CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN FRIDAY, JANUARY 20, 1933

WHOLE NUMBER 178

Stockholders Reelect Officers

The confidence which stockholders of the Clarkston State Bank have in their directors was clearly shown last week when at the annual stockholders meeting the same board of directors were again elected.

The financial condition of the bank is a very satisfactory one and should be of material interest to depositors. As evidence that the directors were entirely satisfied with the successful efforts of the present officers to make the local banking institution in every way financially sound the directors again named the same officers to conduct the bank's business for another year at an organization meeting.

David R. Teggerdine was again named president, Guy A. Walter, vice president, George D. King, vice president and cashier, Ray C. Ainsley, assistant cashier, Robert Jones, bookkeeper.

The board of directors are D. R. Teggerdine, Joseph H. Alger, L. L. Brown, G. D. King, G. A. Walter and J. S. Seeterlin.

The policy of maintaining a high financial reserve was voted to be continued throughout the coming year. While this policy interferes somewhat with high earnings, it was thought to be a much better plan during a time of national depression.

October Marriage Is Announced

The marriage of Miss Helen Virginia Linabury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Linabury of Clarkston, which occurred in October to Lewis Simi, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Simi of Detroit, has just been announced.

The couple was quietly married on October 15, 1932, with the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin of the Shrine of the Little Flower of Royal Oak speaking the marriage vows.

The bride was a former student in the Clarkston school, later attending a cosmetic school in New York City. She is employed by the Tourneur Salon at J. L. Hudson's of Detroit.

Mr. Simi is a graduate of the Blessed Sacrament school in Detroit and is connected with the Ornamental Products Company of Grosse Pointe.

Mr. and Mrs. Simi have established a residence on Chicago Boulevard in Detroit.

Car Overturns; Skull Fractured

William J. Gorrie, 63 years old, of Lupton, Michigan, is in a serious condition in the Pontiac General Hospital with a possible skull fracture and a badly lacerated head following an accident on the Dixie highway, near the Deer Lake Inn.

In some manner Gorrie lost control of his car and it overturned, pinning him beneath. The accident occurred on Tuesday.

Gorrie is superintendent of Grouse Haven 10,000 acres farm at Lupton.

Drayton Plains School Activities

The High School boys have organized a basketball team under the supervision of Mr. Gordon. They will practice every Tuesday and Thursday after school.

The ninth grade Citizenship class had a skating party Friday, January 13, after school. Mr. Gordon and Miss Smith accompanied them.

The Michigan Education Association will broadcast programs over the following stations:

Plan to Rebuild Former Domino Inn

Plans are being made by Mrs. Margaret Miller, who resides on a farm outside of Clarkston, to rebuild the structure known as the Domino Inn, which was totally destroyed by fire about ten days ago. Mrs. Miller in 1930 sold the structure to Phil Felice of Pontiac under contract and by virtue of default in payment, Mrs. Miller is still the rightful owner.

When the structure was first erected in 1925, Mrs. Miller called it the M-10 Tea Room. It was a large two story frame building on the Dixie highway at Williams Lake road. Mrs. Miller operated the establishment for about a year when she turned it over to another owner, and in 1930 Mr. Felice took possession.

The exact cause of the fire has not yet been determined. The structure was partially covered by insurance but the entire interior fixtures, such as counters, tables, chairs, etc., which were the property of Mr. Felice were not covered by insurance. It is estimated this loss amounts to about $1,000.

It is Mrs. Miller's intention to have the new building ready for spring business. In the meantime her son, Samuel, plans to operate the filling station on the premises. Whether Mr. Felice will retain his interest in the business is not known at this time.

County Arrests Show Decline

The semi-annual report of the prosecuting attorney's office during the last six months of 1932 shows that 1,677 arrests were made in Oakland County during that period. Of this amount 1,439 were convicted. There were 38 acquitted, 5 dismissed on payment of costs, 6 nolle prossed, 1 quashed, 163 discharged on examination and 25 escapes, settlements or miscellaneous dispositions. The county collected $2,678.30 in fines and $5,632.65 in costs.

During the last six months of 1931 there were 1,817 arrests, 1,523 convictions and $9,079.95 was collected in fines and costs.

Charges in which liquor played some part including drunk and disorderly and all classes of prohibition law violation and driving drunk numbered 393 as compared with 702 for the corresponding period of time in 1931. These offenses totaled 709 for 1932 as compared with 1,460 in 1931. Motor law violations in 1932 accounted for 956 arrests as compared with 979 in 1931.

Literary Club Meets

The Clarkston Literary Club met at the home of Mrs. William Kyle with 23 members and two guests in attendance.

The members answered to roll call by naming historic trees.

Mrs. Huey favored the club with a solo "Trees". Mrs. William Kyle read an interesting paper on "Game Preservation."

The meeting was closed with a piano solo by Mrs. A. L. McIntyre.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Alice Urch January 31.

Auxiliary Meets

The Baptist Auxiliary met last Friday at the home of Mrs. Joseph Hubbard for a one o'clock luncheon. A short business meeting was held and plans were completed for the Baptist Convention which was held in Clarkston Tuesday. The Auxiliary will meet in February with Mrs. Hibner.

School Notes

Looking in on the Teams

Friday the 13th doesn't appear to be such a good day for local teams to play basket ball, not by the looks of the last scores with Walled Lake. The boys' second team is the only team that came anywhere near to a close score with the Walled Lake teams. Things looked pretty good for the girls for a while but then the Walled Lake girls made a few baskets and things didn't look so good. The boys first team didn't have a chance from the start. The Walled Lake boys worked together just like the parts of a clock and made basket after basket. This Friday the teams go to Keego Harbor to try their luck. From what I hear they also have one of these big undefeated teams.

Student Council

The Student Council has worked out a plan for assemblies. We started last week with a request program. Everyone seemed to enjoy it, so we intend to have more of them in the future. We also plan to invite local and outside speakers to come and talk to us.

E. F. Downs Speaks at P. T. A. Meeting

Edgar F. Downs, Superintendent of Schools at Ferndale in his talk at the P. T. A. meeting Wednesday evening on "Tax Relief" expressed his belief that school funds should come from other sources outside of real estate taxation only.

More money is being spent on tobaccos and cosmetics by the general public than towards educational purposes. He gave figures to illustrate the amount an average citizen would contribute towards state, national and local government and schools. Also what the average citizen pays for automobile and life insurance.

It is just as important to insure a child's life by insurance as it is to prepare him for life's way by proper education.

Mr. Downs further stated the fifteen mill limitation in effect would close a good many of our schools unless the legislature provided a substitute. Many of the schools have already cut to the limit in some districts.

Two musical numbers were on the program. Louis Warden sang a solo accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Terin, and a Mr. Spaulding played a violin solo accompanied by Mrs. Archie McIntyre.

Observes 92nd Birthday Today

James F. Wilders, son of Thomas and Elizabeth Wilders, known in this community as "Fred", was born on Packington Hill, Kegworth, England, January 20, 1841. The news circulated to neighbors and friends "Fred" has a lad. The first born of this generation of Wilders.

When seven years old he with his parents, grandfather, William Wilders, four uncles, William, Henry, Israel and Samuel Wilders with their wives crossed the ocean in the old sailing vessel Garrick for America in 1848, all settling on the Wilders farm just east of Ortonville. Fred spent his boyhood and school days in this vicinity realizing well what the pioneer life was, when potatoes, milk gravy and Johnny cake made a good meal, and there was only one house where this village now stands.

He enlisted in the Civil War service and is the only surviving member of the G. A. R. in Ortonville.

In 1865 he married Eleanor Mary King of Chicago. In 1871 he became a member of the Baptist, and a F. & A. M. He is now the oldest member of both organizations. This wife died in 1886. In 1888 he married Mary Osborn. She too died many years ago.

He was the father of 4 children, only one living, Mrs. Blanch Waltz who with her husband lives with him and are ministering to his needs in his declining years. He also has one grand daughter, Mrs. Maud Sherman and 4 great grandchildren. Mr. Wilders has been confined to his bed about 18 months with old age infirmities.

He still takes interest in all activities that he has ever been connected with, and is eager for the morning and evening papers and reads the news bolstered up in bed. The church and community are remembering him with a shower of Birthday Cards.

The deceased is a sister of Mrs. James Cuthbert, who lives on a farm six miles northwest of Clarkston.

Mrs. Nelson was taken critically ill on January 2nd and passed away on January 6.

For nearly half a century she made her home in Chico. She was a member of the D. A. R. of the Chico Chapter and the Cosmon Club of Chico, as well as a member of the Presbyterian church of that city.

Surviving are two sons, Gilman P. of Chico, and William W. of Sacramento, four grandchildren and six great grandchildren. Interment was made in the Chico cemetery beside her husband who died in 1915.

The mid year meeting of the Wayne Association of Baptist Churches was held at Clarkston Baptist Church Tuesday, January 17, with about 150 visiting members present, who enjoyed three sessions of a fine program, conducted by Rev. Mrs. Andem, state secretary from Lansing, Mrs. Dorrance of Detroit, president of Home Mission Society, whose topic was "The Challenge of the Impossible."

Mr. Clayton, who has spent twenty years teaching at Wayland College, East China, gave a most interesting talk on problems of the life in China, especially the youth, which was very instructive along the lines of Missionary work and its effect upon China. Mr. Clayton told how seriously the young men of China look upon life, a daily phrase being "What can we do to save our country?"

Miss Ryan, who spent twenty years with the Hopi-Indians in northern Arizona, gave an interesting account of her work among these people, whom she loves to lead "in the Jesus road." She also showed many pictures of the Indians, also dolls, rugs, etc., made by them; serving refreshments of piki.

It was an inspiring day to all who attended, the church being filled to capacity both afternoon and evening, chairs being used, which were so kindly loaned by Mr. D. Ogden.

The Ladies Auxiliary served meals at noon and evening, to the satisfaction and praise of all.

Mail Man Sam

"Well Sam, I believe we will have a late start this morning," said Mail Man Sam's carrier friend as he looked at the post office clock and noticed that the incoming mail was late. "Guess the train is late."

Just then the mail came. And what a mail! Sack after sack to be sorted for the village and the rural routes, magazines, "box-holder" mail, circulars, parcels a plenty, besides the regular mail of letters, papers, etc.

Mail Man Sam finds time to sign the record for a "Special Delivery" letter; to prepare a receipt for an "insured" parcel and a "C. O. D." parcel, to be delivered on the route.

After a busy time arranging and loading their mail the carriers start on their R. F. D. routes a few minutes late. With "box-holder" mail for each patron it was necessary to make more stops than usual at the mail boxes.

Now the carrier stops his motor and takes the C. O. D. parcel to Bill Green's house. The lady of the house answers his knock.

"Good morning Mrs. Green, I have a C. O. D. parcel today for Mr. Green."

"How much is the charge Mail Man Sam?"

After examining the tag, the carrier tells her and hands her the balance of the mail. Mrs. Green goes into the house to get the money but soon returns and says something to the effect that she hasn't enough money in the house, the carrier will have to see Bill, he is at the barn somewhere.

So Mail Man Sam takes the parcel to the barn and finds Bill throwing-down silage. He calls to Bill, who says he will soon be down. So as soon as the silage is down, down comes Bill. He digs down into his pocket and finds the money for the parcel, signs the tag as a receipt and Mail Man Sam continues his trip on the R. F. D.

Around the corner, over on the dirt road, the going is rather rough, and is made rougher by a flat tire. So to take more time and further hinder Mail Man Sam he has to spend a few minutes changing wheels on his car. But that is soon over and again he pursues his lonely way.

Old Uncle Ben is waiting for his mail as the carrier pulls up to his mail box.

"What's the matter, Mail Man Sam? Either our old clock is on the blink or you are awful late today. I usually set my clock by the time of your passing each day."

"Don't set our clock at 9:30 today Uncle Ben. It is now 9:53 by my watch. I am rather late today so I'll have to hurry and make up time. Here is your mail. Good by."

Next on the mail carrier's mind is the special delivery letter for Mr. Black who lives a half mile from the corner where his mail box is located on the R. F. D. route. The carrier turns off his route to drive the extra distance with this patron's mail and get Mr. Black's receipt for it. Mr. Black gladly signs the receipt as this trip by the carrier saves him the daily trip to the mail box on the corner.

As Mail Man Sam turns onto the town line road he overtakes Farmer Hill who is drawing a load of hay with team and wagon from his west forty acres to his home to feed his stock. This road is narrow and is bordered on both sides with brush so the carrier patiently (?) follows the loaded wagon until it reaches the next corner. Another fifteen minutes has gone. But here is a chance to gain a few minutes as the carrier turns the corner and travels the gravel road again. Now he reaches the home of the patron who is to receive the insured parcel. The carrier knocks at the door of the house, calls at the barn but no one seems to be home. So he leaves the ordinary mail in the mail box taking the insured parcel with him to try again the next trip to find some one to sign for the parcel.

Over the hill the scenery looks far different from the ordinary open road that the carrier is accustomed to see. There seems to be a heavy growth of brush entirely across the road. He rubs his eyes and wonders if he is dreaming but as he draws nearer he finds that someone has accidentally fallen a tree across the road. So Mail Man Sam grabs an ax and helps the men who are doing their best to clear the road.

After fifteen or twenty minutes of hard work a passage is cleared so that the mail continues on its way and the men working on the tree are laughing, because they had the mail man to help them for a while.

"Rather late today," says the next rural patron. The road is good now. Been having trouble?"

"Not exactly trouble but just a lot of things to hinder today. This road is good but there are miles of dirt road on this route that are far from good at this time of year. People who live on the good roads fail to realize what conditions exist on other roads if they do not find it necessary to travel them: Sorry to keep you waiting."

Mail Man Sam pulls up to the post office just in time to prepare the mail that he has collected on the route for the outgoing mail train. He is glad to give "Service with a Smile." So when the carrier is late just remember that perhaps some of

History in the Attic

Worries Historians

Just thinking of cobwebby old attics, filled with discarded furniture and ancient Saratoga trunks, which might be treasure chests of old letters and writings bearing on the early history of the State and the University, gives the worthy historians and librarians of the University of Michigan the fidgets.

Letters and documents of generations past, describing the times and written without thought that they would be preserved, are favorite foods for the historian's brain since they give him accurate side-lights on the popular ideas and feelings of days past, and these are the things that must be known if history is to be more than a list of dates and names.

Hence their plea, "O housewife spare that ancient trunk, and turn it not over to the rags-bones-and-bottles man, at least until you are sure it contains nothing which might be history." The University will be grateful to receive and preserve any material bearing on the history of the State, the University or the Nation, says Dr. Frank Robbins, assistant to President Ruthven.

As an example of what historians like to get, there follows an excerpt from a letter of Samuel T. Douglas to his brother Dr. Silas H. Douglas, first chemistry professor at the University of Michigan, — one of a collection recently presented by the late Samuel T. Douglas, Jr., of Detroit, and Miss Louise Douglas of Ann Arbor. Samuel T. speaks of a current depression and Daniel Webster, the golden voiced orator of the times, 1837.

Detroit, June 12, 1837

It will be a grand institution, in means at least far beyond any in the United States — It is to be conducted after the manner of the University of Paris. Danl. Webster has a son who is a resident atty. here — a man of ordinary talents & universally estimated. The "Godlike" himself is Expected about the 1st of July and preparations are making for his reception — When I have seen all the wise men assembled perhaps I will give a description — There is a special election in this Co. to-day to supply the vacancies in the offices of Shff. & C. College Made Study of Motor Trucking

The pros and cons of transporting Michigan fruits and vegetables to market in motor trucks have become so important to the citizens of this State that the findings of a recent study of the business made by the economics department of Michigan State College have been published in bulletin form. The importance of determining the merits or disadvantages of transportation by truck become apparent when it is considered that as high as 75 to 90 per cent of the fruits in southwestern Michigan counties move to market on trucks. The best available information shows that the equivalent of 27,000 railroad carloads of Michigan fruit is trucked to market annually.

From the Benton Harbor market, truckers from Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Kentucky, West Virginia, and other states nearer by purchase fruit and move it to their home markets for sale. Cherries from the Grand Traverse area are not trucked extensively because most of the sour cherry crop is bought locally for canning.

The percentage of potatoes moving on trucks varies from 80 per cent in the Montcalm area to 10 per cent or less in the section from Kalkaska northward. Vegetables produced in Bay county or nearby points are trucked to the extent of 65 to 75 per cent.

A comparison of the rates charged by railroads and truckers is given in the bulletin. The average weight of the load moved by trucks on highways and the speed at which trucks are operated is also given. The bulletin will be sent free to those interested in the trucking question and who request it from the Director of the Experiment Station at the College, East Lansing.
