Final Benefit Game of Fathers and Sons, Sunday, July 23rd

Board of Education Re-elects Officers

All Members Assigned to Duties Formerly Performed

At a meeting of the members of the Board of Education on Tuesday L. R. McFarland was again elected President, Earl Walter, Secretary, Lee Clark, Treasurer, Roy Spencer and Joseph P. Hubbard, trustees.

Again the citizens of this school district can rest assured that the government of our school affairs is in capable hands. In the mind of the average person, election of a school official is sufficient. This is wrong. They need your constant support. Why not help them?

Golf Tournament Attracting Attention

While the golf tournament committee is shouting the beauties of the course over which the next game will be played, your inquiring reporter has gained the information that toast and coffee will not be sufficient food to last until the game is over. They say the links are long, beautiful and sporty.

Entrants are already signing for the week. Step in and sign and if you can go, get a ticket from the committee, entitling you to play a practice round at reduced price.

Ladies Enjoy Lawn Party

Thursday, July 13th, Mrs. Clair Hopkins and Mrs. Jess Hubble entertained three tables of bridge on the beautiful lawn at the rear of Mrs. Hubble's home. The afternoon was warm but the ladies forgot about the heat and enjoyed the picturesque grounds—made so by the many beautiful flowers and shrubs. The prizes were won by Mrs. Clarence Drake, Mrs. Gus Yost and Mrs. Percy Craven. Refreshments were served after the card game.

We Like Jokes but Who is This Joke on

Comment and Criticism

The other day I visited a busy attorney in Detroit. Busy was no name for it. We went to lunch at twelve and he gave instructions that he would be back at two. His office was engaged in some mighty important work and it was working on him. During the conversation, he stated that he wished he was in some small village where he could take life easy, and then to add insult to injury, he added "like you".

This was a new thought to me so I started to count my blessings. They ran something like this: Up at six-thirty and printed 500 statements, called to breakfast, only time for two slices of toast and a cup of coffee, down to the post office to see if Floyd Andrews or Lee Clark had found a letter for me, met Joe Seeterlin and spent a few minutes wondering why the golf committee did not give us a better break, met a client and discussed his case for awhile.

stopped in Huntly's and picked up a couple of want ads. (Always have to mention advertising—it pays—both the advertiser and the paper) stopped in the bank and cashed a check with Ray Amsley, happened to think that I better get down to Pontiac and stop on the way back for news at Drayton Plains and Waterford called across the street by Louis (Tug) Borst who wanted to explain about the golf tournament, back across the street to hear Lew Chamberlain tell of the benefit ball games, saw my car and again thought of work to be done, started the car and hearing the siren waited to see where the fire was, found it was the signal of the world rolling around and that it was twelve o'clock.

Her only attendant was Mrs. Lee Carmen, who wore a gown of peach colored taffeta with a shoulder bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and sweet peas. Mr. Carmen attended the groom.

This Is the Last Word in Hobbies

Drayton Plains Man Collects Snapping Turtles

One thing nice about the newspaper business is that you never know what is going to happen next. This week in talking to George M. Blakeslee, Engineer of the Drayton Plains school, he showed us what he did in his spare time. The exhibit consisted of about 20 live, active, snapping turtles, averaging about 20 pounds in weight. He even took one of his pets out of its cage, coop or whatever one keeps these mild things in and showed its fighting ability.

Mr. Blakeslee explained that frequently lakes where fine fishing was to be had in the past, suddenly ran out as a fishing ground and the reason generally proved to be that snapping turtles, swimming among the weeds, would devour the spawn, thereby destroying the growth of the supply of fish. Mr. Stewart of the State Fish Hatchery at Drayton Plains frequently refers people to Mr. Blakeslee on how to catch these turtles.

When one understands that a fish lays eggs running into thousands in numbers, it is easy to understand how one turtle could destroy hundreds of thousands of fish in one season and the damage that one turtle in a lake could do.

About four years ago Mr. Blakeslee was called to fish on Lincoln Lake in the western part of the state. There had always been fine fishing up to a season or so previous but there seemed to be nothing that could lure a fish to bite. Observation showed that turtles were present and over a ton were taken out. Fishing is again a pleasant sport on that lake.

Some snapping turtles attain a weight of between 65 and 100 pounds. The ones we saw would run from 18 to 25 pounds. Some were buried in the earth until just a small portion of their shells showed on the surface of the ground. Perhaps our eyes expressed doubt. To satisfy us Mr. Blakeslee hit their shells with a stick to show that they were not stones.

It is possible, we understand, to fish for these snappers if one cares to tie a piece of beef steak on a line of sufficient strength to hold Mr. Turtle and drop the line among the weeds. However we were shown a net that had proven successful and was preferred by Mr. Blakeslee.

If you have a hobby of your own and want to talk to a brother hobby "rider" or just want to see a fine collection of real snapping turtles, just pay Mr. Blakeslee a visit. It will be worth your time.

Proceeds to be Used for School Milk Fund

As the Clarkston News goes to press everything is in readiness for the soft ball game between the old times with experience of the past and the youngsters with ambitions and careers of the future. As you are reading this the game has been played. Next week's issue will furnish the records of the game.

The regulation base ball game will be played Sunday, July 23rd at 2:30 on the High School diamond and can be depended upon to furnish a thrilling spectacle—one that you cannot afford to miss.

A golden opportunity will be afforded the residents of this vast and pretty locality to witness one of the wonders of our summer activities—the renowned, royal and benighted old timers engaging in a mighty, colossal, sensational battle to decide their right to supremacy over the astounding, unbelievable, dazzling ability of the current array of baseball players. Outstanding in the heart of every player in this night, breath-taking, hair-raising, incredible, thrilling spectacle is the thought that by satisfying the large attendance, sufficient monetary returns will be donated to supply milk for the youngsters in the Clarkston School during the coming year.

The game itself will be interesting. The purpose is worth-while. Let's back it.

FISHING SEASON IS SUCCESSFUL

So Reports Conservation Department; Other Items

Favored by ideal weather and lake conditions the early days of the 1933 general fishing season is proving to be one of the most successful in years, according to reports that are being received by the Department of Conservation from all parts of the state.

Following the first week of fishing in the inland lakes, conservation officers reported to the Lansing office "the most successful open day of the fishing season in history, and more satisfied fishermen." Officers obtained a better opportunity this year to talk to large numbers of fishermen because of inspections made necessary through enforcement of the general rod license.

Something during the coming fall Michigan will learn for the first time just how many of its residents are fishermen. The number of people who fish in this state has been estimated at the way from 250,000 to a million. The extent of the sale of general rod licenses will give a fairly accurate figure as to the actual number of anglers.

Even Michigan's wild life has learned that the uniform of a conservation officer means protection, says the Conservation Department in citing the trusting faith of a pair of killdeer.

The two birds built their nest in the gravel driveway between the Department's Gladwin headquarters and garage; so that it is necessary for trucks to pass around. The nest contains four eggs. At the approach of a civilian the birds fly away. However, when a man in uniform goes near the nest the birds fail to move.

A stick with a flag has been erected near the nest to warn the truck drivers to detour.

Very few changes were made by the 1933 legislature in any of the game laws, according to the Conservation Department. Practically the only revisions included the re-establishment of the so-called "Shirgs Gun Law," affecting the carrying of hunting arms during closed seasons; the lowering of the cost of licenses for taking small game and deer; and the enactment of a new ferret possession law.

No change was made in the muskrat trapping license fee, which is $2.00 for the first 20 traps and 10c each for each additional trap. No licensee is permitted to have more than 100 traps.

For Homemakers

Semiannual meeting of the state advisory committee will be held on Friday, July 28, during Farm Women's Week, July 23-28, at Michigan State College, at which time questions of particular importance in home economics extension work will be discussed.

The committee, which serves as an advisory group to assist Miss Edna V. Smith, state leader of home demonstration agents, in formulating programs to be offered in the various counties during the year, is comprised of one representative from each district in the state. Included on the committee are Mrs. J. B. Campbell, Hopkins; Mrs. Henry Hendrickson, Shelby; Mrs. A. R. Nelson, Cadillac; Mrs. Percy Reed, Levering; Mrs. C. G. Walker, Sault Ste. Marie; Miss Thelma Lull, West Branch; Mrs. Helen Hill, Davison; Mrs. Walter Ketchum, Mason.

Final arrangements for Farm Women's Week have been completed, according to Miss Smith, and the attendance is expected to be considerably larger than last year. Attendees will register at the Woman's building on arrival. Room assignments will be made from 1 to 5 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, July 23, followed by a vesper service at 6.

The official program will open Monday morning, July 24, at 7:45 o'clock, with devotionals, followed by class instruction in various subjects during the morning. Lecture, handicraft, and recreational periods are scheduled in the afternoon. Each day's program will follow a similar plan, while the evenings will be devoted to special entertainment features. The annual banquet will take place Thursday evening, July 27, at 6:30 o'clock in the Union memorial building.

Women on campus during Farm Women's Week will also attend annual Farmers' Day, Friday, July 28.

Liberty Theatre

Thrills below the surface, on the sea and in the air combine to create a sensational background for a stirring romance in "Hell Below," the amazing drama of Uncle Sam's submarines, which will be shown at the Liberty Theatre next Sunday and Monday. Robert Montgomery, Walter Huston, Madge Evans, Jimmy Durante, Eugene Pallette and Robert Young are the principal characters in a maelstrom of adventure and excitement.

The picture filmed with the cooperation of the United States Navy, depicts the most remarkable underwater shots of submarines in action yet seen on the screen. Against this Background is played the romance of Montgomery as the young lieutenant in love with Madge Evans, the daughter of his commander.

Their attempt to defy conventions and traditions only to find in the end that there is only one satisfactory solution to a conflict between love and duty provides the main thread of the narrative. The girl's loyalty to a husband crippled in an airplane fall, and Montgomery's final heroic gesture to redeem his self-respect are the human incidents woven into a vivid, heart-interest story. Jimmy Durante and Eugene Pallette make a riotous comedy pair, Durante almost 'stealing' the picture in a scene in which he attempts to fight a kangaroo.

A spectacular air raid over an Italian town, hair-raising encounters between submarines and battleships, the sensational rescue of a submarine doomed at the floor of the ocean and the bottling up of a harbor full of enemy ships are among the other thrilling incidents in the filmization of Commander Edward Ellsberg's novel, "Pigeonhole."

A brand new characterization for Richard Dix is the gay, irresponsible and utterly irresistible lover who becomes known as "The Great Jasper" in the attraction at the Liberty Theatre, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Dix has been just about every sort of a rugged hero and adventurer in his long and highly successful screen career, but this is the first time that all his "adventures" have worn skirts.

Jasper could no more help winking at women than he could help breathing. Having once seen that wicked wink, no woman could help falling, and to Jasper's amazing credit, no woman regretted. No woman except his wife. Though he could not be faithful to her, neither could he stop loving her - and therein lies the drama of "The Great Jasper."

Wera Engels, a recent importation from Germany, makes her American debut in this film. Edna May Oliver also gives leading support to Richard Dix in this new film.

STATE MATTERS OF INTEREST TO ALL

Dog Tax, Gasoline Consumption, Free Pamphlet, etc.

Michigan's dogs no longer need cringe at sight of a sheriff. The dog law adopted in 1919 said "The sheriff shall also kill, upon complaint of the prosecuting attorney, any dog that is in the habit of running at large unaccompanied by owner or his agent." This provision was repealed by the 1933 legislature. Other changes in the dog law are: The age limit for registering dogs is increased from four months to six months; license fees are reduced from two and four dollars to one and two dollars if secured before June 1. County boards of supervisors are empowered to reduce these fees in certain circumstances; fees of township treasurers are reduced from 15 to 10 cents per dog while those of township supervisors or dog wardens are reduced from 20 to 10 cents per dog. Boards of supervisors are also given power to appoint county dog wardens, if desired.

A perceptible increase in the consumption of gasoline in Michigan is shown by gasoline tax collections of the Department of State. Reports of the May-gasoline sale show a tax increase of approximately $62,000 over May of the year previous. This represents approximately 2,000,000 gallons of gasoline. May is the first month of 1933 to show an increase in gasoline usage over the corresponding month in 1932.

Pamphlets containing 120 of the most important "immediate effect" laws of the 1933 legislature will be issued by the Department of State August 1. The pamphlets will have free of charge. The booklet will not paper covers and will be distributed contain all of the 1933 laws given "immediate effect" but those which are believed to be of the greatest importance.

The first organization meeting of the newly-created Michigan Legislative Council was held Monday, July 17, directly after the final session of the 1933 legislature. The council is to study changing state conditions and prepare necessary bills for introduction at the next session of the legislature.

A total of 263 new laws were added to Michigan's statute books as the result of the deliberations of the 1933 legislature. In 1931, the legislature enacted 336 new laws and previous legislatures usually enacted between 325 and 400 laws every two years.

NORMAL VALUES TO BE BASIS OF LOANS

Farm Land Bank Makes This Important Announcement

East Lansing, July 21.—Federal Land Bank loans to Michigan farmers will be made upon the basis of the normal values of land and buildings and the appraisals for loans will not follow fluctuations of values caused by booms or depressions, according to Albert S. Goss, commissioner for this district recently appointed to succeed Paul Bestor, who resigned.

Land bank loans are made upon a long term basis and upon farms which will be subjected to changing conditions during the term of the loans so the land appraisals are made on sound values rather than upon price changes caused by temporary conditions.

The money used in making loans is obtained from the investing public and the need for protecting these investments forbids the making of unsound farm mortgages. The security offered must be adequate before it will be accepted as a mortgage risk.

A member of the Michigan State College economics department is now in St. Paul assisting Federal Land Bank officials in determining the values of land offered as security for mortgages. This assistance will permit the Land Bank to avoid delays occasioned by applications for loans which can not be made under the regulations of the bank.

The presence of the Michigan man at the St. Paul Land Bank is assurance that every Michigan application will be given fair consideration. Michigan applications should be made to the secretary of the local loan association, a group of farmers who already have obtained Land Bank loans. Loans made through the local associations carry a lower rate of interest than those made direct from the Land Bank.

County agricultural agents can tell anyone wishing to make a loan application where the secretary of the local loan association can be found. Some Michigan counties have more than one association and there are a few counties in which no local association has been established.

Tells How She Lost 15 Lbs. of FAT

Rheumatism Gone Too

Here is a woman who was rapidly putting on weight and who was troubled with rheumatism too. Read her letter:

"I started taking Kruschen Salts because of the good it had done for a friend of mine who had been crippled with rheumatism. At the end of the second bottle I was weighed and find I am now only 148 pounds (original weight 163 lbs.) at which I am so pleased. But I have also felt my rheumatism much less, which has been so troublesome in my knees. I must say I think Kruschen a splendid weight reducer." (Miss) E. L. P.

Overweight and rheumatic poisoning often go together. The six salts in Kruschen assist the internal organs to perform their functions properly—little by little that ugly fat goes; slowly, yet—but surely. You feel wonderfully healthy, youthful and energetic—more so than ever before in your life!

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all drug stores—a jar lasts four weeks and costs not more than 85c.

Sale of Ford 8-cylinder cars and trucks in the United States for June just ended exceeded those of June a year ago by 19.4%. It was the biggest month in 8-cylinder car sales since the Ford Motor Co. began producing them over a year ago.

Another evidence of the growing popularity of the 8-cylinder car is reflected in the sales of the Ford car for the month of June in Wayne County, Mich. Registrations show that 2555 Ford V-8 cars were delivered in that district. This is an increase of 25% over May sales. It is more than the combined sale in the county over the two next makes.
