Clarkston Village Merchants Sponsor Spring Stroll

The Village Business Association of Clarkston is once again sponsoring "Spring Stroll" May 4, 5 and 6. All shops will be open until 9 p.m. There will be sidewalk sales and booth space will be available for craftsmen, artists and organizations. Call 625-9777 or 625-1288 for further information.

On Saturday, May 6 from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., there will be a kite flying contest in the park behind Clarkston Mills. The contest will be open to four age groups and there will be prizes for each classification. Bring your own kite.

Officials to Act as Prisoners in Artrain Fundraiser

Jail and Bail, the Artrain fundraiser, will be held on Rudy's lot in the village on Saturday, May 6 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The makeshift jail will be staffed by Sue Vascasseno as head sheriff.

For $5.00, anyone can have someone jailed for a half hour. Five people can even donate a dollar each.

Candidates for jail are being lined up in advance and only those willing to cooperate will be jailed.

The list of "prospective prisoners" so far includes Township Supervisor Whitey Tower, Clerk Chris Rose, Treasurer Betty Hallman and Trustee Jerry Powell. President Keith Hallman and Trustee Fontie ApMadoc have volunteered for the village. Gar Wilson will act as proxy for Fire Chief Tink Ronk and represent the fire department. Representing the schools will be Mel Vaara and Dave Leake from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., Mel Mason and Pastor Bob Walters from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., and Bill Neff from noon to 3 p.m.

Others are still being contacted and will be added to the list if they are willing to cooperate. Inquiries may be made by calling Joan Kopietz at 625-2511 or Adele Powell at 625-2329. Arrangements may also be made to have these prospective prisoners picked within a mile or two of town.

CVP to Present "Ten Nights in a Barroom"

The cast of "Ten Nights in a Barroom" includes Russ Inman (left), Miriam Parr and Judy Rood. Play dates are May 12, 13, 14, 18, 19 and 20.

Tickets for the Clarkston Village Players' production, called a musical melodrama, are available at Tierra Arts. For more information, call 625-5716.

Litter is Literally a Problem

by Carol Balzarini

A sofa, a braided rug, a flocked Christmas tree, some beer and wine bottles...the scene of a belated holiday party? Not at all.

Unfortunately, it's just a typical country road in Independence or Springfield. The melted snow has uncovered the sins of winter. Or rather, the sins of winter dumpers.

Although it was only recently announced that the annual spring cleanup for Independence Township was in doubt, many people seem to have anticipated that situation and decided to do their dumping early. And not in designated places.

As a matter of fact, if a person were not too fussy, he could probably furnish a small apartment with discarded items found on the roadsides.

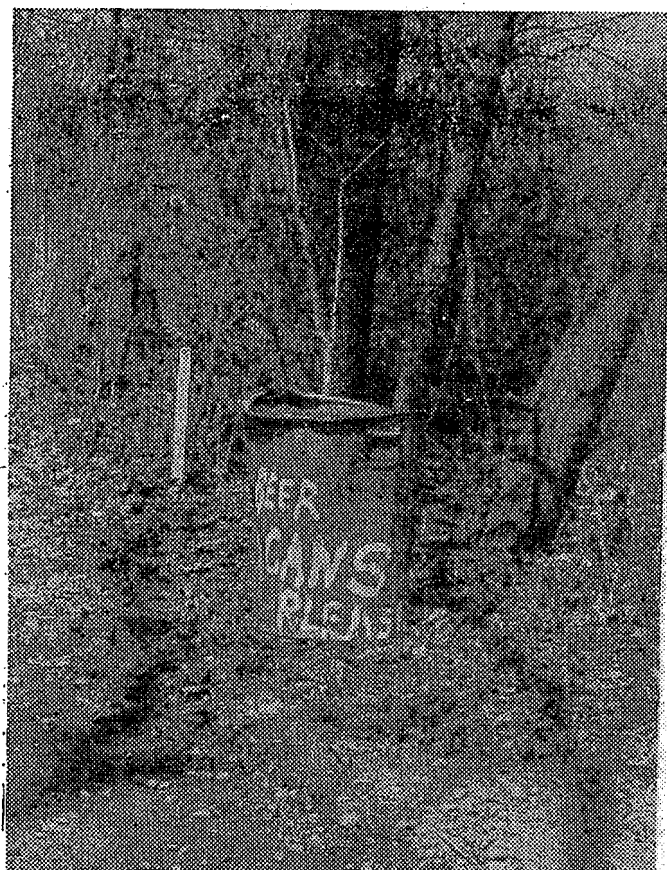

Governmental bodies have recognized the problems created by litter and have made efforts to solve those problems with anti-litter ordinances.

The preamble of Independence Township's ordinance, adopted in 1971, reads, in part:

"In recognition of the adverse effect that uncontrolled deposit of litter has on the health, safety and welfare of its residents, the Township of Independence enacts this ordinance to control the deposit of litter in public and private places in the Township of Independence and to prescribe penalties for the violation hereof."

Under the terms of the ordinance, people are just as responsible for keeping their own property litter-free as Inventive Reese Road residents attempt to combat the litter problem with a garbage can alongside their road. According to one source, their can gets little use.

Question of the Week

SHOULD CASINO-TYPE GAMBLING BE LEGALIZED IN MICHIGAN?

by Sharon Springborn

Keeno. Slot machines. Chemin de fer. Roulette. Baccarat. Blackjack. Should these games of chance and others, be allowed to operate, legally, in Michigan? This was the question asked this week of 10 Clarkston area residents. The number of people on both sides of the question was quite evenly divided with the number of people with no opinion helping to balance the scales.

Five people were opposed to legalized gambling while two people held the opposite view and three either had no opinion on the subject, or hadn't given the subject any thought.

Those who opposed legalized casino-type gambling most often cited the criminal element that often goes along with gambling as the main reason for their opposition.

Ms. Robbie Adams said that she doesn't have as much against race tracks as she does the casino type of gambling. She also feels that an element of corruption is brought to the area by casinos, and that crime and gambling go hand in hand.

"Gambling has too many ties to organized crime," stated Mr. Glenn Appel of Clarkston.

Neither Mr. Chester Beauregard or Ms. D. Cash favor legalized gambling. But while Ms. Cash doesn't feel that any criminal element should be a reason not to legalize gambling, neither does she feel that the state would realize any economic benefit.

Mr. Beauregard feels that "we shouldn't let gambling go any further than it's already gone. I think it would take away from the area, since we already have enough gambling with the horse races."

On the pro side of the gambling question is Ms. Carol Alessi, who would "legalize Las Vegas-type gambling to keep the criminal element out of it."

Also on this side is Ms. Pat Beebe, but she favors the legalization of gambling for an entirely different reason. Ms. Beebe would favor legalizing gambling "if it was going to help us out economically."

And finally, we came to those who didn't have an opinion on the question asked.

Both Ms. Helen Day and Mr. D. Campe said that they really hadn't thought about the subject but couldn't come up with any objections.

But Mrs. B. Jones offered no objections for entirely different reasons. She felt that "it doesn't really matter one way or the other, since legalized gambling does work quite well in some states. But I'm not a gambler, so it doesn't affect me personally."

A house with a beautiful exterior that is simply a hollow shell within, may impress the neighbors and passers-by, but it is of little value to anyone. It simply takes up space. A picture of a house would do just as well.

That same thing is true of people "houses." It is the utilization of inner space which matters, not the outer appearance, though that can be an added plus. However, it is much easier to spruce up the outside of a house than to finish the inside and that may be why so many people are content to quit when the outside work is done. On the other hand, it is not very practical. Houses are to be lived in and used. That is, they have a function - and so do people.

Our personal inner space consists of mental and emotional "rooms." The windows and doors of our "houses" and our "rooms" are our senses. Knowledge and experience come in, move around, and leave again by the same means as they came in, in the sound and motion of energy.

It is important to remember that knowledge and emotional stimuli do come from outside sources, just as food does, and are then processed in our "homes," and are then released again, under normal circumstances.

Under abnormal circumstances, however, energy enters, and we close the "doors" and "windows" and the trapped energy builds up pressure which either seeps out of cracks when we aren't looking, or explodes, causing damage inside the "house."

It is, therefore, important that we concentrate in our remodeling and redecorating plan, and insure ourselves of unencumbered entrances and exits; and also, that we remember that the quality of the energy that leaves the "house" will depend on the quality of the energy that enters, plus (or minus) the experience that occurs within.

This is a very important point to consider, because children (and we all have a child-self within us) assume that what has been there for a long time belongs there - as if a house came complete with furniture, rugs, and draperies.

Nevertheless, we are not born angry, or selfish, or frightened, or shy. Those decorative touches all occurred after the basic structure was completed. In other words, if they are no longer useful, or ruin our "decor," they can be tossed out! That isn't wasteful. You've been sharing those things with everyone with whom you've had contact, for as long as you've had them. Just toss them on the junk pile! Use the room you save for something valuable to be added.

If you are hesitant to toss out something which you've often found a use or need for, even though you consider it an eyesore, then keep it for awhile while you think about it. You should ask yourself a few questions to get you started on your decision-making.

Since it didn't come with the "house," where did you get it?

Most of us acquire habits and attitudes by imitation, or as defense mechanisms. They are responses to situations or people; a means of coping with circumstances beyond the ordinary ones which can be controlled temporarily and then soon forgotten.

One usually becomes selfish because one is taught to be so by someone who gets pleasure out of being unselfish, or a martyr; or it is a protective defense acquired when someone else took advantage of our generosity or naivety. Still another reason for acquiring selfishness or self-centeredness is the fear that love will come from no direction but the self, and therefore the self has a full-time loving job to do.

All of these reasons for acquiring selfishness are logical solutions to problems imposed by relationships with others, and they all have an imprisoning effect. They stand right smack in front of a door or window through which energy should pass, and they block the free flow of knowledge, experience, and feeling.

Selfishness is such a good defense, that other people feel offended by it. Some will simply refuse to approach, while others are tempted to throw rocks against the "door."

A small piece of selfishness should be kept in every home. It can be a practical thing - like a card table - to be used for special occasions. A large hunk of it is out of place in most "person homes," however, and interferes with the free flow of "traffic." The same thing can be said about a number of "pieces of furniture" such as shyness, suspicion, jealousy, and the like.

The idea is to determine the value of some of the things that have been around for a long time. If they have been kept for negative sentimental reasons, toss them out.

Now, some people do not like bare spots in the decor, so it is a good idea to replace as you remove. The trade of a good attitude for one which has been spoiling an otherwise harmonious decor is not really difficult, it can just make one slightly self-conscious at first, but the family and neighbors can adjust. Any change is apt to make people uneasy at first, but changing an attitude is like moving the piano. Everyone will stop and stare, and perhaps resist a change in the old familiar scene - but they'll soon be on their way to taking it for granted. You have a right to move things in and out of yourself without asking for permission from someone else. You belong to you!

What would you like to replace that old habit or attitude with? It should be something that will increase your value so that admiration and appreciation are the result of your efforts. Who would do the work of a complete decorating scheme if nobody was ever to see it or appreciate it?

How about some new ideas or attitudes? Now they are not for the "do-it-yourselfer" unless you are a very creative person indeed. Most of us would do better to consult some experts, at least at the beginning of our effort.

Expert ideas are best found in classical books. The kind that have kept their value over a great number of years. If one begins with basic structures of thought (like philosophy), it is not difficult to move onto more refined thoughts and ideas, and once understanding the field, be able to discover one's own individual truths. It is not unlike studying basic styles and periods of furniture. Out of it should come an appreciation of the art of building furniture - that is, function, design and eventually, creative design. That is the point where one has acquired enough confidence that choosing between antiques, contemporary, or modern becomes quite easy. It is also the point at which one can mix periods quite comfortably.

The true reward of this kind of "moving in" of new ideas while moving out the old eyesores is that one may be so busy with the new, that there is no time for regrets or second thoughts about losing something which has been a part of one for such a long time. However, two things cannot take up the same space, so the choice becomes easy. Who would not prefer a fine, new piece of furniture to a piece of ugly old junk?

Letter to the Editor

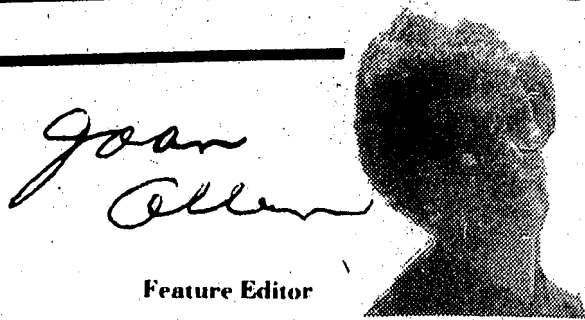

To The Reminder and Area Merchants,

The show "Fantasy Island" is just how our trip to Las Vegas this past weekend was.

The weather was warm and sunny and everything was wonderful. It will be remembered always.

Many thanks to all who made this trip possible. It was unbelievable.

Thanks to all,
Martha Williams

Carol Balzarini Commentary

by Carol Balzarini

Every so often the subject of patriotism, some call it flag-waving, comes up. And just as often that flag-waver is made to feel self-conscious or even embarrassed by it. But I, for one, refuse to feel that way.

Recently, I had the honor and privilege to shake the hand of a man who was a prisoner of war in North Viet Nam for some six years, longer than most other POW's. That man is Colonel Donald O'Dell, better known as "Digger."

Now the base information officer at Selfridge, Colonel O'Dell is a much decorated war hero in the true sense of the word, although he will argue that point. He has been awarded the Silver Star, the Purple Heart, and the Distinguished Flying Cross, among others.

What impressed me the most was the fact that not only did he survive this ordeal, but is willing to talk about it. His experiences were graphically illustrated by a film produced by the government which was a by-product of POW debriefing experiences.

Thirty percent of those POW's survived, the rest pushed so far beyond physical and mental endurance that survival was impossible. They were forced to live without a sense of security so necessary to human existence.

They were encouraged by the POW bracelets worn by so many during those years of the war, seeing them as an indication that Americans really did care what happened to them. On the other hand, the anti-war demonstrations were demoralizing to both the POW's and their families and gave the North Vietnamese a great propaganda weapon.

We need people like Colonel O'Dell to remind us that there have been greater problems confronting our country than inflation and taxes. It came as a shock to me that we seem to have forgotten the horrors of war so soon. Maybe we simply choose to forget the most unpleasant things and remember only the pleasant.

We need people like Colonel O'Dell to remind us that our country has its faults but, right or wrong, it is our country. And until someone comes up with a better system, it will remain our country.

So let's wave the flag once in a while and try to remember what's more important about our way of life.

WE THE PEOPLE

This Week
George
Kuhn
by Joan Allen

Oakland County Drain Commissioner George W. Kuhn is a man with three major job interests.

Now on leave from the Ford Motor Company, he is spending most of his time in the county position of Drain Commissioner, while still retaining his rank of Captain in the Naval Reserve.

Kuhn, one of eleven children, feels that his parents urging that they should spend their time in worthwhile pursuits was a factor in their motivation. Four of his brothers are doctors, and two are lawyers. His family hoped that he would go into Dentistry, but he preferred the world of business.

He was born and raised in Detroit, where his father practiced medicine and presided over the Board of Education, and he attended Detroit Jefferson grade school, and Northwestern High School.

Since military service was a must, Kuhn chose to enlist in the Navy R.O.T.C. program. He attended Harvard Business School, majoring in Naval Finance, and obtained his Bachelor's Degree from Central Michigan University in 1947.

Kuhn served in the Navy during World War II and the Korean Conflict, and is currently active in the Naval Reserve. He has a military assignment in the Defense Contracts Administration, Washington, D.C.

At the Ford Motor Company, Kuhn was Supervisor-in-Charge of Plant Manufacturing and Assembly Coordination at the Highland Park Plant from 1952 to 1957, and Program and Safety Coordinator on the Product Development Staff in Dearborn until his election to the Drain Commission position in 1972.

During the years preceding 1972, Kuhn was involved in government, too, serving as Councilman in Berkley, Michigan from 1957 to 1959, and Mayor of Berkley from 1959 to 1966. He was elected State Senator of the 14th District in 1966, and served in that capacity until 1970.

Kuhn and his wife have two daughters, and, as a parent, he has tried to motivate them as he and his brothers and sisters were motivated by their parents. He feels that women, as well as men, should exercise their rights as citizens, and that they should be active in civic affairs.

He believes, too, that there is definitely room for women in the professions, and that they should aspire to become doctors, lawyers, professors, etc., but he draws the line when it comes to military service.

"We have to draw the line somewhere," he said in an interview. "Women in the fighting lines would be sitting ducks. It is not in the best interests of the county (to have them there)."

As for his future plans, Kuhn states, "I am not here to build empires, but I still believe in what I hoped to do when I took office - the job of merger and consolidation."

"I am a professional administrator, however, and I have the background and expertise to keep my options open. In the meantime, I consider this job a challenge."

Collecting and Repairing Slot Machines is His Hobby

Collecting stamps, buttons and coins. All pretty commonplace hobbies, right? But what about restoring slot machines?

That's the hobby of Mr. William Daugharty of Saginaw. Daugharty is a retired state policeman who used to "smash 'em by the truckload" in the line of duty. He now collects and restores the slot machines for himself or others who would like a usable slot machine to decorate their homes.

He stopped into North Oakland County last week in search of vintage slot machines. Daugharty's start in this unusual hobby came a few years ago when he decided that he would like to have a slot machine to put in his basement. Since he couldn't find a working machine that he could buy, he instead bought one that needed some repairs, and fixed it himself.

He got the original machine restored, and instead of not making any more repairs, he decided that he had enjoyed working on the machine, and others might enjoy owning a working slot machine. So he continued to make the restorations, and began a new and rewarding hobby.

All of the machines that Daugharty collects are put in working order, which isn't an easy job, since the slot machines weren't built to be tampered with. But a fully restored machine can be worth close to $2,000.

Daugharty admits that it is expensive to have him repair a slot machine, because he's "the only one who knows how to do it." So if you want to buy a conversation piece, and price is no object, get in touch with Mr. Daugharty for a truly unusual item.

Readers Review

Oliver's Story, by Erich Segal

Reviewed by Carol Balzarini

In Erich Segal's previous novel, "Love Story," the burning question was "Can Oliver Barrett IV find happiness with a girl who is his social inferior but intellectual equal?" As we all know, of course, he could, and he did, however briefly.

Now Segal follows with another novel asking a similar question. Can Oliver Barrett IV now find happiness with a gorgeous mystery girl who is both his social and intellectual equal and then some? The answer may come as a surprise.

Segal, professor as well as author, still punctuates his writing with all the "socially acceptable" four-letter words currently in fashion. He also leaves the door open for Oliver to return and love again in another novel. Good thinking from an economic standpoint.

Some readers will be pleased to find that Oliver continues to fight for the underdog (as any wealthy young lawyer would be expected to do) and against the "establishment," and to find a new relationship with his father at the same time.

"Love Story" was never received by the critics as a classic in American literature, but was very popular nonetheless as was the movie version of the novel. "Oliver's Story," however, is not as moving. The emotional involvement between the reader and the characters seems to be missing. But it is entertaining, equally popular, and soon to be a movie. The great American success story.

Woodland Wildflowers Walk May 6

A Woodland Wildflowers Walk is scheduled to be held on Saturday, May 6 at 1:30 p.m. at Independence-Oaks County Park located on Sashabaw Road two miles north of Pine Knob in Clarkston.

The two-hour walk, guided by parks naturalist Kathleen Dougherty, will identify spring wildflowers along the park's hiking trails.

Bring your camera, and dress for the weather. Hikers will meet at the new boathouse parking lot.

For more information, call Kathleen Dougherty at 858-0915.

The Problem Solver

Dear Problem Solver,

Q. I work in the Troy area, and I would like to attend a night school after work, so I could get a management job. I have to work, too, so I can't go full-time, and someone said that I have to do that to actually graduate from college. Can you give me some information? I don't know where to start looking.

A. There are many off-campus classes offered by schools in the area, but for your purposes, a look at information for Central Michigan University's Institute for Personal and Career Development might be all that you need.

Central offers off-campus classes in the Troy and Warren areas. This work can be applied on undergraduate credits or graduate credits, and can be taken in eight-week terms in night school. They offer courses in Management and Supervision fields, such as Business Management; Industrial Management; Logistics Management; Personnel Management; and Public Management.

Deadline for registration for these courses is usually the first day of the month of the third month preceding the coursework. That is, June 1 is the last day for enrollment for September courses; August 1 is the last day for November classes, etc.

For more information, write to CMU, c/o Chrysler Institute, 26001 Lawrence Avenue, Center Line, Michigan 48015, or call Cindy Lanski at 757-3731 between 1 and 5 p.m.

All Problem Solver correspondence will be answered.

CHS Vocal Concert May 10

May 10, at 8:00 in the CHS auditorium, is the date for the annual spring concert presented by the Clarkston High School Vocal Music Department. The Mixed Chorus, the Choralaires, the Varsity Chorus and the Madrigal Singers will be offering music of all ages.

At this concert, the seniors of the department will be honored with pins to those who have maintained a "B" or better average; the "Sunshine" award will be presented to that senior who has been outstanding in friendship, cooperation and helpfulness to his fellow peers; the new Madrigal members for 1978-79 will be introduced; this year's League choir members will be honored; and scholarships for summer music camps and college will be announced.

The public is welcome to attend. Donations to help further the department and its functions will be accepted.

Independence Center to Hold High Blood Pressure Class

May is "High Blood Pressure Month," and Independence Center is holding a class on May 9th from 9:00 a.m. to 12 noon to teach interested citizens to take their own pressure. An instruction booklet will be available for purchase at the class. For information and registration, call the Center at 673-1219.

CHS Vocal Department Has Busy Schedule

May 1, 4, 5

Madrigal Singers auditions for new members for 1978-79.

May 3

Members of the music and drama departments will be attending a matinee performance of the musical "Cole" at Meadowbrook Theatre in Rochester.

May 24

The Madrigal Singers will be presenting their annual "Talent Show," 7:30 in the auditorium for the public's enjoyment.

May 26

The Vocal Music Department students of all three class levels will be presenting a talent show for the students of CHS.

June 4

Graduation ceremonies at Pine Knob with the traditional singing of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" by all members of the choruses and accompanied by the CHS Band.

PAST NOTES:

On March 21 and April 14, the Choralaires, members of the Fortissimos and the Barbershop Quartet presented assembly programs for the music students at Sashabaw and Clarkston Junior Highs. They followed this up by running workshops after school on April 14 and April 17 with representatives from each of the different choral groups answering questions concerning the music program at the high school.

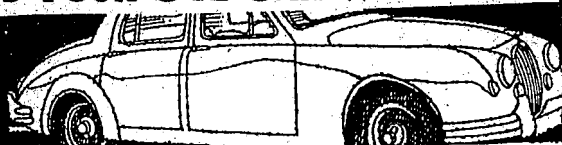

AAUW to Meet May 4

The Waterford branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) will meet at 7:30 p.m., May 4 at St. Stephen's Church, 3795 Sashabaw Road. The group will discuss the topic, "Have We Learned to be Women, Agents of Change?"

Richard R. Wilcox, a former parks commissioner, has been appointed to another term on the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission by the Oakland County Board of Commissioners.

He succeeds E. Frank Richardson, former chairman, who left the commission in March. Wilcox's term runs to the end of 1978.

Wilcox, who served on the Parks and Recreation Commission from 1972-75, has been a member of the Oakland County Board of Commissioners for 14 years. A former chairman of the board, he is now chairman of the Planning and Building Committee.

He is also publisher of The Reminder, a weekly newspaper.

Wilcox is a board member of the National Association of Counties, a board member and former president of the Michigan Association of Counties, and Vice President of Economic Development of the North Oakland Chamber of Commerce. He is also a member of the Pontiac Stadium Authority.

A graduate of the University of Michigan with a B.A. degree in journalism, Wilcox is a resident of Ortonville.

Just One Of Those Days

There's one young miss in high school that has learned a lesson - and that is that the best way to pass a course is to study for tests!

It seems that the young lady had failed to do her work regularly, and panicked when the teacher announced a test for the next day. Instead of trying to cram for it, she carefully wrote important information on several pieces of kleenex, which she took to class, and put on her desk, in order to refer to it during the test.

What she hadn't counted on, was that her teacher would be coming down with a cold on the day of the test, and that, as he walked up and down the aisles between the desks, he would reach her desk just as an attack of sneezes hit him.

He grabbed for the kleenex, as he assured her, between sneezes, that he would replace hers from the box on his desk.

She watched helplessly as her chance for a passing grade was tossed into the wastebasket with her kleenex. It could have been worse, she agrees, if the teacher in question had been more alert and noticed the writing, and so has vowed to keep up with her work from now on - or at least never to resort to using kleenex for a "crib" again.

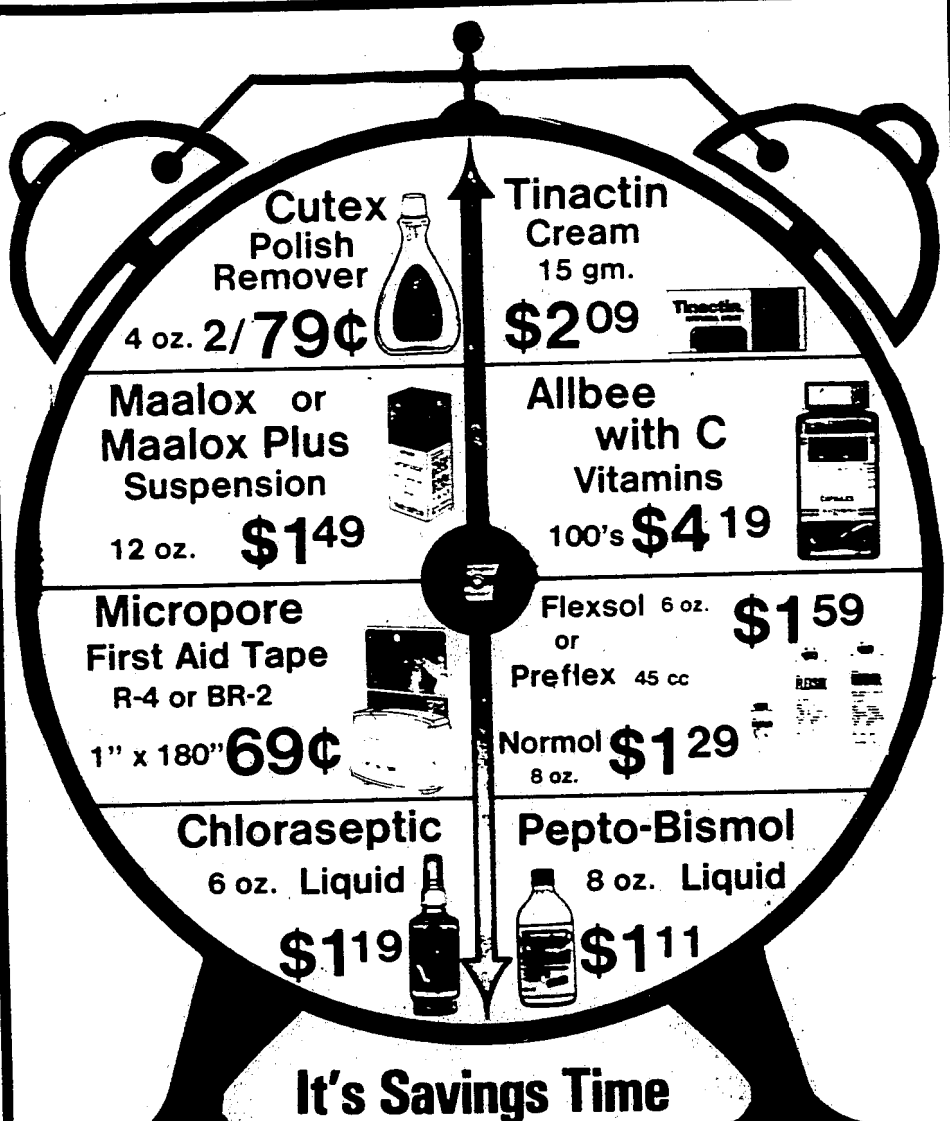

Tornado Sirens to be Tested

Oakland County Executive Daniel T. Murphy announced that there will be another test of the Tornado Alert Siren System on Friday, May 5 at 10:30 a.m. and again at 11. The sirens will last for one minute at each sounding.

The Alert is the first centrally activated system in Michigan. It is designed so that all tornado sirens in the county will sound at the touch of a single button.

In the event of a tornado actually approaching Oakland County, all sirens will sound a steady, three-minute blast. Citizens hearing the sirens are advised to take cover immediately and turn on the radio or TV for further information.

The sirens will not sound an all-clear or be used for any other purpose during tornados except warning of immediate danger.

Know-It-All Grow-It-All

by Bonnie Hale

When plants receive the proper amount of light, water at the right times, fertilizer applied with a light hand, the right temperature and humidity - only then will they thrive. If everything is not right, they will only exist for a while. Everything goes hand in hand with the other. Study the chart below and learn to recognize the symptoms for what they are. With experience, growing house plants will come naturally. It really doesn't take a green thumb (even if there was such a thing). All it takes is knowledge of what a plant needs.

SYMPTOM CAUSE

Lower leaves turn yellow Too much water
Brown spots on flower petals and leaves
Plant wilts
Flower and leaves fall off
Plant rots at or just above soil level

Dried and curled leaves Not enough water
General leaf loss
Petal and leaf tips turn brown
Plant wilts

Leaves roll or curl Sudden rise or fall in temperature
Leaves yellow and suddenly fall off

Roots protrude from drainage hole Transplanting is needed
Roots appear on the soil surface
Wilts between regular waterings
Not much new growth

Edges and tips turn brown Higher humidity is needed
Leaves yellow or brown
Plant wilts and it doesn't need watering

Leaves fade to pale green Plant needs to be fertilized
Lower leaves turn yellow and drop
New leaves are smaller than older ones
Growth stops

New growth rapid and spindly Plant is over fertilized
Top of soil is white and crusty Soil needs to be leached
New growth thin and pale

Plant leans toward nearest light source Not enough light
Leaves on new stems are pale in color

Yellow or brown patches Too much light
Leaves turn brown
Leaves pale green or yellow

Fine webbing on undersides of leaves Insect damage
Edges of leaves are distorted
Holes in leaves
Speckling and discoloration of leaves
Leaf is rough to the touch instead of smooth

Seaman Lewis Departs for Mediterranean

Navy Seaman Apprentice Richard E. Lewis Jr., son of Florence Maczko of M-15, Clarkston, and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bird of M-15, of Clarkston, has departed for an extended deployment in the Mediterranean Sea.

He is assigned to the combat store ship USS San Diego, homeported in Norfolk, Virginia, and operating as a unit of the U.S. Sixth Fleet.

Lewis joined the Navy in January, 1976.

May 6th and 7th at Springfield-Oaks County Park in Davisburg.

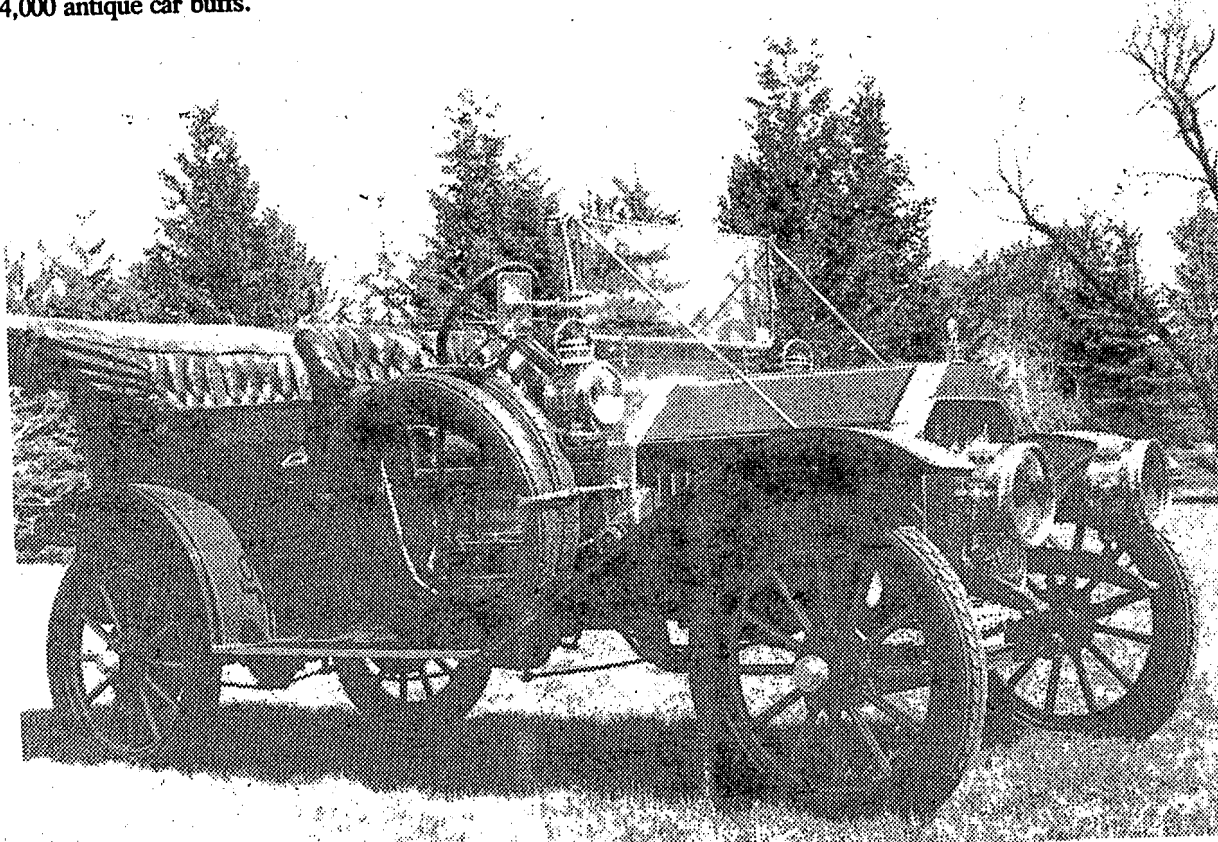

Springfield-Oaks to Host Antique Car Show

The Veterans' Motor Car Club of America's Fourth Annual Antique Car Show and Swap Meet will be held at the Springfield-Oaks Activities Center, Saturday and Sunday, May 6-7. The doors will be open from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. each day. The Center is located on Andersonville Road, Davisburg.

Ted Elam, VMCCA chairman, predicts that over 100 antique parts vendors will participate in this year's event. Last year's show was attended by more than 4,000 antique car buffs.

Approximately 150 cars will be on display. Featured in the show will be a 1910 Hupmobile, 1914 Model T Touring Car, 1922 Buick Roadster and a 1957 Thunderbird. A special attraction, new this year, will be a 1978 Monza Coupe display that will include a plexiglass engine, two driving skill tests and a diagnostic display. This exhibit will be provided by the Chevrolet Motor Division and Vic Canever Chevrolet of Fenton.

For more information, call Gloria Buchanan at 625-8133.

Pictured is a 1910 Oakland Model K Touring Car. Built in Pontiac, the car's owner is Dr. Charles Bowers who is a member of the Veteran's Motor Car Club of America. This is one of the over 100 Antique Cars to be displayed at the Fourth Annual Antique Car Show and Swap Meet at Springfield-Oaks County Park in Davisburg May 6th and 7th.

Tornado Sirens Subject of Public Hearing

Tornado Alert Sirens will be the subject of a public hearing at the Springfield Township Hall on the evening of May 9.

The hearing is designed to receive citizen input to assist the township in making a decision whether or not to spend money to set up the tornado siren system.

Presentation of the system starts off the hearing, along with a demonstration of how it operates and how cost effective it would be. A question and answer period will follow.

County Commissioner Robert Gorsline and Gary Canfield from the Disaster Control Unit.

Foundation of Michigan. In addition to accepting donations for the Kidney Foundation, participating Holly merchants are showing their class by being the only group to donate their entire profits to the foundation.

According to Festival Chairperson Ellen Hilty, the event will begin with a dinner dance at 7:30, May 10th at Holly Greens. Tickets may be purchased from Battle Alley merchants.

The Kidney Foundation Festival itself will get rolling May 12th in Holly and swing into high gear Saturday, May 13. Some of the special happenings include:

Specials for Mother's Day.

4-H clowns making up children's faces.

Performances by a clown on a unicycle.

High school singers - 3:00 p.m. Saturday.

Shriners' wives dressed as clowns and selling balloons.

Service organizations and seniors providing games for children Friday and Saturday.

Magic show on the hour by Amos Johnson - 11:00-4:00, Battle Alley.

others are prohibited from dumping litter on other people's property.

Anyone violating this ordinance is guilty of a misdemeanor and, if convicted, could be fined up to $500 and/or jailed for up to 90 days.

In 1970, Springfield Township enacted its Junk, Anti-Litter, Anti-Pollution Ordinance which goes even further than Independence Township's in scope. Its regulations extend to licensing and regulation of junkyards, littering of bodies of water, and control of noxious substances. Fines for such violations are $100 and/or 90 days in jail with each day that violation occurs constituting a separate offense.

According to township clerk Calvin Walters, the local constable enforces complaints received and has experienced no problems in getting offenders to comply with requests to clean up.

Springfield's annual cleanup is tentatively scheduled for May 20 and the week preceeding. With the cooperation of the Jaycees, township residents can arrange to have refuse picked up and taken to Marlowe's landfill in Rose Township.

Through an agreement with Marlowe, that landfill can be used at any time by Springfield residents although a small fee may be charged for very large items, according to Walters.

The village of Clarkston operates under an anti-litter ordinance patterned after Independence Township's mainly to facilitate enforcement. It was adopted in 1974 and carries the same penalties.

Rep. Trim Says He'll Run Again

State Representative Claude A. Trim (D-Davisburg) today announced that he will be a candidate for reelection to the Michigan House of Representatives for his third term.

Representative Trim represents the 60th House District, which encompasses northwest Oakland County including the townships of Brandon, Groveland, Highland, Holly, Independence, Rose, Springfield and a portion of Waterford.

"I have decided to seek a third term because there is still a great deal that I want to see accomplished," Trim said. "I am deeply involved in several important legislative projects which cannot be completed this session, and I want to see these proposals through to the end."

Trim specifically cited property tax reform as an issue which will require a great deal of attention.

Trim also indicated concern over the Single Business

Tax, stating that there is a need to re-examine the tax and look for a method of lessening the burden of property taxes.

"Time is running short this session," said the Davisburg Democrat. "Because of the large number of pressing issues before us, some of these matters will be carried over to the next session. I think my experience in working on these problems over the past four years will benefit the people I represent."

Trim was elected to the House in 1974 and reelected in 1976. He is serving on the House Agriculture, Mental Health, Taxation, and Towns and Counties Committees.

"I am deeply grateful for all of the support I have received from the people of the 60th District," Trim said. "I would like to continue to be their voice in the Legislature."

Before his election to the House of Representatives, Trim served as a Springfield Township Trustee and as Springfield Township Supervisor.

Davisburg Joggers are a Busy Group

by Dedra Lozier

"Joggers" is an appropriate name for the Senior Citizens of Davisburg.

This active group of about 40 members has events ranging from talent shows to a 16-piece Kazoo Band.

Directed by 84-year-old Ed Thomas of Holly, the Kazoo Band plays at a variety of places.

Some of their engagements have taken them to Clarkston, Holly, Ortonville and Lake Orion.

On a two or three day a week schedule, they play in parades, for churches, rest homes and at the Pontiac

Mall.

Originally only a kazoo band, drums and melody bells have been added.

Other activities are bingo, summer picnics and local trips.

A monthly meeting is held at the Springfield Township Hall with a board of officers presiding.

President Ivy Young from Holly is the youngest member at 66 years old. She has been an area resident since she was eleven years old.

Vice President William (Bill) Moore has lived in Davisburg since 1938.

Secretary Alice Rioux has lived in Davisburg since 1941.

Treasurer Marion Schelp resides in Holly.

A talent show and Easter Hat Parade involving members was planned for April 1.

"The Rotary Anns have done quite a lot for us," said Mrs. Rioux. The Rotary took them to the Ice Capades in 1976 and to the Shrine Circus last year.

Pot luck dinners seem quite enjoyable to these friendly, outgoing people.

Fred Kramer, a band member was most enthusiastic about the dinners. "Davisburg has the best!" Asked if he meant the dinners or the Joggers he stated, "Both!"

What other hobbies do they have besides the Joggers? "Sleeping!" Kramer stated.

Kelly
Tires

The Kellys.
They're good and tough.

Here's how to squeeze gasoline out of a tire.

The Gas-Pincher.

Make a radial that weighs less so it rolls easier. Make it steel-belted so it's tough. Computer-designed tread makes it efficient and economical. Then give the tire a label that means fuel economy.

And you've got the Gas-Pincher. When you put these tires to the test you'll agree they are aptly named - The Gas-Pincher, squeezing more miles out of a tankful.

Inside the Clarkston Cabaret

AD-VENTURES: A Weekly Feature About Our Advertisers

"Soft Rock" best describes the type of music featured at the new Clarkston Cabaret.

Located on Dixie Highway in Clarkston, it is owned by Gary and Cheryl Regentin of Union Lake.

Members of Multi-Lakes Conservation Club, the Regintins have owned the Clarkston Cabaret for six months.

They also own a Clark Service Station in Union Lake. Clarkston Cabaret, which caters to adults has a complete food line of reasonably priced sandwiches, pizza slices, shrimp, homemade soups, chicken and ribs. Clams will soon be added.

Regentin indicated that Clarkston Cabaret specializes in quality food. He said, "I am buying the best food you can buy."

A cocktail hour from 4 to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday is one of many features of the Clarkston Cabaret.

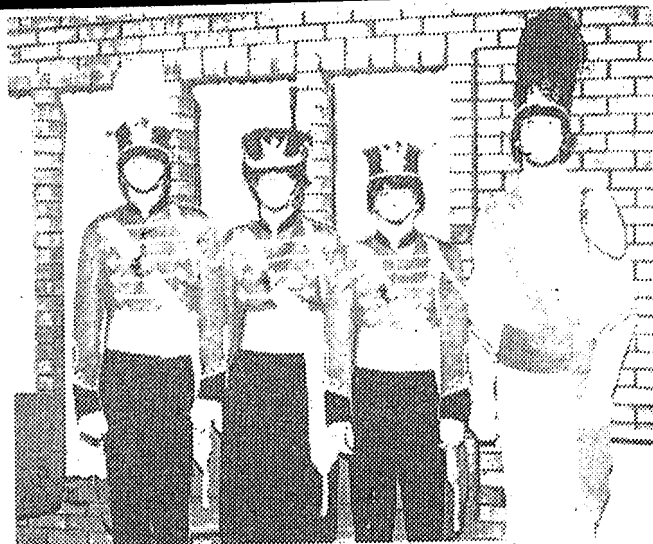

Pitcher and Pizza is on Wednesday. This promotion includes a pitcher of beer and pizza slice at a lower price.

Ladies' night is a discount for ladies every Thursday. Every Friday features a fish fry. The Sunday Special is meals of chicken and ribs.

May 1-5, Clarkston Cabaret is having an introductory special on sandwiches of two for the price of one.

Besides the food, Clarkston Cabaret has tentative plans for a bus trip to a Detroit Tiger ball game set for May 15.

Beginning May 4th and for the next two weeks, the Dan Schaffer Group will be appearing at Clarkston Cabaret for listening and dancing.

Band members recently modeled their new uniforms for members of the school board. From left are Chris Mills in the boys' marching band uniform, Anne Glover in the competition color guard uniform, Bettjean Collins wearing the girls' marching band outfit and Doug Roosa, drum major.

Martha Kennedy modeled the girls' concert dress of black skirt and vest, Jamie Smith [center] represented the jazz ensemble, and Ian Patterson wore the boys' concert dress of black jacket and trousers with a side seam stripe of blue and gold.

TODAY

Yesterday, everything went all wrong,
And I was rebellious the whole day long.
Today - well, today started out all right,
And though I am tired, I am happy tonight.

This morning, I talked to the One who cares;
Some people call it, "Just saying their prayers."
The troubles I told Him, so strangely grew dim,
And I lost them somewhere, while talking to Him.

MY HOME

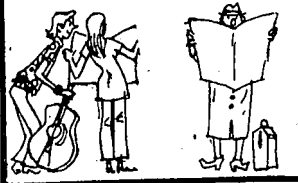

There is no more perfect home,
Than in this land where I roam.
Here I stroll, through wooded land,
With nature's creatures near at hand.

As I walk up to a clear, cool stream,
And find myself a place to dream;
I listen to its mummings low,
As or the rocks the waters flow.

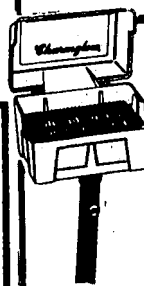

This land reaches waters shores,
Of the Great Superior's mighty floor.
And in case you don't know off hand,
This describes my home, Michigan.

QUICK-TRICKS:

Hang velvet or corduroys on padded hangers to avoid unsightly streaks and pointed shoulders.

Open your wool coat when you are about to sit to prevent spot stretching and prolong use of the coat, too.

To remove tar, rub the spot with kerosene until all removed, then wash per instructions of fabric.

Save those spongy foam-type shoe polish applicators. Clean thoroughly and use for painting trim and moldings.

Time to give your luggage a coat of wax to prolong its use and brighten it up. It also sheds soil and smudges much better.

Gail Ferguson

Someone's in the Kitchen

Gail Ferguson, our guest in the kitchen this week, offers as her favorite from the Clarkston Community Cook Book, an old favorite - Spanish Rice, contributed by Sally Lamm. It's easy to fix, and delicious to eat.

SPANISH RICE

Fry 1 pound of hamburger, 1 chopped onion, 1 cup chopped celery, and 1/2 green pepper. Add salt and pepper to taste. Mix with 1/4 cup rice which has been cooked, and 1 can tomato soup. Bake at 300° for 1 hour.

Gail suggested to us that we might like a variation, too - she likes it with cheese added to the top of it.

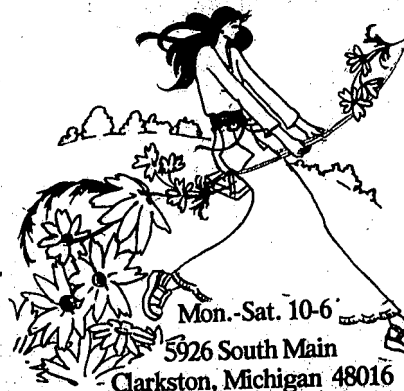

One of Gail's contributions to the cookbook is a good one for summer gardeners who never know what to do with the abundance of their harvest. It is for Green Relish.

GREEN RELISH

4 cups ground onions
4 cups ground cabbage
4 cups ground green tomatoes
12 green peppers
6 red peppers
4 cups cider vinegar
2 cups water
1/2 cup salt
6 cups sugar
1 tbs. celery seed
2 tbs. mustard seed
1 1/4 tsp. turmeric

Grind vegetables, using coarse blade of grinder. Sprinkle with salt; let stand overnight. Rinse and drain. Combine remaining ingredients. Pour over vegetable mixture; heat to boiling point. Simmer 3 minutes; seal in hot sterilized jars. Makes 8 pints.

WHAT'S HAPPENING

A WOMAN'S GUIDE TO SOCCER

I've never been much of a sports enthusiast. I don't understand how anyone can sit glued to a TV set for a whole weekend watching men in stretch knits run around after a ball.

My husband claims my lack of interest is because I don't comprehend the rules of any game. He thought if I started from scratch learning the techniques of a sport, I might enjoy being a spectator.

It was with this reasoning (plus free tickets) that found me at my first Soccer game to watch the Detroit Express play the San Diego Sockers at the Silverdome last Sunday. I carried with me the North American Soccer League Guide to refer to when and if I needed it to follow the game.

The following is a list of the rules of Soccer (per the League Guide) and my interpretation of them as I sat and watched the game.

RULE 1 - The Field of Play (See Diagram)

My Interpretation: The floor of the Silverdome with the football lines covered up. There is a big orange circle in the center and nets on each end.

RULE 2 - The Ball (NASL approved ball - Adidas) circumference 27"-28" weight 14 oz-16 oz.

My Interpretation: Looks like a baseball with black and white checks.

RULE 3 - Number of Players. Each team consists of 11 players, one of whom must be the goalkeeper. A maximum of 3 substitutes may be used.

My Interpretation: The Detroit Express has (according to the program) two Canadian players, five British players, five American players, and a Slav named Slobodan Iljerski. The majority of them are young, cute and short.

RULE 4 - Player equipment consists of a shirt, shorts, stockings and shoes. Goalkeeper must wear colors which distinguish him from the other players.

My Interpretation: The players wear cute little short-shorts with coordinating T-shirts. Their knee-highs also match their outfits. The goalie wears baggy Bermuda shorts that make him look like he just mowed the grass. (The Choo Choo Girls also wear short, I do mean short, costumes). The Detroit Express colors are black and orange. The San Diego team wore blue and gold.

RULE 5 - Referees. One referee is appointed for each match. He is responsible for control of the game and his decisions are final.

My Interpretation: This description sounds like what I envision the role of a parent to be. Anyways, the referee looks like Little Lord Fauntleroy; in black shorts and a white trimmed jacket. I would feel foolish dressed like that in front of my kids let alone 7,000 people, and if I did dress like that, my kids would be laughing so hard they wouldn't hear my decisions and I would certainly lose control.

RULE 6 - Linesmen. Two linesmen assist the referee by indicating off side, when the ball is out of play, and which team is entitled to the corner kick or throw in.

My Interpretation: Two guys stand on the outside lines and point at the ball when it comes by them.

RULE 7 - Duration of the game. Two equal periods of 45 minutes unless otherwise agreed upon.

My Interpretation: From 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m., with a 10-minute halftime where the Choo Choo Girls perform to taped music. Or in other words, you miss the news and Walt Disney.

RULE 8 - The Start of Play. A flip of a coin decides which team will kick off. Each team must stay on its own half of the field and the defending players must be at least 10 yards from the ball until it is kicked.

My Interpretation: If the guy that calls heads wins, he gets to kick first. His teammates cannot run all over before he kicks, 'cause they might miss the start of the game.

RULE 9 - Ball In and Out of Play. The ball is out of play when (a) it has wholly crossed the goal line or touchline, whether on the ground or in the air, or (b) when the game has been stopped by the referee.

My Interpretation: If the ball is within the lines it is in play, if it is outside the lines it is not in play. Or if Little Lord Fauntleroy picks up the ball, the players can't have it.

RULE 10 - Method of Scoring. A goal is scored when the whole of the ball has passed over the goal line, between the goal posts and under the crossbar.

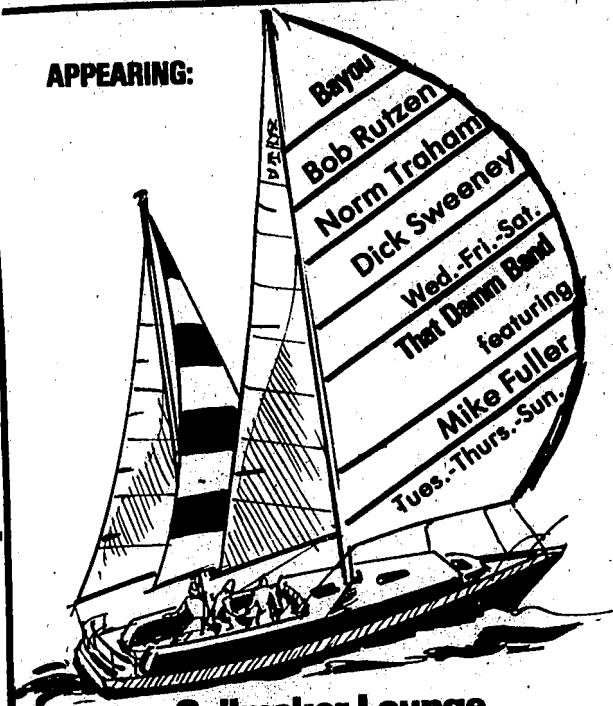

My Interpretation: There are not many goals scored in Soccer, so I was unable to see this happen, because when the two goals that were scored occurred, I was busy talking to the person next to me. I do know that a player can't push the goalie who has the ball in his hands into the goal for a point. That really happened, and the officials wouldn't count it.

There are seven more rules in my Soccer League Guide Book which I do not understand. But if you are interested in learning them so that you may enjoy watching a game of soccer as much as I did, please drop me a line in care of the Reminder and I will explain them to you as best I can.

It takes more than a pretty face to play soccer. It also takes a hard head!!

Young Artists Display Wealth of Talent

Art students in Janet Miller's advanced study class are busy preparing for the student art show to be held at the Clarkston High School band room Monday, May 15 through Thursday, May 18. The show will be open during school hours 7:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m. and from 7-9 p.m. on May 17 and 18.

This year's show, sponsored jointly by the CHS student government and the art department, will not only have drawings and paintings but also some jewelry and ceramics created by Ed Johnson's students.

Susie Leach works intently on her landscape.

Engrossed in a landscape in oils is Katy Hubchen.

5th Michigan Regiment Band to Perform at Pine Knob

Thousands of music lovers will be enjoying the music of the 5th Michigan Regiment Band and the Clarkston High School Jazz Band at the Pine Knob Band Concert on Saturday, May 20 at 7:30 p.m.

The family-oriented entertainment is co-sponsored by the Clarkston and Waterford/Drayton Rotary Clubs for the benefit of various charities in the area.

The 5th Michigan Regiment Band was organized in 1973 as an American Revolution Bicentennial project of the city of Howell, and the State of Michigan. It has since been funded by the Michigan Bicentennial Commission and the Michigan Council for the Arts.

In addition to the Full Band, spectators at Pine Knob can enjoy the Regimental Dancers, the Banjo Band and the Regimental Fifes and Drums.

The Clarkston High School Jazz Ensemble is composed of 18 male members and one female saxophonist. Jazz lovers will be listening to the Big Band sounds of the '50's and the evolution of jazz from that time up to the contemporary sounds of today.

Sports Scoop

It was Clarkston over Huron Valley Lakeland, 27-11 in girls' softball last week.

Top slugger for Clarkston was Kay Pearson, who collected a single, double and a triple resulting in four RBI's.

Sue Pitts from Lakeland started off for the Eagles by hitting a solo first inning home run, plus rapping out two more additional hits.

Clarkston now has 4 wins, zero losses.

Waterford Township took a 9-3 victory over Clarkston last week in baseball.

Bill Nolan, winning pitcher for the skippers fanned five and went all seven innings. He also went two-for-three at the plate and slapped a two-run homer in the seventh inning.

A solo roundtripper in the fifth was cracked by Steve Smith, who also had three hits in four attempts.

Jeff Warden lead the Wolves by knocking in two runs with a double.
