ORION TWP. — Josephine Fessler, 75, a former teacher at the old Pontiac Central Elementary School, died suddenly at home Saturday.

Mrs. Fessler taught first and second grade at Central, on Wide Track and Pike Street, for more than 25 years, says Dorothy Hollister, who taught kindergarten at the school for 22 years.

"She was a very good teacher — the children liked her," Mrs. Hollister says, adding that Mrs. Fessler was proficient in crafts. "She had been teaching crafts at a senior citizen group near her home."

Mrs. Fessler was a member of the Howarth United Methodist Church and the Addison Township Retirees.

She was the wife of the late Harvey Fessler. She is survived by a sister-in-law, Mrs. Lawrence McVean of Rochester; nephew and niece Larry and Judy Wurm; great-nephew, Donald, and great-niece, Kimberly.

Funeral services will to be held at 1:30 p.m. today at the Lake Orion Chapel of the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home. Interment will be at the Oak Hill Cemetery.

The family requests that memorials go to the Howarth United Methodist Church.
