"Poppy Day"

Saturday, May 28th, will be "Poppy Day" in our community. On that day everybody will be asked to wear bright red poppy in honor of the men vho gave their lives in the World War. The poppies will be sold thruout the community by Auxiliary women, assisted by school girls and other volunteers, and the entire pro ceeds will go to the relief and rehabilitation funds of the Legion and Auxili-

The local poppy sale will be part of a nation-wide observance of "Poppy Day". On May 28th, the Saturday before Memorial Day, more than ten million paper replicas of the poppy of Flanders Fields will be offered by Auxiliary women and their volunteer assistants, all over America. The Clarkston Legion and Auxiliary will distribute them in Clarkston, Drayton Plains, Waterford and the outlying schools.

"Poppy Day" will have a two-fold message to the people of our community. First it will call to them to wear a poppy as a personal tribute to the memory of those brave young men who gave their lives for America in the World War, and second, it will appeal to them to help lighten the buren of those who are paying the price today and every day in suffering and disease in our own Hospital No. 100 at Camp Custer. For a year the manufacture of these emblems the sole hope and the only remunerative vocation of thousands of patients. We must see to it that the output is sold -that hope twelvemonth.

Waterford

Mother-Daughter Banquet Successful

The Mother Daughter banquet, which was held at the Waterford church parlors on Friday, May 6th, was considered a great success. A fine dinner was served at 7 o'clock to a capacity house, by a committee of men in the kitchen consisting of H. B. Mehlberg, August Jacober, Henry Buck, James Saylor, Arthur Walter, Herbert Pratt and Howard Burt, while the dining room was supervised by Russell Galbraith and a group of boy scouts, assisted by George Att-water and Bernard McCaffery.

The dining room was very pretty in its decorations of pink and white Lovely potted plants graced the tables, supplied by the Monroe Greenhouse on the Dixie just south of town. Some new dishes and silver, also two new tables had been purchased by the Ladies Aid, who sponsored this banquet for this occasion. The furnace had received a new coat of paint, which improved the dining room.

The program was much enjoyed Miss Weld was the guest speaker, and was presented with a basket of sweet

The toastmaster, Mrs. H. A. Huey, very ably filled that place. She was introduced by Mrs. George Kimball, Jr., Music was much enjoyed, and all in all the program was excellent.

A Village Park?

There has been considerable interest displayed among some of our citizens on the idea of a village park. We have interviewed Mr. E. Clark, our now part-time villager as to this feet in diameter. A very little cement scheme of making a park of what we would seal these stone so as to retain term the "mill-marsh"; i. e., the land south of the mill dam. He has very definite ideas of what might be done and we will guote his own words on ment floor and retaining side wall to and we will quote his own words on ment floor and retaining side wall to

"I have been at this scheme several years, endeavoring to get at least the this would be for small children to use of this land, and, too, endeavoring play in. to convince the Ford people that, as a dependable water power, they had bought a "lemon". The result is a gift of the whole property to the village. We now own it all and can make good use of it all.

"First, we must get rid of the spring water issuing from the west bank to the central creek. With free labor this would incur no money outlay. When we see full disposal of spring water, the ditches could be til-Plowing, dragging, and lawn seed would give the latter.

"I would next begin a grand-stand at the northwest bank, making at least the bottom first step this first year. This grand stand could be shaped to a true radius so as to look attractive when its four to six steps were in later years completed. The outer edge of these steps could be retained by field stone walls laid without cement, the rise and run of each step respectively uniform. Just below this grand stand a generous sized level could be graded for tennis, basket ball and other similar games. A convenient place for such games would stimulate interest in them.

"In the southwest corner I would grade about two long steps, say 30 feet in width, for turist camps.

"In the west bank one abundant spring could be closed with a cement wall sides and capped with cement, having a tube spill for drinking water.

"The central creek could be bordered on each side with large field stone laid without cement, thus defining a lively creek, following its present course. The lawn each side could be graded up to the top of the field-stone

"Now an important feature: I

There has been considerable interest from the mill-pond with its generous hod water one foot deep with delivery to central creek. What a place

> "On a north and south center line I would place about four small foun-tains say of 1%" pipe, mainly for rubber hose connections, but playing as small fountains when hose were not in use. These fountains could be not over five feet in diameter. Without doubt such use of hose would be necessary for flower, beds and garubbery. Walks and small bridges over central creek could be placed later as fancy dictated.

"A considerable number of old and unattractive trees could be cut down, ed and filled to effect a smooth lawn, and all other trees trimmed so as to afford a clear view of the park from all directions.

"Some later year the east bank could be improved. The now underground water way from the pond thereto could spill over a field stone covered incline on this east bank with beautiful effect, and this water could go via a short connecting creek to the central stream—thus disposing of the stream beside the depot road.

"Under the large trees on the west bank 20 feet diameter levels could be graded for seating spaces. Next to the west side fence a four foot walk way could be graded from north to south of the field. The entire outlay of money would not exceed $300, and we would not need a cent's outlay the first year-just free work."

"The Village Board prefers not to incur any any expense on this development this year. It is not necessary Three-fourths of all labor can be done before buying any tile, water-pipe or

"If our citizens show interest I will make a survey and prepare a scale plan for approval of the Board."

The above is entirely Mr. Clark's idea of the would-be village park. What is your reaction and opinion? The problem is an important one and would place one very large fountain we would like to hear from each at about the center of the field, using reader as to his idea of the proposisay 2" or 3" pipe to convey water tion of a village park.

Farmers Check Ways of Seeding Alfalfa

Keep Records of Crop and Invite Neighbors to Inspect Fields to Compare Methods

The latest method on checking the Pontiac. seeding methods which give the best stands of alfalfa is being used in Newago and St. Joseph counties where growers furnish records of their methods to the county agricultural agent, Dr. Irma Gross, of the M. S. C. and, during the growing season, farm ers from the county are asked to in spect the fields to see how the practices compare on the different types

Similar comparisons of cultural practices have been made in other counties. Records of methods of seeding, kind of seed used, amount of fertilizer, date of seeding, and all other factors which might influence the crop's success are kept by the grower. Visitors to the field are told just how the crop was grown.

The interest of Michigan farmers in the best ways to grow alfalfa exceeds the desire to learn better practices for other crops, according to the farm crops department at the College. The crop furnishes excellent hay, improves the soil, and, in many years, furnishes a crop of excellent seed.

. The Michigan seed crop last year was large enough to furnish an ample supply of adapted Hardigan and Grimm seed for use in the state. This supply of dependable seed will enable Michigan growers to secure seedings which will survive in this climate.

The former difficulties of securing a stand of alfalfa in this state were usually due to the use of seed which was grown under different weather conditions and which was wholly unsuitable for use in Michigan. The College crops department says that these troubles are unnecessary now and that farmers are more interested in how to use good seed than how to

A FEW OF THE CHEE'S SECRETS WITH STEAK

The housewife often wishes she muld penetrate the secrets of the chef when she encounters a steak or defies detection. Some of the chef's secrets are too deep to be penetrated by the layman and some are too complicated to be worked out satisfactorily, but others are adapted to home use. The National Live Stock and Meat. Board gives these recipes for preparing beef steaks. They have been collected here and there, and the home maker may enjoy using them now and then to impart that "differ

> RICHARDS GOT THE JOB BE-CAUSE HE HAD A TELEPHONE

When an application is made for work, employers are quite likely to ask for a telephone number. For they know that the easiest and quickest way to get into touch with additional help is by telephone.

Your home telephone is an important asset in business and social life. It places you within instant reach of business associates and friends. And, in emergencies, such as fire or sudden sickness, it will summon help immediately.

Of all the things you buy, probably none gives so much for so little as your telephone.

Good News

From Washington comes a crop report that should cause rejoicing. is to the effect that the outlook for the winter crop in this country is down about 40 per cent. The report says indications west of the Rockies are for a much lower yield per acre than in 1931 and that while the area east of the Rockies may be somewhat lower than last year, the acreage is this year 14 per cent less.

We wouldn't advise anyone around Mt. Morris to go out and throw up his hat in celebration of a reduced crop which would mean higher pricesfor a lot can happen between now and harvest time. Nature still controls the yield, and she has been known to fool the best of forecasters. Then, too, it should be borne in mind that there is a heavy holdover from 1931. Yet there are enough indications of a short crop to warrant the belief that producers will not be left to hold the bag this year, as last.

Forecasts are also favorable fruit; a bountiful crop is predicted. And that is good news for every American housewife. Give them a good fruit and vegetable year and the country will be a long way from starvation. Early April weather is said to have retarded fruit in come sections, but not to cause serious damage. Indications are, taking the country as a whole, that home canners will have no cause to complain of either quantity or prices this year. And if that isn't good news then there is no such thing as good news.—Mt. Morris Times.

Why White Lightning is Greater Hazard Than Red

Red lightning, though seldom reported by Forest Service lookouts as the cause of a forest fire, differs in no way from white lightning, a very common cause of fires, says Dr. W. J. Humphreys of the Weather Bureau. White flashes are a greater fire hazard than red flashes merely because of the atmospheric conditions' responsible for the difference in color.

In rainless air, Dr. Humphreys points out, electric discharges owe their light entirely to the two gases, oxygen and nitrogen, and therefore father. are white or bluish white. An elecric discharge trough heavy rain. however, may dissociate some of the vapor along its path and thus produce, in addition to the light of oxygen and nitrogen, that also of hydrogen which is brilliant.

Red lightning, coming through rain, strikes only wet objects, which of course, greatly reduces its fire hazard. White lightning, on the other hand, may strike dry fuel, which is easily

Harry E. Curtis

Candidate for Register of Deeds

Harry E. Curtis of Pontiac announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Register of Deeds of Oakland County today. He is widely known in Pontiac and Oakland County, where he has been prominent in civic activities and where he has lived for 14 years.

Although never before a candidate for public office, he believes that he can be of especial service to the people of the county at this time thru his economy program, his plans for efficiency in the dispatch of the work of the office of Register of Deeds and his close touch with the desires of the tax payers in these trying times.

"I am not in favor of wholesale salary slashing," Mr. Cartis stated in announcing his candidacy, "but I do believe that the individual today who is drawing the same salary as was paid during better times, has automatically benefited by a salary increase of from 15 to 40 per cent, because of the increased purchasing power of the dollar. I firmly believe the salary dollar should be evaluated and the problem of economy solved by the same methods used in private business
