Barbershop Spectacular at Pine Knob

Motor City Chorus members met recently to begin preparations for the upcoming Pine Knob Barbershop Spectacular, sponsored jointly by the Clarkston and Waterford/Drayton Rotary Clubs and the Southeast Michigan Barbershop Chapters of S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A., Inc. The event is scheduled for Saturday, May 19 from 8:00 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

In addition, three internationally known quartets will be featured as well as the Lakeshore and Wolverine Choruses. The "Vagabonds" will be making their final public appearance on that evening and a tribute has been planned to honor them. Many times international finalists "Citations" will also appear along with the comedy quartet "New Baltimore Exit."

Finale of the Spectacular is a mass chorus presentation featuring the largest number of singers ever assembled at one time on a stage.

Advance tickets can be obtained through ticket chairman Tom Rademacher at Rademacher Chevrolet in Clarkston (625-5071) or from Hudson's Northland, Pontiac, and Oakland Malls.

DOWNTOWN FENTON REBIRTH BEGINS

The rebuilding of downtown Fenton is underway, fifteen years after the effort was begun as an Urban Renewal Program. Ground breaking for the Fenton Square Project took place at 11:00 a.m. on Friday, April 20. Lieutenant Governor James H. Brickley was guest speaker.

In the first stage of the project, two buildings with almost 25,000 square feet of floor space will be constructed. Also, a parking lot, walkways and landscaping will be built in the first stage, which will be completed in late 1979. Leasing of the retail space in the new facility is already being arranged through Carl Rosman and Company of Southfield.

Later stages of the project involve the construction of up to four more buildings, two parking lots, and additional walkways and landscaping. At least a dozen retailers are expected to locate in Fenton Square, providing over 100 jobs and tax revenues in excess of $200,000 annually. The total cost of the project is presently estimated at $3.2 million.

The revitalization of Fenton's Central Business District began in the 1960's with the aid of federal urban renewal funds. In 1973 and 1974 the land was purchased and cleared, and the roads and utilities were improved under the Urban Renewal Program.

Just One of Those Days

The lady who laughingly tells this story claims that she is married to the neighborhood grouch. The gentleman in question all but cuts his lawn with manicure scissors, and his garden is the love of his life. Naturally, he is already looking forward to the day his yard springs into bloom!

The children in the neighborhood are used to the "grouch's" ways, and they steer clear of his yard. A new family of four boys moved in this winter, however, and grouch hardly allowed them to bid the movers farewell before he was over to have a word with the man of the house.

"Ordinarily, I'm a reasonable guy," he said to the new neighbor, "but when I see a potential problem in the making, I believe in nipping it in the bud!" He then went on to explain about the love and care he lavishes on his yard, and how he would react if the neighbor's four boys so much as put one footprint on his lawn.

The new neighbor made no comment other than, "You don't have to worry about my boys." That ended the conversation, as he closed the door firmly—in grouch's face.

It was two weeks before the neighbors met again, and grouch knew it was "just one of those days," when he was hurrying home via the expressway, and his speedometer had crept up above the speed limit, and he saw a light flashing in his rear view mirror. Naturally, he pulled right over and waited for the law enforcer to approach the car. It wasn't the uniform that worried him, but the words, "Ordinarily, I'm a reasonable guy, but when I see a potential problem in the making..." All he could say was "Oh, no!" as he looked into the unsmiling face of his new neighbor. He wasn't surprised that he got a ticket—in fact, he has the grace to admit that he deserved it—for more reasons than one!

HER PHOTOS CAPTURE BEAUTY, SERENITY OF AREA

Leona Hutchings, who has worked on and off for The Reminder for the past twenty years is one of my favorite photographers. She can do things with her Yashicas, that it would take me days to duplicate.
Her photography is exhibited in countless places across the United States, including reprints in many magazines and newspapers.

So when Leona brought these familiar, but beautiful scenes, of our own area into the office, I couldn't resist sharing them with you.

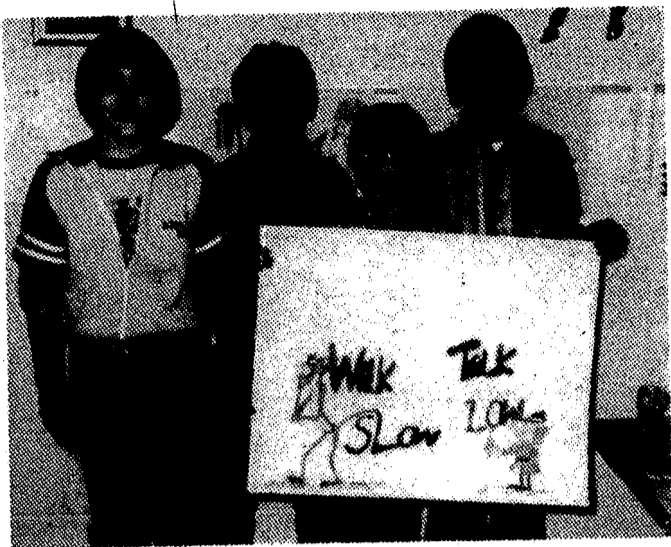

The Depot Street park is a photographer's paradise and Leona manages to capture its early spring beauty. Notice the reflections in the water.

DAVISBURG ELEMENTARY EMBARKS ON "Walk Slow - Talk Low" Campaign

Students and teachers of the Davisburg Elementary School have been engaged in modifying behavior to minimize noise in the halls.

The school now has 780 students and the overcrowded conditions have contributed to distractions to classes as students pass on their way to lunch, band, gym classes, recesses, Instructional Materials Center, and special services.

A series of staff meetings and assemblies have been held and all are now more conscious of how noise can be disruptive. Signs reminding children to walk and whisper are now displayed in the halls. Classes of the week are now selected for special honor in categories--Grades kindergarten, 1 and 2; grades 3 and 4; as well as grades 5 and 6. Classes of the week are determined by nomination of cooks, aides, custodians, teachers, and the principal who observe classes as they pass in the halls. A weekly drawing is held to determine which honored class will receive a gym period with James Kelly, the principal.

A slogan contest was held this past week. The winning slogan "Walk Slow--Talk Low" was submitted by Tim Packard a second grade student in Mrs. Risner's room. Runner-ups were, "If you want to be cool-Follow this rule-Walk and Whisper in our school" submitted by Scott Schang and Steve Stack of Mrs. Wylls' fourth grade class; and "Walk here and there-Do not shout-If you care" authored by Clay Phillips in Mrs. Risner's second grade room.

INDEPENDENCE BOARD REFUSES TO RESCINE PAY RAISES

Clerk Chris Rose placed reconsideration of recent pay raises granted board members at the annual meeting on the agenda of the April 17 meeting of the Independence Township Board over the objections of Supervisor Floyd Tower.

Tower prefaced discussion of the item saying he would not allow a motion on the subject because it was a determination made by the electorate at the annual meeting held March 31. Salary-setting is one of the few duties left to the voters at that meeting.

Rose felt a seven percent increase for supervisor, clerk and treasurer was sufficient without the additional 8.33 percent added to that. The electorate allowed for the rescinding of that additional increase if it would jeopardize any federal funds earmarked for Independence Township. Contacts with the Council of Wage and Price Stabilization indicate it may do so. The initial seven percent increase was in line with President Carter's suggestion guideline, the second increase was not.

Tower said he wanted proof that funds would be jeopardized not just possibilities. He told Rose to give the additional increase back if he didn't want it.

Trustee William Vandermark echoed Tower's initial comment saying the board cannot and should not act without concrete evidence.

Trustee Rudy Lozano felt a motion would be proper because the right to rescind had been built into the proposal in the first place at the annual meeting.

Rose defended his position saying the federal government's way of letting the township know would be by denying funds at the time, not with a letter in advance. He said he had also talked to Jim Brennan, the county finance director, who told him compliance with the voluntary wage guidelines would be one criterion for application for grants.

The motion to rescind the additional 8.33 raise awarded at the annual meeting was defeated by a 3-2. Lozano and Rose in the minority. Treasurer Fred Ritter and Trustee Mike Thayer were absent.

THOUGHTS 'N THINGS

One of the worst mistakes we humans make in our lives is that of comparing ourselves with other people. Not that it isn't completely normal to wonder "how we're doing" when we are in competition for a job or a mate or a club membership. Comparison is one way of knowing whether or not we should get our hopes up, or be content with the lesser prize--a manner of making realistic judgments of how the world sees us in relation to our fellow-people. It does not say anything really important about us however, and we, ourselves, can become extremely confused about goals and values if we fail to remain inner-oriented.

Comparing ourselves with other people as a rule, is external-orientation. It is as foolish as comparing apples and oranges. There is no need for it, and it is comparison of unlikes. It is possible to compare sizes and caloric values of course, but any attempt to compare taste is ridiculous. An apple must be compared with other conditions of itself, and the same is true of an orange. The same thing is true of a human being too.

It is important that children understand that other people's judgments are incomplete assessments which are based on their own system's of value judgments. Otherwise, thoughtless, overly critical, and ignorant opinions would seem to be as important in self-assessment as a parent or teacher's. Admitting the entirely human (and imperfect) state of the adult self to a child does not undermine the child's respect for the adult. Any normal child reaches such conclusions at a very young age and it is only the adult's attempts at pretended perfection that causes the child's loss of respect.

The healthiest way of viewing the self (and, if one must, judging the self) is to spend some time in remembering and recollecting, and in imagining that

Comparing ourselves with other people as a rule, is external-orientation. It is as foolish as comparing apples and oranges. There is no need for it, and it is comparison of unlikes. which cannot be remembered or recollected. Consider the state of one's being on the day of birth. Then make a list of all the hurdles and problems that an infant must face in the first year of life; the second; the third; etc. It is absolutely amazing what children manage to accomplish before anyone tells them what they have been up against. If we had been warned, as infants, of the work involved in learning to walk, to speak, to feed ourselves, and dress ourselves while adjusting to a new world of ideas, thoughts, feelings, sights and sounds, not to mention strange people and animals--a good many of us would have stated flatly, "I can't do it!!" Others would have considered the tasks possible, but would have refused to exert the energy. Still others would have been immobilized by the fear of failure. It is not knowing about failure that allows babies to "do what comes naturally." Learning about the world, and how to handle it, comes naturally to babies, just as it does to other creatures that have life. The growth potential is built-in.

Parents and babies are happy with baby's rate of development until someone else points out that another baby of the same age is more advanced. Then parents begin to badger and coax their pride and joy to move ahead a little faster, and baby begins to feel the result of comparisons.

What begins in innocence, because parents are young and over-eager, grows into a real problem by the time children begin school. Under-achievement and failure, along with other signs of "poor adjustment" affect the whole family, because they appear to reflect on the whole family. Worry and concern over problems of adjustment of any members of the family builds to more pressuring. Some teachers classes are getting better scores on tests than others, and so whole classes are urged to compete--then whole schools, and whole school systems get into the act. The foolish thing about the whole situation is that the comparisons which are made are as limited as "the caloric value of an apple as compared to that of an orange." One figure, or one fact of comparison means nothing important. It only serves as a guide, or a subject of discussion.

Now, comparing oneself with oneself is important. Comparisons such as height, weight, stamina, and well-being provide feedback for us. Comparing ignorance with education or vocational skills with helplessness are good comparisons when we look back and see how far we have come in a short lifetime. That kind of comparison gives us some idea of what we can accomplish in a certain period of time. Comparing our abilities as they are at any given time with our own ideal of what we hope to accomplish, and our chances of accomplishing our goals is a helpful comparison that allows us to make realistic adjustments in our lives. Comparing ourselves to others, and comparing what we have or do not have--with what others have, or do not have, however, provides us with as much information as the comparative caloric value of our apple as compared to our orange--such comparisons serve as facts or figures, and topics of conversation.

Now it may seem silly to make an issue of this, but it is important to retain our sense of individuality in a society such as ours--and refusing to be a statistic or "part of a group" used in a study as to the "norm" seems silly in the computer age! On the other hand, to slide into a state of apathy because everything seems too "big" or too "general" is to accept existence rather than life. The secret of healthy survival lies in the constant awareness of the uniqueness of each human being, and one's own individuality. Understanding and appreciating the gifts of one's own abilities and possibilities, and nurturing and developing them--the reaching of one's own full potential, with no time to compare with "what the other guy has got--or is doing"--Now that's living!!

EDITOR:

They cut the sewer tax, ad valorem, down to .6 mills by using $100,000 out of the Golden Surplus of $425,000. One fourth of the total surplus was voted to pacify us "grumblers who do not use the sewers."

How can the facts be so distorted so? Three fourths of this whole township has no sewers to use, anywhere near their properties. Well, we don't want them either. Some areas did want them. The rest of us have been paying for them--a rip-off for past three tax years with over 20 more years to continue to pay for non-existing usable sewers to most of this 36 square miles of the township.

Jerry Powell is right "to give the money back to the people."

Chris Rose asks the "auditor to be doubly or triply careful in auditing the sewer funds."

It is about time our elected officials concern themselves about the mistakes previous officials caused and to correct it--if they can.

My gratitude goes out to all 583 who signed the petition. There is still time for greater efforts to be made to put that Golden Surplus--All $325,000 left of it--into the sewer fund and then we will really start to rebuild faith in our government--Maybe!

Glad,
Iva Sommers Caverly

DEAR EDITOR:

I feel that Mr. Carter has made a wise, but tardy move in ending controls on oil. However, I believe that the windfall profits tax he proposes is unethical, unfair, un-American, and unwarranted. He labels this enterprising and successful industry that produces one half of our petroleum needs (and supplies us with the rest) as big oil. By insinuation, this is some kind of monster in our midst. After all, what is big oil but millions of little oils, who hold the shares of these competing companies? In the past, figuratively speaking, many have lost their shirts in oil speculation. But now that the industry is riding the world tide of rising prices, our president has decreed that these profits are unjust, and would divest the shareholders of their dividends. What industry might be next? His message to investors is clear. It's OK to lose money, but unholy to make it.

The investors of America keep 97,000,000 people working. The profits they make fuels all government activities and our way of life. They are the geese that lay the golden eggs. Our economic competitors in other nations pamper these geese. Mr. Carter proposes killing them--by siphoning off their legitimate profits!

Investors in oil must be assured that should their venture result in profit, it will not be removed by some government sleight of hand. They will then dig deeper into the bowels of the earth for its treasure. The OPEC nations will face the stern realities of private enterprise. With our ingenuity, alternate power sources will be developed, and these nations will no longer hold all the energy marbles. In short, we can have our cake and eat it too.

Others may approve of Mr. Carter's Robin Hood approach to bolster an ever empty treasury and his sagging popularity, but heaven forbid, not me, even though I stand alone.

WHAT PROTECTION SHOULD I HAVE FOR MY FAMILY?

Most people feel the responsibility to assure their family or survivors a reasonably smooth adjustment to life without you. Fulfilling this responsibility helps greatly in your peace of mind.

Life insurance protection, written up by a knowledgeable agent to suit your situation, is an important step.

A will is an essential document that will assure your estate will be directed as you desire. State laws vary so a competent lawyer in the state of your residence is your best advisor. Important items to include in your will might include the naming of an executor, your bequests of significant properties, trust funds, and any memorial or remembrance gifts.

Pre-planning your funeral arrangements is also a great relief to your survivors. You definitely will relieve their burdens in their hours of sorrow and we can help you with this without cost or obligation.

Keep in mind that safe-deposit boxes are usually inaccessible for some time after a death. A small savings account or a book of Traveler's Checks which are immediately available will help until the estate is settled.

OFFENDERS INCREASE AT ALARMING RATE

OVERDUE BOOKS A BIG PROBLEM FOR INDEPENDENCE LIBRARY

by Carol Balzarini

There's more to operating a library than just lending books and keeping them in repair. A growing problem both in Independence Township and nation-wide is books being permanently "borrowed," checked out by both children and adults and never returned.

Acting librarian Lucy Embrey could give no firm statistics on the number of books overdue or on the amount of unpaid fines. She just quietly pointed to a long drawer containing those for 1977 and 1978 alone and to the six to eight inch stack for the month of March this year.

According to Mrs. Embrey, the problem has increased to the point of being a full time job for one person just keeping track of fines and overdue books. Normal procedure is to send a postcard after the book is 14 days overdue, then a statement when the fine reaches $2 plus the cost of the book itself. If the book is checked out to a child, the statement is sent to the parents.

The public service aspect of a library makes the employees' jobs difficult. It's not easy to argue with a customer who claims never to have checked the book out in the first place even though his card number is on the book card.

The excuses are many. "My insurance company is supposed to pay for it." Or "I know I returned that book a long time ago." Or "Someone else must have used my number."

Independence is only one of many libraries to have moratorium days when books may be returned with no questions asked, no fines charged. Two previous ones netted a dozen books the first time, less than a half dozen the second. Mrs. Embrey would like to see another one scheduled soon, perhaps better publicized than the last.

Most of the books which have been permanently "borrowed" are not replaced unless they are in demand, only occasionally are they replaced by the customer. Many times township books find their way into school libraries and vice versa with the librarians making the exchanges.

Some books in the library files have been out since 1968. Library personnel have no way of knowing whether the card holders still live in the area or not. They can't catch up with them until they come in to renew their cards. At renewal time, if books or fines are owed, they will not be allowed to check out more until the fines and books have been taken care of.

A check of the files show that whole families have overdue books. Fines of up to $15 are owed by one individual. Teachers are among the permanent "borrowers." Children and adults are offenders in equal numbers.

A student has borrowed four books on ESP and psychic phenomena. One card holder has a total of $26 in horse books. An adult has nearly $20 in gardening books. Somewhere there is a missing book called Fashions in Makeup listing for $30. Other volumes out have to do with art, real estate, bottle collecting, physiology and anatomy, and women and politics.

As previously stated, this problem is not unique to Independence Township alone. Public libraries nation-wide are experiencing similar situations as well as university and school libraries. Some libraries have resorted to "book detectives" to retrieve long-overdue and stolen books. Some of these detectives have brought in books equal in value to 2-3 times the salaries paid them. Other libraries have gone to prosecution in civil court. Still others have installed electronic security systems.

A recent article in a Sunday newspaper magazine stated, "If only one percent of the nation's library books were stolen each year, that would add up to 15 million volumes at a replacement cost of at least $225 million. In fact, from 2-30 percent of some collections disappear every year, and dollars that could buy new books are squandered instead on replacing stolen ones."

It's NATIONAL SECRETARIES Week FUTURE SECRETARIES RECEIVE ON-THE-JOB TRAINING

by Carol Balzarini

Clarkston High School and the Northwest Oakland Vocational Education Center (NWOVEC) each have programs preparing young people, primarily women, for the broad range of jobs collectively called secretarial work. These programs are highlighted this week in honor of National Secretaries Week.

The high school program is called office co-op designed to let the student attend school half a day and get on the job experience the other half. To be eligible for co-op, the student must either take a two-hour office vocational block class their junior year or take it consecutively with co-op their senior year. They must be seniors, have a good attendance record, and maintain a C average or better. Two hours of school credit are given for work experience; they receive minimum wage for the hours spent on the job.

Clarkston High School currently has 28 girls working in the office co-op program. The students are employed by doctors, lawyers, insurance companies, hospitals, income tax services, and many departments in the Oakland County courthouse.

Once a month office coordinator Anne Reeves visits the place of employment to talk with the employer to see how the girls are progressing. Each marking period the employer completes an evaluation form covering the following areas: knowledge of job, quality of quantity of work, dependability, work organization, attitude, personal appearance, initiative and appearance of work station. The coordinator discusses the evaluation with the student so she can improve in areas marked by employer.

At the same time, the students take a co-op related class. In it topics such as grooming, human relations, telephone techniques, skill improvement, understanding their company and areas the individual student needs improvement in are covered.

In the spring, the students and their employers attend the annual co-op banquet. Many of the students continue working with their co-op employers on a fulltime basis once they have graduated from high school.

NWOVEC offers a two-year program with the acronym TOPS which stands for Total Office Procedure Systems taught by Louise Dube and Paul Witek. The students' junior year is spent in basic skill building such as typing and using calculating equipment. In the second year, the students put those skills to work in job-related tasks using simulated packets of legal paperwork and insurance forms, for example. This year the students have been running a simulated cosmetic company called Serendipity, Inc.

Toward the end of the program, qualified students

Judge Gerald McNally discusses a few tasks Vicki Alexander will do for him as part of her co-op training.

A Hint for Better Golf

DO YOU WANT to play golf this summer? Properly fitted glasses may do the trick, according to the Better Vision Institute. Good glasses are especially helpful in putting, reading the green and judging stroke and distance. Bifocal wearers who find the "reading" portions of their lenses are in their line of sight when addressing the ball may have special "golf bifocals" made. These special lenses have a very small bifocal at the bottom of the lens for checking the score card or reading the table grill menu. It is so small and so low in the lens that it does not interfere. The Better Vision Institute warns that a professional eye examination is the only way to find out if you need correcting lenses or other vision help.

HUMMEL AND FOX TO LEAD CLARKSTON TOPS

TOPS MI 1093, Clarkston installed new officers for 1979-80, leader, Alice Hummel, co-leader, Cheryl Fox, secretary, Marcella Hollis, treasurer, Helen Austin.

Take Off Pounds Sensibly is the organization that helps those who are serious in shedding unwanted pounds.

Cheryl Fox, the newly elected co-leader has been an inspiration to her chapter, who meet at St. Daniel parish on Friday mornings at 9:30 a.m. Cheryl has eliminated over 60 pounds to become a size 10-12. Most of her weight was lost while pregnant with her second daughter.

TOPS State Recognition will be held in Detroit on May 18th and 19th. There will be approximately 3,000 members who plan to attend workshops, graduation to KOPS (Keep Off Pounds Sensibly), and to give honor to the King and Queen of TOPS in the State of Michigan.

IMMUNIZATION CLINIC

Oakland County Health Division will offer a free immunization clinic in Clarkston at the Independence Center, 5331 Maybee Road May 3, from 1:00 - 3:30 p.m.

Immunizations for measles, German measles, mumps, polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough are available.

A parent or guardian must accompany a child under 18 years of age and bring any previous records of immunizations.

OAKLAND COUNTY 4-H YOUTH PROGRAM AND PONTIAC MOTORS HONORS 4-H ALL-STARs

One hundred fifty Oakland County 4-H'ers were honored at a recognition reception hosted by the Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors at their Executive Office Building, April 22, with Ms. Velma Linford as featured speaker for the Sunday afternoon event. Linford is a nationally known educator and Michigan Distinguished 4-H Program Leader.

Her address to Oakland County's 4-H ALL-STARs was a tribute to their positive community involvement, stressing the value of that involvement continuing in the future.

INDEPENDENCE OAKS PARK HOSTS RARE STUDY OF WOODCOCKS

Bird watching enthusiasts have an opportunity to witness the spring courting habits of the woodcock, Friday, April 27 at Independence Oaks County park near Clarkston.

"To the casual observer, this annual rite often goes unnoticed," explains Kathleen Dougherty, park naturalist. "In Michigan, the woodcock is a favorite target of hunters in the fall. But each spring, these creatures are involved in an amazing courting ritual that takes place in the air."

The 1 and 1/2 hour outing begins at 7 p.m. The program is free but advance registration is required. However, the regular park entry fee is in effect. Interested persons may call 858-0916 or 625-0877.

The Michigan State Contest Drum Majorettes of America Contest, sponsored by the Pontiac Jaycees, was held on Saturday, April 7, at Brandon Middle School, in a benefit for juvenile diabetes.

The Senior Baton Twirling team captured the team honor for the 4th consecutive year. The girls on the team are Kathy Cameron, Binky Hilthorn, Debby Ragatz, Cindy Parrott and Marsee Burns, from Community Activities, Inc., in Waterford.

"The Cadettes" of C.A.I. took 1st place in the Junior Baton Twirling Team division. The girls making up the team are Wendy Ragatz, Cindy Timoff, Shelly Tanner, Suzette Perry, Sally Perry and Tina Chenhalls.

A D.M.A. contest will be held on June 17, at C.A.I. This contest is free to the public, but if any further information is desired, call either C.A.I. or Linda Atkins at 674-0050 or 674-2114.

The Detroit Professional Photographers Association is holding an auction of photographic equipment on Sunday, April 29, at the Michigan State Fairgrounds Community Arts Building.

The time to register your equipment is from 8-11 on Sunday the 29th of April. Viewing the equipment will go on from 11-12 noon, with the auction beginning promptly at noon.

All donations will go to the DPPA Memorial Scholarship Fund, with everyone welcome to buy and sell at the auction. If you need more information, contact 542-4476.

ball program run by the Independence Township Recreation Department, Director Tim Doyle explained much of the higher costs were directly related to the loss of CETA employees. At first it was only summer employees, he said, now it includes full time employees. The programs must make up the deficit or else they would have to be cut. The fees, he said, have been raised 25 percent in all programs.

Ray Welch, coach of a girl's softball team, questioned that figure saying the girls had paid $10 last year and $15 this year. Doyle said they were raised to equal that paid by the boys.

Welch reiterated statements made last week in a letter to the editor in The Reminder about kids playing on "the worst rock piles in the district." Only last year were the girls allowed to use the facilities as at Clintonwood, the township park.

Doyle defended his adult ball program as being one of the few which paid its own way. "We need more facilities," he said. "We do the best we can with what we have."

One parent was concerned with the fee scale for the boys and girls saying a family with five boys or five girls could play ball for less money than a family with one of each.

The Recreation Department has separate fee scales for boys and girls. The first child pays $15, the second $5 and every child thereafter $3.

Doyle said originally they had only offered baseball for boys; softball for girls was started several years ago. He explained they were two separate programs with different balls, different bats, and different catcher's equipment. The two programs now require additional supervision.

"We are definitely not trying to discriminate," Doyle said. "There is nothing in our rules that says girls cannot play baseball. Are dollars your concern or where do they (the kids) best belong?"

Joe Stetz, another softball coach, said, "Ridiculous. Many other districts charge less than we do. The whole township pays to light the field used by men and women and many of them are from out of town."

Welch questioned the 14 games played by the young people as opposed to the 22 played by the adults. "Why do the kids pay more than the adults? The park is for enjoyment not a commercial enterprise. Why do outsiders pay the same as kids?"

Generally adults in the softball program pay $13 for residents and $15 for non-residents in addition to a sponsor fee.

Stetz summed up the situation saying it was a fine program but urged a reconsideration of the fees.

Trustee William Vandermark acknowledged CETA cutbacks had hurt and the board had also been cost-conscious. Fees were one way to pick up revenues. His motion that the cost of rolling back fees be presented at the next meeting died for lack of support.

Trustee Jerry Powell said they could quote figures all they wanted but dollars were the bottom line. The answer was not in surplus funds.

BUSINESS BEAT

The Lake Orion Diver's Den, located at 12 West Flint Street in Lake Orion and is owned by Darryl Coulman, specializes, as the name would suggest, in equipment for both the skin and scuba diver.

If a scuba tank, regulator, wet suit, mask, fins or a snorkel is needed, a good place to start the search would be at the Diver's Den. With equipment by Dacor, White Stag, Water Sports, Parkway, Pasidon, Sherwood, Seatec, Sea Quest, Farallon, Oceanic and Teklite to choose from, whatever is necessary is sure to be found. The store specializes in fitting the diver in the proper type of equipment.

So far, the Diver's Den has been in business for two years this coming June. Additional lines of equipment have been added and the store has grown by so doing.

Also, two locations, Romeo High School and Avondale High School are taught at, instead of the previous one. The owner feels that the diver is better served by offering him/her more lines of equipment to choose from.

Before becoming the owner of the Diver's Den, Darryl Coulman had 12 years of experience as a diver, with 5 years as a Certified Open Water Scuba Instructor through the Professional Association of Diving Instructors.

Now Darryl and his wife, Barb, sponsor the Diving Club which has about 30 members—all certified scuba divers. The club, which meets the first Thursday of every month, takes trips to Tobermory, Canada, Salisbury, Ohio and many other places.

About the club, Darryl says "If you've ever thought you might like scuba diving, now's the time to try it. You'll love it!" As for the store, Darryl is always thinking about expanding it further.

NWOVEC Food Services Students Attend RESTAURANT SHOW AT SILVERDOME

PHOTOS by CAROL BALZARINI

January grad Ken Bosquez of Clarkston was as interested in the Pepsi girl as he was in many of the other exhibits at the Michigan and Great Lakes Restaurant Show at the Silverdome.

No visit to any restaurant show is complete without an ice carving demonstration. This huge fish was a solid block of ice less than a half hour ago.

Brian Wendorf of Clarkston and Shelly McIntosh of Waterford Township try to figure out how many hours it took to make that castle out of sugar cubes.

STRAIGHT TALKS FOR WOMEN MAY 16

The American Cancer Society, in co-operation with Cancer Action Now is sponsoring a program of Straight Talks with women to dispel their fear of breast cancer and to promote good breast care.

The Ladies Guild at St. Trinity Lutheran Church, 7925 Sashabaw Road, is presenting this program for all area women on May 16, at 7:30 p.m.

A review of each women's medical history (emphasizing the risk of breast cancer) a breast examination, self-examination instruction, an opportunity to ask any questions and a mammogram, if indicated, will be offered.

A special breast model is used to acquaint women with the "hows" of performing a thorough self-examination. The women are encouraged to ask any questions that they may have, and the ACS is trying, by these methods, to reduce the number of untreatable breast cancer cases each year, by early detection and treatment.

Straight talk speakers do encourage a closer rapport between women and their doctors and for the women to practice BSE in order to detect any problems, if they occur, while they can be treated.

For information on establishing a Straight Talk program in your community, call the American Cancer Society CAN offices at 557-5353. To register for the session at St. Trinity Church, call either 625-4644 or 625-8754.

WWI VETS HONOR BOURS

Clinton Valley #2803 Veterans of World War I and their Auxiliary honored Easter and the 60th Wedding Anniversary of Past Commander and Mrs. George Bour and the birthday of Alice Rioux on Saturday, April 14th at the Springfield Township Hall, Davisburg, Turkey and fixings were done by Marie Green of Ortonville. President Minnie Schneller was back after a long bout in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. She arranged all the table decorations.

The auxiliary voted in a new members, Ella Richmond wife of Buddy Homer Richmond. They now have forty members in the local auxiliary.

Election of officers was held with installation at the May meeting. President, Minnie Schneller and Secretary-Treasurer Lucile Gries will attend the State Convention in Grand Rapids along with delegates Alice Rioux and Iva Leach. Alternates will be Eva Lucas and Jeannette Atkins.

Americanism report was given by Jeannette Atkins. She gave information about a letter that was sent to Vice President Mondale about some students at Ocean County College of Forked River, New Jersey who are doing their thesis on World War I. It is to bring about an awareness to the scholars of history the story of World War I.

Vern Ridgeway has returned home from Wheelock Hospital but Helen Crist is now a patient there. A belated birthday card was sent to Buddy Orris Adams of Lakeland, Florida who celebrated his 90th birthday, February 27th.

The next meeting will be May 14th.

ART GALLERY HAS NEW EXHIBIT

The Meadow Brook Art Gallery of Oakland University will present a new exhibit entitled "Recent Gifts to the University Art Collection" through May 20.

The free exhibition is open for viewing from 1 to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, 2 to 6:30 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, and 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. on evenings when there is a Meadow Brook Theatre performance. The gallery is closed on Monday. This show closes the current season.

A majority of the gifts on exhibition in the gallery in Wilson Hall are prints by contemporary artists including Alexander Calder, Pierre Alechinsky, Karel Appel, and Richard Lindner.

Among the works are Appel's series "The Sunshine People," Lindner's "Shoot" series and Edward Ruscha's organic screenprints containing "News," "Mews," "Pews," "Brews," "Stews," and "Dues." There are also prints by Mark Tobey, "Mandarin and Flowers," "Chinese Memories," and others.

Two paintings by European artists on view are by the German artist Karl Pfahler and Michael Challenger of Britain.

Included are sculptures by the American pop artist George Siegel, an op construction "Black Moving Planes" by Mon Levinson, and a wood carving by K.M. Chung, a Cranbrook graduate.

The university has received a number of art works in this exhibition from individuals in Michigan. Also, through the efforts of the Martin S. Ackerman Foundation of New York, the gallery has received works from collectors in New York, Connecticut and Paris, France.

SAM LEVINSON TO Kick-Off PONTIAC TOWN HALL SERIES

Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall recently announced the forthcoming series for 1979-80 beginning October 10, with Sam Levinson, noted for his humorous observations on life, love, and the pursuit of happiness. A former school teacher, he began a second career in show business as a part-time monologist. He has also put his own brand of wit and wisdom into several books.

On November 14, Charles Kleibacker, noted New York designer, will present a behind-the-scenes look at the current state of fashion. Town Hall members will model more than a dozen of his original designs.

The new year starts off with Polly Bergen, award-winning actress, singer, author, humanitarian and creator of her own cosmetic line. Aside from movies, television and recording, Bergen is active in charity work receiving an award from the Children's Asthmatic Research Institute.

Investigative reporter William Recktenwald will appear February 13 to relate the story of the Mirage investigation. The Mirage was a tavern bought by the Chicago Sun-Times to uncover and document firsthand corruption in Chicago. In his 16-year career, Recktenwald's investigations have earned two Pulitzer prizes for his papers.

The Town Hall series closes on March 12 with singer Patrice Munsel. Munsel is well-known to theatre-goers as well as television audiences. She also donates much of her time to charity performing at benefits as time permits.

The lectures are held Wednesday mornings at Roma of Bloomfield. Season tickets may be obtained by writing P.O. Box 328, Pontiac, 48056. Celebrity luncheons for ticket holders follow the lectures.

JAYCEES Sponsor Walkathon

The Clarkston Jaycees will again be sponsoring their Walkathon for Independence Center. This year the walk will take place on May 19.

Sponsor sheets are available at all Clarkston area schools.

For more information call Jim Randall, 625-5644.

WOLL Open House May 2

Our Lady of the Lakes High School will host a Spring Open House on Wednesday, May 2, at 8 p.m., at the Waterford School on Dixie Highway. Information and tours and registration cards will be available at that time for students entering grades 8 through 12. Other dates may be arranged by calling 623-0340.

DAVISBURG GYMNASTS ARE RUNNERS-UP in EMU MEET

A team of boys from the Davisburg area were invited to take part in Eastern Michigan University's gymnastics meet. Over-all the team finished runners-up in the second highest level of competition. Their efforts will be rewarded by receiving a plaque engraved with their names. This plaque will be on display in the Davisburg School.

The boys making up the team were: Jeff Farrell,

David Rabaja, Dick Rabaja, Lenny Alvarez, Doug Rabaja, Steve Stack, Tim Gardella, and Kurt Stack. Special recognition was given to Steve Stack who took a 3rd place in Division B, Doug Rabaja taking a 4th place in Division B; Tim Gardella, 3rd place in Division C; Lenny Alvarez taking two 4th places in Division D, Kurt Stack taking a 1st, 2nd and 3rd place in Division D; and Kurt Stack taking two 1st places in Division E.

Stutz Completes Basics

Airman Jacquelin C. Stutz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Stutz of 10695 King Road, Davisburg, has been assigned to Chanute AFB, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland AFB, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations. Completion of this training earned the individual credits towards an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Stutz will now receive specialized training in the aircraft equipment maintenance field.

The airman is a 1978 graduate of Clarkston High School.

Foote Graduates

Ensign Michael E. Foote, son of Eugene P. and Jacklyn E. Foote of 6421 Church Street, Clarkston, recently graduated from the Aircraft Maintenance Officers Course.

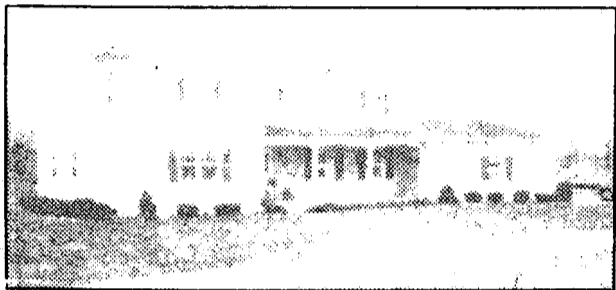

The 16-week course was conducted at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Millington, Tennessee. The course was designed to prepare naval aviators for the technical, managerial and administrative duties related to aircraft maintenance.

A graduate of Clarkston Senior High School, and a 1978 graduate of Lawrence Institute of Technology, Southfield, with a Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering, he joined the Navy in October 1978.

participate in one of two programs similar to the high school's co-op program; these are OJT (on-the-job training) and FSP (field study program). These two programs give the students an opportunity to put into practice what they have learned in the classroom.

OJT is only three weeks long, the students going to work instead of to school. They receive a grade only, no pay, as the OJT site is considered an extension of the classroom. The program not only provides the students with actual work experience but also assists them in finding either full- or parttime jobs and gives them possible references for future job applications.

Michelle Kuttkuhn

Sue Murray

Mrs. Dube describes OJT as a "trail run" giving students a chance to gain confidence in the world of work. It is not mandatory as the students must provide their own transportation and often have scheduling problems with their home school. An OJT experience may also lead to a field study program. New this year, FSP is a pilot program at NWOVEC in TOPS, distributive education and printing. Basically the students work more hours and are paid; their hours are also more flexible.

Time spend in FSP is three or more hours a day for as long as a semester. The students report to the program instructor once a week to work on specific skills or to solve some job-related problem. The primary goal of the program is to enable students to make a successful transition from school to work. It also provides more training and an income at the same time. It usually increases the students' employability skills.

Mrs. Dube stressed the cooperation within the vocational school programs. Some of her advanced bookkeeping students are spending time in the computer accounting class. TOPS also shares its equipment with the medical and dental assisting students.

She was equally concerned with the "old" image of a vocation school as a training center for problem students. Mrs. Dube said vocational schools today provide opportunities for students of many skill levels, many abilities.

WOMEN'S CLUB CONTRIBUTES ENCYCLOPEDIAS TO LIBRARY

Thanks to the Clarkston Women's Club, the Independence Township Library has a set of brand new World Book encyclopedias in addition to Child Craft books and a complete dictionary.

Since 1970, the Women's Club has purchased nearly $1,000 worth of books for the library. The group has also assisted in co-payment of the air-conditioning system and provided additional shelving, the carpeting and some of the furniture.

Clarkston Women's Club is a community service organization with many projects besides the library. They presently have an escrow account marked for the community center originally planned by "Bottles for Building." They also hold annual fall blood drives for the American Red Cross. They donate to Independence Center on a regular basis and every Christmas sponsor a needy family in the township.

The club is not all work, however. Their monthly meetings are short on business and long on entertainment with everything from psychic phenomena to barbershop singing. One of their most recent adventures was a three-day trip to Chicago to attend the Phil Donahue show.

The Clarkston Women's Club always welcomes new members, those interested in community involvement and interesting activities all without pressure on performance or participation. If interested, call 623-9462.

MAJOR METRO SOFTBALL TEAM TO PLAY AT CLINTONWOOD

The 1979 version of the Union Lake Kentucky Fried Chicken "Colonels" Mens Slowpitch Softball Club, as sponsored by Jack Richards of Jack Richards Enterprises, Inc., will find them participating in one of the Nation's strongest Major Metro Travel Leagues (Detroit) and they will play nine doubleheaders at their home field (Clintonwood Park) operated by Independence Township - two miles N.E. of Clarkston on the Clarkston-Orion Road. Home games will be on Wednesdays and start at 8:00 P.M.

The Detroit Major Metro Travel League has produced several World Championship teams including Little Caesars (now Pro), Strohs, Dino's, and Snyders. Snyders, Clementes, Softball City, HMO, Lonnie's, and the Colonels make up the six team league.

The Colonels (formerly Brandenburg and Rainbow Sports) will be starting their 6th year under manager Max Burt, whose teams have compiled a record of 392 wins against 90 losses with 44 team trophies. Their successes include five league championships (Walled Lake, Farmington and inde-Water open leagues) and an over-all 85-39 record in Class A National Invitation, World Regional, and World Series Tournament games.

In addition to playing two week-day doubleheaders totaling 50 games plus playoffs in the league starting May 2, 8:00 P.M. against Softball City in Clintonwood Park, the Colonels will play in tournaments including: Milwaukee, Louisville, Tullahoma, Tennessee, Softball City, Detroit, Oak Park and possibly Kinston, North Carolina and Petersburg, Virginia.

It makes sense to find out as much as possible about different areas and neighborhoods before deciding on one. Look at several neighborhoods. Get a feeling about them. Ask questions of responsible persons who know the answers. Locate the zoning map and study it. Shop in the stores and visit the schools. Check to see that the houses and lawns are attractive, neat and well kept. See that the streets are adequately drained, curbed and surfaced. Check on the availability of stores, schools, churches and play areas. We are happy to offer our expertise in these matters.

BOB WHITE REAL ESTATE, 5856 S. Main St., next to the Clarkston Post office, takes a special pride in assisting people find their "dream" home. The Plant Doctor

Dear Plant Doctor:

What is lawn thatch? How do I find out if it's a problem in my lawn? And what do I do about it if I find it?

Dear L.R.:

Thatch is a thick buildup of tightly intermingled stems and roots between the green vegetation and the soil surface. Thatch increases the likelihood of turfgrass disease and insect problems, interferes with the movement of air and water into the soil and generally reduces turf vigor and quality.

Check for a buildup of thatch by cutting a wedge of turf at least two inches deep and examining the cross-section. If there's a half-inch layer of thatch, rent a dethatching machine to remove it. You can take it out with a hand rake, but a dethatching machine does a better job with less effort on your part.

Dear Plant Doctor:

What's special about a started solution for vegetable transplants?

J.R.-Pontiac

Dear J.R.:

Starter solutions are especially high in phosphorus, the nutrient most in demand when transplants are developing their root system.

Dear Plant Doctor:

What vegetables can I plant in April?

G.D.-Royal Oak

Dear G.D.:

If the soil is dry enough to work in, you can plant a number of cool weather crops, including carrots, beets, cole crops--cabbage, broccoli, brussels sprouts, kohlrabi and califlower--collards, endive, garlic, onion seeds and sets, leeks, lettuce, parsnips, radishes, salsify, spinach and swiss chard. Asparagus and rhubarb may also be planted in the perennial garden this month.

Dear Plant Doctor:

After pricing peat pellets and pots, I'm considering growing my transplants in flats and transplanting them from there into the garden. Am I likely to have problems?

G.P.-Ortonville

Dear G.P.:

That will depend a lot on how closely the plants are spaced in the flats and how carefully you remove and transplant them. Any time you damage a plant's root system, you disrupt its growth and push back the time it will come into production. Some plants--like tomatoes, peppers and member of the cabbage family--are fairly resilient.

Melons, cucumbers and squash, on the other hand, are very sensitive to disruptions of their roots. These plants should either be started in peat pots or pellets so they can be set, container and all, into the garden, or seeded directly into the garden after the danger of frost is past.

Dear Plant Doctor:

What are the best flowers for beginning green thumbs to grow?

B.K.-E. Highland

Dear B.K.:

For a sunny spot, try marigolds, zinnias, ageratum, cosmos, petunia, portulaca, sweet alyssum or cockscomb. Water them once a week during dry weather and they should bloom all summer. For a shady spot, try coleus, fibrous-rooted begonia or impatiens.

Dear Plant Doctor:

Can I plant roses in April?

J.G.-Milford

Dear J.G.:

You can plant dormant roses anytime during April and May. Hold off on planting actively growing or flowering potted roses until the danger of frost is past.

Sincerely,
Gregory Patchan
Extension Horticulture Agent

MY TREE

There is a special tree
In the back of our yard.
No one else knows
It's special
But, I do.

I sit underneath
This tree when
I want to be alone
And drift into
My own little world.
I take my blanket,
My pen and paper and
I write.

When I sit under my Tree I can relax.
Relax from the everyday
Hustle and bustle
Of cars and housework,
And of children playing.

My tree helps me
To think.
I think about all my Feelings and fears.

My tree is my tree
It will always be special
At least to me.

Lori Crites

SAFETY

The rain
Flung grimey tears
On the soiled window.
Headlights
From the passing cars
Cast fleet shadows
On the floor.
A siren
Wailed; grieving
At someone's pain.
And I
Could take no solace
In my safety.
I was alone.

Mary Gordon

Looking out into the night
I watch the leaves of the Trees softly caress my window,
With my half pulled shades
A rusty brown I see the Shadows prancing around.

Ryan Wilcox

A GARDENER'S POTPOURRI

by Betty Good

"April showers bring May flowers."

With all the uncertainties of the weather in recent weeks, it is with a great sense of relief and reward that gardeners and home landscapers are finally able to get outdoors and work.

Going about the routine tasks of lawn and shrub maintenance, signs of new life are all around; the grass is greening, buds are about to burst open on every tree and bush, and the forsythia lead the way with their golden glow.

However, as every gardener knows, with the pleasures come the pests. It has been reported that the warm weather has stirred ant colonies to life. A favorite way of preventing the ants' entry through patio doors with some homemakers is to sprinkle cinnamon all along the sill or door track. The ants will not cross the "barrier"; it can be replaced as needed; and it is harmless to inquisitive children.

Two other notes regarding gardening and children; "Old-timers" swear by the method of planting a marigold "fence" to keep wild rabbits out of the garden lettuce patch.

If you are not an organic gardener, please remind the children that some garden pesticides, etc. require a several-day wait before harvesting. Encourage them never to eat anything directly from the garden without first washing it.

Now is the time to be thinking of those gorgeous gladioli spikes you'll have in August if you plant early. Many gardeners prefer to choose their bulbs now, then stagger the plantings for a profusion of blooms all summer.

And when you make your selections of petunias for this year's beds, consider celebrating the summer holidays in style with an alternating red, white and blue border. The effect is eye-catching!

Happy gardening!

With more and more chemicals being declared unsafe by the government, the proper use and storage of those on the market becomes increasingly more important. The safest place for the storage of pesticides and other chemical preparations is high, out of the reach of young children, in a locked cabinet.

Tips for Spring

As returnable bottles accumulate in garages, gardeners must be especially careful to return their supplies to a safe place--out of the reach of young children who can't read the warning labels.

TAX DEDUCTIBLE - The Davey Tree Expert Company reminds homeowners the cost of repairing storm damaged trees is exempt from taxable income under conditions outlined in U.S. Internal Revenue Service Publication 547.

Appraisal fees and photography costs incurred to establish a casualty loss can also be deducted as an expense of determining tax liability.

6336 Buxton Dr., Saturday, March 20, 1976

The family, formerly of 6336 Buxton Drive, will never forget Saturday, March 20, 1976. On that rainy, damp evening their home was one of over ninety that were demolished or partly destroyed by a tornado that ripped through Oakland County.

Because of that tragedy, which resulted in forty-three injuries and one fatality, Oakland County has put into effect a new tornado alert system, the first of its kind in Michigan. The two-year program will eventually cover 95% of our population.

At a cost of less than $1.00 per person, we think it's a pretty good investment.

STEP 1

TAKE COVER.
When you hear the three-minute steady siren, it means immediate danger.

STEP 2

TURN ON a radio or TV. This is your only source of information. Do not call the police or fire department.

STEP 3

TAKE UP normal activities when told by radio or TV that the danger has passed.

This message brought to you by Oakland County and this newspaper as a public service. Comments about the new Tornado Alert System should be addressed to Daniel T. Murphy, Oakland County Executive, 1200 N. Telegraph Rd., Pontiac, MI 48053.

ACTIVITY ROOM ENDOWED WITH NATURAL DAYLIGHT

CONTEMPORARY RANCH PLAN WARM AND COZY

By W. D. Farmer

Convenient outdoor patio entertainment is from either dining room or activity room via glass sliding doors.

The kitchen and breakfast room, being located on the front, allow the housewife to anticipate visitors who are directed only to the front door. There is a partially covered stoop, separate foyer and side-lit front door.

Traffic flow through living area and access to double side entry garage is excellent and there is a spacious breakfast room and separate dining room even though there is no formal living room. The washer and dryer are located in an inconspicuous closet.

The large activity room is endowed with wall space, light, false beams and fireplace. Stairs to basement are central.

The bedroom wing includes three large bedrooms, the master having private powder bath and two large walk-in closets. Other bedrooms have excellent closets and bath access is from central hall.

The exterior style is contemporary, enhanced by vertical siding, stone and single pane windows.

The plan is Number 770-B. It includes 1,713 square feet of living area. Front wall changes necessary for B front pictured are included on working plans. All W. D. Farmer plans include special construction details for energy efficiency.

For further information write W. D. Farmer Residence Designer, Inc., P. O. Box 19163, Atlanta, Georgia 30359.

IS THIS WHAT YOUR KISSES TASTE LIKE?

If you smoke cigarettes, you taste like one.

Your clothes and hair can smell stale and unpleasant, too.

You don't notice it, but people close to you do. Especially if they don't smoke.

And non-smokers are the best people to love. They live longer.
