Golf Committee

Working in Secret

Next Tournament Due to Be a Huge Success

The next golf tournament to be held the last Sunday of July promises to be a great success, and the committee hopes it will be attended by more players than even the last one. The committee seems to keep their plans a secret, but this certainly does not bother the contestants. Since the last meeting the feeling is growing that after playing in the rain, then changing over onto the sunny side of the course (and we wonder if they had any better success) that any one player could win if he used only one arm, or ANY course.

All we can suggest to the committee is that a consolation prize be given to the lowest score holder—consisting of a free lesson in how to play.

Follow the oldest golf advice only change it to "Keep your eye on the committee!"

Delegates to Albion Back from Convention

Report Very Active Response to Church Matters by Young People

The Leaguers have returned from Albion. They arrived home Sunday afternoon and they all reported a good time in spite of the warm weather. They had to be at breakfast at seven every morning. All of their meals were served in the Methodist Church. After breakfast they attended morning watch and then to classes.

Some of the subjects they could study were: Methodist, Evangelism, Bible Study, Home and Foreign Missions, Morning Watch, which was under the direction of Dr. Kennedy, a former Albion dean, Race Relations, World Peace, Stewardship, Hymnology, Boy and Girl Relations, and Pageantry. There were also classes for each officer of the league.

After classes were over, at twelve o'clock lunch was served. Their afternoons were free and at six o'clock they reported for dinner. A service was held in the evening after which the delegates were at their leisure until ten thirty at which time all leaguers had to be in their boarding houses.

Congratulations from Former Editors

2420 1st Ave. So., Minneapolis, Minn., July 1, 1933.

Mr. Wm. Stamp, Clarkston, Mich.
Dear Sir:

Through one of our friends in Clarkston, we (Mrs. Connolly and myself) are furnished with occasional copies of the Clarkston News, which publication, along with the Ortonville Progress, was formerly edited by us. We were extremely pleased to see you return to the original six-column size page—and something in these columns beside stale time copy, which everybody reads in their "Daily" and radio programs.

We have always felt that subscribers were entitled to all of the local news with which the editorial staff may come in contact during a week of diligent effort and you are to be congratulated upon the improvement shown since you took charge.

You have a wonderful community in Clarkston and its trade area, and incidentally, one in which we enjoyed living more than any place which we have ever called our home.

Wishing you all kinds of success with the News, I am
Yours very truly,
L. L. Connolly.

Comment and Criticism

Last Saturday evening, in our wanderings, we ran into one of those exhibitions of what would be probably a very nice young man if he left hard drink alone. He presented all angles and descriptions of a hard-boiled egg—you know—tough shell and yellow inside with just enough white to keep one from getting angry and arouse a feeling of pity instead. His comedy consisted of three acts with settings about as follows. Scene 1. The white part—apparently he had had a decent haircut. Scene 2. The tough part—trying to pick a fight. Scene 3. The yellow part—crying like a lost baby at what he had done. Perhaps he will learn, but we doubt it. His kind never does learn until it is too late.

Clarkston is a beautiful village. Its setting on the banks of so many lakes makes it not only a fine summer resort but an excellent place for a home the year around. As is proper, we invite resorters. We should consider, also, the residents who live here. Clarkston needs a small park, with picnic grounds and tables for those who care to use them. It would be a source of great pleasure. It would also be a source of much revenue to the merchants of this village. Detroit parks are noted for their picnic grounds in their parks, and these parks have made much goodwill advertising for that city. Tastes may differ, but one of our greatest thrills is "ham an" out in the open, cooked over a charcoal fire, and we have never refused a steak dinner fried over that same stove. If Clarkston had such a park it would be in use all the time.

To travel and to see things is in itself an education. To see The Century of Progress should be the aim of every American. If you would see the great spectacle at no financial cost read page 4 of this issue.

MR. AND MRS. CARL TRUXTON KILLED IN ACCIDENT NEAR ALMA

(From the Holly Advertiser)

A tragic ending to a vacation trip over the week-end and holiday was the fate of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Truxton, of Holly. Both were instantly killed when a locomotive struck the motorcycle on which they were riding about 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at a railroad crossing two and one-half miles northwest of Alma. Mr. and Mrs. Truxton left Holly Saturday for a trip to Mackinac and return.

Witnesses to the accident reported to the officers that Mr. Truxton apparently endeavored to stop his machine after first speeding up to cross the tracks ahead of the train, but that he was too late and crashed into the rear trucks of the tender.

Papers in Mr. Truxton's pocket identified the victims of the accident and word was sent to Holly. Everett Van Riper and Stanley Coleman drove to Alma with the Dryer ambulance and brought the bodies back to Holly, arriving about midnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Truxton were a newly married couple, having been married at Rankin on June 10 last. Her maiden name was Stella Crosby and her home was in Clarkston.

Mr. Truxton was 26 years of age and his wife was 22. He was born at Cadillac, Dec. 28, 1906, the eldest of a family of seven children. The family came to Holly in 1918, the father dying a few years later. Surviving are the mother, Mrs. Mabel Hyde, four brothers, Earl, Vance, Harold, Paul and Wayne, and twin sisters, Ruthena and Rowena, all living at home except Earl Vance and Harold. Harold is in the conservation corps at Lewiston but happened to be in Holly Tuesday on a four day vacation furlough.

Mr. Truxton was employed at the plant of the American Spring & Mfg. Corp. They lived on Park avenue.

Later information as to the details of the accident is to the effect that when Mr. Truxton saw that he might not be able to cross ahead of the train he put on his brakes and swung the motorcycle parallel to the tracks. The engine passed without hitting the machine but the handlebars on which Mrs. Truxton was riding were hit by the tender and she was thrown away from the tracks. The rear of the motorcycle, with Mr. Truxton on the seat, was then drawn under the wheels of the train.

Funeral services for Carl Truxton and his wife, Stella Crosby Truxton, who were killed in an accident near Alma Tuesday, will be held at the Seventh Day Adventist church Friday, at 2:30 p. m. Elder A. R. Sherman, pastor of the church, will officiate, assisted by Rev. Robert Wise, of Rankin, who married the couple last month. Burial will be in Lakeside cemetery.

Mrs. Truxton was known before her marriage as Stella Crosby, a former graduate from the Clarkston High School in the class of '22. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crosby who live near Clarkston.

RESIDENTS FOR MILES AROUND MAKING THIS BANK THEIR HEAD-QUARTERS

Saturday was a happy day for the residents of this community and of officers of the Clarkston State Bank, when the bank threw its doors wide open.

Despite the fact that a considerable amount of cash was on hand to take care of withdrawals, less than $2,000.00 was used while the deposit total at the end of the day was over $18,000.

Monday's business, it is reported by bank officials, was somewhat over $10,000.

Wednesday's total deposits ran over $17,000.00.

This should be very gratifying to all of us as it naturally places the bank in a strong position and reestablishes its ability to take care of the financial needs of this section.

Greatest Circus on Golden Jubilee Tour

Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Combined Celebrating Ringling Bros. 50th Anniversary with Mighty Spectacle. Hundreds of New Features. Including Royal Paddang Giraffe, Neck Women From Burma.

The Greatest Show on Earth, Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Combined Circus, this season celebrating the Golden Jubilee of the Ringling Brothers, who fifty years ago began their triumphal march to world circus supremacy, is definitely scheduled to exhibit in Pontiac July 15.

Outstanding among the almost countless new features of the Golden Jubilee gala performances is the most magnificent opening spectacle ever produced by this colossal amusement enterprise. It is an authentic and dazzling reproduction of The Durbar, the world famous coronation ceremonial at Delhi, India. The Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Pageantry, opulent and staggering in its immensity, employs over 2,000 people and animals, including fifty elephants in gem-studded coronation robes and lavish head-dresses. East Indian Marimbo and British Imperial foot guard bands, scores of festival fongas, bearing rajahs and ranees, will be in the van of the pageant. A golden temple, designed by Gandhi Mooli of Delhi, ornate ceremonial cars and gorgeous royal howdahs add immeasurably to the splendor of The Durbar.

Vying with the resplendent impressiveness of The Durbar is the most unusual and weird importation that even The Greatest Show on Earth ever brought out of the Orient—the Royal Paddang giraffe-neck women from Burma. These strange oriental women, with their incredibly long necks encircled with brass and copper rings, carrying sixty pounds of copper ornaments on their arms and legs, are unbelievably aloof from all mankind. They are like not other racial group in all the teeming East. The rings, soldered upon their necks, are constantly superimposed from infancy until maturity, until these sleeved oriental beauties resemble nothing so much as the giraffe. Never was so sensational a feature exhibited in the main performance of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Combined Circus.

The Golden Jubilee five-ring, four-stage program features displays in units of fifty, with the stars of all lands competing in the air, rings and hippodrome track and on the stages. There are more than 800 performers. The circus bears on its four long trains of 100 double-length steel railroad cars over 1000 people, 50 elephants, 1000 menagerie animals and 700 horses.

The great Con Colleano, tumbling, forward-somersaulting tight wire star, has been recalled from European triumphs to join the Big Show constellation of stars, as has the famous Alfredo Codona, world's only triple and air somersaulting to a sensational catch. Vabanque, French leap-of-death trapezist is a new star. Marcellus Parisian Flying Ballet, the Uyeno, Yacopi, Danvill, Rubio, Ben Hamid, somersaulting acrobatic troupe; the Wallenda and Gretona high wire thrillers; the Flying Codonas, Concellos and Haroldis; the riding Rieffenachs, Walters and Davenport; Dorothy Herbert, woman's most sensational horsewoman; Maximo and Miljares, slack wire stars; Zaccchini, human projectile; Lucita Leers, aerial star, and Al Powell, flying bownot—these are a few of the headliners among the better known acts. There are 100 of the world's most famous clowns in the Golden Jubilee gala performances.

Michigan Sugar Beets Giving Employment

That more than 334,000,000 man hours of labor were required to produce the sugar consumed in the United States in 1932, was revealed today in a statement made by E. Wilson Cressey, managing director of the Farmers and Manufacturers Beet Sugar Association, who has just completed a study of the labor requirements in the production of sugar.

"We have ascertained," declared Mr. Cressey, "that it requires eight man hours of labor to produce one hundred pounds of sugar. On the basis of an eight-hour day the total sugar consumed by the people of the United States, in 1932 represents the equivalent of three hundred days employment for a total of 339,166 persons.

"American workmen will be vitally interested in the fact that last year the United States imported 1,647,000 short tons of sugar, or 23.2 per cent of our total consumption, from Cuba. Considering this tonnage in terms of the labor involved in its production, we find that the sugar, which originated in a foreign country, represented a total of 263,520,000 man hours of labor, or eight hours work per day for 109,800 men for three hundred days.

"Last year our domestic beet sugar industry afforded, directly and indirectly 197,120,000 hours of employment to the farmers of the United States and American labor. With an estimated production of 1,400,000 short tons of beet sugar to be produced in the United States this year the domestic beet sugar industry will utilize 224,000,000 man-hours of labor. In other words, on the basis of the estimated production for 1933 the domestic beet sugar industry will utilize the services of 93,333 American workers, affording each three hundred days employment.

"If our estimated production of beet sugar in the United States materializes, the domestic beet sugar industry will contribute in excess of $56,000,000 in the form of wages, to American labor this year while over $65,300,000 will go to labor involved in the production of sugar which will be imported into the United States from a foreign country."

Coming Attractions of Interest at Liberty Theatre, Holly

Commercial radio broadcasting with all its intricacies forms the target for a well aimed shaft of satire hurled in "Professional Sweetheart" playing at the Liberty Theatre next Sunday and Monday.

Radio luminaries, broadcast sponsors, press agents and "personality creators" are revealed in all their activity. Ginger Rogers, as the "Purity Girl of the Air" for the Ippsie-Wippie. Wash Cloth program, rebels against her contract forbidding her to enjoy any of the pleasures enjoyed by girls of her age, and she yearns for late hours and hot cha.

Her sponsors secure Norman Foster as a hill-billy from Kentucky, through his fan mail, and marry her off to him. When a rival sponsor offers a contract permitting the liberty she desires, her log cabin husband teaches her how to be domestic with jabs in the jaw and ardent love-making, building up to a climactic fun.

In "Professional Sweetheart" Gregory Ratoff is the sponsor, Frank McHugh is the press agent and Zasu Pitts a sob sister, with Allen Jenkins, Edgar Kennedy and Lucien Littlefield also in the cast.

As a play "Peg O' My Heart" is some twenty years old and yet when seen on the talking screen it is brand new. It will be shown at the Liberty Theatre next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The reason for the apparent agelessness of the charming story of "Peg O' My Heart" is the human quality which it possesses, and the new charm with which Marion Davies portrays the character of Peg.

In her deft hands, Peg seems to have a new personality and yet with it loses none of the crystal romance of the Irish gamine we knew so well on the stage.

The comedy moments of the story abound in richness of dialogue and situations and the love theme, with Onslow Stevens as Sir Gerald, adds a poetic gentleness. The story of Peg is too well known to dwell upon, but comes upon the screen with a freshness that is delightful, stirring at the same time fond reminiscences of another day.

of wheat in storage now insures that there will be no wheat shortage in the immediate future.

Michigan farmers will be asked to decide whether they will gamble their wheat production costs against weather conditions or take out insurance by cooperating with the government, and Mr. Baldwin says that the members of the extension staff in this State are instructed to extend the fullest measure of their help to any Michigan farmer regardless of the way that man views the wheat acreage reduction plan.

RAINS BRING NEEDED HELP TO VEGETATION

Farmers and gardeners in this section have been going around this week wreathed in smiles instead of carrying the long faces they wore previously. The reason is the generous rains that fell Friday night and nearly all day Sunday. Crops and all vegetation were looking pretty sickly and a few more days of the hot sun would have ruined practically every growing plant. Besides the benefit to crops there was a decided relief from the discomfort to individuals produced by a temperature well above 90 in the day time and not much less at night.

HALF PRICE SALE OF LICENSE PLATES AUG. 1

The half-price sale of 1933 license plates will start August 1, it was announced by Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald following the governor's decision to veto the Raymond bill which provided for four different license plate prices, according to time of purchase.

Defects in the bill in not properly specifying the times when plates should be sold at half and at quarter prices were one of the reasons given for the veto. The half-price sale will start August 1 under the provisions of the Orr bill which allowed 1932 plates to be used until that date when accompanied by a windshield permit showing that one-half of the 1933 weight tax had been paid.

NEW FISH LAWS NOW IN EFFECT Clarkston Nimrods Advised to Scan These Provisions Extension of the open fishing season in Michigan's inland lakes for one month; restoration of the minimum size limit for perch, rock bass and calico bass; removal of white bass from the list of game fish and extension of the spring spearing season, were among the changes in inland fishing regulations adopted by the 1933 session of the legislature. Two lines or two rods and lines with a total of not more than four hooks on all lines is legalized and ice fishing is limited to not more than five lines with one hook only on each line except one line with any number of hooks may be used for taking smelt in recognized smelt waters. The spearing season in the lower peninsula is extended to include March 1 to May 15, making it uniform for the entire state. The Director of Conservation is empowered to designate the counties, streams or portions of streams in which artificial lights may be used with spears in season, and to designate the trout streams in which spears, without lights, may be used in season for taking carp, suckers, rehorse, mullet, dogfish and garpike. While the old law limited setting of ice lines to one hour, lines may now set for two hours. Persons fishing in this manner are restricted to one hook to a line, not exceeding five lines. The minimum penalty that may be inflicted on anyone convicted of using dynamite to take fish is increased to $50 with a minimum prison sentence of 30 days. SMALL ARMY NOW WORKING IN CAMPS Conservation Forces Busy at 45 Places in Michigan Nine thousand young men, working under the President's Emergency Conservation Work program are now established in 45 camps in northern Michigan. The last of the camps was established by July 1, with workers sent from Camp Custer, Fort Brady and Fort Wayne where they were "conditioned". Camps were established almost daily through June as each group of 200 men arrived to begin work in the woods. A superintendent and several foremen reported to begin direction of the conservation work. In the meantime work plans had been drawn by the Department of Conservation and maps and other data were placed in the hands of the camp superintendents. Work on fire lines and fire hazard reduction is going on from each camp in state forests, game refuges and the larger state parks and the forest region of the state in an attempt to hold down this year's fires, and although in many instances the camps had been barely established corps workers have given valuable aid in fire fighting.

Any Cut in Wheat Will Be Voluntary Michigan Farmers Are Asked to Study Plan Michigan farmers who do not have complete faith in the benefits to be derived from the wheat acreage reduction plan announced by Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, are asked to remember that the plan is entirely voluntary, and that each man is free to decide how much wheat he shall plant, according to E. J. Baldwin, director of extension work, Michigan State College. Any farmer who believes that his individual efforts have a more beneficial effect upon the price of wheat in the world market than the cooperative crop reduction plan proposed by Secretary Wallace is entirely at liberty to plant the number of acres of wheat which he believes will be most profitable to him. Surveys of wheat acreage in Michigan will be made by residents of the community in which the survey is made. Each farmer will be asked if he wants to reduce his wheat acreage in accordance with the regulations laid down by Secretary Wallace. Each farmer will have opportunity then to state that he does or does not want to cooperate in crop reduction. His answer is written down and that answer will be accepted as final. Mr. Baldwin says that the thing for Michigan wheat growers to remember is that the money derived from the processing tax on wheat is going to be paid to farmers who cooperate. The reduction in acreage suggested is not more than 20 per cent. The average amount of wheat planted on Michigan farms is 12.35 acres. If the greatest amount of reduction were requested, the average Michigan farmer would plant 2 1/2 acres less wheat. The average yield of Michigan wheat is 17.5 bushels per acre. The cooperating farmer would produce 44 less bushels of wheat than a neighbor who did not accept the plan. This farmer would sell his extra 44 bushels on the open market and his profit would be the difference between the cost of growing 2 1/2 acres of wheat and the total price received for the 44 bushels. Plowing, fitting the seed bed, price of seed, cost of fertilizer, binder, twine, harvesting, threshing, and delivery would have to be paid out of the 44 bushels. The amount of money left is the sum which must be compared with the bonus per acre paid to the neighbor who grows less than his normal planting. Director Baldwin points out that the experiences of Michigan wheat growers during the past few years have been that wheat has been produced at a loss. The loss increased as the acreage increased. Secretary Wallace says that any increase in price caused by weather conditions can be wiped out by a change in the weather. The surplus

Progress

How many of us have stopped to think what progress has been made in the last century? The International Exposition tells this marvelous story graphically by its exhibits. From the time the visitor enters the gates of the Exposition he finds himself in a fairyland conjured up by twentieth century magic. The buildings which extend along the beautiful lake front and cover man-made islands are unique in architecture and house a living encyclopedia of human achievement. The electric illumination is used profusely to create magic effects at night. Young and old should strive to have the opportunity of being an exposition visitor.

Modern civilization is vitally interested in the general extension of human knowledge and the strides that have been made along educational lines in the last century prove this fact. In order to realize the advancement that has taken place we must take advantage of such wonderful records as are depicted at the World's Fair. If you are interested in physics, chemistry, mathematics, biology, geology, medical sciences, mechanics, agriculture, social science, home and industrial arts, anthropology, or any branch of science or industry, then the place for you to go is to Chicago and spend a few days at the fair where the afore mentioned are presented through the participation of the leading civilized nations of the world.
