Homage to George Washington

In keeping with the bicentennial celebrations of the birthday of George Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Garter have decorated their store window in honor of the great American leader. Next week marks the 200th anniversary of this famous man.

A large portrait of George Washington is set among a group of fine old furniture that dates back nearly the age in which he lived. The furniture is all the property of Mr. and Mrs. Garter and much of it belonged to the former's great grandmother. A solid walnut drop leaf table, which has recently been refinished by Mr. O. LaMountain, stands sedate with a pair of very antique solid brass candlesticks and a candle tray on it. The table is 100 years old. A ladderback chair of wainut with a needlepoint seat covering is near the table and is a good deal over 100 years old. Mrs. Nettie Case of Ann Arbor made the rose design needle point for the chair. A spinning wheel and reel deneting Colonial days add to the attractiveness of the window

What a Ride!

Homer Lowrie's car seems to be very well-trained. It can do things other cars can't do. Ben Miller might say it is because it is a Buick. But we would call it training. Any car that can ride a ride like Homer's took, stay on all fours and land in a babbling brook, take a drink of the sparkling water and be pulled out, unharmed, is very well trained.

Monday morning Mr. Lowrie park ed his car on the south side of the Leonard and Miller Garage and went nside. A while later, he decided to go home. He started out and was astonished not to see his car standing where he had parked it. In fact, it wasn't even in sight.

did not dare to look. He said the thought was enough for him. But finally, when they brought him cheerful news, he took his courage in his hands and went down to see his car.

There it stood, on all fours, as nice Mr. George Searle. is could be, without a sign of a Mrs. Elizabeth Ronk entertained scratch except for a slight tear on one her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. running board. The softness of the earth in the brook probably stopped it from smashing into the tree:

So Mr. Lowrie remarked afterward that the car undoubtedly wanted to be the first to park in the new park, the new property of the village.

Mary Ann Blossoms Out

Star Play Pronounced Decided Success; All Parts Well Taken

"The Blossoming of Mary Ann was presented at the Town Hall Tuesday evening by members of the local Order of Eastern Star and under the auspices of that organization and was pronounced by all a huge success.

Two hundred and fifty people-filled the hall to see the fine performance. Little Miss Margaret Gundry and Master Richard Lawson made a hit with their presentation of a pantomine, "When I Wore My Daddy's Brown Derby". A girls' quartette composed of Mary Katherine Hammond, Bernice McFarland, Loleta Mann and Guinevere Gator sang "In he Blue of the Night". Miss Frances Marshall played popular selections before the curtain rose and between

The play was a comedy-drama sketch which afforded pathos, comedy and real plot. The leading roles were well taken by Miss Prudence Gray and Mr. William Russell. Mr. Russell's part of the pleasant type of young college man was finely portrayed. Jewell Gundry acted the difficult part of a society girl in a pro-fessional manner. Miss Louise Mann had the humorous role and brought many laughs. In spite of her thwarted love, she managed to win "her

Margaret Belitz portrayed the part of an old maid seamstress and was splendid. Helen McFarland, in her part as the kind-hearted mother of the leading lady, brought humor into her role as well as fine acting.

The part of the invalid was played by Helen Gundry and her part was difficult but excellently played. Ethel Merritt had the role of society matron and Marian Dunston that of the young society flapper. Robert Jones was the well-mannered chap, used to good society and he took the part splendidly. Lewis Warden, as the se-date, older man, was fine. Eddie Larion, the young, impulsive chap of the play, brought much laughter through his comedy character.

The blay will be presented at the Town Hall in Davisburg tomorrow evening, February 20.

Fisher Bodies are exclusive to Chevrolet in tl. : lowest price field

All that is new, smart and desirable in fine mod work is represented by the phrase Body by 1 .s.er. And today, the only car of lowest price to offer Fisher coachwork is the new six-cylinder Chevrolet.

Examine Sis car carefully and you'll discover one evidence after another of Fisher's master craftsmanship—the same long, clean, ultra-modern streamlines you've admired so much on custom cars; gracefully sloping front pillars, with cowl and windshield frame constructed in one smooth piece. Step inside and you'll get many pleasant surprises, for Chevrolet interiors are complete with modern comfort-features and conveniences: a finger-touch adjustable driver's seat; an interior sun visor; broad "lounge-type" seats; and a wide expanse of vision for all occupants. I tice how easily Chevrolet doors are opened by the new automatic door ejector. See how obviously solid and substantial is the Fisher composite wood-and-steel construction, how man sive and well-fitted are Chevrolet doors. Slam them hard. and instead of a metallic noise, you get the welcome solid sound which tells you, "This is the finest of coachwork."

The truth is -Chevrolet and Fisher have achieved in these bodies the best-looking, best-built, most completely equipped line ever to appear in the lowest price field.
