Roads, Trash Clean-Up Receive Attention

by Claudia Brazel

There were some renewed acquaintances and pleasant chatter as Independence citizens recognized familiar faces of friends and neighbors at the January 18 Township Board Meeting.

Several citizens came to direct their in-put into street lights proposals while others were there to suggest ways to spend Community Development Block Grant and Revenue Sharing funds.

Willi Doughty, representing Sunshine Acres, asked that any additional funding needed to solidify the townships attempt to improve the neighborhood roads be supplied from one of the community funds.

The Board assured Doughty that funding for road improvement was a definite Board priority in determining fund expenditures. The Board also added that Sunshine Acres continues to be a Township objective for road improvement.

Mike Foss of Clement Road came to request that funds be allocated for another Spring Clean-Up.

Foss directed particular attention to be paid to areas near White Lake Road and Andersonville Road. Foss mentioned that last year the township had overlooked the area during Spring clean-up. Since then, people have continued to dump things and the area now looks even worse.

Foss revealed an attempt by the citizens to have Oakland County supply No Dumping signs. The County had replied that it would but only after the mess that's presently there is cleaned up.

Vince Rizzo of Iroquois, Thendara Park, agreed, that another clean-up should be planned. Rizzo also added that several Thendara residents utilized their own trucks during last year's clean-up and cleaned up similar areas in their neighborhood themselves.

Rizzo suggested this year's clean-up be scheduled earlier to allow better visibility of roadside trash. Last year underbrush had already begun to fill in making it difficult to see some of the trash.

Rizzo also felt that local businesses might become involved. As an example, Rizzo referred to the new McDonalds on Sashabaw stating that although the service was welcomed by residents in general, the wrappers, cups and other paper trash were eyesores. Perhaps, Rizzo suggested, they would be willing to help cover some of the expense in supplying dumpsters and pick-up service.

Last year's clean-up incurred additional expenses beyond those the Township had planned for. Heavy use of the dumpsters, possibly by non-residents, demanded heavier pick-up scheduling. That in-turn led to overtime within the Department of Public Works. Efforts will be made this year to insure only residents use the dumpsters.

Comment from the audience raised the possibility of Township supplied permits for the Lapeer dumpsite. The idea was received favorably by Board members and will be considered for this year's clean-up activity.

Fred Bowman, Human Development Consortium, requested funding for the center.

Bowman briefly summarized the center's service in areas such as unemployment, substance abuse, and child guidance and counseling. The center has 200 active clients of which 78 are presently subsidized in some manner. Additionally, 42 remain who need services but cannot afford them.

When asked for a specific amount needed, Bowman replied that $500 a month would do much in the way of service support. Bowman also added that the consortium is financially accountable and is audited, allowing the Township knowledge that the funds would be appropriately applied.

Betty Wagner, of Deer Lake Trail, placed a request for the lighting of Clintonwood Tennis Courts.

Treasurer Fred Ritter said that particular need was being addressed by other funding methods.

Betty Mulhern asked the Township to please allot funds that would allow additional Township aide in chloriding area roads. Mulhern referred to her own area near Woodhull Lake to illustrate how large amounts of vacant property can unfairly burden residents of low population areas, with the chloriding costs.

And the Decision Is . . .

A Public hearing concerning the disbursement of Community Block Grant and Revenue Sharing Funds left Independence Board members with a gamut of ideas to consider.

Board members combined citizen requests with their own recommendations and came up with an expenditure plan representative of community needs.

Based on a motion made by Trustee Dale Stuart and modified only slightly by fellow Board members, the Community Block Development will be distributed in the following manner:

$30,000 will be applied to the Road Fund.

$28,000 will be applied to Park Development.

$20,000 will be applied to the Planning and Development Fund; with primary use intended for drainage study to be done.

$3,600 will be applied to the Contingency Fund.

$7,000 will be given to the Senior Citizens.

Although there was some conflict among Board members as Supervisor Jim Smith supported application of funds be utilized to hire an additional Deputy for added police protection, Revenue Sharing Funds will be distributed in the following manner:

$35,000 will be applied to roads; Covering tri-party road agreements and allowing for pavement of Pine Knob Road to the South driveway of Bailey Lake Elementary.

$15,000 will be given to the Independence Library to purchase new books.

$30,050 will be used to increase Township share of chloriding cost of Township roads.

$23,000 will be used to allow maintenance of current six man Sheriff patrol in Independence.

$10,000 will be applied to Community Promotional Fund for possible use by Human Development Consortium and Youth Assistance.

Leg Pains and Chiropractic

From the cradle to the grave, the legs play a vital role in our everyday life.

For the youngster, the legs enable him to walk, run, jump, swim, or pedal his bicycle. In later years, they become even more necessary and are often mandatory for making a living. They do a tremendous job of supporting the weight of the human body while it bends, stoops, stretches, and performs many other daily chores. The value of the legs is even more pronounced for the postman, housewife, many factory and office workers, and others who must rely on them for many miles of walking each day.

You may feel a moment of sympathy or a twinge of sorrow when you see a fellow with a broken leg hobbling around on crutches or see someone confined to a wheelchair. It is a tough life, and you are glad that it is not you.

Then leg pain strikes!

The pain is almost unbearable, and can even be crippling. You may know it by a variety of terms-neuritis, sciatic neuritis, or sciatica. But whatever you call it, leg pain is one of the most excruciating pains known to mankind.

One of the most common causes of leg pain is the misalignment of segments of the spinal column which impinge the spinal nerves and reduce the flow of nerve energy to the legs.

There are many causes for such spinal misalignments. Lifting too great a load, attempting to move a refrigerator single-handedly, or falling down a stairway can produce them. Such incidents are often quickly forgotten and the victim may not equate them with the leg pain which develops days, weeks, or even months later.

Spinal misalignments can best be detected during a Chiropractic examination. If the Doctor of Chiropractic discovers that such a misalignment is the cause of leg pain, he will then seek to correct the problem through natural means without the use of drugs or surgery.

Funeral Director

Pre-Planning: A Testimonial

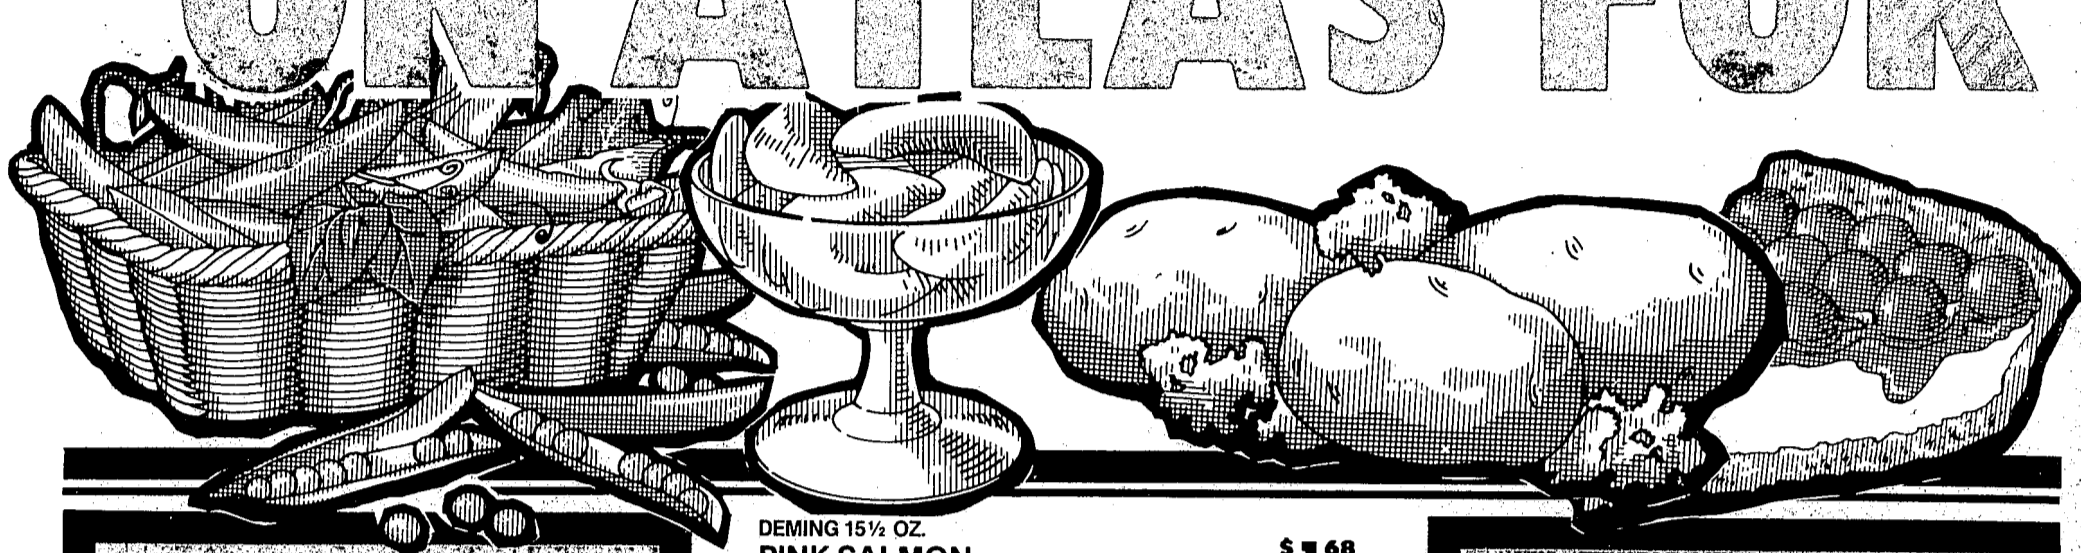

We thought you might be interested in the comments of a woman we spoke with recently. She is a young woman, in her mid-30's. She had lost her husband in an accident a few months before. She had stopped by the funeral home to talk about that experience.

"It was very difficult, and I'm still learning to cope with his being gone," she said. "But there's one thing I'm grateful for. My husband cared enough to plan ahead. Because he had made all his funeral arrangements in advance — what you call pre-planning — I wasn't forced to go through all those decisions. Everyone was so supportive — I can't thank you enough."

We were glad to hear those words, because we've always felt that pre-planning is a sound way to prepare for whatever life may hold. This woman's story is not unusual. More and more people these days are taking an hour to stop by their funeral home and make their final wishes known. Some arrange to pay those costs immediately; some defer payment until the services are performed. But, they all have the peace-of-mind of knowing that their family won't have to worry about funeral arrangements — especially when they are grieving most.

I thought you might like to know the results of our 1983 Reader Survey, that has appeared in the last four issues of The Reminder. The survey, which we publish each January, helps us to plan our news and editorial content for the months to come.

This year's most read category comes as no surprise. Readers that responded, selected "Letters to the Editor" as the category they like to read the most in The Reminder. "Letters" always place near the top.

Second most popular was Editor's Note, a weekly column, usually an editorial, written by yours truly. Finishing a close third was "Special Events," a page we have developed that tells all of the local happenings and meetings that take place for the week.

Other categories or features that placed high according to the readers that responded were Meet Your Community Businessperson, a feature about businesses in the area; In Depth Interviews, a relatively recent addition in which reporter Al Wieling selects an interesting person in the community to interview in depth; and "Small Talk", an editorial column by Rebecca Roberts.

Also exhibiting popularity amongst our readers was "Health News" our monthly magazine devoted to good health; classified ads; and Mike Morrow's Trivia.

Sports stories and features were rated the least popular items in The Reminder. We found this also to be the case in previous surveys, thus that is why we have chosen to de-emphasize our sports coverage. Another low-rated category, Nitelife Magazine, was discontinued, several months ago, because readership and advertising were not meeting our expectations.

We sincerely appreciate all our readers who took time out to fill-out the survey and return it to us. The comments you included were especially meaningful.

Hopefully in the months to come, The Reminder, your community newspaper, will be better, because so many people offered many ideas and suggestions that we hope to implement. Thanks so much for the input.

SMALL TALK

by Rebecca Roberts

It's been two years now. Ronald Reagan is being given his report card via the national political polls, and as they say, it ain't good.

His popularity among the rank and file Americans (that is to say, those of us out here in the political boondocks) is in shabby repair. How did it get that way?

Well, first, you have to remember that contrary to popular party myths of the time, Reagan did not ride in on an overwhelming mandate. It might have looked that way to uncaring observers because out of 538 electoral votes, Reagan got 489. But wait. Another statistic. Of all Americans registered to vote, only 53%, or 43,899,248 people, actually voted. Out of that number of voters, 51% said Ronald Reagan was our man.

Well, what about it? Was he, is he, our man? Let's look at his accomplishments. Foreign policy. There's START. By all recent reports, that's stopped. Before it really began. Let us hope that situation is temporary. The Chinese are miffed at us for having restricted their trade; now they say they're going to stop accepting our imports like cotton, for instance. The Middle East has heated almost to the boiling point over the past few years. To be fair that wasn't all due to Reagan's ineptitude in foreign policy. However, we have our advisors in Lebanon who want to occupy the observation posts now occupied by Israeli soldiers. If they do succeed in usurping the soldiers there, there is a good possibility the action constitutes a military commitment on the part of the United States.

Europe is mad at us because of the Administration's total disregard for the wishes of its allies, U.S. failure to push through a sound and definitive program for getting our missiles off their turf.

Domestic policy looks about as good. Raging unemployment, recession. The continuance of what Washington pundits have so cleverly defined as "stagflation"—a mating of "stagnant" and "inflation".

The trouble is, say the Reagan critics, Reagan doesn't have a foreign policy. And the domestic policy seems like a cross between the Boston Tea Party and Alice's-tea party. Everybody throwing cases of tax and other program reforms overboard, watching them splash into the American home waters like small torpedoes; and at the same time, administration's policy-makers confounded by it all, are going by limousine-loads back to the preoccupation of their own lives. Either Reagan is on a mad spree of firing all cabinet members who dare challenge his hapless schemes, or people like Alexander Haig, and Secretary of State Casper Weinberger, and Transportation Secretary Andrew Lewis, Jr., just got fed up with the ineffectiveness of their leader's programs, and they quit.

Reagan's performance thus far reminds me of a gung-ho camper that forgot to stake down his tent. He pulls the center pole with a great flourish, and all he gets is a very large tarp, flapping in the wind.

Stablex: A Threat to Our Environment

Dear Reminder,

If you think it unimportant consider the following threats to Michigan residents should Stablex be approved.

1. Health - Michigan is surrounded by the largest supply of fresh water on the face of the earth. There is no reason to store any toxic-hazardous materials in such an area. On a more local level the proposed site is located above a large underground water supply. It serves parts of Oakland and Genesee Counties and the towns of Holly and Grand Blanc. Toxic spills could cause irreparable damage to our water supply and create great expenses that Stablex alone could not absorb, cough it up tax payers!!!

2. Economic threats - Clean up costs for spills on Michigan roads and highways. Costs of related litigations. Loss of revenue and perhaps jobs, from the numerous public and private camp grounds and resorts. These facilities are within a five mile radius of the proposed Stablex site. Addison and Springfield Oaks Campgrounds service over 600,000 people per season. Mt. Holly Ski Resort services 5580 students from school ski clubs alone. Private, church, and scout camps include Camp Holiday, Camp Narrin and Camp Tamarack to name a few. Camp Tamarack serves over 8000 children annually.

Real estate values in the surrounding areas have plummeted to nil.

Residents living near Stablex's sister plant in West Throck, England, have complained of contaminated soil and water as well as obnoxious sulphurous odors. Law suits are in progress. It seems that Stablex does not have a very clean record.

3. Safety threats - over 1200 children ride school buses past the proposed site daily. Traffic hazards would increase with over 100 trucks hauling toxic waste into the site daily.

Sincerely,
Holly Hansz-Ax

Money-Go-Round

by Brenda Schneider

Saving money used to be a very simple process. You went to your bank, credit union or savings and loan association and opened a passbook account. It paid you the highest rate allowable by law at that time. Today saving money is becoming more complex and calls for you to stay abreast of new trends in the financial services marketplace. The complexity of the market today is creating an environment of tough decision making for you if you are wrestling with what to do with your All-Savers Certificates.

All-Savers were authorized under a law passed in 1981 by Congress as part of President Reagan's tax package. They bear an interest rate of 70 percent of the one-year Treasury Bill at the time you buy the certificate. The attractiveness of consumers has been the fact that those who file individual income tax returns, the first $1,000 of interest is exempt from Federal tax; the first $2,000 of interest is exempt for those who file joint returns. However, the penalties for early withdrawal are great. Today, however, the yield is not as attractive as it was when the All-Savers were first introduced so you are faced with a tougher decision on what to do with your certificate when it matures.

What are some of the savings options available to you?

1. Rate of Compounding. This is going to vary and will greatly impact the amount of money you will make.

2. Annual Percentage Yield. This is the actual number of dollars per $100 saved that you will make.

3. How Much Money Earns Interest? Different lenders will figure interest on a different basis. Some institutions pay only on the average daily balance or the lowest balance during the interest period.

4. When Is The Interest Credited? Some institutions may figure the interest daily, but only deposit it quarterly. This becomes a consideration when you come to close your account.

5. Penalties and Bonuses. Review the penalties for early withdrawal on any savings program you select. Some penalties can be substantial and if you have any reason to believe you might need the money in a short period of time, you might want to avoid any long term savings programs. On the bonus side, some institutions offer incentives where you may receive additional days of interest even though the money wasn't actually on deposit in the bank. Savings programs available to you at financial institutions include:

Money Market-Certificates - These are time deposits which are government insured with interest rates depending on the money market.

Certificates of Deposit - These pay a higher rate of interest but require you to tie up your money for a specific period of time (3 months to one year).

NOW Accounts - This is a demand deposit account (more commonly known as a checking account) which pays interest.

All-Savers - These are one year savings certificates which were authorized by Congress in 1981. They provide tax incentives since the first $1,000 of interest for those who file single tax returns is tax free; $2,000 of interest is tax free for those filing joint returns.

Individual Retirement Account - A tax sheltered savings program aimed at helping you plan for retirement.

Passbook Accounts - These usually pay the lowest rate of interest but are popular as it insures your liquidity. In other words, your money is available on a demand basis with no penalty for withdrawal.

Faculty to Present "Klondike Kalamity"

Dastardly deeds done by a vile villian somewhere in the Yukon Territory of December 1888 is the subject of the Clarkston High School Fearless Faculty Footlighters' presentation of Klondike Kalamity.

Expressions such as "Muckraking Mongooses!" and "Bedridden baby beavers" will resound amidst riotous laughter during the three night run of the melodrama. The "Footlighters" will take to the boards on February 10, 11, 12 at 8 p.m. in the Clarkston High School Little Theatre.

The melodrama stars Mrs. Pat MacArthur

as Nell Oudt, an innocent beauty with a pure soul, and Mike Kaul as Fangduster T. Barrelbottom VIII, the absolute cream of the rotten crop. Directed by Mrs. Barbara Gibson, this will be the premiere performance for the faculty troupe.

Auditorium Filled as Stablex Debated

by Sue Stephens

Before an audience of nearly 1000, representatives of the Groveland Citizens' Committee gave a seven-hour presentation to the Site Approval Board last week.

Residents of Flint, Holly, Rose and Springfield townships picketed outside the Holly High School auditorium before the proceedings began. With the temperature dipping below ten degrees, one of the opponents commented "we'd walk all night if we could stop Stablex."

The parking lot and auditorium at the high school were filled and overflowing with disgruntled residents opposing the location of a toxic waste treatment center proposed for Groveland Township.

Officials of Groveland Township gave opening remarks to the nine-member Site Approval Board. After saying "we cannot allow our area to be put to an ecological death," Groveland Township Clerk Beth Steele was given a standing ovation by the audience. Ms. Steele currently faces a $1 million lawsuit next July by the British-owned Stablex Corporation for comments made to a Virginia newspaper.

Referring to the battle between Stablex and township officials as a David and Goliath scene, Groveland Township attorney Tom Plunkett gave a legal history of the four year struggle. Plunkett said in the past four years, Groveland Township, with an annual budget of $185,000 has spent over $150,000 in an attempt to keep Stablex operation out of the township.

Tod Kilroy, planning consultant for the township said the township's master plan drawn up over five years ago calls for the elimination of all gravel pits and mining operations. He went on to say ultimate goals of the land usage proposal call for a return to recreational and residential use.

Kilroy added that heavy industrial use is not consistent with local zoning plans and would actually negate the master plan. He further stated that a judgment in favor of the Stablex operation by the Site Approval Board would take away the rights of local officials and residents to self-determination.

Jim Braithwaite, a registered professional engineer and environmental consultant for the township, referred to the Stablex proposal as a minimal effort application. He said the absence of permeability studies, spill and accident contingency plans and evidence of new borings made beneath the new site in the Stablex proposal represent an abuse of the Site Approval Board process.

Braithwaite further stated the Stablex application is not only incomplete but is also in some cases inaccurate. He said a no vote by the Site Approval Board would show Michigan residents and commercial operations that incomplete applications will no longer be tolerated.

Ken Wehner, Groveland Township engineer, said "we are not considering a drivers license here but a hazardous waste disposal license where people can be harmed."

Wehner said the Stablex application is deficient in three areas:

1. The administrative data is inadequate.
2. The technical data is inadequate and in some cases contradictory.
3. The application is basically too optimistic.

Groveland Township Fire Chief Dave Buckingham said there are three reasons why the township is not prepared or equipped to handle a plant of the proposed magnitude of the Stablex operation.

First, Buckingham said the station itself according to statutes, located within 3000 feet of the proposed site, would have to be evacuated during an industrial disaster making rescue equipment unavailable to township residents for other emergencies.

Second, Buckingham said the station is equipped to handle minimal structural and residential emergencies not industrial emergencies.

Third, he said the township lacks the manpower to handle industrial accidents requiring roads to be isolated and residences to be evacuated.

Wearing business suits and armed with test tubes, notebooks and briefcases, the Groveland Citizens Committee also presented its case before the Site Approval Board.

The 15 member panel included a safety and trucking expert, a field biologist, chemist, a member of the well drillers association and citizens with facts and

Accent on Education

Teachers Popular, But Often Dissatisfied

by Claudia Brazel

Doctor; Lawyer; Indian Chief;
In youth, which dream intrigued your sleep?

Visions of Pirates or Crusaders on mount?
Or of Pasteur's and Curie's does your memory recount?

Were there Jungle Jitters
and Desert Dares
With creepy crawlies, you know were there?
Or Unicorns riding on rocket ships
Past Dinosaurs into the moon's eclipse?

A gathering of nonsense and fact to mean Imagination and knowledge had shared a dream.
And who supplied the source of it all?
Teachers gifted with the power to enthrall.

And who supplied the source of it all?

Ask a child what he or she likes best about their school and the answer is likely to be
"Teachers."

Ask parents of a school age child what they like best about their child's school and again you are apt to receive a response of

"Teachers."

According to a 1982 Gallup Poll measuring public attitudes about public schools, teachers were highly influential in determining a schools favorable or unfavorable rating within the community.

Children rated their teachers as the best thing they like about school with friends placing second. Parents chose "quality of education" as most pleasing with teachers placing a close second.

Also worthy of mentioning is the fact that communities appear willing to back up their belief in the necessity of providing good teachers with financial and other supportive measures.

The same 1982 Gallup Poll expresses a reluctance, by the public, to reduce the amount of teachers or burden them with over-sized classrooms in reducing school cost. Cutting teachers salaries was even less desirable and although public opinion was not in favor of striking teachers it supports contract settlement by means of compulsory arbitration; not leaving teachers salaries to the decision of administrators only.

The public it seems would initiate teacher position reductions and salary reductions for teachers only to prevent reductions in special services such as speech, hearing, and reading therapy or in basic instruction of reading, writing and arithmetic.

Further analysis of the parent, community, teacher relationship shows strong agreement in matters concerning teaching and the educational process.

Public opinion reflects concern over the amount of teachers leaving public schools, listing discipline problems within the school,
low teacher salaries, unmotivated students, lack of parental concern or support, lack of financial support, low standing of teaching as a profession, difficulty of advancement and outstanding teacher performance remaining vastly unrecognized as their view of the reasons why teachers are leaving their jobs.

Similar polls of the teachers themselves indicated relative agreement on all the matters listed above. Teachers have also turned their attention to several other circumstances that they feel need to be addressed.

They are: the continued academic qualifications of those in the teaching profession, reasonable pay scales that encourage highly qualified individuals to remain within the teaching profession, incentives to up-grade and continue academic progress of fellow instructors, reduction in classroom size, discontinuance of emergency teaching certificates that allow instructional changes to occur without specific teaching qualifications, and an increase in the over-all professionalism of teaching as a career.

Teachers in Michigan must first be certified by the State Board of Education, additionally meeting any requirements their host district may require.

State certification is based on proper accreditation through state approved colleges, universities, and teaching institutions.
Public school teachers are certified in either general elementary (K-6), middle school (5-9), or secondary (10-12) levels.

Under Michigan law all teachers must provide a term of tenure before complete cer-tification is awarded. Tenure requires that a teacher work two years on a probationary term. After two years, the districts controlling Board of Education votes on whether or not to continue tenure probation for the additional three years or allow tenure requirements to be considered as complete. The final decision is recorded with the State Board of Education.

Teachers are certified as either elementary, middle, or secondary instructors. A teacher may change his or her certification only when additional education requirements have been provided for and tenure again is obtained.

The exception to these guidelines is emergency certification in which a district may choose to advance, without requirements having been met, a teacher from one grade to another. Generally this is done when a staff reduction occurs and seniority requires lay-off procedures that leave a shortage of teachers in one level or another.

A less recent survey, taken in 1979, by the Institute for Social Research at the University of Michigan found "Teachers are significantly less satisfied with the quality of their worklives, more apt to fear losing their jobs, and more likely to experience problems with their jobs than are other U.S. workers in a nationwide sample."

Although the survey is now four years old, conditions existing at that time that were considered to have been contributing factors in the survey results, exist today in even greater proportion.

Declines in student enrollment and tightening budgets that were thought to be related to teacher response in the 1979 survey are priority concerns of today's educational systems.

Michigan teachers were the source of information and although they appeared to have a higher general satisfaction with life than national workers in other fields and enjoyed more challenge within their profession, on the average job satisfaction was low.

Particular problem areas cited by those teachers surveyed were: Fear of lay-off, particularly younger teachers; content of the work involved with duties and assignments difficult to change in avoidance of lay-off, health and safety problems involving working conditions and environment; excessive and inconvenient hours; salaries; and the amount of lack of parental and administrative support. The survey also depicted low self-concept within the profession.

A 1981 National Education Association survey, The Status of the American Public School Teacher, echoes many of the I.S.R. survey findings, adding that more than one-third of teachers report that they "probably" or "certainly" would not choose the teaching profession again.

The percentage of teachers with master's degrees has more than doubled since 1961 while the proportion holding only bachelor's degrees has dropped.

The median number of years of experience was 12 in 1981 and the median age of teachers is 37 years; up from 33 years of age in 1979.

The N.E.A. survey suggests to the public that, "it seems reasonable to conclude that the dissatisfactions expressed by those Michigan teachers reflect real problems with their work lives - problems exacerbated by recent pressures."

SAY YOU SAW IT IN THE REMINDER THURSDAY, JANUARY 27, 1983

The survey also formulates the opinion that "These problems are related to characteristics of districts and schools that teachers and administrators can change."

"Thus the dissatisfaction of many teachers could be reduced by programs designed to improve the organization of their schools and the quality of their work environment."

Winter Giveaway Starts Next Week

The Reminder Winter Giveaway Contest, which is being sponsored by Vistana Resort, Vacation Timeshare Marketing, Delta Airlines, and over fifty area businesses is the biggest and best contest the Reminder has ever held, according to Publisher Mike Wilcox.

The contest which will be held in February offers a grand prize of a five night-six day vacation for two at the new Vistana Resort next to Walt Disney World and Epcot Center in Florida.

To enter all you have to do is watch for the double page ad that will appear each week during February in the Reminder. Coupons in the advertisement will be available for you to fill-in and take to participating businesses.

The grand prize which is being offered by Vacation Timeshare Marketing of Southfield is actually an $1833 value. It includes a five night-six day stay at the luxurious Vistana Resort, transportation to and from Detroit Metropolitan Airport via Delta Airlines and a rental car provided by Alamo Rent-A-Car.

In addition to the Florida Vacation, several other prizes will be awarded to lucky winners. A yacht trip for two down the Detroit River complete with a delicious gourmet dinner will be one of the prizes. Another will be an exciting excursion in a hot air balloon. Several entries (10) will also be chosen to receive tickets to a Detroit Piston basketball game at the Pontiac Silverdome.

Winners of the grand prize will be staying in the recently completed $15 million dollar expansion in the highly regarded Vistana Resort. The new condominium units include two bedrooms with two baths, a living/dining room, a full kitchen, a furnished screen patio, and a washer/dryer.

The units also feature a microwave oven, video disc player, and have master baths equipped with Jacuzzi bathtubs and built-in automatic hair dryers. Additional amenities are two color televisions, central air conditioning and ceiling fans in every room.

Vistana is marketed by Vacation Timeshare Marketing. The units are sold under the timeshare concept.

Resort timesharing is essentially a prepaid vacation concept. You buy a deed that gives you access to the condo for the same week every year. At Vistana rates range from $5700 for a week during the off season in September, to $9500 a week in December.

A major selling feature of timesharing is that you can swap your condo for a timeshare unit of comparable price and season elsewhere in the world. Thus Europe, Hawaii, Las Vegas and nearly every place else can be a part of your vacation plans.

For more information about timesharing or Vistana Resort, call Mike Allingham at 552-8300.

Watch next week's Reminder for entry blanks, business sponsors and how to win the vacation of a lifetime.

Heath Residents Debate Street Lighting

by Claudia Brazel

Al Wieling, a resident of Heath Street, Independence Township, met with strong opposition to his proposal to place street lighting the length of his street.

Problems arose when Edison, upon site examination, suggested positioning 15 lights along Heath. That number is 8 more than the neighboring street, Frankwill has. Wieling had based cost projections for the Heath Street lights on information received from the township on Frankwill Street's cost.

When Edison returned its projections, Wieling found the cost had doubled along with the estimated number of needed lights.

Wieling had circulated a petition among his neighbors, acquiring the amount of signatures needed, to place the request for lighting before the Township Board. Receiving 28 or a possible 43 property owners consent, the petition had relayed an estimated cost of an additional $20 to $25 annually on resident tax assessment. Edison returned a project estimate of $45 annually.

Several residents were in attendance at the January 18 Board meeting to protest the addition of lights to Heath Street.

Dan Daniel, also of Heath Street, objected to the lighting stating he had moved into this semi-rural community to escape from the city and its 'lit-up' streets.

As a law enforcement official within Oakland County, Daniel expressed the opinion that crime was not evident in the area in any degree that necessitated the lighting.

Kenneth Hall of Heath Street, questioned the passing on of increased utility rates to the resident of the future. Unfortunately, as rates increase so will the residents required tax payment.

Hall was also concerned about maintenance of the lighting system.

Resident Al Miller asked "If we okay half as many lights, will the cost be half as much?"

Township Clerk Chris Rose replied that it would reduce the cost by nearly half.

There was laughter among the audience when it was determined that Edison's estimate, of the number of lights needed, would position lights in front of nearly every home. Trustee Bill Vandermark evoked further laughter by quipping that, "evidently Edison determines the amount of lights needed based on its desire to sell electricity."

Not wishing to become, 'The great white light of Independence Township' residents agreed that should lighting be installed at all, the number should be reduced.

As discussion continued back and forth no one reason was given to support light installation. Finally Vandermark asked Wieling why he had petitioned for the lights.

Wieling replied that Frankwill had them and they seemed a good thing for Heath Street to have too; for crime prevention and such.

Martin Hoskin, a Heath resident, spoke up and said he had a tool box stolen from his truck but didn't feel street lights would have made any difference.

Hoskin added that a neighbor had a bug-light stolen while it was on. Hoskin figured light didn't help much there.

Clarkston School Bus Driver, Willa Doughty was in the audience and arose to offer comment. Doughty, whose route includes the kids on Heath Street, suggested that some additional lighting might want to be considered.

Doughty focused attention on early morning bus schedules, especially for high-school students, stating that it was still dark out and that the young people wore dark clothing a great deal of the time. She worried they may not be visible enough to car or bus drivers.

Daniel acknowledged that problem and said he would not mind a light at the intersection but not up and down the entire street.

Vandermark felt uncomfortable with the imbalance of support shown at the meeting. He suggested additional contact be made among the residents to determine desirability, number, and placement of the lights.

Resident John Wicstrom agreed adding, that when he signed the petition he did so to support his neighbors if they truly wanted lighting.

Wicstrom added that he thought further cost and opinion studies should be done and that he did not particularly care for 15 street lights either.

Finally, everyone agreed that residents should be offered a petition containing choices regarding how many lights are to be placed and where.

Placement of a single light at Tappan Court and Tappan Drive, near Felix Drive was petitioned for by the areas residents.

No support or disapproval came from the audience. Therefore, Board members upheld the petition's request and signified that a light shall be positioned there.

Cost to area residents will be two dollars annually.

Pets Are Special At Jill's

Jill Lutz, owner of Jill's Klasy Klip, 4100 West Walton, Drayton Plains, has 20 years of experience in the dog and cat grooming business and is a Charter Member of the Michigan Professional Groomers Association.

Ms. Lutz, together with Marilyn White, groomer; Alice McCray, animal prep; and Robyn Elmy, bathers, offer all breed cat and dog grooming Tuesday through Saturday and carry a large line of pet supplies. Their specialty is dematting dogs.

Ms. Lutz's own specialty is fluff drying and scissor finishing of both cats and dogs.

In explaining her shops philosophy, Ms. Lutz says, "I never tranquilize an animal to groom them, gaining their trust on the grooming table can be accomplished with skill rather than drugs."

figures about school bus routes and recreational operations surrounding the proposed site.

Referring to the Stablex proposal as an unacceptable and unjustifiable risk, Susan Masiak said over 4000 school children are bussed on area roads each day.

She went on to say an additional 5000 students from 92 school districts utilize the Mt. Holly ski area as well.

Masiak said Stablex does not own the trucks hauling industrial waste into the site and therefore cannot control the routes used to waste haulers. She added waste carried over I-75 and US 23 represents a hazard to Clarkston and Fenton school children as well as to the Holly school children.

Masiak said that because the Stablex proposal represents 48 potentially hazardous encounters daily to children being bussed to and from school, the Site Approval Board should prohibit truck traffic between 6 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Chemist Bill Ballon had planned to mix hazardous materials in a controlled environment on a small scale to demonstrate the large scale hazardous to area residents. However, citing the dangers involved, the Site Approval Board prohibited the procedure.

Lloyd Schmaltz commented if hazardous chemicals under controlled conditions and on a small scale represent a danger, then it would be ridiculous for the Site Approval Board to grant approval for hazardous chemicals to be handled on such a grand scale as that proposed by Stablex.

Schmaltz said "we are not a few unimportant farmers living near a gravel pit but a number of concerned citizens living in the middle of prime recreation area."

David Wolf, General Manager of Stablex, said opposition to the Groveland operation is not unusual. He said in other communities where Stablex plants are in the planning stages, residents also mounted opposition campaigns.

Wolf said in Groveland's case he doubts, however, that the 140 voters who approved a millage to oppose Stablex represents a mandate. Wolf stated that a turn-out of less than 300 people to the polls when there are over 2400 registered voters in the township suggests to him that within the township there is a large contingent who are ambivalent toward the Stablex proposal.

As a result, Wolf said the company will continue in its endeavors to meet with area citizens to address their concerns.

Site Approval Board chairman Dennis Tierney said the Board will also meet on February 10 and 23 and on March 10, 17, and 31 before it makes its decision on April 5.

Tierney said at the deliberation sessions which are open to the public the Board will examine the evidence and testimony given at the January 5 and 19 public hearings and compare them with existing statutes and rules. Transportation, fire and safety concerns will be addressed. Consideration will also be given to ground and surface water surrounding the site.

Tierney added that local ordinances will be reviewed as they relate to the permit application to determine how they can be integrated into the proposed permit.

The first deliberation session will be held at the Holly High School auditorium at 7 p.m. on February 10.

Clarkston Man Convicted in Cocaine Bust

A Clarkston man and five co-defendants were found guilty Wednesday of violating federal narcotics laws, ending a six-week trial in U.S. District Court in Rome, Ga.

Charles D. Boldin, 43, of Clarkston, was found guilty on one count of conspiracy to import cocaine. He faces a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison.

Boldin and the others were arrested Oct. 25 in a raid on the Lafayette airport in north-west Georgia where authorities seized 633 pounds of cocaine valued at $300 million, an airplane and several cars.

The men were charged with two counts of conspiracy to import cocaine and two counts of conspiracy to possess and distribute cocaine.

The six defendants will be held in the Floyd County Jail until Feb. 18 when they will appear before Judge Murphy for sentencing.

PTO Pancakes

Clarkston Elementary P.T.O. is sponsoring a "Family Pancake Supper" on Wednesday, February 23, from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m. at St. Daniel's Church on Holcomb Road.

Tickets will be on sale at school at a booth in the lobby on Wednesday, February 2, and Thursday, February 3.

Puppeteering for Pre-Schoolers

A class taught by Jan Malane at Sashabaw Junior High has been busy writing the scripts, building the sets, and practicing with homemade puppets for four plays they presented to pre-schoolers last week.

"Most of the plays have Friendship as their basis. It's something that the students know pre-schoolers and the audience will understand," said Ms. Malane.

Library Corner

Pre-School Story Time at Independence Township Library is Wednesday, Feb. 2, 11 a.m. Along with songs and games during Story Time, the film shown will be "Fish That Almost Drowned." This is the story of fish that live in an aquarium.

After School Movie Hour is Wednesday, February 2, 4:30 p.m. Films for the school children include "The Skating Rink", the story of a troubled teen-ager who gains self-confidence through his ability to ice skate; "Ski Wheelers" in which the Magnificent Six and 1/2 Gang try fixing their skis to roller skates, and "Sky Dive" which presents a sky circus in action.

"Keeping Faith-Memoirs of a President" by Jimmy Carter, is just in and is on the best seller list. A very timely book is "Your Complete Guide to IRA's & Keoghs" by Jack Egan. Other new non-fiction for adults are "When Bad Things Happen To Good People" by Harold S. Kushner, and Alexandra Penney's "How to Make Love to Each Other."

A new book for young adults is "Westmark" by Lloyd Alexander, and the latest book in the junior section is "The Times They Used To Be" by Lucille Clifton.

Two books helpful for anyone considering the armed forces as a career are "Navy Enlisted Career Guide 1981-82" and a revised edition of "Armed Forces Test."

Howe Admits Entering Program

Clarkston native and Los Angeles Dodgers relief pitcher Steve Howe underwent a five-week program for "chemical dependency" late last year.

Howe completed a program at The Meadows in Wickenburg, Arizona.

The 24-year-old Howe said: "In November of 1982, with the help of my wife, Cyndy, and our business agent, Tony Attanasio, I became convinced to deal with what has since been diagnosed as a chemical dependency.

"With their encouragement, I approached the Dodgers in an effort to seek rehabilitation through their employee assistance program. Consequently, I spent a period of time at the Meadows...in an effort to better acquaint myself with Steve Howe.

"My decision to pursue this course of action was done on a voluntary basis with the unending support of several parties."

Nail Salon Opens in Drayton

"Nails have become a very popular item. Beautiful well sculptured nails not only enhance a person's looks, but are also very feminine and classy."

Debbie Titus

Digits Nail Salon has opened up shop inside the Beauty Bar Hair Salon at 4448 W. Walton in Drayton Plains. The nail salon, which owner Debbie Titus, says is the only one operating in the area, offers everything from basic manicures and pedicures to custom designing and nail extensions.

Ms. Titus brings to her own business an extensive background in cosmetology. She is a graduate of the David Presley School of Cosmetology in Royal Oak and has 5 years experience working for Fancy Fingers by Darlene of Lake Orion, Josef & Co. of Pontiac and Home Services by Debbie of Waterford. The latter was a business in which Debbie would visit clients in their homes for personal consultations.

According to Ms. Titus, "nails have become a very popular item. Beautiful well sculptured nails not only enhance a person's looks but are also very feminine and classy."

She added, "Our clientele also includes a few men. Well kept nails are just as important to men as for women. I like to call it a professional look."

In explaining some of the services she offers, Ms. Titus said a wrap is a plastic coating to protect and strengthen the natural nail. A tip, she added, is a partial nail covering which extends the length of the nail, and a cap is a full nail covering which extends the entire length of the nail.

Digits prices are very reasonable. All wraps are guaranteed and manicures are included with all tips, wraps and caps at no extra charge.

"Feel free to come in anytime during business hours to discuss the various types of nail care and services offered in the salon," concluded Ms. Titus.
