Methodist Homecoming a Huge Success

The Homecoming of the Methodist Church created a great deal of interest, a splendid program, and renewed many old friendships, in addition to making many new friends.

Approximately one hundred and fifty persons attended the all-day affair and nearly two hundred enjoyed the noon meal served by the Ladies Aid. Fifty out of town guests were present and all were former members, pastors, and their families. They included: Mrs. A. E. Walter, Mrs. W. E. Van Norman, Mrs. C. G. Garter, Agnes Roe, Mrs. S. H. Reynolds (Mrs. W. Brown) and Mrs. D. A. Green, all of Pontiac; Mrs. Linsley I. Coon, Lottie Bromfield, F. F. Garter, Harold Helen, Ethna, and Eleanor, Mrs. C. B. Walter, Mrs. Sida Green, W. P. Green, Mrs. Clyde Holcomb, David H. Glass, Elizabeth K. Glass, Harry G. Barry, Charles M. Smith, and Mrs. Estelle Gibbs Graham, all of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chapman, Gordon and Ruth Chapman, of Oxford; Mrs. H. B. Mehlberg, Nellie Spooner, Waterford; Mrs. Edwin Harris, Birmingham; Miss Marian Vliet and Miss Bessie Vliet of Bentley; Mrs. John Brumfield, Bay City; Mrs. D. H. Glass, Saginaw; Bertha Jump, Detroit; Mrs. Edward Wieland, Orion; Rev. and Mrs. C. G. W. Williams, David, and Paul of Fenton; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill and Margaret Hill Jones of Lapeer; Rev. and Mrs. Stephens, Marian, Millicent, Ethelyn, Nellie and Gertrude Stephens, Stockbridge.

The program, which began at 11 o'clock, was splendid and included delightful musical numbers as well as talks from the former pastors. Miss Adele Gardner offered a piano solo as opening number and a quartette of Mrs. Louis F. Walter, Miss S. D. Woodward, Rev. E. Stephens and Dr. C. J. Sutherland gave several selections. Rev. C. G. W. Williams made him some new ones. Lewis Warden sang a solo and then Mrs. Glass set the audience in laughter with her clever and humorous readings. Rev. Chapman made a short talk and the choir rendered a special selection that was beautiful.

In the afternoon session the Misses Ethelyn and Nellie Stevens gave a piano duet and the Misses Helen Fimdale and Margaret Harris sang a duet. Mrs. Louis F. Walter pleased the audience with a delightful solo and then sang a duet with Mrs. Zoia Grant. Rev. Stevens talked to the group and recalled many fine friendships he had made here. Mrs. Jones gave a reading and the young men's quartette composed of Lewis Warden, Marvin and Harvey Porritt and Ralph Marshall gave a number. Dr. C. J. Sutherland sang a solo and Dr. H. Glass gave a short address.

The day was indeed successful and it will probably become an annual affair.

Will Rogers Says:

Taken from Publishers Auxiliary.

Beverly Hills, California, July 27.

We have a great bunch out here prowling around. It's the National Editorial Association, composed of editors in smaller towns and weekly publications. They are just eating their way around the country, having a good time, and getting a lot of pleasure out of it. And giving every one that meets 'em a close-up of just about as representative a gang of Americans as would be possible to band together—intelligent, well read, and no national advertising controls their pages.

They are not conceited enough to think they "mold public opinion." They just go along and service their community with the most indispensable article that it has. And yet their real power is greater than all your metropolitan dailies combined. Any person that don't read at least one well-written country newspaper is not truly informed.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

Jerome Vliet Dies at Age of Eighty-three

Jerome Vliet, 83 years of age, passed away at the home of his nephew, Fred Vliet, of Brandon Township, near Ortonville, Sunday night, following an illness of six months.

Mr. Vliet was born in Clarkston March 10, 1849, and lived in the village until twenty years ago, when he moved to Oscoda. He was married to Miss Jane Phillips who died in 1918. Many villagers will remember Jerome Vliet. He was a stone mason for many years here and built the foundations of many of our village buildings. He built the Clarkston State Bank building and the Town Hall. He was, while residing here, supervisor and treasurer of Independence Township and was a member of the village council for years. He built and used to live in the house where the George Elliotts now reside.

His funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the Ogden Funeral Home and was marked with a beautiful array of flowers, a small expression of the high esteem of this gentleman. Pall bearers were Frank Yeager, Ben DeLisle, Emery Smith, and Lemuel Van Syckle. Burial took place in Lakeview Cemetery, Rev. K. S. North of Ortonville officiated.

Mr. Vliet is survived by Charles and Fred Vliet, nephews, and leaves many other relatives here, including the Holcomb brothers, members of the Vliet families and the Barrow family, the Clarence Phillips, and many distant relatives in the village.

"Deer Park Road"

The "Deer Park Road", running from Newberry to a coast guard station located on an isolated spot along the shore of Lake Superior, is, for thousands who have "discovered" the Superior State Forest, a trail leading to one of the few remaining wilderness areas of Michigan.

A few years ago the Deer Park Road saw few horses, and an automobile was rare. It was used as a means of getting supplies to the coast guard station and the few "shackers" who lived in the little known area.

In the fall, for a few weeks, it saw scores of hunters, only to be deserted again during the long winter months.

Then a few curious visitors entered the area. They returned the following year bringing others with them, and today an increasing number of campers and tourists are invading the region.

Several years ago a huge rectangular area along the shores of Lake Superior in Luce and Chippewa counties was set aside by the Department of Conservation as a state forest.

The state now owns more than 90,000 acres and is gradually increasing its holdings.

A headquarters was established on the Deer Park Road and foresters began to develop planting areas and to lay means for forest fire control.

Roads suitable for automobile travel were cut through the trackless forest. A Land Economic Survey party mapped and studied the reservation.

But today the actual purpose of development—as a state forest—has become but one of the area's uses.

The Superior State Forest is now one of the outstanding recreational spots of the kind in Michigan. It is a huge public hunting ground. Its isolation and primitive conditions have combined to make it attractive to those interested in the out-of-doors.

Hymnal Contract Keeps Plant Busy

The Kingsport Press, Incorporated, has received the largest known single order or hymnals ever placed with a single concern. The order was placed by The Christian Science Publishing Society of Boston.

The order consists of 400,000 cloth-bound books and 10,000 do luxe full leather-bound books. The books will be distributed throughout the world. It is expected the distribution will begin about September 1.

The music plates for the 640-page hymnal were prepared by the F. H. Gilson Company of Boston, nationally known music composers. All of the type for the plates was set by hand.

E. W. Palmer, president of the local plant, said some idea of the magnitude of the order could be obtained by the quantity of material and time necessary for the completion of the book. Five of the largest perfecting presses of the Kingsport Press began work on printing the book June 15 and will run 20 hours each day until August 25, at which time the printing is expected to be complete.

A total of 325 tons of paper will be used in the book, 80,240 yards of book cloth, 89,000 yd. of head bands, seven tons of end paper material, 50 tons of cover board, and more than 210,000 yards of muslin reinforcement for the backs of the books.

Mr. Palmer said probably the most outstanding part of the manufacturing process will be the use of more than 500,000 sheets of 22-carat gold for the stamping on the cloth-bound edition and gilding the edges and stamping the deluxe edition. Mr. Palmer estimated the cost of the gold alone at $12,500.—Kingsport (Tenn.) Times.

Look at the label on your paper. If the date is 8-15-32, for instance, it indicates that your subscription expired August 15, and that it is high time to send in your dollar for a renewal. It will be welcome!

Exceptional Concert Series for U. of M.

Students of the University of Michigan will find a series of concerts awaiting them next fall and winter, which is probably unsurpassed in quality by any metropolitan schedule in the variety and brilliance of the artists and organizations. Among those appearing on this fifty-fourth annual consecutive Choral Union Concert series are Lawrence Tibbett, baritone; Sigrid Onegin, contralto; Efram Zimbalist and Nathan Milstein, violinists; Ignatz Jan Paderewski, Myra Hess and Vladimir Horowitz, pianists; The Boston Symphony orchestra under Serge Koussevitsky; the Budapest String Quartet; and the Detroit Symphony under Ossip Gabrilowitsch.

The following dates are announced by Charles A. Sink president of the University Musical Society: October 25, Boston Symphony orchestra, Serge Koussevitsky, conductor.

This outstanding American symphony orchestra will make a brief western tour in October, playing at Buffalo, Ann Arbor, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

November 2, Lawrence Tibbett distinguished baritone, of the Metropolitan Opera company and of movie fame will give his first Ann Arbor song recital. He has been heard in May Festivals on many occasions but not for the past several years.

Since this time he has developed into one of America's outstanding drawing cards.

November 30, Detroit Symphony orchestra, Ossip Gabrilowitsch, conductor. Detroit's orchestra has won distinction among America's leading concert organizations.

Its concerts are among the finest of their kind. Its annual Ann Arbor concert is an outstanding feature of the season.

December 8, Efram Zimbalist, violinist. This distinguished violinist was heard on recital in Ann Arbor several seasons ago and made a profound impression.

General demand for a return engagement could not previously be accorded to on account of Mr. Zimbalist's extensive itinerary and concert engagements.

January 16, Nathan Milstein, distinguished Russian violinist, will be the first artist in the after-holiday portion of the series of programs.

Milstein is one of that great trio of Russian artists who have attracted so much attention. This will be Mr. Milstein's first Ann Arbor concert.

January 27, Myra Hess, eminent British pianist, will be heard in the series for the second time, having distinguished herself in recital several seasons ago.

She is generally conceded to be the outstanding woman piano virtuoso of the day.

Arbor will be the only Michigan city to hear this organization, which made a profound impression here last year.

Save Peach Trees
by Simple Method

Injuries caused by the peach tree borer, which is the most serious insect enemy of Michigan peaches, could be entirely prevented if growers would use paradichlorobenzene to kill the borers in the trees, according to the department of entomology at Michigan State College.

The treatment is most effective if given about September 1, after the eggs of the borer have all hatched and while the weather is still warm enough to volatilize the chemical used to kill the insect. The presence of borers in the trees is indicated, by exuding gum.

Trees less than four years old should not be treated. The average-sized four year old tree will require three-fourths of an ounce of the paradichlorobenzene, and larger trees will require a little more.

The crushed crystals of chemical should be placed in a ring around the tree and from one to three inches from the bark. Weeds and grass should be removed about the base of the tree before the chemical is applied. Cover the paradichlorobenzene with a few shovelfuls of dirt.

If the trees are on very heavy soil, the material should be taken from about the tree after three weeks, but this is not necessary on most of the lighter soils where peaches are commonly grown.

Fish Slaughter in
Van Buren Halted

Reported wholesale slaughter of fish in Van Buren county through the depredations of dynamite is believed by the Department of Conservation to have been halted through the convictions of 16 men.

The 16 men, all residents of Hartford and Decatur, were arrested by Frank McClellan, conservation officer, who had been investigating the reported violations for some time.

Homemaker's Corner

By Home Economics Specialists
 Michigan State College

Particularly timely at this season are the instructions for canning corn which Miss Muriel Dundas, home economics extension nutrition specialist of Michigan State College, has given.

Only young and tender ears of corn should be selected, as it is very difficult to sterilize the old ears. After harvesting, remove the husk, silk, and any blemishes with a sharp knife. Then cut the kernels from the cob and cook for about five minutes, using one cup of water to one quart of corn. Pack, but not tightly, while boiling hot, pouring the liquid in which the corn has been cooked into the glass jar or tin can used.

It is better to use only pint jars or cans for corn, as the heat can penetrate more easily. If a glass jar is used it should be partially sealed before processing, while if a tin can is used, it should be completely sealed before processing. Seventy-five minutes, at 15 pounds pressure, are required for pint glass jars and 70 minutes for No. 2 tin cans. Tin cans should be cooled quickly after processing, but if the corn is in glass jars, first complete the sealing and then allow the jars to cool gradually.

If the hot water bath is used, three hours of boiling are required for a pint can. Pressure cooking is recommended in preference to this method, however.

Prize Money Still
Open for Berries

An offer of a $25 prize by the State Horticultural Society for the best variety of late maturing, high-bush blueberry discovered in Michigan has so far failed to bring any entrants for the award, according to the department of horticulture at Michigan State College which is handling the contest.

The horticulturists still want to secure specimens of late berries and if any can be found now they should be desirable varieties if the bushes have a good crop of fair sized berries. The horticultural department is trying to find better and later varieties of blueberries. These varieties will be propagated and sold at cost to Michigan land owners who have areas suitable for this crop.

The basis for awarding this year's prize is 70 points for lateness of maturity, 20 points for size, and 10 points for eating quality. The sample which scores highest will win the $25.

Samples should be sent to the Superintendent, South Haven Experiment Station, South Haven. Representatives of the College will inspect desirable bushes and take cuttings which will be used to propagate the variety.

A similar prize offered last year for mid-season variety brought nearly a hundred samples of berries to the South Haven Station. Two desirable varieties were found and are now being increased for future distribution in the State.

Candidate for Representative

David A. Green, a lifelong resident of Pontiac and Oakland County today announced his candidacy for Representative in the State Legislature, second District, Oakland County.

"As a taxpayer and a former member of the Legislature I believe I am qualified to serve the people of the Second District to advantage," he said. "If honest and good legislation was ever needed it is now."

"I shall stand for a drastic economy program. The Legislature must stop spending the people's money."

"I am in favor of curbing the State Highway Department for a period of two years in their mad rush in road building."

"I am also in favor of the state paying the Covert road debts, or the elimination of the state property tax or both, or the exemption of home to the amount of $3,000."

"I am in favor of the consolidation of units, such as counties, townships, or of commissions and different departments of our state government to reduce taxation."

"A rigid economy program can be put across only by electing new members to the next Legislature."

Michigan has Second Largest Number Student Architects

Few Michigan residents know that in the College of Architecture of their state university they have a training ground for architects which has increased its enrollment over 100 per cent since the World War, has been for some years the second largest institution of its kind in the country, and enjoys an international reputation for its progressive teaching.

Years ago, from 1875 to 1877, some instruction in architecture was offered in the University of Michigan. Then, after a 26 years lapse, Emil Lorch came to the University as Professor of Architecture in 1906, and had 27 students enrolled in his classes. Although architecture was then but a sub-department of engineering, the student body grew steadily, rapidly overcrowding its quarters, until in 1921 there were 183 students and 365 in 1930. Many more from other branches of the University took work in drawing, painting, and design in the architect's classes. In 1926 the State Legislature recognized the importance of the work by appropriating funds for the present fine building devoted solely to architecture, and last year the College of Architecture came into being as an independent University unit.

Much of the success of the College may be traced to the policy of its head, Director Lorch, who has always insisted that teaching which emphasizes progressiveness and artistic quality in design and construction is necessary to produce architects whose social service lies in making American homes and buildings both practical and beautiful. At the great Berlin exhibition of American architecture, in 1926, the University was the only educational institution given a complete room to display its work, a recognition of which Michigan citizens may be justifiably proud. Daily contacts with objects of art, frequent exhibitions of the work of noted contemporary architects, and frequent visiting lecturers supplement the far-sighted teaching policy of the College.

Cars Collide on Main Street; Noone Injured

The Baldoni boy, accompanied by his father, Tony Baldoni, was driving straight south on Main street when Mr. Carnegie made a U-turn in the middle of the block. The Baldoni boy ran into him. The Carnegie car had did not see him in time to stop and a damaged fender and the other car had a broken front axle and a damaged bumper. Mr. Baldoni went to Judge Morley's court for settlement.

New Potato Disease Menaces Year's Crop

A new disease of potatoes, known as Yellow Dwarf, has been found in several fields in the County. Potato growers are urged to be on the outlook for this disease and to roguing it from their field if it is to be found there. Yellow Dwarf is a serious potato disease, which has appeared in an alarming way during the present season. The disease has been known in Michigan since 1927, but has not reached alarming proportions until this season. There are one or two instances in which fields that showed one or two per cent Yellow Dwarf last year, are showing from ten to ninety per cent of this disease this year. The yield is affected seriously.

As commonly found this year, affected plants range from one to six inches in height with small, curled leaves on a stalky stem. The seed piece is hard and brittle. The leaves of the affected plants are dark green in color but during August they usually fade to a pale green or yellow. There is a brown flecking of the piff in the upper part of the stem.

Control Measures

From the nature of this disease two practices are indicated in its control, namely through roguing of diseased plants and insect control by spraying or dusting. In roguing, the entire plant should be dug up with a shovel, carried out of the field in a basket and destroyed.

Submarine Lifting Eyes Useless

According to the Navy Recruiting Station, Detroit, as a result of the investigation of two independent Navy Boards, one on the west coast and the other on the east coast, lifting eyes for submarines have been abandoned. Lifting eyes were fitted on submarines and the two Boards went thoroughly into the subject to determine whether these eyes were of any use for rescue purposes.

A double header will be featured Sunday at the diamond at Bald Eagle Lake, when the "Clarkston Old Timers" and the Clarkston regulars will meet the Ortonville teams. The first game, which will be a seven-inning game, will begin at two o'clock when the "Old Timers" will play.

Line-up for the first game will include Clyde Skarritt, Ralph McCann, John Visgatis, Fred Merwin, Bert Beebe, Earl Terry, Lou Chamberlain, Ray Ainsley, Bradley Miller, Bill Dunston and Clyde Morrison. On the Clarkston Regulars the following will play: Jack Croasdel, Andy Frances, Bruce Chamberlain, Bob Jones, Marvin Porritt, Ray Jarvis, Russell Walter, Earl Terry, Brad Miller and Bill Dunston.

Opposite the ball diamond Norman Holtzman has a bathing beach and boat livery. He is preparing to have plenty of tables and benches out so that picnics can enjoy their dinners there before or after the games. Also, there is fine swimming and a nice beach for the kiddies. Everyone is welcome.

Smith Hughes and 4-H Club Tour is Planned

A two-day tour is being held for all Smith-Hughes and 4-H members August 24th and 25th to visit the outstanding projects, farms and do judging work. Plan to attend all of the tour or as much as you can.

At 9 a. m. Wednesday, August 24th, the group will convene at the farm home of Percy King at Waterford. The home is located one mile straight south of Waterford. Mr. King grows varieties for the college and tries out potatoes for other certified growers. He is the only certified grower in Oakland County.

At 10 a. m. Wednesday the group will go to the Lakefield Farm, which is located on the Clarkston Chavel three miles west of Orion. Here they will see an outstanding herd of Holstein cows, Duroc Jersey hogs, and Shropshire and Oxford sheep.

At 11 a. m. the farm home of Melvin Mott, two miles north of Oakwood and one mile west, will be visited. Mr. Mott has a fine start towards a herd of purebred Angus, having one cow to freshen soon, a yearling steer and a yearling heifer.

At noon the group will enjoy picnic lunch at Ortonville State Park. Bring lunch for the first day.

In the afternoon, at 1:30, Wednesday, visit will be made to Walter Andrews' Poultry Farm near Holly, where he has a splendid collection of large leghorns from Canada and capons from Leghorn cockerels.

At 2:45 Bud Reed's place at Clyde will be visited where Bud has ten colonies of bees both for comb and for extracted honey. From there the group will visit the Swartz farm near West Highland, where a real turkey project is being handled. At 4:45 Carlton Crawford's Holstein Dairy Herd, three miles south of Milford, and the Milford Junior High School apple orchard projects will be inspected. For the group who have planned the two-day tour, supper will be enjoyed at Milford Restaurant for those who did not bring their own lunch, and a ball game at the Fair Grounds after supper, plate for breakfast.

The program for the second day is as follows:
 8:15 a. m. New Hudson. Francey Hayes' Rural and Cobbler potatoes.
 9:00 a. m. New Hudson. Fred Henry's. Irrigation with a canvas hose.
 9:45 a. m. Novi. William Flint's orchard tree banding.
 10:30 a. m. Ronald Button's flock of Shropshire sheep. His father has orchards and the group will see his grader and erate machine.
 12:00 noon. Dinner, Walled Lake.
 1:00 p. m. Walled Lake. Long's Garden Project.
 1:45 p. m. George Campbell's. A fine poultry set-up for a youngster.
 2:45 p. m. Grimmer Brothers' Fruit Storage, peaches.
 4:00 p. m. Weber Brothers. Brown Swiss Dairy cattle imported from Ohio.

M. H. Avery, county club leader, suggests that you get together with your leader and plan to attend the tour by groups, either club or projects. It will be very interesting and educational.

EIGHT MICHIGAN SCOUTS HONORED

Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild Sponsors Two Weeks' Visit at Mackinaw

DETROIT (Special)—Eight Eagle Scouts of Michigan, selected from eight different cities and towns, will leave here Saturday, Aug. 13, on a motor trip to Mackinaw where they will spend the next two weeks as members of the Honor Guard which Boy Scouts of the state are maintaining at Old Fort Mackinaw this summer. The outing is sponsored by the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild, to which the eight boys belong.

Two seven-passenger Cadillac cars will take the boys north. Their schedule calls for a luncheon stop at Lansing, where Governor Wilbur M. Brucker will present the eight boys with their commissions as members of the Honor Guard. The boys will spend the night at Houghton Lake, completing their trip on Sunday.

The Eagle Scouts selected for the honor are Robert Hughes, of Flint; Philip B. Wood, of Bangor; David S. Agnew, Jr., of Durand; Keith C. Bound, of Detroit; Daniel Duguet, of Farmington; John Crosby, of Pontiac; Harlan G. Colburn, Jr., of Bayview; and Stewart Malloy, of Highland Park.

The choice of the eight was based on their standing as all-round American boys, as evidenced by the fact that they have not only qualified for the high honor of becoming Eagle Scouts, but have also completed various credit months as members of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild.
