Bank No. 10 Residence No. 30

The prosperity habit of the American people is hard to break. The greatest obstacle in the way of getting things back to normal again is the stubborn belief on all sides that the slow up in industry and trade is only temporary and that prices and demand will soon return to normal.

This naturally makes the general public hesitate to take their losses in raw materials; labor won't take theirs and so everybody sits down and waits. However, it must be recognized that the present depression is not merely the supply overtaking the demand, but is a much broader movement toward putting the dollar back where it belongs and is bound to be expressed in a different ratio of prices or wages.

The confidence of our customers is our greatest asset. Consult the officers of this bank on financial matters. Courteous individual attention is assured. Many have lost all through poor investments. Let us advise you and protect your money.

Work—Save—Spend Wisely. These three are necessary to keep the wheels of industry going. Spread optimism, bury pessimism, and before long our country will see real prosperity.

IT ISN'T YOUR TOWN: IT'S YOU!

If you want to live in the kind of a town

Like the kind of a town you like,
You needn't slip your clothes in a grip

And start on a long, long hike.
You'll only find what you left behind,
For there's nothing that's really new.

It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town:

It isn't the town—it's you.

Real towns are not made by men afraid

Lest somebody else gets ahead.
When everyone works and nobody shirks

You raise a town from the dead.
And if while you make your personal stake,

Your neighbors can make one, too,
Your town will be what you want to see:

It isn't the town—It's you.

OVERDUE LIGHT STATEMENTS

The Clarkston State Bank, has received from Mr. P. W. Bricker, district agent for the Detroit Edison Co., the following instructions for handling over due accounts.

We propose a change in routine for handling our overdue accounts and in order to facilitate our effecting this improvement we ask your co-operation by

First: accepting no payment from customers presenting overdue statements.

Second: accepting no payment from customers presenting our regular current statements after the due date properly marked thereon.

Third: accepting no partial payments on any statement presented. This includes regular statements bearing balances, which we ask that you do not cross off under any conditions.

In order to avoid confusion it is quite necessary that these payments be posted to the proper accounts at the earliest possible moment. We therefore, request that you refer all such inquiries direct to our Birmingham office.

The Moral Backing of a Bank Book

Is one of the strongest forces in the fight for success. Weak-kneed, despondent, thriftless men never get their names on a bank ledger, and that is one reason they are, as a rule, down and out. But when one of them wakes up to his opportunities and starts a bank account, he breaks away from the under-dog class for all time.
