$30 Million Senior Housing Project Planned

by Mike Wilcox

A local developer's dream is about to unfold as Clarkston Place, a $30 million senior citizen housing community is expected to break ground in a few months at I-75 and Dixie Highway.

Hubert Garner, best known for his development of Deer Lake Farms, also in Clarkston, is planning a nearly self-sufficient community that will include cottage residences, arranged in duplex and fourplex configurations; and one and two bedroom apartments. In addition the community will have a health center, nursing home, recreation center and commercial shops.

Garner hopes to begin construction in June. "That's our goal, but I can't guarantee it's going to happen," said Garner. "There are so many variables."

One of the major stumbling blocks, or variables is a "Certificate of Need" which is currently being reviewed by the Michigan State Department of Health. Garner, although he expects approval, doesn't expect the certificate to be processed until spring.

Another variable is funding. Garner says he can't begin lining up the financial backing until the Certificate of Need is assured. But, again he sees no problems.

One of the hurdles he has at least partially accomplished, is the approval of governing bodies. Since the 30-acre project is in both Independence and Springfield Townships, he must seek approval from both. Currently he is scheduled to seek preliminary site plan approval from both townships in late February. To this point, Garner claims to have had a good working relationship with both township's on his new project.

In fact Garner cites a 1981 Independence Township Senior Citizen Task Force report as the impetus for Clarkston Place. Until that time he was trying to get approval for a condominium complex and hotel on the site.

But the task force report indicated a real need for senior citizen housing, and the opportunistic Garner decided to abandon the condominium project in favor of senior citizen housing.

For months Garner studied several already operating senior citizen communities. He visited all eight of the Michigan senior citizen communities, as well as many out-of-state.

In addition he hired The American Retirement Corporation of Nashville, Tennessee, to act as consultant and help design the complex.

"We're trying to develop a first class facility. We want to do it right from the start," explained Garner.

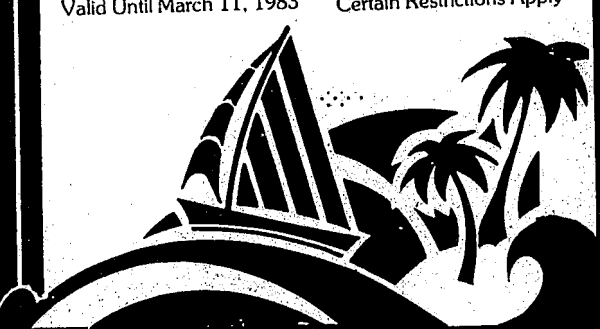

In the end, Garner and American Retirement Corp. have decided to model Clarkston Place after a Louisville, Kentucky

IN MANY CASES, CHIROPRACTIC IS THE ONLY SENSIBLE HEALTH CARE CHOICE

Listen to what patients are saying about the Cowan Chiropractic Clinic

MEDICAID/MEDICARE PATIENTS FIND RELIEF THROUGH CHIROPRACTIC

"... They told me my pains were due to arthritis and old age. Dr. Cowan said it was pinched nerves. Chiropractic care worked. . . and Medicare paid all but $3.00! . . ."

"... I was miserable before I tried chiropractic. It really helped me! . . ."

"... Medicaid paid for everything, and I really feel better. . ."

PATIENTS INSURED AT WORK FIND HELP AT THE COWAN CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC

"... After my accident at work the company doctor couldn't help me. I decided to try chiropractic instead and it worked wonders. Everyone at the Cowan Chiropractic Clinic was great! . . ."

"... I was really glad when Workman's Compensation covered all my expenses. . ."

CAR ACCIDENT VICTIMS FEEL LIKE NEW AGAIN

A whiplash victim states:

"... My neck pain was so severe after the wreck, I cried for weeks! After going to the Cowan Chiropractic Clinic, I feel brand new. . ."

"... Best of all, my automobile coverage carrier paid the whole bill. . ."

community called Brookside.

Clarkston Place residents will receive 24-hour security; home and grounds maintenance; emergency alert systems; and access to all social, recreational, and medical facilities. Also available will be housekeeping, dining and transportation services.

Current plans also call for on-site construction of a health care facility for temporary or long-term nursing care for residents.

The community will feature comfortable lounges and central dining area, a swimming pool, exercise center with sauna, library, and commercial stores like a convenience store, and barber/beauty salon.

Pre-construction prices range from a small studio apartment with 455 square feet costing $31,500 to a 2 bedroom, 1258 square foot cottage costing $90,600. In addition residents must pay a monthly service fee of $475 to $575.

If all goes according to plan, Garner expects the complex to be ready for occupancy by the summer of 1984.

Garner, who also developed Knobby Hills Farm in Highland Township, acknowledges that Clarkston Place, is far and away, the largest project he has ever been involved in. Once completed, Clarkston Place could be home for more than 400 people.

And despite the poor economy with building virtually at a halt, Garner has not hesitated to champion his idea.

Besides, he says, "I think by the time this gets going the economy is really going to be good."

Apparently many other people think the same. Since putting his sign up in December, Garner has had over 50 people place reservations for a Clarkston Place unit.

"Neighbors" Open Davisburg Office TO Feed Poor

by Theresa Catalano

"Neighbors for Neighbors" have been in existence for quite some time but the thrust has just come now, which is great!" exclaimed Mrs. Helen Vergin at the organization's February 7 meeting.

Created over a year ago by the residents of Springfield and Rose Townships, Neighbors for Neighbors has recently taken up residency at 586 Broadway in Davisburg. Their home of operation was donated to them by Jack Watson.

On February 15, Neighbors for Neighbors will have opened their doors for operation. Their present goal is to receive food substances from church, service clubs, stores and other agencies as well as from area residents, to sort and store it until it can be delivered or picked up by those who have applied for help from the group.

A similar format to that of Holly's Can Do program is expected to be used.

Mr. Norris Walls, the organizations coordinator stated "Identification cards, when I first heard of this, I felt that maybe this was an embarrassment to the people and so on. But that seems to be the key to this."

Applications are also to be filled out by those wishing to receive help but Walls explicitly stated that all information will be kept confidential to avoid any embarrassment.

Volunteers for the organization are also in great demand. Neighbors for Neighbors will need help sorting, stacking, delivering goods, along with drivers who can pick up goods from the larger organizations such as the United Way, which have supplies for this area.

Monetary donations are also in need for the maintenance of the building, the phone and other expenses.

The non-profit organization plans on "playing it by ear".

The organization has set up office hours on Friday from 3 to 9 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. as days which donations can be dropped off, and Tuesday from 9 a.m. to noon and Wednesday from 1 to 5 p.m. for food supplies to be picked up and/or delivered to recipients.

Those wishing to obtain assistance are asked to call 634-0900.

Grief And Guilt

It's not always recognized, but some guilt almost always is present with grief at the loss of a loved one.

According to psychologists, this happens because anger is one of the natural components of the grief process. This anger can be directed outward, appearing as hostility to others. Often the anger is directed inwards, upon oneself. The person becomes angry at the depression that has resulted from his loss, then feels guilt for what he might mistakenly identify as anger at the deceased. The cycle continues with unhealthy results.

Children, too, often feel guilt at the death of a parent, because they don't understand that they didn't cause the death. Similarly, parents feel guilt at the death of a child when they imagine that they could have prevented the death.

As with grief, guilt can often be eased by time and normal emotional healing. If it remains a problem that disrupts the normal process of grief, the person should seek grief-counseling.

Your questions and comments are invited, and will be answered in private or publicly, through this column.

SMALL TALK

by Rebecca Roberts

It's easy to be cynical these days. Easy to overlook the small civilities, the conviviality between people.

Sitting in the Clarkston Village Bake Shop, I think about this. Here in this quaint niche, with its greyed oak floors, the yellow from its lights splashing across the small room-warmed by the thick smell of cinnamon and smoke, it's easy for me to believe the natural state of human beings is that of good will.

Occasionally, the scratchy voice on a police radio breaks through the current of chatter. Here, it seems discordant, harsh.

The room is crowded. People paying close attention to each other, listening closely to catch private words amid the steady burr of voices. Soon, the sheriff's deputy with the radio gets up to leave. There is a flurry of 'so long,' and 'see you.'

Two young women perched on stools nearby gossip unashamedly and work out the day's shopping plans. They are on their way to Rochester. Intermittantly, people come in whom one or the other knows. Squeals of recognition, wisps of conversation. Exchange. Human beings, touching if not physically, emotionally, psychically. Murmurs, some guarded, some simply lost in the sheer noise. Quick open laughter. Now and then, a voice or two raises above the level of the others. Amenities. Hellow. How are ya. Nice to see you.

An older woman enters, gets her coffee, slides into the seat vacated by the deputy. She is elegant looking, and though she is probably in her seventies, her face is youthfully animated, and impeccably made up. She wears a grey fedora, brim down, and a longish blue coat with a flamboyant fur collar. Her eyes are a riveting blue, and she looks like she's having fun.

Comings and goings.

I look up as a woman reaches tentatively for my cream pitcher. "May I take this?" she asks. I nod. She disappears into the group across the way. I go back to my writing. Soon, a hand places the pitcher back on my table.

People stand amicably at the counter. Nobody seems impatient or harried. Yet, all will soon be on their way, if just to go out under the cold February sun.

In life there is a time for disrupting the status quo, a time to give voice to injustice, to be angry. There are a lot of things needing our anger today. But in the course of the uproar that decides the human condition, it is easy to make anger and cynicism a way of life, with no room left to acknowledge the day to day goodness in life.

There is scarcely elbow room here at the Bake Shop this day; nonetheless, a celebration of sorts is taking place. It is the celebration of human contact, of connection. People giving away a bit of their lives, getting back the stories of others, some laughter. In this winter, true communion.

Friend of the Court

by Roland C. Fancher, Esq.

With the coming of Spring comes the inevitable spectre of income tax filing. For many, this means scraping together the funds to meet this burden. Others look forward to receiving a refund from the state and federal governments to pay bills or make large purchases which have been put off until this is received.

Many parents this year, however, will be receiving notice that their refunds have been withheld by the state and federal governments to repay money which the parents owe to the State of Michigan for back support arrearages which were not paid when their children were receiving public assistance.

Most affected taxpayers have already received a notice stating that their refunds will be withheld for this purpose. Lists of cases where public assistance arrearages existed in amounts of $500 or more as of September 1, 1982 were submitted upon the request of the Office of Child Support, a division of the Michigan Department of Social Services. These lists were in turn submitted to the state and federal taxing authorities, who then "intercept" tax refunds for support arrearages. At present, monies are intercepted only where they are owed to the state, not where owed to individual parents.

If you have received a notice that your refund is to be intercepted and you feel that you do not owe the amount claimed, contact the office of the Friend of the Court for an audit of your child support account. If the money is to be intercepted from a return filed jointly, are partially due to money earned by your current spouse, contact the state and federal taxing authorities to determine if the withheld money can be taken only from your portion of the refund.

Oakland County domestic relations cases accounted for well over two million dollars in tax interceptions in 1982. Until this program was created, these monies would probably not have been collected. State-wide figures are not yet available, but are expected to exceed thirteen million dollars. This money will certainly help the State of Michigan to meet its obligations in these troubled economic times.

If you have any questions regarding the operations of the Friend of the Court, address them to Mr. Fancher in care of The Reminder. Questions regarding individual cases should be sent directly to the Oakland County Friend of the Court, 1200 North Telegraph, Pontiac, MI 48053.

Slow Economy Won't Stop Garner

We've been hearing and talking a lot about our economic woes lately. The news is filled with free food, unemployment and bankruptcies.

It's time we shared a positive note. This week's Zone Two Reminder features what could possibly be one of the biggest success stories to come our way in a long time.

Local developer Hugh Garner is attempting what many might consider the impossible during this economic downturn. Garner, himself, who has been hurt by the economy because of slow house sales, is planning a new development called Clarkston Place.

What makes the development so gutsy, is that it is expected to cost over $30 million and will bring 400 new residents to the Clarkston area. Those numbers are enormous, and will make Garner's Clarkston Place the biggest development ever to hit the Clarkston area.

What's equally nice about the development is that it will be exclusively for a category of citizens in our society that are largely overlooked. Clarkston Place will cater exclusively to senior citizens.

All types of surveys have shown that Clarkston and neighboring Springfield Township could use additional housing for senior citizens. This project will certainly create a massive dent in those needs.

Another nice feature of the project is that it will be a "quality" project. The apartments and cottages will be luxurious and will have all the amenities one could want. In addition there will be a swimming pool, arts and crafts and various classes offered, a library, a medical center and several commercial shops.

We sincerely hope Mr. Garner's project becomes a reality soon. We think it will make a splendid addition to the Clarkston area.

We can't Afford The Stablex Gamble In Groveland

I don't know what the odds are that there will be a malfunction causing leakage or a spill at the plant. I don't know that the product they bury will not break down and pollute, and I don't know that there will not be a spill from a tanker hauling to the plant.

I do know that accidents happen. Just the other day there was a news story about a run-a-way tanker loaded with chemical waste.

I know that this site is within a heavily used, major recreation area and that it is smack-dab on top of a major aquifer.

A decision must be based not only on how it will affect us today but even more importantly on how it will affect future in the area and the users of the recreational facilities. Contamination of the water would affect us now and could have long-lasting consequences. The most valuable natural resource we have in Michigan is fresh water.

I have been told by people in the oil business that if I ever had any influence in offshore drilling in the Great Lakes, "Don't let it happen." They also said if I ever quoted them they would deny it because they work for companies that want those drilling rights.

Many people feel that in years to come our water will be more valuable than oil. Here we have a possible polluter that wants to locate on top of a major aquifer that has supplied fresh water for many years and can be expected to do so for many more.

Can Stablex guarantee that this aquifer will never be contaminated?

Can we take that chance?

The Stablex process may have merit. The State of Michigan encouraged them to locate in Michigan. The State should be helping Stablex find a site, where a spill would not have the catastrophic results that a spill here would have.

Local Planning Commissions, Appeals Boards, Site Approval Boards and anyone with any influence must do everything possible to insure the health, safety and well-being of those of us here today. They must also base their decisions on the health, safety, and well-being of future generations.

We cannot afford to gamble with the health and safety of our residents.

We cannot afford to dissipate the recreational lands that are helping to provide a better life for millions of people.

We cannot afford to dissipate the recreational lands that are helping to provide a better life for millions of people.

We cannot gamble with the possible destruction of a valuable natural resource such as fresh water.

We cannot afford the Stablex Gamble on this site.

Sports Summary

by Ken Neldrett

Clarkston romped past Rochester in a 49-37 GOAL basketball game Friday at Rochester. Craig Kulaszewski, Ray Kubani and Mike McCormick contributed in the victory for the Wolves of Clarkston.

The victory Friday night was Clarkston's 14 in a row, and boosted their record to 14-1 overall and 10-0 in the GOAL. Rochester's record dropped to 5-9 overall and 3-6 in the GOAL.

When asked about the key to success this year, Clarkston coach Dan Fife replied, "I feel senior leadership is the key", and it proved to be so as Clarkston won another. With 6 seniors on the team this year, that should make a little room for sophomores and juniors to move up.

Coach Fife feels all the GOAL teams are strong this year especially Lake Orion and West Bloomfield.

In Friday night's action, the first half was all Clarkston due to their height advantage. But in the second half Rochester played stronger defense. It was more than three minutes in the second half before Clarkston scored any points. Rochester had numerous chances to cut Clarkston's lead, but their offense wasn't capitalizing.

With 4:30 left in the fourth period Clarkston had their biggest lead at 46-29. Rochester scored the next two baskets of the game, but time ran out on Rochester, and Clarkston went on to their 14th victory in a row.

West Bloomfield outscored Mott in every quarter Friday night to even their record at 8-8 overall and 5-5 in the GOAL with a final score of 54-34.

Pacing the Lakers with 14 points was Brent Power. Todd Krumm added 12 points. Mott, who fell to 2-13 overall and 1-9 in the GOAL, was led by Tim Schumberg's 8 points and by John Sykes' 6.

The first half was close, but the running game of the Huskie's did Township in, with a 55-43 victory for Pontiac Northern.

Leading Township's scoring attack was, Mark Nickman with 12 and Paul Preto with 7 points.

Guard, Tony Dudley sank an 18-foot jump shot in the closing seconds of Tuesday night's game to give the Captains of Waterford Kettering a 56-55 victory over Rochester.

The Captains now 9-5 overall and 5-3 in the GOAL, let the game get out of control, with 3:50 left in regulation time, Kettering had a 54-51 lead, but in the next 2:51 the Falcons outscored Kettering 4-0 to take a 55-54 lead with about a minute left in the game.

After a Captain turnover, all Rochester had to do is run out the time on the clock. But Bruce Crosthwaite, for the Falcons, fouled John Palmer with 40 seconds left and the Captains called a time out.

Palmer missed the first of a one and one and the Falcons center John Trouba grabbed the rebound. Again, all Rochester had to do is run out the clock.

But then, Ron Fox, the Falcon guard was called for walking, and the Captains had possession of the ball with 32 seconds left. Kettering then called time out, and Captain coach, Charlie Shires drew up what would be the final score.

When play resumed, Dudley, the Captain guard, got the ball along the baseline and sank the winning bucket with 10 seconds left to play, and the final score was Kettering 56, Rochester 55.

Scott Oshinsky scored 15 points, while Todd Krumm and Dave Austin each chipped in with 11 points as West Bloomfield ran over Waterford Township 59-49. Township fell to 4-10 on the year, was paced by Mark Nickman's 17 points. Dan Holloway added 14 points, while Paul Preto scored 10 points for Township.

Mike McCormick and Ray Kubani combined for 30 points as Clarkston breezed to their 13th victory out of 14 games. Clarkston sewed up first place in the GOAL with a 9-0 mark. John Sykes scored 10 points for Mott. Mott is now 2-12 overall and is 1-8 in the GOAL.

The Captains of Waterford Kettering overcame a nine point deficit in the second half to defeat Lake Orion 57-54 in a GOAL contest Friday night. Kettering outscored Lake Orion 17-10 in the third quarter, and went on to victory.

With 1:18 left in the fourth quarter, Kettering had a 54-51 lead. Lake Orion then made a free throw to cut the lead to only one basket.

Lake Orion guard Tim Scribner made a layup and cut Kettering's lead to one point. Then Scribner fouled Kettering's Scott Malvich with only five ticks on the clock. Malvich sank both shots, and sealed the victory for the Captains.

MOT Performs at Eagle

Combining the brilliance and pagentry of Detroit's resident opera company with superb acoustical ambience of the 50-year old Eagle Theatre, "The Marriage of Figaro" marks the initial appearance of the Michigan Opera Theatre in Pontiac.

Mozart's opera "The Marriage of Figaro," one of the 1982-83 season success of the MOT, will be presented with a Detroit-area cast on Saturday evening March 19 at 8:00 p.m.

In addition to the Saturday evening production of the complete opera, there will be five days of opera performances (March 14 thru 18) for Pontiac school students.

Traffic Fatalities at Record Low

Michigan's 1982 traffic fatalities dropped to their lowest total in 24 years and the state's preliminary death rate based on miles traveled was the lowest ever, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

"A total of 1,393 persons died on state roads last year," stated Robert Cullen, Auto Club Safety and Traffic Engineering manager. "That is 12 percent below 1981 and one-third fewer than the 2,076 fatalities in 1978, the last year the state recorded an increase."

Last year's total was the lowest since 1,382 persons were killed on state roads in 1958.

Michigan's unofficial 1982 death rate of 2.3 per 100 million vehicle miles compares to a projected national death rate of 2.9. Last year was the fourth straight that the state had fewer than three fatalities per 100 million vehicle miles.

Through September, Michigan's death rate was the fifth lowest in the nation. The state ranked sixth nationally in 1981, fifth in 1980 and eighth in 1979.

The Michigan Department of Transportation estimates motorists drove 61.3 billion miles in Michigan in 1982, down 1 percent from the 1981 total of 62 billion miles.

"Besides reduced travel, the economy is one of the major reasons for the continuing drop in highway deaths," Cullen said.

National Highway Traffic Safety Administration figures show that in states severely affected by the recession, including those in the Northeast and Midwest, 1981 traffic deaths dropped between 12 and 22 percent.

"We have tracked that trend for nearly 30 years and found similar drops during other Michigan economic downturns," Cullen said. In 1974 and 1975, deaths in Michigan fell 15 and 18 percent, respectively, compared with 1973. In 1957 and 1958, deaths dropped 11 and 21 percent, compared with 1956.

"During recessionary periods, people tend to live-and drive-more conservatively, and we believe that conservative driving is synonymous with safer driving," he said.

The Auto Club also credits innovative police techniques with helping to reduce deaths. Among those is use of the State Police's Michigan Accident Location Index (MALI) computer program as well as county, township and municipal programs which pinpoint high-accident and violation areas.

"Those programs allow police to concentrate traffic enforcement efforts on roads where their presence does the most to help reduce accidents and deaths," Cullen said.

Accent on Education Clarkston Offers 3 Kindergarten Types

by Claudia Brazel

Elementary school emphasis in the Clarkston School District embodies the concept of basic education.

William Neff, Principal of Andersonville Elementary and acting Director of Elementary Education in Clarkston defines basic education as "those subject areas that are generally accepted as those things that the elementary youngster should be proficient in: certainly reading; spelling; handwriting; arithmetic; science; social studies; spoken, written, english communication skills."

Neff stated that additionally, "We (Clarkston District) want children to have experiences in art. We would like them to have experiences in physical education, instrumental, vocal music, and also in library skills."

"These areas fall somewhat out of the realm of basic education, but we strongly feel they should be emphasized."

Study skills and the early development of them, are important to developing a successful school experience. Effective study skills ease academic pressure and helps to emphasize responsibility.

Although implementation of active, practicing skill techniques are left primarily to the teacher. The Clarkston District considers study skill achievement as desirable objective.

Parents of pre-school children often feel pressured to prepare their child for entry into kindergarten. Occasionally, worry over a child's inability to accomplish a rudimentary skill such as writing their own name or identifying colors, words, and letters, can place an unfair burden on the child and the parent.

Neff advises parents that the best preparation for school is, "to provide their child with as many experiences as they can, to take them places."

"These things help a child to be ready for kindergarten. They give him a wealth of experiences to draw upon."

Neff stressed reading, as an important guideline to kindergarten preparation. But not in the sense that the child be able to read. Pre-kindergarten maturation levels, as a rule, are not developed sufficiently to provide reading skills.

Neff feels that, "Reading is one thing that needs to be done with every youngster coming to kindergarten."

"There should be things in the home for reading: magazines, newspapers, books. Little children should have all kinds of picture books and story books."

"Parents should read to their child. Children should see their parents reading. Children learn by example, they model much of their parents behavior."

Neff urges parents to help "Take the pressure off, let them just go to school and do a good job. Let them be themselves." Neff cautions parents against expecting too much, too soon.

Clarkston School District has developed a rather unique and individualized kindergarten program, offering three avenues of education for the beginning student. The program is designed to accommodate all kindergarten aged children, supplying levels of educational development that best suit the child's maturation level.

The program provides three areas of possible placement for the kindergarten student. S.P.I.C.E. (Special Program in Child Education), Developmental Kindergarten, and Regular Kindergarten.

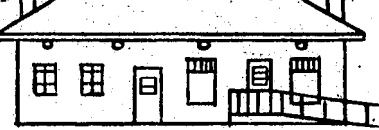

Pre-kindergarten screening is used to help assess the child's developmental stage, determining in part, the level entry into kindergarten.

By assessing screening data and talking with the child's parents and/or pediatrician, a decision is made regarding the kindergarten program best suited to the child's individual capabilities.

S.P.I.C.E. is a program, mandated by Public Law, that provides individualized curriculum instruction for youngster's 0-5 years of age, who must develop within the confines of some type of impairment.

possible start in education, S.P.I.C.E. utilizes the services of Teachers, Parents, Speech Clinicians, Social Workers, Psychologists, Occupational Therapists and Physical Therapists (as needed), and a consulting Psychiatrist.

Admission into the S.P.I.C.E. program comes from many different sources: Parents, pre-school referrals, Pediatricians, outside agency referrals, and Pre-kindergarten screening.

Developmental Kindergarten is a fairly new program in Clarkston. Neff described the program this way:

"Development Kindergarten is a program that we have, for those youngsters, that even though they are five on or before December 1 of the year that they went to kindergarten, have developed or matured at a developmental age that may be considerably less than their age."

Neff illustrated the need for a developmental kindergarten program by example of children entering school at age four with birthdays falling just below the December 1 cut off date.

These children, customarily have been placed in classrooms with children who have been five years old for nearly a year. Developmentally, the age difference can mean a great deal.

Neff reviewed, "Up until now, we have been putting them all in kindergarten and expecting of them that, at the end of the year, they would be ready for first grade, able to go into formal reading, math and so forth. And it wasn't happening."

"Our retention rate in kindergarten was increasing yearly. We were getting smarter. We knew more about childhood development. Our teachers were better trained in it. We were having to say, our kindergarten curriculum is not appropriate for a segment of our student population."

With that in mind and with district data in hand, Clarkston administrators, board members, teachers, and other staff members set about to design a new kindergarten curriculum. One that would accommodate all of Clarkston youngsters.

The developmental youngster is a child who has not reached the maturity level of most children entering kindergarten. The developmental kindergarten child often is not ready to pass on, through the playing stage. They want to play; are not ready to be set to tasks involving longer attention span or disciplined pencil and paper mechanisms.

Frequently a child referred to Developmental Kindergarten, is very shy, perhaps still emotionally tied to home or mother. He does not socialize as easily as other beginning school children and may not be ready to share attention, play things or feelings with persons outside the home environment.

Developmental Kindergarten is an option to the possibility of keeping the child home a year longer or placing him in a regular class and risking that his experience might become one of failure.

SAY YOU SAW IT IN THE REMINDER, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1983

Through the developmental program Neff feels Clarkston can meaningfully say "Send them to school. Don't keep them home. We have a place where your child can advance successfully."

The D.K. program is a two year program, offering one year in D.K. with an additional year in Regular Kindergarten. Neff assures parents that "If we see that the youngster has the capabilities of going into Regular Kindergarten we'll move them up."

Developmental Kindergarten classes are held separately from regular kindergarten classes and have a smaller class size. All teachers are trained in the Geselle Technique of child rearing and a curriculum structure different than that in regular kindergarten is implemented.

National statistics show that this type of development program helps children to enter first grade, prepared to adopt successfully to formal educational programs of study.
