Former Residents Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Moon, former residents of the community, celebrated their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary at their home in Ortonville Sunday, June 5.
 Fifty-five years ago last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Moon were united in marriage in Clarkston. They were farmers on the large estate now known as the "Waterford Hills", and also the area known as the Moon Valley Subdivision. The valley was named for the Moon family.
 The couple have been retired for the past 21 years, but will be remembered by some of the older villagers.

Fire North Sends Smoke This Far

Many villagers inquired as to the location of the fire from which so much dense low-hung smoke was noticed here early Tuesday morning and during the night Monday. It was later learned that the smoke came from the forest fires in Northern Ontario and Quebec.
 The fires were steadily burning their way into the northern forests the forepart of the week in spite of the cool damp weather we have been having. Five new outbreaks, two of which were due to lightning, were reported in the Port Arthur District.
 Forestry officials stated that the fire fighters in Thunder Bay district were being aided materially by the fact that there has been hardly any wind to aid the spread of flames. Rain, however, was badly needed up there, according to the report.
 Fires had been smoldering for nearly a week in the mining camps at the Don Rouyn mine, 3 miles from the town of Rouyn, and a strong wind stirred the fire and destroyed the mining camps completely. A large volunteer brigade was attempting to prevent the spread of flames to the town of Noranda.

Ladies' Auxiliary Birthday Party

The "Birthday Party" which was sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of Waterford was well attended on last Thursday night, in spite of the rain which came at the time of the meeting. 45 people were seated at two long tables attractively decorated with spring flowers. The combined ages totaled 1,456 years, for which the same number of pennies were turned over to the treasurer. Following the cooperative luncheon a short business meeting was held with the president, Mrs. Pratt, in charge.
 The club will not have any regular meetings during the summer months. A picnic was partly arranged to meet with the Sunday School at a time which is to be decided by them. Mrs. J. Miller, Mrs. L. Girst, Mrs. A. Mertens, were named to help with menu. The Auxiliary members will each earn $1.00 during the summer, which will be turned into the September meeting, which will be held at the church parlors in the nature of an "Experience Social".
 A splendid program was arranged by Mrs. H. F. Buck and Mrs. O. Virginia, which was made up of games, readings and stunts, everyone entering in and having a good time.
 Four new members were added to the enrollment list, Mrs. Geo. Kimball, Jr., Mrs. George Maten, Mrs. Charles Calhoun and Mrs. Harriet Davis. The hostesses for the day were Mrs. A. McCaffery, Mrs. A. Wyckoff, Mrs. A. Walter and Mrs. Nelson Smith.

"I Like The Depression"

Is What One Newspaper Man Says In An Editorial

Quite a bit of interest has been created following the publishing of the editorial of Henry Ansley, editorial writer for the Amarilla, Texas, News-Globe. It is often said that the only saving grace left to mankind is humor. If such is the case, Mr. Ansley has applied that saving grace to the depression. He has found quite a bit of real funniness in the present day economic condition, and if you doubt it, read what he has to say:
 "I like the depression. I have time to visit my friends, to make new ones. Two years ago, when I went to visit my neighboring town, I always stopped at a hotel. Now I go home with my friends, stay all night and enjoy home cooking. I have even spent the week end with some of the boys who have been kind enough to invite me.
 "It's great to drop into a store and feel that you can spend an hour or two or a half a day just visiting and not feel that you are wasting valuable time. I like the depression.
 "I am getting acquainted with my neighbors. In the last six months I have become acquainted with folks who have been living next door to me for three years. I am following the Biblical admonition, 'Love your neighbors.'
 "Three years ago I ordered my clothes from a merchant tailor, two or three suits at a time. All my clothes were good ones. I was always dressed-up. But now I haven't bought a suit for two years. I am mighty proud of my Sunday go to meeting clothes. When I dress up, I am dressed up and I don't mean maybe. I like the depression.
 "Three years ago I was busy and my wife was so busy that we didn't see much of each other. I never went home to lunch. About twice a week I went home to dinner at 6:30 o'clock. If I did go to a party, I could never locate her.

The "Summer Round Up" which was held at the Waterford school building on Monday forenoon, which had been arranged by Miss Roy, County Health Nurse, cooperating with the P. T. Golfers Shoot Birdies to Win Sunday

The Duck Lake Golf team showed unusual form Sunday when they defeated the Plymouth Golf Club team 12-0 on the Duck Lake course. The Plymouth boys shot par golf, but those on the Duck Lake team came in with birdies to beat them. George Ulrich and Art Pony shot 69's.

Each member of the team can earn three points—one for low score at the end of each nine holes, and another for total low score. Thus the home team earned all possible points.

Invite Home Owners For Landscape Day

Lawn and Shrubbery Plantings at Michigan State College Exhibited Wednesday, June 15.

Michigan home owners who are interested in the use of plants and shrubs to beautify their homes and lawns are invited to attend Landscape Day at Michigan State College, Wednesday, June 15.

Landscape plantings at the Graham station at Grand Rapids have previously been used to demonstrate good methods of home beautification but the transferral of the event to East Lansing this year will give residents in a different section a chance to inspect this work.

Groups of people who register at the Horticultural building will be conducted about the campus, beginning at 9:00 a. m. Members of the landscape department will explain the purposes of the plantings and the varieties of shrubs best fitted for use under Michigan conditions.

One of the exhibits will be a series of plots on which different varieties of lawn grasses are planted. One of the first steps in home beautification is the obtaining of a presentable lawn and this is often difficult unless the home maker knows which varieties of grass to use on the type of soil where the plantings are to be made.

The College Botanical Gardens contain specimens of thousands of plants, many of which will be in bloom June 15. A picnic dinner will be held at noon, and members of the College staff will speak during the afternoon program.

County Regulates Stream Water Level

Regulation of lake and stream levels is entirely a matter of county administration and the Department of Conservation is interested only when fish life is threatened, according to the Division of Field Administration.

The Department is constantly receiving letters from individuals and organizations seeking redress because the level of some lake has been lowered or has been raised. Redress may be obtained only through the Board of Supervisors of the county in which the lake or stream lies, it was said.

If breaking dams lower water to the extent that fish life is endangered or if rising water results in the same effect, the Department of Conservation may step in and take action that will result in conserving the fish life.

Roy Reynolds, Ferndale, for Sheriff

Roy Reynolds, for the past 5 years Chief of Police at Ferndale, has announced his candidacy for the office of sheriff of Oakland County, on the republican ticket, and petitions are now in circulation in various parts of the county.

At the time he was appointed Chief of Police at Ferndale, which position he still holds, he was the youngest person holding such position in the United States, being but 26 years of age.

Ferndale is quite an important part of the county, having a population of over 20,000 and having a record of being one of the most capably policed municipalities in the state, because of Chief Reynolds' activities, in enforcing the laws without fear or favor.

Chief Reynolds practices his conviction that an officer should enforce all the laws. He enforces them in Ferndale—including the 18th amendment, and suggests that anyone who questions it try to find a bootlegging joint there.

He is a clean, square, shooting, reasonable individual, who tries to combine common sense with the fulfilling of his duties. He is a dry person.

Chief Reynolds sponsored the 35 mile per hour speed limit through the City of Ferndale, which has been successful with comparatively few accidents even though traffic passes through the heart of the business district of the city. Stop lights are so arranged on the entire distance through the city on Woodward Avenue so that when going the regulation speed, 35 miles per hour, stops are not necessary in this two mile expanse, all of which may be credited to Chief Reynolds' activities.

He is a member of the Masonic lodge, No. 815; Odd-Fellows, No. 459, and Elks, 1588, of Ferndale.

"I Like the Depression"

"My wife belonged to all the clubs in town. She even joined the young mothers' club. We don't have any children, but she was studying—and between playing bridge and going to clubs, she was never at home.

"We got stuck up and highfalutin. We even took down the old family bed and bought twin beds on the installment.

"When I would come home at night, if my wife was at home she would already be in her bed and I would crawl into mine. If I came in first, it was vice versa.

"We like the depression. We have come down off our pedestal and are really living at my house now. The twin beds are stored in the garage and the old family affair is being used. We are enjoying life. Instead of taking a hot water bottle to bed these cold nights, she sticks her heels in my back, just like she did before Hoover was elected.

"I haven't been out on a party in eighteen months. I have lost my book of telephone numbers. My wife has dropped all the clubs. I believe we are falling in love all over again. I am pretty well satisfied with my wife.

"I am feeling better since the depression. I take more exercise. Walk to town, and a lot of folks who used to drive Cadillacs are walking with me. I like the depression.

"My digestion is better. I haven't been to a doctor in a year. I can eat anything I want to.

"I am getting real honest to goodness food. Three years ago we had filet mignon once a week, now we have round steak with flour gravy. Then we had roast breast of guinea hen, now we are glad to get 'sow bosom with the buttons' on it.

"I like the depression. Three years ago I never had time to go to church. I played golf all day Sunday and, besides, I was so darned smart that there wasn't a preacher in West Texas who could tell me anything.

"Now I am going to church regularly—never miss a Sunday.

"And if this depression keeps on, I will be going to prayer meetings before long.

"I like the depression!"

"He's a teacher of English enjoying a day off."

"Did you go on that trout fishing excursion last week?"
"I did."
"Did you fish with flies?"
"Fish with flies? Yes, we fished with them, camped with them, dined with them, and slept with them."

The auctioneer was trying hard to sell his stock of cigars.
"You can't get better, gents," he bellowed; "twenty-five in a box! You can't get better. I don't care how much you spend!"

Suddenly a voice put in from back of the crowd: "He's right, folks," it said. "I had one last week, and I'm not better, yet."

Large Wolf is Trapped by Hunter

A timber wolf standing three feet high at the shoulder and measuring six feet long from the nose to the tip of his tail, was trapped by Arthur Mosimer, state hunter, north of the Ishkamegon River.

The wolf, one of the largest ever taken by a state hunter, was probably old, since its teeth were badly worn and broken.

Another timber wolf, killed by A. R. White, state hunter stationed at McMillan, had but three legs. Its fourth leg had been taken off by a trap sometime before, White reported.

Water Cleaner and Fish Feeder Invented

A water vacuum cleaner designed to permit cleaning of trout hatchery troughs and an automatic fish feeder are now being tried in two of Michigan's fish hatcheries and are expected to give valuable service to the state. Both devices were built and perfected by hatchery overseers.

The water vacuum was perfected by A. J. Wolcott, overseer of the Harietta Hatchery and according to preliminary tests has proved to be highly efficient and practical. It is a device operated by a small motorized centrifugal pump, with an attached hose and nozzle similar to those used on ordinary vacuum cleaners.

Water is used as the suction force and permits hatchery employees to clean the troughs without removing the water or disturbing the trout fry.

The vacuum is expected to prove valuable, and if tests continue successful, other machines will probably be installed in other hatcheries.

Troughs are now cleaned daily with the use of a feather brush that has never proved satisfactory and which requires considerable time and labor.

Another device invented by an employee of the Fish Division of the Department of Conservation, is an automatic fish feeder. It was designed and built by Guy Lincoln, overseer of the Oden Hatchery. So far as can be ascertained it is the only one of its type ever built and regulates accurately the quantity of food placed in the troughs as well as equalizing its distribution through the trough. The feeder places the food into the water supply where it enters the trough. The food is then held in suspension for a considerable length of time. Hatchery men who have watched demonstrations claim that the feeder permits an equalized growth of fish in the trough as well as a reduction of labor required to take care of the fish.

The vacuum and feeder are now being used in trout troughs where fry are kept and fed until they are ready to be transferred to the various feeding stations.

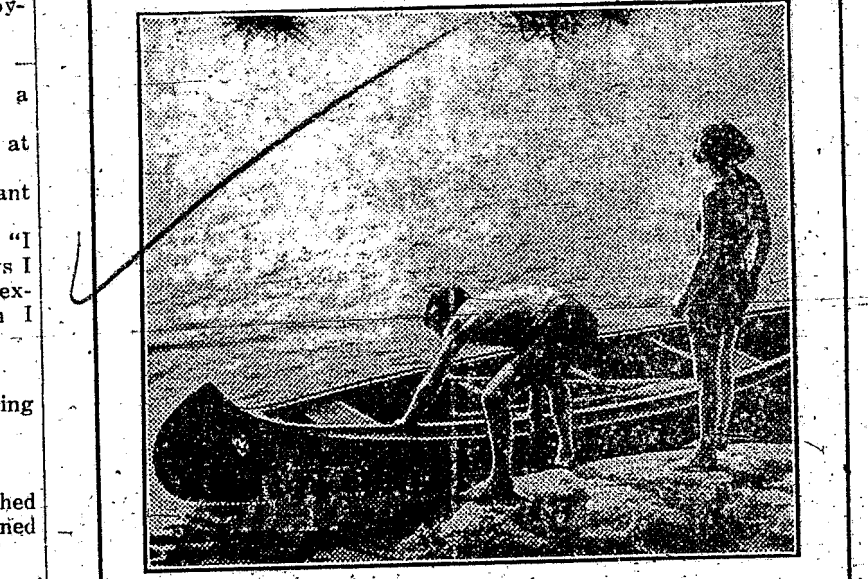

Auto Licenses May be Sold for Half Price

The governor and secretary of state are endeavoring to find some legal way in which automobile license plates can be sold at half price after July 1.

The automobile weight tax law fixes September 1 as the earliest day when license plates can be sold at the reduced figure. However, the officials are studying statutes regarding powers of the state administrative board to act in emergencies, as a possible solution to the question.

Sale of license plates at half-price after July 1, would allow owners of approximately 100,000 cars to secure licenses, and it also would add hundreds of thousands of dollars to the state's revenue.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes these good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substituting 24¢ at all stores. © 1931, C. M. Co.
