A Poem About Ortonville

EDITOR'S NOTE: The poem printed below appeared in the Elk Rapids Progress on November 22, which we believe will be of interest to our readers.

Possibly Michigan's greatest word painter was the late Will M. Carlton who was born near Hudson. As a delineator of the simple life he was without parallel. Below is a poem we have wished to print for a good long time. A reader must read it slowly and with great deliberation or else the meaning is lost. It is a favorite with many public speaking classes in high schools, particularly the high and graded schools of Ohio.

THE NEW CHURCH ORGAN
They've got a bran new organ, Sue,
For all their fuss and search;
They've done just as they said they'd do,
And fetched it into church.
They're bound the critter shall be seen,
And on the preacher's right,
They've hoisted up their new machine
In everybody's sight.
They've got a chorister and choir,
Ag'n my voice and vote;
For it was not my desire,
To praise the Lord by note!

I've been a sister good an' true,
For five and thirty year;
I've done what seemed my part to do,
An' prayed my duty clear;
I've sung the hymns both slow an'
quick,
Just as the preacher read,
And twice, when Deacon Tubbs was sick,
I took the fork and led;
And now, their bold, new-fangled
ways,
Is comin' all about;
And I, right in my latter days,
Am fairly crowded out!

Today the preacher, good old dear,
With tears in all his eyes,
Read—"I can read my title clear,
To mansions in the skies!"
I alays liked that blessed hymn—
I s'pose I alays will;
It somehow gratifies my whim,
In good old Ortonville;
But when that choir got up to sing
I couldn't catch a word;
They sung the most dog-gonest thing
A body ever heard!

Some worldly chaps wuz standin'
dear,
An' when I seed them grin,
I bid farewell to every fear
And boldly waded in,
I thought I'd chase their tune along
An' tried with all my might;
But though my voice is good and strong,
I couldn't steer it right.
When they was high then I was low,
An' also contra'wise;

And I too fast, or they too slow,
To "mansions in the skies."
An' after every verse, you know,
They played a little tune,
I didn't understand, an' so
I started on too soon.
I pitched it pretty middlin' high;
I fetched a lustrous tone.
But oh, alas! I found that I
Was singin' there alone!
They laughed a little, I am told;
But I had done my best,
And not a wave of trouble rolled
Across my peaceful breast.

And Sister Brown—I could but look—
She sets right front of me;
She never was no singin' book,
And never meant to be;
But then she alays tried to do
The best she could, she said;
She understood time right through,
An' kept it with her head;
But when she tried this mornin', oh,
It kep' her head a bobbin' so,
It e'en a'most came off!

An' Deacon Tubbs, he all broke down,
As one might well suppose:
An' took one look at Sister Brown,
An' meekly scratched his nose.
He looked his hymn-book through an' through,
And laid it on the seat.
And then a pensive sigh he drew,
And looked completely beat.
An' when they took another bout
He didn't even rise.
But drawled his red bandanner out.
An' wiped his weepin' eyes.

I've been a sister, good an' true,
For five and thirty year,
I've done what seemed my part to do,
An' prayed my duty clear;
But death will stop my voice, I know
For he is on my track;
And someday, I to church will go,
And never more come back.
And when the folks get up to sing,
Whenever that time shall be,
I do not want no patent thing,
A squealin' over me.

County Sheriff Takes Office

Plans Few Changes
When Roy J. Reynolds, Oakland County's new Sheriff, took the oath of office on January 1st he became the youngest sheriff in Oakland County's history, and in all probability the youngest man to ever hold office as sheriff in the state.

At the age of 31, Mr. Reynolds is a year younger than any sheriff in the United States, according to records.
Only a few changes are being planned by Mr. Reynolds in the personnel.

Observe 35th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Galligan, who live northwest of Clarkston, observed their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary Thursday.

A pot luck supper was served to about fifteen guests and the evening was spent socially.

The celebrants are well known here, having lived in this vicinity all of their life.

Colored Group Appears Here

The Andersonville Christian Endeavor announces its usual Sunday evening service at 8 o'clock in the church.

A group of colored people from Pontiac will have entire charge of the program. Songs will be furnished by a girls quartette and the Rev. Jones will deliver the message.
The public is cordially invited to attend.

Twins Are Born

Mr. and Mrs. Axel Olson of Drayton Plains, former residents of Clarkston, announce the birth of twin boys on December 28.

They have two daughters in the family and are delighted over the arrival of the boys.

Hold Fish Supper

The Ladies Aid of the German Lutheran Church is planning a church supper this evening, January 6, at the parish hall beginning at 6 p. m. Location of the church is 3 1/2 miles south of Hadley. The public is welcome.

Club Meets

The "We all go Bunco" club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. E. Scribner for its regular semi-monthly gathering.

Former Ortonville Teacher Injured

A girl identified as Miss Zorabel Herrick of Albion was killed and her escort, Merritt Lindsley of Litchfield, was critically injured when their car hit the rear of a Jackson-bound freight train of the Michigan Central air line a mile east of Tekonago on M-66 shortly after midnight Saturday night.

The car hit the train with enough force to knock a box car off its tracks and completely demolished the machine. The crew felt the impact and stopped the train.

The girl was taken to an undertaking establishment and Mr. Lindsley was taken to a hospital in Marshall where he was identified by papers in his pockets.

Mr. Lindsley was a former science teacher in our high school and a well known young man here. He is at present manager of the Nash & Lindsley Lumber Co. at Litchfield.

Former Ortonville Boy Killed by Automobile

Lee Woolman, a former resident of this vicinity, was brought here from Flint for interment in the Ortonville cemetery Monday afternoon.

He was run down by an automobile driven by Alfred Ahrens of Harbor Beach, Mich., while walking along the Penton road a short distance south of Bergin Street, and instantly killed at 6:20 P. M. Thursday, December 30.

Mr. Woolman was born in Hadley township, Lapeer Co., January 3, 1913, and went to Flint with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Woolman, fourteen years ago.

On April 30, 1932, he was united in marriage to Miss Flora Pollard of Flint.

Besides his wife and mother (his father having been killed in a gravel pit some years ago), he leaves a brother, Nelson, and four sisters, Clara, Dorothy, Evelyn and Maxine, of Flint and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller and Nelson Woolman of this place.

School to Reopen Jan. 9

The Clarkston village school will resume its work on January 9. At a recent meeting of the Board of Education it was decided that in the interest of economy no teacher would be hired to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Dorothy Huttenlocher.

The school program will be reorganized and the additional duties assumed by the remaining members of the staff.

Scouts Meet

The regular meeting of the Boy Scouts organization was held Tuesday evening instead of the usual Monday meeting.

Four visitors and committee men were present.
The local organization has twelve tenderfoot scouts and the club charter has been sent for.

The boys are working on signaling and first aid for second class.
The next meeting will be held Monday evening and all members are urged to attend.

New County Officials

These five new faces are now in the official family of the county, having entered into the duties of their respective offices the first of the year.

Loses Cows by Mysterious Poisoning

A rather baffling and mysterious thing occurred Christmas Monday morning when Dorwood-Bates, a farmer living west of Ortonville, went to the barn to care for his stock.

Upon entering he was shocked to find a barn full of sick cattle and investigation revealed a sack part full of arsenic of lead on the floor. Some of the poison had been sprinkled in the mangers.

As a result of the poisoning, Mr. Bates lost two good milk cows and several others were seriously sick from it.

The cattle were housed in a barn about one mile from the farm home, in temporary quarters while a new barn is being built to replace the one which burned down last summer.

There appears to have been no just reason for the poisoning and as yet no accusations have been made but the case is being worked on.

Former Resident Pneumonia Victim

Manion Drewlow, former Clarkston resident, and better known as "Slim", having been associated with the Deer Lake Development Company at Deer Lake Inn a few years ago, passed away Monday of pneumonia, contracted after an operation for appendicitis.

Funeral services were held Wednesday from the Howe-Peterson funeral home at Dearborn. He was a patrolman on the Dearborn force and fellow officers served as escorts. His body was shipped to St. Petersburg, Minn., for burial.

Drewlow was often cited for bravery during his years of service as an officer on the Dearborn Police force.

Sister Is Buried Here

Mrs. Cora Ellen Hawley, 64 years of age, a resident of Pontiac and a sister to Mrs. Margaret Miller of this village, was buried in the Lake View cemetery here Thursday morning.

Death was attributed to a stroke following an illness of five months.
The deceased was a native of Bay City but for the past thirteen years had made her home in Pontiac. She was a member of St. Michael's Catholic church, from which place services were held.

She is survived by four children: Mrs. Bertha Calkins, Flint; Mrs. Jennie McPeak, Virgil Hawley and Charlie Hawley, all of Pontiac.

In addition to Mrs. Miller above mentioned the following brothers and sisters survive: Mrs. Agnes Tebeau, Auburn Heights; Mrs. Alice Foote, Pontiac; Mrs. Verna Lanning and Lloyd Brady of Detroit.

M. E. Ladies Aid Reelect Officers

At a meeting of the M. E. Ladies Aid in the church parlors Wednesday afternoon the same officers were reelected to again serve during the coming year.

They are:
Mrs. E. J. Miller, president.
Mrs. C. J. Fisk, vice president.
Mrs. E. A. Urch, secretary.
Mrs. Ada Miller, treasurer.

Plans were made for a supper to be held on January 25 in the church basement sponsored by the First Division. Mrs. George Fleming is chairman of the affair.

A Father and Son Banquet will be held on February 22. More definite plans to be arranged at the next meeting early in February.

Farmer Found Guilty on Cruelty Charge

Timothy Brooks, a farmer living southeast of Ortonville, was found guilty last week by Judge H. Russell Holland on another charge of being cruel to animals on his farm, when officers testified they had learned three cows and ten sheep had died since he was released a few weeks before on a similar charge.

Sentence was deferred for five days during which time Judge Holland asked that the man's sanity be tested.

Mr. Brooks is a widower and lives alone on the farm.

The complaint was made by the head of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Will Windeate of Linden spent Tuesday afternoon visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Nelsey.

Miss Harriet Beckman went to Ann Arbor Tuesday where she underwent an ultra violet ray treatment.

Monday guests in the Gray Robertson home were Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Wright, Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Chenoweth of Williams Lake, Harold A. Muldoon and Miss Winifred Snyder of Pontiac.

Nelsey's Hurt in Car Accident

Mrs. George Nelsey sustained a fractured collar bone and her husband was slightly injured when their car turned over on the icy pavement on the Airport Road.

The couple were on their way to Pontiac after having made some other stops. According to reports, the accident occurred when Mr. Nelsey tried to get on to the pavement. The car skidded, turning over on its side.

They were brought back to Clarkston where they immediately received treatment at the hands of a local physician.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Granger and daughters of Goodrich came over immediately to attend the couple. Miss Gertrude Granger will remain with the Nelseys until Mrs. Nelsey has recovered. At the present time Mrs. Nelsey is without the use of her right arm.

Two Others Injured

A man and a small girl, whose names were not obtained, were slightly injured Monday shortly after noon when their automobile overturned twice on the Dixie highway between Waterford and Drayton Plains, after skidding on the icy pavement.

The car was wrecked and the couple was taken to Highland Park by a passing motorist before Deputies John Marek and Russell Sheasley arrived at the scene.

Mail Man Sam

"Looks like I might lose some of my patrons," thinks Mail Man Sam as he approaches a house on his mail route where a truck stands, being loaded with furniture and other household goods. Mr. Gray comes to see the carrier and bid him good by.

"Sorry to see you go, Mr. Gray. I'll sure miss you people. I like to think of all the patrons as my friends and I sure miss any of them."
"We have enjoyed your services, Mail Man Sam, and we will miss you too. Can we have our mail forwarded to our new address?"

"The first class mail, the letters and cards, can be forwarded without any expense to you. Drop a card to the publishers of each of your papers and magazines, stating your old address and your new address, then the publishers can send that mail direct to you. If any mail comes to you people that can not be forwarded without cost to you notice will be sent from our post office to you stating how much postage is necessary to forward that mail. I'll copy your new address so that we will have a record of it in the post office. No doubt you will find a good friend in the carrier at your new home. Ask him to help you solve your postal problems. Do you know if we can expect some new patrons on this place soon?"

"I understand a new family is coming here early in the spring."
"I'll watch for them so that I may leave an application for mail and get a list of their names. The first thing you do after you put up your mail box at the new home is to give the carrier a list of the names of all the people who expect to receive mail from your box. That will help you to receive your mail promptly and also help the carrier to keep his directory of rural patrons' names complete."

"It must be some job to keep track of all your patrons, Mail Man Sam."
"Not if each family keeps the carrier posted on the names of their family and their visitors and hired help. Sometimes mail accumulates at the post office for new patrons because the post office or the carrier is not notified of their arrival. Especially during the late winter and early spring when patrons move and new help is hired on the farm, and again in vacation time in the summer it is difficult to keep pace with new arrivals on the route unless patrons cooperate with the carrier, telling him whose mail belongs in their boxes. You no doubt are a busy man today so I'll not detain you longer, Mr. Gray. Success to you to your new home. Good by."

"What a puzzle this mail carrying business is," humorously thinks Mail Man Sam as he continues on his route, "here I am supposed to know all about each of my patron's families, unless some inquisitive neighbor begins asking questions about them, then I'm not supposed to know anything about them."

NOON DINNER IN THE METHODIST CHURCH WEDNESDAY, JAN. 11

The Ladies Aid of the Seymour Lake Methodist Church will serve a dinner promptly at 12:00 noon, in the parlors of the Clarkston Methodist Church on Wednesday, Jan. 11th. The regular business meeting will be held at the close of the dinner. Seymour Lake folk are urged to make a special effort to attend, and the general public is cordially invited. Tickets will be sold at a very nominal cost.

Mrs. John Miller spent a few days of last week visiting her aunt, Mrs. John Lieber.

Mr. and Mrs. Carolton Annis of Grand Rapids, who spent Christmas at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Campbell of Airport road, returned to her own home and Mrs. Campbell went with her for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Walker of Van Zandt Sub. are the parents of a son born to them December 24. They named him Jack. Both mother and son are doing nicely.

Mrs. R. C. Lunger left Monday afternoon for a visit to Flint for a few days.

Several families are having a time with the flu here in Waterford. One gets it and the whole family does. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Walter, Mrs. Angus McCaffrey, Lawrence Harrup.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kniffen and family of Armada came New Year's Eve and remained until Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Buck.

Young people of Waterford stayed up and welcomed the New Year quite royally by ushering it in by ringing the church bell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Craven and family spent New Year's Eve at Pontiac at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Tolman.

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. VanSyckle were hosts at a New Year's dinner party at their home on Monday.

The Ladies Auxiliary of Waterford church will not hold a meeting on the regular date in January. The New Year's party took the place of the regular meeting. In February on the first Thursday the Auxiliary will have their next meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clark of Clarkston were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roehm.

Mr. and Mrs. George Maten are entertaining company from Detroit this week.

At the Johnson home on Maple street on New Year's Eve a large party was entertained, who were among the many people who watched the New Year arrive.

Waterford School did not start on January 3 as was announced but was postponed until January 9 as the time of starting. This arrangement was made by the school board which met with the approval of all the pupils.

The New Year's dinner which was one of the events of Monday was held in the church parlors. This was given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the church at one o'clock. A splendid dinner was served to an appreciative audience. The following committee had charge: Mrs. Harry Harrup, Mrs. Percy King, Mrs. Lyle McLaughlin, Mrs. H. A. Huey, Mrs. H.

B. Mehlberg. The tables were decorated very attractively with candles, plants and one feature of interest was "1933" presented in the form of a doll.

The Adult Bible class meeting will be held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roehm on Andersonville Road. The class will continue the study of Paul's Missionary Journey. Roll call will be responded to giving something of note about the cities which Paul went through on his journey. There will be a social time and refreshments will be served. Mrs. Mehlberg will assist Mrs. Roehm in the social division of the meeting. An invitation is extended to all who are interested to attend.

Waterford people were very glad to hear that the accident which happened to Evert Reid of Drayton Woods one morning of last week as he was waiting for a traffic signal on Dixie highway at Telegraph road as he was going to work did not prove any more severe than it was. The injury was fortunately to his car, as the car driven by Harold Bolton of Muskegon, a priest, due to the ice and fog collided with the rear of Mr. Reid's machine. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Reid of Waterford.

Young people from Waterford start back to their school duties on Monday following their Christmas vacation, some going to Pontiac and others elsewhere.

Leonard Eakle, Jr., who has been quite ill at his home with tonsillitis, is now able to be out of doors.

Mrs. William Hutton, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Percy King, for a few weeks, is now with her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Quine of Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Campbell of Sylvan Lake were among the guests who enjoyed the New Year's dinner at the church on Monday.

Mrs. H. A. Huey was hostess to her Sunday School class of the Clarkston Baptist Church on Friday evening last. "Bug" and other games and music were enjoyed by 17 young folks and all reported a fine time. Refreshments served at small tables were a feature. Miss Hazel Francis from Bentley was an out of town guest.

During the holiday week, Bob Huey entertained members of his Sunday School class and teacher, Mrs. A. McCaffrey. Dart ball and other games were played and gifts were exchanged around Bob's Christmas tree. Miniature trees and red candles served as center piece for the refreshment table.

The Girl Scouts had a party during the holiday season at the Huey home, at which time four girls passed their tests as hostesses, namely, June Harris, Ella Perry, Elaine Norman and Kathleen Johnson. Several of the girls also passed their cooking tests. Mrs. A. Lunger is leader of the girls with Miss M. Hines assisting. Gifts were exchanged after supper.

Mr. and Mrs. William VanSickle of Holly spent New Year's at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller.

John Miller and sons, Kenneth and Sammv, with Ira Green and daughter Phyllis and Mrs. T. Peterson spent Wednesday evening at Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stewart's of White Lake.

Mrs. Hattie Miller spent three days at Holly last week visiting her aunt, Mrs. John Lieber, and other friends.

Slow Music

By Nellie Hoard Sutton

Uncle Wash Doolittle entered the field of young cotton and approached a negro "hand" who was lazily dragging his hoe through the fresh, tender plants. "Son, it gwine rain today sho's yo' bawn," said Uncle Wash by way of greeting. "Mo' rain, mo' ras'" answered the young negro leaning heavily on his hoe. "Yas, but lak Marse John allus said, 'Mo' rain, mo' grass,'" answered Uncle Wash. "But it gwine rain awright, I ain't never been fooled yet."

"How yo' allus knows, Uncle Wash, 'bout de rain? Is yo' dun kilt a snake an' hung him up somers?" "Naw, naw, son, but Marse John allus call me de weather prophet. I could allus tell him jes when it gwine rain, not missin' it fo' hours. Yo' better be gittin' on wid yo' choppin' kaze dis evenin' it gwine po' down pitch fawks," and the old negro started back toward home. "Say, Uncle Wash, tell me how yo' know," called the young negro. The ante-bellum negro stopped and slowly retraced his steps. He was pleased to talk, particularly when there was an interested listener. "Son, way back when Marse John was young an' I was lots younger dan I now is, dar was a nigger dey called Crazy Willie, whut lived on de ole Jackson place up on de hill frum Jackson Creek. Yo' know up dar whar all dem graveyard cedars growin' in de yard? Well dat de place. "Dat crazy nigger could do one thing an' dat was blow a mouf-organ. Yas suh! ever time yo' go by dar he was settin' out in a cheer, leut back 'ginst one o' dem big cedar trees an' 'playin' fit to kill. "Him an' his ole mammy live dar 'til she die wid ole age. Crazy Willie didn't live long attar dat kaze he ole mammy had tuk keer o' him all dem years. "Atter he died dat playin' went riat on. Everybody say de place hanted an', son, da't riat, sho's yo' bawn. Evertime I pass by dar at night Crazy Willie come out'n dat house an' walk down de path by de road, riat down to de creek. "Den he set on de ole footlog an' play sum chune, 'til Ise out o' hearin' clear up de hill. Ise seed him 'do dat mo' times 'an' I got fingers an' toes an' all de other ole timers 'round here tell yo' de same thing. Dey dun see him an' hear him too. "Now when he play sumin' sad an' mournful lak, it sho' gwine rain an' dat soon. But when he play fast music we gwine have a week o' good farmin' weather. It never fail, son. It ain't never fail dis ole nigger yet. "But what did Marse John say 'bout it?" asked the young negro. "I awd! son, he say it was de water gwine over dat pile o' rock riat at de foot-log wa. whut made it soun' lak music. He say when de air was damp wid rain de soun' was different. But I know one thing, he didn't never learn de difference in de soun'." "Fk-ow-ut."

"Now I'se tellin' yo', I sho' recollects well how when he was 'bout ready to set out 'tater slips he'd say, "Wash, is it gwine rain soon?" "Den I say, 'I let yo' know utter while, Marse John.' "Den I saddle ole Bess an' I ride down to Jackson Creek to give her a good drink an' to fin' out 'bout de weather. "An' I ain't never slipped up yet, son, naw-suh. Now Ise gwine, so git-a-long to yo' choppin'. De grass am gittin' thick in har an' we gwine have mo' rain dis evenin'!"

TAX RATES VARY

A recent report published by Webster H. Pearce, Michigan's Superintendent of Public Instruction, gives a summary of the rates of school taxes in 206 Michigan cities. It shows a wide variation, 2 cities having a tax rate of $5 or less and 2 having a rate of $10 or more. His report shows that 27 districts have a rate of from $3 to $10; 88, from $10 to $15; 5, from $15 to $20; and 21 from $20 to $25.

Lost 20 Lbs. of Fat
In Just 4 Weeks
Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."
Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.
For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at any drugstore—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

Homemaker's Own Corner

These cold winter days make the giant appetites that welcome steaming griddle cakes, hot sweet breads fresh from the oven and crunchy biscuits.

Waffles for the leisurely Sunday morning breakfast are always a welcome change. If you have never tried them made with sour milk, you will surely want to try this recipe.

James River Waffles

2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
2 eggs
2 cups sour milk
6 tablespoons butter (or fat)
1 teaspoon soda

Separate the eggs and beat yolks until light. Then add one cup sour milk. Meanwhile measure and sift together the flour, salt, soda and baking powder. Add to the yolk mixture and beat. Add another cup of sour milk and beat again; then add melted fat and last of all fold in beaten egg whites. This makes 12 waffles.

There is only one thing to remember when you are making muffins. Mix your batter as quickly as possible and pop them into the oven immediately, which has been heated to the proper temperature.

Banana muffins served with a hot creamed vegetable soup for lunch will be hailed with delight by the children.

Banana Muffins

2 tablespoons shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg (well beaten)
1 cup milk
1 1/4 cups Kellogg's Pep Bran Flakes
1 1/4 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup chopped banana

Cream shortening and sugar; add egg, milk and flakes. Sift flour with baking powder and salt and add banana. Add to first mixture and stir only until flour disappears. Bake in greased muffin tins in a moderate oven (400° F) for 20-25 minutes. Yield 8 large muffins.

One of the best liked sweets to go with the breakfast toast is marmalade. And just think of getting from 12 to 14 glasses of delicious marmalade out of one grapefruit, one orange and one lemon.

It used to be thought necessary to parboil the peel on three different days, and some people called it "three-day marmalade", but laboratory tests have shown that a good marmalade can be made when the successive boilings are done immediately after each other. The parboilings remove any strong flavor and make the peel tender. The water is discarded after each boiling.

Amber Marmalade

1 orange
1 grapefruit
1 lemon
3/4 teaspoon salt
Sugar

Select smooth, thick skinned fruit free from blemishes and rust. Wash the fruit, remove the peel, and slice it very thin. Parboil the sliced peel three times in the following way: Add one quart of cold water; bring to the boil, cook for five minutes and discard the water after each cooking. Cut the fruit pulp into thin slices, and remove seeds and "rag". Combine the sliced pulp with the drained parboiled skins. To each measure of this mixed fruit pulp and parboiled skins, add three times the measure of water and boil rapidly 40 minutes.

Then weigh or measure this mixture and to it add an equal weight or measure of sugar. Add the salt. Boil the fruit and sugar rapidly for 25 minutes longer, or until it thickens and becomes amber colored. Watch the marmalade carefully lest it stick and scorch as it cooks down. Let the marmalade stand in the kettle until nearly cool, stir, and pour into scalded jelly glasses. When cool, cover with paraffin and store in a cool, dry place.

The Privileged Child?

We really feel sorry for the child who comes from a moneyed home, who has servants to wait on him, and who wears fine clothes and so on.

We also have a lot to say about ambition, pride, the struggle from poverty making the best and finest men. But both lines of thought are wrong.

It is just as true that fine men and women come from rich homes as do pampered ones. And that poor homes do not always produce Presidents.

And the people who live in the city have a way of saying that the child who is raised in the country is the only one who has a chance. The city child is at the mercy of noise, confusion, crowds and so on.

But the real facts of the case seem to me to be this way.

The privileged child is the one who runs in the sunshine, has plenty of orange juice and milk-green vegetables every day, and is comfortably dressed. He sees love and goodness about him every day, learns to respect his body and looks forward to the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.

Michigan Court Enjoins Chain Store Taxation

Holding Is Against Right of Municipality to Levy Discriminatory Taxes

In the first case brought to test the validity of a law whereby a municipality is empowered to levy discriminatory taxes against chain stores, the Circuit Court of Wayne County, Michigan, at Detroit, on Dec. 27, held against the right of a municipal corporation to collect taxes under such an ordinance.

The city of Hamtramck, Michigan, which is part of Greater Detroit, attempted to impose a graduated tax upon chain stores, beginning with $25.00 for the first store, $50.00 for the second store, $75.00 for the third store, and $1,000.00 for each of four or more stores.

In a suit brought by the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company as plaintiff, to enjoin the enforcement of the ordinance, the Court ruled against the city of Hamtramck on the ground that the tax was unconstitutional and beyond the power of a city or village.

The case, the first which has been brought to test the right of a municipality to levy a chain store tax or to increase the amount beyond the $25.00 limit imposed by the Indiana law, is an important victory for the chains in their battle against unfair taxation.

The case was tried on its merits in the Michigan court, before Judge Theodore J. Richter, Circuit Court, who heard the evidence during a four-day trial. In his written opinion, Judge Richter said: "There can be little doubt of the unconstitutionality of the ordinance itself. Whatever may be the rights of the city to regulate food stores, they cannot, under the guise of regulation of taxation, enact an ordinance calling for the payment of different amounts for the same privilege—that of operating one store—just because one, two, three or four stores may be operated in addition to that one. This is an arbitrary, unjust and illegal classification."

The Court ordered a permanent injunction against the City of Hamtramck from enforcing the ordinance.

Messrs. Butzel, Levin and Winston of Detroit, and Nichols, Morrill, Wood, Marx and Ginter of Cincinnati, represented the Kroger Grocery & Baking Company.

State Parks Work For Adequate Beaches

The rapidity with which miles of stream and lake shore have been barred to the public through "no-trespassing" signs has been perhaps the outstanding reason for the remarkable growth in popularity of state parks in Michigan, according to P. J. Hoffmaster, superintendent of state parks, in submitting a report of the activities of his organization for the past year.

The value of water privileges has always been high, and the state, in developing its park system has attempted to acquire as much lake and stream frontage as possible, the report said. However, during the past few years as clubs and individuals have purchased large blocks of frontage and have banned the public, in many instances the public areas have become inadequate through overcrowding.

The recent decision of the Supreme Court relative to relicted lands, while definitely settling title to shore property, may mean more water privileges removed from the public and an added burden on the parks.

Since the beginning of the state parks service in 1919 the state has acquired for park purposes 36,506 acres of land in 81 sites. While some of the earlier parks were without water frontage, all sites now acquired must have some water facilities.

Within two years 18,000,000 people of which nearly 500,000 occupied camps, visited the parks. The trend of these visitors has been to parks having bathing beaches or other water facilities.

Park development in the future should be toward the augmenting of water facilities for public use and the acquisition of as much desirable shore property as financially possible, it was stated.

During the recent stay of the aircraft carrier Lexington at a navy yard the following stores and provisions were taken aboard a six months supply: 3 carloads of dry provisions, 1 carload of steel, 1 carload of lumber, 1 carload of bottled gases, 2 carloads of paint, 2 carloads of soap and lye, 1 carload of rags, 2 carloads of miscellaneous stores. The Lexington will depart from San Pedro, Calif., on Jan. 23 for the annual winter maneuvers.

The death rate in the United States during 1932 will be considerably lower than that of 1931, although it showed a decided reduction from the rate of 1930 according to estimates of a national funeral director's association.
