Local Girl Weds

One of the Most Beautiful June Weddings Held in Garden

A very pretty garden wedding was solemnized in Clarkston last Saturday afternoon at four o'clock when Miss Isabel King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. King, was united in marriage to Mr. Richard T. Bullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Bullen of Mason. The Rev. C. E. Edwards of the Clarkston Methodist Church officiated.

The bride was gowned in oyster white lace and wore a large white garden hat and white kid shoes. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Miss Phyllis King, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. She wore white organdie over pink, a large white garden hat and white kid shoes, and carried pink roses.

The groom was assisted by his cousin, Mr. Robert Bullen.

After the ceremony eighty guests partook of a buffet supper which was served on the lawn. Mr. and Mrs. Bullen then left on a motor trip to Northern Michigan. The bride's traveling suit was of brown and white silk with accessories to match. On their return they will reside twelve miles from Mason.

The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Karl King from South Bend, Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Masters, Cleveland, Ohio; Miss Cordelia Bullen, Ann Arbor; Mrs. William Trachsel and daughter, Miss Janette, and Miss Addie Keeler, of Lansing; Mrs. Gladys Batchelor and her son Price and daughter Dorothy of Tilbury, Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tomlinson, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Strauss, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McNaught and Mr. and Mrs. William Harcourt, all of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Robb, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bullen, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Bullen and Mr. and Mrs. Casper Lott, all of Mason, and Miss Bertha Zych of Pontiac.

The Handicap Golf tournament of June 25, 1933 was attended by 31 golfers at Duck Lake.

First prize of one half dozen Spaulding Kro-Elite golf balls went to Howard Huttenloeker with a score of 82 gross, 69 net. Needless to say Howard shot the game of his life and we will be surprised if he duplicates it again this summer.

Ray Ainsley, 103 gross, 78 net, Leonard Anderson, 83 gross, 78 net, and Harold Brogan, 80 gross, 78 net, tied for second place and each received two Spaulding Wizard golf balls as a prize.

The new Clarkston State Bank picks up the business load where the old Clarkston State Bank left it when the famous Banking Holiday was called.

The causes for this banking holiday are being aired in the newspapers and the blame for the condition that existed as a result may be placed eventually where it belongs.

In the meantime business must go on. We must forget the past and face the future. The Clarkston State Bank is reorganized in accordance with the strictest banking laws that have been enacted in Michigan, if not in the United States.

The State recommended that 25% of the deposits as of February 11th, 1933, be made available at once. We have that amount ready in cash for every one who wants it. Another 25% will be paid in the form of negotiable certificates of deposit, as outlined in our plan of reorganization. These certificates, under average business conditions and returning confidence, should be retired in much less time than the plan of reorganization allows. This class of certificate bears interest and can be traded to the bank in payment of mortgages, mortgage interest, or notes. The remaining 50% is in the form of trust certificates which are payable on or before five years from date, depending on the time it takes to work out the slow and segregated assets.

UNDER THE ABOVE PLAN EVERY DEPOSITOR IS TREATED ALIKE.

THE DESIGN IS TO MAKE A BANK RUN-PROOF, RUMOR-PROOF AND DEPRESSION-PROOF and take away the fear both on the part of the public and the bank management that a run might start and upset the normal function of business. The amount available in cash to each depositor has already been placed to his credit in a new account. We cannot loan any part of that fund. A reasonable part of our new deposits will be available for loans and we hope to receive plenty of good loan applications.

INTEREST RATES, CHARGES FOR CASHING CHECKS AND OTHER BANKING SERVICE WILL BE ADJUSTED to a reasonable and fair basis, both to the stockholders of the bank and those who patronize it.

With the continued interest and confidence of our many friends we face the future unafraid and you may rest assured that our directors and stockholders will manage the bank for the greatest good of this community.

JUNE 30 IS LAST DAY TO PAY TAXES

No Extension Will Be Granted as Was Announced

County Treasurer Charles A. Sparks informed The News in a telephone communication Monday noon that the deadline for paying taxes would be June 30, as originally announced. He made it urgent that we give full and prompt publicity to this announcement in view of the fact that the Pontiac Daily Press had stated that an extension of time would be granted, probably until Nov. 1. All taxes not paid by June 30 will be subject to the penalty of 4% collection fee, with 1% of 1% added each month until paid.

Reports from other counties in the state are that no uniform action is being taken. In some counties interest and penalties will be waived on all taxes, in others only on state taxes, while some will segregate interest and penalties so that in case the Legislature in special session authorizes legal deferment of these penalties the money so collected can be refunded. This course, County Treasurer Sparks announces, will be followed in Oakland County.

Correspondent for Drayton Plains Resigns

Has Been With Paper Since Founded

Many changes have taken place in the Clarkston News Office in the last few years. Publishers, Editors and Correspondents have come and gone. Now a correspondent who has been with the paper since the Clarkston News was first established is severing her connection with the work on account of health problems. Mrs. Grace Barnhart of Drayton Plains is retiring from the newspaper work and although her task of writing each week is at an end, yet we feel sure her interest in the paper will still survive. The News regrets losing one so faithful and wishes to announce at this time that the vacancy on the staff has not been filled.

Correction

Accidents are bound to occur some times. In last week's issue we announced the celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Starring's anniversary on Sunday, June 18. This date should have been Wednesday, June 21. The News regrets the error.

Community Events

July 1—O. E. S. Bake Sale at Guy Walter's store—not at Masonic Temple as announced in last week's paper.

"Nutrition and Preparation of Foods" will be the topic for the Health Talk on Monday. This talk will be of interest to every woman who has a family to feed and wishes to get the most nutritive value for her money. Bring note-book and pencil. Baptist Church; one-thirty o'clock.

Hill House Destroyed

The saying "Three times and out" doesn't always prove true. Just a year ago the roof was blown off the Hill House Barbecue, and last Thursday morning the roof and interior of the building were totally destroyed by fire. The fire was first discovered by a passing truck driver. He awakened Frank Cornell, the cook, who was sleeping on the second floor. All efforts to get into the attic where the fire was making rapid headway were in vain and before long the blaze had reached the living-quarters and the first floor. The operator of the place had spent the night in Detroit. The deputies kept the traffic moving on the Dixie Highway and also kept the fire from spreading in the dry grass around the building. Only the brick walls remain standing.

Comment and Criticism

Not only is this community going to have a safe and sane Fourth—I guess we are not going to have any. Our forefathers fought to give us a new government and it appears that now all it means is another day to loaf and eat more than is good for us.

Advertising is like talking to a parade. Every time you stop, a section of the parade goes by without hearing your story. Tell it quick—tell it often—be thrifty with your advertising and then your advertising will pay.

Waterford People Went to Vassar Sunday

The trip to Vassar on Sunday was made by several families of Waterford people. Clarkston people did not respond to the invitation. This year the date was changed from the third to the fourth Sunday in June which interfered to some extent in the attendance. One party who planned on going were unable to from illness in the family. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chamberlain and family called at the Jacobus home in the morning on their way to their cottage at Higgins Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain are among those who always attend.

Rev. Jacobus gave a splendid sermon speaking on "The Second Mile", which presented a great many truths which were of benefit to all who were fortunate enough to hear.

There were 23 people who were seated on the spacious front porch and enjoyed the cooperative dinner. The afternoon was spent very pleasantly in a social way. Those who attended from here were Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Spooner, Mrs. John Watchpocket and son Ellsworth, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Buck and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pratt and son Billy, Mrs. Louis Owen, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Mehlberg and family.

The people were so glad to have Miss Mary Jacobus at home for the day. The date was set one week later so she could be there. Miss Jacobus has just graduated in June from Wheaton College. On the way home, the Jacobus family visited Rev. Jacobus' sister in Chicago and attended the World's Fair.

The next year's plans for the "Vassar Day" for Waterford people will be set back to the old date of the third Sunday in June and hopes are entertained that the rest of the people will be able to go.

School's out—Thousands of children all over the country are pouring forth from the classrooms to spend their days out-of-doors during the summer months. It's time for motorists to be more alert than ever—unless they are, many of these children will be injured or even killed as they traverse the streets and highways to fields and playgrounds.

The schools in the United States, and in Grand Rapids especially, have done a fine job training youngsters to watch out for themselves. In consequence, when the statistics of adult and child pedestrian accidents are compared, the children are shown to be better. They are more safety conscious.

In spite of this good work 3,400 boys and girls between the ages of 5 and 14 were killed last year and 152,550 were injured, according to the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters.

Drivers, give these youngsters the right-of-way; drive slowly and cautiously through residential districts; and watch out for the child who darts out from behind a parked car. Every daylight hour should be a safety hour now that school is closed. Help to reduce child fatalities, and give the kids a break!—Grand Rapids Chronicle.

Is Promised in Two Attractions at Liberty Theatre, Holly

"Not many bridegrooms would bring along a checkerboard on their honeymoon." Zasu Pitts was right. Few, indeed, would be so thoughtful—or, perhaps, so thoughtless. But then without a Pullman it came in handy.

Summerville was an unsophisticated "mama's boy" whose mother had purchased Pullman tickets for the wrong night, and thus subjected her precious offspring to a rather sleepless experience. She it was, too, who had put the game of checkers in his luggage. And to add to the gaiety of the occasion, she flew to Niagara Falls by plane and greeted them as they fell backwards off the train at sight of her!

This is just one of the hilarious incidents in "Out-All-Night" with Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts in the leading roles, which will be at the Liberty Theatre Sunday and Monday. The picture deals with the courtship and subsequent marriage of two bashful souls and is brimming over with funny scenes.

The whole family will enjoy Laurel and Hardy's latest feature-length comedy, "The Devil's Brother" which will be at the Liberty Theatre, July 4, 5 and 6. The story is laid in a picturesque era of nobility, courtly ladies and highway bandits, and the plot gives Messrs. Laurel and Hardy every opportunity to make delectable fools of themselves and to become involved in a series of side-splitting adventures which almost leads them to the gallows.

The fun begins when the pair are robbed of their life savings by a bandit and, seeking revenge, hit upon the idea of becoming brigands themselves. Hardy pretends he is Diavolo, a notorious bandit chief, known throughout the country. Laurel becomes his trained henchman. Eventually, they encounter the dangerous Diavolo himself and are made his prisoners. Their attempts to escape, their blunders in trying to prevent the bandit chief from robbing the lovely Lady Pamela, and their interference in a romantic liaison between a young officer and an innkeeper's daughter, supply the situations which

ORTONVILLE MAY VACATE CHARTER

Special Election on Question Will Be Held July 17

Ortonville will hold a special election on Monday, July 17, to decide whether they wish to continue as a village or to vacate the incorporation. A petition was recently presented to the village council asking that the question be submitted to a vote of the people and as there were a sufficient number of signers the council ordered the election. It is now understood, however, that a number of those who signed the petition are opposed to the proposition and it is not expected to be carried. Those in favor of the idea are moved by a desire to get rid of the summer taxes. The opponents declare that the taxes would not be reduced enough to compensate for the increased difficulty of securing needed service and improvements for the village if decision in such matters was left to the vote of the full township.

Ortonville has a population of about 600. The present officers of the village are: H. A. Proffrock, president; Cameron J. Coventry, clerk; Mrs. Lillian Allen, treasurer; Nelson P. Smith, assessor.

Telephone Conference Plan Is Announced

One of the latest contributions to the swift transaction of business is the "Telephone Conference" plan, whereby a group of men seated at their desks in different cities can confer as intimately, one with another and with the entire group, as if gathered about the same table.

With business again stepping into high gear, Mr. G. W. Harsch, manager here for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, today announced the telephone conference plan as a new and important tool of industry. Following a definite demand for such a setup, it was developed to aid in the speedier, more efficient and more economical transaction of business, particularly from the executive standpoint.

In the past, he said, if a number of executives, or a sales manager and his branch representatives in different cities, wanted to hold a discussion, it was necessary for them to gather in conference at some one point. Hours, and sometimes days of travel, at considerable expense, were required. Most of the group were taken away from their duties for a considerable period—and the time of executives and supervisors is costly.

Now it is possible to hold such conferences by long distance telephone, with each person seated in his own office. Each participant can talk with and listen to any or all of the others. As many as six can take part in a long distance telephone conference.

Through the utilization of special switching equipment in the long distance office, the connections are set up a few minutes in advance of the conference. The rates are inexpensive.

More than a year ago, following a number of requests for service of this type, the first such telephone conference took place when an official of the Kellogg Company, of Battle Creek, seated in his own office, talked with sales managers in Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. Later the same day, he held a second conference with representatives in St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Des Moines and Minneapolis. Each man took part in the discussions and heard all the conversation of the others connected. The cost of the two 30-minute "meetings" was a very small fraction of what it would have cost to bring all the conferees to Battle Creek.

These two telephone conferences were arranged more or less as an experiment by the Michigan Bell and the American Telephone & Telegraph Companies, but from them was worked out the present telephone conference plan.

The telephone conference plan is expected to be utilized in many ways, such as the launching of sales campaigns in widely separated territories; the quick discussion by headquarters and branches of price schedules or competitive situations; or giving detailed instructions or announcing new plans and policies; for consultations by physicians or attorneys; for boards of directors' meetings; conferences between police or other law enforcement agencies, and even for visits and discussions by widely scattered members of families on anniversaries or in case of emergency.

STATE LAWS SOON TO BE IN EFFECT

Some of the New Acts Passed by the Legislature

The total tax on gasoline you buy for your car after July 1, will be about 4 1/2 cents a gallon. The office of the secretary of state will collect the three cent state specific gas tax; the federal government will collect 1 1/2 cents (the last half cent being effective June 16), and the state board of tax administrators will collect its 3 percent sales tax, which will equal about 1/4 of a cent a gallon. In many states of the union, the total state and national tax on gasoline will exceed the price of the fluid itself.

While the state may spend money in huge sums, it collects it almost penny by penny. The three percent sales tax, effective July 1, is a sterling example. If retail business of the state is only half as large as it was in 1929, the state government will gather in, at the rate of three cents on each dollar you and everyone else passes over retail counters, a total of some $32,000,000 a year.

On July 1, next Saturday, Frank D. Fitzgerald, secretary of state, will be the only republican elective department head left in the capitol. On that date, two important departments will change commands, Murray D. Van Wagoner will take over the huge state highway department, and Dr. Paul F. Voelker will become superintendent of public instruction. They will succeed Grover C. Dillman and Webster H. Pearce, respectively. Mr. Fitzgerald is the only republican elective official to survive after two elections, those of November 8 and April 3.

When Gov. William A. Comstock came back to his office Tuesday, after a visit on private business in New York City, he faced a tidal wave of bills passed by the legislature in the final days of the session. The measures were printed in their final or "enrolled" form, during his absence. Among the most important bills awaiting his signature are the sales tax bill, the horse racing bill, and so far as public interest is concerned, the small loan bill.

Before he left, Governor Comstock vetoed the bill which would have given osteopaths all rights and privileges now enjoyed by medical doctors. Former Gov. Fred W. Green also vetoed such a bill two years ago.

Payment by every resident of the state, an annual tax of $2, for the financing of the estimated $6,000,000 old age pension payments, will reach one class of people heretofore not reached by any direct taxes. Even those not citizens, and not thus even entitled to vote in this state or nation, will be assessed.

The term "poll" tax, often misunderstood, refers not to a voting "poll" but to the somewhat literary term "poll", meaning a head. Thus the poll tax is a head tax. This bill may or may not be approved by the Governor.

For Homemakers

There are many uses for the sugar, flour, salt, potato, and feed sacks, according to home economics extension clothing and home furnishing specialists, Michigan State College.

The sackings of loosely woven soft muslin make good slips and diapers for the baby, rompers for the toddler, dresses for the small girl, or trousers for sunsuits. The upper part of the sunsuit may be made from a piece of discarded curtain material. The muslin tints easily, and many attractive colors are possible.

The heavier salt sacks, usually made of light-weight crash, make comfortable and attractive playsuits or overalls, or by combining three of the large ones, a serviceable dress for the housewife can be made.

Dyed salt sacks will make attractive slip covers, or may be used as breakfast cloths by fringing the edges. Potato and feed sacks may be used for braided, hooked, or crocheted rugs.

Printing may be removed by various means. If the letters are stamped with ink or paint, they can be removed by washing. If the first laundering does not take out all the printing, boiling with soap, or rubbing soap on the wet bag, rolling it up, and letting it stand for several hours before washing, will prove effective.

If the printing is resistant to the above processes, soaking in kerosene overnight and washing the material in the morning, or bleaching with Javelle water, are suggested. The latter method is not recommended unless absolutely necessary, as the creamy color of the bag is more satisfactory than bleached white.

FARMERS ASKED TO PLANT LESS WHEAT

Must Do This to Share in Processing Tax

The step taken by the administrators of the Farm Relief Act in adjusting the acreage of basic crops to the normal demand from consumers will directly affect Michigan farmers who will be asked to reduce by 20 per cent the 765,800 acres of wheat grown annually in this State, and all consumers of wheat products will be indirectly affected, according to announcements made from Washington, D. C., by Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture.

Michigan is not usually considered to have vital interest in the wheat crop but the production here totals over 15 million bushels annually. The acreage planted to wheat in the State is equal to the total acreages planted to rye, barley, buckwheat, sugar beets, and potatoes. As the Michigan wheat acreage is mostly confined to the southern portion of the lower peninsula, it is apparent that the proposed curtailment of wheat acreage will materially affect Michigan farm practices.

The plan proposed by Secretary Wallace to bring the wheat acreage within the limits called for by consumers is to reduce the acreage of the 1934 and 1935 wheat crops not to exceed 20 per cent. This would mean a reduction of 147,160 acres in Michigan if all wheat growers cooperated with the federal government.

No Michigan farmer is required to reduce his wheat acreage. All farmers will be asked to cooperate and those who believe that the payments to be made by the government for decreases in acreage will recompense them for the reduction in bushels marketed will sign contracts to cut their wheat plantings by the amount to be determined by the administrators of the Act.

Farmers who believe that they can make more money by planting their usual acreage of wheat for sale on the open market will not sign contracts and will receive no payments from the government.

Payments to be made to farmers will be obtained by placing a processing tax upon the 1933 crop of wheat as it goes through the mills to be made into flour. The amount of tax to be levied is tentatively placed at 30 cents per bushel but this can be changed by Secretary Wallace at any time that market conditions warrant.

Present intentions are to advance two-thirds of the bonus payment to farmers about Sept. 15, 1933, and to pay the balance upon evidence of fulfillment of the crop reduction contract.

County committees of farmers will be organized with the aid of the county agricultural agent. The purpose of the committee is to find the average acreages of wheat grown by farmers in the county, to find how many farmers are willing to reduce the number of acres grown, to ask farmers who are willing to reduce acreage to sign crop reduction contracts, and to decide whether or not the cooperators have fulfilled their contract.

Expenses incurred by the committee will be deducted from payments made to that county.

Attempts to defeat the purposes of the Act by farmers who make optimistic reports of previous wheat acreages are to be checked by surveys made by local men who know the amounts of wheat previously sown by their neighbors. Expenditure of the bonus payments for added amounts of fertilizer to be applied on the reduced acreage will be dealt with by the county committees. Other crops can not be sown on land taken from wheat production.

Although first enlistments in the Navy have been discontinued, re-enlistments of deserving men will continue as in the past.
