CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, AUGUST 5, 1932.

Ronald Douglas, 17, Killed In California

Ronald McGregor Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. U. Douglas of Pine Knob, was fatally injured in a recent automobile accident in California and died aboard the USS Relief hospital ship, Saturday, July 30, three days after the accident.

Ronald Douglas was born in Scarborough, New York, September 22, 1914, and would have celebrated his eighteenth birthday next month. He moved to Pine Knob with his parents and family a few years ago and attended the Drayton Plains School for two seasons. Eighteen months ago he enlisted in the navy and has been stationed on the western coast. He was home on a furlough recently, returning just three weeks ago to Seattle where he boarded the Naval boat and went to San Pedro.

Funeral services were held in San Francisco Monday of this week and young Douglas was accorded full military honors, and burial was in the National Cemetery there. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas were unable to leave because Mrs. Douglas has been seriously ill. She is convalescing at this time but is still confined to her bed. As soon as she is able, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas will leave for the west.

Surviving, besides the parents, are one brother and one sister; Alexander McKenzie Douglas was graduated from the Drayton Plains School this past June and will enter the Clarkston High School in September; Ivy Douglas is at home.

William Grant, 69 Suffers Stroke Friday

William Grant, who resides two miles south of Clarkston Station, suffered a stroke last Friday morning and is reported as not very well at this time. He was, at the time, milking a cow in the barn on his farm home, when he became ill, and was found in an unconscious condition about an hour later. Tuesday morning was the first Mr. Grant was able to speak. He is the brother of Mrs. David Teggerdine, and he was sixty-nine years of age on Monday of this week. Mrs. Eli Fisher of this village is at the home caring for Mr. Grant.

The latest report Thursday is that Mr. Grant is very low and in a critical condition.

The Old Mill is in Action Again

Ortonville Shipping Association Repairs Industry Site Built Nearly 90 Years Ago

The old mill on South street is operating again. There have been several owners during the many years it has existed but never has the industry enjoyed the efficient equipment and improvements that the Ortonville Shipping Association has installed during the past six weeks.

The original water wheel still supplies power for the Stone Grinder, Feed Grinder, and Corn Sheller, but new electric motors have been added to actuate the Elevators, Midget Mill, and Cleaners. The foundations have been completely replaced by concrete under both the exterior walls and the building columns, all the rotating shafts and floors have been levelled, two new loading docks with steps have been built, the entire roof enjoys new shingles, new leather belts replaced the old ones on the corn sheller, feed grinder, stone grinder, cleaner, and main elevator, new silk cloth screening has been placed on the cylinders in the midget mill, two new relief switches are connected to the motors with the electric leads safeguarded in iron conduit, and both gates, at the dam on South Street have been replaced with modern gates.

According to Herin Profrock, manager of the plant, the building was in an extremely dirty condition when they started activity, but after a trip through the mill the editor could find no part of the building in anything but tip-top shape. On the second floor there is a new 600 storage bin and starting from the third floor a new spout has been installed from the cleaner to transmit the dirt directly to the first floor where it empties into a sack. Before, the dirt from the grain had to be carried downstairs manually.

Five and six men worked on the project from the time they started improvements a few weeks ago and most of the working stock of the company has already been moved to the new quarters and they are now ready to do business. The old building in the north part of the village will be used only for storage. Mr. Profrock states that the entire exterior will be painted with two coats of gray trimmed in white immediately.

It certainly is an improvement to Mill Street to have the old mill cleaned up and occupied.

Miss Cheeseman Selected as "Miss Oakland County"

"Miss Clarkston" Wins First in Beauty and Personality Pageant

Miss Helen Cheeseman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Cheeseman of Orion Road, was chosen as "Miss Oakland County" at a close contest Wednesday evening at Lake Orion.

Miss Cheeseman will go to Romeo tomorrow evening to represent the county in a beauty and personality pageant in which the "Queen of Peaches" will be selected to reign over the annual Romeo Peach Festival, a three-day program held in September. The other entrants Saturday will compose the queen's court.

Five counties will be represented in the final contest tomorrow, and five county seats will send their beauties, so the queen will be selected from the ten entrants. Counties represented are Oakland, Lapeer, Macomb, Genesee and St. Clair.

Judges for the county contest Wednesday were Kary A. Hymter, Algonac Donald Chubb, Romeo, and George J. lene Riley of Walled Lake as second choice.

Helen Carolyn Cheeseman, who bore the "Miss Clarkston" honor so gracefully in the county contest will carry the "Miss Oakland County" honors tomorrow, and we might well be proud of her. She gracefully walked before the audience and judges Wednesday evening, and her splendid carriage, fine dignity and personality were an added asset to her beauty. She was gowned in a semi-formal gown of transparent chiffon velvet in black, with a nobby little fall turban to match. Her accessories were carried out in the same attractive, yet dignified tone, and her costume accentuated her distinctive blondness. Miss Cheeseman is five feet eight inches in height and weighs 140 pounds. As she walked before the judges she actually looked like a queen and the Clarkston audience was indeed proud of its entrant. The girls were all lovely and it was a close contest. Photographers were very busy after the judging taking photographs of Miss Cheeseman.

Why Stay at Home?

Boys Ride Bicycles to Lansing; Stay Four Days; Ride Back

Duane Hursfall, 14, and Basil Tucker, 14, decided that they would have a vacation that was a little different, so they mounted their bikes early Monday morning and headed for Lansing. They have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard North, relatives, on a farm near Lansing and returned, via bicycles, yesterday.

The boys left at 7 a. m. Monday equipped with a small amount of extra clothing and their lunches. They peddled all the 70 odd miles, taking only one lift of eight miles with a truck. They phoned home announcing that they had reached their destination about seven o'clock that evening. Two villagers passed them on their way near Howell and asked if they wanted a lift, but they declined, stating that they were having a grand time peddling their way.

George Morgan House Burns to Ground

Only a Few Personal Articles Saved; No Fire Insurance

The two-story house on the 100 acre farm of George Morgan, located west of Bald Eagle Lake, burned to the ground Sunday afternoon with a large loss of property. The house was several years old and the two boys of the family, Frank and Stanley were playing upstairs and Mr. Morgan was alternately reading and dozing while sitting in a chair down stairs. Stanley gave the first warning that the house was on fire.

Apparently Morgan could not immediately grasp the fact that the house was really burning and during that few seconds the fire gained such headway that the Ortonville fire engine was not of any value upon its arrival, except to save the wood pile.

The house went up so fast that Morgan, the boys, and the three men in the Green home only a few rods across the fields, were able to remove only a very few items from the blazing house. Consequently, the losses not only included most of the furniture, but clothes, a large quantity of canned goods, $20 in bills which were hidden in an upstairs dresser drawer, bedding, and a piano. When Mr. Morgan entered the cellar and bent over to lift a bushel basket filled with potatoes, he just raised up in time before the piano came through the floor.

Mrs. Morgan and the other children were in Clarkston at the home of a brother, Sam Morgan and this group arrived just in time to see nothing left but the rock foundation. A daughter, Mrs. Charles Hine and her husband of Davisburg, also arrived too late to be of any assistance. Many people of the surrounding community came to the scene of the fire but the building was one of the old-fashioned fast burning type and little could be done to save it. It was unfortunate that the fire insurance was allowed to lapse less than a year ago and no insurance was carried on the personal property and furniture.

Mother of Nine Dies After Accident Sunday

Father Not expected to Live; Three Children also injured; Relatives of Local Residents

Mrs. Anna Mae Barnett, 45, was fatally injured Sunday morning when the Barnett car collided with a car driven by Fred C. Miller, Route 7, Saginaw, at the intersection of the Clarkston Station Road and the Dixie Highway. Mrs. Barnett died at 11:20 p. m. Sunday at the Pontiac General Hospital. Mr. Henry Barnett, the father, is in a very critical condition at the hospital and is not expected to recover. Three children were injured, Dolores, 12 years old, suffered a fractured pelvis; Harry, Junior, 10, a fractured leg, cuts and shock, and Thomas, 6, severe cuts. Their home is at Almont.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnett were riding with five of their children, south on the Clarkston Station Road. Barnett stopped at the Dixie Highway but evidently misjudged his distance when he started across the highway. The other car, driven by Miller, was going east at a rapid speed and Barnett was unable to get across the highway in time to avoid the collision. Both cars were badly damaged and crashed into a ditch at the southeast corner of the intersection. The Barnett car overturned, pinning Mrs. Barnett beneath it. She was injured internally. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Mann, whose home is located at that corner, and who were at home at the time, hailed passing motorists who helped them extricate the body from beneath the car. Ambulances were called and Ogdan Ambulance and J. Lee Voorhees Ambulance took the injured to the hospital.

Mr. Barnett suffered a deep gash in the head, a broken nose and other severe cuts. In the other car, Mrs. Miller sustained a sprained ankle and cuts. Mr. Miller escaped injury, as did two of the Barnett children, Hilda, 13, and Edwin, 8.

Funeral services for Mrs. Barnett were held Wednesday afternoon at 3:15 at the Voorhees Funeral Home with burial in Oxbow Cemetery. Rev. R. H. Prouse officiated.

Surviving are: Harry Barnett, the husband, and nine children; Mary Barnett Clement (Mrs. William Clement) 26, Clarkston; Ruth Barnett Orr (Mrs. Alton Orr), 27, Clarkston; Stella Barnett Pierce (Mrs. Russell Pierce), 24, of near Oxford; Mabel Barnett Walker (Mrs. Melvin Walker) 21, of Almont; and five children at home, Hilda, 13, Dolores, 12, Junior, 10, Edwin, 8, and Thomas, 6.

Both cars were badly damaged and were brought in to Clarkston to Beattie Brother's Garage.

Wins Third Prize

Word has been received from the Tamlyn Studio of Fenton that Miss Ada Hoyt has won third prize in the local Master Snap shot contest. Her prize picture was one of Joanne Spalding. All of the prize pictures are entered in the national Master-snap shot contest where cash prizes are awarded. Miss Hoyt will receive an enlargement of the snap shot she entered. The contest runs until October 22 and is being handled thru the local agents, Roy Addis, Clarkston and A. Jacober, Waterford.

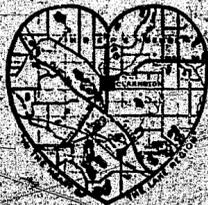

Mrs. Lyle Connolly has just been awarded fourth prize, or honorable mention with a picture of Colleen Connolly and Mary Cell in a tub of water. She will receive an enlargement.

More Contest Winners

Among the winners in the Pontiac Daily Press theatre ticket contest were a few local boys and girls. The contest was a question and answer affair and, in addition to the correct answer, neatness counted toward winning entries. Lester Spencer was the only Clarkston youth to win a prize, but several Drayton entrants won. They were Eldon Olasbeck, Dorothy Olasbeck, and Betty Lou McNally and June Ellen Harris from Waterford was another winner. There were hundreds of entries and each winner was awarded two tickets for the double feature "Puss in Boots" and "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm".

Slush!

We hesitated to comment on the pamphlet "Put on the Spot" that was distributed about town Tuesday afternoon, but it was impossible to resist the temptation to give our exact opinion of such reading matter.

We know of no better way for a political candidate to kill his possibilities than to allow his picture and propaganda to be associated with such an illiterate, radical, rotten and SLUSHY scandal sheet, full of bunk. We dislike to use such vocabulary in our publication but we know of no other way to describe "Put on the Spot". No thinking voter would do anything but laugh when he reads the absurd statements made regarding politics, newspapers, and religion in the 17th Congressional district.

We might call our readers' attention to the fact that no masthead or publishers' names appear on the sheet which is, in itself, an obvious acknowledgment that it is a filthy paper of which to be ashamed.

Capt. Wolfgang von Gronau, the noted German flyer who just recently completed his third flying trip across the Atlantic was a guest of the Thompson Aeronautical Corporation at their hangars at the Municipal airport Saturday night. Gronau's big Dornier flying boat, the "Gronland Wal" (Greenland Whale) and its crew en route from Germany to the Pacific coast, was forced down Saturday night on Lake St. Clair, one half mile off the Canadian shore, just north of Tecumseh, Ontario, on account of a broken water line in the after engine. Captain Gronau accompanied by Richard C. Marshall, president of the Thompson Aeronautical Corporation, brought over motor parts to the Thompson shop at the port just a few miles south of Waterford for repairs that the Gronland Wal might continue its journey. While in Detroit Captain Gronau was the guest of Mr. Marshall at his home in Grosse Isle.

"Unemployment of our people is the most serious problem of our government today," Mr. Dondero said.

"Did You Know"

That in the early days when knights met they would raise the visor of their helmets to show their identity and that was the origin of our modern salute?

That during the World War the American mine-laying division planted 90,000 mines between the British Isles and Norway?

That after the armistice, the American mine vessels swept up the 90,000 mines they laid—one of the great feats of the post-war Navy?

That the above information was furnished by the Navy Recruiting Station, 645 Randolph St., Detroit, Michigan?

Orph C. Holmes in Race for Circuit
Court Commissioner

On Democratic Ticket

Orph C. Holmes, of the Oakland County Bar, has filed petitions to qualify as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Court Commissioner at the September 13th, primary.

Upon return from service in the A. E. F. Mr. Holmes came to this County in 1919, and has been active in the business and professional life of his community. He received his pre-law and literary work in Winona College and pursued the study of law in the Detroit College of Law from which he was graduated with the degree of L. L. B. Since his admission to the Bar he has been engaged in the practice of law with offices in the Professional Building in Ferndale.

Before entering the practice of law Mr. Holmes served five years as teacher in the public schools and has had a diversified experience in the business world. The name Orph C. Holmes, is well known in civic, fraternal and social circles of his community.

"If elected I will consider it a mandate of the people of Oakland County for a reform in County administration and will endeavor to so conduct the office of Circuit Court Commissioner to the end that efficiency, economy and impartial justice may be achieved."

The Fish Have Their Kings

The Kingfish is something more than a radio character to the thousands of trout who live every summer in the feeding stations operated by the Department of Conservation. To them the Kingfish is symbolical of piscatorial authority and no feeding station is without several.

The trout Kingfish seems born to rule, according to the Fish Division of the Department. An especially vigorous baby trout fortunate enough to obtain just a little more food than the others or to live near the head of the pond where the water is fresher and contains more minute creatures on which to feed, grows more rapidly than the others. Then he uses his strength to boss his fellows and keep them away.

At every feeding station, visitors see trout just as old but larger than all the others, lying near the head screens ready to grasp the choice flies, bugs and small organisms carried down the stream. All the smaller trout are warned away and they must content themselves with the artificial food given them by the station attendant.

As a result of the feudal system naturally established in a feeding station, when the ponds are seined in September many of the trout will be seven inches long and others but from two to three inches, and these smaller trout are in imminent danger of being consumed by their barbarous brothers.

University Artists Hold Summer Exhibit

Visitors to Ann Arbor and the University of Michigan during the summer are invited to view a special show of paintings in the College of Architecture, all done by talented members of the faculty of the College. Those who teach Michigan architects drawing and painting are all men who can illustrate their teaching with demonstrations of high artistic quality. The faculty men whose works are on display include Myron B. Chapin, A. Mastro Valerio, Jean Paul Slusser, Ernest H. Barnes and Frederick H. Aldrich. Most of these men have exhibited work in prominent galleries throughout the country.

Early Clarkston Supplement

When, in a recent issue story of "Early Clarkston", as found in an interview with Frank Yeager, was given, some of the industries of the early days were omitted. It is recalled, according to Mr. Yeager and Edwin Clark, that several important little businesses had been forgotten. A father and son operated a tin shop at which they made and sold pots and pans, cups, stove pipes, and other tin commodities. For years this father and son carried on this shop, and kept busy with no other occupations. One could not buy these articles in a store. The wife and mother kept a millinery shop in one part of the same building on Main Street and made and sold the only hats in the village.

There were also in the town two or three wagon shops. All wagons used locally were made in these shops and also all repairs were done there. One interesting shop was that of the broom maker. The broom making was his only occupation and made all brooms for the community and also for some adjoining towns. He sold these brooms to stores.

A jeweler, a man with a family of five, had, as his sole occupation, that of repairing watches and clocks and it is reported that he was busy most of the time. He also sold some little jewelry and was here for years. Two men worked continuously sawing wood, by hand and were never idle. These items just bring to light the mode of earning and living that the villagers had in the early days.

Farmers Picnic at Davisburg, Aug. 17

Charles S. (Farmer) Brown, one of the outstanding and perhaps the most picturesque figure in American agriculture today is to speak before a County Farmer's Picnic to be held on Wednesday, August 17th, at the County Park at Davisburg. Mr. Brown will be the guest of the Davisburg County Farm Bureau for the day. A native of Utah, and reared in the west, Mr. Brown was a cow puncher and rode the range in his younger days. Later he went to Arizona where he was engaged in general farming.

With the wit and humor of Will Rogers, and the earnestness of a man who knows that he is fighting for a just cause, Mr. Brown is said to be almost without a peer in presenting the case of agriculture. Many years ago Mr. Brown recognized the need of organized marketing by farmers. His 16 years service for organized agriculture includes the presidency of his county and Arizona State Farm Bureau, two years a member of the American Farm Bureau executive committee, and aid in organizing hay growers, cotton marketing, lettuce, onion growers and dairy associations in Arizona.

A Proud Record

According to the Navy Recruiting Station, Detroit, in a recent examination for entrance to the Naval Academy 23 per cent of the appointees from the civilian ranks passed the exams, while 64 per cent of candidates from enlisted ranks of the regular Navy, and 32 per cent of the Naval Reserve enlisted ranks were successful.

Every fraternal organization in Michigan is expected to be represented by large delegations on Saturday "Fraternal Day" of the Michigan State Fair and Exposition in Detroit, September 4 to 10.

Send in your subscription to The Clarkston News, it is the only newspaper in which you will find the local news of your community every week.

An Omission

In last week's issue was an account of a recent Democratic rally which was held downtown. It has been brought to our attention that there were several omissions in the item, and we wish to correct this. In addition to the speaker mentioned, the other Democratic candidates who spoke were Charles A. Holman of Ferndale, candidate for Circuit Court Commissioner; Bernard Schrader, Pontiac, candidate for county sheriff and Clare W. Burke, Clarkston, candidate for county clerk. They also accompanied the caravan to Ortonville and spoke there at the Rally.

O. E. S. Meets

The Order of Eastern Star held its regular monthly meeting Monday evening at the Masonic Temple. Mrs. Pearl Cole, Worthy Matron, was in charge. Following the transaction of regular business, the group enjoyed a social hour with light refreshments. Mr. Agnes McFarland and Mrs. Myrtle Yost were in charge. An out of town visitor, Mrs. Mitchell, from the Iron River chapter was present.

An interesting point was noted by L. L. Connolly the other day while he was out in the rural sections. He saw a flock of sheep grazing on a hillside and on the back of one of the sheep was perched a big black crow, as unconcerned as if he were sitting on a fence. The crow had quite a ride for he did not even stir when the sheep sauntered on down the pasture.

Sylvan Glen Defeats Duck Lake Team

Duck Lake was defeated at the Sylvan Glen Golf Course Sunday by a margin of one point. Steve Sedick of Duck Lake shot a remarkable recovery game after Val Catus had him down two points on the first nine. Sedick came back two under par, going out in a 39 and coming in with a 34.

Art Pomy, number one man of Duck Lake, defeated the famous Gus Deering of Sylvan Glen after being down 3 in the first nine. Pomy assured his team mates that he would deliver his point and a half, but being real generous he delivered two points instead. Dependable Ray Allen overcame many bad breaks and delivered a point and a half, while George Allrich lost two Sundays in a row, finishing with a score of 91.

Duck Lake Ladies' team defeated Redford Ladies with a score of 8-4 last Wednesday at Duck Lake. The Grinnell Music Company employees held their tournament at Duck Lake Sunday at 8:30 a. m. Mr. Hill, chairman of the committee, reported that each and everyone of them had an enjoyable day.

Clarence K. Phillips on Salaries Committee

Clarence K. Phillips, supervisor for Independence Township, is to be one of the five members of the committee that is working on reductions in salaries of county officers which, if adopted by the board of supervisors, will govern for the next two years. Phillips is working with Supervisors W. J. Tripp, Lee O. Brooks, Frank Shimmmons and Theodore L. Degenhardt.

The Oakland County Supervisors are to be called into session some time next week to hear the report of this committee on salary reductions and also for the purpose of discussing further the refunding of Covert road bonds. If the board follows the recommendations of its committees the salaries will be the lowest they have been in years for county officers.

Oakland County Fair Comes Next Week

Fine Exhibition Promised. Dates Are August 10, 11, 12, 13, Day and Night

With August comes the Oakland County Fair held this year on the tenth, eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth of the month when many people are still having their vacations and are in a mood for delightful entertainment. The 1932 exhibition will mark the 52nd year since the first fair was held at Milford. Of the original promoters, none are left but the fair has continued, and by its early exhibitions has furnished information and entertainment to two and three generations of its patrons.

For the 1932 fair the management is featuring exhibits of the Oakland County Boys and Girls 4-H Clubs. Besides these and the staple exhibits in livestock and farm products there will be three days of horse racing, three ball games and a fine list of platform attractions for the day and evening. The spectacular theatrical stage production, "Silver Threads" with 35 performers, will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights along with circus acts.

Candidate

S. LEE PACK

S. Lee Pack, Veteran Oakland County officer, formally announced his candidacy today for the Republican nomination for Sheriff.

"As a taxpayer and a resident of Oakland County for 25 years, I believe I can honestly claim to be conversant with the county's financial condition and that any public servant who is actually serving the public and not himself must cut costs and do his share to make it possible for the taxpayer to keep his home."

"I have been struggling with the same problems that have faced every other taxpayer. I know that I can reduce costs without reducing the service given by the sheriff's office. I can make this statement and know exactly what I am talking about as I served in the sheriff's office from 1922 to 1929, doing every type of police work."

"Again as a county poor commissioner I came in contact with another phase of the county's problems. The sheriff's duties are important. That office provides the only police protection for a large proportion of the county's population. This service must be maintained at a high degree of efficiency but it is imperative that the taxpayer get a dollar's worth of service for every dollar spent."

"If I am elected, I can enter on this task without experimentation because of my previous experience, starting under Sheriff James Butler," Mr. Pack states. Mr. Pack was born in Shiawassee County. Before entering public life he was a farmer and builder. He was married in 1900 and has one child. His home is at 319 Waverly Avenue, Royal Oak. He is an active member of the Royal Oak Congregational Church.

Seymour Lake

The Seymour Lake Sunday School picnic was a decided success when sixty-five of the group met Tuesday. They went to the woods for the picnic, but it began to rain, so they returned to the Community House, where they had their dinner. The weather cleared up in the afternoon and the group enjoyed games, races, and swimming.

Miss Helen Fiske, of Walled Lake was a visitor at Mrs. Belle Sherwood's Friday.

Billy Porritt of Clarkston spent few days at the Porritt farm last week.

Mrs. Mary Losch, who is a patient at the Goodrich Hospital, is able to sit up in a chair and to be returned to her home sometime this week.

Cladya Sherwood was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Sly of Thendara Sunday.

Mrs. Ray Vollen is recovering from an operation in St. Joseph Hospital. Her little daughter, Beryl, is staying with Mrs. Alex Solley.

Mrs. Carl Irish was hostess to twelve ladies Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Urch of Detroit, who is Mrs. Irish's house guest.

Mrs. and Mrs. William Walstead of Hunter's Creek were at Martin Beardslee's Tuesday.

Mrs. Iva Miller entertained a group of her old high school mates Wednesday. Mrs. Mildred Bailey Whims of Saginaw was unable to attend because her five year old daughter Donna was very ill with pneumonia.

Threshing has been started in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Martin Beardslee called on Mrs. Mary Losch at Goodrich Hospital Sunday afternoon and found her improving.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

The telephone is a valuable aid in securing

Employment

MANY persons who are "on call" for either temporary or permanent employment find that their telephones give them an advantage. For employers often summon those persons first whom they can reach easily and quickly by telephone.

And in emergencies, such as fire, accident or sudden sickness, your telephone is PRICELESS PROTECTION, enabling you to summon aid immediately, day or night.

Few things that you buy offer so much useful service and protection at such low cost as the telephone.
