Independence Approves LaPiazza Liquor

by Claudia Brazel

LaPiazza Family Dining of 4742 Clarkston Road, was granted a tavern liquor license at the April 5 meeting of the Independence Township Board.

Although the majority of residents present at the meeting opposed the move, LaPiazza will be licensed to sell beer and wine to its restaurant patrons.

Owner of LaPiazza, Allie Assad, last appeared before the board with his request in July of 1982. At that time Assad presented plans to upgrade the total property and to remodel an adjacent store and his carryout location into a single carryout and restaurant service.

Assad's request brought opposition from residents living near the convenience complex which includes: Richardsons, LaPiazza and Mathisen Plumbing.

Residents were highly vocal in 1982 about their opposition, pointing out that the location was already a hangout for kids, and attracted undesirables who stopped to purchase liquor at Richardsons.

Drawing from frequent police calls and the occurrence of a murder of a Richardson's cashier, residents asked that conditions not be worsened by allowing the placement of an establishment that sells alcohol.

Assad's request was denied in 1982, but softened with Board input as to possible changes in the plans and property that could display a responsible and future investment profile of Assad's goodwill for the community.

Perhaps, in time, if Assad's presence were determined to be an asset to the area, then perhaps the Board would reconsider.

Assad returned Monday night with just that profile. Assad has upgraded the septic system to meet township requirements; remodeled the location, implementing board "requests", at great expense and with no assurance that it would have an affect on licensing; initiated landscaping of exterior areas surrounding the total complex; constructed proper privacy walls in the rear area of the building; and is in the process of moving utility poles to resurface and upgrade the parking lot. To move one utility pole alone is costing Assad $3,460. The entire renovation project has cost him $53,000 so far.

LaPiazza dining is open from 4:00 p.m. until midnight Fridays and Saturdays and 4:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday. LaPiazza donut and coffee shop opens at 5:00 a.m. daily.

Harvey Gauthier, a resident who lives on Monterey, directly behind the complex was opposed to the liquor license. Gauthier feels the complex, which is so close to the residential area, is no place for booze. Like citizens in 1982, Gauthier sites the undesirable hangout the complex has become and doesn't want another business with liquor involved.

Traffic is another problem Gauthier referred to and feels that the effects of the restaurant selling liquor, even though only beer and wine, are by and large unfavorable. Bad for the area and bad for the kids, he said.

Pat Kushion, another resident on Monterey echoed Gauthier's feelings, adding that, if the Board granted the license what assurances do the residents have that beer and wine will continue to be the only beverages LaPiazza will desire to serve or that LaPiazza's hours will remain moderate?

Kushion also worries that a precedent might be set, allowing a regular 'bar' to develop.

Supervisor James Smith told Kushion that before that could happen the township would be in a position to inform the liquor licensing commission of the township's opposition.

Assad's attorney Leo Farhat, confirmed Smith's remark adding that township approval of a liquor license was in fact a mandatory statute.

Jerry Methner, of Lakeview St., added his comments about busy summer use of the complex, particularly by Pine Knob audiences; feeling the addition of one more stop off point for bathroom and liquor needs would only complicate the corner's problems.

Trustee William Vandermark said he was aware of the corner's problems, having lived in Thendara Park at one time. The Richardson's store was allowed to evolve to provide area residents with a close source of shopping for food and staples. Prior to their appearance residents had to travel some distance just to buy milk.

Unfortunately, Vandermark said, Richardson's has presented a problem for the area; but, Assad's business interests should not be condemned because of another business' unfavorable community relations.

Assad has made expensive and extensive changes in his business to accommodate township and residential interests, and that Vandermark feels, should be considered.

Finally, Vandermark asked if anyone present could detail instances where LaPiazza's presence has "unfavorably" and "directly" affected the complex or areas security or resulted in a down-grading of either.

Other than mention of a slight disagreement that took place between two LaPiazza customers, two years ago, that resulted in some flying chairs, residents present could not verify any 'direct' involvement of LaPiazza or its customers in undesirable activities.

Glen White of Eston Road spoke up stating that 68 persons had petitioned, opposing the sit down liquor license before, and it could be done again, if that's what it would take to allow citizens to express themselves on the issue.

A resident of nearby Thendara Park, John Christianson, spoke in defense of LaPiazza. Christianson said he frequently stops in at the establishment for donuts and coffee and occasionally dines there. He feels Assad has done much to improve the corner and reduce problems there. Christianson doesn't believe Assad should bear the burden of the complex's poor reputation, that existed long before LaPiazza was conceived. Christianson favors Assad's business venture and commended Assad for the improvements done so far.

Shirley Tewes of Eston Road also vouched for Assad; calling him a good family man who wants to run a good, clean, family business. Tewes sited Assads building and landscaping improvements.

Tewes is the mother of Assads wife, Sandra, who was also present at the meeting with the couple's 4 week old baby. The couple also has a ten year old daughter.

When the vote was called, Trustee Larry Kozma was the only board member to vote no.

Kozma said the corner complex had been zoned to provide area residents with a "convenience center", allowing Richardson's to be developed. Kozma felt that allowing an establishment, within the complex to hold a tavern license, would in effect, be compounding a change in the area.

Besides, Kozma added, the residents themselves wanted neither a liquor license or a restaurant there. He would therefore vote against the licensing.

Death and the Family

It's obvious that grief over the death of a loved one affects the individual deeply. But what does this grief and the person's death do to his family as a whole?

The loss of a member leaves the family in transition. The consequences are many: economic (loss of a wage-earner, for example), social (a child may lose a playmate), practical (an extra room in the house).

Also, grief shows itself in different ways in each of us, and this may cause stress in the family. A mother may snap at her children; a youngster may become withdrawn at the dinner table. These reactions are all completely normal.

It is possible that these extra stresses can cause significant problems within the family. When this is the case, counseling often is advisable. Your clergyman or mental health professional can assist with this.

Usually, though, the loss of a loved one is a burden shared by the family as well as by the individual; the grief family members experience brings them together stronger as a family than ever before.

We invite your comments and questions, which will be answered in private or publicly, through this column.

New U of D Clarkston Campus to Hold Open House

The new campus at Colomblere Center, is the first suburban campus of the 105-year-old Jesuit university. It's being opened this fall to make the rigorous, value-oriented education for which U of D is known more accessible to students living in Oakland, Genesee, Lapeer, Livingston and W. Macomb counties.

To accommodate working students, classes will be held four days weekly, Monday through Thursday, and will be completed by early afternoon.

Students at Colomblere also will have an opportunity to obtain paid career-related experience through the University's cooperative education program.

The University's scholarship and financial aid programs also will be available to Colomblere students.

In addition, some special merit scholarships have been designated for Colomblere students.

Gavette, Earns SVSC Letter

Craig Gavette, a graduate of Clarkston High School, has received this third varsity letter for competing on the Saginaw Valley State College Wrestling team.

The junior Cardinal grappler led the team in take downs for the second straight season and finished the season with a 10-15 record at 126-pounds. Gavette had many outstanding performances during the season, wrestling well enough to place third in the Great Lakes Conference meet and earn himself a trip to the NCAA Division II Regional tournament.

SVSC Head Coach Karl Briggs expects bigger and better things from him next season. "I feel that Craig's senior season will be his best. He has worked hard on the weights sense he came here as a freshman and he really built up his strenght.

"If Craig continues to work hard over the summer he has the potential to become an All-American."

Clerk Earns Masters

Congratulations are in order to Independence Township Clerk Chris Rose who has just completed requirements for a Master's of Arts Degree in Management in Supervision. Rose's studies included a concentration on Public Administration. Rose completed his classes at the Central Michigan Extension branch located in Troy. At times, completion was difficult for Rose because class schedules often conflicted with his township duties, requiring him to occasionally double up on classes in order to fit degree requirements into his schedule.

One hundred twenty-two student from Michigan are included on the dean's list of Bob Jones University, Greenville, S.C. Students listed earned at least a B average during the first semester. Those included from this area are the following:
 Craig Forest Hayward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry F. Hayward of 4851 Sylvanview Drive, Clarkston; senior, School of Religion.
 Michael Robert Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sanders of 8134 Fairfield, Clarkston; freshman, School of Education.
 Miss Jane Ann Deaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Ira Deaver of 6136 Ormond, Davisburg; senior, School of Education.

Let's briefly recap some of the more momentous decisions made by our local units of government in the last couple of months. In retrospect, many of the decisions show a great deal of foresight and wisdom. Others, however, seem unreasonable and thoughtless. It is the latter that will deserve most of this column's attention.

*Waterford Township's decision to put the new courthouse question on the ballot -- Letting the people decide this important decision is well worth the time and effort needed to hold a special election. It is evident that additional space is needed for Judge Hempstead's District Court. Whether, completely new facilities are the answer is a question the voting public should decide.

*Waterford Township's decision to put additional EMS funds on the ballot -- As of yet we are still waiting to hear the logic behind this decision. If the funds are needed why doesn't someone document the case and campaign before the public with it. Instead, we hear information from several citizens that the additional tax burden is not warranted. Thus, one is led to believe the issue does not belong on the ballot.

*Independence and Springfield Annual Meeting decisions to give township officials substantial pay raises -- How in the world can they be justified when so many person are either out of work or taking pay cuts?

*Clarkston School Board's decision to offer teachers no pay increases -- On the one hand, I admire the Board's determined effort to hold the line on pay increases. I agree times are tough and teachers ought to be willing to settle for less or the same. However, that determination must be tempered by a factfinder's ruling that the teachers deserve a slight pay increase. To ignore the factfinder's ruling, which the Board has, will only make morale worse among school employees and ultimately hamper the education of our children.

*Waterford School Board's decision to hold a study session and seminar in East Lansing -- Why? Waterford has perfectly adequate facilities for seminars and study sessions. Why should taxpayers pay $600 for board members and administrators to travel to Lansing to hold a meeting? Times are tough in Waterford. The school district budget should not have funds available for such trips.

*The Michigan Legislature's decision to boost the state income tax by 37 percent -- Preposterous! I still don't understand how we can achieve economic recovery by forcing the working population to pay an additional tax. The working people in Michigan are taxed enough. It is state spending that must be dealt with. State spending must be cut, and cut and cut, and then, and only then, will we have a true economic recovery.

SMALL TALK

by Rebecca Roberts

It was a meeting mostly of strangers, who'd come together to see what we could do about World Problems. I had heard about the Planetary Initiative last year on a visit to Upland Hills Farm School, during their Eco-Fair.

Planetary Initiative is not, they say, so much an organization as it is a network of individuals who sincerely believe we can change the world for the better through individual action. The Initiative believes, among other things, that if we work to create good in our everyday lives on the assumption that everybody in the world is good, the evil worm that seems to be spoiling the earth can be turned. It has a slogan: Think globally, act locally.

This meeting was held at the home of one of the members, and I knew from the twenty or so cars parked kitty-wampus across the lawns and driveways of this suburban Birmingham neighborhood, the turnout inside would be respectable.

As my friend and I were ushered inside by a pale smiling woman of about thirty, we were gently shushed in deference to the speaker, who was already telling his audience of thirty-five or so about the truths they had to come to hear.

There leaned a man in his late thirties, casually against the white wall of the den. Before him, lined in chairs, were an assortment of men and women, evidently absorbed in this man's words, words, I had the feeling, he'd said many times before. He was dressed in dark colors, brown pants, a dark sports coat, and dark blue crew-necked sweater. The stiff white collar of his shirt poking up made him look like a priest. I studied him. Fine bones, long fingers. His hair, which was black washed with grey, frizzed and balding, gave him a slightly bohemian look. Angular eyebrows which perked to accentuate his speech brought to mind the maverick intellectualism of a Dick Cavett, this one out to save the world. To save the world. I guess that's why we were all here.

This man, whose name was Steve, was speaking about strength through unity; the whole, he reminded us, is greater than the sum of its parts. He was explaining the basic tenets of the Planetary Initiative. It sounded like a mixture of activism and flower child idealism.

There was a home movie screen set up, and it soon became apparent that Steve, who was from the New York office, was leading up to the movie's message. He was explaining a theory called "The Hundredth Monkey", which was incidentally, the name of the movie.

To be continued next week.

Dear Editor:

The attached letter was mailed to all of the commissioners on the Oakland County Board of Commissioners.

It was signed by the officers who were demoted or laid off as a result of the "budgetary" action.

In all probability, you know few, if any of the people who have signed this letter. We are the present and former officers of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department who were so drastically affected by your action which took effect January 1, 1983. All of us came to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department believing it to be a modern and progressive agency. Many of us took a substantial reduction in wages (and benefits) to make what we felt was a wise, positive and beneficial career move. Approximately half of us gave up good positions with other law enforcement agencies. The rest of us came to this department believing it to be the best way to start our law enforcement careers. Unfortunately, the budgetary action which took effect January 1, 1983 has made all of us regret our decisions.

The demotions and layoffs have affected all of us professionally, financially and even domestically. Your action has threatened all of us in ways we can only hope you never envisioned. You have placed all of us in a position that threatens our professional careers, the financial welfare of our families, and in some cases, endangered marriages.

We are coming to you at this time not to demand or threaten. Rather, we are coming to you to ask you to restore our positions. Restoration of the positions would yield benefits on a variety of levels. Obviously all of us would benefit, but so would the Oakland County Sheriff's Department and the citizens of Oakland County. The restoration of positions would improve the morale of the Sheriff's Department as well as its stature in the eyes of the law enforcement community. All of us believe that the political activities of all sides of this ongoing dispute have given Oakland County a black eye. It is time to show everyone that the County of Oakland is not run solely on the basis of partisan politics.

Private citizens, public officials and the media have all questioned the rationale for the action taken against us. Certainly you say that the action was not taken against us, personally. In truth, we are the only ones who have suffered. Our contention is that none of the purported motivations for the action (economic, political or personal) has achieved the goals hoped for.

From an economic perspective one could offer an argument that the budget cuts saved money for the County of Oakland. But in the face of the threatened loss of grants, continued unemployment payments and the ongoing legal fees to defend the action the actual amount of money saved depends upon who does the calculating.

In all reality, none of us is naive enough to believe that your action was taken in the interest of the county's economic welfare. Too many members of the Oakland County Board of Commissioners have stated publicly and privately that the action was political and specifically directed at Sheriff Spreen. We do not wish to be caught in the middle of this conflict. We have no influence in the administration of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. In private industry inter-management conflicts are not resolved by layoffs and demotions of the production or hourly worker. Certainly that logic applies to this situation. Do not hold us political prisoners in the hopes of affecting the actions of Sheriff Spreen. It is obvious to us that we have no effect on the administration of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department but must bear the brunt of actions resulting from that administration.

We ask you to restore our jobs. Nothing positive has been gained from your action. State and federal grants that have brought much positive public exposure to this county and its Sheriff's Department are being jeopardized. The image of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department has been tarnished and no longer do we enjoy the once substantial professional stature held by the department. Finally, the action has exposed the Oakland County Board of Commissioners, Sheriff Spreen and County Executive Daniel Murphy to substantial questionable media coverage. Ladies and gentlemen, it is time to restore the confidence of the citizens of Oakland County that has surely been shaken by all this political infighting.

Signed by 36 Officers

Friend of the Court

by Roland C. Fancher

In my position as Friend of the Court attorney I often hear from men that our office always takes the side of the woman. Almost as often women state that we always take the side of the man. Obviously, both statements can not be true. Who then does the Friend of the Court represent?

The 1919 law which established the Friend of the Court provided that the office should act "for the protection of defendant minor children". The new law which comes into effect on July 1, 1983 is designed "to ensure that the procedures adopted by the Friend of the Court will protect the interests of children in domestic relations matters". The new law also expands the role of the office in negotiation and settlement of disputes, as the Friend of the Court will now be required to assist parties in voluntarily resolving disputes as to support, custody and visitation through mediation and counseling.

The Friend of the Court was created to protect the minor children and to enforce court orders made on their behalf. However, if our office is enforcing a support order, it often appears that we are representing the custodial parent. If we are enforcing a visitation order, it may appear that we are representing the non-custodial parent. In fact, we are not representing either. We are attempting to protect the interests of the minor children and are representing them. We are also assisting the court by bringing to its attention situations where its orders are being violated.

Thus, the Friend of the Court becomes involved where an order that was made on behalf of the minor children is being violated. It takes whatever action it deems appropriate to correct the violation. If support and visitation orders are both being violated, it is not uncommon for a Friend of the Court attorney to take action against both parents at the same time. Were the attorney representing either parent, this would be a conflict of interest. However, as the attorney is assisting the court on behalf of the minor children no such conflict exists.

The role of the Friend of the Court is not to punish or harass either party, but to protect the children. By enforcing the Court orders, respect for the decisions of the Court is maintained, and the interests of the children are protected.

Fire Officials Want Total Millage Levied

by Claudia Brazel

Independence Township citizens will be hearing a lot about their Fire Department in the next few weeks as the Township Board and the Fire Department work out budget details for it.

Township Treasurer Fred Ritter placed the fire budget on the April 5 board meeting agenda; feeling that it should be discussed, primarily because 1983-84 budgets were frozen at 1982-83 levels and the fire department has available additional millage levy beyond 1982-83 budget appropriations.

Chief Frank Ronk was present and stated his belief that the entire fire department millage should be levied this year, increasing the budget by $21,000 in 1983-84.

Ritter also offered Ronk the opportunity to further explain the department's need to hire two additional, full-time persons.

Supervisor James Smith questioned the placement of the fire department item on the agenda, at that particular time, stating it had been the Board's intention to review the fire department's budget and others utilizing separate millage funding, line by line, as budget briefs were prepared by each of those departments.

Smith also felt that levy of the entire millage for the department was not an absolute requirement, referring to board policy to operate below approved millage amounts when possible, in order to save for future operational and construction needs.

Smith drew attention to some of the department's future capital needs such as the renovation or replacement of Station 1, and expansion and improvement of Station 2; adding that providing a tight knit department of professionals "supported by qualified volunteers" and operating at a cost within the community's ability to support, was the board's responsibility.

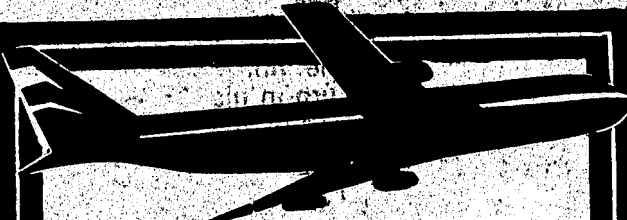

Chief Ronk displayed a chart showing scheduling of the department's manpower and told those present that he had been breaking the law by using back-to-back 24-hour shifts. The township attorney, Ronk said, had just recently told him that he could not schedule the back-to-back 24-hour duty roster.

Smith disagreed with Ronk's statement saying that Ronk could not "require" the men to work the schedule but the men could volunteer for extra duty, increasing their wages.

Ronk said he needed two additional persons to cover shifts, reducing overtime and allowing full staffing when sick calls or vacation time arises.

Each man would add around $26,000 to department expenditures by salary alone and overtime is presently projected to cost the department around $25,000 a year.

Discussion that continued, did little to resolve the issue, and Trustees Dale Stuart and Bill Vandermark finally stated that too many unknowns existed to allow a decision. Both men requested that the Chief supply a complete and detailed analysis of the department with considerations of future capital outlays, such as construction and equipment replacements, included. Stuart and Vandermark both stressed the importance of capital expenditure projections having priority over personnel, cut to the high cost involved in maintaining those items.

Dr. James O'Neill, who serves on a task force that has investigated township options in creating a Department of Public Safety, spoke to the board regarding the possibility of re-activating the task force, particularly in light of fire and police department budget needs.

O'Neill posed to the board, that not levying the full millage, even $21,000 worth, might stifle the fire department, whose members find the amount meaningful. O'Neill suggested the task force reconvene to provide the board with information that may help to determine whether or not the fire and police departments should operate jointly within a public safety department.

Vandermark and Smith agreed that entire levying of the millage was not mandatory and that township officials should adhere to policies that keep residents taxes as low as possible.

Smith added that township policy, under the present board, is to avoid purchases or expenditures that spend tax dollars for interest. Smith and Ronk have worked diligently to set-up separate funds for the fire department that allow the department to save for capital outlays rather than purchase, on time credit, and pay high interest charges.

All board members agreed the department's budget and personnel structure needed to be looked at in depth, and would probably require change and/or additions.

Ritter motioned to hire at least one additional employee but the move fell by the wayside during discussion.

Stuart motioned to table the matter until further information could be gathered. The motion passed, with Ritter and Trustee Larry Kozma opposing. Both men preferred taking some action that evening.

Ronk asked that, in the future board members have a clearer idea of what they want to do and what information they need from him before asking him to appear before them again.

Vandermark thought the statement by Ronk was fair and told Ronk that he would like to see: an accurate accounting of hours needed and calculations used to derive those figures, and a well-defined budget including capital outlay, projections for at least a five year period, preferably longer.

Six File for Two School Posts

William Medlin was the final Board of Education candidate to turn in his petition, with the required signatures of 20 Clarkston School District electors, on Monday, April 11, 1982, just minutes before the 4 o'clock deadline.

Six other persons also filed candidacy petitions. They are: David Kithill, President of C.U.R.E., to serve a 1 year term; Janet Thomas, present Board of Education President to continue for another 4 year term; Fernando Sanchez who also seeks another 4 year term; Thomas Azoni, serving a remaining 6 month term seeks a 1 year term; Elaine Keeley Schultz, an active member of North Sashabaw P.T.O. seeks a 4 year term; school teacher Sara Lou Reabe, a 4 year term; and William L. Medlin seeks to fill a 4 year term.

Utility Colors Warm Up, Say Color Sales

Color Marketing Group's recently issued Color Directions-1984 predicts warmer colors for utility home products, such as laminates, resilient flooring, ceramic tile, housewares, appliances, and plumbing ware. With both red and yellow influencing the palette, golden undertones pervade.

In 1984 forecast palette is essentially conservative, reflecting the constraints of current business conditions. It emphasizes the continuing importance of earth tones, colors of proven popularity. "New" colors will have to wait for an economic turn around. Strong accents will continue in areas where they have been successful, especially in small items that work well in neutral environments, CMG said.

Five colors are listed as "forecast" for 1984. They are: Indiana Clay, which is almost terra cotta in color; Nutmeg, showing a new redder direction for brown; Sherbet interprets the yellow influence on strong peach tones; Suntan, a new warm, rosy neutral without pink or yellow; and Cloudy Sky, a bluish gray which is called both comfortable and saleable.

The ascending colors, covering the brown group are: Cinnamon, Brick Dust, Butternut, Brandie Peach, and Chestnut. Also included are: Pale Mauve, Strawberry Pink, Aspen, Green Whisper, and Skipper Blue.

While naturals/neutrals are still gaining importance, there will be a need for more surface interest, both tactile and visual. Overlaying neutrals with opalescent or metallic effects will not only stimulate the eye, but will heighten visual interest with subtle color combinations. Matte, frosted, or velvet finishes will offer both visual and tactile quality, CMG predicted.

These enclosures are available at Kent Building Company, 623-6089.

Home Improvement Tips For Patching & Repairing

Patching a Crack:

Before patching a crack, make sure there are no frayed pieces of dry wall protruding beyond the wall surface.

Apply a small amount of Elmer's Redi Spack directly to crack and press it in with long continuous strokes of the putty knife. Smooth the compound until it feathers lightly with dry wall next to the crack.

Allow to dry and check for spackle shrinkage. If a slight depression shows up, continue to fill and smooth the area. Let dry and smooth out irregularities with a fine sandpaper.

Lightly sand perimeter of crack, feathering dried spackle with adjacent wall area.

Trick for Repairing Joints:

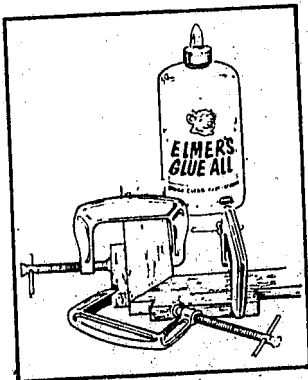

When hidden dowel joints are required, groove the dowel rods with pliers before applying Elmer's

Wood Glue.

Press dowel into hole and remove any glue that oozes out.

Securing Mitered Corners:

Use two pieces of scrap stock with notches cut at 90° angles — then using clamps, hold blocks to mitered corners. (See accompanying sketch). †

FOR SECURING MITERED CORNERS, two pieces of scrap stock with notches cut at 90° angles can be used. C-clamps are excellent for holding the blocks to your mitered corners. †

Skylights Trim Need for Artificial Light

One or more properly located skylights can flood a room with daylight. This reduces the need for artificial light, an obvious energy-saving, says APC Corporation, a leading manufacturer of skylights.

Skylights also break up the monotony of large ceiling areas and open rooms to views of the sky.

Wallpaper Alternative Being Marketed in North Oakland County

by Claudia Brazel

It's Spring spruce-up time. Grab your dusters, sponges, paint brushes and ladders but put away the wallpaper paste, razor blades, smoothing brushes and other items used to add change by wallpapering. It's time for something new.

Design Wallprinting, an exciting new product that has been making waves in the decorating and interior design markets throughout the United States, has come to Michigan.

This innovative art form can be used to transform every home and place of business into an oasis of beauty. It is a boom to the homemaker, the new home developer, the hotel industry, the small business owner, the apartment dweller, the homeowner, and most business/industrial complexes.

Design Wallprinting (a registered service mark) is a unique alternative to wallpaper and other well-known wall coverings, that is available now, through the marketing of Birmingham LTD., of Pontiac.

This unusual process can be used on all indoor and outdoor surfaces, including textured walls, wood, cement, glass, cork, cement block, fiberglass and fabrics. Because a water based paint is used, little preparation is necessary. Walls do not have to be sanded and surfaces need not be perfect or even. It can actually be applied to draperies, bedspreads, tablecloths, shower curtains and almost any fabric.

Its versatility is incredible. A room's motif can be changed immediately by simply repainting over the old design. Unlike wallpaper, the paint can easily be mixed or matched with harmonizing colors in the presence of the customer, matching precisely whatever the customer wants without the slightest variation in hue or color. (Up to three colors can be applied at the same time.)

Wallpaper frequently requires hundreds of swatches, and there is still no assurance that the match will be exact. Both walls and fabrics can be applied with the same design and color, which results in beautiful decorating coordination and permits almost limitless creative freedom to the decorator or client.

It is easily repaired. If a wall gets chipped or marred, it can be touched up at little or no cost. Maintenance is the same as regular painted walls: wash with a mild soap in water.

Although there appears to be nothing difficult about the application process, Birmingham LTD. effectively trains Design Wallprinting business owners in application techniques including a special application technique, which gives the same effect as foiled and flocked wallpaper, that is not available on the market. It's gold and silver paints, it's white golds, and unique decorating effects cannot be duplicated or used by the inexperienced consumer.

The Design Wallprinting service business owners undergo an extensive training program in all aspects of design wallprinting that includes color coordination, application techniques, coordination of interiors, operation of a design wallprinting business, marketing, advertising, and customer servicing, which in turn offers the best possible selection of color and design as well as the best quality product to the consumer.

Because coping with spiraling inflation in a fast-paced society has made today's consumer both time and money conscious, this economical and quick way of decorating is rapidly becoming one of the most sought-after methods in the country.

It takes approximately 30 minutes to do an average 12-foot wall and the cost is at least 40-70 percent less expensive than that of most wallcoverings. Drying time takes about half an hour by the time application is completed, the first part of the wall is completely dry. No paint odor remains to mar the room's liveability because it has disappeared completely within ten minutes.

With Design Wallprinting, through numerous pattern combinations, hundreds of design choices are available to the customer. Birmingham LTD. is continually developing new motifs (through their supplier) in keeping with the tastes of today's consumer. Some of the designs available are: Victorian, Art Nouveau, Art Deco, Georgian, Classical Provincial, Early American, Oriental, Modern, Contemporary, etc. Patterns can be applied in up to three colors and through the use of alternating designs, overlays and graphics, the available pattern and color combinations are limitless.

What You Need to Know Aluminum Siding and Insulation

Today's concern with energy saving has brought about a vastly increased interest in better insulation of house sidewalls. Insulated aluminum siding offers a convenient, economical method of reducing heating and cooling costs. Homeowners who have already decided on aluminum siding can realize fuel cost savings by upgrading to the additional insulation techniques described in the accompanying diagrams. Aluminum siding installed with aluminum breather foil, furring strips, or insulation board sheathing may substantially increase the insulation value of typical uninsulated wall constructions. The additional costs of any of these added insulation systems will probably be recoverable within a few heating seasons through annual heating savings.

Construction materials are measured by thermal resistance values (R-values) and the higher the number the better the insulation properties.

The accompanying diagrams give the R-values that may be realized by following the specific constructions described. These values are in addition to the existing wall, which may or may not have good insulation properties. Air spaces, aluminum breather foil, and furring all contribute to increased R-values. For instance, if aluminum foil is used with 3/4-inch furring strips, the R-value will be more than triple that of 3/4-inch furring strips alone.

The shiny surface of the foil should always face towards an air space, but it makes no difference which side of the air space the polished surface faces. Aluminum reflector foil reflects heat waves back when it is on the cold side of an air space, and when it is on the warm side, it retains heat. For remodeling work, always use perforated ("breather") aluminum reflector foil (with a "perm rating" of at least 10) to prevent condensation which can be caused by warm air vapor migrating through wall and condensing on cold foil.

A study and comparison of the diagrams clearly indicates the gains possible through added insulation techniques. (Installation over old wood lap siding is assumed.)

Another companion insulation option for the homeowner at this time could be the contracting for blown-in-the-wall insulation (such as mineral wool, cellulose, or urea formaldehyde) since the drilled access holes in the old siding, required for this process, will be covered up by the new siding.

You can get your aluminum siding and roofing materials along with free instructions for the do-it-yourselfers at Siding World in Waterford, 623-9800.

Library Corner

Pre-School Story Time at Independence Township Library is Wednesday, April 20, 10 a.m. and 11 a.m.

There are now two sessions of Story Time available to little three-to-five year olds. In addition to stories and songs, films for this date will be: "Mole and the Flying Carpet", the tale of Mole's comical adventures as he turned an old rug into a special carpet; and "Notes on a Triangle", a ballet of geometric forms.

After School Movie Hour is Wednesday, April 20, 4:30 p.m.

Movies for this program will include Mr. Magoo as "Rip Van Winkle," "Kick Me", which demonstrates the art of drawing directly on film, using a pair of animated legs as illustration; and two Paddington Bear misadventures, showing that famous English bear as a chimney sweep and as a detective.

The library is sponsoring a Bike Clinic on Saturday, April 16 from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. This will be held at the Church of the Resurrection, directly across the street from the library on Clarkston Road. Children are asked to bring their bikes if possible. They will be taught not only how to care for their bikes but also how to ride them safely. The admission is free and the Clinic is open for all children from grades one through six.

"Phantoms" by Dean R. Koontz is one of the newest fiction books in the adult section. Also just in are two mysteries: "Banker" by Dick Francis and "Ice" by Ed McBain. Two titles just added to the Agatha Christie shelf are "The 4:50 from Paddington" and "Death Comes as the End".

The Clarkston Community Women's Club recently donated to the library a set of the 1983 World Book Encyclopedias. This was done in honor of Lucy Embrey, a recent retiree from the Library.

Among the latest additions to the popular children's record section are: "Stuart White" as read by Julie Harris; "Snow White and Rose Red", told by Glynis Johns; "Winnie

The Pooh", sung and told by Carol Channing; and four Sesame Street recordings, "Grin & Giggle with Big Bird", "Fair Is Fair", "Fairy Tale Album" and "C-is for Cookie".

State Farm's New Innovations Get Attention

State Farm Mutual, the world's largest writer of automobile insurance, has just announced some new innovations in its private passenger automobile policy according to Bud Grant, CLU, President of Bud Grant Insurance Agency P.C. in Clarkston.

To promote passenger safety through the use of seat belts State Farm has doubled the benefits to be paid under its Accidental Death and Disability coverage if the injured person was wearing a seat belt at the time of loss. This extension of coverage comes at no increase in premium and was applied to all policies containing the A.D.&D. coverage effective 4/1/83. Another no cost improvement came in the Rental Coverage where the maximum benefit also doubled at no extra cost. "Where the coverage was previously limited to $400 per claim the client can now collect up to $800," said Grant.

A third improvement lets the State Farm client have the same limits on his Uninsured Motorist coverage as he carries on his Bodily Injury Liability up to a maximum of $100,000/$300,000 for less than $4 additional premium. Most policies still limit you to $20,000/$40,000 on the Uninsured Motorist Coverage according to Grant.

He went on to say that last month the State Farm Car Finance Plan announced new lower rates on automobile financing and that has been a real 'attention grabber'. The new rates go from 11.75% on new cars for up to 50 months to between 12.5% and 15.5% on used cars depending on model year. "We're just now starting to see our new car business pick up again and that's real good news for everyone in the area," Grant said.

Office hours are from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday thru Friday with both Saturday and evening appointments available for anyone who would like more information on State Farm Insurance.

Race Track Challenges Revised Ordinance

by Claudia Brazel

Waterford Hills Road Racing, a non-profit corporation, which operates a road-racing track in Independence Township, has filed suit against that township, contesting a recently amended Speed Exhibition Ordinance.

The WHRRRC Corporation refers, within its Common Allegations, to its "25 some years" of race-track operation and its affiliation with the Oakland County Sportsman Club; of which, all WHRRRC members are required to remain members in good standing, and which also leases the race track property to WHRRRC.

Also referred to is a 1964, "consent judgement", entered by the District Court in an action between WHRRRC and its neighbors, recorded as Gerald R. LaBonte vs Oakland County Sportsmen Road Racing Corp.; and to a 1974 Independence Township amended, "Ordinance 80", purposing to license and otherwise regulate "speed exhibitions" involving animals or motor vehicles.

Relating that WHRRRC is, "the only party to have sought licensure under said Ordinance," WHRRRC proposes that "Ordinance 80 principally undertakes to regulate Plaintiff's land use; it does so in wholesale violation of the Township Rural Zoning Act," and that the ordinance constitutes "spot-zoning", depriving the Plaintiff-WHRRRC, "of the reasonable use of its property," and is "void, invalid, and illegal", as the use of the property antedated the ordinance.

In the first count WHRRRC also claims the township exceeds general "police" powers in sustaining Ordinance 80 regulations and also feels the ordinance is, "overboard, arbitrary, capricious and wholly unreasonable, by way of example, and not by way of limitation."

Basically, WHRRRC seems bothered by application of the ordinance in the broadest terms possible; utilizing an example of the ordinance, WHRRRC takes it to its most literal interpretation, and then acknowledges that the township has never chosen to so interpret it in that way in the past.

In the suit filed WHRRRC also finds itself in disagreement with Section 4-17 (1) stating that: "No person conducting a speed exhibition shall permit spectators or observers to enter the premises nor permit any participant to operate a motor vehicle or handle any animal prior to 10:00 a.m. on weekends and prior to 11:00 a.m. on weekdays."

Such a provision WHRRRC says, "is overboard to the point of absurdity; and that no valid government purpose is served by the outright prohibition against the presence of "spectators or observers" on Plaintiff's property prior to the hours stated.

Also under assault are amended ordinance sections pertaining to days of race track use which WHRRRC states: No proper public purpose is served by further Township regulation in favor of those bound by or otherwise the beneficiaries of the Consent Judgement of 1964 and that the amended ordinance contains innumerable additional provisions and clauses which are arbitrary, capricious, illegal, unconstitutional and void.

For these incongruencies WHRRRC asks the court for a declaration that the Township Ordinance is void, illegal and unenforceable.

The second count brought against the township deals with the licensing of WHRRRC activities by the Independence Township Building Department. Waterford Hills Race Track has not been granted its 1983 license.

Stating that each year, since the 1964 Consent Judgement WHRRRC has applied for and received a renewal of license.

In January, 1983 WHRRRC states that it again applied for renewal of its license, paying the prescribed renewal fee, and receiving, from the Township, a receipt and that all of the properly required "evidences and approvals" set forth in Section 4-34 of the Ordinance have been renewed or are otherwise in full force and effect but that renewal provisions of the Ordinance, through the Township Building Department has neglected, refused, or the Township Board has otherwise arbitrarily and capriciously prevented, the renewal of WHRRRC's permanent speed exhibition license.

Waterford Hills Race Track further adds that it is apprehensive that upon the filing of the within litigation Defendant's Board of Trustees will undertake to amend, modify or otherwise reinterpret the Ordinance to delay, if not avoid, the granting of said license to Plaintiff.

D & J Likes Multi-Faceted Label

A view of the hilly, but beautifully maintained Pettibone backyard.

D & J Lawn Co., located in Clarkston, was the recipient of three first place awards at the 1982 Environmental Improvement Awards Banquet last November.

An award for Commercial Grounds Maintenance came for the IBM Southfield Centre.

Two residential awards were given to D & J Lawn Co., the first of which was for Grounds Maintenance at the Michael Pettibone residence. This property is enjoyable to maintain says David Schubert, company president. One of the reasons for this is that the owners are very proud of the look their home has and the atmosphere it conveys to visitors.

The final award and second residential award was for Residential Reconstruction at the William Mays residence.

As is evidenced by the variety of the awards received, D & J Lawn Co. is a multi-faceted company and supply expert work in many areas of the landscape industry. Although originally established as a lawn maintenance company, Dave has gradually expanded the operations to include all the property maintenance so that home owners have only to enjoy their property and not contend with the maintenance of their residence.

He is also gradually including more of the construction of these landscapes so that yet another homeowner headache is eliminated.

G&F Appliance - In Business to Please Customer

"When you have nice carpeting, a good vacuum is an investment to protect that carpeting..." Bill Liechty

To vacuum cleaner specialist Bill Liechty, "It just doesn't make sense." People spend thousands of dollars on carpeting, and then turn around and buy a $70 vacuum from a 17 year old clerk in a discount store or catalog house."

He says, "When you have nice carpeting, a good vacuum is an investment to protect that carpeting." That investment can range from $50 to $800.00 with most good quality machines selling in the $150 to $350 bracket.

There is no 'right machine' for every home. One of the most important things to consider when buying a vacuum is the strength of the motor, canisters are rated on horse power: uprights on the amperage their motor draws. He further says that to insure sufficient suction an upright should have a six amp motor while a canister should have at least a three horsepower motor.

"Our business is pleasing customers, customer's expect value and service for the money they spend with us and we provide one day service on most vacuum repairs and small appliance repairs," said Liechty.

G & F currently stocks over 80,000 parts to provide this service. The following manufacturers rely on G & F Appliance to service all their customers warranty needs in the Oakland County area: Hoover, Eureka, Royal, Sanitaire, Oreck, Edison Humidifiers and Toastmaster Appliances.

The Service Manager at G & F is Chuck Marone. Chuck is factory trained to service and repair all vacuum cleaners and small appliances.
