City, firefighters agree to new contract

Negotiations ongoing with part-time union group

BY NATHAN MUELLER
STAFF WRITER

The restructuring plan of the Novi Fire Department took a step forward Monday with the city council's approval of a new contract with the Novi Professional Firefighters Union.

City Manager Clay Pearson said the agreement represents a big step forward in terms of a new day with the city's fire service operations.

"It opens the door toward one of our core strategic goals of providing an integrated fire delivery service system," he said.

The contract, which would have gone to arbitration had an agreement not been reached, calls for supervisors and fire protection officers to change their shifts. Supervisors previously worked 24-hour shifts and FPO's worked 12-hour shifts Monday through Friday.

The new schedule will put both on 12-hour shifts covering a 24-hour period Sunday through Saturday. Supervisors will begin their new schedule on Jan. 1, while the FPO's must wait until the part-time firefighters, who are part of another bargaining group, agree to the same schedule.

The plan calls for both the part-time and full-time firefighters to work together throughout the week as opposed to the current system in which the full-time employees do not work overnight or on weekends. It also includes more than $138,000 in concessions, including cutting overtime, contributing to health care and pension and more.

Pearson said negotiations are ongoing with the part-time group and believes a contract will be coming forward shortly.

Also included in the contract was a letter of agreement that prevents the city from laying off any employee in the union for the length of the contract as long as the city's finances are equal or better than what is projected in the most recent fiscal analysis projections for the 2010 total taxable value.

Council member Justin Fischer was the lone dissenting vote on the contract because of that stipulation.

"This agreement ties the administration's hands and ties the council's hands," he said. "If and when taxable values fall to 9 percent or 6.9 percent in 2010 or 2011, which is under the threshold, we cannot make the tough decisions in a fair manner because we now have a protected union group in our city."

"I feel this clause is too risky and quite honestly a step backwards." Council member Dave Staudt agreed with Fischer and "would rather have seen the letter of agreement not be part of our final settlement," but said the restructuring of the fire department that comes from the agreement will have much longer term effects.

"I'm not completely happy with it but I'm happy we settled it and happy we are moving forward," he said.

Stella! performing

Stella! -- comprised of four of Michigan's most talented singer-songwriters; Jen Sygit, Jo Serrapere, Diana Ladio and Laura Bates -- will perform a Comfy Couch concert at Newport Furnishings (52504 Grand River Avenue, Wixom) at 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 16.

This four-piece, all-women, American roots band from Detroit has been referred to as a singer-songwriter super group with three vocal harmonies and two writer voices. Stella!, partly named after her baby daughter, was first conceived of by songwriter Jo Serrapere after a conversation with American music critic and Creem Magazine co-founder Dave Marsh. Jo was inspired to put together a new group where she could showcase her country-roots songwriting.

Tickets are $15 for adults; $10 for students age 8-18. For tickets, contact Steven Johnson at (248) 910-4941.

The Last Days of Lawrence High: A Murder Mystery

The Novi Civic Theatre presents a night of dinner, laughs and intrigue with The Last Days of Lawrence High - a murder mystery dinner theatre performance taking place at Lyon Oaks Banquet Center.

Written by Nancy Edwards, of the Second City, The Last Days of Lawrence High is the story of a high school closing its doors after 100 years of service. One final reunion party is planned and the alumni of every graduating class have been invited. When a murder occurs at the reunion, everyone a suspect! Could it be the ex-homecoming queen turned cosmetics mogul? Perhaps it is the jealous ex-cheerleader going through a divorce? Maybe it's the 2010 class president that doesn't want her legacy to die. Who knows?

Performances are 7 p.m. Friday-Saturday, Oct. 22-23. Tickets ($35) include dinner and show, with a cash bar available. Tickets can be purchased online at cityofnovi.org or at the Novi Parks box office.

All performances will be held at the Lyon Oaks Banquet Center, located at 52251 Pontiac Trail, Wixom.

For more information, please contact Lauren Sorrentino of the Novi Civic Theatre at (248) 347-0400 or visit cityofnovi.org.

Novi News fall expo features exhibits, programs, prizes

The Novi News second annual Senior Health & Living Expo, from 9 a.m.-2 p.m. Friday, has something for senior citizens as well as their friends and family.

The expo is presented by the Observer & Eccentric and Hometown Newspapers in partnership with Oakland Community College. Free admission, free parking, free health screening and free refreshments (bagels from Detroit Bagel, assorted juices and coffee) are on the day's agenda, along with more than 40 exhibitors presenting ideas and services to help senior citizens lead healthier, happier lives.

OCC is located off the Orchard Lake Road I-696 exit. Parking is available out of Building H and a trolley will provide curb service to eventgoers.

Prize drawings will be held throughout the day. Prizes include movie and theater tickets, along with a grand prize of a one-night stay at the Townsend Hotel and a $150 voucher for dining at the hotel.

The expo is a one-stop way to learn about assisted living options, health and fitness services, estate planning, Social Security Administration updates and volunteer opportunities.

Special presentations are scheduled on emergency preparedness and how to avoid scams targeting senior citizens.

The first 50 attendees through the door will receive a special gift courtesy of the Novi News.

For a complete list of vendors, programs and prizes, see the special section online at www.hometownlife.com.

Plans for Kroger store fall through

Novi City Council turns down large rezoning request

BY NATHAN MUELLER
STAFF WRITER

A rezoning request for a proposed $20 million project on the south side of Ten Mile Road and east of Novi Road was denied Monday night by the Novi City Council.

City council members cited several reasons for turning down the proposal, most notably that it did not comply with the city's master plan and that the benefits from the project did not outweigh the detriments.

The project called for a Planned Rezoning Overlay of approximately 28.7 acres. The current zoning is office service and light industrial, and the request was to change that to community business with some portions of the property remaining office service.

Slated to be built on the site were a 64,245-square-foot Kroger store and a 40,978-square-foot neighborhood shopping center.

Novi Mayor David Landry said he could not support it because the city has so many vacant retail buildings and it would not be right since they recently turned down a similar rezoning request at Beck and Ten Mile roads.

"With respect to a PRO, this just doesn't look like a PRO. There are no certainties and the benefit is not here. You enter a PRO to get rid of uncertainties," he said. "At the end of the day the only certainty we have here is a grocery store, and we have already decided not in this area of the city."

Matt Quinn, who represented the applicant, told council that some of the benefits of the project would be a three-acre conservation area near Novi Ice Arena along with improvements to parking, road extensions, sidewalk additions and improvements and a pocket park among others.

He also noted there is shortage of grocery stores in the city, and Kroger, which was a "shovel-ready project," would fill a need.

Mayor Pro-tem Bob Gatt said that Quinn's pitch nearly swayed his opinion of the proposal, but in the end the benefit was not there.

"A PRO has to be something that ponies up something that is so good for the city we cannot turn it down," he said.

Novi News will now offer advertising on Yahoo! sites

The Novi News, part of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers and Hometown Weeklies, is partnering with Yahoo! to offer local advertisers more opportunities for digital advertising.

The partnership that begins in 2011 allows the O&E and Hometown group to offer advertisers digital ad space not only on hometownlife.com but also on Yahoo! sites as part of their local advertising solutions. As a result, local advertisers will benefit from expanded digital reach and enhanced audience targeting capabilities based on geography, user demographics, interests and more against that expanded audience.

The alliance combines the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers and Hometown Weeklies credible local brands and multimedia sales and marketing expertise with the powerful digital brand credibility and audience of Yahoo!

The new relationship will enhance the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers and Hometown Weeklies' audience solutions capabilities by increasing total digital audience reach 80.7 percent of local internet users.

"The Observer & Eccentric and Hometown local audience solutions, combined with Yahoo! provides powerful and effective reach, targeting, and results that deliver the right audience at the right time with the right solution," said Susan Rosick, O&E/Hometown publisher and executive editor.

"Local advertising continues to be an important area of focus for us, and Yahoo! is committed to helping local businesses reach high quality target audiences," said Hilary Schneider, executive vice president, Yahoo! America.

"This relationship significantly expands our local offerings and gives advertisers the technology and scale they need to reach their consumers online."

The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers and Hometown Weeklies services western Wayne and Oakland counties, reaching over 1 million readers with 13 local community newspapers and on www.hometownlife.com monthly.

The new digital venture with Yahoo! enhances advertising solutions and is a strategic evolution for the suburban Observer & Eccentric/Hometown media group, which was recently recognized with awards by the Michigan Press Association for Best Ad Idea and Best ROP Auto Ad, among others.

Grooving for a good cause

Annual chamber fund-raiser hits fifth year

BY NATHAN MUELLER
STAFF WRITER

A variety of wines and select food from local restaurants will once again highlight the annual Grapes and Grooves fundraiser for the Novi Chamber of Commerce.

The fifth annual event, which takes place at the Atrium of Novi, has grown in popularity every year and has proven to make for an elegant evening.

"It's a good date night or ladies night out," said Dawn Peters, project manager for the chamber. "It makes for a nice evening with music, wine and food, and it is always a well-attended event."

The Mick Dobbay Jazz Duo will provide the music for Grapes and Grooves, which runs from 6:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Oct. 22.

More than 100 people are expected to attend the fifth annual Grapes and Grooves fund-raiser at the Atrium of Novi on Oct. 22.

Six restaurants have signed on to provide food (Carrabba's Italian Grill, California Pizza Kitchen, Toasted Oak Grill and Market, Gus O'Connor's, the Grapevine and Buca di Beppo) and eight wine vendors, including some from Michigan, will provide samples throughout the evening. This also will be the second time the event will include a silent and live auction, featuring jewelry, tickets to sporting events and shows, wine baskets, dinners and more.

Grapes and Grooves is presented by Varsity Lincoln of Novi and is open to the public, not just chamber members.

Registration can be done at www.novichamber.com or by calling (248) 349-3743. Single tickets are $35 each, while groups of six or more pay $30. Pre-registration is required, and after Oct. 15, all tickets are $40.

Novi to outsource forestry services City estimated to save $50,000 annually

BY NATHAN MUELLER
STAFF WRITER

The days of forestry operations being done by Novi employees is now a thing of the past.

In an effort to save money now and in the future, the Novi City Council approved a contract Monday night with Asplundh Tree Service to handle the maintenance responsibilities associated with forestry operations.

The estimated cost to do the work with in-house staff and equipment was $232,350 annually. Asplundh entered into a one-year contract with the city, with three-year renewal options, for $183,479.

As a result, two full-time staff members and three seasonal employees will lose their jobs, thus saving the city money in the future in terms of legacy costs related to retirement health care and pension.

"It's tough. It's like asking me which one of my children do I want to give up," said Rob Hayes, director of public services. "These guys are all top-notch and great workers, and it is tough to see us lose that in-house service. But, unfortunately there is only so much revenue to go around."

Hayes was charged with finding cost-savings in his department after the union group did not offer wage concessions as part of its new contract.

He said he had to look at what was the "least mission-critical" service performed by the department of public services, and forestry operations fit the bill as many of the daily activities are not directly related to public health and safety.

The in-house crew handled such projects as tree and limb removals associated with storm clean-up, tree pruning, stump grinding, maintaining the tree inventory asset management program and managing the hazard tree-woodland violations.

City Manager Clay Pearson said the decision to layoff employees is taken "very seriously," but this move is one of many the city has made recently to balance the budget for future fiscal years.

"We are always looking at ways to be more effective and efficient," he said.

Hayes admitted that trying to get the same level of service from a contractor is "going to be difficult," but that is what the city is going to strive for.

He also said that having recently-hired John Thompson, parks and forestry asset manager, on board will help with the transition.

Novi Police and Novi Community Schools partner to prevent bullying

Oct. 20: All students, teachers, and community members asked to wear pink on National Bullying Prevention Day

Every day thousands of children wake up and are afraid to go to school. Not because they haven't completed their homework, nor are they nervous to take a test, but because they are fearful of bullying.

Bullying has rapidly become one of the leading concerns within schools and for law enforcement agencies. Bullying can lead to poor grades, school violence and teen suicide. The Novi Police Department and the Novi Community Schools are dedicated to providing a safe, vibrant and enjoyable learning environment and encourage ALL students, teachers, and community members to wear pink on National Bullying Prevention Day — Wednesday, Oct. 20 — to tell others, "Bullying stops with me!"

Why pink? In 2007, two high school seniors did what they thought was a simple thing. They stood up for a fellow student — a freshman boy — who was bullied for wearing a pink shirt. The two seniors bought a bunch of pink shirts, handed them out and texted their friends to wear pink. The next day, the entire student body was wearing pink.

"A report from the American Medical Association on a study of over 15,000 6th-10th graders estimates more than three-and-a-half million youths engage in bullying activity

LEARN MORE
For more information or to join Novi's efforts on National Bullying Prevention Day, contact the Community Relations Office at (248) 735-5628.

and more than a million are victims of moderate or serious bullying each year," said Peter Dion, superintendent, Novi Community Schools. "In Novi, we acknowledge that communities across the state and country share the same concerns, but what sets Novi apart is the fact that we want to send a strong message to other communities that Novi will not tolerate bullying as acceptable behavior toward one another."

Bullying occurs when a person is picked on repeatedly by an individual or group perceived with more power, either in terms of physical strength or social status. It is the on-going harassment from one peer to another resulting in mental, physical and/or psychological pain. Bullying can be physical or verbal. Boys tend to use more physical elements when bullying and girls tend to be more verbal. Bullying can occur anywhere: on the bus, in the neighborhood, before or after school, in the cafeteria or hallway, or on a computer (Cyber bullying).

Sometimes kids torment others because that's the way they have been treated. They may think their behavior is normal because they come from backgrounds where everyone regularly gets angry, shouts, or calls names. Some popular TV shows even seem to promote meanness — people are "voted off," shunned, or ridiculed for their appearance or lack of talent. A recent study showed that boys who are school bullies in grades six through nine had at least one criminal conviction by age 24.

"Strong partnerships between schools, law enforcement agencies and parents are the key to stopping bullying," notes Novi's Director of Public Safety and Chief of Police David E. Molloy. "Partnering with the schools and the community in National Bullying Prevention Day strengthens messages being shared each and every day. Together we must stop the silence and raise awareness for this rapidly growing concern in our society."

Students, teachers, and community members who want to join the effort, but have no pink shirt? No problem! How about a pink necktie, t-shirt or jewelry? By wearing pink, we'll be telling the community that bullying is not okay. Wear PINK on October 20th...and take a stand. Together, we can put an end to bullying.

11TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT CANDIDATES

Republican Thaddeus McCotter, Democrat Natalie Mosher and Libertarian John J. Tatar are running for a two-year term for the 11th Congressional District of Michigan, which includes the western Wayne and western Oakland County communities of Canton, Garden City, Livonia, Northville, Novi, Plymouth, Milford, Redford Township, South Lyon and Westland, as well as other communities. McCotter is the incumbent. Members of Congress receive an annual salary of $174,000. The election is Nov. 2.

WHAT WE ASKED.

1. What is your position on the U.S. role in Afghanistan? How long should combat troops remain?
2. Do you support making investments in alternative energy sources? Why? Why not?
3. What can you do in Washington, D.C., that would directly help Michigan's jobless rate? Be specific.
4. Does the United States need immigration reform? If so, what measures do you support to address the issue?

WHAT THEY ANSWERED.

Name: Thaddeus G. McCotter
Age: 45
City: Livonia
Number of years you have resided in the 11th District: 40
Family Info: Wife, Rita McCotter (registered nurse), three children, George, Timothy and Emilia
Education: Detroit Catholic Central High School, University of Detroit, BA; University of Detroit Law School, JD
Professional background: Bar-admitted attorney
Elected offices held or related experience: Trustee, Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees (1989-1992); Commissioner, Wayne County Commission (1992-1998); Senator, Michigan State Senate (1998-2002); U.S. Representative, U.S. House of Representatives (2003-current)

1. Following the Sept. 11, 2001, terrorist attacks, America commenced Operation Enduring Freedom to depose the Taliban and destroy al-Qaeda's base of operations. Today, in Afghanistan America and her allies are leading a counterinsurgency operation to secure Afghan's freedom and prevent their nation's reversion into a terrorist safe haven. Arbitrary timelines divorced from the reality of counterinsurgency efforts on the ground are injurious to the Afghan and American people. The decision of how long combat troops remain ultimately rests with the commander-in-chief of our armed forces, President Obama, and at any time the sovereign government of Afghanistan can refuse our assistance.

2. Government does not "invest" your money; government spends your money - typically where you wouldn't, including Washington's politically favored individuals, entities and causes. Regarding energy, a sound policy to lower energy costs requires maximizing American production, promoting common sense, community-based conservation and encouraging free-market innovations in alternative fuels through the use of tax credits. Thus, we must oppose big government tax-and-spend approaches, most notably the House-passed "cap and tax" proposal that will raise energy costs on Americans and kill jobs, especially the manufacturing jobs powering our Michigan economy.

3. Our prosperity and recovery will come from the industriousness and ingenuity of the American people not from more trillion-dollar tax-and-spend, big-government schemes of Washington. Higher taxes, spending, deficits and debt will only worsen this recession. To create the conditions for a sustainable economic recovery requires ensuring people keep their hard-earned money through tax relief, reducing government spending, cutting out bureaucratic red tape, ending unfair trade practices - especially from communist China, and by breaking up the "too big" insolvent banks that, unfortunately, are now statutorily protected by the recently passed financial "reform" bill.

4. We must never blame the illegal immigrants who have been enticed to America and exploited by big business and big government. Fixing the broken immigration system to protect the sovereignty, jobs, wages and tax dollars of citizens necessitates increasing border security, eliminating taxpayer benefits to illegal immigrants, punishing business that "cheat to compete," affirming there will be no amnesty; reforming the legal immigration system by emphasizing the asylum and guestworker programs, providing localized, sustainable economic development to under-developed nations. Importantly, we must never cheapen the hard-earned citizenship of those immigrants who followed the law.

Name: Natalie Manooogian Mosher
Age: 66
City: Canton
Number of years you have resided in the 11th District: 40
Family Info: Married to Bob Mosher; two children, Rob and Aaron
Education: BA, Education, Michigan State University, 1965
Professional background: Chief Development Officer, Detroit Riverfront Conservancy; Director, National Reliance Volunteer Coalition; High School Teacher, Plymouth
Elected offices held or related experience: Erie County (Ohio) commissioner
Community involvement (past five years): Leadership Canton, Ravine Homeowner's Association, Board President; Canton Township Tax Board of Review

1. It's time for us to hand over the reins to the people of Afghanistan themselves. We've already spent $1.1 trillion fighting two wars in the Middle East. Now let's spend that money on building our economy, creating jobs and investing in infrastructure instead. I support a timeline that would begin the process of pulling troops out of Afghanistan within the next 10 months. Our troops have distinguished themselves with their brave service in Afghanistan and Iraq. Now it's time for them to come home.

2. Investing in alternative energy helped bring North America's largest lithium-ion auto battery plant to Livonia. The plant will employ 3,000 workers to create advanced batteries for the electric cars of the 21st century. Not only does investing in alternative energy create jobs, it sets us on the road to energy independence. Reducing our dependence on foreign oil will make us more secure. For these reasons, I strongly support investing in alternative energy. Unfortunately, Thaddeus McCotter has voted time and again against alternative energy and in favor of big oil. See H.R. 2454, 6/26/09; H.R. 7060, 9/25/08; H.R. 6049, 5/21/08.

3. First, I will support loans and tax credits for our small businesses so that they can grow and hire new workers. My opponent, Thaddeus McCotter, voted against plans to support small businesses during the economic crisis (see H.R. 5486, 6/15/08). Second, I will support investments in job-creating alternative energy technologies (see above), and in the research institutions that drive innovation. Third, I would fight tirelessly for funds to repair and maintain Michigan's roads, bridges and other infrastructure. To read my detailed job plan, visit www.mosherforcongress.com. The citizens of the 11th District deserve a representative who takes job creation seriously.

4. Yes. Frankly, our current system is broken. As part of the solution, I support passage of the DREAM Act. Once they graduate from college or serve in the U.S. military, this bill would grant legal status to those who came to the United States as minors. I support the creation of a guest worker system, which will reduce the incentive for immigrants to cross the border in the first place. Immigrants who learn English, who have not committed a crime, and who have paid their taxes should have a path to legal status.

1. Prosecution of the Afghanistan war was a mistake. We need to protect America from enemies at our own shores, not half way around the world. We must bring the troops home as soon as possible. The Middle Eastern countries are rife with tribalism and war lords. This mentality does not lend itself to a democratic form of government. We should realize the longer we stay, the results will be greater expenditures of money and men with no positive results. We can no longer be the policeman of the world. It has bankrupted the American way of life.

2. Government should get out of the private sector. Government's nothing but a hindrance to man's abilities to develop new technology. Let the free market determine when and what new technology should be developed. Government does not have the authority to regulate, nor should it regulate over another, based on which lobbyist has the greater sphere of influence over the elected officials. Government is an unequal power that must relinquish the control it exerts on our free enterprise system because government has only the Constitutional authority to protect Americans' life, liberty and property, and not to meddle in our affairs.

3. Taxes need to be cut permanently as President Kennedy did in the early '60s which not only stimulated the economy, but increased government revenues and reduced joblessness. The U.S. financial system is based on "fiat" money and must be corrected by Congress to get back to an honest money system. This mistake was implemented by the Federal Reserve and FDR and has led to our present economic condition over the past 100 years. If the government cuts spending, then allow the people to keep their hard-earned money, the American people will spend money and stimulate the economy by itself.

4. I believe that the United States needs no new immigration reforms. The problem of illegal immigration can be dealt with on case-by-case bases, with no amnesty. I also believe that state law supersedes federal law regarding these issues and therefore no amnesty can be given by the federal government. The challenge, for example, by Obama on the Arizona law was totally misguided and misplaced. Arizona law mirrors the federal statute that has been in place for decades but has never been enforced.

Mosher: Stimulus plan is working

BY KEN ABRAMCZYK
STAFF WRITER

Natalie Mosher supports the stimulus plan passed by Congress and believes governmental spending in the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act can help turn the economy around.

"I think we can bring it close to home, by investing in alternative energy," Mosher said. "Right in our own backyard in Livonia, we had the A123 plant that just opened up. It's North America's largest lithium ion auto battery plant."

Currently 300 employees are employed. Mosher said 3,000 will eventually be employed there. "These are really good-paying jobs; they certainly can sustain a family, I think it gets us off the dependence on oil that we do need to get off of," Mosher said. "So I do support the recovery act because I'm really happy to see it come back."

"Unfortunately, my opponent has voted against this time and again in terms of alternative energy and in favor of big oil."

BUSINESSES NEED CREDIT

Mosher believes businesses need to be able to obtain loans. "We have to provide credit to small business," Mosher said. "Small businesses are the economic engine of our country; they do create the jobs. We do need to work in partnership." One of the most pressing issues facing small businesses in southeast Michigan is the loss of capital and credit,

Mosher said. "I've been knocking on doors. If someone opens up and share with me that they own a small business, they are not able to get any credit. If they could get credit, they certainly would be able to hire people and expand their business."

"We need to work in concert, government with business. It's a true partnership."

Mosher believes the financial system needs "some serious" reform. "We need to end the predatory lending practices of the banking industry, regulate the high-risk behavior of hedge fund managers on Wall Street, close corporate tax loopholes, encourage companies to keep

McCotter: Tax relief means more jobs

BY KEN ABRAMCZYK
STAFF WRITER

Thaddeus McCotter believes the stimulus plan is not working, and thinks tax relief is necessary so families can weather the economic storm.

"The stimulus has not even lived up to what its proponents have said," McCotter said. "The stimulus plan was an attempt to keep unemployment at 8.5 percent, but with interest, it put the country a $1 trillion further in the hole, McCotter said. Stimulus plan supporters, including U.S. Federal Reserve Chairman Ben Bernanke, now realize there isn't much left to that plan to get the economy going, McCotter said.

"As we've seen with the $26 billion attempt to bail out states and others, there's not going to be a simple spending solution to this," McCotter said. "In fact, what the spending will continue to do, and we've already seen this, it will continue to deepen the recession and prolong it because the fiscal situation of the United States is untenable."

"What you have to have, and again this is not a novel approach, but you have to have tax relief that allows people, especially families and small businesses, to weather the storm and regain their confidence," McCotter said. "For small business to be hiring again, you have to make sure the larger investors put their money into investment and creation of jobs, rather than hold it back, or rather than feel that there is no utility to it because the profit incentive has been marginalized or minimized to the point that they don't want to do it."

TOXIC ASSETS REMAIN

McCotter, who opposed the Wall Street bailout, said that bailout was unacceptable and problems remain with the banking industry because the "zombie banks are floating around."

"The Wall Street bailout did nothing to clean those toxic assets out of the system," McCotter said. "It did nothing to decentralize the banking system in the United States by taking the large failed companies that had put us in this position and break them up and wall them off."

Instead the smaller community banks had regulations tightened up when they weren't the problem, McCotter said. The bipartisan banking reform through the Troubled

Candidates excited for opportunity to serve on Board of Education

Both focused on keeping Novi district at the top

BY NATHAN MULLER
STAFF WRITER

The face of public education in Novi is changing. And the two candidates for the Board of Education are anxious to be part of it.

Jason Manar and Brian O'Meara will vie for the one open seat on the seven-member board at the Nov. 2 general election, and both have diverse backgrounds and detailed ideas for maintaining Novi's status as one of the top districts in the state.

Brian O'Meara is the longest tenured resident of the two having lived in Novi for eight years. He is a certified public accountant and currently serves as the director of corporate reporting at PulteGroup, Inc.

O'Meara has four children in the school district and said his focus as a board member would be to not just "maintain" what Novi has but improve it.

"It's not going to be as easy as it used to be," he said. One area that is a concern of his is the relationship between the administration and teachers, as the sense he gets is that the level of morale has decreased over the years.

nication as one of the areas the board can improve in.

He also said his background as a teacher gives him a "unique perspective and understanding of what teachers go through and the challenges they face daily."

One of his goals if elected is to evaluate all the programs and services the district currently provides and see what services can be consolidated with other districts.

He also wants each school to have a committee in place to review programs and decisions and see the impact it is having on the individual schools.

"It would allow us to see if things are being served their purpose," he said.

The two men are competing for the seat vacated by Katie Racon. The team is for four-years.

"The teachers are the biggest asset in any school and we have to make sure they understand they are valued," he said. O'Meara is a proponent of a multi-year budget that allows the board to "identify problems before they happen," and says the district needs to look at sharing services with other districts to ensure the classroom is protected.

Manar, on the other hand, moved his family to the city one year ago from Iowa. He is a former special education teacher, working for one year in Kentucky, and now works for the United States Department of Justice.

Like O'Meara, Manar is committed to "ensuring Novi stays a destination for parents looking for top quality education for their children."

He has served on the Novi School Budget Guidance Committee, and sees commu-

City survey sent to 1,200 residents

Novi residents are being asked to rate several community characteristics and City services with 1,200 households receiving surveys this week.

The City of Novi is conducting the survey to compare 2010 results with those received with the 2006 and 2008 National Citizen Surveys. The survey will determine which services residents use most often, what they think about City services, and how they view general issues such as development, the local economy, parks and recreation offerings, public safety, and traffic. Findings will help Novi gauge budget and service priorities.

The survey is being conducted by the National Research Center, a Denver firm. The firm has worked with the International City and County Management Association to develop the National Citizen Survey, a standardized questionnaire that allows cities across the nation to compare results. A report on the results will be presented in early December.

Randomly selected residents began receiving postcard notification alerting them they had been chosen to participate in the survey in late September.

The City has no role in selecting survey participants. Participants were chosen at random by the National Research Center.

Residents who were not selected to participate in the mailed survey will still have the opportunity to have their voices heard. The same survey sent to randomly selected households will be made available online at cityofnovi.org.

Residents who have questions about the survey can contact the Community

Michigan rather than outsourcing them overseas and keep lobbyists away from lawmakers," Mosher said. Smart government policies will help small businesses create jobs.

FEDERAL RESERVE NEEDS OVERSIGHT

Mosher would like to see congressional oversight of the Federal Reserve to ensure that the U.S. monetary policy supports the interests of small businesses and entrepreneurs and "not just those of big corporations."

Mosher proposes tax incentives for small businesses who hire new employees and for businesses that hire in high unemployment areas like southeast Michigan.

Mosher also supports tax cuts for middle-class families. "Middle-class families are paying too much in payroll taxes," Mosher said. She promised to work to reform the tax code "so that the wealthiest Americans pay their fair share," she said.

"There's nothing wrong with making money," Mosher said. "We just need to ensure some basic fairness in our tax policy."

Asset Relief Program was a failure. "It will continue to be the one largest drag on this economy," McCotter said.

To address the problem, the failed banks should be walled off and broken up. "We're still talking about AIG at this point," McCotter said. Much of the debt and toxic assets remained parked at AIG even after AIG's and TARP bailouts, McCotter said.

McCotter believes banks will continue to carry the toxic assets and not free up capital for the public. Without that infused capital and cleanup of the toxic assets, there won't be a solution, McCotter said.

MANUFACTURERS NEED CAPITAL

"States like Michigan which are capital intensive in the manufacturing sector are going to continue to suffer," McCotter said. "What's worse is federal regulators are coming into our community banks and forcing them to write down their books and telling them to recapitalize outside. They weren't the people who caused the problem. These are things that were not addressed."

McCotter hopes that Congress will recognize that TARP failed.

On tax relief, McCotter said about 40-50 Democrats have signed on to let the tax cuts continue. He believes the tax cuts have enough votes in the House, but he doesn't know about the Senate.

"You have to do it because if you don't do it, you will have the people with the greatest ability to invest and create jobs not going to do it," McCotter said. "They will sit on the sidelines because their rate of return on investment will be diminished."

"Right now, that probably is the worst place you want to start especially with the banks being frozen. You want to get private equity investment from outside of these financial institutions to start to come back in, to start to reinvest in the economy."

"If you tell them they aren't welcome or tell them that they've somehow done something wrong where they merit special disparate treatment under the tax laws, then they're not going to do it."

HILMA MAE LAWRENCE

Age 98, of Milford, MI, passed away on October 12, 2010. She was born April 15, 1921 to Fred and Bertha (M.C.) Richmond in Milford. She was a life-long resident of Milford and graduated from Milford High School in 1939. She worked at Capes Ice Cream and as a nurse at Pontiac General Hospital and Bloomfield Hills Nursing Home. She was later employed by Numerics and retired in 1991. She was a life-long member of the Milford Presbyterian Church and was also a member of the Oak Grove Cemetery Fund. She was a devoted wife of Oak Grove. In her retirement she loved to knit and do counted cross stitch, making some beautiful works which she shared with her family and friends. She also knitted baby hats for DMC Sinal Hospital to give to newborns and was given an award from the hospital for knitting 5000 baby hats. She loved to travel and was able to take many vacations with her children. Hilma was preceded in death by her brothers Lewis, Sam, and Fred Richmond; her sisters Bertha Belle Kettin, Elie Koyal, and Sally (Larry) Rohdy; one brother George Richmond; Grandchildren Donna (Bar) Charick, Lisa (Todd) Charick, Linda (Floyd) Coponen, John Stanley, Fred (Rache) Hitchcock, Melissa Hitchcock, Heather (Brian) Hughes, and Anne (David) Swerd and 12 great-grandchildren. JOHN HENRY NEWMAN, JR.

Age 78, died October 7, 2010 at the VA Hospital in Ann Arbor. John was born in Detroit on November 16, 1931 and spent his first few weeks in a shoebox in a dresser drawer or so the late is reported. The Newman family moved from Detroit to a farm in South Lyon on Peor Road where John lived until he enlisted in the Air Force during the Korean War. He was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 2502 and a past commander. John enjoyed his family and holidays and was always ready with a pot of chili and a smile. He loved his five children and seven grandchildren. He enjoyed a good game of poker with the extended family and his favorite hobby was "top squeezing". We all have fond memories of neighborhood parties going long into the night. He fought a good fight. He will be missed. He is preceded in death by his father John Sr. and mother Jesse. He is survived by his devoted wife Sylvia, daughter: Gail Newman, Lynn (Mike) Jones, Karen (Sharon) Newman, and Nancy (Mike) Romanczuk, and son John (Mary) Newman. Grandchildren: Julie (Joe) Daniel, Ashley James, Kyle (Rachelle) Romanczuk and Jacob Newman. Brother Bill and Sisters: Gloria Brigham, Carol Hann and Sharon Draga. Visitation was held on Sunday, October 10th, 2010 from 2:00 - 7:00 PM, at PHILLIPS FUNERAL HOME, 122 W. Lake St., South Lyon. A funeral service was conducted on Monday, October 11th, 2010 at 11:00 A.M. at the funeral home. Reverend Rob Callcott officiated. Graveside services were held in South Lyon Cemetery where military honors were rendered. In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to Veterans Affairs (VA) Ann Arbor Healthcare System.

Rock hosting Fall Great Lakes Art Fair this weekend

The Fall Great Lakes Art Fair leads to Novi's Rock Financial Showplace Oct. 15-17. Hours are Friday noon-8 p.m., Saturday 10 a.m.-6 p.m. and Sunday 10 a.m.-5 p.m. The fair offers works from more than 200 local, regional and national artists and craftspeople more than a dozen mediums including oil, watercolor, glass, textiles, jewelry, wood, metal, pottery and others. Admission is $7; parking is free. Details and discount coupons for entry are available at www.GreatLakesArtFair.com. Attendance has more than doubled at the Great Lakes Art Fair from its inception in spring 2009 to the most recent event in April 2010, and juried artist applications jumped more than 40 percent from fall 2009 to spring 2010. These twice-yearly fairs offer fine artists in the region a reliable, regularly scheduled, "weather-free" marketplace to showcase their freshest and most beautiful work, and word is spreading rapidly that this is a destination event for artist and patron alike. By popular demand, Ladies Day Out is back for the Fall Fair, and opening the doors much earlier - entry will begin at noon on Friday, all ladies will receive half-off admission, a complimentary beverage and the first 1,500 ladies will receive an Audiamo Italia gift card worth up to $500. Another returning element is the Friday afternoon fashion show, where guests will be able to relax and see models wearing the unique garments and signature jewelry created by artists exhibiting at the Great Lakes Art Fair. Artists from Novi and Northville who will be exhibiting this weekend include Tom Hale and WanChun Kesler. Hale began his career at the ripe old age of seven when he set his drawing board on an orange car. He graduated from high school in 1958, joined the Navy and lived aboard a destroyer for two years. After his discharge, he enrolled in the prestigious Art Center School in Los Angeles and graduated in 1965 with a degree in Transportation Design. Hale spent two years at Chrysler and a year at GM before landing at American Motors for 17 years. His work has been commissioned for a total of 47 event posters and he has won over 350 design awards including the Gold Medal of Honor from the American Watercolor Society. www.tomhalegallery.com. Kesler was born in Taipei, Taiwan, and now lives in Northville. Growing up on the Pacific island, she loved the lush colors and the abundant textures from the mountains and ocean surroundings. The natural beauty of this sub-tropic island shaped her senses and broadened her abilities and expression of art. The energetic city life in metropolitan Taipei also provided great inspiration for her artwork as a young adult. She has exhibited in many reputable competitions such as Michigan Fine Art Competition, Scarab Club Silver Medal, Michigan Annual, and Our Town Exhibition in Birmingham.

The Rock Financial Showplace is located at 46100 Grand River Ave. in Novi. For more information, phone (248) 948-5600 or visit www.GreatLakesArtFair.com.

Novi resident dances through unique, exciting jobs

Former Miss Michigan now working for Detroit Tigers

BY CHRIS JACKETT
CORRESPONDENT

Some 23-year-olds are just wrapping up their college experiences, while others are, well, also wrapping up their collegiate experiences, but all while rubbing elbows with the Detroit Tigers' front office

Novi resident Nicole Blaszyk just turned over her Miss Michigan crown three short months ago, but has spent the time since working full-time as a social media intern with the Detroit Tigers while she takes the last two semesters worth of classes toward a marketing degree from Wayne State University and acts as an extra for locally filmed movies, music videos and television commercials.

"The Tigers actually sought me out. When I was down there for the first pitch, I mentioned to them I was going into marketing and wanted a sports focus," Blaszyk said. "It's a brand new position that came down from the MLB."

She threw out the first pitch at two Tigers games, in Sept. 2009 and again in May 2010 during Polish-American Night (she's Polish, if you couldn't tell).

Blaszyk started the job one week after her Miss Michigan duties ended June 19, meaning she went through the interview process for the internship during the last month of her reign. She said the position continues until at least opening day 2011.

"I update their Facebook, anything that's posted on there," Blaszyk said. She also writes the front office blog, works at promotional events, interacts with guests and events around the park, basically "capturing" the experience and giving fans what they can't see and read in the newspaper."

A side project she has gotten involved with since starting the new job is working directly with Tigers President/CEO/General Manager Dave Dombrowski and Vice President/Assistant General

The 2009 Miss Michigan, Novi resident Nicole Blaszyk (center) poses with fans during a Detroit Tigers game at Comerica Park. Since her reign ended, Blaszyk is now employed by the Tigers.

Manager Al Avila updating the wall-sized depth chart in the executive office whenever an injury or trade occurs. The chart includes rosters with individual magnets for every player on all 30 MLB teams and all of the Tigers' farm leagues' teams.

Growing up in a baseball-loving family, Blaszyk is thrilled to simply say she goes to Comerica Park in Detroit for work because it doesn't feel like a job to her. However, when she tries to factor her class schedule into her day, that's when the pressure starts adding up.

"It's been harder when the team's home because we pull 12-13-hour days," Blaszyk said.

Mix in her role as an extra in locally-shot films such as "LOL," "Laughing Out Loud," "Scream 4" and "Transformers 3" (all three are slated for 2011 releases), as well as in an Art Van Furniture commercial and as one of six girls in Miley Cyrus' upcoming "My Kind of Boy" music video (which is only released overseas right now), Blaszyk can easily say she keeps busy with her balancing act of responsibilities.

"It's exciting to see more and more films coming here and people working," she said, noting that production and catering companies are benefiting, not just local actors.

But Blaszyk said she enjoys the various things she does, dipping her toes into different fields to get a feel for her future. She said she's better able to handle her busy life thanks to the Miss Michigan experience.

"It's basically a four-year degree wrapped into one long, exhausting year," she said. "The challenges that you're faced with, you have to wear so many hats. No college could've offered me that."

Living with a host family in Muskegon, Blaszyk attended as many as three events per day during her reign as Miss Michigan. With so many events, she's been to all corners of a lot of Michigan, but nothing compared to what I had seen post-Miss Michigan," Blaszyk said.

Other than throwing out the first pitch at two Tigers games, Blaszyk said her favorite experience during her reign was visiting the Eagle Village correctional facility near Cadillac that helps children exposed to substance abuse, whether on their own or through a family member.

"Going in and seeing these kids, on a personal level, (was special) because I knew where they were coming from," Blaszyk said. "You are not defined by your parents. It was inspirational for them."

Between visits to unique locations like Eagle Village and visiting a bevy of other special events throughout the state, Blaszyk said the Miss Michigan experience helped her grow and taught her several life lessons.

"I think the biggest thing, this might sound a little cheesy, is that any goal you might have, you can achieve it if you set your mind to it," Blaszyk said. "And being open minded, there's so much to learn and take in. I can only imagine what's beyond these five Great Lakes."

For now, the 2005 graduate of Novi High School said she'd use the lessons she's learned to finish her marketing degree in May 2011 and continue working hard with the Detroit Tigers' organization. She also has an agent who keeps her in the loop with opportunities to be on the silver screen.

"I'm back home and things are semi-normal, whatever normal is," Blaszyk said.

STATE SENATE 15TH DISTRICT CANDIDATES

Republican Mike Kowall of White Lake Township faces Democrat Pam Jackson in the race for state Senate District 15. The seat is currently held by Republican Nancy Cassis, who is term-limited. They are vying for a four-year term, which pays an annual salary of $79,650. The 15th district includes Commerce Township, Highland Township, Holly Township, Lynn Township, Milford Township, Northville (part), Novi, Novi Township, Orchard Lake, Rose Township, South Lyon, Walled Lake, West Bloomfield Township, White Lake Township and Wixom. Michigan state senators serve four-year terms. The position receives an annual base salary of $79,650.

1. How would you balance the state's budget? Be specific. If you favor cuts, where and how much? If you favor tax cuts tell us what services you would reduce.
2. There remains a wide disparity in state funds allocated per pupil for school districts throughout the state. How would you address this concern? What is your recommendation? Be specific.
3. What are the top three ideas you would support to make Michigan's business climate more competitive?
4. Do you support multi-year budgeting? Why? Why not?
5. Michigan has one of the highest unemployment rates in the nation. Explain why electing you is part of the solution. And tell us what needs to be done to spur the state's economy. Provide an estimate about how soon residents will see a change if you are elected.

1. Zero-based financing in this state is something we need to take a look at. I know for a fact the Department of Corrections and the DNR are very burdensome on the state. Those need to be reconstructed. We just need to take a solid, common sense approach to each and every department. It would be very easy to have a 25 percent cut across the board, but with all the cuts that have already taken place, I think all the departments need to be analyzed, whether it's through a forensic audit or just a good internal audit.

2. We need to figure out a way to develop a stable tax base for education. That gets back to zero-based financing because we need to know what it costs to educate a child and spread that out statewide.

3. I support eliminating the Michigan Business Tax and Michigan Business Tax Surcharge, also oppose legislation in favor of services tax. I believe with these 3 main ideas that Michigan can be a business competitive state.

4. Yes I support multi-year budgeting. By creating a two-year budget it will bring predictability to state spending.

5. We need to be a state that is friendly to business and a job creator. I would work closely with my colleagues to provide legislation that would benefit Michigan. I'm a small business owner and I'm convinced our people can grow local businesses and create jobs if only state government would bring some sanity to our tax and regulatory code, which has been ranked the third worst in the country by The Tax Foundation. Residents should see a change very soon if the taxes are eliminated and businesses can grow.

1. Reforming Michigan's tax structure would allow support for: 1. Incentives for businesses to hire "Michigan First" promoting job creation and growth; 2. Increase funding for Pre-K-12 for equal access to quality education, maintaining affordable higher education; 3. Maintaining local police and fire protection; 4. Ensure health care for children, seniors, and the indigent; and 5. Invest in infrastructure for a mass transit system to promote economic growth. We must be proactive investigating all government programs for effectiveness and efficiencies; discard the obsolete. Once accomplished, we may not have to cut into important services or raise taxes.

2. While Proposal "A" was supposed to take care of this disparity, it still exists. Once we overhaul the tax structure to align itself with today's changing economy, a committee can construct a formula for equity of state funds. Students need to have equal access to quality education. Discussion about the consolidation of school districts and 150's with monies saved with efficiencies would allow more dollars to go directly to the classroom. What once worked in the last century needs to be researched for effectiveness and efficiencies where modifications and reforms could be introduced and implemented.

3. 1. Create an environment for small businesses to survive by eliminating the 22% surcharge and the personal property tax. 2. Create incentives for businesses and entrepreneurs to create jobs diversifying our economy. 3. Invest in Michigan citizens. Invest in education creating training facilities that can be retrofitted into closed schools offering college credits to be used at a future date. Forgive a certain percentage of college student loans if a student lives and works in Michigan each year up to five years after graduation. There would be more people living in Michigan. No child, no person would be left behind

4. I support multi-year budgeting with quarterly reviews each year. Knowing what the state has to work with in the future allows for planning and reform.

5. Creativity and innovations with excellent problem solving skills to build consensus, is what our state desperately needs. This I would bring to Lansing when elected. Urban communities can be constructed with green spaces. The lot would be used as 20 percent down and the buyer would pay reduced property taxes over a given period of time. Incentivizing businesses to urban cities, fixing the tax structure for existing small businesses, diversifying our energy and agricultural portfolios will improve Michigan's economy within four years with efficient and effective mass transit. Strong cities and metropolitan areas are critical to restoring a prosperous Michigan.

Kowall eyes returning state back to basics

BY VICTORIA MITCHELL

Republican Mike Kowall wants to return the state back to basics.

One area the 15th District State Senate candidate said he can achieve this is by looking at zero-based financing in Michigan.

Kowall, 59, said he knows corrections and the Department of Natural Resources and Environment are burdensome to the state and examining those departments as well as all state agencies with a common-sense approach is what needs to happen in order to get the economy back on track.

"There is no silver bullet, as much as we would like to think there is," Kowall said.

The candidate said he believes you can nickel and dime enough spending at the state level to make a difference.

Republican Mike Kowall has been supervisor of White Lake Township since 2004.

Kowall said it would be easy to make cuts across the board, but he feels the right thing to do is look closely and cut out the fat and redundancies. He already sees opportunity in taking money from corrections to bolster crime prevention as a future state money saver.

Kowall said it costs about $40,000 a year to keep someone in general population, not including health care. And, he said, the costs escalate from there and need to be stopped.

Kowall will face Democratic candidate Pam Jackson, a 55-year-old Commerce Township resident, in November. They are vying for the seat currently held by Nancy Cassis, who is term-limited.

Another area Kowall sees cost savings is education. The candidate said he believes consolidating school districts is a solution, and beginning with consolidating superintendents is a beginning.

Kowall would also like to see the time taken to get back to zero-based financing by determining how much it costs to educate a child and spread the costs out statewide. He said he would also like to see schools

Jackson thinks she has right background

Pam Jackson says she has always been able to solve problems — from the time she owned her own construction company to her nearly 30 years as a faculty member at Oakland Community College. And she believes Lansing is in dire need of a whole new generation of problem solvers if Michigan residents are going to continue to have the quality of life that is expected here.

Jackson, a 55-year-old Commerce Township resident, is the Democrat in the race for the State Senate 15th District. She is facing Republican Mike Kowall. They are vying for the seat currently held by Nancy Cassis, who is term-limited. Jackson has lived in the 15th District for 40 years and feels she has a pretty good idea what the residents of the district are looking for to represent them in Lansing.

"I feel like I carry the voice of the district. I'm a problem solver. I know how to solve problems," said Jackson.

The Milford High School graduate has worked in public education for more than three decades, beginning with stints as a high school teacher in Milford and West Bloomfield, and then becoming a faculty member at OCC, where she teaches mathematics and construction management — a program she helped develop. She has two master's degrees (in mathematics and industrial technology/construction management — Eastern Michigan University) and she is working on her Ph.D. in educational policy particularly as it pertains to the prison system.

This is Jackson's second crack at elected politics. In 2008, she ran unsuccessfully against Christine Long for a seat on the Oakland County Board of Commissioners. She fared pretty well in that election, garnering nearly 9,500 votes — a number she says is more than double of what any Democrat had ever received in the Republican-dominated district.

And that is why she is optimistic in this election. She feels she has a broader appeal

38th District
 Hugh Crawford deserves second term in House

The Michigan House of Representatives 38th District includes Lyon Township, Novi city, Novi Township, South Lyon city, Walled Lake city and Wixom city and part of Northville city.

Vying to represent those constituents are incumbent Republican Hugh Crawford and challenger Jeff Gedeon. We commend Gedeon for entering the race to keep it from being uncontested, but the clear choice for voters is Crawford.

Crawford, a former Marine, who retired from Xerox Corp. after 20 years, is a well-known figure in Oakland County politics. The Novi native has served in a variety of capacities — local City Council, the Southwest Oakland Cable Commission, Novi's Parks and Recreation Commission, the Novi Lions Club, several area chambers of commerce and the county commission — before heading to Lansing in 2008.

Crawford became part of a bipartisan Freshman Caucus of 24 Democrats and 20 Republicans. The class pledged that whichever party is in control after this upcoming election, things will be done differently in Lansing. He is frustrated by the inefficiencies and wants to see it change and operate more like when he was a county commissioner (and looking at Oakland County, that's a good thing.)

The next Lansing lineup will include over 90 members each with two years or less experience. Crawford, who opposes term limits, says it has taken him most of these past two years just to learn the position. In that time, he has built solid relationships with colleagues and lobbyists (the latter an element of politics that she stresses is vital to keeping legislators informed on issues).

Crawford opposes raising taxes and did not vote for or support any new increases in his term. With the exception of Medicaid and education, he says everything is on the table and subject to cuts. His priorities are energy, technology, health and regulation reform. Like many candidates, he recognizes Michigan must become more attractive to job providers. He supports eliminating the Michigan Business Tax. Government shouldn't create jobs, but rather an environment that's business friendly, Crawford says.

He's learned that transparency is a major issue with Lansing and said, "Funds are there, but there is lots of fraud and inefficiencies."

On education, Crawford feels that overall Prop A is working and he's not a fan of tweaking it — right now. He did not support the reduction in 20J funding for schools and has called for policies to reform state funding for local districts.

The 67-year-old offers a strong voice for senior citizens as he serves on the Subcommittee on Mental Health and, he also sits on the Regulatory Reform Committee.

The Novi News recommends voters re-elect Crawford on Nov. 2. He has earned the right to represent the 38th District for another two years.

No gas at Beck and Grand River?

While driving around town, I have observed that there are numerous gas stations lining the streets of Novi. On the corner of Beck Road and Grand River Avenue, however, one of the busiest intersections in town and very near to where I live, I have noticed that there is no gas station to be found. I believe that there is a legitimate need for a gas station near that intersection.

Most of the gas stations in and around Novi seem to be in the vicinity of major establishments, such as shopping centers and restaurants, or near freeway on-ramps. Although the corner of Beck and Grand River is very near to a major hospital (Providence Park), a large shopping area including Kroger and Home Depot, numerous restaurants, three separate banks, and an I-96 on-ramp, there is nowhere to get gas without having to travel a mile down the road in either direction. This causes inconvenience to working people needing to refuel their cars after work, and also is a nuisance to travelers needing to quickly exit the freeway, fill up and hit the road again.

Being a new driver, I am just realizing how very often a car needs to be refueled. If we as a community could solicit a company such as Speedway or Mobil to construct a gas station on or near that corner, I am sure that I, along with many other citizens living and working in the area, would feel as if those frequent fill-ups would be more tolerable.

Consolidation won't work

Recently, it has come to my attention that there has been a proposal to merge Novi and Northville school districts. However, I feel that it is a very bad idea to do this. Although this could be a potential way to save money, consolidation would still not be a good idea. It should not be beneficial in any way to the two districts.

Superintendent of Novi Peter Dion is absolutely correct when he says, "It's not about doing more with less, it's doing more with more." The consolidation of these two districts would make more sense if they were smaller. By merging these two, you would be taking away the quality of education as well. With so many students in one district, it would be very difficult to have a good education program.

This brings another issue as well. People say that merging the two districts would save money, but it really would not. With the amount of students that would be in this district, the district would have to hire an innumerable amount of teachers and administrators. This would greatly increase costs. The full joining of Novi and Northville just does not seem like a good plan at all. As the students, you and I can do something about this. We can raise our voices and keep things the way they are. Two separate school districts are better than one, even if it means cutting costs. Bigger is not always better.

School electronics policy needs tweaking

Novi High School has a new pilot policy for electronics that I can relate to, being a student there. The new pilot policy states that students are allowed to use their electronics, such as, phones, iPods, etc., during lunch and passing times. The other part to this agreement is that every teacher has a red light, yellow light or green light classroom. The red light rooms are the ones that cannot use electronics at all. The yellow light rooms can use electronics when the teacher allows. The green light rooms are allowed to use electronics as they please. Personally, the idea of electronics in school is great, but not so much with all of the different rules.

All the different rules are not only confusing but can also get students in trouble. If you have a green light room and go to a red light room, most kids can forget very easily they aren't supposed to have their phones or iPods out. They can get in a lot of trouble too. That's not fair. There should be one guideline for every classroom. The only color classroom that should be allowed is yellow. This is the fairest and easiest way to protect the rules and electronics of the students.

Even though this new policy is loved by every student in the school, there is still room for improvement. It takes one step at a time, but I'm just hoping that the next step this school takes is towards a better policy that's equal in every classroom. This would be the best for everyone.

Students, get informed before voting

The vast majority of the youth of America is uninformed when it comes to politics. It is disturbing to think that the younger generation, that may be eligible to partake in the 2012 election, does not understand the on-going events of our government. Just because one is of age to vote does not mean one is informed enough to vote.

In 2008, politics found its way into history classes all over the country. Teachers tried to stay impartial but students expressed their own personal beliefs about our government; most were uninformed. The students decided who they wanted to win the election based on hearsay instead of fact. They should have done research to choose and support their candidate and to learn about our existing government. In my history class, students insisted that George W. Bush should have been impeached during his presidency simply because they disliked him. They did not understand that there were no impeachable acts Bush had done. Their empty words inspired me to educate myself on politics so all of my opinions would be backed by fact. The results surprised me. I did not know anything about the candidate. I had, been supporting. Luckily, after my research I discovered that I still strongly supported my candidate but now understood why I maintained my support instead of doing so because of my parent's view.

As White Lake Township supervisor since 2004, Kowall said he has created an environment promoting small business growth by creating the policy and manna, roll out the red tape and roll out the red carpet. Kowall said by reducing red tape, new business owners can begin generating cash flow as quickly as possible — a cost-free incentive to promoting local business growth.

Kowall said during his time as supervisor the township has seen an increase of 2,000 jobs and a dramatic increase in taxable value in excess of $85 million in the M-5 corridor, which stretches from Williams Lake Road to Bogie Lake Road. He attributes the growth in most part from retail and the attraction of big box stores. He works with a $15 million township budget in a community with a population under 30,000 residents.

"I just feel driven to the fact that I know I can make a difference," Kowall said. "When I'm gone I want to know that I left not just White Lake, but the entire state in better shape."

Prior to his township supervisor role, Kowall served as 44th District State Representative from 1998-2001.

He attended Oakland County Community College and is a small business owner.

Kowall is married to his spouse of 36 years, Eileen Kowall, and has two adult daughters. He is a 29-year White Lake Township resident.

Kowall said during his time as supervisor the township has partner more with local libraries. The candidate said if elected, he would also prioritize bringing people back to work by abolishing the Michigan Business Tax and Michigan Business Tax Surcharge.

Kowall said we have to keep jobs in our state and people from crossing state lines. "We lose more jobs to Indiana than we do to India," he said.

than some Democrats would bring to the table. In fact, she believes her background makes her the better candidate.

"I would say to voters to compare our backgrounds. I'm not a career politician. I have expertise in a lot of areas that would be beneficial at the state level. I can make a difference in Lansing," Jackson said.

Jackson also owned a construction company, so she knows what the landscape looks like for a small business owner. And she feels that landscape is pretty rocky these days — and the state isn't doing anything to help. She feels the legislature must come up with a better tax system, because the current one is killing businesses not helping them. She would also like to provide tax breaks to companies that hire unemployed workers or create new jobs.

"I can't make jobs, but I can make it more conducive for companies to come to our state," she said.

She also suggested the state could create its own bank to provide loans for business owners, because the big banks just aren't lending money.

"We gave them tons of money to help them out, but they're not helping us out," she said.

and I think it's fabulous," she said. "We need these incentives so we can keep all these wonderful college students here in Michigan."

One area where she has a distinct view from her opponent is in energy technology. While Kowall favors allowing more electricity-producing coal-fired plants to be built, Jackson said the state must move away from the polluting coal plants and begin investing in green energy projects like wind and solar. She believes that will lead to more jobs and a cleaner future.

The other big issue for Jackson is public education — not surprising for someone who has spent most of her professional career as a teacher. She is advocating changes to the way the state funds public schools, including either tweaking or completely overhauling Proposal A. She would like to see districts and intermediate school districts consolidate services.

"We need to adjust the public school model to fit today's realities," she said. "Every child should have a quality education, and an equal opportunity at that education."

While she knows the odds are stacked against her because she is a Democrat in a Republican-dominated district, Jackson said she is out there fighting for every vote, and that people are receptive to her once they hear her message.

"I'm here to make a difference, and I know I can make a difference," she said. "This state needs someone in there that can pick up the books."

Walmart submits plans to join Novi Town Center

We can't be isolationist. I believe Walmart will increase business traffic in the area and who knows it just might be the catalyst to revitalize a downtown Novi. I don't think any mom-and-pop stores will be affected as usually is the case in a small community AAarrggghhh!!! I do not live in Novi, but the first time the 96 exit is blocked up for all the sheep going to Walmart, I will not be back to use the rest of the malls.

Mustangs roll past Wildcats 24-17
Baseline Jug and division title goes to Northville

BY CHRIS JACKETT CORRESPONDENT

Northville scored a season low and Novi allowed a season high in points last Friday as the Mustangs claimed the Baseline Jug for the second straight year, with a 27-14 victory.

Flipping the score on the Wildcats (4-3, 4-1 KLA Central) from their gridiron victory over South Lyon last week, the Mustangs (7-0, 5-0 Central) marched to a division title in front of their home crowd.

"Coach (Todd) Pennycuff had that team prepared really well," Northville coach Matt Ladach said.

As expected, Novi's defense was the key factor in the game, holding Northville's explosive offense below 35 points for the first time this season despite allowing more than 24 points for the first time this fall. Of Novi's 64 tackles, seven were for a loss of yards. Junior Alex King led the way with team highs in both tackles (five) and assists (10).

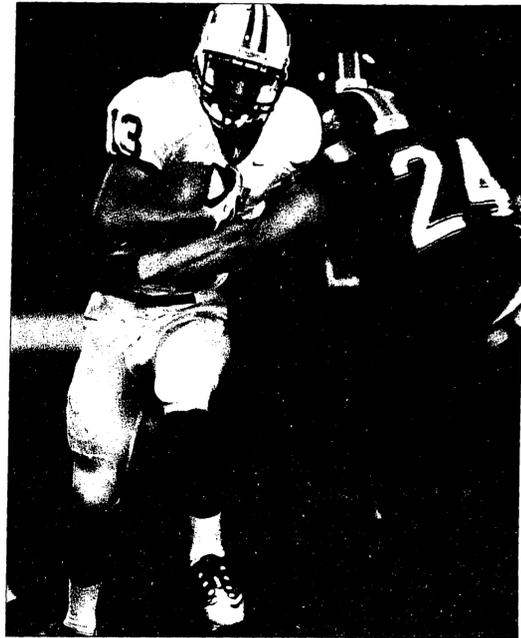

"We're a good defensive club. (Ladach) wasn't subbing out at halftime like he has been," Novi's Pennycuff said. "I look at their effort and they gave us everything they have."

The scoring started early after Northville senior Jonathon Alandt returned the kickoff 85 yards to Novi's 7-yard line. On fourth and one, junior quarterback Jeff Gertley ran into the right side of the end zone just 1:56 into the contest. A kick by senior Victor Bodrie gave the Mustangs an early 7-0 lead.

"That first touchdown was huge. All week our emphasis was on fourth down," Ladach said. "It was a big confidence builder for us."

The Wildcats responded with a seven-play, 80-yard drive capped by senior Zach Mohr taking the ball 32 yards up the left side for a touchdown. A boot by senior Scotty Stanford tied the game 7-7.

Neither team breached each other's 30-yard line for the rest of the first quarter, but the Mustangs started a nine-play, 60-yard drive that Alandt would finish off with a 2-yard touchdown run on the left side. Bodrie's kick meant a 14-7 lead and the Mustangs would never look back.

Novi's next drive was 10 plays, lasted two minutes, included two time outs and ended with just 30 yards of offense after a 1-yard loss at fourth and one on the Northville 49.

"They remembered assignments and took care of responsibilities. Our defense came up big for us. Our kids did a great job," Ladach said. "Special teams has been critical for us all season long. It paid off for us tonight."

Gertley hit senior Anthony Peraino with a 25-yard pass on the next play and then overcame strong pressure by junior Brandon Love for an 11-yard touchdown at the right end line just a few plays later. Bodrie's kick went wide right with 59 seconds remaining and Northville carried a 20-7 lead into halftime after a last-ditch effort by Mohr, who carried the ball 32 yards from Novi's 34 as time expired.

Junior quarterback Derek Ince connected with Mohr for a 15-yard gain early in the third quarter, but two plays later, he

Catholic Central wins regional, heads to finals

No. 1 ranked Shamrocks have momentum heading to title tourney

BY SAM EGGLESTON CORRESPONDENT

ON TAP

Two weeks before the start of the tennis season, the Catholic Central Shamrocks suffered their worst loss ever--varsity assistant and junior varsity coach Jim Zapton.

Zapton died of a sudden heart attack. The team was in shock at first, struggling at the lack of his presence and his guidance on the court. As the season has progressed though, the Shamrocks have found a way of remembering Zapton. They play in his memory.

"Now we've got to win out for the playoffs," Novi coach Todd Pennycuff said of the last two games. "We're in a dog fight. Plymouth is every bit as good as Northville."

and putting the team first. He has been an inspiration to this team and we have dedicated our season to him and his memory."

It's in his memory that the team has been able to take 12 of the state's best players and have them all focus on the same goal: winning as Shamrocks, not as individuals.

The result has been phenomenal and Zapton would no doubt be proud. Not only are the Shamrocks ranked first in the state, they recently won the Catholic

Novi swimmers 7th in county 'Cats host Northville tonight

BY CHRIS JACKETT CORRESPONDENT

Novi's lady tankers showed they were among some of the county's elite Oct. 1-2 as the team finished seventh of 27 teams at the Oakland County Championships.

Taking place at Waterford Mott, the Wildcats (2-3, 1-2 KLA Central) earned 154.5 points to finish six points behind Farmington Hills Harrison and 40 points ahead of eight-place Clarkston. Farmington Hills Mercy won the meet with 405 points, followed by Bloomfield Hills Marian with 262. Thirty more points would've placed the 'Cats third at the meet.

Sophomores Andrea VanderMey, Maranda Buha, Kara Berg and senior Madalyn Buha earned a huge 26 points by finishing sixth in the 200-yard medley relay in 1:53.15.

Berg and Madalyn Buha teamed with junior Abby Hall and senior Becca Berman in an 11th-place 200-yard freestyle relay finish in 1:44.22 to earn 12 points, while Maranda Buha, Berman, VanderMey and senior Sarah Sultana scored 22 points in the 400-yard free relay with a time of 3:47.18.

With the three relay teams earning 60 points for Novi, the 'Cats had some work to do in the individual competitions.

VanderMey led the way with a first-place finish in the 100 backstroke in 57.65 seconds. She also finished second in the 200 IM in 2:08.76.

Sultana was also impressive in both events, finishing ninth in the 200 IM in 2:16.13 and 23rd in the 100 back in 1:04.81.

Finishing third in the 500 free, Berman scored 16 points with a time of 5:09.99. She also finished 11th in the 200 free in 1:59.93.

Senior Abby Glenn competed in both individual events Berman had, finishing 25th in the 500 free in 5:34.93 and 39th in the 200 free in 2:09.58.

Sophomore Rachel Aepelbacher was strong in the 1-meter dive, finishing 12th with 319.40 points.

The Buha sisters had a big meet in the relays, but did well individually, too. Maranda was sixth in the 100 butterfly in 59.97 seconds and 11th in 50 free in 24.98 seconds. Madalyn was 24th in 50 free in 25.98 seconds and 34th in the 100 free in 58.24 seconds.

Wrapping up the Wildcats' performances were senior Jacque Carless (14th in the 500 free in 5:22.90), Berg (39th in the 100 free in 59.24 seconds, 37th in 50 free in 26.66 seconds) and sophomore Kelsey Shurmur (26th in 100 fly in 1:04.21, 34th in 200 IM in 2:26.27).

Novi defeats Salem, 10th at county meet

BY CHRIS JACKETT CORRESPONDENT

Despite some closer competition during the past week, the Wildcats' boys cross country team came away with successful showings at Plymouth Salem and the Oakland County meet.

Novi started off the week by defeating Salem 23-36 Oct. 5 at Willow Metro Park in New Boston to improve to 3-1 in the KLA Central Division.

Seniors Brett Giampa and Joe Schubring led the way with identical 17-minute, 8-second finishes, 14 seconds better than the third-place runner from Salem.

They were followed by junior Dan Lee (fifth in 17:27), junior Ryan Tgiros (seventh in 17:44), senior Steve Pravato (eighth in 17:57) and junior Eric Gardner (ninth in 18:02).

"Dan set a new career personal record with his time of 17:27," Novi coach Robert Smith said. "Ryan Tgiros and Steve Pravato finished up the had a 20-yard pass picked off by senior Levi Perry at Northville's 29.

"We made mistakes again that cost us. They're a very good football team and don't make very many mistakes," Penney said, noting the Wildcats aren't athletic enough to stop turnovers.

"The Mustangs went three and out on the ensuing drive, giving Novi the ball at their own 30. Novi responded by going three and out as Stanford sent a high 22-yard punt to Northville's 49, giving the Mustangs good field position for a six-play touch-down drive.

On second and seven, Gertley fumbled the ball, but recovered for a 22-yard pass to Alandt. After a 2-yard run by Gertley, he tossed an 11-yard pass to senior Jordan Lawrence in the right side of the end zone. Bodie's kick made it 27-7 Northville.

Novi had a three and out on the next drive, followed by a three and out by the Mustangs to start the fourth quarter.

"The game changes. Right now. For us," Mohr yelled to his teammates on the sideline as the team lined up for fourth down.

However, Novi senior Brian Bush dropped Northville's 40-yard punt at the Novi 15 and Northville senior Michael MacLean recovered it at the 14.

The Mustangs attempted a 28-yard field goal after a three and out snap from the 11, but Bodie's kick went wide right.

The Cats took over at their own 20 and drove the ball downfield. On fourth and one at the Northville 32, senior Dominic Sabo burst up the right side for a 12-yard run. Senior Derek Kim caught an over-the-shoulder ball off a 32-yard toss by Ince on the next play.

Stanford's kick cut the deficit to 27-14. Northville has a three and out on the next drive.

Novi took over with 5:21 to go and drove the ball offfield. On fourth and four on their own 26, Ince hit Kim with a 14-yard pass up the middle. He had 52 yards on three receptions.

"Kim's done an outstanding job and he's someone I've really pushed hard. He kept us in the game," Penney said. "Ince did some things for us. We're not a passing team."

On second and 10 on the 50, however, junior Jeff Hewlett picked off an Ince pass at the Northville 32 and returned it 31 yards.

The Mustangs took over with 3:07 left in the game as almost the entire Northville student section marched around the field to taunt Novi's student section, which was stopped by security 20 yards away from the Novi bleachers. Northville's team ran down the clock with four straight rushing plays.

With the crowd settled, the Cats took over at their 14 and Ince connected with junior Mike Jocz for an 18-yard reception out of bounds along the left sideline.

Although he tossed two interceptions, Ince went 9-for-10 for 85 yards and a touchdown for Novi. Gertley went 7-for-12 for 93 yards and two touchdowns for Northville.

Novi won the touchdown game with 225 yards on 42 attempts, compared to 154 yards on 39 attempts for the Mustangs. Mohr (87 yards, TD on seven attempts), junior Zach Masseran (67 yards on 13 attempts) and Sabo (42 yards on 12 attempts) led the Cats, while Gertley (88 yards, 1 TD on 19 attempts) and Alandt (41 yards, 1 TD on nine attempts) led Northville.

"Northville has a very good football club," Penney said. "They are a classy group over here at Northville and that's what makes it fun. I'm very appreciative to have a rivalry like this."

Hooamian had 11 digs, 11 returns, Robb had 10 returns, 10 digs and Subject had eight digs in the Wildcats' finals effort.

Fisette said Marian, North Branch and Bedford combined for between six and eight Miss Volleyball candidates, whereas the Wildcats' teamwork style of play has left Novi with no candidates.

KLA CENTRAL

The Cats used a strong team effort to remain undefeated in the Central Division last week, defeating both Plymouth Salem (11-6-1, 4-2 Central) and Livonia Stevenson (10-9-3, 2-4 Central).

Novi took care of Salem 25-12, 25-20, 25-13 as Subject had 20 assists and Robb had nine digs, 11 serve returns and eight kills to lead the Wildcats.

Junior Victoria Rose led Novi's offense with 12 kills during a 25-17, 25-18, 25-13 victory over Stevenson last Thursday. In a match that helped several players' personal statistics, Robb had nine kills, 10 digs and 10 serve returns; Subject had 28 assists; junior Anna Lu had 10 assists; Hooamian had 13 digs and 10 serve returns; and Green had 10 serve returns.

"I don't know what it is, the full moon or the karma, but it's hard to get the girls playing like they did. They kind of step back and think they can take a breather. Yes, we beat them in three, but you should've beat them with less points," Fisette said.

"By the time we got to Marian, those girls were pretty much whipped," Fisette said of their team. "We came off five pretty aggressive games and (Marian) sat around and hydrated. Sometimes, that comes to your benefit."

The exhaustion of five other matches, combined with Marian getting 90 minutes of rest, didn't help the Wildcats

After the three-set thriller, the Wildcats went neck and neck with North Branch (27-6-1), who had added a state title to their trophy case last fall.

"North Branch is known for their style of volleyball," Fisette said, noting the Broncos use smart kills where they aim for specific players who are weaker diggers.

Novi's Michael Dickmann was the fastest freshman, finishing 46th in the JV race in 19-22.

Novi (9-1 KLA Central) will compete in the Division I state meet tomorrow and Saturday at Eastern Michigan's Eagle Crest in Ypsilanti. Fresh off a Kensington Conference championship and school record score of 336, the Cats look to improve on the program's first-ever state title appearance, where they finished 15th of 15 teams last year.

Also advancing out of Novi's region are Northville and Grosse Pointe South, who finished sixth and tied for third, respectively, at last year's state meet.

"Cats two days later, however, as Northville won the regional meet on their home course at Tanglewood last Thursday. With the top three teams advancing to the state meet, Northville swung a 348, followed by Grosse Pointe South's 352 and Novi's 380. Churchill was fourth with 392.

Henry was second place among individuals as she led the Wildcats' with an 84. Koenen had a 97, Collins a 99 and Tomkinson a 100 to wrap up Novi's regional performance.

Chris Jaccett is a freelance writer and former Novi News staff writer.

Novi's boys tennis had an eventful week, winning the KLA Central Championship title and finishing second at Regionals, earning a trip to the state meet.

"Pretty much, in both tournaments, we got contributions from everyone," Novi coach Jim Hanson said. "I was pleased with how the kids played. We pretty much held our seeds in conference and regional play."

The Wildcats (10-0, 8-0 KLA Central) went into the conference meet having swept the Central Division and defeating the other three division champions all in dual meets. The conference meet rained out Oct. 2 and was then split between Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday last week. Novi came out ahead with a dominant 28 points, nine ahead of second-place Northville.

Seeded first in all five doubles flights, the Cats followed through with five conference championship pairings, which combined for 20 of the team's points.

In the final, one doubles sophomore Jason Carless and senior Greg Richard defeated second-seeded Plymouth Salem 6-4, 6-1. Two doubles juniors Bill Bell and senior Alex Brizard won their final 6-1, 6-2 over unseeded Livonia Stevenson.

Three doubles seniors Nathan Farooq and Chaitanya Kanikar defeated second-seeded Northville 6-4, 6-4, while the four doubles tandem of juniors Stephen Kovacinski and Brandon Sanders defeated third-seeded Canton 7-5, 6-1. Senior Harsha Gotur and junior Vedant Ram defeated third-seeded Canton 6-0, 6-0 in five doubles.

The singles brackets were much tougher for Novi. Freshman Michael Chang, seeded second at four singles, made it to the finals before dropping a 6-2, 6-3 decision to top-seeded Northville.

The remaining singles players were each ousted by a higher seed as well. Third-seeded junior Andrew Cho lost to the second-seeded and eventual three singles champion from Northville 6-2, 6-0 in the semifinals.

Unseeded freshman Andrew Ying was knocked out of the two singles semifinals by top-seeded Salem 6-1, 6-4.

Sophomore Pavan Rao, unseeded at one singles, lost his quarterfinal match against fourth-seeded Canton 6-4, 7-5. Every Novi flight was seeded for the regional meet last Friday, but many of the same results occurred.

Seeded third, Cho again lost to second-seeded Northville 7-5, 6-3. Similarly Chang was seeded one below second-seeded Northville in a 6-2, 6-0 semifinal loss at four singles.

"Basically, when we played them in singles, they won. And when we played them in doubles, we won," Hanson said of the Mustangs, who finished third overall with 17 points. "We move on. It's too bad Northville only missed it by one point."

Rao and Ying, both seeded second in their respective flights, were unable to hold onto their seeding, as Rao lost a semifinal match 6-4, 7-6(3) to third-seeded Milford and Ying lost a 3-6, 7-6(5) 6-4 decision to unseeded White Lake Lakeland.

"After watching him, I thought he should've been seeded. (Ying) didn't play bad," Hanson said of Lakeland's player. "He pretty much had an overpowering serve, which was the difference in the match. Their coach didn't put in for a seed because of the up-and-down season the player had."

The Cats were led again in the doubles flights, as all four advanced to the regional championships to face off with CC in a battle of the top two seeds, which the top-seed won in all four instances.

"When we matched up against them, we beat them at two (doubles) and gave them good matches at one, three and four (doubles)," Hanson said. "We pretty much held our seeds, which we have to do."

CC upped each Carless and Richard 6-2, 6-4 in the three doubles final, and Kovacinski and Sanders 7-5, 7-5 in the four doubles final.

Novi got the best of the Shamrocks and the rest of the region in two doubles, however, as top-seeded Bell and Brizard defeated CC 6-3, 6-1 in the championship.

The Wildcats - ranked No. 5 in Division I - finished second overall with 18 points, one ahead of Northville and behind regional champion CC, who are ranked first in Div. I. Clarkson finished fourth with 15 points.

"It was a very competitive regional," Hanson said. "Clarkston had a tough team. CC was very strong and showed me why they were ranked in the top two or three. Northville and Clarkston came up just a little short."

scoring for Novi, with our harriers taking seven out of the top 10 places."

The Cats followed their dual meet performance with keeping a 14-year streak alive at Saturday's Oakland County meet at Kensington Metro Park in Milford by placing 10th among a field of 41 teams.

"The Oakland County meet is quite prestigious, with results and a traveling trophy dating back 51 years," Smith said. "It is quite an honor to again be part of history, to be part of the top 10. This meet is a preview of how things start to shake out before the state finals."

Novi accumulated 281 points at the meet, one behind Farmington and 32 ahead of 11th-place Birmingham.

Seahorn, Detroit Catholic Central took first place with 99 points.

"Oakland County is the hotbed of cross country in the state of Michigan," Smith said. "Most, if not all, of the top 10 teams will be representing their schools at the finals. The only thing that may be holding some teams back would be the lopsided and skewed regional setup that is present this year. This meet proves that Novi is one of the top 27 teams in the state. It will be unfortunate if we don't get the chance to prove it."

Schubring (10th in 16:41) and Giampa (13th in 16:48) led the Cats again with a pair of course bests for their careers.

"Not only did Novi keep their 14-year top-10 streak alive, they also kept their 14-year streak alive having at least one All-County runner," Smith said of the two top 30 finishes. "Being All-County is quite an honor. The top 30 in the county represents a 'who's who' in running. Our guys will wear their medals with pride. It was exciting to see these two going out with the front pack right from the beginning. It was obvious that it was their intent to race today. I am very proud of them."

Wrapping up the scoring for Novi was Igiros (68th in 17:56), Gardner (84th in 18:13) and Seahorn, Detroit Catholic Central took first place with 99 points.

"Those guys ran in the trenches, in the huge pack of runners," Smith said. "It is easy to lose concentration with so many athletes bunched together throughout the entire race. I am very proud of these guys, too. It takes five guys to score for a team, not just front runners."

Lee (33rd in 18:35) and Pravato (132 in 18:48) also finished in the top half of the varsity field, although their races didn't count toward Novi's team score, but still helped push the competition further down the list.

In an encouraging sign for the future, the junior varsity squad finished fourth of 41 teams. Junior Travis Trainor (68th in 18:39), sophomore Tim MacPherson (20th in season-best 18:45), junior Mike Benkarski (31st in 19:04), senior Chris Vera-Burgos (35th in 19:09) and sophomore Allen Pater (42nd in 19:18) combined for 144 points.

After racing Livonia Stevenson (3-1) last Tuesday at Cass Bend Park in a battle for second place in the KLA Central Division, Novi (3-1) travels to Huron Meadows Metro Park in Brighton 4:30 p.m. next Thursday for a Stevenson-hosted Kensington Conference meet.

The end of the cross country season is nearing, as an Oct. 29 regional meet at Huron Meadows and a 10th Nov. 6 state meet at Michigan International Speedway in Brooklyn are all that remain on the schedule.

The Cats will have to finish in the top three of 19 squads at the regional meet first, including tough Detroit Catholic Central, Northville and Farmington teams.

After defeating defending Class B champion North Branch, Novi's volleyball squad came up short against defending Class A champion Bloomfield Hills Marian last Saturday in the finals of the Waterford Mot Invitational.

"It was really a great day for Novi volleyball," Novi coach Julie Fisette said. "We really showed a lot of people. We went in with a few things to prove; eye opening for some."

Both defending champions are ranked No. 1 in their respective classes this season. The Wildcats (23-31, 6-0 KLA Central) are ranked No. 9 in Class A, and put that ranking to show with seven victories last week.

During the pool play portion of the Mott Invite, Novi upended Walled Lake Western 25-15, 25-11, 25-10; and Orionville Brandon 25-17, 25-10 to advance as a top seed.

Through pool play, we played the starters for the first game and the entire second string the second game, and the non-starters had better scores," Fisette said. "My bench is so deep, it gave the opportunity for the kids to play all day."

Novi carried their strong play through a tough 25-17, 23-25, 15-11 victory over Temperance Bedford (41-7-1). Senior Erica Robb had 19 blocks to go with her seven kills and three blocks, while senior Laura Subject had an astounding 22 assists, 11 digs and six kills.

"She knows what to do at the net, digging and setting," Fisette said of Subject. "(Bedford) was good for years, but they've been on a streak where they haven't been able to get out of their region."

After the three-set thriller, the Wildcats went neck and neck with North Branch (27-6-1), who had added a state title to their trophy case last fall.

"North Branch is known for their style of volleyball," Fisette said, noting the Broncos use smart kills where they aim for specific players who are weaker diggers.

STRICTLY BUSINESS

Manage employee behavior with policies

Small businesses encounter daily challenges; some are easily resolved while others can be a constant headache. Other than the general economy, employees can be the biggest wildcard. There is no way to guarantee the loyalty, production, or conduct of any employee. But, there are ways to manage some employee behavior.

If an individual is a party to an employment agreement, the agreement can dictate the conditions of employment. The terms of a contract can range from salary, duties, length of time, benefits, discipline and behavior. If the employee breaches the agreement, the relationship can be terminated.

An employment agreement may also include certain non-disclosure and non-compete provisions that can be enforced after the relationship has ended. This is a protection that employers often require when an employee is privy to certain confidences and proprietary information of the employer (such as customer lists, business strategies). The standard that applies to these types of post-employment restrictions is that they must be "reasonable" in time and scope; so there is no "black/white" amount of time, geographic range or material that can be restricted. One right that cannot be "contracted away" is the right to sue the employer for various wrongful actions, such as sexual harassment.

Most employees, however, do not have contracts and are considered "at-will" employees. This means they have no job security and can be fired for cause or no cause. There are some protections available to these employees under the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. For many at-will workers, the threat of job loss at any time may be sufficient reason to be a good employee, but that is not always the case.

The potential for litigation resulting from a workplace is limitless. Wrongful termination suits, workplace discrimimproving the chances of success or a quick dismissal of a lawsuit is possible.

The best advice for an employer is to adopt some type of "employment policy" that gives all employees notice of what type of behavior is unacceptable and will result in discipline. Because every employer is unique, the specific terms and conditions of a policy must be discussed in advance of its adoption. Wherever employees should sign a copy of a policy is also subject to discussion, because it could be considered an "employment contract" based on how the employer enforces the policy.

At a minimum, an employer should provide strict rules related to the use of alcohol and drugs in the workplace; this will also minimize the risk of lawsuit by a non-employee who could be harmed by an intoxicated employee. The policy should provide rules related to the use of computers, including the personal use of business-owned computers and all other company equipment. So long as everyone is on "notice" about their conduct, there is very limited room to argue if the relationship is terminated because of a violation.

Some employers provide additional policies related to drug and tobacco screening, as well as screening the computer usage of their employees. Other employers specifically prohibit dating between employees or carrying weapons into the workplace. Many restrict off-the-job conduct if the employer fears that the conduct has the potential to embarrass or harm the employer's business; this is especially the case with particular speech and political points of view.

The question is whether any of these restrictions are Constitutional. Contrary to what many might want to believe, employment is a privilege, not a right. Some employment relationships can give rise to certain rights in the relationship, such as through a collective bargaining, a tenure program or even a termination hearing.

But, an employee who engages in conduct or speech that embarrasses the employer can be fired without any protection under the 1st Amendment. The U.S. Constitution protects an individual's right to speech or their beliefs from being silenced by the government. A private employer is NOT the government. A private employer is not restricting any rights; employment is a privilege and not a right.

Employers and their employees are in a relationship by choice. The employer makes an investment in its workforce and has certain expectations that the employee should meet. If the employee fails to understand those expectations, cannot meet those expectations or disagrees with those expectations, they are free to go somewhere else. The circumstances of any relationship are not always ideal, but over time they can change and the relationship between the parties can flourish. Remember, if the employer abuses its position of authority, the employee can always seek redress in a court or other proceeding.

Get growing with H2 Hydro-Hydroponics

Walled Lake is rolling out the green carpet for the newest addition to the downtown area, H2 Hydro-Hydroponics Indoor Garden Center.

Hydroponics is a method of growing crops indoors year-round, using water systems instead of soil. Soil-less cultivation is favorable because it produces higher crop yields and allows for plant growth in areas where traditional in-ground gardening is not possible - dreary Michigan winters, for example.

An Oakland County full-service indoor garden center, H2 Hydro houses an enormous supply of grow lighting, hydroponic systems, advanced able to assist customers with equipment and products for all their indoor growing needs. Owner Alex Michal, a 2009 graduate of Walled Lake Central High School, wanted to bring his business concept to the area where he grew up.

"We help you harvest" is our motto," said Michal. "We do design work and can help our customers with the smallest and most basic grow systems, to elaborate grow rooms, to most popular specialty services. Grow room design entails the planning and construction of any space into a one-of-a-kind, self-contained growing area.
