at things in their daily lives to present the problem to not, more or less, give them dramatic release, but prevent them from going on again," Hegger said. "I think people just have to be mindful of what they're doing throughout the day. Try not to ignore pains if they're going on for too long. Don't rely on a pill to mask the symptoms and not treat the problem."

Tarkanyi said a lot of people don't take care of themselves in basic measures, like drinking enough water, eating right or exercising.

"In today's society, people wait until they're sick to go to the doctor for help," he said. "A lot of what I do is repetitive overuse, like carpal tunnel syndrome. My job is to improve the body's biomechanics. There's no cookie-cutter approach."

Both Elements and Ket

Ket Chiropractic's Dr. Karl Tarkanyi demonstrates on Dr. Sarah Hegger some of the A.R.T. (active release technique) stretches they employ to prepare athletes for marathons and other sporting events.

Chiropractic help people of all ages improve their health and overall well-being, which all three providers believe is an important service.

"(Those who don't take care of themselves now) will definitely end up with weaker joints when they get older," Sadikot said. "If they don't take care of themselves, the tendons and ligaments around the joints get weaker and they'll be more prone to illness and injuries. At the end of the day, we all want to be around as long as possible, based on how well people take care of their health. People want to feel and look their best at retirement because that's when they have the most free time."

Public wasn't fooled by partisan politics

There is one silver lining in the Lansing budget cloud, which gave Michigan residents a dreary weekend article, leaving a shut-down of the state government: While we share a sense of disappointment (if not disgust) at our full-time legislature for taking until (beyond) the 11th hour to do their jobs, we were encouraged by the public's grasp of the true root of the problem. We're hoping that awakened understanding holds through the 2008 election season.

The good news, which should be a wake-up call for prospective politicians, is that the public was no longer interested in partisan games and finger-pointing. In the past few weeks, as uncertainty grew over the state's financial future, the only people using the terms "Republican" or "Democrat" were, in fact, Democrats and Republicans. We've held dozens of conversations about Lansing's lack of professionalism with people who typically would call themselves by a party affiliation, or further confuse the issue with labels including "conservative" or "liberal," none of which addressed the fundamental problem.

In short, the public message to lawmakers was: Do your job. Balance the budget. Keep the functions of government working, and spare us the partisan gamesmanship.

Six years ago, this nation had the rare opportunity to truly become united with common interests. Unfortunately, the good will of patriotism gave way to the most divided political arguments seen in decades, usually on matters unrelated to the deepest concerns of a citizenry. We unfortunately expect that on the national stage, where hundreds of millions of dollars are spent on sound-bites that appeal to the lowest common denominator, usually devoid of any substance yet clear in accusations.

From our state employees (which includes elected officials), we expect a little better. The responsibility of Michigan legislators is to take care of Michigan residents. The inability to meet a simple deadline is even harder to understand in light of the vast number of bills that have been proposed which seek government authority where government doesn't belong. In more simple terms, lawmakers shouldn't be allowed to have their cake until they've eaten their meat.

It may not be coincidental, but many of the state representatives and senators whose performance fell far short of expectations are not concerned about the 2008 elections. Term limits leave many of the non-decision makers ineligible for continued election. We encourage the voting public, those who recognized a partisan state machine for what it really was, to funnel that same attention to local races. This year's councilman or board member may well be next year's representative in Lansing.

PHIL POWER: Where's the outcry in the state's mess?

About Phil Power

Phil Power is a longtime observer of politics, economics and education issues in Michigan, and was a regent of the University of Michigan from 1987 to 1999. He is also president and founder of The Center for Michigan, a moderate think-and-do tank. These opinions and others expressed in his columns are his own and do not in any way represent official policy positions of The Center for Michigan. Phil would be pleased to hear from readers at ppower@homet.com.

Want to know why our political system in Lansing is so broken that the lawmakers can't even decide how to pass a basic budget?

Then consider these two anecdotes, which capture the astonishing combination of incompetence, isolation, irresponsibility and rank partisanship that perfectly capture Lansing these days:

... A conversation with a Republican state representative as he emerged from a rare Sunday night session of the House:

"What are you going to do about the budget crisis? Increase taxes?" "Absolutely not!" Republican principles are totally against increasing taxes! "So can you get it done entirely with cuts?"

"No, God forbid. That would tear things to shreds." "OK, so what do you propose to do?" "I'm in the minority. It's not my problem."

A Democratic state senator, talking about the gridlock: "If most people in Michigan knew what's going on up here, there'd be hell to pay. Fortunately, they don't."

... The editorial pages in Michigan's newspapers are uniformly and savagely contemptuous of our political leaders. Longtime Lansing hands and business leaders say things have never been this bad in living memory. Poll results published in Bill Ballenger's Inside Michigan Politics agree that "normal" people are disgusted, too. Gov. Jennifer Granholm has a 54 percent negative job rating. But that looks good next to the legislature, which comes in at a rock-bottom 16 percent positive.

Yet... where is the outrage? What may seem oddest of all is that there is relatively little public protest and outcry at a time when the deepest interests of 10 million Michigan citizens are being held hostage.

Hostage, that is, to the narrow partisanship of both political parties and their respective office holders. Why aren't people up in arms? Sure, they are sore when they're talking about it over a beer in the bar or at the dinner table. But with the situation as serious as it has been, you'd expect daily marches on the Capitol.

So why hasn't that been happening? My guess is that sadly, it's because most folks think there's little they can do to improve the situation. That it's all in the hands of the politicians and, hence, out of reach for ordinary people.

Some may believe that things are so bad there's essentially nothing they can do. So perhaps the worst aspect of all this mess is that the average citizen has lost the informed hope that something — anything — can be done. That people think dully that their views simply don't count. If that's indeed the case, it suggests there is something terribly wrong with the workings of our democracy. That's intolerable. And it's time to do something about it.

Starting next month, ordinary citizens in communities all over Michigan will sit down for an hour and half in small groups to have community conversations. First questions: "What's your vision for Michigan? What kind of Michigan would bring your kids back from Chicago or keep your grandchildren from moving to the West Coast?"

Second question, naturally enough: "If that's the kind of Michigan we all want, how best can we get there?"

Sponsored by the Michigan's Defining Moment public engagement campaign, these community conversations offer a way for folks to get involved and make their voices heard in Lansing.

Trained scribes will take notes at each of the 80 conversations; they'll be put together in a summary report that will be released publicly late this year. That, in turn, will be the basis for further discussion and refinement in a second set of community conversations next spring. The idea is to bring Michigan's citizens together to develop a representative vision of the kind of Michigan we all want and a tightly focused agenda for transforming our state to get through our current crisis and lay the foundation for future prosperity.

For it should be clear that Michigan's political, budget and public policy systems are broken. The only way to repair them is through the direct input of Michigan citizens. It's too important a task to be left to the politicians who got us into this mess in the first place.

Readers of this column have two ways to get involved in this process. You can go to www.thecenterformichigan.net to reserve a seat at the community conversation near you. Or you can go to the same web site, click on "community conversations" and add your voice to the conversation on line.

Either way, you'll be able to spend a little time on the future of our state. It might just be the best 90 minutes you'll ever spend.

Why Novi Needs a New Library

Thirty years ago, the Novi Public Library opened its doors to approximately 3,000 residents. Today the library sees that many people about every 11 days. The library facility, built in 1976, is just not designed to meet the needs of today's residents.

The building is sized to hold a significantly smaller collection than we currently have. The library meeting room can hold a maximum of 100 people and this space limitation means that popular library programs, especially children's programs are forced to turn residents away. The computers are in constant use and the meeting and study room space is too limited, causing students who need quiet study space to find it elsewhere.

A new library means many things to Novi. The new library will have appropriate shelf space to accommodate our large and growing collection. The new library will have a large meeting room that is double the current size and there will be a room specially dedicated to children's programs. There will be room for more computers for more residents and several group study rooms. A new library will also bring additional seating for individuals to read or study quietly, a drive-up book return and separate indoor and outdoor space for adults and children.

Novi needs and deserves a new library. Please help make that happen by voting Yes on November 6.

Touched

Upon reading the sad but heart-warming story about the young woman, Rebecca Wicker who went to great lengths to save the duck eggs, two thoughts came to my mind. Miss Wicker's actions reminded me how every newborn creature is a unique and precious gift from our creator. Secondly, the classic saying "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world."

It always seems like such a cruel injustice in a society when one is robbed of a basic need to be loved and nurtured with kind and gentle hands, such as Miss Wicker's palm showed us in the photo. I am sure there would be a lot less senseless killings and inhumane acts of violence in this world if the perpetrators of such incidents were given the loving care that Rebecca's mother passed down to her. In addition, there would be a mother duck teaching five innocent and curious ducklings how to swim too if the three teenage boys were not void of this basic right as well. Miss Wicker is helping rule the world in a very kind, loving, and unselfish manner. She is an asset to all of mankind and God's creatures as well.

Stop Garlic-Mustard

I would like to address a problem that is facing Novi and, in fact, the state of Michigan. It's a plant called Garlic-Mustard and it's a destructive, invasive species primarily found in woodlands and roadsides. It destroys native plant life because of its size (shades out smaller plants) and by a toxic chemical released from its root system. For specific information go to ipm.msu.edu/garlicmustard.htm and then click on Michigan Information.

We found out about this plant in early spring and cautiously began to fight it (we have a large infestation on the south side of our woods). Once our wildflowers were growing, we stopped and will continue again after a severe frost. The most depressing aspect of this fight is that the seeds remain viable in the ground for at least five years. Larry said, "I didn't plan to see my retirement fighting garlic-mustard!" This is, of course, an exaggeration but also, in some ways, reality. It will be extremely time consuming and costly but the flora in our woods must be saved.

I would like to know, does the City of Novi have a plan to fight this plant? It would be a shame to have a Woodlands Act and then have the native species of

Physical Therapy Rehabilitation Update

by Dennis Engerer, P.T.

ON YOUR KNEES

Because injuries and arthritis of the knee are quite common in athletes, 25, we provide rehabilitation care for a women, older people, and those who are victims of past surgical procedures and overwork. These individuals should be injured. Each of our patients receives the careful to avoid exercises that pound or highest level of care possible and will have the knee. By the same token, physical therapy is designed to strengthen the muscles that place more stress on the knee joint. We are currently accepting new patients. To get these benefits, one needs both aerobic and strength-training exercise. Those who have knee problems should check with the physical therapist before doing exercises designed to strengthen the knee joint. Water workouts are ideal for the knee because water's buoyancy lightens the load.

Pillar to Post

It's no secret that Michigan's economy is down now and people are having trouble selling their homes. That's the bad news. But the good news is that many people are deciding to keep their homes and fixing them up — making them safer and more comfortable.

And that's where Pillar to Post professional home inspections of Novi is the answer.

Owner Randy Patterson said that many people hire his company to perform routine inspections on their homes. "They don't have to be buying or selling to have a home inspection," he said.

The reasons for hiring professionals like Patterson are to ensure that a home is safe and healthy to live in. Many things that people take for granted or ignore are often the things that can be the most harmful.

Patterson gave some examples. One is over-insulating an attic. He said too much insulation in the wrong place can block soffit, which leads to condensation on roof sheathing. This, in turn leads to a build-up of mold and mildew in areas where people don't generally look. Mold, particularly black mold, can be very harmful to humans and its growth is preventable with the proper inspection of attics, crawl spaces, basements, and plumbing fixtures.

"We will check for elevated levels of mold in the home by taking indoor and outdoor samples and comparing the levels," he said. "We follow EPA guidelines on how to remediate the mold depending on how large or small the affected area is."

Besides checking for problems which may affect the health of home occupants, Patterson also inspects homes for things that can cause damage to appliances and electrical equipment. For example, if a two-prong electrical outlet is replaced with an updated three-prong outlet, many people will not add a ground wire to the new outlet. "There is potential for damage to things like computers if the outlet is not properly grounded," Patterson said. "It's best to hire an electrician to install the ground wire."

He also checks fuse boxes and notes any improperly installed glass fuses which may be "over-amped" and could potentially be a fire hazard. Part of the Pillar to Post 1600-point computer-generated inspection includes checking the exterior of the home for cracks or damage around windows, gutters, downspouts, vent stacks, chimneys, and shingles. Patterson also checks the foundation area of the home to ensure proper grading for water runoff.

He noted that owners of new homes should consider a complete inspection because many times some of the work may not have been completed by contractors or workers may have accidentally swept debris into ductwork which would affect proper airflow and could be hazardous to breath.

Patterson talked about some of the most common problems he finds:

- Cracked caulking on home exterior.
- Chipped or peeling paint.
- Tree branches hanging onto roofs.
- Dirty ventilation ducts.
- Improperly operating furnace.

Patterson is happy to work with homeowners one-on-one during the inspection process and welcomes them to join him. They can see the things he lists in his report and know what needs immediate attention. Part of the inspection includes the report in a folder which homeowners can also use to log in repairs and utility bills — all things that come in handy when the homeowner plans to sell the house.

Patterson suggests calling his office and setting up appointments 4-7 days in advance. Despite the Michigan economy, he is very busy and wants to make sure everyone who calls can have their inspection done in a timely and professional manner.

Novi ties Northville in Baseline Battle

Novi's Bobby Laski plays the ball in front of teammate Adam Pyett and goalkeeper Craig Demshuk.

Both goals scored in final four minutes

 NEWS SPORTS WRITER

Northville carried much of the play Saturday against their rivals from Novi, but the two soccer powerhouses played to a 1-all tie at Northville.

All the scoring came in the final four minutes.

Northville had several chances in the first half and more in the second, but they finally broke through with 3:45 to play.

Off a free kick, Latif Alashe settled the ball behind the defense and knocked it home low to the far post for a 1-0 lead.

Novi (10-2-2) switched from a defensive formation to a three-forward formation, and it paid off in the final minute.

Miles Reichley fed a ball to Nate Robinson, who beat a defender, but was fouled about 25-yards out with 50 seconds left.

Robinson took the free kick with less than 30 seconds left and buried it into the upper left of the net, over the Northville wall.

"I was proud of the way we responded after Northville scored, we calmly substituted, changed formations and put a lot of pressure on them," Novi head coach Brian O'Leary said. "This is a big change for us, in the past

Novi's D too much for Dogs

Wildcats stay atop KVC standings with 14-3 victory

By Jeff Thelsen
 NEWS SPORTS WRITER

Novi pushes its winning streak to four with a similar story script as the previous wins — keep it close and pull it out in the second half.

The Wildcat defense held the Brighton Bulldogs (3-3, 3-2) out of the endzone for a 14-3 road victory, staying tied with South Lyon and Howell with 4-1 records in the KVC.

The win also leaves Novi one win shy of automatically qualifying for the playoffs.

"Confidence should be with a person all the time," Novi head coach Tab Kellepourey said. "These young men have confidence about themselves. That was there to begin with, we were able to just kind of group together and become a solid team."

"I'm impressed with the overall character of these young men."

Arshaun Hall scored a pair of second-half touchdowns, one rushing and one receiving for the Wildcats (5-1, 4-1).

His first score came on a 15-yard pass from Mark Heard with 2:56 left in the third. The touchdown finished off a 9-play, 95-yard drive. Heard hit Aaron Pugh with a 59-yard pass one third-and-12 for the big play during the drive. "Everybody was covered except for Arshaun," Heard said. "I just looked out to the flats and he was wide open, so I just threw it out there to him."

Backbreaker

The final score came with 3:27 left. Brighton was loading the box and Kellepourey called for a misdirection play that caught the Bulldogs off guard.

The running play moves to the left before handing off to Hall heading in the opposite direction. Once he broke the line, the Bulldog defense had committed

Shamrocks shock Eaglets, 21-10

■ CC scores final 21 points for Boys Bowl

By Jeff Thelsen
 NEWS SPORTS WRITER

Catholic Central played its best game of the year against one of the best teams in the state and won the Boys Bowl 21-10 against Orchard Lake St. Mary's.

The win puts the Shamrocks (4-2, 1-2) back in the hunt for the Central Division race with Brother Rice, De La Salle and the Eaglets. It also ends a two-game slide after starting the year 3-0.

"It was the best victory we've had since we've been at Novi," Shamrock head coach Tom Mach said. "The kids came out and played a great game. We got better as the game went on."

"The kids deserve a lot of praise for the way they worked for the last 10 months. They won this game before we even got to it."

Things didn't look good to start the game. The Eaglets opened up a 10-0 lead in the first quarter, but that would be it.

"They stuffed our power game pretty much," Mach said. "We went to a couple of different things. We moved the ball throwing it a little and by going outside and inside. We kind of spread them out a little bit which opened the game up."

Catholic Central got on the board in the second quarter when Cory Amble broke free from 24 yards out with 1:18 left in the first half.

The Shamrocks took their first lead of the game when Ryan Houska bought some time on a play before finding Scott Kovanda open for a 40-yard score with 3:36 left in the third.

"Houska made a great play keeping the play alive," Mach said. "Kovanda found some space and made the catch."

The final points came from the defense. A tipped pass at the line ended up in the hands of Joe Kinville. He ran in from 18-yards out for a 21-10 lead with 9:45 left to play.

"We've been playing pretty well against everybody," Mach said. "We held Brother Rice to no touchdowns and lost 12-7. We took De La Salle to overtime."

"The magic is in believing. We had to start believing in ourselves. Down 10-0 and to come back and win 21-10, that's a great tribute to these kids."

Amble led the Shamrock rushing attack with 89 yards on 13 carries. Houska hit connected on when we have given up goals, our level of play drops. This time it intensified."

The first half was all Mustangs. They held a 10-2 shot advantage in the first half and just missed on a couple of golden opportunities.

About 10 minutes in, Alashe sent Alex Marilley in off a give-and-go feed, but Novi keeper Craig Demshuk made the save.

Five minutes later, John Hatzis got behind the defense off a feed from Marilley and fired a shot just wide of the post.

With 15 minutes left in the first half, Doug Beason fired a shot off the goalpost.

"All in all, we were very fortunate to be tied 0-0 at the half," O'Leary said. "Not only were we at a huge shot disadvantage, but ball possession must have been about 70 percent Northville, 30 percent Novi."

Novi then missed a quality chance halfway through the second half.

Robinson sent a corner kick in that was headed by Bobby Laski, but cleared by defender Nick Solabassi before it could cross the line.

"We felt in the first half we squandered a few good chances by not stepping up to the situation," O'Leary said. "So we talked at halftime about when we get our good chances we need to capitalize, and we did just that."

Northville suffered a similar fate five minutes later. Marilley sent a shot on goal that was stopped by Demshuk but sent back on goal by Beason. Wildcat defender Dan Kilger knocked the ball out of danger, saving a sure goal.

The Wildcats took care of KVC foe Howell in mercy fashion a day before playing Northville.

Goals went to Alessandro Donini (2), Matt Masserant (2), Reichley, Robinson, Roland Razburgaj and Maerdin Shataier.

Assists went to Garrett Gauruder, Shaun Rydzewski, Reichley, Robinson, Masserant, Nick Brockman and Doug McGinn (2). Craig Demshuk earned the shutout in goal.

Novi tennis shines at home

The Wildcat tennis team (8-1, 5-0) held court twice in the last two weeks, winning home tournaments. The Wildcats also went 2-1 in dual competitions.

Novi won its home tournament Sept. 22, scoring 21 points and claiming five of the eight titles. Birmingham Seaholm (16 points) was second in the eight-team tourney.

Claiming titles for Novi were Ryan Bell and Carson Crandell at No. 3 and No. 4 singles, respectively.

Winning doubles titles were Ryan Goodman and Jason Hsu at No. 2, Tim Oh and Greg Richard at No. 3 and Nathan Farooq and Vishnu Venugopal at No. 4.

The Wildcats held a four-team quad this past Saturday, with all four schools ranked in the top 10 in the state. The Wildcats scored 17 points to beat Brother Rice (14), Ann Arbor Huron (13) and Troy (10).

Winning titles for Novi were Justin Farooq and Ameya Sohani at No. 1 doubles and the No. 5 doubles team of Derek Richard and Brent Wornack. The Wildcats also placed five positions in second place.

"Overall, it was a good tournament for all the teams," Novi head coach Jim Hanson said. "The winner was high school tennis. It was outstanding weather and outstanding competition."

In dual matches, the Wildcats lost to No. 1 ranked Ann Arbor Pioneer 6-2. Winning for the Wildcats were Tim Oh and Greg Richard at No. 3 doubles (6-4, 3-6, 6-4) and the No. 4 doubles team of Nathan Farooq and Vishnu Venugopal (2-6, 6-0, 6-2).

Novi had little trouble with Lakeland and Brighton, winning 9-0 in both matches without losing a set.

"I'm pleased with how the KVC matches went," Hanson said. "Against Pioneer, we played the best we have all year long. Pioneer is the No. 1 team in the state, and we found out why. We played them tough in every flight."

"Their fourth doubles, that was their first loss of the year. That was a great win by Nathan and Vishnu."

Novi Boys Cross Country

The Wildcats were in solid form, knocking off league foes Howell and Lakeland.

Against Lakeland, Josh Lunley (17:11) and Aaron Croad (17:23) finished 1-2. Josh Butler finished fourth (17:30), Mike Blaszczek placed fifth (17:34) and Lukas Barnes was sixth to close out the scoring (17:38) in an 18-39 victory.

Novi Golf

The Novi golf team clipped Hartland 200-209 before finishing ninth at the Oakland County Invite.

Against Hartland, the Wildcats improved to 6-1 with the victory. Natalie Krick led Novi with a 48. Alex Palmer and Kelsey Brandemuhl both shot 50s, and Dana Czekaj shot a 52 to close out the scoring at Dunham Hills. Vidhi Bamzai scored a 50 in JV play.

At the Oakland Invite, Krick finished seventh individually with an 83. Palmer was next with a 105, followed by Brook Collins with a 110 and Czekaj with a 114.

Novi volleyball

The Novi volleyball team dealt with hostile territory against South Lyon, but the Wildcats still managed to come away with a five-game victory. Novi also beat Brighton in three games.

Against South Lyon, the stands were packed with Lion supporters that helped the hosts off to a 25-19 first-game win. Novi tied the match with the same margin. The Lions went back in front with a 25-22 win, and again, the Wildcats answered with a 25-22 win to send the match into a final game. Novi went ahead 12-8, only to see the Lions storm back to tie the match at 14 and 15. Novi put the Lions to bed with the final two points to gain the win.

Against Brighton, Novi cruised 27-25, 25-20, 25-17.

up the CHSL regular season divisional title with a 9-1 win against Orchard Lake St. Mary's and a 1-1 tie with Brother Rice.

Scoring against the Eaglets were Brad Smith (2), Joe Bellino (2), Casey Quinn, Matt Bessenes, Josh Gatt, Mike Delagarza, Jack Dumsa. Assists went to Brian Murphy (2), Andy Parsons, Quinn, Jack Dumsa, Ryan Gage, Delagarza, Nick Kristock and Aaron Baumeier.

Wes Harding made two saves for the win. Gatt scored the lone goal against Rice with an assist to Bessenes.

"The Catholic League Central is always one of the toughest divisions in high school soccer," Shamrock head coach Joe Nora said. "I'm very proud of the way our team prepared for each game and the way they represented CC. These boys have worked very hard all year to become a team that plays well together and has an equal balance of offense and defense."

"It is a great honor to win the Central Division, but now our goal is to continue to improve as we head into the Catholic League playoffs and the state tournament."

Catholic Central goes on road vs. Divine Child

■ Shamrocks two wins away from playoff spot

By Jeff Theisen
NEWS SPORTS WRITER

The ups and downs during a season can be quite dramatic in high school football.

Catholic Central coach Tom Mach called Sunday's win against Orchard Lake St. Mary's the best since moving to Novi.

But he knows after three weeks of playing Brother Rice, De La Salle and Orchard Lake St. Mary's, the team better continue to play with emotion and not suffer a letdown.

"We have to make sure, even though we played a great game, to continue on it and build on it," Mach said. "I think the kids understand that. They're a hard-working group."

"The Central Division has really gotten tough these last few years. You could finish fourth and still be a state contender if you get enough points. In the Central Division, you never get a break."

Next up for the Shamrocks is a 7 p.m. Saturday night game against Divine Child, played at Crestwood High School.

The Falcons are 3-3 and fresh off a 39-7 loss to De La Salle.

"They do a lot of throwing. They have a good quarterback and run shotgun," Mach said. "They keep you off-balance."

"It's always a rivalry with Catholic Central and Divine Child."

Last week's win leaves the Shamrocks in control of their own playoff destiny. A loss would've meant Catholic Central would've had to run the table to make the postseason. But the win puts the Shamrocks in the driver's seat, along with providing a huge shot in the arm.

"Our backs were against the wall," Mach said. "I think the players sensed that too. Another loss and you are putting yourself in jeopardy."

"We really needed this, just so they know they could do it. It should give us a whole bunch of confidence."

Chris Fischer led the defense with 16 tackles. Kinville was next with 11.

With the place packed for the Boys Bowl, the National Anthem was christened by flyover from former CC alumni. Mach admitted the flyover was special, but the win was what the program needed the most.

"Our kids really, really played a great football game," he said. "They wanted it really bad. I'm real happy for them."

WILDCAT HOMECOMING

Wildcats face fourth straight opponent tied for KVC lead

By Jeff Theisen
NEWS SPORTS WRITER

For the fourth week in a row, Novi will be playing a team that is tied for first place in the KVC.

It's also homecoming for the Wildcats as they play host to South Lyon 7 p.m. Friday.

"Homecoming is a great time," Novi head coach Jeff Kellepporey said. "It's a great time of the year for high school football."

"We get the alumni to come back. It is really a rewarding time to come back on your field and have homecoming."

Novi has reeled off consecutive wins against previously undefeated opponents.

Novi (13-9), previously undefeated Lakeland (10-9) and Brighton, a team with one loss in the league last week (14-3).

Now, the Wildcats can take control of the league with a win against S. 1-4-1 South Lyon.

The Lions are riding the same four game winning streak as the Wildcats. South Lyon topped Brighton 6-0, Pinckney 42-17, Hartland 42-28 and Milford 21-18 going into Friday's contest.

The only other league team with one loss is Howell, and the Highlanders face South Lyon next week.

try to ram it down the defense's throat if they can.

Defense has been the name of the game for the Wildcats during their winning streak. They have allowed one touchdown in the last three games.

"Coach Jeff Burns is the defensive coordinator, a very thorough individual," Kellepporey said. "His kids are expected to know what they are going to see that night and perform."

"Plus, our kids are hitters.

They just like to hit, and when they like to do things, they do it."

The defense will have to come up big once again, stopping a team that has averaged 35 points over its last three contests.

Health

Steroids can lead to big problems

It seems lately that a day doesn't go by without some mention of anabolic steroids and human growth hormone (HGH) on ESPN and typically in the backdrop are highlights of Barry Bonds and Mark McGwire breaking home run records.

As steroids are becoming a more prominent fixture in nightly sports casts, the attention has focused on the cheating aspect of steroid use and rightly so. What is rarely seen is the athlete 20 years down the road with arthritis and liver damage. Unfortunately with the endless highlights and "Did he cheat?" debates, the real medical side effects of steroid use can get brushed under the rug. While Bonds was both vilified and glorified nightly during his home run chase, nobody talks about what the state of his health may be in 15 years. If the allegations of steroid use are true, his health likely will be as destroyed as the belt-high football he connects with.

Recent studies show that around 3 percent to 4 percent of high school seniors are taking or have taken steroids. This may seem rather small but in a school with class size of 300, it's 12 kids. In a school of 2000, that's up to 80 kids and, yes, that does include girls. Even more concerning is this number has steadily risen since the early 90's. As reports of steroid-using elite athletes on steroids or HGH continue, it is only natural that this number will continue to rise.

In the past, articles and TV specials have railed against the dangers such as mood swings ("roid rage"), liver problems, heart problems, testicular shrinkage, deepening of the voice and increased facial hair. Given all these serious side effects, one would think that someone considering steroids would have considerable pause but on the contrary, the most worrisome side effects to most steroid users are the male breast enlargement and hair loss—short term, cosmetic effects. The steroid user lives for the moment, wants physical gains now with a lack of long-term vision particularly regarding their own health. Although not physiologically addictive (which drugs such as cocaine and amphetamines can be), performance-enhancing drugs produce a powerful psychological addiction, which can be as potent as the addiction to "hard" drugs. The typical thought when faced with long-term liver damage is "well, one cycle won't harm my liver."

The problem is, most who begin using steroids cannot stop and that one cycle turns into years of use. Another concern is that most of these drugs are obtained from illegal sources. Besides being in violation of federal laws, a possibly bigger concern from a health standpoint is that a certain percentage of drugs obtained are not sterile, or may not actually be steroids. Often it may be vegetable oil or even crude estrogenic hormones cheaply obtained from animals which can give the steroid user just the opposite effect of what they are looking for but also with many of the same side effects.

Part of the problem with steroids has been the medical establishment's refusal to acknowledge their efficacy. For years, physicians have trumpeted the side effects of these drugs yet denied the effectiveness of them in building lean muscle. Truthfully, these are highly potent substances with powerful muscle-building properties but also with severe, sometimes life-altering side effects. No doubt steroids can produce dramatic gains in lean muscle. Any steroid user can attest to that. If you are taking steroids, though, what you need to come to grips with is just as your peeps are growing and getting more defined, the drug is slowly destroying your liver, your blood vessels and perhaps your mind. With steroid use on the rise and its spread into mainstream sports, awareness needs to be raised about the medical risks, not just the cheating aspects of performance-enhancing drugs. Perhaps, instead of ESPN's constant barrage of bombs into McCovey Cove, nightly images of Kyle Abado and other athletes who have succumbed to steroid-induced disease would get the point across.

Kellepporey loved the way his lineman sold the play and built a wall for Hall to run around.

It was executed very well by Danny Engle, Graham Smith, Shane Lettice and Mark Bertrier," Kellepporey said. "You give a running back by the name of Arshun Hall a little bit of green space, he knows what to do with it."

Brighton's next possession

"Coach (Jeff) Burns is getting us ready," Schlenke said. "We're communicating well out there. We're putting our own two together and performing well."

"If it wasn't for the D-line, we wouldn't have gotten a couple of picks today. Those guys are pretty much the heart and soul for the defense. If they operate well, then things are easy for the second unit."

Brighton was first on the scoreboard with a 23-yard field goal with 2:49 remaining in the first half.

Stats

The Novi defense limited the Bulldogs to 51 yards rushing on 23 attempts. Quarterback Devin Hockberg completed just eight of 23 passes for 118 yards with two interceptions. Hockberg's 71-yard pass that led to the field goal amounted for almost half of Brighton's total yardage (169). Alex Vinske led the Bulldogs with 31 yards rushing on six carries.

The Novi offense rolled up 339 total yards (148 rushing, 191 passing). Heard was 13-for-20 for 191 yards with one touchdown and two interceptions. Brandon Bradford hauled in seven catches for 81 yards.

Varsity Bobcats suffer first loss to Braves

Submitted to the Novi News

The Novi Bobcats Varsity football team played Homecoming host to the Braves from Walled Lake this past Saturday at the Novi Middle School field.

Both teams entered the Western Lake Junior Football League with no losses. Novi had allowed the fewest points scored against them in the league while the Braves offense had chalked up the most points.

Novi received the opening kick-off in good field position and fumbled the ball on the first series. The Braves took advantage of the turnover with a 25-yard TD run and conversion, putting the Braves up 8-0 with 9:33 remaining in the first quarter.

The next two series resulted in Bobcats and Braves turnovers. Novi began their next drive after a fumble recovery on Novi's 30-yard line. A 35-yard Bobcat drive stalled after big gains from Andrew Bell and Adam Haynes with good blocking from the offensive line of Scott Schramm, Derek Edwards, Derek Mullity, Nick Shear and Alex King.

After the turnover to the Braves, Novi demonstrated some their league leading defense with key plays including an Edwards quarterback sack and a broken up pass play by Corneal Littleton. Other key tackles in the series were made by Alex Turner, King and Dylan Weil. The Bobcats held the Braves at the goal line for three plays before the Braves scored making it 16-0 at 7:10 in the second quarter.

The Bobcats were quick to strike back as Andrew Bell took the kick off 70 yards to score the Bobcats first touchdown. The extra point conversion snapped by Alex King and held by Derek Ince was made good by a Haynes kick, making the score 16-8.

The Novi defense slowed down the rest of the first half with a strong defense by King, Frankie Mastangelo, Schramm, Rahul Kodali, Eddie Roney and Blake Boren.

Bobcat JV tight end Charlie Ryan carries a defender with him.

Mizerowski, Alex Kinnaman, Steven Dickinson and Amir Teran. Novi took the Braves kick off and put together a 20-yard run by Haynes, a 25-yard Ince to Zach Vidra pass play and 8-yard Bell run before stalling out on the Braves' 25 yard line as the third quarter wound down.

Another defensive stand by Novi including plays by Carston Cook forced a turn over on Derek Ince. The Bobcats were likewise unable to move against a tough Braves defense. The Novi generated a 7-yard Ince to Bell pass and a 12-yard run by Haynes before turning the ball over on downs with 5:01 left in the fourth period.

The Braves first touch after the turn over resulted in a 58-yard TD romp that put the Bobcats down 27-8 with 4:00 left in the game. The Braves pounded out a 67-yard drive on the back of the offensive line with big gains by Bell, Haynes, Ince and Littleton before Littleton capped the drive with a 14-yard TD. The extra point team added two points, making the score 27-16 where the game finished, dropping the Bobcats 3-1.

Freshmen top Braves 13-0 On a beautiful Homecoming day, the Freshman Novi Bobcats defeated the Walled Lake Braves 13-0 to extend their record to 5-0.

The big and aggressive Braves (3-1) played extremely tough winning the battle of field position, and time of possession by controlling the ball on offense. It was a defensive battle with the Bobcats capitalizing on two big-play opportunities.

Ryan Conlon of the Bobcats' first year freshman team received the opening kickoff, used his speed to reach the corner, and cut inside two Braves' defenders on his way to an electrifying 65-yard touchdown. On the extra-point, Michael Ullie executed a quarter-back kick following the blocks of David Denova, Ryan Conlon and Connor Moore to increase the option: Phil Ritchie, rolling to the right, hit tight end Charlie Ryan for a 27-yard touchdown. Ryan (2 rec, 38 yards) worked hard for the TD, stretching long to push the ball over the line. With the extra points, Novi led 8-0 early in the first quarter.

Novi and Walled Lake traded possessions as special teams gave the Bobcats good field position. Matel was a force making three tackles on special teams alone. Novi's offensive line (Graham Gaudin, Ethan Roy, Mark Ryan, Blake McCusker, and Mitch Pinkerton) fought hard to create holes for Novi's running game. It paid off in the second quarter as Jack Pinkerton (2 rush, 86 yards) found a seam on the left and sprinted 82 yards for Novi's second score (also his second TD of the year). Ritchie again nailed the extra point effort and Novi had a commanding 16-0 lead.

Kyle Matel (7 rush, 41 yards) lead the offense in rushing in the second half, at times carrying 2-3 tacklers while running 23 yards. Matel, Mark Ryan, Blake Ryan and Jonathan Bain lead Novi's smothering defense in tackles as Walled Lake's offense was held to minimal yardage all day. All in all, a tough hard-fought victory. The win improved the JV Bobcats' record to 4-1.

The Braves continued to penetrate the Bobcats' side of the field with their first two drives ending at the Bobcats' 20- and 27-yard line. Two 25-yard punts by Bobby Fox were the best offensive plays the Bobcats had to start the second half. The Braves had momentum on their third drive and it looked like they would tie the score. That is until Ryan Moore absolutely crushed the Braves running back causing a fumble which the Bobcats recovered on their 25 yard line. Two plays later, Andrew Schroeder cutback against the grain and sprinted 72 yards for a Bobcats touchdown and the final score of the football game.

Schroeder had nine carries, gained 113 yards and scored the final touchdown. Ryan Conlon's kickoff return of 65 yards forced the Braves to play from behind the entire game giving the Bobcats a psychological advantage.

Schroeder led all tacklers with eight solo and four assists, Colton Neisius and Andrew Hixson each had six total tackles. Ryan Moore had five tackles, and earned his second "stick-of-the-game" award of the season when he created the fumble in the fourth quarter. The Bobcats' defense stood strong the entire game and earned their second shutout of the season.

The Bobcats play the Livonia Falcons (4-1) next Sunday at Livonia Bentley.

At the corner of North Main and Commerce streets in downtown Milford, feet walk into For Feet's Sake tired and grumpy, but leave comfortable and ready for the road.

Meet your feet's best friend in Milford

By John R. Hall
SPECIAL WRITER

You don't have to be a pedorthist to appreciate the newest shoe store in downtown Milford. That's probably because being a pedorthist is not the first thing that customers at For Feet's Sake inquire about when they enter the store on the corner of Main and Commerce in the old McMartin Jewelry store building.

Owners Aaron and Traci Goodnough are happy to talk about their new store and the services and products they offer, even being board certified pedorthists (defined as specialists in using footwear to solve problems in, or related to, the foot and lower limb). Aaron thinks the most visible thing that customers will see and experience is the great customer service his staff offers.

"We work with every customer, starting first by measuring their feet," he said. "People sometimes are surprised to learn their real size. A lot of stores simply offer piles of shoes to pick from. We fit each shoe correctly. When a customer leaves our store they know their new shoes will fit right."

Aaron brings a lot of experience to the store, which he and Traci opened in August 2006. He has been selling shoes since his college days and eventually became certified to work on shoe inserts and modifications, something he hasn't had a lot of time to do since the store opened.

"We opened during the Milford Memories weekend in 2006 and things have been very busy for us," he added. "We are seeing returning customers, especially those purchasing children's shoes."

Aaron said that children's shoes have been a very good business at For Feet's Sake because parents want their kids to have shoes that fit correctly — especially parents in the Milford community.

"We love this community," he said. "It is very family oriented with many established families and new, young families. That fits us because we have a very family friendly environment in the store."

Besides good service in a friendly environment, For Feet's Sake carries some very popular brands of shoes, including Clarks of England, Ecco, New Balance, Merrell, and Crocs.

The staff of five people can also help with special-order shoes which may not be in stock. Aaron said he has access to many "narrow, medium, wide, big, or small shoes."

For Feet's Sake is also working with local school athletic teams to offer team discounts on athletic shoes.

"The more our name gets out into the community the more the local coaches will tie our name to the products they use," Aaron added.

Some of the upcoming things that Aaron and Traci are working on include a new Web site, which will debut soon.

Home Owners... Do You Know The Condition Of Your Home? Give Your House A Home Check-Up!

Have you lived in your home for 10, 15, 20 years? Have you checked the conditions of the attic insulation, or ventilation. How are the exhaust systems, electrical system, plumbing, foundation, exterior drainage, furnace, hot water tank, etc.? Have you checked for gas leaks or carbon monoxide leaks from gas appliances?

We can provide you a Home Check-up to ensure you know the existing conditions of your home. Good knowledge of your home's condition can save money on repairs. For instance, replacing damaged sections of the roof rather than re-roofing the entire house, or completing repairs to unknown water leaks, air leaks, or for unknown gas or carbon monoxide leaks are a few things to consider. This will provide you Peace of Mind in knowing and understanding issues which should have attention to them and avoid major issues down the road.

Randall Patterson

• Have you had routine service for the heating and cooling systems in your home? Have the systems been checked for efficient operations? This can help reduce your overall heating and cooling cost.

• Have you checked your doors and windows for air leaks. This may also identify broken seals in thermal pane windows as well as identify maintenance that would be required to keep windows in good condition and provide ease of operations for the windows. Windows stuck closed may simply be painted shut, or a symptom of condensation build up that has formed a glue like substance on the window frame. Ensure that you know which is the case and what type of attention is required.

• Is the storage area in your basement in the area of your hot water tank and furnace? Is this area full of boxes and storage items to the point that your furnace may not have the sufficient air intake available in this area to run efficiently and safely?

• Are all the appliances in good safe operational condition.

• Have your home checked for any air leaks which could be reducing your Home Energy efficiency from around doors, windows, drains, water pipes, and roof stacks.

• Ensure your attic has the proper amount of insulation and ventilation. Ventilation is the typical item found to be improper in the majority of home in this area. Proper ventilation will help prevent condensation/moisture build up in attic space. Proper ventilation will also help avoid excessive heat in attics which could lead to pre-mature shingle failure. Do you have mildew or mold growing in your attic?

• Ensure the bathroom vents are not venting into the attic space which could cause excessive moisture build up and possible mildew/mold development.

• Ensure all exterior drainage and water run off for the roof is properly moved away from the foundation and structure. This will help avoid damp basements and wood siding decay.

• Are there any unknown water leaks for the plumbing system of the house? Are all showers, faucets, toilets and drains operating properly?

• Do your lights dim when the dishwasher or furnace/Air Conditioner are running, or do you have a breaker that often trips?

• Do you have squeaky floors in your home, or cracks in certain areas of the wall and around door/window frames?

• Is your garage door up to date with safety features and is it operating safely for the auto reverse/ does it have a safety eye installed?

• Have you tested your home for levels of Radon?

We inspect your home to identify items which should have attention paid to them and provide you and your family Peace of Mind about your home.

Welcoming visitors to Northville's Three Cedars Farm for traditional fall activities are Jamie Martin, left, and her mother Sherry Whittakers, two of the Whittakers' family members who own and operate the favorite local autumn destination.

Relax and enjoy traditional corn maze, cider and more at Three Cedars Farm

By John R. Hall
SPECIAL WRITER

What started with a pumpkin patch six years ago has blossomed into a treasure trove of memories and traditions for visitors to the Three Cedars Farm in Northville. Owners Gary and Sherry Whittakers have transformed their 51-acre working farm into a delightful experience for families and people of all ages.

Located west of the village of Salem on Six Mile Road, Three Cedars Farm opened up this year in mid-September and will stay open seven days a week until November 4, reopening on weekends the day after Thanksgiving up until Christmas Eve.

MANY THINGS TO DO

Visitors have many attractions to keep themselves busy, including hayrides, a seven-acre corn maze, group bonfires, delicious cider and donuts, a well-stocked country store, and a goat farm, where children can pet and feed the goats.

Gary Whittakers, who bought the farm from Fred Verran 12 years ago, is very pleased with his customers' response to the many features he has added over the years. "Business has really taken off," he said. "Every year we try and add something new."

This year he has added a screened-in porch with a wrap-around outdoor seating area, fully stocked with wooden rocking chairs. Whittakers wanted to give his customers a place to sit and enjoy the fresh donuts and award-winning apple cider.

AWARD-WINNING CIDER

"We didn't want to make our own cider here so we did the next best thing and brought in cider made by Hill Brothers Orchards of Grand Rapids."

The apple cider won the 2006 Best-Tasting Cider in Michigan award from The Michigan Apple Committee.

The wooden train at Three Cedars Farm is always a hit with the many children who visit each year.

Next year Whittakers plans to add a large outdoor play area for children. Right now, children can enjoy the special wooden train designed and constructed by George Smith of Marshall, Mich.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Some of the many events planned each year are educational school tours, group and business meetings in the spacious barn or out in one of the seven bonfire areas, and wedding receptions in the barn, too.

This year there is a special event centering around the popular corn maze and involves finding three wooden cedar trees within the maze. Visitors who find the trees have their names entered into a contest to win a iPod at the end of the season.

On one busy weekend this fall, Whittakers said Three Cedars Farm hosted a 160-person wedding reception while visitors walked the grounds and visited the country store. Fortunately, there is a lot of free parking right on the property.

FAMILY BUSINESS

The Whittakers family all work at the farm, including children Jamie, Carrie, and Travis and their spouses. This family spirit is one that Gary Whittakers is very proud of and it shows. "We have created a clean, happy atmosphere of life on a farm for the family," he said.

SANTALAND

Speaking of families, many of them enjoy bringing their children to the special Santaland display in the big barn every Christmas season. Mr. and Mrs. Claus are there to greet the young (and old) and there are many decorations to see and holiday-themed crafts to buy.

There is no admission fee to Santaland but any donations are gladly accepted and all proceeds are donated to the Active Faith organization in South Lyon. Christmas trees are available, too.

Whittakers, who is vice president of Industrial Packaging in Detroit, said his weekends at Three Cedars Farm are very busy. "Business has been phenomenal," he added.

Located at 7897 Six Mile Road, visiting hours are 10 a.m. until dusk Monday through Thursday, and 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Friday to Sunday.
