VOL. IV, NO. 8.

CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN FRIDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1932

WHOLE NUMBER 164

Amendments Will Be Voted On This Fall

Secretary of State Gives Copy of Changes

There will be submitted to the electors, at the General Election to be held on Tuesday, November 8, 1932, the following proposed amendments to the Constitution of this State and referendum on Act 55, P. A. 1931, which is an Act to regulate the manufacture, etc., of oleomargarine, etc.

Proposal No. 1

The proposed amendment to Article XVI, Section 11, is as follows:

We carry herewith a full copy of these amendments as proposed. Several of them are the brunt of much discussion, and we might suggest your clipping out this copy of them for your own personal information and reference between now and the coming election.

"Section 11. The legislature may by law establish a liquor control commission, who, subject to statutory limitations, shall exercise complete control of the alcoholic beverage traffic within this state, including the retail sales thereof; and the legislature may also provide for an excise tax on such sales: Providing, however, that neither the legislature nor such commission may authorize the manufacture or sale of alcoholic beverages in any county in which the electors thereof, by a majority vote shall prohibit the same."

This proposed amendment, if adopted, will repeal prohibition of the liquor traffic and will authorize the Legislature to establish a liquor commission to control the alcoholic beverage traffic and also authorize the Legislature to provide for an excise tax on sales; provided that manufacture or sale of alcoholic beverages may not be allowed in any county in which the electors vote to prohibit the same.

(Proposal No. 2)

The proposed amendment to Article X, by adding Section 21, is as follows:

"Section 21. The total amount of taxes assessed against property for all purposes in any one year shall not exceed one and one-half per cent of the assessed valuation of said property, except taxes levied for the payment of interest and principal on obligations heretofore incurred, which sums shall be separately assessed in all cases: Provided, That this limitation may be increased for a period of not to exceed five years at any one time, to not more than a total of five percent of the assessed valuation by a two-thirds vote of the electors of any assessing district, or when provided for by the charter of a municipal corporation: Provided further, That this limitation shall not apply to taxes levied in the year 1932."

This is a new section to limit the amount of taxes assessed against property. This proposed amendment, if adopted, will limit the total amount of taxes against property for all purposes in any one year (except 1932) to one and one-half per cent of the assessed valuation, except taxes levied for the payment of obligations already incurred; provided that said limitation may be increased for not to exceed five years at any one time to not more than five per cent of the assessed valuation by a two-thirds vote of the electors of any assessing district or when provided for by the charter of a municipal corporation.

(Proposal No. 3)

The proposed amendment to Article V, Sections 2, 3 and 4, is as follows:

"Section 2. The senate shall consist of thirty-two members elected by single districts numbered from one to thirty-two inclusive. Each even numbered district shall in the year nineteen hundred thirty-four, elect one senator for a term of two years. In the year nineteen hundred thirty-six and every fourth year thereafter, each even numbered district shall elect one senator for a term of four years. Each odd numbered district shall, in the year nineteen hundred thirty-four and every fourth year thereafter, elect one senator for a term of four years. The senatorial districts shall be and remain as now constituted, established and numbered, as follows: All of the districts are listed. The one affecting us is:

The twelfth (12th) district shall consist of the counties of Oakland and Washtenaw.

"Section 3. The house of representatives shall consist of one hundred (100) members elected for a term of two (2) years from representative districts established as follows: A ratio shall be obtained by dividing the population of the state, as ascertained by the last preceding United States decennial census, by one hundred. Any county containing less than the ratio of population shall be attached to a contiguous county or counties to form a district bounded by county lines and containing not less than one full ratio of population. Each such combination of counties and each county not included in any such combination shall constitute a representative district. There shall be apportioned to each representative district one representative for each full ratio of population. Any representation then remaining to be apportioned shall be assigned to those representative districts having the largest unrepresented fractions of the ratio of population. In each representative district containing but one county and entitled hereunder to

Paderewski, Tibbett and Other Stars to Be Heard in Ann Arbor

Brilliance and variety will characterize the ten programs in this season's concert to be given in the 54th Annual Choral Union Concert Series, in Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor, according to an announcement recently made by President Charles A. Sink. The Boston Symphony Orchestra, under Serge Koussevitzky, will inaugurate the course, Tuesday evening, October 25, when it will make its only Michigan appearance this season. "On its brief out-of-Boston tour, it will visit Buffalo, Ann Arbor, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. As usual Dr. Koussevitzky will bring the full orchestra of a hundred and ten players.

Lawrence Tibbett, renowned in concert, opera, radio and the movies, will appear in person in song recital, Wednesday evening, November 2. Extraordinary and supremely talented, he ranks as the greatest male singer born in America. Versatility, individuality and originality add lustre to his supremacy in four great fields. Ossip Gabrilowitsch will lead the Detroit Symphony Orchestra in a brilliant program Wednesday evening, November 30. Mr. Gabrilowitsch, with his fine band of players has made a real contribution to artistic culture in the Middle West and their Ann Arbor concerts are always greeted with enthusiasm by music lovers of the University city.

Efrem Zimbalist, who will give a violin recital, Monday evening, December 12, belies the tradition that a musician must be long haired, possess bad manners and dress eccentrically. Zimbalist is too sound a violinist to waste time with curious ways of dressing and the development of eccentric manners. The practice of his instrument, the enlargement of his repertoire, and the broadening of his musicianship, these are his problems and they consume almost all of his time.

Nathan Milstein, Russian violinist, will make his Ann Arbor debut, Monday, January 16. He is said to possess a talent so precocious and mature for his years that in Germany they have nicknamed him "Nathan the Wise." There is a tradition in Russia that when a child is born in Odessa, it is handed a fiddle and a silver spoon. If it grabs the latter, it will be a thief, if it chooses the former, a musician. In Milstein's case he is said to have "grabbed the fiddle with both hands." Young Milstein managed to survive the ravages of the great Revolution and finally toured with his friend, Vladimir Horowitz, the pianist. In 1925 he made a sensational debut in Berlin and two years ago startled America through his few introductory appearances in the great music centers of this country. This season he will be heard again in a limited number of the more important centers.

Myra Hess is acclaimed the world over as the outstanding woman pianist of the generation. She will be heard Friday, January 27. Four years ago in her Ann Arbor recital, she made a host of friends, who have persistently remanded a return engagement. Heavy schedules and absence from America prevented a return engagement until this time.

The Budapest String Quartet, made up of four distinguished artist-performers, Jose Roisman, 1st violin, Alexander Schneider, 2nd violin, Stephan Ipolyi, Viola and Mischa Schneider, Cello, is generally conceded to be the outstanding exponent of chamber music in existence. They are natives of the "great cradle" of string ensembles. The organization was founded during the war-time period and has been in existence continuously since that time. During this period they have given more than eight hundred concerts, crossing Europe in all directions, and in America they have been acclaimed wherever heard.

So watch for a story "Little Missie," a touching drama unfolded by the story telling an old negro pappy, revealing life in the "big house."

There have recently been requests for clothing and aid from the local chapter of the American Red Cross and this brings to light the fact that the local chapter, or Independence Chapter, of the Red Cross, suspended organization at the close of the year 1931. This chapter was very active during its 16 years of existence but at the present time all aid must come from the County Red Cross, of which Mrs. W. E. Bellows is local chairman.

No Forest Fires In State Parks

Another season has passed without one cent's damage from forest fires in the 30,000 acres included in Michigan's state parks.

In the entire history of Michigan's state parks, which include some of the most valuable virgin timber stands in the state, there has been but one forest fire. It occurred several years ago in the Marquette Park and it is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

The record of the state parks in preventing forest fires, according to the Department of Conservation, provides an outstanding example of what is possible with rigid conformity with all rules for fire prevention. Violation of these rules in the parks are at a minimum.

All timbered park areas are adequately circled by fire lines and in three parks in the northern part of

All Right Women;—It's Up to Us

When I wandered into the Township Hall at the Primary election along toward the time to close the polls, a group of four women came dashing in to cast their votes. At the question: "Republican or Democrat?", three out of the four had not made up their minds which ballot they would select and three of them hesitated (one of them even giggling) before choosing. Each of the four occupied the voting booth not more than a minute or a little over. As they dropped their ballots in the box and met outside the railing, one of them laughed and said:

"Gee, I didn't know whom to vote for for Congressman, there were so many of them, so I shut my eyes and hit at one with my pencil and voted for him."

And the replies were just as disgusting. They showed those women up. They showed that they had put neither thought nor care on their voting. They didn't really care. They were voting for the novelty of it. Not for the result.

It's up to us women to exercise our power of right in placing the right people in office. It's up to us to at least familiarize ourselves with the candidates and their platforms. There really is no excuse for not doing so. A Primary is as important as a general election and as much care should be taken in voting at it. But the Primary is over, so let us direct our attention on the coming election.

When the country voted to give us (the women) the right to vote they expected that we would use our heads on the matter and vote as intelligently as was our capacity. And are we doing this? A certain number are, yes. But many are just bored to death with politics and make it plain that they do not care anything about it. Yet they go to the polls and cast an indifferent ballot and hinder instead of aid in the progress of our country. Every woman should vote. But every woman should make herself familiar with the candidates and their policies. Oft times her husband has definite ideas on the candidates. She can get his ideas, study them, and she may agree. Again she may not and she can certainly make her own choice. There is enough newspaper publicity, enough printed actual speeches, enough resume of past deeds and action, training and education so that one had no excuse with not familiarizing herself with these candidates.

When we were given the power to vote, women kept up the call of equal rights all over the country. All right! Let's show the men that we have the capacity to bear these equal rights and study the candidates out enough to know for whom we wish to vote. But let's not go to the polls and shut our eyes, letting our pencil rest where it will, and then cast our vote. Let's be equal to the equal rights.

We are publishing the new proposed amendments to the constitution which will be before us at the coming election. There are eight of them to study and one should study them thoroughly enough to realize what they will mean, if adopted, and just what effect they will have on our immediate community and on us personally. For surely, they are going to affect us.

Again, women, it's up to us. Let's be equal to our equal rights.

Looking in on the Team

by Don Beach
Last Friday a scraping Clarkston team held the Walled Lake Reserves in check for three quarters only to have a team of regulars play the last quarter and make 19 points against them.

Several of the players who filled in for ineligible played much better football than the regulars did, this assures them of more action on the field.

In our next three games we meet two teams that play against Walled Lake, second team, they ought to be nice games.

This team that played without substitutions:
C.—Tom Parnell.
R. G.—George Miller.
L. G.—Floyd Hursfall.
R. T.—Jack Huntly.
L. T.—Gordon Jones.
R. E.—Kenneth Marthy.
L. E.—Bob Reymnells.
R. H.—George Holmes.
L. H.—Ralph Grate.
F. B.—DeWitt Clifton.
Q. B.—Basil Tucker.

The first three quarters were played entirely in Walled Lake territory, Clarkston could get to the ten-yard line but no further.

Mr. Waters liked the game and the results, especially when the new substitutes played the regular players.

Chorus

by Robert Reymnells
Mrs. Hutton has made a slight change in our chorus schedule and that is that the tenors and basses will meet Friday instead of the Boys' Glee Club as it was previously. Our chorus books are expected to arrive and our director is anxious to start on our work for the musical program in March.

Student Council Holds First Meeting of Year

by Lucy Molter
Well, the school activities have really begun. How do we know? We know because the student council composed of new, and we might say inexperienced members, met for the first time Monday at 3:15 to discuss the program for the year.

We were officially sworn in to office by Mr. Winn. When this was over we read the constitution of the school. This designated the duties of each member and the council as a whole.

We discussed some things we would like to do providing the necessary funds can be obtained. The minutes to be read at the next meeting were recorded by Uldene Coleman, girls' commissioner, who serves as secretary.

The time for the next meeting has not been decided upon.

The secretary of state shall certify to, and shall include in the next succeeding publication of the public acts a record of the final apportionment made, containing the number and description of each representative district and the population thereof according to the last preceding United States census; and shall file the same with the clerk of each county within the state."

The present Constitution provides the state senate shall consist of 32 members for 2 years by single districts. It does not designate the senatorial districts. This proposed amendment, if adopted, will provide that the term of office shall be 4 years instead of 2 and will divide the state into 32 senatorial districts by counties, as indicated in section 2 of the amendment. It will also authorize a consolidation of counties or change in county boundaries for senatorial districts. The even numbered districts and odd numbered districts alternate every 2 years in electing senators for the 4 year term. If this proposed amendment is adopted, the senatorial districts will be fixed by the Constitution the same as now fixed by the statute.

The present Constitution designates the house of representatives to consist of not less than 84 nor more than 100 members to be chosen for 2 years by single districts, containing as nearly as may be equal number of inhabitants. The representative districts are fixed by the Legislature. The proposed amendment to section 3 will, if adopted, provide for 100 members elected from districts established as designated therein. Counties containing less than the ratio of population shall be joined to form a district. Each county having a full ratio of population shall constitute a district. The board of supervisors of any county entitled to more than one representative may divide such county into house districts to elect not more than 4 representatives from any one district. In districts containing more than one county entitled to more than one representative, the chairmen of the boards of supervisors, or a majority of such officers, or, in case of disagreement, the secretary of state, shall divide such district into house districts.

The proposed amendment to section 4, if adopted, will require the legislature following each decennial United States census to establish representative districts and apportion the representatives in accordance with the amendment to section 3 and such census; provided that, if the legislature fails to do so, such apportionment shall, within 90 days thereafter, be made by the secretary of state.

(Proposal No. 4)

The proposed amendment to Article X, Section 7, is as follows:
"Section 7. All assessments hereafter authorized shall be on property at its cash value. To the value of $1,000, the household goods, provisions, live stock, tools, and stock of his trade, owned by any householder, shall be exempt from all taxation other than to pay public debts heretofore incurred; and the homestead owned and occupied by any householder shall to the extent of $3,000 be exempt from all taxation other than to pay public debts heretofore incurred, and for special benefit assessments for ways. Until 30 days after any assessment roll is completed, filed, and the fact announced in the newspaper believed by the assessing officer to have the largest circulation in the taxing district any person having an interest in any property assessed may determine the assessed value of such interest by depositing with

No Quarter Given in Warfare on Rats

Michigan farmers can get assistance in destroying rats on their farms if they will organize a county-wide campaign and get their county agricultural agent to make necessary arrangements with the United States Department of Agriculture.

The federal department will carry on 100 of the campaigns in states east of the Mississippi river in the next 90 days. The government distributes at cost a ready prepared red-squill bait which has been found to be especially effective in the destruction of rats.

The bait is prepared by adding the red-squill to three different food substances which are attractive to rats. The bait is sent in sealed, sterile cans which insure that the bait will be fresh when opened for use. Nearly a quarter million cans are ready for distribution.

Surveys made in other states places the average annual loss from rats on a farm at $40. In campaigns of rat killing already completed, 50 per cent of the farmers report all rats on the farm were destroyed.

County-wide campaigns are more effective than the efforts of individual farmers because the rats migrate from one farm to another when the conditions on the original place become unattractive. James Silver, U. S. D. A., is in charge of the campaign for rat destruction.

Red Squill is used as the killing agent because it destroys rats and is not a dangerous poison for other animals.

Homemaker's Corner

By Home Economics Specialists - Michigan State College

With the present day fashion, a graceful carriage is most important to show off the wardrobe to the best advantage. Miss Anna Bayha, head of the home economics clothing department of Michigan State College, has a few suggestions as to means of acquiring the proper 1932 gait.

Necklines, shoulder and waistlines are the emphasized points of fashion this year. The head should always be in a natural, upright position to show off the neckline and hat or hairline. A simple rule to remember is that the head should be kept in the center of the body, with the back of the neck over the supporting foot.

Whether it is sports frock or afternoon or evening gown, the shoulders are broadened this year. By no means throw the shoulders back, forward or up when displaying this decree of Dame Fashion. Relax them naturally and easily.

The hardest part of wearing this season's frocks results from the high, tight-fitting waistlines. The diaphragm must be kept firm, which means that on no occasion must one allow herself to "slump" forward, a habit formed when those straight line dresses were worn five years ago. Vogue calls this year's silhouette a "rib-gripping, diaphragm-wrapping waist", accomplished by cut, fit, sashes and buttons. If the diaphragm is not held firm, every important detail of the fashion is lost and every beautifully designed line fades into an insignificant blur.

Can You?

When guilty of an unkind act, A careless word or lack of tact, That made someone feel hurt or blue; I wonder then if you could do The kindest thing, and simple, too, And say—I'm sorry.

Or did you hold your head up high, Without a real and earnest try, To right the wrong you did that day, How simple 'twould have been to say I'm sorry.

Just try it next time. You will see The aid that those two words can be. And when pride's deal once is o'er, You'll never be without them more. We'll always find you quick to say I'm sorry.
